PROVINCIAL ELECTIONS TO BE HELD IN DECEMBER

Premier Whitney Gives Expense of By-Elections as Reason for Bringing On the Contests Before End of the Year.

SAYS THERE ARE OTHER GOOD CAUSES

Sir James Promises to Reveal Other Substantial Arguments Before Long—Mr. Matheson Likely to Go to the Senate.

Toronto, Oct. 11.—The Provincial Legislature will be dissolved in the near future, and a general election will be held during the first or second week of December. This announcement was made by Sir James Whitney late yesterday afternoon. It has been expected for several days, and the reason assigned by Sir James, which will be followed by several other very important reasons, is that the expense of holding by-elections to fill the vacancies caused by the resignation of the former members of the Legislature, who now are members of the Federal House, together with the vacancy caused by the Hon. Frank Cochrane's elevation to Ottawa, would amount to at least $15,000, and this expense would have to be duplicated in less than a year if the House were not dissolved now.

The Premier's Statement.

The announcement made by the Premier follows: "We have decided to dissolve the House in the near future, and I give this notice now in order that there may be no suggestion that we desire to hurry the elections. The present Legislature has already existed longer than its predecessor, and there are now ten vacant seats. The expense of by-elections would be large—about $15,000—and this expense would have to be duplicated in less than a year did we not dissolve now.

"There are several other very important reasons for our decision—reasons of vital importance to the province—and which I shall lay before the public in the course of a week or ten days, or perhaps earlier.

"Owing to the length of time necessary for the preparation of the voters' lists in unorganized districts, the polling cannot take place earlier than about the first or second week in December, and the issuing of the writs will be held over until the last day possible in order to facilitate the revision of the voters' lists in Older Ontario."

Mr. Cochrane's Successor.

"I expect that the successor to Mr. Cochrane will be sworn in probably tomorrow," concluded Sir James.

It is generally understood that Mr. W. H. Hearst, of Sault Ste. Marie, who defeated C. N. Smith in the last provincial election, will succeed Mr. Cochrane as Minister of Lands, Forests and Mines.

All kinds of rumors in connection with changes in the Provincial Cabinet are now being circulated. It is said that the Hon. A. J. Matheson is to go to the senate, and that G. H. Ferguson, of Grenville, chairman of the public accounts committee, will become provincial treasurer. Then it is said also that the Hon. J. J. Foy is to be elevated to the bench, and that he will be succeeded by the Hon. I. B. Lucas, minister without portfolio. These rumors, of course, are unconfirmed.

HON. A. G. MACKAY,
Liberal Leader, and His Platform.

An efficient staff of teachers, fully qualified, in the rural schools.

An adequate system of technical education in Ontario schools. (Ontario young men pay $1,000,000 annually to a great American correspondence school for technical education at the present time.)

An honest policy in the production of text books. (The present Government sets the type, provides illustrations and matter, and allows a Toronto departmental store to have a practical monopoly of trade.)

An increase in succession duties when levied on estates running into the millions.

The doing away with the taxation of improvements.

A progressive policy for the conservation of Ontario's natural resources.

A flat rate for all municipalities in the cost of Niagara power. (The present system discriminates against the cities and towns farthest removed from the source of power.)

A progressive policy of development for Northern Ontario.

Development of wagon roads and railroads in Northern Ontario.

LIBERAL LEADER OFFERS HIS PLATFORM TO ELECTORS

Strong Criticism of Whitney Administration—Technical Education Neglected—Flat Rate for Niagara Power a Just Principle.

Owen Sound, Oct. 11.—Hon. A. G. MacKay, leader of the Liberal Opposition in Ontario, issued a bold statement in criticism of the Whitney Administration upon being informed that a provincial election had been announced for December.

He first of all roundly condemned the Premier's action in bringing on an election during the Christmas season.

"The date selected is as unseasonable as the Premier's action is cowardly and unreasonable," said Mr. MacKay. "With 70 of a majority at his back, his statement of two weeks ago that there were no elections but the by-elections on the horizon, while at that very time everything in the shape of printing, etc., was being rushed preparatory to an immediate general election, scarcely tallies with his once wonted boast that he was 'honest enough to be bold and bold enough to be honest.' Had the Legislature been allowed to run its regular course, and another session been held, the elections could, with very little interference with business, have been held in early June. As it is, the fall and Christmas trade will be largely interfered with.

Many Disfranchised.

"If the statutes are adhered to, the greater number of the residents in all the unorganized portions of the province, forming parts of no less than thirteen constituencies, will now be disfranchised. The latest voters' lists in that immense stretch of Northern Ontario are those upon which the 1908 elections were held. In the discussion of many questions it was tacitly understood that there would be another session—notably so in connection with the serious complaints as to the bilingual schools—a question which could not properly have been dealt with last session, owing to the fact that the commissioner whom the Government had appointed had not then made his report as to the actual facts. Owing to the extreme importance of this subject and the gravity of the charges made, it was only fair that the Government and the Opposition should have declared where they stood after the facts were ascertained, and before an election.

"The inexplicable bungling of the education department has its most serious effects in the rural districts. Owing to the stubborn attitude taken by the department against all pleading and warning, there is and has been a lamentable scarcity of qualified teachers, with the result that a large percentage of our schools are in the hands of untrained and unqualified teachers. Years ago the Opposition made it perfectly plain that

TO BOOM WEST LONDON REALTY BY PERMANENT PAVEMENT PLAN

Local Real Estae Man Has a Scheme to Run Asphalt Across Bridge to Wharncliffe Road, Then North to Oxford and Then Back to Richmond Street.

A scheme which is calculated to boom the value of West London realty, now that the place is absolutely immune from the dangers of floods during spring freshets, is being talked of by several people interested in property there.

It is proposed to continue the permanent pavement which is now being built down the business section to Dundas street bridge, across the river on Dundas street to the Wharncliffe road, up to Wharncliffe to Oxford street, and back Oxford to Richmond street.

The scheme also provides for the construction of a street railway line from the terminus of the present West London line to Richmond street in order to form a belt line that would provide a highly convenient service for West Londoners.

It is realized that the construction of the pavement would entail a great expenditure, but it is also calculated conservatively that values would be enhanced at least 25 per cent. This would be more than sufficient to meet the cost, and would make of West London a real and prosperous part of the city, such as it has never been before, the promoters claim.

The scheme would give the realty men business there such an impetus that the entire section across the river would benefit.

A local real estate man gave the story to The Advertiser, and he says the matter will be taken up shortly.

ST. JOHN'S ATHLETIC CLUB

Plans Are Being Formulated for the Winter Season.

A very enthusiastic meeting of the members of St. John's Athletic Club was held last night in the clubhouse, the president, Mr. James B. McKillop, being in the chair. Many plans were discussed for the amusement and benefit of the members, and when put through ought to make St. John's the most attractive young men's club in the city.

OLD SOLDIER BURNED TO DEATH

CHINESE REBELS BURN TOWNS SWAMP GOVERNMENT FORCES

Well-Organized Rebellion Is Directed Against the Rule of the Manchus—Foreigners Are Not Molested By the Attacking Troops.

[Canadian Press.]

Hankow, China, Oct. 12—The revolutionary movement is gaining momentum with every hour. Since noon yesterday it has swept the little city of Han-Yang and the native quarter of Hankow. Great numbers of Chinese are joining the movement voluntarily.

The losses in the fighting thus far aggregate several hundred, but practically all the dead are Manchus. The slogan of the movement is "Down with the Manchus."

Thus far there is no sign of animosity against foreigners. A special proclamation issued by the rebel general in charge of the forces in Huh-Peh states that the penalty for any interference with foreigners or with commerce shall be instant death. The proclamation further declares: "This is the army of the people. We will overthrow the tyrant Manchu dynasty and revive the rights of the real Chinese."

Overwhelmed the Troops.

The capture of Han-Yang, which is a town of perhaps 100,000, just north of Hankow, has delivered into the hands of the revolutionists the arsenal and the important Han-Yang ironworks. The revolutionists had no trouble in Han-Yang, overwhelmingly outnumbering the local troops. General Chang Piao escaping by flight, and the members of the local Government were dispersed.

The popularity of the revolutionary movement all along the river and in the interior is indicated by apparently authentic reports that several nearby cities have fallen. Where resistance was offered the rebel forces the towns appear to have been put to the torch.

When the revolutionists swept across the river they followed their previous policy in Wu Chang, avoiding any attack on the foreign concessions. The Methodist missionaries in

TROUBLE OVER FLATS WELLS HAS BEEN SETTLED AT LAST

Ex-Ald. William Gerry Accepts $200 for Each Well On the Property—End of a Matter Which Has Caused Much Discussion.

The difficulty over the purchase of the Gerry flats has been finally settled by the water commissioners paying Mr. William Gerry $200 for each well on his property.

For some time this matter has been under advisement. When an agreement could not be arrived at between Hon. Adam Beck and Mr. Gerry, arbitration proceedings were taken by the water commissioners.

These were halted after some evidence had been heard, and it was thought an arrangement could be made between those concerned.

The proposition to purchase the wells for $200 each, and allow Mr. Gerry to retain the property was made and accepted, despite the fact that Hon. Adam Beck thought that it would be better to buy the whole property outright.

The money will be paid over forthwith.

The matter of the purchase of the Parke flats has not been settled, but it will be within the next few weeks. It is understood that the whole property will be purchased.

COLUMBUS DAY IN NEW YORK.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Oct. 12.—The celebration of Columbus Day here today centred mainly in a big street parade this afternoon and a dinner tonight at the Hotel Astor, at which Mayor Gaynor and other notables will speak.

HAMPTON'S IN TROUBLE.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Oct. 12. — A petition of involuntary bankruptcy has been entered against the Hampton-Columbian magazine. The claims are for about $1,500. The company has assets of $75,000. Judge Holt appointed A. Gordon Murray receiver, with a bond of $40,000, authorized him to continue the business of the company for 20 days, and to issue receiver's certificates.

NANTEL WILL HAVE FIGHT FOR SEAT

Hon. S. N. Parent Will Contest Quebec County With Minister.

ROGERS PLAYING SAFE

Will Not Attempt Saskatchewan Riding—Halton Likely To Be Offered W. T. White.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Oct. 12.—The Borden Government has appointed Nov. 1 as polling day for the by-elections, overlooking the fact that this day is All Saints' Day and a public holiday in the Province of Quebec.

It is understood that there will be at least one contest, as it is understood Hon. S. N. Parent will oppose the return of Hon. L. P. Nantel from Quebec County. This will mean that the election will have to be set back to Nov. 2 or 3 as voting cannot be carried on on a holiday.

It is understood that George Gordon, the Conservative member for Nipissing, will retire to make room for Hon. Frank Cochrane to come into Parliament. Hon. Robert Rogers will not run for a Saskatchewan seat, as he proposed, as there is no sure thing about his winning.

Instead, Alexander Haggart, the member-elect for Winnipeg, will retire, and allow Mr. Rogers to run for that city.

David Henderson is said to be slated for the resignation of his Halton seat to give Hon. W. T. White a seat, and Dr. Daniel will retire from St. John City to give Hon. J. D. Hazen admission to Parliament.

THOUGHT CHINK WAS PEEKING

George Wong Was Hustled to Police Station by P. C. Noonan.

Foreinger Wanted a Blanket But Later Fell Asleep on a Plank.

For the first time in the history of the local police court a Chinaman appeared this morning to answer a charge of disorderly conduct.

It seems that while P. C. Noonan was patrolling his beat on Clarence street Wednesday evening he noticed someone lighting a match in the rear of a house, and apparently looking through one of the windows.

Investigation revealed a Chinaman, who gave his name as George Weng. He was taken to the police station and charged with disorderly conduct. When the constables went to put him in a cell the celestial objected strongly, and seemed to be frightened of the darkness.

Home Comforts.

After he had been almost forced in he amused the officers by calling for a blanket. It was explained to him that blankets were not provided, and he immediately set up a great wail on the injustice of the police and police courts in general.

"No blankee, no sleepee," he told the officers, but afterwards they discovered he had fallen asleep sitting "tailor-fashion" on the bench. This morning he explained in the police court that he had only gone in the lane to "lightee match," and denied that he was peeking in the windows. He was allowed to go.

Again Remanded.

Frank Budd, a colored gentleman, who has appeared in the police court on various occasions, was remanded this morning on a charge of being drunk. His wife, who laid the charge, was sick and unable to appear against him. Budd denied that he was drunk, and he will be held over for a week until his wife is better.

Made Suggestive Signs.

James Watson, another inebriate, was arrested by Sergt. Birrell, and charge with drunkenness. Watson was postive this morning that he was not drunk, and the magistrate had to call three witnesses before the prisoner could be convinced. Watson went into Beemer's garage and asked for a job. He was refused and told to get out, but before doing so he tried to embrace a young lady who was in there at the time.

Sergt. Birrell happened along and tried to straighten out matters, but Watson precipated things by irreverently saluting the sergeant with a combination of the fingers of one hand and the nasal organ. This was too much, and Watson was lodged in the cells. This morning he was fined $20 or 21 days.

LONDONER FELL UNDER ENGINE BUT ESCAPED SERIOUS INJURY

MR. ROBERT HIGGINS,
London Man Who Had a Narrow Escape From Death at Sarnia.

Robert Higgins, of York Street, Had Miraculous Escape From Death.

ACCIDENT IN SARNIA YARDS

Mates Ran to Scene Expecting To Find His Mangled Body.

Robert Higgins, a bridge builder in the employ of the Grand Trunk, and living on York street, west of Thames, street, this city, had one of the most remarkable escapes from instant death at Sarnia Tunnel Wednesday night that has ever been recorded in railroad circles. A yard engine and five cars passed over him, and he escaped with but minor injuries. That he was not horribly mangled is the wonder of the railroad men who are acquainted with the case.

Higgins was a member of the local gang doing some work at the Sarnia Tunnel yards. He was working there Wednesday, and that evening went to the tunnel station to post some letters for the foreman.

About 8 o'clock he decided to go back to the boarding cars, near the roundhouse, and as a yard engine, with some cars, was going that way, he jumped on the board in front to take a ride.

An Awful Position.

The locomotive ran a few hundred feet and Higgins stepped off, and decided to walk, thinking the engine was going to back up.

But it started forward, and before he could escape he was knocked down between the rails.

He fell flat on his stomach, and the engine started over him. The ash box caught his coat and dragged him some distance, but luckily the coat gave way. The tender next passed over him, and then came car after car. The engineer had heard his cries for help, and stopped the engine as soon as possible.

Higgins' companions had seen the accident and rushed to his help, expecting to find him mangled beyond recognition. When the train stopped, Higgins crawled out from under the cars, and walked at once to the boarding cars. His injuries were temporarily dressed there, and he came to London at midnight. His face is scratched, and his left arm is badly

SHARP CENSURE FOR ADAM BECK

"He Has Not Been Straight in Answering Questions," Says Hamilton Controller.

IS IT POLITICAL DODGE?

Power Commission Offers to Give Hamilton Better Rate if Signed at Once.

[Canadian Press.]

Hamilton, Oct. 12. — Hon. Adam Beck and Col. Hendrie have notified the city that the hydro-electric commission is prepared to give it a better rate for power at once if it signs up the co-operative contract, and have asked that a committee from the council be appointed.

When Mayor Lees brought the matter up at the board of control today, Controller McLaren, the defeated Liberal candidate in the Dominion election, caused a stir by charging that it was a political dodge intended to have an effect on the approaching provincial elections, in which Col. Hendrie will be the Conservative candidate in West Hamilton, and Controller Cooper in East Hamilton.

He charged that the head of the hydro commission "had not been straight at any stage of the game in answering questions," and said the people of Hamilton had been deceived. The statement was resented by the mayor and Controller Cooper.

DEATH OF W. S. HIGBY LONDON'S OLDEST CABMAN

At One Time Drove a Stage Coach Into This City.

William G. Higby, London's oldest cabman, died in Victoria Hospital this morning after an illness of six months. The late Mr. Higby was in his 70th year, and had been a resident of London nearly all his life. He was born in Embro, Ontario, and for many years in his younger days drove one of the old stage coaches between London and Woodstock.

LATE WM. G. HIGBY,

For the past forty years he had been in the cab business in London and kept a cab and boarding stable at 492 Ridout street. The last time he drove his cab was on June 1, the occasion of the school children's picnic. Since then he has been confined to his bed, and was lately removed to the hospital, where he died. Had he lived, the fiftieth anniversary of his wedding day would have been celebrated next month. He is survived by his wife and one daughter, Mrs. W. C. Maker, wife of the market clerk. The funeral arrangements have not been completed as yet.

BREAD FROM WHEAT IN THIRTY MINUTES

Standing Grain Transformed in Short Order, Establishing New Record.

[Canadian Press.]

Beloit, Kansas, Oct. 12.—What is believed to be a world's record in transforming standing grain into bread was established yesterday by W. S. Gabel, a farmer, living near here. Just thirty minutes elapsed between the time when the wheat was cut and when Mr. Gabel took the first bite of a biscuit which had been made from it. As soon as the grain was threshed it was rushed a mile and a half to a mill and made into flour, and then taken to a baker, who made the biscuit. The previous record is said to be one hour.

C. P. R. EXPRESS IN WRECK AT DRUMBO

The Early Morning Train From London Plowed Into Caboose of Freight.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Drumbo, Oct. 12.—C. P. R. Express No. 18, which leaves London at 4:40 in the morning, plowed into the van of eastbound freight No. 78, also from London, at Drumbo at 5:45 this morning, and the caboose and one freight car were smashed to pieces. The big mogul hauling the express was only slightly damaged, and was able to proceed under her own steam to Toronto, and take the train through. No. 78 had not quite cleared the switch when the express came thundering along, and before Engineer Follis could stop the express, had plowed into the van, and, ripping through it like matchwood, came to a stand in the centre of a freight car. As quickly as possible the express was backed out, and no fire got a chance to start in the wreckage. Engineer Follis was uninjured. No one was in the caboose of the freight at the time, as Conductor Grant, of London, was in getting orders. Fortunately, the track was not much damaged, and in a few minutes the express was able to go on her way with a number of minor damages to parts of the engine. Conductor Wood was in charge of the express.

TORONTO TELEGRAM STILL AFTER BORDEN

Says Cochrane's Preferment Has Signed Death Warrant of 20 Conservative M. P.'s.

Toronto, Oct. 12.—The Toronto Telegram, Conservative, continues to assail the Borden cabinet. In its issue last night it says sarcastically:

"Monk, 1; Cochrane, 2; R. L. Borden also ran," is the apparent result of the first heat in the race for the mastery of the Administration.

Would Bourassa & Co. consent to let Canada's Parliament present Britain with a Dreadnought, to be built at Canada's expense and named after F. D. Monk, the fighter who conquered R. L. Borden on the occasion of his first engagement?

And Hon. Frank Cochrane, "the Man who Brought Bourassa to Sudbury," is the sort of leader who leads only the slaughter. Hon. Frank's first act of leadership at Ottawa having signed the death warrant of at least 20 Conservative M. P.'s from this province.

LONDON LADY WEDDED IN WINNIPEG TODAY

Miss Minnie Cronyn Sippi Becomes the Bride of H. H. Edmison.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 12.—A very fashionable wedding took place on Wednesday, in All Saints' Church, here, when Miss Minnie Cronyn Sippi, daughter of the late C. A. Sippi, formerly bursar of the London Asylum for the Insane, was united in marriage to Mr. Herbert Hudson Edmison, son of Mr. George Edmison, K. C., of Peterboro. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Heathcott.

The bride, who was given away by her brother-in-law, Mr. Norman J. Dinnen, was beautifully dressed in a lovely wedding gown of ivory duchess satin, her veil held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms. She wore the groom's gift, a bar pin of whole pearls set in platinum. She was attended by Miss Florence Sharman, while the groom was assisted by Mr. W. R. Junkin, to whom he presented a gold-headed cane.

The church was decorated with palms and autumn foliage. Following the wedding ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dinnen, The Albany, Edmonton street. Mr. and Mrs. Edmison later left on their wedding trip, to include New York and Washington. They will spend some time in London, Ont., and on their return to the west will reside at Laingsway.

OLDEST METHODIST IN CANADA IS DEAD

Mrs. Eliza Hagan Was Church Member For 87 Years.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Welland, Oct. 12.—Mrs. Eliza Hagan died at the residence of her son-in-law, George Bates, here last night, at the age of 95 years. She had been a member of the Methodist Church for 87 years, and came to Canada on her wedding trip in 1840. Mr. Hagan died a few years ago, aged 95 years. Two children survive, Mrs. George Bates, of Welland, and Mr. James Hagan, postmaster, Wellsdale, Alberta. She was the oldest Methodist in Canada.

MISSIONARIES SAFE

Those in the Disturbed Section Will Remain.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Oct. 12.—The Episcopal board of missions today received the following cable from Bishop Logan, of Hankow, China, who has charge of the Episcopal missionary work in that part of the empire:

"Missionaries are safe and well. Everything is now quiet. Can remain here."

TWO AVIATORS FALL

French Birdmen Both Likely to Die of Injuries.

[Canadian Press.]

Rheims, France, Oct. 12.—M. Level was injured, probably fatally, in a fall today. The aviator was sweeping along in his biplane 250 feet from the earth, when something went wrong with his machinery, and the aeroplane plunged earthward, striking a telegraph pole in its descent. Level was senseless and barely living as he was taken from the wreck. It was found that the skull and spine had been fractured.

NOVICE FALLS FROM PLANE.

[Canadian Press.]

Charleville, France, Oct. 12. — M. Horta, a student of aviation, while practicing at a height of 20 feet today, fell, receiving internal injuries, which, it is feared, will cause his death. His machine escaped.

HENRY W. FULLER DIES.

[Canadian Press.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 12.—Henry W. Fuller, general passenger traffic manager of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, died at his residence in this city early today. He had been ill for many months of a complication of diseases. He was one of the most widely known passenger traffic officials in the country.

SIX COATS WERE STOLENS FROM EAST LONDON SHOP

Mystery Surrounds the Theft of $50 Worth of Garments.

Shortly before noon today, someone walked into the tailorshop of John Armour, 669 Dundas street, East London, while Mr. Armour was out for a few minutes, and stole six coats, including a brand new overcoat, and two vests.

The thief overlooked several pairs of trousers that were hanging in another part of the shop. Mr. Armour stated to The Advertiser that he had just left the shop for a few minutes, and when he returned he immediately noticed that something was wrong. A hurried investigation revealed the loss of the coats. The police were notified, and detectives were soon on the scene.

Inquiry at the neighboring stores and those across the street did not bring any results, as no one appears to have seen the thief entering or leaving the store. The loss will amount to nearly $50, as all the coats were good ones, and were being pressed for customers.

It is also stated that a thief entered the shoe shop of Geo. Huddlestone, next door to the tailorshop, and took a new pair of shoes. Mr. Huddlestone was in his shop all morning, and had several customers call, and he thinks that the shoes must have been snatched up while his back was turned.

It is altogether likely that an arrest will be made this afternoon in connection with the robbery. The police have a clue to the thief, it was stated to The Advertiser, and it is said on good authority that he was seen coming down down on a car with the coats on his arm. He transferred at the corner of Richmond and Dundas streets, and the police have a good description of him. Detectives Down and Egleton are following up the clue, and an arrest is hourly expected.

FIFTH ANNIVERSARY

A Notable Methodist Celebration at London Junction.

Very interesting things have been doing at the Junction during the last few days. The centre of attraction has been the little Methodist Church on Hale street, which has this week passed its fifth anniversary.

Rev. Mr. Drew was the preacher of the day on Sunday, and his sermons were helpful and inspirational. The church choir furnished the music for both services, which was much appreciated.

Tuesday evening an old-fashioned tea-meeting was held. The supper was served in the church shed, which had been converted into a veritable banquet hall for the occasion.

When the programme of the evening was reached, the church building was crowded to overflowing. Then the people were treated to an entertainment of a very high order. Rev. G. C. Gifford, pastor of the church, acted as chairman. Thanks to the efforts of his loyal band of workers, this anniversary was pronounced a great success.

TOMLINSON---ALLEN

A Very Pretty Wedding in East London on Wednesday Afternoon.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, when Miss Hettie Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Allen, of 129 Rectory street, was united in marriage to Mr. Earle James Tomlinson, son of Mr. James Tomlinson, of this city. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. J. W. Baird, of Hyatt Avenue Methodist Church, at the residence of the bride's parents. The bride was charmingly attired in a dress of white satin with pearl trimmings. She wore a bridal veil crowned with orange blossoms, and carried cream roses.

She was attended by her sister, Miss Rosie Allen, who wore a dainty gown of pink silk, and carried pink carnations. The groom was assisted by Mr. Reginald Allen, a brother of the bride.

Following the wedding ceremony, the wedding breakfast was served in the dining-room, which was beautifully decorated in pink and white. Over fifty guests were present from London, Thorndale and neighboring vicinities. The wedding gifts, which were many and beautiful, testified to the popularity of the bride and groom.

Afterwards Mr. and Mrs. Tomlinson left on their wedding trip for Toronto and other eastern points. After Nov. 1 they will be at home to their friends at 704 Elias street.

Work of a Fiend.

Passers-by on Dundas street, near the corner of Adelaide street, this morning, shortly before 8:30 o'clock, witnessed a pitiful sight, when a beautiful collie dog was suffering from what appeared to be strychnine poisoning. The animal was racing up and down the street as though it were on springs. It was frothing at the mouth and had the appearance of being mad. Several people were greatly frightened by the dog's appearance, and rushed into near-by stores to get out of the animal's way. Finally the collie became exhausted and lay down, but later jumped up again and disappeared. It is thought the canine got the poison near the corner of Adelaide and Dundas streets, as it was playing about there, when it was suddenly seized with the attack. Dog-poisoners have been busy in East London lately, and no doubt this is a result of their work.

Gave Driver a Toss.

A horse belonging to R. H. Read, a local milk dealer, fell at the corner of Lyle and Dundas streets at 1 o'clock this afternoon, and threw the driver out of the rig. The animal was tangled up in the harness, and great difficulty was experienced in getting it back on its feet. The rig was not damaged, and there were no injuries to the horse. The driver was not hurt although badly shaken up.

WHY WHITE HAS BEEN TAKEN INTO CABINET

Represents the Bank of Commerce Interests and the Circle Dominated by J. W. Flavelle.

Montreal, Oct. 11.—The Herald says of the new cabinet:

Except however, for what influence Mr. Foster will have by reason of his superior knowledge, it is Mr. White who is designated to dominate the Ontario wing of the cabinet. His appointment means that the business interests which in Toronto centre around the Bank of Commerce, and the politico-business circle which is dominated by Mr. J. W. Flavelle, will have the upper hand for some time to come. They had a great deal to do with organizing the defeat of Laurier, and their influence was by no means confined to Ontario. It reached down to the county of Brome, for example. Mr. Flavelle, himself an ardent and persistent Conservative, was clever enough, with the assistance of Mr. Sifton, to interest others of his group in the defeat of Laurier. The nomination of Mr. White is the recompense they have exacted. Behind the new finance minister, outside the cabinet, stand Mr. Flavelle, Mr. Sifton, Sir Edmund Walker, and Mr. Lash. Not far from the latter is Sir William Mackenzie, who is also believed to be on very good terms with Mr. Cochrane, the new minister of railways. They have been saying for some years in Toronto that when the party came back to power Toronto would take the priority Montreal had hitherto been accorded. It rather looks as though, with this group naming their man to the finance department, and that not a seasoned warrior of politics, but one who has no other claim except their favor, there might be something in it.

WIFE OF WRITER SECURES A DIVORCE

George Randolph Chester Gives Her Royalties of Play and $4,000 a Year.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Oct. 12.—Mrs. George Randolph Chester, has been granted a divorce from her husband, the well-known short story writer. Friends had known for slme time that the couple had separated, but news that an interlocutory divorce decree was signed yesterday came today as a surprise. Mrs. Chester named a young woman whom she said her husband introduced at his apartment here last spring as his wife. Chester denied all his wife's allegations.

Mrs. Chester will receive $1,600 a year alimony and the royalties from the play, "Get-Rick-Quick-Wallingford" dramatized from her husband's stories, besides an allowance of $2,400 a year for their two sons until they reach the age of twenty-five.

The Chesters were married at Davenport, Iowa, July 25, 1895.

CHINESE REBELS

Wu Chang escaped over the walls and are known to be safe.

Two Distinct Races.

Much of the unrest and political disaffection in China in recent years has been due to the underlying current of race hatred, which the native Chinese have had for the Manchu dynasty and the nation-wide network of officials. Although the Manchus swept down from the north and took possession of the Chinese throne nearly 300 years ago, there has been little mixing of their blood with that of the native Chinese, and the two people have existed side by side, two continually clashing elements.

The Manchus were originally called in to assist in suppressing internal troubles which threatened the overthrow of the Ming dynasty. Their work done, they refused to withdraw, but proceeded to conquer the country for themselves. In 1643 they proclaimed the son of their own ruler as the first emperor of a new dynasty, the tenth emperor of which now reigns.

The Manchus have ruled China on Chinese lines of politics, and in recent years have made many efforts to conciliate the natives.

FINANCIAL CRISIS FEARED.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Oct. 12.—The Pekin correspondent of the Times says that the most disturbing feature of the revolt in Wu Chang is the chaos which must inevitably follow the destruction by fire of the treasury building.

The main currency of the three great cities, Wu Chang, Hankow and Han Yang, forming the metropolis of mid-China, is the Hup-Heh Government's dollar notes, which have been issued in unknown millions. A financial crisis is, therefore, believed to be involved.

Referring to the Wu Chang rising, the Times says today that profound, widespread and merited dissatisfaction with the imperial government exists over a great part of the empire.

PRECAUTIONS IN PEKIN.

[Canadian Press.]

Pekin, China, Oct. 12. — Elaborate military precautions have been taken to prevent any sympathetic revolutionary uprising in this city, and the palaces are guarded by troops of proven loyalty. The advices received here indicate that three regiments of the army participated in the revolt at Wu Chang.

CHURCH AND HOME THEME DISCUSSED

Social Service One of the Present Demands Upon the Church.

[Canadian Press.]

Toronto, Oct. 12.—With "the Church in the Household" as the general topic for consideration by the Ecumenical Methodist Conference in this city today the programme of addresses included "Home Religion and Religious Education in the Home," by Rev. W. B. Lark, of Bude, England; "Methods of Religious Training in the Home," by Rev. D. S. Bedford, of the Wesleyan Methodist Church of the United States; "The Family Altar," by Dr. Richard T. Smith, of London, England; "The Psychology of Child Training," by Rev. H. M. Hamill, Nashville, Tenn.; "The Widening Mission of the Sunday School," by Rev. C. E. Wilbur, of Pittsburg, Pa., and "The Equipment of the Sunday School Teacher," by J. H. Freeman, of the Wesleyan Reform Union.

The American and Canadian delegates, especially from the larger cities, are getting much valuable data from the papers read by English delegates regarding methods in so-called slum-work and in practical application of the principles of Christian socialism. Much of this information will be used in a preventative way.

According to Rev. George P. Eckman, of St. Paul's Methodist Church, of New York, "one of the conspicuous needs of the day in our work is disinterested social service. The social settlement already is showing to the state its duty and to the church its opportunities. A quiet invasion for good is being conducted in the dark spots of the world where social injustice is rampant. We must make impossible in the new world some of the defeated diseases of the old world."

Dr. Scott Lidgett, warden of the Bermondsey Settlement, London, has formulated for the newer workers among the delegates what he terms the two main principles for successful settlement work. "First, the method of friendship—the principle of brotherhood, not extended in a patronizing spirit, but in real comradeship; second, the cultivation of the higher socialism—the readiness to share with less fortunate fellows the benefits of religion, culture and education."

Among the most efficient fields of work in large cities is the down-town church, according to Rev. J. G. Bickerton, of Philadelphia, who sees great loss of effective machinery which never can be duplicated "when those churches in the big centres are sold for gain and the congregations move to more desirable districts." His belief is that "they should remain to fulfill their mission as centres of light and social regeneration in those areas in which otherwise the shadows must fall."

HOLIDAY DELAYS M'NAMARA TRIAL

The Defense Will Continue to Question Venirmen On Trade Unionism.

[Canadian Press.]

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 12.—Columbus Day, a legal holiday in this state, halted today the trial of James B. McNamara, under indictment for the murder of nineteen men in the explosion of the Times building here a year ago. When court reconvenes tomorrow the examination of talesmen will be taken up where interrupted at the opening of the session of the trial yesterday morning.

The offices of the two squads of attorneys presented a busy scene notwithstanding the official respite, and it was apparent that both sides have not yet made ready for the more important day of the trial, when the testimony of witnesses will be received.

In the county jail besides James B. McNamara and his brother, John J., indicted likewise with him, and awaiting a separate trial, were the twelve veniremen, who temporarily were drafted into the jury box for preliminary examination when court adjourned yesterday.

Attorneys for the defence declared they would continue their action of yesterday in seeking to determine the state of mind of every possible juror as to the trade unionism, because they expected the state to allege labor warfare as a motive for the explosion.

A NOVEL RACE

Sparta Man Peeled 108 Bushels of Apples in Eight Hours.

[Special to The Advertiser]

Sparta, Oct. 11.—An interesting wager was decided at the local evaporator when a bet was made that Harry Bailey could peel more apples in a day than Ernest Oaks. The race started early in the morning and at the end of eight hours and a half Bailey gave up, and Oaks was declared the winner. He peeled 108 bushels of apples. Bailey recently peeled, in ten hours at Union, 107 bushels.

INGERSOLL WEDDING

Miss Mary E. Delaney Was Married to Mr. John F. Hoolihan.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ingersoll, Oct. 12.—A very pretty wedding took place at the Church of the Sacred Heart this morning at 9:30 o'clock, when Miss Mary E., only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Delaney, of Dereham, was married to Mr. John Francis Hoolihan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hoolihan, Ingersoll. The bride's dress was of ivory duchess satin, veiled with chiffon, court train, veil and orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Margaret Hoolihan, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, and wore a blue satin, veiled marquisette gown, and carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums. The other bridesmaid, Miss Florence Murray, of Stratford, wore yellow satin, veiled in champagne marquisette, and carried yellow crysanthemums.

The flower girls were Madeline Williams and Helen Cleas, cousins of the bride, and wore white lingerie dresses and mob caps. They carried pink and white carnations.

The wedding march was played by Miss Hemsworth, and a solo was sung most acceptably by Miss Marguerite Enright. After the ceremony, the wedding party left for "Rose Hill," the bride's home, where a reception was held. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold cross, set in pearls; to the bridesmaids, necklaces; to the flower girls, gold lockets and chains, to the best man, gold cuff links, and to the ushers, pearl tie pins.

Summer Shutters Coming Down! Winter Homes Are Opening Up!

It would seem as though the whole city had returned with a rush to prepare for the new season at home. Carpet-layers, paper-hangers, painters and decorators are having a busy time, and our drapery manufacturing department is being taxed to its utmost capacity in keeping up with their part in beautifying and decorating the home. Many new things have been received in our Drapery Department, which have escaped the newspapers, and a visit to the Drapery and Curtain Section, now on the fourth floor, will be very educative to those who are interested and anxious to have their home modernly draped and decorated.

BELT LINE CAR HIT BRICK WAGON

A Spill on Dundas Street Near Waterloo This Morning.

A South London belt line car struck a wagon loaded with bricks at the corner of Dundas and Waterloo streets this morning, with the result that the wagon was smashed and all the bricks were tossed all over the pavement. The outfit was owned by Harry Boss and was driven by a man named Clinton. According to the latter's story he was driving westward on the tracks when he heard a car coming behind. He attempted to turn out, but the nut came off the front wheel. He signalled the motorman to keep off, but the latter shouted to him to get out of the road. The next thing he knew the street car crashed into him, spilling his load, throwing the horses to one side, and smashing the wagon.

SHIP'S CARGO INCREASES $107,000 DURING VOYAGE

Advance In Sugar Prices Causes Big Gain For Owners.

[Canadian Press.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 12. — Unusual interest was manifested in the arrival of the British steamship Kwarra, with sugar, from Java, today, by reason of the fact that the vessel's cargo increased in value in transit more than $107,000. The Kwarra sailed from Java on Aug. 1, bound for the McWhan refinery here. When the six thousand tons of sugar were put on board the value per 112 pounds was 14s 6d. The yesterday's quotations for Java sugar were 18s 6d. The advance of 4s in the price will net the owners $107,140 over the original purchase price.

The duty paid on the Kwarra's cargo totalled $180,000, or on a basis of $30 per ton.

The Quickest, Surest Cough Remedy You Ever Used. Family Supply for 50c. Saves You $2.

You have never used anything which takes hold of a bad cough and conquers it so quickly as Pinex Cough Syrup. Gives almost instant relief and usually stops the most obstinate, deep-seated cough in 24 hours. Guaranteed to give prompt and positive results even in croup and whooping cough.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of Norway White Pine extract, rich in guaiacol and other healing pine elements. A 50-cent bottle makes 16 ounces—a family supply—of the best cough remedy that money can buy, at a saving of $2. Simply mix with home-made sugar syrup or strained honey, in a 16-oz. bottle, and it is ready for use. Easily prepared in 5 minutes—directions in package.

Children like Pinex Cough Syrup—it tastes good, and is a prompt, safe remedy for old or young. Stimulates the appetite and is slightly laxative—both good features. A handy household medicine for hoarseness, asthma, bronchitis, etc., and unusually effective for incipient lung troubles. Used in more homes in the U. S. and Canada than any other cough remedy.

Pinex has often been imitated, but never successfully, for nothing else will produce the same results. The genuine is guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. Certificate of guarantee is wrapped in each package. Your druggist has Pinex or will gladly get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

WHAT DOES CROTHERS KNOW ABOUT LABOR?

That Is the Question Men of Rank and File Are Asking Now.

Berlin, Oct. 12.—The appointment of Hon. W. T. Crothers, the St. Thomas lawyer, as minister of labor, to take the place of Hon. Mackenzie King, ex-M.P., of this riding, has not aroused any enthusiasm in local labor circles.

Labor men who have been closely idenified with the labor movement in Canada are at a loss to understand why Premier Borden appointed as cabinet minister a man who has never been associated with the labor movement, and who is practically unknown among the workingmen of this Dominion.

Mr. Crothers' selection has its humorous side as well as a serious aspect. During the last few days of the recent campaign the main issue was entirely forgotten, and a corps of Tory canvassers made a tour of the north, west and south wards and urged workingmen to vote against Hon. Mr. King, not because he was supporting reciprocity, but that he should not be Minister of Labor as he has never performed any manual labor and was therefore, it was claimed, unacquainted with the actual needs of the workingmen. It was expected by some of these workingmen that when a new minister of labor was appointed that a "real" workingman would be called to the cabinet. Their disappointment when the announcement that a lawyer, who has not been heard of in the labor arena, had been appointed to take charge of the labor department can be easily judged.

ALTERED A DOCUMENT

Utica Lawyer Inserted Two Words in Court Record.

[Canadian Press.]

Utica, N. Y., Oct. 12.—Edward Risley, a prominent lawyer in this city for 40 years, was today found guilty of having taken a document from the office of the county clerk, where it had been filed, and inserting two words in the context. The words materially changed the meaning of the document, which was an important paper in a suit against the Ironclad Manufacturing Company, of New York. Risley was the attorney for a client who claimed that the company was infringing upon a patent held by him.

NO JOY IN FRANCE.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, Oct. 12.—The accord with Germany upon the relative position of France and Germany in Morocco has not been received with any special manifestations of pleasure in France. Instead attention turns to what France may have to pay in Congo territory that is actually French, for a confirmation of her rights in Morocco. The precise character of Germany's price has not been disclosed.

LONDON, THURSDAY, OCT. 12.

A TRICK ELECTION.

Sir James Whitney has decided to plunge the Province into a general election in December without a shred of justification, without even a specious pretext, and against every dictate of common sense, public convenience, and fair play.

Sir James has two motives for the election, but these concern only party exigencies. He wishes to anticipate the report on bilingual schools which will thrust a troublesome question on the Government, and to take advantage of his opponents at a moment when he imagines they are exhausted by defeat in the federal election. It is a piece of sharp practice not in keeping with Sir James' boasted straightforwardness and courage. It puts politics on a low plane, and Sir James has dragged himself down to it.

It is quite true the Liberals of Ontario are not in the best condition to repel the attack of a Government which has chosen to force the fighting with the greatest majority at its back that any provincial administration has had. They are temporarily disorganized by a crushing reverse in another arena. They ought to profit, however, by the resentment of fair-minded electors at the Government's tactics. Sir James Whitney assumes that this feeling is non-existent, and that the sheer weight of his numerical strength in the Legislature will crush the remnant of the Opposition. The sense of justice may be keener than he estimates, and he may get a chastening disappointment.

The leader of the Opposition has promptly responded to the challenge. He indicts the Government on a number of counts:

1. The inexplicable bungle of the education department in regard to rural schools. The destruction of the model schools at one blow has forced a large proportion of the schools to engage unqualified teachers.

2. The jobbing of the public school readers, making them an advertising appendage of Eaton's departmental store—a discrimination against the whole retail trade of the Province.

3. Neglect of technical education.

4. The unjust incidence of the succession duties. Mr. MacKay would have a graduated rate, falling more heavily upon large than upon small estates.

5. The inequalities of the mining tax. The royalty should be greater upon the product of a mine yielding exceptionally high profits than upon poorer paying mines.

6. The peremptory rejection of the Fripp bill, to allow municipalities to tax land at a higher rate than improvements.

7. The lack of a progressive policy of reaforestation.

8. The inequitable character of the Government's power policy, which discriminates against seven-eighths of the municipalities of the Province.

9. The Government's slothfulness in opening Northern Ontario to settlement, the pioneers being oppressed by heavy freight rates on the Temiskaming Railway.

10. The need of developing the Temiskaming Railway by branches and extensions.

These criticisms also indicate some of the planks of Mr. MacKay's platform. The Advertiser is specially pleased to see his courageous handling of the Niagara power question. The whole tendency of the present scheme is to attract industries to the source of power, to the Niagara Peninsula, and to draw them away from cities and other towns in the other parts of the Province. Mr. MacKay says:

"I leave it with the Government to say whether, as representing the whole Province, they think such a scheme is fair and equitable to the whole Province. And this raises the further question whether a uniform flat rate would not be more equitable even within the electric zones.

"Self-preservation demands that manufacturers and their employees, and citizens generally, in seven-eighths of the Province should cease to slavishly follow party flags, and should demand, with no uncertain sound, a square deal on this power question."

A uniform flat rate is the only equitable principle to apply to the power scheme. The present system handicaps (1) the smaller municipalities, as compared with the larger ones, since the cost per horsepower is based not only on distance, but on the quantity consumed; (2) all municipalities outside the power zone, in seven-eighths of the Province; and (3) all municipalities in the power zone, but outside the Niagara Peninsula. It is to be hoped Mr. MacKay will declare unequivocally for a reconstruction of the whole system that will diffuse the benefits of hydro-electric power over the whole Province of Ontario, and put all municipalities on the same footing. This can only be done by a uniform flat rate.

LEARNING FROM CANADA.

There is a genuine note of admiration and respect for Canada in leading American periodicals that does not sound at all like the accents of the fox flattering the crow to let fall his cheese. One writer, telling of his tour through Canada, pays an enthusiastic tribute to the spirit of Canadian life; he points out that Americans have much to learn from the genius of Canada and avers that life is more interesting in this country than in his own. Ex-Senator Beveridge contributes an article to the October number of the American Review of Reviews in which he contrasts the political system of the two countries much to our advantage. In both our social and our political system Americans find something to learn.

Mr. Beveridge, who has been making a study of Canadian affairs, is vastly impressed by two features of our political constitution: (1) the responsible cabinet with its quick sensitiveness to public opinion, "the most effective of 'recalls,'" as he puts it, and (2) the centralized nationality brought about by the Dominion Government's paramount control of business and commerce. These, he says, "are the two mighty and enduring pillars upon which the entire political system of Canada rests. They make this new nation at once the most popular and national government on earth." Mr. Beveridge longs for the introduction of at least the second of these principles into the United States. He perceives that national consolidation, the paramountcy of the federal government, is essential to the solution of the great question of the hour, the regulation of the Big Interests. It is true that the Canadian people has just rejected a measure calculated to put a check on predatory wealth, but as Mr. Beveridge sees it, Canada has all the time one great advantage over the Republic in that the federal government can frame laws to deal with the Trusts unhampered by "States' Rights," or a supreme court, which puts a rope round the people's neck.

The attitude of Mr. Beveridge and others is unquestionably courteous and admiring. His article is worth studying, elementary and simple as it is. The boorish rebuffs which American friendliness has of late received in some Canadian quarters do not reflect credit on the manners or common sense of some of our extreme partisans.

Manitoba gets two cabinet ministers instead of reciprocity. The ministers come high.

Sir James Whitney has actually consented to be the tail of Mr. Borden's kite.

The Premier of Ontario thinks the Liberals are down, and that this is a safe time to kick them.

The dissolution of the Ontario Legislature means the dissolution of the Premier's vaunted backbone.

Among the manufacturing districts of the world, Ontario is the Rip Van Winkle in technical education.

The Provincial election is a cowardly shift, and the electors will have an opportunity to rebuke a cowardly Government.

The Toronto Telegram cries that Bourassa will allow no Dreadnoughts to be built by the Borden Government. This is what some of us tried to tell the Telegram and others before the election.

The last Ontario Government gave the Whitney Administration the key with which to open the clay belt, but the clay belt is pretty much what it was in 1905.

The business community doesn't want an election on the eve of the Christmas season, but the Ontario Government is not prompted by business reasons.

The grandson of the great Sir Robert Peel has been arrested for nonpayment of a hotel bill. His grandfather took a different method of protesting against food taxes.

Mr. Borden has promised an "impartial" tariff commission. The suggestion that Mr. Foster will be a member is a reflection on Mr. Borden which may be undeserved.

"Every effort was made by the Canadian Premier and his followers to drive Canada out of the Empire," said Sir Max Aitken, the cement knight, to a Lancashire audience. Sir Max can manipulate the truth as skillfully and unscrupulously as the Canadian stock market.

Mr. Borden postponed his drive to Rideau Hall, with his cabinet slate in his pocket, until 1 o'clock in the morning in order to keep the news from the Liberal press. The Toronto World, one of the beneficiaries of the trick, frankly says it was "small potatoes."

"The present Legislature has already existed longer than its predecessor," says Sir James Whitney. But the preceding Legislature held four regular sessions and finished its work. The present Legislature has held only three. Sir James has a poor case when he puts forward such a flimsy pretext.

The Toronto News' attack on the Globe over the payment of postal charges, echoed by minor newspapers, is sheer spite. All newspapers were treated alike by the postal department, and all complied with the rulings of the department. If these rulings were not legal or equitable the newspapers were not to blame.

A FEATHER VALUED AT $50,000.

[Chicago Tribune.]

On the apex of the crown worn by the Prince of Wales on special occasions is a curious feather, or, rather, tuft of feathers the top of which is adorned with a gold thread. The value of this feather is estimated at $50,000, and it has the distinction of being the only one of its kind in human possession. Twenty years passed after the first hunter set out to procure the feather before it was attained, and during that period more than a dozen hunters had lost their lives in the quest.

The costly tuft is of periwak feathers, and the extraordinary danger incurred in procuring it was due to the fact that the periwak, for some unknown reason, is to be found only in dense jungles in which tigers make their lair.

HISTORY OF POSTAL BANKS.

[Chicago News.]

It has been 50 years since the first postal banks were established. The idea of using the postoffice for the collection and safe-keeping of small deposits had its origin in Great Britain. Under the leadership of William E. Gladstone, chancellor of the exchequer, Parliament in 1861 passed the bill providing for the creation of the postal savings bank system.

The United States, therefore, is divided by half a century from the outposts of progress in this important respect, for it is only just now putting the postal savings system into operation. The establishment of this system in this country will be a distinguishing achievement of the Taft administration.

Figures made public on the 50th anniversary of the beginning of postal banks show that there are in Great Britain and Ireland 15,000 postoffices designated as depositories for the people's savings. The number of depositors is 8,000,000 and the amount standing to the credit of depositors is nearly $850,000,000.

That is indeed an impressive showing of the accumulations of a nation's thrift protected by the Government's guaranty.

A MODEL MURDER TRIAL.

[New York Sun.]

Mr. Kipling would have less reason to complain of the increasing number of murders in this country, if every criminal trial here was conducted with the speed and sanity of the Crippen case in England. It is gratifying to note that the murder trial in Virginia, which was recently concluded, far more resembled in its dignity similar trials in England than it did the disgraceful opera bouffe performance which has gone into history as the first Thaw trial. It is not necessary to revive the unpleasant recollection that travesty on judicial procedure, but it is gratifying to note that in a little backwoods courthouse of Virginia, situated on a country crossroads, a trial could be conducted and concluded in a manner worthy of the court, jury and the counsel for both parties.

LONDON MAN FELL

bruised at the elbow. Patches of skin are rubbed off his back and hips, but no bones were broken.

A Narrow Escape.

This morning when he was seen by The Advertiser he was about the house devoutly thankful that he suffered no worse injuries.

"I am more than thankful to be alive," he stated. "It was an awful experience, and I say that I do not want another like it. I had gone to the station with several of the men to look at some work we had done and post some letters for the foreman. It was about 8 o'clock when we started back. I saw an engine with some cars going towards the roundhouse where our cars were, and I stepped on the board of the locomotive at the front. The men followed along, intending to walk.

"The engine had not gone any distance when it stopped. I thought it was going back, and stepped onto the track. In a moment it started. I felt something tug at my ankles and in a moment I was thrown face forward between the tracks. How I escaped being thrown across them and cut to pieces is a myster.

Under a Locomotive.

"I felt the engine crawling up on me and I could do nothing. I thought the ash box would catch me, and grind me. It caught in my coat, and I was shoved along on the track. My face was being ground in the cinders, but I was powerless. I was dragged some feet, when my head dropped down into a hollow, and the coat gave way, releasing me from the ash box.

"I was safe from that danger for the moment, but I feared the brake beams. They are fastened in the centre with steel rods, and I knew that if I were caught by the ends of the bolts I would be killed. I edged to the side of the track to escape them. I felt the wheels of the tender and cars scraping my arms. I crouched down as close to the ground as I could to escape them. When the first trucks passed over there was some space before the rear ones came. Then I yelled. Three cars had passed over me before the engineer heard me. He stopped when part of the fifth had gone by, and I was found under the cars. My companions rushed up, expecting to find me ground to pieces. However, I was only bruised.

A Gamble With Death.

"It was peculiar lying under the train figuring out how you could escape. Although the whole thing happened in a minute or two, I managed to figure out what was best to be done. When I counted that only five cars passed over me, I was surprised. I thought there were fifty. My face gave me much pain, as it was shoved along in the cinders. I thought I was gone when the ash pan struck me on the back of the head, but I did not lose consciousness.

"It was a tight squeeze, but I managed to get out of it all right. I am not a big man, weighing about 130 pounds, but for once I am thankful that I did not weigh more. I do not know to this minute how I escaped. It was most fortunate. Still, you cannot kill an Irishman in that way.

"Often I had figured out about the brake beams, and I escaped just as I thought I would if I ever should be thrown under a train. I am a lucky man. My arm hurts me the worst, but it will be better, I hope, in a few days."

HENS IN CONTEST

[Canadian Press.]

Storrs, Conn., Oct. 12.—Arrangements are about completed for the international egg-laying contest, to be conducted under the supervision of the Connecticut Agricultural College. The contest will last one year, commencing Nov. 1. There will be 500 hens in the race, four hens to a team, and each team housed by itself in a separate pen. A fifth bird will be permitted as a substitute in case of sickness. One hundred small frame houses have been erected for the contestants.

The entries are from Canada, Mexico, Cuba, South America, Europe, Japan and the United States.

METHODISM FOR NEED OF WORLD

Charges of Sectarianism Repudiated in the Ecumenical Address.

FOR CHURCH UNIVERSAL

Message To Be Read From One Hundred Thousand Pulpits of the World.

[Canadian Press.]

Toronto, Oct. 12.—Dr. Scott Lidgett had the floor when the Ecumenical Conference opened this morning, when he delivered the ecumenical address to world-wide Methodism. The address regarded the origin of Methodism as eminently adapted to the spiritual needs of the world. Charge of sectarianism was repudiated. Methodism was in harmony with the church universal. The church was urged to promote all measures to help to elevate mankind. Those are to be the "signs infallible."

From All Pulpits.

This message is to be printed, and a day will be named when it will be read in one hundred thousand Methodist pulpits throughout the world. Following this a warm discussion arose over the appointment of a permanent commission of members who should act in the interests of pan-Methodism for the next decade. Rev. Dr. Buckley opposed the movement, as unnecessary, expensive, indefinite. Rev. Mr. Westerdale, of Bolton, England, hoped the commission would be appointed. He desired this particularly in view of the proposal to dissever some portions of Methodism from the parent body.

Would Lose Identity.

He viewed such a thing with dismay. They would lose their name and what would they call a mixture of Presbyterians, Congregationalists and Methodists? Rev. B. Rose, of Huddersfield, England, also approved of the commission idea. It would be of great advantage in conserving the influence of this conference and making the evangelistic power of Methodism effective. No one need worry about the name.

The vote was overwhelmingly in favor of the appointment of the commission. Following this was a general discussion of the topic of "The Church in the Household."

NEW BRIDGE TAKEN OVER

A Big Improvement in Township of McGillivray.

The new steel and concrete bridge over the Aux Sable River, situated in a partially inundated section of the township of McGillivray, which has been constructed by the counties of Middlesex, Huron and Lambton was formally taken over yesterday by a committee from the three municipalities.

County Engineer Talbot was on the scene and made the inspection for Middlesex. Everything was considered satisfactory, and the bridge is now open for traffic.

The bridge over Dingman's Creek in the township of Westminster, a mile north of Lambeth Village, is being proceeded with as rapidly as possible. The steel construction men have finished their work and the 65-foot span is now ready for the cement floor.

Killworth bridge, which has been closed all summer, is also nearing completion.

ALL-STARS CLEAN UP ON ATHLETICS

Five Pitchers Used in 13 to 8 Game at Richmond, Va., Yesterday.

MULLIN HOLDS MACKMEN

Detroiter Finishes For McAleer's Crew —Cobb, Collins and Murphy Lead Sluggers.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 11.—The All-Stars had little trouble in defeating the Philadelphia Athletics, of the American League here today by a score of 13 to 8. Krause hit the longest drive of the year at the local park, lifting the ball high over left field fence for a home run. Neither team showed remarkable defensive powers, the men being unwilling to take chances. More than nine thousand people witnessed the game. Mack used Morgan, Krause and Coombs in the box, who yielded 15 hits, while his men got the same number from Collins and Mullin, who pitched for the All-Stars. Score:

Athletics	1	0	0	2	3	0	2	0	0	—8

Summary: Runs—Oldring 3, Collins 3, Derrick, Krause, Milan, Cobb, Gessler 2, Chase 2, Elberfeld 2, Gardner 3, Henry, McBride. Two-base hits—Oldring 2, Davis, Gessler, Elberfeld. Sacrifice hits—R. Collins, Barry, Elberfeld. Three-base hits—E. Collins. Home run—Krause. Stolen bases—Oldring, E. Collins, Cobb, Elberfeld, McBride. Bases on balls—Off Morgan 2, off Krause 5, off Coombs 2, off Mullin 1. Left on bases—All-Stars 10, Athletics 5. Hits—Off Morgan, 5 in 3 innings; off Krause, 6 in 4 innings; off Coombs, 1 in 1 inning; off R. Collins, 13 in 7 innings; off Mullin, 2 in 2 innings. Struck out—By Krause 2, by Coombs 1. Time—1.55. SCANT 600 TURN OUT TO SEE NAPS-REDS PLAY

As Result Remainder of Series for Ohio Title Will Be Played in Cleveland.

Cincinnati, Oct. 11.—No more of the Cleveland-Cincinnati games for the championship of Ohio will be played in Cincinnati.

That was decided upon yesterday afternoon when only a scant 600 turned out to witness the first of the postseason series. The exact attendance was 550 persons, a joke that was not appreciated by Garry Herrmann and much less by the players of the two teams, who are hoping to cut a fair sized melon. The melon, however, is likely to turn out in a kind of fruit which is spelled with the same letters but with the first and third letters transposed.

Consequently, the remainder of the series will be played in Cleveland, as follows: One game Friday, a double-header Saturday and a double-header Sunday, with a single game, should the series go to seven games, on Monday afternoon. With two double-headers on the Cleveland programme, the players feel there will be a good turnout if the weather is at all propitious.

Fans Sore on Reds.

Playing any more games here, however, was out of the question from a financial standpoint. The fans of Cincinnati have been sore on the team, and its management, since the middle of the season, and less than 500 persons turned out to see the double-header between the Reds and Cardinals Monday.

No games will be played Wednesday nor Thursday, as Cincinnati has a game with the Cubs on Thursday, a game which the Cubs must come all the way from Chicago for, and which will probably not attract over 200 at the outside.

MISS CAMPBELL HAS EASY TIME IN MATCH

Defeats Miss Semple in the Second Round of Woman's Golf Championship.

New York, N. Y., Oct. 11.—The contenders for the woman's national golf championship had a chance to show what they could do in the rain today at Baltusrol and the favorites had all the best of it and demonstrated the fact that weather conditions are of little moment in a championship competition. Eight matches were played today, reducing the number who are still in the race to eight and every one of them is a golfer who has proved her skill more than once in the past. The Boston district now has five representatives left in the running, while New York, Philadelphia and Canada each have one.

Miss Dorothy Campbell, the defending champion, of Hamilton, Ont., won easily from Miss Grace Semple, of St. Louis. It was her famous short game that won for Miss Campbell, for Miss Semple outdrove her most of the way.

The Metropolitan champion, Miss Lillian B. Hyde, won her match in spite of some of the worst putting ever seen in a championship tournament.

CANADIAN LEAGUE MATERIAL GOOD

Eight Players Picked Off By Organizations Higher Up in First Year.

ANNUAL MEETING SOON

Magnates of Circuit Will Be in Session Within Two Weeks.

Hamilton Spectator: The Canadian League has not suffered so badly this, the first year of the organization, so far as returns for sold and drafted players is concerned, a matter of $3,900 having been turned over to the various clubs by four leagues, the National, American, Eastern and American Association, who have taken eight players out of the league. It is the sale and drafting of players which helps so materially in keeping the smaller organizations alive.

The selection of Barton as a player for a chance in the American Association brings the list of Canadian League players already sold and drafted up as follows:

Sold and Drafted.

Sold:
By Hamilton to Philadelphia Nationals—Grieve.

Drafted:
By Philadelphia Athletics form Berlin—Cameron.
By Philadelphia Athletics from Brantford—Smith.
By Philadelphia Nationals from Berlin—Chaput.
By Detroit from Brantford—Orcutt.
By Baltimore from Berlin—Dunn.
By Columbus from London—Kyle.
By Toledo from Hamilton—Barton.

This makes eight Canadian League players who have already gone higher, and as the drafting season is not over until Nov. 1, it is a safe prediction that several more will be taken, as the class B clubs have yet to make their selections, and it is known that several of them have been looking over the Canadian League material.

The draft on Barton makes two catchers who will receive trials in higher company next year, as Baltimore has taken Joe Dunn, of Berlin. Kyle is an outfielder, while Chaput and Smith are pitchers, Orcutt being a third baseman and Cameron a shortstop.

Nelson Disappointed.

Tom Nelson, treasurer of the Canadian League, and part owner of the Brantford club, was greatly disappointed when he lost Lefty Smith by draft, in fact, would have preferred to have kept both Smith and Orcutt rather than have let them go in the draft net, believing that the pair would have brought him pretty good returns next year.

The Brantford magnates have again secured Amby Kane to manage the Red Sox next year, and Kane is already working on his team for his years. In fact, in a letter to Mr. Nelson this week he intimated that he had already signed up some pretty good material with which to build up a team next year. Amby showed enough this year, in the face of hard luck, to satisfy the Brantford fans that he will give them some team next season.

Lee at Work

Manager Knotty Lee is already working on his team for next season, and has already signed up several likely players. One of these is Eddie Rudolph, a brother of Dick Rudolph, the well-known twirler on the staff of the Toronto Eastern League club. Rudolph was in the O. and P. League last year, and made a very creditable showing. He is an outfielder.

The annual meeting of the Canadian League will be held within two weeks' time, when the election of officers will take place.

GALT MAY BE BROUGHT INTO WESTERN GROUP

Default of St. Jerome's May Necessitate Change in Local Rugby Schedule.

St. Jerome's College, of Berlin, has defaulted in Junior O. R. F. U., and as a result it is possible that Galt will be placed in the series with London, Petrolea and Sarnia.

The advent of Galt would add interest to this section, and it is thought that the other teams will consent to the adoption of the following schedule, the London-Sarnia game already played to stand:

Oct. 7—London 16, Sarnia 26.
Oct. 14—Sarnia at Petrolea; London at Galt.
Oct. 21—Petrolea at London; Galt at Sarnia.
Oct. 28—Petrolea at Galt.
Oct. 30—Galt at London; Petrolea at Sarnia.
Nov. 4—Sarnia at London; Galt at Petrolea.
Nov. 11—Sarnia at Galt; London at Petrolea.

OWEN SOUND ARE CHAMPIONS

Defeat Maitlands for Intermediate Honors by Score of 5 to 2.

Orangeville, Oct. 11.—The final game for the intermediate C. L. A. championship was played here today at Idlewild Park between Owen Sound and Maitland Lacrosse Clubs, the former winning by 5 to 2. Each club ran a special train, which arrived about 3 o'clock. About two hundred rooters came from Owen Sound, and the Toronto contingent numbered over a hundred.

Maitlands — Goal, Grant; point, Mackie; cover, Slack; first defence, Kirk; second defence, Stroud; third defence, Bullen; centre, Barber; third home, Spellen; second home, Stevenson; first home, Britnell; outside, Farrington; inside, Gates.

Owen Sound—Goal, Couch; point, Cumming; cover, Wilkin; first defence, Fletcher; second defence, Elliott; third defence, Bob Lee; centre, Tod Lee; third home, Hilts; second home, Neving; first home, White; outside, Hoe; inside, Dowkes.

Referee—Frank Doyle.

BERLIN WON'T HAVE PROFESSIONAL HOCKEY.

The prospect of a professional team for Berlin this winter is not bright. The outlook is not attractive to promoters, experience having demonstrated that there is little money and less glory in a league that has no support. Berlin will have two O. H. A. teams, intermediate and junior.

PREPARATIONS FOR FIRST OF SERIES

Four Hundred Clerks Have Been Ordered to Report for Wicket Sales at 7:30 a. m.

LITTLE BETTING AS YET

Single Games Attract More Money Than the Entire Series — Philadelphia Demands Odds.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Oct. 12.—An indication of what baseball officials expect when the gates of the Polo Grounds are opened on Saturday for the first of the world's series games, is furnished by an order which has been sent out to the four hundred employees who will handle the mass of fans. To each man the following notices have been issued:

"It will be necessary for employees to report at the Polo Grounds Saturday, Oct. 14, at 7:30 o'clock in the morning. Please answer this card and present same at gate in order to obtain entrance to the grounds."

There has been only a little betting here thus far on the result of the series, although many thousands of dollars is being held for bets on the Giants. There is also plenty of money to wager on the Athletics, but the would-be bettors are looking for odds, while most New Yorkers are seeking even money. It is probable that betting on single games will attract a much larger quantity of money than on the result of the entire series.

Keep Off the Field.

The New York club management has decided to abandon the plan to build a temporary stand in front of the uncovered stands in the outfield. The seating capacity of the permanent stands is nearly 40,000, and the early applications for seats indicate that this will be almost sufficient with the addition of the available standing room, accommodating 5,000 spectators. It has been decided that the playing field shall not be invaded except by players and umpires.

Four umpires have been assigned to officiate in the series, two from each major league. When all four are to be used, two of them will be stationed in the outfield to decide when balls have been batted among the fringe of spectators, restricting the number of bases the batsmen may take, while the other two umpires decide the bases and balls and strikes. Four umpires will not be needed in any of the New York games unless it is intended to place one at the end of each foul line.

BATTLING NELSON DEFEATS BEECH

Loser Twice Trimmed Knockout Brown—Ex-Champ Cheered.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Oct. 12—Battling Nelson, who once fought his way to the lightweight championship, won handily last night in a ten-round bout from "Willie" Beech, a local lightweight, who twice defeated "Knockout" Brown. Nelson's appearance in the arena of the Madison Athletic Club was cheered by a large crowd of boxing enthusiasts, for it was the old champion's first fight in New York.

GANZEL SIGNS UP.

Rochester, Oct. 11. — John Ganzel, manager of the Rochester Eastern League baseball team, today set at rest reports to the effect that he was to manage the New York Americans next year, by signing a contract with the Rochester club owners for two years, with an option on his further services.

"IF WE GET THREE RUNS A GAME WE'LL WIN THE WORLD'S SERIES"

Larry Doyle

(Larry Doyle, captain and second baseman of the Giants, believes the New York pitchers will hold the Athletics to few hits and runs and that if the Giants' scoring machine can put across three men per game they can win the world's series. His argument is that the Giants are better than the Cubs were last year, and that the Athletics have been scored upon heavily this season.—Editor.)

BY LARRY DOYLE.
Captain New York Giants.

If the Giants can average three runs a game against the Athletics—a smaller average than the Cubs made last fall, I believe they can win four games out of six.

I am banking in this series upon the ability of Mathewson, Marquard and Wiltse, Ames or Crandall, to hold Mack's team well down.

LARRY DOYLE.

I believe with Matty starting off, we can get the jump. As the first game will be played on Saturday, this will give Mathewson a chance to come back Monday with a two-day rest, enough to have him right.

Although the Athletics have one of the best hitting clubs in the business, I don't believe they can average three runs a game off such pitchers as Mathewson and Marquard.

On the other hand with our steady hitting club and fast base-runners I am sure we can do this well or better.

A good many people have judged us by our form in the last days of the race, when we had just finished a long, hard road trip and were worn out.

When we were in shape we came at a fast clip against the best teams in the National League, winning every series from early in August up to the last week in September.

Naturally this pace slowed us up, but when we go in against the American League champions, we will be right again and ready for another spurt.

The Giants, to my way of thinking, have a great ball team for a world's series set of games. We have at least two pitchers who, when right, are among the hardest in the country to beat.

This means a strong defence for a seven-game series.

Added to this we have a fast, sharp attack, and the ability to pick up runs. The team batting average is .275, and the team base-running average is far and away the best in the National League.

If you will notice, the Athletics have won most of their games by big scores, where they too, have been scored upon to the extent of four, five or six runs. They have won by hitting American League pitchers.

In my opinion they will be unable to score to any great extent against the Giants, and as I have already said, if we can average even fewer runs per game than the Cubs did last fall, we can win.

And as the Giants are a better team now than the Cubs were last fall, I can see no reason why we shouldn't do as well in the scoring line, if not better than the Chicago club.

Jury of Newspapermen Decides Big Question—Presentations Later.

[Canadian Press.]

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 12. — Outfielder Schulte, of the Chicago National League Club, and Ty Cobb, of the Detroit American League team, won the automobiles offered this year for the player in each league who was adjudged by a "jury" of newspapermen to have been of most service to his club in 1911, it was announced here today.

The presentation was planned to take place in New York or Philadelphia later. No one line of endeavor determined the award this year, the winner being scored according to his general efficiency. Cobb's percentage was .1000, and Schulte's .453 under the system used.

HALF MILE TRACKS MAY BE SHUT OUT ENTIRELY

Clubs About Country Are Going Proper Way to Gain Adverse Legislation.

Toronto News: With the wind-up of the meeting at Dufferin Park yesterday, racing in Canada came to an end that could be hardly characterized as glorious.

The 90 per cent "hooks" reaped a rich harvest as a result of the philanthropic (?) efforts of the Toronto Driving Club, who for the nonce passed up the harness horses for the encouragement of which branch of the equine games they were ostensibly organized, and made it possible for the "syndicate" that have preyed upon the Toronto public for years to get a little more "easy money."

As a spectacle the racing was all that could be desired, but so are the chariot dashes at a circus.

What's the Reason?

It is rather peculiar that at each of the last two meetings the judges did not deem it necessary to discipline any of the jockeys until the very last day of the session; they they got very busy.

Stories of "deals," "frames," and that sort of thing were rife all through the week, and to say the least there were several remarkable reversals of form shown.

The racing interests are not any too strong, and it would not surprise those in the know a little bit if the half-mile tracks were shut out entirely next year. If this should be the case the Dufferin Park outfit would only have themselves to blame.

WHITEHALL'S BOWLERS DEFEAT THE NATIONALS

Jack Oliver Won Ten-Pin Prize With 622, and Whitehall Five-Pin With 492.

Last night on the National alley Whitehall's team took on the Nationals, and won the match game by 32 pins.

Jack Oliver won the tenpin prize with a score of 622 for three straight games.

Whitehall won the fivepin prize with 482.

TECUMSEH PLAYERS MAY GO TO VANCOUVER TEAM

Fred Graydon and McGregor Offered Jobs by Cup Holders.

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 11. — Two more Tecumseh players may join Vancouver's lacrosse colony before another season rolls around. President Con Jones, of the Vancouver club, was impressed with the showing made in the games here and at Victoria by Fred Graydon, the big defence fielder, and McGregor, the lively home man.

Before the Indians pulled out on the Soo express yesterday Mr. Jones broached the subject—change of residence—to the pair, and offered positions on the Vancouver team to both. Nothing definite, however, was agreed upon, but the Tecumseh men stated that if they made a shift in clubs they would prefer to play with the Minto cup holders.

There are now five former Tecumseh players with the Vancouver team.

"We'll be back again next year," were Manager Querrie's las remarks, "so keep the mug till we come. We want to take it from you. We are perfectly satisfied with the treatment accorded us during our stay; in fact, we liked it so well we want some more of it."

CONFIDENT MACKMEN RETURN TO SHIBE PARK

Philadelphia Athletics to Play Last Game With All-Stars to Tune Up.

[Canadian Press.]

Philadelphia, Oct. 12.—The Philadelphia Athletics returned to the home ground today from their trip to Washington and Richmond, and this afternoon will play the All-Stars in the final tuning up prior to the big series with the New York Giants next Saturday. Most of the players were at Shibe Park early keeping their arms in shape and their eye on the ball.

Connie Mack, as usual, had little to say, but expressed himself as confident of the outcome of the big series. He did not show any anxiety about the condition of his stars. Baker, third baseman, will not play today, as he has a slight cold. "Stuffy" McInnes, the young first-baseman who came from the hardy fisher folk of Gloucester, Mass., will be in the world's series. His injured wrist is mending rapidly, and is now strong enough for him to get into practice.

In today's game Pitchers Bender, Plank and Coombs probably will be worked three innings each. They are not letting themselves out, merely keeping their arms limbered up, and practicing cutting the corners of the plate. None of the other players are expected to "kill" themselves today to score runs.

LIBERAL LEADER OFFERS

if the model schools were wiped out at one blow this would of necessity lead to the scarcity now experienced in the rural districts. It was then pointed out that numbers of our normal-trained teachers go to the west, where, without further examination, they are qualified to teach. Six hundred of such went west last year. A plea for even a survival of the fittest of the model schools was in vain. The Government were deaf to warning, impervious to knowledge, with such deplorable results that last year we find in the riding of East Peterborough, for example, that 42 per cent. of the rural schools were in the hands of untrained and non-qualified teachers holding only what are usually called 'permits.'

The Text-Books.

"The deliberately false claim of the Government that the public school readers cost but 49 cents is now pretty well understood. The facts are that the province employed and paid a large committee to collect and select all reading matter for the readers, paid for all illustrations, such as cuts and lithographs, and, it is said, actually set up the type, and then handed all these over to a departmental store to run the books off, paying 49 cents for this work, at the same time telling the people of the province that this was the whole cost of the readers. In other respects the nature of the bargain made with this departmental store is extremely objectionable. It is expressly provided that a person in any part of the province may purchase direct from the departmental store at exactly the same price that he pays in his own home retail store. The result of this is evident. It tends to place every hearthstone in the land on the mailing list of a Toronto departmental store, to the great disadvantage not only of the retail bookseller, but of every other retail shop in the province.

Technical Education.

"What the Opposition desired and moved for was the appointment of a competent commission who would not only ascertain all facts, but who would be competent to, and would actually conduct an educational campaign throughout the province in favor of industrial evening classes in all our factory towns. Such a commission could and would have interested civic councils, boards of trade, boards of education, employers and citizens generally in favor of a movement to give a square deal to the lad who at an early age leaves the school for the worshop. The demand and the necessity for such schools are evidenced by the fact that it is estimated that about $1,000,000 annually is paid by ambitious artisans and mechanics anxious to improve their position to schools of correspondence south of the line in a vain endeavor to get some general knowledge of the principles that underlie their chosen vocation. In 1909 this province assisted education as follows: $1.38 for every public or separate school student, $4.66 for every high school or collegiate institute student, $112.43 for every model or normal school student, $126.35 for every university student. Against this expenditure no complaint is made. But has the province no financial or ethical duty to perform with reference to the lad who cannot afford possibly even to enter the high school, but who leaves school at an early age to enter the workshop? The bare passing of an act dealing with industrial education is the Government's grudging answer last session to the demand of the Opposition for years.

The Finances.

"That there has been for several years a substantial annual Provincial deficit, upon any classification of current receipts and expenditures that any sane accountant would make, is quite clear to those who have taken any interest in the question. A pretended surplus of $3,406 was arrived at last year by classifying as current receipts moneys received from the absolute sale of crown lands to the extent of $442,966.89. A proper classification of other such capital receipts makes last year's deficit $535,363.25. Honest dealing with it suggests the necessity either of curtailment of expenditure or of obtaining other sources of revenue, and this leads to suggestions made by the Opposition which have not been adopted, such as Taxation of Improvements.

"I have for years favored legislation that tends to do away with the taxation of improvements. When a member of the select committee dealing with the assessment act as far back as 1904, I favored this principle. Mr. Fripp's bill was meritorious in this respect. No good reason has yet been advanced on the floor of the Legislature why it should not at least be left optional to municipalities to cease to assess improvements, or to lighten the proportion which they have to pay. This would be particularly advantageous to what is ordinarily called New Ontario, and would in time, I believe, be generally adopted in Old Ontario. The municipality that did not adopt the system would not be interfered with. The municipality that chose to adopt it ought to be given that liberty. It is working well in other lands and in many cities in Western Canada—notably so in Vancouver.

"In view of the fact that a very substantial portion of the Provincial revenue is derived from our forests, and of the further fact that there has recently been an annual deficit, the Liberals have urged year by year the necessity of adopting a forward and progressive policy for the preservation of our forests and for reforestration."

Hydro-Electric Problems.

Asked as to the points of difference between the Government and the Opposition on the power policy, Mr. MacKay drew from his desk a copy of his speech on the debate on the address last January, and referred to the following paragraph in the same as indicating why he considered the Government's power policy inequitable:

"There is another phase of this question deserving serious consideration. As the matter is being at present worked out, the credit of the whole province is pledged for the benefit of a few municipalities in order that cheap power may be obtained for these municipalities. The absolute unfairness of this plan is better seen if we take specific illustrations of how it works out. For example, Bracebridge the other day held a banquet as a result of the successful opening of their power scheme. What did Bracebridge require to do? Bracebridge, I understand, was required to submit its scheme to the Ontario railway and municipal board, a creature of the Government, and when its scheme had been approved of by the municipal board, Bracebridge was obliged to sell its own debentures. They sold at 98½, bearing I think, 4½ per cent interest. Now, contrast this method of procedure towards obtaining cheap power as, let us say, betwen Bracebridge and Welland. The Province as a whole, Bracebridge included, is compelled to assist in obtaining cheap money and cheap power for Welland, but in turn the Province as a whole, including Welland, does not indorse Bracebridge, and does not assist Bracebridge in obtaining cheap power. The result is that Bracebridge loses $1 50 per hundred on the sale of its debentures and pays 4½ per cent interest, whereas Welland loses nothing on the sale and gets its money at about 3½ per cent.

"There can be but one result of this whole scheme, if successful—namely, that it will induce intending manufacturers to locate in the Niagara Peninsula rather than in the different towns and cities throughout the Province. Nay, sir, it may go so far as to take away factories already existing in other towns and change them to near the Falls. I leave it with the Government to say whether, as representing the whole Province, they think such a scheme is fair and equitable to the whole Province. And this raises the further question whether a uniform flat rate would not be more equitable even within the electric zones."

"In a few years, if the scheme is successful as to a portion of the Province, Owen Sound will not get a single new factory, and will have difficulty in holding those she now has. What applies to Owen Sound applies to manufacturers of all towns in seven-eighths of this Province.

"Self-preservation demands that manufacturers and their employees, and citizens generally, in seven-eighths of this Province, should cease to slavishly follow party flags, and should demand, with no uncertain sound, a square deal on this power question.

"Talking to a Government with eighty-eight members against eighteen has proven largely a waste of time."

Northern Ontario.

"What about New Ontario?" was the reporter's next question.

"This is a large question," said Mr. MacKay. "The policy of both the old and the new Governments has been, in my humble judgment, too parsimonious with reference to Northern Ontario, although there was some excuse for the old Government, for the receipts from the north were not nearly so large as at present. If we are to people our northland we must adopt a comprehensive and vigorous policy, not only of railway building, but also of building good wagon roads in that district. Other wise we will find it difficult to people the clay belt as against the attractiveness of the western prairies."

Vote for a Square Deal.

Mr. MacKay concluded the interview with the following statement:

"If many of the electors of the townships are so slavish to party that they will not vote for Liberal candidates, let them at least pledge Conservative candidates to drop their slavery to party and to demand a square deal in educational matters. The Conservative members of the last two Legislatures sat behind the Government, swallowed their convictions, and voted solid whenever the educational power, not on, but behind the throne, said: 'Thumbs up!'

"Let the electors of the villages, towns and cities in seven-eighths of the province take an independent stand with reference to the power question, and they will get justice.

"Let the electors of our great northland unite, and, regardless of party, say emphatically that a sweeping and comprehensive advance must be made in dealing with the colonization of our great hinterland; that this territory shall no longer be compelled to play the role of financial milch cow, but that Northern Ontario must have a square deal. That plank of the Liberal platform of 1904 was right which said that this province should have a minister of colonization and labor. Commanding both viewpoints, he would not bring undesirable immigrants into unfair competition with skilled and semi-skilled labor in our towns and cities, while, on the other hand, he would ever have an open eye for the immigrant adapted to colonization purposes.

"Let the miners, for example, regardless of party, insist that eight hours' work underground, where there is more or less impure air, is more wearing on the human system than is ten hours' work in the open, and therefore, as to his calling, eight hours' work should constitute a full day; let him pledge all candidates to such a just measure and he also will get a square deal.

"Let the report of the commission as to the state of the bilingual schools be published at once. Let us have the actual facts, and then we may discuss remedies.

"However, as the campaign progresses, all these and many other questions will be fully dealt with," said Mr. MacKay in conclusion.

KICK WAS FATAL

Robert Graham, of Rockwood, Kicked by Colt He Was Training.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Guelph, Oct 11—Robert Graham, aged 19, who resides near Rockwood, was kicked just over the heart by a colt that he was training, and died almost instantly. He was found by his father lying on the ground. Young Graham had a passionate love for horses and loved to train them.

SUICIDE AT WINDSOR

An Unknown Woman, Wearing Imitation Diamonds, Jumped into the River.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Windsor, Oct. 11.—An unidentified woman, wearing imitation diamonds, a gold brooch, and a gold band ring, committed suicide today by jumping into the Detroit River at the foot of Riopelle street on the Detroit side. On the woman's arm was tattooed "W. J. C." The woman's clothing was poor. Her garments were all black, and when she jumped into the river she had no shoes on. The police are working on the case.

SHORTHORN SALE

Buyers From All Over the Province Gathered at Woodstock Yesterday.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Woodstock, Oct. 11—One of the largest and most important sales of Shorthorn cattle ever held in this city took place today, when about forty head of prize stock was sold by auction. Some of the animals sold for high prices, but others brought prices that were a disappointment. Buyers from all over the province were in attendance. Among the stock offered were 30 cows and heifers of the best breeding and ten young bulls from the herds of Captain Robson, Ilderton; Kyle Bros., of Ayr; H. M. Gibson, Delaware; H. Thompson, of St. Marys; W. W. Scott, of Highgate, and H. J. Davis, of Woodstock.

CALL REV. MR. DEWEY.

Exeter, Oct. 11.—At a meeting of the quarterly board of the James Street Methodist Church, a unanimous call was extended to Rev. Geo. Dewey, of Empress Avenue Church, London, to become their pastor in 1912. Mr. Dewey, it is understood, will accept.

Upper Sandusky, Ohio, Oct. 12.—Three Italians were killed and several fatally injured when a northbound freight train on the Hocking Valley struck a handcar near here at eight o'clock this morning.

BOURASSA PLEASED WITH THE CABINET

His Organ Says Quebec Has Obtained Justice From Mr. Borden.

FRENCH-CANADIAN RACE

Its Interests Safeguarded—La Patrie Also Approves—Herald Says Nationalists Win.

Montreal, Oct. 11.—Le Devoir, Mr. Bourassa's organ, under the heading, "Quebec Obtains Justice," says:

"On the evening of Sept. 21, Mr. R. L. Borden, victorious, said: 'Quebec has done her part; she will obtain justice.' He has kept his word.

"In Laurier's time our province counted two French-speaking ministers in the cabinet, apart from the Prime Minister: Mr. Lemieux in the marine department, and Mr. Beland, postmaster-general. In the new administration Quebec has three French-speaking ministers, Mr. Monk, public works; Mr. L. P. Pelletier, postoffice, and Mr. Bruno Nantel, inland revenue.

"Mr. Borden has demonstrated that he has no intention of governing by means of a single province, but wishes to call them all to the government of the country. To Quebec as to others he gives an equal voice in the chapter house of the nation, and does not diminish, in spite of the invitation of certain of his partisans hostile to our province, the French-Canadian representation in his cabinet. He does not desire to govern without Quebec.

"We shall have a... the ministerial council, as in the past—since the solicitor-general has never taken part in its deliberations—three representatives of o... race, all three firmly resolved, we believe, not to compromise on questions of principle relative to our national interests. Messrs. Monk and Nantel, in the course of their careers at Ottawa, have always proved that they know how to exalt the ideas that they believe to be best in the general interest of Canada. As to the new Postmaster-General, though he is making his debut in federal politics, we are nevertheless assured that he will exhibit the same firmness of character and largeness of view as his two French-Canadian colleagues.

"We do not know what the future has reserved for us; we do not know what arduous problems will arise in the course of the next few years; but we have confidence that Mr. R. L. Borden will continue to be just toward our province, and that he will know how to always respect as he has just done the rights of the minorities whether of the English or the French language."

La Patrie Approves.

Montreal, Oct. 11.—La Patrie, which supported Mr. Borden, says that in numbers at least, the Province of Quebec is as well represented in the new ministry as in the Laurier ministry. In place of the Solicitor-General, who is not a member of the cabinet, Quebec is given a minister without portfolio.

The Nationalists Win.

Montreal, Oct. 11.—The Herald, Liberal, says: "There has apparently been a good deal of a contest to decide who is who in Quebec, and the Nationalists have carried it over the Ghosts. The men who attended the famous dinner are none the better for doing so. Mr. Casgrain is not in the cabinet, neither is Mr. Marchal. Mr. Monk, Mr. Pelletier and Mr. Nantel, all most closely associated with the fighting wing, are in the cabinet. Indeed the Pelletier and Nantel appointments seem to give Mr. Monk a group of three in the cabinet, when it would not have been impossible to fill the other Quebec offices with men who are more or less his rivals, as Mr. Casgrain and Mr. Forget. We take it, therefore, that in Quebec it is Mr. Bourassa who has had his way."

BANK OF ENGLAND.

London, Oct. 12.—The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows the following changes: Total reserve, decreased, £666,000; circulation, decreased, £440,000; bullion decreased, £1,106,125; other securities, decreased, £3,120,000; public deposits decreased, £4,891,000; notes reserve, decreased, £624,000; government securities decreased, £1,000,000.

The proportion of the bank's reserve to liability this week is 51 91 per cent; last week it was 51.46 per cent.

Sciatica and Lumbago

SUFFERED FOR TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AND COULD GET NO RELIEF.

NOW TELLS OF THE WONDERFUL RESULTS OBTAINED BY THE USE OF

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

Sciatica, neuralgia and sciatic rheumatism are the result of a run-down nervous system. For this reason all treatments must necessarily fail which do not build up the nervous system.

Mr. Collins suffered for twenty-five years and never was able to obtain satisfactory treatment until he began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills. While the Nerve Food forms new blood and restores the exhausted nervous system, the Kidney-Liver Pills invigorate the action of kidneys, liver and bowels.

Mr. W. T. Collins, Morpeth, Ont., writes: "It affords me pleasure to be able to speak favorably of two of Dr. Chase's medicines—the Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills. I had been a sufferer for twenty-five years from sciatica, lumbago and neuralgia and tried almost all the medicines I could hear of, without one particle of benefit, until I commenced to use Dr. Chase's. I noticed an improvement before I had used two boxes, and the benefits obtained by continued use have been wonderful. I have so much confidence in these two medicines that I have recommended them to dozens of my friends, and I have yet to hear of a single case in which they failed to give satisfaction."

Dr. Chase's medicines are for sale by all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

BY-ELECTIONS HELD ON NOVEMBER FIRST

Nominations For Federal Seats Likely to Take Place on October 25.

Ottawa, Oct. 11.—At the cabinet meeting this morning, the new treasury board was constituted by the appointment of the following members of the cabinet, who are to be members of the treasury board, to wit: Hon. W. T. White, Hon. George E. Foster, Hon. C. J. Doherty, Hon. F. D. Monk, Hon. Robert Rogers and Hon. Frank Cochrane. Many important matters will come before the board at once, including the issuing of a certificate to the new bank, La Banque Internationale, in which Mr. Rodolphe Forget and a number of French financiers are interested.

Writs will issue immediately for by-elections in electoral districts of Halifax, Centre Quebec, Terrebonne, Jacques Cartier, St. Anne's, Montreal, Grenville, West Elgin, North Toronto, Victoria and Haliburton, and Marquette. Nominations will probably occur on Oct. 25. Should a poll be demanded in any riding, which is quite unlikely, the election will be held on Nov. 1. The election in Yale-Cariboo, which will be necessary when Mr. Burrell is sworn in as minister of agriculture, will occur later. Four members of the cabinet, namely, Hon J. D. Hazen, of New Brunswick; Hon W. T. White and Hon. Frank Cochrane of Ontario, and Hon. Robert Rogers, of Manitoba, are not members of the House. They have been offered a number of seats, but the Government is not prepared at present to say in which riding these ministers will run or the dates for the by-elections.

The orders-in-council passed today were sent by messenger to Earl Grey for his approval. His signature to these orders will probably constitute his last official act as Governor-General of Canada. There will probably not be another meeting of the cabinet this week, as no orders-in-council could be submitted to H. R H. the new Governor-General until next week.

WANTED IN SARNIA ON SERIOUS CHARGE

N. C. Rogers Was Arrested in Paris and Has Been Brought Back for Trial.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Sarnia, Oct. 12. — Chief of Police James Forbes returned last night from Paris with N. C. Rogers, who is wanted here on a charge of theft alleged to have been committed in April, 1910. Rogers is believed to be a smooth crook.

On the eve of his departure, Rogers, it is alleged, went to a prominent businessman and asked for the loan of $25 until the next morning. This was given him. He then went to a local tailor and asked him if he would go his security for a ready-made suit and pair of boots. The tailor accompanied Rogers to a drygoods store, where he went security for a $12 suit and pair of boots. Rogers did not have a suitcase in which to put the new suit, so he asked the tailor for the loan of a suitcase to carry the clothes home in. This was also granted, and Rogers went home, packed the remainder of his clothes in the suitcase, which, it is alleged, he lowered by a rear window of his room and departed, leaving the landlady to look for her board bill of $15.

Nothing was heard of him until about a week ago, when Constable Alex. Crosbie heard he was in Brantford. Crosbie got out a warrant and wired descriptions of Rogers to the police in outlying towns. This led to his arrest at Paris.

Rogers, it is stated, took a religious turn while in Brantford, and joined the Park Street Baptist Church, and was, it is stated, married to a prominent young lady from that town under an assumed name. He will come up for a preliminary hearing today.

Biliousnes is due to a disordered conditions of the stomach. Chamberlain's Tablets are essentially a stomach medicine, intended especially to act on that organ; to cleanse it, strengthen it, tone and invigorate it, to regulate the liver and to banish biliousness, positively and effectually. STAMINA IN MEN AND HOW TO POSSESS IT.

[From "Man's Maladies"]

A prominent physician being asked the question, "What are the things in life a man needs most?" answered: "Physical health, strong nerves, mental efficiency, money and social success." Any man possessing these five attributes is a success. Any man possessing the first three can be a success and have the other two. Possession of a sound body, with strong nerves, is really the requirement which men need most. Men need stamina, courage, staying qualities, endurance and perseverance, but in order to have these qualities the nerves must be strong and keenly sensitive to every emotion. When a man has forebodings, sensations of fear, timidity, accompanied with such symptoms as trembling hands and limbs, weak voice, nervousness, sleeplessness, numbness, dizziness, heart palpitation, restlessness, forgetfulness, melancholia, weariness without cause, and many others of a similar nature, it cannot be expected that he will be a success financially, socially or otherwise.

Strong, virile magnetism comes only to those whose nerves are properly nourished in a sound body. Nature in her wisdom has supplied certain extracts, essences, etc., which if properly blended, will restore a normal keenness to the nerves, so that any man can feel the rich red blood surging through his body, supplying all the elements necessary to derive the most out of life in all its various phases.

For the benefit of those temporarily deficient in nerve strength, the following ingredients can be obtained of any good druggist and prepared in the privacy of home. Purchase three ounces of syrup sarsaparilla compound in a six-ounce bottle. Add one ounce of compound fluid balmwort, shake and let stand two hours. Then add one ounce tinctural cadomene compound (not cardamom), and one ounce compound essence cardiol. Mix. Shake well and take a teaspoonful after each meal and one when retiring. All distressing symptoms will soon vanish and a complete restoration to normal follows.

A MARKED INACTIVITY IN DRESSED PORK TODAY

Few Sales Were Made and Most of These at $8.50 Cwt.

Two distinct features of today's market were the unusual strength of the demand for hay, which sold as high as $16 25 per ton, and the marked inactivity in the price for dressed pork.

Nine dollars per cwt. was asked for fancy porkers, but few sales were made above $8 50 per cwt.

Eggs were strongly in demand at 30 cents per dozen. Choice butter brought 27 cents per pound.

Peaches varied in price from 50 to 75 cents per basket.

Oats are still selling at from $1 25 to $1 31 per cwt. for new grain. No old oats were offered.

The vegetable market was large and active. Dressed poultry were offered in moderate lots at good prices.

Other prices show little or no change.

SUGAR.

TORONTO, Oct. 11.—Groceries — There is a fair trade in Toronto, with prices firm. Sugars are quoted in Toronto, in bags, as follows: Granulated, Redpath's, $5 95; Imperial, granulated, $5 80; Beaver, granulated, $5 80; No. 2 yellow, St. Lawrence, $5 60; No. 1 yellow, Acadia, $5 35; do., unbranded, $5 35. Sellers of raw sugar in New York found some compensation for the holding-off policy of refiners in the greater interest shown by European speculators. It was said that they would pay 3½c cost and freight for January shipment Cubas, this price being named for more distant positions. Probably 140,000 bags were offered from January to April, with January Porto Ricos at 4.86c. Philippines for October shipment were reported here at 4.30c, basis 88 degrees, as against 5.10c for nearby, pointing to the temporary squeeze in raws. Louisianas might have been bought at 5.50c to 5.55c for first half November shipment.

ACCUSED MAN TELLS OF FIGHT

Arthur Sheridan Says He and Ross Ford Were Good Friends.

ESCORTS OF TWO SISTERS

Describes Relations Leading Up to the Struggle—Says Ford Was Aggressor.

[Canadian Press.]

Barrie, Oct. 12.—The production of the coat worn by Ross Ford on the night he was killed at the dance given by Miss Duff, was the first evidence offered this morning in the trial of Arthur Sheridan for murder.

The vest and coat were not produced, though Mr. Robinette asked for them. Drs. Kelly and Carson, who performed the post-mortem, testified that three wounds were upon the body, all made by a sharp instrument like the knife produced by the crown. Dr. Kelly testified that the breast wound was the first made and would produce death, but Dr. Carson believed the gash in the back was the first.

The hands of the deceased were also badly lacerated, and his cheeks scratched, indicating a struggle at close quarters. From the gravel in the mouth, nose and eyes of deceased, the doctors believed Ford was standing up when the wounds were inflicted. The death wound could not have been inflicted from behind.

A Weak Recommendation.

William Gowanlock said that Sheridan worked for him, and that he was a good worker, but thoughtless.

The prisoner, Arthur Sheridan, entered the box in his own defence, and swore he was 23 years old, and was born in North Orillia. Both parents are dead, and he lived with a brother. He had farmed all his life. He met Ford in May and frequently during the summer, as he (Ford) lived at Hart's farm, on the fourth concession, of North Orillia.

They had met at dances, once at Roache's, and again at Crandall's, and also at O'Conner's on July 12. He and deceased had met in Orillia and walked round together as good friends.

Kept Company With Sisters.

They met nightly for at least two weeks at Thorburn's, where they kept company with two sisters, Mary and Essie. When going to the Duff party with the two Thorburn girls and their father and brother, they met Ford, to whom he wished good-night. Ford only grunted, and put up both hands at him. Miss Essie Thorburn asked deceased if he was going to the dance, and accompanied him. On reaching Duff's they all stood round talking. Later in the evening Ford wanted Sheridan to go out, but he declined, though later did so, and a fight resulted.

DISASTROUS STORM SWEEPS OVER MEXICO

[Canadian Press.]

Mexico City, Oct. 12.—Reports received by the department of the interior today indicate that there was big property loss and several fatalities as a result of the storm that swept the coast of the state of Sonora last Thursday. The telegraph wires were not restored until last night, when the Government received its first word of the disaster.

According to official advices the village of San Jose De Guaymas was practically destroyed. The railway stations at Empalma and Ortex were destroyed.

EAST MIDDLESEX TEACHERS CONVENE

Over One Hundred Members of Association Meet at County Buildings.

ELOQUENT ADDRESSES

Rev. H. H. Bingham's Advice—Hard Work Is Necessary on the Part of the Teacher.

Over one hundred members of the East Middlesex Teachers' Association were in attendance at the first session of the annual convention, which was held in the county council chamber at the county buildings this morning. Delegates are still arriving, and it is expected that this number will be considerably augmented this afternoon. The conference will conclude tomorrow afternoon.

An address by Rev. H. H. Bingham, of Talbot Street Baptist Church, featured this morning's gathering, the speaker dealing in an able manner with the subject of "Truth." The search for, the source and sufficiency of truth especially in relation to the duties of the pedagogues, were emphasized by Mr. Bingham.

"We never gain truth if we prefer tennis to Tennyson, or pleasure and ease to work," he said. The speaker also tendered his best wishes to the association, remarking that he knows of no other body of people who, with the exception of the preachers, may do as much to teach and impart truth.

A Living Epistle.

Mr. C. E. Johnson, the president of the association, also read a paper in which he referred to the teacher as a living epistle, known and read by all his pupils. The students, he said, will study and compare teachers with others who have had charge of them, and will form very correct impressions, so that the greatest care should be exercised in the conduct of the teachers.

Mr. Johnson referred to the teacher as an umpire or judge, who should be careful to be just, merciful, true and kind. Punish all offenders he said, but in such a manner as to raise rather than lower the teacher in the minds of the pupils. In concluding he advised the members of the association to frequently place themselves in the position of the pupil in deciding their problems.

A Delegate's Report.

Mr. M. Garret, of London Junction, who was the East Middlesex delegate to the Ontario Educational Association at Toronto, read his report at this afternoon's session. An address on "Language," by Mr. F. W. C. McCutcheon, B.A., principal of the London Collegiate, and a lecture on birds by Mr. W. E. Saunders, completed today's programme.

Tomorrow morning the teachers will again convene at 9 o'clock, when Mr. McCutcheon will speak on "Literature." Inspector Thompson will discuss changes in regulations, and Misses Cleveland and Porteous will give their report on school gardens. The afternoon programme will include a talk on art by Miss Mulveney, a reading lesson with a class, by Miss Guy, and a reading by Mr. F. W. C. McCutcheon.

NO LOCAL OPTION VOTE APPEARS LIKELY HERE

Repeal of Three-Fifths Clause Will First Be Sought.

London temperance people are not likely to bring on a local option campaign until the repeal of the three-fifths clause. At least this is the opinion of Prof. Bowman, of the Western Medical College, who is one of the leading temperance workers of this city.

"Were it not for the three-fifths clause," said Prof. Bowman to The Advertiser, "a local option campaign would be brought on like lightning, but as it is there is not likely to be a campaign this coming January. At least the question has not been considered as yet."

The London Temperance League is at present in somewhat of a disorganized condition, but a meeting is likely to be held in the near future for reorganization purposes, and there is just a slight possibility that the question of a local option campaign may be brought up. It is well known that the temperance movement is growing in favor in the municipalities of Middlesex, which are still under license, and a campaign is probable in several townships. However, the temperance workers feel that in the event of a campaign in the city they would be seriously handicapped by the three-fifths clause, which they regard as very unfair to their side of the struggle.

MICHIGAN CLERKS MAY GO ON STRIKE

Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 11.—Jas. J. Forrester, first vice-grand president of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, arrived in the city on Tuesday, to investigate the claim that the Pere Marquette Railway Company has violated the seniority rule, providing that vacancies in clerkships be posted five days before being filled.

If the charges are found to be correct and the railroad company is unable to make satisfactory explanation, it is stated that the clerks of the system will go on strike. The matter will be determined within the next 24 hours, according to Mr. Forrester.

"That has nothing whatever to do with the Canadian division," said Mr. Tait, freight agent of the Pere Marquette. "The law is one that applies only to the United States. There is no trouble here."

A WRIT IS ISSUED AGAINST STREET RY

John Osborne Is Seeking Damages From Company.

Messrs. Meredith & Meredith, acting on behalf of John Osborne, a laborer, who boards at 340 Dundas street, have issued a writ for unstated damages against the London Street Railway, for personal injuries to the plaintiff.

Osborne claims to have been struck by a car on another track on Dundas street, as he alighted from one and walked round it to the other side of the road. The action is in the high court.

STREET RY. MEETING ON OCTOBER 25

Session Was To Have Been Held This Week.

The semi-annual meeting of the directors of the London Street Railway will be held here on Wednesday, Oct. 25.

It was expected that the session would have been held this week, but it was impossible for the officials to get the work ready, and the date of the meeting was set for Oct. 25.

The most important matter coming up for deliberation will be the question of increasing the capital stock of the company.

With the completion of the census, it will be necessary to secure more money for track extension here. New rolling stock is necessary. The power plant must be extended and other new work must be undertaken.

Manager C. B. King is out of the city today conferring with some of the superior officers in Cleveland and Toledo. He will not be back until Saturday.

LOOKS LIKE TRIUMPH FOR WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Californian Rural Vote Likely to Provide the Necessary Majority.

[Canadian Press.]

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 12. — The fate of the proposed amendments to the state constitution that will, if carried, grant to women the right of the ballot, remains in doubt. The latest returns show that the proposed amendment to be 808 votes short of a majority, but as the vote of the big cities is completely counted, the supporters of the proposed amendment assert the belief that the country districts as yet unheard from will overcome this vote.

Six hundred and fifty-eight precincts remain to be heard from. It probably will be late this afternoon before the result is known.

Personal Mention

Miss May Miller, of Paris, Ont., is visiting friends in this city.

Mrs. Kenneth J. Illsley (nee Neilson), of Edmonton, is the guest of her aunt, Miss McGill, Waterloo street.

Mrs. May R. Thornley, who is ill with pneumonia, is said to be doing as well as can be expected, although the crisis in her illness has not yet been passed.

Mrs. F. Love, who was taken ill in New York this week and had to cancel her trip to England, is resting quietly at her home here, and is much better today.

Mrs. L. H. Wilson, who has been visiting her brother at 9 Victor street, has returned to her home in Kalamazoo, Mich., through the illness of her sister, Mrs. C. R. Sanagan.

LOCAL ITEMS

High Court.

preside at Saturday's session of the Mr. Justice Riddell, of Toronto, will preside at Saturday's session of the weekly high court in this city.

Official Visit.

Rt. Ex-Comp. T. H. Baker, of this city, will pay his official visit to Palestine Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, St. Thomas, this evening. He will be accompanied by a large number of the local brethren.

Appointments.

The Bishop of Huron has made the following appointments: Rev. J. H. McLeod, of Courtright, to be rector of St. John's Church, Alvinston; Rev. C. L. Mills, of Alvinston, to be rector of St. Paul's Church, Thedford.

Another Bike Stolen.

Another bicycle robbery took place yesterday when a Peerless bicycle was stolen from in front of a Richmond street drug store. The police have received so many reports of bicycle stealing lately, that an epidemic of thieving seems to exist. No trace of the wheel has been found as yet.

An Aged Case.

High Constable Hughes stated to The Advertiser today that the loss of $80 from a trunk belonging to a carpenter building a house on Smith street, south of Trafalgar street, was reported to him in June last. No trace of the thief was ever secured.

A Football Meeting.

The members of the football team of the Y. M. C. A. will meet this evening at Tecumseh Park at 6:30 for practice. Every man is especially requested to turn out by the physical director, who is in charge of the coaching work of the association forces.

After Dog-Poisoners.

Owing to the large number of dog-poisoning cases lately, the police are keeping a a sharp lookout for dog-poisoners, and if one of these individuals is caught it is liable to go hard with him. The latest poisoning case is that of a valuable bull-terrier owned by Miss Mary Grant, clerk of London Township. The dog was poisoned by arsenic on Saturday last.

MINISTERS TO GREET DUKE OF CONNAUGHT

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Oct. 12.—A special train left Ottawa this afternoon carrying a distinguished party, whose mission is to greet at Quebec the Duke of Connaught and escort him to Canada's capital. The Government, the supreme court and chiefs of the Government service, comprised the party.

Among those who were on the train were Premier R. L. Borden, Hon. Geo. E. Foster, Senator James Lougheed, Hon. Robert Rogers, Hon. T. W. White, Hon John Reid, Hon. Samuel Hughes, Hon. A. E. Kemp, Hon. Frank Cochrane, Hon. Thomas Crothers, Hon. J. J. Doherty, Hon. N. P. Nantel, Hon. George Perley, Hon. L. P. Pelletier.

Hon. J. D. Hazen will come up from St. John; Hon. F. D. Monk will join the train at Quebec Junction; Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, Sir Louis Davies, Justice Anglin, Justice Duff, Justice Iddington and Justice Brodeur.

Colonel Sherwood, head of the Dominion police; General MacKenzie, General Otter, General Lessard, Admiral Kingsmill, Commander Roper, Registrar Cameron, of the supreme court, and Rodolphe Brendnan, clerk of the Privy Council, are also in the party.

Midweek Prayer.

The midweek prayer service in Adelaide Street Baptist Church was largely attended last evening. An open meeting was held, a great many of those present taking part in the testimonies, songs and solos.

BURGLAR IS SAID TO HAVE ATTACKED DOG WITH A KNIFE

Man Was Heard to Come On Verandah and Try to Break Into House, But Dog Blocked His Game

The keenness of an Irish setter dog belonging to Mr. A. E. Ferte, 773 Hellmuth avenue, probably prevented the residence from being burglarized between 3 and 3:30 o'clock this morning. The animal was badly slashed, presumably by a knife in the hands of the culprit. The battle with the dog scared the man away without doing any damage.

Mrs. Ferte was badly alarmed at the noise, and declares that only the watchfulness of the dog prevented the would-be robber from getting in. Several attempts have been made of late to break into houses in the neighborhood.

The man came on the front verandah, and tried the doors. He then went around to the back, and attempted to break in there. The door was securely fastened, and he could not obtain an entrance. Burned matches in large numbers were found near the door. The dog was at the side door, and it is presumed that he saw the man.

The animal attacked him, and raised a terrific uproar. In a moment the dogs in the neighborhood were aroused, causing the man to break away and run.

His tracks could be seen about the house, and evidences where he had struggled to free himself from the dog. The setter is slashed badly in one or two places.

"There is no doubt that the man attempted to break into the house," said Mrs. Ferte. "I heard him on the front verandah, and later we heard a terrible noise at the rear when the dog went after the man. The other dogs in the neighborhood joined in and roused the neighborhood. Burned matches were found at the rear door and there were other unmistakable evidences that the man attempted to get into the house. I was badly frightened. The dog is hurt badly."

The police have been notified and are working on the case.

SEES "LITTLE DEVILS" ON HYDRO CABLES

Trafalgar Township Farmer Declared Incompetent by Mr. Justice Middleton.

[Canadian Press.]

Toronto, Oct. 12.—An order has been made by Mr. Justice Middleton, declaring Charles Robert Hanham, aged 63, farmer, of Trafalgar Township, Halton County, of such a state of mind, that it will be well to appoint a committee to look after his estate, which consists of a $10,000 farm, with its stock and furniture.

Mr. Hanham declares that the hydro-electric lines, which have been erected near his farm, are a menace, but he goes further than many who have held that view, and says that he seees little devils crawling along the wires. He refused to pay taxes, saying that he is a free-born British subject, and as such does not have to pay taxes. He refused to pay interest on his mortgage, and the loan company sold his farm for $1,625 to release the $1,400 charges upon it. The farm was bought in by Hanham's brothers and sisters in trust for him.

Mr. Hanham also refuses to accept anything but silver in payment of anything due him.

YOUNG GIRL OVERCOME BY FUMES OF GAS

Daughter of Mr. W. J. McLeod, 844 Princess Avenue, Rendered Seriously Ill.

Margaret McLeod, the young daughter of Mr. W. J. McLeod, of 844 Princess avenue, is lying in a serious condition today as a result of inhaling gas fumes. The accident happened late Tuesday evening. The young lady had gone up to her room to retire for the night. She did not light the gas, but hung one of her hair-ribbons over the jet in such a manner as to turn the jet on. Not noticing the fumes, she went to bed and fell asleep. Half an hour later her mother and father detected a slight odor of gas, but not thinking anything was seriously wrong, they did not investigate it.

Girl Was Unconscious.

Later the odor became so powerful that an investigation was quickly made, and the fumes were traced to the young girl's room. She was discovered lyin on the bed in an unconscious condition. The room was so filled with the fumes of the gas that it was almost impossible for Mr. and Mrs. McLeod to enter it when they first opened the door. Mr. McLeod, however, managed to reach the window, and open it, and the air was soon freed of the deadening odor.

The girl was quickly carried out on to the verandah, and efforts made to revive her. As she gave no sign of life Mr. McLeod went for a doctor. Finally after three hours, during which time every means of resuscitation, had been tried, the unconscious girl began to revive. Later she was able to open her eyes, but she did not recognize her parents. She was put to bed and the doctor was kept in attendance all through the night.

Hearing Affected.

Her hearing was seriously affected for a time. She was also delirious at times, although able to sit up, and walk around the room. Today she is feeling much better.

Miss McLeod is a student at the Collegiate Institute, and won many prizes in the girls' events at the field day held on Monday.

SUIT OVER JOCKEY CLUB STOCK AT HAMILTON

[Canadian Press.]

Hamilton, Oct. 12.—Before Justice Britton in the high court today, J. W. Lamoreaux, trustee of the Tuckett estate, is suing Robert Simpson, proprietor of the Royal Hotel, for one share of Jockey Club stock. When transferred to Simpson by the trustee the share was worth only $40, whereas now it has soared to nearly $2,000.

It is claimed that the plaintiff tried to secure its return only after the value had gone up. The defendant claims that he bought the stock outright, and did not get it merely for the temporary purpose of assisting him in securing refreshment privileges at the race meets.

Taken to Toronto.

Alfred Meakin, the young man who escaped from Central Prison, Toronto, and who was arrested here a few days ago by Detective Down, and held for the provincial authorities, was taken back to Toronto by Guard Clancy yesterday afternoon. Meakin will now have to finish his term, together with additional time for escaping.

A Pleasant Evening.

A large gathering of the congregation of the Church of the Redeemer spent a most enjoyable social evening at the residence of Mr. Thomas Hodgins, 811 Maitland street, on Tuesday evening. The beautiful home was well filled when Mr. George Geoghegan, chairman of the evening, began a fine programme by an address of welcome. Those taking part were Miss Tory, Mr. O'Neil, Miss V. Campbell, Mr. H. Callahan, Mr. Thompson, Mrs. Callanan. An excellent lunch served as an intermission. The Rev. S. S. Hardy moved a hearty vote of thanks to the host and hostess, and Mr. John Ferry to those who had so kindly assisted in the musical part of the programme during the evening.

Death of J. W. Nicholson.

The death occurred yesterday of James W. Nicholson, of lot 10, con.14, London Township. The deceased was 63 years of age. Music and Drama

London theatre-goers had the pleasure last night of seeing real melodrama presented by a first-class caste, when they witnessed the presentation of "With Edged Tools," at the Grand Opera House.

The play has been widely heralded. It has been a most pronounced success in England. In fact, where it has been presented in Canada it has met with an excellent reception, with the possible exception of London. The audience was not so large as it might have been here, and it was not as enthusiastic as it might have been, either.

The play is the dramatization of Henry Seton Merriman's novel of the same name. It has all the faults of the ordinary run of such dramatizations. The knife could have been used with good effect in pruning out some of the unnecessary dialogue, which for the most part is rather trite, and putting a trifle more action into the piece. Audiences as a rule do not care to listen to a lot of unnecessary talk, particularly as it is very plain that a sermon is being preached. The construction of the play is quite faulty, and militates against its ultimate success.

The caste, wholly English, is indeed an excellent one. The detail of the piece is worked out carefully, and the most minor parts are played with rare fidelity.

In the role of Jack Meredith, Hamilton Deane shows marked ability as an actor. In fact, his presentation of the character was one of the most pleasing bits of character work seen in many a long day. He is a young man with complete mastery of his art, and should do brilliant work in the next few years. He was suffering from a severe cold last night, but even with this handicap he did well.

The best character work among the women members of the caste was that of Miss Marguerite Collier, as Millicent Cheyne, the designing woman to whom Jack Meredith was engaged. She presented the part to the life, and in every scene rose to the possibilities of the role.

Miss Florence Dulhunty as Marie, the little savage girl, gave a faithful delineation of the character. In fact, it was almost uncanny. Campbell Goldsmith as Victor Durnovo, the regular villyun, was almost too realistic at times. He made the part altogether too fierce to be convincing, and spoiled what otherwise would have been a fine presentation.

Miss Leonhard, as Jocelyn Gordon, the good woman, as Sir John Meredith called her was very clever and winning, and showed marked ability. She erred in her presentation making the character of Miss Gordon almost supernaturally good, but even at that it was a clever bit of acting.

Richard Hicks, as Sir John Meredith, the greatest little fixer of them all, enacted the role with distinction. This old chap always had somebody handy to frustrate the villain and save his boy. It was all very good, but extremely palpable.

"The Fortune Hunter."

It is a real pleasure to chronicle the success of "The Fortune Hunter." Here is a genuinely amusing comedy, which, while arousing emotions of all that is best in our nature, teaches a moral lesson that people may learn in an atmosphere of absolute enjoyment. Lessons learned while we laugh, stick closer sometimes than the other kind, and "The Fortune Hunter" is a shining example of this aphorism. The story of "The Fortune Hunter" is most enjoyable, its theme pure and clean, while its dialogue bristles with entertaining chatter. The stage has rarely seen so honest a play, and if Winchell Smith can continue to teach the virtue of goodness, and its value as a guide in communion with our fellow man, he will undoubtedly be hailed as the evangelist of the stage. At the Grand on Friday and Saturday.

Francis Wilson, in "The Bachelor's Baby."

Francis Wilson, the popular comedian, is to bring his big laughing success, "The Bachelor's Baby," for local presentation on Monday, Oct. 16. Although the comedy farce is in its third year, this will be the first time that the play will be seen in this city, and the company and production to be seen here will be the same as was with Mr. Wilson during its New York engagements. It is said that "The Bachelor's Baby," with its comedy and pathos is a sure cure for the blues. It is guaranteed to produce laughter, to make the wrinkles go, and if any one has troubles or a "grouch," it will cause them to forget.

A Successful Entertainment.

Miss Van Volkenburg, of Chicago, possesses a remarkable memory, and this, coupled with her wonderful imitative talent, has made her work a success and wonder to all who have ever seen her. Her engagement in the Auditorium Oct. 24, is one of unusual interest.

The manufacturers' stamped prices on boots and shoes have been cut with the other lines at W. B. Lawson's retiring sale. There is no question about the values. Just call and see.

A Big Success

The phenomenal success of Parisian Sage has led to many attempts to substitute and imitate. Therefore insist on being supplied with the genuine Parisian Sage, the package and label of which contains the girl with the Auburn Hair.

Parisian Sage is guaranteed to do all that we claim. Druggists are authorized to refund your money if it fails. A single application of Parisian Sage will relieve itching of the scalp. It goes quickly to the seat of the trouble and removes the cause. Parisian Sage will stop falling hair in two weeks—cure dandruff in the same time and stop scalp itch at once. It makes the hair soft, silky and luxuriant. As a hair dressing Parisian Sage is without a peer. It contains nothing that can harm the hair — it is not sticky, oily or greasy and prevents as well as cures diseases of the scalp.

Parisian Sage can be obtained from any first-class druggist. If your druggist does not sell Parisian Sage send to the Giroux Manufacturing Company, Fort Erie, Ont., and it will be mailed to you, all charges prepaid, on receipt of 50 cents.

Don't be put off with a substitute, or you will be disappointed. There is nothing "just as good" as Parisian Sage.

SOMETHING MAY DROP ON BOTH WHITNEY AND BORDEN

Conservatives of Toronto Send Protest to Premier, Announcing They Will Oppose White Wherever He Runs—May Oppose Provincial Candidates.

Toronto, Oct. 12.—Open warfare has been declared by the Conservative executive of Ward 1 against the appointment of Hon. W. T. White as finance minister. At a meeting last night, with an attendance of 75, a resolution was passed unanimously, censuring Premier Borden for the appointment. The resolution was given to Hon. A. E. Kemp to present to the Premier personally.

In the speeches Sir James Whitney also came in for heavy criticism. It was declared that if he did not repudiate the charge that he had furthered the appointment of White, the Conservatives of Ward 1 would oppose Whitney candidates. There was a hint that all the eight local members would be opposed at the forthcoming elections.

Oppose Him Anywhere.

Different speakers declared, amid applause, that wherever White ran, his election would be opposed to the bitter end.

Hon. Dr. Pyne was a visitor at the meeting.

It is understood that feeling is just as high in the other wards as in Ward 1.

Members of the executive of Ward 1 said they would give money and time to carry on a campaign against Mr. White. "It is a shame," said one of them, "that such a man, a Liberal all his life, should be given the plum of the offices, with equally worthy Conservatives put on the shelf."

Kemp's Appointment a "Sop."

One speaker said that the appointment of Kemp was only a "sop" thrown out to try to appease Toronto. "And then," he said, "it was only a place without portfolio."

"If Sir James cannot clear himself he, too, will get a rude awakening at the elections," was another statement.

"VOTES FOR WOMEN" WINS DAY IN CALIFORNIA PLEBISCITE

Country Districts Offset Adverse Majority of 16,000 Polled in Cities, Triumphing With 3,000 Votes to the Good.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 12.—Overcoming an adverse majority of 16,000 in this city and Oakland, the voters of country districts have given victory to the cause of woman suffrage by a margin of something more than 3,000. With returns missing from 400 precincts, suffrage has a majority of about 1,500, which is growing steadily as the figures come in.

The result came as a big surprise, as the early returns indicated that suffrage was badly beaten and the majority was placed at 5,000 last night. Then came returns from the country. Nearly every agricultural county was carried by the women, and although the majorities were not large, they rolled up a total vote that wiped the anti-suffrage majority out in the city.

Unquestionably the strongest element in this city in opposition to suffrage was the saloon. In the country, granges and other farmers' organizations indorsed suffrage, and much to the surprise of the politicians the farmers went to the polls. Instead of the light vote that was expected the vote in the country was heavier than in the city.

From all parts of the country dispatches of congratulations are pouring in. From London came words of rejoicing from suffragists.

VICTORY CAUSES REJOICING.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Oct. 13.—The national headquarters of the woman's suffrage organizations are in gala dress today over the news of their victory in California.

"We are gloriously happy," declared Dr. Anna Shaw, national president of the suffrage party. "This is the beginning of the end. The victory in California gives to the cause as many voters as in the five other states where we have previously won Kansas, Oregon, Wisconsin and other western states are bound to follow the lead at the next elections.

"The woman suffrage party is soon to be a great power in the presidential campaign; in fact, has become so now the Californians have won."

Mrs. Pankhurst, the English suffrage leader, declared: "The news is worthy of great rejoicing. English women will be particularly glad, because it will be a great help in our campaign."

WILL USE ULTRA VIOLET LIGHT TO PURIFY DRINKING WATER

Superintendent Glaubitz Has a Scheme in View for London—Plan Is in Use in European Countries—Is Merely Rays of Sunlight.

Superintendent Glaubitz will recommend to the water commission that an electrical purifier be installed at Springbank. He is working out the details of the scheme at the present time.

"I will use ultra violet light," said Mr. Glaubitz. "This, in other words, is nothing more than sunlight rays, one of the best purifiers of water. The scheme has been adopted in Europe with success. There are several plants in Germany, as well as a large plant in Marseilles, France. In these places the experiments have been decided successes. The cost to London would be very little, and the purity of the water supply would be absolutely insured.

A Great Purifier.

"It has been known for years that sunlight is a great purifier of water. Rivers that have been impure at their source have been made pure by the action of sunlight. Scientists have been working on the problem and have discovered that the ultra-violet light will produce the same effect. It will destroy the germs in the water. My proposal is to install a few of these lights at Springbank. The amount of horsepower used would be a negligible quantity, and the cost would be very little.

Keep Water Pure.

"Whenever a pond was under suspicion the light could be used, and the water kept absolutely pure. This would make it possible for the citizens to have at all times an absolutely pure supply of water.

"We would use quart lamps, as they would be the best for our purpose. I am confident that the experiment would be a success, and would greatly benefit the city. I will work out the details for the water commissioners at an early date."

It is estimated that ten horsepower would be sufficient for the purposes. The cost of the other equipment would not be excessive.

San Francisco, Oct. 13. — Advices were received here today by the Chung Sai Yat Po, the Chinese Daily World, that the revolutionists in China have declared a republic, electing Li Yuan Hung, lieutenant commander of the imperial new army, president.

[Canadian Press.]

Peking, China, Oct. 13. — China today faces an unprecedented crisis. With the spread of revolutionary activities, the opinion is gaining ground that the fate of the ruling dynasty hangs in the balance.

The revolution is no longer confined to the central provinces, a thousand miles away from the capital. Peking itself is threatened.

Members of the cabinet admitted today that the garrison here is known to be honeycombed with the revolutionary sentiment. The same condition exists in the two great military posts which guard the capital, Pao Ting Fu, and Tientsin.

There are still official attempts to minimize the gravity of the situation, but the reports reaching the capital give little basis for hope. Today's news included reports that Chung King was in danger, that I-Chang had been taken, that Yo-Chow had fallen, and that communication between Hankow and Chang-Sha, the capital of Hunan Province, was interrupted.

Chance to Repeat.

An edict published today offers pardon to all revolutionists who "were coerced into joining the rebellion." The pardon is conditional, however, on their expressing suitable repentance for their defection.

The Government today followed up their act of yesterday, cashiering the viceroy of Wu Chang, by extending the same treatment to General Chang Piao, the commander of the troops in the Wu Chang district, where this week's outbreak began.

Every effort of the authorities for the present is concentrated in an attempt to provide adequate defence for the capital of the empire. The programme for the autumn manoeuvres in Kai Fong, four hundred miles south of Peking, where 36 000 troops were to have participated in extensive drills, was cancelled today, and the sixth division of the army was ordered to entrain for Feng Lai, a suburb of this city.

Have Reliable Leaders.

The Government, in its reports on the situation, is attempting to convey the impression that the revolutionists are without trained soldiers, or adequate organization. But the revolutionists have reliable leaders.

PATIENT FLED FROM HOSPITAL

Police Are Seeking for Earl Mercer Who Ran Away at Early Hour Today.

WAS WATCHED CLOSELY

But Managed to Get Away During Momentary Absence of a Nurse.

Earl Mercer, a young man, who has been confined in Ward 6 at Victoria Hospital for some time, escaped from the institution lightly clad at 4:30 this morning, and although a rigorous search has been conducted he has not as yet been located.

The police have been notified, and are now assisting the hospital authorities in their endeavors to discover his whereabouts. Mercer had made attempts to escape on previous occasions, it is said, and for that reason he was watched closely.

However, he managed to get away early this morning during the momentary absence of a nurse. He was clothed only in a short nightshirt and a pair of slippers when he left his room, but apparently made a search for more seasonable apparel before his departure.

A coat belonging to one of the attendants is also missing, and it is thought that Mercer has it with him.

As no trace of him has been discovered it is feared that he may have wandered around by the river at the rear of the hospital, and stumbled over the embankment which rises up sharply from the stream.

WORLD NEVER BETTER THAN IT IS TODAY

One Methodist Delegate at Toronton Diffuses Undiluted Optimism.

[Canadian Press.]

Toronto, Oct. 13. — Interest in the Ecumenical Conference was renewed this morning when larger use of lay agencies was discussed. Sir Robert Parks was chairman. Prof. G. Aitkins, Ph.D., of South Carolina (colored), spoke on the Laymen's Movement. He showed the great influence of men in all the large religious movements of modern times, such as the Y. M. C. A. As a result of their work the educational tone of the church had been helped.

He referred to the lack of interest taken in the movement by the colored race. He thought it was partly due to the fact that "men's movement" meant white men, and 'everybody welcome" meant only white men. He saw many signs of improvement among the negroes.

Mr. Norman Sargent, of England, said there had been many pessimistic notes struck, but he believed there never was a time when the world was better than it is today. The good old times, he thought, was a fiction. He thought the press was never cleaner than today.

W. E. Skinner, a local preacher from London, England, said they were the bulwark of Protestantism in England. They stayed the rising tide of Socialism. The local preacher stands for the voice of God directly speaking to the people. The local preachers understood the people better. Many ordained, he feared, were "invisible on work days and incomprehensible on Sunday."

A wave of patriotic fervor ran through the audience this morning when Sir R. Perks announced a telegram from the Duke of Connaught at Quebec, expressing his pleasure at hearing of the conference and hoping that they would have successful meetings.

The conference rose and sang a verse of the National Anthem.

HIS EXCELLENCY, THE DUKE OF CONNAUGHT,
Canada's New Governor-General, Who Was Officially Welcomed to Canada This Morning.

KEYNOTE OF CANADIAN UNITY IN CONNAUGHT'S FIRST WORDS

Replying to Addresses Upon Arrival, New Governor-General Declares French and English Combined Made the Greatness of England—A Rousing Reception to Vice-Regal Party.

[Canadian Press.]

Quebec, Oct. 13.—The Duke and Duchess of Connaught, who are to preside over Rideau Hall at Ottawa as representatives of King George for the next few years, arrived at Quebec last evening and landed this morning. They were accorded just such a reception as might be expected from loyal Canadians to members of the royal household. The streets were gaily decorated for the occasion, and everywhere was manifested the liveliest interest in the reception to the new governor-general. His excellency was received by the deputy governor-general, the members of the Dominion cabinet, the inspector-general of militia, the director of the naval service, the lieutenant-governor of the province of Quebec, the Prime Minister of the province, and the members of the Provincial cabinet.

A Great Reception.

As he stepped from the boat the band again broke into the National Anthem, and cheers were given by the thousands who had assembled to do honor to the representative of Great Britain's ruler. A salute of 21 guns was given, and as the guns boomed and the band played, his royal highness was escorted to the carriages which were to convey him and his party to the Parliament Building.

Actual ceremonies of installation took place in the legislative council room and were impressive.

At the appointed time Captain Pelletier entered the chamber and intimated to the under secretary of state the arrival of their royal highnesses and suite and retinue. On the entry of their royal highnesses and suite the assembly rose.

His royal highness had no sooner seated himself than he rose again, and Mrs. Borden came forward and presented the duchess with a bouquet.

The duke was formally sworn in, and upon taking his seat a royal salute of 21 guns was fired, announcing the installation of the new Governor-General.

After Lady Gouin had presented a bouquet to the duchess, Sir Homer Gouin read an address of welcome, followed by the mayor of Quebec, with an address to the citizens:

STRATFORD WOMAN MISSING IS BEING SOUGHT IN LONDON

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Stratford, Oct. 13.—London police have been asked to aid in finding Mrs. James Racho, who disappeared very suddenly from her home here on Monday, and is thought to have gone to London.

The first that Mr. Racho knew of his wife's disappearance was when he came home from work and found the following note in the pocket of another suit he was putting on:

Dear Jim: The neighbors are driving me away. I don't know where I am going. Will write."

As Mrs. Racho has been a sickly woman, Mr. Racho thought she had received a sudden shock and had wandered off and he set out in search of her, later notifying the police of his discovery.

Acting-Chief O'Donnell got busy and after a careful investigation it was found that Mrs. Racho had last been seen on Monday afternoon about three o'clock on Wellington street, and after that her movements could not be traced.

The police have wired a description of the woman to the police of neighboring cities.

Mr. Racho is unable to give any probable reason for Mrs. Racho's sudden action, as everything in the home life had been harmonious, and they had had no ructions or quarrels of any description to account for this unexpected move. During the noon hour, Mrs. Racho and he were fooling and he stayed talking so late that he was nearly late for work.

He has been in London trying to locate his wife, but has been unsuccessful.

HUNDREDS OF DELEGATES ARE COMING TO BIG CONFERENCE

Missionary Meeting, November 6 to 8, Will Be Large and Influential—Some Notable Speakers.

Mr. A. J. Robinson, executive secretary of the Western Ontario Missionary Conference to be held in this city Nov. 6 to 8, is receiving encouraging responses from all the churches and parishes throughout the peninsula in reply to requests for delegates from the various churches and denominations. There will undoubtedly be a large attendance of both lay and clerical delegates.

Among the speakers will be Rev. J. H. Edmison, secretary of the board of home missions; A. E. Armstrong, assistant secretary for foreign missions, and F. W. Anderson, laymen's missionary secretary, representing the Prebyterian Church; Rev. W. T. Gunn, of Toronto, representing the Congregational Church, and Rev. Dr. Brown and Rev. Dr. Norton, representing the Baptist Church. The Methodist Church will be represented by Rev. C. E. Manning, home missionary secretary; Rev. A. C. Farrell, foreign missionary secretary; Rev. Edwin Wallace, of West China; J. H. Arnup, of the laymen's movement, and Rev. H. C. Priest, of the missionary educational movement.

Mr. Robinson will spend Saturday and Sunday in Hamilton in connection with the work of the conference.

TORIES OF EAST MIDDLESEX ARE DEAD SET AGAINST WHITE

OIL WAS STRUCK ON FERGUSON LAND

Members of Delaware Syndicate Are Enthusiastic Over the Prospects.

Oil was struck on the Ferguson property in Delaware on Thursday afternoon. The well was shot in the presence of Mr. Donald Ferguson, A. E. Somerville, Ben Noble, and other members of the syndicate of local promoters interested in the scheme.

The well has not been gauged as yet, and the capacity is not known definitely, but it is understood that it will be at least a 50-barrel strike.

The members are enthusiastic over the prospects and other wells will be sunk immediately.

C. E. JOHNSON IS PRESIDENT

East Middlesex Teachers' Association Met Today and Elected Officers.

BEAUTIFYING GROUNDS

Members Heard Some Interesting Addresses on Subject—A Special Committee Appointed.

The second day of the convention of the members of the East Middlesex Teachers' Association was attended by still greater numbers today, when officers for the coming year were elected, both Mr. C. E. Johnson, the president, and Miss J. S. McMillan, the secretary, being continued in office for another term.

The new list of officers includes the following: President, Mr. C. E. Johnson, I. P. S.; vice-president, Miss Corbett; secretary, Miss J. S. McMillan; treasurer, Mr. George Duncan; association librarian, Inspector Thompson; auditors, Messrs. Jones and Garrett; executive committee, Misses Cairncross, McKennon, Porteous, Cleveland and Ronald.

A Committee Chosen.

A committee in charge of the physical training department of education in the rural schools was also chosen, the representatives from the different townships, being composed of the following: Biddulph, Misses Willis and Dale; Delaware, Mr. Bruce Johnson; Dorchester, Mr. Hogarth and Miss McMillan; London, Mr. C. E. Johnson, Mr. Garrett, Miss Brown and Mr. McKay; McGillivray, Miss Corbett and Mr. Mollard; Nissouri, Miss Mollard and Miss Starker; Westminster, Mr. Stevenson, Miss Woods and Miss Sheppard.

The morning's programme consisted of an address on "Literature" by Mr. F. W. C. McCutcheon, principal of the London Collegiate Institute; instructions relating to changes in departmental regulations by Mr. Thompson, I. P. S., and a report on school gardens by Miss Cleveland and Miss Porteous.

The ladies gave an interesting description of their work in this department, and the delegates gleaned some valuable information on the best methods of beautifying the grounds and engaging the children in this form of outdoor work.

The convention will conclude this afternoon.

TWO OF MURDERERS GO TO THE GALLOWS

Russian Government Is Prosecuting Assailants of Late J. McGarvey of London.

Mrs. J. McGarvey, whose husband (a former Londoner), and one of his drillers were brutally murdered in Southern Russian last spring by bandits, and who herself was badly injured, is living in Ealing, a suburb of London, England, with her daughter. She has quite recovered from her fearful experience, and is now enjoying comparatively good health.

Mr. R. McGarvey, her son, is now in Russia, looking after the interests of the firm.

Two of the murderers have been sentenced to hang, while two others are awaiting trial for their connection with the crimes.

FAMILY ASK DAMAGES FROM GRAND TRUNK

Writ Issued Over the Death of Edward Ings, of Adelaide Street.

A writ for unstated damages was today issued by Gibbons, Harper & Gibbons against the Grand Trunk Railway for the death of Edwards Ings, a drayman, of Adelaide street north, who was instantly killed on the Adelaide street crossing by the International Limited some weeks ago.

Mr. Ings was well advanced in years, but had been actively engaged in his occupation as drayman. His wife has been an invalid for over sixteen years, and he is also survived by a number of young children.

The case is in the high court.

Prominent Conservatives of Riding Say They Will Not Allow Elson to Resign.

PETER ELSON ADMITS COIN

Has Been Asked by Borden to Give His Seat to Minister of Finance.

There will be trouble among East Middlesex Conservatives if any attempt is made to run Hon. W. T. White, named as minister of finance by Hon. R. L. Borden, in that riding.

There is no gainsaying the fact that the scheme is being considered. Mr. Peter Elson, M. P., has been approached with a proposition to go to the senate, in the stead of Sir John Carling, in order to allow Mr. White to run in that constituency.

Mr. Elson is in favor of the idea, according to some of his personal friends and supporters. It would insure him a life's position, without any of the annoyance attendant on holding a seat in the Commons. He went to Ottawa, had the scheme explained to him, and decided to come back to London and lay the matter before the Conservative executive.

Conservatives Opposed.

The Advertiser has been informed by certain members of the organization that they will have none of it, and are today discussing the question.

They know Mr. Elson's feelings, but they do not agree with him.

In fact, the keenest opposition, one might call it bitter opposition, has developed, and there is no doubt that some sharp things will be said if Mr. Elson decides, after interviewing certain members of the executive, to call a meeting to consider the proposal.

Many Conservatives were seen by The Advertiser, and every one of them expressed unqualified objection.

One of them explained that the party is afraid to open one of the Toronto seats. The next proposal was to send Mr. Henderson, M. P., of Halton, to the senate, in the stead of Sir John Carling. Now Halton is rather close to Toronto, and it was feared that the influence of Toronto Conservatives would be too much for Mr. White, and according to the gentleman who gave the information to The Advertiser, the Conservatives at Ottawa were compelled to abandon the idea.

Looked to Elson.

A seat was sought elsewhere, and as Mr. Peter Elson happened to be in Ottawa, the subject was broached to him.

According to this gentleman, Mr. Elson agreed to discuss the question with the members of the East Middlesex Conservative executive, and endeavor to win their consent.

That is as far as the matter has progressed. There is no doubt that Mr. Elson is "feeling out" the prominent members of the party.

"There is no question that Mr. Elson has the offer," a member of the East Middlesex executive stated to The Advertiser. "He is home at the present time, and is feeling out certain members of the executive as to their position on the matter. He wants the position of senator. It would suit him from every standpoint. But the party do not want Mr. White; at least, we do not want him in East Middlesex. The claims of other Conservatives in the riding—Frank Glass, John Geary, Hume B. Elliot, and others—must be considered before the claims of Mr. White are urged. They should be given a chance, at least, and I think their influence is sufficiently strong in the executive to prevent any attempt to foist Mr. White on us. He will not be elected in East Middlesex by acclamation. THERE WILL BE A STRAIGHT CONSERVATIVE OPPOSE HIM, EVEN IF THE LIBERALS DECIDED TO ALLOW HIM TO BE ELECTED BY ACCLAMATION, THE CONSERVATIVES SIMPLY WILL NOT STAND FOR IT. Let Mr. White get his seat in Toronto. East Middlesex under normal conditions is good fighting ground, and I doubt that the Conservatives could carry it with Mr. White against a hustling Liberal candidate."

Major Beattie's Seat.

There was some talk that Major Beattie would resign his seat in order to allow Mr. White to run. The matter, so far as can be learned from prominent Conservatives, was not seriously broached. There is decided opposition here to him.

Major Beattie, it is understood, has no objections to a position in the Senate, but he will not risk losing a supporter of the Government by allowing Mr. White to come to London.

In conversation with scores of prominent Conservatives, not one could be found who would say he would vote for White. The majority declared that they would rather vote against him than allow one whom they term a renegade Grit to represent London. That was the way they put the proposition.

Few Seats Available.

In Western Ontario, there ar

CITY TEAMSTER WAS DISMISSED

Mayor Beattie Censures F. Hutchinson For Taking Money From a Citizen.

CITY PAYING FOR WORK

Hutchinson's Explanation Thursday Night Was Not Satisfactory to Board of Works.

F. Hutchinson, West London, will do no more teaming for the city. That was the decision of the board of works last night after hearing his explanation as to why he took money for removing earth in front of a citizen's residence, when he was being paid by the city to do the same work.

Mr. Hutchinson and Ward Foreman David appeared before the committee. Hutchinson said that he took the money from the citizen, as he had a perfect right to do so. The city had no right to the dirt, and Mr. Wilson, in front of whose property it was, had not asked the city to remove it.

"The city had no right to that dirt," said Mr. Hutchinson. "I was asked to remove it, or, at least, my son was, and we charged the man for so doing. It was a contract with Mr. Wilson, and if I wanted to do something else with the earth, that was my business."

City Engineer Wright explained that the contract with Mr. Wilson to remove the earth had not been made with Hutchinson until after Ward Foreman David had given instructions to have the earth removed.

"I had the right to take money for outside work," said Mr. Hutchinson.

Bad for Hutchinson.

"If that is the kind of a man he is, the sooner we get rid of him the better," said Mayor Beattie. "I move that the pay-sheet be passed, but that the city engineer be instructed to give no more work for the city under any circumstances. I would never give him another day's work, whether under contract or not. The transaction was distinctly dishonest, and he knows it."

Ald. Morgan, Ald. Mitchell and Ald. Cooper expressed their opinion that the whole deal was wrong.

"We should not give him his money," said Ald. Morgan. "I do not suppose we can stop it, but Mr. Wilson should do everything he could to get his money back."

Mayor Beattie's motion carried unanimously.

A C. P. R. Drain.

The question of a new drain on Talbot street under the C. P. R. bridge again came up. For some time there has been a discussion going on between City Solicitor Meredith and the C. P. R. regarding the right to maintain the drain. The city offered to contribute something towards repairing the drain on condition that the company would maintain it. This was refused, and the company made another proposition to the effect that they would give $150 toward the construction of the new drain if the city would maintain it. As the board of works are in a hurry to do something with the drain, it was decided, on motion of Ald Morgan, to maintain the drain, provided the C. P. R. will give $200 towards the construction.

F. B. Clarke and others protested against a pavement on Pall Mall street. No action was taken in the matter pending a petition from certain ratepayers.

A Grievance.

Mr. George H. Belton complained of the dangerous approaches to his place of business on Rectory street, and City Engineer Wright was instructed to remedy the cause of complaint.

Dr A. J. Wyckoff, on behalf of the board of education, asked permission to hire an assistant for City Architect Nutter, to help him with the school work. The requisite permission was granted.

The McClary Company asked for a storm sewer on Adelaide street, but as the company did not submit in writing what they would pay towards the cost, the whole matter was laid over until the next meeting. In the meantime City Engineer Wright will interview the McClary people and obtain their proposition.

Egerton Street Crossing.

City Engineer Wright informed the committee that in spite of repeated warnings, the Grand Trunk had not improved the condition of Egerton street, which was very dangerous. One more letter will be written to the company, and then an appeal will be taken to the Dominion railway board.

City Engineer Wright informed the committee that he had written to the F. C. Reid Company, of Windsor, saying that if the asphalt block pavement is not repaired next week, he would have the work done and charged against the company and their sureties.

S. Frank Glass asked the committee to furnish 50 cords of gravel for repairing Adelaide street between the city and the county. The committee agreed to the proposition.

Carling's Creek.

The condition of Carling's Creek caused some discussion. City Engineer Wright reported that he had inspected it, with the chairman of the board of health, and found it in a disgraceful condition.

He suggested that it be cleaned out. The estimate of the cost of this work was not ready, and so no definite action was taken until Mr. Wright can get the figures together.

"That creek should be tiled and the property taxed, on the local improvement basis," said Mayor Beattie. "We should get special legislation to permit us doing so. This thing has come up year after year, and as the work will cost considerable money, we should deal with it at once."

"That should be put down as part of a storm water system," said Ald. Morgan. "There you have a natural water drain that could be utilized as part of a scheme. The whole city should pay for it."

"We should get special legislation, in any event," said Mayor Beattie.

However, no definite action was taken.

Street Railway Tracks.

The attention of the committee was called to the fact that many of the street railway tracks are dangerous, in that they stand quite a bit higher than the roadbed. The company were instructed to have the cause of complaint remedied."

Mr. Alf. Benbow and others asked that Methuen avenue be opened up across the London and Lake Erie tracks. The matter will be taken up with the company immediately.

City Architect Nutter submitted plans for a garbage incinerator, to cost $30,000, with a capacity of fifty tons a day. As the members of the board of health were not present to discuss the question the matter was laid over until a conference takes place.

Contracts Awarded.

H. Winder & Sons were awarded the contract for painting the Ridout street bridge for $195.

C. Leathorn was awarded the contract for the York street sewer for $518, and the Eva street sewer for $359, and J. W. Johnston was given the Harvard and Yale street sewer at $978 50, and the Quebec street sewer at $415 90.

Those present at the meeting were: Ald. Cooper, chairman; Ald. Mitchell, Ald. Morgan, Mayor Beattie, City Engineer Wright and Secretary Baker.

HEAVEN IS A STATE OR CONDITION OF MIND

"Right thinking leading to right living is the sure passport to heaven," declared William R. Rathvon, C. S. B., a member of the Christian Science board of lectureship, speaking in the First Church of Christ, Scientist, last evening.

"Heaven is a state or condition of mind and it follows that its attainment depends upon the mental processes of the individual. Turning to the life of the great exemplar, Jesus the Christ, we find in him the ideal thinker, whose thoughts and actions conformed invariably to the laws of God—Spirit—touching lightly upon matter and things material only as tolerated concomitants of his dwelling on earth among men.

Lift Your Thoughts.

"Every time your thought drops to an unworthy level lift it as near the stars as you can raise it. If thoughts unclean, unjust, dishonorable are there bring in something of purity, of justice, of probity. When you have done your best in this line, you will have accomplished much. You have taken a step, a little one to be sure, but it leads in the direction of the understanding of God—the knowledge of Him whom to know aright is life eternal."

The need of overcoming fear and discouragement was emphasized by Mr. Rathvon. "People who are habitually free from fear, worry, anxiety, apprehension and the like," he said, "are far less susceptible to illness and misfortune than others.

"Discouragement wears the invisible livery of evil, and is constantly working for its master. It is always pulling down and never building up. Discouragement is a stranger to unselfishness. No man who faithfully trusts in the omnipotence of God and the omnipresence of love, can permit discouragement to talk with him for one minute. An effective plan to drive out discouragement is to bring in a measure of gratitude or praise.

Always Be Grateful.

"There can always be found something to be grateful for if we will hunt for it. Along every man's pathway in life there are blooming flowers of gratitude in the fragrance of which he will find a magic dispeller of discouragement."

Touching on the question of immortality Mr. Rathvon declared that death is no more to be feared than sleep. "In the present stage of our development," he continued, "both are incidental to the experience of mankind; both interfere for the time with man's activities; and the awakening—alike in both cases—will, we believe, show no substantial change in individuality or advancement. The gates of heaven do not swing open at the touch of death, but are to be entered by right-thinking and right-living, here and hereafter.

"The work of regeneration and reformation left unfinished here will have to be done hereafter. The stirring command, 'Work out your own salvation,' follows us wherever we may be, and through whatever changes we may pass. Death does not silence it or modify its demands. Love of life, not fear of death is, to the Christian Scientist, the great incentive to action and achievement."

Christian Science.

Mr. Rathvon outlined in a very interesting manner the founding of the Christian Science movement by Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, and the story of its wonderful growth and spread over the entire world. The basic principles and doctrines of Christian Science, he explained, simply and clearly as they are set forth in Mrs. Eddy's remarkable book, "Science and Health."

The lecture was well attended.

To tour the world in an aeroplane is the ambition of M. Mamet, a French aviator. The route so far planned runs southward through France, Spain, Algeria, Tunis and Egypt; thence by steamer to India; across India through the air; by steamer to Australia; by steamer to South America; a flight over that country; thence by steamer to Africa, and then northward by the air line. He intends to take a friend, Rene Mellon, with him as passenger.

Kidney Pains In the Back

ALL DOCTORS' MEDICINE FAILED —CURE EFFECTED BY USE OF

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

Again this great medicine has triumphed over kidney disease of a severe type. From a bed of suffering and helplessness, Mrs. Walsh was restored to health and strength by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Kidney pains in the back tortured her. Dropsical swellings had set in and she had no reason to hope for cure, since the doctor's medicine failed to even relieve her. Read what the husband says about this remarkable cure.

Mr. Thos. D. Walsh, Pictou, N. S., writes: "Two years ago my wife took to her bed after suffering for a long time from kidney pains in the back. She was not able to stand on her feet or even turn herself in bed. The doctor's medicine was no benefit whatever, that we could see. Sometimes her legs would swell considerably. Reading about a woman in similar condition being cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, we purchased two boxes, and when these were used she was able to sit up. With three more boxes she was restored to health and doing her own housework.

"As for myself I also found these pills all that is claimed for them. I give this statement in order that others may obtain the same ease from suffering as that experienced by my wife and myself."

Tomorrow It Will Be Men's Black Overcoats

October is the month for Top Coats, and Saturday is Men's Day. Last Saturday we fixed up those who came in response to our announcement, with $20 and $22 Winter Overcoats at $12.75, of which we still have some splendid models.

For tomorrow we announce a big sale of Men's and Young Men's Black Overcoats at a still better price—$11.50. Many of these are manufacturers' sampe models, worth much more money.

78 Men's Black Overcoats at $11.50 Saturday

These are winter weights in Melton and Vicuna, some with velvet and few with convertible collars, Chesterfield styles, 45, 48 and 50 inch lengths, single breasted, fly front, or buttoned through style, well lined and finished, sizes 33 to 46. Sale price $11.50

42 spring and fall weights, some have silk facings, black cheviots and vicunas.

SAME STYLE WITH SILK FACINGS, SIZES 34 TO 44 INCH; SALE PRICE $9.50

Extra quality Paramattas, in the popular fawn color, with stitched and gummed seams, military style collar. An extra special for Saturday sale; sizes 36 to 48; lengths 50, 52 and 54 inches. A guaranteed Raincoat. See them Saturday. Sale price.....$10.00

Fall and Winter Overcoats for the Boys

AGES 3 TO 16 YEARS.

We are now showing a very large range of Boys' Overcoats. The boys' department is given particular attention, and the boys are well provided for here. Some particularly pleasing models are shown in the new tweed effects with convertible collars made up in mannish styles. For ages 8 to 16 years. Prices .....$6.50, $8.50 and $10.00

Boys' Fancy Reefers & Overcoats, $2.60, $3.95, $5 to $7.50

For the little men 3 to 8 years old, fancy styles in tweeds, serges, napps and blanket cloths. Prices ranging at..... .....$2.60, $3.95, $5.00 to $7.50

A Showing Saturday of Some of the More Exclusive Fashions in Men's and Young Men's Black and Navy Suits

Fall and winter are the seasons for black and navy. Gathered carefully from some of the more exclusive manufacturers (really they are tailors) are some of the choicest specimens. Some of these models will appeal especially to the younger men and to men in general who are tired of the commonplace. In fabric and finish they are different from the clothing shown elsewhere. Yet do not come expecting loud or freaky fashions or you will be disappointed.

But if you want a suit ready-to-wear that will make your friends stop and ask, "Who is your tailor?" you will have no trouble in choosing.

Saturday we ask your special attention to our black and navy fine English Worsted Serge Suits, two and three button sacks; plain tailored long coat with fairly deep roll, plain or cuff trousers; sizes 33 to 44. Specially priced, suit.....$15.00

MAIL ORDERS FOR THESE SUITS WILL BE CAREFULLY FILLED.

Men's Gray Trousers, Sizes 32 to 44, Selling Saturday at $3.00 Pair

48 pairs heavy hair line Gray Tweed Trousers. This cloth we import in the web direct from the maker in England, enabling us to give our customers goods we can recommend, tailored by the best wholesale tailors in Canada (workmanship guaranteed). 48 pairs on sale Saturday, sizes 32 to 44, at pair.....$3.00

ITALIANS CALLING OUT MORE TROOPS

Big Reserve Force Is Ready to Hurry to Tripoli.

[Canadian Press.]

Rome, Oct. 13.—Although the Government considers that the present expedition of 40,000 men will be sufficient for the complete occupation of Tripoli, the ministry of war has prepared for an additional expedition in case of need. This is composed of six regiments of foot soldiers, including two from the regular infantry, two from the Alpine district and two of sharpshooters with a contingent of cavalry and artillery, numbering in all 15,000 men. This reserve force is prepared to reach Tripoli within 48 hours.

A report from Tripoli says that General Caneva, commander-in-chief of the Italian forces in Tripoli, is awaiting the arrival of the final contingent of the first expedition before he begins an immediate march into the interior.

Four aeroplanes have arrived here from France. They will be sent to Tripoli, where it is proposed to make the first experiments in the use of flying machines in actual warfare. They will be piloted by Italian officers, who will undertake to drop bombs into the enemy's encampments.

GARDEN THIEVES BUSY IN SOUTH LONDON

Boys Are Blamed for Rather Serious Depredations.

Garden thieves are making the lives of property owners in South London unbearable these days.

During the past week a number of gardens have been looted. Thursday night three on Evergreen avenue were robbed, all the cabbages being stolen.

Some of the residents there are of the opinion that the mischief was done by boys.

The police department have been notified, and every effort will be made to apprehend the culprits.

LONDON, FRIDAY, OCT. 13.

MR. WHITE AND EAST MIDDLESEX.

Mr. Peter Elson acknowledges that he has been asked by Mr. Borden to resign his seat in East Middlesex to make room for the new Minister of Finance, W. T. White, of Toronto.

Mr. White can find no such accommodation in Conservative Toronto. Even if a Toronto member were as obliging as Mr. Elson, Mr. White would not care to accept the offer in the present temper of Toronto Conservatism. The party there, or a very vociferous section of it, is crying out against the Finance Minister, and threatening him with a contest. There is resentment over the choice of a former Liberal for the prize portfolio. Mr. White is also assailed as the candidate of a powerful corporation clique in Toronto. Behind the opposition to him and to Mr. Cochrane is also a bitterness of feeling over the surrender of Mr. Borden to the Quebec Nationalists.

The executive of the East Middlesex Conservative Association is asked to come to Mr. White's rescue. Mr. Elson is willing, having a promise in his pocket of a berth where the electors cease from troubling. It is even suggested in dispatches that London's veteran statesman, Sir John Carling, will be asked to step out of the Senate, that the veteran statesman of East Middlesex may step in, an arrangement that would not rejoice some London Conservatives with ambitions of their own. What do Mr. Elson's constituents think of it? Are they willing to be represented by the nominee of a Toronto ring of capitalists? Is a man rejected by the Conservatives of Toronto as a tool of the corporations, good enough for the Conservatives of the rural riding of East Middlesex? Mr. White will be putting a pretty big strain on party loyalty in East Middlesex if he seeks the nomination; but evidently there is an impression at Ottawa that party loyalty in that particular riding is equal to anything, and at any rate can be purchased by a portfolio. Will the Conservatives of East Middlesex justify this opinion?

WHERE ONTARIO LAGS.

Mr. MacKay will make no mistake in laying emphasis on the question of technical education. The lack of school facilities for industrial training is a reproach to the greatest industrial province of the Dominion. The Government spends yearly $126 36 upon each student in Toronto University; $112 43 for every normal and model school pupil; $4 66 upon each high school and collegiate institute pupil, and $1 38 for each public and separate school pupil. "But when it comes to the lad whom chill penury at an early age drives to the workshop," said Mr. MacKay in a notable speech, "the province says to him, 'we are under no moral or financial responsibility with reference to you, and will make no provision whatever for your further education.'" The Ontario Opposition has been trying to spur the Government to its duty for years, and last year put its views in practical shape in this resolution:

> That in the opinion of this House, the province and the municipalities should unite in
> (a) The establishment of technical schools in the towns and cities in Ontario to supplement the practical training of the workshop.
>
> (b) An arrangement as to the basis of support for such schools as between the province, the municipality and the interested manufactures.
>
> (c) The establishment in larger industrial centres of technical high schools.
>
> (d) That the powers of the municipalities should be enlarged, so as to enable them to aid in the support of such work.

The province would be much further ahead today had the Government accepted this resolution and acted on it promptly. Beyond a report by Dr. Seath, good enough in itself, nothing like an effective general scheme has been framed. Little Nova Scotia has left Ontario far in the rear. The Ontario Government for years has been appealing to Ottawa for help instead of helping itself. It was the inertia of this great province that prompted the Dominion Government to come to the rescue of Canadian industry, by appointing a commission to give a lead in technical education. This lead the Whitney Government ought to have given and refused to give. The record of the education department in this matter, as in its treatment of the model schools, has been one of disastrous incompetence. It has stood still when it ought to have moved, and whenever it has moved it has bungled and blundered.

A CURIOUS TEAM.

La Presse of Montreal reminds the Nationalists of their promise that a Conservative Government would grant a referendum on the navy; give the Catholics in Manitoba separate schools, and make French an official language in the Northwest provinces. "The people heard their violent denunciations of the policy of Sir Wilfrid Laurier on all these questions," says La Presse. "They heard them cry, with tears in the voice, that Laurier had been a traitor to Catholic interests, to the French language and to his nationality, in opening the Northwest to floods of English and Protestant immigration."

Will the Nationalists, having raised these cries to hoodwink the French-Canadians, rest content with the spoils of victory? Mr. Monk, Mr. Nantel and Mr. Pelletier are their representatives in the Cabinet. These gentlemen, who professed to see in Laurier the Judas of his race and creed, have been given control of great spending departments, which they can use to smother discontent among the rank and file. They will be able to stop many crying mouths with the sweets of patronage and office. Will Mr. Bourassa's voice be stifled, too?

The Ontario extremists who cried that Laurier sacrificed Protestant and Imperial interests to Quebec and Rome, are not expected to give much trouble on this score. With the exception of the Toronto Telegram and its clientele, they are more concerned about the preferment of a Liberal to the Cabinet. That touches them in their most sensitive spot, the patronage nerve. The Protestant horse is good for a run at election time, but the Government calculates that it will be tied in the stable until the Liberal party comes into power again. Either that, or it may be induced to become the galloping mate of the ultramontane horse in Quebec to pull the Conservative chariot. Sir John A. used to do the trick, but is Mr. Borden as clever?

Evidently Sir James fears that bilingual school report will make a very loud report.

What is in that bilingual school report that Sir James is so anxious to forestall it?

Perhaps East Middlesex has been chosen for Mr. White because it's a safe distance from Toronto.

By the way, it is rather hard on Mr. Beck to be passed over by Mr. Borden, and to have Mr. Borden's choice for a Cabinet position, a Toronto man, camp right at London's doorstep.

One Cabinet portfolio goes to London's southern suburb, St. Thomas, and another may go to East Middlesex, at the city's doors. Portfolios all around, but none for London. Major Beattie should demand an explanation.

Le Devoir suggests that Mr. Borden will drop the navy question until the next Imperial Conference, four years hence. It assumes that Mr. Borden will drop the navy in preference to the Nationalists, and it may not be far wrong.

THE UNSOLVABLE PUZZLE.

[Guelph Mercury.]

It is difficult to see how Mr. Borden can ever take a stand on the navy question that will enable him and Mr. Monk to co-operate.

MACKENZIE KING WILL COME BACK.

[Brantford Expositor.]

The London Advertiser is certainly correct in assuming that Canada is not yet done with the ex-minister of labor. While that gentleman has suffered a temporary eclipse in his efforts to promote the interests of the industrial classes of this country and the cause of industrial peace, he is young enough to wait for the further opportunities for service which sooner or later are certain to come his way.

OIL AND WATER.

[Ottawa Free Press.]

Some people will say that there are too many lawyers, eight in all, or nine when the solicitor-general is added, as against only seven in the Laurier ministry. Others will be of opinion that the special interests, both of business and of Bourassaism, have been too greatly catered to, but these two sections of the party played so great a share in the victory that they had to be recognized. Time alone will show how the contrary attitudes of the Quebec Nationalists and the Toronto Imperialists will be reconciled. It is said that oil and water do not mix, but in the makeup of his political salad, Mr. Borden has certainly made a determined effort to make them mix.

WHERE THE FUN IS.

[Cranbrooke Herald.]

There is a deal more fun to be had out of opposing a government than out of defending one.

THE NATIONALISTS AND THE TRUSTS THERE.

[Toronto Star.]

But while Mr. Borden's Cabinet shows unmistakable signs of weakness which even the wiles of Robert Rogers may not be able to cover up, the most serious aspect of the whole situation is as has already been said, the inclusion of three leading Nationalists, with all which that signifies. Before the election the Liberal press declared that the Nationalists and the trusts would be at Mr. Borden's right hand in case of victory. Conservatives admit today that they are there. The protests of the Conservative press would have been more useful had they been uttered before it was too late. They must now be prepared to stand or fall by Mr. Borden's choice.

HAY BUYERS STUNG.

[Ottawa Free Press.]

One class of speculators who have been badly "stung" by the result of the elections is the hay buyers, who were so sure that reciprocity would carry that they went through the country taking options on hay and making advances of from $20 to $100 to bind the bargains. Now they cannot ship the hay across the border, and are endeavoring to cancel their contracts. And the prospect is a crop of lawsuits, which will make the lawyers happy.

HEARKEN TO THIS.

[Toronto Telegram (Con.)]

Aside from the Temiskaming and N w Ontario Railway, which owes its origin to Hon. G. W. Ross and its ever-growing efficiency to Sir James Whitney's choice of J. L. Englehart, the whole department of mines and forests has not done as much to open up New Ontario in six years as an adequate department should do in six months.

"BACK TO THE ARMY AGAIN."

[Ottawa Free Press.]

Hon. Charles Marcil, the ex-Speaker of the House of Commons, will return to journalism as editor of the "People," a weekly newspaper in Montreal. It will be strange, indeed, if he should join Hon. G. P. Graham in the press gallery next session and, from a seat above the Speaker's chair, witness the proceedings of the House.

ADJUSTABLE TERMS.

[Toledo Blade.]

How much for that suit of clothes if I pay cash?

Tailor—Eighty dollars, half of it down.

A DISCOURAGING OUTLOOK.

[Lippincott's.]

"In the Cumberland mountains of East Tennessee," Hon. "Bob" Taylor says "a good coon-dog is considered a valuable asset.

"A visitor once asked a native, Bill Smoon, how many dogs he had.

"'I ain't got but five,' said Bill dejectedly. 'Looks like I never kin git a start on dogs agin.'"

WANTED REGULAR WORK.

[Success Magazine.]

A farm hand had worked in the field from dawn till darkness, doing the chores by lantern light. "I'm going to quit," he said to the farmer at the end of the month. "You promised me a steady job."

"Well, haven't you got one?" was the astonished reply.

"No," said the man. "There are three or four hours every night that I don't have anything to do and fool my time away sleeping."

EYE TO THE FUTURE.

[Fliegende Blaetter.]

Wife—"Why did you refuse to give that man the rooms?"

Husband—"He looked so ill-tempered I was afraid I should never summon up courage to raise his rent later on."

THE REPENTED PROMISES.

[Kingston Whig.]

Will the Borden Government make good the losses of the Farmers' Bank? That was the promise made by some Conservative candidates.

AN OLD FRIEND.

[From Success Magazine.]

A private soldier once rendered some slight service to the first Napoleon.

"Thank you, captain," said the Emperor, carelessly.

"In what regiment, sire?" was the instant reply of the quick-witted private.

"In my guards," replied the Emperor, pleased with the man's ready retort.

This incident, with appropriate variations, also happened to Genghis Khan, Ivan, the Terrible, Attila, Gustavus Adolphus, Louis XIV., Charlemagne, Alexander, King Alfred, Xerxes, Richard the Lion-hearted and Henry of Navarre.

BILINGUAL REPORT NOT YET ISSUED

It Is Likely That Question Will Enter Into Coming Ontario Contest?

ORANGE ORDER'S STAND

Many of Its Officers Are Officials Under Whitney Administration.

Toronto, Oct. 13.—Are bilingual schools to be an acknowledged issue in the Provincial general elections?

The Orange Order has declared itself very emphatically upon the question and there has been talk of its going directly into the political field with candidates, having as their platform the abolition of these schools. But now that the fight is drawing near the situation is by no means clear.

At the meeting of the Grand Lodge, Ontario West, at Barrie last March a resolution was passed demanding the abolition of bilingual schools. But at the same meeting the following officers were elected:

Harry Lovelock, grand master.

Fred Dane, first deputy grand master.

Dr. Williams, second deputy grand master.

Mr. Lovelock is assistant King's Printer, an official under the Ontario Government.

Mr. Fred Dane is a member of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway, an official under the Ontario Government.

Dr. Williams is a superintendent of a Provincial institution, an official under the Ontario Government.

When it comes to Toronto, the same thing is found. William Crawford, county master for Toronto and district, is an inspector of fire appliances for the Ontario Government.

Which Will They Stand By?

The questions is, will the Order be hampered in its political action by the official position of its officers? And in addition to this, a large number of the members of the Order, both in Ontario East and Ontario West, are Government officials of one kind or another.

It is two years now since the Orangemen began their opposition to bilingual schools and many deputations have waited upon the Government in that time. The Bishop Fallon affair about a year ago added fuel to the flame. As a result, Orangemen themselves say, that the law in respect to bilingual schools and separate schools has been much more strictly enforced by the department of education. This fact, however, did not prevent the grand lodge from expressing itself in favor of the abolition of French as the language of instruction in schools.

G. Howard Ferguson, Grenville, caused no little sensation in the Legislature by giving notice of a resolution favoring the abolition of the use of French in primary schools. When the resolution was called by the Speaker, Mr. Ferguson came forward with an amendment, prepared for him by the Government, which simply restated the present law and for which even the greater part of the language had been borrowed from the statute. Sir James Whitney then said that the policy of the Government was the strict enforcement of the present law.

Report Not Yet Published.

One reason given then for not dealing more fully with the question was that Dr. Merchant had not made his report to the Government. Dr. F. W. Merchant, chief inspector of public and separate schools, was appointed the early part of November of last year to investigate and report upon the whole question of bilingual schools. His special report has not been published.

Is it to be published before the election? When Sir James says that in a couple of weeks he will be able to give good reasons for appealing to the electorate has he that report and some action based on it in his mind?

These are only questions.

Local Conditions.

In the near future something will probably be heard from the Orange Order. In all probability its demands will be definitely formulated and again presented to the Government. What political action is likely beyond that, owing to the circumstances mentioned above, is very doubtful. It will probably depend upon the local conditions in each riding. Concerted action throughout the province by the order is not probable. The most likely course will be that Orangemen attending nominating conventions of either party will be urged to see that the candidate is pledged to the abolition or restriction of bilingual schools.

AFTER FORTY YEARS

CAMDEN, S. C., WOMAN RECOVERS FROM STOMACH TROUBLE.

No one who is not well nourished can be good-natured. That is why dyspeptics are always irritable.

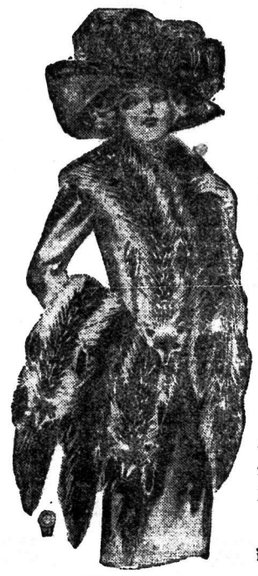

But stomach trouble can be cured in nearly all cases, even after years of suffering. Mrs. Sarah C. Ammons, Camden, S. C., says: "I suffered from nervous dyspepsia for forty years and feared I should never get over it. It kept me in misery all the time. I was terribly run down, could not sleep—thought my health was ruined. "Last spring I began taking Vinol and it has no equal. I soon began to improve and now I am a well woman again for the first time in forty years. My appetite is good. I sleep well and have no stomach trouble at all. These are the plain facts."

Take our word for it, when you are weak and run down, cannot eat or sleep, Vinol is what you need for it will build you up and make you strong. We guarantee Vinol to please—your money back if it does not.

HIGH PRICE SCARE DENIED.

Detroit, Oct. 13.—Detroit merchants do not take seriously the story from Chicago that the prices of canned goods will take an Alpine altitude following the rise in other foodstuffs. The Chicago report stated that the housewife would have to dole out 20 cents where she now doles out 10 cents for certain canned goods.

PORT HOPE MAN FOUND DEAD

[Canadian Press.]

Toronto, Oct. 13.—Found dead on a pile of dirt near the cribwork at the foot of John street, the body of a man believed to be John G. Galbraith, of Port Hope, was taken to the morgue where it awaits identification. Papers and letters in the man's pocket gave this name and address.

WAR

By Berton Braley

War—and the tramp of the troops once more,
The blare of bugles, the cannons' roar,
The waving banners, the swing and sway
Of men that march to the bitter fray,
Where glory beckons, and honor calls
And brave men batter the fortress walls,
War—that summons the soul of Rome,
While the women weep with their babes at home.

War—and the smiling fields are black
Where fire and battle have left their track,
War—and the brave blood running red,
And the sunken ships and the host of dead,
War—with its wake of wrong and wrath,
With famine and misery in its path,
War that has wakened, long asleep,
While the children wait and the women weep.

War—red war in the world again,
War with its trail of broken men,
War that gorges itself in truth
On the land's best strength and finest youth,
And all for the sake of a barren land
And a cluster of huts on the desert sand,
The Sultan battles the might of Rome,
And women weep with their babes at home.

WHITE ROSES

By KATHARINE HOLLAND BROWN.

"Well! Of my—word!"

Scarlet to her lashes, Corinna sat bolt upright in the big car. For the first time in her twenty-two years and six months of her life, she found herself willingly deserted, delightedly forgotten, and passed by.

For two minutes, it must be owned, Corinna indulged in a most unladylike state of temper. After which she gazed after her charging knight, already out of hearing, and laughed until the top-heavy hat that threatened to bounce completely off her curly head.

"Aunt Caroline said that he was a man of unswerving purpose," she gurgled. "She was quite right. Poor dear, determined Aunt Caroline. If only she could see me now."

"The Senorita is alone! Yet the Senorita amuses herself! May I not share one little thought of her mirth?"

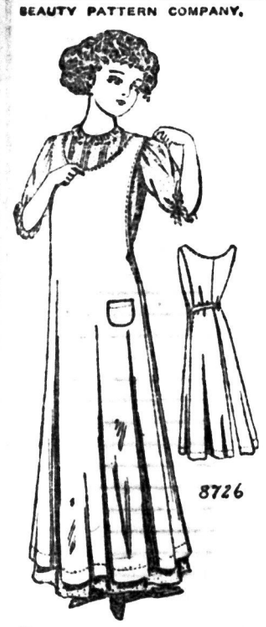

Corinna jumped violently. Promptly the hat that escaped its last pin, and rolled to the tonneau floor. But she was too startled to perceive that disaster. She stared about in her seat.

Not twenty feet behind the car, sitting his drooping pony like an image of bronze sat Cyprl, sombrero in hand. As she turned he bowed from his saddle with infinite formality. His beautiful dark face was full of shrewd amusement. He waved his whip towards the galloping Nimrod, and he laughed out, very softly. But Corinna did not laugh with him.

"What can possess the Honored Senor," he chuckled, "is he quite mad? That he shall pursue these palmid insects, while that the flower, far lovelier, awaits his hand? Surely, he is mad, or

"What can possess the Honored Senor," he chuckled. "Is he quite mad? That he shall pursue these palmid insects, while that the flower, far lovelier, awaits his hand? Surely, he is mad, or at may be"—his laughter vanished, his gay voice stung with irony "that he is only blind?"

A wave of abashed anger swept Corinna. She could have snatched the whip from his hand and lashed his insolent mouth. Then, instantly, she found herself trembling with wild, unreasoning fear. The terror that had loomed before her eyes on that first morning now drifted black before her sight, and chilled her to the heart.

She laid her hand on the steering-wheel. Then she snatched it away and pulled herself together, angrily. How could she be so foolish? What was there to fear? At any moment, the eminent Richard might capture his prey, butterfly. Then he would come directly to her. Surely she could forgive Cyprl's impertinence for these few moments. And afterwards—afterwards, the eminent Richard should pay.

Cyprl's eyes followed her hand to the wheel. He laughed again with cool malice.

"So the Senorita would pursue her runaway? And leave me, deserted, and alone? How can the Senorita be so cruel as to snatch away my one moment? My only moment, Senorita?" His voice broke almost in a snarl. His eyes glittered. "For I shall not weary you again, henceforth I shall be nothing to you, I shall not be even Cyprl D'artizo, lost of the D'Artizo. For I shall be not even the most unworthy your feet."

Corinna desired, rapidly. An older woman might have heard something deeper, more vital, than mere insolence in his raving words. A wiser woman might have seen in that drawn boyish face a misery of baffled despair, a searing rage of consciousness of his own pitiful isolation from her young triumphant world.

"Would you have me tell your fortune, Senorita?" His soft, taunting voice spoke on. "All my family have the gift of divination. And your lot will be an easy one, so to foretell, for you are one of your own race, soul and body. And your destiny shall be the destiny of all your lovely kind. In time, one of the many who seek you shall gain you. He will be a man of your own blood. He will be one of those who always win. Who heap up, heap up, wealth, power, possessions, who rules his world, a king. One of your countrymen, of that low-born tribe will climb, wild triumph, always, to the that you, for ruin of princes, lost forever fair. Yes, for him shall you be given as wife. Then it will be with you, as with the Senora Leonard, wife of the Chief, as with the Senora Walsh, as with all your womenkind, who laugh, to work, shoulder to shoulder beside their men. You will ride beside your husband on the prairie, as rides the Senora Walsh, comrade upon his hardest journeys. You will be down to sleep beneath the stars. You will face storm and cold and weariness, and you will laugh. You will cross the flooded rivers, and you will not know fear. For your own desire you will do this. You will leave the palace that your master has built for you, to go forth with him, even as our fair Senora, wife of the Chief, has done, to follow him into this rough country. And even as does she, you will work for him, you will cook his food, you will set meat and drink before him, even as his servant. For that is truth. That have I seen the little Senora do, and with my own eyes. And even while she has served him she has laughed, they have both laughed together, as if it gave them delight, not same. Even this, you, too, will do."

"Yes," said Corinna softly. Dim amusement, perhaps something more, ignited in her face. "Yes, very likely I shall."

"And so, toiling together, you will win. Always you will win. In but a little time my own race shall disappear, even to the last of our blood. And you, conquerors, will remain. You will build your palaces on the ashes of our homes, upon the very soil which is our blessed heritage, which shall be ours, forever. You will despoil——"

He stopped short. Against the cloudless sky, full half a mile away, she saw the eminent Hiller make one more leaping dive, net high in the air, then stumble back once more, an irate failure. The shrieking absurdity of it, against the boy's grim medieval passion, carried her past self-control. But in the midst of her hysterical laughter she could feel the boy's eyes fastened upon her, with their cold, piercing stare, their weary malice.

But there is one man, Senorita, of those who hope to win you, who shall never gain you. This I have sworn." He spoke the melodramatic words listlessly, yet there was something rather terrible in his very listlessness; as if Fate itself had given certainty to his will. His sheer cold tranquility held a curious menace. "One man there is, I say, who longs for you, but who shall never dare even to hope. Because he is of all his race the scum, a waif, with none to stand beside him, as his blood-kin. No, he shall never come near to hope.

"And yet one wonders sometimes to see him, this lost one, as he walks through his days. For that he is never alone; since that all men stand beside him as his brothers, even the Chief himself! May shame be on them. And may greater shame be on those others, of my own blood, who follow him, who call him their brother and their friend. The curs, that cringe and follow!" He tossed his brown hands outward, with a fling of unspeakable disgust. "Twice over should they hate him, for he is of the breed of thieves. For he has bought with his foul money of my lands, my very own, that all the gold of his nation could never buy. There he has built his house. And there come always the sick, those wretches who are better dead than living. Yet my own race call him friend! Rabl With his printed books and his schoolroom for the children, and his sick room, eyes crawling!"

Corinna listened motionless.

"And he, this dull brute, dares hene that some day he shall possess you. For I have read it in his eyes. He dreams that you will be to him comrade as is the Senora Walsh to her husband, share and anything, as is the Senora, your kinswoman, to her man, the Chief. But he need not hope longer. He dreams—yes? Let him dream."

To Be Continued.

When the World Is Young

It is probable that girls will go on making the same mistakes, and consequently incurring the same heartaches as did their mothers—and their mothers before them.

One cannot put old heads on young shoulders, and the combination, even if possible, would be by no means charming, yet if pretty something in her teens, or sweet and twenty, would only believe that the "do's" and "don't" given below would make for her happiness, such a lot of tears might be spared her.

Don't be sure that your parents are cruelly unjust or unreasonable when they show distrust of a would-be lover. Do wait patiently, if he is worthy of trust they will be convinced in all good time.

Don't flirt if you wish a man to really like and respect you. Do be natural, and show yourself wishful to be friends. If he is a nice man he will appreciate the difference.

Don't think any man who pays you ordinary attention wants to marry you, but do remember if he does that he is doing you the greatest honor in his power.

Notes of the Nursery

Baby should not be set on his legs too soon. When he feels like it he will stand walking as naturally as any other little animal does.

Peace at any price is the motto of the mother who resorts to the baby "comforter." None the less, to suck one of these ugly pieces of rubber is a bad habit, difficult to break, and it is as unhygienic as it is objectionable.

Baby is much happier left in peace to kick and crow in his cot than if he is constantly being dandled, and the constant nursing some mothers give is strongly gratifying to their own sense of possession and not comforting to the child.

New Gowns Much Draped

An exhibition of imported gowns, suits, wraps and accessories worn by living models that far surpasses from an artistic as well as a sartorial standpoint anything they have ever before attempted, it being held at Gimbel Bros., New York. Two orchestras, a playing fountain, palms, flowers and scattered garden chairs make it possible for the enthralled feminine spectators seated in the stands provided for the occasion or at the tables of the restaurant through which the promenade des toilettes passes, to imagine themselves in the Casino garden of one of the gay French resorts or in one of the Boulevards of the Bois instead of on the seventh floor of a hustling big American department store. Most of the great Paris dressmakers are represented, and their creations are wonderful to behold.

Evening gowns are particularly lovely. A pretty model in the favorite black and white combination is of black Chantilly lace over white satin, the tunic looped and caught in the back with a large bow of wide black velvet ribbon. The bodice is composed almost entirely of cobwebby white lace draped in fichu fashion. A striking creation, one of the season's novelties, is of white silk thickly covered with embossed flowers in peacock blue, and veiled with chiffon of the exact shade of the flowers. The skirt is high-waisted, coming to a sharp point on the right side, and the bodice and sleeves are of white chiffon, draped.

A handsome suit of Empire lines is of golden brown velvet edged with brown silk fringe, and adorned with a broad and beautiful collar of heavy lace. The sleeves are three-quarter length, bell-shaped and finished with fringe. A small brown velvet hat with a brim of the same lace and trimmed with a cluster of tan ostrich feathers completes the costume.

TO PRESERVE AUTUMN LEAVES.

A quick and reliable method of preserving autumn leaves is to lay them on an ironing board or a folded cloth, and after smoothing them flat cover each one with a blotting paper.

Press hard with a hot iron, holding it down over the leaf, but do not move the iron.

Lift the paper from the leaves and rub a little olive oil into each leaf. This will make the leaf pliable.

Then put on the leaves a thin gum. Use a camel's hair brush for this work.

Four coats of gum will be necessary. Allow an interval of three days to elapse between the applications of the gum. Only thin gum should be used.

HOW TO MAKE A PENWIPER.

If you want a pretty, useful penwiper for your desk, buy a little china doll, one that stands firmly. Make for her several chamois skin skirts of different length, putting on the shortest one first. Scallop the edges of each one. The outer garment is a university gown, and the cap must match. Use the colors of your favorite university, and tie a tiny roll of parchment in the doll's hand with a piece of silk thread.

The gown must be long and full and made of any wool, silk or velvet goods. The cap should have a square top, fastened to a narrow band, fitting close to the head.

Whenever the chamois skirts get soiled from wiping the pens on them you may make new skirts, and your penwiper will always remain fresh and pretty.

Two Traveling Tips

If you travel a great deal, take with you a candle and use the melted wax to seal your various toilet bottles.

Take with you also a pillow cover, made of some pretty material and fastened at one end with buttons and buttonholes. In this carry a small eider-down quilt folded over to fit in the cover.

This will be found to be a very comfortable pillow when in a train, and on a chilly journey will afford a warm covering. It can be carried by means of a handle sewed on one side of the case.

THREE WAYS TO COOK EGGS

Scalloped Eggs and Nuts.

Four hard-cooked eggs, one-half cup of bread crumbs, one cup of chopped nuts, one and one-half cups of white sauce, one-quarter cup of chopped pickles or olives, one-half teaspoon of salt, one-half teaspoon of celery salt (if desired). Butter a baking dish and place a layer of bread crumbs in the bottom. Alternate with the other ingredient. A grating of cheese may be added if liked. Finish with a sprinkling of bread crumbs and bake one-half hour.

Scrambled Eggs and Tomatoes.

Add stewed tomatoes and a minced green pepper to the scrambled eggs and cook them as usual during the process. A few mushrooms cooked with a small piece of onion in butter before the eggs go in are an improvement and turn an ordinary dish into something quite aristocratic.

Eggs a La Matelotte.

Poach six or more eggs in white stock, chicken or veal, then drain on a sieve. Trim them carefully and dish up on previously prepared fried bread croutons. Chop an onion, fry with about an ounce of butter in a shallow stewpan, add a little parsley, a bay leaf and thyme. Strain off butter and add some rich brown sauce, and put it back in the stewpan. Add a few sliced mushrooms and the juice of half a lemon. Place the dish with the eggs in the oven for a few minutes, then sauce over.

Of Interest to Women

One of the most interesting and talented women in Schandinavia, Mrs. Caroline Benedicks Bruce, widow of a painter and herself an artist of ability, lives on the island of Gotmann, just off the coast of Sweden. Mrs. Bruce was a delegate last year to the suffrage convention in Stockholm, and at that time invited thirty of the delegates from various countries to come to her home, paying every penny of the expense for all the visitors. Many of her guests were Americans.

Queen Victoria of Spain was driving recently, when her carriage was halted for a few moments in a busy thoroughfare. Immediately she became the observed of all the passersby. Among them was an American woman, who, wishing to examine more closely the beautifully-embroidered garment which the Queen was wearing, raised an opera glass which she was carrying, and scanned the Queen closely, though only a few feet apart.

Suddenly, to her dismay, she was brought to a realization of her extreme rudeness by meeting the Queen's eyes fixed in the glass—eyes that spoke the rebuke plainly, although the steady look was both kind and patient.

Instantly the glass was lowered, and with scarlet cheeks the lady's face expressed an unmistakable apology, as Queen Victoria raised a mildly reproving forefinger and shook her head slightly with a little smile, as the carriage moved on.

When the "Olive Branch," a Boston weekly newspaper, employed young women to do its typesetting in 1853, the composing department had the appearance of a parlor. The floor was carpeted and everything in the room was kept scrupulously neat and tidy.

The Princess of Monaco is so rich that she regards money with contempt. On one occasion, after a burglary had been committed in her apartments, she astounded the magistrate by stating that she never wanted her money, and did not know what of her jewels had been stolen, as she never troubled to find out how many she had.

"But," said the magistrate in surprise, "how do you manage your financial affairs?"

"Oh," replied the princess, "when I go shopping I just fill a bag with money and buy what I want. That is the end of it."

THE HARVEST MOON.

The dog days die!—summer still lives on
In sultry midday or in memory.
The first leaf falls!—the flower's face is wan,
And sunburned hands spoil a fruitful lea;
Anon yon brook purls softer down the dale,
King Sol reigns lower with each passing noon;
Autumnal breezes breathe on hill and vale,
Whilst o'er the meadows smiles a Harvest Moon.

—Charles Nevers Holmes, in Hampton-Columbian Magazine.

FADS OF FASHION.

Small and large buttons made of white cotton thread, closely crotcheted, are now in first fashion. They are placed on blouses, on one-piece frocks, on top wraps, in every size.

Good old-fashioned hand-made Torchon lace has been revived for the trimming of lingerie. It is a durable, serviceable lace, that never should have gone out of fashion.

Roman stripes have been added to the novelty list, and auto scarfings with double borders are used to some extent for separate blouses.

The majority of dressy waists are made with three-quarter sleeves, though some full-length styles are noted. These models are made with some fullness at the elbow, tapering off to a snug finish at the wrist.

As a result of a snake bite inflicted under remarkable circumstances, Thos. Williams, a planter and oil land owner in Estherwood, La., died lately. He went into his yard to cut grass, carrying a small scythe. Hearing a suspicious rustle, he turned, sickle in hand, just in time to see a three-foot moccasin snake springing toward him. With a quick stroke, Mr. Williams cut the reptile in two at the middle, but the force of the snake's leap was such that the forward portion continued its progress, and the teeth were buried in the planter's right arm. There the jaws locked so firmly that it required much effort to wrench them apart. Even when pulled away, the snake still kept its jaws closed, and the head lay wriggling in the grass for several hours.

GIANTS DROP TWO TO BROOKLY CREW

New York Hands Both Ends of Double Bill to the Superbas.

CINCINNATTI BEAT CUBS

Slapnicka, of Chicago, Touched for Ten Safeties in Concluding Session.

New York, Oct. 12.—The National League closed today with the Giants dropping two games to the Brooklyns. McGraw had his full strength out in the first game, and met with a shut-out, due to the admirable pitching of Ragon. The second game was a mixture of carelessness and farce. The score:

BROWNS BEATEN BY THE CARDINALS

Inter-League Series Match at St. Louis Won by Nationals.

Only 300 Spectators Saw the Final Game at Ohio Town.

Cincinnati, Oct. 12.—In spite of the splendid weather and Columbus Day, the smallest crowd of the year witnessed the wind-up of the season today. Hardly 300 paid admissions were recorded, so that the Cubs did not even earn their travelling expenses. The game was uninteresting and loosely played throughout. Cincinnati won by a score of 4 to 3. Bescher's base-running and Mitchell's batting featured. The score:

Mathewson and Marquard Against Bender and Coombs; This Pitching Line-Up Gives Giants the Advantage

BY GRANTLAND RICE.

TWO slabmen from each world's series camp will bear the bulk of the burden when the Giants and Athletics come head on in the series which starts Saturday.

Matthewson and Marquard of McGraw's legion will fight it out against Bender and Coombs. McGraw will hold Red Ames in reserve, while Mack will call on Ed Plank in case a third man is needed.

It is on the firing line that the greater part of the battle will settle, so the comparison here is worth closer attention than any other factor of the fight. There is no question but that McGraw expects to win this series, with his great right-hander, and his equally renowned southpaw. Nor is there any question but that Connie Mack fears this pair more than any other factor of Giant play.

Mathewson is always at his best in the closing stages of the fight. He reaches his greatest height in a post-season clash. He has been looking better each passing week for a month, and by mid-October expects to be every whit as good as he was in 1905. Bender at his best is one of the great pitchers of the game. The Indian has a world of speed and one of the fastest jumps in the business to his smoke ball.

But the Carlisle star is no Mathewson. He lacks the steadiness and dependability of Mathewson.

Mathewson also has this in reserve—the knowledge that in 27 rounds not a Philadelphian has crossed the plate against his famed fadeaway and perfect control. He will face a harder hitting team than he did then—a younger and a faster one, but when Mathewson is right there is only one answer.

Mathewson has the edge on Bender, and Marquard is a much better pitcher than Jack Coombs.

The one man who gave Mack's people the hardest fight and the bulk of trouble through the waning campaign now drifting by was Vean Gregg, the star left-hander of the Cleveland Naps. Gregg stopped Mack's club effectively more than once. Marquard is much along Gregg's type. He has even more smoke than the Cleveland marvel, and as great a break to his fast curve. In the last few months, the big left-hander has gained fine control, and is probably one of the hardest slabmen of the game to beat.

Coombs has drawn a season in and out pitching—good in streaks and only saved at other times by the rugged batting of his clean support. At his best Coombs is far from having Marquard's classic assortment of shoots and speed. He has drawn more experience and may be a trifle steadier under fire, but the Giant southpaw has supreme confidence in his ability to beat Mack's club, and this will mean a lot.

Ames will rank upon a par with Plank, for Ames like Mathewson is at his best upon a cool day in the fall.

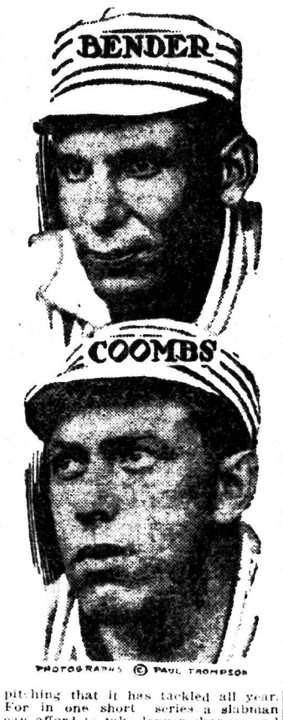

In having two slabmen ready for the series like Mathewson and Marquard, there can be no question but that McGraw carries a big advantage over his keen-eyed, solemn-visaged rival. In a short series of seven games—and possibly only five or six—two pitchers can do practically all the work.

McGraw gave both men a full two weeks' rest before the big show, and when Marquard steps out before the Athletic bats I have no hesitancy in saying that Mack's slashing line-up will face the toughest pitching that it has tackled all year. For in one short series a slabman can afford to take longer chances and work at higher speed than through the season with a long, hard stretch ahead.

Between Bender and Coombs, the Giant machine fears the Indian more. Bender will be faced with great respect. The Indian when right has great speed and an effective jump, which is hard to massage with the war club. He shut out the Giants in 1905 and then lost to Matty. Another meeting between this famed pair will add deeper interest to the proceedings.

In the pitching department McGraw has the shade, and enough edge to offset the Athletic prowess in other departments.

ATHLETICS FINISH SERIES WITH STARS

FOUR HEAVER'S WORKED

Martin Only Man Scored on in Final Fuss—Wood Does Well.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 12.—The Philadelphia team, champions of the American League, today played their final game on their own grounds with the All-Stars, in preparation for the world's series with the New York Nationals. Philadelphia won, 3 to 2. The home team got only five hits off Wood, of the Boston Americans, errors aiding in the scoring of two of their runs.

Manager Mack, of Philadelphia, gave nearly all of his substitutes a chance during the game, and the playing of some of them featured the contest. Strunk made a wonderful throw from deep centre field, catching McBride, who tried to go from second to third base after a catch. Strunk also beat out a bunt and stole second and third bases in the same inning. Danforth, a "southpaw," was given a trial for three innings. He held the All-Stars down to one hit, and fanned Cobb, Chase, Gessler and Gardner. Both of the All-Stars' runs were made off Martin. McInnis played first base for three innings. His injured right arm is still sore, and it is very doubtful if he can play against New York next Saturday. The Philadelphia team will go to New York tomorrow afternoon. Score:

OTTAWAS LOOK FOR VICTORY AT HAMILTON

President Joe Wright Will Select Officials, as Teams Have Disagreed.

Ottawa, Oct. 12. — President Joe Wright, of the Interprovincial Amateur Football Union, will be asked to appoint the umpires for Saturday's big game between the Ottawa and Tiger teams at Hamilton. The Tigers wired the Ottawas today suggesting Billy McMaster, of Montreal, and Dr. Hendry, of Toronto. The Ottawas met tonight and decided to accept McMaster, but refused to consider Dr. Hendry satisfactory, wiring the Ambitious City to this effect. Mr. Wright will probably make the appointment tomorrow.

There is no sign of Lawson and the club decided consequently to use the same team as on Saturday last, with one exception, Black being chosen to start out at right middle. McCuaig will replace Wilkinson in the scrimmage after the first quarter. The Ottawas leave for Hamilton tomorrow night and will be accompanied by several executive officers, including President Hal McGiverin and Jack Williams. Eighteen men will be used during the game, the following being chosen to make the trip:

Johnstone, Gerard, Robertson, McCann, Snelling, Wilkinson, Kilmartin, Kuhn, Phillips, Vaughan, Black, Kilt, Ryan, Elliott, Disney, Dunning, McCuaig and Hickey.

All the players were out tonight and showed improvement, though there were three or four cripples in the squad. They have every confidence of defeating the Tigers on their own grounds.

LEXINGTON TROTS AGAIN POSTPONED

Start Early Today to Clear Card—Harvester's Owner Dead.

Lexington Ky., Oct. 11. — The track was so heavy today that the trots were again postponed until tomorrow, when racing will be started at 10 o'clock in order to clear up the week's cards. "Pop" Geers today received a cablegram stating that August Uesliein, owner of the world's champion trotter, The Harvester, had died in Europe, and the horse will not be started at this meeting.

HOW ABOUT HOCKEY WITH SIX-MEN TEAMS

Great Divergence of Opinion at Ottawa as to Outcome of New Rule.

ABOLISH THE ROVER

Walsh Says It Would Break Up Combination Play, While Lesueur Claims Increased Speed.

Ottawa, Oct. 12.—There appears to be a great divergence of opinion as to the probable outcome of the radical changes, decided upon last evening by the National Hockey Association. Treasurer Sparks, who represented the Ottawas, states that the reduction of the teams to six men is only an experiment, and that if the players or spectators find it unsatisfactory the association will consent to a return to the old game with four forwards.

Marty Walsh, the Ottawa centre, says that the reduction of teams to six men will make hockey ragged, and militate against combination play, tending to make individualism, instead of team work, the predominating feature of the national winter game. Walsh points out that in the event of one penalty only two forwards would be left on the line. He says, moreover, that it would be far too strenuous for any man to attempt to do what any of three forwards would be expected to do.

Lesueur Says Not.

Captain Percy Lesueur, of the Ottawas, differs from Walsh. "Yes, I agree that the game will be made much faster," said Lesueur. "It is claimed that the abolition of the rover's position would prohibit combination and make individual play the predominating feature. This theory, as far as I can see, is not by any means correct. In the first place, hockey as it is played today, seldom produces three or four men combinations. Two and sometimes three men take part in a combined attack, but you never see four going up in a row. Yes, it will certainly make the forwards work harder, but for the spectators the game will be much improved. As to the effect of two men being ruled off, there is only one answer. A man who is continually going to the penalty bench is of no value to his team. His place is on the ice. The reduction of teams to six will make the penalties more serious, and should be conducive to cleaner play."

AD. STAYS IN U. S. UNTIL HE GETS K. O.

Bound to Get Brown Before Leaving New York.

Cadillac, Mich., Oct. 11. — Ad Wolgast stated today that he will not leave New York after his fight with Wells until he has had a bout with Knockout Brown. His showing in his former mixes with K. O. rankles, and he has gone so far as to promise that the New York fighter is in for some of the worst punishment that he has ever been given.

The champion is not doing a great deal of training as yet, but he is working outdoors on his farm every day, and as his auto is out of commission at present, is doing a good deal of road work, whether he wants to or not.

TWO SURPRISES IN GOLF TOURNAMENT

Elimination of Mrs. Barlow Feature of Day's Play at Short Hills.

Balustrol Golf Links, Short Hills, N. J., Oct. 12.—Miss Dorothy I. Campbell, of Canada, holder of the championship; Miss Lillian B. Hale, the Metropolitan champion, and two Boston players, Miss Margaret Curtis, a former champion, and Miss E. W. Allen, won their way into the semi-finals of the women's national golf championship today. In the two semi-final matches, which will be played tomorrow, Miss Hyde meets Miss Allen, and Miss Campbell plays Miss Curtis.

Some Surprises.

Two surprises marked the play in the third match round today. The first upset was the elimination of Mrs. R. H. Barlow, the winner of the qualifying round, by Miss Allen, who, although she played in previous championships, was not expected to prove a match for the Philadelphia woman.

Miss Allen made the round in 98, to 99 for Mrs. Barlow.

The second surprise came when Miss Hyde was forced to go an extra hole in order to defeat Miss Kate Hurley, the champion of 1908. As she has been doing all through the tournament, the Metropolitan champion beat her opponent to the green, and then threw away her advantage by putting poorly.

TO HANDICAP ALL GOLFERS.

[Canadian Press.]

Short Hills, N. J., Oct. 12. — The executive committee of the United States Golf Association, which is meeting this week at the Baltusrol Golf Club, has decided to undertake the preparation of an official handicap list of all the golfers enrolled in the association. With the completion of this list, it will be possible for players to compete anywhere under a uniform system. The list will also be serviceable in the preparation of club handicaps, and will be used by all the clubs which are members of the United States Golf Association. Par will be the basis of handicapping.

PETER THOMPSON AGAIN A WINNER

Big Triple Crown Now Adorns Son of Peter the Great.

FIVE EVENTS RUN OFF

Dolly S., Sarah Ann Patch, Edward, St. Yves, R. T. C. and Reuben, Whitesock Winners.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 12.—Peter Thompson became the winner of the triple crown this afternoon when he captured the champion stallion stake, the last of the great futurities of the season. This superb son of the Michigan-bred stallion Peter the Great made his debut at the top of a futurity summary during the State Fair at Detroit. Last week he won the famed Kentucky after a gruelling contest, and then it was said that only because it was a three-in-five-heat event did he succeed. However, he won the stallion stakes, which is best two in three heats, just as handily after he got under way, although it was no loafing job.

This event and the parade of the champions were the feature of the Lexington trots, resumed today after a vacation since Monday. The crowd was enormous for this locality, as many of the visitors had vanished during the wet spell, and the sport was of the highest class. Eight races were on the card, but the condition of the track was such that the start could not be made until 12:45 o'clock, so the association was lucky to get six of them out of the way.

Strength Comes

NOT FROM WHAT YOU EAT, BUT FROM WHAT YOU DIGEST.

A Tablet Digests a Meal—Trial Package Free.

Most people eat most foods without discrimination—it matters little what. Few stop to think what that food does for them. This is the first turn on the road to dyspepsia. Reckless disregard of the proper choice of foods, rapid eating and improper mastication, are the unquestioned causes of all stomach disorders from the slight ache to the malignant cancer.

There is nothing more revolting than a dyspeptic stomach—a very vat for putrefaction, sending forth its poison throughout the entire system, depressing the brain, befouling the breath, souring the taste, deadening the muscles, incapacitating the liver and kidneys for their work, debilitating the heart, choking the lungs and clogging the bowels.

All of these disagreeable and dangerous conditions are due to the improper digestion of food and the consequent assimilation of poison. What else can be expected? If the food lies in the stomach, if the system is constipated, fermentation is the natural outcome. It shows itself in sour watery risings, belchings, heartburn and painful breathing.

There is only one way to remove this condition. If the stomach refuses to digest your food put something into it that will. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are nothing but digestives. They are not a medicine. They work when the stomach will not.

Each tablet contains enough pepsin, diastase, golden seal and other digestive elements to reduce 3,000 grains of ordinary food to the proper consistency for assimilation into the blood.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are absolutely pure. There is nothing harmful in them, as shown in their indorsement by 40,000 physicians in the United States and Canada.

Ask your family physician his opinion of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and if he is honest toward you he will state positively that they will cure your stomach trouble, whatever it may be, unless you have waited too long and have allowed your disorder to develop into cancer.

Act today and begin to end your suffering. A free trial package will be sent to your address upon request. The 50-cent size packages are for sale at your druggist's. F. A. Stuart Company, 150 Stuart building, Marshall, Mich.

NATIONAL LEAGUE ENDS 1911 SEASON

Lynch Calls It Great Year—Wants to See Giants Win.

SHORTENING OF SEASON

Agitation For Earlier Closing Has Not Been Helped by Fine Weather to Date.

Boston	44	107	.291

New York, Oct. 12.—The pennant struggle in the National League was definitely decided ten days ago, but the official close of the championship season did not occur until today.

Three games were played on the season's final day, the pennant winning New Yorks dropping a double-header to Brooklyn, and the Chicago team, the runners-up, losing to Cincinnati. The positions of the eight clubs remain as they were when the battle for the flag was decided, the added days of play effecting no changes in relative standing.

Wants Giants' Victory.

"It was a great season," said Thomas J. Lynch, president of the league, as he interrupted for a moment tonight his work as a member of the national commission preparing for the world's series and talked briefly of the senior major organization's record during the past year. "I have little to add to what I said at the close of the pennant struggle," continued Mr. Lynch, "except to say that all that is necessary to start the National League off properly for a greater season than ever next year is a victory for the National League representatives in the coming world's championship games."

It was baseball opinion here tonight that agitation for an earlier closing of the season hereafter had hardly been helped by the fine weather of the past couple of weeks.

HARVARD STRONG MAN LIFTS 1,263 POUNDS WITH HIS LEGS.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 12.—Harvard has a new strong man, Frederick D. Huntington, of Leicester, Mass., centre on the football team and a featherweight among football men in that position. As strong man Huntington has displaced F. H. Leslie, the old Harvard champion, whom he defeated by 94 points, according to the strength test figured on the Sargent system.

Huntington's record shows a total of 1,302 points, reckoned upon the strength of legs, back, forearms, upper chest and arms. And with his legs Huntington lifted 1,263 pounds. He chinned himself 16 times and "dipped" 25 times. He weighs only 163 pounds, but is broad and has a powerful physique.

"I DON'T FEAR COLLINS & CO. WILL RUN WILD ON THE BASES"

J. T. Meyers

Chief Meyers, the Indian catcher, will do all of the catching for the Giants in the world's series unless injured. An accident would be a catostrephe for New York, as Meyers is the only high-class backstop on the team. Meyers is confident he will not permit the Athletics to steal many bases. He believes that catchers will play important roles in deciding the supremacy. His own story of the approaching battles gives his ideas clearly.—Sporting Editor.

BY "CHIEF" MEYERS, Catcher, New York Nationals.

In a short world's series fight where seven games at the most can be played, there is no question but the most important part of each team's play will be the battery end of the game—the pitchers and the catchers.

"CHIEF" MEYERS.

The pitchers will have to carry most of the burden, of course, and will be the greatest factors in the fight. But the catching end of it will be equally important, and even more so in this coming series, where both clubs have fast base-runners and depend so much upon speed.

Thomas, Livingston and Lapp, for example, of the Athletics, must find some way to stop such fast men as Devore, Doyle, Murray, Merkle, Snodgrass and Herzog, who have stolen 50 or more bases each, against the very strongest catchers in the National League. If they are unable to stop this bunch, the Athletics' defence will soon be broken up and the team put to rout.

On the other hand, it will be up to me to hold in check such fast ball-players as Collins, Barry, McInnes, and Oldring, who are almost as fast. The Athletics are a hard-hitting team, and if they get to running wild on me, they will soon have us in the air, no matter how well the rest of the Giant team plays.

So a great element in this series will be the work of the two catching staffs.

It will be a factor second only to the work of the pitchers.

Personally, I am unable to say what Thomas and others on Mack's team can do as they have never faced such a fast base-running team as we have. But my arm can never better than it is now, and I know I have been improving and learning right along, and I believe I can hold them in hand. But if either myself or Thomas falls down, the rest of the team will be under a heavy handicap.

There are plenty of fast men in the National League, and I have managed to plug along without any of these running rough-shod over my throwing.

If I can stop such men as Bescher, Lobert, Huggins and the others, I can't see why I shouldn't be able to hold Collins in check. I'm not saying that no bases will be stolen upon my throwing, but I am sure that the number will be few and far between.

NO MORE NO LESS

THIS TAILORING BUSINESS OF OURS IS A VERY PLEASANT SORT OF A BUSINESS TO BE CONNECTED WITH. IT IS A HOLIDAY RAMBLE FOR THE SALESMEN. NO TWO PRICES. A WHOLE BIG STOCK OF WOOLENS JUST NEW FROM THE MILLS, AND MADE IN PATTERNS THAT WILL APPEAL TO THE MOST FASTIDIOUS DRESSER. THE CLERK JUST HAS TO SAY, "THERE IS THE STOCK, TAKE YOUR CHOICE. WE WILL MAKE THE GARMENTS IN THE BEST OF STYLE AND TO FIT YOU, OR WILL RETURN THE MONEY IF YOU ARE NOT SATISFIED." IT IS A GREAT BUSINESS.

And what is more. You may visit any other store and you will not find the patterns we are showing. We know because the goods we sell were made specially for this Canadian trade, and couldn't possibly get beyond us.

There has recently been published an interesting article which openly accuses us of "Spoiling the Tailoring—The Custom-Tailoring—Business." It says that we have cut prices so in the made-to-order line that there is nothing left. We are sorry if we have deprived anyone of a living—an honest living—but we are selling our goods at a fair profit, though it is a "rock bottom" price, and making an honest living.

WE GUARANTEE THE FIT AND FINISH OF OUR GARMENTS YOU BUY, OR WILL REFUND YOU THE MONEY IF YOU ARE NOT SATISFIED.

NEW YORKERS BEAT BY WIRE TAPPERS

Rudolfo Heavily Backed in Poolrooms and Reported a Winner.

THE MONEY PAID OVER

Then It Was Discovered That Mycenae, at 40 to 1, Had Taken Race at Louisville.

New York, Oct. 12. — The poolrooms of New York will long remember a horse named Rudolfo, an indifferent two-year-old, which came in a winner over the telegraph wires this afternoon, but is still a maiden at the race tracks. It was a genuine case of wire tapping, and it cost the keepers of the poolrooms thousands of dollars.

Rudolfo was entered in the first race at Louisville and opened here at 2½ to 1. There were several long shots in the race, including Mycenae, at 30 to 1, Carlton Club, at 50 to 1, and Casey Jones, at 10 to 1.

Certain bettors backed Rudolfo so strongly that the price was cut to 2 to 1. But even then Rudolfo money continued to come in until the race was closed. There was little or no play on the long shots.

Tappers Get Busy.

In due course Rudolfo was reported as the winner, and the bets were paid. The small rooms were hit for about $2,000 each and the larger ones for greater sums.

There was no hint of anything wrong until just after the third race, when the mutual betting was sent in. It gave Mycenae as the winner of the first at 40 to 1, Carlton Club, second, at 100 to 1, place and Casey Jones third at 3 to 1. Employees of the rooms scouted about for the bettors who had backed Rudolfo with so much confidence, but not a one could be found.

Until the time that the rooms closed the "tap" had not been located, but it is believed to have been just outside of New York.

ITALIANS ARE ITCHING TO START SOMETHING

Difficult to Restrain Soldi s From Marching On Turks.

[Canadian Press.]

Rome, Oct. 12. — Advices received here today from Tripoli state that the Italian governor, Rear Admiral Borea D'Olmo, has been obliged to expel several Maltese who were attached to the old regime, and have shown a disposition to resist the innovation. Their attitude has surprised the Italians.

The officers are finding great difficulty in holding the soldiers within bounds, as the latter are anxious to march on the enemy in the interior. Soldiers have now replaced the sailors on duty, and the advance posts have been extended to several miles around Tripoli.

It is evidently the purpose of the Italians to gradually push their lines to the Ghurian Hills, where the remnant of the Turkish troops have retired. News from the interior is contradictory. Some reports have it that Munhir Pasha, the commander of the Turks, is about to surrender, while according to others he is gathering a large army in preparation to resist indefinitely.

The population of Tripoli is being augmented daily. Not only are former residents returning, but there are many newcomers, who have been attracted by the business opportunities afforded by the presence of a large body of sailors and soldiers.

STORM SEWER BYLAW BEFORE THE PEOPLE

Ald. Morgan Wants One To Be Voted On in January Next.

At the next meeting of the city council, Ald. Morgan will move for the submission of a bylaw to the people in January to set aside sufficient money to construct a storm sewer system in London.

Notice of motion will have to be given, so that it is not likely that any discussion will take place until the first meeting of the council in January.

"A storm water system is absolutely necessary," said Ald. Morgan. "Our present sewers are not equal to the task of carrying away the extra water poured into them, and it is time that we took some definite action for another system. It is badly needed here, and this council should act."

Sunshine Park. The Last North

It has been decided to place a portion of this property on the market. Knott & Sangster have been requested by several parties to give prices on blocks of lots fronting on the river in this survey, and they have decided to offer for sale 50 lots to people who will build soon, and they will sell to such purchasers a block of lots at a very low price. The prices of single lots are from $65 to $165. If you are intending to build this fall or in the spring, take the Wellington street car and go out to see this property at once, before the best of the lots are taken. You can buy a single lot or a block of lots on easy terms of payment. Remember, this property is bounded by the city limits, Waterloo street, the river, and Colborne street, and is only two blocks from the street cars.

Remember, these are the best lots, the cheapest lots, the highest lots, the dryest lots, of any survey adjoining the city; in fact, a natural park. Clear title. Free deeds. No taxes this year. Graded streets. Call and get plans and particulars from Knott & Sangster, Masonic Temple.

A few days ago Smith swallowed his tongue, but coughed it back into place. Soon after, however, it became dislocated again, and lodged in his throat so tightly that it could not be removed.

You'll Sleep More Soundly If You Keep Healthy With Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills

Insomnia goes with Indigestion.

The man or woman with a good appetite, sound digestion, and bowels and kidneys working right, is never troubled much with sleeplessness. It is when the bowels become constipated and the liver and kidneys sluggish that the trouble begins.

Lazy liver and constipated bowels quickly bring on biliousness, indigestion and sick headaches, making a sound, refreshing night's sleep impossible. Or the inactive kidneys allow the blood to becomes loaded with uric acid, which causes rheumatism, with all its sleep-destroying tortures.

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, taken regularly, induce sweet and dreamless sleep by keeping all these organs active and regular. The headaches disappear, the digestion becomes good again, the blood is purified and perfect health returns.

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills have been a favorite household remedy in Canada for over half a century, and they are in daily use throughout the world. Being purely vegetable they are safe for young and old. Made by W. H. Comstock Co., Ltd., Brockville, Ont., and sold by all dealers at 25c. a box. 9

EGGS AND POULTRY IN CHINESE EMPIRE

Celestial Empire For Hundreds of Years Supreme in Production.

For hundreds of years China was the greatest poultry-raising nation in the world, and probably this is true today, not only as regards the total production, but also in per capita use.

Of the more than 300,000,000 population of China shown by the last census there are few indeed who do not in the course of a year consume something in the way of poultry—chickens or ducks or geese—and certainly a large number of eggs.

For considerable portions of the population poultry is the only animal food used, and for the more well-to-do classes it is an ordinary meat diet the year around. Ducks are pickled, dried, tinned and otherwise preserved, and shipped to many parts of the world to Chinese who are away from a home supply. Eggs of all kinds are used fresh and are cured by burying in clay and lime until they acquire something of the quality of cheese, and are a great Chinese luxury.

There are few families in China, even in the larger cities, that do not have at least some chickens. Near the ports open to foreign trade there are a few rather good-sized poultry farms as a rule.

Ducks are raised in immense numbers on farms along the canals and rivers of Central and South China, and are much more common than chickens. One of the customary sights along the Grand Canal in Mid-China, for example, is that of a Chinese duck farmer in his boat watching his flock feed in and along the canal. The ducks are trained to obey him, and, armed with a long bamboo pole to guide them, he controls their movements and takes them back to shelter for the night.

The surplus of poultry and poultry products which China can export annually is immense. Up to the present exportation has taken the form largely of egg products, mostly dried albumen and yolks. The trade in eggs and egg products is rapidly increasing, as may be seen from the fact that the exports of egg albumen and yolks in 1908 were valued at $463,038 gold, and the shipments of fresh and preserved eggs at $1,234,785 gold, while in 1909 the values were $818,829 and $1,529,685 respectively.

During the last year several cargoes of Chinese meat and game products were sent to the United Kingdom with great success, and in these shipments were included poultry and eggs. The quantities of poultry thus exported, however, cannot be given with any degree of accuracy, since the returns include such products under the general term of "provisions." The amount is considerable, however, and it is increasing. Apparently the only requirement for indefinite expansion of this market is proper shipping and selling arrangements. The product, both poultry and eggs, can be delivered at exporting points in China more cheaply than probably at any similar place in the world.

MR. BLAKE FLAYS HIGHER CRITICS

He Declares That He Would Put Them In a Lunatic Asylum.

HOW CAN THEY PREACH?

Ministers Go Into Pulpit at Same Time Disavowing Word of God.

Toronto, Oct. 13.—Hon. S. H. Blake, K.C., was the speaker at the public opening of the 1911-12 session of Wycliffe last night, when for almost an hour he hurled broadside after broadside into the camp of his theological adversaries, the higher critics, or the "Philistines," as he called them.

Mr. Blake began by reminding his hearers that Wycliffe College had a high name to live up to, and as Wycliffe in England stood out against Rome, so now in Canada it was time to issue a "protestatio" against the encroachments upon civil and religious rights.

Concerning Dissection.

Turning to the subject upon his mind, he said there was no need of making an apology for the Bible. "In the last two weeks it was stated that the result of the scientific method of treating the Bible gave light, knowledge, made it a different book to what it was before the miscroscope and lancet of the critic got at it. "I dare say it does," said Mr. Blake, laughing, "but when any man says 'I take verses out and chapters here and there, and it's a better book,' I politely say to him, 'Thou liest.'

"Three thousand years ago," the speaker said, "David gave a more exquisite revelation of God's handiwork than all the higher critics would ever be able to do with all their science," and in Mr. Blake's opinion it would be a sad day for Wycliffe when she lowered the splendid standard that had been set.

The Asylum For Them.

"The higher critics do as children," he said. "They get a little knowledge, and, thinking that is all the knowledge, they make from it marvellous assumptions. They have no more idea of how to analyze fairly than an elephant has of dancing the Highland fling. They talk to you of common sense. This is not a matter of common sense. The Holy Spirit must be brought to bear, and these men, one after another, are wrong because they have not introduced that element. Instead of scattering these heresies these men should be locked up in a lunatic asylum. Diphtheria is mild compared with their ailment. Stand by the Bible, that impregnable rock. I do not know how these men can go into the pulpit; I could not do so unless I could honestly say, 'This is the Word of God.'"

Before concluding, Mr. Blake spoke of the proposal to revise the Prayer Book. He was very much opposed to the idea, and warned against mangling it.

Dr. N. W. Hoyles, K.C., was in the chair, and among those on the platform were Bishop Stringer, of the Yukon; Bishop Reeve, Principal O'Meara, Archdeacon Cody, and numerous other ministers who are attending the meeting of the alumni.

An interesting feature of the meeting was the conferring of the degree of B.D. on Professor T. H. Cotton, M.A.

SIR CHARLES MAY OPPOSE PELLETIER

Rumored Retirement of Chief Justice and Re-entry Into Political Arena.

Quebec, Oct. 12.—There is a rumor here that strong opposition will be made to Hon. L. P. Pelletier's re-election as postmaster-general in the County of Quebec. The Liberal organs here threaten the new minister with a strenuous fight, because they are not satisfied with the French-Canadian representation in the Borden Cabinet. They say that since Confederation it has been an unwritten law that Quebec should be represented by three French Ministers with portfolios, and they refuse to accept Hon. F. D. Monk as a member of the French community. Mr. Monk's mother was a daughter of a former seigneur of Saint Denis, near Sorel, Que.

The name of Right Hon. Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, chief justice of Canada, is now mentioned as the "strong opponent" who could defeat Mr. Pelletier. Sir Charles Fitzpatrick is a former and very popular representative of the County of Quebec, and it is certain that his encounter with the postmaster-general in a by-election would be a battle royal.

The rumor is also circulated in this city that Sir Charles' coming back into politics would mean that Sir Wilfrid Laurier relies upon him as his immediate successor as leader of the Opposition. It is further stated that a monetary compensation has been offered to the chief justice, who is, comparatively, a poor man, by his political friends, to induce him to abandon his worthy position on the bench. This story seems incredible to many Liberals of Quebec, but is given by others as a sure coming sensation.

Music and Drama

"The Fortune Hunter" Tonight.

The seat sale for "The Fortune Hunter" is one of the largest of the season. The appearance of this play at the Grand tonight and twice tomorrow has aroused more than the ordinary interest in theatrical circles. With its charming story, and pure theme, it is a veritable classic in stage construction, and its author, Winchell Smith, has already earned the gratitude of countless thousands and a place of honor in the hall of fame.

Technically, "The Fortune Hunter" is a perfect example of the playwright's art. The characters drawn are absolutely true types to be found in our everyday life, but more than all is the moral lesson the story conveys, a lesson while it is transmitting in an atmosphere of laughter, is none the less obvious and uplifting.

Francis Wilson.

Theatregoers seem particularly well pleased with the efforts of the popular comedian, Francis Wilson, for both as author and as principal actor in his merry little comedy-farce, "The Bachelor's Baby," he has scored an unqualified success. The seat sale for his coming engagement opened this morning, and the interest was exceptionally keen. "The Bachelor's Baby," is in three acts, and while the star furnishes most of the fun, and laughing moments are very plentiful, a great deal of interest is centred around a little child, who, through force of circumstances the hero is forced to look after.

Charles Frohman presents Francis Wilson in "The Bachelor's Baby," at the Grand Opera House on Monday night. Seats selling.

Capacity Business.

Manager J. R. Minhinnick, of the Grand Opera House, received a wire from L. Solman, manager of the Royal Alexandra Theatre, Toronto, yesterday afternoon in reference to the coming to the local house of Robert B. Mantell in "Macbeth," next Tuesday night.

"Mantell doing capacity business here. I cannot praise his production and company too highly. His Macbeth is a wonderful and artistic performance."

The sale for the single performance to be given in London opened at the box office this morning.

Mantell, in "Macbeth."

Singular fame has come to Robert B. Mantell, Shakespearean actor, who will appear at the Grand Opera House in "Macbeth" on Tuesday night, Oct. 17, for one performance. The classic drama lives, and Mantell's fame has come to him after having seen the disappearance through death's door of many of the actors whose names are high in dramatic history. It is a number of mantles to which he has fallen artistic heir. He is the only living representative of a school of acting cherished by a former generation, and yet he finds himself popular in this generation. So it is singular fame that has come to Mantell. Seats selling.

A Marvellous Memory.

Miss Van Volkenburg, of Chicago, possesses a remarkable memory, and this coupled with her wonderful imitative talent, has made her work a success and wonder to all who have ever seen her. To listen to a whole play, two hours long, and then immediately or even years after, to be able to reproduce every word, thought, expression, intonation, delineating each character as represented in the cast, is beyond human comprehension. Her engagement in the Auditorium Oct. 24, is one of unusual interest. The affiliated society course tickets are good for this attraction.

A remarkable tale of the reunion of twin sisters comes to hand. The girls, now 16 years old, were each adopted from an Indianapolis orphan home by separate families, and they were reunited lately by a chance meeting in an Indianapolis store. The girls, taking the names of their adopted parents, are Marguerite Veail, who lives at Kansas, and Marie Freeman, of Indianapolis. Miss Veail was visiting friends in Indianapolis, when she stepped into a store to make a purchase. She was amazed to find that the girl who waited on her was the exact counterpart of herself. When Miss Veail returned home she related her strange experience. Deeply interested in her double, Miss Veail went back again to meet her. The girls were strongly attracted to each other, and Miss Veail's foster-mother started an investigation which led to the discovery that the two were twins.

PASTOR BIGAMIST SOLEMN TRIFLER

Rev. John Horton's Papers Show He Moved to Chicago in July.

HE REPENTS AFTERWARD

Writes Note of Apology, Protesting That Attentions Were "Pure and Holy."

Chicago, Oct. 12.—A solemn and serious trifler was the Rev. John Horton, of Beecher, Ill. At least he was so painted in letters from here, there, and everywhere, which were collected yesterday to strengthen the charge of bigamy which has lodged him in the county jail at Joliet and threatens to move him into the penitentiary.

Before departing from Moody Institute to take his charge at Beecher Mr. Horton appears to have had designs on a Chicago girl. A leaf from their correspondence was unearthed.

And there were other letters found in the minister's study which will be produced against him at his trial. The documents had been torn to small scraps. With them were pieces of a photograph. When fitted together there stared forth the dark eyes of the Englishwoman whom Horton made his wife before coming to America. Horton himself identified it.

Horton Identifies Photograph.

"Why, I never thought anyone would find that," said he. "Yes, it's my wife as your man-made laws have it."

Among the letters was one addressed to Mrs. Fred Hunte, of Beecher, sister-in-law of Mrs. Horton No. 2. When the bits of mosaic were pieced out the letter read:

"Dear Mrs. Hunte. I do feel as if I would like to write and thank you for being so kind to my husband and making him so comfortable. It must be lonely for him amongst strangers, but it makes me feel more contented when he writes and tells me how kind you are. He mentions it in every letter so I thought I would like to drop you a line of thanks for all your kindness to him, and for being so good to him. What you do for him you are doing for me, so we can be friends though the sea divides us. May the Lord richly bless you and yours is the sincere wish of yours.

(Signed) EDA HORTON."

The letter was postmarked Bolton, England, Aug. 1. Mrs. Eda Horton gives her address as 59 Second avenue, Ferns Park, Lanchester, Bolton, England.

Letter Refutes Preacher's Word.

The minister says he has not seen or heard from his first wife in nine years. The above letter shows he has been in constant communication with her.

When the trustees of the congregational Church at Steuben, Wis., heard of the escapades of their preacher during his five months' residence in Beecher they expelled him. The Rev. Mr. Horton then sent the following letter to Mrs. Hunte:

"Oct 3, 1911 Mrs. F. G. Hunte: Mandy has forwarded me a note sent to her which greatly surprises me. I have always acted the part of a friend to you and my actions have been pure, clean, truthful, honorable, and upright. I regret that you have acted so unkindly, but I now give you fair warning that if you attempt to stain my character, which is pure and clean, I will start proceedings against you. Also remember, Mandy belongs to me, and if you injure her you injure me, and I will protect her with the last drop of blood in my veins. Is this friendship to turn those we love and respect against us as soon as our backs are turned and we are not there to defend ourselves? I hope to be in Beecher in a few days, and then you can say anything you need to in my presence. I am proud to be able to say that I am not afraid to face anyone in this world and will gladly meet God in the next. I am

"JOHN HORTON."

Wrote to Chicago Girl.

Other letters found proved that Horton had written to another girl who lived in Chicago until recently. She is Rose Fries, now living at Herscher, Ill. Letters sent to Miss Fries were turned over to the Rev. W. J. Davis, of the Moody Institute. Davis wrote to Horton and demanded Horton to discontinue correspondence with Miss Fries. The letters follow.

"Beecher, Will County, Ill., Aug. 24, 1911—My Dear Friend: I trust you will allow me to still call you so. For if I have done wrong, as you seem to strongly affirm, then I am more in need of your loving sympathy and active friendship. I am alone in this country, utterly alone outside of yourself and Hunks. I have not a friend. I was struck by Miss Fries' kindly manner and dared to intrude on it. Forgive me if I have done wrong, though I have yet to learn that it is wrong to ask a lady to be your friend. I had absolutely no thought of wrong. My mind and heart were and still are pure and clean.

"I am truly more than sorry to in any way have hurt her and do most sincerely and humbly apologize. I ask her forgiveness for any and every wrong and harm I have done her.

"At the same time I must say I meant no harm. I offered a pure, clean, holy, noble friendship, first as a man and second as a servant of Jesus Christ. I would have been honored to have counted her a friend. May I say Miss Fries knew I was married and loved my wife and children, and, as you count her a dear friend, why might not I."

"But I do sincerely trust that I have made every reparation and that my earnest and sincere apology will be accepted and that I shall be forgiven and the affair forgotten. I am also more than sorry that I should have hurt you and grieved you, but I do pray that you will not allow it in any way to mar or stop our friendship for each other. I am as ever your friend, JOHN, HORTON."

STEER ON BROADWAY KNOCKS DOWN MANY

Many Policemen Take Up Pursuit and Bullet Brings Animal Down.

[Canadian Press.]

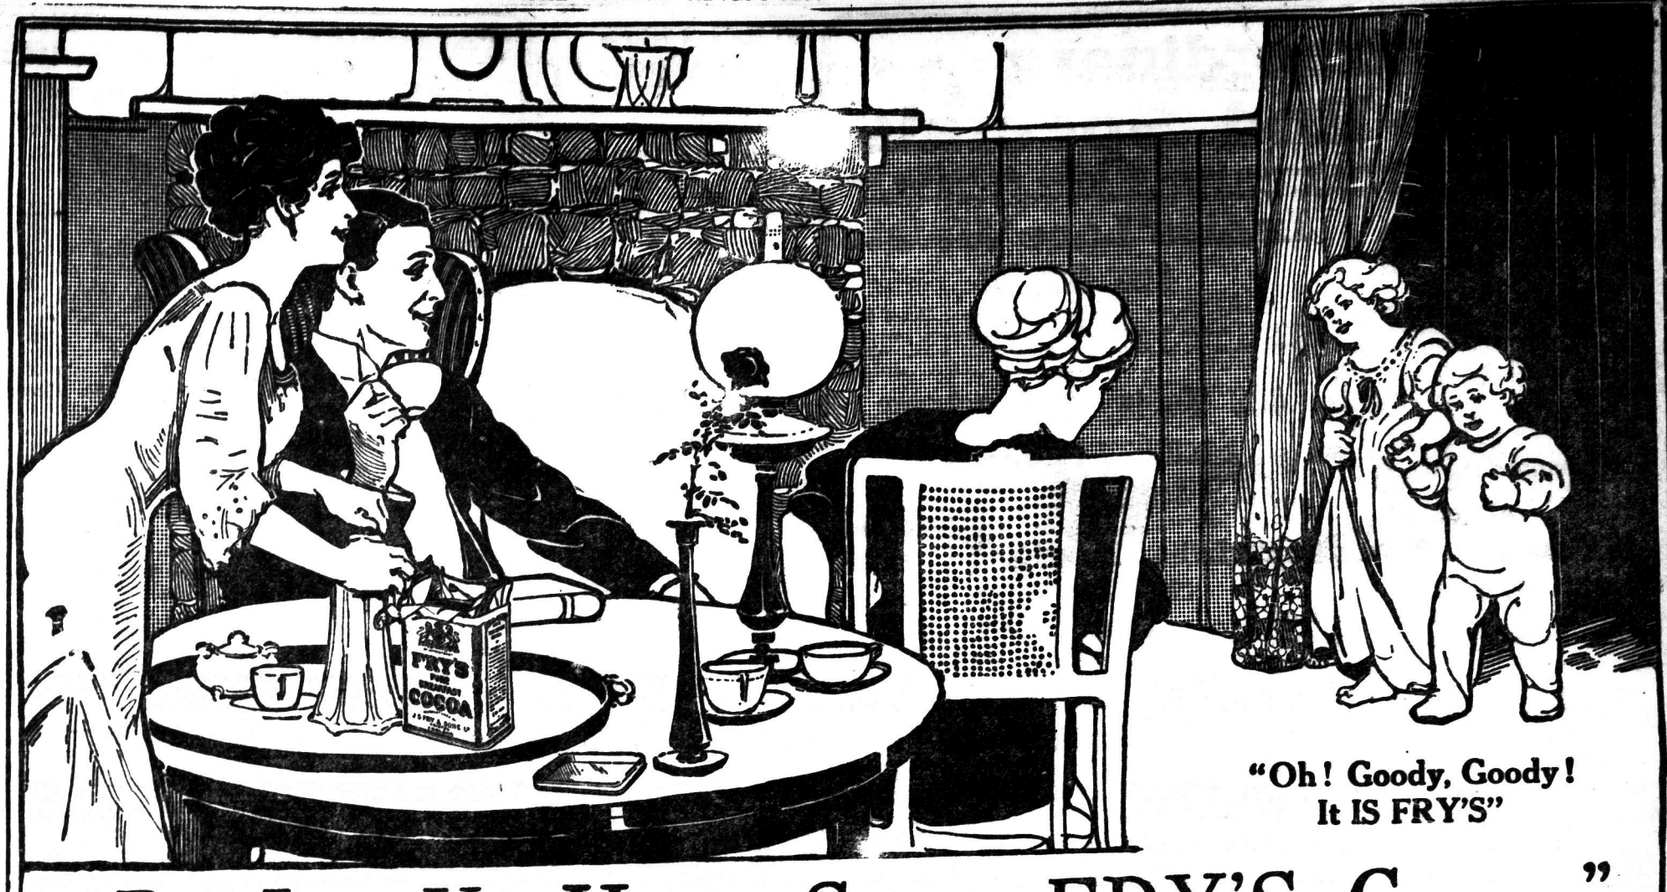

New York, Oct. 12.—A wild steer cavorted along Broadway today and bowled over a score of pedestrians and upset several vehicles before it finally dropped dead with no less than sixty bullet holes in its tough hide. The animal escaped while being driven down the gangway from a car that had brought it from the stock yards in Chicago.

Broadway was filled with men and women going to work when the steer, shaking its big horns and bellowing with rage and fright, ran from Fiftieth street to Thirty-third street. Six policemen were in hot pursuit emptying their pistols as they ran, but none of the bullets found a vital spot until the animal turned over Thirty-third street, and was about to invade the new Pennsylvania station on Seventh avenue. There it fell dead on the sidewalk in the midst of a crowd of commuters just leaving their trains.

Although at least twenty persons were upset by the animal in its wild career, nobody received anything worse than bruises. On its way the steer paused to enter the car barns of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company, where it butted over five motormen and forced the other employees to seek safety inside their cars. At Forty-ninth street a baker's wagon got in the way, and in a jiffy the street was littered with fresh-baked rolls and bread. At Forty-second street the animal banged into a milk wagon and the milk and cream, destined for several hundred breakfasters, flooded the pavement.

By this time several hundred volunteers had joined the police in their pursuit and pistols popped incessantly. The bullet that finally brought the animal down struck it in the head.

It's funny how sympathetic some people are when it is useless.

"Oh! Goody, Goody! It IS FRY'S"

"Do Let Us Have Some FRY'S Cocoa"

Is it any wonder the dear little kiddies slip out of their cot and steal downstairs when they "suspect" that father and mother are treating themselves to some "Fry's"? Will mother give them a drink too? Yes, indeed she will, for she knows that the best drink they could have, anytime, is

FRY'S, Since 1729

Throughout the world "FRY'S of Bristol" is known as the synonym for cocoa and chocolate in their purest and most delicious forms. The history of the cocoa trade is the history of the colossal business of J. S. FRY & SONS, Limited, of Bristol. It is the oldest firm of chocolate and cocoa manufacturers in the world, for letters patent were granted to the ancestor of the present generation of the family by King George in 1729.

The Bristol works of J. S. FRY & SONS, Ltd., comprise eight great buildings and employ more than 5,000 hands. The purity and excellence of their chocolate and cocoas have won more than 300 Grand Prix, Gold Medals and Diplomas in open and international competition, and in the course of the long history of nearly two centuries the firm has received many marks of Royal favor. Her late Majesty Queen Victoria, in the early part of her reign, appointed FRY & SONS by Special Warrant Manufacturers of Chocolate and Cocoa to the Royal House.

His late Majesty King Edward, whose warrant as Prince of Wales the firm held for nearly forty years, confirmed the appointment after he ascended the Throne.

Makers to H.M. George V

His Majesty King George V, whose warrant FRY'S held as Prince of Wales, has honored them with his Royal brief as King, as have also her Majesty the Queen, her Majesty Queen Alexandra, her Majesty Queen Marghuerita of Italy, their Majesties the King and Queen of Spain, and their Majesties the King and Queen of the Hellenes. A similar mark of Royal favor came long ago from France, when, in 1867, the late Emperor Napoleon, by a special brevet, appointed them Manufacturers of Chocolate and Cocoa to the Imperial House, and Messrs. FRY still have the honor—one that they prize very highly—of numbering her Imperial Majesty the Empress Eugenie among their illustrious patrons.

This record of honors is as magnificent as it is unique. It is a tribute how, after nearly two hundred years' competitive industry, the firm of FRY'S is still foremost, that while advancing with the times and adopting and initiating the most modern methods and machinery, it has maintained undeviatingly its standard of the highest purity and quality in its goods and the fullest value for money. Whatever bears the name of "FRY'S" is of the best. By no other means could the firm have so triumphantly stood the test of time.

SIR CONAN DOYLE AND HOME RULE

The Celebrated Author Gives Reasons for His Conversion.

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, who twice stood for Parliament in Edinburgh as a Unionist, has declared his conversion to the principle of home rule. In a letter to a Belfast Unionist paper Sir Arthur says:

"There are other more general considerations which have, as it seems to me, profoundly altered the whole Irish question. One is the apparently complete success of home rule in South Africa. This has had a great influence upon my mind, for the animosities in Ireland are tepid compared to the boiling, racial passion which existed only ten years ago in Africa. A second is our assurance that Ireland can never break away from the Union, since South Africa showed that every state of the British Empire would unite against any disruption. There are many other considerations which weigh with me, but these are the chief ones.

"I think that a solid loyal Ireland is the one thing which the Empire needs to make it impregnable, and I believe that the men of the North will have a patriotism so broad and enlightened that they will understand this, and will sacrifice for the moment their racial and religious feelings in the conviction that by so doing they are truly serving the Empire, and that under any form of home rule their character and energy will give them a large share in the government of the nation.

"They may rest assured that any attempt at religious persecution or financial spoliation would be made impossible (if anyone contemplated such a thing) by the burst of indignation which it would produce. There may be an element of risk in home rule; but we ran the risk in Canada, and we ran the risk in Africa, so surely we need not fear after two successes to try it once again. I believe that after an experience of a united friendly Ireland nothing would induce the North to go back to the old conditions."

COUNTERFEITERS WERE POSING AS HUNTERS

Lived in a Cabin in British Columbia and Made Rolls of "Queer."

Chicago, Oct. 12.—The decision of an expert in a local engraving concern indicates to Capt. Thomas I. Porter of the United States secret service that the raid of Nootka Island, British Columbia, for counterfeiters' tools was not thorough. Resting on the belief that Albert Leon, arrested on Monday, in New York, had perfected a photogravure process for printing the spurious $10 bills, no prolonged search was made for a printing press.

At about the time Leon was waiving examination yesterday and consenting to return to Chicago for trial under $10,000 bail, the expert told Capt. Porter the bills had been made from a steel plate. It is believed the press is hidden in the woods near "Friendly Cove," the almost inaccessible place where Leon, Marneek, and Swanson are alleged to have made the money.

So far over $400 in bad money has been reported to the Chicago office alone, all apparently made by the same hands. This came through the banks, and it is likely there is as more still in circulation.

Men Pose as Hunters.

"Friendly Cove" was a log cabin built in the midst of a thick forest off Nootka Bay, and its occupants posed as hunters. When the Seattle operatives raided it, working on information from Chicago, they found what was left of a photographic studio, but no sign of a printing press.

According to engraving experts the counterfeiting process was a long one, requiring the photographing of a good bill, transferring the image to another plate, and repeating each plate being touched up before retaking. The final image was transferred to a steel plate. In some ways, probably, the process was a new one, and operatives hope to make Leon tell how it was done.

Trail of Bad Money.

The men left Nootka Island last May and traveled through the west, leaving a trail of swindled shopkeepers behind them, it is said. On Sept. 10, according to Swanson's confession, they came to Chicago, and on Sept. 14 Swanson was arrested.

Swanson and Marneek, now in the country jail, will be ready to appear against Leon tomorrow if the alleged head of the gang fights prosecution.

Assistant Chief W. H. Moran of the secret service, now prosecuting a case in Omaha, is expected in Chicago today, and will probably aid in this case.

With the big case largely out of the way, Capt. Porter is investigating some silver dollar counterfeits, a number of which have been reported in the last two weeks. They are of plated lead.

LUCKY HALF DOLLAR IS NOW WORTH $2,500

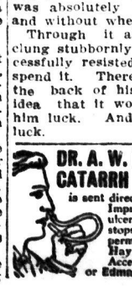

Grocery Clerk Carried Valuable Pocket Piece Since Birth.

Charles L. Cross, a grocery clerk of Los Angeles, Cal., who has carried a silver half-dollar piece of the year of his birth, has been justified in his faith in its luckiness, for it turns out that the coin is of great value, being the second known coin of that date in existence. The owner of the only other half-dollar coin of 1853 known to exist, has refused $2,500 for it. The 1853 half-dollar is indeed the most valuable coin now in the exhibit of the American Numismatic Association in Chicago. There are few American coins of greater value by record of their rarity than the 1853 half-dollar.

More than half a century ago in his native town of Niles, Mich., the coin was given to Cross as a birthday present because it was struck off in the same year of his birth. It went into the pocket of young Cross' first pair of pants and in his trousers pockets it has remained ever since. The trousers have changed from time to time, but the coin has never left his possession even over night.

Cross is now 58 years old, and his life has not always been an easy one. He has seen the time when his luck piece was silent in his pocket because there was not even a penny there to jingle it with. There have been times when he has taken the four bits from its resting place, and was about to sacrifice it for its equivalent in bread and beans, because except for it he was absolutely dead broke, hungry and without where to lay his head.

Through it all, however, he has clung stubbornly to the coin and successfully resisted every temptation to spend it. There has always been in the back of his head the whimsical idea that it would some time bring him luck. And it has brought him luck.

INSPECTOR KILLED

John Phaer Struck by Engine While Riding on Gasoline Car.

[Canadian Press.]

Ottawa, Oct. 12—John Phaer, inspector of bridges and culverts for the Canadian Northern Railway, was killed last night near Quebec, in a collision between a gasoline car on which he was riding, and an express train. His family resides in Ottawa, and news of the accident was received by them this morning. Phaer, who was an ex-member of the Ottawa police force, was a splendid specimen of manhood, standing six feet four inches, and weighing 275 pounds. He leaves a wife and five young children.

OTTAWA CONSERVATIVES TO NAME CANDIDATE

[Canadian Press.]

Ottawa, Oct. 12.—The Conservative convention to nominate a candidate for West Ottawa, the seat made vacant by the resignation of A. E. Fripp to enter Federal politics, will be held tonight. There is a big field of aspirants, but J. A. Ellis, city treasurer, and president of the local Conservative Association, is considered likely to be the choice. In case the by-election is not held the nomination will hold good for the general election in December.

WESLEY WRONG ON AMUSEMENTS

Methodist Delegates Regard Restrictions of Young People as "Great Blunder."

GOOD IMPULSES STIFLED

Give Children Right Ideals and the Church of Tomorrow Can Do Anything.

[Canadian Press.]

Toronto, Oct. 13.—With the close of the Ecumenical Methodist Conference many delegates already are leaving the city, as scores of ministers planned to occupy their pulpits in the United States and Canada on Sunday. A majority of the delegates from other countries will remain throughout the sessions, and a number of them will visit American cities to study various phases of church and social work.

Two subjects assigned for today's meetings are: "The Larger Use of Lay Agencies" and "Woman's Claims and Responsibilities."

The speakers on the programme include Prof. S. J. Atkins, of the African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church, on "The Laymen's Movement"; Norman T. C. Sargant, of London, England, on "Laymen and Home Evangelization"; Richard Lee, of Wigan, England, on "The Priesthood of the People"; Mrs. Joseph Johnson, of London, England, on "Methodism and the Women's Movement"; Mrs. Lucy R. Meyers, of Chicago, Ill., on "Deaconesses," and Lucy Meyers, of Chicago, on "Deaconesses and Sisterhood," and Mrs. George O. Robinson, of Detroit, Mich., on "Woman's Work in the Church."

Interest of Young People.

The problem of retaining the interested co-operation of the young people is one of the most frequently discussed at informal meetings in connection with the conference. Rev. William Bradfield, of Ilkley, England, believes that modern children are being brought up too much outside the home. "They have all too often no place in their hearts for their parents," he said. "I wish to protest against the cowardly abdication of man in relegating to the mother the entire religious training of the child."

Rev. L. Hudson, of New Zealand, held that Wesley's restrictions on amusements for young people is acknowledged to have been a great blunder." Wise direction and sane, interested control, rather than harsh measures or sweeping prohibition, was advocated by Mr. Hudson.

Best Impulses Stifled.

"How many thousands of young people go out into the world, unbalanced in important essentials, because at home some of their best impulses growing out of the inherent spirit of play were stifled by the crabbed, circumvented views of the head of the household. The church cannot afford to say and has no right to say that she has nothing to do with providing recreation for the young people."

E. N. Randall, of Chicago, general secretary of the Epworth League, said: "If we equip our young people with the right ideals and the right training the church of tomorrow can do anything."

RUSSIA AND TURKEY HAVING SQUABBLE

Dispute Arises Over Question of What Is Contraband of War.

[Canadian Press.]

St. Petersburg, Oct. 13. — The text of the Russian note to Turkey regarding the free export of Russian corn was made public today. In reply to a verbal remonstrance Turkey had said that she intended to act according to the Declaration of London of 1909.

As this was considered unsatisfactory to Russia the Government presented a written demand wherein it was pointed out that Russia, basing her position upon the Declaration of Paris of 1856 and articles 24 and 33 of the Declaration of London, considered that cargoes of grain were subject neither to arrest nor confiscation when addressed to Russian ports in the Black Sea or to Italian ports, so long as the cargoes were not destined for the Italian field forces or Italian official consignees.

The note includes: "Any attempt to arrest and confiscate the above-mentioned cargoes, Russia will regard as a violation of the rights of Russia, and the Government gives warning of the heavy responsibility Turkey will incur in so doing. Turkey has not replied, but as the ships with corn have not been molested it is presumed that the Ottoman Government intends to observe the Declaration of London.

Article 24 of the Declaration of London describes articles including foodstuffs and grain which may be treated as conditional contraband of war. Article 33 explains "conditional contraband" as articles liable to capture if shown to be destined to be used for the purposes of war in progress. Article 34 sets forth that the destination referred to in the preceding article is presumed to exist if the shipments are consigned to an enemy or the contractor of an enemy, but where these presumptions do not arise, the destination is presumed to be innocent.

BAN JOHNSON QUESTIONS AWARD TO TYRUS COBB

Says Georgian Is Not Entitled to 1,000 Per Cent., Having Been Fined by Commission.

Chicago, Oct. 12.—Is Tyrus Raymond Cobb, peerless batter, runner and fielder, deserving of all the honors bestowed upon him by the members of the trophy commission, who on Wednesday announced that the Tiger star had been awarded the automobile for proving himself to be the most valuable player in the American League, and had been given a perfect percentage of 1000?

President B. B. Johnson of the American League thinks not.

"Ty Cobb is a grand player," the American League executive said today, "and deserves the award the trophy committee voted him. But I question whether he is entitled to a percentage of 1000. Cobb has caused dissension in the Detroit team, and has been reprimanded and fined by the National Commission this season."

President Johnson left at 5:30 today for New York, confident that the Athletics would repeat and win a second world's championship.

"The American League will keep the world's title," was his prophecy, "and the Sox will triumph over the Cubs."

AWNING CAUGHT FIRE FROM DROPPED MATCH

A Peculiar Blaze on Talbot Street This Morning.

A peculiar fire took place this morning shortly before ten o'clock, when an awning in front of McFadden's barber shop in the Greene-Swift building on Talbot street, was discovered in flames. No one noticed the fire until it had got away to a nice start, and as a result the awning was nearly destroyed before it was put out. A few pails of water thrown from the second story windows smothered the blaze. Just how the fire started is not quite known, but it is thought that a lighted match thrown from an upper sory window was responsible. The awning was completely destroyed, but no other damage was done.

EXPEL CORRESPONDENTS

Turkish Authorities Send Italian Journalists From Constantinople.

Constantinople, Oct. 13. — The Government today ordered the expulsion, within 24 hours, of all Italian correspondents in Constantinople.

A society has been organized to wage an economic war against Italy. All Ottomans are asked to sign a declaration undertaking on oath to cease all dealings with Italians. The newspapers indorsing this campaign advise Ottomans to inculcate the young with a hatred for Italy and Italians.

A prize court has been formed to deal with the captures of war, which, up to the present time, include two tramp steamers, a yacht, a motor-boat and a number of tugs, lighters and steam launches.

SOLD HOUSE FOR $75,000.

Winnipeg, Oct. 12. — Dr. Patterson, a well-known Liberal, sold his residence adjoining Holy Trinity Church, today, to Eaton's, for $75,000. He purchased it for $4,000 fifteen years ago.

APPEAL DISMISSED.

Toronto, Oct. 12.—In the divisional court here today, the case of the Bank of British North America vs. R. Kettle, was dismissed with costs. The case was an appeal by the defendant from the judgment of the county court of Lambton on June 30. The action was to recover $279 83 paid by the bank to Kettle on his discounting a lien note with them.

PREPARED TO DEFEND

Secret advices received here indicate moreover that Dr. Sun Yat Sen, whom the revolutionists hope to elect president of a Chinese republic, was at Shanghai last week and may by now be on the scene of operations at Wu Chang or Hankow.

NIGHT OF TERROR AT HANKOW.

[Canadian Press.]

Hankow, China, Oct. 13. — This city was a scene of desolation today. All night long incendiary fires burned throughout the native quarters, and it was a night of terror for the populace. There was a massacre of Manchu families, which left large numbers of dead, and to add to the danger all the prisons were opened, and the inmates released to wander about the town.

The revolutionary organization is making every effort to restore order, and it is announced that rioting hooligans, whenever caught, will be severely dealt with.

Rebels Well Armed.

The revolutionary army is strongly entrenched in Wu Chang, and with guns mounted in commanding positions. Since the capture of the Han-Yang arsenal there has been no solicitude regarding the supply of ammunition, and the leaders declare confidently that they are in a position to cope with any opposition.

Parties of Government troops which are arriving here from time to time are met promptly by revolutionists, who endeavor to persuade them to join the movement. If they refuse they are allowed to withdraw beyond the limits of the city.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Oct. 13. — The latest dispatches from Peking indicate that the revolutionary movement in China aims at the establishment of a republic. The movement is that of the Young China Reform Association, and the leader is said to be Dr. Sun Yat Sen.

Whether Dr. Sen is actually in China at the present time is uncertain. He paid a visit to [illegible] months ago, and then went to America.

Captured the Mint.

The Times' Peking correspondent says the rebels have captured not only the large Government arsenal at Han Yang, but also the mint, with 2,000,000 taels in silver bullion.

It is expected that at any moment a sympathetic outbreak may be announced at Canton and there is also danger of a mutiny at Nanking and other large centres.

A Shanghai dispatch ito the Times gives the opinion that the movement has been weakened by lack of co-operation of the rebels, and that the Government should be able to deal with the revolutionaries in detail.

FOREIGNERS IN NO DANGER.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Oct. 13. — Private advices received here today by missionary societies and commercial houses, with connections in China, confirm earlier reports of the safety of foreigners in that country. In fact, it is stated in advices from different points in China that the lives and property of foreigners are under the protection of both the contending parties, placards being posted forbidding any attack upon the properties of citizens of other countries. However, it has been considered advisable to close the schools in the affected towns.

The missionaries who are at present at home here on furloughs say that the rebellion did not come as a surprise, as the feeling against the Manchu dynasty has long been very bitter. They fear that the revolution will spread rapidly, but believe that there will be no danger to foreigners unless the mobs get out of control by their leaders.

Peking, Oct. 13.—Consular advices received here today state that the rebel artillery has occupied a hill commanding Hankow and the rebels have taken possession of the railway station. The allied foreign marines have landed and are protecting the foreign concessions under command of the Japanese admiral, Kawashima, the head of the third squadron of the Japanese navy. The Chinese gunboats are anchoring off the foreign concessions for their own safety.

LIFE SENTENCE FOR SHERIDAN

One Juryman Saves Slayer From Conviction On Murder Charge.

KILLING IS ADMITTED

Prisoner Agreed To Plead Guilty, and Received His Sentence Summarily.

Barrie, Oct. 13.—After deliberating for over four hours the jury in the trial of Arthur Sheridan, charged with the murder of Ross Ford, at Orillia, in August last, failed to agree, and was dismissed by the presiding judge, Sir John Boyd. The foreman, Mr. James Findlay, announced that the jury stood eleven for murder and one for manslaughter. Mr. Robinette, counsel for the prisoner, signified his willingness to enter a plea of guilty of manslaughter, and this was entered on the court record. The prisoner was then brought in and sentenced to life imprisonment in the Kingston Penitentiary. He accepted the verdict stoically.

The jury retired at 6 p.m. and at 9:20 they returned and announced that they were unable to reach an agreement. They were sent back by the chancellor, but after deliberating for an hour the foreman announced that there was no hope of an agreement.

Arthur Sheridan, the prisoner, was the first witness called for the defence. He related how he met Ford on the night of the dance. Sheridan and Ford walked down the road together, and Ford said that Sheridan had been telling lies about him, and they would have to fight it out. Sheridan said Ford struck him in the eye and knocked him down, then struck him in the eyes, when they clinched, and Ford pushed him over a root, which tripped him. Sheridan said he fell with Ford on top. Ford grabbed him by the throat and said: "I don't care if I kill you." Sheridan then described getting the knife out of his hip pocket, and the stabbing of Ford in the breast and on the shoulder. Ford then released his grasp on Sheridan's neck and Sheridan rolled him over, during which time he says the wound in the middle of the back was made.

Several witnesses from North Orillia were called to give character evidence for Sheridan. The consensus of this was that prisoner was quiet and inoffensive.

Rebuttal evidence commenced at 2:55. Dr. Carson stated that in his opinion the injured man could not have walked after receiving the knife-wound in the chest. In his opinion the black eye which Sheridan claimed to have received when Ford is said to have struck him would not have lost its discoloration for 14 days.

Addresses by Counsel.

Mr. T. C. Robinette, K. C., in his address, contended that the crown's theory that Sheridan was walking behind Ford on the road and first stabbe him in the back was absurd. He held that Ford was the aggressor, and there was no evidence of premeditation to murder on Sheridan's part.

Counsel for the crown, Mr. Peter White, K.C., commented on the prisoner's statement regarding the wounded man being able to get up and walk after the stabbing. The medical witnesses, he said, denied the possibility of such a thing. He drew attention to discrepancies between the prisoner's statements and those of other witnesses. It was absurd to suppose the prisoner's story true. Witness Cable only saw one man fall, and that Ford, thus upsetting the prisoner's statement that he was on the ground with Ford on top when the knife was used.

His lordship, in instructing the jury, took a very decisive stand favoring the crown case.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

DRESSED HOGS ADVANCE 25 CENTS PER CWT.

Butter Continues Unusually Active on the Local Market.

Dressed hogs advanced 25 cents per cwt. on the market this morning, selling at $8 75 per hundredweight, whereas the price yesterday dropped to $8 50. Hay jumped to $17 per ton. Some three or four loads sold at that figure, although the greater number of some twenty loads brought between $16 and $16 50 per ton. Just why the sudden activity in the hay market has arisen is difficult to say, although it is generally known that there is none too much in the country.

There was a marked scarcity of oats on the market this morning. Old oats are now exhausted, and new oats are not coming in as fast as the buyers would like.

Fruit is not offered in any large quantities at present. Peaches are still selling at from 50 to 75 cents per basket. Grapes brings 25 to 35 cents per basket. Quinces are worth 50 cents per basket.

Butter continues unusually active, selling as high as 27 cents per pound for first-class dairy butter.

Eggs sell as high as 29 and 30 cents per dozen.

Potatoes rarely bring more than $1 per bag, or 60 to 75 cents per bushel.

FINANCIAL.

(From Charles Head & Co., by private wire to J. J. Tearney.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(10 a.m.)—There is no feature from London this morning. Sentiment here seems to be optimistic, and improvement in specialties may be expected, though the professional element dominates the situation, the public generally holding aloof. Owing to the large aggregate of idle funds, there is a tendency to purchase bonds of the better class, and standard stocks should feel the reflex effect in the near future. In fact, more interest is already being shown in the latter direction, though the movement is not imposing as yet. The news over the holiday is of no material interst, though the bears may try to make capital out of the decision against the General Electric and other members of the incandescent light pool, compelling them to dissolve. It should be noted that the corporations in the above combine had practically met the objections of the court in advance so that there is no new developments to cause worry on the part of shareholders. Foreign advices report a spirit of unrest the world over. China is now having a bad revolution on its hands. James J. Hill continues talkative, his last being a condemnation of any change in the currency law, in which he will find less approval than in some other of his theories. The iron and steel industry is said to be doing better as a result of low prices which attract buyers. The market, while quiet, has an upward tendency.

PARIS, Oct. 13.—Prices declined on realizing on the Bourse today. Closing—Three per cent rentes, 94 francs 30 centimes for the account. Exchange on London, 25 francs 19 centimes for checks.

BERLIN, Oct. 13.—The Bourse opened active and very firm today. Later prices eased and closed below the best. Canadian Pacific was strong and higher. Exchange on London, 20 marks 51½ pfennigs for the checks. Private discount rates, 4¾ per cent.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13—Wall street, noon.—Fluctuations of stocks during the morning were governed largely by the movement of a few securities. American Tobacco bonds, in which speculation has been abnormally active for some time on account of the dissolution of the company, were bought on an enormous scale at rising prices. The common stock shot up 10 points on the curb. The whole market was stimulated by the movement. General Electric developed strength, despite the decree of the federal court for the dissolution of the combine of electrical companies. There was further weakness in Allis-Chalmers, the 5 per cent bonds falling 2 points to 56, the lowest price at which this security has sold since the organization of the company. Fractional reaction was general in the second hour, and the market became lifeless. Official announcement that the Tobacco reorganization plan would not be made public this week added to the primary cause of the setback. Bonds generally were firm.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—Money was in good demand and discount rates were firm today. Trading was quieter and somewhat irregular on the stock exchange. Chinese bonds dropped a point on news of the revolution, and home and foreign rails reacted under profit-taking; but British and foreign bonds improved, and consols closed ⅛ higher. American securities were quiet and featureless during the forenoon, pending the Wall street opening. Later Wall street bought moderately at the higher level and established prices, and the market closed firm and hardening.

LOCAL ITEMS

—Mr. W. Marshall, superintendent of C. P. R. telegraphs, and Mr. R. Murphy, travelling passenger agent, were visitors in the city yesterday.

Money for Firemen.

Fire Chief Aitken this morning received two checks for the sum of $25 from W. A. Jenkins and the Hourd Manufacturing Company for the services of the brigade in connection with recent fires at their premises. The money was applied to the firemen's benefit fund. This brings the amount now on deposit with City Treasurer Bell up to the sum of $650.

London Delegates.

Among the local delegates to the 29th annual congress of the Salvation Army in Canada, now being held in Toronto, are Major and Mrs. McGillivray, Col. and Mrs. Chandler, Staff-Capt. Walton, Capt. Turner and Capt. Bevan. The congress opened on Wednesday of this week, and will be concluded on Monday.

Framing the Question.

There was a conference between Ald. Eckert and Ald. Richter, with City Solicitor Meredith, Thursday afternoon, relative to the form in which the bylaw asking the citizens to express their opinions on a commission form of government shall be submitted. After talking the matter over for an hour it was decided to call a special meeting of the committee in charge early next week.

Hand Injured.

William Toohey, a young man employed at the London and Petrolea Barrel Works, suffered a slight injury to his hand yesterday when he came in contact with some machinery at which he was employed. He was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, where Dr. Mugan found it necessary to amputate one finger at the first joint.

Visited St. Thomas.

Right Ex. Comp T. H. Baker and several Royal Arch Masons went to St. Thomas last night, where he paid his official visit to Palestine Chapter, as superintendent of London district. The royal arch degree was exemplified in a masterly manner. After the degree work a short banquet was held, at which Comp. Baker and others made short speeches. He will visit Aylmer Lodge tonight.

Women's Auxiliary.

The opening meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Church of St. John the Evangelist was held yesterday afternoon, and was one of the largest that has been held, nine new members being enrolled. The new rector, Rev. Canon Craig, was present, and addressed the meeting. An instrumental was given by Miss F. Woolley, and a solo by Miss L. Woolley. Tea was served, and the members had the pleasure of meeting and welcoming Canon and Mrs. Craig.

Death of Mrs. Mellis.

The death of Mrs. Robert Mellis occurred yesterday at the residence of her son-in-law, Rev. A. McKibbin, 512 Piccadilly street, after an illness extending for six weeks. She was in her 85th year, and had lived the greater part of her life in Kippen, Ont. Lately she and her husband came to live with their daughter in London. She is survived by a husband and four daughters: Mrs. H. Ivison, Kippen; Mrs. (Rev.) McKibbin, London; Mrs. John Balfour, Regina, and Mrs. (Rev.) Wm. Gauld, Formosa, Japan. The funeral will be held on Saturday and will be of a private nature. Interment will take place in Woodland Cemetery.

Death of Mrs. Geo. Davis.

The death of Mrs. Geo. Davis, for many years a resident of this city, took place Thursday at the home of her son, Mr. James J. Davis, 39 Miles street, after an illness extending over six months. The late Mrs. Davis is survived by her husband, three daughters and one son. The daughters are Mrs. Thomas Sullivan, of Toronto; Miss Agnes Balfour Davis, a trained nurse in New York City, and Mrs. Margaret Griffith, of Guelph. Mr. James J. Davis, of London, is the only son. The funeral will be held on Saturday afternoon, and will be private. Services will be conducted at the house by Rev. Canon Tucker, rector of St. Paul's Cathedral.

SOUTH LONDON

A Social Evening.

The Reflector Bible Class of South London Baptist Church held a social evening at the church last evening, and entertained the students of the Normal School and the Men's Brotherhood Bible Class. A splendid programme was given, consisting of choruses by the Reflector members, solos by Miss Mitchell and Mrs. Courts, and addresses by Rev. W. L. Steeves, of Egerton Street Baptist Church, and Rev. Wm. Walker, of South London Baptist. Mr. Steeves gave a very interesting address on "Power Wasted," and Mr. Walker's address was also interesting.

M'GURK MAY SUFFER FLOGGING

Degenerate Who Molests Little Girls To Be Given a Real Lesson.

REMANDED BY THE JUDGE

His Honor Will Have the Man Examined to See If He Is Physically Fit to Stand a Hiding.

For the second time within a year Henry McGurk, aged 38, a Westminster Township man, was found guilty this afternoon by Judge Macbeth of an attack and indecent assault upon a little girl. He was remanded to jail for a week, and in the meantime his honor will order the jail physician to make an examination of the prisoner to learn if he is physically fit to stand a flogging.

"I don't know what to do with you, McGurk," said his honor in finding the prisoner guilty. "It is not yet a year since you appeared before me on a similar charge, that of making a filthy attack upon two little girls six and seven years of age. The law provides flogging, with a two years' term for this offence, and I have a great mind to give it to you.

Cat o' Nine Tails.

"The little girls of your neighborhood must be protected from such beasts as you are. It is a horrible thing that they should be exposed to such maltreatment, and I don't know but what a whipping with the cat o' nine tails on your bare back would be a good thing for you. It is impossible to get of the memory of your offence of a year ago in dealing with this case. You must be taught and if nothing else can be done you will have to be shut up, and shut up permanently. I will remand you to jail until Saturday, Oct. 21, and in the meantime I will order an examination to see if you are physically fit for flogging."

The witnesses for the prosecution called by Crown Attorney McKillop today were the little girl, aged eleven years, her sister, aged six, and her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson.

McGurk and his mother also testified, together with George Ward, who was called to state that he had known McGurk for a long time and had never seen him with a revolver such as he was charged with having displayed in threatening the girl.

Kissed His Thumb.

"What is the object of kissing your thumb, young man?" asked the crown attorney, when Ward was sworn. He appeared to treat the matter as a joke and laughed heartily, but was reprimanded by the judge.

In answer to a question as to the number of times he had been convicted of theft and other offences, he told the crown attorney, "You should know; I never kept track of them."

However, he admitted that he had served one term in Kingston Penitentiary.

Mr. W. R. Meredith is acting for McGurk.

MONK IS SUSPICIOUS

Intends to Hold Up All Contracts Let by Liberals.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Oct. 13.—The new minister of public works, Hon. F. D. Monk, has decided to hold up the work on all recent government contracts until he has had time to look into the terms.

The statement that Mr. Monk blocked the sale of an island in the Ottawa River to Mr. O'Connell, of Ottawa, is understood to be incorrect. The fact is the property was not an island but a disused timber slide, and the transfer has been completed.

The Duke's Reply.

The duke replied as follows:

"Mr. Prime Minister and Gentlemen,—I thank you for the hearty and loyal welcome which, in the name of the Province of Quebec, you have extended to the duchess and myself. Your province, rich in historical memories, is usually first to welcome the new governor-general and bid God-speed at the end of his tenure of office. Thus first and last impressions of Canada are fraught with the atmosphere of prosperity and progress, which characterizes your beautiful land. In days gone by it was one of the French and English races which made the greatness of England. Here again history repeats itself, and it is their memory which makes your own greatness.

"From Saxon and Norman stock, England drew qualities of courage which raised her to the proud position among nations. Here, under wise rule of statesmen, sometimes of British, and sometimes of French descent, Canada has achieved an era of development which is the envy of the world.

"I am proud and happy to have been selected by my King to fill the high office of governor-general, and to thus be in a position to follow and promote the progress of this country. That this progress may, under the protection of Divine Providence, be continued and ever increasing, is my most heartfelt wish, and I am glad to have the opportunity of expressing it to you on my arrival."

A Kindly Greeting.

Replying to the address of citizens, H. R. H. Duke of Connaught said: "I thank you from the bottom of my heart for the cordial welcome. In the name of the duchess, I also thank you for the graceful expressions with which you have greeted us on arrival in Canadian soil. I shall have pleasure in submitting to the King and Queen your assurance of loyalty and attachment to the crown. Our stay in Quebec is necessarily short, but we have to spend a portion of each year of my stay in Canada in your beautiful city.

"Many years have passed since my first visit to Canada. Here long ago I came as a soldier at the outset of my military career to which I have devoted my life.

"It will be great pleasure to renew associations of my youth, although the country may have changed."

Rifle Matches.

The annual rifle matches of the Seventh Regiment will be held at the Cove ranges on Saturday. A large entry list has been received, and the indications are that the competition will be the keenest in some years. Among the matches to be shot off are: The tyros, the regimental match, city of London corporation match, grand aggregate match, the company match, skirmishing match, extra series (200 yards), extra series (500 yards), extra series (600 yards), extra series aggregate.

300 DOCTORS COMING TO ALUMNI MEETING

A Distinguished Gathering of Physicians Is Slated for Tuesday Next.

The annual meting of the Western Medical Alumni Association will be held in this city on Tuesday next and will be the occasion of nearly all the medical practitioners in Western Ontario meeting here to the number of some three hundred. In the past the association has brought to London as speakers men of continental reputation in their profession, such as Dr. Frank Billings, of Chicago; Dr. Roswell Clarke, of Buffalo; Dr. Futcher, of Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, and Dr. Crile, of Cleveland. This year the association has secured two equally well-known men, namely, Dr. Hoover, of the Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio, and Dr. Armstrong, of McGill University, Montreal. Many of the medical men in Western Ontario and London have been trained under Dr. Armstrong, whose reputation in surgical work is worldwide.

The meeting will open with a business session at 2:30 p.m. in the Auditorium, followed by Dr. Hoover's medical clinic at 3:30. Luncheon will be tendered to the visiting pracitioners in Hyman Hall, followed by Dr. Armstrong's surgical clinic.

A smoker will also be held in the evening in Hyman Hall, and the visitors will later be entertained at the theatre.

All the medical practitioners of Western Ontario are invited to attend.

The Alumni Association was organized some years ago, and since its organization has done much towards bringing noted medical lecturers to this city.

AUDITOR SENT HERE TO SEE THE BOOKS

Complaint Was Made at Toronto That Niagara Power Was Being Sold Here at a Loss.

Complaint was made to the hydro-electric commission that London was selling power at a lower rate than it cost the city, and as a result an auditor from the department at Toronto was sent to London to look over the books.

It could not be ascertained where the complaint came from. It was thought that the London Electric Company had sent in the objections, but inquiry at the offices resulted in the statement that they had done nothing of the sort.

It is stated, however, that the trouble arose over some of the other municipalities who thought that London was receiving an advantage in rates.

The auditor consulted with City Auditor Jewell, and the books were carefully gone over.

It was explained that the city of London obtained no advantage whatever over the other cities in the power zone.

BARBERS ARE DIVIDED ON THE SUBJECT

All Local Proprietors Do Not Want to Close at 7 o'Clock.

A petition was passed around a few days ago among local barbers to have the council pass a law making it compulsory for all barber shops to cose at 7 o'clock each evening except Saturday. It has now come out that the petition was only signed by a few of the downtown shops, and that it is not representative of the feelings of all the barbers in the city; in fact, the majority of them are against it.

It was stated to The Advertiser that only the downtown shops will benefit by such a move, and that the other shops in the city, who largely depend upon the workingmen for their trade, will lose money by it.

Another petition is at present in circulation, and will be presented to the council at the same time as the other. This latter petition is opposed to the movement of early closing, and it is stated that it is more largely signed than the previous one.

CONTRACT LET

Port Stanley Improvements Will Be Built by W. J. Hogan, of Port Colborne.

President Reason of the board of trade received word today that one of the last acts of the Laurier Government was the awarding of the contract for the Port Stanley breakwater.

The successful tenderer is Mr. W. J. Hogan, of Port Colborne, the figure being $210,000.

The breakwater is to be 1,200 feet long, and will be built east of the harbor entrance, making it a splendid port of refuge.

Personal Mention.

Mr. A. Leslie Walker, of Astoria, Ore., is spending a two weeks' visit with his mother, Mrs. C. Walker, 432 Elizabeth street.

Toronto Mail and Empire: Miss Nita Hunt, of London, Ont., is the guest of Mrs. John Foy and will be one of the attendants at Miss Gertrude Foy's wedding on Tuesday next. Mrs. and Miss Warner, Montreal, are with Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Macdonald for the wedding, and Miss Parke is also their guest.

EAST LONDON NEWS

A PLEASANT SURPRISE

Home Missionary Society Wait on Mr and Mrs. Isaac Sargent, King Street.

A very pleasant surprise was given Mrs. Isaac Sargent, 592 King street, last evening when the members of the Home Missionary Society of King Street Presbyterian Church gathered at her home and presented her with a beautiful silver pudding dish in appreciation of the services she has rendered to the society and the Sunday school, and in honor of her recent marriage.

The presentation was made by Mrs. Borden, and an accompanying address was read by Miss Grieve. Mrs. Sargent, after making a suitable reply, invited everyone present to remain and spend the evening, following which refreshments were served.

Over one hundred were present on Thursday evening to enjoy the programme and social given by the Endeavor Society of the Christian Church, Dundas and Elizabeth streets. A chief entertainer of the evening was Mrs. Alice E. Case, whose pleasing manner and effective recitations brought warm applause. Mrs. Bertha Flint did fine execution as piano soloist, and Mrs. Flint and Mrs. (Rev.) B. H. Hayden brought out sweet harmonies in a piano duet, as also did Mrs. Hayden and Miss Gertrude Hunt. Mr. Reginald Hudson pleased all as usual with his musical numbers. Ice cream and cake were served, and all seemed pleased with the evening. Mr. Edward Dimmick presided, and Mr. D'Oyly added much to the success.

EAST MIDDLESEX

other seats that Mr. White could be sent to. East Lambton is the only absolutely safe Conservative riding, they claim, in Western Ontario, and Mr. Jos. E. Armstrong is in no mood to step out for Mr. White. He was left out of the cabinet, to make way for the Nationalist, Hon. Mr. Pelletier, postmaster-general, and his friends claim that he is in no mood to step quietly out.

There seems to be an interesting situation developing. Mr. White is in the position of the first dove Noah sent out of the ark. The situation is creating much bitterness among the Conservatives, and at the same time it is quite amusing to the Liberals.

Mr. Elson's Admission.

In conversation with The Advertiser, Mr. Elson admitted that approaches had been made to him. A meeting of the executive will be called together at a very early date, he states, to discuss the matter.

"Nothing definite has been done," said Mr. Elson. "Mr. Borden is anxious for a seat for Mr. White, and I was spoken to. However, I will not do anything until such a time as I can get the executive together. That will be done as soon as possible. Further than that I have nothing to say. We shall discuss the question, and come to some conclusion. There will be a meeting within a very short time."

KEROSENE ON FIRE, TERRIBLY BURNED

Toronto Woman Attempted to Hurry Slow Coal Fire.

[Canadian Press.]

Toronto, Oct. 13.—With almost the whole of her body burned, Mrs. Esther Fish, of 168 Christie street, is dying in the hospital as a result of attempting to hurry a smoldering fire by pouring coal oil over it when she went to prepare breakfast for her three children this morning. The oil exploded, enveloping her in flames.

PROTEST IN NORFOLK

Defeated Conservative Candidats Files a Petition.

[Canadian Press.]

Toronto, Oct. 13.—At one o'clock today the first protest arising from the lections of Sept. 21, was filed at Osgoode Hall. The petition is that of Alexander McCall, lumberman, of Simcoe, the defeated Conservative candidate in Norfolk, and it is lodged against William A. Charlton, lumberman, of Toronto, his successful opponent. The usual charges are made.

A BOLD ROBBERY.

Pittsburg, Oct. 13. — Robbers who entered the postoffice at Mulberry, fifteen miles east of Pittsburg, early today, escaped with several packages of registered mail. One package is said to have contained $10,000, being sent to the Sheridan Coal Company to pay its miners. Neither the officials of the company nor the postmaster will talk.

Division Court.

The usual number of cases were aired in the first division court before Judge Elliott at the court house this morning. There was nothing of very special interest on the docket, however.

PARENT WILL NOT OPPOSE.

[Canadian Press.]

Montreal, Oct. 13.—Hon. S. N. Parent, ex-chairman of the Transcontinental Railway Board, who was in Montreal yesterday afternoon, denied the report that he would oppose the new postmas-er-general in Quebec County.

STEAMERS ARRIVED.

Montreal, Oct. 13.—The C. P. R. steamer Empress of Britain arrived at Liverpool at 2 p.m. today.

PART KITCHENER PLAYS IN EGYPT

Sent to Wield Big Stick and He Is the Big Stick Himself.

HE IS THE MAHDI OF LAND

Unwavering Determination and Fatalism Will Appeal to the Natives.

Lord Kitchener has sailed for Port Said, and Egypt enters upon a new phase of her long and chequered career.

Fully to appreciate the importance of Lord Kitchener's appointment at Cairo, it is necessary to recall the succession of events which have led to it. During her thirty years' history, modern Egypt has felt the influence of two civilians. Under Lord Cromer she shook off the fetters of bankruptcy, regained her self-respect, and became commercially and socially solvent. Under the iron rule of "the Lord," as he was familiarly called, Egypt began swiftly to work out her salvation.

Benevolent despotism was the name given to that rule, and a happier definition of the great agent's administrative attitude it would be impossible to find. "The Lord" was a perfect example of the benevolent despot, and the fruits of his unflinching obstinacy in carrying out his plan of campaign in the face of apparently insuperable difficulties are to be found in the oft-quoted prosperity of the country over which he exercised so remarkable an influence.

Then came the accession of Sir Eldon Gorst to the seat of government, and with him came the first change. Theoretically identical with those of Lord Cromer, Sir Eldon Gorst's instructions in reality contained essential modifications. The happy-go-lucky Egyptian, after twenty-five years of unquestioning obedience to skilled instruction, was to be allowed a freer hand, to be given a chance to show how far he had profited by his lesson. With the results of that disastrous policy it is unnecessary to deal now. The experiment was a complete fiasco.

The Man Who Knows.

Nobody who has had any experience of the country will deny that in Lord Kitchener the foreign secretary has found an ideal man to deal with the difficult situation thus artificially created in Egypt. His knowledge of the distressful country of the Nile ranks with that of Lord Cromer, although it lies principally in another and, perhaps in the present circumstances, a more useful direction. As one of the little company to whom the Egyptian army as it is today is due, he possesses an intimate and personal acquaintance with the excitable native of the province. This will prove of incalculable value to him in his new position. He controls, through this knowledge, what may best be described as a complete service of special correspondents throughout the country. In the event of trouble at, say, the obscure but prosperous village of Homarieh, the agent will not only be able immediately to put his finger on the probable instigator of the disorder, but also upon the man who will most readily understand the importance of an unconditional surrender of the whole village to suitable behavior.

Kismet—"Whatever Is Is."

Two attributes of a ruler the native understands best—absence of hurry and unwavering determination. Lord Kitchener never hurries. A calm deliberation informs his whole outlook, which is only equalled by his adamantine certainty of purpose. There is something fateful about his decision. "Whatever is is," is a phrase completely accepted in the East, and Lord Kitchener conveys an unmistakable impression of inevitably. To the Egyptian he will be as fate—Kismet. And there is no appeal from that. The old phrase, "It is an order," will gain new significance on the banks of the Nile.

Lord Kitchener's Indian experience, as well as his career in Egypt itself, will, it is to be hoped, result in the old ostentatious being revived and in the welcome reappearance of the gold-embroiddered liveries and the familiar cry of "Oah! Oah!" which heralds the approach of one of the Great Ones.

"The Expected."

And so the prophecy uttered by the late G. W. Steevens has come true. In his book "With Kitchener to Khartum" he wrote:

"For Anglo-Egypt he is the Mahdi, the Expected."

Unconsciously, for the most part, Anglo-Egypt has long expected her Kitchener, the man of iron will, the soldier, the man who understands her. And at the height of her new discontent he has come. From this time begins the new era. That it will open in perfect harmony is certain. And an official of some thirty-five years' residence in Egypt said to me: "Kitchener will not have to use the Big Stick. He is the Big Stick himself.

Why Sniffle and Sneeze With Catarrhal Cold?

By Breathing the Healing Vapor of Catarrhozone You Get Relief in Ten Minutes.

Every second person that you meet seems to have a sneeze and stuffed feeling in the forehead and nostrils. To cure promptly, say in half an hour, there is nothing worth using except Catarrhozone. You inhale its balsamic vapor, and feel as if you were among the Norway pines. This is because Catarrhozone contains a healing medicine, light as pine air, which is breathed straight into the lungs and bronchial tubes. Away goes the cold, sneezing and catarrhal cough cease, bronchial irritation stops; in short, you are cured of catarrh by a pleasant, simple remedy, free from sedatives and irritants.

That Catarrhozone is a swift, certain means of destroying colds and catarrh is proved by the following statement of Mr. Pulos, one of Brockville's best-known merchants:

"In the fall of 1903," writes Mr. Pulos, under date of June 10th, 1910, "I contracted a very severe cold, which developed into Catarrh. At that time I was living in New York State and treated with four different physicians, who afforded me no relief. On coming to Brockville I was advised by a friend to try Catarrhozone. I bought the dollar outfit and was gratified by the results. I was completely cured by Catarrhozone, and have used it since to check a cold with unfailing results. It is the grandest medicine in existence, and I hope my testimony will be of some use to other fellow-sufferers."

(Signed), George Pulos.

An ideal protection for the chest, lungs, nose and throat is the frequent use of Catarrhozone. Two months' treament (the large size), costs $1 00; medium size 50c; at all dealers or the Catarrhozone Company, Buffalo, N. Y., and Kingston, Canada.

Pains of Rheumatism

ARE ENDED BY ZAM-BUK.

When you have any deep-seated pain in the joints, the back, the wrists or elsewhere, place a liberal supply of Zam-Buk on the fingers or on the palm of the hand, and rub it in. The penetrating power of this "embrocation-balm" is very great. It kills pain and removes stiffness.

Mrs. Frances Wyatt, of 25 Guy avenue, Montreal, says: "I have found Zam-Buk most soothing and valuable in a very bad case of rheumatism, and also for stiffness of joints and muscles. I suffered long and acutely from rheumatism, and tried one liniment after another in vain. I also took medicines internally, but it remained for Zam-Buk to effect a cure. I began applying this balm when I felt the aches and pains of rheumatism coming on, or felt any of the stiffness. The result was truly wonderful. Zam-Buk seemed to penetrate to the very seat of the pains, driving them completely out, and I am now quite cured."

If rubbed on to the chest and between the shoulders in cases of cold, Zam-Buk will give speedy relief.

Apart from its use as an embrocation, Zam-Buk is a cure for eczema, rashes, ringworm, cold sores, ulcers, abscesses, chapped hands, piles, varicose veins, cuts, burns, bruises, etc. All druggists and stores at 50c, or post free from Zam-Buk Company, Toronto, for price. Refuse harmful imitations.

"WITNESS" SIZES UP MR. BORDEN'S CABINET

How Is a Nationalist to Sit by Colonel Hughes?—Foster and White.

Montreal, Oct. 12.—The Witness yesterday commented on the new cabinet as follows:

"Every one is inclined, when a new cabinet is formed, to wash off the slate of the past and bid the new ministers God speed. Until they have done some positive wrong in their joint capacity they are held to be as white paper unwritten on—new-born babes with all their record to make. Only the good things they have promised will be remembered against them. These indeed they will be vigorously held to. They will have abundant sympathy, too, in the inevitable contentions they will have to face and in the strange companionships they are forced into."

"There is Mr. Nantel, a very decent man himself, who sat smiling by while Mr. Jean Prevost declared, on his behalf, that Great Britain, in desperation for her position among the nations, had sought alliance with the United States, and, for that, had had to pay Canada as a consideration which Sir Wilfrid Laurier was now handing over. How is a Nationalist so elected going to be seated side by side with that redoubtable imperialist, the gallant Colonel Sam Hughes, the leading feature of the Boer war, if that is the person we are now to recognize under the title of the Honorable Samuel Hughes. The Honorable Samuel, who is henceforth to be our Horse Guards and to manage our War Office, surely represents empire, if any one does. He also represents the church militant, which defeated Sir Wilfrid Laurier in Ontario on the plea that he was the Pope's agent to make the Ne Temere decree on a free people. Is Ne Temere to sleep now?"

White and Foster.

"Then there is Mr. White, who represents the Liberals; he will have his own times. The Liberals will abhor him as the leader of a gang of traitors and the Conservatives as having supplanted in the chief seat at the banquet some score or two of good Tory aspirants to office, who have served the party all their lives, and who deserve far better at his hands than he does. The veteran and beloved Mr. Foster, for instance, has not he been booked as Minister of Finance during sixteen years in which he has been the official financial critic of the Opposition? When Mr. Foster smarts, those who make him smart have an ill time. Then there are the outs. They have always to be considered as a factor in the make-up of a ministry. Did ever a man do better service than Mr. Broder has done? Was he not Mr. Borden's armor bearer among the farmers of the prairies—nay, a warrior more effective in that field than Mr. Borden himself? He is not a man, however, to give trouble."

"Then there are the varied interests and localities that, under our usages, claim to be represented. A premier in Great Britain has only to consider the men and to some extent the classes. Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman got most of his ministers from Scotland. But here every section of the country and of the people claims its proportionate share. The Protestants of Quebec, for instance, are in very high dudgeon at having only Mr. Perley, a very acceptable man, and he with only a corner at the edge of the mat, as representing them, as against three when the Roman Catholic Mr. Laurier made up his first cabinet. While seeing that it is not all plain sailing before the new Ministry we note many fine features about it. To take another example from near home, the Irish Catholics of this province could not be better represented than by Mr. Doherty. We must accord the government our best wishes and hope that it will fulfil all its splendid promises of reform."

MULES FOR RAILWAYS

Sturdy Animals Imported for Construction at Nipigon.

Toronto, Oct. 13. — A large shipment of Mexican mules has just been brought into Canada for use in the construction of the Canadian Northern Railway between Port Arthur and Sellwood Junction. It is the first time these animals have been employed in such work in the country, and the idea is that of Sir William Mackenzie, who was struck with their qualities during his last trip to Mexico to inspect his mining interests there. The animals are much better than horses for the purpose, as they can endure greater privation and hardship, and being especially surefooted, will be of great value in conveying heavy loads in narrow places, over slippery excavations and unsteady ties. The consignments of mules came to Canada by way of Duluth and Port Arthur, and has now been shipped to Nipigon and other points east.

Not Talk But Action Has Made Ours the Largest and Best Clothing Store in the City

IT IS EASY enough for any store to praise its own merchandise, and, to judge by the printed utterances of some stores, one would imagine that theirs was the only clothing worth buying. It is not what a store says, however, but what it does, that counts. You can't build a great business on a foundation of newspaper talk. You must produce the goods.

For over fifty years we've produced the goods to back up every claim we ever made in our advertisements. We've produced the sort of Clothing that has given thorough satisfaction. And, because we make all of it ourselves, we are able to sell it directly to the wearer without having to add the middleman's usual profit to our prices.

Consequently our prices are one-fourth to one-third less than those of any other store.

This is why our clothing business has become the greatest in Canada.

We don't deny that you can buy good clothing elsewhere. You can—plenty of it. But you can't buy elsewhere any clothing as good as ours for anything like our low prices.

A little investigating on your part will convince you that you can spend your money for clothing to the best advantage at Grafton's.

Our variety of new fall styles is immense, and we can please and fit any man's fancy and pocketbook.

Every Grafton garment bears the union label.

Suits at $5.00 to $22.00
Overcoats at $6.50 to $25
Trousers at $1.00 to $5.95
Raincoats at $4.95 to $20

Our Boys' Clothing Department is at its best.

Mothers will be pleased at our large showing.

POWER PLAN SEEMS A GREAT HANDICAP

The Owen Sound Businessmen Think That Present Scheme Is Unjust to Them.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Owen Sound, Oct. 12.—There is a great deal of lively discussion going on at the present time among local businessmen and others interested in regard to Niagara power, and the opinion is freely expressed that it is an injustice to ask Owen Sound people to pay between $50 and $60 per horsepower for the power they use, generated from coal, and then make them also pay their share in the cost of Niagara power which benefits their rivals in business. The declarations of Hon. A. G. MacKay has aroused the greatest interest here.

The coming election is also keenly discussed, and merchants are particularly emphatic against the date selected. They think that it would not have interfered nearly so much with business had the elections been held towards the end of January.

GOLD IN YUKON

Four and a Half Millions Production For Present Year.

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 12.—Gold production of the Yukon district this year will be about $4,500,000, or about $250,000 in excess of the output in 1910, according to E. E. Stockton, of the auditor-general's department at Ottawa, who has returned from Dawson. Mr. Stockton had exceptional facilities for gaining correct information, as he audited all the Government accounts, including the gold royalties of 2 1-2 per cent. The Yukon Gold Company, controlled by the Guggenheimers, had seven dredges in operation this past season, which has not yet closed, and were also extracting gold by other methods. Other companies are also doing considerable work. Mr. Stockton looks for a slow but steady increase of gold production in the Yukon.

INJURED AT NEW YORK.

New York, Oct. 12.—Mrs. Mary Frances Gurney, aged 63, wife of Mr. Edward Gurney, president of the Gurney Foundry Company, 44 Walmer road, Toronto, was seriously injured about 10 o'clock this morning, when a taxicab in which she was driving to her hotel was overturned in collision with another taxicab at the corner of Eighth avenue and Twenty-third street. Mrs. Gurney was removed to the New York Hospital, where it was found she had fractured a rib and her left hip was seriously bruised.

HOW DAYTON LADIES CURE THEIR CORN-PINCHED TOES.

Miss M. Lukey, of Zena avenue, Dayton, Ohio, writes: "Before using 'Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor,' I was quite laid up with corns, and could not even stand the pressure of a loosely buttoned shoe. I applied Putnam's 'Extractor,' and in a miraculously short time I was completely cured. I take great pleasure in recommending your valuable remedy to my friends." TEACHER IS MISSING DISTRICT IS ALARMED

Woods at Dillon Port Searched and River Dragged In Vain.

Parry Sound, Oct. 12.—The disappearance of Miss Violet Smith, aged 19, school teacher, from Dillon Port, 25 miles from here, has caused great excitement in that locality. The woods have been searched and the river dragged in vain.

Miss Smith, in answer to an advertisement, was accepted as teacher for the dozen children of school age in the settlement. She began her duties about five weeks ago, coming from Toronto, where she boarded with her sisters on McGill street or Mutual street. She had attended the Normal School during the past year, and was a girl of unusual ability. She came formerly from Collingwood.

Monday morning at 7:30 she left her boarding-house without hat or coat, and since then has not been seen or heard of, although a provincial police officer has assisted in the search.

OLDEST ACTRESS, HER EXPERIENCES

Mrs. Annie Yeamans Tells of Earlier Days of American Stage Life.

TOURING IN AUSTRAILA

Climbing Mountainside During Thunderstorm—An Expert With the Needle.

Brooklyn, Oct. 12.—A dainty, 76-year-old danseuse skipped lightly down to the footlights on the stage of the Orpheum yesterday and tripped back again, smiling and clasping in her hands the only floral offering of the afternoon. And everyone in the place thought she well deserved her bunch of roses.

"Do you find that the audiences grow different with the years — like different kinds of things?" she was asked after she had gone back to her dressing-room, still hugging her roses.

"Well——" she laughed, half-shyly. "They take anything from me! I'm so glad."

The little, 76-year-old—that is, she will be 76 on the 19th of next month, and she's much more than just a danseuse, as she was called in the first paragraph, for she's a singer as well, and a wit and an actress, and a very dear old lady all in one—this little old "grandmother of the stage," is, of course, Mrs. Annie Yeamans.

"I always am glad to get back to Brooklyn," Mrs. Yeamans went on. It wasn't the voice of the rising actress, trying to flatter a town, with the publicity agent in mind. It was a tone of real, friendly interest. "It is such a cordial place. It always receives me well. And then I have a number of close friends over here—old friends of years' standing.

"I lived in Brooklyn two whole seasons at one time—in the 60s."

"The 60s?"

"Oh, yes. I came to America in '67, and I played with Mrs. Conway's company in her theatre here in '68 and '69. It was a stock company, and I played 'second old woman.'"

"Second old woman—40 years ago!"

"Yes"—laughing—"and last year I played the part of a stenographer. That's how things go on the stage. And forty years ago I wasn't beginning, you know. I have been playing for 66 years. I started when I was 10."

"In old women's parts?"

"In children's parts. And let me tell you we were trained in those days. We began younger as a rule than actresses nowadays. There wasn't any Gerry Society; and the mistress of the ballet tought us how to behave in every little thing. She taught us how to enter a room, how to bow, how to receive a letter—all the little details of conduct. Now——! A manager takes a girl from behind a counter. Says, 'You're just the type I need.' She's supposed to know how to behave without any training in that line.

"Oh, the girls of today have SO much to do. They get so tired. They have such a hard time. I wonder what a star would say who had to work as I did when travelling with a company in Australia. How would she like to have to climb up through a thunderstorm on a mountainside, seated in an old buggy? Or wash out her own clothes? Or cook the meals for the company? I actually had to do that. We'd build a fire and the men would hang their pails — they were dinner pails—on a cross stick between two forked sticks. I'd throw in the tea when the water was hot—no milk. Couldn't get it. I'd bake potatoes by putting them in the ashes. They were great times. And today—why the girls don't even have to make their own dresses!"

"And you did?"

"Of course; every stitch."

"And she's an expert needlewoman yet," chimed in her companion, Mrs. Fox.

"Oh—show my new dress, my dear. I'm going to wear it tonight."

A handsome jet-covered robe, with touches of soft violet here and there, was brought forth for inspection and duly admired. It was truly a lovely gown, and the aged comedienne was as proud of it as any young girl might be.

"But you didn't make this yourself?"

"Oh, no, indeed. I don't do that any more."

Then she went on with a lot of fascinating reminiscences of the days of Booth—with whom she played — and of her earlier circus performances in Australia and Japan and Java and Shanghai—where the troupe was stranded — and of the later successes with the famous Harrigan and Hart.

"I was with them twenty years," she said. "Twice I left them. The first time I struck because they were not giving me enough money. Sounds quite modern, doesn't it? Well, I was doing all the big parts and they were giving $20 more a week to the other woman of the company, who did less. I asked for as much as they gave her —that was all. When they refused I left. I got another place immediately. I had to have the money, for I had just mortgaged my salary for two years to bring my old father and mother on from Australia. That was a tremendous trip for those days, and they were quite helpless, poor dears, unless I could support them. The next year Harrigan and Hart sent for me in a hurry and told me I could go back at my own price. And I tell you, I put it high! But he was a wonderful man—Harrigan. No one else wrote the contemporary character so well."

"And how do you keep so young and active?" Mrs. Yeamans was asked at the close.

"My dear, I'm a Christian Scientist. That keeps me young and well and happy. All Christian Scientists are happy and have cheerful dispositions."

THREE-GUN TURRETS FOR U. S. BATTLESHIPS

Craft Now Building Will Have Ten 14-Inch Guns.

Washington, Oct. 12. — The naval authorities have decided to equip the two new battleships authorized in the last naval appropriation bill, with three-gun turrets, the same as is being used on the new ships of Italy, Austria and Russia. The three-gun turret will be placed at the bow and the stern. Behind each of these triple-gun turrets will be built a twin-gun turret, and this combination of turrets, all standing along the centre line of the ship, will provide each of the new battleships with a main battery of ten 14-inch guns.

By this arrangement the same number of big guns can be carried in one less turret than on previous battleships. The battleship Texas, under construction at Newport News, Va., and the New York at the New York navy yard, will be provided ten 14-inch guns, but they will be distributed in five turrets, which will enable them to fire all ten guns in a single broadside, but only four guns forward or aft simultaneously. The advantage claimed for the triple-gun turret, is that a greater fore and aft fire can be obtained without increasing the number of large guns on the vessel. The guns will be arranged on two tiers within each turret, two guns in the lower and one in the upper tier.

Between the bow and stern, triple-gun turrets will be two twin-gun turrets, elevated to enable their guns to fire over the top of the three-gun turrets. Two turrets, one containing three 14-inch guns and the other two 14-inch guns, will fire ahead. The other two turrets will be similarly arranged at the stern. The result is a gain of one gun either in fore or aft firing.

The new 14-inch guns are capable of discharging a projectile weighing 1,500 pounds and to hurl it through the latest armor belting at 9,000 yards. The new vessels equipped with the guns and new turrets will be able to throw 7,500 pounds of steel in a salvo ahead, when an enemy tries to cross their bows, or astern when chased by the enemy. In previous ships, the maximum is a salvo of four guns.

To shoot his favorite daughter while he was asleep was the unfortunate act of Rafelle Richetti, of Brooklyn, N. Y., a few nights ago. The girl, Rosa, who is 19, is in a critical condition. Richetti shot her while walking in his sleep and dreaming of a scene he had witnessed at a moving picture show a few hours before. The report of the pistol awoke the father, and, realizing what he had done, he sent a bullet into his own brain. Both father and daughter were hurried to the hospital, where strenuous efforts were made to save both, but the man only lived a few hours.

BRITISH CONSUL MANY-SIDED MAN

His Duties Range From Those of the Judge to the Samaritan.

A FRIEND OF SAILORS

Must Take Charge of Wrecks and Ranks as Captain in Navy.

Many and varied are the duties of British consuls in foreign parts. The labors of a British consul appear to be unending, and his responsibilities are correspondingly great. Actually he is a judge, attorney, clergyman, author, a good Samaritan and a jack-of-all-trades.

He has little to do with political affairs as he is kept so well occupied in protecting trade and looking after the interests of British merchants. At the same time he must keep the Secretary of State informed of any great events occurring in the district in which he resides; for this reason British consuls on the smaller South American republics are kept well occupied owing to the number of disturbances.

It is difficult to state were his duties begin, but he has to be well acquainted with the British mercantile system, and its special rules and regulations, while he also has to have a good knowledge of the laws and customs of the country in which he resides, of course.

Then he has to keep the Government fully posted upon all matters concerning the commerce of his district. For instance, if he thinks there is an opening for British-made waistcoats he has to make a note of the fact and inform the home authorities. Should there be any changes by which certain British commodities might find a sale, he must write home to that effect.

One of his most important duties is sending home his annual trade reports on the 31st of March each year. Some of these reports form little volumes in themselves, and usually contain a vast amount of interesting matter regarding the country, with especial reference to its commerce.

All the British subjects stationed at his port look to him as a sort of father general; he not only marries them, but registers their births and deaths, and sends a yearly return to the home Government. When he acts the part of clergyman in marrying two British subjects, the marriage is as valid as if it took place in St. George's, Hanover Square.

Then he is entitled to perform all the acts of a solicitor, as well as of a commissioner of oaths, and has to obey a large number of instructions with regard to the way he fills up the various legal documents. Thus, if the document consists of more than one sheet, his instructions tell him that he must unite his various sheets by means of tape, which has to be sealed with his official seal placed upon wax or a wafer.

When any British subject is in trouble he naturally flies to the consul, who does all in his power to help him, even going so far as to report the matter to the British ambassador in the country where he is stationed. If a seaman is wrecked, for instance, or has received rascally treatment, he applies to the nearest consul, who affords him relief, and, if possible, provides the means of sending him home.

Sailors always find a friend in the consul, who will even help them in making their wills, and will look after their property. One of his duties is to explain to sailors the full meaning of their agreements, and he has to see that they are not imposed upon, or wronged in any way.

The consul also examines the various papers regarding any British ships which may come to his port, and he places his services at the disposal of the captains with regard to informing them where they may obtain stores, and what not. Then he will settle the pilotage and harbor dues, and keep a tight lookout on any alterations with regard to the various lights, buoys, etc.

Should a British vessel be wrecked on the shores, he practically has to take charge, and see that the wreckage is brought to shore. When one of our British men-of-war enter his port he has to pay a call, and he ranks with a captain in the navy. A vice-consul, however, only ranks with a lieutenant of eight years' standing.

In various countries he acts also as a judge, the various parties to litigation presenting their case to him, and not to the native court. Actually the consulate is considered as being British ground, and therefore any acts done there are as binding as though they took place in England.

Some consuls are allowed to trade. Those in the regular service who have passed examinations do not trade, but, on the other hand, they are exempt from the taxes of the country.

Among the best paid positions are those in China, the other parts of the Far East, and the Levant, as a high remuneration has to be given in the case of a man who is practically cut off from civilization, and who runs great risks of his health, and even his life. Before such a consul is appointed he is sent out as a student interpreter, after having been trained in England with especial reference to the language.

The salary a consul may get may vary from anything between $500 to $10,000 a year, a student interpreter beginning at about $1,000 a year. Of course, the lower salaries are paid to vice-consuls who follow other occupations. Then, of course, a consul is entitled to a pension and various leaves of absence, according to the country in which he resides.

HERE'S A MODEL GIRL

Stenographer Chews No Gum and Is Never Late.

The city hall boasts of at least one stenographer who never chews gum, who doesn't carry a powder puff in her pocketbook, who doesn't carry a pocket mirror, and who never has been late for work.

She is Miss Lena Cohn, secretary to John E. Traeger, city comptroller. She was first on the civil service eligible list when appointed, and, while it was thought the work would be too exacting and too tedious for a woman, it was soon found that it never was done better or handled more quickly than after Miss Cohn took charge.

"I credit myself with being an early riser," said Mr. Traeger. "I never arrive at the office late without good reason, and I find reasons sufficiently good very rare. I do not remember a day since I have taken office that I was down before Miss Cohn was on hand. I don't think there is a more punctual stenographer in the city hall."

Miss Cohn, besides being a good stenographer, is a rapid operator of the large billing machines on which the great mass of statistical information of the comptroller's office is prepared.

"The reason I don't chew gum is that I don't want to," said Miss Cohn. "I don't see any particular harm in it, but it doesn't look well, and I've noticed that those who are always chewing gum never seem to have their minds concentrated on anything very long. The girl who can't get along without chewing gum is almost as bad as the man who can't let along without chewing gum ette.

"I don't think it sensible for girls to waste much time on powder puffs and pocket mirrors. It's proper enough to be neat and tidy, but why be foolish about it? I don't think it worth while."—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

LONDON HOTEL PRICES RAISED ALL ROUND

But the Hotelmen Claim That the Five Per Cent. Tax Was Not the Cause.

Toronto, Oct. 11.—Hon. W. J. Hanna was waited upon by a deputation of the Ontario Licensed Victuallers' Association today who assured him that the hotels of the province had not raised their room rates because the Government had imposed the tax of 5 per cent. on bar receipts. The deputation included Thomas Hassard and George Wright, and were accompanied by Richard Greer and Geo. H. Gooderham, M. P. P. for South Toronto.

They came to discuss certain details concerning the monthly returns, Mr. Hanna informed the Telegram, and he asked them if the rumors in circulation in the province that they had raised their room rates since the tax on bar receipts had been imposed were true. They declared that such statements were absolutely without foundation. The minister stated that as a body they wished him to understand that no such increase had been made owing to the five per cent.

All the hotels in London raised their rates after the 5 per cent. tax was put on. Some abolished the American plan altogether, and increased the price of rooms. Others went from $1 50 a day houses to $2 per day.

"There was a readjustment of prices," said one hotelkeeper. "They were raised all round, but the hotelkeepers were considering the question before the tax was put on."

Toadstools and a revolver wiped out an entire family in New Rochelle, a few days ago. The mother died of ptomaine poison, the father shot himself a few hours later on account of grief, and the next morning their 8-year-old son died from the same cause as his mother.

The Place for Money

The place for money is not in tin boxes or hiding-places about the premises—that is a dangerous custom long ago made unnecessary by sound financial institutions such as the Huron & Erie Loan and Savings Company.

This company enables you first to save money in small as well as large amounts, and then when your account reaches $100.00 or more, provides you a method whereby you can safely and profitably invest it.

In its Savings Department this institution pays 3 per cent per annum, and when the money is transferred to one of our Debentures, it draws 4 per cent.

Adopt the modern method of accumulating and investing your funds—the plan provided by the Huron & Erie.

An Appeal to Wives

You know the terrible affliction that comes to many homes from the result of a drinking husband or son. You know of the money wasted on "Drink" that is needed in the home to purchase food and clothing. Orrine has saved thousands of drinking men. It is a home treatment, and can be given secretly or taken voluntarily. Put up in two forms, powder or pill. Your money will be returned if after a trial it has failed to benefit. Costs but $1 a box—a mere trifle when compared with the amount a drinking man will spend in a day for liquor. Come in and get a free booklet and let us tell you of the good ORRINE is doing. W. T. Cox stated that his parents had urged him to return, and had sent him the money to do so, but he spent this money, too.

CLINTON WEDDING

Miss Bertha Aikens Becomes Wife of Mr. John A. Van Egmond.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Clinton, Oct. 12.—One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Van Egmond, when their eldest son, Mr. John Anthony Van Egmond, married Miss Bertha Dell Aikens.

At high noon, amid the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Merle Myra Moore, the bride entered the parlor, leaning on the arm of her father, Mr. Thomas H. Aikens, of Boise City, Idaho, and was received by the groom, Rev. T. Wesley Cosens was the officiating clergyman.

The bride looked charming in a beautiful white lingerie gown, and carried a bouquet of white roses. She was assisted by Miss Evelyn C. Tiplady, who wore a gown of Copenhagen blue silk. The groom was attended by Mr. Robert Scott Hawthorne. After the ceremony, the guests, numbering about 50, partook of a dainty wedding dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Egmond left on the 4:23 train for a two-months' honeymoon trip through Idaho, Oregon, and other Western States.

The bride's travelling costume was of navy blue serge cloth, with hat to match.

BIG CONVENTION WAS HELD AT MOSSLEY

The Twenty-third Annual Sunday School Gathering Was a Great Success.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Mossley, Oct. 12.—The 23rd annual convention of the North Dorchester Sabbath School Association convened at the Methodist Church here yesterday. It commenced at 1:30 p.m., with Elder Wm. Campbell in the chair. Devotional exercises were led by Rev. John Currie, of Belmont. Mrs. W. W. Scott officiated as organ director.

The report of W. H. Howell, secretary-treasurer, evidenced phenomenal prosperity. The following is a summary: Number of Sabbath schools, 17, while four delinquent schools neglected to report; officers and teachers, 160; scholars, 1,075; total attendance, 1,213. The amount gleaned for missions, $188 63; total amount gleaned for church purposes, $916 54. The total number which affiliated with the church aggregated 52.

C. B. Adams gave a lucid account of his stewardship anent the status of the schools in the diocese.

Officers Elected.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Wm. Campbell; vice-president, C. B. Adams; secretary-treasurer, W. H. Howell, Avon.

The best method of bringing members of the school to a definite decision for Christ and church relationship was discussed by Rev. A. E. Jones in an essay read by Mr. William Thompson, of Derwent.

"How to Make a Success of the Adult Bible Class" was ably discussed by Rev. E. W. Halfpenny, B. D., general secretary of Ontario Sunday School Association.

"The Value of the Sabbath School to the Home" was elucidated enthusiastically by Rev. John Currie, Belmont. Mr. Frank Whitehall, Broughdale, addressed the meeting.

The afternoon session terminated auspiciously, with the benediction by Rev. H. Sutton, incumbent of St. Peter's Church, Dorchester. The ecclesiastical assemblage to the number of about 200 filed into the spacious basement, where the chief desideratum of the hospitable matrons and charming maidens being to appease the appetites of the most fastidious of this terrestrial sphere.

The Evening Session.

The evening session proved to be a brilliant function. The auditorium of the imposing structure was filled to overflowing. Devotional exercises were led by Rev. H. Sutton.

The deliberations of the nominating committee culminated in the election of Mr. Wm. Campbell, of Gladstone, as president; C. B. Adams, as vice-president, and W. H. Howell, as secretary-treasurer.

"The Value of the Sabbath School to the Church" was discussed by the F. Manning, of Nilestown.

"The Value of Sabbath School to the Nation" was assigned to Rev. George I. Burns, of Gladstone.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the brethren for the sumptuous spread.

OLDEST METHODIST IN CANADA HAS EXPIRED

Mrs. Eliza Hagen a Member of Church for 87 Years.

Welland, Ont., Oct. 12.—Death has called Welland's oldest resident and the oldest member of the Methodist Church in Canada, in the person of Mrs. Eliza Hagen, relict of the late Hugh Hagen. She was in her 95th year, and had resided in Welland at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Geo. Bates, ever since her husband died twelve years ago. A strange coincidence in connection with the death of Mrs. Hagen is that her husband, who was just twelve years older than she, predeceased her twelve years ago.

Mrs. Hagen was born in Carrick-Fergus, County Antrim, Ireland, her maiden name being Bailey. At the age of eight years she joined the Methodist Church, and since that time had been one of its most faithful members. Up to a few hours before her death she could quote Scripture with clearness and precision.

At the age of twenty-three she married Hugh Hagen and set sail with him the following day for Canada. When she arrived here the country was still in a wild state. The couple settled first in Hinchenbrook, Lower Canada. Nine years later Mr. and Mrs. Hagen moved to New York State, where they lived on the border of Vermont for some time. Later they returned to Norfolk County, and resided there until Mr. Hagen's death twelve years ago.

Nine children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Hagen. Only two, Mrs. George Bates, of Welland, and James Hagen, of Welsdale, Sask., survive.

MITCHELL RESIDENT DIES OF PARALYSIS

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Mitchell, Oct. 13.—The funeral of Mrs. Christina McDonald was held this afternoon to Knox Church Cemetery, and was very largely attended. Mrs. McDonald died on Tuesday after a brief illness with paralysis. She was 78 years of age, was born in Mull, Scotland, and came to Canada in 1871, settling in Georgetown, where they remained a few years. From there they moved to Bruce County and after a short stay there moved to Logan. Twenty years ago they gave up farming, and settled in Mitchell, where they have resided ever since. Deceased was a member of the Presbyterian Church. She was a woman of sterling qualities, beloved and respected by a host of friends who will deeply regret her death. Besides her aged husband she leaves to mourn her loss two sons and two daughters, as follows: Mrs. Miller, in Essex, and Mrs. Whitney, of Utah, U. S. A.; John, in Denver, Col., and A. D., of Mitchell.

PRINCIPAL RADCLIFFE DEPRECATES SLANG

London Teacher Gave an Interesting Address at Exeter Convention.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Exeter, Oct. 12.—Principal Radcliffe, of the London Normal School, gave a most instructive address at the meeting of the West Huron Teachers' Association here today on "The Study of English." He showed the responsibility that rests upon the teacher in correcting the language of children, many of whom are brought up in homes, where all sorts of slang is the rule rather than the exception. He urged that every effort be made to eradicate slang.

An interesting report on "How Huron County Might Be Improved" was presented, and it contained many suggestions for bettering the roads, beautifying school grounds and buildings and other places.

Inspector Thom gave a report on the changes which have occurred in the schools in the last few years.

W. D. Riddell gave a paper on "Methods in Geography," and Miss Jessie Hamilton discussed "The Bible in the Schools."

FILTHY PICTURE DREW A FINE

William McNoral Paid $5 for Carrying One in His Pocket.

THE POLICE COURT GRIST

Colored Man Is Given Another Chance and He Promises To Be Good.

Magistrate Judd continued his war on obscene literature today when in the police court he fined Wm. McNoral $5 for having in his possession a photograph that to say the least was indecent. McNoral was arrested Thursday evening and charged with being drunk. When searched at the court the photograph was found. He was discharged on the intoxication charge, but the magistrate could not overlook the other matter, so the fine was imposed.

Wm. Melmoth, a companion of McNoral's, was charged with being drunk, but there was also a charge of disorderly conduct preferred against him, when Constable Fulcher, who made the arrests, said that Melmoth had tried to prevent him from taking McNoral. Melmoth was fined $2 for obstructing the officer, and let go on the other charge.

Will Behave.

Frank Budd, the colored gentleman who was remanded Thursday for being drunk, was brought up again. Budd's wife appeared and stated that he had come home drunk, and had abused her. She had called an officer, who arrested Budd. She also stated that Budd was a splendid husband only for the fact that he got drunk. When he was sober he was a steady worker and a good provider, but drink seemed to set him crazy and he was not responsible for his actions. Budd promised to behave himself in future and not get drunk again. The magistrate decided to give him one more chance and imposed a fine of $10 or 15 days. However, he informed the prisoner that if he should appear in court again nothing but a term in jail would be given him.

A Poor Aim.

Edgar Fletcher tried three times to spit over the edge of the sidewalk, but was unsuccessful. For having such a poor aim he was haled into court this morning and relieved of a dollar.

A citizen named Mr. Dutton was charged with obstructing the sidewalk with his automobile. He explained that his wife was ill with appendicitis and that he had had to go for a doctor, taking a horse and buggy instead of the auto, as he could not get the motor to spark. The obstruction took place in the early hours of the morning so the magistrate decided to let him go.

Harry Adams was charged with driving an automobile without having the lamps lighted. He was separated from $2 as a result.

Three first-time drunks were allowed to go.

BABY'S BODY WAS FOUND IN ORCHARD

Warrant Has Been Issued in Connection With Ugly Case in Camden Township.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Thamesville, Oct. 13. — A warrant has been issued against W. Keitch, of this town, for an offence under the Charlton act, and Keitch, who is at present in jail serving a sentence for stealing, will appear for a hearing on Saturday before Squire W. Ingalls. This action has been taken by the crown authorities, after Coroner Dr. Stewart and County Constable O'Neil went out to Camden Township and thoroughly investigated rumors which had reached them regarding the death of an infant.

It was found that the child had been buried in an orchard, and after learning the facts regarding it from its mother, a girl named Stella McCuaig, gave it a proper burial. The facts were presented to the crown attorney and the warrant for Keitch was ordered.

LIBERALS STRONG IN SOUTH BRUCE

George Anderson of Lucknow Will Likely Be Candidate In Election.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Walkerton, Oct. 12. — Mr. George Anderson, of Lucknow, was offered the Liberal nomination at the convention held in Formosa today, but before accepting he has asked ten days to consider. It will be remembered that R. E. Truax represented South Bruce in the last House, but resigned to run for the Dominion House. Mr. Anderson is a wealthy apple buyer, and is well known throughout the riding, and would make a strong, clean fight. The party is united and well organized and will put up a vigorous fight to retain South Bruce in the Liberal fold.

GUERILLA WARFARE.

Chaves, Portugal, Oct. 13. — The royalist parties are playing a game of hide-and-seek with the republican troops, and whenever there is danger of being "tagged," they retreat into Spanish territory, only to appear again soon at another point on the border. One detachment is encamped directly on the frontier at Segra.

DETECTIVE BURNS AFTER GOMPERS

President of Federation Says McNamara Trial Is Conspiracy Against Labor.

BURNS DENIES IT.

Renowned Investigator Says Evidence Against Dynamiters Is Overwhelming.

[Canadian Press.]

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 13.—William J. Burns, former Government secret service agent and detective, who worked up the evidence in the case against the McNamara brothers now on trial in Los Angeles, California, last night vigorously assailed Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor.

The detective further discussed the Ohio legislative bribery cases, and made the statement that political influences are endangering the successful completion of the present investigation into legislative corruption at Columbus.

Detective Burns stopped at Cleveland from New York while en route to Los Angeles, where he will remain, he says, until after the trial of James B. McNamara is over.

Evidence Overwhelming.

"The charge President Gompers made in New York on Tuesday that the case against the McNamara brothers is a conspiracy against union labor is worse than asinine," said Burns. "I say this, well knowing that my professional reputation is at stake. I am willing to stand or fall by the evidence as it will be produced in the trial. And I say that the evidence is not only complete, but overwhelming.

"It is charged by President Gompers and the same report is being sent out from Los Angeles, that the prosecution is afraid to place J. J. McNamara, the union official, on trial first, because evidence against him is incomplete. In plain language, that is a falsehood, intended to stir public prejudice."

Detective Burns here made public the information that the union labor campaign to raise funds for the McNamara defence has been closely watched from its inauguration. He emphatically disputes the statement of Clarence S. Darrow, in charge of the defence of the two brothers that but $120,000 so far has been raised for the trial.

Million Dollars Raised.

"As a matter of fact," says Burns, "more than $1,000,000 already has been raised. We know that to be a fact. We have the evidence. The country is to know in detail concerning the raising of this fund. And with this information will go positive evidence of just where the money has gone and how it has been expended."

Burns talked about some of the alleged methods of the defence. He made charges of an extremely strong nature, charges which, he says, formally will be brought to the attention of the court, probably before the trial has progressed beyond the stage of securing a jury. Burns has been working, he says, for a month on this phase of the case, and the material he has in hand is the chief reason for his present trip to Los Angeles.

YOUNG THRESHERMAN TERRIBLY INJURED

Clarence Bishop, of Ridgetown, Lost Both Feet in Engine.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ridgetown, Oct. 12.—Clarence Bishop, son of William Bishop, had both feet amputated today when, while standing on top of a threshing engine near Palmyra he slipped and was caught in the machinery. One foot was torn off at the ankle and the other was so badly mutilated that it had to be amputated. Young Bishop's condition is very serious, as he is suffering greatly from shock, and is very weak from loss of blood.

MISTOOK CARBOLIC ACID FOR MEDICINE

Chatham Man Is Dead as Result of Drinking It.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Chatham, Oct. 13.—Mistaking carbolic acid for medicine, Mr. Blackburn, a resident of Patterson avenue, this city, swallowed a dose of the poison and is dead. Mr. Blackburn returned from work about 5 o'clock this morning, and no one saw him take the poison. He died shortly after taking it. Deceased was married, and leaves a wife and three children.

A DISASTROUS FLOOD.

Tucson, Ariz., Oct. 13. — Seven persons are reported dead in Guayamas and vicinity, and property damage estimated at $300,000 incurred as a result of heavy rains and wind that visited the west coast of Mexico last Tuesday afternoon. A number of other persons are reported dead at Ortiz, 30 miles north of Guayamas, but none of these deaths are officially confirmed. The rainfall that swept Sonora and Guayamas, west coast, was the heaviest in 50 years.

STRIKING CAREER OF CONNAUGHT
NEW GOVERNOR-GENERAL OF CANADA
ENGAGED ON MANY A BATTLEFIELD

First Inspector-General of the Army—A Man of Widely Deversified Attainments and Qualifications

Summary of the Many Activities of the Distinguished Brother of the Late King Edward

THE DUKE OF CONNAUGHT

Field-Marshal His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught and Strathearn, K.G., K.T., K.P., the new Governor-General and Commander-in-Chief of the Dominion of Canada in succession to the Right Hon. Earl Grey, G.C.M.G., G.C.V.O., will assume his new duties in October, and will hold the appointment for the period of two years, which may be subject to further extension.

The third son and seventh child of Queen Victoria, the Duke of Connaught was born at Buckingham Palace in 1850. On leaving Woolwich Academy in 1868 he entered the Royal Engineers, and subsequently transferred to the Royal Regiment of Artillery, and, later, to the Rifle Brigade, of which he is Colonel-in-Chief. As a subaltern, he served in Canada during the Fenian Raid of 1870. He was created Duke of Connaught and Strathearn in 1874. Five years later he married Princess Louis Marguerite of Prussia. In the Egyptian War of 1882 he commanded the Brigade of Guards at Tel-el-Kebir. From 1886 to 1890 he commanded the troops in Bombay, and he has since held the Portsmouth and Aldershot commands, and that of the Forces in Ireland. In 1904 he became the first Inspector-General of the Forces, and in 1908 he was appointed to the Mediterranean command, which, it will be remembered, he resigned. It was a great disappointment to him that he was not permitted to share the risks of the Boer War. His patriotism was strikingly shown by his refusal of the Grand Duchy of Saxe-Coburg, in order to retain his British Nationality.

It was in 1866 that the Duke of Connaught entered the Royal Military Academy at Woolwich as a cadet; in 1868 he received his commission as a lieutenant in the Royal Engineers, and in the following year as a lieutenant in the Royal Artillery. He was appointed, at the same time, a lieutenant in the Rifle Brigade, a regiment whose war record begins with "Copenhagen," includes the greatest battles of the Peninsular war, Waterloo, the Crimean war, and the Mutiny, the first Ashanti war, and Afghanistan, Burma, and Khartoum. His Royal Highness is now, and has been since 1880, the Colonel-in-Chief of that distinguished corps. He was with it in Canada, when the regiment was quartered in Quebec, not long after he first joined it, and at that time he visited New York, and was present at an entertainment given in his honor at the Academy of Music in that city. In 1871 he was appointed a captain in the Rifle Brigade, in excess of the establishment of the regiment.

In 1874 Prince Arthur, as he was known up to that time, was created Duke of Connaught and Strathearn and Earl of Sussex.

In 1878, at a Council held at Windsor, Queen Victoria announced his engagement to the Princess Louise Marguerite of Prussia, third daughter of Prince Frederick Charles, known as "The Red Prince," and grandniece of the late Emperor William of Germany. The marriage was celebrated at Windsor on the 13th of March, 1879. Their children are Prince Arthur Frederick Albert, born at Windsor in 1883, and now a lieutenant in the 7th Hussars, to which regiment he was appointed in January of last year; Princess Margaret, born in 1882; and Princess Victoria Patricia, born in 1886.

In 1873 the Duke of Connaught was Brigade-Major at Aldershot, and Brigade-Major to the Cavalry Brigadier at Aldershot in 1875; and from October of that year till the following April he was Assistant Adjutant-General at Gibraltar. In September of 1876 he was a Lieutenant-Colonel in the Rifle Brigade, and in 1880 a full Colonel. In that same year he became a Major-General and commanded a brigade at Aldershot.

It was in 1882 that the Duke of Connaught had his first experience of war, when, in command of the 1st Brigade (the Guards), he accompanied the expeditionary force under Lord Wolseley to Egypt. He was present at the defeat of Arabi Pasha's army at Tel-el-Kebir. For his services in that campaign he was mentioned in despatches, received the thanks of both Houses of Parliament, and was made a Companion of the Bath. He holds the medal with clasp for that campaign, and received from the Khedive the Second Class of the Medjidie and the Khedive's Star. He was appointed Honorary Colonel of the 13th Bengal Lancers while that regiment was serving in Egypt.

In the year following the Egyptian campaign against Arabi the Duke of Connaught was appointed colonel of the Scots Guards. He holds, besides, the coloneiship of the 6th (Inniskilling) Dragoons (1897), of the Highland Light Infantry (1901), and of the Royal Dublin Fusiliers (1903). In 1886 the Duke of Connaught was appointed Commander-in-Chief of the forces in the Bengal Presidency, and at the end of his term of service in India, on returning home he was placed in command of the Southern District in England. In 1893 he was a full General, and in June, 1902, he was made a Field-Marshal.

At the death, in 1899, of Prince Alfred of Saxe-Coburg, Duke of Edinburg, second son of Queen Victoria, the Duke of Connaught, being the heir apparent of the Duchy, would have succeeded to it, but he and his heirs renounced their rights in favor of the young Duke of Albany, his nephew, son of the late Prince Leopold, fourth son of Queen Victoria.

In 1901 the Duke of Connaught succeeded his brother King Edward as Grand Master of Freemasons, and was installed in July of that year.

In 1902 he was at the head of the special mission sent to Madrid for the investment of the King of Spain with the Order of the Garter, and he himself received at the hands of the young King the Order of the Golden Fleece.

The great Assouan Dam, in Egypt, was opened by the Duke and Duchess of Connaught in 1902, and from Egypt the Duke and Duchess went on to India to represent there the King at the grand Coronation Durbar at Delhi in January, 1903.

For the past three years the Duke of Connaught has been in command of the forces in Ireland, and of the Third Army Corp (Irish command).

He was created a Peer of the United Kingdom on May 24, 1874.

The last of the many important Army posts held by the Duke was Commander-in-Chief of the Mediterranean Forces, which he resigned shortly after his appointment. Last year he represented the King at the opening of the South African Parliament, enduring wonderfully well for a man of sixty the fatigue and hurry of his 18,000 miles trip.

The Duke's connection with Canada is a long and pleasant one. Forty years ago, when a young man of twenty, the Duke came to Canada and served as a soldier through the Fenian Raid. Since then the Duke has several times returned to Canada, each time enhancing not only his own, but his family's, popularity. It will also be remembered that his son, Prince Arthur, toured Canada some four years ago.

FOREIGN ORDERS AND DECORATIONS

Here is the long list of foreign honors the Duke of Connaught has received:—

The Order of the House of Hohenzollern.
The Mecklenburg Order of the Crown of Wender.
The Bulgarian Order.
The Oldenburg Hansorden.
The Order of the Netherlands.
The Order of Anhault.
The Brunswick Order of the Lion.
The Johannite Order.
The Montenegrin Order of Danilo.

PRINCE ARTHUR

He Has Been Termed the Handy Man of the Royal Family

Prince Arthur of Connaught, who represented King George at the Jubilee celebrations of Italian unity, has been termed "the Handy Man of the Royal Family." He is a young man of infinite tact and resource, and on several occasions has acted as Royal envoy. He went to Japan to invest the Mikado with the Garter, and represented the late King Edward both at the opening of the Protestant Cathedral in Berlin and also at the Crown Prince's wedding.

PRINCESS PATRICIA OF CONNAUGHT — DUCHESS OF CONNAUGHT

Brilliant in the Military Arena

The following series of data give in brief the distinguished military career of the Duke of Connaught: —

1868—Entered the Army.
1871—Promoted to Captain.
1875—Became Major.
1876—Appointed Lieutenant-Colonel.
1880—Became Colonel.
1880—Was made Major-General.
1889—Promoted to Lieutenant-General.
1893—Made General.
1902—Appointed Field Marshal.

1873-4—Brigade Major, Aldershott.
1875-6—Assistant Adjutant General, Gibraltar.
1880—Brigadier General, Aldershot.
1882—Major General, Expeditionary Force, Egypt.
1883—Brigadier General, Aldershot.
1883-5-6—Major General, Bengal.
1886-90—Lieutenant General, Bombay.
1890-3—Lieutenant General, Southern District.
1893-8—Commanding Troops, Aldershot.
1900-4—Commander of Forces in Ireland.
1901-4—Commanding Third Army Corps.
1904-7—Inspector-General of the Forces.
Since 1907—Commanding-in-Chief the Mediterranean Forces.

1870—Served during the Fenian Raid in Canada.
1882—Major-General Commanding Brigade of Guards in Egyptian War, and received a medal with clasp, bronze star, and the thanks of the House of Commons for distinguished service at Wahuta and Tel-el-Kebir.

The field of the Duke's activity as Inspector-General of the Forces embraced the whole Empire, and after having visited all parts of the United Kingdom in the performance of his duties, he set out at the end of 1905 to inspect the garrisons in South Africa, while not long after his return he started for a second world tour, which included Egypt, Ceylon, the Straits Settlement and Hong Kong. These visits to outlying garrisons on the fringe of our vast Empire were vitally necessary for the coördination of the work of preparation for war, and gigantic as was the task of personally passing in review the whole of the home and colonial garrisons and defences, His Royal Highness kept pace with the work, and his outspoken reports on "our far-flung battle line" were very helpful to the Army Council. His influence as Inspector-General of the Forces was a very good and active one, for he possesses in an uncommon degree the happy knack of putting his finger on the very root of matters upon which great issues depend and of explaining his views in an eminently common-sense and convincing manner. The Duke is an enthusiastic soldier, and knows the possibilities and limitations of the British Army, and withal, too, there is no more popular officer than he with all ranks.

A LONDON PAPER'S FANCIFUL DREAM

A London paper has the following article about Canada in connection with the coming to Canada of the Duke of Connaught:—

The Duke of Connaught is going to reign as Viceroy at Ottawa. Is this a sign that something even more important and far-reaching will happen in the near future?

Is it possible that in the future our monarchs, instead of living at St. James's and Windsor, and opening Parliaments at Westminster, may reign in far-away Canada, and visit our shores at rare intervals?

Such a prospect is not, perhaps, flattering to our self-esteem. We have become so used to the notion that our "tight little island" is the hub, if not of the universe, at least of the greatest Empire in the world, that we cannot easily conceive that it may not remain so for ever. But hard facts show that it is quite likely.

It has always been the rule that the seat of government of a world-Empire should be settled in its most powerful and populous and richest province. Hitherto this description has applied to England, and our sovereigns have reigned on the banks of the Thames as a matter of course. But it cannot always be so.

Canada and Australia are the countries of the future, Canada especially. At present their populations are comparatively small. But the population of Canada is growing by leaps and bounds. In time there will be more millions in Canada than in the United Kingdom—possibly than in the United States.

When that time comes, Canada will not only have the largest population of any part of the Empire, but will be by far the richest part, and will probably have the largest army and the most powerful navy, too. Then Canada will have the right to claim first place in the Empire. And then she will either want to be independent or she will want our kings.

After all, if our sovereigns do emigrate, it will not make such a tremendous difference as it would have done a hundred or even fifty years ago. In these days of wireless telegraphy and liners which rush across the Atlantic in six days, a king reigning in Ottawa would be pretty well as near London as he would have been at Balmoral a hundred years ago, and there would be nothing to prevent ministers from taking flying trips to attend cabinet councils in Canada when urgent need arose.

Constantine the Great found that a capital in Italy was too far away from the heart of his dominions, and built a brand new capital at Constantinople. So also did Peter the Great in the case of Russia. For hundreds of years the Tsars reigned in Moscow, but at last Peter went off, taking the government and the court with him, to the new, vast city he had founded on territory conquered from Sweden and named after himself—St. Petersburg.

It is possible, of course, that if Canada eventually becomes the home of our monarchs Australia and India might be jealous and object. Perhaps they would be pacified by the offer of a Royal Viceroy apiece. Or they might become so far independent as to have kings of their own, these kings owning the sway of the superior monarch at Ottawa, as the potentates of the German Empire own the overlordship of the Kaiser.

There is an outside chance that one of King George V.'s grandsons may reign in Melbourne, another in Delhi, and a third in Cape Town.

JOKE ON THE DUKE

A Local Painter's Remark About Buckingham Palace

An amusing story concerning the democratic personality of King George's uncle, the Duke of Connaught, is going the rounds. It seems the Duke and the Duchess, accompanied by a considerable party, paid a visit of inspection to the Hampstead Garden suburb recently.

A painter, who was standing near the Duke and Duchess, said he had served with the Duke, who smilingly observed: "And now you are a painter. I suppose things are very brisk in the painting line this springtime?"

"Yes," was the reply; "but there's one place that badly wants doing and doesn't get it."

"Where is that?" inquired the Duke.

"Buckingham Palace," replied the painter, and went gravely on with his work, apparently oblivious of the smile he raised on the face of every one in the royal group.

"There your opinion and mine agrees," said the Duke, as he walked away.

COUNTESS GREY

Who attained great popularity in Canada during the regime of her distinguished husband, Earl Grey.

OF MASONIC INTEREST

The coming of the Duke of Connaught is of more than ordinary interest to the Masonic brethren of Canada. His Royal Highness, who is the Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of England, is an honorary member of Zetland Lodge, Toronto. His visit to that lodge some years ago was an historical event in Canadian Masonry.

EARL GREY

Canada Had Great Attractions for His Excellency

Earl Grey has been Governor-General and Commander-in-Chief of Canada since 1904, when he succeeded his brother-in-law, the Earl of Minto. He was one of the first of those prominent Englishmen who came under the spell of the late Mr. Cecil Rhodes, and he assisted Mr. Rhodes to obtain the charter for Rhodesia, and himself became one of the founders of the Chartered Company. After the Jameson Raid he accepted the position of Administrator of Rhodesia. The two years of his administration (1896-97) were years of native wars and of the gravest political difficulty. The post Earl Grey was appointed to in Canada in 1904 was one for which he had every inclination. It was in Canada that his great-grandfather first smelt powder under Wolfe, and the Dominion had on other grounds a great attraction for him. He carried with him a high sense of duty and undiminished enthusiasm for public work. That he made himself speedily popular with the Canadian peoule is now matter of history. He sails from Quebec on his return to England early in October.

EARL GREY

Whose career as Governor-General of Canada has been singularly successful. He sails for England in October.

THE DUKE'S FAMILY

The Family of the Duke and Duchess consist of:—

Prince Arthur, born at Windsor Castle, January 13, 1883.

Princess Victoria, born January 15, 1882; married to the Crown Prince of Sweden on June 15, 1905.

Princess Patricia, born at Buckingham Palace on March 17, 1886.

THE NECESSARY MAN

He Has Been British Ambassador to All the British Dominions

Based upon the fact that Mr. Asquith, speaking recently at the Guildhall, described the Duke of Connaught as "A Necessary Man," a writer in the "Empire Magazine" gives a remarkably interesting record of his Royal Highness's various activities as an Ambassador of Queen Victoria, King Edward, and King George. The Duke has visited all the British Dominions beyond the seas at different times of his career, and throughout his travels he has been not a mere tourist but a worker. What the Duke of Connaught stands for to-day in the eyes of all men is solid diplomacy and honest Imperialism, diplomacy that knows no makeshifts, Imperialism which knows no party. Incidentally there is quoted a story which it is said the Duke tells against himself. It is certainly amusing:—

"On one occasion," says the Empire Magazine, "a young subaltern putting a company of infantry through their drill managed to get them into a terrible muddle. The Duke, who was watching the effort, called the subaltern and asked, smiling:

"'Have you any idea what your men are supposed to be doing?'

"The boy saluted and replied:

"'No, sir.' Then with a roguish gleam in his eye he added. 'Not the slightest. Have you, sir?'"

THE DUKE OF CONNAUGHT AT TEL-EL-KEBIR

His Royal Highness, who was in command of the Guards at the Battle of Tel-el-Kebir in 1882 in the Egyptian War, is shown on a white charger directing his men. The British loss in this well-managed affair was very slight considering the strength of the Arabi's army of 25,000 men. Eleven officers and forty-three men were killed, and 22 officers and 320 men wounded. Sir Garnet Wolseley in his despatches several times mentioned the bravery of the Duke of Connaught, His Royal Highness also receiving the thanks of the Commons.

GREATEST COUP FOR SPECULATORS

Hundreds of Tickets Are in Hands of Agents in New York City.

CAUSING MUCH COMMENT

Fans Are Wondering How the Boosters Got Hundreds in Blocks—Completing Stadium.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Oct. 12.—The sale of seats for the first game of the world's series between the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Athletics has proved the greatest coup for speculators New York has had in years.

The offerings at every big hotel and cafe along Broadway today show that thousands of the pasteboards so much desired by baseball enthusiasts are in the hands of the speculators, held at from 100 to 200 per cent advance on the original price.

The minimum quotations by the big ticket agencies this morning were $5 and $6 for reserved seats, costing $2 and $3. One speculator had 900 tickets, and the fact that they are all in a block has caused considerable comment. The only consolation left for the average enthusiast is that 15,000 admissions at $1 each will go on sale tomorrow morning.

A new feature of the ticket distribution which has put many fans on the anxious seat is the fact that hundreds of tickets, mailed to people who sent in certified checks or money orders have been apparently lost in the mails. None of the mail was registered when it was sent out by the management, and fans who failed to receive their tickets apparently have no recourse except to apply to the postoffice department for a tracer.

Decorators Busy.

The decorations of the new stadium at the Polo Grounds are being rushed to completion today. Painters were busy at sunrise putting the final touches of color on the friezes, bas-reliefs and patriotic shields. Between the flagpoles on the top of the stand are dozens of large American eagles, brilliantly gilded.

The face of the upper tier of boxes bears the national emblem, the red, white and blue standing out in bold contrast against the concrete boxes. The upper frieze is made of groups and figures in bas-relief, supporting a series of crests emblematic of the eight cities of the National League. The color treatment is in polychrome, ivory, dark gray and gold, with touches of vermilion and navy blue.

The flagstaffs, 29 in number, will fly the flags of each of the National League cities and National streamers. The new stand, which closely follows the lines of the Roman amphitheatre, was designed by Henry B. Hertz, who designed several of New York's theatres.

The rush for Bargains in Boots, Shoes and Leather Goods still continues at W. B. Lawson's, 198 Dundas street. There are many thousand dollars' worth of goods yet to be cleared.

SPOTTON BUSINESS COLLEGE PURCHASED THE COLLEGE OF TELEGRAPHY.

LABOR TO BE ISSUE IN M'NAMARA TRIAL

Talesmen Will Be Question, If Court Permits, On Attitude to Unionism.

[Canadian Press.]

Los Angeles, Oct. 13. — Examination of talesman, F. T. Nelson, was the first proceeding set before Judge Walter Bordwell, of the supreme court today in the murder trial of James B. McNamara. Questioning of talesmen, frequently regarded as a dismal proceeding, furnished in this case interest to spectators and partisans, because it was expected to define, in advance, of the opening arguments some of the essential issues of the trial, which is designed to show whether the defendant is responsible for the death of Charles D. Haggarty, who, with twenty others, was killed in the Los Angeles Times' explosion over a year ago. For nineteen deaths James B. McNamara is held on indictments, but the state has elected to go to trial on Haggerty's case.

Attitude of Labor.

Nelson's attitude towards labor organizations and their members, touched upon at the preceding session of court, was made the subject of further inquiry for the defence, under Attorney Clarence S. Darrow, and the rulings of the court, on objections interposed by District Attorney John B. Fredericks and his aides, were awaited as showing what confines would be placed upon the examination of other talesmen.

Before Nelson's examination was taken up one more talesman was called into the box to replace one dismissed at the last moment of court on Wednesday, because of physical inability to stand a long trial.

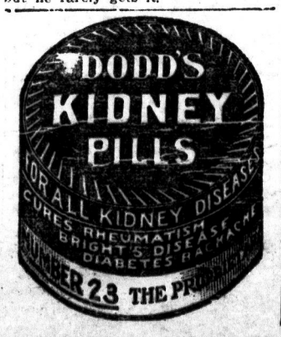

To Proceed Rapidly.

Because of the determination of questions involved in the examination of Nelson, the first talesman, it was said that questioning of other talesmen would go forward much more rapidly.

The talesmen transferred last night from the official jury room to more commodious quarters, romped like boys at their morning bath, and appeared immensely refreshed by the day of ease offered by yesterday's legal holiday.

WATER SUPPLY DECLARED PURE

Board of Health Desire to Assure the People On This Point.

NO TYPHOID FEVER GERMS

Contamination in Two Ponds Was Not of This Type—Ponds May Be Better Protected.

The report of the provincial analyst, Dr. J. A. Amyot, on the water supply was discussed at some length at the special meeting of the board of health held Thursday afternoon. The members expressed themselves as being confident that the water of the city of London was as nearly pure as possible, and that there was no cause for alarm whatever.

Mayor Beattie reported that the analyses had been shown him, and as a precautionary measure, he had instructed Superintendent Glaubitz to close two ponds at Springbank. This had been done.

"The impression has been given that the colon bacilli discovered were typhoid fever germs," said Mayor Beattie. "This is distinctly not the case. There is nothing to show in the report that there are typhoid germs in the water."

No Cause For Alarm.

Dr. Hutchinson and Dr. Williams corroborated this statement, and declared that so far as they could see, there was no cause for alarm.

Superintendent Glaubitz said that he had a conversation over the telephone with Dr. Amyot, of Toronto, who stated that there was no reason to be alarmed at the water supply. There were colon bacilli present, but in such small quantities as to be practically negligible. Samples of water were being taken from the sources of supply both to the Colville and pump-house ponds in order to discover if possible the source of infection.

"There is no danger, and the people should be told so," said Mr. Glaubitz. "There were no typhoid fever germs in the water, and I want that understood."

Mr. John Graham asked if a cement wall about the ponds now closed would not protect them from any surface drainage. Mr. Glaubitz thought that the suggestion would be proper, but he did not consider it necessary to go to the expense of building a cement wall. A clay bank would serve the purpose.

Pure Water.

Mr. R. A. Carrothers declared that the city water was practically pure, and had always been pure. The majority of the few cases of typhoid in the city came from outside places. Many of them were infected while at summer resorts, and when they come to the city with the disease, the city water is blamed.

In response to a question from Chairman Clarke, Dr. Hutchinson reported that he examined four to five samples of milk a month.

"The board has done well to go thoroughly into this matter," said Dr. Williams. "It will reassure the citizens. In the meantime the board should continue its investigations, as the water supply of the city should be kept above reproach."

Chairman Ruffled.

Chairman Clarke deplored the fact that he was being overlooked in the matter.

"Everybody seems to know about these reports except the chairman," he stated. "They were in the newspapers before I saw them. I do not think that they should be given out until such a time as the board considers it advisable to do so. I never hear anything from Dr. Hutchinson. He seems to desire to keep information from me. I know nothing about what is going on in the department."

"You hear everything, and you know it," declared Dr. Hutchinson. "Every report was handed to you, with the exception of the water report. You are out of the city so much that it is difficult to know you are home. Every bit of information in my possession is always given to you."

A Heavier Man.

"If you want a heavier man for chairman, get him," continued Mr. Clarke. "If the board is not satisfied, get somebody else."

The little speech being over, the board authorized the payment of certain accounts.

Those present were: Harry Clarke (chairman), John Graham, R. A. Carrothers, Dr. E. Williams, Mayor Beattie, Dr. Hutchinson, Inspector McCallum, and Secretary Baker.

St. Peter's Dramatic Club.

In St. Peter's Parish Hall last evening, the Dramatic Club presented a college comedy in four acts, entitled "Mose." The different characters were well taken, and quite a little real histrionic talent was manifested before an audience which was fairly large, and included His Lordship Bishop Fallon and Monsignor Aylward. The playlet, though described as a comedy, was in reality a musical comedy, and some excellent solos and choruses were introduced. These included hits from the big productions, and it was shown that vocally there is no dearth of talent in St. Peter's Dramatic Club. Miss Katie McLaughlin, who is so well known to Londoners through her connection with the London Public Library, rendered several numbers in superb voice. She is one of the best sopranos ever heard on an amateur stage in this city, and her singing is characterized by rare dramatic power and an intense feeling, which appeals to her audience. She scored several encores last night. Mr. Roy Nopper also sang well, and is a good actor. Others whose names might be mentioned for excellent work are Stewart Wilson, Hugh Overend, Margaret Pocock, Annie O'Meara, Irene McLellan and Alex. Wilson.

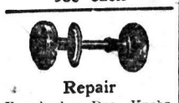

TWO KILLED IN WRECK.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—Two men were killed and a number of others narrowly escaped injury in a rear-end collision today between a freight train on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and Pere Marquette fruit train at West Seventy-fifth street and Southwestern avenue. The dead are: Michael King, 45 years old, B. and O. engineer; unidentified B. and O. brakeman.

And it's what a man has been that makes him what he is.
