THE PLEBISCITE IS NOW THE TOPIC

Everybody in Canada Is Interested in the Vote to Be Taken on Thursday.

WHAT EMINENT CANADIANS SAY ABOUT IT

Sir Henri Joly Is Not in Favor of Prohibition, and He Is Able Enough to Know What He Is Talking About—Bishop Sullivan Discourses on the Subject—Canon Cayley Expresses His Opinion—Comments of Some Solid Newspaper Editors—How Will You Vote?

JOLLYING THE PROHIBITIONISTS.
New York Tribune, Sept. 26: Whatever the verdict of the polls, it will be a great experiment in practical socialism, for it will be an application of that "initiative" system so dear to the socialist heart. In voting for prohibition the people will actually establish prohibition. They will merely express their desire for it, and give to the Government of the day a popular mandate for its enactment. In principle, and according to its promise, the Government will be bound at the earliest opportunity to enact and rigidly to enforce such a law as we have described. Practically, however, the Government may do no such thing, and there are many shrewd observers who confidently predict that it will not. It will not be difficult to discover constitutional, or administrative, or other reasons for delay, and for postponing action until after the next general election. In granting this plebiscite the Liberal Government has ingratiated itself with the prohibitionists. If on any plausible pretext it can postpone action and yet keep them convinced of its sincerity, it may secure their support at the next general election, and thus greatly increase its own chances of being retained in power.

HE IS SCORING PROHIBITION IT IS "UNSCRIPTURAL,"

Sir Henri Joly Says It Involves Compensation. Says Bishop Sullivan, Speaking of the Proposed Prohibitory Legislation.

THE COUNTRY WOULD HAVE AN ENORMOUS SUM TO PAY IF PROHIBITION WERE ADOPTED—BESIDES, IT WOULD NOT DO AWAY WITH DRUNKENNESS—WHAT TRUE TEMPERANCE MEANS.

From The Globe.
Sir Henri Joly de Lotbiniere addressed a meeting of his constituents at Cap Sante, Portneuf County, at the church after high mass on Sunday. He discussed the approaching plebiscite, and stated his reasons for being opposed to the principle of a prohibitory enactment. Sir Henri spoke as follows:
Whenever I meet the electors of the County of Portneuf they speak to me of the vote which they are about to be asked to give on the question of prohibition, and they ask my advice. I should have preferred to vote as he thinks fit, but I cannot refuse to reply frankly to the electors of the county which I have the honor to represent, who testify their trust in me and seek my advice, that I am opposed to prohibition. I know that in making this declaration I shall displease friends to whose good opinion I attach great value and who believe in prohibition, but when an opportunity offers the other day I told them that I did not share their views, so that I do not now take by surprise.

All Should Vote.
The Government asks its promise in giving to the people an opportunity of clearly declaring upon the question of prohibition. The plebiscite vote will occasion considerable expense, but, at least, let not the money be purely wasted. Every elector should straightforwardly declare himself, so that the country may know how popular sentiment stands upon the question. Those who refrain from voting will incur a great responsibility for the future, a responsibility much more serious than many think. They will show themselves unworthy of the privilege of every free man, of taking a share in the government of the country by expressing his opinion by his vote. The question is, are you in favor of prohibition, or are you not? The Government has not desired to embarrass the voters, nor to influence their vote, as the partisans of prohibition have seemed to fear, by asking them to declare at the same time if they would or would not be ready to take the consequences of a vote for prohibition and undertake beforehand to support the burdens necessary to supply the deficit in our revenues of about $8,000,000 annually, which would inevitably result from prohibition. The fact is that every intelligent man will give his vote in favor of prohibition, but must be fully alive to all the consequences of his so doing.

Compensation Must Be Made.
But it is not only this annual deficit of $8,000,000 that we would be called upon to meet. Every honest man who has the PROHIBITIONIST SPACE: The two other little ones were never strong, and didn't live long, but we try to be more hopeful of our third.

MIDDLETON'S LATEST.
The Alleged Swindler and Bigamist Was About to Become a Jail Breaker. It Is Said.
Woodstock, Ont., Sept. 26.—(Special).—The Sentinel-Review prints a despatch from Hamilton to the effect that Middleton, the alleged swindler and bigamist, had a scheme on foot to escape from the second Ontario County Jail, and get away to Buffalo. The report is that he wrote to a friend in Hamilton, confiding his plan, and that the "friend" divulged the plan to the police of the Ambitious City. The Chief of that force communicated the intelligence to the jail authorities in Woodstock, and thus the scheme was frustrated. When Middleton found his game was blocked, he is said to have had an attack of nervous prostration.

FEARFUL TORNADO ACROSS THE LAKE

Funnel-Snaped Cloud Left Death and Desolation in its Track.

THREE PERSONS KILLED AT MERRITON

Roofs of Buildings Carried Away by the Score in That Town and St. Catharines—An Eye-Witness Describes the Scene as Something Thrilling Beyond Description—He Witnessed the Storm at St. Catharines—Old Probs' Remarks About It.

St. Catharines, Ont., Sept. 26.—At 3.45 this afternoon a black cloud approached the city from the northwest. It was heralded by a sharp peal of thunder out of a clear blue sky, and in a very short time a terrific tornado began its deadly work. The wind-squall-water-spout was seen oozing Welland-avenue, between Lake and George-streets. It traveled in a direct line from this point to the southern limit of the city, passing out at or near the Packard Electric Works. All along the course the destruction is visible up to Church-street. Several minor effects are shown at this point.

The drill shed is practically demolished, the western arch being blown in on the gun sheds, breaking them in, and the roof of the hall is completely gone. From here it passed along up to Church-street, where it had unroofed Crookshanks' large barn, and carrying the roof of the Nelson boarding house over 100 yards away. Slight damage was done at the First Presbyterian Church, the scuttles being carried away.

C. K. Moore's barn was unroofed, and all the chimneys blown from his house. At the Collegiate Institute a large chimney was blown down, falling through the roof into a class room, where some of the students were at drill. Luckily all escaped. St. George's rectory roof was badly smashed, the chimney falling through the roof. McHugh's cigar factory had part of the roof carried away, and chimneys blown down, and Dittrich's office also suffered.

Griffin's restaurant roof was blown off, and part of it carried across the street, and landed in St. Paul-street Church yard. The St. Paul-street Church had glass blown out in the front and sides. Packard's Electric Works lost the cornice of the main building. Several windows were blown out, and a wooden warehouse known as the old barrel house was razed to the ground and blown down the hill. Rarcliffe's large ice house at Lock 4 was completely demolished. The King-street end of the St. Catharines House tumbled over, and part of the Hodgins Bros' cornice came down. Flynn Bros' shed was reduced to kindling wood.

All along the path of the storm, extending from James-street east to Queen-street, the havoc was complete. The roadways were practically impassable, and the wonder is that St. Catharines has no death list to report. The Wonderful Spectacle.
Hundreds of people watched the funnel-shaped monster traveling over the canal and over Merriton, where its funnel end could be seen heaving up force and scattering destruction broadcast. It scooped up water out of the canal as it passed over, and its gyrations made it appear as a thing of life. It could be seen sending down its slender tentacles, as it carried its awful work to the movable things on the ground beneath it. Merriton shows the terrible ordeal it has passed through in a most awful manner. Kindling wood scattered over and beyond the path of the cloud for many hundreds of yards, and demolished houses, torn roofs and upturned sidewalks, testifying to the terrible force of the storm.

THE KILLED.
Clara O'Neill, an employee of the Lincoln Paper Mills.
Mrs. John Bickley, killed on the sidewalk in front of Mr. James E. Bradley's house.
Frank Moffat, killed in the lower end school house.
The Injured.

Maud O'Neill, Lincoln Mills.
Jennie Nestor, Lincoln Mills.
Bessie Kerr, Lincoln Mills.
James McCarthy, Lincoln Mills, thought to be dead.

Hamilton Council Met Last Evening to Read Bylaws. Company Formed, Stock Subscribed for the New Fireproof Hotel.

A Description of the Hotel as It Will Appear When Finished—Modern in Every Sense of the Term—It Will Cost Between Two and Three Millions.

Mr. Aemilius Jarvis has recently returned from a trip to New York, where he has been successful in interesting capitalists in the new hotel to be erected in Toronto. The new fireproof hotel is to be built on King-street, between the eastern wall of Potter's optician store, and the western wall of Catto's dry goods store, having a frontage of 207 feet 10 1/2 inches on King-street, and a depth of 107 feet 7 1/2 inches to Colborne-street. The style of architecture is what is termed "free romantic," being a blend of the styles of the King-street facade of cut stone. Forty-eight feet from the western wall is an archway, leading into an arcade which runs directly south, entering Colborne-street, immediately opposite the centre of Scott-street.

The elevation shows seven stories, with a roof garden on top. The building is on either side by handsome towers, the height from the street to the roof garden being 102 feet, and to the top of the towers 120 feet. In order to give the problem for light and air (the building not being situated on a corner), the structure is built in the shape of a letter "H," so that every bedroom in the building is an outer one. This also gets over the difficulty of the light being obstructed by the building on the opposite side of the street.

The annual meeting of the Hamilton City Board of Health was held this evening. F. Findlay presiding. It was decided to hold the following officers were elected: F. Findlay, president; T. H. McFarson, M.P., vice-president; W. E. Keith, secretary; J. J. Bennett, treasurer; Carl Grossman, librarian; Executive Committee, Miss Chisholm, Miss O'Donnell, W. H. Grant, James Johnson and W. L. Cummer. Dr. Harris was re-elected coroner.

RECEIVED WITH COMMISSIONERS ON BOTH SIDES HAVE THEIR STATISTICS READY.

But No Official Exchange of Views Has Taken Place - Difficulties Loom Up and Yet There is Hope - Hon. Mr. Wallace is Working - Hon. Messrs. Hardy and Ross Will Stand by Ontario's Attitude as Regards Lumber.

Montreal, Sept. 26.—A special to The Star from Quebec says: It may be interesting to those who insist that the Commission is unable to arrive at an agreement as to trade relations to know that the subject of reciprocity has not yet been dealt with in joint session.

There seems to be a great likelihood that the Behring Sea question will be disposed of by the conference. The American Commissioners have been advised that the Canadian Department, at the suggestion of the British Columbia trade commission, has sent an expert to British Columbia to make an estimate of the value of salmon owned by the Canadian sealers.

Mr. Wallace is still in the city. Hon. Mr. Clarke, Wallace, who is representing the Canadian manufacturers, has not been idle since his arrival here. The task of preparing a statement of the views of the Canadian manufacturers is no easy one. Supplementary information will be supplied to the Canadian Commission in two forms: one containing the boundary. Experience has taught them that at certain periods of the year it is more advantageous to employ its hands on the Canadian side; at other times it is more suitable to work in the adjacent American town.

Messrs. Hardy and Ross. Premier Hardy and Hon. G. Ross of the Ontario Government returned here on Saturday night. Twice they have met the Canadian Commission and outlined their position regarding the lumber trade of the province. I asked Mr. Hardy whether or not he had officially declared the Ontario Government's policy.
