First Will be Twenty Feet Longer Than Last Ship—Insurance Companies Decide to Pay at Once Value of Policies on Lives of Victims—C. M. Hays' Insurance $175,000

(Ottawa Press)
London, May 7.—Two new liners for the White Star Company are at present under construction in the yards of Harland & Wolff, Belfast. One of these vessels, the keel of which was laid several months ago, will be nearly twenty feet longer than the Titanic, and will be fitted and finished throughout on the same imposing scale as the Olympic and Titanic. In view of the loss of the latter, the work of completing this new vessel will be accelerated. Every available man in the Queen's Island works will be put to work in order to have the liner finished as soon as possible.

It will be more than a year before the new ship will be completed, and sufficient time will be afforded to embody the latest details regarding lifeboats and other life-saving apparatus, which the board of trade will direct after the forthcoming inquiry.

THINK ALLEN WORE STEEL BREASTPLATE IN COURT HOUSE ROW

Several Shots Fired at Him at Close Range, But None Took Effect

Wytheville, Va., May 7.—"It don't take but mighty little of the right stuff to turn bullets," was one of Floyd Allen's first remarks to his guard after his capture in connection with the Hillville capture shooting on March 14. Witnesses at his trial yesterday testified that it was his resort when his guard expressed surprise that the old mountaineer had not been wounded until after he had left the court-room, where a judge, prosecutor, juror and bystander had been killed.

SUMMER TOURISTS INVADE MONTREAL

Hotels Hard Put to It to Provide Accommodation

Montreal, April 7.—That the summer tourist crowd is already reaching large proportions was evidenced yesterday by the fact that two of the largest hotels were obliged to turn people away from their doors. In fact all the large hotels have lately been hard put to meet the demands made upon them for accommodation, and as far as tourists are concerned, this promises to be a banner season.

MARYLAND GIVES ROOSEVELT ONE MORE THAN NUMBER NEEDED

Baltimore, Md., May 7.—Returns early today from the Maryland primaries were meagre and made no material change in the majorities indicated for Theodore Roosevelt and Champ Clark, at the state conventions. Although Roosevelt had only one delegate to spare, the result in his favor had not changed since a little after midnight. Clark retained his seventy-two delegates, or seven more than a majority. Although the result was close and Colonel Roosevelt, on the face of the returns had but few more than the number of votes necessary to control the state, results do not materially change the result indicated before midnight.

A TORY ROW IS ON IN MONCTON

Nomination of Doctor Price Not By Any Means a Nice, Easily Unanimous Proceeding

Moncton, N. B., May 7.—(Special)—The proceedings at the Conservative convention last evening, at which Doctor O. B. Price was nominated to contest Moncton in the provincial election, were not so unanimous as the announcement this morning would indicate. It was said on behalf of some of the rumored aspirants, whose names did not come before the convention, that the meeting was piecemeal in the interests of one candidate.

There was considerable difference of opinion as to procedure in the nomination of a candidate. R. W. Hewson contended that the proper course was not accepted. He spoke of methods in St. John and Halifax, and said that primaries should be held in the different wards and delegates sent to a convention for selection of a candidate. Moncton being a new constituency, it was important that the interests of some concerted action all over the city in choosing a candidate. His suggestion was termed a "stunt."

FEAR GERMAN STEAMER LOST

No Word of the Augsburg Which Carried Crew of Thirty-six and Cargo Worth a Million

New York, May 7.—There is fear among shipping men that the Augsburg, a German steamer, which left here on February 2 with a cargo valued at a million dollars, is lost and that all on board have perished.

Ward was received yesterday that the Bremen, a German steamer, which put out from Bermuda to search for the vessel, had not been able to find her.

DEATH OF HARRY D. BREEN

Harry D. Breen died this morning at his home, 238 City Road, after a long illness against which he had carried on a valiant struggle. He was 62 years of age and retained the cheery, hearty manner that always characterized him throughout the city and over his provincial territory and was always hopeful that, with the bright days of summer, a change would come and he would be himself again. But a little less than two weeks ago, after a business trip to Moncton, he was compelled to take to his bed. The end came about three o'clock this morning.

Paris, May 7.—It is stated that experiments on human beings in the Pasteur Institute, with an anti-typhoid serum, have met with excellent results. Forty persons were inoculated with the serum. St. John is Now Under Government Plan

The new common council, which was elected under the commission plan on April 20 took office and met for the first time this morning. The meeting was held in the committee room at City Hall and was quite informal, the ceremonies marking the inauguration of their councils being conspicuous by their absence. TITANIC INQUIRY IN ENGLAND; SESSION TODAY

London, May 7.—The spate of the British public, which has been one of the features thus far in the board of trade inquiry into the Titanic disaster, was again demonstrated by the thin attendance when the commissioners, under the presidency of Lord Mersey, resumed their investigation this morning. Some members of parliament and attorneys applied to Lord Mersey to be permitted to represent the engineers union and certain passengers of the Titanic.

La MARQUISE de FONTENAY. Master of Royal Household Has No Easy Task of it, as This Makes Plain of almost superhuman tact, forbearance, and phenomenal command of temper, and extreme precision, for he has other matters to attend to besides the servants and the tradesmen's bills.

The transfer of Colonel Sir Charles Frederick from the post of master of the household of George V., to that of commander of the household of King Edward VIII, is a change of plans.

All these points are governed by tradition, and practically the palace help "below stairs" have a government of their own.

During the whole of the reign of Queen Victoria, not a single servant was discharged, extraordinary as it may seem, in the actions of the master of the household, that he must always be kind and considerate.

Molly & Co. Settle an Important Question

THE old question as to whether engaged people should have anything to do with any member of the opposite sex other than their fiancés, has again come to the surface in my correspondence.

On Thursday there was practical discussion and a second operation was deemed necessary. Although the operation was a simple one the patient's condition was such that little hope could be held out for his recovery.

Probably no public official in Canada has been more conspicuously successful than Judge Mabree in gaining the confidence of the community since he was appointed to the chairmanship of the railway commission—the position which was first filled by Hon. A. G. Blair.

The number includes touring-cars for Joseph Walker, and roadsters for Willard Kitchen, Arch. Fraser, Ald. Edward Moors, G. W. Ganong, St. Stephen, and a Russell touring car for S. B. Whitehead.

The delight of every housekeeper is her cooking, and it is not the cook to blame if the stove does not bake well, if the fire-strips are warped out of position, and the oven top is cracked; so as to allow the heat to drop down on your cooking, or your oven-top is so thin that the heat goes through it so quickly, that it burns every thing on top, before it is cooked in the bottom.

London, May 7—Another strike in the shipping trade has been precipitated by the National Sailors' and Firemen's Union, and the National Union of Ship's Cooks and Stewards, whose officials this morning called on all the men in the employment of the Peninsular & Oriental Steamship Company.

The unions demand that at least two white seamen as well as consular shall be carried for each lifeboat.

The Peninsular & Oriental Company has refused to concede the men's demand. A special meeting of the transport workers has been summoned, and will be asked to support the action of the unions.

Mr. Cathery, general secretary of the sailors' union, said that the same demand will be made on all other shipping companies.

F. J. G. Knowlton is probator.

In the matter of the estate of Mrs. Mary Wilson, evidence was continued upon the claim of Annie A. Heffer for $250 for board and lodging. Nearly all of the claim, it appears, was outlawed, and there being some conflicting evidence, the suggestion of the court was accepted in setting the claim for $30. The accounts of George P. Williams, the administrator, were passed upon and allowed. An order for distribution of the balance found in his hands was made. Edward P. Raymond is probator for the administrator, Ralph St. John is executor for the creditor.

THE MARRIAGE CASE

Ottawa, May 7—(Special)—The supreme court this morning decided not to take up now the ten minute case referred to it by the government, which asked if parliament had authority to enact the bill introduced last session by E. A. Lancaster, declaring all marriages in Canada legal when performed before an authorized person.

R. C. Smith, K. C., for Quebec, announced that he would question the authority of the Supreme Court of Canada to give judgment on a stated case such as this.

Chief Justice Philbrick said the same point had been raised on the companies case where the dominion and provinces are involved. Judgment on that case was decided soon from the privy council.

The marriage case would not be heard until the judgment of the privy council is given. It would be heard this term, in any event it would be heard as soon as convenient after the privy council pronounced on the companies case.

THREE YEAR OLD ARTIST EXHIBITOR

His Own Portrait and Some Still Life Studies at Royal Drawing Society

(Times Special Correspondence.) London, April 27—London has just unrolled the youngest artist in the world. He is David Walton, the three-year-old child of a Toddington man. So far has he progressed in his art that he is an exhibitor at the show of the Royal Drawing Society which opened here a few days ago.

The budding Michael Angelo has produced an extremely clever portrait of himself, a glass of lemonade, a design of a spring from his toy engine, and a rose. Although they look rather crude placed beside the work of his more mature fellow members, they show that the boy has remarkable ability.

He commenced to draw with charcoal when he was only eleven months old. His parents, without pushing him too fast, encouraged him in his art. They had his nursery papered in brown paper to a certain height and upon it the child artist could draw as much as he liked. From charcoal he went to pencil, colored chalk, pen and ink and finally, last January, he commenced to draw with water colors.

In speaking of his son, Dudley Walton said to the writer: "The child has always been fascinated by moving objects. He sits for long periods watching the steam issuing from a little locomotive, the working of a clock's mechanism, or the working of a watch. He also attracts him. In drawing he likes to depict something in motion."

WILL THEY DO IT?

There is an easy method by which the Conservatives of Canada can prove the sincerity of their professions of devotion to the Empire. Let the government increase the preference to British goods brought into Canada through Canadian ports. That would be a substantial evidence that they desired to bring Canada and the mother country closer together and to build up Canadian ports by giving them business which is now done through ports in the United States. This method, it is true, would be less spectacular than hunting anathemas at the perfidious Yankees; but it would at least indicate that the Conservatives wish to offer something more than lip service to the empire. It is most unfortunate that Mr. Tait should have published the correspondence with Mr. Roosevelt touching the question of reciprocity. No sane person imagines for one moment that either of those men expected reciprocity to tend toward the absorption of this country by the United States, but Mr. Tait has placed in the hands of the flag-waggers in Canada a handy weapon. They do not care how much ill-feeling is stirred up between two countries which are neighbors and ought to be on the most friendly terms. Their only desire is to conceal their own inability to give this country good government by diverting the attention of the people from their own acts to the foolish utterances of American politicians. The fact that they have not increased the British preference, even on goods landed at Canadian ports, proves that they are not sincere in their professions of a desire to increase the trade between Canada and the mother country. The trade between Canada and the United States continues to increase far more rapidly than that with the mother country. It is largely trade in goods which Canada imports, while on the other hand, because of the failure of reciprocity to carry, Canada cannot rapidly enlarge the export of her products to the United States. By increasing the preference in the direction suggested there ought to be an increase in trade with the mother country. Will the Borden government pursue such a course and achieve such a result?

THE LATE JUDGE MABEE

The people of Canada have confidence in the Railway Commission. This is not always true of commissions appointed by governments in Canada, for there is too frequently a suspicion of political intent. The Railway Commission has won public confidence, and no one factor has contributed more to this result than the fearless independence of the late chairman, Judge Mabee. The news of his serious illness was received with general regret, and that of his death causes a universal sense of national loss. Judge Mabee was not an old man, but seemed to give promise of many more years of valuable service to his country. The testimony of all who have had business before the Railway Commission in his time is that he was eminently fair and possessed the faculty of coming quickly to the root of the matter, permitting no waste of time in efforts to confuse or obscure the real issue. Men of his type are needed, and when they appear they quickly win public confidence. The eulogy which Premier Borden pronounced upon him when told of his death is a just as well as an admirably expressed estimate of his character and service.

THE HOUSING PROBLEM

The Board of Trade of Amherst has found it necessary to take up the question of housing the people who are being added to the population of the town. It was stated at a meeting that in a few weeks 30 or 40 families will be prepared to move from Kentville to Amherst, and that 60 additional men, most of them married, are expected to arrive very soon from Great Britain. Moreover, from 100 to 150 men working in the car works live outside of Amherst because they cannot get houses in the town. The president of the car company declares that Amherst could have an additional population of over 1,000 this summer if homes could be provided. This reminds us that St. John will soon have a housing problem. It is obvious that within the next two or three years there will be a very substantial addition to the population, and there is not at present accommodation for any large number of additional families. It is all the more important that no time should be lost in getting the bridge constructed at the falls and the street car lines extended both to East and West St. John, so that homes may be erected and the people enabled to get in and out of town with ease. The active movement in real estate must be followed by active building operations, and it is not too soon to give the question serious consideration.

WEST INDIA TRADE

The West India Committee Circular, published in London, hopes for great benefit to the West Indies if the trade agreement with Canada is ratified, even though Jamaica, Granada, the Bahamas and British Honduras are not included in the arrangement. That which the committee most hopes for is the improvement of telegraphic and steamship communication, and, referring to the obligations of the mother country it points out that the Royal Commission, of which Lord Balfour of Burleigh was chairman, in its report declared emphatically that for some years to come a large part of the annual expenditure required for improving telegraphic and steamship service must be met by the Imperial government. The Committee Circular recalls the fact that as far back as 1860 delegates from the provinces visited the West Indies in the hope of finding new markets, to offset the loss of the United States market through the abrogation of the reciprocity treaty. Nothing practical resulted, however, and in 1890 Hon. George E. Foster paid a visit to the West Indies, but with very little better success. Until the terms of the agreement signed at Ottawa are made public, it will be impossible to tell what effect it may have upon the trade of the two countries, but there will be a universal hope in Canada that the results will be beneficial to both the signatory parties.

Medicine will rip up the first Valley Railway sod or perish in the attempt. There's a boom spirit for you.

The old city council yesterday consigned itself with cheerfulness and grace to the limbo of past erudites.

The Liberals of Simonds and Lancaster are ready to try conclusions with the Conservatives in a provincial contest, and have no fear of the result.

It is not alone on the ocean that the waters threaten the lives and property of men. The story that comes from the lower reaches of the Mississippi River shows that the floods have caused enormous loss of property and the loss of many lives.

If they do not send east for a man to fill a large position in the west they select an eastern man who is on the spot. Mr. F. W. Peters, formerly of St. John, is the new general superintendent for the C. P. R. on the Pacific division.

The Unionists in the British Commons, in this reciprocity matter, are showing how very foolish some men may become when occasion offers. The attack on Ambassador Bryce is not only uncalled for, but a reflection on the intelligence of his critics.

The statement is made by the doctor on the Minia that the great majority of those whose bodies were picked up after the Titanic disaster died from exposure and not from drowning. If another steamer had arrived at the scene of the great tragedy a little earlier, it is evident that very many more lives might have been saved.

The medical health officer counsels the citizens to destroy refuse of the kitchen and dining-room in the kitchen range, day by day. He declares that if this plan were generally adopted it would save the lives of many young children each summer, for where this garbage is thrown into the yard it poisons the soil and causes most of the digestive diseases so fatal to children in hot weather. It may be hoped that the advice of the health officer will be taken and also that the board of health instructors will insist upon immediate and thorough cleaning of all back yards and other premises in the city.

Today begins a new era in city government in St. John. Mayor Frink and Commissioners Schofield, McLellan, Agar and Wigmore enter upon their task with the best wishes of the citizens for a successful administration. There will be a general disposition to allow them time to familiarize themselves with details, and none will be so unreasonable as to expect sudden and drastic changes. No doubt there will be criticism, which, when fairly directed, is a good thing; but the general feeling of the citizens is of the kindest nature. It is up to the commissioners to confirm and strengthen that feeling by a firm, judicious and vigorous administrative policy.

It is announced that the British parliament will remain in session throughout the year, with only a short break at Whitautside. It is the intention of the government to press the home rule bill and the Welsh disestablishment bill through the house, and pass them on to the lords. The latter is expected to reject both, and in that event it will be necessary to reintroduce them in the commons in the sessions of 1913 and 1914. The Canadian Press cable yesterday indicated that in the meantime, unless something very serious and unexpected occurs, the ranks of the government party will remain practically unbroken.

MR. HAYS HAD G. T. P. PLANS

On the body of C. M. Hays, when it was brought to Halifax on the steamer Minia yesterday, were found construction plans for the G. T. P., and they were given to Vice-President Kelly. The body with the greatest amount of funds was that of Colonel Braden of Omaha, Nebraska, who had on his person $10,500. The funds now in care of the provincial government, taken from the Titanic bodies, amounts to $78,000. It was learned yesterday that the bodies of the ten persons, among those recovered from the Titanic wreck, who were buried by the Hebrews of Halifax, are those of Christians, and they will now be sent back to Fairview cemetery.

KING COLE TEA. You'll like the flavor. IN LIGHTER VEIN. AN UMBRELLA TEST.

Rather long was the rainy journey, and the passengers, from talking cabbages and other matters of vital interest, had got on to the subject of tea. "Yes," repeated the man in the corner; "I don't think the test of the cherry-tree proved that George Washington wasn't a liar."

"Well, perhaps you'll devise a better one," chorused the other passengers. "Yes," repeated the man in the corner; "Supposing now, that George Washington was standing on a stormy night at the door of a restaurant, and the waiter had hurried up to him with a beautiful, new silk umbrella, with an ivory handle, and no name to it, and said 'Yours sir, I fancy?'"

DOING IT THOROUGHLY. Down in Georgia, a negro, who had his life insured, died of the cholera, and left his widow. She immediately bought herself a very elaborate mourning outfit. Showing her purchases to a friend, she was very particular in going into details as to prices and all incidental particulars. Her friend was very much impressed, and remarked:

"Then she is fine close, but, 'befo' Heaven, what is you gona' to do wid all dis black underwear?" The bereaved one sighed: "Chile, when I mourns I mourns."

MR. AND MRS. STUBBINS. Mr. Stubbins had been annoyed that he finally gave Willie a sound spanking and sent him off to bed. "John," said Mrs. Stubbins, with motherly feeling, "I don't believe in corporal punishment. I consider it a relic of the dark ages—an heirloom of barbarism."

"Perhaps you're right," replied Mr. Stubbins—"if you mean that it was handed down from father to son," he added with a sigh of satisfaction.

THE SIMPLE TRUTH. She was a charitable old lady, of a somewhat inquisitive turn of mind, and she was paying a visit to a naval hospital. Presently she came to the bedside of a poor fellow who was one of the victims of a gun explosion.

"My poor fellow!" she said, depositing a bunch of grapes within his reach, "your sensations at the time of the accident must have been terrible. Can you—will you describe them to me?"

"Well, mum," said John, stolidly, "I don't know as I can; but I can tell you I was on deck attending to my duty with the gun, when all of a sudden there was a most infernal row—and then the nurse says, 'Sit up and take this.'"

VERY. "Do you think Miss Chatters is an entertaining talker?" "Oh, my, yes. She can entertain herself for hours at a time."—Boston Transcript.

Yesterday Was a History-Making Day in TISDALE PLACE
 St. John's Eastern Adjunct Started

OUR PROMISE THAT SUITABLE WEATHER WOULD SEE THE DEVELOPMENT OF TISDALE PLACE COMMENCED has been made good. Yesterday a crew of workmen removed the historic fences surrounding the property and the labor of staking off the streets and lots was started. This development work will be vigorously prosecuted until the highways and byways of the city's most important eastern wing are ready for the builders. Indeed construction work on some of the buildings is to start within a very short time. Interest in Tisdale Place is still keen and more especially so since townfolk have taken advantage of the genial weather to personally inspect the property at leisure. Transfers are being recorded daily. Every argument used in favor of this subdivision since its being placed upon the market holds doubly good today in the light of still greater development for the east of St. John. Prices are still easy to negotiate but values are enhancing by leaps and bounds.

FAREWELL MEETING OF COUNCIL
Refinery Matter Shelved on Mayor's Deciding Vote — Much General Business — Aldermen's
Valedictories

The last meeting of the common council was held last evening, all the aldermen except Ald. Wilson were present. The treasury report was adopted, one section recommending that a local syndicate represented by H. A. Porter which will bring a wild animal show to the city during the week of New Brunswick Week be relieved from paying a license. Ald. McLeod moved in amendment that all outstanding obligations incurred in the celebration of the week be paid. Ald. Hayes said the recommendation should come from the committee, and after a lengthy explanation had been given by Ald. J. B. Jones and the discussion continued by several others, the motion to pay this was carried.

Ald. Scully explained that the Globe had reported that the city was paying $270 for a property for which he had carried on the negotiations and which, as the report stated, cost $200. The city was not satisfied with the Globe, and several aldermen vouched for the fact of the property in question costing $200.

When the board of works report was taken up, Ald. Colner complained that the end of Acadia street was falling into the slip, making it dangerous for children and impairing the value of property in that vicinity. His motion that the engineer be authorized to fill up this street and make a boulevard, as outlined by that official about two years ago, was carried.

Ald. Green's motion to renew the lease by Mrs. Alice DeWitt in Prince ward was adopted. Ald. Elliott moved the first report containing the explanation of the engineer with reference to the shortage of water supply in the North End. He said that plumbing in the North End was not different from that in any other part of the city, and he did not want that the city in the bore of the taps had anything to do with the restricted water supply. The original motion for investigation was carried.

When the ferry report was taken up, Ald. Smith explained that the sheathing of the piling with oak plank would cost $8,000 and would keep the piling secure for thirty years. Ald. Hayes pointed out that although it had been announced that the ferry had a surplus of $400, an overdraft of $2,000 for piling had to be provided for and the extra assessment of $1,000 had been used up. He thought that there were too many extras coming in, and it would not be giving the commission a fair show if the council bound it to many obligations over which it had no control. He moved the section be referred back. The amendment carried eight to five.

TORY PREMIER ROASTED
 (Charlottetown Special).
 Our intention has been to take the fact that when Hon. A. B. Warburton and Hon. Donald Farquharson, were Premier of this province, they received not a single dollar for their services. Both gave their time ungrudgingly to the public service, and they practiced what they preached. Economy. Here we have three Liberal Premiers, Frederick Peters, cutting down his own salary, as Attorney General, and the other two serving their country for nothing. For a portion of his time Hon. F. L. Hazzard, also served as premier for not a dollar of remuneration. At that time Hon. E. James Palmer was attorney-general. Compare the record of these Liberal premiers with that of the present incumbent of the office. Every one of them was an able man and up against greater difficulties than exist at present. Yet they would take nothing for their services as premier; but Mr. Matheson has pursued a different course. In the midst of financial difficulties, cutting less than $2,900 will satisfy his financial cravings. To help this out, the horse tax on the farms has been increased to 40c per head; the land tax has been so adjusted that an additional sum will be taken from the farmers under this head; and the school act has been so amended that in order to get anything out of the government in a supplementary way, the farmers have to put their hands in their own pockets. All this indirectly helps to provide funds for Mr. Matheson's increased salary, and for his generosity to Tory lawyers and friends.

LOOK AHEAD TO IRELAND'S BRIGHT DAY

Speeches at Dinner in London to Secretary of League in America

M. P.'S AT BANQUET

John O'Connor, T. P. O'Connor, John Dillon and Others—Irish Votes on Great Measures in Imperial Parliament—Times' Dublin Letter

(Times' Special Correspondence.)

Dublin, April 25.—"We have arrived at a time when I hope we are about to see the fulfilment of the glorious idea of Ireland a nation," said John O'Connor, M. P., who presided at a dinner given in London by the "Irish Parliament" branch of the United Irish League to John O'Callaghan, national secretary of the United Irish League of America.

Many of the members of the Irish party in the House of Commons were among the guests.

Ireland had always been a nation, said Mr. O'Connor; nationhood was an ideal they could not crush out or destroy. Some enemies of the Irish race sought to make out that the word "nation" and the word "independence" had some terrible and menacing meaning. They must know that since all times there had been nations within nations. Ireland herself had had an independent parliament within the kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland for many hundreds of years, and that parliament had always been loyal to Great Britain.

Speaking of the "glorious idea" of "Ireland a nation," Mr. O'Connor continued: "It has been to us, the members of the Irish Parliament branch, to be the first to meet after the introduction of that great measure by a willing, sound English government. It is given to us to go up the mountain first to witness the beautiful dawn that is about to break upon Ireland, to see the corona of the sun coming up from the horizon. We are the first to call upon the people to witness it, and to see it come up, and very soon to go up into the ascendancy of heaven, and from that point of vantage we look down upon the Irish people and we say to them that there is something coming that shall glad their hearts, shall give them health, and help and home to the dark Rosaleen."

T. P. O'Connor, M.P., proposing the health of Mr. O'Callaghan, said he could not always view the introduction of a home rule measure with a certain amount of apprehension, because it was the introduction of a measure which was in and constitution-mongering everybody thought they could do it better than anyone else. The measure had had a singular and a unique experience. The constitution-mongers had been silent, except upon one point, namely, the constitution of the senate. If the only thing that was really at issue in the home rule bill was the constitution of the senate, then his friends and himself were quite open to a deal on that point. He believed that this great and generous measure would close the misunderstanding and the enmity between the people of their race and the masses of Great Britain, and would give Ireland the opportunity of starting on a new career of national development and national prosperity.

Mr. O'Callaghan, in his reply, said he was glad that it seemed as if the fruits of their hopes and the result of their work were going to be witnessed in the splitting of the race, not only in this land but in every land wherever the Irish race existed. If the Irish people of America had been resentful to the people of England, and if there never was an ascendancy faction which had given up its ascendancy without a fight. The Protestants of Ireland could be a great blessing to Ireland, and if the bill were passed it would open the door of the public life and interests to them.

Irish Votes on Great Measures

"I suppose you are quite surprised to find a representative of the City of Belfast in the Liberal and Home Rule platform," said J. Devlin, M.P., at a meeting held in East Nottingham the other night in support of the Liberal candidate at the by-election.

"From speeches of the Unionist leaders in this country," he proceeded, "one would imagine that Belfast was solid against home rule, but that is not the case.

Showing how much England owes to Ireland, he said if they examined the records for the last century they would find that every good and progressive measure on the statute book had been placed there because of the influence of the Irish members in helping to pass them. It was the Irish vote which enabled the great reform bill of 1832 to be passed. It was the Irish vote that abolished flogging in the army and navy. The policy of obstruction was initiated by Mr. Russell when he started his campaign against the flogging of British soldiers and sailors.

It was the vote also of the Irish party which carried the half-holiday for the women textile workers of Great Britain, and it was by the help of the Irish vote that the trades' disputes act was passed. They might have had passionate differences in the past, but they could not point to a single instance where Irish representatives had been the enemies of the workers and toilers of this land.

The present government's solution of the Irish difficulty, he added, would not bring satisfaction to Ireland alone, but to millions of the Irish race in every quarter of the globe.

Taxation of Liquor

James Talbot Power, who presided in Dublin at the annual meeting of the Licensed Grocers and Vintners' Association of Ireland, said that few outsiders realized that the extra taxation of ninety-three cents on whisky that had been imposed by the new budget was more than the actual cost of pot still whisky, which was made in Ireland from barley and cereals grown in Ireland. Consequently the tax had crippled one of their chief til-

R. G. Tomlinson proposed a resolution calling upon parliament, in view of Mr. Lloyd George's statement that he had a surplus of more than thirty millions, to take into consideration the history that had resulted from the enormous taxes imposed by the Finance Act of 1909-1910 upon the manufacturers and the miners engaged in the liquor trade.

E. Callan MacKillop, of Dundalk, who seconded, said that some of the oldest brewing places in England were in the hands of the exchequer on every quart of malt used amounted to $2.34 over the old malt tax repealed in 1880. In England and Scotland substitutes were used to a great extent for malt and hops, but Ireland had practically stuck to pure barley with the result that the export trade of Irish stout continued to grow, showing that the public abroad appreciated the higher quality of article. In conclusion, he said, that it would be the duty of the hon. member for the Scotch Highlands to see to it that the financial provisions of the home rule bill, because, no matter who played the game, the resolution was passed.

Stoker Kingenorth, of H.M. First Class Cruiser "Ochraon," says: "One day I fell with my arm on an exhaust steam pipe, which fairly frizzled the skin. As soon as the ship's surgeon dressed my arm, but from the first, the burns took the wrong way owing to a lot of ointment and dirt from the pipe having got embedded in the flesh and setting up blood-poisoning."

"For weeks I remained under treatment, but the ordinary ointments did me no good for my arm. Indeed, I got worse, and I became alarmed at the spreading of the poison. I therefore obtained a supply of Zam-Buk and almost as soon as this was applied I got ease. From the very first application, healing commenced; and a few boxes of Zam-Buk healed my wound completely."

SAVING MONEY WAS HIS ONLY JOY IN LIFE

Gave it all, Millions of Crowns, To Found Hospital For Children

THRIFTY SINCE YOUTH

Spitzberger as a Boy Did Without Sugar and Saved Pennies it Would Cost—Kept Warm by Visiting Museums; Went to Bed When Sun Went Down

Vienna, May 6.—Vienna's charitable institutions are to be increased by a new children's hospital to be erected at a cost of two and a half million crowns, bequeathed for the purpose by Joseph Spitzberger, who died recently at the age of eighty-eight years. This fortune was accumulated by a life of hard work, accompanied by the severest self-denial.

Spitzberger was for many years head cashier of a large flour mill concern in Austria. He seems to have been born thrifty, for at a very early age he gave up taking sugar pills and coffee, and persuaded his parents to give him the few pennies saved in this way to put in his savings bank. As he began to be contented throughout his long life, contenting himself with the bare necessities, every penny he could save went into the bank.

For many years he lived in a small, miserable room in a poor street in the suburbs of Vienna. The room had neither stove nor light. To keep warm when he was not at business Spitzberger visited the museums and art galleries, and to save the expense of light he went to bed when it grew dark. He mended his own clothes, and his whole wardrobe consisted only of one suit and one shirt. During his last years he lived literally on dry bread and tea made fresh only once a week. He drank this decoction without sugar.

Spitzberger was a frequent visitor on the Bourse, and made a good deal of money in lucky speculations. He was not devoted to public affairs, but never bought a newspaper, going at half-past six o'clock every morning to read the sheets posted outside the doors of the journals.

To all the remonstrances of his friends he replied: "Leave me my pleasure; it is all for a good purpose.

Spitzberger never married, and with the exception of some small legacies to relatives, has left his whole fortune for the children's hospital.

PILES NOT TAKEN SERIOUSLY

"Annoying, but not dangerous," seems to be the way many think of piles in the early stages. But gradually they become worse, until they prevent sleep, undermine the nervous system and make a wreck of life.

When the doctor is finally consulted he considers the case so serious that he recommends the surgeon's knife as the only means of cure. At any cure or it may kill. The risk is yours.

But there is an easier and surer way to relieve your piles. This is by applying Dr. Chase's Ointment. The earlier you begin the use of this ointment the more the cure. But you need not be discouraged because you have suffered for ten or fifteen years. It would be difficult to imagine worse cases than have been cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment. Relief comes at once and cure is just as certain if you persist in the use of this great ointment.

THE MONTHLY MAGAZINE SECTION FOR MAY

Will contain among other attractive features a splendid story by Richard Harding Davis, entitled "The Mind Reader."

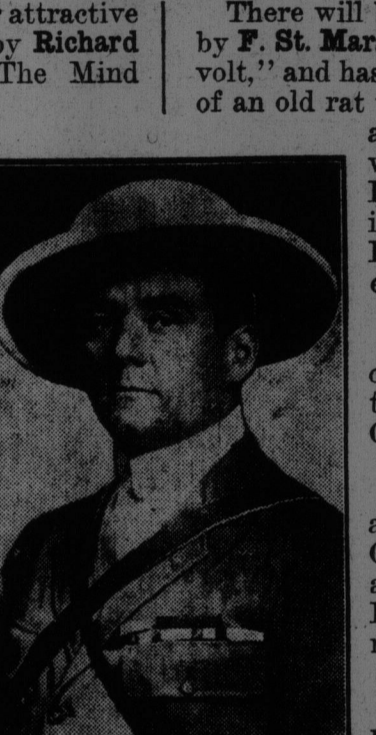

It deals with the adventures of a reporter who finds himself suddenly possessed of the power to read the thoughts of those about him.

The scenes are laid in England, and the theme is handled with the daring which is a characteristic of this author's work. Richard Harding Davis could scarcely write a "poor" story if he tried, and we feel sure you will enjoy "The Mind Reader."

This is only one of the strong features of the May issue.

Maurice Leblanc will commence his series of high-class detective tales—"The Confidences of Arsene Lupin." The first adventure is entitled "The Red Silk Scarf."

Professor Brander Matthews will entertain with an interesting article, "What Was Shakespeare's Theatre Like?" Illustrated from quaint wood prints of the first theatres.

There will be another animal story by F. St. Mars. It is called "The Revolt," and has to do with the struggle of an old rat to quell a revolution amongst the followers of whom he was "king."

Both the story and the illustrations, which Paul Bransom has drawn, are exceptionally pleasing.

Rudyard Kipling will conclude his unusual tale, "As Easy as A B C."

Laura Croser will tell about the "Second Chance for Bad Boys" afforded by the "Little Brother" movement in rescue work.

A full-page frontispiece has been painted by Jules Guerin, entitled "King Rene's Castle."

The cover design is by Paul Gould, whose work you have probably seen in "Life."

The other illustrators are: B. Cory Kilvert, C. B. Falls, Paul Bransom, Adrien Machefer, J. N. Marchand, and Harry Stoner.

PROVISIONS OF WILL OF COLONEL ASTOR GIVEN TO PUBLIC

New York, May 6.—Counsel for the family made public tonight the will of John Jacob Astor, as drawn in this city in September last, only a few days after his marriage to Miss Madeline Force, and approximately seven months before his perishing on the Titanic.

Vincent Astor, a son, who will come of age within the year, is made the principal beneficiary and residuary legatee. No hint as to the value of the local estate is given and by the creation of trust funds the testator has followed, as far as possible, the custom of his forefathers in keeping his vast holdings intact. Valuations of the estate run anywhere from $75,000,000 to $150,000,000.

Provision for Vincent Astor will provide for five unconditional bequests. One is $30,000 to St. Paul's Cathedral, New York, and the remainder of the legacies are to relative, friends and faithful servants.

Under all other provisions of the will, as made public, deal with the trust funds, of which there are three—$3,000,000 for the young daughter Muriel, the child of his former wife, Ava Willing Astor, and $2,000,000 for the expected posthumous child of the present widow. The latter clause provides for "each child who shall survive the testator other than his son, William Vincent, and his daughter, Ava Alice Muriel."

No provision whatsoever is made for the wife who divorced him, and if the young widow dies or marries again the $3,000,000 trust fund, together with the town house and other property left to her, reverts to Vincent Astor. She receives, however, $100,000 outright, without further stipulation; and until the income from the trust fund shall become available the trustees are bound to pay her an income of $20,000 a year.

There was anti-natal settlement which also accepted in lieu of dower rights. The amount of this has never been made public. Rumors have placed it at $5,000,000. Nicholas Biddle, of Philadelphia, who went to Halifax with Vincent Astor to claim Col. Astor's body, receives a legacy of $20,000; Robert H. M. Ferguson, a close friend and a trustee of his father's estate, and now living in Silver City, New Mexico, gets $10,000; Douglas Robinson, a brother-in-law of Theodore Roosevelt, is bequeathed $20,000, and a similar sum goes to the testator's brother-in-law, James Roosevelt Roosevelt, of this city; James S. Armstrong, of Rhinebeck (N. Y.), a cousin, is bequeathed $20,000, a sum which Colonel Astor's father also left him.

Other bequests are $25,000 to his secretary, William A. Dobbin, of this city, in recognition of "faithful services"; $10,000 to his steward, Thomas Hale, "in appreciation of his many years of devoted services"; and $10,000 to Herbert A. Pinkham, superintendent of his country place at Rhinebeck.

The executors are directed to pay the New York Yacht Club $1,200 a year until Vincent Astor shall become of age, this sum to be used by the club for the purchase of two silver cups to be sailed for by the yacht of the New York Yacht Club at Newport during the annual cruise. It is suggested further that Vincent Astor, having arrived at age, shall continue to offer these prizes, thus perpetuating the famous Astor cup.

DIKEMAN'S

How About Your Curtain Want This Year?

No doubt there is some room that needs re-curtaining. Wouldn't it be a good idea to buy them from a firm that gets their Curtains direct from the factory, pays spot cash for them and gets all discounts? These advantages go to the buyer, all we ask for is a fair and reasonable profit. That is why customers tell us that these $1.00 and $1.50 Curtains are equal to those shown by others at $1.25 and $2.00.

Our prices run from 50 cents a pair up to $8.50. Those imitation Applique Curtains at $2.89 are very attractive. They are double threaded, extra good weaves, are finished top and bottom, 60 inches wide, 3 1-2 yards long.

Many of the Curtains we are showing are double bordered so that they can be reversed. This means that the curtain will wear just twice as long as the single bordered curtain.

BODY OF MR. OSBORNE TO BE CREMATED

Montreal Railway Stations Are in Mourning—Preparations For Arrival of Body of Mr. Hays

(Montreal Herald.)

Two of the city railway stations—the Bonaventure and the Windsor street—were the scene of mourning today. In the Bonaventure preparations are being made for the reception of the body of Charles M. Hays, late president of the Grand Trunk, which arrived at Halifax today by the morgue steamer Minia, and will be brought to Montreal by special train. A platform has been built from which the casket will be lifted from the car. By the time the body arrives the station will be in a complete garb of mourning. Mr. Hays' remains have been embalmed aboard the Minia, and will be transferred to the train immediately upon the arrival of the steamer at Halifax. The funeral will take place in Montreal and the remains will be interred here. The funeral will not be a public one. Only the relatives and business associates of the late railway president will attend.

The special car containing the remains of James Osborne, general superintendent of the British Columbia division of the C. P. R., arrived at the Windsor street station this morning on the Winnipeg train at 8.35. Mr. Osborne died at Vancouver on Wednesday last of erysipelas.

Mr. Osborne's remains will be cremated. They will be taken from the station at Mount Royal cemetery at 2.35 o'clock this afternoon. Rev. J. H. O'Brien, who officiates, will perform the burial service at the cemetery.

From Calgary east the steamer car received floral tokens at almost every station of importance. These had been wired for by the late Mr. Osborne's friends on his late division. Other elaborate floral tributes were added here.

Mrs. Osborne and the other members of the family, as well as Dr. Elliot, accompanied the remains across the continent. C. F. H. officials as far east as St. John, and from as far west as Lake Superior are in the city to attend the funeral this afternoon.

Those of the late Mr. Osborne's own rank are Wm. Downie, of St. John, superintendent of the Atlantic division; J. T. Armadillo, superintendent of the Ontario division; George Hodges, superintendent of the Eastern division, and J. J. Seely, superintendent of the Lake Superior division.

Halifax, N. S., May 7.—(Special)—In an accident in the I. C. R. yard at Richmond this morning, Alexander Moore, aged twenty-five, had one leg cut off at the hip and the other below the knee. He was on the footboard of an engine when he missed his footing and fell the engine passing over him. He was taken to the hospital and is not expected to live many hours.

MRS. THOMAS M. MACLACHLAN

Former St. John Resident Passes Away in Springfield, Mass.

Word reached the city this morning telling of the death of a former resident of this city, Mrs. Frances Raymond, widow of Thomas M. MacLachlan, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James A. Ross, in Springfield, Mass., and the news of the death, which occurred yesterday, caused her many friends to regret that they were not able to attend her funeral. Mrs. MacLachlan was of Loyalist descent. She had resided in Carleton Place, Ontario, for many years, previous to moving to Fredericton, where she remained for about ten years. About a year ago she went to her home with her only surviving daughter, Mrs. Ross, and had been in Springfield since that time.

Her husband was a prominent resident of this city for many years, and was in partnership in the lumber business with the late Lewis Wilson. Mrs. MacLachlan had relatives in Norton and Clifton. A telegram was received this morning by Mrs. V. H. Sampson, telling of her death and also saying that the body would be brought to this city for burial. The funeral will be held tomorrow at two p. m. from St. George's church, West End.

MICHAEL BRADLEY
The death of Michael Bradley, a life-long resident of Riverside, Kings county, occurred last night at his home. He was in his 78th year and is survived by his wife and one son, John. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning.

MR. FLEMING'S TROUBLES
Fredericton Mail.—The condition of the highway road between Fredericton and Springhill is a positive disgrace to the local government. It is full of holes and ruts and there are places where it is dangerous for a team to drive over faster than a walk.

THE COAL OUTPUT
The corrected figures of the output from the collieries of the Dominion Coal Co. for April are 380,094 tons. This tonnage is the second largest ever obtained by the company. The output for May, unless curtailed by ice conditions interfering with shipping, is expected to reach the 400,000 ton mark.

POLICE REPORTS.
Between seven and eight o'clock last evening, Policeman Alexander Crawford extinguished a fire in the grass in Rich street.

Michael Weisel has been reported by the police for driving his horse at a furious speed in Mill street yesterday.

Samuel Drury has been reported to the court for obstructing the sidewalk in Elm street with a pile of lumber last night.

WANT MORE PAY.
A matter of different between some of the men working in Stetson & Cutler Co's mill in Indian town and the employers regarding the question of wages is now being considered, and the result will probably be definitely known in about ten days. Two of the men quit work on Saturday because they thought they were underpaid, and later an effort was made to have them return to work. One of them had joined the staff of another concern. Some of the other employees are now looking for an increase in wages, and the matter will be considered by the company.

SOCIETY LEAGUE.
A slight change has been made in the schedule arranged for the Inter-society Baseball league. Instead of opening on the 22nd of this month as was at first intended, the first game will be played on the 16th. The contesting teams will be the St. Peter's and St. Michael's, and they, with the Father Mathew teams and the M. B. A. 482, will comprise the league. Several of the members of each team were on the grounds in the rear of St. Peter's church last night and were busily putting them in condition for play. They made quite an improvement in the few hours they were at work, and will compete this week. Much interest is being taken in the league. Some strong material has been signed, and there is promise of a lively and close fight for stellar honors.

A MIX-UP ON REMANDS; PRISONERS ARE FREED

Four prisoners in the county jail, who were to have been brought in this morning for trial, were found wanting when the time came and consequently hearing in the case could not be proceeded with. They were arrested in a raid on a Sheffield street house about a week ago, and were up for trial several times during the week. Toward the end of the week they were brought in and remanded. According to the memorandum kept by the police court clerk, the remand was not up until today, but they kept in jail, and the remand was up yesterday morning. Consequently, when the prisoners were not ready for trial, they were allowed out, as the jailer had no authority to keep them in the jail any longer. They were allowed to go yesterday morning about eleven o'clock. Two of the prisoners were Sarah Morris and Kathleen McIntyre, and they were before the court this morning on other charges. The McIntyre girl was charged with drunkenness, while Mrs. Morris was charged with selling liquor illegally. The McIntyre girl told the court that she became drunk in Mrs. Morris' house and that she was then thrown out. She consequently told where she got the liquor.

POLICE COURT TODAY

The case of Chester Graham, charged with attempting to escape from the chain gang, while they were at work at the General Public Hospital on May 3, came up in the police court this morning. Guards Beckett and Bowers gave evidence his runaway from the gang and being afterwards caught in a yard off Paradise Row. The prisoner was remanded to jail.

Two prisoners charged with drunkenness were fined $8 or two months in jail. One of the two was a woman, Kathleen McIntyre, who was arrested a few days ago in connection with a raid on a house in Sheffield street. Out of this arrest arose a charge of selling liquor without a license, which was preferred against Sarah Morris, who was also in court last week on the charge of being the proprietress of a house of ill repute in Sheffield street. The McIntyre woman swore that she purchased five drinks of whiskey from the Morris woman in her house yesterday morning, paying ten cents for each drink. She testified that after getting drunk she was ejected from the house and was subsequently arrested. The Morris woman pleaded not guilty to the charge, and was remanded to jail.

Frank McDermott, arrested on Sunday afternoon on a charge of being drunk and also resisting the police, was fined $8 or thirty days in jail on the first charge, and $10 or two months in jail on the second charge. The fine was allowed to stand against him on condition that he take the pledge.

Hearing in the case of James A. Wilcox, charged with obtaining money under false pretences, was to have been begun this morning, but on account of the absence of Detective Killen, it was adjourned until tomorrow morning.
