YOUNG WOMEN

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES ORGAN- ED.

Miss Harrison and Miss Smillie
Working Under Government
Direction Visit the County.

Under the direction of Department of Agriculture Miss Daisy
E. Harrison of Gondola Point, N.
B., and Miss E. E. Smillie of Toronto have been holding a series of meetings throughout the province, for the purpose of organizing Women's Institutes. A nalogous to the Farmers' Institutes. The meeting at Hartland last week was slimly attended,
the ladies engaging in the work finding a lack of enthusiasm that was profound.

At Florenceville and at Centreville the women showed much interest and flourishing Institutes were organized. After the organizers ended their discourses on Home Nursing and Domestic economy the work of establishing Institutes was successfully accomplished at both the upriver villages.

At Centreville there were seventeen members from among which officers were chosen as follows: Mrs. Ed. West, president; Mrs. Andrew Beckwith, vice-president; Miss Faye Burr, sec.
treas.; Mrs. H. W. Peppers, Mrs.
Charles Long, Mrs. Anson Margi-
s on, directors; Mrs. John White, Miss Mildred McLean, auditors.
Meetings will be held on the second Tuesday in each month at 7-30 p.m. Many others are expected to join at the September meeting when Mrs. Peppers will give a paper on Invalid Cookery.

The Florenceville Institute
starts with 23 members and officers as follows: Mrs. D. W. Ross, president; Mrs. S. B. Charles, ton, vice; Mrs. B. F. Smith, sec. c.
treas.; Messrs. C. H. Kilpatrick, W. E. Kilpatrick, L. Simonson, directors; Misses Hazel
McCain and Mary Fitzpatrick, auditors. Their night of meeting will also be the second Tuesday of each month and at the next meeting Mrs. Turner will give a paper on Pickling and Mrs. Banks will read a paper on Jelly Making. The September meeting will be held at the home of the president.

IS IT NATURAL GAS?

Or is the Well Just Gassing About
It?

Last week a wave of excitement went abroad when it was heard that well-diggers, boring
for water on the farm of Cecil Orser, on the North Rockland road, had struck a vein, bed, lake, cavern or whatever it is that natural gas is contained in.

When the hole in the ground
had been drilled a considerable distance through the ledge it is said a current of air issued forth, and that a hissing sound, like escaping steam, could be heard some distance. Attempts to confine the "gas" availed nothing, as have, so far, attempts to ignite it.

Thus the phenomenon rests,
What causes the sound is not known. But those who have made a careful examination are united in the belief that no gas flows from that particular hole in the ground.

Many people, however, enjoyed a brief day of exaltation in the belief that something rich and beneficial to the country had been discovered. There was a fleeting vision of cheap fuel, light and power, the three great essentials to the upbuilding of a town. Like much else we hear, it has developed no more than wind.

SIROIS SENT UP FOR TRIAL.

Court Room Crowded With Grangers.

James F. Sirois, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses by claiming to be "Dr.
Cleveland," asserting that he was appointed by the government to test school children's eyes, representing himself a competent optician, and thus selling cheap glasses for big money, was examined before John Barnett, J.P., on Friday afternoon and was remanded to jail to await trial at the County Court which meets in September.

Mrs. Edward Merrithew of God's Corner, her husband,
Cook Bishop, David Shaw, Abner
DeGrass, Aaron Shaw, Henry
Ginson, H. M. Martell and Frank J. Shaw all gave evidence that showed pretty plainly that the man had represented himself for the purpose of aiding his sales.

M. L. Howard, conducted the prosecution, while T. C. L.
Ketchum defended.

The proceedings took place in Burt's hall which was crowded with scores of farmers who had become "members" of the "Grange" which Sirois claimed
he was organizing.

Normal School Entrance Exams.

Of 81 students writing Normal school entrance exams, at Woodstock in July, 8 passed for first, 26 for second, and 21 for third class. Of those who failed to pass for any class there were 26.

At the examinations at Floren-ceville 33 wrote papers: 3 passed for first, 11 for second, 11 for the third class, and 13 failed to pass.

The first class students making an average of 65 and over were Fernie C. Culbertson and Vera L. Stokes of Waterville and Helen C. Plummer of Hartland, all of Hartland school.
They also wrote papers in French. Ray Kilpatrick of Kirkland made 65 but wrote no French paper.

Frederick, the second class who Those who were Kathleen made 65 or better were Helen Kitchen of Jacktown,
Crawford of Royalton.

It is encouraging to note that Hartland school produced three leaders over all schools in the country.

The Markets.

The potato season opened last week and at least two cars were shipped that were bought at $1.50 per barrel. As digging advances the price steadily declines,
$1.25 being quoted on Tuesday.
Cobblers are moving now and it is hoped that the later varieties will bring a better price. It is a surprise that the crop is turning out so well when the wet weather is considered. Only in rare instances is rot evident and the yield is quite up to the average.

The wheat crop is practically a failure. The wet weather has caused rust and has prevented
the proper housing of the crop.
Oats are filling well and those who have threshed have got a satisfactory yield, but there will be large quantities spoiled by the weather. Haying is practically completed. The crop was large but not more than a third of it will grade first class.

Butter is bringing 20 cents for prints and eggs are in demand at 22 cents, with the hens on strike.

Sports of all kinds, steam-merry-go-round, and the concert in the evening should attract a big crowd to Stickney this—Thursday—afternoon.

Terms of Subscription: The OBSERVER is $1.00 per year, payable in advance. The paper will be sent to subscribers until it is ordered stopped, but each subscriber will be notified when the time to which he has paid is ended.

VOL. 4 AUG. 29 No. 11

Very Special Announcement.

During the past two months The Observer has been issuing for the most of the time but four pages instead of eight, as it previously had been doing. This was an attempt at keeping the cost of producing the paper within the revenue derived from it: for it must be remembered that The Observer had been giving more columns of reading matter each issue than any of the other country papers; and it had been doing so for just one-half the price of any one of them.

In view of the fact that it costs no less to produce this paper than it does its contemporaries, the wonder is that existence has been maintained at the price of 50 cents per year.

Some months ago, the manager decided to experiment with the size of the paper rather than to increase its subscription. The trial has not worked out satisfactorily, therefore the inevitable can be put off no longer. The subscription price MUST be raised.

Beginning with the first issue in October, possibly sooner, The Observer will again resume its 8-page form and the cash-in-advance price will be 75 cents per year instead of 50 cents as heretofore. While it will not be on an equal footing, The Observer will in the keen competition with the other papers have a less handicap than it has always been produced under.

If the publishers appear too grasping, subscribers are asked why should a Hartland paper be any cheaper than a Woodstock paper that is no larger, and often contains less of interest to the people? The Observer has never been on a paying basis; the end of each of its three years has shown a large deficit. Probably not one reader has an adequate idea of the constancy of care, the hundred little details, and the amount of money required to sustain the weekly appearance of the paper. While all the employees of the office receive a higher wage than other local papers pay for equal service, the editor and manager very often has to gaze on an empty till for his week's pay. There is a certain fascination to the newspaper business so that it is considered that one who has been in it for years becomes unfit for any other calling. But the manager of this sheet is not so thoroughly hypnotized by the glamour of being "an editor" that he is going to starve to death. And it is not likely that he will be permitted to do so. While subscribers might not stand for a raise of price to $1.00 all at once, it is pretty certain that most of them will remain on the list and pay the 75 cents as cheerfully as they did the 50 cents.

At the time of the last local election a number of subscribers did not like the attitude of The Observer and ordered the paper sent to them no longer. To do that is an action clearly within the right of every reader. But that was not the worst. A number sought to injure the business of this paper in a manner most reprehensible. At least one subscriber was given a free subscription to a Conservative paper as an inducement for him to withdraw his patronage from the Observer. Such a boycott was also ridiculous. The result was that less than 30 people have withdrawn their patronage, and this paper continues to enjoy larger circulation in Carleton county than any other paper in the world! The boycott was ridiculous, as much so as though the Conservatives should combine and refuse to buy drugs of Estey & Curtis because their manager is a Liberal, or if the Liberals joined together against H. R. Nixon and refused to buy shoes from a Conservative.

The Hartland Advertiser sold for $1.00 per year. Since its day rent has doubled, compositor's wages have doubled, taxes have increased and the cost of printing materials is constantly increasing. Yet the manager of this paper has been trying, in the face of it all, to make both ends meet for one-half the money he used to get for a smaller paper.

Without the year all the weekly papers of Aroostook County, seven of them, have raised their subscription price from $1.00 to 1.50.

Next years dollars are made out of this years dimes. A dime invested in an Endowment Policy NOW with The Manufacturers Life, means future dollars for you or your family. Get rates from T. A. Lindsay, Woodstock, N. B.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

The long evenings are at hand and we desire to make The Observer more readable than ever. No feature of any country newspaper is more appreciated than the district correspondence. The excellence of that service marks the live weekly. We want a correspondent in every village and district. Besides furnishing each correspondent with a subscription we provide stationery and postage. In addition to this we

WILL PAY $500. A WEEK to the one correspondent each week who sends us what we consider the most valuable news. Every correspondent who faithfully sends the news from his locality is sure of getting this weekly prize occasionally.

CHRISTIANITY.

The Montreal Witness, monumental in its Christian steadfastness, is doubtful if Christianity as practised by the world today is very close to the Great Eternal Plan. Almost despairing that venerable journal says:

Christianity is itself on its trial. It must always be so. Every day is for it a judgment day. The wide world is sitting in judgment on it, and judging it by its fruits. It has a good right to do so—indeed frankly invited to do so. By their fruits ye shall know them. A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit. When we hear of massacres of Armenians by Kurds with government encouragement we say, such is the fruit of Islamism. When Pogroms take place in Russia with imperial approval the persecuted Jews have a good right to say, such is the fruit of Christianity. When men in Mexico show themselves to be devils, we ask at once what sort of religion prevails there. The whole world is to-day alert, and noting whether Protestant Christianity has any effect at all on the honor of a people or whether it has made a nation less mindful of its plighted word than would be many an Indian chief or sheik of the desert. It is time we had a more stalwart religion than one that sings hymns and breaks faith. It will be said that these Pogroms and these lies of politicians to gain elections, and this sardonic contempt for good faith, are not Christianity, and that true Christianity is not to be credited with them. This, however, is not the view of Christianity itself, which is a social heaven that should in due time influence the whole lump. When it failed to do so, it should take alarm and ask itself whether it is the genuine thing or not, or whether there is not some lack by which it is shorn of power.

Charlie Joseph, the Syrian who has conducted a store here during the past few years, has decided to close out his business and seek his fortune elsewhere. He had decided upon this course last spring but was then unable to dispose of his goods. At the present time he is bound to close out at any cost. In June he bought at about half the usual wholesale price the stock of C. A. Fanjoy and is now offering these goods at unheard of prices—much less than what the goods cost at wholesale.

Sermon to Orangemen.

Following is a resume of the sermon preached to the Orangemen on Sunday after noon by Rev. S. Walter Schurman:

The speaker used for his scripture reading portions of scripture contained in the 11th and 12th chapters of the I.O.O.F. and took for his text Micah 6:8 and 1 Peter 2:17.

The subject matter had to do with a setting for the principles and purposes of the Orange Association, refuting many of the unfounded criticisms against it. He claimed that the most unkind thing that could be said against this organization is to claim for it opposition to Catholics or the Catholic church. The constitution very clearly states that the order pleads itself to the defence of religious liberties of every sect and denomination. He placed the order side by side with the Y.M.C.A. and like organizations but merely not claim to be churches, but auxiliaries and further claimed that no one could be a member of the order in fullest relations without being himself a Christian. The purpose of the order is to guard against any encroachments on Protestant principles, liberties and lawful rights.

He then dealt with the past history of Protestant difficulties arising from Catholic sources, naming the Gun Powder Plot of 1605 and Battle of the Boyne, 1690, which he claimed exhibited the spirit of Catholicism of the 12th century. Then the speaker went on to show by modern history that that spirit had not changed. The activities of the Catholic body in relation to the state, the family and the public school were fully discussed and the inference drawn, that the said Catholic body is clearly against the interest of these institutions from a Protestant view point. He cited the fact of the Pope's offer to the United States to help them reach their ideal; the marriage question as we understand it to day; and the manipulation of our public schools to their advantage.

The speaker then referring to Micah 6:8 addressed his closing words directly to the order and earnestly set before them the necessity of humbling themselves, to walk with God and to prove the sincerity of their profession, closing with the words of their immortal leader, Prince of Orange, as he went into the hottest of the battle "I have heard great things of you. Let me see great things by you".

THE REAPER VISITS ROCKLAND.

S. N. Estabrooks and E. P. Dickinson Pass Away.

On Monday evening Samuel N. Estabrooks, an old resident of Rockland, died after a long illness entailing much suffering. He was one of the best known men of the locality and a host of friends scattered far and wide will hear of his demise with sincere regret. Mr. Estabrooks was born near where he spent his life and was about 76 years of age. His wife, who was a sister of Carleton Turner of Connell, died about a year and a half ago, and he is survived by one son, Chesley, and two daughters, Mrs. Willard Craig of Aroostook county and Mrs. Jonathan Bridges, a widow.

The funeral was held from the home yesterday afternoon and a large concourse of people gathered to pay him last respects.

Mr. Estabrooks was for many years engaged in the buying of lambs and while in this work became known in every part of this and adjacent counties. He gave every man a square deal and died honored by all who knew him. A staunch and active member of the Baptist church he was ever on the side of right. He was a Liberal in politics.

On Tuesday at 11 a.m. E. Perry Dickinson also of Rockland passed away after a long and distressing illness of sarcoma. He leaves a wife and five children: Wallace and William, a daughter married in the west, Mrs. Fred Nevers and Mrs. Earl Belva. He was about 70 years of age. The funeral was held at Rockland yesterday forenoon.

Every Line Is Interesting.

The Weekly Globe and Canada Farmer has evidently found the secret of perpetual youth. After sixty-eight years of untiring faithful service devoted to the upbuilding and shaping the fortunes and destiny of the Dominion, it still continues to set the pace in the field of weekly newspaperdom in Canada.

It has always aimed at the highest standards, and proven itself to be a most reliable national and home newspaper. The agricultural interests and general welfare of the nation have been and are still in the broadest sense of the term, its chief concern.

In order to maintain this premier position and keep abreast of the phenomenal development and growth of Canada, The Weekly Globe and Canada Farmer has increased its facilities and perfected its mechanical equipment. Apparently nothing has been left undone to make every detail from the gathering of the news, to the delivery of the paper to the reader complete. The Outlook (New York) was pleased to say in a recent issue, that it is now one of the most complete plants on the continent.

The staff has also been increased and the improved facilities may be fully utilized. Fully and accurately synopsis of the world's news written by trained men, who know how to say what is needed. Carefully edited words: original and from the best sources; special contributions from leading writers. Miscellaneous news of the very highest standard are features which make it the leader among Canadian Metropolitan Weeklies. Every department pulsates with vitality.

The four pages of bright pictures on calendar paper is in itself equal to fifty-two of the ordinary premiums given away each year by some papers.

Very favorable arrangements have been made with the Weekly Globe and Canada Farmer whereby our readers can have it in combination with this paper for only $1.25 a year, for both papers. We will send our subscribers a sample copy of the Globe in a few days.

In the West Florida Country, this is not the Florida that you have been reading so much about, but some five hundred miles from the much advertised country. The West Florida country is elevated and healthy, no extreme heat in the summer, nor cold in the winters. Fruit, vegetables, figs, and watermelons, satsuma oranges, fish and oysters are in abundance. Eggs and chickens are extremely high and this is a good climate to raise them in. This part of the world has never been advertised for sale before, and no extravagant literature is gotten out to show the enormous growth of the products, but the growths are here just the same, with a climate seldom equalled and never excelled. Rheumatism, catarrh and tuberculosis are always relieved and cured in numbers of instances. This land is extremely productive if properly handled. We are offering lands in tracts of ten acres up to five hundred acres at twenty dollars per acre; three dollars per acre per month. Also we have some small and large farms fully improved bearing pecans, oranges, figs, all kinds of berries etc. close to the fast growing town of Pensacola. Aroostook Potato Crop Much Below That of The Last Year.

Judging from estimates made by 100 potato growers of Aroostook county, the potato crop in Maine's greatest potato producing section will be at least 25 per cent below last season's mark. This information is from F. E. Embree, of Riverhead, N. Y., who with his father, C. E. Embree, the general manager of the Farmer's Union of Maine has been making a trip to Aroostook county.

"I have just returned from Aroostook county," Mr. Embree told a Commercial man, Tuesday, "and I found that there has been a slight increase in the potato acreage in that section. In talking over the situation with 100 potato growers, I found that those 100 men showed an increase in acreage over last year of 139 acres. They also estimated that through the excessive wet weather they had lost completely an acre a piece of potatoes, which left a small percentage of increase.

"The decrease in yield for this season due to weather conditions they placed at 25 per cent, and it was the opinion of all of them that there would be about a 75 per cent crop there this year.

"Such potatoes as they will get promise to be exceptionally good.

"Shipments from Aroostook county will not come freely until about the middle of September, but there is some talk of a car being sent out of Presque Isle the last of this week or the first of next. It certainly will be immature stock. The market conditions at the consuming end have a tendency just now to cause buyers to get things moving as soon as they can, both Boston and New York markets being particularly good just at present.

"Along the Maine Central points I figure that there will be 30 or 40 per cent increase in acreage over last year. The fields in central Maine are looking exceedingly well and the indication is that the yield will be a good one.

"Notwithstanding the increased acreage along the Maine Central the crop there will not be up to 1910, when 5,300,000 bushels of potatoes were shipped from Maine Central points. In 1911 there were only 2,700,000 bushels. The increased acreage will not make up the difference between the two years."

Enjoyable Event at Gordonsville.

A large number of people of Gordonsville met on Thursday at the home of David White to pay their respects to his mother, Mrs. Margaret Jane White, by giving her a picnic on her eighty-fourth birthday.

This was not the ordinary picnic of swings, music and baseball games, such as the young people enjoy, but a good table spread in the orchard under the old apple trees, bounteously supplied with everything good including ice cream and an opportunity for a pleasant social talk on the good old days that had passed, a thing which old folks enjoy.

All the old pioneers were present, five of them not less than eighty years of age. All the great trees in the forest had fallen except these five.

Fifty years ago, when Mrs. White and her husband and family, and her sister's family came up the river in a tow boat they landed on what was then called Schicketchaw. At the time the moral condition of their part of the country was at a pretty low ebb. Each of the settlers had made a small clearing, built some rough buildings, and their amusements were of a very primitive order. If a man wanted to command respect he did it by beating some other man. The "frolics" of those days were very strenuous, and the run was very powerful.

Things were in that state when the Whites came to Gordonsville. They did much to raise the standard of the community, and they long enjoyed the whole country side.

A vast amount of ill health is due to impaired digestion. When the stomach fails to perform its function properly the whole system becomes deranged. A few doses of Chamberlain's Tablets is all you need. They will strengthen your digestion, invigorate your liver, and regulate your bowels, entirely doing away with that miserable feeling due to faulty digestion. Try it. Many others have been permanently cured—why not you? For sale by all dealers.

General Egg Farming.

Some hints by Joel M. Foster, founder of the famous Ranocas Poultry Farm, New Jersey, which annually produces more than a million eggs. Egg farming is the most profitable branch of poultry growing. There are four sources of profit from the eggs: marketing eggs all the year; selected hatching eggs that bring still higher prices; baby chicks; and an unusual occurrence of fancy fowls.

The value of the eggs annually produced is many millions of dollars more than the value of poultry meat produced. About 1,000,000,000 eggs are consumed in New York annually, but so few of them are of premium quality that the people who will have fresh eggs must pay five to twenty cents per dozen premium. There is no chance of a low-price era of high-class eggs. The rapid growth of the country's population keeps the demand for eggs far in excess of the supply.

The man raising broilers or roasters gets no profit other than the meat profit. The egg farmer can get a share of the meat profit finally, but first he sells 400 to 500 eggs from each hen. Keeping hens after they have reached the pullet size requires only the comparatively small investment for laying houses; and each hen will pay a profit of $2.78 a year over the cost of feeding. This is many times more than could be made from chickens at the broiler age.

In farming for eggs the hatching can be done in the natural breeding season, when conditions are most favorable. The grower of poultry meat has to hatch eggs and care for young chicks the year round—when Nature is with him and when Nature is against him. If the breeding hen is moulting, or for any other reason is low in vitality, the chicks from her eggs will be weak. Out of season not more than fifty percent of the eggs are likely to be fertile.

In egg farming there is a great economy in feeding, if as at the Ranocas farm, White Leghorn fowls are used. It costs less to bring to adult size and maintain a small hen than to provide for a large one. The Ranocas White Leghorn hen weighs about four pounds at maturity and produces eggs as large as any breed. The size, shape and color of the eggs are decided by Nature, regardless of the size and color of the hen.

Besides market eggs to sell at fancy prices, the general egg farmer with a noted strain of birds, has unlimited opportunities to dispose of hatching eggs and day-old chicks in season. These can be produced cheaply and sold at high prices.

There is no department of poultry culture that offers better chances of money making and fewer chances of failure than general egg farming. Failures in it are due to similar causes as in other departments of the business, but the opportunities for success are more numerous. Intelligent care and proper equipment are necessary to a successful chicken business. Birds are intensely nervous by nature and easily affected for good or ill.

If good strains of birds are lacking, if equipment is inadequate, if intelligence is absent, if management is slack, the chicken business, like any other business will go to wreck.
