Toronto Suffers From Another Great Conflagration !

Fully as Destructive as Sunday's Big Fire

It Started Just Where Its Predecessor Left Off.

And May Also Result in the Death of One Person.

The Money Loss Estimated at $700,000-The Water Pressure Was Again nadequate.

Товонто, Jan. 10 (9:30 p.m.). - Another great fire is raging in Toronto this evening, and at the present moment there is no telling what may be the extent of it. It has already far exceeded that of Sunday morning in the damage thus far done.

THE STARTING POINT. Very curiously it started at the exact spot where the Globe fire of Sunday ended on Melinda street. The Osgoodby building which adjoins that of S. F. Mc-Kinnen & Co., destroyed on Sunday, and which then narrowly escaped, was the beginning of tonight's fire, and from that point it spread west and southwest to Wellington street.

BUILDINGS BURNED OUT. The following places between Jordan and Bay streets on the north side of Wellingston street were caught and burned out within an hour. R. and H. Gray & Co, white wear. Brecton & Manning, furs.

Thos. Dunnett & Co., furs. E. Boisseau & Co., clothing. Robert Darling & Co., wholesale

FIREMEN HANDICAPPED. The last named building is very high and the hose reached only half way up to it. The firemen were almost powerless. THE BLAZE SPREADS.

POSSIBLY FATAL RESULTS. When the fire broke out in the Osgoodby building the caretaker and his wife-the latter prostrate from the effects of Sunday's fire-were confined in a room on the top flat. The fire escape could not be reached in time, and their only way of escape was to slide down a wire rope. The sick woman slid part way down, and then fell, turning somersault, striking on the telegraph wires and landed in a blanket held out for her. She was terribly injured. She was clad only in a night dress. The man came down safely.

UNDER CONTROL. 10 p.m .- The fire is now under control. and almost out. Wyld, Grassett & Darling's big building escaped. The loss will likely reach a million dollars.

Another Account. For the second time in a week Toronto has been visited by a terrible conflagration. The buildings devastated by tonight's fire were more numerous, though not so extensive as those of Sunday's fire, and the total loss, so far as can be ascertained, will be about $700,000, the same as that estimated for Sunday's fire. The fire broke out at 7 o'clock in the Osgoodby building, a massive sixstory brick and stone structure on the south side of Melinda street, adjacent to the great McKinnon building, the ruins of which are left from Sunday morning's fire. It had frontage of 45 feet and ran back about 90 teet. The building was put up last year by W. G. Osgoodby.

AT A COST OF $500,000. The firemen arrived within two minutes after the alarm, but the building was already blazing furiously from basement to roof and the flames leaping high above the roof. Within the top flat of the building was the family of Caretaker Edward Caven, Thomas J. Lally against John Hughes and his wife was lying in bed prostrate from nine other members of the joint board of the effects of Sunday's fire, when their building came near going. It was her screams that had attracted the attention of the policeman, who turned in the alarm. With his wife; was a Mrs. Holmes, who was taking care of her, and a little girl, a niece. The fire escape ladder had not arrived and it was evident it could not reach the fire in time to be of service. A rope was thrown out of the window and they were arranging to lower themselves, a receiver holding a net beneath. The eick woman without waiting for the rope jumped. She TURNED OVER TWICE and then struck the telegraph wires, which are very numerous in this street, and then rebounded and landed on the net.

Mrs. Holmes got down the rope half way and jumped the rest. Her injuries were not very serious, but she with her sister was then taken to the hospital. The little girl came down in the same way, and escaped serious injury. Caven himself came down safely.

Meanwhile the fire was raging furiously, and had spread backward into Wellington street, where it attacked the wholesale houses on the north side of the street. RAPID SPREAD OF THE FLAMES.

The premises of Thomas Dunnett & Co., hats, caps and furs, caught first, and within twenty minutes the flames were shooting out of the windows. Dunnest's roof fell through with a crash soon after 7:30. East and west the flames now worked their way to Brereton & Co., farriers, to the east, and E. Boisseau & Co., cloth-On Thursday O. W. Rollings and his wife were found dead in their home on Emerson avenue, Minneapolis, Minn. A lines between New York and Genea, east, and h. Busseau & Co., clothing, ing, to the west, were burning fiercely. Several sections of the brigade had taken up positions on Wellington street and had streams playing on Dunnett's, Brereton's and Robert Darling's, further west, which had now caugh fire. In addition streams were playing on the premises on the south side of the street, which had already start. ed to smoke.

DEFICIENT WATER PHESSURE. As soon, however, as all branches of the brigade were thus at work the water pressure, as in the case of Sunday, proved lamentably inefficient, and the streams would not reach higher than the third story, while the volume of water was poor.

FIREMEN INJURED. Two or three firemen met with somewhat serious though not fatal injuries from falling walls. With rather inadequate appliances they fought bravely and were aided by the weather—first snow and then rain helping to prevent the fire from spreading. By 10 o'clock they had fire under control. They had devoted themselves especially to keeping the fire from spreading west and igniting the great drygoods house of Wyld, Grassett & Darling, which carried a stock of $400,000. THE LOSSES.

It is impossible to accurately state the various losses, but approximate estimates place them at $750,000. Insurance about two-thirds of this sum. The Osgoodby alone contained some 30 tenants, many of them manufacturers' agents carrying valuable stocks, of which not a vestige remains. The total loss on stocks in this building reaches $105,000. Of this sum James E. Knox & Co., representing the Merchants' Manufacturing Company of Montreal and Yarmouth, N. S., Duck and Yarn Company, lost stock, valued at $42,000; insured for $25,000, and W. E. Johnson, printers, blank book manufacturers, lost stock of $13,000. The building and stock of Robt. Darling, drygoods, on the north side of Wellington, is a total loss. The building was worth about $15,000, and stock $100,000.

Thos. Dunnett & Co., furriers, lost $20,000 on building and $20,000 worth of Brereton & Manning lest $20,000 on building and $50,000 on stock. Two-thirds insured, H. H. Gray, white cotton goods, lost $30,000 on building and $50,000 on stock.

Two-thirds insured.

Corticelli Silk Company, next door, escaped with a scorching.
On the other side of Wellington street Hart & Riddell, wholesale stationers, lost on stock $35,000-two-thirds insurance. Hart & Riddell occupied the same building with Bunting & Reid, O. Y. Reid being the Buntin & Reid escaped damage by fire, but suffered serious loss by water. The Osgoodby building itself was insured

THE ORIGIN. The origin of the fire in the Osgoodby building is said to have been the break-The large wholesale drygoods house of ing of a kerosene lamp, carried by the Wyld, Grassett & Darling is separated from janitor's wife, Mrs. Caven, who only the fire only by a narrow lane, and may go.

OTHER FIRES. MERRICKVILLE, Ont., Jan. 10 .- A fire broke out this morning in the Hame Company's premises, resulting in the destruction of the building, machinery and contents. ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Jan. 9.—Wyeth's collar factory was burned today. Loss, $150,000; partly insured. CHICAGO, Jan. 10 .- Over 100 girls were driven from their beds at 6 a.m. today by fire, which damaged the upper story of the Chicago Industrial School for Girls at Prairie avenue and Forty-ninth street. None of the girls were injured, but several are likely to die from the exposure. Measles had been epidemic in the school and about 25 of the pupils were ill. They with the others were compelled to rush to the street in scant attire, and the consequent exposure is 'deemed extremely dangerous. The fire was extinguished with slight damage to the building,

HORRORS IN JAPAN.

Great Loss of Lie by the Recent Earth

BOSTON, Jan. 11 .-- The recent earthquake which visited the Yamagata pretecture of Japan was especially severe at Sakata, A letter from the Rev. Horatio B. Newell dated at Niigate, gives further details. He says: "The first shock with its accompanying roar, which was like a hundred crashes of thunder, must have been terrible in the extreme, but to think of that frightful, sickening motion going on without let up for twelve minutes or more was of itself enough to drive one crazy, as, in fact, it did in many cases. Then add to that the noise and terror of the creaking, groaning and crash of falling houses, temples, and public buildings on every side, to-gether with the wild cries of the impaled or imprisoned victims; then think of the overturned lamps and the fires bursting out in from fifteen to twenty places in the eity simultaneously, the wild, disordered rush here and there for some possible place of safety, some seeking the mountains, some the sea, and many flying to worse ills than they would have met by standing still; and, as if earthquake and fire were not sufficiently terrifying, here and there throughout the city great holes were opened and rivers of water poured out and ran through some streets, carrying along immense deposits of sand, changing the whole complexion of those parts of the city, and furnishing a new means for the destruction of many; for those who met their fate by falling into these holes or by being overwhelmed by the waters and buried by the sand were by no means few.

"Sakata was a very prosperous city of about 35,000 or more and the center of a large rice export trade. It was famous as the home of probably the wealthiest man in Japan, a Mr. Homma. He had here 49 fireproof warehouses, stored full of rice, and of these 48 were first thrown down, then burned, entailing a loss of about $300,000 in produce alone, aside from the buildings. That, however, is a comparatively small matter with him.

"The real losses to reckon with are those where the ordinary people lost their houses, clothes, implements of work, everything, Of these there are many thousands, and with winter already setting in it is a

What Constitutes a Good Homing much in Pigeon?-The Proposed New Society in This City.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER: I am pleased to see by your valuable paper of the 7th inst. that a Homing Pigeon Society is about to be formed in London. Being an old fancier, I always ine for washing and cleaning looked upon the homing pigeon as the most in a hundred ways. You'd have to take fresh water for them all, if you had nothing but soap and couldn't get those times and previous to the most proved themselves so to be in all ages. The homing pigeons are mentioned in ancient history before Rome was built, they being used as messengers of war in those times and previous to the submestion. those times, and previous to the submarine that the taxes could not be collected in but soap, and couldn't get cable between England and France the the short time given. Hundreds of communications from England and other parts of the world were reduced to a microscopic form, deposited in a quill and fatened under the tailfeathers. The first bird dispatched arrived in Paris on Nov. 14, 1870 and the first three birds that arrived brought in over Flat Opening, Blank Books. 1,000 dispatches, Again homing pigeons are now being used on a very large scale in England and Scotland by the editors of newspapers to convey the latest news from their reporters that attend the various sports to the printing offices. In Edinburgh, Scotland, the Scotsman, the Scottish Leader, the Evening News and the Evening Dispatch all use the homing pigeons, who are attached to their offices. The question is sometimes asked what is the principal points of a homer. Some look to color. I hold that a homer cannot be a bad color. I had a dirty slaty-blue cock homer that was not worth 25 cents to look at, but I flew him single-handed from York city, in Yorkshire, to Edinburgh, Scotland, in 3 hours 65 minutes, June 16, 1887, and on June 23 I sent him to Doncaster, and somehow or other he did not come home till fifteen months after. I found him in my loft, tired and soft, as if he had been feeding young ones, and got out and made for home. A homer should have a good, well-developed head for plenty of brain room, a wild-looking eye of a red color, with black pupil, a little bit of wattle, long breast-bone, vent-bones well up, very little prominence, near together and close to the breastbone, the chest broad and plenty of muscle at the shoulders—that is where the wing is joined to the body. A good wing is indispensable. It should have ten good broad primary feathers with stout quills to them and lap well over each other. The other feathers in the wing, although not so long, should be equally stout and overlapping. The body should be a medium size, and the tail about one inch longer than the wings. These I consider to be generally looked upon as the points of the homing pigeon. I consider training all the birds together at the training stages that are going to compete in a race, as they soon get accoustomed to each other and the practice and become known to one another, for when birds are We have a large stock of nearly all maple wood at workingmen's prices. NOTICE TO CREDITORS — IN THE matter of H. Trebileock, of the city of London, in the county of Middlesex—Notice is hereby given that the above named H. Trebilcock has made an assignment to me under the provisions of Chap. 124, R. S. O., 1887, of all her estate and effects in trust for the benefit of all her creditors. A meeting of the creditors of the said estate is hereby convened and will be held at the law offices of Gibbons, McNab & Mulkern, London. on Monday, the 14th day of January. A. D. 1895, at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon, for the appointment of inspectors and the giving of directions with reference to the disposal of the said estate. All creditors of the said estate are hereby required to file Statement-a Discrepa 207. Squire R. F. Lacey resumed his hearing of the charges against ex-Tax Collector and the giving of directions with reference to the disposal of the said estate. All creditors of the said estate are hereby required to file their claims with my solicitors, Gibbons, McNab and Mulkern, London (as directed by the said statute), on or before the day of such meeting. After Feb. 15, 1895, I shall proceed to distribute the said estate, having regard only to such claims as I shall havenotice of, and I shall not be responsible for the assets of the said estate or any part thereof, to any person or persons whose claim or claims shall not have been filed. Dated the 7th day of January, A. D. 1895. C. B. Armstrong. Trustee; Gibbons, McNab & Mulkern, Solicitors for Trustee, Lord at 2:30 yesterday afternoon. The evidence was interesting throughout, but the most important was that of the village clerk, Mr. Simpson.

IT DID NOT WORK. Ex-Treasurer Nicholls took the stand and was cross-examined by Mr. Love. He virtually repeated the evidence of the morning. Squire Lacey asked him if the council did not collect two years' taxes in one?

D. 1825. C. B. Armstrong. Trustee, Olbect. McNab & Mulkern, Solicitors for Trustee, 85u xv "They started it, but did not succeed," was the answer. Mr. Love-Did you ever receive small W. Chapman, amounts from Lord-say about $5? Witness-Very often when I had wages to pay and no money on hand I would get it from him. I would give him no receipt, but he would record it. Lord had paid witness large sums at times-once or twice as much as $1,100. "It would take a couple of weeks to collect that amount?" asked Mr. Love, A POOR CORPORATION. "Not while the 5 per cent discount was running in August. Of course, it is a pretty poor corporation," replied Mr. Nicholls, and the audience smiled.

Mr. Nicholls denied having allowed Lord to hold large sums of money for weeks at a time. Mr. Love showed, however, that from Aug. 10 to Sept. 2, 1893, Lord had paid nothing into the treasury. It was the biggest month of the year. Witness also knew that Lord had held village money to reimburse himself for his salary as collector. Witness always saw when his books were being audited that Lord was present and produced his receipts. They were compared with the entries in the cash books. No dissatisfaction was ever expressed by the auditors. "Did Lord ever claim to have paid you more money than you credited him with?"

asked Mr. Magee.
"No," said Nicholls. PLENTY OF AUDITS. There was an audit in January, 1894. and there had been about twenty since, continued the witness. (Laughter.)

"That is a pardonable exaggeration," replied Mr. Magee. "Not much of an exaggeration," said Mr. G. F. Laing, a ledger-keeper ingthe Mr. Nicholls.

June 5, $135. Mr. R. S. Rockett, the new village treasurer, testified that he had received no moneys from Lord or on his behalf since he (witness) assumed office on June 13. The roll of 1893 had not been returned. Witness had received tax money, but only from Mossrs. Simpson and Jones. Never made any efforts to collect money from Lord.

THE TIME WAS TOO SHORT. To Mr. Magee Rockett said he had seen Lord only once after his (Rockett's) appointment as treasurer. Lord had been instructed to return the roll and the cash on hand. The prisoner informed witness

Mr. P. Mulkern swore that he paid Lord $27 44 for taxes in May last. The receipt was dated May 7, while the stub bore the

THE STARTLING STATEMENT. Mr. John Simpson, the village clerk, took office in June. He did not see the prisoner after the 15th of that month. Shortly after resuming office, Mr. Simpson took the tax roll of 1893 and the stubs of Lord's two receipt books for that year. He found that the total amount of taxes collected according to the stubs but not credited on the rolls was $1,837 73.

Mr. Simpson was not cross-examined by the defense, and the court adjourned till Saturday at 2:30 p.m.

AN ENTIRE TRAIN BURIED Beneath an Avalanche of Snow, Earth and Rocks. WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Jan. 10 .- Traffic on the Fallbrook railway was completely paralyzed to day by snow slides in the mountain regions of Pine Creek. In one instance an entire freight train of seven cars was buried out of sight by an avalanche, and the crew narrowly escaped injury. Great rocks and tons of earth came down with the snow, and the tracks are buried at points many feet deep. Between Black-well's and Cammel, for a distance of fitteen miles, the track is almost entirely covered.

Too Obliging.

Repentance sometimes comes too late. A gentleman whose wife, daughter, and sister-in-law were at the seaside, went to join them on a Saturday. Before going he had bought himself a fashionable pair of trousers. On trying them on, they proved to be several inches too long. When he arrived at B--, he took the trousers to his wife, and asked her to cut off about six inches and hem them over. The good lady. who was not very well pleased with the loud pattern, brusquely refused. The same result followed an application to the wife's sister and his daughter. But before beds time the wife, relenting, took them, and cutting off six inches from the legs, hemmed them up nicely and put them on a chair. Half an hour later her daughter, taken with compunction for her unfilial conduct, took the trousers and, cutting off eight inches, hemmed and replaced them. Finally, the sister in-law felt the pangs of conscience, and she, too, performed an additional surgical operation on the garment. When the owner of the trousers appeared at breakfast on Sunday the crowd around the table thought a Highland chieftain had arrived.

Among the pains and aches cured with marvelous rapidity with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is earache. The young are especially subject to it, and the desirability of this Oil as a family remedy is enhanced by the fact that it is admirably adapted not only to the above ailment, but also to the hurts, disorders of the howels, and after tions of the throat, to which the young are specially subject.

The secretary was instructed to correspond with the Toronto Trades and Labor Council and precure copies of the Toronto Street Railway Company 60-hour-per-week agreement and the printed form of con-tract for municipal works in regard to standard wages.

The following resolution was passed: "Resolved, whereas Almighty God, in his infinite wisdom, has been pleased to remove from our midst our late respected brother, Michael H. Bird, who departed this life on Jan. 3, be it therefore resolved that this Trades and Labor Council hereby extend to the family of our late brother its heartfelt sympathy in their sad bereavement; also be it resolved that a copy of this resolution be recorded on the minutes of this council and a copy sent to the daily press and Industrial Banner."

It was also resolved to extend to the employes of Ster'ing Bros.' shoe factory, who are out on strike against a reduction in existing starvation wages, the active support of the council, both morally and financially, and a strong committee was appointed to work in harmony with the Federated Shoemakers in bringing the contest to a successful issue. The secretary was instructed to correspond with the various labor organizations and Patrons of Industry throughout the country and lay the facts before them and solicit their active co-operation and support.

Five hundred copies of the new constitution were ordered to be printed. Arrangements were made for the organization of the bakers on Saturday evening, Jan. 12.

The council then adjourned for two weeks. FROM THE METHODIST'S.

Dr. Carman, president of the General Conference, the Rev. Dr. Shaw, the Hon. Senator Sanford and the Rev. Dr. Ryckman, president of the Montreal Conference, called upon the Governor-General to present an address of loyalty. The deputation was accompanied by Rev. Dr. Rose, Rev. Dr. Hunter, Rev. W. Hall, Rev. W. H. Emsley and Messrs. S. Finley, A. R. Oughtred, C. Morton, S. F. John-ston and Ald. McBride. The address was as follows: "May it please your Excellency, - We, the ministers and laymen constituting the General Conference of the Methodist Church in conference assembled in the city of London, representing 1,543 ministers, 252,000 mcmbers and 847,000 adherents of the church. in their name and on their behalf as well as our own, gladly embrace the opportunity afforded by the quadrennial session since your Excellency's acceptance of the high position and responsibility of representative to her Majesty the Queen in the government of this Dominion to convey the assurance of our most ardent levalty and attachment to the Crown and person of her Most Gracious Majesty and to your Excellency as her Majesty's honored and worthy representative. We beg to assure your Excellency that the aim of the Methodist Church is to further the ends of good government by teaching and enforcing that righteousness which exalteth a nation, by endeavoring to promote reverence for the Divine name, the sanctification of the holy Sabbath, the diffusion of sound Christian education among all classes of the people and by the inculcation, by both precept and example, of such sentiments concerning loyalty, sobriety, honesty and industry as shall contribute to true, happy and useful citizenship. Wo rejoice to know that your Excellency sympathizes with the work of the churches and with every patriotic and benevolent movement, and we are, moreover, fully persuaded of your Excellency's high appreciation of the vital principles of civil and religious equality and freedom so well fixed in the constitution of our great empire, and so well illustrated and enforced in British institutions throughout the world, and we have been greatly pleased to observe in all your Excellency's connection with public affairs an earnest disposition and effort, not only for the development of the material resources of the country, but as well for the peace and prosperity of the inhabitants, irrespective of condition or creed, in plans and labors to the advantage of our great commonwealth, lending assistance to all and granting special privileges to none, thereby discriminating against no class or section of her Majesty's subjects. Confiding in the fidelity of your Excellency's administration, we abide in the trust that this sacred charge of freedom and equality is in safe hands. We are profoundly grateful for the powerful benigu influence exerted by the noble lady who presides in Government House, and feel assured that the moral as well as temporal interests of the whole Dominion will be to your Excellencies matters of wise and unceasing solicitude. CROWTH OF CHILDREN.

Food Necessary to Make Them Plump and Rosy.

The Demands of the Brain on Food-Cause of Wasting Diseases Explained-Many Interesting Points for Parents.

It requires about one-third of all the nourishment taken by children to supply the growth of the brain. Parents rarely stop to think of this phase of a child's growth. They give their children ordinary food and expect them to develop, in spite of the fact that their food does not assimilate and the nervous and brain forces are making great demands for nourishment.

It is more important that a growing child should assimilate its nourishment than an should assimilate its nourishment that an adult. The organs of a child are sensitive to all the influences of food, and when they are disabled, as they frequently are, there is no adequate assimilation of nourishment. The child languishes for food. Atthough its stomach may be filled with every delicacy known to a rich household, there is no apparent improvement. The child looks thin and pale, and plays in a half-hearted

There is nothing more pathethic than this constant wasting of children. It takes so many phases that it is impossible to enumerate them. Frequently a skin erup-tion is noticed and in a short time the child has scrofula. In other cases the child loses flesh and never regains its strength, so that consumption has an easy victim almost at the beginning of life. Marasmus, rickets and chronic rheumatism all come from the same starting point, namely, a poor assimilation of food and an absence of the right kind of nourishment.

Go where you will you cannot get away from these downward tendencies children. The CAUSE for them is that the children are not assimilating the properties of food that are to be found in Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda. If these necessary food properties were being assimilated the children would not have their wasting tendencies. The difference between healthy, robust children and thin, pale children exactly represents the difference between the food that is being taken up by the system. On the one hand the children are assimilating the necessary materials for growth, and on the other they are not. No matter whether you understand the scientific reasons for this or not, the fact remains that Scott's Emulsion is the most natural and most effective nourishment that can be given to children. Far greater results are obtained from it than plain Codliver Oil because it not only renders the oil palatable and easy on the stomach, but it also insures its being assimilated by the system. The Hypophosphites are also of especial value to children because they furnish bone material and tone up the nervous system. Scott's Emulsion is a great food for the brain and nerves, and it gives to the blood the rich, nourishing food properties that promote the making of solid flesh and drive. out disease germs. A little Scott's Emulsion given to children in addition to ordinary food starts up their whole digestive machinery, and restores a glow of health.

Here is a case in point:

"CHRISTIAN INTELLIGENCER."

NEW YORK, Nov. 5, 1894.

MESSRS. SCOTT & BOWNE: GENTLEMEN-A sense of gratitude for the young son prompts me to write you that others may profit by my experience. For some months the little fellow, who had never been a rugred child, seemed to stead-ily waste away. He lost all desire for play, became weak and nervous, had little appetite, much trouble in obtaining sleep and wasvery susceptible to the slightest changes in the weather. I was advised he was growing too fast and a tonic prescribed, but he continued to lose in weight. One day a friend said: "What that child needs is MORE NOURISHMENT, and the thing to give is Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil. It would make a new boy of him in a month." He spoke so earnestly I decided to follow his advice and the effect was almost magica'. An improved appetite was at once noted, the roses gradually returned to his cheeks. he experienced no trouble from sleepiess. ness, a spirit of fun and desire for play developed, he gained rapidly in weight, and in about a month verified my friend's confident prediction, for he was indeed a new Today he is apparently as strong and boy. Today he is apparently as strong and healthy as a child could be, and the wonderful change was wrought by Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites.

ST. GEORGE'S SOCIETY.

Annual Gathering and Election of Officers.

A Member Objects to Receiving the Donation of the Hobbs Charity Concert.

The annual meeting of St. George's Society was held last night, and was fairly well attended. The retiring president, Mr. H. T. Smith, occupied the chair, and scated beside him were the first and second vice-presidents, Mr. H. J. Carter and Mr. John Sussex, respectively. Seated around the room were Ald. elect. Skinner, Ald. Pritchard, Ald. elect. Weld, W. H. Bartram, Geo. N. Sayers, Robt. Pritchard, A. G. Smyth, Geo. Cave, R. A. Jones, P. C. Gilson, Wesley Webb, R. Cadwallader (financial secretary), J. B. Cox (recording secretary), Geo. Pritchard (treasurer), T. Brenton and Messrs. Adcock, Walker, Thurling, Clampitt, Dann, Cave, Slade, Webb, Burridge, Reynolds, Rockett and others.

The meeting developed two decided surprises. One was an objection to the receipt of a $15 donation to charity. The other was in the election of president, when an old and much esteemed member of the society who has long occupied a prominent position in it was "turned down," and one who was only that evening made a life member, elected to the responsible post. The name of Mr. H. J. Carter, first vice-president, has been fully mentioned in connection with the office, and up to the time of meeting it was supposed that he would be elected by acclamation. Mr. Carter was proposed by Mr. Wesley

Webb, who spoke well of the first vicepresident's untiring energy and labor for the good of the society. It would be a deserved promotion, he said. "If there are any honors going," said

Mr. T. Brenton, in seconding the nomination, "I think those who have worked themselves up with the seciety, and who have always been identified with it, should get them." (Applause). Ald. Pritchard proposed Mr. George N.

Sayers and Mr. R. Reynolds seconded. Mr. Robert Pritchard and Mr. Weld acted as scrutineers and announced the election of Mr. Sayer. The figures were not given.

THE HOBBS CHARITY CONCERT. Mr. Ed. Weld expressed doubt because the society had accepted the $15 which was benefit received from the use of Scott's St. George's share of the recent Hobbs Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil in the case of my charity concert. "I am sorry that we have," said he. "And I would not like this society-or any other society in London for that matter-to allow anyone to get out posters and say that a concert is under the patronage of St. George's, St. Patrick's or St. Andrew's. We don't want our name taken and published around town as supporting a concert of that sort unless we know more about it than we did about this

"I rise," said Mr. Thomas Brenton, "to propose that we acknowlege the gift of $15 from the charity concert of the Hobbs company. I do not understand the object of Bro. Weld in objecting to this donation. He raised an objection at the meeting the other night and then raised it tonight without any explanation. It is the first time I have ever heard of a society objecting to receiving money for charitable purposes."

The motion of Mr. Brenton carried. Charles Forward was elected a member of the society.

The treasurer reported the receipts and disbursements for the half year up to Jan. 1, 1895, to be $363 62 and the receipts and disbursements for the year ending Jan. 1, 1895, to be $709 44. The assests of the society aggregated $4,326 64.

-The Chinese have again been routed by the Japs. Uneasy lies the head that wears a pigtail.

-The debt of the Dominion has in-$106,000,000 since 1879. The money is taken from the people whether they have any to spare or not.

-What sensible workman, merchant, manufacturer, lawyer of standing or newspaper man on either side of politics wants another election contest in this city in the near future? London needs a rest from turmoil of that sort.

-If we had registration in the Dominion elections, how much easier and cheaper it would be to provide a good voters' list. But we have the expensive, vexatious and antiquated Dominion franchise measure, and must make the best of it this year. Before another revision is due the people will command a change of men, who in turn will bring about a change of measures.

-Siz weeks of good sleighing would be the best National Policy that Canada could receive at the present time. After all, it is to a beneficent Providence in the first place, and to our individual work and carefulness in the next, that we must look for success in this northern land. The moment a Government resolves purposely to divert trade out of the channels into which it naturally flows, and compels taxpayers to buy or to sell where they do not find it to their profit, that moment the people are

The British people are nothing if they are not practical. There are now 55 towns and cities in England which destroy their garbage and solid refuse by burning, using an average of about ten furnaces each for that purpose. The combustion of the material is used for the generation of steam, by which the streets are electrically illuminated, thus reducing their municipal expenses by this means. Other cities sell their municipal refuse to farmers and market gardeners, and with the proceeds pay for cleaning city thoroughfares.

And do not forget that the taxpaying public invariably resent the holding of elections merely to decide the claims of a candidate to be their representative because some technical observance of the law was omitted.

-Sir Oliver Mowat has promptly brought on the elections for the vacant seats in Kingston and West Algoma. The contests will be over before the end of this month. The elections will be held on the same day. This speedy action is in marked contrast with the conduct of the Dominion Administration. Seats in the months-notably West Quebec - but, though the Government has issued the writ for a new election in Cumberland, N. S., vacant by the acceptance of office by Mr. Dickey, the other vacancies are held in abeyance. Is such a manipulation of their powers to secure a party advantage likely to raise the men now in authority in the estimation of the independent public?

-The National Anthem, as at present made up, will be revised for the use of Presbyterian congregations if the views entertained by the Presbyteries of Toronto and Montreal are generally entertained. These bodies have been considering the draft copy of a new hymn book, and they regard as objectionable the second verse in the National Anthem, which reads as

O Lord our God arise;
Scatter her enemies and make them fall.
Confound their politics,
Fustrate their knavish tricks,
On Thee our hopes we fix;
God save us all.

Outside of religious congregations this verse is rarely, if ever, sung, and there seems to be little of value in it. No one will lose anything if it is blotted out entirely, as the church bodies named either by himselfor with or through another recommend to the higher church court.

Last summer Emperor William used carrier pigeons when voyaging on the Hohenzollern and always with good results. The birds were let loose when the yacht was many miles out at sea and regularly returned to their station at Wilhelmshaven. Other experiments are to be made this year, and prizes will be offered for the best performances of carrier pigeons.

-The extracts from Mrs. Jameson's records of her experience in and around this city in the early part of 1837, recently printed in these columns, have been much appreciated by our readers. Many letters of commendation have been received. There must be similar chronicles written or printed of impressions of life in pioneer days, and of the stirring events of the first half of the century, in the possession of ADVERTISER readers. Is it too much to ask our friends to communicate with us on the subject? If they will loan us their books or manuscripts, we will be glad to avail ourselves of such portions of the contents as will be of interest to readers. Thus can be placed on printed record, for the benefit of the present generation, many facts regarding the early history of Western Ontario that have either never been published, or are known to only a few. The more that we learn of the trials and difficulties of our forefathers in the days when these surroundings were the wilds of Canada the more contented we will probably be with present day conditions, albeit there are many ways in which they can be improved.

-In Great Britain they have started a war against the continued use of the word scientist. The Duke of Argyll, Sir John Lubbock, Lord Rayleigh, Lord Kelvin and Prof. Huxley unreservedly condemn the word; Sir John Lubbock proposes philosopher instead; Lords Rayleigh and Kelvin prefer naturalist. Prof. Huxley thinks that scientist must be about as pleasing as electrocution to anyone who respects the English language. Grant Allen, while disapproving of the word, thinks it is pedantry to object to a new word when it is used by a majority of persons; after the camels of altruism and sociology, scientist is comparatively a gnat. Alfred Wallace alone is not disturbed by the word; he describes it as useful, and argues that, since we have biologist, geologist, chemist, physicist and specialist, we might as well use scientist, and he further asks: "What is there to use instead?" Science Gossip says the word was first invented and used by Whewell in his "Philosophy of the Inductive Sciences" in 1840. Use and wont after ill govern the use of words, no matter how objectionable they may appear when dissected. Some words are now not tolerated in polite society which were formerly used in everyday conversation and considered

Owing to the fact that Premier Bowell's medical adviser has absolutely prohibited him from talking, there is a deadlock in the Ottawa Administration. No Cabinet council has been held since the burial of Sir John Thompson, and no council is likely to be held till the Premier recovers. It is impossible to say how long this will If you are a defeated candidate, you be. There are differences of opinion among the Ministers on the question of whether or not it would be wise-in the party interests, not in those of the country. these seem to be in the background-to let the Parliament live out its full term. But the question of whether there should be another session, or an immediate election, cannot be settled till the sick Prime Minister is able to talk. Usually, the time for the meeting of Parliament is settled by this time, and business men who are members of it are able to intelligently arrange their affairs. This year nothing seems to be settled except the uncertainty that exists in regard to what the men in power may do.

> ALDERMANIC QUALIFICATIONS AND COUNCIL VACANCIES.

In some quarters there appears to be a House of Commons have been vacant for disposition to keep fighting the aldermanic elections for some time to come-certain;y not because the citizens generally desire more election fights, but because some men desire something to do.

> Numerous misconceptions of the law have been prevalent; in fact, have been circulated by people who ought to know better. We have already quoted the statute as to the qualifications necessary for an alderman. Here is the section of the Municipal > Act which states who are disqualified: "1. No judge of any court of civil jurisdiction, no jailor or keeper of a house of correction, no sheriff, deputy sheriff, sheriff's bailiff, high bailiff, or chief constable of any city or town, assessor, collector, treasurer or clerk of any municipality, no bailiff of any division court, no county crown attorney, no registrar, no deputy clerk of the crown, no clerk of the county court, no clerk of the peace, no high school trustee, no innkeeper, no saloonkeeper or shopkeeper licensed to sell spirituous liquors by retail, no license commissioner, no inspector of licenses, no police magistrate, and no person having by himself or his partner an interest in any contract with or on behalf of the corporation, and no person who is counsel or solicitor in the prosecution of any claim, action or proceeding against the municipality shall be qualified to be a member of the council of

"2. But no person shall be held to be disqualified from being elected a member of

and no such shareholder on any question affecting the company.'

Then it has been argued that when an alderman-elect has not observed the law in all its technical details, he loses his seat, and the candidate with the next highest number of votes takes it. This is not the law. If an alderman-elect is unseated, it must be by regular legal process. and when a vacancy of any kind occurs, a new election by the people must take place. The section of the act (181) governing this is as follows: "In case no return for one or more wards or polling subdivisions in consequence of non-election owing to interruption by riot or other cause, or in in case a person elected to council neglects or refuses to accept office or to make the necessary declarations of office within the time required, or in case a vacancy occurs in the council caused by resignation, or death, judicial decision or otherwise, the head of the council for the time being, or in case of his obsence or his office being vacant the clerk, or in case of the like absence or vacancy in the office of the clerk, one of the members of the council shall forthwith by warrant under the signature of such head, clerk, or member, if procurable, require the returning officers and deputy returning officers appointed to hold the last election for the municipality, ward and polling subdivisions respectively, or any other persons duly appointed to those offices, to hold a new election to fill the place of the person neglecting or refusing as aforesaid, or to fill the vacancy.

HARTLEY TRIAL AGAIN.

Lawyer Brown, of Norwich, Charged with Tampering with Witnesses.

WOODSTOCK, Jan. 11 .- Mr. Thos, Brown, the well known lawyer of Norwich, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Chief of Police Will and brought to town last night, The charge against him is that he at-tempted to defeat the ends of justice in crown alleges he endeavored to induce the chief witness for the prosecution, Louis Ling, to leave the country. BIG DISAPPOINTMENT. The London curiers who went to Hamilton yesterday to participate in the big bonspiel returned home last night sorely disappointed. The Hamilton Club had made provision on Burlington Bay for over 100 rinks, but the rain and sleet storm was as bad there as in London, and consequently the ice was ruined. A few of the clubs managed to play in the two covered rinks, and some even went to Dundas to play. The London rinks, however, which had drawn to play with two Toronto rinks, did not endeavor to fill the bill. Toronto was represented at the bonspiel with fifteen rinks. Detroit, Chatham, Paris, Thamesville, Brantford and many places from the north had delegates. Woodstock intended to send rinks, but apparently had learned the condition of affairs and withdrew. London's players were:

The animal became restive near the customs house and ran south. When it got opposite the ADVERTISER office a collision with some other vehicles seemed imminent, and Mrs. Carpenter jumped from the fleeting sleigh. It was running close to the east sidewalk and she was thrown against the hard pavement with terrible force. A dozen bystanders rushed to her assistance, but beyond the nervous shock caused by her rapid contact with the sidewalk and some severe bruises. Mrs. Carpenter was practically unhurt. The horse was caught at the crossing a few yards away.

Sent to Jail.

The police magistrate was not in a very lenient mood this morning, and three old offenders who came before him found that the usual excuses were taken at a big discount. Archibald McLellan, Hugh Mc-Gurdy and Peter McFarlane-the first two charged with drunkenness and the last entered as a drunk and disorderly were each fined $5 or twenty days. They do not usually appear in court with $5 bills upon their persons and the trio went down for the twenty days. P. C.s Campbell and Weir arrested George Donnelly last night on the C. P. R. track. A loaded revolver was found on him, and the charge laid was that of carrying unlawful weapons. At the request of the chief Donnelly was remanded for a week. The police are after a gang of which the prisoner is said to be a member.

The audience at Dr. Lockwood's lecture in the Talbot Street Baptist Church last evening was rather small, doubtless owing to the bad weather. The lecture was a continuation of the one given in the Congregation Church on hypnotism. "Hypnotism," said the doctor, "is a mental state attended by physical demonstrations. Often a sudden fright will paralyze a person, as sometimes with hunters when the game appears they will not be able to shoot. This is known among sportsmen as 'buck fever.' In some cases a hypnotist can only control certain muscles. Emotions are catching, as you will notice in church when a person yawns or coughs, nearly everyone will follow suit. There are conceptions of the mind which produce a great many different effects. If you tell a subject that he cannot do a thing he fails to do it no matter how hard he tries. If you tell him to retire from you and after fixing your attention on a spot in the floor tell him to come forward, he will advance only to that spot. This is control of the voluntary muscles. There is also control of the involuntary muscles where there is complete catalepsy of the muscular system. The mental suggestion is the principal part of hypnotism. The thoughts of a person create their impression on his face Mental impressions effect anatomica changes. If you tell a hypnotic that a postage stamp is a blister and place it on his arm a blister will appear. Every man is influenced by someone else. A very big man is influenced by a very small woman. A suggestion of a mouse to a woman will often cause her to go through extraordinary gymnastic exercises upon the furniture, Suggestion will often care disease by impressing the patient that he is cured."

The speaker said that he did not think there was any harm in hypnotism when used properly. The great harm was when the power was used for improper purposes. The doctor placed one of the students at the Medical School under his power yesetc. Buy now before the rush. KEENE terday afternoon and made him perform various things. In 1881, while Burke was president of the Columbus, Hocking Valley and Toledo read, the stockholders voted to issue $8,000,000 worth of bonds for the purpose of extending and double-tracking the road. Instead of following the intention of the issue Burke and the other defendants sold to the railroad the coal and iron from land which they owned in the Hocking Valley for $8,000,000. The present suit is one of a series brought to recover this money. Burke's demurrer to he petition is overruled by Judge Pugh, and Burke is severely scored.

THE GRIP IN NEW YORK.

Not of a Deadly Nature, But Muddy Streets and Bab Weather Favor the Disease.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 .- Dr. Nagle reported two more deaths from pneumonia and bronchitis were due indirectly to the grip. The weather and muddy streets were favorable for the disease.

Sanitary Superintendent Roberts said the grip was previlent, but did not seem of a very deadly "ature.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The Liberals of West Bruce will meet in convention on Friday, Jan. 25, at Kincardine, for the purpose of selecting a candidate for the Rouse of Commons for West Bruce.

Some politicians are desirous of running Sir John Thompson's eldest son, aged 21, for the Antigonish seat, but Sir Chas. H. Tupper is strongly opposed to it. No writ for a new election has yet been issued. Mr. Chisholm, of Halifax, brother-in-law to the late Premier, may be the candidate. The Liberals have a strong man in Mr. McIsaac, the local M. P.P.

BIGAMY AT BROCKVILLE. But Husband No. 1 Was Willing to Sell Out.

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Jan. 10.-Mrs. James Dempster was arrested on a charge of bigamy, and the circumstances of the case are somewhat romantic. The woman's name was formerly Annie Graham and in 1890 she married a man named Dawley, a resident of Malorytown, a few miles west of Brockville. The couple separated after two months' married life. The woman traveled under the name of Dowsley until recently, when she assumed that of MacDonald, and took up her residence in Gananoque. She married a man named Jas. Dempster, of this place, and lived happily with him until a few days age, when her first husband turned up. He threatened to expose the pair unless given a deed of Dempster's larm, and when this was refused, carried his threat out. The woman was arrested and will be heard before a magistrate to-

TRADE IN CANADA

As indicated by Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review.

Some Slight Improvement Here and There, But Quietude Is the Rule.

TORONTO, Jan. 10.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly statement of trade in Canada, says: "In Montreal trade circles there is nothing especially new to note. From all we can glean there are few wholesale houses who can lay claim to having made any sub-stantial addition to surplus, while many consider they have done well if they can The boot and shoe factories are again getting under easy way, hut no free buying f leather is being done. In drygoods some fair orders for spring goods are reported, but travelers have barely got fairly to work yet in the country. Payments good on Jan. 4 for domestic goods sold three months, Oct. 1, 1894, were pretty well met, but general remittances are not encouraging.

In the greecy line there have been some good sales of teas to jobbers at firm prices, and also a good many inquiries from Toronto and western points, but the general run of goods remains quiet. Manufacturers are working ahead, but on the whole trade as yet shows little recovery from the holiday dullness.

IN TORONTO. The only apparent stimulus to trade at Toronto this week has been the cold weather. The orders from the travelers show some improvement, particularly in heavy drygoods. An important factor in the situation is that stocks of general merchandise throughout the country are probably lower than for many years. Another feature that will tend to bring about a more satisfactory state of things is the rigid economy that has forced itself upon the people the past two years.

The hide market continues very strong, with leather a trifle stifler in sympathy. On the other hand, the prices of sugars are lower owing to the competition with German importations. These sugars are inferior to Canadian granulated, but they sell at about 1 cent lower, which is an inducement these times.

Payments are said to be better in some instances, while many wholesale dealers say that there has been an increase in the number asking renewals.

The grain trade is without special feature. The movement is limited, and prices continue about the same.

The importation of some twenty cars of Minneapolis flour made from hard spring wheat, it was thought, would have a depressing effect on prices of Manitoba wheat, but as yet Manitobas rule firm, and perhaps are a shade higher than a week ago. The number of failures for the week is 54, as against 57 for the corresponding week of last year.

GREENWICH TIME GOES,

And Thus a Mamilton Hotel Keeper Gets Out of a Hole.

HAMILTON, Jan. 10 .- Edward Gordon, hotel keeper, was fined $20 by the police magistrate some days ago on a charge of selling liquor during prohibited hours. Counsei on behalf of Gordon appealed on the ground that solar time and not standard time should govern, and in that case Gordon was within the law.

Judge Muir gave his decision today. quashing the conviction, on the ground that Greenwich time, which is nineteen minutes slower than the standard time, was the legal time to be considered.

THE CHIEF CAME BACK.

Hugh McKinnon Returns to Hamilton -Declines to Explain His Al sence.

Hamilton, Jan. 10 .- Chief of Police Hugh McKinnon returned to the city from Toronto last night and has remained in his room at the Royal Hotel all day. He refused to be interviewed in regard to his continued absence and the rumors concerning his doings in the Queen City. The police commissioners met today to take up the chief's case, but the latter pleaded sickness and failed to attend, so the meeting was postponed.

A Perplexing Question. Mrs. Gruff-What might be the matter, Mrs. McDuffer? Sure and ye look mighty puzzled. Mrs. McDuffer-And I am that, Mrs. Gruff. I want to buy a quarter of a pound or ay and a new buther dish, and by this and by that I don't know whether to buy my tay at the shop where they give away the buther dishes, or to purchase my buther dish at the shop where they give away the tay.-Half-Holiday.

A Great Big Swear. Dicky Dogood-Did you swear off any great evil this year?

Charley Poorpeigh-Indeed I did. I swore off being in debt. Dicky Dogood-That was well. How did you do it? Charley Poorpeigh-Took an oath in supplementary proceedings that I had not a cent in the world.

Something Long Desired. Women have been waiting for something which would hold their hats on in lieu of the spiking pin. This seems to have arrived in a little English invention, which is an ingenious arrangement of two curved pins that, sewed into the back of the hat, grip the hair in a way that defies any wind to loosen.

Divorce in England, In the last year for which the judicial statistics are made up (and only now published)-the year ending October 31, 1893-there were 387 decrees absolute for dissolution of marriage and 393 cases in which decree nisi was pronounced .-London Daily News.

MILKMAIDS WEARING TROUSERS.

Novel and Serviceable Costume Adopted in a Big West Prussia Establishment. Orders were recently issued by the owners of the great Elbing dairies in West Prussia that all the milkmaids should adopt some costume which would be warm, useful and becoming at the same time. The managers had been considering the matter for some time, and this fact was known to the 300 female employes, but when the order came consternation spread anew all over the vast establishment. Consultation followed, and in a short time a costume was devised and adopted, with the result that universal satisfaction has ensued. The milkmaids could not now be induced to return to long skirts and discomfort as of yore. The skirts for-

WEST PRUSSIA MILKMAIDS' NEW COSTUME. merly worn were continuously proving a hindrance to the work. Indeed on many occassions they were often a dangerous adornment, for once in a while an unruly cow would step on the skirt and upset milk and milker at once. The costume adopted looks somewhat similar to the "advanced" bicycling and fencing dress worn by women. It is of blue and white striped linen for summer, wear and of flannel in similar colors for winter. The girls wear no corsets, and the modern hygienic principle of combining warmth with the smallest possible weight in woman's dress is well exemplified. Nothing hinders the free use of their arms and legs. They may sit down, rise and bend over their work without adjusting their clothes and also without experiencing any discomfort. The loose-fitting waistband serves to hold up the stockings by suspenders. To distinguish between the different grades of employes, the milkmaids wear white caps, the pupils white caps with black velvet bands, and the dairy teachers caps with silver lace, for not only the employes, but also the apprentices, among whom are daughters of well-todo farmers and ladies of the landed nobility, must don the new costume. Since its adoption the milkmaids have found no difficulty in dealing with refractory animals, and as the Elbing is the largest dairy establishment in the country, the expectation is that others will soon follow suit by discarding long skirts. The Latest Fad. One of the caprices of the woman who s able to indulge her fancies is poultry farming. It is said to be an expensive amusement, but that does not matter. Mrs. Robert Garrett has just built a poultry establishment at Uplands, her country place, which has cost over $8,-000. The poultry house is a beautiful structure, 250 feet long, adorned with towers and turrets, provided with a reception room and a library containing books on hen culture.

A Toilet Hint. A rubber flesh brush is the next best thing to a masseuse. A thorough rubbing of the face and neck twice a day with it is almost equal to a facial massage. It does not irritate the skin as a bristle brush does, and it does exercise every particle of flesh and stimulate the nerves so that the face loses the strained look which one set of tired muscles and another of unexercised ones

EDUCATING CHILDREN. A POTENT POINT TO GET THE VERY BEST RESULTS. In Reasoning With the Little Ones the Question of the Purity of Their Motives is Too Often Forgotten-Some Excel-

It is most important in reasoning with children that only the best motives for conduct should be given them, and never inferior or wrong ones. A conscientious child will often make mistakes and do the wrong thing, while he has the most sincere and unselfish desire to do the right one. Such actions in such children should not be actions in such children should not be scolded or condemned too harshly. For They are Beautiful Goods it is the motive that most matters. So long as the intention be right the action may be amended, and the child learn from his error to avoid it in future.

The difference between the motive and the action, and their interdependence are not often enough explained to children. It is more possible for a child to understand the distinction than people usually think. If, as might easily be done, the teacher would put the idea into simple and familiar words, most children could grasp it, and learn to be their own guides in future, and that is what all child teaching should tend toward, or it is teaching thrown away.

Children quickly appreciate high motives. To urge your boy to do right because it is brave to do so, or because it is honorable, or because it is true, is to speak to him in a language which he can understand as well as you. And to know only such motives tends to make him the truthful, brave or honorable boy you wish him to be.

On the other hand, to habitually incite him to goodness because of the candy which comes to good boys or the punishment which awaits bad ones, is to create in him only the motives of greed and fear, These incentives are not only demoralizing to the character of the child, but the force of them is weakened as the boy grows older.

Again, it is a mistake to appeal to the "outside" motives with children, such as acting for the sake of appearance or because someone is watching: "Be a good child, for uncle is looking at you;" "Don't be rude to your sister or misbehave at the table while company is here;" "How ugly it looks for a little girl to be disobedient or unkind!" "See how pretty it is to be amiable or generous!" "People always admire a gentle little girl." Such phrases surely do not show a child the best reasons why safe place, and yet conveniently at he should do right. Children do under- hand the moment one is wanted. Nails stand and appreciate better ones. And children have a right to the best. They have a right to as good motives as those we try to live up to ourselves .- Harper's | closet at the head of the bench, or, if Bazar.

Milk in the Sick Room.

When a milk diet is prescribed for one who has an acid stomach, it is often best to add a little lime water to it. Lime water is made by turning two quarts of hot water over a piece of unis slacked, stir and let stand over night. In the morning pour off as much liquid as is clear and bottle it. To half a pint of milk add a teaspoonful of lime water. Lime-water tablets ready for use are to be found at most pharmacies. Albumenized milk is made by putting the whites of two eggs in a glass jar with one pint of milk, and shaking them thoroughly.

How to Make Meat Croquettes. For six persons, have about one pint of finely chopped cooked meat. Add one tablespoonful each of flour and salt; three of butter; one teaspoonful of pepper; one half pint of water. Make a thickening of the flour, water and butter, and heat to a boil, then add the meat to which the seasoning has been added. Cook a few minutes, then remove from the fire. When cool, shape with hands into cylinders or balls. Dip each one into beaten egg, then roll in fine bread crumbs, being careful to see that every part is coated. Fry in deep fat, arrange on a napkin and serve at ican Agriculturist. How to Mail a Postage Stamp. How many people know how to mail a stamp in a letter? Nine people out of ten stick it so carefully down that the slacked lime an inch square. When it recipient always loses his temper, and generally the stamp, in the effort to release it. It is really more exasperating than when the sender forgets altogether the stamp he should have in closed, for then, at least, it is not wasted. Even the most extravagant of us seldom have souls above saving a stamp, for it is, strangely, far dearer to us than the 3 cents it represents. The tenth person sends it loose, which is well enough, providing it does not slip out unseen and vanish, as these totally depraved small things have a habit of doing. The proper way is a very simple one. Cut with a sharp penknife two parallel slits at the top of your letter and slip in your stamps, which will thus travel a safely as if in a special paper case Perhaps you have been in a country village where money orders and posta notes are unknown, and for some reason it becomes necessary to send change in a letter. Their eyes met. Each understood the other as exactly as though a host of words had been spoken. She would have one man for a husband, and only one—if he would Richard went nearer. His lips were Michard went nearer. His lips were pale, his tones husky with emotion.

"Mary, it would be most unsuitable. Think of your money: your birth. I told you once before not to tempt me. Why, you know—you know that I have loved you all along, too well for my own peace. In the old days when those works of ours"—pointing to the distant chimneys—"were of note, and we were wealthy. I allowed of note, and we were wealthy. I allowed myself to cherish dreams that I should be ashamed to confess to now; but that's all over and done with. It would never do

She blushed and smiled; and turned her head away from him to study the opposite hedge while she spoke.

"For my part, I think there never was anything so suitable since the world was

"Mary, I cannot." 'If you will please get off my basketchaise, sir, I'll drive on."
But he did not stir. Miss Dallory played with the reins again.

"Mary, how can I?
it would be different. I cannot live at Dal-lory Hall."

"No one else ever shall." But Richard had to bend to catch the whisper.

"The community would cry shame upon me. Upon that poor working man, Richard

"How dare you call yourself names, Mr. Richard? You are a gentleman."
"What would John and Francis say?"

"What they pleased. Francis likes you petter than any one in the world; better than—well, yes, sir—better even than I He had taken one of her hands now. She knew, she had known a long while, how it was with him—that he loved her passionately, but would never, under his altered cir-cumstances, tell her so. And, moreover, she knew that he was aware she knew it. "But Mary, since—since before you re-turned from Switzerland up to this hour, I have not dared to think the old hopes could be carried out, even in my "You think it better that I should grow into an old maid, and you into an old bachelor. Very well. Thank you. Perhaps we shall both be happier for it. Let me drive on, Mr. Richard."

He drew nearer to her; made her turn to him. The great love of his heart shone in his face and eyes. A face of emotion then. She dropped the reins, regardless of what the rough pony might do, and put her other hand upon his

"Oh, Richard, don't let us carry on the farce any longer! We have been playing it all these months and years. Let us at least be honest with each other; and then, if you deside for the partition when it must be decide for separation, why-it must be

But, as it seemed, Richard did not mean to decide for it. He glanced round to make sure that no one was in the lonely road; and, drawing her face to his, left some strangely

"I could not give up my works, Mary."
"No one asked you to do so, sir.".
"It is just as though I had left the furniture in the Hall for the purpose."
"Perhaps you did."
"Mary?"

"Marv? "There's the pony going. Stand still, Gyp. I won't give up Gyp, mind, Richard. I know he is frightfully ragged and ugly, and that you despise; him but I won't give him up. He can be the set off bargain against your works sir."

against your works, sir."

"Agreed," answered Richard, laughing.
And he sealed the bargain.

Mary said again that she must drive on; and did not. How long they would really have stayed there it was impossible to say. had not the man come back from the works with the empty wheelbarrow for more

When the next spring came round, Richard North and his wife were established at Dallory Hall. Somewhere about the time of the marriage, there occured a little warfare. Mary, who owned a great amount of accumulated money, wanted Richard to take it into his business. Richard steadily refused. A small amount would be useful to him: that he would take; but no more.

"Richard," she said to him one day, before they had been married a week, "I do think you are more obstinate upon this point than any other. You should hear what Mrs. Gass says about it."

"She says it to me," returned Richard, laughing. "There's not my equal for obstinacy in the world, she tells me."

"And you know it's true, sir."

but the next minute he grew strangely serious. "I cannot give up business, Mary; I have already said so-"I should despise you if you did. Richard," she interrupted. "I have money and gentility—I beg you'll not laugh, sir; you have work, and brains to work with; so we are equally matched. But I wish you would take the money." take the money."

"No," said Richard. "I will never again enter on gigantic operations, and be at the beck and call of the Trades' Union, There's another reason against it—that it would another reason against it—that it would require closer supervision on my part. And as I have now divided duties to attend to, I shall not add to them. I should not choose to neglect my works; I should not choose to neglect my wife."

"A willful man must have his way," quoth

"A willful woman shall have hers in all things excepting when I see that it would not be for her good," rejoined Richard, holding his wife before him by the waist.

"I dare say Ishall!" she saucily answered.
"Is that a bargain, Richard?"
"To be sure it is." And Richard sealed it as he had sealed the other some months before

And so we leave Dallory and its people at peace. Even Jelly was in feather. Jelly, ruling Mr. North indoors, and giving her opinion, unasked, in a free and easy manner opinion, unasked, in a free and easy manner whenever she choose, as to the interests of the garden; an opinion poor Mr. North enjoyed instead of reproved, and grew to look for it. Jelly had taken on another "young man," in the person of Mr. Francis Dallory's head-gardener. He was a staid young Scotchman; very respectful to Jelly, and quite attentive. Mr. Seeley had moved into Dr. Rane's old house, and old Phillis was his household; so that Jelly's neighborly relations with the next door were continued as of old.

On Arthur Bohun there remained the greatest traces of the past. Sir Nash was restored to health; and Arthur, in his unrestored to health; and Arthur, in his unceasing remorse, would sometimes hope that he would marry again; he should almost hate to succeed to the rank and wealth to which he had, in a degree, sacrificed one who had been far dearer to him than life. Arthur's ostensible home was with Sir Nash; but he was fond of coming to Dallory. Ho had stayed twice with Mr. North; and Richard's home, the Hall, would always be epen to him. The most bitter moments of Arthur Bohun's life were those he spent with Sir William Adair; never could he lose the consciousness of having wronged him, of having helped to make him childless. Sir William had grown to love him as a son, but it was only an additional stab to Arthur's aching heart.

And whenever Arthur Bohun came to Dallory, he would pay a visit to a certain white tomb in the churchyard. Choosing a solitary evening for it, after twilight had fallen, and remaining near it for hours, there he indulged his grief. Who can tell how he called upon her?—who can tell how he poured out all the misery of his repent-ant heart, praying to be forgiven? Neither she nor Heaven could answer him in this world. She was gone: gone; all his regret was unavailing to recall her; there re-mained nothing but the marble stone, and

A Wonderful Cure.—Mr. David Smith, Coe Hill, Ont., writes: "For the benefit of others I wish to say a few words about Northrop & Lyman's Vege-TABLE DISCOVERY. About a year ago I took a very severe cough, had a virulent sore on my lips, was bad with dyspepsia, constipation and general debility. I tried almost every conceivable remedy, outwardly and inwardly, to cure the sore but all to no purpose. I had often thought of trying Northrop & Lyman s VEGETABLE DISCOVERY, so I got a bottle and when I had ased about one half the sore showed evident signs of healing. By the time that bottle was done it had about disappeared and my general health was improving fast. I was always of a very bilious habit and had used quinine and lemon juice with very little affect. -"I dare say," remarked Mr. Billtops, "that some time somebody will make a fortune by inventing something that will enable us to get a straight part in our hair the first time. Everybody knows that often though we try and try again the part still looks more like a zigzag streak of lightning than a straight part, and we lose much time in this way, and sometimes we lose our temper. What a blessing the hair parter will be, a simple and inexpensive contrivance that will need to be passed over the head but once, giving a straight part every time." -At a largely-attended meeting of the entertainment and excursion committee of London Council, No. 75, Canadian Order offChosen Friends, held last evening, Friend Richard Galpin was elected chairman; Friend R. When the business of No. 2 committee of the Board of Education was concluded last evening Trustee Greenlees moved Trustee Anderson into the chair, and said: 'We have had a year of No. 2 committee, and I must say that we have worked very harmoniously together, owing, in a great measure, to the courtesy and urbanity of our worthy chairman, Mr. Dan Blackwell. I have, therefore, much pleasure in stating my appreciation of the work done by him on this committee, and I would move that we tender him a vote of thanks for his ability, and for his courtesy, and for his kindness and attention to the work." "I have much pleasure in seconding the motion," said Trustee Logan. "I was at the meeting the night that Mr. Blackwell was placed in the honorable position of an of the committee. I think I nominated him myself, knowing that he was a good fellow before that, as he has since proved himself to be in every sense.'

Mr. Anderson briefly conveyed the vote to Mr. Blackwell, who responded, saying: "I am sure it affords me a great deal of pleasure to find that what little I have done on No. 2 committee has been appreci ated by my colleagues. What I have done was performed out of a feeling of duty. I has been a pleasure for me to work with such men as we have on our committee. I takes considerable time of each ope of us to attend to the important duties that devolve on No. 2 committee, and what success this committee has met with through the year-I say it candidly-has been the success of my fellow members. Mr. Blackwell concluded by thanking his fellows for their hearty support and for their vote of thanks. He would always remember it. The motion carried amid applause. Arrangements were made to make some miner alterations and repairs at the Colborne and Aberdeen schools. The members present were: Blackwell (chairman), Anderson, Logan, Martin, Johnson, Greenlees and Clerk McElheran,

UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT.

Another year in our history has just closed. It is three years since this business was established, which was predictea could not last a year. Every year has been greater than the preceding one. The pace we have advanced at has been very rapid. Until last year our business was just two and a half times as great as the first year. The reputation we enjoy is marvelous when we take into consideration the number of "fairy tales" told by other stores to lead you away from buying here. Could we only have an opportunity to hear the praises we receive for selling cheap we would require a volume to print them. We constantly hear customers talking in our stores that they have saved so much on what they have purchased here, and also of the good qualities of the goods we have sold them, that we feel like public benefactors and we are proud that we are in this business, but satisfied that you appreciate our efforts to please you with goods bought away below the regular prices, which only men who buy for cash can do.

WITH THE 4th YEAR

In this business. New blood has been introduced into the management and we will start now on a new basis. The business has been divided into departments and thoroughly organized on the most modern plan of running a large business—the whole forming one vast business machinery, which will go on like clock-work. It is our intention to lead in the race and not be content with simply keeping abreast with the times. The rules as laid down are few, but to the point, namely:

FIRST-Cash is our motto and one price to all.

SECONDLY—All goods marked in plain figures.

THIRDLY-Any goods which are not satisfactory will be cheerfully exchanged for anything in any other department.

FOURTHLY-On no account will we allow misrepresentation; and FIFTHLY—Pressing a customer to buy is strictly forbidden. Our clerks' duty is simply to show the goods and quote the price, and we will do our best on all occasions to please,

In conclusion we cordially invite the public to make our stores their rendezvous—to meet their friends here—to look through our stock, to compare and examine our goods, ana we will do our utmost to make everybody jeel quite at home.
