BOTH WRONG. (New York Times.) Bourke Cochran is airing an amusing anecdote picked up during his European trip. It seems that two distinguished archaeologists made an excursion to the Isles of Arran, where interesting remains of an archaeological nature exist. They came across a little rough stone building, and both entered into a fierce argument as to the exact century of its erection, one maintaining it was built in the fifth and the other in the sixth century.

A native who had hastened to the hot discussion suddenly broke in: "Arrah, yer Honors, both of yeze ar wrong. 'Twas put up three years ago by Patsy Doolan for his jacksn!"

ST. JOHN STAR.

Over fifty thousand Canadian electors have, by petitions presented before the Dominion government, registered their protest against the Grand Trunk Pacific deal. Outside of parliament where with the example of Mr. Blair before them, none of those who sat on the government side dared protest, not one voice in Canada has been raised in its favor, save by the newspapers, which form a part of the party machine. The maritime provinces do not want the proposed road because it will side-track their ports in favor of Portland, Me.; middle Canada is not in favor of a line which leaves its principle cities, Toronto and Montreal, out in the cold, and does not shorten the distance between its producing centres and the western market; the west does not want it because it cannot guarantee them what they are after—cheap freight rates.

Never in the history of Canada has any government put through a measure of such magnitude as this without first being assured that the people were in favor of it; but this administration persists in forcing this enormous deal upon the country when they know that the great majority of the independent, thinking electorate are bitterly opposed to it.

There is only one adequate explanation of such a course. If the individual members of the government had nothing to gain personally by this bill there could be no reason for refusing to grant, in response to such a universal protest, at least a slight delay, to allow for the procuring of more information.

But there are some individuals connected with the Grand Trunk Company and the Quebec Bridge Company to whom the passage of this bill means millions. Senator Cox and others of the Grand Trunk and Laurier's personal friends of the Quebec Bridge Co., who as a consequence of the deal will get $2,000,000 for what has been a money losing investment, are the ones who dread any delay in this matter and these men by their powerful influence with the party machine and their ability to offer to members of the government arguments slightly different from those given to the public in favor of the bill, are able, with the aid of a basely subservient majority, to force it through in spite of protests.

A transaction so apparently corrupt in new in Canada. Unless the senate wishes to place itself also under suspicion it must stop this inquiry.

BALFOUR'S POSITION. Mr. Balfour seems to be in the unenviable position of the man who between two stools came suddenly to the ground. His strongest man, Mr. Chamberlain, has left him because he did not go far enough in his proposed reform of British fiscal conditions; the Duke of Devonshire, his most influential follower, and two other less important members of his cabinet have left him because he did not go far enough.

Yet his middle course, when he started on it, seemed the wisest one. Even Mr. Chamberlain, wedded as he is to the preferential idea, admitted that the country was not yet ripe for it; that an attempt to secure a verdict before the people really appreciated the question they were to judge, was folly. To have gone as far as Chamberlain did would have meant not only certain defeat for this government but a great set back for Mr. Chamberlain's policy. Neither could he stay where he was. He saw Britain daily losing ground in the trade race as she ran in the open against competitors who were protected by tariff shields from the wind of competition, and knew she must continue to lose under such a handicap. The adoption of some measure of protection to place her on more equal terms, the people seemed willing to consider and he knew that once they felt the great benefit of the change, they would be ready to listen to the more radical departure proposed by Mr. Chamberlain.

So he made his choice as it seemed to him best. He must have been prepared for most of these resignations, though it seems that he had hoped to retain the Duke of Devonshire and to maintain his majority in parliament through another session, while his ministers preached his tariff gospel and prepared the people to give a fair verdict. If he had such hopes, he is disappointed. With such a wholesale falling off, it seems hardly possible that the government can be sustained much longer. It is more than probable that an appeal to the country will be made within the year. As the English are a people slow to change, it is doubtful whether they will have had the time to prepare themselves for Balfour's hot dispute before the elections. The sight of so many men like the Duke of Devonshire, in whose judgment such strong confidence has been placed, hesitating, will deter a great number.

Yet Mr. Balfour has developed unexpected fighting powers; he has surrounded himself with a cabinet of young and enthusiastic and able men, and even in the time left to him may be able to win a new following for his policy sufficient to enable him to put his policy in force.

Eighty-two years old, Sir Charles Tupper is apparently as full of fight as when he won the title of the War Hero of Cumberland. His speeches in England in favor of Chamberlain's preferential trade doctrine are swash-ing wide interest. He is coming to Canada in a few weeks, when his opinion of the question that is agitating England will be heard with interest.

EPHEMERON. "Ah, brother, it is bitter cold in here this time of year! December is a sorry month indeed. For your fall August breed."

I find you numb this morning on the searching in vain. A little warmth to thaw those airy vana. Arrested in their plans.

I breathe on you; and, lo, with lurking might Those members slight Revive and stir; the little human breath Dissolves their frosty death.

You trim those quick antennae as of old. Forget the cold, And spread those stiffened sails once more to the breeze.

The elemental air. Does that thin deep, unmarinered and blue, Come back to you, Dreaming of ports whose bearing you have lost, Where cruised no pirate frost?

Ah, shipmate, there'll be two of us In ghostly plight, In cheerless latitudes beyond renown, When the long frosts shut down.

What if that day, in unexpected guise, Strong, kind and wise, Above me should the great Beneficent bow, As I above you now—

Reset the ruined time-lock of the heart, And I'd be starry.

And every frost-bound joint and valve restorer To supply play once more!" —Bliss Carmen.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

SPRINGHILL, N. S., Oct. 5.—A terrible accident took place here today in the new post office building. The janitor, Samuel McDonald, was instantly killed and several injured, one seriously. Frederick Eaton, machinist of Amherst, went there, accompanied by an assistant, to the post office building to make repairs to the furnaces. They had just gone into the basement, preceded by Mr. McDonald, when one of the boilers exploded with terrible force, shattering the floors and some of the stone and brick work.

McDonald was instantly killed. Eaton was badly hurt and was taken to the cottage hospital. His assistant was cut and bruised, and a boy standing in the doorway of the office at the time was bruised and rendered unconscious. The interior of the office was badly wrecked. The building was heated by steam generated by two boilers. Only one of them was in use, and the opinion is that the accident was due to a scolding of water in the boiler.

McDonald had been a resident at Springhill for some years, having started the Springhill Tribune, of which newspaper he was editor and publisher until he sold it a year ago to accept the position of janitor of the post office.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

OTTAWA, Oct. 5.—The house went into supply on supplementary estimates. The vote of $10,000 for a drill hall at St. John brought forth the statement from Hon. Mr. Butherford that it would cost $100,000. No site had yet been purchased, but the government had land which might be used.

Mr. Clark asked that the government should at once select a site and prepare plans for a new building. If it was to be constructed parliament should be in a position to determine as to its suitability.

Sir Frederick Borden said that as St. John was a strategic point he contemplated increasing the strength of the militia at that point when the armory was completed.

The opposition declared that the vote was too small. If a building was needed a sum sufficient to complete it should be voted at once. The minister of militia was asked if St. John had not offered a free site for a drill hall. He replied that the militia department had suggested the propriety of such a gift, but this had not been favorably received.

Other New Brunswick items went through without much discussion. In the Ontario public buildings estimate Mr. Bennett asked if Sir William Mulock was a stockholder in the company operating at Newmarket which supplies steel rollers to the government. The vote for this purpose this year is $55,000.

Hon. Mr. Sutherland answered that he could not give information. He was requested to do so later.

After furnishing estimates for public buildings the house adjourned at 1:55 p. m.

A very interesting report was made of last year's work showing good progress. Addresses were made by the rector, Rev. Dr. Raymond, and Rev. Canon Richardson, followed by a literary programme and social.

BRITISH NEWS.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—The new cabinet

Mr. Brodrick, formerly secretary for war, succeeds Lord George Hamilton as secretary for India.

Austen Chamberlain, postmaster general, succeeds Mr. Ritchie as chancellor of the exchequer.

Alfred Lyttelton, recorder of Oxford, succeeds Joseph Chamberlain as secretary for the colonies.

H. O. Arnold Forster, secretary to the admiralty, succeeds Mr. Brodrick as secretary for war.

Graham Murray, lord advocate of Scotland, succeeds Lord Balfour of Burleigh, as secretary for Scotland.

Lord Stanley, financier of the war office, succeeds Austen Chamberlain as postmaster general.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—The Duke of Devonshire, who was leader of the conservative party, House of Lords, has resigned the office of lord president of the council and the king has accepted his resignation.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—The three weeks' cabinet crisis has ended in a manner more remarkable and dramatic than that of its inception.

Mr. Balfour's new ministry affords a measure of the enormous difficulty he has had to contend with in the task of reconstruction and its composition seems to indicate that the premier himself can have little belief of its durability. The most sanguine supporters of the government tonight express the smallest hopes of such an administration living many months and the prevalent idea is that there will be a general election before parliament reassembles.

The withdrawal of the Duke of Devonshire is a heavy blow. Had he remained the government might possibly have survived another parliamentary session by avoiding legislation dealing with the fiscal problem, but with him goes the support of the strong party of liberal unionists in the country.

One consequence of the Duke of Devonshire's retirement is extremely unfavorable for the government. It will bring the leadership of the house of lords to the unpopular Lord Lansdowne. No successor has yet been appointed to the Duke of Devonshire and several minor government offices still remain vacant. Of the new appointments announced tonight the most surprising is that of the Hon. Alfred Lyttelton, as secretary for the colonies.

Mr. Lyttelton is a man of acknowledged ability and a good speaker, but he has no ministerial experience whatever.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 5.—It has been established beyond doubt that Rev. J. A. McLaughlin, Methodist missionary at Bevin's River, was drowned Aug. 12 while crossing Lake Winnipeg in a boat with some Indian children. His body has been recovered. He was one of the most successful missionaries in the Northwest. He leaves a wife and child at Bevin's.

FREDERICTON NEWS

FREDERICTON, Oct. 5.—Lectures were resumed in the university this morning. The total enrollment this year numbers 120 students, by far the largest in the history of the institution. Of this number 56 are taking the engineering course and 74 are registered in the arts. The marked attendance in the engineering faculty will necessitate the appointment of an additional professor. The progress this faculty has made within the last few years is very gratifying to the friends of the institution. The total number of new students this year will be close to fifty.

The condition of J. Douglas Black, the unfortunate victim of Saturday, remains practically unchanged. It is understood that the last effort to locate the bullet has been successful and that he is resting easier tonight. It is feared that other influences may handicap the surgeons in their efforts to save the young man's life. Much sympathy is felt for his mother, who is in delicate health.

BACK FROM THE WEST.

W. J. De Wire, a New Brunswicker who spent some years in the west, was in the city yesterday. Mr. De Wire for two terms sat as alderman in the civic administration of Victoria, B. C. That was more than two years ago, and he is much surprised that the liberals should have carried the four seats there on Saturday. The election was run far more closely than Mr. De Wire thought possible. British Columbia being considered a conservative stronghold. In the defeat of Joe Martin, he thinks the conservatives scored a victory. "Joe" is a fighter, strong and obstinate. But his very obstinacy proved his defeat.

Some 16 months ago Mr. De Wire left British Columbia and went to California. He says that state has been well rained the land of sunshine and flowers. The climate is temperate and equable and flowers seem in bloom this year around. However, he thinks that after all there is no climate like that of New Brunswick, even if a little fog does occasionally gather around the coast.

MONCTON, N. B., Oct. 5.—Night Policemen Rushton and Chappell have been suspended for one month, and Officer Triton for ten days, by the city council for neglect of duty. Aid. Ross at tonight's meeting reported that he had gone out in the early hours of the evening the last few nights looking for officers in consequence of a report that the men could not be found on their beats. He found there was something in the reports, hence the action of the council in laying the officers off for a spell.

The chairman of the board of works also laid a complaint against the street commissioner for neglecting his duty. The council decided to suspend him for two weeks.

"DRESDEN CHINA."

(New York Tribune)
The retiring postmaster of the British house of commons tells a story of his early experiences of postal work in a good many years ago. It was a London branch office, and a customer came in and handed a letter over the counter to the young woman who was serving stamps, and who, after reading the address, said it would be five-pence. "But I have never paid more than two-pence half-penny before," objected the customer. "Is it overweight?" "No, it wasn't overweight, said the clerk, "but all letters to China were five-pence, and this was addressed to Dresden—"

POLICE COURT.

A Lively Lower Cove Assault Case—A Plate Glass Window Broken.

Patrick McHugh pleaded guilty to breaking a plate glass window in Edward McDonald's store, Brussels street. D. Mullin, K. C., appeared for McDonald and stated that if the plate glass window was replaced that Mr. McDonald would not prosecute. McHugh was also charged with assaulting the officer in the discharge of his duty. To this he pleaded not guilty. The prisoner was remanded until tomorrow at 10 o'clock in order to give witnesses a chance to be present.

Just at this juncture Sergeant Hipwell was ordered to stop the noise in court, where a large crowd, chiefly colored people, had gathered to listen to the proceedings. The magistrate commented on the fact of disturbances in court and said that those guilty of such an offence were liable to a penalty of seven days in jail.

Thomas Stack and John Conley were charged with fighting on St. James street last night. Officer Crawford arrested Stack about 11 o'clock. Silas Perry took Conley into custody between two and three o'clock this morning.

Crawford testified that he heard shouts of "Soak him, soak him, give it to him, now you've got him," etc., at nearly 11 o'clock last night, when he was on Moran's Wharf, Britain street; the noise came from where the fight was, on St. James street. He ran up and saw Stack on top of another man, presumably Conley and they were fighting. He arrested Stack, Conley was not captured until later. When Conley was arrested he acknowledged he beat Stack. It seems that Stack wanted to get in a team; the other parties in the team, of which there were four or five, Stack's brother being one of them, did not want him, then he (Stack) offered to fight any one in the team. That was the cause of all the trouble.

Magistrate Ritchie, in summing up the evidence, said that Stack had appeared in court but a short time before, and as a consequence had a bad reputation and if he did not mend his ways he would some day, perhaps, find himself behind the bars charged with something more serious. On the other hand, Conley had not been in court before, and on that account he would discharge him.

Stack was fined $20 or two months in jail with hard labor. After receiving his sentence, Stack remarked "That it was a funny court, a man comes here and gets fined for defending himself."

The manslaughter case against the colored man, Joseph Thompson, was resumed in the police court this morning.

Mrs. Foley, Mrs. McHugh, Miss Jennie Nelson and Mr. Keirns were on the stand. Their evidence was practically the same as given at the coroner's inquest before the bar charged with something more serious. On the other hand, Conley had not been in court before, and on that account he would discharge him.

Section three, that all ferry regulations be strictly enforced, was adopted.

Section four, referring to the application of the Maritime Mail Co. (Ltd.) for leave to cross Portland street connection with the laying of spur from the company's bridge track, was referred back.

Section five referred to the communication from Jas. McGregor, on behalf of the Anglo-Canadian Cold Storage Co., asking the council to extend the limit of their option for a lease of a lot in Carleton, was adopted.

A communication was read from the local committee of the Canadian Ticket Agents' Association asking for a grant of $300 from the city to assist in showing the delegates of the association, who will shortly visit St. John, the beauties and attractions of this city as a summer resort for tourists. Ald. Robinson moved that $250 be voted to the association. Carried.

A petition was received from Wm. Thomson & Co., praying the city's permission to locate the new steamer Beniac at the end of the I. C. R. pier, was referred to the board of works with power to act.

Ald. Allan moved that the matter of lighting the new warehouse at San Pedro be referred to the board of public works. Carried.

Other small matters were allowed to stand.

FEAST OF TABERNACLES.

The Feast of Tabernacles, which is being observed today in the Jewish tabernacle, commenced yesterday at sunset, and will extend over a period of nine days.

In the old country and Europe it is customary for the Jews to build booths or tents near their houses and pass the entire nine days out of doors. The people here do not carry their observance so far as that; only a few have built booths.

Rabbi Rabinowitz was to have delivered an address in Hebrew at the synagogue last evening, but owing to the bad weather the meeting was postponed. The rabbi will give his address tomorrow morning.

COMMON COUNCIL.

Grant of $250 for Entertaining Railway Ticket Agents.

A regular meeting of the common council was held yesterday afternoon, Deputy Mayor McGoldrick presiding in the absence of Mayor White, who is ill. There were in attendance Ald. Baxter, Tilley, Maxwell, Robinson, Hamm, Lewis, Millidge, McMulkin, Tufts, Macrae, Bullock and Allan.

The following recommendations were made: That the several district commissioners be paid the same amount for their services this year as they received last year; that the tax against Chas. J. Nealis for the present year be written off, as he had already paid a business license of $20.

The report of the water and sewerage board was next taken up and considered section by section on motion of Ald. Millidge.

Section one recommended the laying of 50 feet of four inch pipe at the corner of St. John street, West, and Union street for the purpose of putting up additional hydrants. Estimated cost, $250. The engineer's recommendation is that the main be extended further up Union street toward the warehouses. This could be done for $1,100.

Ald. Macrae moved that the engineer's recommendation be substituted for that of the board. Carried.

The tender of F. S. Walker to heat the Carmanthorpe street offices at $700 was received.

Section two of the report dealt with the state of the sewer in the Boyd field in Lorne ward, and the recommendation was made that a proper easement be procured from Wm. Luther Jordan, the present owner of the field, with the view to the renewal of the sewer with the cast iron pipe. The recommendation was adopted.

In section four the board recommended that the request of Mrs. M. L. Morrisey to have repaid to her water rates alleged to have been improperly assessed, be refused. Adopted.

Section five recommended that the director be authorized to call for tenders for the requisite quantity of hay and bran for use of department stables.

Sergeant John Hipwell was granted half pay for eight days while off duty through illness.

It was decided that a lease of lots 45 and 10, Block C, Dukes ward, be granted to the St. John Ladder Co. for 21 years at $50 per year.

The board was authorized to lay a plank sidewalk on the northerly side of North Market street, commencing at Charlotte and extending back about 201 feet. Asphalt will be used as much as possible.

On motion the report of the board of works was taken up section by section.

Section one, recommending a call for tenders for necessary supply of fuel for department, was adopted.

Section two, recommending the carrying out of certain plumbing, was adopted.

Section three, that all ferry regulations be strictly enforced, was adopted.

Section four, referring to the application of the Maritime Mail Co. (Ltd.) for leave to cross Portland street connection with the laying of spur from the company's bridge track, was referred back.

Section five referred to the communication from Jas. McGregor, on behalf of the Anglo-Canadian Cold Storage Co., asking the council to extend the limit of their option for a lease of a lot in Carleton, was adopted.

A BRILLIANT WEDDING.

Miss Ella Louise McAvity and Frank R. Fairweather Married in Stone Church Today.

One of the most brilliant weddings that has ever taken place in St. John's (stone) church, occurred this afternoon at three o'clock, when Miss Ella Louise McAvity, daughter of Thomas McAvity, of the firm of T. McAvity & Sons, became the bride of Frank R. Fairweather, of Tilley & Fairweather.

The ceremony was performed by the rector, the Rev. John deSoyres, in the presence of a large assembly of friends and relatives.

The floral decorations of the church were exquisitely artistic. In the centre of the altar an arch was erected, the framework of which was entwined with leaves of poplar. Intermingled with the poplar were bunches of white smilax, brought out into striking relief by the deep background of green. Every nook and corner of the altar was utilized in an effective floral display. At the sides of the altar stately palms reared their swaying stalks. Three pretty arches adorned the middle aisle at set distances. These were entwined with the same poplar foliage, dotted here and there with masses of ferns and quantities of white flowers.

The bride looked charmingly handsome in a superb bridal gown of white satin, accented with chiffon and deep rose painted lace. She carried a bridal bouquet of roses.

Her attendants were Miss Ethel McAvity, Miss Agnes Blizard, and Miss Rosamond McAvity. The dress of the first named was white Chinese crepe over silk and large white hat with plumes and chiffon strings. The dresses of Miss Blizard and Miss Rosamond McAvity were of the same color, though varied somewhat in general make-up. They all carried bouquets of pink roses. The best man was the bridegroom's brother, Harry Fairweather, and the ushers, Jack H. A. L. Fairweather, Alfred Humphrey, Arthur Hazen and Fred Taylor.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents, 192 King street (east) followed the ceremony. The decorations of the house followed closely on the general lines of those of the church—white and green being prominent. The walls of the spacious reception room were banked with palms and ferns. Festoons of evergreen foliage mingled with white roses and smilax hung from the centre of the room. The dining room was a profusion of green and white. Two tables were set, one for the bridal party and the other for the guests. In the centre of the bridal table rose a pyramid of bridal cakes decorated with white roses. From above extended festoons of white satin entwined with white smilax and maiden-hair fern.

The guests' table was decorated after the same manner and illuminated with candles with white silver shades. The walls and corners of the room were banked with palms and ferns.

For the reception over one hundred invitations were issued to relatives and most intimate friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Fairweather leave this afternoon on the six o'clock train for an extended tour of the upper Canadian provinces.
