Mrs. J. McLennan of Sarnia
Declares Men Trustees
Too Hard To Convince.

MANY MEMBERS ADDED

Women's Institute Convention Hears Many Valuable Suggestions.

"More men" school trustees came in for a considerable amount of rapping at the forenoon session Wednesday of the convention of the Women's Institutes of Western Ontario on the ground that it is so hard to convince them of the importance of medical inspection for schools, the need of a public health nurse, and "such things."

"What is needed," said Mrs. J. McLennan of Sarnia, who led the discussion on "Co-operation with the School," "is a woman on every school board. If we can't have one woman on each, let's hasten the day for county boards."

"Who has a vote for members of the school board?" came the voice of a school nurse. "We have old bachelors who insist upon being on the school board."

"You should make a raid on them and see that they are not on the school board," quickly replied Mrs. McLennan, amid laughter.

"Must we get the consent of the trustees in order to include any school in the group of forty?" asked a delegate in order to get the grant of $10 a room from the Government towards paying a school nurse?" asked a delegate in the gallery. "Can't even the women's institute secure it without the trustees?"

The answer in the negative provoked an emphatic comment from the inquirer. "But it is so much easier to pay than get the consent of the trustees."

Outlines Lambton's Experience.

Discussion was animated throughout the forenoon and many helpful suggestions were offered for increasing the membership of institute branches, discovering, developing and using the talents of the neighborhood, and initiating new work.

In the main, the delegates carried out the suggestion of Miss Emily Guest, one of the department lecturers and demonstrators. "Talk three times as loud as you think necessary to raise the voice, then you may be sure of being heard." The result was that the suggestions offered were much more far-reaching than is usually the case in a women's convention.

With regard to the need of medical inspection and the services of a nurse for schools, Mrs. McLennan referred to the experience of West Lambton, where, upon securing a medical survey of the schools, it was discovered that 85 per cent of the children were physically defective and 33 per cent would be totally incapacitated unless they received treatment. As a result of these revelations, two women were appointed for each township in Lambton County to forward the work of health inspection and securing a public health nurse for the county.

So far as the cost of the nurse was concerned, "One cent per acre over

AWAIT AUDIT OF GAS CO. BOOKS

Ald. W. A. Wilson Urges That Railway Board Be Asked To Name Men.

So far the city has been unsuccessful in getting a start made on the audit of the books of the City Gas Company because there is no auditor to take hold of the task.

About a month ago, Aldermen W. A. Wilson and Watkinson called on the railway board at Toronto and pressed for the naming of an auditor to take up the audit of the company's books with a view to learning the cost of supplying gas to the city. Frank Jewell of this office was named but later developed that Mr. Jewell would be unable to shoulder the work because of ill-health.

At the time of appointing Mr. Jewell, the railway board said that if he did not act, another man would be named immediately, but so far this has not been done.

Ald. Wilson suggests that the railway board be asked to name Alexander Calder to take up the job. Ald. Watkinson thinks that the railway board should be given a little more time to act.

Ald. Wilson says that he will lay the situation before the council on Monday next.

WORD HAS BEEN received from Father W. T. Flannery, by his parents, of his safe arrival in Rome. He reports that he had an excellent voyage across the Atlantic and found Paris packed to the doors with a large international automobile show.

War-Scarred Veteran Mistook
Former Chief For Physician

Coming down town in the crowded street car after the civic banquet tendered the Women's Institute delegates in McCormick Hall on Tuesday evening, Lieut.-Col. C. M. R. Graham, who had presided stood at the front of the car, talking to a group of the institute visitors about the new Memorial Children's Hospital. Listening intently to the conversation was a young man with a scar on his right temple, who, when the car was almost empty at Wellington street, seated himself beside Col. Graham.

"Are you a doctor?" he asked of the older man.

"No," was the reply. "My name is Graham."

"Not Col. Graham of the 142nd Battalion?"

"Yes."

"You were with the 13th in France?"

"Yes. But who are you?"

"The last time you saw me was during the battle of Amiens. I was struck in the head and you bandaged me up, and told me to stay in the shell hole where you left me until some of the fellows would come along to get me. I was in your company."

"And you have got your eye all right, after all," exclaimed Col. Graham, as the two men shook hands as comrades who had been in the shadow of death together. "Well, well, well! I thought sure that day you were going to lose it. But didn't you recognize me tonight? How did you come to mistake me for a doctor?"

"You seemed to have all the scientific facts about child welfare," was the answer. "And I had never seen you out of uniform before. You are stouter than you were in 1918 in France."

20,000 Indiana Miners On Strike

Walkout Declared Following Owners' Order Respecting
"Check Off" System.

MASS MEETING CALLED
Four Hundred Men Refused
Work At Centralia, Ill.,
Colliery.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 2.—Work in the Indiana coal field was practically at a standstill today as a result of walkouts of 20,000 men employed at approximately 300 mines in the state, according to early reports received at the union headquarters at Terre Haute.

Officers of the United Mine Workers of America awaited with acute interest today reports from throughout the coal mining district of the country on strike, the telegram sent out by them yesterday advising all union officials to regard discontinuance of the "check-off" system of collecting union dues as breaking the existing wage agreements with operators.

Several mines in the Indiana field were reported idle as a protest against the injunction prohibiting the "check-off" which was issued yesterday by Judge A. B. Anderson in the United States district court here on Monday.

400 Refused Work
At Centralia, Ill.

Centralia, Ill., Nov. 2.—Four hundred men employed at the Marion County Coal Company mine here refused to work today. No orders for a walkout were issued by the local union, it was said, the men taking the action of their own accord.

A mass meeting of miners was called for this afternoon.

It was understood a committee asked the mine superintendent as to the intention regarding the "check off" system, and was told that the system would be continued until further orders.

No. 5 mine, employing 1,000 men, is not affected.

Thirteen Mines in Knox County Idle

Hicknell, Ind., Nov. 2.—All thirteen mines of the Knox County coal field in the southwestern part of Indiana were idle today in protest against the injunction writ issued Monday by Judge A. B. Anderson in United States district court against the "check off" system. The mines employ 3,000 men, it was said.

In Birmingham and Barnsley Labour secured the most notable successes in the elections, registering six gains in each council, while Norwich showed five gains. In Manchester the Conservatives gained nine, five from the Liberals and four from the Labor party.

Reading, a Laborite, defeated the mayor, W. Kay.

Two-and-a-half Laborites were defeated in Plymouth, while at Croydon none of five candidates put up by the unemployed organizers succeeded in being elected.

Legal Battle Rages For Aged Indian's Millions

JACKSON BARNETT AND HIS WHITE WIFE.

Muskogee, Okla., Nov. 2.—Jackson Barnett is the richest Indian in the United States.

That is why a fight, which has thrown the courts of two countries and federal officials into a turmoil, is being staged.

At present the chief lives, almost out in the open, in Okmulgee County. He has no use for white man's fads and fancies, but much prefers the great outdoors.

His home is a four-roomed shack—and he's satisfied with it.

All this in spite of the fact that millions upon millions of dollars literally rolled into him when great oil gushers were discovered on his land some years ago. No one seems to know just what he is worth; he owns a million dollars' worth of Liberty bonds alone.

It is an Indian theory that a man's wealth should be disposed of before he dies—after his relatives are properly cared for.

That's where the big fight comes in. Barnett has given $1,000,000 to Bacone University, a Northern Baptist School at Muskogee, and a quarter of a million for an institute for sick Indians.

Following these gifts, it was announced that Barnett and his family were to be removed from Okmulgee County to the town of Muskogee, in Muskogee County. He was to have a $75,000 residence to take the place of his backwoods shack.

And Okmulgee County let out a howl. County Judge Hugh Murphy of Okmulgee says he will not consent to the removal of Barnett's estate.

While the fight hangs, as yet undecided, Barnett's guardian has petitioned the county court in Okmulgee County for permission to use $150,000 in building Barnett a home in Okmulgee County and purchasing adjoining land to establish a pony ranch.

However, Barnett's white wife, with whom he eloped some time ago, and his step-daughter, have tired of the open life. They are in favor of moving to Muskogee, in Muskogee County.

ARTHUR MOULD IS CHOICE OF LONDON LABOR

Declares Canadian Workers
Are Tired of Old-Line Parties.

LET'S FORGET THE TARIFF

Defeated Nominee Claims the Real Issue Is Equitable Reconstruction.

In open convention in the Labor Temple Tuesday evening, Arthur Mould was selected by London Labor as its candidate in the coming general election. Of the nine possibilities nominated on Friday night last, only one other remained in the field, ex-Ald. John Colbert. When the result of the balloting was made known the nomination was regarded as unanimous upon the motion of Mr. Colbert.

Upon receiving the nomination, Mr. Mould declared: "Although I feel this as a high honor that you have conferred upon me, I do not look upon the nomination solely as an honor, but as a duty as well. My attitude to Labor is 'If they want Arthur Mould, he is ready'."

"I want to say now that we have no chance of losing if we set our minds about it, but the fight will not be won by me alone, but by the rank and file. Canada are tired of the old-line parties. What can you expect of either Mr. Somerville or Mr. White, respected citizens as they may be, when they represent what they do?"

"Time for a Change." "Recognizing this, we want fighters in the house, men who will carry the fight into the enemy's ranks. It is time for a change. We started in London, when we elected Hughes Stevenson. The issues today are of course different, but we have had two years of Farmer-Labor administration and we can all see what has been accomplished and what we have to offer. I don't care whether the progress is made by the old-line parties or by the new, but the fact remains that although the old line parties proposed Mothers' Allowances we placed it in effect."

"I have come in contact with Drury and members of his government, and I know the stamp of men they represent. I know that they are only too anxious to co-operate. We recognize that this is an agricultural nation and not industrial, so we do not expect to dominate the situation. We seek, however, to co-operate and place on the statutes measures for the good of the 95 per cent. of the people."

"Never Mind Tariff." "I can see no reason for admitting failure in his very press notices. He speaks of the 'National Crisis' and the 'country faces complete stagnation.' I say that there is only one platform that will solve the problem, and that is the Labor platform. Never mind about tariff. Let us as Labor men, forget about the tariff and get at the real issue. I am prepared to go out and fight. We are on the offensive and not the defensive."

Would Forget Tariff.

"There is no use talking about the tariff," declared John Colbert, "as far as Labor is concerned. Let us forget it. We have this national policy since I was a boy and I can't see where it has been changed. The main issue before the public is reconstruction on a basis of equity. We must get more of the fruits of our produce and after every consideration of labor's problem I have come to the conclusion that political action is the only solution."

"It has been my great desire," asserted H. B. Ashplant upon retiring from the contest, "that there should be a federal contest. Were I not sure that there are candidates here who will put up a strong fight I would stand myself against the capitalists rather than let the fight go by default."

Predict Success.

"Although we must have more effective organization it does not alter the fact that the labor candidate can go in and lick the two of them. You know what happened when we elected Stevenson. Then we had a much harder man to beat than these two. The latter are both respected citizens, and we have no quarrel with them, but we say to them, representing as they do certain interests, they have been tried and found wanting." Professor Louis Wood and Max Lerner, both also declining to stand for nomination, spoke briefly thanking their supporters and predicting success for Hon. T. A. Cresser and the Farmer-Labor forces at the polls next December.

Frank McKay presided.

WILL FIND WORK FOR UNEMPLOYED

St. Thomas Council Assures
Deputation of Necessary Action.

ST. THOMAS, Nov. 1.—A deputation headed by ex-Ald. A. E. Hookway, representing the several city organizations, appealed to the council at its meeting tonight to find ways and means whereupon by employment would be provided for the idle men in the city. Mr. Hookway suggested that public works should be undertaken to at least tide the men and their families over the winter.

Mayor Brinkman gave assurance that everything within the power of the council to find employment for those who will labor. There were, he said, several big building propositions in prospect, which, as soon as underway, will give work to more than the present number of idle men in the city.

Red Cross Society Objects. The Red Cross Society, through Mrs. Colson, who was accompanied by several members, took objection to the action of the finance committee in respect to the grant made to the Graduate Nurses' Association, and which, according to Mrs. Colson, had been directed by the association to be paid over to the Red Cross. The Graduate Nurses' Association had disbanded at the time of the diversion of the funds.

According to Mrs. Shore, the association would again be organized for service before the end of the year, and she insisted upon being paid the grant.

City Solicitor Doherty has expressed his opinion that the grant was made to the association and must be so paid until the council directs otherwise.

On resolution the council endorsed the work of the Red Cross, and directed the grant be paid to that society.

The executive secretary wrote that Miss T. Ingram and John L. Burger were appointed members of the local board for the city of St. Thomas in connection with the mothers' allowance commission. All the members of the present local board were reappointed for the year 1921-1922.

G. W. V. A. Indorse Bylaw. The secretary-treasurer of the Great War Veterans' Association, advised the council that the G. W. V. A. indorsed the action of the council in submitting a bylaw to the people for the issue of debentures for the Memorial Hospital on Armistice Day.

Industrial Site. The Kiwanis Club suggested that the council submit the necessary bylaw at an early date to the people, whereby a suitable industrial site might be acquired forthwith. The members pledged the active support of the organization in developing to the full an active industrial program.

W. E. Nicholas applied for a permit to place on his property on Flora street an underground gasoline tank.

The trades and labor council petitioned the council that the advance polls of the municipal elections be kept open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. for the accommodation of railway employees.

The trades and labor council also asked that the nominations for mayor, water commissioners, hydro-electric commissioners, school board and aldermen be held in the evening.

The provincial secretary asked the opinion of the council as to the extension of the franchise to people over 21 years of age, including the wife, the husband, sons, daughters, brothers, sisters, sons-in-law or daughters-in-law residing with the person possessing the necessary qualification to vote at municipal elections.

INTRODUCE NEW RULE IN MALTA

MALTA, Nov. 1.—The Prince of Wales, on his way to India on the battle-cruiser Renown, opened the new Maltese Parliament today. The event marks the introduction of a new type of government in Malta, based on the principle of responsible self-government, subject to definite limitations laid down in the interests of imperial security.

The main principle is the establishment of two concurrent governmental systems, one for the administration of local affairs under the complete legislative and administrative control of the Maltese people and another for matters of imperial concern, taking orders from the Imperial Government.

BRANTFORD PIONEER
BUSINESSMAN DIES

BRANTFORD, Nov. 1.—James Watt, senior, one of Brantford's business pioneers, died today in his 75th year. He was the president of the well-known wholesale grocery firm of George Watt & Sons, which the father of the deceased founded in 1847. Mr. Watt met with a severe accident some time ago and was laid up for a considerable period, but later was able to resume his duties. A few days ago, while at the office, he suffered a slight stroke and the end came peacefully this morning. He was a man of marked business ability and regarded as an authority in the sugar and other markets. Mr. Watt never married. He is survived by two brothers, George and William, and several nephews and nieces, residents of this city and elsewhere.

Ernest Harker of the first concession, Burford Township, was shot through the calf of his leg by a stray bullet from a hunter's rifle. He was taken to the hospital here and is getting on fairly well. No trace of the hunter could be found by farmers in the district.

JURY RECOMMENDS
ANOTHER SCHOOL SITE

MERLIN, Nov. 1.—At the adjourned inquest in the death of Raymond Bruseau, who died of injuries caused by being struck by a train, the jury returned a verdict of accidental death, and added a rider recommending that the Township North Council secure a better school site in this section.

Corner Dr. J. C. Bell of Merlin presided at the inquest, which was held at Jeanette Station. During the hearing of evidence it was shown that fifteen children had to cross the tracks where the accident happened twice or more times daily to reach their school or go round five miles.

FIRE DESTROYS BIG STRUCTURE IN MAPLE CITY

Damage Estimated At Over
$15,000 in Chatham
Blaze.

CHATHAM, Nov. 1.—Two three-story buildings were visited by a disastrous conflagration tonight shortly after 10 o'clock. The buildings were located on Llewellyn street, and were in a mass of flames by the time the city fire department arrived. Owing to the high wind, the flames gained rapid headway, and several streams of hose were directed on the flames as quickly as possible, but not before serious damage had been done.

One building owned and used as a storehouse by the Brisco Wholesale Accessories, Limited of this city together with its contents, was completely destroyed. The loss will exceed $12,000, partially covered by insurance. It was a wooden structure, and burned very quickly.

The other building, owned by S. Backus of Toronto, was occupied as a garage and automobile storage warehouse. Nine autos were successfully taken out. This building was badly damaged. The loss will exceed $2,000. The big three-story brick building of the Chatham Daily News was in danger at one time, but owing to its fire-proof construction it was not damaged.

ALLIED DEMANDS SENT TO BUDAPEST

Disarmament of Hungary Has Been Agreed Upon by Council.

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Nov. 1.—The Allies and the "little entente" have reached an agreement on the essentials for discussing the details of the Hungarian situation. The council of ambassadors replied yesterday to the demand of the "little entente" according to most of the demands and undertaking to convey them to the Budapest Government.

The elimination of the Hapsburgs as rulers met with no basic opposition on the part of the Allies, although their removal was not stipulated in the peace treaty. It was pointed out, today, however, that the question of a Hungarian ruler still remains open.

The disarmament of Hungary has been agreed upon in principle, and the details are now being discussed as to what extent the "little entente" will participate officially and unofficially in the supervision. The Allies will go on record in a solemn declaration for carrying out the treaty. The recent Venice agreement on Burgenland is not affected by the present situation, it being a private accord.

Payment for the expense of mobilization is still being discussed. Czechoslovakia will not demobilize immediately, but will await the vote of the Hungarian Parliament on the question of the elimination of the Hapsburgs. A half million men are now with the colors.

BIG PROGRAM IS SET FOR ARMISTICE DAY

Will include Parade and Divine Service at Rink.

ST. THOMAS, Nov. 1.—The details of the program of events arranged for Armistice Day have been completed, and the main features will be a big parade of the several organizations in the city and an afternoon service in the city hall. Rev. Major MacGillivray will have charge of the latter ceremonies, and the service will be of a general character and not specially on behalf of the returned soldiers. Many of the churches will have religious exercises appropriate to the occasion. The procession of the returned soldiers, members of the societies and organizations, cadets, scouts and people who would take part in the demonstration will meet at the Horton street market at 1:30 p.m., and march on Talbot street to the Granite rink. Soldiers in uniform will act as ushers and direct the crowd at the rink.

Black Wyandotte Chicks From Eggs of White Wyandotte Hen.

BURGOWNE, Nov. 1.—Something in the way of a freak in the poultry line may be seen at the farm of James Ferguson of Arran Township near Burgoyne. This summer he had a batch of 25 chickens hatched from White Wyandotte hen's eggs and all of these chickens were a jet black, even their combs being dark, and they were all pullets. Some of the neighbors, who secured eggs for hatching purposes from Mr. Ferguson, had an exactly similar experience.

BUILDING ACTIVE IN RAILWAY CITY

Permits Issued During October
Valued At $22,785.

ST. THOMAS, Nov. 1.—The largest item in the building line for the past month was $12,000, the cost of an addition to the street car building for the use of the Metal Sign Company. The work is being undertaken by the council. The total number of permits issued by City Engineer Miller reached $22,785. W. S. Vanhorne is putting up two dwellings at $2,500 each, and Miss Lee, a brick residence on Walnut street to cost $3,400. More than half the building permits were for garages.

Expensive Speeding. Speeding on Wilson avenue Sunday afternoon, Frank Kwasick was caught in the act by Constable Grant, and was fined this morning $20 and costs. A little one racing to get out of the way of the speeder, tripped and ruined part of her clothing. Accused also paid for the damage to the child's clothes, and was warned that the next conviction meant a period in jail.

Asked For an Extension. Harry Temple, Port Stanley, was arrested by Chief Hammersley at the L. & P. S. depot last night and charged this morning for acting disorderly. Beef, iron and wine on top of a layer of hard cider, Temple blamed for his hilarity. He was fined $15 and costs. Temple just had two cents left to settle his bill with the chief, and asked for an extension of time to pay the balance of $14.98.

Refused to Speak. Hilton Nicholas, an Onondaga brave, was sent up for three months today on a charge of stealing a bicycle, the property of Supt. George Bolton, of the garage department. Nicholas refused to make any statement when arrested and was remanded for a week to refresh his memory, but this morning he again declined to speak, and the magistrate gave him another chance to get his faculties in order.

HAD BAD COUGH AND SORE THROAT

Never neglect a cough or cold, however slight. If you do, it can have but one result; it leaves the throat or lungs, or both, affected. A single dose of will help to stop the cough, soothe the throat, and if the cough or cold has become settled on the lungs the healing virtues of the Norway pine tree, along with the soothing and expectorant properties of other excellent herbs, roots and barks promptly eradicate the bad effects, and the persistent use cannot but help to bring about relief.

Mr. Albert Marsh, Lower L'Ardoise, N. S., writes: "About a year ago I contracted a cold, accompanied by a very bad cough and sore throat. I sent for the doctor, but what he prescribed did me so little good I began to get discouraged. A friend came to see me and asked me if I had ever used Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I told him I had not and sent him right away to get me a bottle. I started using it, and after a couple of days I found I was getting relief, and after taking two bottles the soreness in my throat seemed to be leaving me, so I continued to continue its use, and after I had used five bottles both my sore throat and cough were gone. I would not be without 'Dr. Wood's' for any money."

Price, 35c and 60c a bottle; put up only by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.—Advt.

CARHILL, Nov. 1.—An interesting experiment with ten plots of potatoes on the farm of John Eldridge, Amabel Township, was conducted this year under the direction of the Bruce County branch of the department of agriculture. The soil was sandy loam. The Green Mountain variety proved the best yielder, as will be seen by the following list:

Rheumatism

A Remarkable Home Treatment Given by One Who Had It.

In the year of 1883 I was attacked by Muscular and Sub-Acute Rheumatism I suffered as only those who are thus afflicted know for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, but such relief as I obtained was only temporary. Finally, I found a treatment that cured me completely and such a pitiful condition has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted, even bedridden, some of them seventy to eighty years old, and the results were the same as in my own case.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO EDUCATORS

Board of Education Regrets Deaths of C. B. Edwards and W. J. Snelgrove.

As a tribute to the memory of School Inspector C. B. Edwards, the session of the board of education was adjourned until Thursday, Nov. 10.

Prior to adjournment the trustees' resolution of regret was read and moved by Trustee Thomas Hove and seconded by Trustee Rev. A. A. Rice. The following resolution was subsequently carried by a standing vote:

That the following resolution of condolence be agreed upon the minutes of the board of education, and that a copy be forwarded to the bereaved family.

That whereas the death of Mr. C. B. Edwards has removed from our midst an honest and upright citizen and an efficient and painstaking inspector of public schools, we, members of the board of education of the city of London, desire to express our sincere sorrow and sense of loss.

For a period of nearly thirty years, Mr. Edwards has efficiently served the city as a public school principal, a master in the Collegiate Institute, and for nearly a score of years he has, as inspector of public schools, ably directed the primary education of the city. The efficiency of our public school system of today is a monument to our midst and an administrative ability.

Those who knew him most intimately appreciate best how strong a friend and ardent advocate the teachers of the city had in the late Inspector Edwards.

During his long tenure of office the following are among the many progressive measures he has been instrumental in inaugurating: Manual training and manual science, physical training and Cadet Corps, music, school nurses and dental clinic, and agriculture; and his last effort was spent in the providing of auxiliary classes. Our latest and best public school building represents his untiring efforts towards securing for London, the most modern and best-equipped public school buildings of his native province.

Influence Long Felt.

His influence will long be felt in the educational affairs of the city and province.

"We men, who in our morn of youth defined the elements, must vanish; be it so. Enough, if something from our hands have power.

To live and act, and serve the future hour; And if, as toward the silent tomb we go, Through love, through hope, and faith's unceasing quest, the future we can see, We feel that we are greater than we know."

The following resolution of regret at the death of Principal Snelgrove, of Lorne Avenue School, was also adopted:

That whereas the death of Mr. Snelgrove has removed from our midst a most highly esteemed and respected educationalist and public school principal in the person of Mr. W. J. Snelgrove, the board of education of the city of London desires to give expression to its sorrow and regret at the passing of so valuable a life.

From the date of his appointment to the staff of the London public schools on Jan. 1, 1900, and especially since his appointment as principal of Lorne Avenue School in 1906, his fidelity to duty, his ability as a principal and teacher, his sterling worth, and his exemplary life have all impressed themselves indelibly upon those who have been associated with him. Through his personal work has been brought to a close his influence will live on and his memory will still be cherished.

Tribute to Principal.

Be it therefore resolved that the board of education of the city of London spread upon its minutes this brief tribute to a life devoted to service not only to educational interests, but to the good welfare of the city.

He it also resolved that this expression of tribute and sympathy be conveyed to the sorrowing widow and family.

The following resolution of sympathy was passed for Trustee Mrs. W. A. Tanner, whose mother, Mrs. Eliza Chamberlain of Craig street, died on Sunday last, and was buried at Woodland Cemetery Monday afternoon. Mrs. Chamberlain was one of London's oldest citizens.

That whereas a member of our board, Trustee Mrs. Tanner, has been called upon to mourn the loss of her mother, who died on Sunday, Oct. 31, 1921, he it therefore resolved that the board of education of the city of London extend to her and the sorrowing relatives its most sincere sympathy in their sad bereavement.

Spinal Operation Performed In London For First Time

The condition of Mark Stover, Sarnia citizen, who received serious injuries at Delaware early Saturday morning, when an auto in which he was riding overturned, killing William Ross Lawrence instantly and injuring Alex. Houston of Sarnia, was reported at Victoria Hospital Wednesday to be "very grave."

Stover suffered a broken back when pinned down by the auto, and following admission to Victoria Hospital attending physicians discovered that he was paralyzed from his shoulders down. This was attributed to the fact portions of his fractured spinal column in the region of his shoulders were pressing upon the spinal cord, and an X-ray photo confirmed the diagnosis.

In an effort to relieve this pressure an operation was deemed necessary, which was done by Dr. Hadley Williams of this city assisted by Drs. G. A. Ramsay, E. Hodgins, G. McNeill and Gordon Jepson of London, and Dr. Rice of Delaware, who was first called to attend the injured men. A portion of Stover's spinal column was removed, exposing the cord, and this is the first time that an operation of such a nature has been performed in London.

Since this ordeal Stover has regained sensation in his lower limbs, but his general condition has shown little improvement. It is pointed out by the medical men in attendance that without the operation the Sarnia man would have succumbed in a few hours.

Alex. Houston, whose injuries were not so serious as those of Stover, is reported by the hospital authorities to be progressing favorably and he will recover.

CLAIMS U. F. A. UNPROGRESSIVE

Dr. Michael Clark Gives Reason For Breaking With Party.

Yorkton, Sask., Nov. 2.—Canadian Press.—I broke with the Progressive party when, in my judgment, they ceased to be progressive," declared Dr. Michael Clark, former member for Red Deer, in opening last night his campaign as a liberal candidate in the federal constituency of MacKenzie.

One of the largest crowds in the political history of the town formed his audience.

Dr. Clark stated that within the last few months the Progressive movement took on an "ultra-liberal, narrow, intolerant and purely class aspect."

"I worked in politics for certain objects, for things which do not differ materially from the objects of the Progressives, so long as they represented an advanced wing of Liberalism. Within the last few months this movement had degenerated into a narrow, autocratic class movement."

My views about certain class movements are not the growth of the past few months. On March 5, 1920, speaking in Parliament, I used this language: "With what has fallen from these gentlemen about any one class permanently ruling this country, I am in absolute agreement. The only logical and effective method to combine is upon common policy, sincerely held, as making for public good, for which all should co-operate."

W. D. JACKSON, in 1896, Dr. Clark continued, said Liberalism was the good old Saxon word for freedom, civil, religious and commercial. With that language he had been in agreement all his life, and if he had changed his political associates he had never changed his political belief.

The patriot in Canada, and in every allied country today, is the man who says: "Get rid of the war mind and the machinery as well. That is my answer to those who charge me with political inconsistency," Dr. Clark said.

HAMILTON ROAD CHURCH PIPE ORGAN DEDICATED

Entire Cost of Instrument is Covered by Subscriptions From Members

An interesting recital was held Tuesday night at the Hamilton Road Presbyterian Church by Dr. W. James Smith, organist of Askin Street Methodist Church. It was the dedication of the organ recently installed. Dr. Smith brought out through his playing and selections the good points of the organ, and demonstrated the various stops. He was assisted by Miss Frances Cullis, contralto, and Mr. G. McCulloch, tenor, both giving numerous delightful solos.

Dr. Copeland announced, that although it was decided only four weeks ago to purchase this organ, the entire cost of it was now covered by subscriptions, due to the efforts of the Young People's Society and the choir.

After the recital, a banquet was held in honor of the artists who participated, at which Rev. M. F. Cree congratulated them on their program and also thanked the choir and Young People's Society for their excellent work in securing the organ.

Next Sunday the Thanksgiving services will be given and special music will be supplied under the direction of A. B. Stein.

POPPY DAY CAMPAIGN IS INAUGURATED IN LONDON

Sale of Little Red Flower Under Control of Local Organizations.

The Poppy Day campaign is now in full swing, and although other Canadian cities began operations before London got into the ring it is expected that the Forest City will be well upon to the top on the final day, Nov. 11.

The G. W. V. A. and the I. O. O. F. are in control. The campaign was started with selling poppies in a local theatre, and it is believed that this plan will be followed in all the theatres in the city. There will also be an extensive sale of poppies. Boys' organizations and other organizations will be on the streets with boxes of the little red flower.

Col. W. G. Coles reported Wednesday morning that he and the other members of the organizations in charge were well pleased with the start made.

The campaign has a two-fold purpose. Part of the proceeds will remain in the city to assist in placing a cot in the new Children's Hospital and the remainder will go to assist the orphans in France and Belgium. In return for the assistance from the Canadians the orphans are taking care of the graves of the Canadian soldiers in France and Belgium.

GRAIN

Chicago, Nov. 2.—New low price records for 1921 were reached today, the market falling still lower than the level touched on yesterday's break of 16c. Liquidation ascribed to eastern holders continued, and there was no evidence of export demand for United States wheat.

It was estimated that domestic hard winter grades were 1c to 5c above the working basis as compared with Canada. The opening, which varied from unchanged figures to 1/4c lower, were followed by a material setback all around.

Corn and oats were easier with wheat. Corn opened unchanged to 1/4c to 1/2c off, hardened a trifle and then sagged all around.

Oats started 1/4c to 3/4c lower and continued to weaken.

ASKS MOTORISTS TO STOP CARS ONLY ON ROADSIDES

Motorists on the London-Lambeth Highway, when stopping to make repairs, are urged by the London Motor club to draw as close to the edge as possible. It has been noticed that cars stopping well in the roadway have been the cause of numerous blockades, when other cars have had room to pass.

In this connection the following letter has been received by R. E. Beaudry of the club from J. G. Smith, resident engineer for this district, with headquarters in St. Thomas:

"On Sunday last there was very heavy traffic over the new concrete pavement on the provincial highway between London and Lambeth, and it was quite noticeable that there were frequent minor blockades due to overhauling cars being unable to safely pass cars stalled for repairs on the pavement."

"To my knowledge there is nothing legally to prevent a car remaining on the pavement while changing tires, etc., but I believe on other such roads in this province at least, it is the practice to stop cars to draw as far to the shoulder of the road as possible. Certainly it would be only courtesy for them to do so, as the pavement is not of sufficient width to permit overhauling cars to pass in safety when there is approaching traffic."

URGES DEEPENING OF ST. LAWRENCE

Deep Waterways Association Opens Session at Hamilton.

Hamilton, Nov. 2.—The first business of this morning's session of the Canadian Deep Waterways and Power Association was the election of officers. In view of the feeling expressed at a previous session that much educational work must be done in Western Canada, propaganda similar to that in Ontario and Quebec, several delegates expressed the opinion that the present officials of the association be re-elected so that the organization would benefit to the fullest extent by their experience.

The suggestion was acted upon, and the following officers declared elected:

W. M. German, Welland, honorary president; Sir Adam Beck, London, and T. L. Church, Toronto, honorary vice-presidents; F. MacLure, Sarnia, Windsor, honorary treasurer; O. E. Fleming, Windsor, president; E. L. Cousins of Toronto, George Guy of Hamilton, George Graham of Port William and T. B. Deacon of Windsor, vice-presidents; Alex. Lewis, M. L. A., Toronto, secretary-treasurer; Hon. Frank Keefer of Port Arthur, C. H. Reece-Hall of Port Huron, C. L. R. Fuller of Chatham, W. B. Burgoyne of St. Catharines and J. M. Campbell of Kingston, executive committee; W. M. German of Welland, O. E. Fleming of Windsor, E. L. Cousins of Hamilton, A. H. Dennis of Port William, C. H. Reece-Hall of Port Huron, finance committee.

The financial statement showed receipts of $9,763 and a balance of $1,837.

J. M. Campbell of Kingston presented the following resolutions, which were carried:

"That the president and secretary-treasurer be authorized to arrange a series of meetings throughout the west and to provide speakers, the finance committee to arrange for a special fund to cover expenses."

"That the association earnestly requests the Government of Ontario, whose coastline extends along the Great Lakes, except Lake Michigan, to make a provincial grant to the extent of at least $15,000 a year for three years, should it be required that long, especially as Ontario is vitally more interested in the project than any of the western states, which have so liberally supported the movement."

Another resolution in connection with the scheme outlined by W. S. Prentiss of Kingston for storage dams and power development on the great river, requests the Ontario Government to give the matter serious consideration.

On account of the rapidity with which the morning agenda was completed the convention decided to go ahead with the afternoon program in open forum.

This was opened by R. E. Beaudry, United States consul at Niagara Falls, who read a very informative paper on water transportation.

Mr. Milner spoke strongly in favor of the deepening of the St. Lawrence.

3,000 APPLAUD
LIBERAL CHIEF AT STRATFORD
James Murdock Tells How the Combines Hamstring Board of Commerce.

GOVERNMENT ASSISTED
Declares Tide of Cabinet Ministers, Like Niagara, Improved Progress.

STRATFORD, Ont., Nov. 1.—An apparently inexhaustible stream of people flowed into the gaily decorated Casino here tonight to listen to Hon. Wm. L. Mackenzie King. For an hour he drew forth the tide of his thought, and nearly three thousand persons were gathered, by far the largest audience seen so far on Mr. King's present Ontario tour.

Supporting the Liberal leader were Dr. J. P. Rankin and Wm. Forrester, Liberal candidates for North and South respectively, James Murdock, candidate for South Toronto, and Wellington Hay, recently chosen temporary leader of the Ontario Liberal Opposition. The chairman of the evening was Dr. T. Quinlan, president of the North Perth Liberal Association.

Has Not Accepted.
Mr. Hay, M. L. A., in his opening remarks, said the new office which his audience thought he had, he had not; either could he accept it. He could not leave Listowel, and was only acting temporarily in the position of leader of the Ontario Liberal Association.

Mr. Hay criticized W. A. Amos, the progressive Farmer candidate, who, he said, had been a pastor and later a farmer in North Perth. With the experience thus gained he had been appointed a commissioner to investigate the hydro radical scheme, and had eventually charged the Government some $3,000 for his services. A lesser amount, Mr. Hay thought, had been paid him.

Mr. Amos, the speaker charged, was out for all there was in the traffic rather than for what is the best interests of the people.

Found Mergers Existing.
Mr. Murdock, as on earlier occasions outlined his experience as a member of the Board of Commerce. He said that food was discovered and the board also discovered the existence of mergers and monopolies.

In one case it was found that $3,000 had been realized as profit on three bags of sugar between the hands of the wholesalers and its arrival on the consumers' table. But at each effort of the board to remedy such conditions it found itself up against quietly hidden resistance.

Mr. Murdock said he might as easily have swam the Niagara as stemmed the tide of resistance which the cabinet ministers were opposing to the unclenching of the Board of Commerce.

Board Was "Hamstrung."
But the board, said Mr. Murdock, was "hamstrung." When it became necessary to appoint a fresh chairman of the board the Government declined to make an appointment, and so the projected investigation of the textile industry the cement and the canners' combines was never carried out.

After a regretful allusion to the death of Lady Laurier, Hon. Mackenzie King stated that Mr. Meighen had no more right to restrict discussion at this time to the tariff than Mr. Meighen had the right to retain his position at the head of affairs for the last sixteen months without a semblance of authority from the people.

"The prime minister," he exclaimed, "dare not come before the people of Canada upon the record of his Government."

Mr. King attacked the Government on the score of its administration of the railways and the merchant marine. He accused the Government of having consistently denied Parliament information as to the expenditure of vast sums of money.

$2,000,000 For Munitions.
Nothing was more important than that a representative of labor should be found on the board of directors of the National Railways as called for by the Liberal platform. Had such a man as James Murdock been on the board for the last two years there might have been a different story with regard to the ever-increasing deficits. The cost of living was chiefly determined by the cost of government, said Mr. King. Every policy should be framed having due regard to its effect upon the homes of Canada. The Government had spent two million dollars during the last two years in making munitions which it now appeared was utterly superfluous. And this, Mr. King asserted, was only one example of an extravagance on the colossal scale which seemed characteristic of Mr. Meighen's Government.

The Liberal party did not stand for free trade. It stood for a broad national policy, and no industry in Canada earning a legitimate profit need have any concern of the Liberal revision of the tariff.

LIBERAL LEADER
IN SARNIA TONIGHT
SARNIA, Nov. 1.—West Lambton Liberals tonight completed final arrangements for staging one of the big features of the campaign tomorrow evening at the Imperial Theatre and the auditorium of the city hall, when the Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal party, is to deliver two addresses. He is accompanied by James Murdock, labor leader, who makes strong charges against the federal administration as a result of his experience as a member of the board of commerce. Mr. Murdock resigned from the board as a result of his experience.

P. F. Pardee, Liberal candidate for West Lambton, will address the meetings at the Imperial Theatre and at the city hall.

DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE
"PRIMER"
In 24 Paragraphs
by WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS
(Copyright, 1921.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.

Reduced to its simplest form, it is vital to all Canadians to know that the main idea behind the conference at Washington Nov. 12 for the limitation of armaments, is to head off a war in the Pacific.

Right along with this, and equally important, is a desire to put an end to the race between rival navies of the world for first place.

The original suggestion was to hold a disarmament conference, but it was soon realized that to propose even a reduction of armaments without first removing the principal causes of friction between the powers would prove a mere waste of time.

So the idea of a "Pacific conference" was born—the Pacific, and the region of the Far East being the recognized new war-breeding region of the world.

The Far East is the new trouble-center because Asia offers stupendous opportunities in the way of trade, and both China and Russia are powerless to defend themselves against mighty nations.

China has split herself up into two main factions—northern and southern—each with a "president," and many of her provinces have proclaimed their autonomy. Undeveloped, rich in natural resources beyond conception, she is ripe fruit and good picking for territory-grabbing, or concession-hungry neighbors.

Siberia, too, rich in the natural resources which can supply the raw products so essential to an industrial nation, is an open invitation to foreign exploitation.

For 21 years Great Britain and the United States have stood by the "open door," meaning Asia should not be swallowed by any nation or group of nations, but should retain her independence, and keep her door open to the commerce of all countries alike and without favoritism.

Though every great power endorsed this doctrine when first promulgated in 1900, some of them have utterly failed to live up to it in practice.

Japan, since 1914, especially, has been conspicuous for her failure, not only to respect her pledge regarding the "open door," but to live up to the terms of her treaty guaranteeing the integrity of China with Great Britain as well.

Japan took over all German rights in Shantung and has consistently broadened them since 1914, refusing to give them back to China, despite the fact that China, too, helped fight Germany. Japan will leave Shantung only on condition.

Japan is in Manchuria where her concessions are many and where she owns outright the South Manchurian Railway. Though in Chinese territory, China can use this railway only by consent of Japan.

Japan is in Siberia and is pushing on into Mongolia; she is in possession of the northern half of the island of Sakhalin, belonging to Russia; her troops control the whole length of the Chinese Eastern Railway and are the law of Vladivostok; she is in Fokien Province, at Port Arthur, in the Liaotung peninsula and in Korea—annexed in 1910 after successful wars with China and Russia.

Yap, a tiny island in the Pacific, is the strategic center of communications with the Far East. Japan claims a mandate over it by virtue of a ruling of the supreme council sitting at Paris.

To many of these Japanese adventures Britain and the United States are opposed, particularly those which violate the doctrine of the "open door."

Great Britain, and particularly the British overseas dominions—Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa—are fearful lest their interests in the Pacific be infringed upon.

Britons in the Far East wish to see the Anglo-Japanese alliance denounced in favor of a more general agreement regarding the Far East.

They claim Japan has not kept her word with regard to the "open door" or with Great Britain with regard to the alliance. They fear Japan's secret intentions in Asia and what she might do in India.

A Pacific conference, British Dominions hope, will serve to clear up the atmosphere of suspicion in the Orient and pave the way for the denunciation of an outworn and unpopular alliance in favor of new understandings.

It is hoped that by all the great powers putting their cards face up on the conference table at Washington, and everybody playing square with each other and with Asia, the causes of friction between at least the three principal naval powers can be removed to the extent that partial disarmament, or limitation of armament, will result.

Will the conference succeed? It will if the powers give helpless Asia a square deal.

If the conference does nothing else, it will show everybody how the land lies. The people of the world will know which nations are trying to promote peace and which are hoping to profit by more war.

That at least this much shall be accomplished, full publicity should be given the whole proceedings. Without publicity, right-minded nations are likely to have their endeavors painted black and the skull-duggery of the bad ones depicted in bright colors.

Aside from justice and fair play to the under dog, Britain's interests in Asia are economic.

DENIES PLEDGE
TO QUIT IN 1919
Premier Meighen Heckled At Oshawa On Liberal
Tariff Issue.

OSHAWA, Ont., Nov. 1.—(By Canadian Press Staff Correspondent.) Voters of South Ontario gathered in the armories to the number of about 4,000 when Premier Meighen spoke here today. F. L. Fowke, ex-M. P., was chairman of the meeting and the first speaker was William Smith, former member and Liberal-Conservative candidate in the riding. On the platform with Mr. Meighen was Hon. J. W. Edwards, minister of health, colonization and immigration.

The premier said: "One would think now, to hear the distributives of some what paltry men, that in 1917, party politicians had seized on the reins of government for selfish purposes. This was not so. Union Government had not been formed through the action of selfish men. It had resulted from a patriotic response to a country-wide call for the burial of party differences, in order that the whole machinery of government might be concentrated on winning the war."

"The Liberals passed a tariff question two years ago and they would go into sackcloth and ashes for six years now to do away with it," said the premier. He insisted that all the criticisms of the Government offered by the Liberals were for the purpose of diverting attention from the tariff.

"There was no real battle in this. A revision was due and if the Government was returned to power the tariff would be revised on a protective principle. No more protection would be given to any one industry. Canadian industries to compete with American industries, and continue operating in this country."

Interruption Occurs.
At one point in Mr. Meighen's speech an interruption occurred. He had declared that Hon. J. W. Edwards would never read his platform in Oshawa. A man in the rear of the hall called out, "Why not?"

"Because it's for use in the West," replied the Premier, who then found it read in the Toronto Telegram, "called back the men."

"Yes, but you won't in the Toronto Globe," Mr. Meighen replied.

At another point, Hon. F. L. Fowke, principal speaker of the Whittier Ladies' College, made an interruption. He charged that Mr. Meighen was trying to inform people that Mr. King's policy was free trade, whereas it was really a revenue tariff.

The audience was not disposed to take the interruption kindly. It told the interrupter to sit down, and one voice called out, "You'll have to excuse him; he's a Galt."

Challenges Premier.
Mr. Farewell challenged the premier to read the Liberal tariff resolutions, which Mr. Meighen did.

"Does anyone know what a revenue tariff is?" asked Mr. Meighen. "Certainly everyone does," shot back Mr. Farewell.

"What is the present tariff?" asked the premier. "It's a protective tariff," replied Mr. Farewell.

"Who made it?" demanded the premier. "The Laurier Government," answered the premier, and the crowd applauded.

"The proposal of the Liberals would bring free into Canada goods made in 8,745 factories in this Dominion," declared the Premier.

There were other interruptions, and for a time the Premier's meeting was more like a conversation than a speech. Not all the interruptions were antagonistic, but some of them were, and these objects were somewhat insistent.

"What about the pledge of your party to resign in 1919?" one of them called out.

"We never made it. This man's a humbug," shouted back the Premier.

U. S. Coal Miners To Strike If Operators Obey Court Order

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 1.—A general strike of coal miners in the United States seemed inevitable tonight if operators heed the injunction issued by Federal Judge A. B. Anderson, which proscribes the "check off" of union dues.

A telegram sent late today from headquarters of the United Mine Workers of America, after it had been definitely learned that the injunction was not yet in effect, advised union officials to regard disunion as the check off as breaking the existing wage agreement.

The telegram, signed by President John Lewis, Vice-President M. Gray and Secretary John Green, said: "Any abrogation or setting aside of any part or section of this agreement, including the section providing for the checking off of dues and assessments cannot be regarded as other than a violation of the agreement and should be treated accordingly by the district officers and local unions."

While no course of conduct for union officials was outlined by the telegram, it was said authoritatively that the international officials regarded the strike as the union's only weapon to enforce a contract. The telegram was sent to officials in sixteen states, where the check off provision obtains and where 350,000 of the 550,000 union miners are employed.

CUT NOVA SCOTIA PAY.
SIDNEY, N. S., Nov. 1.—Formal notice of intention to reduce the wages of the twelve thousand coal miners of Nova Scotia, when their present agreement expires on Nov. 30, was served today by the principal operators of the province upon J. B. McLaughlin, secretary of the United Mine Workers of America. District 26, which includes practically all the mine workers of the Maritime Provinces.

The amount of the proposed cut is not stated. The miners have already expressed their intention of resisting any wage cut to the last ditch and many forecast here that one of the hardest industrial fights in the history of Nova Scotia coal industry will result.

In giving the required thirty days' notice of intention to abrogate the agreement the operators declare that under present industrial conditions, with coal prices falling, a wage cut is necessary if the mines are to be kept open at all. The notice states that a committee of operators will be ready to meet a committee of the mine workers.

Guthrie Denies Munitions
Increase Burden of Canada

GUELPH, Ont., Nov. 1.—Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King's appeal under date of Oct. 27 for further information regarding the shipment of large consignments of munitions to this country from Great Britain, which the leader of the Liberal forces had noticed being unloaded from ships at Levis, Que., was answered today by Hon. Hugh Guthrie, minister of militia who, in a 3,000 word statement, reiterates that the importation of these munitions involves no new expenditure by Canada.

Mr. Guthrie's communication is accompanied by schedules marked "A," "B," and "C," under which he lists the warlike stores and ammunition requisitioned by Canada under the arrangement with the British Government, the stores which Canada is still entitled to requisition, and the equipment which Canada has received as a gift from the British Government.

The minister's letter follows in part: "Dear Mr. King: "I received your letter of Oct. 27, at noon yesterday, and I hasten to reply thereto. Before answering the questions which you have submitted to me, may I be permitted to say that I think you are laboring under some misapprehension as to the nature and application of the various votes which are annually made by Parliament for the militia department. The vote for 'demobilization,' which has appeared in the estimates since the armistice is for the payment only of claims arising out of the war, and it is not intended in any way for the current expenditure of the department since the armistice, but all accounts for payment of munitions, which were contracted prior to the armistice, are chargeable to the vote for demobilization."

Mr. Guthrie deals with Mr. King's questions as follows: Q—"What was the nature and extent of credit against which Canada anticipated to draw as provided by the agreement reached with the British Government at the time of the armistice, and when demobilization was decided upon; and (2) in accordance with the terms of the financial settlement of July, 1920?"

A—"The first agreement after the armistice was merely an agreement to pool all our overseas war material in the hands of the war office subject to our right to requisition such parts as we might require for the Canadian militia, and the second agreement, which was set out whereby the war office agreed to take over all the balance of our war material not required by the Canadian militia at the sum of $3,000,000, or thereabouts, for which Canada was to obtain a credit from the British Government. The sum of $3,000,000 above mentioned is from memory—I have not the exact figures before me at present.

Q—"What was the extent and nature of the war material, including warlike stores and ammunition drawn by Canada from the British Government, the stores which Canada is still entitled to requisition, and the equipment which Canada has received as a gift from the British Government."

A—"The schedule hereto attached marked 'B' contains a statement of all ammunition drawn by Canada from the war office pursuant to the above arrangement and the only portion of this ammunition still due to Canada under this arrangement is shown in the last column of Schedule 'B.'

Q—"Particularly as to airplanes and other war equipment, which have been received from Great Britain as gifts since the armistice."

A—"In Schedule 'C' you will find a detail. This gift consisted of the equipment which have been received from Great Britain as gifts since the armistice. This gift consisted of the equipment necessary for two squadrons of airplanes and also a number of lighter-than-air craft."

Difference Between Screen Comics and Comedies

BY JAMES W. DEAN.
NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Two films soon to be released are "A Rural Cinderella" and "Singing Sister Susie." A comparison of the two shows distinctly shows the extent to which producers are going to get new material for laugh-provoking plays.

It has been said that there are only seven jokes in the world. Film comedies seem limited to that number of situations for laughs.

"A Rural Cinderella" is a product of the old school of comedy. It is without point. It is a series of burlesque situations joined together in jerky sequence. Each situation is built for a laugh.

This type of comic appeals to those with a broad sense of humor, to those who laugh when clowning engage each other with slapsticks.

Thus in "A Rural Cinderella" Louise Fazenda dresses in lamp shades and portieres to attend a party.

Her blouses are too hard to eat. She puts them under a steam roller. They make fine pancakes.

John Henry, Jr., the baby comedian, is drenched in a tub. Louise hangs him on the mantel to dry.

Another character, a strong man, plows a field without aid of horse or mule. He picks the plow up with one hand and holds it at arm's length to point directions.

The strong man is made impotent when nails in his shoes are clenched in a floor.

The humor of the subtitles is as obvious as that of the situations. Too obvious to me, but that means nothing. I have heard thousands laugh at similar titles and situations in other comedies.

This photograph shows what make-up will do. Louise Fazenda as she appears in comedies and as she is outside the studio.

DELAY ENFORCING IMPORT LABEL ACT

Customs Officials Still Waive Imprint of Country of Manufacture.

The minister of customs has acceded to the requests of importing firms throughout the Dominion to extend the date of enforcement of the law requiring the name of the country in which an article is manufactured to be imprinted on it.

London customs officials state that this legislation had been enacted by the Dominion Government, in order that the Canadian consumer might be aware of the origin of an imported article. This is particularly desirable on account of the prejudice of the Canadian buyer against goods made of German manufacture.

The order given to the city customs officials stipulated also that any goods made in what was the German Empire before the war were to be labelled "Made in Germany."

A. E. Barbour, a leading importer in this city, said that he believed that it was largely due to his importing the minister of customs that the extension was given.

"The law has much to commend itself, but I find that if I ask the manufacturers who supply our firm to print the name of the country on goods sent to us it will make the price of our goods, chinaware and glassware, exorbitant," declared the merchant.

SARNIA WANTS MORE MONEY FOR HOUSES

SARNIA, Nov. 1.—Members of Sarnia council decided to make application to the Government for $200,000 to aid in the building of houses under the supervision of the Sarnia Housing Commission. At the present time Sarnia has a waiting list of 25 applicants for housing commission houses, and as a result of this an effort will be made to secure money from the government housing fund to carry on with the local home building program.

The council has decided to send a delegation to Hamilton tomorrow to attend the deep waterway conference, and the representatives will be backed by the chamber of commerce and the city council.

No decision was reached tonight concerning the water supply for the Grand Trunk, but the issue was turned over to a committee headed by Ald. Dagan, and they will hold a special meeting in an effort to make satisfactory arrangements with the railway heads. The company is threatening to cut off the city water supply if their rate is increased. At the present time the railway pays the city of Sarnia about $10,000 a year in water rates.

EXTENDS ACTIVITIES IN SOCIAL SERVICE

London Council Plans Galt and Preston Branches.

To extend the scope of its activities by establishing local branches in Galt and Preston, the social service council attended meetings in Galt and Preston churches Sunday, Oct. 30.

T. H. McCullough, secretary of the council, said that while the meetings were of a preliminary nature, yet the enthusiasm shown by the people in those towns in the prospective organization was remarkable.

As secretary of the council, Mr. McCullough has been arranging field days under its auspices at different points in Western Ontario.

Field days have been arranged in the following places: Hamilton, Nov. 27; Oshawa, Nov. 20; Kitchener, Dec. 4, and Barrie, Dec. 11. In reference to a report in a London newspaper, associating the name of the council with the anti-cigarette campaign in a number of city churches "Temperance Sunday," the secretary

Chinese Government Defaults $5,500,000 Loan by U. S. Bank

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Default by the Chinese Republic of the $5,500,000 loan made by the Continental and Commercial Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago, due today, has resulted in abandonment of a proposed loan to China of $10,000,000.

A United States banker representing the Chinese consortium today issued the following statement in connection with China's failure to meet her obligations to the Chicago institution: "The American group recently received word that it would be agreeable to the Peking Government to receive proposals for a loan aggregating $10,000,000, the proceeds to be utilized to meet two maturities of the Government, each for $5,500,000, and falling due respectively on Nov. 1 and Dec. 1; also to take up past due coupons on the Hukwang Railway bonds, the technical default in this issue having been due to the state of war at one time existing between China and Germany; and further to provide funds for the reorganization of the wine and tobacco tax bureau, the revenues from which might be available as security for the loan under consideration."

"In response to the request made from Peking, and in order to put the Government in funds to avoid any possible default, the American group submitted proposals for a loan for the amount named and for the purposes stated. The Government having failed, however, to accept these proposals, the matter has been dropped."

Bodies of 8 of 11 Fishermen Still Sought by Coastguards

NAGLESEA, N. J., Nov. 1.—Coastguards were still searching tonight for the bodies of eight of the eleven fishermen who lost their lives off Hereford, late yesterday, when their boats were capsized during a severe "southeaster."

Three bodies were washed ashore early today, and efforts are being made to reach one of the battered fishing smacks, which ran aground on a bar in the belief that more bodies might be found in it. High seas made the approach to the wreck a hazardous task.

The fishermen left here Monday to raise their nets for the winter, in accordance with government regulations. When they were returning in two boats, which had been lashed together to carry the 80-foot net poles, the men were caught by the storm several miles from shore.

Both boats, according to fishermen here, were dashed to pieces by the high seas while trying to cross the bar. One of them was tossed upon the beach with three bodies. Hope of reaching the other before it is completely demolished was wanting tonight when the seas failed to calm down.

The men were employed by the Consolidated Fisheries Company.

HOCKEN ANSWERS CATHOLIC PRELATE

Disputes Archbishop McNeill's View of Separate Schools.

TORONTO, Nov. 1.—H. C. Hocken, former member of the Commons, for West Toronto, Orange grand master, replying at the Canadian Club luncheon here today to an address given before the Canadian Club a week ago by Archbishop McNeill, on the question of taxes for separate schools, which his grace claimed were not just or adequate, took issue with the archbishop as to the separate school being practically a public service.

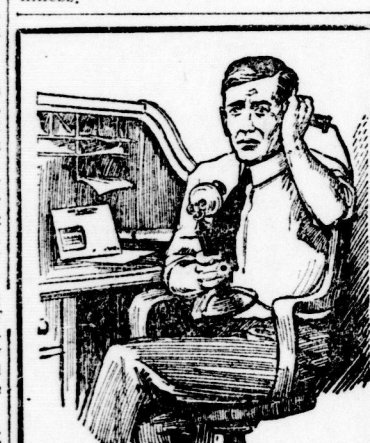

"It is a special service," Mr. Hocken declared. "His Grace told us," Mr. Hocken continued, "that separate schools were under public control. That is true only in the approval—not the selection of taxes, the grading of qualifications of teachers and the auditing of accounts. That is a very limited measure of public control. Means $1,000,000 Yearly."

With reference to Archbishop McNeill's claim for a division of the taxes of incorporated companies so that separate schools would get their share, according to population, Mr. Hocken said he believed that this would mean taking away from the public schools a million dollars a year. "The principle of division by population was rejected in 1863 and in 1867," Mr. Hocken said, "and instead of that it was decided to give separate schools all the taxes to be derived from the Roman Catholics who declared their wish to support separate schools. That is as far as it could be made."

"Any Ontario child can go to the public schools without endangering its faith," Mr. Hocken said.

DEATH OF ONLY DAUGHTER.

INGERSOLL, Nov. 1.—The death occurred today of Dorothy May, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bock, Thames street south. She had been ill for two weeks, and although her condition had been critical, scores of friends were shocked by the announcement of her death. She was in her 17th year, and a fifth form pupil at the collegiate institute. Besides her parents she is survived by one brother, Lloyd, who is recovering from a serious illness.

The Kidneys

The office man and the outdoor worker suffer alike from derangements of the kidneys.

Backaches and headaches are among the symptoms. In some cases Bright's disease soon develops, others suffer from high blood pressure until hardening of the arteries sets in.

In order to forestall painful and fatal diseases prompt action should be taken at the first sign of trouble.

Mr. A. D. MacKinnon, Kirkwood, Inverness county, N.S., writes:

"I can highly recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to all suffering from weak kidneys. I suffered from kidney disease for a long time. I may also say that for three years I was nearly always troubled with headaches, and no treatment seemed to do more than afford temporary relief. I was finally told of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and after using a few boxes was completely relieved. I have also used Dr. Chase's Ointment with the best results, and never fail to recommend these wonderful remedies."

MINISTER'S WIFE SUES FOR ALIMONY

Alleges Better Half Accused Her of Being Gadabout.

TORONTO, Nov. 1.—Ada M. Walker, a former Toronto school teacher, in the assize court before Mr. Justice Rose, at Osgoode Hall, is suing Harry Walker, a minister in the city, but at present without a charge, for $20 a week alimony.

Mrs. Walker swore that her husband was constantly fault-finding and was a "continuous scold." They were married on May 12, 1917, and she declared that the trouble began on their honeymoon, when he told her one Sunday morning that she was using too much gas for frying an egg. She was extravagant with food and sugar, he said, and he accused her of being a "gadabout."

Witness testified that on another occasion her husband had called her a "balky brute." He had objected to her using more than a quart of hot water a week for bathing, and when he saw two clothespins in the backyard, he said that it was a shame to see such waste. The case is proceeding.

CANDIDATE FOR REEVE. CARGILL, Nov. 1.—H. Schnurr has announced himself a candidate for the reevehip of Cargill for 1922. He is now serving as councillor. Eckhardt Siegener, who stepped aside last year to allow Charles Wagner to run for reeve, will be in the field again, it is said, and unless Reeve Montag decides to retire at the end of the present term there will be a three-cornered fight for the reeve's chair in that township.

MOTHER!

Open Child's Bowels with "California Fig Syrup"

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, a teaspoonful will never fail to open the bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste from the tender, little bowels and gives you a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

The romance and trading importance of CANADA'S GREAT WATER ROUTE

Toronto Harbour to-day

CANADA'S history has been made on her Lakes and Rivers. From the early days of the French settlers and traders, the inland waters of Canada have been the channel along which progress has pushed forward her frontiers. On these great lakes and rivers the canoes of the missionaries paddled inland as far as the Sault, quickly followed by the Couriers du Bois and later by farmers and merchants from old France and the British Isles. These broad expanses of fresh water were used by the followers of Jacques Cartier and Champlain to conduct their trade with the Indians. In those pioneer days the water route was the only practical means of transport. The Great Lakes provided the natural access to Upper Canada.

With the coming of steamboats, these same lakes and rivers became the centre of increasing commercial activity. Towns and cities sprang into being. Mount Royal became the metropolis of Montreal, Muddy York developed into the Queen City of Toronto. Hamilton, Kingston, Windsor, Sarnia, Sault Ste. Marie, Port Arthur, Fort William—all these important cities owe their settlement and development to their respective positions on the Great Lakes Waterways, and to the constant stream of traffic which these positions ensure.

With the settlement of the Great West and the conversion of prairie lands into wheat fields, the golden grain of Canada found its natural outlet in this great navigable waterway, on which ply the splendid steamships of the Canada Steamship Lines' fleet.

This year nearly 100,000,000 bushels of Canadian grain were carried by the ships of the Canada Steamship Lines. In addition to this huge grain business, the same fleet carried an immense tonnage of iron ore, coal and package freight.

This great volume of freight, added to a passenger business of large proportions, is capable of development to greater totals as our country expands and prospers.

The future holds for Canada Steamship Lines a prospect second only to that of the Dominion itself.

Young Foreigners in Canada
Marry Too Young.

"If we teach them what the Bible contains, and nothing else, I think we have done a great work," said Miss Forman, speaking of the "New Canadians" in Regina, in her address to delegates of the London District Women's Missionary Society Tuesday afternoon. Miss Forman is on a year's furlough, after spending five years in charge of a mission in the eastern section of Regina, known as the foreign settlement. Miss Forman has accomplished wonderful things while working with these "New Canadians," as she terms them. Her mission men have included people of every nationality of Europe.

The chief work she boasts of is her Sunday school class, with a membership of 150. "When these children first come to the mission they know nothing of the Bible, but are eager to learn all it contains," stated Miss Forman. "We give them picnics, parties and banquets, and encourage them in every way we can."

Hold Baby Clinics.
"In the mission we also hold a baby clinic once a week, which is very essential, as only one-half of the children, born to these new Canadian parents, live, which is due chiefly to improper feeding."

"The girls marry so young that it is impossible for them to know how to care for children properly, and we impress upon them the great folly of early marriages."

Miss Forman stated that she did not approve of divorce, but as there was no law in Canada prohibiting the living together of persons not legally married, which she declared was frequently the case, she decided to frequently discuss out of unhappy marriages, of the two evils she preferred the former.

"All the leading men of Regina are interested in our boys and girls' clubs, and receive their support on all occasions," stated Miss Forman.

Teaches Culinary Arts.
The mission also possesses a kitchen class, at which the women are taught the art of Canadian cooking; a mission band with a membership of 40 members, and classes in which lectures are given to explain everything pertaining to household problems, political questions, legal questions and anything in Canadian life that is not quite clear to these new Canadians.

John Cottam, later in the afternoon, spoke on the great necessity of a stranger's secretary in connection with the Women's Missionary Society, in order that strangers may become acquainted and brought into the church.

It was decided that in the future the annual convention would be held on a set date, which would be fixed by the executive committee.

Reports Board Meeting.
Mrs. Gordon Wright, president of the London conference board, gave a report on the board meeting, and stated that the missionary society in Canada present, nine in China, three in Japan and eight in Canada, with seventeen returned. She stated that the annual life members had been elected, and also the number of auxiliaries and missionaries, but the financial standing was considerably lower.

Reports were given from the mission bands of the various auxiliaries, and Mrs. Glynne, representing the Colborne Methodist Church, gave an interesting talk on the mission bands and their great importance; and Mrs. Sparling, of the First Methodist Church, spoke on the mission study book.

The afternoon session closed with an interesting little play given by the Rutland Street Mission Band.

Scene of Charm
Is Big BazaarCronyn Memorial Women's Aid Sale
Opened by Rev. G. A. Warner.

Imagine a private view of the show-rooms of Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus, filled to overflowing with the delightful things that one dreams about for Christmas, and you get some idea of the interest and charm of the mammoth bazaar of women's aid association of the Cronyn Memorial Church (assisted by all the other women's societies), which was formally opened at a quarter to three o'clock on Tuesday afternoon by the pastor, Rev. G. A. Warner. Of course everybody takes it for granted that the Santa Clauses are supreme artists, hence the foregone conclusion that the scene of the big event, the Cronyn Memorial Fair, is a thing of beauty and fascination in its present guise, even if it has become a mart of industry. Lest the visitor should become bewildered amid such an array of tempting offerings to be bought, good generosity has marshalled all into order in departments or booths in charge of able conveners.

Precedence has been given in arrangement to their majesties, the babies, in a display of baby clothes, blue birds, and other novelties. Mrs. Boughner and Mrs. Jewell are the fairy godmothers presiding over fascinating sweaters, hoods, and "just plain becoming" exquisite hand-made garments, and every conceivable conceit that a fastidious baby might require.

Witches on broomsticks glide in and out of the flower garlanded lattice work which incloses the children's department in charge of Mrs. Whetter and Mrs. Orr. Dresses are to be found there, pyjamas, sweaters, all sorts of necessities for the older small folks.

Mrs. McKenzie and Mrs. Jackson have dubbed their nook the Kitchen Booth, and there they have collected an array of wares calculated to satisfy the demands of "the complete housekeeper."

Specially worthy of note are dainty sash curtains all ready on their rods to be put up at a moment's notice.

Every kind of apron ever heard of seems to have been collected for the array in charge of Mrs. Anstie and Mrs. Atkins.

Home cooking to make the mouth water, slide by flowers and candles, makes its bow under the chaperonage of Mrs. Coombs and Mrs. Burch. Possibly because they like the association the things that men especially want, such as pipe, tobacco, etc., have strayed into this department, where they also rub elbows with powders and perfumes.

Exquisite materials and beautiful needlework are temptingly arranged in the linen stall, with Miss Ryland and Mrs. Colrick keeping guard over the "fine linen."

What do you lack in the way of gifts? Miss Hilda Keene has a hundred and one suggestions in her irresistible gift shop.

"One woman's white elephant is not every woman's white elephant," is a truth repeatedly demonstrated in connection with the demand for articles offered in the kitchen jam collected by Mrs. Kidner and Mrs. Hayman.

Miss Kathleen Cowan's fish pond and Mrs. Harper's orange tree are proving a source of delight to grownup children as well as to the little ones.

Afternoon tea was served from 4:00 to 5:30 and a more substantial meal from 6 to 8 o'clock, in charge of Miss Childs.

A feature attracting special attention is the art gallery of surprises, in charge of two small boys.

Wednesday evening the men of the church are attending in a body for supper at 7 o'clock, and the R. C. R. Band will be in attendance. The proceeds of the bazaar, which owes much to the general generosity of Mrs. Charles Keene, president of the Women's Aid Association, will be devoted to the fund for the renovation of the church.

MAKES A RETURN VISIT.
Dear Friends of the Mail-Box.—It is autumn time in this old world again, and the October sun is bright on the hills of home. I know, and on the red-gold autumn leaves, but Heart of the Night Wind is far from the old home ways, and long to see again the moon rise over the tall pine tree and hear the gold leaves rustle low on the sentinel poplars at the gate.

A year has slipped away since last I greeted you, and since then the Heart of the Night Wind moved to a new camping grounds, where the grass was growing green in the springtime, and so, missing remembered paths and friendly faces, I come to you again with the same old song on my lips, but tuned to a sadder key, and if you have listened well when the winds held sway in the trees, you will know that I was weaving silver fretwork at your feet, you'd catch the new wistful note of yearning for the hours that are mine no more, for my heart would always have just what was beyond my grasp.

Yet alien though these scenes may be, still autumn ways are always fair, and I can see to the westward against a background of scarlet and golden-brown woods two country churches lifting their heads heavenward; half close my eyes and they could well be two old-world castles nestling somewhere in the land beyond the sea, and you're back again to the days of plumed knights and branching charges, and a dimpled face at the narrow casement waves good-by.

HEART OF THE NIGHT WIND.
It is a long time, Heart of the Night Wind, since we heard from you. Do not stay away so long next time, as we all enjoy your letters very much.

Fashion's Latest in Hair Dress! Try Them Out.

Debutante at the left. Upper and lower right: Method for Indian circlet and finished coil.

BY MARIAN HALE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Here are the very latest fashions in hair dressing.

"The Debutante," for girls and young women under twenty-three, the Indian circlet for whatever age has the right contour of neck and head.

A transformette or long waved piece of hair, also waved, is attached near the top of the head, and follows the line of hair backward. It is fastened at the nape of the neck. The hair is left free over the ears. Then at the nape of the neck is fastened a "cage" of net and hair. This is completely covered with waved hair like a roll.

The Indian circlet is one of the loveliest Nestle fashions. The circlet of hair is partly braided and fastened behind one ear and brought across the forehead, the hair having been waved and parted on one side.

Flowers and an open fire lent an added touch of hospitality to the rooms, where a cordial welcome awaited the guests from the charming young hostess, her mother and sister. Previous to the reading of unpublished manuscripts by the members, the annual election of officers was held, which resulted in the unanimous choice of Mrs. R. M. Graham as president, though she has deserted the journalistic field recently for service under the Mothers' Allowance Board. Mrs. D. C. McGregor was re-elected vice-president and Mrs. Gordon Hutchinson and Miss Margaret Wade prevailed upon to accept the offices of secretary and treasurer for another year.

CITY BANQUETS
WOMEN GUESTSInstitute Delegates Witness
Friendly Meeting of Election Opponents.

The big banquet which filled McCormick Hall to its capacity at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening was the tribute of the City of London to welcome honored guests, the officers and delegates attending the seventh annual convention of the Women's Institutes of Western Ontario. Asked by the city to act as hostesses, the members of the executive of the Women's Canadian Club graciously played their part, Mrs. F. E. Leonard, the president, saying a few cordial words of greeting. In the absence of Mayor E. S. Little, Lieutenant-Col. C. M. R. Graham, an old friend of the Institutes, acted as chairman.

By special invitation, both the Government and Liberal candidates for London in the election were present, accompanied by their wives. An incident of great interest and significance, in view of the campaign in progress, followed the arrival of Mr. Frank W. Somerville rose from his place near the head of the table and the opponents shook hands most cordially, the Hon. J. H. T. Jones, the Liberal candidate, striking up the old refrain, "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows." Hearty hand-clapping from both city electors and the women visitors greeted the evidence of good-will and good sportsmanship.

Mr. Somerville and Mr. White each gave brief words of non-political addresses, the former touching upon the support duty of the housewives during the reconstruction, bringing the Canadian dollar back to 100 cents value, making the credit of Canada good.

"What we need," said Mr. Somerville, "is one hundred per cent efficiency in the work of men and women, in household work as well as elsewhere; economy personal, municipal and national. It strikes me that the sphere of women today is in adapting herself to many things."

Mr. White touched upon the modern conveniences, telephone, rural mail delivery, automobile, gasoline, and the introduction of hydro-electric, which are making country life more efficient and more attractive to the young people.

Mrs. Sutherland Ross, a vice-president of the Dominion Federation of Women's Institutes, expressed the thanks of the delegates for the hospitality extended by the city, the Women's Canadian Club and the contribution of the musicians.

Mrs. C. A. Putnam, superintendent of Ontario Women's Institutes, spoke briefly.

The long tables, laid for several hundred guests, were beautifully decorated with autumn flowers. A Halloween touch was given by the lamp shades adorned with witches riding brooms. Seated at the head table were Mrs. F. E. Leonard, Mrs. George Edwards, Mrs. J. Patterson, Miss Guest, Toronto; Dr. Annie Ross, Guelph; Dr. A. Backus, Almyer; Mrs. W. T. Mead, Chatham; Mrs. Sutherland Ross, Embury; Col. C. M. R. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Somerville, Mr. J. Brown, Dr. H. W. Vining, Mrs. Morris, Mrs. John Stevely, Miss Yates, Miss Weir, Mrs. A. T. Edwards, Mrs. C. Cowley, Mrs. Frank Lawson, Mr. Frank McCormick, Mrs. Sherwood Fox.

Previous to the banquet, the Women's Institute visitors found a tour through the "white factory" most interesting. Mr. Frank McCormick presenting each guest with a favor, a ribbon-trimmed box, which suggested tempting things inside.

WOMEN ARE GREAT IN NORTH LAND!
The story of what Women's Institute workers are doing in Northern Ontario and the hardships faced by the pioneer women of that section of the province was vividly told to the Women's Institute convention at the open-air session on Tuesday by Mrs. A. V. Greer of Toronto, a demonstrator for the department. Following a demonstration tour through Muskoka, Nipissing and Parry Sound districts last summer, on request of Superintendent G. A. Putnam, she organized a convention in North Bay.

"Some of the women motored 60 miles to attend," said Mrs. Greer, "bringing with them samples of their institute work, weaving, quilts, comforters, rag rugs, work done in the sewing classes. The north women are wonderful. Some walk five miles to attend their meetings. Lacking doctors and nurses, they very much need the classes in home nursing and first aid. Think what it

TO CURE CHILBLAINS.
Dear Miss Grey, in answer to Twice Eight's letter re cure for chilblains, having suffered myself from same, after trying all kinds of so-called cures, I was given an old recipe, which proved successful. It consists of equal parts of linseed oil and liniment, rubbing gently on affected parts.

ENGLISH LASS.
It is very good you put on your remedy for chilblains, English Lass, to help those who are suffering from them.

RECEIVED NO ANSWERS.
Dear Cynthia and Mail-Boxes,—It is only a short time since my last appearance, but I did not receive a phlox and larkspur, also a dilly, so thought I would write again. I have quite a large lawn, and am anxious to get a few perennials in roots to go toward the S. C. H. F. I will pay all postage. My address is with Cynthia Grey. I have excellent luck growing Boston ferns. If any of the Boxes would care to know how to care for them, I would be glad to let them know. I have one I purchased two years ago; it had thirteen leaves, and now has about one hundred and fifty.

LAUGHING LIZZ.
You might write again. Laughing Lizz, and tell us how you care for your Boston ferns, as I am quite sure that all the flower lovers will be interested. I have kept your name on file, in case it is asked for by someone wishing to send you bulbs.

HAS TWIN BOYS.
Dear Miss Grey,—I have been a keen reader of your splendid pages for some years, and, of course, am going to bother you for something. I have two little twins, a boy and a girl, of 6 years, real fine little tots, going to school. Of course, we are in great need of your stocking-foot pattern for the children. I also noticed Aunt Rose sent in lots of nice seeds, so dear Miss Grey, kindly send me as many kinds as you see fit, for I mean to have a nice garden next year. By the way, I have a whole lot of red, orange, yellow and white dahlia roots, that I would like to exchange for some different colors, perennials, phlox roots. Wishing the Mail-Box and Miss Grey every success. Please find mine.

THE TWINS.
The stocking-foot pattern has been forwarded for the twins, and several packets of seeds for your garden. I will keep your name on file in case anyone should care to exchange roots with you.

WITH THE BRIDES

PRELITT-MANNING.
On Oct. 26th at Zion Tabernacle, Hamilton, a quiet wedding took place when Gertrude Annetta, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Manning of London was married to Mr. Herman Fred Prelitt, only son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Prelitt of Hamilton.

HUBER-BOHNERT.
A very interesting marriage took place at St. Mary's Church, Port Hope, on Oct. 25th, when Miss Olivia Bohnert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bohnert of Port Hope, was married to Mr. Seraphine Huber of Deerpont. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. W. Brohm in the presence of many of the friends of the bride and groom. The bride looked charming in a dress of navy blue tulle, with hat to match. Miss Fortney of Guelph, cousin of the groom, was bridesmaid, and was given in copiousness blue habutail silk, with hat to match. Mr. Clarence Bohnert, brother of the bride, was best man. Friends were present from Kitchener, Guelph, Hanover and Deerpont. The young couple will reside on the groom's farm, south of Midway.

Confessions of a Movie Star
CHAPTER 10.—A KISS THE CENSOR CUT

I NEVER shall know what possessed me when Cissy and I went on for "reconciliation and embrace" in the fade-out of "Love in Leash." But I remember that I saw Dick watching us, and that on an impulse I murmured to Cissy:

"Make it the real thing this time, Cyrus, if you want to. Let's put it over—and make no end of the criticism!"

"You're a sport, May! I only hope you mean it!"

The retake proved that Cissy was an extraordinary actor-lover. For the first time in my career the censors cut one of my love scenes. And I guess they had good reason.

The minute the cameras stopped, I was pleased and sorry at the same time. There was, I had to admit, an embarrasing little thrill in Cissy Sheldon's kiss. It astonished me, confused me.

The pleasure I derived from the scene consisted in seeing Mr. Dick Barnes turn on his heel and fairly fling himself down the studio stairs.

His scorn roared upon me and embarrassed me. I felt suddenly as if I had been insulted—that it was all my own fault. I was miserably conscious of my own responsibility for Cissy's behavior.

I rushed down the corridor, I couldn't face my maid. I couldn't face myself in my mirror. I was overpowered with disgust. Not a living soul could I face until I had recovered my poise.

I turned from the stale air of the studio into the court where the motors were parked. I stepped onto the platform and looked squarely into Dick Barnes' eyes.

He must have seen that I was flushed and ready to weep. He blushed violently, raised his hat, started to speak impulsively.

MILITIA

AS OUTLINED
IS PROMISINGIndoor Ball, Basketball and Hockey Suggested.

USE DRILL SQUARE

Outdoor Ice Sheet Will Be Provided At Wolsey Barracks For Puck-Chasers.

What promises to be a big factor in the winter sports program of London was launched last night at the armory, when Garrison Athletic Association was formed, which will provide basketball, indoor baseball and hockey for the various militia units with headquarters in the city.

An executive was elected last evening and committees formed of the unit representatives will meet with the units in the different games undertaken.

The first game to get attention will be indoor basketball, which flourished as one of the leading winter pastimes before the war. Eight units have indicated their intentions of putting in teams for this league. Basketball will follow right after and then hockey.

Strict Rules.

A good many of the former members of teams playing in the old indoor leagues will be found lined up in the new league when it gets started. Eligibility rules will be very strict so that the youngsters in the units may have a chance to develop instead of watching a few temporary members of their units from the side-lines.

Last year, basketball got going in military circles, but unfortunately the loose rules regarding eligible players in force. This year this will be remedied and only bona fide members will be allowed to play on the unit teams.

Despite lack of hockey accommodation, the drill square at the height will offer a way out for the military league. It offers a splendid site for an open air ice sheet, with three sides sheltered by the barracks buildings. Games in this league will be played mostly on Saturday afternoons.

The Executive.

In order to get centralized control the meeting desired to get as many of the headquarters staff represented on the executive as possible. The executive is:

Honorary President—General Paquet, C.M.G., D.S.O., O. C. M. D. No. 1.

President—Major Lawless.

Vice-President—Sgt. Major Simmons, 1st Hussars.

Secretary—Capt. Phillips, R.C.R.

The unit will be advised later that the organization meeting of the indoor basketball league is to be held.

Ontario Girl Basketeers Meet
In City Week From Saturday

A week from Saturday, the second year of the Ontario Ladies' Basketball Association will be started on its way with the annual meeting to be held in London. Last year the meeting was held in Toronto and this year it comes to this city in the line of the league's origin.

More teams are expected in this season, in view of the fact that the league has been successful in its initial year. This success came, too, in the face of long juncos, which, it is hoped, to obviate with more teams in.

John McGraw Pulls In Purse Strings.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Manager John McGraw, well-satisfied with the make-up of the world's baseball championship team, said last night before leaving for a southern vacation that he would keep the organization intact for 1922. "That team does not need any strengthening," he said.

The Giants' leader said he was especially well satisfied with the way the pitching staff had found itself in the latter part of the season, and expected greater strength next season through the work of Pat Shea and Bill Ryan, youthful members of the hurling staff.

McGraw said that if Heinie Groh were thrown on the market again the Giants would make a good bid for him, although Heinie was no longer of vital concern to the New York club.

WOMEN CHAMPS MANNISH IN STYLES OF PLAY

SUZANNE LENGLEN DRIVES WITH A COMBINATION OF SLASHING VIA THE AERIAL ROUTE

IT IS NO COMMON OCCURRENCE FOR MISS CECIL LEITCH TO DRIVE 500 YARDS

MRS. MOLLA BURSTIED MALLORY ATTACKS WITH ALL THE FORCE OF MOST MEN

"WOMEN'S place is in the home," is not now! So fast has woman jumped into man's field that when a woman does something in a mannish way, the onetime head-of-the-house sex looks upon it as a matter of course and lets it go at that.

There are three women prominent in athletics who equal the speed, power and endurance of many men. They are Mrs. Mollie Burstied Mallory, Miss Cecil Leitch and Miss Suzanne Lenglen.

Molla Mallory and Suzanne are indeed the Babe Ruths of the tennis world. The only difference in their play is the way in which they get around the court. Molla is what one might call a merciless type of player, banging with all the force of a big league swatter, she runs across the court in sure and heavy strides, manly in all respects. Her back strokes and volley shots equal those of Tilden, for she gets maximum power for them from the shoulder.

The roses into action gritting her teeth and setting her jaw with all the determination of a pugilist. There is nothing of daintiness about her work; it is swinging and hit and at the completion of the stroke both feet are firmly on the ground, and her eyes reflect the power of her thoughts.

Suzanne Lenglen is rather of the opposite type. In some respects, altho she possesses that same mannishness in her footwork and is certain to get the ball and get it quickly, in matter what position she may be in after the play has been made. There is a certain amount of daintiness in the work of the French flash that does not show up in Molla's work. Her speed is dazzling and sensational.

Miss Cecil Leitch, the great British woman golfer, is more masculine than the average masculine golfer, and has the drive of a man. She is known for her bull-doggedness and when in a sand bunker, this Ruth of the Links lets 'em have it with all the force of a sand storm. There is nothing distinctive about her golf except that it is played with the same long drives that a man would play.

Because of her power she often has to go to the male ranks for practice. One who is so superior. But against the men her practice games are generally won.

Thorndale

THORNDALE, Nov. 1.—Miss E. Vining is attending the annual convention of the Western Ontario Woman's Institute, which is being held in London on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. The November meeting of the Thorndale branch will be held at the home of the president, Mrs. Bolton Fitzgerald, on Thursday, Nov. 10. The life of Pauline Johnson, the Canadian poetess, will be outlined by Mrs. Vining at the convention, and selections from her works will be read by Mrs. W. Thomson of Crumlin.

The mission band of Thorndale Methodist Church packed a bale on Saturday.

A consignment of new books has been purchased and placed on the shelves of the public library. Among the books are all the recent works of Canadian writers, and also many instructive and interesting volumes on biography, travel, sociology and religion.

Mrs. James Watson and Mrs. George Van Horne are attending the annual convention of the W. M. S. which is being held in London this week.

Just Between Us
By C.L.S.

An inter-city soccer league, suggested in these columns some months ago, has a much better chance of materializing through the winter than it ever had. Practically every city in the province has demonstrated its liking for the game, and if a steady diet of Association football draws them a league with the town-against-town flavor injected ought to be an unqualified success from the start.

Expenses would not be high with Saturday games only on the bill. Train connections would enable the teams to make one-day trips of nearly all their games.

London, probably the most backward city in Ontario where soccer was concerned, in a matter of two years, has become a centre for the game. In entering the Plenty Cup series Public Utilities showed that even with teams from such a distance as Ottawa expenses could be met.

A league, exclusive of either Hamilton or Toronto, would probably be the best and fairest sort of circuit. If some of the live soccer enthusiasts of London would make the first move the response would be surprising.

Windsor, Sarnia, St. Thomas, Brantford, Guelph, Galt, Woodstock and Kitchener are all cities in which such a league would be sure of finding support.

Nobody has accused Western U. of stealing any other team's signals yet.

RICKARD-CURLEY
FEUD IS NOW ONBoxing Impresario Breaking Into Wrestling Game—Is It For Revenge?

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Tex Rickard can do a lot of big things, but he cannot speak French.

Jack Curley is an expert "parleyer." Over such a story thing the old Rickard-Curley feud has broken out again. Rickard is going into the wrestling field to get into the dollar harvest that has been Curley's private right for three years.

Rickard and the wrestling impresario had been going their way under an agreement to let the other alone until Georges Carpentier stepped up the bay on his first trip to America. Having been in communication with Carpentier for several months, Curley being the favorite promoter to stage the meeting with Dempsey that Georges came over to get, Rickard figured himself the Frenchman's host.

But he couldn't speak French. Curley could. When the gorgeous Georges stepped down the gangplank, Curley greeted the distinguished visitor with a brilliant welcome in his own tongue and Rickard was left out in the cold.

Curley, with the French party on his arms, led them out to his car and whisked them away after freezing the boxing impresario with a long stare. Thereafter Curley was the chief adviser and handler of the Frenchman. He promoted the theatrical tour and he conducted most of Carpentier's business.

But he couldn't get the Frenchman's contract. Rickard worked from the other end and had his satisfaction on July 2 last when he looked over a 90,000 house in Jersey.

Knowing of the resumption of the feud, Broadway has been watching Rickard for his first shot of retaliation. It came a few days ago when Rickard announced that he would promote his wrestling contests in Madison Square Garden with George Bothner as his matchmaker.

However there comes this from the "sneaky camp": "He'll have to get his wrestlers from Curley."

Verily the feud is on.

WESTERN ANXIOUS TO QUIT
SEASON WITH VICTORYMeet Aggies in Last Home Appearance of Season This Afternoon—Game Will Be Hard One.

There are time when winning one game looms as important as winning a championship. It's only a matter of comparison and Western U., with four straight losses, have reached the point where they are just as anxious to finish the season with at least one win as they would be to cop the intermediate intercollegiate title.

That's why those who turn out to see them in their last home game of the season are bound to see them in there trying their best. Feeling as they do about the way fate jugged them this season, their best is one long earnest endeavor anyway.

Chances Are Good.

Chances of their coping from Aggies this afternoon over the river are extremely bright, despite the drubbing they received when they visited the farmers' campus a week ago. Then they were demoralized by the absence of four regulars, but now they've played together and are a lot more confident as a result of the game they made against Varsity Saturday, though outclassed. Another thing that encourages the Red and Black is the show Aggies made against the Irishmen performed as neat a job on them as Varsity seconds did to them.

The squad got out to practice yesterday afternoon and put in some snappy signal drill and a brief bit of formation drill. The team is in good condition and ready for a good line battle, which style they rather expect.

Another Change?

A Rumor Has It That Joe Wood
Will Take Speaker's Place.

JOE WOOD (above) AND MANAGER SPEAKER OF THE INDIANS.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 1.—As of Man Rumor has it—and of Man Rumor is sometimes right—Tris Speaker, present manager of the Cleveland Indians, will not pilot the club in 1922. He is considering resigning immediately.

If such should be the case, the new pilot would be another of the tribe—Joe Wood, outfielder. Joe is an old friend of Tris. They played together on the Boston Red Sox before coming to Cleveland.

When Speaker will resign is a matter of time, as he and Jim Dunn, owner of the Indians, are planning to go into business together.

The public and players would like to see Tris put the team through another winning season, and for this reason the Tribe's manager is still swinging on the fence.

DECIDE EARLY ON
ALLAN CUP TRYVarsity Goes in O. H. A.; Mc-Gill and Queen's in Intercollegiate.

TORONTO, Nov. 1.—Under the new rules of the O. H. A., a college team playing in a championship must declare before the season begins which league it will play down to the Allan Cup. Varsity will play in the O. H. A. and intercollegiate, and should they win the intercollegiate series again this winter, McGill will withdraw from the Montreal City League and will confine its playing to the intercollegiate. The withdrawal of the McGill team from the city league will leave a vacancy for which an applicant will be sought by the University of Montreal Hockey Club. Queen's will play in the Intermediate O. H. A. and senior intercollegiate, and will likely declare to qualify by the intercollegiate route.

After being five times champions of the O. H. A. intercollegiate series, the Hamilton hockey team, who went to Boston two weeks ago with "Ag" Smith, is back in Hamilton.

DO YOUR BOWELS

Move Regularly, or Do They BECOME CONSTIPATED

There is no medium through which disease so often attacks the system as by allowing the bowels to become constipated, and there is no other trouble which flesh is heir to that is more liable to be neglected, because material income is not so much affected by irregular action of the bowels. When there is not regular action the retention of the decayed and effete matter, with its poisonous gases, soon poisons the whole system by being absorbed into the blood, poisoning violent sick and bilious headaches, internal bleeding or protruding piles, heartburn, jaundice, etc.

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS.

will regulate the flow of bile to act properly on the bowels, thus making them active and regular, and removing the constipation and all its allied troubles.

Mr. Samuel Buckler, Tallamagochie, N. S., writes: "For over a year I suffered with constipation. I took several different kinds of medicine, but could only get temporary relief. I was told to try Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. I prepared two vials of them, but after I had taken one I found that I was relieved of my trouble. I do not hesitate to recommend Laxa-Liver Pills for any kind of constipation."

Price, 50c a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.—adv.

DUNCAN ROSS AGAIN CHOICE AT STRATHROY

Lyceum Theatre Packed by Middlesex Supporters of Liberalism.

NOMINATION UNANIMOUS

Electors Accept Candidate's
Explanation of Stand On
M. S. A. Issue.

BY WILLIAM SHARMAN.
STRATHROY, Nov. 1.—Liberalism predominated in Strathroy Tuesday afternoon when Duncan C. Ross was chosen again to lead the Liberal forces in the west riding of Middlesex at the approaching federal contest.

The Lyceum Theatre, the place of convention, was totally inadequate to seat all the followers of the Hon. Wm. Lyon Mackenzie King who journeyed into town from every section of the constituency to participate in the selection of a candidate to oppose the present administration at Ottawa. Many of the gathering were content to stand throughout the afternoon.

The name of Duncan Ross was the only one submitted to the convention. Directly nominations were closed, the nominee delivered one of his characteristic, fiery addresses, reviewing his stewardship as a member of the recent House, and detailing his military service and the attention of the people of Canada.

Unanimity Prevails.
Supporting a candidate on the platform and also featuring the afternoon with powerful and stirring addresses were J. C. Elliott of London, ex-M. L. A. of West Middlesex; Thomas H. Purdon, K.C., of London, and Chas. MacFie of Appin. Complete unanimity characterized the entire proceedings of the afternoon.

"It is indeed a great honor you have conferred upon me today," Duncan Ross declared, upon accepting the nomination. "It comes at a time when Liberalism, in the sense of broad Canadianism, is needed in Canada as perhaps it was never required before. In accepting I want to explain that it is my purpose to carry on in that same spirit, thinking of the people as a whole, and not as any one individual or group."

Sees Unrest Prevalent.
"It is on that policy that I appeal for your suffrage. We have just emerged from a terrible conflict. It is not necessary for me to dwell long on the big issues. Our trade is languishing, unrest is prevalent as well as unemployment, and it is the duty of everyone to put their shoulder to the wheel, despite party or other affiliations."

"I have no apology to make for anything that I have done in the past. (Applause.) You proffered me the banner in 1917, and your action today convinces me that you think that I have come out fairly well. I have been through the riding quite recently, and I can find only one criticism from my friends, and that is my course during the passage of the military service act. "Some have said that I was not true to my promises and to my leader. I leave you to judge. Prior to the last election I spoke from many platforms. I told the electors that I was in favor of the M. S. A. to the extent of 100,000 men, and would not approve of further numbers without consulting the people. This being a democratic country, I felt that they held the right to judge. On nomination day I stated such was my policy and said furthermore that I would support Sir Wilfrid Laurier, my late chief."

Approved of Stand.
"The latter approved of my stand, and I was returned at the polls on the same. I went back to the House with the mandate from my people. The measure came up again. What happened? The Government, with its majority, of course, was able to pass an order-in-council cancelling exemptions all over the country. What was my position? I said that some of my friends entertain a mistaken idea of that order-in-council. It did not increase the number for reinforcement. It was passed within the terms of the statutes, and I was not voting for more than 100,000 men."

"What did the Liberal party say? They felt the necessity of aiding the men overseas as well as the Conservatives. Their interests were one. They were just as patriotic. But they said to the Government: 'You said not long ago that men were needed on the farm, and you promised them exemption.' And, then, I am ashamed to say they had an emissary in London who sent out word that they would get exemptions, in order that they might dishonestly secure votes."

Replies to Criticisms.
"Some have said that I was untrue and unfaithful. I voted that farmers' exemptions should not be cancelled. I felt that as they had been promised so they should not be disregarded. But, as you know, we lost. Some have said that I deserted my leader in a time of need. I want to say that I never kept a promise more faithfully than at that time. I say further that I did so with the entire approval and concurrence of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier and after a consultation with him."

At this point Mr. Ross explained that he had heard that some declared that Sir Wilfrid had actually advised him and read a communication that he had received from him, a sentence of which was: "Duncan Ross is a very true friend of mine, and if I have any advice to offer to the electors of West Middlesex it is to give him their support."

Opposed Cancellations.
"I did my best," declared Mr. Ross, and from the audience came the remark: "What more could a man do?" "When this matter first came up I took a strong stand," he continued, "against the cancellation of boys under 21 years of age. I made every effort to prevent the cancellations of these youngsters. I did all I could in the initial stages of the bill, but as I say, one man cannot out-vote a government. I realize the sadness and heartaches that came to the homes of many, but I could not lose sight of the fact that although a member for the west riding of Middlesex, it was my urgent duty to act always for the best interests of the whole. I assure you moreover that such is to be my attitude always."

"I want to ask my farmer friends what measure in the House in the farmers' interests that I have failed to vote for?" The first measure that I interested myself in was the reciprocity bill of 1911, and in passing I wish to say that both of my opponents who profess to be farmers were both fighting against it at that time. The leopard does not change its spots, and with their sudden conversion they cannot seriously advocate anything else today."

Criticized Banks.
"In the next instance I thought the banking institutions enjoyed too many privileges without paying for them. I argued in the House for a system of rural credits. In 1913 Meighen was at my back in this, but nothing has emanated from him since in that respect. How have I been about tariff? Like a Liberal I have always fought for the farmers. I have frequently voted to lift the customs duties off all agriculture implements, lumber, oil, cement, and to reduce materially on clothing and shoes. I am not and have never been a free trader. Under present circumstances could anyone be an out and out free trader?"

The speaker described further the progress of the country, including the western provinces under the late Laurier regime, and pointed out that the latter administration went to its political death endeavoring to give to the farmer the greatest boon that a prime minister of any country could offer. He asked that these same men, with the exception of the late great chief, be given the opportunity to usher in again another "golden era of prosperity."

In his opening remarks J. C. Elliott, ex-M. L. A. for the riding, felt that the meeting recalled to him the old days of overcrowding at political gatherings. It spoke well, he said, for the renewed interest taken by the staunch old Liberals of West Middlesex. He emphasized the necessity for everyone who had the interest of the country at heart to consider the situation closely.

Meighen Is "Adroit."

"I have taken much interest," he declared. "Quite recently I read the manifesto of that 'adroit' politician Premier Meighen. I read his previous statement also, and had to read it over a second time before I could make much out of it. The outstanding feature of the first address was his statement that he intended to go to the country before the end of the year because the 'Grits and Farmers' had so suggested. He came back in February. 'There are few men that can reason like that. Then there was his manifesto. It has both its advantages and disadvantages. I read it with interest, and I must confess that I commenced to wonder whether we were in for a serious time or not. I wonder if this 'dire calamity' would fall upon this fair country as predicted."

Old Cry of "Ruin."
"Consider the Conservative manifestos of the past. You will find almost the exact words 'issue sharply defined' and 'disastrous industrial chaos ahead.' The words are almost identical. It's the old cry of 'blue ruin' if the Liberal party is returned."

The speaker reviewed the condition of Canada prior to the induction of the Laurier Government in 1896, and what progress followed until 1911. Discussing briefly the M. S. A., he explained that Duncan Ross's statement pleased him, and condemned in no uncertain fashion the action of the Borden administration at that time.

It seems to me to be like carrying coals to Newcastle," declared the next speaker, T. H. Purdon of London, "to speak after hearing these splendid addresses. I remember well Duncan Ross's father, and fond memory brings the light of other days. The late Sir George Ross was one of Canada's foremost statesmen, and when I heard his son today, I said 'It's no wonder if Middlesex, after having a Ross for 48 years, will decide to make it the half century, as you will do if you elect him again. I further say that after 48 such years of service the electors of West Middlesex will not turn their backs on the Rosses."

Bridges 50 Years.
Looking back a few years over the trials and tribulations and successes of the Liberal party, he showed that the history of the world had been a struggle by the oppressed for freedom. He pointed out that while the Rosses had bridged a period of years, Mackenzie King and his grandfather, William Lyon Mackenzie, had bridged a hundred years, and had secured for Ontario responsible government.

In outlining Liberalism, the speaker asserted that it stood for progressive legislation and a government of the people with the trust of the people. Liberalism, he contended, is opposed to class legislation, holding that all men are born equal, with every right in their pursuit of happiness. A hundred years ago, he said, few men had a vote as compared with the present, when both men and women enjoy the franchise. All this had been brought about by the Liberal party, he pointed out, which had widened the franchise from time to time.

"Spirit of Liberalism."
At this point the speaker traced the fortunes of William Lyon Mackenzie in his struggles for responsible government during the early twenties. Reading one of the last communications that had been penned by that old leader, Mr. Purdon termed it as "breathing the true spirit of Liberalism."

He explained that had he wished Mackenzie might have shared the spoils of the Family Compact, but chose to sacrifice all this in a life-long fight for the common people.

The speaker traced the origin of the so-called national policy, recalling the days of Alexander Mackenzie and Sir Charles Tupper, and related how the former, being somewhat obtuse, refused to ratify the tariff 2½ per cent. Out of this grew, he said, protection and free trade. "Why should we take any platform by any leader and not use our own judgment? Why should we follow blindly? One of the difficulties of a protectionist policy, however, is that if once we adopt it, it is hard to eliminate. My idea is not the tariff, but which man can submit the best tariff."

"And I believe that the man is Fielding. We can't abolish the tariff. We must raise a sufficient revenue to pay the interest upon our enormous war debt. Let King as the chief and leader go in with Fielding as his right-hand man, William Lyon Mackenzie King is one of the ablest statesmen that Canada has ever had. To him has descended all the same principles of his grandfather. Canada today needs educated statesmen. There has been too much party politics in the past. Leaders should be criticized and be told when they are not doing right."

eggs. I hardly know what he means, but I know that he is wrong.

"Does he think that any party that can point to such leaders as the Liberal party has had in the past and have now, is not responsible?"

In conclusion the speaker denied the statement that 40 Toronto capitalists had defeated reciprocity. "It was defeated," he said, "because the farmers had allowed side issues to complicate the situation."

Election Unanimous.
The following officers were elected unanimously for the West Middlesex Liberal Association: President, John Morgan, Alisa Craig; first vice-president, Robert Campbell, Mosa; second vice-president, Edgar Bogue, Adelaide; secretary-treasurer, Quinn Adamson of Strathroy.

Officers for towns and townships: McGilvary, John O'Hara, president; J. J. Lewis, secretary. East Williams, Jas. McGregor, president, John McCubbin, secretary. West Williams, John A. BARN AND CROPS BURNED.

OWEN SOUND, Nov. 1. — Charles Ireland, a prosperous Sydenham farmer, who lives about four miles from Owen Sound, lost a valuable barn by fire today. The barn, implements and crops that it contained were almost totally destroyed, although the stock was saved. The loss is estimated at $4,000, a part of which is covered by insurance.

GRATEFUL WOMEN

Gratitude and appreciation for health restored by that good old-fashioned root and herb medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, is what prompts so many women from all parts of the country to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., the letters of praise which we publish from time to time. Women who have always had their health cannot realize what it means to others, many of whom have suffered months and even years from such ailments, and are now well and happy through the use of this natural restorative, Lydia E. "In Mackenzie King you have the man. Let him stand with Fielding. Leave the tariff in their hands and it will be safe. Moreover, you have splendid material in the Liberal ranks for a new House. In Fred Parlee, W. C. Kennedy and Duncan Ross you have splendid cabinet timber. There will be no difficulty in forming the best cabinet that Canada has ever had."

"This magnificent showing today," declared Chas. MacFie of Appin, who nominated Duncan Ross, "indicates that the cause is certainly worthy of support. It is a big cheer to the candidate."

"Like me, forsooth I am proud to be a Liberal. I feel sure that the people are turning to Liberalism. Crerar himself has said recently that he is liberal. I heard the 'mouthpiece' of the 'old line parties' would have to suck the U. P. O. quite recently say that Expresses Confidence In Success of Arms Conference.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Confidence that much good would come out of the Washington conference on the limitation of armaments was expressed by delegates from Italy, Great Britain and China on the arrival here today on the SS. Olympic.

Lord Lee of Fareham, first lord of the British admiralty, in a formal statement, said: "So far as I am concerned—and here I speak not only as the responsible head of British admiralty, but as one of the official delegates—I come in a spirit of quiet confidence that the results of this conference will be such as to amply justify President Harding's far-seeing initiative, and personally I am not prepared even to contemplate the possibility of failure. To do so would be to assume that the world was afflicted with an incurable insanity, and could not be restrained from suicide."

NO EARLY OPENING OF POLLS IN SARNIA

SARNIA, Nov. 1.—Despite the plea made by Fred Pardee, ex-M.P., the Sarnia city council announced tonight that no action would be taken to open the polls here at six o'clock on the morning of December 8. As many Sarnia voters work in Port Huron, an effort was made to have the council ask O. M. Biggar, chief electoral officer, to open the poll in Sarnia an hour earlier in order that these voters might vote prior to their departure for work. About 500 voters will be affected.
