CHANGING NEWS IN HILL 9 TIMES IN STORIES OF DEATH AND BATTLE. RUSSIAN SWEPT CONFUSED AND DEFEAT

RUSSIAN SWEPT CONFUSED AND DEFEAT

SCENE OF BATTLE AT AND NEAR KINCHOU.

RUSSIANS LOST 78 GUNS IN NANSHAN HILL DEFEAT

Five Hundred Dead Bodies Left on the Field by the Fleeing Troops of Nicholas.

Washington, May 29.—The following cablegram has been received at the Japanese legation:
"Tokyo, May 29.—Gen. Oku, commanding the army attacking Kinchou, reports that, in the attack on Nanshan Hill, the fourth division formed the right wing, the third division the left wing, and the first division the center. The enemy consisted of one division of the field army and two batteries of field artillery, besides fortresses, artillery and machines. The third division, taking advantage of the enemy's left wing, which was weakened by the bombardment from our fleet at Kinchou Bay, finally succeeded in carrying the enemy's position, while other divisions immediately followed it up. The Russian position was completely destroyed, exploding magazines at Tafangshan. The trophies of battle consisted of 78 guns and 10 machine guns, besides many other things. Our casualties are estimated at about 3500. The enemy left on the battlefield over 500 dead bodies."
A MODERN HELEN.
Vienna, May 29.—A Homeric battle was fought for the possession of a beautiful young woman between Bosnians, Croats, and Serbs, yesterday.
The son of the Syndic of Teschoutz had persuaded the daughter of a neighboring landowner to elope with him. On hearing of this her father informed the villagers, and 200 of them set out to bring her home.
Her lover, however, refused to give her up, and the people of his village, sympathizing with the pair, set upon the intruders to drive them out.
The village was set on fire, in which hundreds took part, followed, and continued with great fury until the Russian Guard, who were engaged in the district, arrived. The intruders were dispersed, carrying away many wounded.

WAR BULLETINS.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Minister Gieseler cables the state department from Tokyo, under today's date, that the Japanese government declares the Liaoning Peninsula, from Pitsweo to Pulantan, to be in a complete blockade.
TOKYO, May 29.—(Noon).—The Japanese casualties at Nanshan are now estimated at 3500. The number of Russian guns captured exceeds 70.
PARIS, May 29.—The correspondent of the Journal at St. Petersburg says naval officers there consider the battleship Orel (which recently sank at Cronstadt, but was refloated, on which an explosion that killed ten stokers was alleged to have occurred later, and was subsequently placed in drydock) to be a total loss. Her keel, it is said, is split.
ROME, May 29.—A despatch from Tokyo says Major-General Fock, the commander of the Fourth Siberian Rifles, was severely wounded at Kinchou. The Japanese are now attacking Dalny.
TOKYO, May 29.—A solemn religious and military ceremony in honor of the country people are cutting the line at various unfrequented points.
CHIEFOO, May 29.—A Chinaman who left here on Saturday, says that a Japanese scouting party was seen by him on the slopes of this hill that day, and that a battle took place Friday at Yingshichon, a point on the railroad about ten miles northwest of here.
CHIEFOO, May 29.—Dalny has been practically evacuated, according to the report of the Japanese. The refugees arriving here to-day by junk. All valuables, ammunition, and machines were taken to Port Arthur. The electrical engineers in charge of the works laid in the harbor, and also those set to destroy docks and piers.
PARIS, May 29.—The Echo de Paris states that the Baltic fleet will leave in two days for Dalny to-day, having received four battleships, is due to start June 24.
LONDON, May 29.—The Tientsin correspondent of the Daily Express says that Paul Lessar, the Russian minister to China, has informed the government of the establishment of a railway from Kalgan across China to Mongolia, to Khabarov, 80 miles from Lake Baikal, and that Russia will evacuate Manchuria outright if China leaves the III territory to Russia.

FIGHTING AT DALNY BEGUN RUSSIANS PUT TO FLIGHT

London, May 29.—Nankwanling and Sanchillu, strong positions in the outer defense of Port Arthur, have been abandoned by the Russians without a battle, and the victorious Japanese, showing little fatigue from the hard won fights of Kinchou and Nanshan Hill, have begun an attack on Dalny. So run the latest reports from Tokyo. It is understood that the garrison in Dalny is not large and the Russians will be unable to send reinforcements in their hurried retreat to Port Arthur. Fifty Russian guns have been captured.
The sacrifice of Nankwanling and Sanchillu causes considerable surprise. It consisted of a well-placed fort on the top of a high hill, commanding the railroad, and the only way toward Port Arthur. The railway station at Sanchillu, northwest of Dalny, was blown up by the retreating Muscovites.
Reports of Japanese commanders to the government at Tokyo estimate the losses to the mikado's army at 5000 dead and wounded, and the Russian loss is believed to be close to 2000. More than 400 Russian dead were counted on the field at Nanshan alone. It was on the slopes of this hill that the Japanese suffered the most severely. EVERY SOLDIER ENGAGED IN THE FIRST IMPERFECT RUSH AGAINST THE MASS OF MINES, BARRELS, TRAPDOORS AND ALL THE TOP FELL, AND IT WAS NOT UNTIL THE HEAVY GUNS HAD BEEN BROUGHT INTO PLAY AGAIN AND SILENCED THE RUSSIAN BATTERY THAT THE SUCCESSFUL CHARGE WAS MADE.
One thing which aided the Japanese and prevented additional slaughter in their ranks was the discovery before the engagement of the wires controlling the mines on Nanshan Hill. These wires were cut, and the infantry passed over the mines in safety.
Japanese reports bring the information that General Stoessel, the commandant at Port Arthur, took charge of the defense at Nanshan Hill. It is believed that a large part of the garrison was brought forward with the hope of stopping the Japanese advance at the entrance to the Kwantung Peninsula.

IN HER HUSBY'S POCKETS FOUND DIVORCE PAPERS

Then for First Time Did Florence Hill Know She Was Wife No. 2.
It looks as if Harry A. Forgie, who is now in jail waiting to face the magistrate on a charge of bigamy, is going to have troubles of his own. Florence Hill, the woman who laid the charge against him here, is supposed to be in New York, trying to prove Forgie's duplicity. In the meantime Forgie's first wife Ella is losing no time in New York. She has started a suit for divorce in the supreme court. Mrs. Ella claims that she was married to Forgie in the John-street Church, New York, on May 1, 1900. She entered him over here and then had him arrested.
Mrs. Flora Forgie, or Hill, the woman who is Forgie's accuser in Toronto, alleges that she knew nothing about a first wife until she discovered in going through her husband's pockets, the papers that had been secured on him in connection with the divorce action. Mrs. Hill says that she made up her mind to get him into Canada, where she could prosecute him. She entered him over here and then had him arrested.
Fought Eleven Hours.
London, May 30.—The Daily Mail's correspondent at Chumbi, India, says the British expedition, on May 25, after a fight of 11 hours, expelled the Tibetans from the Village of Palla, close to the British camp at Gyantse. A British lieutenant and three Sepoys were killed and three officers and nine men were wounded. The Tibetans suffered heavily and thirty-seven of them were taken prisoners. Palla is a walled stronghold, from which the Tibetans started building works with a view of outflanking the British position.
TORONTO UNION STATION.
Montreal, May 29.—It now looks as if the Toronto Union Station was to be taken up seriously by the leading officials of the Canadian Pacific and the Grand Trunk railway companies. It is learned in fact, that a conference will take place to-morrow between F. McLaughlin of the Grand Trunk and D. McNeill of the C. P. R. and it is quite likely that some understanding will be reached between the two corporations.
LONDON NEEDS ICE.
London, May 29.—The heat has renewed the demand for ice, which, as usual, is so hard to get in London in the winter. The Lancet writes: "It seems ridiculous in the English summer the demand for ice should not be sufficient to warrant the establishment of a special agency for its supply. Such a scheme would be widely appreciated, and would succeed as soon as the public realized how much better and healthier it is to have their food kept cool during the days of hot summer."
THE IMPERIAL LIFE.
Mr. Jones has a policy in one company; it was so long he didn't read it; Mr. Brown has a policy in another company; he thinks it's a good one, but he couldn't understand it. Mr. Robinson has a policy in the Imperial Life; it's so simple and concise that he has read it, and knows exactly what he has bought. How about that policy you are applying for? Do you have to take the agent's word for it?

ALF MOORE DIES IN HUMBER FIANCEE SAW THE ACCIDENT

Canoe Upset and Young Man Drowned. Ere Companion Could Aid Him.
At 8 o'clock on Saturday night, the Humber River claimed another victim. The fatal canoe was the vehicle used by death, Alfred Moore, a traveler, living at 62 West Lodge-avenue, lost his life. He, with a companion, Douglas Smith of Mackenzie-crescent, went out for a canoe ride shortly after 6 o'clock, and when a little distance above Nanshan's Hotel Moore, who was seated on the stern bulwarks, made a heavy dip and the canoe sprang ahead from under him. Altho a good swimmer he was drowned before his comrade could render him aid.
Many people who had been spending the day in the vicinity of the fatality tried to get his body, but without success. The services of Mr. Nixons were asked, and were willing to do what he can to recover bodies of those who drown in the Humber, was soon on the spot, and in ten minutes had dragged with success. This was at 10 o'clock.
The body was at once taken to the home of the deceased at West Lodge-avenue, where his father, Joshua Moore, resides.
A sad feature of the accident was the presence in another boat of the fiancée of the unfortunate Alfred Moore. They were to have been married early next month. The poor girl was nearly wild with grief, and would not be comforted. Young Moore was only 24.
MANY HAPPY RETURNS.
To Capt. Peter Paterson, late hardware merchant, the oldest native born resident of the City of Toronto, born May 30, 1834; and the oldest officer living in the Queen's Own Regiment, was gazetted in 1860 on the first formation of the regiment, and acted as captain of the guard of honor to His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, now King Edward VII, during his visit here in 1860. He was also a captain in the Queen's Own Regiment in 1867.
Dunstons, Scotland, May 29, 1903.—Macheth, who seized the throne of Scotland after the murder of the late King Duncan in the former's castle at Inverness, was killed to-night while repelling an attack on his castle here, headed by Malcolm, son of the late king, and Lord Macduff, adviser and friend of the young prince.

JAP BAYONET CARRIES THE DAY

Tokyo, May 29.—(6 p.m.)—The details of the heroic fighting at Kinchou emphasize the brave tenacity of the Japanese in their conduct at Nanshan Hill.
Nine successive times the Japanese charged the fortified heights in the face of a storm of death-dealing missiles, and in their last effort they carried the forts and trenches only after a bayonet to bayonet conflict with the Russians who made a despairing struggle to beat back the oncoming Japanese.
The final assault of the Japanese, in which they at last succeeded in taking possession, was marked by the most desperate hand to hand encounter that has thus far characterized the war.
The Japanese left, through the entire action until night, was exposed to an enfilading fire from the Russian infantry and a gunboat on Tallenwan Bay and four nine-centimeter guns posted at Tafangshan.
At a critical moment the ammunition of the artillery ran low and it was decided to cast the remaining ammunition into one final desperate charge.
Fortunately, however, at the moment this decision was reached, the Japanese squadron in Kinchou Bay, which had ceased bombarding when the infantry had first moved forward, suddenly resumed the shelling of Nanshan Hill.
At Critical Moment.
Then it was that the issue of the day were determined at a moment when the outcome was fluttering between success and defeat for Japan; at that moment was an almost certain repulse converted into victory so successful that the forces of the Japanese were swept into confusion and disorderly retreat. With every Japanese gun directing its fire upon the Nanshan forts and trenches, the Japanese infantry sprang over the bodies of those who had sacrificed their lives in previous fruitless charges.
The entire line rushed forward toward the Japanese position, where the fire of the Japanese squadron had proved most deadly, and which was the first objective point of the Japanese first breach was made in the human wall that all day had been an invincible barrier to impetuous assaults.
It was the fourth division of the Osaka men that stormed the Russian left. It had once been said that Osaka men were not to be beaten.
The first division of Tokyo, which had the centre, and the third division of Nagoya, occupying the left, and which had been exposed all day to the Russian fire, then followed the example of the Osaka men, and, rushing forward, they transformed the light from an artillery duel to a bayonet charge to exterminate the Japanese surged in increasing numbers, and, hustling the Russians from their positions, swept over the hill. At 7.30 o'clock, as the sun was sinking beneath the horizon, the flag of the Japanese, while the shouts of "Banzai" swelled from hill to hill and re-echoed from squadron to fort.
The Japanese paid for their victory 3500 killed and wounded. For the Russians the humiliation of defeat was intensified by the loss of 68 cannon and 10 machine guns. The Japanese captured 78 guns and 10 machine guns, and close range fighting.
Gen. Oku, in command of the Japanese, began his aggressive movement on the Russian position at midnight on Wednesday. He assigned the fourth division to the right with instructions to swing around Kinchou and strike the south. He gave the first division the centre and the left was allotted to the third division. During the night a terrible thunderstorm, accompanied by a heavy rain, broke over the advancing army and impeded the movements of the men. It had been planned to begin the fire at 4.30 o'clock in the morning, but a dense fog followed the storm, and it was an hour later when all the artillery under Gen. Uchiyama opened Nanshan Hill and the entire Japanese infantry force gradually moved forward. The sunners on the fortified heights were not slow in giving smart response to the Japanese attack, and soon a furious fire and counter-fire was in progress, to which the big guns of the Japanese squadron lent noisy chime.
At 6 o'clock the atmosphere had cleared sufficiently for the naval marksmanship to work effectively.
For three hours the shelling from the shore and the reply from the forts continued without interruption and then the Russian fire abated. The cessation of the firing on the hill was a signal for the movement of the troops below, and the attacking batteries changed their positions to secure better ranges. At 7 o'clock a zone varying from 300 to 500 yards in width separated the Japanese and Russian lines, and the rest of the day was spent by assaulting forces in crossing the fire-swept zone.
A Russian gunboat in Tallenwan Bay opened fire on the Japanese left at 10 o'clock in the forenoon and continued firing for five hours.
Five Russian steamers attempted to land their crews near Hungtau, but the third division stopped them. In the meantime four heavy guns at Tafangshan opened fire on the Japanese and kept shelling it until 7 o'clock in the evening. The artillery of the third division continued to work to reach these guns, but failed on account of the darkness.
In the main attack, the Japanese advanced and otherwise clear the way for the infantry. The Japanese left the infantry advanced the awful Russian fire drove them back.
The Russian batteries reinforced their right under cover of the two field batteries (previously withdrawn from Nanshan) with fresh infantry, whose fire enfiladed a considerable portion of the entire Japanese line.
Very critical at this time was the situation for Gen. Oku's forces, for at the wavering of the line under the reinforcement of the Russian infantry

DEMAND ON CHINA.

London, May 30.—The Standard's Tientsin correspondent telegraphs that Uchida, the Japanese minister at Peking, has demanded an immediate reply to the inquiry previously sent to the Wai-wai, as to whether China is prepared to hold and administer the territory the Japanese have conquered, otherwise Japan must appeal to other powers to undertake the responsibility at the expense of China.
The Daily Telegraph has a despatch from Shanghai that says it is reported there that Minister Uchida has notified the Chinese government at Peking that Port Arthur will soon be captured, and has asked whether China is ready to resume possession of the district, or shall Japan hold it.
The Times' correspondent at Weihai-wei learns from a fugitive Russian that Gen. Stoessel's orders are to dispute every inch of the country between Port Arthur and Kinchou, because it is believed that the main advance on Mukden can be delayed until Port Arthur falls. The Japanese are ready to capture Port Arthur, because it is believed that the main advance on Mukden can be delayed until Port Arthur falls. The Japanese are ready to capture Port Arthur, because it is believed that the main advance on Mukden can be delayed until Port Arthur falls.

TO SUPPORT NAVY.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)
London, May 29.—The Standard's special meeting addressed by Mr. Wyatt enthusiastically endorsed the principle of colonial co-operation in the support of the navy. Lord Milner said the number of applications received was 23,832, a decrease of 5 per cent; 156 were received from Canada, 3466 from the United States, and 230 from New Zealand. The trend of opinion for 1903 was chiefly identified with the motor industry.

GOING TO WASTE.

Manufacturers looking for information about Ottawa should visit Alfred Wood of the Ottawa Free Press.

He will answer any question relating to any department of the Government—Customs, Trade and Commerce—and will send a copy of The Free Press Book on Ottawa and its water power. This book contains a history of the capital, a map of the water power locations within a 30-mile radius and a history of Ottawa. Send 10 cents to pay postage. That is all.

Anything you wish to know we will be glad to find out. The Free Press parliamentary reporters are experts. The paper is the oldest evening daily in Canada, and is read by everybody who wants to know 'who's who' and 'what's what' at the capital. They will tell you just what you want to know.

BUILT UP THE SYSTEM AND ADDED TEN POUNDS IN WEIGHT.

Mr. Ed. J. Harris, Newbridge, Ont., was in poor health, but has now been restored to full health and vigor.

What he writes us: "Last spring I was in a very critical condition, my system was all run down. I felt drowsy and miserable, and thought I was surely dying. I did not get something to build me up. After reading one of your almanacs I decided to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and before I had taken two bottles I had gained ten pounds in weight, and am now in perfect health, and I can certainly recommend Burdock Blood Bitters to anybody who is run down."

RUSSIAN'S HIGH MOUNTAIN NEVER BEFORE DESTINATION

Where Are the 400,000 Men That St. Petersburg Claimed to Have?

St. Petersburg, May 29.—When the war commenced it was firmly believed that Russia had nearly 200,000 men east of Lake Balkal, and with the utmost confidence it was declared that this number could easily be brought up to 400,000 in two months.

Everybody is now asking: Where are these 400,000 men? It has been stated so frequently, and from so many different sources, that the garrison at Fort Arthur numbers less than 20,000 men, that Gen. Kuropatkin has well under 100,000 men at Liaoyang and Mukden, and that Vladivostok is garrisoned by only a couple of regiments, that these figures have come to be regarded as approximately accurate.

Some of the soldiers who got their names in the papers for their good behavior at the beginning of the war have fallen from grace, and others have been strangled at the gallows. Two were caught with their aprons on to-day by Inspector Walters.

There is talk of a Diamond Glass Company re-opening its old branch and using it as a flint house. That will mean employment for about 300 hands.

George F. Evans, barrister, will wed Miss Adelaide Jane Langr, daughter of Dr. E. A. Langr, on June 15, at All Saints' Church.

Miss Gertrude Starr has been appointed secretary of the Central Presbyterian Church, choir, to succeed Mrs. F. A. Passmore.

Mrs. Bertie Gardner, daughter of H. P. Gardner, has left for New York to take a course in the training school for nurses.

Butler, May 28.—Col. M. S. Quay, senior senator for Pennsylvania, passed away to-day after an illness more or less persistent for the last year, and which the doctors diagnosed as chronic gastritis.

Col. Quay, in health, was a great eater, and his troubles in later years dated from overindulgence in his vital system due to heavy eating, smoking and the great nervous strains which he had to undergo to lose weight.

Senator Quay celebrated his 70th birthday last fall.

Big Show at Munro Park. The show announced for this week at Munro Park is one of the very best, and shows the wisdom of the management in arranging a large circuit of the best parks, so that the shows they secure are equal to any given in the big vaudeville houses. The Toronto people are glad to know that Arthur Buckner, known as the cycle marvel and sensational rider, who is a native of this city, will appear daily and one of his wonderful performances on the wheel. Le Hirt, the flexible wonder, will appear from the big New York theatre, Mabel Hudson, the Lillian Russell of the vaudeville stage; the Paloro Brothers, in fun with a windmill; Miss Edna, the wonder of the "Katsenbach Kids," in new songs; Dupree and Dupree, in German dialog; Carl the Great, in new tricks, with other acts, make up a show which will delight the hearts of all who attend. The show is given daily at 8 p.m., with a matinee Saturday at 3 p.m.

Treaty-Making Powers. London, May 28.—Thomas Hodgins, writing of Canada and the treaty-making power in the Saturday Review, says that the former American property of the British Empire, exercised independent treaty-making power. Also under former American property, the charter for the colonies, the Fisheries Treaty of 1887 negotiated by Champlain, the French Treaty of 1887, was negotiated by Lord Dufferin and Sir Charles Tupper, provided that the prior consent of the British Government be obtained before ratification by the home government.

Pope Awarded Decision. Rome, May 28.—The Pope was up at 11 o'clock this morning awaiting telegrams from the French and British in the French chamber of deputies on the policy of the Combes ministry towards the Vatican. Notwithstanding the strong anti-papal statement of Premier Combes, the pontiff expressed satisfaction at the fact that the chamber did not repudiate the Franco-Vatican rupture, definite as he believes with respect to reciprocal explanations all will be satisfactorily settled.

Cap. Not Blamed. Montreal, May 28.—Commander Salmon has given judgment in the case of the Vancouver grounding. The captain is exonerated from all blame, as all precautions had been taken and the Mate's shore light was invisible owing to the fog.

Verandah Furniture. No prettier or more wholesome institution of up-to-date Toronto is noticeable in summer time than the universal use of the verandah. The verandah has become an open-air room, an addition to the modern home, which many old-fashioned houses were without.

The glorious Canadian summer surely deserves that much attention, and we have been so confident of the verandah's importance that this summer we have a larger and more elaborate stock of tasteful and appropriate Verandah Furniture than ever before.
