Boom at Goderich Factories Expand

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Goderich, Oct. 7.—The Thirty-third Military Band, which is comprised mostly of the employees of the Goderich Organ Company, Limited, serenaded Mr. Alex. Saunders, the manager, on their success in carrying the bylaw for a fixed taxation of $20,000.
Mr. Saunders is now preparing to erect a large addition to his factory at once, and expects to increase his staff of employees by fifty skilled laborers to enable him to keep pace with his rapidly-growing business.
The new Goderich cannery factory owned by Mr. D. F. Hamlink is now in operation. A number of girls and boys are employed at present canning tomatoes. Mr. Hamlink, having a large farm, has produced a large quantity of tomatoes in 1913 year himself. He has also 20 acres of peach orchard, besides large orchards of other varieties of fruit, which supply his evaporator. The crop of apples in this vicinity is very scarce this year, and prices are high.

Lamp Upset and Mattress Took Fire

Ingersoll Blaze Was Soon Put Out by Brigade.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ingersoll, Oct. 8.—The fire alarm was sounded yesterday, when a mattress which was accidentally set on fire created excitement in the home of Mr. Richard Waugh, Norsworthy Block. The family were preparing to move. A lighted lamp in one of the rooms was overturned, with the result that the oil was quickly ablaze on a mattress. The fire was quickly extinguished with no damage other than that to the mattress.
At a meeting of the executive of the South Oxford Conservative Association held yesterday afternoon at the Ingersoll Inn, Mr. John Law, Tillsonburg, was appointed secretary to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. L. B. C. Livingston. Mr. Livingston was recently given a judgeship. It is the intention to hold a convention in November for the selection of a candidate to contest South Oxford for the Legislature.
Keen interest is being manifested in the opening meeting of the Canadian Club, which will be held on Thursday evening, Mr. George R. Pattullo, of Woodstock, who will be the speaker of the evening is well known here, and his reputation as a speaker will doubtless bring out a large crowd.

OPIMUM SMUGGLING

Robert Donaldson Ordered to Pay a Fine of $200.

[Canadian Press.]
San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 7.—Robert Donaldson, former superintendent of navigation for the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, lost his appeal yesterday in the United States circuit court of appeals, and must serve 12 months in the Alameda county jail and pay a fine of $200, for smuggling opium. Donaldson was convicted a year ago on a charge of conspiracy to smuggle the drug into the United States.

AMUSEMENTS

My Heart.
The attraction tomorrow night is "Peg o' My Heart," a comedy in three acts, by J. Hartley Manners, which is recorded as one of the greatest successes of New York.

Saturday Night says: "Peg o' My Heart" won her way into the hearts of a capacity audience at the Royal Alexandra within a few minutes after the curtain went up on Monday evening, and before the happy finale, even the most blasé first-nighter was entirely enraptured and thoroughly rejoicing in the good fortune that ultimately came to her. Not that the play would not go without Elaine Ryan, but it would be difficult to find a comedienne that would carry off the part with such charming piquancy. Her winsome elfishness renders "Peg o' My Heart" a real living personality to everyone in the audience, while the subtle changes in her modes of sunshine and shadow compel a perfect sympathy that shifts with every whim that possesses her. She is entirely delightful, and with a play that is remarkably wholesome comedy from start to finish, without a jarring note, it is little wonder that the audience was wholly captivated. Seats on sale.

"Brewster's Millions."

"Brewster's Millions" will be the attraction at the Grand Friday and Saturday evenings and Saturday matinee at popular prices. Louis Nilsen will be seen in the role of "Monty" Brewster, the young man who is committed to the task of getting rid of a million dollars, hampered with a lot of conditions as to expenditure, and rendering his squandering a difficult, albeit, an amusing task. "Brewster's Millions" is a ripping flow of delicious and wholesome comedy from curtain to curtain, throughout its four acts. The supporting company is headed by Miss Katherine Francis, as Peggy Gray, and includes Earl Christie, Jack Murray, Will Lyons, Frank Backus, James Morey, Tom Springer, Emily Burke, Mabel E. Ryan, Beulah Leighton. Seats on sale.

The Eminent English Actor, Cyril Maude.

This morning the regular advance sale of seats for the engagements of Cyril Maude, commencing next Monday evening, Oct. 13, will begin at the Grand Opera House. Mr. Maude has elected to commence his American tour with "The Maude Playhouse" where it ran for over three hundred nights at Mr. Maude's own theatre, the Playhouse. "The Second in Command" will be played Monday night. Tuesday evening Mr. Maude will put on "Toldies," which was also originally done by him at his own playhouse in London, and which Capt. Marshall, author of the piece, declared that in the role of Major Bingham, Mr. Maude was "positively ideal." Mr. Maude has brought with him from London the full scenic and costume equipment for all his productions, and his engagement in this city both in a theatrical sense and considered socially will be one of the main events of the current season.

Miss J. Swanton Died at Muirkirk

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Muirkirk, Oct. 8.—The funeral of Miss Jessie Swanton took place yesterday and was largely attended. Deceased had been ailing for some time and had recently gone to London for treatment. She appeared to be improving until Friday last, when she suddenly became worse and passed away. She was in her 16th year and was the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Swanton. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Edwards, and interment was made in the Goshen Cemetery.
Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Templeman, of London, are spending a few days with friends here.
A large number from this vicinity attended the Baptist meeting at Lobo.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE

Dope Fiend Check Artist At Broken Glass in Jail.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Windsor, Oct. 8.—Jas. J. Murray, the Belleville man convicted last week of passing a bad check on the Hotel Dieu here, is being closely watched in Sandwich jail lest he commit suicide. The jail officials are authority for the statement that Murray has made two efforts to end his life since his incarceration, once by eating broken glass and again by hanging. The man is a drug fiend. He will be sentenced Friday.

MAY NOT RECOVER

Michigan Central Man Was Run Over by Shunted Car.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
St. Thomas, Oct. 7.—Gilbert North, a M. C. R. car repairer of St. Thomas, was seriously injured last night, when a car he was working under was struck by a shunted car, knocking away the steel jacks and allowing the car to slide over him. He lies at the hospital suffering from internal injuries, with little hope of recovery.

BRAKEMAN HURT

Harry Cole Had His Leg Broken by a Lumber Pile Falling.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
St. Thomas, Oct. 7.—Harry Cole, a Wabash brakeman of this city, was brought to the hospital here today from Simcoe, with a badly fractured leg. Cole was standing on a car loaded with lumber, while his train was being switched at Simcoe, when a portion of the lumber shifted and fell on him, crushing his leg.

BROKE JAIL

Peter Miller Was Sent to Help Unload Coal.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
St. Thomas, Oct. 7.—Peter Miller, a young man, aged 24, who was awaiting trial at the Elgin county jail on a charge of theft, escaped from the jail today, and was last heard of at Middlemarch. Men were filling the jailer's cellar with coal for the winter, and Miller was sent down to help. The coalmen left the cellar window open and the prisoner quietly slipped away.

Novelty Coats and Wraps for All Occasions

Coats and Wraps continue in their ways of simple line and sumptuous fabric, with trimmings frequently dyed to self tone, and in some cases in striking contrast as their most evident garniture. And even in anticipation of cooler days, seekers after novelties are keeping to their becoming lengths that permit the escape of a flattering few inches of the gown beneath. Wraps, when draped at all, are draped simply. Broche effects are evident in wraps; sleeves continue somewhat after the 1830 styles. Afternoon wraps are frequently of soft cloths. Coats are variously mottled. Rough or shaggy wraps are loose, especially as regards the sleeves.

This is an outline of the general trend in the fashions of autumn's wraps and coats, the development of which to greater elegance and the indulgence in more luxurious finish is a matter of personal choice. The magnificent display on second floor this week affords much valuable information in its interpretation of fashions in woman's wearing apparel.

CAR OVER BANK

Many Had Close Call in Accident at Windsor.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Windsor, Oct. 7.—Women fainting and men jumped through the windows when a street railway belt line car, with 54 passengers aboard, jumped the track at Windsor and Sandwich streets near the Grand Trunk embankment last night. At this point the embankment is 30 feet deep, and the passengers were panic-stricken. Only a frail fence divides the tracks from the embankment. No one was seriously injured.

THE RED BUTTON
 A MYSTERY STORY OF NEW YORK
 By WILL IRWIN
 Copyright, The Bobbs-Merrill Company.

"Used to?" echoed Inspector McGee. "Does that mean you've out it?"

"Well, do these clothes and this five-dollar-an-hour message on my poor old face look like I got 'em from sitters at two dollars a throw?" inquired Rosalie Le Grange. "Say, ask me about it, please. I'm dying to tell."

"All right," I asked, "resplendent Martin McGee, a kind of dull fire illuminating his clean-shaven, jowly police countenance."

"Now," said Rosalie Le Grange, "I'm going to astonish you, Marty McGee. I got it from Robert H. Norcross—the railroad king."

McGee's face fell. This mascot of his, this curious good fairy who had skipped in and out of his career, scattering good success, was a kind of an ideal. That she should "work" a doddering millionaire—as Norcross had been in his last years—for the tainted coin of aged folly, was a blow to what idealism an inspector of detectives may hope still to cherish. Rosalie, skilled from youth to catch and interpret the unconsidered expression of the human countenance, read his emotion at once.

"Now," I don't mean at all what you mean, Martin McGee," she said. "Listen. It don't matter what I did, or how I did it—but I saved this Robert H. Norcross from makin' his last dollar. Just a fool out of himself. There's more things get by the police than get to 'em, Martin McGee. Especially in the medium game. Norcross was caught, I tell you. Ever hear of Mrs. Paula Markham?"

"The woman who skipped to Paris after the Warfield affair?" asked McGee. Rosalie nodded.

"And a great medium, too," she said. "But also a great crook. Well, she had Robert Norcross. Rosalie extended one of her creamed-and-polished hands. She closed the fingers gradually into one pink, adorable, tight fist. "Just like that," she said. "He was the right age to be worked by a medium. And think of the stake! The newspapers said when he died that his estate was smaller than anybody thought, but it was seventy-five millions. Mrs. Markham had him—and then, An! I broke that grip. It ain't necessary for me to tell you. Funny thing was I didn't do it for Norcross at all, but just for a little blue-eyed fool of a girl in love. Well, anyhow, when he woke up and realized the narrow shave he had, Mr. Norcross began to investigate. An! found what I'd done. Do you remember," she asked suddenly, "that they probated the Norcross will secretly? Nobody ever knew exactly what he did with his money, except his nephew got most of it."

"I remember," said Inspector McGee. And then, on a sudden burst of laughter, "Good wouldn't the newspapers give a head to get this story you're going to tell?"

"They would," responded Rosalie Le Grange, "and that's why you'll never breathe a word to a soul. But there! I always knew who I could trust—and you're one of 'em. This reason was a codicil or whatever you call it. He left me—in token of service and friendship! It said—an old house he owned over by North River, an' stocks—well, six thousand a year, to make one bite of it."

"Good Lord! He did?" cried Martin McGee.

Rosalie nodded solemnly, but her eyes shone.

"Now, I played that medium game on the square, you understand," she said. "Again and again. I passed up chances to hook just such old dopes as Norcross. My rule was always straight sittings at two dollars a head, an' no extras. I faked 'em, of course, but I heartened 'em up. I handed 'em good advice. I kept silly girls from goin' to the bad. I gave weepy old widows the only real recreation they ever had. An' here, right at the end, comes an honest piece of money so big that I could have played crooked all my life, an' never even got a chance at anything like it. Makes me wonder, she added, "if the goody-goody stuff I used to line out in my inspirational platform talks wasn't true, wouldn't she added, "if I had never a note from the lawyers?"

Inquired Martin McGee. "Didn't they equal?"

"Like stuck pigs!" replied Rosalie, "but they didn't bother me. I was my own

Bad Complexions Are Now Easily Discarded

[From the Beauty Secret.]

Every woman has it in her own hands to possess a beautiful and youthful complexion. No matter how faded or coarse the cuticle, ordinary mercurized wax will actually remove it, and Nature will substitute a skin as soft, clear and lovely as a child's. The action of the wax is not drastic, but gentle and agreeable. Minute particles of sear skin come off day by day, yet no evidence of the treatment is discernible, other than the gradual complexional improvement. One ounce of mercurized wax, procurable at any drug store, suffices for most cases. It is put on at bedtime like cold cream and is taken off in the morning with warm water. It is a certain method of discarding freckles, liver spots, moth patches, blackheads and pimples.

Wrinkles can be treated with benefit by dissolving one ounce powdered saffron in half pint water. Instantaneous results are secured.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

is an absolutely pure distillation of clean, selected grain, carefully malted and so processed as to remove, as far as possible, all injurious elements. It is manufactured for the purpose of supplying the profession and public in general with a reliable tonic and stimulant, and without question is the purest and best. By its salutary effect upon the digestion it enriches the blood and builds body and muscle, and in the prevention and relief of coughs, colds and stomach trouble it has no equal. It makes the old feel young and keeps the young strong and vigorous.

Sold in SEALED BOTTLES ONLY by most dealers and hotels, at $1.25 a large bottle. Our doctors will send you advice and illustrated medical booklet on request. The Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N.Y.

just the way I wanted, because I didn't look out for profits. An! I could take just who I wanted and shut out whoever I didn't want. The thought chirked me a lot. I think I've got a smoking room, and a cosy corner, an' a sun parlor, and there ain't many folks that board get them comforts. So I fixed all the bedrooms with good white and gold beds and adult-sized towels, an' gave them all little fixy touches that made them home-like."

I again Madame Le Grange ran down. She panted softly a moment.

Inspector McGee dropped a heavy An! on his mahogany desk. It would take you to look upon a boarding-house as fun," he chuckled.

"An! I was just ready to begin to look around to advertise when—this happened. The idea struck me as soon as I saw the state of the people in that house. The police would be it under guard. The boarders would be out of a home. So I moved 'em over bodily, all but the one you pinched—the sick little Dago woman from upstairs, an' the two girls, and that funny old Professor Noll. An! I'm even putting up with the landlady—if it was other people's troubles I was look'n' for, I got 'em all right."

Swamp Fire May Prove Dangerous

Fourteen Acres of Mucky Soil Are Smouldering at Wyoming.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Wyoming, Oct. 8.—A small fallow fire, which was set out some time ago on the farm of Mr. John Murray, section 12, township 12 N., range 10 W., has developed into one of considerable dimensions. About fourteen acres of mucky soil are now smouldering and smoking. Uneasiness is felt by the immediate neighbors lest a strong wind fans the fire into something more destructive. A heavy smoke hangs over the community, which is very unpleasant.

No services were held in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning owing to Sacrament being dispensed in the sister church, South Plympton.

The Baptist Church here also was closed on Sunday morning owing to anniversary services in Calvary Baptist Church, Warwick and Plympton town line. A social evening and supper were held the following Monday.

A hay-press is doing considerable work among the farmers. It is at present in Mr. Arly Harper's barn.

CLANDESTINE. Clandestine, Oct. 8.—Mr. and Mrs. J. Hetherley, of London, are visiting Mrs. Morley.

Mr. J. G. Seale, 351 Princess avenue, London, is spending a few days with relatives here.

The Thanksgiving services held in St. James' Church on Sunday were largely attended. Both morning and evening.

Dr. Errol Bice, of Sudbury, spent a couple of days with his parents here this week.

Miss Annie Cobbleick, of Toronto, spent the week-end with her sister, Mrs. Chas. Carter.

The Sunday school rally day held in the Methodist Church on Sunday was very largely attended. Two splendid addresses were given by Rev. Mr. Uren and Mr. Mead.

MISUNDERSTOOD. The burly farmer strode anxiously into the post office.

"Have you got any letters for Mike Howe?" he asked.

The new postmaster looked him up and down.

"Mike Howe?" replied the farmer.

The postmaster turned aside.

"You don't understand," replied the applicant. "Can't you understand plain English? I asked you if you've got any letters for Mike Howe!"

"Well, I haven't," snorted the postmaster. "Neither have I a letter for anybody else's cow! Get out."

Lord Ballynot in Slangland

One afternoon, old chap, I happened to be strolling across the meadow of a public park with a friend. The clouds had been threatening. Don't you know, and now there came thunder and lightning, accompanied by light raindrops. In urging me to seek shelter my friend shouted:

"Say, let's slide for home! It looks like a big grass bath is blowing up, pal. The Big Calcium is hiding in a bunch of eky mud and the Ben Franklin works is wiggling. There, hear it! Jupiter's bowling alley has started rumbling. Lets do a Derby finish for the iron awning. I ain't got my slicker nor a mush to raise up, and I'd hate to have the heaven's down buckets tip over and shrink my glad rags. Come on kid, let's sidestep the drip. My word!

RIDGETOWN BAPTISTS
 HELD BIG CELEBRATION

Many Hearty Congratulations Were Extended to Rev. C. R. Jones.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ridgetown, Oct. 8.—The Baptist Church on Sunday and Monday was the scene of the double celebration of Harvest Thanksgiving and the third anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. C. R. Jones.

Large congregations were present both morning and evening. The minister gave his anniversary message at the morning service. The Harvest Home was emphasized at the evening service. The choir, under the able leadership of Mr. Norman Street and Mr. C. A. Dunkley, organist, rendered special and appropriate anthems. The decorations were very beautiful.

The platform was the centre of attraction. A large central arch, flanked by two side arches, were built of mammoth cannas and green corn stalks interlined with autumn leaves. The central arch was topped with a heavily-laden grape vine, and intertwined with electric lights.

At the base in front of the platform rose a massive bank of flowers, foliage and fruits. The remainder of the building was tastefully arranged with flowers and ferns.

On Monday evening the minister's anniversary was celebrated in a very pleasant manner, with music, readings and addresses. A large audience was present.

The chair was taken by Mr. George Wedger, after brief devotional exercises by Rev. C. R. Jones. The vocalists were Mrs. Ross Elsworth, Misses Grace and William McPherson, Miss Marie Steer and Mr. Geo. Laing, all of whose numbers won hearty applause. Miss Jean S. McDonald and Miss Geo. McPherson so delighted the audience that they were encored.

Excellent addresses of greeting and welcome were given by Mr. J. Hetherley (of town), and J. Deacon, Rev. C. R. Jones spoke a few words in reply to the kind greetings.

Two or three of the hearty movers of a vote of thanks to the readers, vocalists and ministers, and expressed his appreciation of the spirit of union and cooperation that such a gathering showed as existing between the different churches. This motion was enthusiastically carried.

The thank offering at the three services was very generous.

MADE THE BEST OF IT. "Yes," said a smart young man, "I used to be in the insurance business. I once got a man to take out a policy only about a week before he happened to be killed."

"He was a mighty hard chap to land, too. I had to talk to him for nearly six months before I got him."

"I suppose," remarked his friend, "you regretted, after it was all over, that your persuasive powers were so good."

"Well—er—no, I never felt sorry about it. The fact is, I made the best of a bad job by marrying the widow."

Had Itching Piles for 27 Years

OFTEN LAID UP FOR DAYS AT A TIME—A WONDERFUL TRI-BUTE TO DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

Few people were ever more enthusiastic in praising Dr. Chase's Ointment than the writer of this letter. When you read the description of his case you will wonder why.

Mr. John Johnson, Coleman, Alta., writes: "Three years ago I was cured of blind, itching piles of 27 years' standing by using Dr. Chase's Ointment. I used it until the piles had been the only relief I would get from the terrible misery of death."

Often I was laid up for three days at a time, and at other times worked when I should have been in bed.

"Dr. Chase's Ointment is worth sixty dollars a box instead of sixty cents. I am a different man since using it. I am farming all the time, and never miss a day. Words fail to express my gratitude for the cure this ointment made for me. I cannot tell half as much about it as it deserves. Anyone doubting this can write direct to me."

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache Is Sign You Have Been Eating Too Much Meat.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid, which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood, and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels: removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds, and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts: take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life-saver for regular meat-eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure, and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

LONDON, WEDNESDAY, OCT. 8.

LONDON AND THE HARBOR.

The steamer City of Ottawa has arrived at Port Stanley having on board 170 tons of freight for London importers.

The electricificationists pretend to find in the circumstance an argument for their scheme.

But the electricification case is built on the assumption that nothing of the kind can happen if the London and Port Stanley Railway is leased again to a steam railway.

The L. and P. S. R. has been under lease to a steam railway for many years, and the business of the harbor has gone on steadily increasing. It would have increased still more rapidly in the past two or three years coincident with the harbor improvements, if the Pere Marquette had had any certainty that the lease would be renewed.

Even handicapped as the Pere Marquette has been by financial difficulties, it cannot be charged against the company that it tried to discourage lake traffic.

It is open to the city today to put the cost of rehabilitating the L. and P. S. R. upon a railway company, and secure cheap freight and passenger rates to and from the lakeside, and adequate steamship and dock facilities, without the expenditure of a dollar by the city.

As Mayor Graham said a year ago, that would be "a good proposition."

Why spend $700,000 and raise the tax rate?

THE ARGUMENT IN CHATEAUGUAY.

In spinning out the by-elections, the Government has seen fit to begin with Chateauguay. The reason is obvious. Though a Liberal constituency, the late Liberal member only had a majority of 49 at the last election. The Conservative candidate now is a popular local man, while his opponent is a non-resident. That ought to give the Government an advantage, and to secure this riding will, it is supposed, have a good effect in the elections following. So, some strong arguments must be used to make things sure. And the Rogers argument is brought into service.

The Minister of Public Works has secured an appropriation of $20,000 to build a dam in the river. With the promptness noticeable only at election time, the money is being expended in the way to do the most good. The correspondent of the Toronto Telegram, a Conservative paper, says in a recent letter:

"Along comes Hon. Robert Rogers, now minister of public works. Hon. Bob will tackle anything, even Dame Nature. He will dam anything, even the Chateauguay River. So the riding which has been neglected for many years is bound to take notice of the 200 men in rubber boots who at generous pay march up and down the river seeking some way to ward off the springtime floods."

Two hundred men in rubber boots, with "generous pay," will recognize the strength of the arguments for the Government. Other voters interested in the damming of the river, will doubtless think the arguments in favor of the naval contribution very convincing.

Nor are these all the specimens of the arguments to be used. "The Liberal candidate wanted to hire a horse at a local livery. He could not get it. And he found on further inquiry that all the livery stables in the town had been engaged by the Conservatives up till election day, and each proprietor was to receive $500 for the control of his stable."

Doubtless these pecuniary arguments are being fired eloquently all over the riding. If the Liberal candidate succeeds in spite of them it will be rather remarkable. The result would certainly be highly creditable to the electors. Few people are indifferent to arguments of this kind. And if the men of Chateauguay can vote unaffected by corruption, there will be a moral victory more worthy of fame than the victory at arms achieved in the same locality by their ancestors in the war of 1812.

BATTLES LONG AGO.

In this year of battle memories, of Leipzig, the Shannon and the Chesapeake, or Lake Erie, some of the English have been showing a disposition to celebrate the more ancient Flodden Field, just by way of prologue or antidote beforehand to the Scottish rejoicings over Bannockburn that are sure to come next year. Flodden came off in 1513, and Bannockburn in 1314, as we learned at school. Life in these days of centennials is a continuous work of referring to history.

Six hundred years ago Bruce and his archers defeated the much larger English force at Bannockburn, and incidentally taught the Southern enemy how to win Crecy a few years later, by the long-bow. Since then the English have more than once turned the tables on the oatmeal raiders, certainly so on Sept. 9, 1513, when in a convenient open space, just south of the Tweed, 30,000 Scots under their king engaged an English army of 32,000 and the best and bravest never saw home again.

On the Scottish right were the Lowland borderers, on their left the Highlanders under Lennox and Argyll, in the centre the king, James IV., fought on foot amidst the impregnable "ring of spears." While the clansmen on the left were defeated with great slaughter, the Lowlanders won their part of the fray, but threw away victory by turning too soon to pillage. The English were able to concentrate their efforts on the centre, which, though King James fell, stood firm throughout the night. At dawn the Scots made their retreat, leaving 10,000 dead and wounded, and the English victors of a desperate struggle. International honors might now be said to be about even.

Edinburgh was stricken with mourning for her king and her chivalry. We all read in the schoolbooks how Randolph Murray, a lone horseman, brought home the news. Well might Scotland mourn the day, for, as an English bard in the pay of the Stanleys, put it:

"All the lords of their land were left behind.
Breathless they lie, gazing against the moon."

One result of Flodden was a great crop of ballads on both sides of the border, culminating in Scott's magnificent story of the fight in the last canto of "Marmion."

Since 1513 the international championship of Great Britain has been generally settled otherwise than in battle to the death. All along there has been great rivalry of boast in speech and song. In these days football's magnificently stern array recalls the clash of spear and shield. The contests are doubtless more accurately, if less gloriously, reported than of old. The reporters must be careful, for are there not now a thousand spectators to every contestant engaged? Of Flodden the surviving participants were themselves the only authorities to consult. There seemed at any rate to be no doubt anywhere that it was "a glorious victory" for the Red Cross of St. George, though what had the cross properly to do with these old, unhappy, far-off things?

THE LEADER.

The meeting of pro-electricification workers for organization must have felt the irony of Mayor Graham's leadership, and particularly this passage of his speech:

"So far he had heard no arguments presented against the electricification of the London and Port Stanley Railway."

Is it possible the mayor was deaf to his own argument against electricification a year ago? If not, he may read it in the files of his favorite journal. On Sept. 5 last year he expressed the opinion that the scheme was "too big a proposition to handle." He contended, truly enough, that the trunk lines would view it with disfavor, and that without their co-operation the scheme was impracticable, adding:

"If we can make a good arrangement with any of the trunk lines to take this line, and give us a differential freight or lake rate with a cheap fare into London from all points between here and Port Stanley, I think it would be a good proposition."

The man who used this language a year ago requires a good deal of hardihood to tell the public now that he has heard no argument against electricification. Here is another gem from his speech last night:

"The days are past for standpaters. We must be progressive or fall behind in the race."
Perhaps his worship refers to the mayoralty race. On his own showing he was a standpater a year ago. He was notified that if he continued to stand pat, the electricificationists would run a man against him. The mayor became a progressive over night. When he says "we must become progressive" he speaks with a full heart. He had to do it last year, and as he wants a third term, he must do it this year also. And this is the chief of the pro-electricification forces. He is like the French notable who brought up the rear of a Jacobin procession and explained to his friends: "I am their leader; I must follow them."

THE RUNAWAY MINISTER.

When Mr. Crothers ran away from the labor troubles in British Columbia in order to take an educational course in England, he left his law partner, Mr. Price, of St. Thomas, to investigate the difficulties between the miners and their employees.

He did not seem to realize it was his own business to investigate, to suggest remedies, and to bring about peace if he could. He thought it better to give his partner a job.

Now the partner reports; and the report is a justification of Mr. Crothers in doing nothing. Mr. Price says the Minister of Labor was unable to bring the parties together, and could not do any more than he did.

That, of course, justifies the minister in throwing up the task, and setting out of the province as fast as he could.

Mr. Price does not appear to have done anything more satisfactory than Mr. Crothers did, or could have done. It is true he makes some suggestions as to changes in the law. But if Mr. Crothers was unable to do that much, people will naturally ask why he does not get out of the office and have Mr. Price take his place.

The electricification petition is significant for the names that do not appear on it.

Unfortunately there was no way of preventing an emergency contribution to the riding of Chateauguay.

If Mr. Crothers is so fond of a holiday the electors of West Elgin should give him a long one.

Despite the banks, Mr. Rogers can be always relied upon to loosen up the money stringency when a by-election is on.

The electricificationists will have no trouble in getting an organization together if they recruit every man who is looking for a job on the road.

It is not surprising that the great gum-shoe operator in Canadian politics should have a rubber-boot corps of workers in Chateauguay.

Mr. Arthur Hawkes speaks of a Society for the Suppression of Canadian Patriotism, and intimates that the present Canadian Government is the leader of it. Mr. Hawkes ought to know. He helped to put the Government in office.

The Ontario Power Company would make at least $5 a horsepower clear profit on the electrical energy sold to the London and Port Stanley Railway. Yet the electricificationists profess that no corporations are interested in the scheme. What about the big electrical construction companies, too?

The commutation of Gibson's sentence has no legal ground. It is merely a concession to the sentiment arising from capital punishment. The next murderer will have the same right to executive clemency, and will probably secure it if he can present a petition signed by thousands. The Gibson case will be an awkward precedent. The consistent course would be the abolition of capital punishment. The death penalty is increasingly repugnant to the instincts of humanity.

People have fought and suffered and died for love. Men have given their lives for wealth, for power and for fame. Others have sacrificed their health and turned from pleasure for the purpose of aiding in the advancement of science. On the other hand, there are men who have fought and bled and got themselves arrested for fighting over the respective merits of the Giants and Athletics.

CHARITABLE.

[Judge.]
At the funeral services of an elderly lady of Richmond, Va., the following colloquy was overheard between two aged negroes:

"There ain't no use in talkin'," said Moss Barker; "Dick Williams, he was the most charitablest man dis town ever seen."
"I reckon dat's so," said the lady to whom Mr. Barker imparted this information. And he paused as if waiting for evidence on this point.
"Yessuh," continued Mr. Barker, "Dick Williams, he always owned a plug hat, and during my time I ain't never heard that Dick ever refused to lend dat hat to anybody."

Imperative Need of Storm Sewers Seen By City's Engineer

No stronger case for the necessity of the storm sewers than the report of Engineer W. N. Ashplant on the subject could be made out. Without hesitation the city engineer places himself on record as to the imperative necessity of the storm sewers.

In his latest communication to the council on the subject—the communication that preceded the bylaw to submit the question to the electorate, some of the salient features of his findings are:

The utter uselessness of attempting to efficiently carry out urgent extensive city pavement and road construction under the local improvement act, until proper surface water drainage is provided, should commend itself to all interested ratepayers.

The cause of periodic flooding and damage to private and business cellars and property in time of storm is a result of the many street gully connections entering and gorging the main sanitary sewers. There is necessity for these street gullies being disconnected from the sanitary sewers; such disconnection would bring about a cessation of the irritating damage and loss to basement properties above referred to as resulting from present conditions.

The desirability of permanent pavements for all the main arteries of traffic leading to the city centres and where street car tracks exist, is recognized by your honorable council, and I beg to submit that such pavements cannot be economically constructed until the storm sewer problem is settled.

Possibilities of industrial development which accrue to a city so strategically situated as London could not fail to be greatly enhanced by the improvement of drainage facilities in our eastern districts, which would naturally follow the installation of an efficient storm water system as now under consideration.

I therefore beg to recommend:

(a). That your council submit to the ratepayers at an early date a bylaw authorizing the provision of $400,000 for storm sewer purposes.

(b). That this provision be distributed in annual estimates of at least $100,000.

(c). That the execution of the various sections of construction work covering this scheme be entrusted to the city engineer with special regard to the claims in order of precedence.

1. South London, to early relief by the construction of the Wharfedale road and Ridout street arteries.

2. Colborne street, main trunk, to relieve the down-town area.

3. Adelaide street, main trunk, to relieve the Hamilton road area.

BROTHER OF DEFAULTER IS A BRITISH BARON

Col. Harrison Appears to Have Been the Black Sheep of an Aristocratic English Family—Not Likely To Be Pursued by Detectives.

The committee of audit appointed by the London City Council to inquire into the defalcation of Col. Bryce Harrison, secretary of the club, has completed its examination of the books. The sum which the secretary is behind amounts to something over $2,000, but not as much as $3,000.

The secretary was bonded for $1,000, and this will be recovered by the club. There will be a clear loss of $1,000, however, although there has been talk of making the amount up.

Got $1,000 a Year.
The members of the club were greatly surprised to hear that Col. Harrison had decamped. It was out of friendship for him that he was given a position as secretary at $1,000 a year and board—a fair competence for an unmarried man, and the position involved very little work. He had been in the army in India for 29 years, and it was said that he actually held the title of colonel. His experiences had taken him over most parts of the world, and he was the drifting member of an aristocratic family, according to the remarks he let drop from time to time. He claimed to have a brother in England who was a baronet and another who was a clergyman.

A Woman in the Case.

It is said that the colonel got along on his $1,000 a year until he went back to his old falling—the races. It has been whispered that there is a woman in the case.

In all probability he will not be sought for unless the members of the club insist upon it. None of the members are anxious to institute a wide search.

Chairman E. R. Dennis was necessary to decide in favor of having the lists prepared.

On recommendation of the building committee a portable school will be erected in the grounds of the Empress avenue school to relieve the present overcrowding in West London.

The question of who was going to pay the $24 transportation charges incurred by the trip to Toronto of a musketry team representing the London Collegiate Institute afforded another little debate. L. E. Tillson, who advanced the price of the tickets, appeared before the board, asking for reimbursement.

Wants a Report.

On motion of Trustee Teasdale the question was referred to the finance committee. He objected to paying the bill without having a report as to what had been done by the boys.

The report of Col. W. E. Hodgins, D. O. C. and Major W. C. McCrimmon, on the inspection of the Collegiate Cadets, showed the corps to be in excellent shape. "Very good" was the remark made for each department.

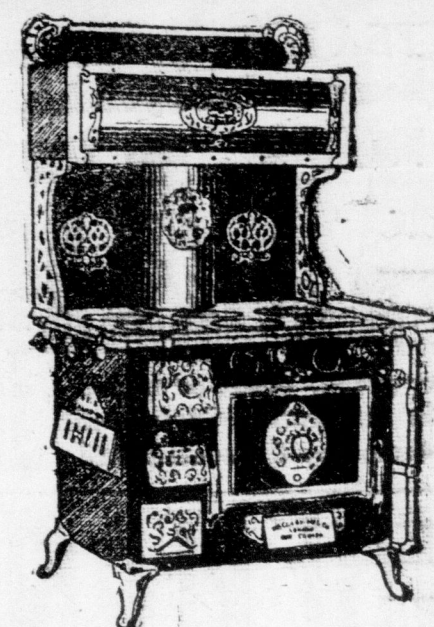

On recommendation of Inspector Ed.

Headaches and Heart Trouble
NERVOUS PROSTRATION OF THREE YEARS STANDING CURED A YEAR AGO BY DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD.

Anyone who knows the discouragement and despair which accompanies the helplessness of nervous prostration will appreciate the gratitude felt by the writer of this letter.

Mrs. H. C. Jones, Scotch Lake, C. B., writes: "I suffered from nervous prostration for nearly three years. I had frequent headaches, had no appetite, and was troubled with my heart. After consulting two doctors, without obtaining satisfactory results, I began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and was completely cured by this treatment. It is nearly a year since I was cured, and I want others to know of this splendid medicine. I now attend to my housework with pleasure and comfort, and am glad to have the opportunity of recommending Dr. Chase's Nerve Food."

At least some benefit is bound to be derived from each dose of this great food cure, as day by day it forms new blood, and builds up the system. 50 cents a box, 8 for $4.00, all dealers, or Edman, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

The Summer and Winter Range

McClary's

"Champion Interchangeable"

THIS range was especially designed and built for you. We considered your wants, the size of your kitchen—then we built the "Champion"—built it as you would have had it built to order.

The best coal range you can buy is a trying, fatiguing necessity in the summer time. You have often said as much. Also, you have thought that even a first-class gas range had its drawbacks in the winter season. Yet, you want both. Therefore, McClary's "Champion"—the famous two in one range—is exactly the range for you.

The original construction of the "Champion" makes it possible for you —to cook and bake with gas.

—to cook and bake with coal
—to cook and bake with wood or —you can cook and bake using gas and coal at the same time.

You can get all the cooking and baking service out of a "Champion" that you could possibly get out of a first-class coal and wood range and a first-class gas range too—simply because McClary's "Champion" is two ranges in one.

Think of the convenience! The "Champion" is a handsome steel range, a cooker and baker unrivaled. During the cold weather it heats up your kitchen, making it cozy and comfortable in the summer, it cooks and bakes with gas without heating up the kitchen—because it is just as serviceable a gas range as it is a coal and wood range. And you can use both fuels, with absolute safety, at the same time.

See McClary's "Champion" before you buy a range. You might as well have two serviceable and durable ranges for about the price of one—the "Champion" is the original two in one range.

SOAP ON HAIR CAUSES DANDRUFF, SCALP GETS DRY, HAIR FALLS OUT

Girls! Get a 25 Cent Bottle and Try a "Danderine Hair Cleanse."

After washing your hair with soap always apply a little Danderine to the scalp to invigorate the hair and prevent dryness. Better still, use soap as sparingly as possible, and instead have a "Danderine Hair Cleanse." Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one strand at a time. This will remove dust, dirt and excessive oil. In a few moments you will be amazed, your hair will not only be clean, but it will be wavy, fluffy and abundant, and possess an incomparable softness and lustre. Besides cleansing and beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff, stimulates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

Men! Ladies! You can surely have lots of charming hair. Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it.

Death Sentence Has Been Commuted
[Canadian Press.]
Ottawa, Oct. 8.—The cabinet has commuted to life imprisonment the sentence of death imposed upon Charles Gibson, the Toronto murderer. The decision was reached yesterday but official announcement was delayed until today pending the return of Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, administrator for the Governor-General, to affix his signature to the commutation. He gave his assent this afternoon.

TWICE DAILY OVER THE ROAD

In the course of an ordinary theatrical season Miss Billie Burke drives her automobile thousands of miles simply for rest and work. Twice daily Miss Burke drives her car to and from New York, where she plays her part, and then hurries home to Hastings-on-the-Hudson. During the rehearsal season the trips greatly multiply. "But one whiff of country air is an ample tip for the driver," says Miss Burke.

PROBLEMS OF THE FAIR SEX SOLVED BY CYNTHIA GREY

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn. No letters can be answered privately.]

Has Ceased Calling.

Dear Cynthia: A young man, whom I met at a summer resort, has been calling on me for several weeks, and has been taking me out automobiling. I introduced him one evening to a girl friend, and after calling at my home twice after that he has ceased calling. This friend says he is paying her attention. What would you advise?

A.—Let him alone until he decides whether he wishes you or your friend. If there is no betrothal between you and the man he is at liberty to pay attention to whom he pleases. Don't let either him or your girl friend see that the occasion is annoying you.

Ants in Room.

Dear Miss Grey: What will rid a room of small ants? CLEAN MAID.
A.—Buy a cent's worth of tartaric emetic at a grocery store, then mix it with a little water and a level teaspoonful of sugar. Place in a saucer and set where the ants are and in a few days they will disappear. This is poisonous, so keep it from the reach of children or pets, as both have a fancy for it on account of its being sweetened.

An Auto Party.

Dear Miss Grey: I am invited to an automobile outing, and we are to be a party of 12 (six couples). The arrangement was that the young ladies are to meet their partners at

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES

MOUNT BRYDGES.

The Mount Brydges Branch of Women's Institute will hold its regular monthly meeting on Thursday afternoon, Oct. 9, at the home of Mrs. J. Lamont, Mount Brydges. The following program will be given: A paper, "How to Keep Young," by Mrs. J. Barnes; a paper, "What to Do When Unexpected Company Comes," by Mrs. J. A. Lamont. Music will be furnished by the institute members. A special invitation is extended to all ladies.

NAPIER.

The Napier Branch of the Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. J. J. Brady on Oct. 1, the president, Mrs. Gardiner, presiding. After the opening exercises, there was a good business meeting, and arrangements made for a concert to be held in the town hall on Thanksgiving evening. There was a demonstration of cake-making. Mrs. Houston's melon cake was very much admired. A poem read by Mrs. Brady, a recitation by Miss Pearson, and an excellent paper by Mrs. Hughes was enjoyed by all. A dainty luncheon was served by the hostess, and all went home, vowing the meeting a great success. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Beers. Visitors welcome.

PETROLEA.

The Women's Institute held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Robert Jackson, Greenfield street, on Thursday. A good attendance was present. After the business part of the program, the members were entertained with conundrums, which resulted in Mrs. Wm. Stonehouse winning a beautiful piece of china for the most correct answers. Dainty refreshments added largely to the sociability and enjoyment of the afternoon.

KATHERINE LESLIE'S HOME CHAT

THE TAILOR AND HIS VICTIM.

The woman who goes to a tailor or dressmaker who is not expert at his calling, is sure to have a misfit or a bungle in some shape or form, and the return of the suit, not once, but many times will be necessary, if the things are to be at all wearable. Also she will learn with astonishment that the trouble with cut or fit is not due to any inefficiency on the part of the tailor. O, not far, far from it! The bugging in the back of madame's coat is entirely due to the fact that madame's back is too narrow for the size of the bust. He will assure madame that which is staggering to madame, for she would have thought that a straight back was easier to fit than a round-shouldered one—she holds herself too straight! At this point, whatever the complacency with which madame has viewed her figure hitherto, it begins to vanish under the tailor's criticism. The sagging on the left shoulder is due to the fact that madame's right shoulder is higher than the left, and, of course, he fitted for the right! If the skirt of the coat does not lap over easily to the buttonholes it is surely madame's hip is so much larger than the other. "O, so much larger, I assure you, madame." If the opening at the lapels gapes like a well on one side, the tailor's work is not at fault. The reason is that madame's "chest" is so high. Few ladies have the high full chest, and the little writhing indicates that a good lung capacity is a deplorable deformity that no tailor could possibly cope with. In vain madame argues that one side of the lapel is fully three inches longer than the other. She is assured that it is a perfectly-measured lapel, and madame begins to think that not only her hitherto considered decent figure is all out of drawing, but one eye must be three inches higher or lower than the other, like a Futurist portrait. With melancholy obstinacy the tailor maintains his points, and before his fixed pride in his work and his unshakable belief that madame is a cripple and a deformity, she also sinks away, fearful lest human eye should fall upon a figure that found a thing of humps and hollows, alien to the normal human frame.

Novel Way To Announce Betrothal

When the pretty girl to whom happiness has come has a host of friends who will rejoice with her it is much more delightful to announce the auspicious event of her engagement at some informal little gathering, when immediate congratulations will be in order, than to let the important news leak out gradually through a whisper in one or two ears. A young couple announced their engagement the other evening in a novel and delightful way. Of course there was a supper—following an informal dance—and the twenty young people present were seated around a long table in the dining-room. From a basket suspended under the chandelier hung twenty pink ribbons, each with a small card attached, and pink roses on the table below. The end of each ribbon was pinned to the tablecloth in front of a plate and the guests were admonished not to touch the ribbons until the word was given. At the signal each ribbon was pulled, and out of the basket fell twenty tiny white envelopes, sealed. Each ribbon was drawn in and the guest holding it opened the envelope attached, discovering inside a card bearing several apparently meaningless letters. The cards were laid on the table in front of their respective possessors and, lo and behold! beginning at a certain point designated by the young hostess, the letters spelled out the momentous news of the engagement. The excitement and congratulations were scarcely over when there was a ring at the doorbell, a uniformed messenger, who delivered a dainty white basket filled with violets and bearing a card addressed to the young lady bride-to-be. In the centre of the violets nestled a violet velvet box and in the box was the shining engagement ring—evidently as much of a surprise to its recipient as to the delighted guests. The ring had not been expected until the morrow.

Autumn Fashions

A currant red serge, trimmed with dark blue satin at the cuffs and revers, is chic and becoming.

A delightful and dainty jabot is of shirred white linen, the edges embroidered in square scallops.

Most hats have a soft, vague look and some decided outstanding flash, which makes them chic.

Ratines are being worn more than ever, and women are actually planning suits of ratine for the fall. Very popular is the normal waist line, with the broad sash, which suggests the upper line of a high attachment.

To outline the natural lines of the head, special attention is paid to bandeaux. They are jeweled and barbaric.

The vest effect must be a feature of the new neckwear. It has been accepted by fashion as a touch worth while.

Gowns of white voile and lace are noticeable among the pretty new costumes. They frequently have tulle of embroidered voiles in colored flower effects.

Three Good Grave Recipes

Grape Frappe.
Heat four pounds of ripe grapes in an earthenware jar that has been placed in front of the fire until the fruit is tender and the skins burst. Then squeeze the grapes and return the juice to a granite saucepan, add to every cupful of the liquid three-quarters of a cupful of the strained juice of an orange and half a cupful of lime syrup. Simmer slowly for five minutes, and when quite cold freeze to the consistency of mush. Now remove the cover, stir in half a pint of whipped cream, and with three drops of mint flavoring and continue freezing until hard and firm. Serve in crystal sherbert cups ornamented with crystallized mint leaves.

Grape Pudding.
Prepare a rice croquette mixture by sweetening plain boiled rice to taste and adding while it is still warm a tablespoonful of butter, the well-beaten egg, a tablespoonful of cream, half a teaspoonful of vanilla extract and a pinch of grated nutmeg. Arrange a layer of this in the bottom of a buttered pudding dish and cover with a slightly thicker layer of seeded grapes; sprinkle this in turn with sugar and continue the layers until the

The Bear and Skroffel AS TOLD BY AUNT GERTIE.

CHAPTER I.

A long time ago, on an early Christmas morning, the great King of Norway made up his mind to send a friendly greeting to the King of Denmark.

"Now, what shall I send?" asked he of his court attendants. "Why not send one of our fine white bears?" asked Norseman Gunter, chief hunter.

"Fine!" answered the King. "But how shall we get the bear to my royal brother's court?"

"That is easy, answered the hunter. 'I will take him there.'"

"Good!" replied the King of Norway. "You shall start tomorrow."

So it happened that, the next morning, Gunter and Master Bruin set off on their journey. All day they traveled over country roads, through dense woods and over lakes, the nearest way to Denmark. But towards evening the wind began to whistle through the trees; the clouds gathered angrily; the road was very rough and Bruin and Gunter grew very, very tired.

"Where should they spend the wintry night?"

While they considered this important question a woodsman appeared on the road. Right away Gunter approached him, asking for a night's lodging.

"No," said the woodsman, "my wife would be frightened to death if that big bear were to stay in our home over night."

"But I'll tell you what. You may go over to the cottage on the other side of the hill and stay there all night."

"All right," said the hunter. "Who lives there?"

"No one," replied the woodsman, "except a spiteful pigmy, who blew in one midnight a few months ago with the storm. He simply took possession of the house and there was no end to his monkey tricks. When the linen was hung out to dry he cut the line, when he went to get a cup of ale for himself, he left the tap running, and when the fowls were locked up for the night he fastened the door and let them run out. Finally we had to move out and leave him in entire control of affairs!"

"So now, if you care to take a chance and stay all night in the same house with this queer gnome, you are welcome. I shouldn't wonder if that great bear could frighten him away."

"Um!" said the hunter. "If that is the best you can do, I suppose I better accept the offer rather than stay out in this awful weather all night. Good-day!"

The woodsman bid them good-night and good luck, and disappeared over the hill.

The hunter and Bruin turned their steps toward the haunted cottage down under the lee of the hill.

It was dark! It was cold! It was dreary and spooky! The cottage looked like a very lonely place to stay all night. But in walked Bruin and the hunter.

What do you think happened then? (To Be Continued.)

The Ideal by Berton Braley

She firmly declared that the man she should marry
Must wholly conform to a certain ideal.
He mustn't be homely, like Tom, Dick and Harry,
But handsome and noble, with muscles like steel;
He must have an intellect masterly, splendid,
Ambition and power and honor and fame,
With knowledge and humor delightfully blended—
And other requirements too many to name.

She married a chap who was dull as you find 'em,
And homely, besides, as an unpainted fence;
The wise ones had long ago left him behind 'em;
His lack of ambition was something intense;
His humor was minus and, as for his knowledge,
He hadn't enough to come in when it rains;
His father had wanted to send him to college,
But found—to his grief—that he hadn't the brains.

Yet she doesn't think she has been inconsistent;
She truly believes he is all that she thought;
She clothes him with charms that are quite non-existent
And dreams him the wonderful man that she thought;
We notice her choice and we chuckle and chortle
And wonder how such a poor dub could appeal,
But she takes that commonplace, every-day mortal
And firmly believes she has found her Ideal!

ATHLETICS HAD THE "PUNCH" AND WON
FIRST GAME OF BIG SERIES FROM GIANTSTerrific Cannonading of Connie Mack's
Sluggers Drove Marquard and Crandall
Off Mound in First Seven Innings.BAKER'S HOMERUN WITH COLLINS ON SECOND SHATTERED GIANTS' HOPESBender Pitched the Entire Game for Athletics and Kept the Giants' Hits More Scattered—
Collins and Schang Star.

New York, Oct. 7.—They told before the series started what a great pitching staff McGraw had gathered together.

It is a wonderful staff, numerically it is strong and individually the men are large, handsome and probably of good moral character, though the latter is by no means a requisite in New York. The only real trouble with this magnificent collection of mound artists is that they cannot pitch, or at least they weren't working at the trade this afternoon.

There was little really new or unusual about this particular game of ball. The Athletics had one of their good betting days and that means that the Athletics are not concerned with the result, but with the size of the American League's victory. It happened to read 6 to 4 on this occasion, and the Athletics ought to have made more runs, while the Giants needed a lot of luck to get as many as they did.

ATTEND TO MARQUARD.
"Rube" Marquard, the man of all others who was expected to stop Mack's left-hand batters, which the experts told us were his whole attack, started for New York. He did not finish. The southpaw had everything in his favor, but for the day was cold and dark and dreary, as Mr. Longfellow said, though not exactly in this connection, as the poor fellow died too early to be signed by a New York paper to cover the series.

This is how Mr. Marquard, with all his speed and his curve ball, halted the left-hand batters against whom he was supposed to be fatal.

Mr. Collins made two hits, one a triple, walked once, stole a base, and scored three runs; Mr. Baker was less lucky, as they did manage to put him out once. In spite of the discouraging start, however, Frank contrived to make himself fairly objectionable to New York and all its sympathizers, for he hit home one tally with a single and another with a well-placed punt, the ball on this latter occasion going into the grand stand five-eighths of a mile from the plate by actual measurement. Mr. Collins happened to be on base at the time of this rather unkind action on his compatriot's part. After Marquard had been derailed by McGraw, at the command of the humane society, Baker did other things to make the home fans feel that murder is justifiable under certain circumstances. But we'll tell about that later.

Mack's Fatal Mistake.
Much has been told of McGraw's strategy, yet today he made a fatal blunder, when, in the third inning, he allowed his men to score a run. Up to this time the Athletics had been more or less tame, merely growling and showing their teeth occasionally. When the jubilant scoreboard boy hung up that single tally, however, the Macks went mad. The very first man up after New York broke the ice poked out a triple. Then divers other persons with apparent malice aforethought proceeded to whack the ball to places more or less uncovered. The net result was three runs, putting the Macks ahead, where they stuck.

Now, it is apparent to the simplest intelligence that if the Giants hadn't scored the Macks would have become violent, and New York might have secured a tie, which isn't so bad against the Philadelphia. In fact, a good draw with Connie's club does not impair any one's claim to the title.

In the next inning, after the three-run outrage, Collins got on with a couple of men out, stole a second and walked home leading a broad grin by the hand when Baker heaved a freakish trajectory, as it was travelling something faster than two miles a second, and had just begun to rise when Schang gumbled things that "Tillie" seemed to think that he had pulled off something in knocking it down at all, for it was headed directly toward Fire Island, and would have been in England in half an hour if not molested.

There was no question about any of the other blows obtained by the Philadelphia gunmen. Especially was all chance for an argument removed when Baker pushed that one into the grand. This hit was considerably longer than the one he fired two years ago off Mathewson, and while not the hardest hit ball ever seen, will rank well up among this year's crop of love-taps.

New York, on the other hand, profited by several happy breaks in the luck, its first run being due to Barry's momentary fumble of a slow roller from Fletcher's bat with a possible chance for a play by clean handling of the ball. Fletcher was given credit for a safety, and deserved it, as Barry would have made a very sensational killing had he thrown him out.

It was an ideal day for a fast ball pitcher. What the real literary persons who are writing for the papers will describe as "lowering clouds" hung over the field all day, and toward the finish of the game, in fact, from the sixth inning on, it was very hard to keep track of the ball. At least everybody except Collins and Baker found it so. These men hit equally well in the light or dark, and are especially dangerous after the shades of night have fallen.

New York appeared really dangerous in the seventh, two men hitting the ball on the nose with only one out. But McGraw forgot to tell Fletcher what to do when he went up in the pinch, and Fletcher, Giant-like, did the wrong thing when his borrowed brains didn't advise him, going after the first ball and hitting into a double play that killed the rally. This double-play, it might be mentioned in passing, convinced many persons that Connie Mack's infield isn't exactly a handicap to him. In fact, Messrs. Barry and Collins looked decidedly like an asset at this spot in the game.

At least everybody except Collins and Baker found it so. These men hit equally well in the light or dark, and are especially dangerous after the shades of night have fallen.

New York appeared really dangerous in the seventh, two men hitting the ball on the nose with only one out. But McGraw forgot to tell Fletcher what to do when he went up in the pinch, and Fletcher, Giant-like, did the wrong thing when his borrowed brains didn't advise him, going after the first ball and hitting into a double play that killed the rally. This double-play, it might be mentioned in passing, convinced many persons that Connie Mack's infield isn't exactly a handicap to him. In fact, Messrs. Barry and Collins looked decidedly like an asset at this spot in the game.

PREVENTED BY RAIN

St. Louis Series Was Also Called Off Yesterday Owing to Wet Weather.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—The first game of the Chicago city series between the Cubs and White Sox was declared off on account of rain at 12:05 p.m. and it was ordered played Wednesday at the Cubs' park. A crowd of more than 5,000 fans had gathered at the gates of the park expecting them to be opened at 11 o'clock. Umpires O'Day and O'Loughlin, who were to report at the park at 10 o'clock did not reach there until nearly noon. The impatient crowd remained in line during a downpour until Judge Marcus Kavanaugh, who represents the national commission, announced the postponement of the game.

TODAY'S GAME MAY BE DUEL BETWEEN VETERANS

Plank and Mathewson Are Regarded as Likely Pitching Choices—Drizzling Rain and Heavy Fog Make Poor Outlook for Game—Merkle's Ankle Said To Be Injured and He May Not Play.

[Canadian Press.] Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—A light drizzling rain fell during the night, and this morning a heavy mist overhung the city, making everything wet and dripping. However, if no more rain falls the second game of the world's baseball series will be played here today, as the field at Shibe Park is in fairly good condition.

Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—The battle for supremacy in the baseball world between the champions of the National and American Leagues, which auspiciously opened at Philadelphia yesterday on the Polo Grounds in New York, was shifted today to Shibe Park, in this city. The New York Giants, National League winners, are at home, while the Philadelphia Athletics, American League pennant winners, are determined to repeat their success on the home grounds and make it two straight.

Despite a drizzling rain which set in before midnight, and continued until early today, more than a thousand fans camped outside Shibe Park, many of them since 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, in order to get choice bleacher seats for the second contest. If the predictions of the weatherman hold true, these devoted followers of the national pastime may have their long vigil in vain.

"Take a chance," was, however, the motto of the throng, which, when the gates were opened, wined the streets surrounding the park and numbered many thousands. Weariness as a result of their long wait was forgotten when those in line began to talk about the Athletics' victory of yesterday. With the Giants on deck at their home grounds, the waiting fans felt certain that they were to witness another victory for their heroes. A squad of policemen saw that only one person held a single place in the line and perfect order was maintained. Most of the people said that they intended to see the game themselves, but there were some speculators who disposed of their places to late arrivals.

Peddlers Did Great Business. Peanut, sandwich and sausage vendors did a thriving business along the line. Many of the men and boys, however, brought their own lunches, and some of the early arrivals came with food enough for four meals. Soap boxes, boards, camp-stools and improvised seats of all kinds were pushed against the park wall, so that many of the waiters were quite comfortable. One of them had provided himself with a sofa and blankets and secured several hours' sleep during the night. Two enterprising youngsters rigged up a long board resting upon two soap boxes and sold seats thereon at 25 cents each.

The neighborhood of Shibe Park was rife with activity this morning. Householders whose residences border the park on two sides were arranging seats on their roofs, from which spectators may see the game, and for which good prices were secured. Hundreds of persons went to the grounds for no other purpose than to see the eager fans.

Ticket speculators were much in evidence on the street today, and at the hotels, and a number of the coupons were disposed of at many times their face value. One $2 seat for the three days sold for $40. The vendors generally refused to sell the seats separately.

Police arrangements include a special detail of men to guard the Giants' leader and all his players while in the city. The plans of the police for the games are the most elaborate that were ever made by the local authorities in connection with baseball. Five hundred bluecoats and more than fifty plain-clothes men have been assigned to the park, while many detectives will be distributed through the crowd in the stands to protect the spectators from pickpockets. It is said that absolute orders have been issued to suppress open betting on the contest within the confines of the park.

Looks Like the Two Veterans. Weather conditions may have much to do in determining which batteries will be chosen by the opposing managers. However, Mathewson, McGraw's standby in many previous campaigns, will undoubtedly be in the box for the Giants, while Plank, veteran of many seasons, will probably be Connie Mack's choice. An overcast sky may cause the two managers to change their plans. In that case speed rather than the deceptive delivery, in which the veterans excel, will be necessary, and Shawkey or Bush, youngsters on Mack's team, may be called upon to pitch for the Athletics.

Merkle's Ankle Hurt. All the regulars on the Athletics team arrived here in good condition and will be found at their positions today. Fred Merkle, first baseman on the New York team, is suffering from a slightly sprained ankle received yesterday, and McGraw has a problem to fill that position in case Merkle does not play. His absence would injure the Giants' infield. McGraw has not yet indicated how he hopes to solve the problem.

Despite this apparent handicap, the Giants' manager last night appeared confident that he would be able to reverse the result of yesterday. He declared that luck played a great part in the Athletics' victory. On the other hand, the American League players say that New York had all the breaks of the game, or the score would have been greater against them.

The Giants took things easy at their hotel prior to the game, keeping in doors much of the time because of the damp weather. Many followers of the New Yorkers called on McGraw and his players, but he expected to put on a uniform and take an easy workout.

The Athletics, of course, were heroes for the day wherever they appeared. All of them had orders to report at Shibe Park at 10 o'clock, and there was a big crowd about the players' gate all morning. "Home Run" Baker was given an enthusiastic reception. Everybody wanted to shake his hand and slap him on the back. Collins, his playmate, was also noisily welcomed. Today's game had much to do with victory, was also noisily welcomed. Bender, the big Indian pitcher, having won his game, was practically excused for the day, but he expected to put on a uniform and take an easy workout.

NEW YORK FANS ARE STILL CONFIDENT GIANTS WILL WIN

Admit, However, That Mackmen Were Entitled to Yesterday's Game—Larry Doyle Says Breaks in Luck Went Against McGraw's Team.

[Canadian Press.] New York, Oct. 8.—With players and followers removed to Philadelphia, the second game of the world series, there was only explanation and speculation left to New York today. Continued threatening weather, with forecast of probable rain in Philadelphia, kept many local fans from making a trip to that city, but the railroads arranged for a large exodus. To those who stayed at home a dark day was made the blacker by the sinister shadow which hung over the Athletics. John Franklin Baker, the Philadelphia home-run maker, cast over the hopes of seeing New York win the championship. There was no pronounced discouragement, however, among the "fans" who flocked around ticket and newspaper score boards hoping to see at long range what was going on in Philadelphia.

New York Fans Praise Mackmen. In explanation of the 3 to 4 defeat which the Athletics administered in the first game yesterday, there was little said that did not resolve itself into tribute to Connie Mack's men. The most ardent local "fans" were forced to make heroes of Baker, and of Collins and Schang, and the smashing attack which the whole line-up of invaders made, was accepted as entitling them to a clean victory.

The rival captains of the game set forth their views and how they felt just before leaving for Philadelphia: Danny Murphy's Opinion. "Dan" Murphy, captain of the Athletics, said that the reason was because the Athletics batted hard at the right time, and showed great team work, especially in the infield. All this season the Athletics have shown that once they start to bat hard they keep right at it. They kept it up yesterday. Chief Bender showed splendid condition and control, and whenever it was the right moment to tighten up he was there. If it hadn't been for Barry's error our margin of runs would have been larger. Marquard wasn't there, and that helped us, of course. Collins played a star game, scoring three runs out of three times at bat, and starting both the batting rallies which won for us. Tesreau did wonderful work for the Giants. It looked like a hundred to one that we would score when McGraw put Tesreau in with none out and two on bases, but Tesreau was on the job, and we got nothing out of him."

Larry Doyle, captain of the Giants, paid tribute to the Athletics, but said it was a hard game to lose. "Baker's home run started it," he said, "and it was hard luck that 'Rube' should have given him good ball just at that time. He might have given him an outside ball, with no home run in it. I don't think they will win any more games with Bender. We hit him freely, but the breaks were against us, especially in the double play. Every man was doing his best for New York, but in tight places luck was against them."

LOUIS BIERBAUER TELLS EARLY HISTORY OF "WALLY" SCHANG

Mack's Young Catching Sensation Played on Same Club With Bierbauer and Linneborn Two Years Ago.

BY LOUIS BIERBAUER.
London's First Baseman.

Wally Schang, the best young catcher that ever broke into the big show, is a personal friend of mine. I have played ball with him and against him. He is only 20 years of age, and when he first broke into the limelight he was playing third base for the Depew, N. Y. club, while his brother "Bob" was catching for the same team. That was three years ago.

The following were both brothers who joined the Pullmans club of Buffalo. "Wally" played third base and Eddie Linneborn, of the London club, was playing second, while "Bob" Schang was catching. Wally was the best third-sacker the Pullmans ever had. He could whip a ball across the diamond and handoff the first baseman without any exertion at all. I used to wonder what would happen to that first baseman if he ever tore one across real fast. He was a fast fielder, and I have seen him go clean to the bleachers and grab a foul fly.

His brother Bob left the Pullmans late in the season to join the Erie, Pa., club, in the Central League. Wally then went in to catch. He made good at once, and attracted the attention of Manager Geo. Stallings, of the Buffalo International League club. He had only been with that club a short time before he was the first-string catcher, and was one of the heaviest hitters on the team. That fall seven drafts were put in for him, Connie Mack jangling him. Today he looks like the sensation of the world series.

Wally is a big, husky, clean-living young fellow, and does not drink, or smoke, or chew tobacco. He bats right or left handed, and is able to hit them just as hard either way.

McGILL EASILY BEAT MONTREAL RUGBY TEAM

Game Was an Exhibition One, and McGill Won By 15 to 0.

[Canadian Press.] Montreal, Oct. 8.—The strength of the McGill football team was displayed yesterday, when, in a practice game, it whitewashed the M. A. A. A. squad by 15 to 0. The university team pressed continuously throughout the first half, but could not score. Early in the second half, Watrous was pushed across the M. A. A. line. In the closing period from a loose ball, the McGill team scored a touchdown, which carried the ball across the M. A. A. line again, Williamson securing the try. Long punts to the Montreal dead-line accounted for the remainder of the points.

The work of Brophy, the new university halfback, was the feature of the game. The Montreal team showed little improvement on Saturday's form, the back division insisting on bunching together too much.

Kaiser Wilhelm Owns Restaurant

Berlin, Oct. 8.—Emperor William is revealed as a restaurant proprietor for the first time by the Vossische Zeitung, which credits him with the ownership of a small cafe and restaurant near the historic mill of Sans Souci at Potsdam.

A former restaurant at the same place had been removed to improve the gardens of the palace, but the Emperor, on the protest of Potsdam people, had a new restaurant built near it, renting it to the former stewards of his domestic staff.

The Emperor is charging only $1,500 yearly rental, with the stipulation that if the cafe proves paying the rent will be raised. The Emperor emphasized one condition, i. e., that the place should serve "the best coffee in Potsdam."

On his early morning walks, the Emperor often enters his own cafe and gets a glass of sherry and some biscuit, over which he discusses the progress of the business.

Former Londoner Dies in Buffalo

[Special to The Advertiser.] Buffalo, Oct. 7.—Mrs. Elizabeth Elliott Hagarty, aged 53, formerly of London, and for 32 years a resident of St. Thomas, expired suddenly Sunday night with heart failure at her home, 555 Walden avenue.

She had enjoyed perfect health until stricken. She was born in Sparta, Ont., and was a daughter of Squire John Elliott, of Toronto.

After living for several years in Toronto, she moved to Hamilton, later going to London, finally the family settled in St. Thomas, where deceased is survived by two sisters—Mrs. W. J. Vipshin and Mrs. James Somerville.

Funeral services will be held at her home in Buffalo tonight, and tomorrow morning the body will be shipped to St. Thomas, where interment will take place in St. Thomas Cemetery.

WILL ASSIST WOMAN IN MURDER TRIAL CASE

Important Witness To Be Brought From England in Beemer Case.

Woodstock, Oct. 8.—Something like $200 has been raised by popular subscription to form a defence fund for Mrs. Beemer, who is awaiting her trial on the charge of murdering her husband. This money and more that will come in, will be chiefly devoted to the bringing out from England of a witness, who it is believed will be able to offer important testimony on the woman's behalf. A good deal of sympathy for Mrs. Beemer has developed.

CHATHAM WOMAN HAS STRANGE HALLUCINATION

[Special to The Advertiser.] Toronto, Oct. 8.—Mrs. Elizabeth Wilmore, aged 72, widow of the late J. C. Wilmore, Chatham, has been declared of unsound mind, and the local master will appoint a committee to take care of her. She has been living with her eldest son, and he says he is willing that she should continue with him.

According to the son, the mother has long shown signs of an unbalanced mind, and he recalls his father's views on the same subject. One doctor, who has seen her in a financial condition, and she claimed to own all the silver and copper in the world, saying that it was left her by her father.

When asked as to her health, she said she had been attended by a physician four years before. As a matter of fact, he had been dead for twenty years.

JURY WOULD SEPARATE CONVICTED PRISONERS

Grand Jurors Present Recommendation for Keeping Persons Apart Waiting Trial.

In presenting the findings of the grand jury on its inspection of county jail, asylum, hospitals and sanatorium, to Justice Latchford at this morning's session, the court is asked to recommend that prisoners awaiting trial be kept away from convicted prisoners. A higher class of literature be provided for prisoners; that able-bodied prisoners be employed in construction of roads, etc.; that one aged prisoner be committed on a charge of vagrancy, be transferred to the House of Refuge or a higher class of literature be provided for prisoners; that able-bodied prisoners be employed in construction of roads, etc.; that one aged prisoner be committed on a charge of vagrancy, be transferred to the House of Refuge or a higher class of literature be provided for prisoners.

The hospital, asylum and sanatorium were found to be in splendid condition, but the county jail was found to be in a deplorable state. The equipment of the X-ray department of Victoria Hospital was especially commended.

Justice Latchford coincided with the jury's recommendation for separation of convicted and non-convicted prisoners. He declared, "It is important, upon the importance of good literature in the most important, he said, and should be attended to."

The recommendations will be forwarded to the inspector of prisons. More and better fire escapes were recommended for the asylum.

LOCAL NEWS

Meeting at Stratford.—The semi-annual London Bazaar, in aid of the latter day saints will be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday, in Stratford. The young people's organization will be among the bodies represented.

When "Peg-Leg" Hanged.—Through a mistake in information supplied to The Advertiser it was stated in Tuesday night's issue that "Peg-Leg" Marion Brown was executed Feb. 17, 1899. The records at the court house show that the execution took place on May 17th, of that year.

Rumor of Attempted Escape.—It was rumored about the city this morning that Thomas Riley had attempted to make his escape from the county jail, where he is awaiting trial on a charge of murdering George Blackburn, Governor Carter gave the story no credence. "There is absolutely nothing in it," he said. "I don't see how such stories get started."

An Indian Style Picnic.—The employees held an enjoyable outing recently, when they proceeded to a wooded south of the city and enjoyed themselves in Indian fashion. Roasts of meat and baked potatoes were the dainties displayed on the bill of fare. It made no difference to the merry-makers if some of the "stuff" was a trifle burnt. During the celebration many Indian braves belonging to the Boy Scouts decided to revenge the intrusion into the sanctity of their own exclusive woods by arbitrate and declare for the wreath of olive leaves to get their share in the good things. Among the party were Messrs. Boney, Cambridge, Thompson and Heslop.

COAL DEALERS LAUGH AT "79c PER TON SAVING"

Ridiculous Statement of Free Press as to Reduction in Cost of Hard Coal Through Electrification Characterized as Crazy.

Graced by seven-column lines "front page top," and supported by three columns of headlines and big type, the statement made in Tuesday evening's issue of the evening electrophone that a saving of 79 cents per ton in hard coal would be effected through electrification and a "cross lake haul" by water, rather than by rail, was hardly a laughing matter. It is something that independent thinkers would be glad to know. It hardly stands to reason that an 11-cent per ton rate will be secured from Erie, Pa., to London, yet that is exactly what the Free Press article says in announcing this wonderful 79-cent reduction.

How the Free Press can reconcile its statement "the cost of water transportation based upon the present cost for soft coal, via ferry, would probably be not more than 25 cents per ton" and the 11-cent rate is something that would be interesting.

WHO IS GOING TO MAKE UP THE DIFFERENCE OF 14 CENTS PER TON? IS IT THE FREE PRESS?

The Free Press persists in saying that the Grand Trunk secures a rate of 11 cents per ton from Port Stanley to London, it deliberately states an untruth. The fact is that the Grand Trunk pays 23 cents per ton, the 11 cents being the city's percentage from the Pere Marquette.

If the Grand Trunk pays 23½ cents to London, it delivers at a rate of 11 cents per ton from Port Stanley to London, how, then, can a rate of 11 cents a ton from Erie, Pa., across Lake Erie, and from Port Stanley to London, be secured? Assuming that the Grand Trunk rate of 23½ cents were obtainable, and it wouldn't be when foreign cars had to be secured, plus the estimated rate of 25 cents per ton from Erie, Pa., to Port Stanley, the rate would be 18½ cents. Yet the Free Press boldly says that 79 cents per ton can be saved, or a through haul of 11 cents will prevail. By its own statements there will be a difference of 27½ cents. Again, the question might be asked: WHO IS GOING TO MAKE UP THE DIFFERENCE?

London coal dealers are laughing at the Free Press' statement?

"They are crazy when they say that they can save 79 cents a ton on hard coal," was the statement made at the office of John Mann & Sons.

Build an Elevator. "It can't be done. It's the craziest thing I ever heard," said Bert Heaman, of William Heaman & Sons. "Why, if they wanted to handle the hard coal they would have to build an elevator at Port Stanley. No hard coal comes across the lake. It was tried some years ago, but was found that it wouldn't pay. At present the rate from Buffalo or Niagara Falls is 90 cents per ton. The rate is fixed by the railway commission, and is the same on all roads."

"Hard coal is 25 cents more per ton by water than by rail now, i. e., Buffalo, the present gross price of chestnut coal is $6 f. o. b. Buffalo, by rail, by water it is $6 25. That leaves you 65 cents for the lake haul to Port Stanley, the trans-shipment there and the haul by rail to London. At present we are paying 58 cents a ton for the rail haul from Port Stanley here. That leaves 7 cents per ton for a lake haul from Buffalo to Port Stanley. The railways control the mines of Pennsylvania, and it is as cheap a haul from the mines to Buffalo as it ever will be from the mines to Erie, Pa."

bread, and then sat down on the nearest doorstep to nourish their wasted bodies.

Relief Ships Save Many. The food which has come in the relief ships is the only thing which has kept many families from actual death by starvation. Children are to be seen staggering home through the driving rain with sacks of potatoes and groceries from the food ship stages.

The decision of the Miners' Federation to contribute $5,000 a week is hailed with pathetic joy by the strikers, whose confidence that with English support they will overcome their employers' have never been seriously shaken.

100,000 DUBLIN PEOPLE ARE ON VERGE OF STARVATION

[Canadian Press.] Dublin, Oct. 8.—A cable to the Tribune from London this morning says:

Dublin is being alarmed by the continuing state of starvation which is now in its fifth week. The plight of the poorer section of the population is dreadful, one hundred thousand men, women and children, or one-third of the city's whole population, being on the verge of starvation. Rain fell heavily in the city yesterday, intensifying the misery of the strikers, and their wives and children, huddling together for warmth. A crowd of girls, some of them from the Liberty Hall headquarters of the Irish Transport Union, to receive a dose of soup and bread, and then sat down on the nearest doorstep to nourish their wasted bodies.

The food which has come in the relief ships is the only thing which has kept many families from actual death by starvation. Children are to be seen staggering home through the driving rain with sacks of potatoes and groceries from the food ship stages.

FAVOR SPORTS INSTEAD OF PICTURE THEATRES

Epworth Leaguers Discuss Social Problems of Young People.

Cornwall, Oct. 8.—The moving picture theatre, as one cause of the increased habit of dime-novel reading among young boys, was discussed by Rev. W. H. Stevens, Chesterville, at today's session of the Epworth League convention being held here.

Mr. Stevens, who presented a paper on the league and recreation, said the fact that a board of censors existed in almost every province of the Dominion was sufficient to remind people that the moving picture business was none too good.

Mr. Stevens contended that lacrosse, baseball, football and hockey were honorable games if not indulged in to excess. They train the eyes and hands and tended to give bodily exercise profitable to the participants. He stated that Canada had the best list of outdoor sports of any country in the world. The national games were not free from evils, but if at times they had run low, it was through the intervention of gamblers' and promoters, who sought to gain control of the games.

Miss Bessie Durant, of Winchester, read a cleverly prepared paper on "What Shall Our Young People Read?"

The belief was expressed that literature was the greatest of the five arts. That great care, however, should be shown in the selection of reading matter, was also expressed.

TORREON SURRENDERED

Defeated and General Munigua Evacuated Town.

[Canadian Press.] Mexico City, Oct. 8.—There are persistent reports that Torreon has been taken by the rebels. According to these reports the town surrendered without a fight.

Recent dispatches, however, reported that the rebels had practically abandoned the Torreon district, where conditions had greatly improved. At the same time General Trujillo Aubert with 1,000 federals, marching to the relief of Torreon, was said to be making slow headway, and was still a hundred miles or more distant from the town.

The war department said last night that it had no definite news regarding Torreon. From other sources it was learned that General Felipe Alvarez, the federal commander, started with a column to retake Durango, but met the rebels at La Loma, a few miles out, and was defeated.

Learning of this defeat, General Munigua, with his remaining troops at Torreon, evacuated the town and started eastward to form a junction with General Trujillo Aubert, who is at Modero.

Given a Chance.—Sentence was suspended in police court this morning on a young man, who a week ago pleaded guilty to stealing a diamond ring valued at $40 from a house in West London, where he was delivering a load of coal.

Called to Brush Fire.—The hose wagon from No. 3 fire hall had a call to a brush fire on the Wortley road shortly before 2 o'clock this afternoon. The fire was extinguished before any damage was done.

KAMENSKY'S WIFE AND CHILDREN GONE

Moulder Asks Police to Locate His Missing Family.

Paul Kamensky, 522 Phillip street, a molder at McClary's, has asked the police to locate his wife and two little girls, who have been missing since Saturday.

Kamensky suspects that his wife and children have gone to Detroit, where the wife's stepfather resides. The latter was in the city Saturday, and it is believed he induced his step-daughter to leave with him.

Some time ago he brought her to London, after having secured $100 passage money from Russia from the husband. With the wife and children went $10 from the family bankroll.

STRAY BULLET HITS FARMER

Andrew Harvey Had Close Call For Being Killed Near Wingham.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Wingham, Oct. 8.—Andrew Harvey is in the local hospital with a bullet in his neck as a result of being accidentally shot as he was driving home last evening. He was driving along the road when he suddenly heard shot, and an instant later a bullet tore through his ear and lodged deep in his neck.

He was taken to the hospital, and the injury dressed, but so far the doctors have been unable to locate the bullet, and will not make any attempt to probe for it for a day or two.

Chief of Police Allen made an investigation and learned that the shooting was caused by three local lads, who were out hunting, firing at random. It is likely that a charge will be laid against them.

13-YEAR-OLD BOY WAS SENT TO WORK

Mother Pleads That She Did Not Have Enough to Clothe Family.

Charged with allowing her 13-year-old son to work in the McClary factory, in contravention of the Ontario factory act, Mrs. Mary Griffin, who resides in the south end of the city, appeared in court this morning. She could not afford to clothe her children, of whom she had four, she told the court, and after her son pleaded with her for some time to be allowed to go to work and help fill the family, she consented.

Her husband earned $25 a month at Victoria Hospital, and out of that amount Mrs. Griffin has to purchase food and clothing for six.

The factory inspector, who preferred the charge, asked that the woman be fined, claiming that she or somebody in the family had altered the ages of the children in the Family Bible, and had sent a note to the McClary Company saying the boy was over 14.

The magistrate protested that he did not want to fine the woman, but after the inspector explained the trouble he had been put to, the court imposed a fine of $1.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

Death of Miss Ballagh. The death of Miss Lottie Ballagh occurred in the 28th year in Victoria Hospital on Monday. She is survived by four sisters: Mrs. C. Young, of Bay City; Mrs. L. Yerkes, of Detroit; Mrs. W. McKenzie, of St. Thomas, and Mrs. D. McKenzie, of this city. The funeral will be held at the residence of her brother-in-law, Mr. D. McKenzie, of 420 Rectory street, at 2:30 this afternoon. The services were conducted at 2 o'clock by Rev. Mr. McIntosh. Interment was made at Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

TWO POWERFUL ARGUMENTS.

The mayor of an Australian mining town had been away on leave, and as he had outstayed a vote of censure was passed upon him. At the next meeting of the council he, in his capacity of mayor, directed the minutes of the previous meeting to be read, which contained the following:

"A vote of censure was passed on the mayor for outstaying his leave, and it was resolved to ask for an explanation."

"Who proposed this vote of censure?" asked the mayor.

"I did," said a councillor, standing up.

"You did, you?" continued his interrogator, stepping from his presidential chair to the unfortunate member. "Then take that!"

With these words the mayor smote his enemy in the right eye, and felled him to the ground.

"Who seconded this resolution?" he again asked, quietly resuming his position.

There was no answer; the councillors were not over-anxious for a physical contest with so hard a hitter as the mayor.

"Who seconded this resolution?" he again repeated.

WANT NEW DEPOT

Railway Commission Will Be Asked To Take Matter Up.

Sarnia, Oct. 8.—Sarnia wants a new P. M. depot, and the Dominion Railway Commission says this Saturday it will be asked to use its influence in securing one for the municipality.

The present wooden and inadequate structure, it is claimed, is a disgrace to the town. The Pere Marquette pleads poverty.

It is understood that the Street Car Company is willing to build its line to the possible location decided upon.

LORDS' DAY ALLIANCE ACTIVE.

Very busy with the good work, but no more efficient than the old reliable Putnam's Corn Extractor, which cures corns, and works in one day. Fifty years' use proves the merit of Putnam's. Use no other, 25c. at all dealers.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Thickness and Lustre at Once.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and thinning hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur remedy at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After the application of two or three hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant, and you appear years younger. For sale by W. T. Strong, London.

is the depilatory you ought to use, and there are thousands of women who would be glad to tell you so.

There's NO REASON why you should hesitate to consult about a good depilatory any more than you would about a brand of toilet cream. To have a depilatory is not a fault, but to leave it there is a crime.

FOR DISFIGURING GROWTHS of hair on the face, neck or arms, there is nothing like EL-RADO. It is a scientifically prepared, thoroughly tested and absolutely safe remedy for SUPERFLUOUS HAIR.

EL-RADO not only acts instantly wherever applied, but leaves the most delicate skin perfectly smooth and clear. It is guaranteed by reliable makers, endorsed by the most reputable dealers, and recommended by satisfied users. The superiority of EL-RADO can be demonstrated with a single application.

W.C.T.U. OPPOSE ANY GRANTS FOR NEW BATTLESHIPS

White Slavery and Liquor Traffic Are Two Great Evils of Today.

ORGANIZATION GROWING

Mrs. Thornley Named Convenor of the Committee on Appropriations.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Stratford, Oct. 7. — "The W. C. T. U. does not favor the granting of millions of dollars for warships that may never be used," said Mrs. Gordon, of Ottawa, in her report on "Work Among the Soldiers," given at the 36th annual meeting of the W. C. T. U. here today.

She also stated that Canada is trying to rival the older countries in the matter of giving the boys a military training, this being smoothed over by claiming that it gives them a physical training which they perhaps otherwise would not get. A splendid move already made was the doing away with the canteen by Hon. Sam Hughes, which representatives of the union found to be in accord with a great many of the soldiers at military camps.

Over 300 delegates from all parts of the Province are present.

Names Committees.

One of the first items of business was the appointment of committees, the convenors being as follows: Resolutions, Mrs. Cameron, Toronto; plan of work, Mrs. Pugsley, Toronto; registration, Mrs. Stacey, Toronto; transportation, Mrs. Gray, Toronto; credentials, Mrs. Dettlor, North Bay; and Mrs. Britton, Gananoque; appropriations, Mrs. Thornley, London; courtesies, Mrs. Gordon, Ottawa.

"Two great evils are rampant in this Province, the liquor evil and white slavery," declared Mrs. S. B. McKee, of Barrie, the past president. "I do not hold the Christian people responsible for the latter, but I do for the liquor evil, and white slavery is a natural sequence of it. If the Christian men of Ontario say 'no' to the liquor evil, there will be no liquor evil."

Splendid Reports.

The main item of business for the remainder of the day was the consideration of reports handed in by the different superintendents, the first being by Mrs. M. E. McGillivray, of Ottawa, who dealt with the flower mission department, in which 25 counties reported 80 unions having taken up the work. Thousands of bouquets, texts and periodicals had been distributed, while $738.89 had been collected.

A remarkable address was that given by Mrs. M. Hyslop, the provincial organizer, in which she dealt with the successes and failures met with in her work. In her travels she had visited some 80 towns and organized or revived unions in Fenelon Falls, Galt, Waterloo, York, Hamilton, Falmouth, Ottawa, Wilburton and Stouffville.

Prison Reform.

The report on "Prison Reform and Police," by Mrs. Cunningham, of Owen Sound, showed that the work of the W. C. T. U. has become a distinctive feature in the police courts of Ontario.

Mrs. Kate Maxwell, of Windsor, strongly advocated the employment of school nurses to teach scientific temperance to the young.

Notices of motion were given that amendments to the constitution will be before the convention, to the following effect:

1. That Local Temperance Leagues of at least fifty members shall be entitled to representation at the Provincial convention.

2. That leagues of at least twenty members be entitled to representation at county conventions.

Treasurer's Report.

Mrs. B. O. Britton, of Gananoque, provincial treasurer, in her annual report, showed the total receipts to date, $3,230.12, while the disbursements only totaled $1,715.36, leaving a balance of $1,474.57.

Provincial Corresponding Secretary Mrs. Dettlor, of North Bay, stated that there were 7,671 members on the roll, although a number of unions had not turned in their reports. The amount raised by the various unions was $23,836.42.

Cattle Dealers Holding For Rise

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Goderich, Oct. 8.—The different cattle dealers in this district, J. F. Andrews, Robert McLean and others, have large herds which they have been holding for the passage of the Wilson bill on the American market. All the butchers have notified their patrons that no meat will be sold except on a cash basis, and notwithstanding that prices are now considered very high. They expect to be compelled to raise their prices.

BROUGHT TO LONDON

Funeral of James Park Was Held to Mount Pleasant.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Lucan, Oct. 7. — The funeral of James Park, aged 44, held from Lucan today, to Mount Pleasant Cemetery, was largely attended. The pall-bearers were Eli Hodgins, George Stanley, R. McNamee, S. Chown, James McComb, and D. McVicar.

AUTO MISSING

London Traveller Has Police Looking for His Car.

St. Thomas, Oct. 8.—Harold McGuire, traveller for D. H. Howden & Co., wholesale hardware, London, left his automobile standing outside of the MacIntyre House at Dutton, Monday night, and when he came out found that the car had disappeared. The police, so far, have had no trace of it.

Will Add 60 Feet on Str. Huronic

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Sarnia, Oct. 8.—The Huronic of the Northern Navigation Company, will be lengthened sixty feet this winter. This will make the boat the same length as the new Noronic under construction at Port Arthur. More state rooms will be installed, increasing the passenger accommodation by 200. The present length of the boat is 225 feet, and when reconstructed she will measure 385 feet.

LAKESIDE.

Lakeside, Oct. 8.—Mr. John Seaton is taking a course of study at London. Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Seaton attended the funeral of Mrs. J. Jones, a former rector of Lakeside. The parish Aid was a success.

Mr. Harvey Murray accompanied the rector to Detroit recently. Mr. and Mrs. Norval Mitchell were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Mitchell recently.

Rev. P. I. McDonald exchanged pulpits with the Motherwell pastor last Sunday.

The rector officiated at St. George's Church, Detroit, last Sunday. He will officiate at Christ Church next Sunday.

Mr. John C. Mearns was the guest of Mrs. H. G. Gleason during his recent visit here.

GODERICH.

Goderich, Oct. 8.—Mrs. Nona Alexander, of Toronto, is the guest of Miss Grace Seager.

The Maple Leaf Chapter, I. O. O. F., held their monthly meeting today.

The Bell Telephone Company have taken down their unsightly poles from the square and have placed the wires underground, greatly improving the appearance of the streets.

The lights of the hydro-electric are now being placed in the square, which will brilliantly illuminate the business portion of the town.

Mrs. James Mearns, the manager of the White Star-Dominion Line, Montreal, is here visiting her mother, Mrs. M. Hutchings.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kidd are spending a few days in Buffalo and Cleveland.

LONDSBORO.

Londsboro, Oct. 8.—Dr. Agnew and Miss Millie Agnew, of Wingham, visited friends here recently.

Rev. J. H. Osterhout spent a few days this week with friends at Chatham and Windsor.

Mr. Frank Trickett spent the week-end with friends.

Miss E. Lynd, of London, spent Sunday at her home here.

Quite a number of the farmers are having better crops than the crop is very light this year with most of the farmers.

LAMBETH.

Lambeth, Oct. 8.—E. and G. H. Routledge will open their clerical studios, and will do custom work and buy supplies.

Mrs. J. R. Garbutt returned on Monday from Simcoe.

Mrs. Alex. Henderson and Miss Deady, of London, were the guests of Mrs. Geo. Carley on Tuesday.

Mrs. Margaret Boyce, of Ingersoll, is visiting Mrs. A. Bannantine.

Mr. Simpson, of Detroit, is visiting his brother, Haines Simpson.

BRUCEFIELD.

Brucefield, Oct. 8.—Mr. William Forth, of North Carolina, is visiting friends here. He is a general dealer, 35 years ago on the farm now occupied by James Boyce.

The Independent Order of Foresters held a meeting here recently to discuss the action taken by the supreme court, and the result was a unanimous agreement that it was a great hardship on the old members but another lien on their policies from $100 to $250, and nearly all the members agreed to their intention of withdrawing from the order.

A carload of pressed hay arrived at the station here recently and was quickly disposed of at $14 per ton.

Rev. Hall Woods preached preparatory services at the Thames Road Church last Friday.

Rev. Mr. Carswell will preach preparatory services here next Friday afternoon. The sacrament will be dispensed next Sabbath morning.

Rev. Mr. Argo, of Egmondville, who was to have preached here last Sabbath morning, was unable to be present owing to illness.

Word has been received here that Miss Mary Ross, who resided here for many years, but for the past year or two has been living in Egmondville, had died. She had been an invalid for a great many years, and her death was not unexpected. The funeral will be held here to the old cemetery south of the village.

The continued dry weather has made plowing very difficult, and in some cases impossible.

The library board held a meeting on Monday evening for the purpose of purchasing books for the coming year.

APPIN.

Appin, Oct. 8.—Mrs. John McDonald and Miss Ivy McDonald visited in Bothwell recently.

HALF OF ULSTER STRONGLY FAVORS COME RULE BILL

Right Hon. H. Samuel Says the Whole Problem Is One of Religion.

WELCOME A SETTLEMENT

Government Anxious To End the Trouble, But Unionists Want Policy Abandoned.

Ottawa, Oct. 7.—In a speech before the members of the Canadian Club today, Right Hon. Herbert Samuel, British Postmaster-General, declared that the old spirit of fussy, unnecessary interference by Downing street, in the domestic affairs of the dominions, had disappeared.

With the coming of the democratic spirit in the constitution and policies of the old country. In the old country they recognized that Canada was not an appendage, but as much an integral part of the empire as Great Britain herself, and the loyalty they expected was not loyalty from Canada to Britain, but equal loyalty from Britain and Canada to the empire, and the crown was the symbol of the empire.

Uster Situation.

Turning to Ulster, Mr. Samuel said that the first thing to know about the Ulster problem was that it was not a religious problem. It was a problem relating to one-half of Ulster. Ulster sent thirty-five members to Westminster, of whom eighteen were in favor of home rule. The problem in effect was the northern election, where there was a large, prosperous, homogeneous population violently opposed to home rule, and sending seven members to the Imperial Parliament. There were no religious difficulties of the kind if all Ireland were Protestant. It was the religious difficulty essentially which has made the political difficulty. The Irish Parliament has been absolutely overruled by law touching the religious rights of any individual, or conferring any favors or imposing any disabilities on anyone on the ground of religion.

Not Opposed.

The Unionist leaders in Great Britain had declared that they would not oppose home rule if a general election resulted in a majority in its favor, but Sir Edward Carson and his colleagues said that they would never result to a general election. The Imperial Government would eagerly welcome a settlement by consent.

Mr. Asquith had often said so, and Mr. Redmond had signified his agreement to a general election. The only consent to a settlement, which involved the abandonment of the Government policy. Unhappily, the prospects of a settlement by consent did not seem very bright, and seemed far off. Yet for thirty years Ireland, apart from the Ulster Unionists, had unwaveringly declared for home rule.

As part from the Irish members there was a majority in the Imperial Parliament of sixty for home rule.

LIVE STOCK AND PRODUCE MARKET

LIVE STOCK.

TORONTO, Union Stock Yards, Oct. 7.—The run here yesterday totalled 72 cars, containing 1,402 cattle, 122 calves, 606 hogs, and 406 sheep and lamb.

The run today was slightly below average, but with the stock left over from yesterday, trade continued brisk at unchanged figures. The quality of the shipments was also very good, with the exception of the cattle remaining unchanged. Stockers and feeders remained firm with the opening day, all offerings finding a ready sale. Sheep and lambs continued firm, and were a good trade. Cows and calves were slower, but gained in price, and remained at the quotations of Monday.

While the change in tariff regulations may affect the cattle market for a few weeks, it is the opinion of the dealers that before a month has passed the Buffalo and Toronto markets will be so regulated that the prices offered for the different grades of cattle at two markets will be equal. This would mean that there would be no advantage for the Canadian farmer in sending his cattle to the American city. It is, however, necessary to take into account the presence of American buyers at the local yards. These vendors, by bidding, or by buying in large quantities, could easily upset the equilibrium of the market, and cause prices to soar. For a few weeks, until the dealers have been disappointed with the situation, there will be a more or less erratic market, with prices rising one day and falling the next.

Some representative transactions were: C. McGeachin & Sons sold cattle: $5 to $6.50; stockers and feeders, eight cars, $1.50 to $2.50; cows, $2.75 to $3.75; bulls, $4.60.

Corbett, Hall & Coughlin sold cattle: Ten loads butcher, $5 to $7; cows, $1.50 to $2; bulls, $1.50 to $2.50.

Dunn & Leveck sold 200 lambs, $7.50; 100 calves, $5 to $10; 50 sheep, $4 to $5.

Crawford & Hunnisset sold cattle: Two loads mixed butcher, $3.20; one load mixed cows, $4.35 to $5.40.

H. P. Kennedy sold cattle: One load steers, $7; one load steers, $7.50; one load steers, $7.80; stockers and feeders, $2.25 to $2.50; cows, $2.25 to $2.50; bulls, $2.25 to $2.50.

Harris, Abattoir Company bought 350 lambs, $7 to $7.25; 125 sheep, $3 to $5; 50 veal calves, $10; 60 rough calves, $2.15.

The quotations were:

Export cattle, cwt. $7.25 to $7.75

Butcher cattle, choice. 6.75 to 7.25

Butcher cattle, medium. 6.50 to 7.00

Butcher cattle, common. 6.25 to 6.75

Hogs, light. 4.50 to 5.00

Hogs, medium. 4.25 to 4.75

Hogs, heavy. 4.00 to 4.50

Hogs, fed and watered. 3.50 to 4.00

Hogs, weighed off cars. 3.10 to 3.60

TORONTO, Oct. 8.—Cattle prices seem to have adjusted themselves pretty well to those of the Buffalo market today. Today's quotations were level with those current yesterday afternoon, and a good market was found for the heavy supplies of medium stockers in the yards. Sheep and lambs were sold actively, but no change in prices is noticed. Hogs are holding firm, with few exports, as all prices are slightly above those across the border. Receipts, 2,314 cattle, 894 calves, 229 sheep and lambs and 385 hogs. Quotations:

Export cattle, choice, cwt. $7.40 to $7.75

Export cattle, medium. 7.10 to 7.50

SOCIAL SURVEY WORK IS LAUNCHED BY FEDERATION

An excellent and exhaustive address on social survey work by Dr. W. A. Riddell, of New York, gratifying reports of the several committees, and two splendid musical selections, contributed principally in establishing the meeting of the Men's Federation of London, held Tuesday evening in the Sunday school room of the First Presbyterian Church, as one of unprecedented success.

Dr. Riddell, who will conduct the work in this city, outlined the work of general survey as carried on successfully in New York, Winnipeg and other large cities. There was no difficulty in following his terse remarks, and the members were initiated into the different phases of the work in a thorough manner.

Knowledge Before Action.

The speaker explained the purpose of the society, saying that its origin could be traced primarily for protection and self-development. There is development along political, economic, moral and physical lines, and these combine to form what is known as social welfare. Dr. Riddell believes in initiative, but "knowledge before action" was a good axiom to follow. The work will be of gradual development, but of definite purpose, and in this manner the best possible results are expected.

A graphic outline of the real meaning implied by the term social survey was given.

"It is really a social census," said the speaker, "A collection of facts taken directly on social welfare. Take, for example, Port Arthur. A single block was taken, and a thorough and exacting examination made, particularly regarding the housing problem. It was discovered that within one small block there were 238 persons living in 83 rooms and sleeping in 133 beds. It is conditions of this kind that require investigation."

The question system. A complete list of questions, covering desired information, is used. The language is simple, and the wording is

How to Prevent Acid Stomachs and Food Fermentation

[By a Stomach Specialist.]

As a specialist who has spent many years in the study and treatment of stomach troubles, I have been forced to the conclusion that most people who complain of stomach trouble possess stomachs that are absolutely healthy and normal. It is a real trouble, that which causes all the pain and difficulty, is acid in the stomach, usually due to an over-accumulation of food. Acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach and food fermentation causes wind which distends the stomach abnormally, causing that full bloated feeling. Thus both acid and fermentation interfere with and retard the process of digestion. The stomach is usually healthy and normal, but irritated almost past endurance by these foreign elements—acid and wind. In all such cases—and they comprise over 80 per cent of all stomach difficulties—the first and only step necessary is to neutralize the acid and stop the fermentation by taking in a little warm or cold water immediately after eating, half a teaspoonful of bicarbonate of soda, which is doubtless the best and only really effective antacid and food corrective known. The acid will be neutralized and the fermentation stopped almost instantly, and your stomach will at once proceed to digest the food in a healthy, normal manner. Be sure to ask your chemist for the bicarbonate of soda, as I have found other forms utterly lacking in its peculiarly valuable properties.

SCORES BORDEN GOVT. FOR INDECISION ON NAVY POLICY

Great Harm Has Been Done Says Arthur Hawkes In Not Deciding on a Permanent Policy—Too Much Politics and Not Any Real Patriotism.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Brookville, Oct. 8.—At a rousing meeting of the Canadian League last evening, Mr. Arthur Hawkes, a well-known writer, stated that the great harm that has been done to Canada through the delay in putting a permanent policy before the country is not so much that we have been discredited in the eyes of the world as we have been discredited in the eyes of the Dominion. The doctrine that we are too feeble, too supine, altogether too little to do anything for ourselves. Everywhere you meet the argument that the navy is a non-partisan issue. It is a folly to talk about a non-partisan navy. O little Canadians! O slow of heart to believe! The other day I read the memorial volume to Wm. A. Foster, the ardent spirit of Canada. It was a book of 100 pages, and it was a book of 100 years. It was a book of 100 years ago that the first ship was built in Canada. It was a book of 100 years ago that the first ship was built in Canada. It was a book of 100 years ago that the first ship was built in Canada.

Treated With Contempt.

I cannot tell you what I feel when I read and hear contemptuous utterances by men who are supposed to be patriots. Mr. Foster, minister of trade and commerce, was of sound instinct when he told the House of Commons that he wanted Canadian ships and Canadian sailors. He wanted to go into the naval defence of Canada. On that vital aspect of defence too many of our patriots have become dumb since December, 1912. I think it is not unkind to say that the true defence which the true spirit of nationality as if it had been the work of a society for the suppression of Canadian patriotism.

True Defence.

You surely have arrived at the very negation of everything that is essential to the defence of Canada. You are apparently not ashamed to lower this country before the world by belittling its capacity to defend itself. The latest sample of that I find in the Amherst Times extract from the Amherst Times which says: "It takes men, big, brawny and brave, to go down to sea in ships to fight the empire's battles, and, fortunately, or unfortunately, our young Canadian navy is not made up of such men." If you can imagine anything more craven than that you must be familiar with the depths of national despair.

During the evening, Miss McEwen and Mr. Sawyer delighted the audience with appropriate solos. The following comparative statement was compiled by Inspector Edwards, and copies of it furnished to each member of the board. It shows the individual school enrollments, compared to last year, with the enrollment of the three new schools included.

Too Much Partisanship.

This sort of thing is being said so frequently that one is not quite sure whether it is the tommy-rot of partisanship or the dry-rot of a national policy that fears to come to a full statement. It is at least a national policy which is being broken down and encouraged men to say, "We can't." Instead of "We will." Nobody wants to see a "Canadian party" party flourish like the dead leaves upon a desert.

The Right Course.

The Newmarket meeting of two weeks ago has struck a far more responsive chord in the public mind than we had any reason to expect. From unlikely quarters came the words: "Go ahead; we will not let you down." "We welcome discussion and plenty of it," said Mr. Hawkes. "If the case can be fairly stated in the hearing of the Canadian people, there is no doubt what the issue will be." "It is said in some quarters that we are out to embarrass the Government. We labor entirely in the direction of relieving the Government of embarrassment. Fundamentals of the appeal to the British-born, which some people insist on resurrecting, will be found to support the case for a Canadian navy."

Two years ago in this hall I advised my fellow countrymen to be very slow before they labelled themselves as belonging to any political party, with no have taken my own advice, with no doubt makes me a very poor politician.

Too Much Politics.

The time has come for the Canadian political parties to prove that they are more Canadian than the political parties of the old ones to see that the people of Canada are tired of the other thing—as they most certainly are.

Political parties always give the public just what they think the public will stand. It has been said that a personal grudge governs many advocates of a navy. It is a grudge against the navy which was introduced. The public conduct of a man who has refused to take office responsibilities and the Government is decided by his convictions as expressed.

There is a certain irony in speaking at Brookville, for two years ago the Recorder was damning me up hill and down dale, pride. The Recorder has lately given me his fatherly blessing, and the Times views me with alarm. Whatever has happened to them, I am the same man who two years ago contended, as I am contending now, for Canadian nationality, as an increasing power within the British Empire.

Times' Warning.

The Brookville Times warned its readers against the deep designs of Mr. Cooper and myself, because it largely the Newmarket meeting has been largely noticed by the political significance it surely must be because the

Smooth, Hairless Skin Follows This Treatment

[Toilet Tips.]

Among the home beauty hints, none perhaps is more important than that which will free the skin from obnoxious hairy growths. A simple method to rid the skin of unsightly hairs is to make a paste by mixing powdered deodorant with water and applying it about two minutes, then rubbing off. With it comes every bit of hair, and when the skin is washed, it will be firm and free from hairy growths. Results are more satisfactory if the deodorant is bought in an original package.

BOY IS MISSING

Mr. Harris Fears That His Son Was Kidnapped.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Oct. 8.—The police continued today their two-day search for 15-year-old Arthur Harris, son of Dr. William L. Harris, of Providence, R. I., who disappeared Monday morning, 30 minutes after he had left his father's house. Dr. Harris is confident that his son did not run away, and fears that he has been kidnapped or met with harm.

Mrs. J. Lightfoot and son, J. T., of 694 Dundas street, have returned after an enjoyable three-months' trip to England.

NEARLY THOUSAND MORE CHILDREN IN CITY SCHOOLS

London's Public School Enrollment Now Reaches 7099.

OVERCROWDING IS AWFUL

Kindergarten Age Extended and 300 Children Are Kept From Attendance.

London's school population shows an unprecedented growth and development, according to reports submitted to the board of education at its regular meeting on Tuesday afternoon. The school all showed a wonderful increase over the opening month of the 1912-13 school year. There was one department, the kindergarten, which showed a falling off, the total decrease being 144. This decrease is attributed to the fact that the age limit of kindergarten pupils was placed at five years, none under that age being accepted in the kindergarten of the city. But for this restriction there would have been approximately 300 of an increase in the kindergarten department according to Public School Inspector C. B. Edwards.

Nearly a Thousand More.

The comparative statement of the months of September, 1912, and September, 1913, showed that there was an increase of 993 in public school enrollment, and 989 in average attendance, including the new schools brought in through annexation. Without annexation the increased enrollment was 561 and the increased average attendance was 597.

The following comparative statement was compiled by Inspector Edwards, and copies of it furnished to each member of the board. It shows the individual school enrollments, compared to last year, with the enrollment of the three new schools included.

Totals.....7099 158 6245 153

In 1912 there were 25 kindergarten classes, while in 1913 there are only 16. There is an increase of 12 public school teachers, 11 being in the annexed district, and one in the public school. The increase in the enrollment was 993, decrease in the kindergarten of 144, making a total increase of 849.

In the Kindergartens.

A comparative statement of the kindergarten records for the two years would be:

In manual training and household science there are enrolled 116 boys and 156 girls respectively, the average attendance being 478 and 498 during the past month.

Some interesting facts about the London public schools, as disclosed by the principals' reports for September, 1913, have been compiled by Inspector Edwards. They are:

Evening Industrial and Art Classes.

As the evening classes opened on Monday last, only the first night classes have yet been held. The fall term promises to surpass any previous term in point of attendance and interest. Over 400 applications have been received. This will necessitate waiting lists in several subjects.

The school nurses' report for September was: Number of inspections, 1,542; number of pupils, 128, with defective breathing 77, with carious teeth 307, visits to schools 84, visits to homes 96, number excluded 6, number who had glasses fitted 6, tonsils and adenoids removed 13.

RECEPTION TO PASTOR

First Methodists Give Official Welcome to Dr. Flanders.

Rev. Dr. Flanders, who recently came to the city as pastor of the First Methodist Church, was tendered a reception at the congregational tea held Tuesday evening. About 100 guests were present in Wesley Hall, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion with autumn leaves. Supper proved a revelation in the culinary art, and the ladies who prepared it were warmly complimented.

called to the chair. In a neatly-worded speech he welcomed Dr. Flanders, Mrs. Flanders and family, before calling upon Messrs. R. I. Watson, J. E. Magee and D. C. Hannah, all of whom spoke in the highest terms of the favorable impression Dr. Flanders had made since coming to the city, and expressed the hope that the stay would be productive of much good.

In reply Dr. Flanders thanked the congregation for the reception that had been tendered himself and family. He had been delighted with London, and said, and especially with the First Methodist Church. Its excellent standing in the community was due, he believed, to the great loyalty of its predecessors and to the consecration and devotion of the officers of the church. Most acceptable musical numbers were rendered by the quartet of the church choir, as well as a duet by Miss Hunt and Mr. Habbeshaw, a solo by Miss Layman, and a solo by Mr. Webster.

To Grow Hair On a Bald Head

[BY A SPECIALIST.]

Thousands of people suffer from baldness and falling hair, who, having tried nearly every advertised hair tonic and hair-grower without results, have resigned themselves to baldness and its attendant discomfort. Yet their case is not hopeless. The following simple home prescription has made hair grow after years of baldness, and is so unequalled for restoring gray hair to its original color, stopping hair from falling out, and destroying the dandruff germ. It will not make the hair greasy, and can be put up by any druggist: Bay Rum, 6 ounces; Lavender Compound, 2 ounces; Menthol Crystals, one-half drachm. If you wish it perfumed, add half to one teaspoonful of To-Kalon Perfume, which units perfectly with the other ingredients. This preparation is highly recommended by physicians and specialists, and is absolutely harmless, as it contains none of the poisonous wood alcohol so frequently found in hair tonics.

WALKS SCANDAL STARING CITIZENS SQUARE IN FACE

Contractor, Defended by Mayor, Must Pay for 1,450 Square Feet of New Walk.

CITY PAYS FOR 50 FEET

Investigation Was Brought About by Fight of Ald. Richter and Bennett.

Had it not been for the efforts of Ald. Richter and Bennett, the city would never have discovered the botch job of sidewalk laying on the downtown streets. After examining the spots that were marked by Ald. Richter some time ago, the city inspector ordered that 50 places be torn up. The result was that out of the 1,500 square feet taken up, Antislite, the contractor, will be forced to pay for all but 50 square feet.

This is the investigation that the present occupant of the mayor's chair held up for months. Ald. Richter was out of the city when the charges were made, and Ald. Bennett for two months sought to have a proper examination made. When Ald. Richter returned the two went at the matter with such determination, and with the aid of the Trades and Labor Council forced the matter to a head. Meanwhile the mayor had done everything in his power to block it.

Nor did his attempt to cover up the matter end there. He has persistently ridiculed Ald. Richter for the investigation, and recently said that the only result would be a bill for $500 for the city.

A glaring instance. This kind of administration is starting to show the face. They would think of it every time they pass over these faulty sidewalks. The specifications were not lived up to, nor was the true respect of the office of mayor lived up to in the efforts of the present incumbent to endeavor to pass up the investigation.

TAX COLLECTIONS SHOW UP BETTER 1913 RETURNS TO DATE EXCEED THOSE OF A YEAR AGO—$735,642 IN ALREADY.

Tax collections already turned in for the 1913 assessment have exceeded the record for last year, and would seem to indicate that the tightness of the money market had made little effect on London purse strings. For the first two installments of the 1913 taxes $735,642 has been received, the total for the year being $891,770 leaving only a balance of $156,128 to come in for the third installment.

SUGGESTS VOTE OF RECTOR ON NEW COLLEGIATE

Chairman A. M. Hunt of Board of Education Building Committee Would Let Ratepayers Decide.

ESTIMATED COST $215,000

Proposal To Build a Nucleus Addition to Present Building Made at the Board Meeting.

If the suggestion of School Trustee A. M. Hunt, chairman of the building committee of the board of education, is carried out, the ratepayers at the next municipal election will have an opportunity of voting "yes" or "no" on the proposed expenditure of $215,000 for a new Collegiate Institute. The suggestion was made at the meeting of the board on Tuesday, when the recommendation of the building committee that an addition be made at the northeast corner of the present Collegiate, to form the nucleus of a new school, was presented.

The general plan. In presenting the recommendation of the committee, Chairman Hunt estimated the cost of this addition at $200,000 to $250,000, and explained that the proposal was to remove the present lavatories between the main and commercial schools and construct the new building on that site. The addition would be large enough to contain the entrance of the new school, facing Waterloo street. In addition, it would contain several new classrooms, besides offices and cloak rooms, for an entirely new school. In the basement a heating plant would be installed that would not only be large enough to accommodate the proposed addition, but would heat the present building as well.

Plans Were Lost. A general discussion followed the committee report, but owing to the fact that the sketches of the proposed building were lost in the transfer of the board of education offices from the old city hall, the clause was referred back until such time as the sketches and plans are available and are presented to the whole board.

Trustee W. T. Strong voiced his disapproval of any new Collegiate, he declared that he was not opposed to an addition, but he was opposed to the idea of tearing down the present building, which, he claimed, was too good a structure to destroy. He asserted that with proper alterations this building would suffice for the next 25 years.

Wants a New Building. Trustee Dr. P. J. Mullan, who took view directly opposed the plan. He declared that he would support the committee recommendation if that was the intention. Trustee Dr. R. W. Shaw raised a question whether or not the Collegiate would be required within a short time, but was answered by the majority of the board that such would not be the case, the board having decided some time ago for a new school. Trustee Dr. W. J. Treadwell suggested that the new location entirely rather than face the new building on Waterloo street.

Send it to a Vote. It was at this discussion that Chairman Hunt made the declaration that the question ought to be settled by the people. He suggested that the question of spending the $215,000, estimated as the probable cost of the new building, be put before the people at the January election.

"If they vote for it, then we can go ahead and build the school new school," he said, "but if they do not, then we can go on and make the best we can out of the old school by starting a nucleus of a new one in the addition that has to be constructed to accommodate the present school demands."

Principal Radcliffe Says There Is More Chivalry Here Than in All Europe. "There is more true chivalry on this continent than in the whole of Europe," said Principal J. Radcliffe, of London Normal School, this morning. They say of militarism makes a people more chivalrous, but that is all wrong. In contrast with the fine arms and armaments of Germany, we have here women who are in the fields and doing practically all her agricultural work. Women clean the streets at Munich, Dresden and other large cities. I saw two women carrying a cart in the streets of Vienna, while the men walked behind it, and we were the only people who noticed it. In the fields and doing practically all her agricultural work. Women clean the streets at Munich, Dresden and other large cities. I saw two women carrying a cart in the streets of Vienna, while the men walked behind it, and we were the only people who noticed it.

Principal Radcliffe and Mrs. Radcliffe recently returned from a trip across the continent of Europe. Landing at Naples they went through the Tyrol, and visited Austria, Germany, Poland, Russia, including Warsaw and St. Petersburg, Sweden and Denmark, and returned from Hamburg. In Germany they visited the Kaiser's palace at Potsdam, and the Kaiser's winter palace in St. Petersburg, and the Peterhof, out of the city. Twelve per cent of the Russians are well educated, and individuals are a fine class of people. The other 88 per cent are illiterate. Around the universities centres a strong socialist and nihilist movement. "But I do not blame anyone for being a Nihilist in Russia," said Mr. Radcliffe. In the Tyrol Mr. and Mrs. Radcliffe witnessed the passion play, which is said to be equal to the Oberammergau play.

DATES FIXED. In compliance with the authority given them by the council on Monday night, City Clerk Samuel Baker and Mayor C. M. R. Graham today fixed the dates for the public meetings to discuss the electrification and other money blazes that come up at the special election on the 22nd. The dates are: Oct. 11, East London town hall, Oct. 15, Masonic hall. The requests for these special meetings came to the council in a petition from George T. Hiscox, and others, presented at the last session of the council.

LEADERS TAKE OPPOSITE VIEWS ON THE HOME RULE QUESTION

Fight Is Over, Says John Redmond in First Issue of Montreal's New Paper, The Daily Mail—Ottawa Edition Delivered by Aeroplane.

[Canadian Press.]
Montreal, Oct. 8.—The Irish question is discussed by John Redmond, the Nationalist leader, and Sir Edward Carson, the Unionist leader, in the first issue of the Montreal Star, a new paper which made its first appearance this morning and of which B. A. MacNab, late editor of the Montreal Star, is editor and vice-president, and M. B. Nichols, late of the Winnipeg Telegram, is president and managing director.

Mr. Redmond contends that the home rule fight is over and that while Sir Edward Carson promises that Ulster is ready to die for the Imperial idea, Sir Charles Tupper, in the course of a letter to the new journal, gives a number of reasons to support his contention that "Canada will ultimately exceed the great position of the United States." He quoted Seward, Lincoln's secretary of state, who said that British North America would inevitably draw to it the commerce of Europe and the United States, and would pass from a mere colonial dependency, would assume a controlling rank in the world. In view of this, would the United States attempt to be her rival.

The new paper prints greetings from the Duke of Connaught, Rt. Hon. James Bryce, Earl Grey and William Jennings Bryan. The first papers of the Mail are to be delivered in Ottawa by aeroplane.

RELIGION-CRAZED YOUTH DELIBERATELY SHOT THREE

William McDonald, After Carrying Out Murder Plans, Committed Suicide—Chose His Teacher's Room as Scene of Killing—Called Party Together To Kill Them.

[Canadian Press.]
Liverpool, Oct. 8.—A series of religious mania today caused a youthful church worker here, William McDonald, to run amuck with a loaded revolver, with which he shot dead three of his fellow church workers and then committed suicide. McDonald appears to have drawn up his program with deliberation. He paid a round of visits to the residences of his colleagues in the church work at about midnight and shot them down in turn, afterward battering their bodies with a bludgeon.

Apparently there were no witnesses of the series of tragedies, and the only evidence found besides the dead bodies was a nearly empty revolver and a bloody bludgeon clasped in McDonald's hands when his body was discovered. The four young people were active workers for what is known as the "Church of Humanity." One of the victims was Miss Crompton, a daughter of the late Rev. Henry Crompton, former pastor of the Church of the Humanity. She was the leader of the Liverpool Postivists, and was McDonald's religious tutor. It was in her room that the maniac committed suicide after killing his instructors.

Wearing apparel and various useful articles contributed by the friends of the league will be on sale, and also a supply of home cooking and refreshments in the basement of the church. The ladies have spared no effort in making the sale a success and a generous patronage is desired.

Fire In Engine-room.—A steam pipe bursting blew coals and sparks out of the firebox of the engine in the engine-room of the Globe Casket Works about 7:45 this morning, setting fire to some shavings. The fire brigade responded promptly, and there was little or no damage done. Three lines of hose were laid, and cars were tied up for fifteen minutes.

Arrange for Special Train.—The officers of St. George's Royal Arch Chapter have completed arrangements with the C. P. R. for a special fast train to leave here at 2:30 p.m., Friday, Oct. 11, the date of their visit to Occident Chapter in Toronto. The special will return early the following morning, but the tickets will be honored on any train returning Saturday, Nov. 1, the rate being $2.95 return.

Both Legs Fractured.—With both legs fractured as the result of a fall from a scaffold at the new McCormick plant Tuesday afternoon, Joseph Wiga, an Italian, was brought to Victoria Hospital. He was at first removed to the house where the men engaged on the construction of the building are located, but later Dr. Hogg was summoned to attend him and had him removed to Victoria Hospital.

Plan Campaign of Sermons.—Arrangements are being made by the Men's Federation of London to occupy the pulpits of many of the city churches the last Sunday in this month. The Federation will place members in the several pulpits and special services will be conducted. It is an excellent method of enlisting the sympathy of the citizens in the survey work which is being entered upon under the direction of Dr. Walter A. Riddell, and it is anticipated that the meetings will attain the desired effects.

ALD. S. F. GLASS IS IN DISFAVOR IN WEST MISSOURI

Alienated His Support by Taking Part in Strong Faction Fight.

SEVERAL ARE WAVERING

A Personal Campaign Is Being Worked to Keep Wobblers in Line.

With the first meeting of the East Middlesex campaign staged tonight at Thorndale by the Conservatives, the fight in the riding will be given an added impetus.

It is rather significant that the first meeting of the Glass campaign is being held in West Nissouri, for it is in that township that Ald. S. F. Glass, Conservative nominee, expects his hardest fight to whip the party stalwarts into line.

West Nissouri has in the past had an awkward habit of switching on Conservative candidates, and the London alderman is in disfavor with a large portion of the Conservative electors of the township over his entrance into the famous continuation school fight that has been making history in West Nissouri for the past few years.

Alienated Support.

By those in touch with West Nissouri politics it is asserted that the London alderman has alienated the support of a large section of the anti-continuation school faction by his somewhat prominent attitude in the fight that defeated John McFarlane for the reeveship and elected John Fitzgerald in his place.

At the same time he has also alienated an equally large section of the pro-continuation school faction by endeavoring to square himself with the anti. He has been trying to straddle two fences and the natural result is that he has fallen between them with neither "in his corner."

Many Are Wavering.

The personal interview campaign is being worked to the limit throughout the riding by the Glass supporters, but in no one section is so much time and effort being devoted as in West Nissouri. Personally and by proxy, Candidate Glass has been scouring the township lining up the Conservative voters and endeavoring to keep the wavering, wobbling line in order. The township is strongly Conservative, but surprises may be expected from it on Oct. 21, after the votes have been counted.

BIGGEST FAIR IN FIFTY YEARS WAS HELD AT LAMBETH

Fine Show Was Held for First Time on the New Grounds.

CATTLE A BIG FEATURE

Famous Breeders Were Represented by Their Very Choicest Stock.

[By Our Own Man.]

Lambeth, Oct. 8.—The best fair we ever had, and Lambeth fair has been held for fifty years," said one of the directors, referring to the Westminster Agricultural Society fall show held here yesterday.

Four thousand people are estimated to have been in attendance, and the number of entries showed a big increase over previous years.

Fine weather, superior attractions, and spacious new fair grounds, were all in favor of the success of this year's show, and the brightest hopes of the fair association were not disappointed. Large crowds from London and St. Thomas came on the London and Lake Erie cars, and farmers drove in from all parts of the district.

Fine Races.

The speed event was fast and well contested. The Burr Brass Band, under the leadership of Bandmaster Robert Coleman, provided an excellent program of music, and added much to the enjoyment of the afternoon. Another feature of the program was the Scottish dancers and Highland pipers from St. Thomas, under the direction of Mr. Alfred Dunn.

Increased exhibits were the feature of the show. The cattle, sheep, and horse exhibits, perhaps eclipsed all others. Never was there a better showing of cattle. Fine horses have always been a leading feature of Lambeth fair.

In the fine arts' and ladies' work section there was a preponderance of unusually good work, and a greatly increased number of entries.

A Big Winner.

In registered cattle, Lieut.-Col. McEwen, of Byron, was a leading exhibitor and winner. In long-wooled sheep, T. Hardy Shore, of Glanworth, and D. C. Brodie, of Caradoc, had large and fine exhibits. In the short-wooled breeds Lieut.-Col. McEwen and W. E. Wright, of Glanworth, were the big winners.

In Durham grade cattle, D. and N. McPherson, of Glanworth, and H. Poole, of Lambeth, were the main exhibitors. In dairy cattle, Eli Smale, of White Oak, won first and diploma for a dairy cow, for which he was offered $500 on the grounds.

Leading exhibitors in other departments were:

Grain, Fruits and Roots—J. H. Cornell, Lambeth; William R. Trott, West London; Nelson Hilyea, Tambling's Corner; Joseph Poole, Lambeth.

Ladies' work—Mrs. Kester, Thamesford; Mrs. George Mills, Thamesford; Mrs. J. B. James, Komoka; Miss Ida Merriatt, 65 Byron avenue, London; Mrs. Kennedy, Thamesford.

Poultry—David Bogue, Lambeth; C. Myers, Delaware; A. K. Sadler, Lambeth; Gordon Anguish, Lambeth; Geo. W. Daunt, Mount Brydges; James Wedell, Delaware.

Swine—W. E. Wright, Glanworth; Duncan C. Brodie, Delaware; A. Lucins, Wilton Grove (the latter showing some extra fine Hampshires); Fred Bodkin, Glanworth.

Dairy produce—C. Donnelly, Scottsville (cheese); Mrs. John King, Lambeth (butter); Mrs. W. J. Nixon, Lambeth (butter).

Light horses—James McCartney, London; Dr. G. A. Routledge, Lambeth; D. and N. McPherson, Glanworth.

The Race Results.

Directors' show race (city drivers changed, last horse in winning first)—1, G. Vanderlinder (fourth in); 2, S. Bannatyne (third in); 3, J. H. Cornell (second in); 4, W. N. Campbell (first in).

Lady drivers—1, Gee Whiz, Miss McCartney, London; 2, Jennie, Mrs. Guest, Lambeth.

The Township Race.

Lovely Girl, P. Love, Lambeth . . . 1
Walter Gearing, Robert Brown, Westminster . . . 2
Dr. Brino, Charles Myers, London 3
Silver Joe, John McMillan, Glanworth . . . 4

Free-for-all.

The officers of the Westminster Agricultural Society, whose efforts are responsible for the success of the fair, are: Alex. Bannatyne, president; Archie Blake, first vice-president; Fred Bodkin, second vice-president; H. Poole, secretary-treasurer, Lambeth; P. O. directors, C. W. Baker, John Shuman, T. Monteith, Robert Brown, J. H. Cornell, James Kelly, Wm. Campbell, James Love, G. Vanderlinder, honorary directors, D. Bogue, G. T. Carley, D. Anguish, Angus Beattie, O. GETS $1,200 DAMAGES

James Duncan Struck By Car As He Tried To Board It.

Twelve hundred dollars' damages and costs were awarded James Duncan by the jury at the assizes Tuesday afternoon for injuries he received by being struck by a car of the London Street Railway Company late one night in July last. Duncan went out beside the track on the Hamilton road and signalled an approaching car, intending to become a passenger. The car was travelling at high speed, and did not slacken up at his signal. As a result he was struck, and knocked down, his right foot being so badly crushed that amputation of part of it was necessary. Mr. W. R. Meredith represented Duncan.

John Kilgour, of Welland, was unsuccessful in his suit against the London Street Railway Company, the action being dismissed on a technicality. Kilgour's automobile was struck by a car at the corner of Richmond and Maple streets during fair week. His car was wrecked and his wife was injured.

FALL WHEAT IN DANGER GROUND BAKED HARD

The Need of Rain in District Very Apparent to Farmers.

While the citizens are enjoying the unusually fine weather and laughing at coal bills and sundry other winter necessities, the farmer is scanning the sky anxiously for the first signs of rain. Considerable time has elapsed since a rain of any account has fallen and in consequence the ground has hardened until a resisting surface of baked soil has resulted. In conversation with a prosperous farmer on the local market this morning it was learned that there is every indication of serious damage to the fall wheat unless frequent and steady rains result. The wheat is protruding above the surface now, but the hardened soil and the dry condition of the ground retard the growth considerably. "It is merely a question of how soon we have rain; if the interval is prolonged serious results are anticipated."
