ONDON, March 5.-The often reiterated statement of English correspondents that anything may happen in Russia at any time and that nothing need cause surprise, may possibly be illustrated by the developments there pending the ratification of the Russo-German peace treaty, according to reports appearing here today.

It is said that a section of the Bolsheviki is in no wise pleased with the surrender of Nikolai Lenine, the Bolskevik premier, and is inclined to joint the Left Social Revolutionaries, the war spirit of which, according to The Daily Mail's Petrograd correspondent, predominates and constitutes a formidable opposition to the peace treaty.

This war party, it is said, advises that the Petrograd governmental institutions be removed into the interior of Russia, from where they can continue the fight against the Germans. It is suggested that the congress of the councils, called to meet at Moscow March 12 to consider the ratification of the peace treaty, will be made the pretext Germans Allow Russians Ex- for evacuating Petrograd, under the excuse that it is necessary for the governmental departments to attend the congress.

TODAY --- THE THIRD DAY

The Formal Presentation of Springtime Modes

Continuing the Display of All That Fashion Deems Smart in Hats, Suits, Coats, Dresses, Blouses and Skirts for Women, Misses and Children

Your Attention is Specially Directed to the Following:

A Beauteous Array of Model Dresses for Women by Such Members of the Grand Couture as: Lanvin, Collot, Premet, Bernard, Jenny, Paquin, Cheruit, Royant, Doeuillet, Gabrielle, Beer, Tolmann, Agnes, and Havet, Arnold, Together With Some of the Foremost Designers of New York

And come they whence they may, 'tis the same tale that all these charming confections have to tell-a tale of straight lines and a greater simplicity. In a word, the new gowns are more practical, more wearable than they have been for many a day, and this while losing nothing of the artistic effect for which the great designers are famous.

In accordance with the demands of the moment, evening gowns

Separate Skirts of a Delightful Simplicity

Showing Many and Diverse Ways of Attaining the Slender Silhouette, with an Unwonted Variety in Materials, Silks Being Very Prominent.

They follow a very conservative model—these new skirts full enough to be graceful and practical, but giving in their subtle lines the general effect of slimness. Tunics, both short and long, are cleverly utilized to obtain this effect, while the diagonal line is one of the very new features.

Where tunics are not, yokes, small pleats and panels play their part; sashes and narrow girdles are almost universal, and the re-appearance of tucks is hailed as the greatest innovation.

Many of the skirts, though simple of line, are destined to form part of an artistic costume, and to this end they are made of such soft pretty silk as crepe de chine, pussy willow, foulard and satin. Other materials are fantasie (a new crepe silk), baronet satin (sheeny and lustrous for sports skirts), washing broadcloth (a fine silk), gingham, and striped taffetas, moire crepe, khakikool, tricolette (a knitted silk weave), and Moonglo...

For the tailored skirts serge, gabardine, tricotine and po are the favored materials. The prevalence of white, especially in the washing silks, is very marked, while soft, harmonious plaids, black and white, navy and castor are much in evidence. Prices range from ...... $12.50 to $50.00 have been relegated to the background, their places having been taken by simple dinner gowns, usually of net or some diaphanous material, high at the back, and with short sleeves.

It is in the making of afternoon gowns that Fashion has put forth her greatest efforts to charm and please. They are frequently fashioned of such softly falling materials as printed Georgette, indestructible voile, or crepe chiffon, and the artistic skill of the French is delightfully apparent in the cunning manner with which brightly colored silken sheaths glean through mists of bisque and grey, which, by the way, are usually embroidered with beads or wool to give emphasis to the color contrast.

These Also Are Distinctions of the New Mode.

The use of two materials, quite often in contrasting colors, are very noteworthy innovations - satin and Georgette: or broadcloth, Georgette and foulards, or taffeta; crepe de chine and chiffon. And here the vogue for tunics and for panels plays its part, and sometimes quite frankly with no other excuse than the originality of the idea, the upper part of a dress will be a different color and material from the

The waist is no longer apparent, for dresses hang in perfectly straight folds, but belts and girdles are usually lower than the normal waistline, the spiral line of the tunic, which is new, giving some definition of the figure.

Fashion is wedded more closely than ever to the tailored dress, and it may be seen as a garment with the extreme smartness and distinction of the semi-princess line—with a tunic like a redingote or as a perfectly straight garment of monkish appearance held at the hips by a belt, embroidery stitching and many buttons redeeming it from sever-

DEWART OPPOSED TO AN EXTENSION

Says Practice Not Constitutional, and Alone Votes Against Bill.

READY FOR A CONTEST

Shows Position Government Takes.

With 58 members of the Ontario ing against him, H. Hartley Dewart, Southwest Toronto, stood up alone been termed "the love feast."

Mr. Dewart advanced many reasons as to why he objected to the measure tion. among others that it was too indefinite as to time and that it was not good constitutional practice. He was given no support in any form, his leader even being obliged to say that opportunity had been given for such objection and that in view of the fact that it had not come he believed among others that it was too indefin-

"H. Hartley Dewart, South West Toronto, criticized the bill, "I am compelled to dissent from the idea of an indefinite extension of the life of the assembly by members who happen to constitute the house at any particular time." he said. He held that such action would be contrary to the plain spirit of the constitution as settled by the British North America Act, if not clearly in violation of it. The promptness with which the prime minister accepted the sugges-ion of an extension was, to say least, a little unexpected, and no opportunity had been given to consider the terms of the bill before its introduction, nor had there been any sign of the unanimous assent of the as-

Time to Settle Up.

It was impossible to foretell what problems might arise in the next two years, and therefore the present plans should not be carried out in law. By the proposed extension the government itself to the people. Under the amendment the province would be absolutely tied to the personnel of any adminis-tration that might be selected without In view of the many deaths the necessity of any minister going to the people for endorsement. "It is really the establishment of an irresponsible oligarohy," he declared.

Mr. Dewart referred to it as a "jughandled scheme, because while the province is tied the government is to have its hands free." He dealt with the question of patronage, and said the system should be abolished as a term of the extension agreement. He characterized the civil service reform bill as introduced by Hon. I. B. Lucas, attorney-general, as "camouflage" and as not being curative. Drawing his arguments to a close he said: "I have therefore, after the fullest consideration, come to the conclusion that I cannot accept this hurried agreement that has been made between the premier and the leader of the opposition because of the lack of consideration.

In states adopted such a measure it could be carried out successfully. The bill was sent to the legal committee.

Venereal Disease Discussed.

Hon. I. B. Lucas, attorney-general, moved the second reading of a bill for the prevention of venereal disease, saying he had nothing further to add to the statements made when the bill was introduced. William Jaques, Haldimand, referred to the bill as second to none in importance that have ever been brought before the house, not excepting the Ontario Temperance Act. He spoke of the progress the province had made against other diseases, and thought it could grapple successfully with this.

Dr. E. Jessop, St. Catharines, agreed cannot accept this hurried agreement that has been made between the premier and the leader of the opposition because of the lack of consideration Reply of Sir William Hearst because of the lack of consideration that is apparent of the important continuous to the principle of the bill but thought stitutional issues and the failure to deal with and safeguard other matters of policy which are of the utmost

"I am not at all afraid of the arrangements that have been made," he said and he had no fear of an election being "sprung." "I regret that e proposed the bill. Only One Conclusion. There was only one conclusion that ould have been reached and that was that every member was in sympathy with the proposal to extend the life of the legislature. When Mr. Dewart spoke recently in Hamilton he had pledged his support to Mr. Proudfoot, Sir William said, and in view of that his present stand was not consistent. "I have not heard one word of criticism among the people outside the house," he said, and then he repeated many of the reasons why he had accepted the proposal. Chief among these was that of the expense that would be involved, then it was not destrable to divert attention from the great task of winning the war. if anything too short. Sir William believed that to force an election immediately after the return of the soldier would be most unfair. There was little choice as to time for an election in this country, there being but two months Further, it was a time when Conserva tive, Liberal and Unionish should be forgotten and all men pledged toge-

KITCHENER NEEDS

Deputy Fire Marshal Comments on Lack of Adequate Brigade.

Kitchener, Ont., March 5 .- Deputy Fire Marshal J. W. Pointon, of the fire marshall's department, Toronto, was in the city today investigating the causes of the fire which destroyed the department store of Weseloh Goudie, Limited, on Saturday night At the conclusion of this investigation, Mr. Pointon paid a high tribute to the generalship of Chief Guerin in confining the fire to the main and second floors of the store. In commenting upon the difficulty Chief Guerin had in fighting the fire with an inadequate number of firemen the fire marshal declared that 14 men for a city of this size is entirely inadequate for an industrial centre like Kitchener. He expressed the hope that the city council will increase the number of men to 18 or 20, and that a sufficient salary be paid them to make their work worth

The request of Fire Chief Guerin for an appropriation of $18,175.80 upon the Matthews name. run the department was turned down by the council in striking the estimates, and only $16,675.80 was allowed. This means that the raise in wages asked for by the firemen will not be granted. There is considerable dissatisfaction among local fire fighters and five of the best men on the department are threatening to leave. The dissatisfaction arises out of the fact that the men are paid on a schedule ranging from $745 to $836 a year. Unless the city council concedes to the requests of the men, there may be a strike among the men, and a majority walk out and leave the city without fire protection. High wages and shorter hours of the munition factories are tempting the men. A petition from the firemen asking for more wages may be presented to the next leeting of the finance committee.

GOOD MUSICAL COMEDY AT ROYAL ALEXANDRA

"Her Regiment" is Replete With Stun-ning Costumes and Catchy Songs and Has Military Aspect.

A musical comedy with a strong cast of leads and a chorus that can sing as well as wear pretty and stunning gowns is "Her Regiment" at the Royal Alexandra this week, The scenes of the operetta are replete with brilliant colors, the dashing uniforms of the soldiers in their scarlet and blue and the gay dresses of the peasant maids making a lively picture.

The action of the story is in Normandy in June, 1914, where the colonel and his regiment are stationed. Close to barracks is an inn, where the Close to barracks is an inn, where the soldiers spend a great deal of their time—but very little of their money according to the innkeeper. Here one of the soldiers meets a malden, with whom he falls madly in love, only to find that she is the flance of his colonel. But Cupid laughs at locksmiths and the colonel gives her to his soldier, with the strict injunction, however, that she must give him back to ever, that she must give him back to France for the present.

Altho the title would lead one to expect it, there is very little of the military about the operetta. The gay uniforms of the French soldiers are only make-believe uniforms, for the gay scarlet and the brilliant blue would never pass muster in these days of real But they are beautiful stage uniforms, and in the ballroom scene they make a striking contrast to the drab civilian dress clothes. The two Sewell sisters in like uniforms gave a couple of specialty dances that call forth a round of applause.

De La Salle are ready to meet University Schools in the O.H.A. junior semifinals. The Irish brigade overcame Kings-fair.

Kingston went nicely at the start and gave the Irishmen a lot of trouble by breaking up the rushes and pecking at Koster from outside the defence. Mc-Curry finally started the scoring with a long lift from the side.

It went from end to end, but as the game progressed it was seen that De La Salle had the system and it was only a matter of time before the goals would come, Ingoldsby dropped one in from the side. Dye got the third one with a pretty play. He went down alone, crossed over the defence and beat Connell with a hard shot.

Dye staged his muss with Elmer shortly after this and was banished for ten minutes, and the period ended with the score tied on the round.

The second period was all for the Toronto team. They outskated the Kingston boys at all times and scored four goals to the visitors' one.

An old friend talking yesterday of the

A fully attended and enthusiastic meeting of the St. Cyprian's Cricket Club was held on Monday evening in the men's club room, adjoining the church, under the presidency of Mr. T. P. Wood. The financial statement presented by the secretary-treasurer showed a small balance in hand at the close of the year and he also reported that of the 16 games played 10 were won, 5 lost and 1 drawn. Five innings of over 100 had been played, the average for all games being 73. It was resolved that the club enter a team in the C. & M. ### Jess Willard Says He is Ready to Fight Fulton

New York, March 5.—Jess Willard is on the warpath. If he keeps up his stride first thing he knows he'll find himself matched for a fight.
"Of course, I'll fight Fulton," says himself matched for a fight.

"Of course, I'll fight Fulton," says Jess.
"Didn't I offer to fight him for nothing? I've been trying to get Fulton for years. They laughed at the match a couple of years ago, until it was called off. Fulton may be a lot better fighter how. I hope he is. I want this thing settled. I never was in better shape to begin work for a fight. I did a lot of work with the circus, and never let myself get out of condition, because I intended to fight again if some real good man came along. I'm bigger and stronger than when I fought Johnson, but I'm not as fat as when I began training for Johnson, I weighed 285 pounds then. I don't weigh that now. I always put on a lot of weight when I wasn't trained down. I weighed over 300 once, years before I beat Johnson and I could run a fast hundred yards at that time. I was running footraces then.

"I'll fight Fulton as soon as they want me to, and for the best purse offered. July 4 would suit me. We'll see who's champlon. One thing, neither Fulton nor anybody else is going to lick me yet, and when I'm too old to fight I'll retire, and they won't get me out again. I never tried to hit anybody as hard as I could yet—but wait. I can hit if I want to. I always was afraid of hurting somebody. The only man I ever fought and didn't care how hard I hit, was Johnson. I well the my right go once in that fight, and it was a knockout. You can say for me, Fulton isn't going to win."

Claiming that the price which the government has intimated it would pay for fish received from the fishermen this season was inadequate and that it ought to be almost double the amount. two deputations waited upon Hon. Finlay G. Macdiarmid, minister of public works, at the parliament buildings yesterday. The Lake Erie Fishermen's Association and the Lake Huron and Georgian Bay Fishermen's Association were represented each by many dole-

It was claimed that when the fish policy was adopted only the people's side of the case was taken into consideration, whereas owing to the increased cost of fishing materials the price to be offered was far too small and would result in a hardship to fishermen. It was contended that out of eight cents a pound, hoxes, ice and other necessities would have to be provided, and that 12 to 14 cents a pound would not be too much when all things were taken into consideration.

Should the government insist upon keeping to its present policy it was foreshadowed that the industry would be given a body blow that would eventually abolish it altogether

Milk is the one food indispensable to human life.

The life, the growth, the vitality, the intelligence and the efficiency of your children depend upon MILK.

No food product can take its place.

There is NO substitute for milk.

It furnishes perfect nourishment for every member of your family-young or old.

Sparkling eyes-clear skins-good teeth - ruddy cheeks - snap - "pep" -the joy of life belong to all who drink plenty of good, fresh milk.

A generous milk diet is the very foundation-stone of health and wellbeing-for children and adults alike.

Of that you will become firmly convinced as soon as you have started using milk from The Farmers' Dairy.

Don't go on thinking that "it makes no difference" which milk you getthat it is "too much trouble" to become a Farmers' Dairy customer.

It does make a big difference. For years you have known that the Farmers' Dairy milk supply comes from the finest farms in Ontario; that the cows are well-tended, kept in prime condition; that sanitary handling is the watchword of our organization.

And you know that this is "the wonder dairy of America"—the best-equipped plant on the continent. All bottles are sterilized by machinery. All milk is scientifically pasteurized.

The marketing is Slow.

The marketing of field products has been comparatively slow, owing to bad roads, and also to the consumption of more home-grown grains on the farm on account of the difficulty in procuring bran, shorts, olicake, cottonseed meal, etc. Oats are selling more freely than any other grain, bringing from 90c to $1.15 a bushel. WEDNESDAY MORNING MARCH 6 1918

Steamships meeting this morning, did not refer to the question of a dividend on the common stock, but stated that conditions were so uncertain that it became incumbent on the directors to be both careful and con-servative. The inference gathered from his statement was that the ques-tion of a dividend on the common stock should be left over till some later occasion. Hearing the discussion of the report, Gordon Strathy expressed the hope that there was nothing in the talk of a dividend on the common talk of a dividend on the common stock. He did not think that the position of the company would justify a dividend, but said that if the company had more money than it needed, a bonus might be paid. Mr. Carruthers in replying, stated it was the unanimous opinion of the directors that the question of a dividend should not be considered at the present more not be considered at the present moment. The entire board of directors was re-elected.

There is no change in the market for millfeed, rolled oats or baled hay.

There was no further change in prices of eggs on the local market today. The demand for supplies in a wholesale jobbing way was good, and a fairly active trade was done, with sales of Canadian and American fresh-gathered eggs at 52c per dozen, with some dealers asking as high as 55c for Canadian, but the bulk of the business was done at the former figure. At the close of the day the tone of the market was inclined to be weaker, and the indications were that prices might possibly be lower in a day or so. The receipts of eggs today were 330 cases, as against 708 last Tuesday.

The condition of the market for butter was unchanged today, and prices for all grades were maintained, with a steady demand for fair-sized lots to meet immediate requirements. The supply of finest creamery on spot is claimed to be somewhat limited, but the offerings of other grades are increasing. Today's receipts of butter were 696 packages, as compared with 844 last Tuesday.

The demand for oleomargarine was good today, and quite an active trade was done in a wholesale jobbling way by dealers who happened to have supplies on hand, and sales were made at 32c to 34c per pound, as to quality.
