MRS. J. WARREN JAMER

Mrs. Mary Annie Jammer, beloved wife of J. Warren Jammer, passed quietly and peacefully away at the Community Hospital in Fort Fairfield Tuesday evening, October 17. Some ten days previous Mrs. Jammer had been under operation for appendicitis, the effects of which she had quite recovered. Complications developed which caused her death. All possible was done to relieve her suffering. On Monday Dr. Rankine of Woodstock was called, but at that late date the disease was so far developed that in her weakened condition she did not rally.

Mrs. Jammer was a woman of sterling qualities and she will be greatly missed in her family, in the church and Sabbath school, where she was an ardent worker, in the Women's Institute where she was a most active member, in the Round Table Literary Club, where she was always willing to do her part. She was loved and respected by all and her passing has cast a gloom over the villages of Andover and Perth and at Forest Glen where she was born. Her husband mourns the death of a beloved wife and helpmate; the three children—Barrett, Randolph and Miss Jessie—mourn for their loving mother. Mrs. Jammer was the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Walker and was fifty-two years of age. Her father died recently at the grand old age of 81 years. Her mother survives, also three sisters and three brothers—Mrs. Miles McCrea, Mrs. John Gendall of Manor, Sask., and Miss Jessie Walker, now in Manor, Sask., recently of Andover, William of Vancouver, John of Toronto and Charles of Boston. The funeral was held from her late home and the Baptist church on Thursday afternoon. Words of comfort and sympathy were spoken by the Rev. C. O. Howlett and Mr. Aitken. The large number of friends who met to pay their last taken of respect showed to a degree the high esteem in which the deceased was held. Those bearing the pall were Fenwick, Alvin, Wesley and Herman Jammer, Bruce Ervin and Frank Henderson. Interment was made in the Baptist cemetery in Andover. The heart felt sympathy of all is extended to Mr. Jammer, the fam-

Don't hurt a bit and remove corns in only a few days.

With your finger, you can lift off any hard corn, callus, or corn between the toes, and the hard skin will fall bottom of foot.
A tiny bottle of "Fussner" costs little at any drug store, apply a few drops under the corn or callus. Instantly it dissolves, then shortly you lift the hardened corn or callus right off, red and all without use of knife or common. Study! No kidding!

HARTLAND, N. B., OCT. 26, 1922.

The editor of every weekly newspaper must depend very largely upon the kindness and generosity of its readers for much of the news matter that it prints. To employ a local reporter to gather the amazing variety of items of interest that occur each week in even the smallest town is quite out of question, especially in a town the size of Hartland. The Observer aims to print all the news that is fit to print; but each week there are always numerous items of real interest that are not recorded simply for the reason that they are not reported to the office and the writing staff has no knowledge of them. It will help very greatly if all readers will consider themselves reporters as well. This suggestion is made to readers in all parts of Carleton and Victoria as well as to those in Hartland. Let each town strive to be thoroughly represented in these columns; the co-operation will be mutually beneficial. If you have friends visiting, serious illness, accidents, parties, anything of interest, gladden the editor's heart by giving him the news to pass on to the thousands of readers —for more than 10,000 people read
The Observer each week.

THE PUBLISHER'S RESPONSIBILITY

More and more difficulty every day is the choice of good reading—the kind that nourishes the young and refreshes the old. One way to avoid mistakes is to choose the book or periodical that starts something—that is not everlastingly supplying the sensational and silly. The Youth's Companion has always been published by men who felt a keen responsibility to their readers, and they have held steadfast to one purpose: to familiarize Companion readers with the best things in the world, and by means of original articles and stories to illustrate the truth that the practice of the old, homely virtues brings the greatest satisfactions in life. Try it for a year and see.

The 52 issues of 1923 will be crowd-

COAL

To the Editor of the Globe:

Sir—I have heard so much anxiety expressed by those using self-feeder stoves in regard to fuel that I wish again to call their attention to the fact that I have had experiments made with Welsh coal in a small feeder and a No. 14, and proved that it is most suitable. If you get a ton and you are disappointed, you can use it in your kitchen range, as I am doing.

The schools and city buildings are using substitutes for American anthracite.
I hope the churches, halls, stores and offices will do the same.

Please read the advertisement in this paper—how to use soft coal in stoves.

APPALLING RECORD OF CARELESS DRIVING

12,500 persons were killed and 300,000 persons were injured in automobile accidents in the United States during the year 1921, and yet this appalling total seems likely to be exceeded in 1922.

In spite of the most extensive educational campaign against railroad highway crossing accidents ever carried on, figures just compiled by the Insurance Department of the Pennsylvania Railroad System show that in June, July and August of this year, such casualties increased 30 per cent, as compared with last season.

The period covered embraces the first three months of the National Careful Crossing Campaign, in which railroads of the United States have joined in efforts to make plain the deplorable results of carelessness. During the three months, on the Pennsylvania System alone, there were 107 crossing accidents, in which 71 persons were killed and 115 injured.

That this year's large increase in these casualties is chargeable almost entirely to growth in the reckless and inexperienced driving of automobiles, is shown by the fact that casualties at highway crossings from all other causes combined decreased.

There were 85 automobile accidents at Pennsylvania Railroad crossings in the three months in question. They caused the death of 56 persons, and injury to 107 others, or an average of two personal casualties for each accident. Twelve of the accidents resulted in 39 deaths; four caused the death of 20 persons, or an average of five for each car involved.

In two of the accidents, entire families were wiped out. That these lives were sacrificed to pure recklessness is particularly emphasized by the fact that in both instances the drivers of the cars lived close to the scenes of the accidents and were entirely familiar with the lay-out of the railroad tracks and roads over which they were driving.

The responsibility of automobile drivers for the safety of riders in their cars is no less than that of locomotive engineers for the safety of their train passengers. It is, therefore, impressive to note that as against the lives lost in only three months by careless driving of motor cars over tracks, there were no passengers killed in train accidents anywhere on the Pennsylvania Railroad System during the entire year ended May 31st, last. In that period no less than 1,400,000 passenger trains were operated and 152,000,000 passengers carried safely.

The chief reason for this striking contrast is that locomotive engineers are thoroughly trained in every detail of their work, and are required to demonstrate knowledge and ability to operate trains safely before being entrusted with their handling.

On the other hand, analysis of the causes of crossing accidents shows that the vast majority of motor car casualties at railroad highway crossings are attributable to a comparatively small percentage of inexperienced and irresponsible automobile drivers who have neither the knowledge training or judgment required for the safe operation of such machines. The result is often failure to exercise even the most ordinary precautions necessary for the protection of life when approaching or driving over railroad tracks.

Moreover, reckless driving of automobiles is not confined to highway crossings. This is shown by the daily reports in the newspapers of accidents caused by driving automobiles into telegraph poles, or stone walls, and by skidding, sideswiping, turning over and colliding. From this running chronicle of death and injury, the conclusion would seem warranted that what is needed at the present time is not merely a Careful Crossing Campaign to concentrate attention on crossing accidents alone, but a national campaign carefully planned and directed against all forms of careless automobile driving.

DODGE BROTHERS BUSINESS SEDAN

Exceptional interest has been aroused by the practical arrangement of the interior.

The entire rear compartment furnishings—seat, seat cushions, back cushions, seat frame, foot rest, carpet and all—can be removed from the car in a few moments.

The front seat is then tilted forward, giving a gross clearance of twenty-two inches through the rear doors.

In this way, a space of sixty-four cubic feet in the rear compartment is made available for loading.

When the rear seat fixtures are back in place, the interior is complete and attractive in appearance. Its convertibility is not apparent to the eye.

Business men, farmers, salesmen, campers, tourists and everyone who has occasion, at times, to carry bulky articles or luggage, will readily appreciate the great utility of this construction.

SUGGESTIONS FOR USING

SUBSTITUTES for American ANTHRACITE IN ORDINARY HOUSE FURNACES

1. No change is necessary in furnace. Build the fire in the usual way.
2. Open all the drafts and leave them open for about ten minutes. This is to allow the smoke and gases to pass out of the chimney.
3. To get the best results in applying coal to the fire use a little less than in the case of Anthracite and apply coal often.
4. After the coal has been burning about ten minutes or long enough for the smoke and gases to have been expelled, close up all the drafts except the chimney draft, which should be left partially open.
5. When refiring, first take a bar or poker and break up the crust of coal that forms on the top of a Bituminous coal fire, then apply fresh coal, following the rule given for leaving drafts open. A handful or two of coarse salt scattered evenly over top of Bituminous coal freshly applied to fire will prevent formation of tar and other substances adhering to sides of furnace. It will form a gas thereby intensifying the heat and eliminating smoke.
6. Bituminous coal will probably be in varying sizes and contain some slack. The lumps should be burned in the day time and the fire banked with smaller coal and slack at night, leaving a small opening at the top to let the air through.
7. When making the last fire at night shake out the fine ash that will be clogging the openings in the grate. Your grates will last far longer if kept clean.
8. By throwing a moderate amount of water upon the Bituminous pile at the point from which the coal is taken out the dust objection is largely overcome, as well as reducing the amount of smoke when the coal is first thrown on the fire.
9. In the morning, before opening the furnace door, the chimney and bottom drafts should be first opened.
10. With Bituminous Coal more soot is formed in stovepipes, flues and chimneys than in case of Anthracite, and furnaces, furnace pipes and chimneys should be cleaned frequently. Hot water furnaces should be cleaned every day or so, and the furnace pipes every two or three weeks. Soot will not accumulate as quickly if a small quantity of zinc chip-pings are occasionally thrown into the fire.
11. A mixture of big lumps of Bituminous coal with about an equal quantity of Anthracite pea coal, or with coke, will simplify the problem.
12. Welsh Anthracite and Welsh Dry Coal and "Brigettes" should be fired in practically the same manner as Pennsylvania Anthracite. The small screenings should be fired on top of the larger coal when the fire is well kindled.
13. If Coke is used care must be taken to keep the ash pan free of ashes. If allowed to accumulate the grates may be burnt out. It is also good to keep a little water in the ash pan if tight enough to hold it.

Backache

Backache is the outstanding symptom of kidney disease. Women often make the mistake of attributing other causes and overlook the derangement of the kidneys until serious developments have made it difficult to obtain permanent relief.

This letter points to a treatment which has been so thoroughly tried and proven so effective in the great majority of cases that you cannot afford to overlook it when cause arises for its use.

Mrs. Albert Brunet, R.R. No. 1, Ottawa, Ont., writes:

"I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for the past two months, having been afflicted with kidney trouble. I used two doctors' medicine previous to this, without any good results. A friend told me to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and the second box made me feel a good deal better. I have now used about six or eight boxes, and am completely relieved."

ESTEY-WRIGHT

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday, October 18, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wright of Plaster Rock, when their daughter, Myrtle Victoria, was united in marriage to William Lee Estey of Jacksonville, by the Rev. C. E. Strothard in the presence of immediate relatives.

The bride, who was given away by her father, entered the parlor to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Mrs. A. A. Pickard of Edmundston, sister of the bride. She looked charming in a gown of maise silk crepe de chine and bridal veil caught with orange blossoms. Immediately following the ceremony a sumptuous wedding dinner was served, after which the happy couple left by car for their new home amid showers of good wishes and confetti. The bride's going away dress was brown velvet with hat to match and she wore a beautiful mustrat coat, a gift from her father. She also received many other beautiful and useful presents.

In fact the Family Herald and Weekly Star during 1923 will be of such value that no Canadian home can afford to be without it.
