FRENCH MAKE BIGGEST ADVANCE SINCE BEGINNING OF NEW DRIVE

GERMAN ROUT SPREADS ALLIES GAIN SIX MILES

GERMANY STANDING, HAT IN HAND, HUMBLLY ASKING FOCH FOR TERMS

French Occupy Towns of Vervins, Mont Cornet and Rethel.

ENEMY PUSHED HARD

Many Guns With Material Abandoned in Precipitate Retreat.

Paris, Nov. 6.—The operations by the French today netted one of the greatest advances yet made, measuring more than six miles at various points. The important towns of Vervins, Mont Cornet and Rethel were occupied and progress was made far beyond these places, the war office announced tonight. The text of the statement was:

"Our troops continued to pursue the enemy through the day on an extended front between the Sambre and the Meuse. Our armies, breaking down local resistance, made an important advance, which exceeded ten kilometres at certain points and freed numerous localities with their civil population.

"The enemy, harassed by our advanced guards, was obliged in the course of his precipitate retreat to abandon guns and considerable material, which it is impossible to enumerate. Everywhere prisoners remained in our hands.

"East of the Sambre we reached the eastern outskirts of Nouvion and Reval forest.

"Further south we have taken Fontaine-les-Vervins and the Town of Vervins. Our advanced elements have gone beyond the Sambre. We hold Hary and La Corriere. Further east, after having occupied Mont Cornet, we pushed our lines beyond Hocquet, Renneval and D'Alignon.

"An Italian corps, operating in close conjunction with our troops, crossed the Hurtat River, and despite stubborn resistance by the enemy, stormed Rosoy-sur-Serre.

"On the front north of the Aisne, our troops are more than twelve kilometres (seven and a half miles), north of Chateau Porcien on the general line of Hardoye, the southern outskirts of Chateau-Porcien, Domely, Begny, Herbligny, and the railroad between Rethel and Liart. The town of Rethel fell into our possession.

"Pressing farther north with admirable spirit, our troops reached at four o'clock in the afternoon the Village of Dyonne, six kilometres north of Rethel. In this region our cavalry captured a battery of 77's, and one of 105's, taking prisoner three officers, the gunners, and capturing the teams.

"To the right, progressed to the general line of Vauxelles, Auboncourt, Sorcy, Banthemont, Ecorail, six kilometres north of Attigny, Guincourt, Jormal and Chateau-Porcien.

"In the region west of the Bar River, after having taken Vendresse, and the broken country to the north, we carried our lines as far as Omlcourt, which is sure."

GERMAN LINE PIERCED IN TAKING OF LETANNE

With the American Army on the Sedan Front, Nov. 6.—Another formidable enemy defence line, on which the Germans planned to make a stand, was smashed by the Americans late Tuesday when they captured the Town of Letanne, in the bend of the Meuse south of Mouson. From Letanne the line extends along the Meuse thru Foutilly and Inor and eastward.

This line was part of the new defences along the Meuse from Stenay northward to Sedan. An elaborate trench system recently had been completed, along with numerous wire entanglements, concrete dugouts and piles of concrete emplacements for heavy machine guns. In some places the emplacements were only 15 yards apart.

FRENCH OCCUPY BEND IN DANUBE

Allies Seize German Material—Disorganization in Hungary.

Paris, Nov. 6.—An official communication says: "Eastern Theatre, Nov. 5: French forces have occupied the bend of the Danube in the region of Orsova. Important German war material was seized in the region of Semendria. Disorganization continues in Hungary. Serbian prisoners are returning in great numbers to their own country, added by the Hungarian people."

HEROIC EXPLOIT OF BRITISH FLIER

Single-Handed He Fought Off Between Fifty and Sixty Enemy Planes.

CRIPPLED BY WOUNDS Destroyed Four and Drove Down Several Others Out of Control.

With the Allied Armies in France and Belgium, Nov. 6.—One of the most daring and gallant deeds has been added to the records of the British air force in a battle recently fought in the Mormal forest by a British major, working single-handed in a fast scouting machine.

The major had engaged a German airplane, and almost before he realized it was surrounded by a great flight of enemy machines, which attacked him fiercely from all sides. A battle royal ensued, which lasted about an hour, during which the British airman was attacked by successive flights of enemy planes until he had given battle to between fifty and sixty.

Early in the fight the major sustained three severe and crippling wounds, one arm and both legs being rendered virtually helpless. Despite his injuries and the fact that he was almost unconscious at times, he continued to fight until by brilliant and fast manoeuvring he managed to escape to his own lines. He had destroyed four hostile planes and driven down out of control between four and six.

Once during the mad battle the major charged one Boche, with deliberate expectation that both machines would crash and end it. He was working over King and Yonge. Megaphones will be distributed in order to make the singing of greater volume. Sir John Hendrie will preside and Major Burch, senior chaplain of Toronto Military Headquarters, will conduct the service.

FOR LIBERTY!

"The Russian Jews are fine to subscribe," said a canvasser enthusiastically. "I just talked to an old man who bought a bond for $1000. He told me it was all he could save for a year, but he would pay a lot more than that for his Canadian liberty if he never got his money back even."

WAR OPERATIONS STOP ALONG ITALIAN FRONT

Rome, Nov. 6.—The Italian official communication, issued today, says: "At 3 p.m. Monday our troops had reached Sliderno in the Venostra Valley, the Passo della Mendola and the delta of Salorno in the Adige Valley; Cembra in the Avisio Valley; Levice in the Sugana Valley; Fies di Primero in the Cleson Valley; Pontebba, Plezzo, Tolmino, Gorizia, Cervignano, Aquileja and Grado.

British Take Important Junction of Aulnoye in Advance.

CANADIANS PROGRESS Dominion Troops Capture Baiseux and Quevrechain Beyond Scheldt.

London, Nov. 6.—Field Marshal Haig's report tonight from headquarters says: "We progressed along the whole battlefield today in spite of a heavy continuous rain. Sharp fighting has taken place at a number of points with German rearguards, and some hundreds of prisoners have been taken by us.

"On our right our troops, pushing forward, captured Cartignes and Marbaix. In the centre, driving the enemy from his hastily constructed defences on the east bank of the Sambre, we have crossed the river about Berlaumont and have captured Leval and Aulnoye, where we have taken prisoners. The important railway junction of Aulnoye is in our possession.

"Further north we have crossed the Avesnes-Bavay road east of Mormal Forest and reached the railway to the south and west of Bavy, where sharp fighting is taking place within a short distance of the town.

"On the left the Canadian troops are continuing their progress east of the Scheldt, and have captured Baiseux and Quevrechain."

Six Miles From Sedan

Americans Advance Along the Meuse Until Famous City is in Sight.

With the American Army on the Sedan Front, Nov. 6.—Its footing well established west of the Meuse, the American army has forced its way along both banks of the river until tonight it is within six miles of Sedan.

Notwithstanding the fact that the Germans have put in fresh divisions, the American and French troops continue their grim advance. Murvaux, north of the Freya line, and east of Dun, was reached this afternoon and operations about the heights to the east of Sedan are well under way.

FIND A BAG OF MONEY DISCARDED BY ROBBER

Nine Thousand Dollars More Recovered of Lost Ties From Express Messengers. After a systematic search of the High Park district for the portion of the train robber's loot, which was supposed to have been hidden in that vicinity, detectives found $9000 in a bag in the rear of a vacant lot beside an outhouse yesterday afternoon. The bag, which had been hastily thrown over a fence, was partly covered with leaves. This accounts for all of the money stolen with the exception of $270, which the authorities believe was spent for current expenses by the robber.

Armistice Delegation Reaches Allied Lines to Receive Conditions From Commander-in-Chief—Several Days May Elapse Before Decision is Made to Accept or Reject Them, or it May Have to Be Made Within Twenty-Four Hours.

London, Nov. 6.—The German armistice delegation has reached the allied lines. This information reached the lobby of the house of commons late tonight.

The Daily Express says it understands that Marshal Foch may receive the German armistice delegates Thursday morning.

The Daily News says it learns that the German delegation has reached the western front and been permitted to cross into the allied lines. The newspaper adds that the delegation will be received by Marshal Foch this morning at daylight.

What Power Have They? Washington, Nov. 6.—Armistice terms prepared for Germany by the supreme war council will soon be in the hands of the German emissaries now on their way from Berlin to the western front, but the time that must elapse before there is a decision as to their acceptance or rejection probably will depend largely upon the powers with which the German delegation has been clothed.

There is nothing here to indicate just what authority has been conferred upon these representatives of the German Government. The official announcement from Berlin, via London, today, said: "A German delegation to conclude an armistice and take up peace negotiations has left for the western front, but the language employed may or may not be significant."

Officials here have assumed that the German representatives, after securing the terms from Marshal Foch, will transmit them by telegraph or convey them personally to the German high command in the field, for it is understood to be the purpose in the present case, as was done with Austria, Bulgaria and Turkey, to deal with the armistice as purely a military issue between the military commands.

Should this procedure be followed, it is regarded here as probable that several days may elapse while the German general staff, nominally at least, subordinate to the civil government, can consider the conditions laid down and reach a decision. There can be no argument as to the terms, no matter how harsh they may appear to the Germans. The only course left to Germany is to accept or reject them.

Meantime, Marshal Foch is expected to continue the pressure on the Teutonic armies which now threatens their safety along a 200-mile front.

No announcement has yet been made when the terms of the armistice will be made public. Their publication very probably will be delayed until Germany has reached a decision with regard to their acceptance or rejection.

Begging at the Door. New York, Nov. 6.—The Associated Press tonight issued the following: "Germany is standing hat in hand at the door of Marshal Foch's headquarters humbly begging for peace."

Deserted by all her former allies, her great military machine in the process of destruction by the onslaught of the entente allied armies; her dream of world domination rudely dispipated, Germany begs for a cessation of hostilities, notwithstanding the hard terms she knows she must pay.

Scarcely had the decision of the supreme war council at Versailles with regard to a cessation of hostilities with Germany been made public than Germany was speeding emissaries to Foch to learn what the commander-in-chief's terms are to be.

No Rest for Germans. Meantime in France and Flanders the enemy forces are being given no rest. Along the whole battle line in France the British, French and American troops have made further material gains and reclaimed numerous towns and villages. Thousands more of Germans have been taken prisoner on all the sectors under attack. Generally the enemy forces are in slow retreat, but nevertheless at some points they are offering sharp resistance, particularly against the Americans in the Meuse River region and the French in the old Argonne sector.

The latest gains of the British on the western side of the battlefield have been productive of the capture of several towns of great importance, the gaining of more territory east of the Scheldt Canal, where the Canadians are on the attack, and in the taking of several railway junctions of high strategic value.

American Push On. Along the Meuse the Americans continue steadily to push forward and at least accounts were almost at the gates of Sedan, a dominating point on the German line of communication to the east. The taking of which will greatly hamper the Germans in their efforts to clear out that portion of the Meuse from the region east of St. Quentin to the north of Fribourg. Both east and west of the river the Germans have materially stiffened their resistance against the men from overseas, using large numbers of machine guns and gas in great quantities in an endeavor to impede their progress.

To the west of the American sectors the Germans near Rethel are holding a bridgehead to protect their retreating armies east and west. In doing so, however, they are forming a dangerous salient in which capture is likely should the French break thru. Numerous additional crossings of the Aisne have been made by the French. Altogether the situation of the German army is a critical one.

GERMANY MUST DECIDE IN TWENTY-FOUR HOURS

News that the allied lines to negotiate an armistice indicates that the question will be settled immediately, for, according to military rules and usages, a military armistice has to be accepted or rejected inside of 24 hours.

GENERAL ADVANCE TOWARDS MEUSE

With the French Armies in France, Nov. 6.—The French armies made another forward bound today of from five to seven miles all along their front, from east of Guise to their junction with the American forces west of the Meuse, pressing close upon the rearguards left by the Germans, who are in full retreat.

The booty taken over this front indicates that the enemy's retreat has been more precipitate than that of yesterday. Prisoners captured say that the retreat will continue for a distance of fifteen or twenty miles farther.

The march of General Gouraud's men toward the Meuse went on during the day with increased speed. After working all night under heavy shell and machine-gun fire in the construction of bridges for infantry and artillery over the Aisne and the Ardennes Canals, they crossed the swollen stream in force and took up their advance this morning, throwing back the rearguards and liberating twenty-four villages with the greater part of their inhabitants.

In some towns were found men of military age whom the Germans had recently brought back from behind their lines.

The cavalry of the first army had this afternoon reached the road from Vervins to Avesnes.

ABDICATION OF KAISER AGITATED IN GERMANY

The military clique and pan-Germans are making desperate efforts to save the house of Hohenzollern while Socialist leaders and others demand its fall.

PARLIAMENT WILL MEET FEBRUARY AT LATEST

Ottawa, Nov. 6.—That parliament is almost certain to meet in January, or in February at the latest, no matter what the developments in regard to peace may be, is the general impression in the best-informed circles at the capital. The desirability of parliament meeting before a treaty of peace is actually signed is obvious because of the number of matters which have been dealt with under the War Measures Act.

WAR HAS COST CANADA MORE THAN A BILLION

Ottawa, Nov. 6.—The war has cost Canada well over a billion dollars up to date. This comprises accounts which have actually passed through the finance department. It does not include recent War expenditure for which accounts have not yet been presented.

MUST NOT BE DAZZLED BY ANY ABDICATIONS

Paris, Nov. 6.—Newspapers here are studying references made in the German and Swiss press in regard to the probable abdication of Emperor William. There seems to be a general opinion that abdication is being discussed openly by the press because of its probable effect upon the situation.

POSITION OF GERMANS BECOMES DESPERATE

Paris, Nov. 6.—Enemy forces are in full retreat on the front of 75 miles from Valenciennes to the Meuse. They are being pressed hotly by the allies. As a result of the latest battle, in which the allies have soundly beaten 140 German divisions, hundreds of villages have been freed and thousands of prisoners have been captured.

POUND STERLING RISES IN NEUTRAL MARKETS

London, Nov. 6.—Between the fall of Damascus on Sept. 30 and the intermediary German and Austrian defeats, there was a further marked appreciation of the value of the pound sterling in neutral markets. The advances ranged from nearly 5 per cent. in Denmark up to more than 13 1/2 per cent. in Sweden, and the movement was intelligible.

AUSTRIAN ARMISTICE CONSIDERED TOO HARSH

Copenhagen, Nov. 6.—The German press considers the Austrian armistice conditions not only extraordinarily severe, but unjust and in violation of President Wilson's program. The Frankfort Gazette criticizes the lack of mutuality regarding the release of prisoners, and also the maintenance of the "hunger blockade," while the allies at the same time reserve freedom of action "to make requisitions on conquered land."

BLOOR EXTENSION ACROSS HUMBER

Project Can Be Undertaken at a Comparatively Small Cost.

NO LAND DAMAGES

One Hundred Foot Roadway Has Already Been Dedicated.

The World's advocacy of a bridge over the Humber at Broad street and a new roadway to meet the Dundas road at Cooksville has been well received as one of the projects for the future development of Greater Toronto which must be undertaken immediately after the war. The proposed bridge and highway, besides linking up the two great pioneer highways—constructed by the province since across the province from east to west, opens up a valuable tract of land well suited for sub-division purposes, and would give much needed new entrance to Toronto from the west.

Home Smith yesterday told a World reporter that if Toronto is to grow it must have a new western entrance. The east was already well supplied in this connection. As it was, the Lake Shore road was the only decent road entering Toronto from the west. The World's proposed extension of Bloor street to Cooksville would give a road, unlike Dundas street, free from heavy grades. It might be some time before the work was commenced, but the present was an opportune time to advocate it.

When the results that would follow such an undertaking were considered, Mr. Smith said, the cost was comparatively small. The land company he was interested in had already dedicated sufficient land to provide for the widening of Bloor street to 100 feet and extending it across the Humber into Etobicoke, so that in the event of the work being undertaken there would be thousands of dollars saved in land damages.

Sir William Hearst Says Government Did Not Interfere.

The transfer of one of the two valuable liquor vendors' licenses, as announced in yesterday's World, came as a big surprise, particularly as it was generally understood that the board of license commissioners had agreed that should any change be made or any new licenses created, in answer to public demand, a former well-known stockbroker, with years of experience in the business and an unblemished record, would receive the valuable possession. That he did not receive it, is because, so common talk has it, he was persona non grata with the government.

Twice yesterday Mr. Justice Riddell at the general sessions in charges to jurors regretted the tendency of juries in Canada today to avoid verdicts in accordance with the facts, as presented. Keenan at the Regent.

Frank Keenan, so well and favorably known in Toronto and elsewhere for his wonderful characterizations, will star in that wonderful story, "The Bell," at the Regent Theatre next week. Charlie Chaplin's Victory Loan picture is one which everybody wants to see and will be presented. Harold Lloyd is remarkably good and will be among those present while the Regent Graphic brings picture news from everywhere. Next week will be a big week at the Regent.

At the Allen.

Dorothy Dalton in "Green Eyes" is the featured attraction at the Allen Theatre this week. In this unusual photoplay Miss Dalton has a characterization that will live long in the memories of all who see it. At the matinees only Shirley Mason and Ernest Truax in "Come On In" will be presented as an added attraction. Douglas Fairbanks bonds in the Al Theatre this week an autographed photo of himself.

Constance Talmadge at Madison.

Gifted and delightful Constance Talmadge is the star of "Good Night, Face!" the charming select picture which will be shown at the Madison Theatre today, tomorrow and Saturday. It gives her one of those whimsical roles in which she is seen at her very best.

PLAYS PICTURES AND MUSIC.

At the Alexandra. The productions of the New York Princess Theatre have for many years been one of the most enjoyable features of the theatrical season. F. Ray Comstock, who directs the Princess Theatre, in association with William Elliott, will present next week, at the beginning Monday evening, at the Royal Alexandra Theatre, "Oh, Lady! Lady!" one of those intimate musical comedies which have given the Princess Theatre a unique reputation. The cast includes Doris Prado, Beth Franklyn, Grace Daniels, Harry Paul, Billy Gaston, May Elsie, Eugene MacGregor, and many others. Seat sale starts today.

"Cinderella" Remains at Grand.

F. Stuart-Whyte's brilliant English pantomime, "Cinderella," will remain at the Grand Opera House all next week, with the usual matinees on Wednesday and Saturday. It is a wonderful show, magnificently staged and ably acted, and has clever comedy, catchy songs, dainty dances, gorgeous costumes and scenery. The company, which is really English, includes some exceptionally capable artists, and the chorus is proof of the contention that the prettiest girls in the world are to be found in large numbers on the American continent, as they were recruited here.

Shea's Theatre.

At Shea's Theatre next week Mlle. Nitta-Jo is the headline attraction, the Parisian artist who is to make her first appearance in America. Mlle. Nitta-Jo is one of France's most popular character singers, and since her arrival in this country a few months ago has created a furore. Rita Mario and her orchestra is composed of ten charming girls. In the Grand Folies of 1914 Herbert Clifton was a big hit. He is now in vaudeville and is giving several of his character impersonations. George McKay and Otte Ardine are old favorites. Johnny Burke, formerly of Johnny and Mae Burke, will be seen for the first time in the new edition of "A Ragtime Soldier." "At the Hotel Turn Over," by the Robert De Mont Trio, completes an attractive bill.

Border Raiders at Hipp.

"The Border Raiders," an exciting story of life on the Texan border, featuring George Larkin, already established as a leading man, and Bessie Compton, another fine favorite, will be at the Hippodrome next week. It deals with the activities of opium smugglers and has a strong appeal in the affection of a daughter for her father. "A Game of Chance," a musical comedy, with snappy songs is the headline act of the vaudeville, which is well balanced. On the remainder of the bill are Carson and Willard, eccentric comedians; Coyde and Trickey, black-face artists; Willie Hale and his brocton jugglers; Stark and Link-vocallists, and Bell and Dell, with an aerial act.

Loew's Next Week.

"The Only Way," the famous "dream" film, announced for next week at Loew's Theatre and Winter Garden, presents Norma Talmadge in the role of a young English girl who comes home from boarding school to the grim realities of a lost fortune, together with the problem of wedding wealth to save the homestead. "The Telephone Tangle," with Joe Bennett, will headline the vaudeville. Other favorites include: Francis and Wilson; Leonore Simonson; "Who is He?" a farce comedy; "The Lubars," "The Silent Clowns"; Loew's new picture, and Wm. S. Hart in a Victory Loan picture, "A Bullet for Berlin."

"How fast can a burlesque show be made?" is a question that is effectively answered by "The Mile-a-Minute Girls," who on Monday begin a week's engagement at the Star Theatre. This show is certainly as fast as they make them, and whether it is possible for one to be any faster remains for the future to tell. The production consists of a rapid, fun-instilling two-act book, "Whirling Around." A long list of musical numbers and the dancing staged by Raymond E. Fozz. There are many specialties of which the most unusual is the engagement extraordinary of Delphine and Her Posing Models.

Al Reeves' Show.

The week's list of burlesque attractions carries one big feature attraction, the Al Reeves' Big Beauty Show, which commences its engagement at the Gayety with the matinee performance Monday. The Reeves' show this season has the distinction of being a brand new offering, with new songs, comedy hits, specialties, costumes and scenery. Al Reeves himself will head the organization.

New Star at Strand.

Lila Lee, a new and very charming addition to the galaxy of motion picture stars, will be seen at the Strand Theatre in an extremely captivating and fanciful vehicle, "The Cruise of the Make Believes," today, tomorrow and Saturday. The production is a Paramount, and it reflects the greatest credit on the producers. It is impossible to imagine a girl more wonderfully equipped for success on the motion picture stage than Lila Lee. Her face is extremely beautiful and expressive.

The Journey of a Ten Dollar Bill

I am a Ten Dollar Bill. I may also add that I am a Canadian Ten Dollar Bill and naturally doing all I can to help our fighting boys win this war.

About a year ago when I was only a few days old, I was handed out by one of our chartered banks to a storekeeper named John Doe. I was crisp and clean then, with a bright yellow back.

I have spent a mighty busy year, and faded out a lot, but, believe me, my usefulness is as great as ever.

When I first started out in life the Victory Loan Campaign of 1917 was on. In fact, my very first job in life was to help pay for a Victory Bond John Doe had bought. Together with millions of other bills, large and small, that answered the 1917 call, I was sent to Ottawa. But I didn't stay at the Capital long.

The very next day I went to pay a lumber dealer in British Columbia for some spruce he had sold the British Government for aeroplanes. The lumber dealer immediately put me in the bank and soon found myself slipped in a small yellow envelope with some other bills and handed out one Saturday to one of the lumber company's employees, who carried me home with him, where I remained all night.

The next day in he goes to a storekeeper. "Here's the ten dollars I owe you," he said to the storekeeper, who immediately "rang me up" in his till.

But my stay there was brief. Next day the storekeeper totalled us up, and I heard him say to his assistant: "Collections are splendid again. I can pay all my accounts this month."

Shortly after this I came into the possession of a commercial traveller, and I next saw the light of day in a small restaurant in a grain town away out on the broad prairies. No sooner had I got comfortably settled in the safe when in comes a farmer with an elevator receipt which he had received for a load of wheat. "Cash this for me," he asked, and I passed into the farmer's wallet, but only for a few minutes—for on his way home he spent me at the hardware store in town for gasoline to operate his threshing outfit.

I am not going to take your valuable time going into details of the different hands I passed through in my trip east—through Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Ontario, until I found myself in the services of a firm in Montreal engaged in making munitions. Here I took another trip to the bank.

It was very peaceful and quiet in the bank vaults. But I was glad they did not keep me there long. I don't want to be idle when there is so much war work to do. And I wasn't, for on Friday I once more found myself in a pay envelope. The man who got me said to his wife that evening—"Here is the money for the household expenses." The following Monday I was traded for shoes for the man's children.

The shoemaker almost immediately sent me to a leather firm. They turned me over to a tannery. The tannery passed me on to a farmer to pay for some hides. The farmer bought a tractor and sent me to the city. Here I was once more enclosed in an envelope and handed to a workman on pay day. He used me to help buy a suit of clothes. The tailor sent me away down east to square his account with a cloth maker. He turned me over to a coal dealer. He spent me for fish, and I took a short trip on a fishing boat and heard the men talking about U-boats and I looked anxiously around the horizon. But we got safely home with a fine catch. The fisherman needed some new tackle, so once more I started inland.

Those who cannot afford the services of a private nurse. Last year, 31,824 visits were made. Double this number might have been made in answer to demands, if funds would have permitted.

In answer to the letter from a French soldier to the Secours National, asking some Canadian girl to correspond, the society has received over one hundred replies. The letters received have been sufficient to supply all the

But we got safely home with a fine catch. The fisherman needed some new tackle, so once more I started inland.

I am a Ten Dollar Bill—that's my face value. You can see I am plainly marked "Ten Dollars."—But the strange thing is that during this year I have bought hundreds of dollars worth of goods, paid hundreds of dollars worth of debts on my journey from place to place in Canada. And what I am doing, forty-two million other ten dollar bills who volunteered to serve their country at the last Victory Loan, are also doing.

Older bills I have met—bills that were in circulation before the war—tell me that Canadian people don't use us for the frivolous purposes they once did. This, of course, is as it should be, because we must defeat the Germans. We must maintain our boys at the front, and the efforts of my fellows are ill-spent.

Now, Canadian ladies and gentlemen, I am going to bring my talk to an end by telling you the queerest thing of all about my travels.

My present home is in the bank, the officials of which gave me permission to come here and address you in the interests of the Victory Loan 1918. I am at this very moment lying at the credit of the same John Doe, storekeeper, where I was last year. I heard him say when he handed me to the bank—"Put that ten dollars to my credit, please. I am going to buy some Victory Bonds next week."

So, I presume, I am destined for another trip to Ottawa, and another busy year going up and down the country—keeping factories, farms, lumber camps and stores paid for their goods and their labor. And I am proud to be of such service to my country.

Just one thing more and I am through: I hope each Canadian will do everything he can to defeat the Germans, because, if he does not, I, as a Canadian Ten Dollar Bill, will not be worth much—and German money, which I understand, is called "marks," will travel up and down Canada in our places, and my race will disappear from the face of the earth.

Thanking you greatly for your attention, ladies and gentlemen.

Issued by Canada's Victory Loan Committee, in co-operation with the Minister of Finance of the Dominion of Canada.

Who is the Man?

The Toronto Star believes that a strong man should always be on the job at Ottawa. It deplores the necessity which may compel the prime minister's absence from Canada for several months, and says that he should delegate all his powers to some one man, who should be the prime minister of Canada at home while Sir Robert Borden, as prime minister, may be overseas.

Some of the American states have a provision in their constitution by which the lieutenant-governor becomes acting governor, whenever the governor elected by the people goes beyond the boundaries of the state. When our governor-general goes to a foreign country we appoint an administrator. Something of the same kind our good neighbor would have in respect to the office of prime minister.

But who is to be the regent, administrator or home premier when Sir Robert Borden attends the peace conference? The Star modestly refrains from mentioning the name of the man it must have somewhere concealed in the back of its head. It certainly must be a member of the cabinet. But who on earth can it be? Whom would the Star be likely to select? Somebody has suggested that the name of the strong man needed begins with R. Can it be that the Star is starting a boom for Dr. Reid, or is it thinking of someone nearer home?

The U. S. Elections.
 The congressional elections are important from a domestic point of view, but not from an international standpoint. The people of the United States are unanimous in their desire to prosecute the war to complete victory. The president has been loyally supported in both houses of congress by Republicans as well as by Democrats. Indeed, if there be any distinction, the Republicans have been pre-eminently the war party.

The new congress will not take office until March 4, 1919. Perhaps before that date arrives a treaty of peace will have been concluded. In any event such a treaty cannot become effective until approved by two-thirds of the senate. It would therefore have to receive both Democratic and Republican support, whether it were submitted to the senate as now constituted or the senate as it will be constituted after March 4.

It may take an official count to determine exactly how the two parties stand in the new congress. But we know now that the Republican party will be in a strong position for the presidential race. President Wilson's appeal for the election of a Democratic congress precipitated a red-hot fight. His prestige in domestic politics may be impaired, but he remains the spokesman of the American people. Until March 4, 1921, he alone can initiate and direct the foreign policy of the country. True, a treaty of peace would have to be ratified by the senate, but a peace satisfactory to all the allied governments will scarcely be repudiated by the United States Senate.

Tuesday's election did not at all correspond with a general election in Canada. The contest for state officers often overshadowed the national campaign. Prohibition and other issues engrossed in many districts the attention of the electorate. The ordinary voter had presented to him a ballot two feet long and two feet wide, and perhaps scarcely noticed that a congressman was to be elected. He may have been much more interested in who was to be elected governor, attorney-general, county judge or county coroner. In Michigan the personality of Henry Ford must have cut more figure in the election than the personality of the president.

One lesson, we think, to be drawn from the election is that the people of the United States are far from willing to abandon the principle of protection. The policy of protection has been known among them since the days of Henry Clay as the "American policy," and corresponds to our national policy in Canada. In a stand-up and knock-down fight between protection and free trade the Republicans would sweep the country in 1920.

Eliminating the Kaiser.
 A delegation of German military and naval officers was reported to have left Berlin yesterday for the purpose of negotiating an armistice at the front. It is to be remembered that the military party in Germany is still in command of the telegraph service and all official despatches are written and censored to save the face of the government and the kaiser. An attempt is being made in these despatches to keep up the delusion that the kaiser is a highly important person and that the German army has still something to say in regard to peace terms.

There is nothing in either point. The German army is in extremis. Marshal Foch asked the other day: "Why an armistice? I've got them." This is the whole case. Germany is utterly defeated and the continuation of the fighting is a matter which the German people must eventually settle with the kaiser and his government. It was the kaiser who started the war. It is the kaiser who delays ending it.

But his position is hopeless either in a military or a political sense. The military position is sufficiently indicated by the request for an armistice sent to President Wilson. The answer to that is a reference to Marshal Foch, and the delegates to meet Marshal Foch have been appointed. If Germany was not prepared to accept the terms, the general terms of which is well known, they would not be asked for. In any case the terms will be delivered as an ultimatum, delay in acceptance simply involving severer conditions.

It will be remembered that President Wilson "very solemnly" warned the German Government that the United States and the entente alliance would not negotiate with the authors of the war. It is one of the conditions of the armistice that Kaiser Wilhelm must go.

"If it must deal with the military masters and the monarchical autocrats of Germany now," were the president's words, speaking for his government, "or if it is likely to deal with them later in regard to the international obligations of the German Empire, it must demand, not peace negotiations, but surrender. Nothing can be gained by leaving this essential thing unsaid."

And this means, if it means anything, that even if the entente alliance permitted the "military masters and monarchical autocrats" to remain, General Pershing would have instructions to pull the kaiser out of his seat and bring him to justice. All the allies, however, are united on this point, and the abdication of the kaiser will be insisted upon.

The German people are not averse from this policy as some official despatches from Berlin endeavor to suggest. The leading newspapers recognize the necessity, and the chief statesmen admit it. The army, especially outside the Prussian ranks, are in accord with the demand for abdication. One Baden officer declared that they would have no more of the Hohenzollern breed. The kaiser himself has signified his willingness to cooperate with the government in any measures necessary for peace, and this is only making a virtue of a necessity.

The kaiser is the weed seed of the war and he and his kind must be exterminated as far as governmental authority is concerned. Justice at the hands of the allied nations will determine his personal destiny.

Fix Food Prices.
 Editor World: You have called attention on more than one occasion to Mayor Church's activity along with conviction along practical lines, so why do you not try and get him to name a committee to investigate food prices? You could do something for the ordinary man if you want to. The government has given authority to name this committee. Other cities have agreed to do this, but Toronto, where foodstuffs are very high, does nothing. Surely the World does not care to be so placed. A friend of mine writes that the scheme is a success in New York and that the Americans can do surely Canadians can. Why not try it? Mr. Editor, try and wake our council up. The people are really suffering.

 Charged with the theft of a quantity of butter and jam from the C.P.R. Samuel Clarke and Lester Weasin, West Toronto, were remanded on bail of $1000 each when they appeared in the county police court yesterday before Magistrate Brunton.

The magistrate has started a new system in the case of juvenile offenders by turning all those not interested in their cases out of the court room. Ida Simenovsky, Newmarket, was fined $200 and costs on a charge of bringing liquor into a prohibited area. Two barrels of vinegar had been shipped to her disguised as sauerkraut. Speeders fined were F. G. Osler, 16 Rosedale road, $9.25, and J. Cohen, Palmerston boulevard, $10.25.

Ida and the School Enquiry

BY IDA L. WEBSTER.

A long time ago we had a sneaking idea that the board of school trustees were incompetent to do their duty. This thought was formed after attending one of the meetings where it was impossible to do any business, because Dr. Noble did not happen to be on the job. Naturally if everything was quite all right, and the remaining members of the gang were able to fill their positions, it would not have been necessary to call off the proceedings because of one man's absence.

Yesterday the investigation was continued by Justice Lennox, into the building department of the board of education, and from what we heard of it, it seems that someone has been having a wonderful time on the city's money for some considerable period. As for law and order, there is no such thing connected with the whole department. Indeed, as his lordship said, "From the various witnesses called I have decided that none of the trustees have ever tried to find out what the working of the department was."

Certainly the evidence given by one Mr. Hodgson, who has been running for something like 20 years, would lead anyone to imagine that the general order for trustees to follow was the one which reads, "Mind your own business, and I will do likewise." Contracts were let, but it was apparently no one's business or duty to see that they were carried out.

In 1913, Judge Winchester conducted an inquiry into the same thing, and at that time he warned the board of education in no uncertain terms that they should use wisdom in the awarding of contracts. He especially referred to the Fred Armstrong Co., saying that this firm had been given awards, which had not been carried out, and that in future he would advise that this firm should not be favored. That was the particular point which he wanted to impress that fact upon the school board.

Just how much influence his findings had with the board of education is shown in the fact that in 1914, or one year later, 34 contracts were let to the Fred Armstrong Co., and in 1915 their building account against the board of education was $237,770, with $213,213 in extras. (This means that there was about 9 per cent. extra on every contract, or $90 on every thousand.) This amount, there should be extras to this amount, was witnessed by Mr. Hodgson, did not know, and, in fact, he was not at all interested in any of it, other than the fact that he did not think it was anyone's business how many relatives he had connected with the board of education, because, as he said: "Every trustee had more or less of his relatives in the department."

Oliver Vokes, who is a son of Miss Vokes, another trustee, did not think that the board of education did anything but what was right, and that it was merely owing to the fact that his father was a trustee that this was done. When asked why the name of his firm had been changed from British-American Hardware Co., the witness said that their only motive at the time was the wish to do away with anything American, which to us was a most brilliant reason, indeed. The witness said that the investigation of 1913 did not have the effect of making the members of the school board any more careful in their spending of the citizens' money. Sworn evidence will prove that fact, and there is just a chance that if a few of the present trustees were replaced by others this next year there might be better results.

Surely this stunt of holding investigations is not going to go on indefinitely. Every time that it is necessary to hold these examinations the citizens have to pay for it, and pay well, and just why should they be so? It seems to us that as the city council votes to pay out the money for the various building propositions, they might go further and keep their eyes on the manner in which this money is spent. In any case some one needs to get busy and do something, or there will be nothing left but the building.

NEGLECTED VERDICT, JUDGE REPROVES JURY
 "I regret, gentlemen, that you did not show the courage to bring in a verdict in accordance with the indictment," said Mr. Justice Riddell yesterday afternoon when the jury brought in a verdict of criminal negligence against Wm. Pearsall, charged with the death of Joseph Hughes in a motor car accident at the intersection of Danforth and Bay streets on July 4.
 "The indictment as read," continued the judge, "could mean only that the prisoner was guilty of manslaughter." Pearsall, according to the evidence, had been driving at high speed while under the influence of liquor when the accident occurred. Mr. Justice Riddell, in his charge to the jury, expressed the hope that the government would so change the law as to give power to cancel licenses of chauffeurs who drank liquor at all.

 "Oh Brian! Aunt Louisa is coming! Coming tomorrow. She will be here on that 7 o'clock train. We must both go and meet her." Brian tried to look interested, tried to put some enthusiasm into his voice. Ruth was so unaffectedly happy that he must not allow her to see he did not share her joy.

"The letter came this afternoon. Hurry up, dear, we must get thru dinner. I am so glad that you are here. Why, what are you going to do so different?"

"I must fix the guest room, so it will look home-like, then I want to get a list ready for the marketing so Rachel will be sure to have everything we need in the house. I do want Aunt Louisa to have a good time while she is here. I am so glad that the house is so pretty, aren't you?"

"Yes, if you are," he replied, not ungraciously. Altho he felt a twinge of jealousy, he always did when Ruth mentioned the beauty of the home which she alone had made possible for them.

"I shall stay at home all day Saturday. I know Mr. Mandel will let me, and we must get tickets for the theatre Saturday night. Auntie loves the theatre."

"I'll look up the plays after dinner." This was one thing he could do. Help in the plan for Saturday evening. He would not be able to be with them that night.

He never entered his head to forego his lesson, to give up the evening spent with Mollie because Mrs. Clayborne was coming. In fact he experienced a feeling of relief as he thought he would be one less to spend under her sharp eyes. He realized perfectly she had not wanted Ruth to marry him. And that she also blamed him because Ruth had gone to work. Then, she was apt to quarrel with him. He would not endure any prying into his business, nor any questions as to his resources.

All the evening Ruth chattered, flying about the apartment or seated at her desk making the list for Rachel, and adding to the menu such things as were not procurable at her aunt's home.

"We must give her the things she cannot get at home," she said to Brian, her brows knitting over her task. "I do so want everything to be perfect for her, Brian. Be sure you get good seats for the play. I would not take her to again all winter than she is accustomed."

"Don't worry! I'll see to that!" There followed a discussion as to what they should see. Finally a musical comedy which had been very favorably noticed in the papers was decided upon.

"You better get the seats on your way down in the morning," Ruth said. And looking up, because of his failure to answer, she noted the flush on his face.

"He has no money!" she thought. Then, "Why is it that, whenever he is out late, he has no money to get a taxi? He must be spending it on his mind was so staggering she paused in the thinking."

That Brian might gamble never had entered her mind. But she had read of men who, wanting money, took chances in that way. They always detaining her and returning her carriage to Rachel, she waved her list, her face shining because of his career.

"What a goose he is to be so sensitive," she thought, and then leaned over, as she passed him, to kiss his cheek.

"Where are you going?" he asked, detaining her and returning her carriage to Rachel, she waved her list, her face shining because of his career.

"To the kitchen to give this to Rachel," she waved her list, her face shining because of his career.

"You bet we are; if we starve afterward."

GOVERNMENT SHOULD KEEP UP PAYMENTS
 Allowance During Re-education Period Very Important to Returned Men.

James Higgins, president of the Canadian Federation of Labor, who has seen considerable service at the front, stated last night that his organization was desirous of giving every assistance to the soldiers' civil re-education in the matter of vocational training. At the same time there was, he said, a distinct feeling among the rank and file of labor generally that the government allowance for subsistence to soldiers undertaking re-education, no matter where they should not have any influence upon the pay of the soldier while in training for his new civil vocation.

Such a system, said Mr. Higgins, made the soldier dependent, and in a general way lowered the general standard of wages, bringing the returned man into conflict with the general rank and file of trades unions.

The Canadian Federation of Labor is a national organization with a membership of 3000. All union locals within its jurisdiction appoint their own committees to decide strikes, making no reference to the general executive of their decisions.

BRITISH NAVY'S WORK IN FAR EASTERN SEAS

Admiral Grant Describes Checking of German Attempts to Foment Indian Native Risings.

New York, Nov. 6.—Work of Great Britain's "great, silent navy" in the far east was described here today by Admiral Sir William Grant, K.C.B., British naval commander-in-chief in the North Atlantic.

Speaking at the opening of the British naval exhibit, Sir William said: "The navy was at work day and night out checking German attempts to raise native populations in India and elsewhere, in preventing the formation of raiding and submarine bases, and in the general protective measures against mine-laying and raiders of the vast overseas traffic, which included the transport of great numbers of troops from Australia and New Zealand, more than 100,000 Chinese coolies to the front, and the transport of tons of rice, sugar, oil, wheat, rubber, tin, etc."

"The outlying campaign in Mesopotamia was absolutely dependent on the navy for transport of troops and all supplies overseas. Rivers had to be dredged, wharves and piers built and railways laid. Japan, China, Hongkong, Siam, Straits Settlements and India were ransacked for tugs and small craft. Burma, Sumatra and Borneo for hundreds of thousands of tons of timber, and India for railway material and coal."

GERMANS GASSING BELGIAN TOWNS

Defenceless Inhabitants Suffer Severely From Inhumanity of Enemy.

Washington, Nov. 6.—German forces in their retreat from Belgium are bombarding defenceless towns, using especially gas shells, and devastating the countryside, according to an eyewitness account made public today by the Belgian Legation in London.

"The Belgian Government has been informed," said the statement, "by a reliable eyewitness who follows closely the operations at the Belgian front, that at the very moment that the German Government has announced her protest against inhuman acts, and while Germany offers to stop aerial bombardments in the interest of the civil population of the occupied territory, the Germans have bombarded the villages and towns which they were obliged to abandon during their retreat; they have used especially gas shells for this purpose."

"Indescribably heartrending scenes have occurred, the unfortunate population having no gas masks or means of protection against the gas, death-spreading fumes. A Belgian soldier entering Wyngheem, his home town, found his wife dying and his little daughter dead, victims of the gas. The country all around Ghent, the rich and beautiful cultivated fields and pastures, the picturesque villages of Hanskele, Landeghem, Nevele, Laethem, Saint Martin, Troncheines, present a horrible sight of devastation and havoc. Not a church was spared from destruction."

"Among the civilian population 17 in the village of Hanskele alone. A German soldier, who had been captured from their homes at night, and whose return to his home and belongings had been cut down, houses, barns, furniture smashed to pieces, fields devastated."

"These facts one may appreciate how hypocritical are the humanitarian propositions and protestations of the German Government."

TO PREVENT SOLDIERS PLUNDERING TYROL

Amsterdam, Nov. 6.—The civil and military authorities at Innsbruck are endeavoring to avert the danger of Austrian troops plundering northern Tyrol and, owing to the lack of provisions, plundering the country. Provision stations have been established and steps have been taken to disarm the troops. Beyond the plundering of some wagons of foodstuffs at the Innsbruck station, no excesses have occurred so far.

Italian prisoners, who left the detention camps, have been reassembled, and are being sent home.

SOLDIERS RIFLE SHOPS IN AUSTRIAN TOWNS

John Pfeiffer, veteran of the first contingent and now military policeman at Guelph, came here today and accompanied by Children's Aid Society officials, succeeded in getting his two children away from their mother, Mrs. Theresa Pfeiffer, who was recently convicted at the assizes at Kitchener on a perjury charge. He took the two children to Guelph with him.

TRADE ARTERIES IN HEALTHY SHAPE

War Board Says Canada Can Handle Traffic After Peace Without Congestion.

NO CONFUSION

More Rolling Stock Available and Labor Situation is Satisfactory.

Montreal, Nov. 6.—"Whether peace comes tomorrow or next week, Canada's trade arteries are in healthy condition and will meet even the most complete system of the current of traffic without confusion or congestion."

This statement was issued by the executive committee of the Canadian Railway War Board at the end of a long session today. Lord Shaughnessy will continue as chairman, presiding over Canada's entire railway system. The executive committee was attended by Lord Shaughnessy; H. G. Kelley, vice-chairman and president of the Grand Trunk Railway; D. J. Hanna, president of the Canadian Northern Railway; E. W. Beatty, K.C., president of the C.P.R. and H. A. Smith, formerly president of the New York Central, now director of the United States railway administration. Mr. Smith represents the American lines in Canada.

"Thanks to the foresight of the Canadian Government in ordering engines built at a time when some of the roads in Canada were unable to finance and purchase, the power situation on the Canadian roads is now fairly satisfactory. Two hundred new engines are now in service on the C.P.R., G.T.R., and the Canadian Government lines. The scarcity of locomotives, which was on the verge of becoming acute last winter, is now greatly modified."

"14,000 New Freight Cars." The supply of freight cars has been increased by 14,000 new cars bought by the government for government roads. These new cars, added to the better loading, quicker handling and more rapid unloading methods obtained thru the Canadian Railway War Board's efforts, mitigates the danger of car shortage. That, however, does not mean that economical methods may be relaxed.

"Last winter over 20,000 of our cars were lost in the American traffic tie-up. It is hoped that this winter American lines will be able to return our cars almost as fast as they get them."

"The condition of rails and roadbeds is not as satisfactory as might be desired. New rails have been damaged, the roadbeds are being repaired, and the amount of the bonus granted, 100,000 finally allotted us only 80,000 have been received. These have been used to good advantage on the main lines."

"Labor Situation Satisfactory." The labor situation is satisfactory except insofar as the roads are still understaffed. A special labor board, formed at the request of the Canadian Railway War Board, with the co-operation of the brotherhoods, is administering the McCaod award very satisfactorily. Over 14,000 railway employes have been laid off by the 'flu, but are now returning to work. Forty-five thousand doses of anti-flu serum have been sent west by the Canadian Railway War Board to forestall any further spread of the disease.

"Old trouble spots have been carefully guarded. The temporary isolation of the Drumheller coal fields by the breakdown of last winter, and the consequent fuel shortage in certain prairie districts will almost certainly not happen this winter, as the fuel situation has been carefully tracked. The board has been doubling plans for the Canadian Northern, Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk Pacific to co-operate in carrying traffic in the west should any one road find itself over-burdened."

"The Canadian Railway War Board has arranged also that the Michigan Central, C. P. R., T. H. & B. and Grand Trunk shall all haul traffic direct into Toronto. Formerly the G. T. R. had the only direct route. The Michigan Central hauled from the center to Welland, the T. H. & B. from Welland to Hamilton, and the C. P. R. from Hamilton to Toronto. The engine company of Toronto will now run thru all the way."

"Plans are being perfected for further unification of terminal and other facilities. We have reason to believe that, except for possible contingencies of storm and zero weather, epidemics of labor shortage, the railway systems of Canada are in more workable perfect condition to face peace conditions than any in the world."

HOW AUSTRIA GOT ARMISTICE TERMS

Italians Insisted on Accredited Delegation—Versailles Set Conditions.

London, Nov. 6.—The procedure adopted by the Austrians in their application last week for an armistice is described by the correspondent of 'The Times' at Italian headquarters: "Towards the evening of Oct. 29," he says, "an Austrian officer was seen coming from the enemy trenches close to Serravalle, above Als, in the Adige Valley. It became evident at once that the white flag was genuine, and Italian officers went forward to meet him."

"The officer, who was a captain, declared that he had come to discuss the conditions of an armistice. Taken to a neighboring cottage and questioned, he was found not to have any authoritative papers and was sent back with a message that a more respectable and duly accredited mission should be sent, if the matter was to be pursued."

"On Wednesday evening a white flag was again hoisted, and the Austrians having evidently determined to make due sacrifice of their pride, this time more fitting personalities appeared. At the head of a small group that approached the Italian trenches was a telegraphing officer, followed by a corps commander. The party consisted of eight persons and included another general and naval and military officers. They were also accompanied by a diplomatic or government representative, and secretaries and typists."

"They were treated with every courtesy, and when General von Weber had formally stated his mission and shown credentials he and his party were driven next day in motor cars to the Villa Giusti, close to Gen. Diaz's headquarters. At 9 o'clock in the morning Gen. Badoglio, the chief of staff, drove with an escort of four officers to the villa, and on his arrival all the troops present saluted and bugles were sounded."

"Entering the villa, General Badoglio, all the Austrian mission standing in a line, drew out a card awaiting him. General von Weber was in full uniform, wearing the medals and ribbons of his orders. General Badoglio, who was in civilian attire, himself asked the Austrian general his errand. General von Weber replied that he had come to ask the terms of an armistice. General Badoglio answered that within an hour he would let him know the general lines of such an armistice contained in a written message. He then left the room and the written message in question was at once sent to the villa."

"Meanwhile telegrams were exchanged with Versailles, and during the afternoon the precise details under which an armistice would be granted were received from Signor Orlando, the Italian prime minister, and again in written form handed to General von Weber. During the evening one of the Austrian envoys left by motor car for Serravalle with a draft of the conditions to communicate to the Austrian Government."

"The Austrian plenipotentiaries were very depressed and did not show themselves outside the villa nor walk in its ample gardens."

CABINET HAS DECIDED ON CIVIL SERVICE BONUS

Details Will Be Announced as Soon as Order is Approved by Governor-General.

Ottawa, Nov. 6.—The cabinet council has passed an order-in-council respecting war bonus for civil servants. But what the terms of the order are, and the amount of the bonus granted, will not be announced till after approval by the governor-general, probably tomorrow.

"Among the subjects discussed by the cabinet council today," Sir Robert Borden said at the conclusion of the council meeting, "was the question of war bonus to the civil servants. A final conclusion was reached, which will be announced after submission and approval by the governor-general."

It is generally regarded here as unlikely that the order-in-council will grant the full bonus of $350 to all. The situation has aroused much excitement among civil servants. What amounted practically to an ultimatum was forwarded to the prime minister today by Frank Giesler, president of the civil service federation. "It has become necessary," the letter read, "to ask the government to give us some official statement this afternoon." The letter asked for a reply before 6 p.m. Council did not rise, however, till almost 7 o'clock, and it was then that Sir Robert gave the statement cited above.

Ottawa, Nov. 6.—The chairman of an ad hoc board points out that with 250,000,000 people to be fed after the war, and with the repatriation of troops, which will take two years, no more vessels will be detached than necessary for direct voyages, and the North American route will remain the great canal of food supplies for the whole world.

TWO-POINT GAIN BY MAPLE LEAF

Barcelona Equals High Point of Year, and Mackay is Also Strong.

Maple Leaf Milling's two-point advance to 133 1/2, close to the high mark for the year, established some weeks ago, and Barcelona, which at 114 1/2 equals the previous top price for some years, were the outstanding features of trading on the Toronto Exchange yesterday.

Several issues were inclined to heaviness, but offerings were on a limited scale and the dealings in broken lots carried little significance.

Victory Bonds Look Good As Peace Looms Up

The prospect of peace makes Victory bonds all the more attractive as an investment.

Why, someone may ask, are Victory bonds such a good investment? For one thing it is most unlikely that another Canadian loan will be offered at 5 1/2 per cent, free of all federal taxation.

This was evidenced less by the strength of stocks than by the demand for bonds of various descriptions and grades, many of which registered higher quotations of the past year or two.

U. S. Steel which has denoted professional pressure for the past fortnight, fluctuated on moderate dealings between 101 1/2 and 103 7/8, holding virtually all its advance at a net gain of 2 1/2 points.

WE MUST BUY MORE VICTORY BONDS!

We must buy Victory Bonds if we are to maintain the pace we have set in the war. The pace has been swift. But the need has been great.

We must buy Victory Bonds if we are to keep faith with the men who already have fallen for us. They have died. But it was not in vain.

We must buy Victory Bonds if we are to have peace. The Germans will give us peace when we crush them.

The cheering war news and bright prospects are the greatest incentive to invest in Victory Bonds.
