BOLD ROBBERY AT NELSON

Thieves Entered Home of Miss Woods Thursday Night.

TOOK MONEY AND WATCH

Also had a Meal—Suspicion Aroused—Subscription Made.

A bold and mean robbery took place in Nelson on Thursday night last. Miss Woods who lives in a small cottage at the lower end of the village went to spend the night with a neighbor, during the night some miscreants entered by opening the front door with a key. Stole all the money in the house, all the poor woman had been able to save during the summer to provide some winter necessities, watch and other articles. Not content with this they ransacked the house, scattered the contents of drawers etc. around, had a supper and departed leaving a lamp burning.

On leaving however, they left the key in the door. This key has a tag and it is said to have been seen lately in the door of another house, so as suspicion points to certain quarters the end may not be yet. Public sympathy for Miss Woods took a practical form and some friends started a movement which resulted in her monetary loss being entirely made up. The men of Burchill's mill of their own motion making up a handsome sum. Such acts bring their own reward.

FUNERAL OF F. R. DALTON.

The funeral of the late Frank Dalton, took place last Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock to St. Mary's R. C. church and despite the heavy rain-storm that prevailed a large number of citizens turned out to pay their last tribute of respect to one who in life was a general favorite with all. Rev. P. W. Dixon, celebrated a High Mass of Requiem and the choir was in attendance and rendered music suitable to the solemn occasion. There was a large display of floral tributes, among them a handsome wreath from the Canadian Drug Co., of St. John. The pall-bearers were Messrs Allan Ferguson, John Pallen, Dennis Doyle, Edward Keating, James P. Whelan, and Raymond Cullen.

IN MEMORIAM.

Mr. Frank Dalton, Druggist, of Newcastle, who died Sept. 11th, 1905, aged 27 yrs. (Acute)

By Michael Whelan.

Farewell, dear Frank, a long, a last farewell, Remembrance, now, is all we have of thee, And many hearts with deepest sorrow well, No more they see the friend they loved so well Kind heart and true, thy face no more we see.

Death's icy hand hath stricken thee too soon, And its cold grasp hath stilled thy warm young heart, Life's sun hath set before its brilliant noon, The tenderest ties are rent and torn apart.

O death, thou hast all seasons for thy own, None may escape from thy unerring dart. Kenos River, N. B., Sept., 1905.

CIRCUIT COURT IN SESSION

His Honor Judge Gregory Presided at Circuit Court Here.

THREE CRIMINAL CASES.

Grand Jury Brought in True Bills in Two—Addresses to Judge.

Judge Gregory opened court here last Tuesday. The Grand Jury found true bills against the three Chatham Chinamen, Ceto On, Ceto Chung and Ceto Mok and Petrie and Cable.

The following addresses was presented to the Judge by the Grand Jury: To His Honor, Mr. Justice Geo. F. Gregory: We the Grand Jury of the County of Northumberland assembled, desire to express to you, sir, on behalf of ourselves and the people of the County of Northumberland, feelings of profound respect, and to convey to you our congratulations on this your first appearance as a Supreme Court Judge in our County.

We recognize in your long and distinguished services at the bar of our province a fitness for the high and responsible position you fill as a Judge of the Supreme Court of the Province of New Brunswick. This is especially gratifying to the people as well as a tower of strength to the Bench. We trust you may long be spared in the enjoyment of good health and the fulfillment of your arduous duties.

Signed on behalf of the Grand Jury, D. MORRISON.

Grand Jury Room, Foreman.

Newcastle, N. B.

Sept. 12, 1905.

In delivering their finding the Grand Jury presented the following:

To His Honor, Justice Gregory:

In the examination of the witnesses in the case of the Cable family, we were deeply impressed, with the deplorable social condition of the home life of the families, where evidence of cruelty to children, and threats of violence, were brought to our notice. We would suggest that the attention of the proper authorities be directed to those unfortunate social conditions in these people.

Signed on behalf of the Grand Jury, D. MORRISON.

Grand Jury Room, Foreman.

Newcastle,

Sept. 12, 1905.

In reply Judge Gregory said he would call the attention of the proper authorities to the necessity of finding proper homes for those children.

The civil causes are James Russell vs. Thos. Scott, replevin; John J. Clarke vs. John W. Vanderbeck, slander; James Miller vs. Town of Chatham, balance claimed on pump contract; Margaret McKay vs. Thos. Buckley, use and occupation; Jane Ellis vs. Arch. Frackear, ejectment; Annie Henderson vs. Thos. Fitzpatrick, ejectment; Lester P. Parker vs. A. F. Bentley, assumpsit.

These civil causes were postponed.

The trial of the criminal cases resulted in a verdict of guilty in both.

The Chatham Chinamen, were sentenced to serve four years in Dorchester.

Petrie and Cable for cow stealing were sentenced to jail, Petrie for four months, Cable for two.

Judge Gregory, in the course of his remarks severely criticised the Chatham police for the manner in which they handled the Chinamen's case.

At the opening of the Circuit Court in Newcastle the lawyers presented the following address to the presiding Judge, Hon. Mr. Tweedie reading it:

To His Honor the Honorable George F. Gregory, One of His Majesty's Justices of the Supreme Court of New Brunswick:

May it Please Your Honor: The barristers and attorneys of the County of Northumberland desire to extend their hearty congratulations to you on this your first official visit to the county since your elevation to the bench. Your appointment was received with satisfaction throughout the province, and particularly here where for so many years you constantly attended our courts and established a highly deserved reputation as an able lawyer.

The great legal attainments possessed by you, combined with your mental power, eminently justified your selection as one of the Justices of the Supreme Court of New Brunswick, and in dealing with the important and various matters which will come before you for decision as a Judge, these attainments, with the sound common sense you have always displayed as a barrister, will stand you in good stead in arriving at just and proper conclusions.

While practising as a barrister we have to acknowledge your uniform courtesy and consideration to the profession, and especially Southesk—James Johnston and George Hubbard.

In Southesk the vote polled was as follows:

F. D. Swin 167, Ronald Hurley 142, ially your kindness to the younger members of the bar, and the assistance you were at all times willing to render.

We trust that you may long continue to hold the high position you now occupy, and that your name will go down to posterity as one of the able and eminent jurists of this province.

Judge Gregory, in reply, thanked the members of the bar for their kind expressions. Although he had been five years on the bench this was his first official visit to Northumberland. It was not his fault, however, and he was inclined to think that the Chief Justice, who greatly appreciated the hospitality and generosity of the North Shore, had managed to come here in his place. He had been introduced here first by Mr. Tweedie, and had been engaged in many important Northumberland causes. He was glad to know that his appointment to the bench was satisfactory to the profession.

It was a pitiful mistake, an error sad and grim. I waited for the railway train; the light was low and dim. It came at last, and from a car there stepped a dainty dame, and, looking up and down the place, she straight unto me came. 'Oh Jack!' she cried, 'oh, dear old Jack! and kissed me as she spoke; then looked again, and, frightened, cried, 'Oh, what a bad mistake!' I said, 'Forgive me maiden fair, for I am not your Jack; and as regards the kiss you gave, I'll straightway give it back.' And since that night I've often stood upon that platform dim but only once in a man's whole life do such things come to him.

CANADA WILL SUPPLY THE WORLD WITH IRON.

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—Dr. P. L. F. Heroult, technical director of the French-Electro Metallurgical Society, who have immense works at La Paz, France, where aluminum and steel are produced, is now in the city.

He said in an interview today that in ten years Canada will become a great metallurgical country. There will be an iron industry larger than any other in the world. It will be the same with iron as it is with wheat. Canada will finish to the world its iron supply. Iron can be produced cheaper here than in any other country.

JAPAN MOURNS MIKASKA DISASTER.

But Togo's Escape Is Some Compensation—
The Battleship Caught Fire at Midnight
And The Magazine Blew Up—The Killed Number Hundreds.

Sasebo, Sept. 14.—Admiral Togo's flagship, the Mikasa, was destroyed by fire, and the explosion of her magazine at an early hour last Monday morning while peacefully lying at anchor in this harbor. Hundreds of lives, including members of her crew and men from other ships who went to the rescue, were lost.

This little town which was suddenly risen to fame since the outbreak of the recent war, had spent a quiet Sunday. The presence in the harbor of several warships that had taken part in the annihilation of the formidable navy of the great power, presented an object of interest, but the quiet slumber of the night was unbroken, and the people were dreaming of peace, when the quietude was violently disturbed a little after midnight by a terrific explosion, accompanied by a severe shock.

An eager crowd assembled on the coast, knowing that a terrible disaster had occurred, and the flagship of the great Togo, who led his men in victory in the life and death struggle in which the nation had been engaged, was on fire. It is impossible to describe the disappointment and sorrow attending this great catastrophe. The absence of Admiral Togo, from the ship and the hope that the vessel can be raised, are the only good features of the unprecedented accident. A flood of sympathy toward the sufferers at the cessation of hostilities prevails everywhere.

Tumors Conquered Without Operations

Unqualified Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in Cases of Mrs. Fox and Miss Adams.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy, Tumor.

So-called "wandering pains" may come from its early stages, or the presence of danger may be made manifest by excessive menstruation accompanied by unusual pain extending from the ovaries down the groin and thighs.

If you have mysterious pains, if there are indications of inflammation ulceration or displacement, don't wait for time to confirm your fears and go through the horrors of a hospital operation; secure Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound right away and begin its use and write Mrs. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass., for advice.

Read these strong letters from grateful women who have been cured:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— (First Letter.) "In looking over your book I see that your medicine cures Tumors of the Uterus. I have been to a doctor and he tells me I have a tumor. I will be more than grateful if you can help me, as I do not desire an operation."

—Fannie D. Fox, 7 Chestnut St., Bradford, Pa.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— (Second Letter.) "I take the liberty to congratulate you on the success I have had with your wonderful medicine."

"Eighteen months ago my monthly periods stopped. Shortly after I felt so badly I submitted to a thorough examination by a physician, and was told that I had a tumor on the uterus and would have to undergo an operation."

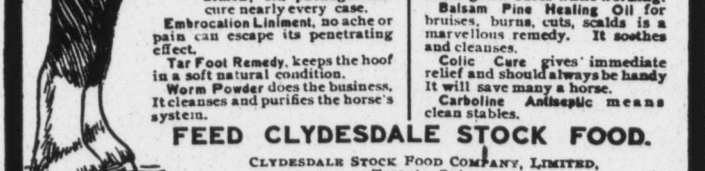

"I soon after read one of your advertisements and decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. After taking five bottles as directed, the tumor is entirely gone. I have again been examined."

—Miss Luella Adams, Colonnade Hotel, Seattle, Wash.

Such unquestionable testimony proves the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and should give confidence and hope to every sick woman.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all ailing women to write to her at Lynn, Mass., for advice.

TOURISTS TRADE.

Mr. A. E. Barton, Advertising Agent for the I. C. R., who was one of the speakers at a luncheon, at the Ottawa Fair on Tuesday, pointed out that through the advertising expenditure of the I. C. R., the tourist trade from the United States to the Maritime provinces had doubled during the present year. Commenting upon this statement the Ottawa Free Press says: "This is a healthy sign. Tourists are usually rich men. At present the Maritime provinces are more likely to attract capital than immigrants. In coal, in minerals, in lumber, and in oil they have immense resources, and the rich men who come for pleasure may return for gain. Population will flow in with capital."

COMING TO CANADA.

There is an immense immigration of Iowa people in Canada this fall, and every north-bound train is filled with farmers, land seekers and agents. Most of the tourists are farmers attracted by the cheap lands and splendid crops which have been raised in Canada during the last fifteen years. From Washington County have gone fully 250 people, and some of these have started an Iowa colony. To day there is scarcely a town of any importance in this State that is not represented in Canada.

The Iowa farmer, used to raising corn of course, in the Northwest expects to raise small grain. His neighbors and friends who have preceded him to the North have nearly paid for their land by two crops of wheat. Iowa horses have been shipped by the carloads to the Canadian country and good profit has been realized by the shippers.

Colonists claim that while the climate is colder than Iowa, the atmosphere is dry and not damp, and that the cold is not felt more keenly than in this section in the winter season. Many of the tourists have settled and bought lands west of Winnipeg, in Manitoba; others settle in the Assiniboia provinces and still others have started ranches in Alberta and British Columbia.—Ex.

NO MORE BOUNTIES FOR CADADIAN RAILS

Although in the matter of the height of import duties protection in the United States leads the world, the policy of using the powers of government for the profit of home capitalists is carried out in Canada with a broad comprehensiveness for which it would be hard to find a match anywhere. Not only import duties but export duties on raw materials, bounties on finished products, and in many cases exemption from taxation are included in the Canadian scheme of encouragement to domestic manufacturers. The Dominion Government has now decided that the steel-rail makers at Sydney and Sault Ste. Marie ought to be able to worry along on a tariff protection of $7 per ton, a bounty of from $1.10 to $1.65 per ton on their pig iron, and another of the same amount on their steel ingots, without an additional bounty of $3 per ton on their finished rails. The Order in Council abolishing the supplementary bounty has created consternation among the rail-makers, who fear that it may seriously effect their business.

It is estimated that the iron and steel bounties have cost the Canadian taxpayers in all about $5,000,000, a great part of which has gone into the pockets of American capitalists, who would not have been able to obtain such easy access even to the hospitable treasury of the United States. If the Canadian bounty system had prevailed south of the border, the American Government would have had to pay the Steel Trust and its business colleagues over $80,000,000 a year with an incalculable number of millions more in prospect.—Colliers Weekly.

A GREAT ATTRACTION MAY BE HEARD IN NEWCASTLE.

F. G. Spencer the well known concert promoter of St. John who has during the past few years handled some of the best attractions before the public, including Madame Nordica, was in town last week, looking into the possibilities of giving the residents of Newcastle an opportunity of hearing one of the greatest vocalists of the continent today, no less a personage than James Fax whose name from Montreal to the Pacific coast is almost a household word. Mr. Fax is known as a humorist vocalist but in reality is one of the best character impersonators before the public today anywhere. He has appeared in Massey Hall Toronto no less than 200 times and in place such as Hamilton, Ont. has had no less than fifty engagements during his career of a few years. Mr. Spencer feared Newcastle was rather small for his attraction, but was greatly pleased with our Opera House. Announcement will be made in these columns next week as to whether or not Mr. Fax will appear. Should satisfactory arrangements be made, Oct. 24th. will probably be the day. It will be a matter of satisfaction to many if Mr. Spencer decides to include Newcastle regularly in his itinerary in the matter of good entertainments as there is certainly a dearth of them here. It may be mentioned that Mr. Fax will be supported by a company.

Czar Wants Second Peace Conference

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 18.—It is authoritatively stated that the Russian government proposes to address the foreign powers with a view to the holding of a second peace conference at the Hague. It is known that President Roosevelt is anxious that such a conference should be called but he is of the opinion that the first step in this direction should be taken by the emperor of Russia on whose initiative the first conference was held.

HARVEST EXCURSION.

The Canadian Pacific Railway has arranged to run another harvest excursion to Manitoba and the Canadian Northwest from the maritime provinces. Tickets will be issued on September 22nd, from stations on the Intercolonial Railway east of New Glasgow, and on September 23rd, from other Intercolonial Railway stations in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick (except from Canada Eastern section and points north of Moncton)—also from Dominion Atlantic Railway stations and Canadian Pacific Railway Atlantic division stations in New Brunswick.

These dates have been chosen so that excursionists can, if so desired, avail themselves of the accommodation afforded by the Tourist Sleeping Cars which leave Montreal on the Pacific Express at 9:40 every Sunday morning. Tickets will be issued for second class round trip passage, and will be good for return within two months, and can be extended in the west not to exceed an additional two months on payment of five dollars for each month's extension desired.

The rates are exceedingly low, viz: St. John to Winnipeg and return, $30.00; Regina and return $33.25; Calgary and return $38.50; Strathcona and return $40.50, with equal rates to other points.

The tickets give prospective settlers a splendid opportunity to see the great Northwest at its best and to spy out good locations and the farmer of the east can see how farming is carried on by his western brother.

Rates from points on the Intercolonial and P. E. Island Railways are made by adding two second class fares quoted from St. John. From points on the Dominion Atlantic Railway by adding regular round trip rates to St. John to the rates quoted from St. John. Through tickets will be issued.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

Sometimes the hair is not properly nourished. It suffers for food, starves. Then it falls out, turns prematurely gray. Ayer's Hair Vigor is a hair food. It feeds, nourishes. The hair stops falling, grows long and heavy, and all dandruff disappears.

My hair was coming out terribly. I was almost afraid to comb it. But Ayer's Hair Vigor promptly stopped the falling, and also restored the natural color.

DIPLOMAS IN THREE MONTHS.

Why is it that some schools award Diplomas in Shortland and Typewriting in THREE months, while other schools require six, seven, and eight months, depending upon the ability and application of the student?

ANSWER.—The difference is simply one of STANDARD. The Standard adopted by

THE FREDERICTON BUSINESS COLLEGE, is that of the Business Educators' Association of Canada, (B. E. A. of C.), in affiliation with which it is the only school in New Brunswick.

Schools which graduate students in THREE months, adopt MUCH LOWER STANDARD; in other words they simply sell a student a Diploma for a certain amount of money.

Such schools sometimes guarantee diplomas at the end of THREE months or give free tuition. As they examine their own students, it is of course easy to do what they guarantee to do, so there is little prospect of free tuition.

A catalogue of Fredericton Business College will be sent free to any address on application.

RONAWAY SAILOR NEARLY PERISHED

Started to Tramp to Other Parts and Got Lost

TIMELY RESCUE

G. T. P. Surveyors Found Foreigner in Exhausted Condition.

A man who was evidently in the last stages of exhaustion, was found on Sunday Sept. 10th in the woods near Chipman N. B. A party of surveyors, in charge of Mr. Balcom, who are working on a survey of the Canada Eastern Railway, in the vicinity of Chipman, discovered the man and brought him to Minto where he is at present.

One of the party had occasion to discharge a gun, and this, it is believed, attracted the attention of the unfortunate man, who cried out for help. When discovered he had scarcely any clothes on, and was almost starved. He does not speak a word of English, and therefore it could not be learned where he came from or how he got in that condition. He is believed to be a Spaniard, and it is thought that he is a sailor who ran away from his ship at Miramichi and in trying to find his way to some other place he lost his way and had it not been for the chance of his being found on Sunday last would have perished in the woods. It is not known what will be done with him.

paths, until we came to a broad, light green belt which marked the boundary between us and the Germanes. Certainly if the lad had come homeward he must have passed this, and he could not pass it without leaving his traces. But no sign of him or the German could be seen. With a darkening face my friend strode along the margin, eagerly observant of every muddy stain upon the mossy surface. Sheep must have been in profusion, and at one place, some miles down, he had left their tracks. Nothing more.

"Check number one," said Holmes, looking gloomily over the rolling expanse of the moor. "There is another morass down yonder, and a narrow neck between. Hello! Hello! Hello! What have we here?"

"We have come to a small black ribbon of pathway. In the middle of it, clearly marked on the sodden soil, was the track of a bicycle.

"Hurrah!" I cried. "We have it."

But Holmes was shaking his head, and his face was puzzled and expectant rather than joyous.

"A bicycle, certainly, but not the bicycle," said he. "I am familiar with ties. This, as you perceive, is a Dunlop, with a patch upon the outer cover. The tire is a good one, the tread being the best I have seen. The rollers have longitudinal stripes. Aveling, the mathematical master, was sure upon the point. Therefore it is not Hedges' or track."

"The boy's, then?"

"Possibly, if we could prove a bicycle to have been in his possession. But this we have utterly failed to do. This track, as you perceive, was made by a boy who was going from the direction of the school."

"Or toward it?"

"No, no, my dear Watson. The more deeply sunk impression is, of course, the hind wheel, upon which the weight rests. You perceive several places where it has passed across and obliterated the more shallow mark of the fore wheel. It was undoubtedly heading away from the school. It may or may not be connected with our inquiry, but we will follow it backwardward before we go any farther."

We did so, and the track of a few hundred yards lost the tracks as we emerged from the busy portico of the hotel. Following the path beneath the eaves, I saw a man in a white shirt and dark trousers, who was walking briskly across it. Here, once, I thought nearly obliterated by the passage of time. After that there was no sign. The path ran right on to Ragged Island, where the man was walking. From this road the cycle tracks have emerged. Hines said downhills. Hines said downhills. I had smoked two cigarettes before he moved. "Well, well, well, at last. It is a good thing. I was waiting for a man who was capable of such a man whom I should be thought to be a man with. We will be able to leave this question undecided and have a good day's work." "Well, well, well, at last. It is a good thing. I was waiting for a man who was capable of such a man whom I should be thought to be a man with. We will be able to leave this question undecided and have a good day's work."

We continued our systematic survey of the edge of the sodden portion of the moor, and soon our perseverance was gloriously rewarded. Right across the lower part of the bog lay a miry path. Holmes gave a cry of delight as he approached it. An impression like a fine bundle of telegraph wires ran down the center of it. It was the Palmer tire.

"Here is Herr Heidegger, sure enough!" cried Holmes exultantly. "My reasoning seems to have been pretty good, Watson."

"I congratulate you."

"But we have a long way still to go. Kindly walk care of the path. Now let us follow the trail. I fear that it will not lead very far."

We found, however, as we advanced that this portion of the moor is intersected with soft patches and, though we frequently lost sight of the track, fantastically upon the wet and shining path. Suddenly, as I looked ahead, the gleaming metal caught my eye, and there it lay, the thick gorse bushes. Out of them we dragged a bicycle, Palmer tired, one pedal bent and the whole front of it horribly smeared and slobbered with blood. On the other side of the bushes a shoe was projecting. We ran round and there lay the unfortunate, his head and neck all full bearded, with spectacles, one glass of which had been knocked out. The cause of his death was a frightful blow upon the head, which had crushed in part of his skull. That he could have gone on after receiving such an injury said much for the quality of the gorse. The man wore a blouse, but no socks, and his open coat disclosed a nightshirt beneath it. It was undoubtedly the German master.

"He could not have fractured his skull in a fall?"

"In a morass, Watson?"

"I am at my wits' end."

"Tut, tut! We have solved some worse problems. At least we have plenty of material, if we can only use it. Come, then, and, having exhausted the Palmer, let us see what the Dunlop with the patched cover has to offer us."

"We picked up the track and followed it onward for some distance, but soon the moor rose into a long, heather tufted ridge, and we left the water course behind us. No further help from tracks could be hoped for. At the spot where we saw the last of the Dunlop tire it might equally have led to Hoddemesses Hall, the stately towers of which rose some miles to our left, or to a low gray village which lay in front of us and marked the position of the Chesterfield highroad.

As we approached the forbidding and quailed him with the sign of a gamecock above the door Holmes gave a sudden groan and clutched me by the shoulder to save himself from falling. He had had one of those violent strains of the ankle which leave a man helpless. With difficulty he flung up to the door where a squat, dark eldritch man was smoking a black clay pipe.

"How are you, Mr. Reuben Hayes?" said Holmes.

"Who are you, and how do you get my name so pat?" the countryman answered, with a suspicious flash of a pair of cunning eyes.

"Well, it's printed on the board above your head. It's easy to see a man who is making his bolts own house. I suppose you haven't such a thing as a carriage in your stables?"

"No, I have not."

"I can hardly put my foot to the ground."

"Don't put it to the ground."

"But I can't walk."

"Well, then, hop."

Mr. Reuben Hayes's manner was far from gracious, but Holmes took it with a really good nature.

"Look here, my man," said he, "this is really rather an awkward fix for me. I don't mind how I get on."

"Neither do I," said the morose landlord.

"The matter is very important. I would offer you a sovereign for the use of a bicycle."

The landlord pricked up his ears.

"Where do you want to go?"

"To the station."

"Dads of the dook, I suppose?" said the landlord, surveying our mud-stained garments with ironical eyes.

Holmes laughed good naturedly.

"He'll be glad to see us anyhow."

"Why?"

"Because we bring him news of his lost son."

The landlord gave a very visible start.

"What, you're on his track?"

"He has been heard of in Liverpool. They expect to get him every hour."

Again a swift change passed over the heavy, unshaven face. His manner was suddenly genial.

"I've less reason to wish the dook well than most men," said he, "for he was his head coachman once, and crue bad he treated me. It was him that sacked me without a character on the word of a lying corn chandler. But I'm glad to hear that the young lord was heard of in Liverpool, and I'll help you take the news to the hall."

it is Biliousness or Constipation. Torpid Liver is at the bottom of the trouble. And it takes Fruit-a-tives to make that lazy liver work.

Fresh fruit is fine for these troubles, but one can't eat enough fruit to do much good. The medicinal elements are in too small proportion in the ripe fruits.

A clever Ottawa physician discovered a method by which fruit juices could be combined so that their medicinal action would be increased many times.

Fruit-a-tives are these fruit juices in tablet form. They sweeten and tone the stomach and liver, cure Constipation and remove all blood impurities. One Fruit-a-tives tablet has the same curative effect on liver and bowels as dozens of oranges, apples, figs and prunes. And this action is as gentle as the fruit juices themselves.

Two Years In Prison for Kissing

Baltimore, Sept. 13.—John Federman, a negro waiter in a suburban hotel, was sentenced to two years in jail by a police magistrate yesterday for forcibly kissing Mary White an Irish nurse maid.

The maid is employed by a guest at the hotel and was giving the children supper when the negro came up behind, threw his arms about her and kissed her on the cheek. Miss White became hysterical. Another negro waiter had warned that Federman would not kiss the young woman. The affair causes great indignation among the hotel guests.

Jack London, the author, on his last visit to New York, was introduced in a cafe to a musician.

"I, too, am a musician in a small way," London said. "My musical talent was once the means of saving my life."

How was that? the musician asked.
There was a great flood in our town in our boyhood, replied London. "When the water struck our house my father got on a bed and floated with the stream until he was rescued."

"And you said the musician?"
"Well, said London, I accompanied him on the piano."

WHEN RUN-DOWN, "DRAGGY," USED UP. You Lack the Vigor, Courage and Staying Power That "Ferrozone" Can Supply.

But by forming rich, pure blood, Ferrozone will quickly supply the autonomic and building material your system craves and build up your system craves. Instantly you are aware that some powerful force is building up your depleted energies. At once you feel braced, toned, strengthened. Search the world over and you won't find anything to tone up a weak system like Ferrozone. This is the most strength giving, uplifting medicine ever discovered. No more spells of tiredness, but bounding, joyful health when you take Ferrozone, of which Mrs. H. S. Gold, of Bowman, Man., speaks in the following words of praise:

"I state my case because I think it may assist other women to health. A year ago I was almost a wreck. I was pale and emaciated, suffering from nervousness and hysteria. Little things going wrong in the house bothered me. The doctor advised different treatments but they didn't help. He said my low condition was due to weakness that might never be cured. Ferrozone had a peculiar grateful effect and built me up quickly. This ill I suffered from are cured. I am now strong and vigorous and was made so by Ferrozone."

Why not cast aside the chains of sickness and enter the bright, happy life of robust health. Let Ferrozone help you—let it cure you once and forever. Price 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50, at all druggists, or N. C. Tolson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

That man Higgins is always getting into trouble.
What else could you expect. He is always looking for it.

Abscess Became Running Sore

The doctor failed again and again, but Dr. Chase's Ointment made a complete cure. The antiseptic and healing properties of Dr. Chase's Ointment are well illustrated in the following case, in which a running sore was completely and permanently cured.
Mrs. S. J. Saunders, Prospect, Lanark Co., Ont., writes: "In July, 1903, my little girl took what the doctor called abscess on her cheek. The doctor failed it, but could not do it any good. By September it had become a running sore, and, though we had the doctor again he could do nothing. In December we began using Dr. Chase's Ointment, which has made a complete cure. There has not been the least return of the trouble, so we believe that the cure is permanent."

Dr. Chase's Ointment has become standard the world over, because it succeeds in effecting cures when all other treatments fail.

EDITOR UNION ADVOCATE,
NEWCASTLE, N. B.

For the benefit of your Wise, correspondent, I will draw a few pen pictures of N. B., as it was in 1870 and as it is now and ask him if he honestly believes the changes were in the line of modern progression. Had those noble sons of N. B., the late Hon. P. Mitchell, Hon. J. M. Johnson, Judge Willis and others, who fought and won the battle for responsible government, for the "people had been making your local laws for the past 30 years, they would still have intact their inherited rights and liberties as of old; but an inferior lot of two for a nickle politicians have been in power and behold the result. In 1870 the Provincial timber lands were sold at public auction every year, and any person who wanted a timber limit could get it, by paying what it was worth. Monopoly was prevented by the fact that an attempt to put up the price of the limits on small operators would cause these men to retaliate by bidding up the price on the attempted monopolists. This prevented monopoly but at the same time there was enough competition to enable the province to get good value for the timber limits.

Now 1905 the lumber lands have been held for 15 years with 10 years yet to run on a 25 years lease at a nominal mileage of $8.00 per mile about 1 1/2 cents per acre, thus shutting out the small operator and giving the lessees a greater interest in the land than that retained by the province; as was proven by the sale of the Wm. Richards lease, at about $4.00 per acre, the purchasers to pay stumpage, and all other government charges. The lumber trust not satisfied with the monopoly it now has is demanding that the leases which will expire 10 years hence be renewed without being put up for sale by auction, alleging that if they are so put up, speculators will bid the price up on the present holders. This assertion made by the lumbermen's Association; in itself proves that they are not, and do not want to pay what the limits are worth as no speculator would pay more for a lease than its actual value to him.

In 1870 settlers were encouraged a man could go anywhere on the public domain and make a home for himself and family. Now he cannot do so. I know of a number of cases of intending settlers having their applications for land refused and the fees returned to them. Not content with matters as they stand the Lumbermen's Association is demanding still further restrictions on settlers as shown by the report of the proceedings of its last annual meeting. They are afraid that a poor settler might cut a log that an independent mill might get, or if they, the association members, got it they would have to pay full value therefor.

In 1870 when a settler took up a farm on a river, he acquired the riparian rights belonging to said land. He also could take his hooks and line and go anywhere on any stream running through government land, during the open season and fish, none daring to make him afraid. Now if he is permitted to take up land on a river; four rods in width along the stream are reserved and the settler dare not fish even in front of his own land without a permit from the lessee under penalty of fine or imprisonment.

In 1870 if a man had business in the woods he could carry his gun along to protect him from bears and other wild animals. Now he dare not do so. During the close season she bears are frequently met and they are very dangerous when they have cubs. If there is another country under the sun (unless it might be Russia) that prohibits a man from carrying a gun when exposed to danger from wild animals I would like to hear of it. In 1870 if a man wanted meat, during the open season for game he could go out and kill a moose or caribou; if he was fortunate enough to find one. Now he has to pay $2.00 for a permit before he is allowed to take a gun in the woods. There has also been other curtailments of rights and liberties and I would ask your correspondent and also all the readers of the Advocate if the laws in existence in 1870 were not much better than those now in force.

In this age of enlargement, in all countries the rights and liberties of the people are constantly being enlarged by wise and progressive legislation. The principles of 'equal rights to all and special privileges to none.' That 'under God the people rule' and that 'laws passed without the consent of the majority of the governed is tyranny,' have been entirely ignored by the class of law makers who have presided over the destinies of N. B., for the last thirty years. I was pleased that you published that article entitled 'Big Thieves' just change the word 'American' and one paragraph is worthy of reproduction the facts set forth therein cannot be too forcibly impressed upon the people. Here it is, 'about the meanest thief on record is he who, trusted by the people to protect their rights, will steal the people's land. The public domain is the inheritance of every son of N. B., especially of the landless New Brunswickers. The great wooded lands of the province are for the hardy settlers to go into and carve out farms, start villages; and rear communities, when these sacred holdings of the province are grabbed by thieves in high places the whole country is robbed.'

Your correspondent asks if I got into an honest country now, and talks of political graft and bribery. I acknowledge that there is much political dishonesty in this country but the grafters here; no matter how high their official position, are punished. As witness the sentence of fine and imprisonment imposed on U. S. Senators Mitchell and Burton for accepting retaining fees (as they called them) being lawyers) in cases that came before the legislative body of which they were members. The people were impolite enough to call them bribes and the juries and judges took the same view, hence the sentences.

Now in reading the proceedings of the N. B. legislative last winter I saw the same thing charged against the Premier by one of the members. I think it was the leader of the opposition who said 'the Premier is threatening and trying to influence legislation, as the paid attorney of the Co. (The Restigouche Boom Co) and his opinion should have no more weight with this house than that of any other paid attorney. As I did not see that the Premier denied this assertion it looks very much as though there is graft in other places besides the U. S.

Yours respectfully,
JOHN L. SCOFIELD,
Metzger, Arizona.

"The railway department has received information that some of the conductors are violating rules of the railway in regard to passengers and are not performing their duty strictly as they should.

"The desire is to treat all the employees fairly and with kindness and this letter is written in that spirit, but the rules made in the interest of the railway must be observed. I wish, therefore, by this letter to give you notice that any irregularity or violation of the rules or failure of duty will be severely punished."

The beautiful hymn the Voice that breathed o'er Eden was rendered as the bride entered the church leaning on the arm of her father. She was handsomely attired in her travelling costume of brown broad cloth with hat to match and carried a beautiful bouquet of white Chrysanthemums. She was unattended. The groom's present to the bride was a handsome set of sable furs. The happy couple left by the Ocean Limited for an extended trip through N. B. and the eastern states followed by the best wishes of their numerous friends.

The recent increase in freight rates amounts to about ten per cent. The increase has not yet taken effect on all kinds of freight, but it is expected to soon. The rate on coal, an important article of freight with manufacturers, especially, has not yet been advanced. At many stations along the line the increase on local freight amounts to more than sufficient to pay the entire cost of officials, etc., at the point of shipment. The increase is already causing much dissatisfaction in different localities, but when it is put into effect with respect to certain other commodities, there is likely to be a much louder protest.—Times.

The "North Sydney Herald"
