F. B. CARVELL, M. P., COMMENDS ADVERTISER'S STAND ON C. N. R.

Looks Forward to Public Operation of Railways in This Country With Very Great Misgivings.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

I do not very frequently write to newspapers, but having been favored with an extract of your paper on 24th instant in reference to my remarks on the C. N. R. bill, I wish to thank you, not so much because of the kind words you say about myself, but because there is at least one important newspaper in Ontario that is willing to look this question of operation of public utilities in the face.

I have rarely known of a case in my life where the whole public has been so chloroformed to the extent Ontario finds itself over the hydro-electric proposition. And, I presume this sentiment, together with the determination of the present Government, will force the public operation of railways on this country, but we will have to do the best we can with the burden, and I can assure you I look forward to it with very, very great misgivings. Any honest man who knows the condition of affairs in the Maritime Provinces would never want to see an extension of that condition to Western Canada.

Thanking you again, believe me, sincerely yours,

F. B. CARVELL.

CAMP PREPARES TO HANDLE MEN TO BE DRAFTED

Authorities at Carling Heights Providing for Many Soldiers.

COL. R. A. HELMER HERE

Consults With Staff on the Methods To Be Adopted in Training.

While there is apparently no great haste on the part of the Government, or the civil authorities, to get the conscription bill into operation, the military authorities are losing no time in preparing to handle the increased number of men that will be called up by the measure.

Today Col. R. A. Helmer, formerly director-general of musketry, and now director-general of military training at militia headquarters, Ottawa, arrived in the city, and spent two or three hours at Carling Heights Camp in consultation with Col. Shannon and Lieut.-Col. Smith, general staff officer. His visit was in the nature of a tour of inspection, and while here he talked over plans for the training of the men who are expected to arrive in camp after the compulsion bill has got into operation.

Details of System.

The details for the organization of the 1st Depot Battalion of the Western Ontario Regiment which were furnished in The Advertiser some time ago, are given in full in today's camp orders.

The depot and reserve battalions under the new system of having each district represented by its own regiment in Canada, in England, or at the front, will consist of 2,000 men divided into eight companies, while those in France will consist of the present strength of 1,000 men. One senior officer less will be used than has been authorized in the battalions that have gone overseas heretofore, there being an officer commanding, a second in command, an adjutant, and a quartermaster. No junior major, or third in command is provided for. Instead of two majors or captains in a company, there will be one, and five lieutenants instead of four.

Known as 1st Depot Battalion.

Authority having been granted to raise and establish a 1st Depot Battalion, Western Ontario Regiment, in Military District No. 1, the following is published for the information and guidance of all concerned.

(a) The Western Ontario Regiment consists of the 1st Depot Battalion, W. O. R., M. D. No. 1, the 4th and 25th Reserve Battalions, C. E. F., W. O. R., England, and the 1st, 18th, 160th and 161st Battalions and the 2nd Pioneer Battalion, C. E. F., W. O. R., France.

The depot and reserve battalions have an establishment of eight companies of approximately 250 per company. The establishment of the 1st Depot Battalion will consist of a headquarters staff of 4 officers, 11 staff sergeants and sergeants, 10 pioneers, 21 bandsmen, or a total of 46. Each company will have an establishment of 1 major or captain, 5

MANY VESSELS ARE OVERDUE IN PACIFIC

Twelve From American Ports May Have Been Lost.

A Pacific Port, Aug. 31.—Twelve sailing vessels and steamships were considered overdue at this port by shipping men, according to an announcement today by the chamber of commerce. The list includes the Wairuna, 2,530 tons, 91 days out of a New Zealand port, and the motor schooner Laura Whalen, 1,046 tons, 65 days out of a Pacific port bound for the Orient.

VETERAN OFFICER COMMANDS HOSPITAL

Advertiser Illustrations

LIEUT.-COL. T. G. DELAMERE is to take charge of the Guelph Military Convalescent Hospital, which is located in what was formerly the Guelph Prison farm. The hospital will be one of those of F Unit of the Military Hospitals Commission Command, and will have accommodation for about 1,000 beds.

Lieut.-Col. Delamere went overseas as a captain with the 1st Battalion, and was returned to Canada wounded. He then took command of the 110th Battalion during its organization here and was later transferred to the general staff of the district, under the G. S. O. Lieut.-Col. Smith. Last spring he was transferred to the administrative staff, and became assistant to the assistant adjutant-general, and was in charge of the Central Training Depot at Carling Heights camp.

LONDONER BURNED IN AN EXPLOSION AT WALKERVILLE PLANT

James Harris Caught in Rush of Heat Through Pipes.

James Harris of this city, son-in-law of Thomas Pinch of Wellington street, was seriously burned this morning when an explosion occurred at the plant of the Diamond Manufacturing Company at Walkerville.

The explosion was caused by a sudden inrush of heat through the pipes of the ventilation system. Harris and H. Kimmerly of Windsor were caught and both suffered intensely.

The damage to the plant amounted to about $2,000.

Relatives in the city were notified of the accident. Mr. Harris' father is employed at McClary's.

BRITISH JEWS DISLIKE NAME "JEWISH REGT."

London, Aug. 31.—A deputation of prominent English Jews, headed by Lord Swaything, visited the Earl of Derby, secretary for war, yesterday, says the Daily Mail, and urged the abandonment of the title "Jewish Regiment," which had been adopted for the new Hebrew unit recently organized. The deputation pleaded that 40,000 Jews now serving in the army were fighting not as Jews, but as British subjects, and wished to continue to do so. Lord Derby agreed to the abandonment of the title, and promised to give the regiment a new designation.

LIDJ JEASSU CAUGHT

London, Aug. 31.—Lidj Jeassu, the deposed Emperor of Abyssinia, who escaped from Magdala, has been captured, according to a dispatch to the Daily Mail from Jibuti, French Somaliland.

Lidj Jeassu is a grandson of the late King Menelik, whom he succeeded in 1912. He was dethroned in 1916 by his aunt. A London dispatch of August 26 reported that the deposed emperor and his followers had defeated 300 of the government forces, who had been trying to capture him for six months.

AUSTRIA FACING GENERAL FAMINE

Foods and Fats So Scarce That Malnutrition Has Set In.

New York, Aug. 31.—A cable to the Sun from Rome says:

Reports are reaching the Vatican from diplomatic and ecclesiastical sources in Austria that the food shortage throughout the empire has become so serious that the effects of malnutrition among the people are causing the utmost concern.

The intellectual depression among school children, due to insufficient food, is rendering it practically useless for them to continue their studies, and it is probable the schools will have to be closed soon.

As an instance of the high prices for foodstuffs, it is said a sack of flour costs $40 and a pound of pork $2. Fat is very scarce and less than a pound in fifteen days is allowed for each person. Owing to the lack of starch, nuns are authorized to wear soft head-dress and hoods.

The remedies so far adopted have proved useless. All food available is reserved for the army, and a general famine seems inevitable.

UNCLE SAM MOVES TO KEEP BREAD PRICES AT THE PROPER FIGURE

Licensing System for Flour Will Prevent Prices Soaring.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 31.—A reduction in the price of bread is in sight today as the result of the fixing of $2.20 as the price per bushel of the 1917 wheat crop. The licensing system for flour and bread dealers soon will be put into effect, and although not extending to the small dealer, the food administration is expected to find a way to hold down bread prices.

Members of the price-fixing committee are agreed that a price of $2.20 will permit of a fourteen-ounce loaf of bread for five cents, allowing a fair profit to both the flour manufacturer and the baker.

The wheat price was announced by President Wilson last night after the committee, headed by Dr. Harry A. Garfield, completed its three days' deliberations. Representatives of the producers began by voting for $2.50 and labor representatives for $1.84. The $2 price set by Congress for the 1918 crop was taken into consideration by the committee in fixing a fair valuation for the present year's harvest. On the basis of $2.20 at Chicago, the food administration worked out differentials for the various grades and classes for the several grain terminals.

TWO AMERICAN FLIERS HALT AT THE EAU ON THEIR WAY TO DETROIT

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ridgetown, Aug. 31.—The Eau was visited by two American aviators Thursday afternoon, the pair landing with their hydroplane a short distance off shore, while on their way from Buffalo to Detroit. They stated that the flight from Buffalo had taken exactly two hours, and that they had stopped to look the machine over. They refused to give their names or the object of their flight, and after a stay of half an hour rose and proceeded westward.

GERMAN SPIES REPORTED NORWEGIAN SAILINGS

Christiania, Aug. 31.—Three German spies have been convicted at Bergen for supplying information to submarines regarding the sailing time of vessels which later were torpedoed. Captain Laven and Officer Schwartz, American citizens, and Thorsen, a Norwegian, all were given terms in the penitentiary. Laven was sentenced to five years, Schwartz to four and Thorsen to ten years' imprisonment.

Captain Laven admitted that he worked under instructions from the German authorities. He said that German subjects were forced to obey such orders.

Norwegian newspapers in commenting on the trial emphasize that the country must take note of the fact that German subjects must obey orders from their home country.

CHINESE REQUIRE AID IN PREPARING FOR WAR

Peking, Aug. 31.—The Chinese press is urging that a foreign commission be sent to advise and assist the Government of China in preparing plans for participation in the war. The Peking Times says:

"China is not making any plans toward participation inthe war, and as she labors under the guidance of the local diplomatic corps, her force as a moral or martial participant will be nothing."

"The Times declares that China must appeal to foreign capitals for assistance, as it cannot get results from the Peking diplomats. China, it says, had not made necessary preparations before the declaration of war, and has had little help from the Allies, except in the form of interest-bearing loans. As a result, the newspaper concludes, the Government is facing embarrassments which intelligent direction could have obviated.

ITALIAN ARTILLERY PARTICIPATES IN GREAT OFFENSIVE

The Italians have won an overwhelming victory against the Austrians largely because of their efficient artillery. Here is one of the up-to-date batteries, the guns being mounted on auto trucks, General Cadorna has thrown against the enemy.

LAWRENCE SKELLY, MISSING IN MARCH, IS REPORTED KILLED

Two Other Brothers Are Now Recovering in England.

LOSES A SECOND SON

South London Lady Again Called in to Face Message of Sacrifice.

William Skelly of 137 Tecumseh avenue received word this morning that his son, Pte. Lawrence Skelly of the 18th Battalion, who has been missing since March 24, has now been reported killed in action on that date. Pte. Skelly, who was 19 years of age on the 10th of August, left London with the 135th Battalion and was transferred to the 18th

CHILD MURDER CASE

Two Women and a Man Charged With Killing of Girl.

St. Johnsbury, Vt., Aug. 31.—The trial of Mrs. Alvin Kenniston, jointly indicted with Miss Etta May Hicks, and John Kerwin for the murder of Alice Bradshaw, eight years old, was opened here today. Kerwin pleaded guilty yesterday of being an accessory after the fact to the murder, and his sentence was deferred.

The little girl disappeared early in July and her body was not found until a month later, when it was discovered on the edge of a swamp. The three persons indicted were arrested shortly after the child's disappearance, and the authorities announced that the two women had confessed that they killed Alice because Miss Hicks, housekeeper for her father, John Bradshaw, was tired of caring for her. The child was crippled after an attack of infantile paralysis. Mrs. Kenniston is a neighbor of Bradshaw.

SOURIS PARTIES UNITE ON WIN-THE-WAR POLICY

Souris, Man. Aug. 31.—At a meeting last night of Conservatives and Liberals of the town of Souris and vicinity strong win-the-war measures involving principles of the immediate formation of a national government and conscription of man-power, wealth and resources were unanimously adopted.

FLEET OF AUSTRIA CORNERED IN POLA; DUE FOR POUNDING

Guns Of the Anglo-Italian Monitors Soon To Be Turned Against Karl's Squadrons Bottled Up In Naval Base of The Adriatic.

New York, Aug. 31.—The New York World this morning in a dispatch from Washington says the Italian embassy has received advices from Rome as to further successes of General Cadorna, and indicating that:

"The Austrian fleet, bottled up in Pola, also is in danger, as it is the intention of the Italians soon to turn the guns of Anglo-Italian monitors, now busy bombarding the coast to the northwest of Triest, on the warships of the enemy."

CANADA TO FIX WHEAT PRICES AT SAME FIGURE AS STATES

Ottawa, Aug. 31.—It is intimated that Canada will fix wheat prices corresponding with the $2.20 figure fixed in the United States. Official announcement is expected next week.

THREE STATES CHASE OUT PACIFISTS WHO PLAN CONVENTION TO DISCUSS MAKING PEACE

Are Barred From Minnesota, Hustled From Dakota, and Escorted From Wisconsin.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 31.—Barred from Minnesota by proclamation of Governor Burnquist on Tuesday, told that they would be unwelcome in Fargo, N. D., on Wednesday and unceremoniously escorted from Hudson, Wis., on Thursday, the arrangement committee of the "People's Conference of America for Democracy and Peace," headed by Louis P. Lochner, executive secretary, was uncertain early today as to where the national convention would be held.

The appearance of the arrangement committee of the peace council in Hudson, Wis., yesterday aroused the citizens to a high pitch. Indignation meetings were held during the day, the common council passed an order forbidding the holding of the convention and at a mass meeting in the evening resolutions were adopted protesting against the convention and calling upon Governor Philip to stop it.

Excitement ran high and from an orderly meeting there developed an unorganized mob, which went to the hotel where the pacifist delegates were stopping, hustled them into an automobile and took them to the depot, where they were put aboard a train for Minneapolis, with orders never to return.

Shortly after the pacifists were driven from the city a truckload of peace literature for the meeting arrived, and it was at once made the object of another attack. The driver, innocent of the situation, tried to make terms with the crowd, but quickly learning its temper, wheeled the truck around and started at breakneck speed for the interstate bridge, followed by a hooting crowd until it reached the Minnesota side.

LOCAL TEMPERATURES.

Following were the highest and lowest temperatures recorded in London during the 24 hours previous to 8 o'clock last night: Highest, 75; lowest, 48.

The official temperatures for the 12 hours previous to 8 a.m. today were: Highest, 67; lowest, 44.

HOOVER NAMES SHELDON AS AGENT IN ENGLAND

London, Aug. 31.—Louis P. Sheldon, who is associated with a London banking firm, has been asked by Herbert C. Hoover to accept the appointment as representative of the American food administration board in the United Kingdom. It is understood Mr. Sheldon has accepted and that it is now being determined whether he shall become an attache of the American embassy.

As Mr. Hoover's representative, Mr. Sheldon will deal with the British food controller, Baron Rhondda, for the purpose of bringing about close co-operation between the United States and England in regard to the control of food.

EELBO AND DERNST ARE INTERNED BY U. S. GOVT.

San Francisco, Aug. 31.—Capt. Heinrich Eelbo and Edwin Deinst of German merchant vessels seized by the United States at the outbreak of war, were today taken from the county jail here and interned at Angel Island on order of the attorney general, Thomas W. Gregory.

The order was issued at the request of United States District Attorney J. W. Preston, who obtained a presidential warrant charging them with being aliens, and blocked their attempts to secure their release on bail. Both are under indictments on charges of attempting to conspire to overthrow British rule in India.

GREAT FIRE AT KAZAN.

Petrograd, Aug. 31.—The fire last Monday in the city of Kazan on the Kazanka River, 420 miles east of Moscow, spread so rapidly that the population fled to outlying fields and forests, a correspondent of the Bourse Gazette telegraphs. Ruffians began to pillage on a great scale, but students of military schools acted energetically and stopped the looting. Later the flames spread to naphtha reservoirs and the town was enveloped in smoke.

The fire burned for 36 hours, during which time the people remained outside the town. Order is being restored gradually.

THREE MONTREAL ANTIS HELD OVER ATHOLSTON DYNAMITING; MOBS SMASH STORE WINDOWS

POLICE TO STOP ANTIS PARADES

Window Smashing in English Section of Montreal Must Cease.

Montreal, Aug. 31.—The police intimated this morning that they expect to receive orders to stop further parading through the streets by anti-conscriptionists. Nothing will be done to prevent orderly meetings of protest, but the window-smashing crusades in the English section of the city must stop. At a meeting tonight on the Champ de Mars the police will attempt to search those suspected of being dangerous characters for firearms.

BRITISH AND FRENCH TURN BACK RAIDERS DURING THE NIGHT

Haig and Petain Have Better of Some Minor Engagements.

London, Aug. 31.—The repulse of a German raid on the front below Lens is reported in today's official communication. The statement follows:

"The weather is unsettled. During the night the enemy heavily shelled our forward positions near Arleux-en-Gohelle (five miles southeast of Lens), and at an early hour this morning attempted to raid our lines. The German troops were repulsed completely."

PATROL CHASED BACK.

Paris, Aug. 31.—"East of Cerny a German patrol, which attempted to approach our lines, was repulsed by our fire," says today's official statement. "There was active artillery fighting on both banks of the Meuse. In Alsace an enemy attack south of Hartmannweiler-Kopf was repulsed completely. There is nothing to report from the remainder of the front."

Pontiff Was Bitterly Disappointed Over The President's Note

Intends to Make Reply to Statements of All Belligerents.

Rome, Aug. 31.—It is stated at the Vatican that Pope Benedict, on receiving President Wilson's reply to his peace proposals, did not attempt to conceal his bitter disappointment, and that he regards the president's answer as leaving little room for further peace efforts at present. It has been no secret here that the Pope hoped for a more favorable response from the United States than from anywhere else.

Before President Wilson's reply was read, it was said at the Vatican that the responses from the various governments were expected to be more favorable than the tone of press comment. At the same time the Pope was reported to have signified his intention of issuing a reply after receiving the answers of all the belligerents, pointing out questions in regard to which all the nations at war might be in agreement and others concerning which it would be necessary to hold discussions.

HEAVY DEFICIT SHOWN FOR AUSTRIAN BUDGET

Zurich, Aug. 31.—The Austrian budget for 1916-17 shows a deficit of 34,000,000 crowns, compared to a deficit of 49,000,000 crowns in the preceding year. Two of the largest items of expenditure are 1,761,000,000 crowns for interest on war loans, and 1,650,000,000 crowns for the support of soldiers' families. Special and direct war expenditures are not included in the budget.

British Casualties for August, 59,811

London, Aug. 31.—The total of British casualties on all fronts as reported in August is 59,811, divided as follows:

Killed or Died of Wounds: Officers 1,278; men 10,942.

Wounded or Missing: Officers 4,122; men 43,469.

A Well-Known Anti-Conscriptionist Orator Held By Police.

LATTER FIGHT RIOTERS

Heavy Damage Done in Battle On St. Catherine Street Last Night.

Montreal, Aug. 31.—Several arrests of anti-conscriptionists in connection with the dynamiting of the summer home of Lord Atholston have been made here by the Dominion police and more are expected.

The rumored arrest of Elie Lalumiere, well-known anti-conscriptionist orator, by the Dominion police, is confirmed by the Daily Mail, which says thefts of dynamite have been traced to his door.

Reports say the police also have under arrest a young reporter and a soldier, who, it is claimed, concealed dynamite in an uninhabited house in the northern part of the city.

This morning St. Catherine street, the scene of last night's disturbances and fight between police and anti-conscriptionists, looked as if it had been struck by a cyclone. The windows of over a dozen big stores had been wilfully smashed in and damage to the extent of several thousand dollars done.

CALLED ON MOBS TO FIGHT POLICE.

Montreal, Aug. 31.—At the anti-conscription meeting in St. Henry, which preceded the street parade, during which the crowd clashed with the police, Paul Lafortune announced that someone had telephoned his mother to let her know that if he (Paul Lafortune) appeared at the anti-conscription meeting in Cartier Park he would be arrested and share the same fate as Lalumiere. This had not influenced him, and would not influence him, he said. Lafortune then made an impassioned speech against the conscription bill, but was careful to couch his language in a form that could not be literally interpreted as counselling resistance to the bill.

Threatens Rebellion.

"They call us cowards and slackers because we do not go to the front to fight the Boches," he cried. "Well, let us prepare ourselves. Let us get ready to fight the Boche. You know what Boche I mean."

Eugene Lajeunesse excited the crowd greatly by advising them to organize into groups of fifty under an officer, so that they could oppose discipline of some kind to police who tried to break up meetings or who tried to make them enlist.

Call For Strike.

Adrien Lachain came up from the crowd to act as chairman at the invitation of Joseph Leclaire. The latter then made the first speech, asking the crowd: "The conscription bill has passed. What do you want, revolution or a general strike?" (A mingled roar in which some said one and some the other). "For me, it is not a revolution which I want, but a general strike."

According to the Gazette (Conservative) the procession through the streets was headed by a small boy carrying a poster bearing a picture of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

An application for the release of Lalumiere on a writ of habeas corpus was made this morning before Judge Monet.

Lalumiere in Court.

Lalumiere was conveyed from the immigration offices here, where he has been detained, in an automobile. He was in charge of five federal officers.

Albain Germain, K.C., acting for Lalumiere, made the preliminary motion for the issue of a writ, and Judge Monet adjourned the hearing of arguments till this afternoon.

Mr. Germain argued that Lalumiere had been illegally deprived of his liberty, and that there has been no civil or criminal proceedings which justified such detention.

Lalumiere did not say a word in the courtroom. He stood nervously between his guards, wearing a rumpled tie, and beside the officers of the law looked very little more than a schoolboy. He was allowed to send money to his wife by his brother.

SWISS WORKERS STRIKE OVER THE HIGH COST

Paris, Aug. 31.—Workmen in the Swiss cities of Berne, Zurich and Basle went on a half-day strike yesterday as a protest against the high cost of living, says a Havas dispatch from Basle. The manifestation was organized by Socialists, who, the dispatch adds, declare that if it does not produce results, a prolonged strike, involving municipal services, such as gas and electricity, will be ordered.

INCREASE PRODUCTION BY CO-OPERATION IS BOARD OF TRADE PLAN

Get Farmers and City People Together for Next Season.

A deputation from the board of trade waited upon the directors of the Western Fair yesterday afternoon to ask co-operation with a movement to promote better feeling and understanding between city folk and the farmers of the Western Ontario district, and to increase production another year through better co-operation.

The suggestion was made that the Western Fair would be a good time and place for the inauguration of such a movement, which might be launched at a union luncheon of fair board directors, the board of trade and representative farmers of Western Ontario. The idea is to organize an agricultural branch of the board of trade. Arthur W. White presented the case for the board of trade, and so favorably was the proposition received that a committee to represent the directors was appointed, consisting of Col. Gartshore, W. W. Gammage and Controller E. S. Little, to confer with the board of trade and with power to act. It is possible a supper will be arranged for Tuesday evening, September 11, in the directors' dining-room, for which invitations will be sent out to representative farmers.

Urge Decoration.

A motion was carried to request the mayor, board of trade and city council to issue a proclamation asking the citizens to decorate both places of business and homes during the exhibition and to permit merchants to string banners across the downtown streets. Controller Saunders, Dr. Routledge and William Moore were appointed a committee to go to Toronto to taken entries for the Western Fair.

It was decided to issue the usual invitations to inmates of the Hospital for Insane and charitable institutions of the city to attend the exhibition on Monday afternoon, September 10th, with free admission to grounds and grand stand.

Fire Protection.

Controller Saunders and Fire Chief Aiken were again appointed a committee to make arrangements for fire protection during the exhibition. Those present at the board meeting were Lieut.-Col. W. M. Gartshore, William McCosh, T. H. Smallman, Adj. Harley, W. W. Gammage, Controller Saunders, E. S. Crawford, James Murray, Wm. Moore, J. H. Wheaton, R. A. Carrothers, E. Douglas, Dr. Routledge, Controller E. S. Little and A. M. Hunt.

The general offices at the exhibition grounds will be opened and the Western Fair office staff will move out there on Monday, September 3. After Saturday evening all business will be transacted at the general offices on the grounds until the close of the fair.

The next board meeting will be held at the exhibition grounds on Monday, September 10, at 11 o'clock, and thereafter daily at the same hour during the exhibition.

FRIENDS ARE ANXIOUS.

WINGHAM, Aug. 30. — Anxious friends are awaiting the return of Corp. W. Hayles, who left London with the first detached company of the 33rd Battalion. He was badly wounded and has been in hospital more than two years. He left as a private and won his stripes in action.

A brother, Pte. George Hayles, of the 161st Battalion, was killed in action some two months ago.

WEDDING BELLS

THORPE—VANCE.

INGERSOLL, Aug. 30.—The marriage of two former popular Ingersoll young people was solemnized at Toronto, when Phil Thorpe and Miss Annie Vance were wedded. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Ronald McEachern and the attendants were Mr. and Mrs. James Bryant, Mrs. Bryant being well known to Ingersoll friends as Alma Garlick, whose marriage took place only a few months ago.

Mrs. Thorpe is a daughter of the late James L. Vance and resided here all her life, and the groom was for some years prior to his enlistment in the employ of a local firm. He returned from France early in the spring, having been so severely wounded that he was recently discharged. He had two brothers killed in France.

PONSFORD—GLOVER.

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 29.—Cadet George E. Ponsford of the Royal Flying Corps, Camp Borden, was quietly united in marriage to Miss Grace Glover of Port Stanley on Tuesday. Cadet Ponsford's home is in St. Thomas.

THREE GODERICH WEDDINGS.

GODERICH, Aug. 30.—No fewer than three weddings of popular young Goderich people took place this week. The first was the marriage on Monday morning at 5.30, at St. Peter's Church, of Miss Mabel Armanda Doty to Gerald Moran Kidd. The bride is the daughter of the late F. W. Doty, founder of the Doty Marine Engine and Boiler Company of Goderich, and sister of the Messrs. Fred and Charles Doty of town. The groom is the second son of Joseph Kidd, C. P. R. and Dominion Express agent here.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father McRae. Miss Mona Kidd, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, and J. L. Killoran, of town, acted as groomsman.

Mr. and Mrs. Kidd are spending a week in Montreal before making their home in Goderich.

Yesterday another early morning wedding took place at 6 o'clock, when Miss Elizabeth Jean Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clark, was united in marriage with Raymond S. Malotte of Essex. The ceremony took place at the residence of the bride's parents, being performed by Rev. R. C. McDermid, pastor of Knox Church, in the presence of only immediate friends.

The bride wore her travelling suit of blue and carried a bouquet of heather from the Orkney Islands and sweet peas. The bride and groom were unattended. The bride was given away by her father. Miss Ethel Nairn sang "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden," and "The Wedding March" was played by the bride's sister, Miss Mary B. Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Marlotte left on the morning train for a trip to Toronto, Hamilton and the Falls before taking up housekeeping at Essex, where the groom is engaged in mercantile life.

The third wedding was that of Miss Helen Douglas Ford, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Ford, of town, to W. John Scott, which took place yesterday.

WILTON GROVE.

WILTON GROVE, Aug. 30.—Chester Taylor of Glanworth has left for a trip to the West. Mr. Taylor expects to spend some weeks in Saskatoon and visit other western places of interest.

The funeral of Miss McPherson of Glanworth was held Wednesday afternoon from the home of her brother, Dan McPherson, seventh concession, to the family burying grounds in Yarmouth Township, Rev. J. W. Crawford officiating. Her sister arrived home from the West shortly before she died.

The Y. P. S. C. E. of Westminster held a farewell social on Monday evening in honor of several of the members who are going away for the winter.

Miss A. Elliott, who has been taking an agricultural short course at Guelph, has been successful in her exams.

Miss Elliott has received the position of teacher in a school at Glencoe.

SMALLMAN & INGRAM

Smallman & Ingram "END-OF-SEASON" SPECIALS FOR SATURDAY

Out with the end-of-season oddments is the order to every department throughout the store. There is much merchandise sacrificed in price for tomorrow not listed below. The new shipments must take the place of these oddments, as they are hindrances. They take up valuable time of our sales force, they occupy valuable space, and perhaps because there is only one size or perhaps a particular color left, a customer is dissatisfied because there are no others to suit her. Therefore we have decided on a most radical clear-away for Saturday.

NEW MAGISTRATE TAKES OATH OF OFFICE TODAY

Sworn In Before Little Group of Court Officials.

MAY PRACTICE STILL

Eleven Months Elapsed Since Judge Judd Ascended to County Bench.

Today at 11 o'clock London acquired a permanent police magistrate, when A. H. M. Graydon, who has been acting as deputy magistrate for the past five months, was sworn into office by Crown Attorney J. B. McKillop.

Official notification, in the form of a copy of the order-in-council, was received by Magistrate Graydon from Attorney-General I. B. Lucas, late Thursday evening, and was followed today by the formality of the magistrate taking the oath of office.

Advertiser Illustrations
A. H. M. GRAYDON.

Permitted to Practice.

Arrangements have been made in the meantime whereby the magistrate will be allowed to practice his profession, in addition to fulfilling his duties on the bench.

With his taking of the oath of office today he automatically became a member of the police commission, and Ald. J. J. Dyer, who has been a member of that body since Judge Judd was promoted, ceased to act in that capacity.

Since November last, when Judge Judd received the appointment of junior county judge, the office of magistrate has been filled by Magistrate Graydon as deputy, Mayor Stevenson, Henry Macklin, Ald. Dyer, Ald. Manness, Ald. Wilson, Ald. Drake, and Controllers Rose and Saunders.

Appointment is Popular.

The appointment of Magistrate Graydon is receiving general approval in legal and police circles.

His administration of justice during his term as deputy, just ended, and a term of a year preceding the appointment of J. C. Judd as magistrate, has been marked by impartiality and fearlessness. He invariably gives a prisoner the benefit of a doubt, and never passes sentence hastily, where a remand may permit of the introduction of representations that would mitigate the sentence.

Magistrate Graydon, a member of the legal firm of Graydon & Graydon, was born in St. Catharines on October 19, 1870. He removed to this city with his parents at an early age. He received here early education in the local schools and Collegiate Institute, and later graduated from Osgoode Hall. He is a director of the Canada Trust Company and a member of the London Club, London Hunt and the Country Club.

The formality of taking the oath of office was brief. The oath was administered by Crown Attorney McKillop in the presence of Inspector Birrell and Police Court Clerk John Moule.

Magistrate Graydon was immediately congratulated by those present.

TWO NAMES

The first is on a fancy card,
Engraved in stylish copper plate,
So fashion's dames will always know
My lady's home receiving date.

The second on a wooden cross,
Was rudely carved by loving hands,
To mark a soldier's lonely grave—
Who died for us in foreign lands.

The first will soon forgotten be
In pleasure's careless giddy climb;
The second name will be revered,
And blessed until the end of time.

EXPERT SATISFIED WITH CITY PAVING

Prof. Marshall Watches Foundation Being Laid.

Professor Marshall, of the School of Practical Science, Toronto, was in the city yesterday afternoon and watched the contractor, W. J. Boss, lay the foundation of a portion of Adelaide street. City Engineer Brazier was with him.

The work was done quite satisfactorily to Mr. Marshall, who reported that the concrete was first-class. There are two inspectors on the job now, George Dando, who has been on pavement work all summer, and John McMurphy, an expert concrete man. The only difficulty encountered so far as can be learned is the scarcity of expert cement men, but W. J. Boss has a gang made up largely of experienced men.

Some time was spent over the specifications. Sir Adam Beck stated that specifications were vague and indefinite, but there were no changes made. The only thing suggested was that it be made clear the proportions of gravel and sand in the concrete. This was not inserted, but may be done later. In the meantime specifications from other cities and governments will be secured.

CHIEF WILLIAMS MAY STILL STAY AS HEAD OF FORCE

Magistrate as Commissioner Not in Favor of Change.

TIME IS NOT OPPORTUNE

Mayor, in Anxiety to Oust Chief May Be Disappointed.

When Magistrate Graydon took the oath of office today he at the same time replaced Ald. J. J. Dyer as a member of the board of police commissioners.

Simultaneously the question of the position of chief of police took on a new angle.

Mayor Stevenson is quoted in a recent edition of a local paper as stating that if Chief Williams declined to retire that he would be forcibly compelled to step out. The mayor's statement was based on certain allegations which the chief has at all times denied. Ald. Dyer, it is claimed, supported the mayor in his stand to oust the chief if the latter declined to hand in his resignation.

May Remain as Chief.

With Magistrate Graydon on the commission indications are that Chief Williams will certainly not be asked to resign, and will continue to remain at the head of the department unless he sees fit to step out voluntarily at the end of his 40th year on October 29th next.

"I am in favor of Chief Williams still retaining office, as I think when men are so scare it is an inopportune time for a change," said Magistrate Graydon today.

It is understood on good authority that Judge Macbeth, also a member of the commission, takes a similar stand. Under these circumstances Chief Williams will certainly not be asked to resign or will be superannuated unless he requests so himself.

Chief Expected Home Soon.

Owing to the mayor's anxiety to get the chief out one of Chief Williams' closest friends said today that the chief might reconsider his intimation to resign in October. He has never definitely stated that he would, and now that the majority of the commissioners rather favor instead of oppose him, he may still continue as chief.

He is expected to arrive home from the West on Sunday, where he has been on a month's vacation with relatives.

MR. GLESSON GOES TO TORONTO POST

E. J. Gleason, assistant to R. E. Ruse, city passenger agent of the Grand Trunk, has been transferred to Toronto, where he will become terminal passenger agent for the company. He will be succeeded here by D. O'Neill, Windsor.

Mr. Gleason came to London about two years ago from Stratford. He is considered a first-class man, and was favorably known to the traveling public.

LONDON LAD'S GALLANTRY WINS HIM MILITARY CROSS

"For Displaying Great Coolness And Daring During a Raid"

PTE. W. KILBOURNE.

A whole long paragraph in the latest dispatch from Stewart Lyon, Canadian press correspondent, is devoted to the gallant conduct of a London boy, who has just been awarded the military medal, Pte. Wilfred E. Kilbourne. The announcement reads as follows:

Pte. Wilfred Kilbourne of a Western Ontario Battalion receives the Military Medal for displaying great coolness and daring during a raid on an enemy trench. His section commander was hit and lay wounded in the groin. Kilbourne, also wounded, himself assumed command, carried his action forward, personally bombed along the enemy trench for a considerable distance, and, while our men were returning to our own lines, stayed to disentangle the section commander from the enemy wire, and bringing him in.

The news came as a great surprise this morning to the parents of the young man, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Kilbourne, 138 Fullarton street.

Get News From Friend.

Their first notification was a telephone message of congratulation from a friend. Readers of The Advertiser, they take the afternoon paper, consequently had not seen the item which had good reason to make them still more proud of their boy, and happy in the recognition accorded him. No time was lost in sending out for a morning edition and verifying for themselves the good news.

"We have been so excited and happy we haven't been able to settle down to do anything this morning," Mrs. Kilbourne told The Advertiser an hour or so later.

"We had been notified," she continued, "that Wilfred was wounded on August 10, the message reaching us on the 17th. We had read the dispatch telling of the big fighting in which the Canadians had been engaged about that time, and it was such a relief to know that he was just wounded. I dreaded every ring of the dor bell for fear it might be a telegram bringing worse news. He isn't seriously wounded this time, just in the arm and foot. This is the second time he has been wounded, the first very severely at the battle of the Somme on September 15, 1916. But we feel he has been so fortunate in having his eyesight preserved and escaping as he has done."

Wounded One Year Ago.

Previous to enlisting in the 33rd Battalion on May 4, 1915, Wilfred Kilbourne was employed in the draughting department of the Dennis Wire and Iron Works. Arriving in England in the spring of 1916, he was transferred to the 18th Battalion, and dropped his first stripes in order to get to France. After being wounded the first time a year ago, he was unable to return to France until May of this year.

Always fond of athletics, young Kilbourne was a great baseball enthusiast. Mrs. Kilbourne, mother of the hero, is secretary of the Talbot Street Mothers' Club, and takes a prominent part in all its activities, especially the Red Cross work of the organization. Glowing testimony to the patriotic service rendered by Mrs. Kilbourne in connection with the Mothers' Club was given today by other members. Her own statement in regard to this is: "I try to do what I can, but with a large family I haven't much time for outside work in addition to my home duties. We have six children besides Wilfred."

BYLAW FOR COAL YARD GOES BACK TO BE REVISED

Gave City No Power Actually to Go Into Business of Selling.

WANTS TO SELL FISH

Ald. Manness Gets Authority to Secure 500 Pounds as an Experiment.

The board of control considered the coal yard bylaw at the meeting this morning, and shot it so full of holes that it had to be sent back to the solicitor for revision.

Controller Moore pointed out that the bylaw gave the city no power to buy coal, purchase property, or secure apparatus for handling it. "We want power, so that we can go into the coal business," he said. "This bylaw gives us no power. We can be held up. We want power to enter into the business properly."

The other controllers agreed with him, and the bylaw was sent back. It will be ready for the next meeting of the board of control.

One Tender Received.

One tender for a motor service truck was received from the American La France Company of Syracuse, but it was not accepted. The board will secure information as to the operation of electrically-driven fire trucks. The La France Company offered a service truck, with chemical extinguisher, for $9,600, and a truck with an electrically-driven pump of 500 gallons capacity for $12,500. Other figures will be secured.

Ald. Manness was present on behalf of the high cost of living committee, and urged that his committee be allowed to go into the fish business. He pointed out that a supply could be obtained at 6 and 7 cents a pound. Private dealers could not get the fish for less than 10 cents a pound. The board recommended that the committee be given authority to purchase 500 pounds of fish, as an experiment.

Wants Road For Soldiers.

Col. L. W. Shannon, O. C. Military District No. 1, suggested that the asphalt pavement now being laid on Adelaide street be continued from Central avenue to Rattle street at least. He pointed out that it was necessary to the handling of troops. Controller Shaw stated that the shortage of broken stone was holding back the work. However, with the co-operation of the militia authorities, it is expected that the stone can be obtained, and the work proceeded with. Col. Shannon suggested four more lights on Rattle street, and these will be put in.

City Engineer Brazier recommended that the Grand Trunk put in the crossing at Richmond street, as it had the facilities. This will be done.

Assessment Commissioner Stephen Grant reported that Alex. Dowdell, who owned some of the property necessary for the opening of Elias street, would not accept anything less than $4,500 for his property. As the city would pay no more than $3,500, it was decided not to open the street. The prices on Gordon street were also too high, and that thoroughfare will not be opened.

It was decided to put down a sidewalk on Palmerston street this year.

Building Inspector Piper presented plans for openings from the city hall into the hydro shop, and they were approved of.

Alfred Thompson, secretary of the hospital commission, acknowledged the receipt of the offer of the city to purchase the Odell farm for military hospital purposes.

CLEVELAND JUDGE DECIDES THAT FOSTER PARENTS IN SOME CASES HAVE FIRST CLAIM TO CHILD

Parallel of Thompson Case, in Which Court Ordered Imprisonment of Women Who Cared for Child for Many Years, Is Brought To Light.

A legal precedent for the possession of a child by a foster parent, who had cared for the child many years and become attached to it, was recently given in a Cleveland court. In many of its circumstances the case is a parallel for the celebrated local action of William Link to recover possession of his girl, Jean, from Miss Margaret Thompson, who cared for the child a great many years. Miss Thompson is now incarcerated at the county jail for contempt of court in refusing to answer questions in court as to the whereabouts of the child. The Cleveland Plain Dealer of recent date contains the following article regarding the decision by Judge Gott:

Foster parents, under certain conditions, have a better right to the custody of an unadopted child than the natural parents, County Pleas Judge Gott yesterday ruled when he refused the application of Mrs. Sybil Student, 4410 Clark avenue southwest, for a writ of habeas corpus to obtain possession of her 8-year-old son, Franklyn, from her sister-in-law, Mrs. Lily Hoban, 9801 Hilgert Drive northeast.

Tearful pleas by both the mother and Mrs. Hoban were made to the court for custody of the boy. When Mrs. Hoban's claim was held superior, Mrs. Student, choking with sobs, begged that she at least be permitted to see her son at intervals.

Mrs. Hoban said that Franklyn had become a ward of juvenile court when he was three weeks' old, and was paroled to the Humane Society. She declared that a few weeks later, with the agreement of his father and acquiescence of his mother, she was given his custody.

"I have raised him as my own child and don't want to lose him now," she told the court.

"Where the natural parents give the custody and care of a minor child to people who take it and, after keeping it for a number of years, become attached to it, it is then too late for the father and mother to reclaim it, even though there is no adoption," Judge Gott ruled.

Proceedings for the formal adoption of Franklyn by Mrs. Hoban are pending in probate court.

EIGHT EXEMPTION BOARDS LIKELY TO BE NAMED IN CITY

Government Policy Based on One to Every 7,500.

FOLLOW AMERICAN PLAN

Registered Men, If Found Fit Must Report for Training.

The city of London will probably have eight exemption boards to deal with the conscription of men for overseas service.

The policy outlined by the Government is a board for every 7,500 of the population. On this arrangement London should be entitled to about eight boards. That is the expectation among legal authorities today. The personnel of the boards will be determined by the central board at Ottawa. Half of the central committee will be Conservatives and the other half Liberals. It is expected that there will be a political division in London. The boards will consist of three or more members, probably the latter number.

There is no definite information here as to the methods of handling the draft. In the United States all males are registered. Later a number of the registered men are drawn by lot. They must report to the militia headquarters. They are examined as to their physical fitness, and if unfit are rejected. If fit, the men have a right to ask for exemption on matrimonial grounds, or others. The exemption boards hear the men and decide. If the man is considered eligible for duty he is ordered to report to the militia authorities, and he begins his course of training.

While it is not known, it is understood that the American system, with some slight alterations, will be followed.

Definite information from Ottawa is expected at an early date.

63 SOLDIERS FROM DISTRICT IN PARTY TO REACH HERE SOON

Thirteen London Men to Return in Large Party to Arrive in City.

One of the largest parties of returned soldiers to reach London yet will arrive here within a few days, word having been received that they arrived in Quebec on August 28. If all the men are sent here London's returned soldier population will be increased by 63. Thirteen Londoners will be with the party.

They are: W. Adams, 727 Queen's avenue; G. Charles, 404 Fort street; F. H. Cowan, 320 Thames street; A. W. Falconer, 204 Sydenham street; H. H. Gulett, 946 Queen's avenue; G. H. MILITARY AUTHORITIES PRESS CHARGE AGAINST ALOCAL PAWN BROKER

Thomas Fox, a Clarence street pawnbroker, appeared in police court today charged under Section 438 of the criminal code with "unlawfully receiving a pair of military boots from a soldier in training at Carling Heights."

His counsel, George S. Gibbons requested an adjournment, on the grounds that he was taken by surprise, as he had presumed the charge was laid under Section 128, which carries a lesser penalty.

The adjournment was granted until Tuesday next, and Fox allowed out on $500 bail on his own recognizances.

The offence under Section 438, an amendment since the beginning of the war, makes it indictable, and carries a penalty on conviction of not less than a $50 fine, up to five years' imprisonment.

The charge was laid on information sworn to by the military authorities.

SOFT COAL SOLD FOR $1.75 TON IN DETROLT

Local coal dealers could give no definite reason for the lower coal prices which it has been announced will shortly be prevalent in Detroit. According to a Detroit newspaper soft coal was obtained by the city fuel agent of that city at $1.75 a ton. This price is considered phenomenal even after having deducted the freight charges.

There will be no change in soft coal prices as a result of the anticipated drop in the American city, local dealers state. Virtually all of the large manufacturing plants of the city have put in an adequate supply, with the expectation of a famine this winter. The majority of households have also stored their winter coal much sooner than was usual in previous years, but according to coal men there is no immediate need for coal-storing, for unless unforeseen developments occur there will be plenty of fuel for everyone this winter.

DR. SMITH ACCEPTS CALL TO BLENHEIM

The London Presbytery held a special meeting in the First Presbyterian Church, this city, on Thursday afternoon, for the purpose of dealing with a call from Erskine Church, Blenheim, to Rev. Dr. Smith of Burns Church, Moss. Rev. Dr. D. L. McCrae presided in the absence of the moderator, Rev. W. R. McIntosh.

Dr. Langford and Messrs. Fleming and Denholm appeared to press the call on behalf of the Blenheim congregation, while the claims of Burns Church to retain Dr. Smith were presented by G. S. Munro, William Walker and Lachlan Leitch. Dr. Smith stated that after giving all consideration to the situation he regretted that he felt it his duty to resign from Burns Church and accept the call from Blenheim. Rev. G. S. Lloyd of Glencoe was appointed interim moderator of Burns Church.

Dr. Smith will close his present pastorate on September 9.

Pre-Natal Influence Of a Peanut Shown By a West London Hen

Eggs is eggs, and the average citizen does little more than grumble when he has to produce 45 cents to acquire a dozen. A few of them arrange meetings to place the blame for the soaring cost on the cold storage plants or the farmer or the middleman. The meetings are generally poorly attended, but they are going to be filled to overflowing this winter if the hens followed the lead of one little cross-bred sister in West London. She laid an egg the size of a double-jointed peanut the other day, and seemed quite proud of it.

It is an interesting-looking little egg, about one inch long and about the thickness of a little finger, except in the middle, where it is still smaller. It is a nice light brown color with dainty darker brown spots all over its shell. It was sent to The Advertiser by a poultry man wrapped in absorbent cotton, and inclosed in a dainty blue box.

The poultry man, who lives in Wilson avenue, says: "Dear Mr. Editor,—I am sending you clear evidence on the high cost of living. This egg, laid by a cross-bred hen, proves that even the productive fowls have had to curtail the size of their eggs."

Birth Rate Declines In City of London

112 Born in August, 1916, as Compared With 88 in the Present Month—Marriages Also Decline.

The birth rate continues to show a decline in London. According to the figures at City Clerk Sam Baker's office, there were 85 births during the month of August, as compared with 112 for the same month of 1916. There were 46 boys and 42 girls. There were four illegitimate births.

There was no epidemic of children's diseases, such as cholera infantum, and the like this year. Of the deaths recorded, 59, there were only 11 of infants, and only one of these died of cholera infantum. The weather is said to be largely accountable for this. There were 13 persons over 70 years who have died. Diphtheria caused 3 deaths, tuberculosis caused 4, typhoid fever 1, pneumonia 1, and cancer 4. There were 57 deaths in August of 1916.

The marriages numbered 41, or 9 less than during August of last year.

TELLS OF OVERCHARGE ON THE CITY RAILWAY

Shippers of cattle from Glanworth and other stations along the London and Port Stanley are complaining bitterly of the treatment accorded them in shipping stock on that road. One drover informed The Advertiser that he was compelled to pay $22.50 on two shipments more than the railway should have charged.

The matter will be investigated, and the railway commission asked to give a ruling on the rates. Vice-Chairman Pocock some time ago promised to have the rates regulated, but nothing has been done, this shipper alleges.

WEDDING BELLS

ADAIR—PINKHAM.

A pretty wedding took place at the Hamilton Road Presbyterian Manse, Hyatt avenue, Thursday evening, August 30, 1917, when Miss Dorothy Pinkham of this city became the bride of Pte. Frank Roy Adair of the 7th Regiment. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. D. L. McCrae. The young bride looked very sweet in a handsome suit of blue cloth, with white satin hat, and was assisted by Mrs. J. Clancey. J. Clancey attended the groom. The young couple, after a brief honeymoon, will take up their residence on Princess avenue, this city.

DENIES REPORT OF CARSHOPS STRIKE

Supt. Treleaven Says He Has Heard Nothing of Dissatisfaction.

Flat denial that there was a strike on at the G. T. R. carshops today, was given by Superintendent Treleaven to The Advertiser, who stated that there was nothing in it as far as he knew. "I have heard nothing of it," added Mr. Treleaven, "and there is nothing in it as far as I know. I have heard of no dissatisfaction among the men, and personally I know nothing of a strike."

He informed The Advertiser that it had been stated in a local paper that while the men were making from 19 to 22 cents per hour, they were going out to demand from 25 to 26 cents. "None of our able-bodied men are paid less than 24½ cents," he stated "and some are paid from 25 to 26 cents. Every man whom we hire as a laborer, without any mechanical skill, is paid 24 cents, and I know of none that are paid less. They are advanced as they grow more skillful at their work."

"We have some young lads who came here during their vacation from school, who get from 15 to 22 cents an hour. But none of the men are paid at that rate as far as I know. Everyone is working satisfactorily today," he added.

Mrs. (Dr.) MacNeill of Arva and daughter, Miss Marjorie, have returned after spending a pleasant vacation at Port Stanley.

FORECLOSURE ON THE C.N.R. IS SIR WILFRID'S DEMAND; CLOSURE PASSES MEASURE

Provisions of 1914 Statute Should Have Been Followed, Says the Leader of the Opposition—Pardee Emphasizes "Somersaults" of Meighen and White—Bennett Assails the Bill—Loads Burdens on People of Canada.

OTTAWA, Aug. 31.—The Canadian Northern purchase bill was passed in the House of Commons shortly after 2 o'clock this morning by a vote of 53 to 37.

The Closure Applied.

The debate on the Canadian Northern bill opened with the application of closure to bring the third reading division on at 2 o'clock in the morning. Closure was moved by the finance minister and carried by 65 to 43; J. G. Turriff, Levi Thompson, Dr. Michael Clark voting with the Government and J. A. Barrette with the Opposition. The speaker stated that twenty minutes would be the limit of speaking time, and that there would be a warning bell at the nineteenth minute.

The first speaker, E. M. Macdonald, opened by charging that the minister of finance had concealed facts regarding the Canadian Northern that he was afraid to give to the House.

The speaker declared that a statement that there had been concealment of fact was beyond the decorum of debate.

Mr. Macdonald changed to the statement that essential information had been withheld. He described Sir William Meredith as the professional arbitrator for the Conservative Government of Ontario and predicted that in this case he was sure to give a judgment favorable to the Government.

The speaker hammered for the nineteenth minute and Mr. Macdonald opened with a new argument. He was just started upon this nicely when the speaker sounded the knell of his speech. Mr. Macdonald asked more time, but the speaker held to the rule.

Laurier Takes Short Rations.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier was the next speaker. In opening he said that Sir Thomas White had suggested that he be given all the time he wished to speak. However, he could not thank him for the courtesy. He proposed to share short rations with his followers. Sir Wilfrid said the statement had been made and repeated that the Liberals had agreed in 1914 to pay thirty million dollars for the C. N. R. stock. At that time the C. N. R. was practically insolvent and came to the Government for aid. The question arose how best to deal with it. There were three possible courses—liquidation, temporary assistance or Government ownership. At that time the Government proposed temporary assistance, reorganizing the company and taking part of the stock. The Liberals proposed that there should be no assistance unless it was provided that the Government had power to acquire the stock, at a sum not exceeding thirty million dollars.

Why Not Foreclose?

Sir Wilfrid said that the conditions of 1914 and today were not parallel. The Government proposed today to buy the stock of a bankrupt company. The policy which ought to be followed now was laid down by the 1914 statute. The language of the act was very clear and certain. If they defaulted, the mortgage was to be foreclosed. He asked why this was not being done. The Government, he said, was horrified at confiscation, but why did they not think that in 1914? He claimed that they were taking property valued at $370,000,000 and with liabilities of $400,000,000. He said the owners of the Canadian Northern Railway stock never sold a dollar of it, and never paid anything for it. He was prepared to vote against the bill with a very clear conscience.

Only If It Should Fail.

Hon. Mr. Meighen followed, and discussed Sir Wilfrid's argument that the amendment of 1914 was designed to provide for action in the event of the success of the railway. If the Opposition leader would read his own speech in Hansard he would find that the purpose of the amendment was to provide for Government acquisition of the road only if it should fail. Sir Wilfrid did not, on that occasion, favor Government ownership, if a private company could be induced to run the road. He quoted the Opposition leader as saying on that occasion that he would rather get control of the road than continue to pour money into it. Sir Wilfrid then had also argued that there was no possibility of success for the undertaking, and for that reason the amendment was moved. To the argument of the Opposition leader that the liabilities of the C. N. R. were greater by $30,000,000 than its assets, Mr. Meighen said that the Government was providing for a properly constituted tribunal which would ascertain whether or not such a statement is correct.

Parliament Not Judicial.

Referring to the amendment moved by Mr. Pugsley, providing that Parliament must approve of the finding of the board of arbitration, Mr. Meighen argued that the functions of Parliament are legislative and not judicial. In all former cases of expropriation, including those for which Sir Wilfrid Laurier was responsible, the supreme court of Canada was made the final court of appeal.

There was no good reason why this should be made an exceptional case.

Somersaulter, Says Pardee.

F. F. Pardee charged Hon. Mr. Meighen with inconsistency. "We have seen a good many somersaults in this House; but surely none can compare with the somersaults of the minister of finance, and the secretary of state," said Mr. Pardee. "They will need a long time to justify their somersault on the Canadian Northern legislation."

The secretary of state (Hon. Mr. Meighen), had stated that he had no faith in the Drayton-Acworth commission, and the report of that commission, and thus sought to evade the statement of that committee that the liabilities of the Canadian Northern were $30,000,000 greater than the assets. In 1914 there had been an absolute understanding between the present Government and Mackenzie & Mann. They had said throw all the safeguards around us you like, but give us $45,000,000; that will tide us over and put us on our feet; we will enter upon a hard and fast bargain, and should we again have to come to the Government for assistance the Government may foreclose and take over the road for the amount of money the Government has put into it."

It Was O. K. In 1914.

At that time Sir Thomas White had said of the legislation drafted by the Hon. Arthur Meighen:

"I take off my hat to the solicitor-general. I have never seen as effective means of entering upon ownership of a property on which a mortgage was held as the present means devised by the solicitor-general." So, in 1914, the Government held that for default by the Canadian Northern it was so surrounded that the people of Canada could take over the road without the payment of a dollar.

"There is no justification for the present bill," said Mr. Pardee. "I am always willing to do the fair thing; I am always willing to pay for value received; but, when anybody says to me or to this country that you are confiscating something upon which there is an equity of redemption, and when your commissioners tell you the liabilities are greater than the assets, I want somebody to show me where the equity of redemption is."

The Canadian Northern had milked the Dominion of Canada, the provinces and the municipalities of Canada, and they were still milking.

This deal, outside the war, was the biggest thing that Canada had ever been involved in. The people of Canada were being handed a debt of $600,000,000. It needed all the light that could be turned on it and the Government had given only eight days for discussion.

Should Accept Their Bargain.

E. W. Nesbitt had no feeling against Mackenzie & Mann; they had shown courage and ability, but they had made a bargain and should live up to it. He was not against the principle of arbitration, but in this case there was nothing to arbitrate. He would be more satisfied with a businessman than with Sir William Meredith as arbitrator.

Levi Thompson, Liberal, of Alberta, favored the bill and the amendment for review of the finding by Parliament.

"I believe in Government ownership and in the Government taking over the Canadian Northern," he said. "I have voted for the limitation of the debate on this measure, because I believe the country has heard all they want to hear about it. I will vote for taking over the road because I believe the country has given Mackenzie & Mann all it wants to give them. I will also vote for the amendment, because I believe the award ought to be submitted to Parliament."

Carvell Opposes Meredith.

F. B. Carvell said that instead of the present plan, it would be better for the country to make the Canadian Northern a loan and let it carry on under present management For years the people had been paying deficits on the Intercolonial Railway and they were now arranging to do the same thing for the Canadian Northern. When the Government got hold of the road there would be an end of equity and a real beginning of a period of debt, with no improvement in service. Mr. Carvell said he had six weeks' experience with Sir William Meredith on the fuse inquiry, and he was the last man to be chosen to represent the people of Canada in a case with the Canadian Northern. It would be interesting if the minister of finance would tell how much the Canadian Northern had advanced by loan on Canadian Northern stock. He had come to the conclusion that the banks would have some difficulty in getting their money, unless the stocks were given a value.

Burden Canadian People.

R. B. Bennett, Conservative, followed with an attack upon the measure. It proposed to take from the shoulders of the provinces the burden of all their guarantees of the Canadian Northern, and all the other Canadian Northern burdens, and pile them on the people of Canada. The people of Canada would acquire, among other things, $98,000,000 of liabilities held in London, England, and New York, and not represented by securities; liabilities of debts for service contracts; debts created in construction. The announcement that the Canadian Pacific desired to acquire the Canadian Northern was nonsense; the Canadian Pacific would take nothing of the Canadian Northern unless it were a few branch lines. The argument had been put forward, either to hold up the people of Canada or to enhance the value of the stock. There had been reflections on the memorial of Montreal businessmen against the bargain, but Mr. Bennett could not see why Montreal businessmen had not as good a right to express their minds on this subject as a group of Toronto businessmen had to express their opinion of the reciprocity agreement of 1911. The people should not be stampeded by the cry that the C. P. R. wanted to gobble up the country. It was right that the C. N. R. should have opportunity to establish any value they believed existed in their stock. Most of the provinces had moratoria, so foreclosure could not be brought on if desired.

Slam at Quebec.

"There is no moratorium in Quebec," said Mr. Lemieux.

"The people of Quebec didn't go to fight so they didn't need it," replied Mr. Bennett.

"There is no moratorium in the Maritime Provinces, either," said Mr. Carvell.

Mr. Bennett held that the Canadian Northern should have been dealt with by statutory receivership. As the Government bill stood it was useless unless the other chamber of parliament amended it. What would happen if Mackenzie & Mann sat tight and refused to sign the agreement? Only registered owners of shares should be considered in the transaction; third parties should have no say. The bill did not indicate when the transaction should be completed; that might be deferred until after the maturity of London and New York obligations.

Bennett Choked Off.

Mr. Bennett started to read the amendment that should be made to the bill when the gavel dropped, and he was gagged by closure. It was an unpleasant surprise for grace from the Government.

"Go on," said Mr. Gauthier of St. Hyacinthe. "The gag is only for the Opposition."

The speaker said that the rule was plain, and that Mr. Bennett could not go on without the permission of a member of the Government. The permission was not forthcoming, and Mr. Bennett suggested that a member of the Opposition should finish reading the amendment, starting at page 7. He held that it would be necessary to have the bill amended in the Senate to safeguard the country.

Dr. Pugsley suggested that Mr. Bennett himself might be in the Senate to look after the matter by the time the bill got there.

Sir Thomas White, who replied to Mr. Bennett, said that if the C. N. R. did not go into the hands of a receiver, the question of the liability of the provinces would not arise. No one but Mr. Bennett, he said, had seriously suggested a receivership. "If none is appointed and this bill becomes law, the railway will be able to pay interest on its securities, and the provinces will not have to pay."

No Change in Conditions.

Sir Thomas maintained that the acquirement of the stock by the Government would not essentially change the conditions which exist today. This would not mean that the assets of the company are invested in the Dominion, nor would it make the Government responsible for its liabilities. At this point, Sir Thomas objected to some interruptions on the score that he had only twenty minutes.

"It's your own fault," said Mr. Bureau.

Proceeding, the minister argued that the railway department of the Government had full information as to the cost of construction, the liabilities, etc. Apart from the appointment of a receivership, he said only two things could happen to the C. N. R. It must either be taken over and operated, or fall into the hands of the C. P. R. Referring more particularly to Mr. Bennett's suggestions, Sir Thomas said it was a great thing to be a lawyer, because lawyers could see a hundred times more difficulty in a bill than a plain man of common sense.

"That's a cheap answer," said Mr. Bennett.

The purpose of the bill, the minister went on to say, is to prevent the C. N. R. from going into a receivership. Mackenzie & Mann would accept the situation. They would be insane not to do so. If they decide to sit tight the Government would sit tight also. The minister maintained that if the word "pledges" was eliminated from the bill, the pledges of the stock would transfer it to the registered owners, and it would make no difference.

Gaggers Are Gagged.

Hon. George P. Graham said that the Liberals were amused at the plight the Government members found themselves in. They had planned a rope with a noose for the Opposition, and were dangling with their heels in the air themselves. The minister of finance was anxious to tell the world that he had put this bill through by closure and found himself gagged. He had fallen into his own trap and had to stop before he was through. He assured the House that the bill would have gone through today without the gag. One result of its application was that the minister of finance had not been able to reply to Mr. Bennett. On Wednesday evening, after warning the Opposition that the gag would be applied, the prime minister had spoken for two hours on the bill, while other speakers were confined to 20 minutes. Mr. Graham said that the minister of finance had told the House that after the Government purchased the stock of the C. N. R. it would not own the system. He wanted to know who would own it.

Mr. Graham maintained that the minister's argument was a legal technicality. The Government would own the C. N. R. and would be liable for everything the company owes. Mr. Graham read the remainder of the draft bill which Mr. Bennett had been unable to finish. In doing so he remarked that he was sorry the member for Calgary was in such company, as he had not read his proposals, he said, but they could not be much worse than the bill before the House, and they might be some better.

ELECTIONS SOON AFTER FRANCHISE BILL PASSES

OTTAWA, Aug. 30—There was a Liberal caucus this morning. It is understood that there was a general discussion of the situation that has been created by the conscription act becoming law. The consensus of opinion was that expressed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier in Parliament yesterday that since conscription has become law all loyal British subjects should do all in their power to see that the law is harmoniously carried out in its application.

There was consideration of the Canadian Northern bill and the position that the Government has taken in putting the measure through the House

The consensus of opinion in the caucus was that the Government will bring on the elections as soon as it can secure the passage of a franchise bill and organize the machinery for taking the vote.

WAR VETERANS URGE BORDEN TO FORM A NATIONAL GOVT.

Ingersoll Men Hearily Support the Military Bill.

INGERSOLL, Aug. 30.—At a meeting of the Ingersoll branch of the Great War Veterans' Association, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"Whereas the present strife and lack of efficient leadership in the political life of Canada is causing resentment and sorrow throughout the country, endangering the future freedom and honor of our Dominion, and earning the contempt of those who are fighting our battles, therefore be it resolved that we, the members of the Great War Veterans' Association of Ingersoll, urge upon the authorities at Ottawa the necessity of immediately forming a national government representative of all classes of the Canadian people, that the full might of Canada in men and material resources be immediately available for the achievement of victory. We heartily support the military service bill as the only practical way of securing the necessary reinforcements for our brave comrades at the front. Be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be sent to our representatives at Ottawa, namely, Donald Sutherland, M.P., and E. W. Nesbit, M.P."

Rev. Jos. Janes, M.A., officiated at a quiet wedding at the Baptist parsonage, when he united in marriage Miss Beatrice James of Dereham Township, and Thomas Williams, of Ingersoll. They were unattended. After their honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Williams will reside in London.

A number of interesting trophies from the battlefields of France are displayed in the window of E. Deamude's store. They were sent here by Pte. H. Bearss. Among the articles is a beautiful glass door knob, which was picked up in the ruins of a cathedral after it had been demolished by a 2,000-pound projectile fired by the Germans. Two miniature military caps are also displayed. These are fashioned after the Canadian military cap and were made by Pte. Bearss from German shells. A shoulder strap, from a German tunic, an Allied flag, as well as bullets, etc., are included in the interesting collection.

That he had lost all his crops in a destructive hail storm, which broke over a section of territory two miles wide and sixty miles long, was the word sent by Wilbur Nagle, of Brant, Alberta, to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Nagle, Cottage avenue, in a letter just received. The storm occurred on August 21st. and caused damage, according to the letter, that will aggregate many thousands of dollars. At High River, Mr. Nagle stated, 60 calves were killed by the hail, and other animals badly injured. Mr. Nagle is a young man well known here. He has been farming in the West for several years.

COMMONS TO CLOSE IN ANOTHER WEEK

Leader in Senate Announces September 8 as Date of Session's Ending.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

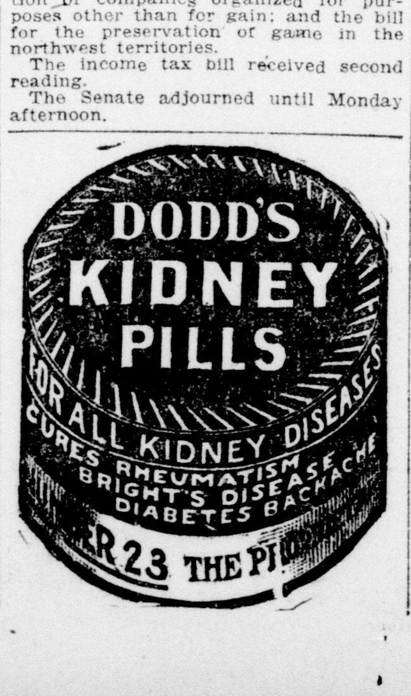

OTTAWA, Aug. 30.—The Government sees the end of the session approaching.

The leader of the Senate, Sir James Lougheed, today stated to the Senate that the prime minister hoped for a prorogation on Saturday, week, Sept. 8. He also announced that the Senate would commence morning sittings on Monday next.

Third reading was given in the Senate today to the bill providing for an overseas minister of militia, a parliamentary secretary of military and a parliamentary secretary of external affairs; the bill providing free incorporation of companies organized for purposes other than for gain; and the bill for the preservation of game in the northwest territories.

The income tax bill received second reading.

The Senate adjourned until Monday afternoon.

CORN PROSPECTS IN WESTERN ONTARIO REPORTED BRIGHT

Rain Has Helped This Crop, Together With Roots.

MUCH PLOWING DONE

Big Acreage Being Prepared for Fall Wheat Crop Next Year.

SOUTH DELAWARE, Aug. 30.—The rains of the past few days have revived the pastures, pushed forward the growth of corn, and the prospects for root crops considerably brighter. While the rain will keep some grain out later, it has done a great deal of good.

The hum of the threshing outfit is heard in every direction, and large yields are being reported, the grain being an excellent sample in most cases. Wheat averages from 30 to 40 bushels, barley from 40 to 50, and oats from 40 to 70 bushels.

Potatoes and beans bid fair to be a bumper crop. There was a large acreage of beans put in this year and there will be a large acreage of wheat this fall. The rains have made the ground plow well. The present price of wheat encourages the farmer to put in more of this grain than usual.

Beef cattle in this district are moving fast at good prices. It has been a good year for the cattlemen.

There is but a slim honey crop this year because of the cold spring. Everyone is rushing in their orders of honey.

GOOD SUGARCANE.

RUTHVEN, Aug. 30.—Under the recent heavy showers crops of all kinds are fast coming to maturity. Much of the best crops are now under shelter, and in a few days, given good weather, the harvest will all be in.

Growers are pleased at the corn prospects. It is believed that the recent showers will mean that the crop will be the best seen here in many years.

Tomatoes of the early variety are still being shipped all over the province. In a short time the later varieties will be ready for the canning factories.

The tobacco crop is still coming on in good shape, and according to many of the growers will be the equal of any crops grown here in years.

A large acreage sown in purple-top turnips is showing prospects of a good yield. A few fields of sugarcane are also showing up well and the growers expect that in a short time first quality sorghum will be on the market.

All root crops are as good as has been seen here for years.

WILL NOT RUN THIS SEASON.

ILDERTON, Aug. 30.—The Ilderton F. G. A. will not open for business this year, as there is hardly any prospects of even enough apples for local use for the farmers this season. The few that were on the trees earlier in the season seem to have dropped off, and also the plum crop is nearly a total failure for the same cause. Pears and grapes, where grown, seem to be the only fruits left, and they are only grown to a limited extent, so many will have to depend on imported supplies.

VENIZELOS PLANNED TO KEEP BULGARIA OUT AND BEAT TURK

Russia Would Have Escaped Beating in 1916.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—The Athens correspondent of Reuter's, Limited, says that the full report of the speech made by Premier Venizelos on August 26 throws a new and important light on the Dardanelles campaign, and shows not been arbitrarily vetoed by Constantine, then king, Serbia might have been saved, Bulgaria forced to keep neutral and Turkey defeated early in 1915. At the time he proposed intervention in the war—in February, 1915—Gallipoli was defended by only 6,000 Turks scattered among the different fortresses, with scanty supplies of ammunition. From the Greek representative at Constantinople it was learned that the Turks then were actually preparing to evacuate the capital, and, he declared, if his policy had been carried out a Greek army could have been secretly landed at Gallipoli and could have entered Constantinople within a fortnight.

"Thus," said M. Venizelos, "Turkey would have been destroyed, Russia would have had her food supplied by sea, would have been enabled to export her grain, and would have escaped the offensive of 1916. Bulgaria, seeing Greek and Franco-British armies on her rear, would not have dared to intervene, and Germany would have lost the east, and the war would have ended one year earlier."

As it was, said M. Venizelos, the Allies undertook the Dardanelles campaign more than a month after the Turks began their defence works at Gallipoli, having no longer any confidence in Greece.

U.S. SENATOR WOULD PUT CRIMP IN GERARD TITLE

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—An Associated Press dispatch from Washington today says:

A bill that would prevent Former Ambassador Gerard from accepting the Order of the Bath with the honors of a sir knight, recently conferred by King George, was introduced today by Senator Overman and referred to the judiciary committee. It would prohibit any citizen of the United States from accepting any present, emolument, office or title from any king or foreign government under penalty of a fine of $10,000 and forfeiture of citizenship.

The only prohibition of the kind existing now is constitutional, but it only affects persons holding office.

LEGION OF HONOR FOR MAJOR LAVIOLETTE--DEAD

MONTREAL, Aug. 30.—The French Government has made Major Lambert Dumont Laviolette a chevalier of the Legion of Honor, in recognition of his services at the front, but as Major Laviolette is dead the decoration will probably be presented to his mother. His funeral will take place tomorrow morning and will be under military auspices.

POLISH COUNCIL REFUSES RIFLE CORPS TO AUSTRIA

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 30.—The Cracow newspapers report that the direct cause of the reisgnation of the Polish council of state was the decision of Governor-General von Beseler that a Polish rifle corps should be formed from the Polish levies and placed at the disposal of the Austrian army.

The Austro-German authorities, it is stated, will select a Polish committee to continue the debates and discussions formerly conducted in the council of state and to supervise the establishment of the Polish courts from September 1—the only function of government yet intrusted to the Polish authorities in the new kingdom.

BENEFICIAL SHOWERS.

HARROW, Aug. 30.—The splendid rains throughout this district will mean thousands of dollars to the farmers. Potatoes, corn, tomatoes, tobacco and beans and pasture will be greatly helped.

Most of the splendid crops of this district have been safely harvested, so the rain will interfere little in this respect.

GERMAN RULER HELD UP BEFORE MANKIND'S GAZE AS FREEBOOTER

Wilson Tells German People What They Must Do To Be Saved.

END OF WAR IS BEGUN

All Lying Pleas of Prussian Diplomacy Cannot Wipe Out Crimson Stain.

[By James Keeley in Chicago Herald.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—We may send 1,000,000 or 2,000,000 American soldiers to France; we may appropriate sums of money so vast that, to quote a phrase used to me today by a world financier: "They read to me like astronomical calculations." But neither millions of men nor billions of money can strike so effective a blow for "world democracy" as did President Wilson today to the pope's peace plea.

The end of the war began today, and in Mr. Wilson's 1,200 words the peace plans of the world are set forth.

The bugle call to "Cease firing!" may not come for months, or for years, but the surrender or defeat of Germany was made inevitable when Mr. Wilson, on his own typewriter, held the German Government up to the gaze of all mankind as a treacherous, murderous world freebooter, and told the German people what they must do to be saved.

Message to Teutons.

Mr. Wilson's note is addressed to His Holiness Benedictus XV., but his message is to the German people. He tells them they have followed the gory flag of an imperial buccaneer through rivers of blood and a welter of broken pledges toward the impossible goal of the domination of the world.

While they follow this leader there can be no mercy and no pardon, for any word they gave would be worth no more than the bond of their foresworn master that he would respect and protect the neutrality of Belgium.

As long as Germany means Hohenzollernism, the war will go on, and if this means the end of Germany in the same torture to which Belgium, France and Serbia have been put, the blame will be upon their own heads.

Germany Arraigned.

Show the world a government that the world can trust to keep its pledges, instead of an autocrat, crazed with ambition to make the whole earth stand at attention to a Hohenzollern drillmaster, and peace is yours for the asking, is what the president tells the German people in politer words.

He tells the pope that the circumstance of the German people responding "with temporary zest" to the sanguinary frenzy of their ruthless master does not concern us, but, he says:

"It is our business to see to it that the history of the rest of the world is no longer left to their handling."

The president does more than speak of the present and the future; he illuminates the past, and in the searchlight of his denunciation Germany stands revealed as the blood-stained plotter for and inciter of the European cataclysm.

Pitiless Accusation.

The document burns with pitiless accusation. It gives the lie to the canting hypocrisy of Germany that she is fighting a war of self-defence—that she is battling—and battled from the beginning—for self-preservation; that she is a nation defending herself from the premeditated rapacious assaults of covetous neighbors, who mobilized when she sat with arms folded, who attacked when she desired peace.

No plea of self-defence is possible. Grand larceny—the grandest larceny of all ages—was Germany's game, the larceny of the whole world. Mr. Wilson puts it more politely, more diplomatically; he calls it world dominion.

"Secretly," so says the president, "and cunningly for fifty years her rulers have plotted and planned, have schemed and spied, and have builded for the day when her legions would overrun the earth and plant the Prussian eagle on every soil."

We hope the phrase, "to dominate the world," sinks into the soul of every American, and particularly those Americans who, with potential disloyalty in their hearts, have been asking why America went to war.

This Is the Answer.

This is the answer; there in the president's note is the reason. We went to war to save that for which our forefathers fought and died; that for which all real men joyfully will die—freedom.

The North fought to free the slaves; North and South and East and West today are fighting against Teutonic slavery.

To enslave the world Germany has drenched it in blood.

"Her vast military establishment, controlled by an irresponsible government," when the moment came, struck as a thief in the night; struck as strikes the assassin, but without the assassin's regard for sex or age; struck as it pleased and as it planned; struck without regard for sacred obligations, with scorn for the very laws it had helped create, and to the upholding of which its national honor was pledged; struck ruthlessly and suddenly, hoping that terror and surprise would supplement its men and its guns; struck foe and friend, belligerent and neutral, and in so striking struck the hour of its own doom.

Blood-Guilt Placed.

President Wilson places the blood-guilt where it belongs, on the skull-crowned brow of German militarism, and all the sophistries of Wilhelmstrasse, all the lying pleas of military necessities and all the evasions of Prussian diplomacy, cannot wipe away the crimson stain.

Germany, says the president to his holiness, "stopped at no barrier of either law or mercy, swept a whole continent within the tide of blood—not the blood of soldiers only, but the blood of innocent women and children also, and of the helpless poor."

BRITISH MONITORS HAMMERING TRIEST

Terrible Fire Directed Upon City's Fortifications.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—How Italian and British monitors have returned undamaged to their base after co-operating with Italian land forces in their advance toward Triest, by bombarding the defences of the city of Triest for the last five days, is related in official dispatches received here today from Rome, quoting the naval correspondent of the Tribuna.

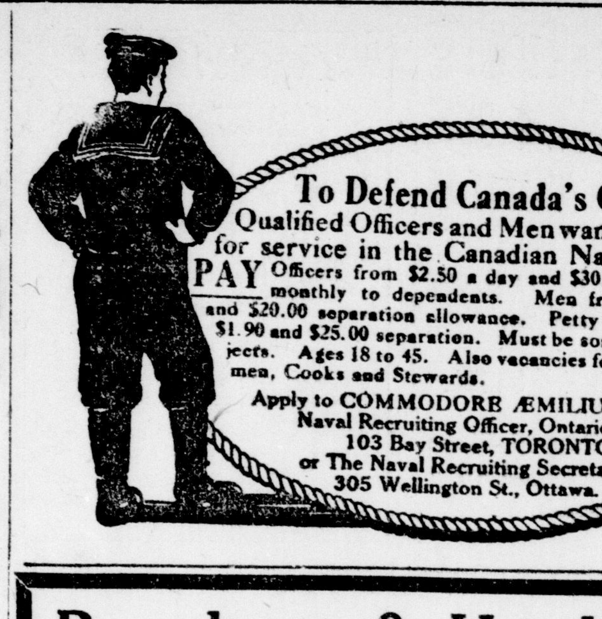

"Terrible fire has been directed from the Gulf of Triest over the Austrian defences of the Hermada," says the dispatch. "The fire was directed by Italian airplanes, which did their work without any interference, no Austrian airplane having appeared."

ARGENTINA INCIDENT CLOSED?

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 30.—A dispatch received here from Berlin says the Argentine minister has informed the German Government that Argentina considers the incident of the sinking of the steamer Toro closed, Germany having agreed to indemnify the owners of the vessel.

Argentina Will Not Force Harbor Rule on British Warships

BUENOS AYRES, Argentine Republic, Aug. 30.—The Argentine Government has decided that it will not enforce, in the case of a British cruiser, the neutrality regulation limiting to 24 hours the stay of a belligerent warship at a neutral port. This rule already has been abrogated by Argentina in favor of the United States.

MOSCOW CONFERENCE WILL SPEED UP RUSSIAN CONDUCT OF CAMPAIGN

Kerensky Condemns All Those Who Would Cease Hostilities Now.

London, Aug. 31.—The Moscow conference will have a lasting effect upon the Russian nation, and the conduct of the war will be speeded up, Premier Kerensky declared in an interview at Moscow on Wednesday. The Government convened the Moscow conference, the Exchange Telegraph Company's report of the interview says, in order to get acquainted as fully as possible with the opinions, tendencies and needs of the country, to tell the representatives of all classes, races and creeds the truth concerning the crisis through which Russia is passing, and to impress upon the entire nation the necessity for united efforts for the defence of the country and for securing liberty for the Russian people.

The Government, the premier added, feel confident that these objects have been attained to a very considerable degree, and is convinced that an overwhelming majority of the nation is deeply democratic and prepared to make sacrifices for liberty, and the defence of the country. All parties are willing to make mutual sacrifices to insure united effort.

"I am sure," the premier said, "that the truth learned by the whole nation at the conference will not fade away. On the contrary it will have an effect for a long time to come, and will burn in an ever increasing flame. The conduct of the war and the struggle against our enemies will gain greatly."

The correspondent quotes Premier Kerensky as using the following expression in his closing speech at the conference:

"May those be damned who talk of a cessation of hostilities at the present moment."

SAWS OFF FLAGPOLE WITH PISTOL SHOTS; IS BELIEVED INSANE

Picture in Orange Sentinel Incites Hamiltonian.

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., Aug. 30.—W. A. Wilson, formerly of 261 Wellington street north, Hamilton, Ont., has been sentenced by two justices of the peace at the town of Marcelin, sixty miles northwest of here, on the Canadian Northern Railway, to six months in prison for shooting up that town, because he claimed the Union Jack had been pulled down from the public school to make way for the papal flag.

Wilson says he read a story in the Orange Sentinel of Toronto, with a picture showing the papal flag flying over the schoolhouse. He was deputed to come west to restore the Union Jack, and reached Marcelin Tuesday afternoon. Being told the school was German school, Wilson emptied his revolver into the flagpole and sawed it down. Afterwards he pointed the weapon threateningly at local townspeople, including the constable. His arrest by the provincial police followed.

It developed at the trial that several months ago Bishop Charlebois of the Roman Catholic Church was making a pastoral tour. A man was delegated to hoist the papal flag in front of the presbytery, but there being no rope there he hoisted it on the public school pole adjoining. Apparently a photograph was forwarded to the Orange Sentinel.

Wilson is to be examined as to his sanity, and the magistrate condemned the inflammatory article in the Sentinel as having been published without investigating the circumstances.

MILLION BUS. POTATOES TO BE SOLD AT COST

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Plans for purchasing and storing in Chicago one million bushels of potatoes, for use after January 1 next, were started today by the middle western section of the national food administration. The potatoes are to be sold to consumers at cost, the price to be fixed after all expenses, including interest on the capital required to finance the deal, have been determined.

SUBMARINE MENACE IS EFFECTIVELY MET BY AMERICAN WAY OF CONVOYING SHIPS

Losses Average Less Than Half of One Per Cent.

NEW BOMB IS A WONDER

Explodes Under Water and Cracks Subs Like a Shell.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—American naval forces are convoying merchant craft across the Atlantic, it was disclosed officially today at the navy department, and examination of the records shows that the loss of convoyed ships by submarines has averaged less than one-half of one per cent.

Details of the convoy system are withheld. It was stated, however, that American war vessels are regularly escorting fleets of British, French or other Allied merchantmen across, the protection being supplemented when the danger zone is reached by the destroyers and other patrol craft.

American naval officials believe that an effective system for checking the submarine menace is being built up gradually but certainly. Many devices any many methods enter into the task. Among other things depth bombs are proving effective. Official reports indicate that American destroyers have accounted for several U-boats with these weapons. No announcement of such incidents will be made, however, unless absolute proof of the fact is available.

None Captured.

No U-boat has been captured by the Americans. It is the best judg[illegible]of high officials, that several [illegible] sunk by Admiral Sims' destroyers, and they are confident—more confident than ever before—that the submarine menace will be substantially abated as the number of American destroyers and other craft available for the work is increased.

The effect of the increasing patrol, of the employment of airplanes and of the addition of new devices to the anti-submarine weapons has been to force the U-boats under water to a greater and greater degree. Their effectiveness is limited in proportion. They cannot run down a merchant ship of average speed if kept under water. They can operate only against ships that almost stumble upon them. And during the time they are under water they are consuming the stored power of their storage batteries, decreasing their range of under water action, and compelling them to come up at night and lie idle on the surface while their oil engines are used to re-charge the batteries.

Huge Expenditure.

The decision of the navy department to spend $350,000,000 on new destroyers and destroyer building facilities, approved yesterday by President Wilson, is based on the effectiveness of the swift fighting machines as proven by Admiral Sims' forces. Every effort to speed the new program as well as the old will be made, and during the next year the American destroyer force in European waters probably can be more than doubled. Destroyers now under construction are being rushed to completion and reports on progress are satisfactory.

American experts have developed a depth bomb for use against submarines that is deadly at considerable range. The bomb containing high explosive, is dropped from a destroyer over a spot where the presence of a submarine is indicated. It is timed to explode at a certain depth. If the explosion occurs below the U-boat and within reasonable distance, the hull of the under-water craft cannot withstand the pressure but is crushed like an egg-shell.

Signs of the destruction in this way appear upon the surface in the shape of oil from ruptured fuel tanks, bits of floating wreckage and the like. That is all that is ever heard of the lost boat. It is very difficult, therefore, to be certain of a hit, as the Germans on more than one occasion have released oil, purposely turned loose wreckage prepared in advance, and done everything else possible to create the impression that a boat had been sunk.

Limit the Field.

The under-water radius of the average U-boat is less than 150 miles, under most favorable conditions. To get that distance it would have to travel at a rate of very few miles an hour. It is argued, therefore, that if by means of aircraft, destroyers and all other agencies for the detection of submarines a zone 150 miles or less in width could be drawn about the German bases or the entrance of the North Sea, in which a submarine could come to the surface only at rare intervals, the Germans would not be able to operate on a scale to threaten supply lines except inside that zone. Whatever the plans of the allied governments is as to future policy against the U-boats rapid development of the devices for checking the under-water campaign, accelerated by the entrance of the United States into the war, are now taking such shape as to indicate that a way may be found in the end to dispose of the menace. Results of U-boat activities this winter will be closely watched as having bearing on the subject. Rough weather may work equally against submarines or anti-submarine plans.

LOSSES FROM LENS IN CANADIAN RANKS ARE BEING REPAIRED

Reinforcements Come From Depots in England.

FINE QUALITY OF MEN

Sir George Perley Declares That Compulsion Law Must Soon Be Applied.

CANADIAN HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, Aug. 30.—Via London.—(By Stewart Lyon, special correspondent, Canadian Press.)—Sir George Perley, overseas minister of militia, has been spending a few days at the front. He paid a visit to the Canadian divisions on whom the chief burden of the recent battle fell. They marched past, amid a pouring rain, like the veterans they are, with weapons and accoutrements in perfect order and the light of victory in their eyes.

Sir George stated to your correspondent that the losses in the battle of Lens were rapidly being made good from the Canadian depots in England, and that the men still available for reinforcements were of the same excellent material as those who had brought much honor to the Dominion by their victories in the battles of Vimy Ridge and Lens. There was no sign of deterioration in either keenness or fighting qualities of the young Canadians now taking their places in the firing line.

Talks For Conscription.

The great problem, Sir George said, was to secure from Canada a sufficient number of men to keep the divisions now in the field up to strength. That could only be accomplished by the measure of national service recently adopted at Ottawa, declared Sir George. By their splendid valor the men now at the front had earned the right to urge that the people back home should see that the needed support reaches them before the fighting power of the Canadian corps becomes impaired.

It is not only in the ranks of the fighting men that the wastage must be made good. Thousands of Canadians in France are engaged in the vital work of building and maintaining standard and light railways. In many cases this work is done under fire and losses are sustained by the men engaged upon it.

Non-Combatants Run Risk.

During the recent operations there was an instance of a piece of railway track being broken by shellfire several times and put in order on each occasion by men who risked their lives to do this so-called non-combatant work. Canada's forestry contingent also, which consists of men at work in the woods and forests all over France, and Britain too, continually calls for reinforcements to make good the wastage from accident and sickness.

Sir George says that the authorities still regard the forestry operations in which our men are engaged as vital to the winning of the war.

NOSE DIVE INTO SEA KILLS BRITISH FLIER

Hon. Francis McLaren, Son of Lord Aberconway, Victim.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—Flight Lieut. Francis W. S. McLaren, member of the House of Commons, was killed this morning at Montrose. He was fully a mile at sea, when the airplane fell to the water in a nose dive. He was rescued, but died from internal injuries.

Lieut. The Honorable Francis McLaren, second son of Lord Aberconway, entered the army in the first days of the war and was commissioned lieutenant for service with an armored motor car section. He was transferred in January of last year to the Royal Flying Corps, to which he has since been attached. He was elected to the House of Commons for the Spalding division of Lincolnshire in 1910. He was a Liberal, 31 years old.

TWO KILLED IN WRECK OF WABASH FREIGHT

ADRIAN, Mich., Aug. 30.—When Wabash fast freight No. 91, westbound, left the tracks at Britton, near here, at 7 o'clock tonight, the fireman and one brakeman were instantly killed. The locomotive and ten cars rolled into a deep ditch, carrying the men with it. The engineer escaped by jumping. A broken rail was the cause of the accident.

HAMILTON WOMAN WAS DOWN IN BED FOR NINE WEEKS

Takes Tanlac and Is Up and About Shortly Afterwards.

HAS GAINED FIVE POUNDS

"My Troubles Are Not Only Relieved, But Entirely Gone," She Says.

"When I began taking Tanlac I had been down in bed for nine weeks, and if you had seen me then you'd be surprised to see me in here now," said Mrs. K. Thompkins, who resides at 12 Wood street, in a conversation with the Tanlac representatives at Parke & Parke, Limited, Hamilton, a few days ago.

"My health had been failing for two years," Mrs. Thompkins continued. "I was all rundown, had no appetite, and suffered from gastritis. I had dizzy headaches, and was as nervous and shaky as anyone gets to be. I could scarcely sleep at all and felt so tired, stupid and bad in the mornings that I could hardly get out of bed. I finally got so bad off I couldn't do my work, and just had to give up and go to bed. I had awful smothering spells, caused by the gas on my stomach, and belched so much that it embarrassed me. My chest was full of pain and my heart would flutter and jump like it was coming out. I tried any number of different kinds of medicines, but it was just like taking that much water, as for the good they did me. I fell off until I weighed only one hundred and three pounds, and was getting weaker and more despondent all the time.

"My son advised me to try Tanlac, and I was up and about shortly after I began taking it. I now have a splendid appetite and can eat just anything without it hurting me. The gas has stopped forming on my stomach, and I don't have any more smothering spells or palpitation of the heart. I'm not nervous and dizzy any more, my headaches are gone, and I sleep every night like a child. I now weigh one hundred and eight pounds, and I get up in the mornings refreshed and really enjoy doing my work. Every symptom of my troubles is not only relieved, but entirely gone, and I can truthfully say I really feel like a different person. I will always have a good word for Tanlac, and several of my friends are now taking it on account of what it has done for me."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug Company, under the direction of a special representative, and by an established agency in every town.

Good News Again!

Free Pants Saturday

Were you one of the lucky ones who got in on the FREE PANTS offer last Saturday? Or were you one of the disappointed ones whom our staff was unable to wait on? We know there are scores of men in London who were turned away, because we had not calculated on such a wonderful response to our offer. We have seen many big days of selling in this city, when we have made similar offers, but nothing to equal last Saturday. Hundreds were here, hundreds more were unable to get waited upon. Now we want to do the square thing with the men of London. We always have done that, and we are as anxious that you shall share in this offering as you are. So we are going to give the men of London who were unable to get their share last Saturday another chance tomorrow. WE ARE GOING TO REPEAT THE OFFER OF A PAIR OF PANTS FREE! A pair of Pants FREE with every SUIT OR OVERCOAT ORDERED. No matter how many suits or overcoats you order you will get a pair of pants Free with every order. There now, is that plain? Is that fair enough to please you? Could you ask more? Could you expect more? Now we want just a word with you about the fabrics. You will have ample choice. Every new shade, every new weave that is correct will be here. Tweeds, Worsteds, Cheviots, Serges, Meltons, Beavers, Friezes, Chinchillas, Vicunas, Venetians, Homespuns. You'll find them all here. And you can have your clothes made in any of the new fall and winter styles. Every button, every thread, will be sewn in our own big tailor shops, and the garments cut by our own designers. Now you are to be the judge as to values. Come in and make as thorough an inspection as you like.

OUT-OF-TOWN MEN

If you cannot come to the store on Saturday, we will hold this offer open to you until last mail on Monday, up to which time a letter from you with a small deposit, will entitle you to the full Free Pants benefit. We will send you full assortment of samples, together with the latest Fashion Plates, simple self-measuring chart, by which you cannot make a mistake, and if we should fail to satisfy you, your money will be returned.

Positively the Last FREE PANTS This Season

ONE DAY ONLY---SATURDAY

REMEMBER, A PAIR OF PANTS FREE WITH EVERY SUIT OR OVERCOAT ORDERED TOMORROW. COME EARLY. HUNDREDS WERE UNABLE TO GET SERVED LAST SATURDAY. WE WANT TO DO THE RIGHT THING.

THIS OFFER ALSO HOLDS GOOD IN ANY OF OF THE SCOTLAND WOOLEN MILLS STORES NAMED HERE:

Hamilton, St. Catharines, Woodstock, Sarnia, Windsor, Welland, Guelph, Sudbury, Sault Ste. Marie, Belleville, Peterboro, Kingston, Ottawa, Toronto.

We have made ample arrangements and engaged extra sales men so that all will be served.

SAVE THE CHILDREN

Mothers who keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house may feel that the lives of their little ones are reasonably safe during the hot weather. Stomach troubles, cholera infantum and diarrhoea carry off thousands of little ones every summer, in most cases because the mother does not have a safe medicine at hand to give promptly. Baby's Own Tablets cure these troubles, or if given occasionally to the well child will prevent their coming on. The Tablets are guaranteed by a Government analyst to be absolutely harmless even to the newborn babe. They are especially good in summer, because they regulate the bowels and keep the stomach sweet and pure. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

ARGENTINA SUSPICIOUS AT BERLIN CORDIALITY

RIO DE JANEIRO, Aug. 29.—(Delayed).—The German note to Argentina settling the Toro incident and promising that Argentine ships would be respected hereafter, is couched in such cordial terms that it has given rise to suspicion in well informed political circles here, where surprise is expressed at the excessive and unaccustomed compliance of Germany toward a country which does not belong to the alliance. The general impression here is surprise and distrust.

WHERE RESPONSIBILITY RESTS.

FEARS ARE widely entertained that Quebec anti-conscriptionists will not obey the law which forbids any attempt to hamper the operation of the new compulsory service bill and that there will be tragic occurrences before the resulting trouble is settled. Everyone hopes these fears are groundless and that all French-Canadians and English-speaking opposers of the bill will follow the noble and patriotic example of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and help to enforce the act, which has now become one of the laws of Canada.

But the danger exists, and it is not out of place to point out on whom the blame rests, if anything serious should happen. The responsibility for Quebec's attitude belongs in large measure, if not entirely, to the Borden Government. For many months this Government has permitted certain Nationalists to write and utter the most seditious sentiments, spreading their doctrine of disloyalty among the ignorant classes and gaining adherents in unknown but doubtless large numbers. These are the people from whom trouble is feared and from whom it will come, if it comes at all. In other parts of the country men have been arrested and imprisoned, and at least one paper suspended, for expressing opinions much less objectionable than those of the Nationalists, but the latter have been given immunity from punishments for purely party purposes.

Had the Borden Government shown any firmness or fairness in stamping out sedition and disloyalty in Quebec when they first showed their faces, there would be no need of apprehension today. Party policy, however, was allowed to overshadow national policy, and rank treason was winked at in hopes that this tolerance would be counted unto the Tories for righteousness at the next election.

The power to unite the nation into one win-the-war party was in the hands of Sir Robert Borden and his Government. They, in that weakness which has been a curse to the country for six years, refused to exercise the power, and dissension at the most critical moment of the Empire's and Dominion's history is the result. If blood be spilt, it will stain the hands of the Government. God grant Conservative folly will not have this terrible effect.

THE FOE'S FOOD SITUATION

OPINIONS of those who have visited Germany and Austria-Hungary recently differ so widely on the question of the food supply in these countries that the average man must look to some other source through which to form an opinion. Some say the Teutons cannot hold out for six months longer, while others declare they cannot be starved out. Possibly there is some truth in both statements, and it may not be actual starvation, in the generally accepted sense of the word, which defeats Germany, although the shortage of suitable foods may be a big factor. Evidence points to serious conditions both in Germany and Austria-Hungary. Reliable reports state that in the former country there is an epidemic of dysentery raging throughout the land which has become so deadly that the newspapers are no longer allowed to publish the list of fatalities due to its ravages. This disease is not caused by starvation, but largely by the lack of proper diet. The people may be getting enough to eat, judged by German efficiency experts' ideas of the minimum quantity of food which is sufficient to sustain life, but the required nutriment is not there in proper proportions.

The same cause has much to do with the enormous spread of tuberculosis in Germany, and it is reported that there has been a jump of almost 100 per cent in the mortality rate among the civilian population since the beginning of the year due mainly to these two diseases.

In Austria-Hungary, the minister of public works is authority for the statement that the miners of the country were not able to produce the coal needed despite the importation of an additional 12,600 men from the front to help them, simply because they were all undernourished and, consequently, too weak to do the work.

Compared with conditions such as these, the majority of the Entente Allies are "in clover." There may be shortages in some articles, but there has been no hint of there being any result from these injurious to health.

Undoubtedly there is ground for the belief that scarcity of good foods will assist materially in defeating the foe.

THE POET-SOLDIER.

THE RECENT death of Sergt. Francis Ledwidge in Flanders is another serious blow to English poetry. He was 26 years old, a year younger than Rupert Brooke. His portrait appears with a sketch in the last number of the Literary Digest.

Above a low collar and artist's tie rises a strong neck, with large, firm chin. The mouth, wide, full and sensuous, somewhat reminiscent of portraits of Keats, is balanced by eager, gentle eyes looking through studious glasses. Ledwidge was an Irish peasant, and has something of the racial aspect in his face, though his poetry is rather universal than Hibernian.

Lord Dunsany, the Irish dramatist, is stated to have "discovered" this poet in his obscurity. From his preface to Ledwidge's "Songs of the Fields," published last October, a quotation is made, in which the writer says that he had received from the young poet some two years before a copy-book full of verses. This would seem to put Lord Dunsany's discovery of Ledwidge in the year 1914. As a matter of fact, however, poems of the young aspirant appeared in the Literary Digest in September, 1912, quoted from the Saturday Review, and again in 1913.

Ledwidge's poetry is not a bit like that of W. B. Yeats, or the Erse writers. There is nothing mystical, misty or rarefied about it. It is more like the work of the English tramp poet, W. H. Davies, but less fantastic, less brilliant, and more manly. He can say fine things about birds, flowers, or the moon:

"The large moon rose up queenly as a flower Charmed by some Indian pipes."

"Georgian Poetry, 1913-1915," includes a selection of three pieces from Ledwidge. It is honor enough to any living poet to get the entree to the "Georgian Poetry" volumes. As the New York Nation says, they are wisely edited. One lyric, "A Rainy Day in April," shows the young Irish poet a success in writing of the spring. He has the requisite singing gift. He says:

"When the clouds shake their hyssops, and the rain
Like holy water falls upon the plain,
'Tis sweet to gaze upon the growing grain
And see your harvest born.

. . . . . .

"The skylark soars the freshening shower to hail,
And the meek daisy holds aloft her pail."

Ledwidge was a peasant born and loved the country scenes. His life was chequered. "First he was a farm laborer, later he became a scavenger at a salary of 12s per week, and subsequently secured employment in the copper mines at a slightly increased wage. Hypnotism next attracted him as a hobby, and he was promptly boycotted in his native county Meath as "one who had sold himself to the devil." But now in his springtime still, fighting for the great cause, he has gone, as Rupert Brooke put it, "rose-crowned into the darkness." His poems, however, were rather buds than roses, but his life thus lived and given is itself a poem greater than what it was granted him to write, and will blossom without fading in the dust of Flanders.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Germany has satisfied the Argentine Government by handing it a gold brick.

It is to be feared those tears shed by Premier Borden and his followers in caucus blinded them to the necessities of the time.

Austro-Hungarians are going to suffer severely this winter from lack of coal, but the Allies will endeavor to make it hot for them.

Germany's supply of school books is nearly exhausted, but then most of her school boys only need a book of army regulations now.

Germany promises not to sink Argentina's ships. Glad to promise anything to stave off trouble until another vessel or two are sunk.

A Berlin paper slams the former American ambassador, J. W. Gerard, but not nearly so forcibly as the latter slams Germany and its ruler.

It should be noticed that Finance Minister White did not deny that the money to pay Rodolphe Forget for his railway was to be taken from "war taxes."

The Government of Holland has forbidden the export of flower bulbs, but that will not prevent some dealers from offering assortments "just received from Holland."

A Government whose very existence is due to the kindness of the Opposition in extending its life applies the closure to prevent that Opposition presenting its views. That is the limit of ingratitude and trickery.

JINCY.

By Martha McCullough Williams.

"Where in the world!" It was the hat that called forth Mrs. Benton's exclamation. She and her family had been coming for years to this mountain resort of South Carolina for the summer holidays. And in the course of that time she had seen much of the mountaineers. But never had she seen anybody like the girl who stood in the shade of the carryall that had just come to rest in the street before the Benton house.

The hat was ten years out of fashion, and must have been a fright to begin with. And the hat was sufficiently startling without the rest of the girl—the rest was largely red hair, fine, lustrous, wavy, very thick and of the truest Titian hue. It was wound in heavy rolls about the girl's head, and entwined with faded blue ribbon. Rhinestone combs of unknown vintage were stuck here and there in the glowing expanse, evidently placed with care that the hat should not obscure them. The girl stood there searching in the carryall for sundry belongings—a flaming purple parasol, a palm-leaf fan with a long red tassel, a bright-bordered handkerchief. The small lad, her brother, on the front seat holding the meek pair of plow horses, turned to help her. And that is why he did not see the Benton wagon coming down the street at a smart trot, driven by Benjy Benton, and laden with the belated band from town, come to this town of Locust Grove to do honor to the Fourth of July. The band had started out vainglorious in a motor bus, only to find itself stranded seven miles from its destination. As the town was crowded with merrymakers from the surrounding countryside, there must be a band. So when Benjy had heard, by telephone, of their predicament, he had set out to rescue them with the farm wagon.

Now the carry-all stood on the wrong side of the road, and Benjy had right of way. Moreover, he was hurrying to get the belated band to its place before the speaker of the day should arrive. He saw the carry-all too late. His shouted warning did no good, and there came a clutch and wrenching of wheels, the carry-all skidded quite in motor style, then toppled rakishly aslant. The horses moved sluggishly a little to one side, as if bored by the whole proceeding. And nobody was injured; but the carry-all was a wreck.

Benjy, taking the blame, got down from his wagon, resigning the reins to someone else. After apologizing to the girl, he went to his mother, watching the crowd from the steps. The neighborhood doctor had looked over the girl and her young brother, and, finding no harm done, had given them into his wife's keeping, who stood with her arm protectingly around the girl's shoulder.

"It's a shame," said Benjy. "Isn't her get-up fierce? But—you can't blame her. Know who she is? Granddaughter of that old miser, Granny Rollins, back in the mountains. Her father let her run wild. Granny's dead now, and those two—brother and sister—are her only heirs. They've come into the farm, the clothes—everything Granny left. But they've found no money. Everybody thought the old skinflint had piles of it; but they had to sell the best of the cows to pay for Granny's funeral. The carry-all was a wreck, so rotten and shaky I wonder they got here in it. Of course, I'll stand for that—though it never would have got home, the ten miles they must drive through, without falling to pieces. After a while you go speak to them. They're alone and scared and shy, and you could help them have a good time."

Mrs. Benton nodded—she could not speak. She did so crave a daughter, in spite of her five sons, it hurt to see a girl thus gone to waste. Her heart yearned over the poor thing—no doubt she had been bewildered by her avalanche of unaccustomed possessions, and had tried piteously to make herself fine enough for this her first merry-making. Where could she have got her idea of style? In a flash Mrs. Benton knew—from the fashion sheets and supplements it had been Granny's habit to save. Granny had bought by them—hostly things but always extreme—and had treasured them, going herself in calico or the coarsest woolens. Stories of her had gone countywide—but very few had seen her. She had kept at home steadfastly, save for her yearly trip to town, hated churchgoing and discouraged all visitors, save such as came in the way of business.

The girl sat apathetic, clutching the purple parasol which made a violent discord against her red plaid frock. But when the band struck up, she changed—sat upright, eyes glowing, lips parted, a deep- scarlet showing through the massed freckles all over her cheeks. They were so thick on the nose they made it Indian color; also they powdered her arms well above the elbow.

She sat through the music spellbound, smiling as unconsciously as a child, wholly transfigured. The speaking wearied her. Brief as it was, the words of the immortal declaration fell on ears unheeding—ears to which it was in an unknown tongue. But when the band struck up again and the crowd rose for the march to dinner, Jincy could not be still. She swayed in time, and her feet pattered lightly—so lightly Mrs. Benton's heart yearned more than ever.

The doctor's wife had many friends to see and see about. She was glad to shift Jincy into Mrs. Benton's charge. At first the girl was too shy to do more than nod or shake her head or mumble half articulately. But kindness at last won her to speech. It came with a rush when, after dinner, Mrs. Benton took her apart. Sitting on a shady bank, Jincy gave all her confidence—a story that brought tears to the listener's eyes.

"All she knew was work—field work. She could not read, or spell, or write, hardly even sew on a patch, or do more than cook ashcake and fry bacon.

Daddy had done the sewing—when there were any clothes to make. He had likewise done the cooking—if there was wherewithal beyond meat and meal. Daddy had not been lazy, as people said. He had done the best he knew; and he was that honest Gran had always got the better of him when it came to dividing the crops. He had been good to his children, too. They had never felt a blow except the time Gran whipped them for chasing her old peacock. After that he would not let them go about her, though he had stayed on in the cabin because Mammy had died there. If only he was here now. There Jincy broke down utterly.

"I ain't got nobody but Tawm," she moaned, "and him so little. However will we live? Folks can cheat us outen everything Gran left. I wouldn't mind workin' all my life—ef I hadn't never had nothin'. Seems to me we'd be better off dead."

"Try living for a little longer," Mrs. Benton said kindly. "But not all alone. Rent the place, it's too big for you to handle, and come and be my girl."

It made a nine-days' wonder—also almost a scandal. All sorts of things were said. People were slow to credit Mrs. Benton's real motives. When a year after the girl's adoption, Benjy married her, thus taking her legally into the family, the skeptics shrugged and said: "Of course! The farm is rich, even if she hasn't any money." Love and happiness are miracle workers, truly. Within the next two years they transferred Jincy from a freckled fright into the handsomest young matron in the county. Also mother of the finest boy baby—who, of course, had Dad's name in full. Benjy never tired of saying Jincy was the reward of kindness—if he had not helped out the band and run down the carryall, he might never have got her.

He had sold the big farm—Jincy shuddered at even the thought of visiting it. The money was safe at interest, so there should be an accumulation to take Tawm through college. And then one day came a lawyer with many papers to prove Jincy and her brother heirs to $50,000 secretly invested by Gran in driblets from her boardings.

The Bentons were no happier—simply because they could not be. But several and sundry of their critics were quite unhappy over this undeserved turn of luck to people who knew no better than to be generously kind.

NO MORE CATTLE FROM SWEDEN TO GERMANS; FOOD IS GETTING SCARCE

Stockholm, Aug. 30.—The number of cattle in Sweden has been reduced by approximately 15 per cent owing to the anticipated scarcity of food for them in the fall. Steps are being taken for salting and packing beef. The Government has licensed the exportation of 5,000 head of cattle to Norway or Finland, but not to Germany.

The Government scheme for cutting and transporting wood promises to be fairly successful in meeting the expected fuel shortage next winter. Lack of sufficient fuel arises from the fact that Germany is withholding four-fifths and Great Britain virtually all of the usual coal exports to Sweden. Many steamers are engaged in bringing wood to Stockholm. The splendid boulevards of the Swedish capital now are half covered with huge piles of wood for winter consumption. All other available open spaces also are being used for storage purposes.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

How Old Should She Be.

Dear Cynthia—Will you please answer a few questions for me?

1. How old does a girl have to be before she can go out and work without her parents' consent?

2. Can they bring her back home again?

3. What will keep patent leather shoes from cracking?

4. What do you think of my scribbling?

Yours and oblige ROSY.

Ans.—After her 18th birthday a girl cannot be compelled to remain at home. I am always sorry, though, to hear of a girl going against the wishes of her parents in such matters. There are parents who make mistakes, but on the whole they know what is best for their girls.

3. Have you tried rubbing the leather with vaseline? Apply with a soft cloth, then polish.

4. You write an exceedingly clear hand.

A Nation's Ruin.

Dear Miss Grey.—The letter in Saturday's paper by "Teddy's Friend" and also the one by "White Ribboner" stirred my feelings so deeply that I just laid down my paper and came right in to my desk for pen, ink and paper. I think I am a consistent, patriotic Canadian—rather I know I am, yet I will not sign any card to eat brown bread or any other kind, nor do without beef or bacon, so long as our Governments of England and Canada use the immense quantities of grain they do in the manufacture of that which is the ruin of our nation, the liquor traffic. Let the lords of England starve and the clergyman who have their money invested in the blood of their fellow men fight, even against the God of Heaven. Let them go out and fight their country's battles themselves since they will pursue a policy that is leading our nation so surely to its downfall. Great Britain is the fifth great nation of the world, but she will fall like the rest unless the Christian people of the churches arise and put down greed and gain and men who will lead us to destruction. God can save by many or by few but he will not (be assured, dear readers). He will not save England by the liquor traffic. Great Britain must stand or fall as all other nations in the past have, by God's unchangeable laws. We are getting our warnings. God may be patient with us for a while; but as surely as Israel's fall came so surely will Great Britain's fall come unless she turn from her evil way.

Who is with me? Shall we as mothers allow our boys to be food for cannon alone? We give them gladly for our nation but not to be sacrificed on the altar of the liquor traffic and the lords of our lands. Who stands with us against this policy being pursued in our Governments? Oh, for some leaders and we could form a procession that will show our Governments that the mothers of our land will have to be reckoned with. Let us take the God of Gideon and his three hundred and let us arise and say: "We will not have this liquor traffic to reign over us."

Yours in sincere desire to see our country lead in all righteousness,

PARSONAGE MOTHER.

If I may I am coming again to speak of Canada's great crisis, "Shall We Go Back to Rome?"

"Git There, Johnny!"

Dear Miss Grey,—Would you please send me the name of some poor "lonely?" It doesn't matter whether in a hospital or in trenches. I have certainly a tender spot way down for the Tommies. They are fighting for us so what can we do but help them in every available way. I have been picking berries for the sake of helping to do my bit, and some of those very hot days were very trying. But when one thinks of the hardships our soldiers are enduring, all trouble and care is forgotten, and you hear some little inside voice say: "Git there! Johnny, get your box filled up!"

Well, if you would kindly do as I have requested I would be very, very thankful. ONTARIO N. S. HELPER.

Ans.—How good it is that we have those "little inside voices" to spur us on, at times! You are to be congratulated though, it seems to me, for berry-picking in the hot sun must require plenty of stick-to-it-ive-ness and courage. The name of a nice, nice "lonely" has been sent you.

Oil On Sheets.

Dear Miss Grey,—Received your letter and the sailor's address for which I thank you. I am going to send him a parcel and am writing. Will let you know when I hear from him.

I see where "Cable" wishes a crochet pattern. I am inclosing one which my mother made. Hope she likes it.

I am going to try "Cable's" method for washing white silk waists. I have one which is a little yellow but did not know how to make it white. Yes, "Molly O's" school year was a successful one. She is still in Windsor.

Do you know how to take electric oil stains out of cotton sheets?

Thanking you once again, I remain,

MOLLY O'S SISTER.

Ans.—Your design for "Cable" is very pretty, I think. It will be sent on with others received for her. Unfortunately, I am not able to help you find a remover for the eclectric oil, unless asking if any Pageite knows how is any aid. Have always heard that stains from this oil were practically impossible to remove, but I'd love to have somebody correct this impression. Glad of the good progress of "Molly O."

Can Trust Mrs. Boomer.

Dear Miss Grey, — I was so delighted with the good news on page 10 of The Morning Advertiser, August 22nd, that I can hardly write. Just to think that these petitions are being largely signed. Perhaps you will remember me writing before to your page on this subject. I am so glad to hear that Mrs. Boomer has undertaken this work for I know she will never let up on it till she has seen it through. Let everyone get busy and find a petition to sign and get our brave remnant of first contingent boys home again. Yours, NADINE.

Ans.—Yes, Nadine, I well recollect your first letter, and no doubt it helped largely to spread the interest in the movement. For the benefit of out-of-town readers who wish to circulate petitions in their own district a copy of the petition worded by Mrs. Boomer, president of the London Local Council of Women, and placed for signature in The Advertiser business office, is herewith appended. Anyone securing signatures in his or her locality might do well to forward them to Mrs. Boomer. A large number of names sent under the auspices, one might say, of a dominion-wide organization such as the Council of Women, should naturally have more weight at Ottawa.

A copy of the petition to be directed to the minister is as follows:

The Honorable, the Minister of Militia of Canada, Sir Edward Kemp:

The petition of the undersigned citizens of Canada respectfully showeth:

That while fully appreciating the urgent need of every available man in order to maintain the Canadian Expeditionary Force at strength in Flanders and France, the opinion is ventured that it is possible without seriously impairing the efficiency of the forces, to grant furloughs to the few remaining Canadian heroes of the first contingent to return for rest and recuperation in Canada.

These brave boys—now unhappily but a remnant—have for the past three years been continuously absent from their loved ones, enduring untold hardships without complaint in the tremendous conflict between right and might. They have by their gallant and heroic sacrifices brought honor and glory to their native land and the Empire, and under all the circumstances your petitioners most respectfully but urgently submit the prayer for favorable and prompt consideration and action.

Reading Matter May Be Sent.

Dear Miss Grey,—I wish to send some papers to an uncle who is in the trenches. Is one allowed to send any kind of paper? I sent a box and a letter to Pte. Forrester last November and a box and a letter to Pte. Darby in June, and have received no reply from either. Do you know if any of the other Mail-Box readers who have written to them have heard from either? Inclosed find 50 cents for war prisoners' fund. CHATTERBOX.

Ans.—1. Yes, I believe any reading matter may be sent, including the magazine you mention.

Am printing in full your reference to the "lonelies" to whom you sent parcels. Has any other Pageite heard from either one, and will those sending in the names please say if they have any news of the men? Your half dollar is gratefully credited.

It is an Heirloom.

Dear Miss Grey.—1. I have a clay pipe that I broke. Would you tell me how to fix it? It is an heirloom so I would like to fix it.

2. I am 4 feet, 3 inches in height and I weigh 65 pounds. Am I too thin?

3. What is the meaning of the names, Margaret, Eileen, James, Clifton, Jane, Elizabeth, Lois, Alexander?

4. What do you think of my writing?

5. Which am I, a boy or a girl? Guess.

This is all this time so please let me come again. PEN AND INK.

Ans.—1.—Well of all the peculiar queries!—but seing it is an heirloom, I cannot refuse. Try a cement of plaster of paris mixed in a strong solution of gum arabic; apply with a brush and leave untouched for three or four days; or another good cement is made of plaster paris and unbeaten white of egg.

2.—Not a bad weight for your height and apparent age.

3.—Margaret signifies "a pearl;" Eileen, light; James, a supplanter; Clifton (don't know); Jane, "Gift of God;" Elizabeth, consecrated; Lois, good, desirable; Alexander, helper of men.

4.—Very good for a young lad or lass.

A Farm Girl.

Dear Miss Grey,—As I have been reading your paper I thought I would write you a few lines. Would you please tell me a way to get rid of freckles? 2. To clean your face of pimples? Yours truly, FARM GIRL.

Ans.—If your face freckles easily and you are much exposed to the sun's rays, it is little use applying creams, lotions and the like, for they are apt to soften the skin and render it more susceptible than ever when next exposed. Bathing in buttermilk to which lemon juice has been added, is an excellent if simple remedy, and some use the juice of fresh cucumbers to good advantage both for freckles and sunburn.

For pimples, try taking the following for a time, a teaspoonful, say, night and morning: One ounce of cream tartar, put in a pint of hot water, sweeten with white sugar and put a good teaspoonful of salts in it. Let cool before using.

Clipped Them Out.

Dear Miss Grey,—Thought I would write you and see if you could get some songs for me through the Mail-Box readers. I have a lot of nice songs that I cut out of The Advertiser; the songs are "The Face On the Barroom Floor," "The Convict's Farewell," "If Masks Were Torn Away." Will close, hoping you can get these songs without too much bother. I remain, yours truly, LILLIE.

Ans.—We have in the last few years had the pleasure of inserting a great many "old favorites." "The Face On the Barroom Floor" has appeared on this page, but the others you inquire about are not familiar to me. Can any reader send copies for "Lillie"?

Starvation Greater Foe.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am coming again. Well, the summer is going fast, and we will soon have winter here again. I was very much taken up with one of the letters last week, but I forget the pen name—where she speaks about the food control. I think myself they want to make the people do with less, but will one of those at Ottawa smoke one less of those expensive cigars? And about calling those boys that don't enlist cowards; I think there are just as brave lads now working very hard on farms to keep the food supply going as ever was. They are not all meant to be soldiers, no more than all doctors, and I think if they rob the farms of boys they will have a worse enemy staring them in the face than now—starvation. But I hope it will be those big fellows who will have to suffer with the rest. Well, enough for this.

Did any of our pageites ever try this when beating the whites of eggs for meringue: Add one tablespoon cold water, and it makes much more. I sign myself as before, TIRZAH ANN.

Ans.—I am afraid, "Tirzah," if we try to deprive the "big men" at Ottawa of their expensive cigars they will be arresting us for treason. Are you not afraid? Anyway, it's glad I am to see you pay another call. Come more often.

Costume for Skating.

Dear Miss Grey,—1.—I wish to write to a Canadian soldier in France who has not many correspondents and if you could send me an address I would be pleased.

2.—Do you think I write fairly?

3.—Are caps and scarfs appropriate for skating in?

4.—What are the birthstones for July and August?

Yours truly. TEA-ROSE.

Ans.—1.—An address has been sent you with pleasure.

2.—Yes, very well indeed, and your composition is also above the average for your age.

3.—Decidedly so, it is good also to have a sweater or short coat to wear while skating, and don your heavier one "between bands."

4.—July, ruby; August, sardonyx.

Leafs Lose 1-0 In Ninth Inning---Providence Takes Two and Now Leads Race

THE SPORT-LIGHT

By Grantland Rice.

(Copyright). Special District Rights Secured by The Advertiser From the New York Tribune.

THE CANADIAN.

He left the rivers that he knew—
The mountains—thrown against the sky—
He left their valleys—pearled with dew—
Nor paused to question or reply;
He left his ghost—but as he fell
He left behind more ghosts than one,
Where, striking with the force of hell,
He gave his answer to the Hun.

He left the far plains' endless track
To take his place amid the slain;
From Vimy Ridge to Lens and back
He left his share of crimson stain;
He left his shattered soul to sleep
In riven fields of gore and mud,
But crashing through the rifles' sweep,
He took his toll in Prussian blood.

As we understand it, everyone figures a New York-Chicago affair would make an ideal world series—except Boston. For some peculiar, uncanny reason the Boston club cannot grasp the above psychology of the situation.

NOT FORGETTING—

Nap Rucker was an institution of long standing. He held his place in the sun well above the average. Nap has now faded out, some time back. Playing on the same minor league team with Nap at Augusta, Ga., was another pitcher. His name was and still is Eddie Cicotte. And Cicotte today is either leading or among the first two pitchers of the American League—dabbling is the best camapign he has ever known.

Eddie worked his first major league game for Detroit in 1905. That was some twelve years ago. The greatest number of victories he had ever gathered before in the Main Realm was 18, with Chicago in 1913. He has now passed that mark with over a month left. He is Boston's main rampart to hurdle. And it was Boston that turned him over to Chicago as a faded relic five years ago.

HOW TO BAT.

Stand up and take a healthy swing,
In manner bold, without restraint;
Get set against the pitcher's fling—
Then hit 'em where Tris Speaker ain't.

THE OLD DOMINION ROLLCALL.

Dear Sir: In the list of universities who have responded to the country's call don't overlook Virginia. Eleven former Virginia football players took their training at the Officer's Reserve camp at Fort Myer and every man came out with a commission. Three received captaincies and eight were commissioned as first lieutenants.

The most interesting case of all was Randolph, one of the stars. For the past two years he has been pastor of the Episcopal Church at Lexington. He has a wife and a child. He received indefinite leave of absence from his church to go into line, receiving a captain's commission.

Berkeley is also an unusual case, as he never weighed 140 pounds in his life, and yet was one of the greatest quarterbacks of the year. Of the eleven all are Virginians except Randolph, who was born in Chicago, and Thurman, from Columbus, Ohio, whose great-grandfather was vice-president of the United States. Randolph's father was a Virginian. In addition to these eleven, two more Virginian football players are enrolled in the next camp. They are Gooch and Wellford. NORBUNE ROBINSON.

Virginia's showing of eleven commissioned officers out of eleven entries is far above the average. A record of 100 per cent may be tied, but it is seldom broken.

Which recalls the fact that Virginia, in her day, has produced a fair average of military leaders. There was George Washington, to start with, who is still highly regarded in several portions of the country. Then there was Robert E. Lee—but to continue the list would absorb the remainder of the page.

"Just what is meant by the term short putt'?" asks a reader. Any putt you miss.

In the interim Tris Speaker has turned his attention from Cobb to one G. Sisler, who seems bent upon finishing in second place. Of all the phenoms hailed early as "Second Cobbs," Sisler so far comes closer to the mark. He hasn't Cobb's dash and flash—but, he can hit the ball and get around only a shade back of the Tiger star. Sisler is a trifle faster than Cobb, but so far doesn't know how to employ his speed up to T. Raymond's abnormal mark.

DURKIN'S RINK WINS TROPHY AT MITCHELL

MITCHELL, Aug. 30.—Play in the Mitchell bowling tourney was continued here today, the semi-finals and finals for the trophy event being played off, as well as the semi-finals in the association. In the semi-finals for the trophy, Durkin and Sawyer of Mitchell played R. Mussen of Stratford, and Dr. Burrows of Seaforth. In this event the local rinks turned in the big scores, Durkin getting 14, and Sawyer 13. The prizes for the winners were handsome sets of cut glass serving dishes with silver serve, and for the second mahogany pedestals.

In the Association two Stratford rinks played off for the finals, Tom McCurdy and R. Mussen. McCurdy won out, his score being 19 against Mussen's 15. The winners received a silver rimmed serving bowl, and the Mussen rink were given mahogany and nickel serving trays.

The Consolation event will be played off on Friday.

RECORDS LOWERED AT SIMCOE RACES

SIMCOE, Aug. 30.—The races held today were a success from every point of view. The day, after the early morning showers, was perfect. The races were splendid. The first heat of the 2:10 pace, run by Hal H., lowered the track record four and a half seconds. The track was in excellent condition, being very fast. The attendance was estimated at 1,500.

MANY ENTRIES FOR ST. THOMAS TOURNEY

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 30.—Entries for the big Scotch doubles to be held here on Labor Day are coming in at a rapid rate, and good weather is all that is necessary to make the day a great success. The ten greens of the St. Thomas Bowling Club are in perfect condition at present, and unless rain spoils them they will be better still by Monday. As more than forty rinks are entered the new greens to the north of the present ones will be used to accommodate the bowlers.

Prizes, consisting wholly of cut glass and electrical equipment, have been provided. The draw will be made on Friday night.

RAIN SPOILS RACING AT POUGHKEEPSIE

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Aug. 30.—A heavy shower coming at the end of the second heat of the "Guy Axworthy" 2:17 class, for 3-year-old trotters this afternoon, made necessary a postponement of the grand circuit races until tomorrow. However, Bertha McGuire had won the 3-year-old event, Noith Spur a heat of the 2:17 trot, and Little Frank D. a heat of the "Directum I." 2:05 pace, before the downpour came. The fact that starters were distanced gave Bertha McGuire first, third and fourth money in the 3-year-old race. Summary:

The Guy Axworthy, trotting, for 3-year-olds, 2 in 3:

Bertha McGuire, br.f., by The Harvester (Ackerman)	1

600 IN CROWD WHICH SEES CIVIC HOLIDAY THAMESFORD SPORTS

Fine Program Carried Out in All Departments Makes Successful Day.

THAMESFORD, Aug. 30.—In spite of the threatening weather of Wednesday over 600 attended the civic holiday celebration at Thamesford.

At 10:30 a.m. the calithumpian procession paraded the main streets of the village, headed by Jack Shewan on horseback, dressed as a cowboy. Ten decorated automobiles took part. The owners of the cars deserved credit in the ingenuity of the decoration. They represented The Old Woman in a Shoe, Moses in the Bulrushes, Miss Canada, Red Cross workers, sunflowers, Santa Claus, flower garden, kazoo band, mixed band, and the Maples from Kintore.

Besides the decorated cars was the negro family in a carriage.

The water sports in the forenoon proved to be one of the most amusing features of the day. The results:

Swimming across pond, open—Harry May, Arthur Young.

Swimming across pond, boys 14 and under—Norman McCarty, Mervin Clark.

Tub race—Mervin Clark, Jack Shewan.

Long dive—Mervin Clark, Arthur Young.

Walking greasy pole—N. McCardy, M. Clark.

In the baseball tournament of the afternoon Kintore was the winner. The scores:

First game—Kintore 4, Thamesford 1.
Second game—Medina 8, Dickson's 2
Third game—Kintore 7, Medina 5.

Results of other sports were:

Boys under 16, 75 yards—N. McCarty, Reggie Day.

Boys under 10, 75 yards—H. Hossack, Fred McLeod.

Girls under 10, 50 yards — Georgie Hogg, Frances Montgomery, Mary Wier.

100 yards, open—H. Turn, George McLeod.

Girls, 75 yards—Annie Wier, Nellie Hutchison.

Boys' three-legged race—Kerr and Fogarty, Quin and McLeod.

Wheelbarrow race—Hossack and McFarlane, Brown and Forbes, Hossack and Hossack.

Ladies throwing ball—Miss Mott, Miss Hutchison.

Boot race—Mervin Clark, Norman McCarty.

Tug-of-war—East Nissour was the winner over North Oxford in a few minutes.

Baby show—Prize for the best-looking baby under 2 years, donated by Mrs. F. M. Tambling—Mrs. John W. Brock.

The Juvenile Pipe Band of London furnished excellent music and dancing for the afternoon.

TIGERS PLAY MUELLERS

SARNIA, Aug. 30.—At a meeting of the executive of the Sarnia City Baseball League held on Wednesday evening, plans were projected to decide the championship of the league on Labor Day, Monday, September 3. When a temporary disbandment of the league took place, the Tigers were leading the procession, and with the decision of the Imperials to drop out of the race entirely, the Mueller aggregation were next in line to the Tigers. To decide just what team will wear the medals for the present season, a contest has been arranged between these two nines on Labor Day, commencing at 9:15 in the morning, and if the Tigers are successful in winning this fracas, they will be officially proclaimed champions. On the other hand, if the Mueller nine come out on top, a second game will be played, as their victory will tie up the standing, they being one game in the rear at the present time. The game or games will be played on the outside diamond at Bayview Park, and it is the intention of the management to issue tickets in the form of tags, which will be disposed of prior to the game, and the proceeds will be donated to the Red Cross Society. The young ladies of the city who are interested in Red Cross work will be asked to assist in disposing of the "tags," which augurs well for its success.

GLENCOE TEAM WINS.

NEWBURY, Aug. 30.—The junior baseball team journeyed to Glencoe this afternoon and were defeated 5—0. A return game is to be played on Friday and the young athletes hope to make a better showing.

WHITE SOX STILL GAIN IN LEAD

Chicago Defeats St. Louis 8 to 4—Cicotte Wins 21st Game of Season.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Eddie Cicotte won his 21st game of the season today when Chicago defeated St. Louis 8 to 4, and gained one-half a game on Boston, because the latter club played a tie with Philadelphia. Chicago is now leading Boston by five games.

The locals won the game in the second inning. Chicago made only two hits in the inning, but erratic fielding, bases on balls, hit batsmen and a fielder's choice and a sacrifice fly enabled Chicago to score six runs. Score: R. H. E.
St. Louis .....0 0 1 0 3 0 0 0 0—4 7 2
Chicago .....0 6 0 0 2 0 0 0 x—8 10 1
Groom, Sothoron, Molyneaux and Severoid; Cicotte and Schalk.

RED SOX AND ATHLETICS TIE FOR TEN INNINGS

BOSTON, Aug. 30.—Boston and Philadelphia battled to a ten-inning draw in the first game of their series here today, the count being 1 to 1 when the game was called on account of darkness. The home team made its run in the second inning on Walker's double and Gardner's single. Philadelphia scored in the eighth, when Johnson singled, Jamieson walked, Grover beat out a bunt and Bodie's sacrifice fly to Walker sent Johnson home.

Score: R. H. E.
Boston .....0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—1 7 2
Johnson and Haley; Leonard and Agnew.

TIGERS WIN 4 TO 3 AFTER 11 INNINGS

CLEVELAND, Aug. 30.—Detroit defeated Cleveland 4 to 3 in eleven innings today. Neither Boland nor Klepfer yielded an earned run during the first ten innings, all the runs being produced by errors. Each gave way to a pinch hitter, who failed to deliver. Detroit bunched a double, a sacrifice fly and a single in the eleventh and won.

Score: R. H. E.
Detroit .....110 001 000 01—4 13 3
Cleveland .....020 010 000 00—3 11 4
Boland, Ehmke and Stanage; Klepfer, Morton and O'Neill.

BLUE LABELS MEET BEACHES LABOR DAY

The Blue Labels and the Beaches will again couple up when they play at Tecumseh Park on Labor Day. A double-header is scheduled, and two hot games are confidently expected. The Beaches will have a much stronger team than they had here on Civic Holiday, when they were defeated twice. A number of ex-Canadian Leaguers will be with them, and they are confident that they will take two more wins home again.

The Labels have been practicing every night lately, and are in fine condition. They have not been in any regular game for some weeks, but have not been loafing on the job.

The Beaches recently won the championship of their league at Toronto, and down there have a big name. Quite a few Queen City fans may accompany the team to London to root for them.

SAM LANGFORD NOT OUT OF GAME YET

Sam Langford, the old black warhorse of the ring, is skidding. Any manager of white heavyweights will tell you that, and the heavies themselves are unanimous in their opinion that the great old battler has lost everything he ever had, punch, science, ability to stand the gaff, and, in fact, everything Sam was toting around in the days when Jack Johnson, then in his glory as champion, was losing sleep nights thinking of alibis for refusing big purses to meet the Boston Tar Baby. Plenty of sport writers, following his defeat at the hands of Fred Fulton in Boston recently, joined in on the chorus, and deplored the passing of the last of the great old-time heavyweights.

But—just go to almost any heavyweight now in the ring, suggest that, as old Sam is still looking for the kale, even if it is only the loser's end, he hook up with the old dinge for an easy ten rounds—and see how many will jump at the offer. Sam may be through, but a whole heap of our present battlers are waiting for somebody else to prove it before they hook up with him themselves.

Yes, as we said when we started, Sam Langford may be skidding, but!!

MISS HADFIELD SCORES HIGH AT BIG TOURNEY

Chicago, Aug. 31.—An all-star cast composed of two matches of semi-finals in the Women's Western Golf Championship today at Flossmoor Country Club, Miss Francis Hadfield, champion of Wisconsin, matched her long drives with the accurate iron shots of Miss Elaine Rosenthal, western champion in 1915, runner-up in the national three years ago, and present north and south champion. The other stellar performance was by Mrs. Fred. C. Letts, Jr., present western champion, and Miss Vida Llewellyn, western champion in 1909.

All four semi-finalists have played close to par all week. Miss Hadfield, the least experienced tournament player, as she is only 17 years old, has the most brilliant 9 holes of the tournament to her credit, scoring 40 on the first half of the qualifying round. She also recorded the best score for 18 holes with 86 in match play.

SPECIAL FEATURES AT POUGHKEEPSIE TODAY

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Aug. 31.—The grand circuit races were carried over until today because of the rain that put a halt to Thursday's racing in the middle of the afternoon.

Today's card consists of a special trotting event between St. Frisco and Mabel Trask, and two unfinished events, the 2:17 class trotting, in which North Spur won the opening heat Thursday, and "The Directum I." 2:05 pace, for $2,000 purse, the first heat of which was won by Little Frank.

RED SOX CONFIDENT OF WINNING PENNANT

Boston, Mass., Aug. 29.—Though the Red Sox have lost the lead in the west, they are stronger favorites than ever back east for the American League championship and it will be a rude jar to folks hereabouts if the Barrys now stump their collective toe and lose out in the race for the ribbon. Fans throughout New England and in some cases from far-away points have begun sending in letters to Harry Frazee's underlings at Fenway Park praying for the privilege of being near the top of the list when world's series tickets are allotted.

This fact is significant, for it is a fact that even here in Boston a short time ago the White Sox ruled favorites, at least with those coin jugglers now made famous in the anti-grumbling crusade, who are an impartial sort and never influenced by home sentiment or pride. The injury to Weaver, the story again started that Charley Comiskey is not satisfied with his manager and sends Bill Carrigan for next year, and the rather poor showing of the Chicago team against the Athletics have been influences in boosting the Red Sox as favorites.

There is little doubt about the popularity of the Red Sox in these eastern diggings. Boston fans are not so accustomed to success that they have forgotten the way to Fenway Park. They are not like Philadelphia fans a few years ago, tired of constant winning of their American League team. Boston appears to have an insatiable appetite for winning baseball. Here a week or so ago the Red Sox and the Tigers played a double-header and the "house was sold out." There were over 30,000 tickets sold and the Tigers were paid for over that number. Baseball dead? Tell that to someone considerably outside the pale of Hub fandom.

Even the Braves Prosper.

Even the Braves, now in seventh place and likely to stay well down in the second division are almost $20,000 ahead of what they were a year ago this time, when the club was up in the race, and when it actually had a chance to win the pennant. That does not look like a collapse of baseball enthusiasm. We heard one expert student of the game say the other day that the "decline of interest in baseball" was due almost wholly to the fact that many of the newspapers were giving the game less room in their columns, a condition which is surely true of Boston in a bigger sense than any other big league city.

If the white paper shortage or the desire of managing editors to cut down sporting pages in favor of other news, becomes general over the big league circuit, then there may be a decrease in interest and attendance. But the movement would surely have to be general and complete. Indeed, it is a question in many minds if baseball would not go ahead prosperously and successfully without its present press exploitation.

There are any number of baseball men who believe that it would be a bad thing for baseball if the Red Sox were to win again. It undoubtedly would be a good thing for interest in the west if the White Sox could win. But let no one make the mistake of believing that Boston would evince little or no interest in a world's series in which the Red Sox, for the third successive year, would be a party.

Giants'-Red Sox Would Be Event.

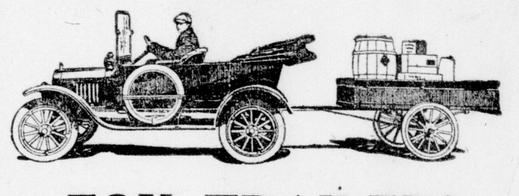

Let the Barrys and the Giants get into the series and you'll see all sorts of interest in this city. For a meeting of the Red Sox and the Giants would outshine by several candlepower the meeting the Sox have had these last few Octobers with the Phillies and Dodgers. The baseball world would realize that McGraw's present team is a mighty gathering and that it will take the tightest, the foxiest sort of play to circumvent those same Giants. Should the Hubmen win the American League pennant, local fandom would show in short order that it has not been overfed on baseball delicacies, and it would go dippy to see the steady, precise Hub Hose go against the fire-eating Giants.

The McGrawmen have done a little talking of late about what team they would like to meet in the world's series. Of course, none of this is official. McGraw would not stand for any of his men taking it for granted that they will win the National League pennant. The men themselves would be just superstitious enough to lay off that prophecy stuff. But they talk just the same and they say "If we win, we want to meet the White Sox."

Now, the Boston view of why the Giants want to meet the White Sox may not be the correct one. Possibly it is a provincial way of looking at things. But the idea here is that the Giants select the White Sox because they figure the White a mite easier than the Red Sox. The old gag that there will be more interest in a Giants-White Sox series is comical. The National League has built up a great ball club in the Giants. What's more natural than that it should be immediately pitted against the great American League Club that had just won two world's series?

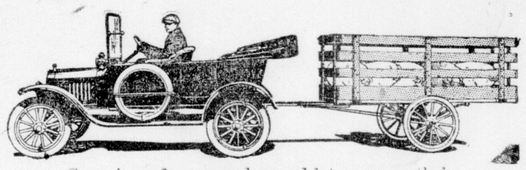

As far as the money end of the series is concerned, a New York-Boston meeting would far outclass a New York-Chicago struggle. The railroad jump would be immensely easier and the seating capacity of Braves Field would absolutely outclass that of Comiskey's Park, and there would be no question about the ability of New England and eastern fans to fill the 42,500 capacity wigwam.

Why Suffer With Backache, Kidneys or Rheumatism Now?

Letter Tells of Long-Looked-For Prescription.

Dear Readers—If I can do any good in the world for others, I wish to do it, and I feel that it is my duty to write about the wonderful results I received from the use of "Anuric." I was suffering from kidney and bladder troubles, scalding urine, backache and rheumatism, and feet and ankles swelled so that at times I could not walk without assistance. Had taken several different kinds of kidney remedies, but all failed. I sent for a box of Dr. Pierce's newest discovery, "Anuric," which I received by mail in tablet form. I soon got better and am convinced that this popular new medicine is good. I wish to recommend it to my neighbors and everybody suffering from such troubles.

MRS. M. J. SARGENT.

Note: You've all undoubtedly heard of the famous Dr. Pierce and his well-known medicines. Well, this prescription is one that has been successfully used for many years by the physicians and specialists at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., for kidney complaints, and diseases arising from disorders of the kidneys and bladder, such as backache, weak back, rheumatism, dropsy, congestion of the kidneys, inflammation of the bladder, scalding urine, and urinary troubles.

Up to this time "Anuric" has not been on sale to the public, but by the persuasion of many patients and the increased demand for this wonderful healing Tablet, Doctor Pierce has finally decided to put it into the stores, or send 10 cents for large trial package, or 50 cents for full treatment.

Simply ask for Doctor Pierce's Anuric Tablets. There can be no imitation. Every package of "Anuric" is sure to be Dr. Pierce's. You will find the signature on the package just as you do on Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the ever-famous friend to ailing women, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, proven by years to be the greatest general tonic and reconstructor for anyone, besides being the best blood-maker known.

New Route To Western Canada Proving Popular

Runs Through Famous Clay Belt of New Ontario, and the Cobalt Mining District.

On your next trip to Western Canada why not travel over a new route, see the wonderful land opened up in Northern Ontario by the Transcontinental Railway, and gain a glimpse of Temagami, and the Cobalt silver mining region?

You may use two famous trains on your journey without any added expense for railway fare, as compared with any other route. The International Limited will carry you to Toronto, where "The National" starts on its westbound flight. "The National" uses the rails of the Grand Trunk to North Bay, the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario (Provincial Government line) to Cochrane, and the Canadian Government Railways to Winnipeg, where it links up with the Grand Trunk Pacific for all important points in Western Canada.

A pleasant daylight run to Toronto, an evening in the Queen City, and "The National" is ready to carry you westward. The departure of "The National" from Toronto is at 10:45 p.m. on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. North Bay is reached early next morning, and there opens up for your admiration all the lakeland beauties of the territory served by the T. and N. O. line. These are followed by a wonderfully interesting trip through the sparsely populated territory of New Ontario, giving the traveler an opportunity of inspecting this fertile region, including the famed clay belt, where tens of thousands of settlers will make their homes in the future. The area of New Ontario is 330,000 square miles, fully four times the size of old Ontario, and in addition to great expanses of good farming land it has wonderful resources in timber, minerals, water-power, fish and game.

The three railways have combined to make the passenger service over this new road the equal of that offered anywhere on the continent. The smooth, straight and level roadbed embodies all that has been learned in three-quarters of a century of railroad building. The greatest travel comfort is assured. Full particulars from any Grand Trunk ticket agent, or C. E. Horning, district passenger agent, Toronto. A. 31 zxv

FRENCH SEIZE DOCUMENTS.

PARIS, Aug. 30.—An Austrian capitalist named Margulies, who was recently confined in a French concentration camp with subjects of enemy countries, following an interpellation by M. Clemenceau, in the Senate, is now to be the subject of a judicial inquiry. Various documents were seized by the police at his villa at Nice. The nature of the documents and the character of the proceedings have not yet been disclosed.

Again I Say Drink Buttermilk For Health

IT IS THE IDEAL STOMACHIC.

One of our most representative businessmen says: "I want to tell you that I never thought of drinking buttermilk as a beverage until your advertising brought it to my notice, and now my midday lunch is often nothing more than a couple of glasses of your FRESHLY-CHURNED BUTTERMILK, and I often drop in for 'another' before leaving for the Port."

We have always said people should drink more buttermilk. It's palatable, healthful and nutritious. USE MORE BUTTERMILK IN YOUR HOME. Bring your jugs and get it fresh from the churn.

HOUSEKEEPING IS A BUSINESS. ECONOMICAL COOKING IS A SCIENCE.

Our Consumers' League

BY ISOBEL C. ARMSTRONG.

After all that science has taught about the menace of the common or garden variety of house-fly and its filthy habits, it seems passing strange the way certain bake-shops and confectioneries allow these festive pests to meander at will over bread, buns, biscuits, cakes and pastries displayed uncovered on counters and in show windows. It isn't appetitizing, to say the least, and if all that is heard can be believed, it isn't likely to promote public health.

By the way, it is strange the health department hasn't taken some action in the matter, considering that some months ago the M. O. H. declared that, apart from aesthetic reasons, the chief object in holding a grand city clean-up would be to do away with breeding places for flies. He doesn't like flies. The medical officer of health has yet to be discovered who regards them as anything but a scourge and carrier of disease. And yet they are settling in swarms on breads, buns, cakes and pastries during this fly season in even very fastidious confectioneries and bake-shops right in London.

If enough glass cases to contain the output of ovens are not available, wouldn't gauze serve the purpose just as well, or almost? Far from diminishing, it might even enhance the charms of the bake-shop offerings. Who hasn't carried home in triumph a nice rosy-appearing basket of peaches, dreaming of the luscious fruit beneath the cover, only to find the bloom due to the red netting adroitly tacked across the top?

Discreetly veiled, the confectionery products would appear dozens of times as inviting, at least to those who aren't newly awakened Rip Van Winkles. What have the people been doing all these past years of fly menace propaganda that they accept bake-shop goodies from which it is necessary to shoo the flies before placing in bags or boxes to be delivered or carried home? Haven't they had their eyes and ears open?

Nobody knows better than the writer how sugar-coated confectionery, pastry and, indeed, cooking of any description, attracts flies. The difficulty is fully recognized of keeping the fly intruders out of even well-screened confectionery stores where the doors are being continually opened and closed by customers. But that isn't any reason why the goods offered for sale should not be covered.

Again, there is the germ-carrier in the shape of the open sugar bowl in fly time. Flies just naturally pounce upon it, and the human with a sweet tooth doesn't blame them. At the same time the human doesn't like to drop into the cup of tea one of the lumps over which flies have been pattering with their hairy, germ-carrying feet. Some arrangements could surely be made for protecting the sugar in fly-time in public eating-houses.

There has been a good deal of talk about the appointment of a welfare nurse in London with, as a part of her duties, running down communicable diseases to their source. The Consumers' League department has been backing up valiantly such an idea. If the welfare nurse were already on duty, she wouldn't have far to go to discover a possible source of disease. She would find it, staring her right in the face in the conventions, parties, mobilizations and other gatherings which swarms of flies are daily holding without let or hindrance on top of cakes, pasteries, bread, buns, etc., offered for sale in London.

"YOUR NAME AND INFLUENCE FOR FOOD CONSERVATION."

The big drive to enlist the housewives of Canada in the food conservation campaign will begin, it is understood, on September 17th. Already organization is well under way in this city, with Mrs. David Williams as director-general of the local forces.

Women cannot fight. They are not allowed to enroll in the combatant army, to go to the trenches, and to climb over the parapet for an attack on the Germans as a signal goes down the line. They are not even allowed to take part in the artillery preparation or to go as stretcher-bearers onto the field to carry off the wounded. Only those who have received special training are permitted to go as nurses.

But the women of Canada have at last been called upon to do their part in a big, important way in the winning of the war. An appeal has been sent out to each and every patriotic Canadian housewife to hold valiantly her own bit of the line, to render service according to her ability in defeating the enemy in her own kitchen. Each woman whose task it is to work with foodstuffs has been asked to reduce the quantity of beef and bacon and wheat used by the family for which she caters. She has been asked to see that no crime of waste can be laid to her charge at a time when food is more precious than gold, when food is to be a great determining factor in the successful conduct of the war.

WINNING THE WAR WITH THE BREAD BASKET.

Away back as early in the war as the beginning of the year 1915, a prominent Canadian, addressing a greater production meeting in London, declared that the bread basket would be as important a factor in determining the result of the war as the munitions wagon. Because this has been found to be true beyond all dispute, the women of Canada have been asked to mobilize for a grand food thrift drive to back up the efforts of the farmers of the country, and their own efforts in vegetable growing, in order that the bread basket may be kept well supplied.

Many women doubtless are already straining to the utmost to make ends meet. They couldn't do with less for their tables without impairing the health of their families. Conservation of every particle of food is for them a personal as well as a war necessity. They cannot be asked to do more, nor will they be expected to. Signing the pledge of the food controller will simply signify that they are behind him in his effort to win the war by food conservation.

When the canvassers go out in a few weeks to ask the housewives to show their co-operation by signing the food pledges, it will not be with any intention of dictating patriotic duty. If the said housewives already feel that they are doing their utmost, signing of the pledge won't deprive them and their families of any necessities. It will merely be a means of helping along a good cause.

For once no appeal for money is to be made by the canvassers who will visit the homes. Even if some of the housewives do not feel that the local committee is going far enough at the present time, they will surely give a kindly reception to the canvassers, who have nothing more personally to gain by the efforts than any other housewives in London or throughout the Dominion.

If you can't do any more for food conservation than you are already doing so far as your own home is concerned, you can at least lend your name and influence.

If you are not altogether satisfied because the local committee is following closely the lines laid down by the food controller, and refusing to diverge from the clearly defined track, give the committee time to get its bearings.

Help it to accomplish this one task well, and it will be in a more secure position to attack problems along the lines of cost of living.

WHICH DAIRY IS BEST?

Among requests which have come to the editor of this department is one from a "Mother of Three," for information in regard to the obtaining of ratings of milk of the different dairies which supply the city of London. She says:

Dear Miss Armstrong:

Is any record published in London giving the ratings of the milk of the different dairies which supply the city, or are such records obtainable? Have three little children, all under five years old, and am naturally very much interested in the quality of the milk supply. Coming to London to make our home here a short time ago, it surprised us that the health department of a city this size did not publish monthly bulletins giving such information. I notice that quite frequently in your paper the record is published for a week of the number of cases of various kinds of communicable diseases, etc. Couldn't something of the kind be done in the way of publishing milk ratings? It would be of inestimable value to mothers of young children such as I am. Before I was married, I lived for a time in a western city, not as large as London, where they published each month in the bulletin issued by the health department the ratings of hotels and restaurants on the basis of cleanliness, etc.

A couple of friends and I, all business women, had an apartment together and took our midday dinner out to save work. We literally devoured that bulletin each month. A glance at the bulletin told us where we were going to trust our lives by eating during the next four weeks. It was interesting to watch the way the standards of the different places came up. I believe the same would be true of the London milk supply if the ratings were only published. In the meantime, I would be glad for the sake of my children if you could tell me where such information could be obtained.

May I tell you how much interested I am in "Our Consumers' League?" If I were the editor of such a department, I would like to know it was appreciated. It was one of the first things in a newspaper way in which I became interested in London.

Sincerely yours,
"A MOTHER OF THREE."

"BUY PASTEURIZED MILK, SAYS M. O. H.

Not knowing the answer to the question concerning the relative ratings of milk of London as it was put by "A Mother of Three," the editor of this department went to the court of last resort on the subject, in other words, the medical officer of health. And this is what he said:

"We have these comparative ratings, but are not authorized to give them out at the present time. Last spring, we proposed to publish comparative ratings from time to time along the lines to which your correspondent refers. Just at that time, our originel inspector left for military service, and owing to the difficulties arising through the taking up of the work by a substitute and the objections which were made to the publishing of the comparative ratings, we did not go on with it. I may say, our original inspector is now back again.

"The one safe thing for "A Mother of Three" or any other mother to do is to purchase pasteurized milk, which can be obtained from three or four dairies in the city. To be sure, pasteurization won't clean the milk, but it will make it fit to drink."

SILVERWOOD'S

CORN vs. WHEAT

According to chemical tests corn, as a food, produces more energy and is more sustaining than wheat products, but owing to cornmeal not being palatable wheat flour has been most popular.

But corn, when converted into

KELLOGG'S TOASTED CORN FLAKES

by our secret process, renders it a most appetizing and nutritious food, and at the same time conserving all the essential elements of the corn.

The Hon. W. J. Hanna, food controller for Canada, requests you to use corn in preference to wheat.

Excellent School Suits

Every school boy must be outfitted now for the fall term. Boys—the right kind of boys—boys with plenty of life in them—need Suits of cast iron to withstand the service given them.

Here's where we have a word to say. Boys' clothing to wear must be well made, of good materials, but all the superb fabrics in the world won't give service if the places where the strain comes are not reinforced and properly sewed.

Because our boys' clothing is so made, we say it is

BEST BY TEST

If you've tried our kind, "the Sanford Make," you know; but if not, for whatever your boy needs come in.

WEARING FOE DOWN FOR DECISIVE BLOW, MAURICE ASSERTS

British Recorder Looks Confidently for "Second Phase of War.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—"The last week has been marked by a pause on all the western fronts—a pause which was inevitable after the great successes of the previous week, a pause accentuated by the bad weather, which affected the operations all the way from the North Sea to the Italian seacoast," said Major-Gen. F. B. Maurice, chief director of military operations at the war office, in his weekly talk to the Associated Press today.

"At the moment it is the Italian front where the situation is the most interesting. Here, also, after a really important advance, there now comes a pause, pending the readjustment of the artillery positions. There is much work to be done during these pauses. The problem is whether Gen. Cadorna will be able to get his guns posted for the renewal of the operation before the Austrians get up adequate reserves, some of which are being brought from the Russo-Rumanian front. That is the problem in the pauses in all these battles—the race between the preparations of offence and defence.

Wearing Down Germans.

"In Flanders the process of wearing down the Germans by continuous bombardment, continue air fighting, and continuous infantry raids, is being kept up, and is having a far greater effect than the man in the street realizes.

"This effect is shown in the constant necessity imposed on the Germans of withdrawing and replacing units. The best way to illustrate this is to refer to the battles of former times, in which, as the textbooks tell us, the first part of the day's battle was an attempt by each side to draw in and exhaust the enemy's reserves, thus preparing for the second phase of the day, namely, the decisive attack.

Looking to "Second Phase."

"So we are now in the first phase of the Flanders battle. We are exhausting with good success the German reserves, and later on will come the second phase, to which we are all looking forward confidentially.

"On the Russian front there has been another 'regrettable incident,' namely, the voluntary withdrawal of certain Russian units near Czernowitz. The result was negligible, but it serves to show, in conjunction with Gen. Korniloff's speech, the state to which the Russian army has come, and makes it even more remarkable that the Germans have been unable to achieve more.

"On the Rumanian front Field Marshal von Mackensen's attack failed, owing to the gallant Rumanian stand, and the necessity of Austrian withdrawals to the threatened Italian front.

Bares German Propaganda.

"In the last month I have received a remarkable number of letters from the United States, showing how widespread is the belief that the British have let the Allied and colonial troops do the most of their fighting. This is part of the German propaganda in the United States. I have prepared for you a few statistics to show how far this is untrue.

"At the present moment the British troops in France are 6 to 1 as compared with all overseas troops, and the total casualties in France throughout the war have been in proportion of 6.5 British to 1 overseas. In the Ypres-Lens fighting since July 1 the casualties have been 9 British to 1 colonial."

61 Battalions of Germans Used Against Canucks

Burial of Enemy Dead Reveals Hitherto Unidentified Forces.

[By Stewart Lyon.]
(Special Correspondent of Canadian Press).

CANADIAN HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, Aug. 30.—A great storm of wind and rain has put a stop to all operations on this part of the front, except counter-battery work and the harrassing of the enemy on his sole remaining route into Lens.

The burial of the German dead who fell in the recent fighting has revealed the presence of further enemy forces not hitherto identified on this part of the front. Shoulder-straps of the men of the 225th Regiment, 49th Reserve Division, and the 29th Reserve Regiment, 13th Reserve Division, have been turned in in numbers sufficient to indicate that battalions from these regiments were present in at least some of the desperate battles of the last two weeks. At least 61 enemy battalions took part in these battles. The victory, in the light of these figures, is a very remarkable one.

Lady Maud To Wed Captain MacKintosh, Devonshire's A. D. C.

Interesting Announcement Is Made on Behalf of the Governor-General.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

TORONTO, Aug. 30.—The following interesting announcement was given out here today on behalf of the Duke of Devonshire:

A marriage has been arranged between Lady Maud Cavendish, eldest daughter of His Excellency the Governor-General and the Duchess of Devonshire, and Capt. Angus MacKintosh, A.D.C.

Capt. MacKintosh has been at Rideau Hall for the past two years, having been with the Duke of Connaught for some time before the latter's departure from Canada. He is 37 years of age. Lady Maud is 21.

NO IMPORTANT BATTLES ON FRONTS IN FRANCE

LONDON, Aug. 30.—On the front in France and Belgium no important engagements have taken place, owing to bad weather, although on the various sectors held by the British and French artillery duels are being fought, and small operations by infantry are taking place.

BACON, BUTTER, HAM BARRED BY BRITAIN EXCEPT BY LICENSE

King Signs Proclamation Against Imports.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—The King today signed a proclamation prohibiting the importation of bacon, butter, hams and lard, except under license.

The object of the action is to enable the Government to take over the entire purchase of the import articles enumerated, and concentrate the purchase in various countries into a single organization. The food ministry is establishing in the United States a single buying agency, and will make all purchases through this agency, beginning September 3.

All holders at the present time of c.i.f. and f.o.b. contracts in bacon and lard with American shippers are required to furnish to the food ministry full information immediately.

Canada Restricted.

Pending further arrangements licenses will be granted certain importers of bacon, ham and lard from other countries than the United States to continue imports. Consignments of Canadian bacon will be under the same restrictions as American goods. Imported in behalf of the food ministry, they will be distributed through the ordinary channels at fixed terms as to commission and profits, thus protecting the public. A statement issued by the food ministry says:

"It should be borne in mind that importers' prices are mainly determined by the market prices ruling in foreign countries, over which the food controller has no control, and that they must be maintained at such a figure as to insure the regular shipment to this country of adequate supplies. Producers' prices also have been fixed for home-produced bacon, hams and lard."

The food ministry is also fixing maximum prices limiting the profits on cheese and butter from September 3.

LOCAL TRIBUNALS TO 7,500 OF POPULATION

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Aug. 30.—The advisory board named to assist the minister of justice in connection with the measure for compulsory service held a meeting today. Deputy Minister of Justice, E. L. Newcomb, presided and there were present John H. Moss of Toronto and Lieut.-Col. Machin. O. W. Biggar is on his way east to participate in the conferences of the board and L. J. Loganger of Montreal is likely to be added to it.

The board reviewed the draft of the regulations of exemption, which Mr. Newcomb had prepared, and suggested a number of changes in them. The work of locating the local exemption tribunals is proceeding rapidly, and in the case of some provinces the work has been completed.

In cities there is to be a tribunal for each 7,500 of the population.

The province of Quebec will have about a thousand of the local exemption tribunals, and they will be provided in proportion for the rest of the provinces.

FIXING PRICE OF COPPER.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Announcement soon of the copper prices to be fixed by the Government was forecast today by a conference of John B. ROGERS NOT PLEASED WITH INDORSATION GIVEN TO BORDEN Speaks of Caucus at Ottawa to Friends—Fusion Dying Out.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WINNIPEG, Aug. 30. — The party fusion movement is dying a natural death in this city and province. South Winnipeg electors, who took the lead and formed two committees, have made no progress lately, and no date has been set for the joint meeting to select a candidate. It looks as if all was "in the air." Selkirk and Morris are the only two seats where the idea has any strength. Indications are that it will simmmer down to a straight party fight at the elections. That is what W. J. Bulman, president of the Manitoba Conservative Associaton, predicts.

Hon. Robert Rogers is pleased at the way fusion is dying out. He returns to Ottawa Sunday. To friends he stated he was not pleased at the outcome of the Conservative caucus in Ottawa. There are rumors here that there is considerable dismay at Ottawa over the mysterious disappearance of the Conservative campaign fund.

SWEDISH SHIP TRIES TO LEAVE N. Y. WITH COPPER

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—A Swedish ship, outward bound for a Swedish port, was boarded by Government officials today and, according to reports, two hundred tons of copper were found in the hold. The vessel was ordered to return to her dock, and it is said the entire cargo will be searched before she is again allowed to proceed.

WOMEN OF RUSSIA ARE ADMITTED TO STATE JOBS

PETROGRAD, Aug. 30.—The provisional government has authorized the admission of women to all forms of state service on the same conditions as men.

Countess Panin, who for a time was assistant minister of social tutelage, has been appointed secretary of state for public instruction.

SUBSTANTIAL DROP IN PRICE OF FLOUR FOR UNITED STATES

Government Names $2.20 As Figure for No. 1 Spring Wheat.

Minneapolis, Aug. 31.—Substantial reductions in the price of flour, and fair returns to the producers of wheat will result from the fixing of $2.20 as the price for No. 1 northern spring wheat at Chicago, in the opinion of local millers and grain men.

The price of $2.20 for the best grade of spring wheat at Chicago means that the price in Minneapolis will be $2.14 or $2.15 a bushel, according to the grain men here. General satisfaction with the Government price was voiced by the grain trade in general.

"The price fixed will naturally mean some reduction in the price of flour," said John Crosby of Washburn-Crosby Company. "We cannot say how much flour will be reduced in price. It all depends on the Government. The Government will determine finally how much we are to be allowed for cost of manufacture, the price we are to receive.

"The millers will be satisfied with whatever the Government determines is right." A. C. Loring, president of the Pillsbury Flour Mills Company, said that a reduction in the price of flour was the logical result to be expected.

7,000 TON STEAMSHIP SUNK WITH 6 OF CREW

AN ATLANTIC PORT, Aug. 30.—Word has been received here indicating that the British 7,000-ton steamship Verdi has been sunk with the loss of six of her crew. The Verdi left here for an English port on August 12 with a cargo, but no passengers. Her crew numbered 112.

A cable message to the owners reports all the members of her crew have been saved except six. The message indicates the owners said, the vessel was sunk about three days ago.

WASHINGTON FIXES PRICE OF 1917 SPRING WHEAT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—The price of No. 1 northern spring wheat was fixed at $2.20 a bushel, at Chicago, for the 1917 crop, today by the wheat fair price committee, headed by H. A. Garfield, whose findings reached after three days' deliberation, were submitted to, and approved by President Wilson.

Labor representatives on the committee voted first for $1.84 and the farmers for $2.50. After long discussion the compromise at $2.20 was approved unanimously.

The price of wheat differentials, as worked out by the food administration tonight, are:

No. 1 dark hard winters, $2.24; hard winter basic, $2.20; red winter basic, $2.20; yellow hard winter, $2.16; soft red winter, $2.18; dark northern spring, $2.24; red spring, $2.18; humpback, $2.10; amber durum, $2.24; durum basic, $2.20; red durum, $2.10; red walla, $2.13; hard white basic, $2.20; soft white, $2.18; white club, $2.16. No. 2 of each grade is 3 cents less; No. 3, 6 cents less; No. 4, 10 cents less.

Relative market basis: Chicago, Galveston, New Orleans, basic; Kansas City and Omaha, 5 cents less than basic; Duluth and Minneapolis, 3 cents less than basic; St. Louis, 2 cents less; New York, 10 cents more than basic; Baltimore and Philadelphia, 9 cents more; Buffalo, 5 cents more.

The basic grades are No. 1 hard winter, red winter and northern spring.

16 MAKERS OF AUTO ACCESSORIES INDICTED

NEW YORK, Aug. 30. — Sixteen manufacturers of automobile accessories and William M. Webster, commissioner of the National Association of Automobile Accessory Jobbers, and nearly a score of other individuals were indicted today under the Sherman law by the federal grand jury charged with conspiracy to restrain trade. The association comprises a large proportion of the automobile accessory manufacturers in this country.

TIRES! TIRES! TIRES!

We are offering the greatest bargains on new standard guaranteed tires or tubes. Our prices are less than second-grade tires can be purchased for, and are 20 per cent less than prevailing wholesale dealers' prices.

Our reason: We had more than 900 tires purchased last fall, before the advance in prices, for delivery during March, April, May, June, but due to the labor situation, which all tire manufacturers have been up against, the shipments have been delayed and the tires have reached us much later than expected.

DOWDELL GUILTY OF HOUSEBREAKING

Man Who Figured in Chase Has No Excuse to Give

William F. Dowdell, painter, 3 Grafton street, pleaded guilty in police court today to breaking into the residence of W. E. Savell, 252 Oxford street, and stealing a purse containing $3 in money.

He was remanded to jail one week for sentence. Dowdell was captured after a long chase on Wednesday, in which men, boys and women participated.

In pleading guilty he gave no explanation for his conduct. Crown Attorney McKillop pointed out the circumstances under which Dowdell was arrested, stating that he had been engaged to do a job of painting the week before, and had thereby acquired definite knowledge as to the location of the various rooms.

Dowdell gave the police a chase covering several blocks before he was arrested, following his discovery in the house by Mrs. Savell on Wednesday afternoon.

Mike Kruzie, an Austrian youth, who was remanded to jail a week ago on a charge of violating the alien enemy act, when he left Port Arthur without permission, appeared in court again today. As no further information had been received from the Port Arthur authorities, Kruzie was remanded again for another week to await the required information.

Charles Chown, a merchant, charged with a breach of the special war revenues act, had his hearing adjourned for two weeks on request of his counsel, C. G. Jarvis, who stated he was not prepared to proceed.

A young man charged with disorderly conduct was convicted on the evidence of Patrolman Brammer and fined $2 and costs. A telephone pole on the Market Lane was named as the object of the disorderly conduct.

LAWRENCE SKELLY

wounded some time ago, while Pte. Arthur of the 15th Canadian Scottish is at the front now

Second Son Is Killed.

For the second time in a few weeks the hand of death visited the home of Alfred Raymond, Cove road, yesterday when an official telegram arrived announcing the sad news that his son, Pte. George Raymond, had sacrificed his life in the recent fighting in France. It was only a few weeks ago that another son, Pte. Earl Raymond, was reported to have died of wounds.

In the grief-stricken home there are now only a young daughter and a baby boy left to share the sorrow with their parents. The two brothers who have answered the last call, enlisted together in a Middlesex battalion, and were not only brothers but chums both in Canada and in England and France.

Pte. Telford Falls.

Another Londoner who paid the supreme sacrifice is Pte. Telford, whose death was reported yesterday. He left Canada a little more than a year ago with a Middlesex battalion, and has been through all the important scraps in which the Canadians have taken part since December last. No particulars beyond the usual brief telegram have come to Mrs. Telford as yet regarding his death. Pte. Telford was a plasterer, and had come to this country from England about six years ago. A little 2-year-old daughter, besides his widow, survives him.

Poisoned by Gas.

Mrs. Margaret Blaney, along with her mother, Mrs. William Row, 85 Wharncliffe road, had only nicely left for Toronto yesterday, when a notice was found at the door by William Row stating that a telegram was awaiting Mrs. Blaney at the telegraph office. Mr. Row called for the message later in the day, and found it was an official communication notifying Mrs. Blaney that her husband, Pte. Alfred Blaney, had been admitted to No. 7 General Hospital, Stromer, on August 20th suffering from gas-poisoning.

Pte. Blaney was employed at The Signery before he joined a London battalion, and although a native of England, he was only there one month before being sent to France, where after several transfers, he was attached to one of the kilted battalions.

Pte. Alfred Cogan has been admitted to No. 1 General Hospital, Etaples, France, suffering from gas-poisoning, according to a message received by Mrs. Cogan, 17 Lonsdale avenue, yesterday. He had just returned to France after having recovered from an attack of trench fever.

BLAMES GARBAGE MEN FOR HAVING PLACE CLOSED TO SOLDIERS

Troops are not allowed to sip the succulent two-per beer at the booth of William Jeffries at Oxford and Adelaide streets, as for the time being his spacious marquee has been placed out of bounds, according to an announcement in camp orders today. Mr. Jeffries is indignant at the action of the military authorities, and claims that the city wagons did not call for the garbage frequently, and that this was the cause of his being placed "without the pale."

The military authorities at camp state that he was warned a number of times by the sanitary officer to clean his soft beerorium up, and that as a last resort he was placed out of bounds until he does. When he can satisfy the sanitary officer that everything is dainty the ban will be removed.

Mr. Jeffries is well liked by his soldier patrons, and feels hurt that they have been prevented from coming to worship at his shrine. "It is not my fault if the city garbage collector does not call for the garbage, is it?" he asked The Advertiser today.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

ARCHIBALD KERR DIES.

Archibald Kerr, a resident of London 25 years, died at his home, 288 St. James street, early today. He was in his 69th year, and was well known throughout the city, as he was at one time head salesmen for John Campbell & Sons, carriage manufacturers. He had lived retired for some years. Before coming to London he was a farmer at Iona. He is survived only by his wife, Mrs. Mary Kerr.

The funeral will be held on Sunday afternoon from his late residence to Woodland Cemetery. The services will be conducted by Rev. Thomas Mitchell, assisted by Rev. Dr. J. B. Silcox.

FUNERAL OF WM. WESTHEAD.

The funeral of William Westhead, who died at Sarnia on Wednesday from injuries received in an explosion at the factory where he was employed, was held today from the residence of his brother-in-law, Harry Floyd, 804 William street. The services were conducted by Rev. H. B. Moyer and interment took place in Woodland Cemetery.

The pallbearers were Bert Swazie, V. Ensign, William Pugsley, E. Lawless, W. Player and Bert Lake.

HASN'T REACHED BERLIN.

Berlin, Aug. 30, via London, Aug. 31. —The text of President Wilson's reply to the peace note of Pope Benedict had not been received in Berlin up to a late hour tonight. A dispatch from Holland, transmissing editorial comment of New York newspapers, is the only intimation at hand indicating the tenor of the reply.

SPRINGWOOD HOLD SHOOT

The Springwood Gun Club will hold a tournament on Labor Day morning, commencing at 9:30. The program will consist of 50 birds, divided into six events, all shot at 16 yards, regular club handicap. Prizes will be given to the high guns. Entrance fee, $1. All members of the club are requested to be on hand for this shoot, and all shooters not members are invited to take part.

CITY BREVITIES

ON BUYING TRIP.—M. Fishbein, of the London Ready-to-Wear, is in the east on a buying trip.

UNDER OTHER AUSPICES. — The drawing for the Oldsmobile touring car at the Western Fair will not be under the auspices of the Isabel Hampton Chapter, as before published.

MONTHLY BANK CLEARINGS.—Bank clearings for the month of August totalled $8,726,050, as compared with $8,003,529 for the same month last year.

CONSERVATORY RE-OPENING. — The London Conservatory of Music commences its fall term Tuesday, September 4th. From present indications there will be a large registration of students in all departments.

BOARD MEETS TUESDAY. — The first meeting of the board of education following the summer holidays will be held on Tuesday, September 4. There is a great deal of business to dispose of, among it the ratification of several appointments.

MR. FOOTE IS CHAIRMAN.—J. J. Foote was elected chairman of the employment committee of the Soldiers' Aid Commission at its first meeting last night. Only minor business of a routine nature was discussed, as organization has not been completed for the year yet.

LONG VACATION ENDS. — The courthouse long vacation ends today, and commencing tomorrow all the offices there will remain open until 4 o'clock every day except Saturday, when they close at 1 o'clock. The courts will resume regular sessions commencing in September.

AUGUST FIRE LOSS.—The loss due to fires during the month was less than $3,000, over $2,000 of this being sustained at the London foundry fire on August 14. Nine alarms were turned in, seven of these proving to be fires, and one a chimney blaze. The firemen responded to one drowning accident, that of Charlie For, wife and child, at Springbank.

BUILDING FOR AUGUST. — The building permits issued by Building Inspector Piper for the month of August numbered 63, for a total of $29,700. The permits for the same period of 1916 numbered 112, for a total of $107,985. The year's total to date is $513,880, as compared with $692,715 for 1916, a decrease of nearly $182,000.

SERGT. McFARLANE TO PREACH. —Interesting services have been arranged for in the Hamilton Road Presbyterian Church on Labor Sunday. Sergt. Rev. Hugh McFarlane, B. A., formerly assistant minister of St. Andrew's Church, will preach at both services, and there will be appropriate music. Dr. McCrae will occupy the pulpit the following Sunday.

HAS RETURNED TO DUTY.—Capt. Beatty Martin, of the R. A. M. C., son of Rev. W. M. Martin, Ridout street, South London, has returned to duty with the first 7th Royal Fusiliers in Palestine, after an absence of some time owing to illness with dysentery. He was sent to a military hospital in Cairo, and during the latter part of his convalescence was allowed to take up light duty in a hospital at Alexandria. It is possible Capt. Martin will come home for a furlough in the late fall or early in December.

HONEY CROP IS SMALL.—Honey won't be an economical substitute for butter during the coming winter. At least this inference is to be gathered from a statement made to The Advertiser by M. K. Muma, Poplar Hill, who goes in extensively for bee farming. He said: "This has been a poor year generally for honey, due in a good measure to so much wet and cold weather the early part of the season. It didn't give the bees a chance. Again, the clover crop wasn't up to the mark, and there was a shortage of nectar in the clover. To add to their other troubles, the bees ran short of raw material. Just to give you an illustration of the way the honey crop has fallen below the average, last year Angus Galbraith of Napier had 17 tons. This year, he has 6½."

HYDRO OFFICIALS COMING.—Arrangements have been completed for the ceremony of laying the cornerstone of the new hydro shop on Monday morning at 11 o'clock. Sir Adam Beck will lay the stone, the utilities commission having decided on that. Chairman Philip Pocock will entertain the prominent persons at the function at lunch at the Tecumseh House at noon. Commissioner F. G. Mitchell will present the silver trowel for the ceremony. Among the prominent persons invited are Mayor T. L. Church, Toronto; F. A. Gabey, chief engineer of the hydro-electric commission; W. Pope, the secretary; H. H. Couzens, manager of the Toronto system; W. J. Lyon and T. J. Hannigan, Guelph; Vice-Chairman Sanderson, of the St. Thomas commission, and representative citizens. At the banquet some speeches will be delivered. President Joseph Dean and R. H. Hessell will respond on behalf of the trades and labor council.

CAMP PREPARES

lieutenants (a total of 6 officers), 1 company sergeant-major, 1 company quartermaster-sergeant, 9 sergeants, or a total of 11 staff sergeants and sergeants; 2 drummers, who must be fully trained soldiers; 12 corporals and 220 privates, making a total rank and file of 232, or a total establishment of 251.

There are also three horses authorized for each depot and reserve battalion, namely, one for the lieutenant-colonel commanding, one for the major (second in command), and one for the adjutant.

The medical officer and paymaster are to be attached.

Nucleus of First Company.

(b) The infantry details of the Central Training Depot, that is, the C. E. F. officers and men of the overseas companies of the 7th, 21st, 22nd, 25th, 32nd and 108th Regiments, and the 1st Hussars draft-giving depot, will constitute the nucleus of the first company of the 1st Depot Battalion, W. O. R. In future all officers and men for the C. E. F. overseas companies referred to will be transferred immediately upon enlistment to the 1st Depot Battalion, W. O. R. This cancels paragraph E of M. C. O., 153, dated June 27, 1917.

(c) Referring to previous paragraphs determining the nomenclature and status of the Central Training Depot, except where otherwise amended, these will be amended as follows:

Where the words "Central Training Depot" occur, the words "1st Depot Battalion, W. O. R.," shall be substituted; that is to say, from September 1, the date the Central Training Depot ceases to exist, and the 1st Battalion, W. O. R., takes its place.

(d) Pending the organization of the 1st Depot Battalion, W. O. R., the staff of the Central Training Depot, both officers and N. C. O.'s, shall continue on duty.

To Continue Recruiting.

(e) The following overseas companies will continue recruiting until further orders:

1st Hussars' Draft Giving Depot.
7th Regiment Overseas Company, formerly 7th C. D. F. Battalion.
21st Regiment Overseas Company, formerly 21st C. D. F. Battalion.
22nd Regiment Overseas Company, formerly 22nd C. D. F. Battalion.
25th Regiment Overseas Company, formerly 25th C. D. F. Battalion.
108th Regiment Overseas Company.

The 32nd Regiment Overseas Company has discontinued recruiting duty.

(f) For administrative and training purposes the 1st Hussars Draft Giving Depot, Active Militia; the Cyclist Platoon, M. D. No. 1; No. 1 Special Service Company and the Forestry Depot, M. D. No. 1 will be attached temporarily to the 1st Depot Battalion, W. O. R.

(E) Band, 1st Depot Battalion, Western Ontario Regiment.

A band, consisting of 1 band sergeant, 1 band corporal and 20 privates has been authorized for the 1st Depot Battalion, W. O. R., but on no account whatever are men of category "A" to be employed in the band. Although the band establishment has been authorized, no band instruments are authorized. These will have to be provided locally.

MAIL CLERKS HAD TERRIBLE ORDEAL ADRIFT IN SKIFF

Buffeted for Hours in Waves of Georgian Bay.

Two young London district mail clerks camping on an island within a few miles from the Bruce peninsula had a trying experience in the big storm which swept Lake Huron the earlier part of this week.

Much against the wishes of other members of the camping party they started out in a small skiff shortly after breakfast "to explore neighboring islands." Even in the shelter of their own island they found it difficult to do more than to hold the course of their boat, without making progress, excepting in the track of the mountainous waves. They were swept around to the north towards the open lake, and after trying for some hours to get back to their own landing gave up the effort and let the boat drift. Water had leaked in and swept over the sides of the skiff.

One Bales With Boots.

One of the men baled with his boots, while the other exerted every ounce of strength to kepe the boat from turning broadside to the waves.

The only other boat on the island was a scow, not sufficiently seaworthy to venture out in the storm. A neighbor on an adjacent island, who had seen the boys start out, on learning about noon that they had not returned, started out in his motor launch to look for them. He caught sight of them in the distance, but was unable to overtake them owing to the speed at which they were going.

Late in the afternoon, the skiff drifted into the only cove for a great distance along the coast, and the drenched occupants were able to land and beach the boat. They reached Oliphant at about 8 o'clock in the evening, after a 6½-mile walk through woods and rocks. The last meal they had tasted was breakfast, some twelve hours before.

A Remarkable Escape.

Other members of the party who know the coast well considered the escape of the young men nothing short of miraculous. Owing to the rocky nature of the coast, it was scarcely hoped they would be able to land at all, and it was believed they would at least suffer broken limbs from being thrown on the rocks by the waves.

MR. WRIGHT SUFFERS BREAKDOWN IN WEST

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 31. — W. D. I. Wright of London, Ont., who has been staying at the Royal Alexandra, was yesterday admitted to the general hospital, suffering from nervous breakdown.

EXEMPTION TRIBUNALS ARE MOSTLY LOCATED

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Aug. 31.—Exemption tribunals under the military service act have been pretty well located and the number, upwards of eleven hundred, have been appointed as follows:

Ontario	427
Quebec	300
Manitoba	93
Saskatchewan	57
Alberta	110
British Columbia	74
New Brunswick	47
Nova Scotia	91
Prince Edward Island	15
Yukon	2

When the exemption tribunals shall have been constituted, and considerable time will be required for the details, the proclamation will be issued calling out the men of the first class to service.

LONDON STOCK EXCHANGE.

London, Aug. 31.—The stock market was firm, with a growing volume of speculative business in the miscellaneous section. Rubbers, tins and silver and gold mines were active and hardening, and explosive shares were strong features. Russians were steadier after exchange dropped from 270 to 265. Gilt-edged securities were steadily supported, but Mexican rails were flat and American securities dull.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

THE LOCAL MARKET

Fodder and grain were the only offerings of the local market this morning, and these were particularly scarce. Certain varieties of produce showed small advances, but none to warrant uneasiness on the part of either purchasers or purveyors.

The appreciable decline in the price of potatoes was hailed with delight by many housewives, and unfavorable forecasts made regarding the possible late failure of the local spud crop by growers received an effectual blow with the reduction.

Tuber growers of the city state that the crop has showed a decidedly good turn, and that early expectations of a first-rate potato yield are beginning to materialize, although at a late date.

Potatoes sold today at $1.45 to $1.60 per bushel, which is a decline of about 20c under the values of the last market day.

The unfavorable predictions of a poor fruit crop seem to be materializing if the offerings and the high seasonable price of all varieties of fruit indicate a poor season.

The advances recorded on the fruit market this morning are to be particularly deplored, as it is said that lower values are not likely to be shown for the duration of the fruit season, with prices at their present height.

Peaches advanced slightly, 11-quart baskets selling at from 65c to 85c per basket. The quality of the peaches offered today is somewhat better than that of the fruit on the market previously this month. A better flavor and softer variety of peach made an appearance this morning in large quantities, selling briskly throughout the day.

Plums, most of them imported, were plentiful, notwithstanding an advance of 10c over the values of yesterday's offerings. They are hard and small, but nevertheless in fair demand.

Dressed hogs advanced to $20 and $21.50. Butchers anticipate a drop from this figure shortly, however, as it is not relatively as low as the price of live porkers.

An unexpected jump in oats took place today, the grain selling between $1.50 and $2 per cwt., which is about 50c higher than the price of yesterday. Hay still remains scarce and firm at $9 to $10.50, while dairy produce is also stationary.

Because there will be no market on Monday a large attendance and an exceptionally good offering is looked for tomorrow, many changes in the figures now quoted being expected.

GRAIN.

Chicago, Aug. 31.—Announcement of the Government price for wheat, fixing $2 20 a bushel for the highest grade, tended to strengthen the corn market today.

Corn opened ¼c to ⅝c higher, with December at $1 09⅝@1 10, and May at $1 07@1 07¼. Early trading carried figures fractionally higher. Fluctuations were slight.

Cash sales of wheat yesterday were at about the figures fixed by the Government action announced today. No. 2 red sold for $2 20.

COTTON.

Washington, Aug. 31.—Cotton production prospects improved to the extent of 550,000 bales during August, and brought the estimate of the final outturn to 12,499,000 equivalent 500-pound bales. That quantity was forecast today by the department of agriculture on the condition of the crop on August 25, which showed a decline of 2.5 points compared with a ten-year average of 6.6 points decline. Acre yield was forecast at 174.6 pounds, compared with 166.9 pounds forecast from July 25 conditions.

WALL STREET.

New York, Aug. 31—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—The short interest renewed its tactics at the opening of today's stock market, though proceeding more cautiously than yesterday. United States Steel was again the chief feature, its initial offering of 35,000 shares at 111½ to 112¼, minus regular and extra dividends of 4¼ per cent, representing a loss at the low quotation of half a point. Further heavy sales carried Steel down to 110¾. Other industrials recorded average recessions of a point with rails, shippings, oils, tobaccos and many of the war issues. Industrial Alcohol yielded almost 2 points.

Noon.—Steady liquidation accompanied the active dealings of the first hour, the pace quickening towards midday. United States Steel's low price for that period on an enormous turnover was 109¼, and Bethlehem Steel lost almost 3 points, other industrials, coppers and specialties, falling 1 to 4. Shippings were weak, Atlantic, Gulf and West Indies dropping 6 points. Some support was accorded the rails, but rallies in that division were cancelled on further pressure against Union Pacific and Reading. Recoveries in important stocks at noon ranged from 1 to 2½ points.

1:30 p.m.—The rally made further progress in the afternoon, Steel advancing to 110¾, and other prominent stocks reducing their early losses. Part of this advantage was again forfeited, however, on the rise of call money to6 per cent.

PROMPT ABSORBING OF ALL OFFERINGS

Sales, However, at Winnipeg Small, Despite Demand.

WHEAT TRADE UNCHANGED

Cash Barley Drops, While Oats Are Unchanged to Half Cent Higher.

Winnipeg, Aug. 30.—The market was quiet today, and the situation little changed from Wednesday. Cash wheat prices remained steady, and all offerings, which were small, were promptly absorbed. The demand for cash oats was fairly good, but little was offered. Price spreads were unchanged to ½c higher. Cash barley manifested a lower tendency, and flax was quiet. Trading for future delivery was confined chiefly to oats and flax, but the volume of business done was not large. Oats prices remained around yesterday's quotations. October and November flax opened higher than yesterday, but sagged during the afternoon. There were a few transactions in October wheat at ½ a cent better than yesterday's closing prices. Trading for future delivery in wheat ceases on the local exchange tomorrow.

Cash wheat closed at $2.40 for No. 1 northern, and other grades were unchanged. October wheat closed 3c lower. October oats ½c higher; December ½c up, and May ⅜c higher. October flax closed unchanged; November 3c up, and December 1c up.

Cash grain: Wheat—No. 1 northern, $2.40; No. 2 northern, $2.37; No. 3 northern, $2.33½; No. 4, $2.22; No. 5, $1.97; No. 6, $1.71; feed, $1.50.

Oats—No. 2 Canadian western, 64c; No. 3 Canadian western, 62½c; extra No. 1 feed, 62½c; No. 1 feed, 60½c; No. 2 feed, 59½c.

Barley—No. 3, $1.18; No. 4, $1.14; rejected, $1.10; feed, $1.10.

Flax—No. 1 N. W. C., $3.33; No. 2 Canadian western, $3.22; No. 3 Canadian western, $3.12.

TORONTO.

Toronto, Aug. 30.—Grain quotations are as follows:

Wheat—Ontario, No. 2 winter, $2.15@2.20, outside, according to location; Manitoba, No. 1 northern, $2.40; No. 2 northern, $2.37; No. 3 northern, $2.33.

Oats—Canada western, No. 2, 64c.

Barley—$1.20@1.22, outside for malting.

MONTREAL.

Montreal, Aug. 30.—There was no improvement in the demand for grain today, and the market in consequence was quiet, with no change in prices to note.

Corn—American, No. 2 yellow, $2@2.05.

Oats—Canadian western, No. 2, 74@75c; Canadian western, No. 3, 73@74c; extra No. 1 feed, 73@74c.

FLOUR

Toronto, Aug. 30.—Flour—Manitoba. Listed quotations at Toronto are: First patents, $12.90; second patents, $12.40; strong bakers, $12; Ontario winter, 90 per cent patents, $10.20, seaboard.

Millfeed—Manitoba bran, $36 per ton; shorts, $43 per ton on track, Toronto.

Montreal, Aug. 30.—There is a steady demand for flour, but the sales are chiefly in small lots to meet actual requirements. The tone of the market for millfeed is steady, with a fair trade passing in some lines.

Flour—Manitoba spring wheat patents, firsts, $13; seconds, $12.50; strong bakers, $12.30; winter patents, choice, $12.50; straight rollers, $12@12.30; do., bags, $5.80@5.95.

Minneapolis, Aug. 30.—Flour—Fancy patents, $12.25; first clears, $10.50; second clears, $5.50.

Bran—$27.50@28.25.

DUTCH BELIEVE PEACE PROPOSALS ARE FAILURE

Amsterdam, Aug. 31.—Owing to the prevalent feeling that the pope's proposal for peace probably will be unsuccessful, stocks which had risen in anticipation of a favorable reply by the belligerents to the pontiff's note, have again declined.

The Calvinistic newspaper Standard, in an editorial, says that, judging from American newspaper comment, President Wilson's reply to the pope appears to be disappointing, but that the Standard trusts the great cause with which it deals will remain henceforth in the forefront of discussion, although it seems hope must be abandoned that the fourth war winter is avoidable.

LONDON MAN HIGH SUB-CHIEF RANGER ANCIENT FORESTERS

Hugh McPherson Elected at Big Meeting in Brantford.

BRANTFORD, Aug. 30.—The election of officers to the High Court today occupied the attention of the 200 delegates of the Ancient Order of Foresters meeting here. The new high chief ranger is A. Webber of Winnipeg. It is expected that St. Catharines will be the next place of meeting, although Trenton and Hamilton both pressed for consideration.

The "laws" committee was today reduced from five members to three. The retiring permanent secretary, W. Williams of Toronto, was appointed secretary emeritus at a superannuated salary of $1,000 a year. High tribute was paid Dr. E. R. Secord of this city, the order's medical examiner, for his work, and he was re-elected by acclamation. The salary of the permanent secretary was considered, but will remain at $2,000, as heretofore.

Look After Soldiers.

All members of the Ancient Order of Foresters overseas will be carried by the order free of any charge whatsoever, and in order that this decision may be successfully carried out a fund has been established, to which each member of the order at home will contribute the sum of $1 a year.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

High chief ranger, A. Webber, Winnipeg; high sub-chief ranger, Hugh McPherson, London; permanent secretary, A. Martin; high court treasurer, H. C. Wilson, Toronto (acclamation); high court medical examiner, Dr. E. R. Secord, Brantford (acclamation); high court senior woodward, A. R. Wickett, Toronto; high court junior woodward, W. H. Goddart, Toronto.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU IS DOING GOOD WORK

The manner in which the Government Employment Bureau has helped not only to conserve this year's crops in London district, but is also encouraging greater production for the future, is illustrated in a letter just received by Miss MacRobert, superintendent of the women's employment bureau. The owner of a large berry patch states the efficiency of the help supplied him by the bureau has given him courage to further aid production, and that next spring he intends to add to his berry patch. He expresses gratitude for the "efficient and reliable pickers" sent to him, and states that he was able to save his entire berry crop this season and to prevent a repetition of the waste which occurred a year ago owing to a lack of help. He adds that he hopes the bureau will be able to supply him with pickers next year.

The benches placed at the corner of Dundas and Wellington street for the convenience of returned soldiers were donated by the Trafalgar Chapter, I. O. D. E., not by the Great War Veterans' Association as before stated.

FORMER LONDONER KILLED IN ACTION, SAYS OFFICIAL WORD

Mother of Galt Notified of 142nd Boy's Death.

GALT, Aug. 30.—A former Londoner, Pte. Herbert Stumpff, who went overseas with "London's Own," the 142nd Battalion, is today reported killed in action on August 15, in a message to his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Stumpff, who lives at 42 Cambridge street. The deceased soldier was only 21 years of age. He had lived in Galt for five years, but for the past three years had been away from this city. Another son of Mrs. Stumpff's, Edward, who went overseas with the 111th Battalion, is in England.

Co.-Sergt.-Major Bernard Smeed, who left Galt with the 18th Battalion, is reported in a message to his aunt, Mrs. E. Burchett, 30 Elliott street, as having been admitted to the Queen Alexandra Military Hospital on August 2, suffering from a contused knee. He was wounded once before.

BADLY SHAKEN UP IN LONDON TP. RUNAWAY

Oakley Smith of Howard street, Toronto, was badly shaken up and had a close call for being killed yesterday afternoon at the home of Charles Richardson, lot 21, concession 8, London Township, when the horses ran away as he was driving a binder. The animals were frightened by an auto which was passing. Mr. Smith held on until he saw there was no chance of stopping the team, and then jumped. The horses dashed across the field and over a ditch, and wrecked the machine. Dr. MacNeil of Arva was called, and attended Smith.

FOR WAR PRISONERS

Kilty Club of Leamington Puts On a Successful Dance.

LEAMINGTON, Aug. 30.—The McGregor Kilty Club gave a successful dance at the pavilion. Stewart's orchestra furnished the music. A total of $36 was turned over to the committee, which is to look after the Leamington boys who are prisoners in Germany.

Each month a generous allowance will be sent to help the boys endure the hardships of prison camp life.

Photoplay News

PATRICIA.

"A Romance of the Redwoods," featuring Mary Pickford, "the sweetheart of the screen," will be seen at the Patricia again today and Saturday. Capacity audiences have witnessed this photoplay the first four days of the week. It is pronounced to be Miss Pickford's greatest success.

"A Roman Cowboy," a Fox comedy, is a winner.

James Egan, in a classy musical act, completes an excellent bill, all of which will be repeated today and Saturday.

MAJESTIC.

Douglas Fairbanks, in "Flirting With Fate," is the leading screen attraction at the Majestic Theatre today and Saturday.

This is claimed to be one of the snappiest pictures in which "Doug" has appeared.

Fairbanks in this picture plays Augy Ainsworth, a young artist, who is long on art, but short on funds. He has fallen in love with Gladys Kingsley, a girl of wealth and social position, but her guardian aunt frowns upon his suit because he hasn't money. Because Roland Dabney has money, and for no other reason, she encourages him to court Gladys.

Another rib-tickling Mack-Sennett comedy will be shown.

Roy Griffin, the popular singer, will sing two new songs, and the Majestic Concert Orchestra will continue to play "Atala," a high-class overture.

At the Patricia Theatre today and Saturday. Those who have seen this picture this week pronounce it one of the best in which the famous star has appeared.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

ENGLISHWOMAN'S REPLY.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

When we replied to your question to "Mary Jane," re the Chinese funeral, we did not know there was a Canadian lady writing under that non de plume, but thought the term was used in the same broad sense as we use "Dick, Tom and Harry."

We were not classifying "Mary Jane." We are not in the habit of indulging in personalities, having no use for them; they lead nowhere.

What's of benefit to the race alone concerns us.

Just as we have in previous letters to your paper plainly stated the evils under which England is laboring, and no one knows better than ourselves who have witnessed them at first hand, and who have in some small measure taken part in the earnest fight which is always being fought to eliminate them, so we believe it our duty whilst a citizen of Canada to contribute in our humble way to its uplift.

In reply to "Mary Jane," may I state that I do not miss "the subservience of the masses to the classes" of England, because it does not exist to the extent it is represented in this country.

We have a live virile public opinion amongst the masses, which finds expression at every street corner and in every public park, and which at the present time is taking tangible shape and form in a vigorous manner, which may yet revolutionize England. History proves that the English race is not subservient.

Again "Mary Jane" states that "the broad and fair Dominion of ours recognizes but one aristocracy—the aristocracy of intellect, trained or untrained, and that the pen is mightier than the sword." If Canada considers "the pen mightier than the sword" why is it that papers published in England and scattered broadcast through the land, are debarred from coming into Canada? Is Canada satisfied to take its intellectual food predigested?

We have little use for the aristocracy of the intellect unless it is accompanied by the aristocracy of the heart. The former may be a very cold-blooded, lifeless thing without the latter. It is not our aristocracy of culture as exhibited in many instances by our old nobility, we wish to rid ourselves of, but the arrogance of our plutocracy, which is finding its counterpart in Canada. There is no need to travel far to obtain a study of comparative religions. We have gleaned our knowledge from libraries, in the lecture room, in quiet study and earnest debate, in the midst of flowers in the summer, and by our fireside in the winter. Why haven't we gone to China to study Confucianism? Well, we are not a millionaire. As well ask why we have not gone to Persia because we appreciate some phases of "Zoroastrianism"?

We came to Canada because we could afford to pay our way, and most of all because we were curious to see "the New Jerusalem," as represented by Government agents, in the making.

We thought it a land of opportunity, not so much for ourselves, but for the 13,000,000 of people who before the war in England lived always on the verge of poverty.

We came out to study those possibilities with a view to helping our less fortunate fellows. Our own life has always fallen unto us in pleasant places, but we have in our social reform work seen sights that have made our heart ache for the sufferings of others.

We came expectant, in all good faith hoping to find a land freer than dear old England, and the first thing we learn is that its destinies are largely controlled by the railway magnates and the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, and that wonder of wonders, in a land flowing with milk and honey, there are "bread lines" in all the large cities.

We came, thinking to find a real democracy, where racial prejudice was eliminated, a thing we never met with in the old country, and the first sounds that greet our ears in connection with foreigners are "Chinks," "Dagos," "Sparrows." Where is the courtesy to the foreigner? We thought Jack was as good as his master, and we find lots of people straining their nerves and their purses to get into "society."

We imagined Canadians preferred the plain "Mister" as a prefix to his name, and we find that "barons" are a wonderful attraction to some people. Canadian and Englishman have no monopoly of courage; other nations are equally brave, but an examination of a paper procured for the writer by your courteous librarian, Mr. Landon, from Ottawa, may be seen at the library, and will show the relative strength of the Canadian and English-born who composed the Canadian army, to the latter's advantage.

We claim no advantage of brains or bravery for England that are not duplicated by men of every race and clime. We ask no favors for ourselves, that we do not also demand for the humblest, most illiterate, foreigner, or Englishman, that visits our shores, but when we find ignorance and prejudice we shall try in our small way to enlighten it, for the one thing a democratic country would do well not to tolerate is "intolerance."

ENGLISHWOMAN.

MENACE REMOVED.

Motorists and other drivers of vehicles who use the Dundas street bridge roadway feel grateful to the "somebody" who kindly cut down the trees at the foot of the hill. The trees, with their thick foliage, obstructed the view for those coming up or going down the hill. Of late accidents have been narrowly averted. Motorists and other drivers can now get a clear view from the farther end of the bridge to the turning of the hill.

DIED IN THE WEST.

The death occurred at Tyner, Sask., yesterday of Wm. Mullis, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mullis, formerly of West Nissouri. The parents will arrive home with the remains at the end of the week.

FINE FLAX EXHIBIT FOR WESTERN FAIR

With a view to speeding up flax production in Western Ontario the Dominion Government is putting in an exhibit at the Western Fair.

Application for space was made too late to place it in the process building along with the Government wool and egg exhibits, consequently it has been necessary to make room in the agricultural building.

Secretary A. M. Hunt of the Western Fair board stated today that flax has been grown quite extensively in the vicinity of St. Marys and Stratford. The soil of Lambton County is regarded as especially suitable for flax growing, and a couple of years ago the board of trade of Sarnia was making definite efforts to encourage the industry.

Flax growing has somewhat died out in Westminster and Delaware Townships, where one of the sights of the flax harvest season in former years was seeing the Indians pulling flax. Whole families migrated from the reserves for the occasion, just as for berry picking.

An authority on the subject of flax is responsible for the statement that the London city water is ideal for the purpose of retting the flax. It is believed that the exhibit at the fair will create much interest, and probably bring good results.

BIG SHIPMENTS

AILSA CRAIG, Aug. 30.—William Hay & Co. shipped two carloads of flour to Montreal this week.

H. McNeil shipped from the sawmill here, seven carloads of heavy lumber to the Strable Lumber Company, Saginaw, Mich., and two cars of staves to Montreal and one to Lynden.

Mr. and Mrs. David Robinson left this week for a trip down the St. Lawrence through the Thousand Islands to Montreal and Quebec.

Mr. and Mrs. Murdick McLellan are in Toronto this week, having received word of the death of their nephew, Lloyd George Reid, son of Rev. W. Reid of Toronto. The lad was run over by an auto and died a short while after the accident.

LONG PRICES PAID FOR STOCKERS IN ILDERTON DISTRICT

Beef Going at Better Prices Than Horses Just Now.

ILDERTON, Aug. 30.—Cattle buyers have been scouring the country buying up all the stockers at good long prices. In fact, this class of cattle are selling at present much higher than horses of a useful type, and in some cases nearly, if not quite, up to the price of good finished beef cattle.

One farmer sold seven head of two-year-olds for $92 each and $90 is the ordinary price for good stockers in the district. This looks much like speculation in futures.

MUNICIPAL MEN URGED TO HELP RETURNED MEN

TORONTO, Aug. 30.—Hon. W. D. MacPherson, chairman of the Soldiers' Aid Commission, in the course of a striking appeal to the representatives of the Ontario municipalities, who continued their annual convention at the city hall this morning, urged the delegates to do their best to unite the people in welcoming the men back from the front, and in assisting to get them back into civilian life again, so that they would not suffer further for the sacrifices that they had made.

During the afternoon the delegates visited the exhibition in a body, on the invitation of the mayor.
