AN IDEAL DIPLOMAT

Acceptance of High Honor Will Mean His Resignation From Senate.

By E. C. BUCHANAN. Special to The Advertiser by a Staff Correspondent.

Ottawa, Sept. 1.-It is now regarded as altogether probable that the appointment of a Canadian minister to Washington will be made within a few days and that the post will go to Senator N. A. Belcourt of Ottawa. It is understood that Senator Bel court has already been selected.

Although a French Canadian, Sen ator Belcourt is a native of Toronto He has been a member of parliamen for 29 years and has been speaker of both Commons and Senate. He has both Commons and Senate. He has been president of the French Canadian congress of Ontario and the French Canadian educational association of Ontario. Many missions in behalf of the dominion have been in his charge. He was a delegate to the empire parliamentary association in Leadon in 1916 and was minister plenipotentiary for Canada at the inter-allied conference and the internter-allied conference and the interconference in London last year. He was identified with the entente cord-

Special to The Advertiser by a Staff Reporter. Toronto, Sept. 1.—Premier Fergu son's announcement that the government in future would grant a large number of 4.4 beer permits and intended to remove some of the restrictions connected with the sale has stimulated keen interest as to how far this policy will be extended. There has been already some talk of a surrender to the "wets," but the premier affirms that he is not being actuated by any outside pressure.

There has been no doubt all along that Hon. Mr. Ferguson has not regarded many of the restrictions imposed as necessary and he has stated that so far as he was personally concerned he would have had more widespread distribution of permits, at tables may be removed, finds but in deference to public sentiment little favor with local moderationists. and the fact that it would be easier to control the sale it was decided to ternity, questioned this morning, grant permits on a certain restrictive stated that this latest move on the

J. M. Donahue, while not claiming to understand exactly what the premier is driving at, thinks it is a move to reduce the price of beer to the public by cutting out the over-head entailed in serving it over-tables instead of over the oldtables instead fashioned bar. He added that while quality of the beer was divided, there is no doubt in anyone's mind that the price of the much-discussed been is twice too high. "in any case," stated Mr. Donahue, "a mild beer is not the answer to the liquor question. If the sale of Canadian native wine were allowed by the glass in licensed premises, it would replace both the sale of bee and of hard liquor.

Questioned as to whether he did not think native wine a hard drink when aged sufficiently, Mr. Donahue "Yes, perhaps it is, but member that we will always have the hard drinker with us."

Inspector Walter Bolton, questioned concerning the new regulations forecasted in the premier's an-nouncement, stated that he had received no official instructions concerning his work. He added that persons who applied for permission to sell 44 beer are now allowed to do so unless considered not fit to handle it, and he stated that he could see little difference in extending the permit privilege further.

"More Soft Soap."" Hotelmen interviewed on the subject stated emphatically that the idea of easing the restrictions was more soft soap." They state that the continual doling out of permits has made the sale of the beer by hotels unprofitable.

Concerning the sale otherwise than at tables as a means of reducing the beer to five cents per glass, they say it is impossible. With a tax on every gallon, the beer now costs ho telmen exactly five cents per glass, and they add that if Premier Ferguson wishes to reduce the price of the beverage to increase the sale, he should start at the right end and

Work On One List of Voters After Another At City Hall

At the city hall this autumn it's going to be just one voters' list after another. Clerks there have just concluded work on the list which will be used in the hotel plebiscite next Saturday. Work is proceeding with the 1925 municipal list. If a general elec-tion is called for October or November it will be too soon to use the revised 1925 list, and a special rush will be necessitated to turn out a special list. In the event of a by-election in the provincial riding the same procedure will be necessary.

DOG'S LIFE SAVED: FAMILY HAPPY

Inspector Tustin Sets Broken Limb of Injured

There is a happy family on Grafton street today, for Jock, whom they believed to be dead is alive, although imping on three legs.

Jock is a magnificent purebred collie dog, brought from Scotland by his owners and treated as an honored member of the family. Last night a careless motorist struck Jock as he was crossing the road on Dunof a lenient penalty on his wife, con- das street. The police phoned for George Tustin at 10:30, and the hubootlegging, John Pork dramatized mane inspector arrived to find that his utterances before Magistrate the brown-eyed animal had his leg

Lifting the dog into his car, the inspector motored Jock to the dogs shelter, and was debating his fate when a sobbing barefoot youngster arrived with his mother.
"Please, can we take Jock home and bury him?" he cried. "We want him so bad, please, let us have him."

"He isn't 'dead," explained the in-spector. "If you take him to a veterinary he can fix that leg almost as good as ever."

HOTEL PROJECT

Command Is "Deeply Interested in Welfare and Growth of City.

Meeting in special session last night the London command of the Great war veterans' association accorded the new hotel project its unanimous endorsation. Thus the Lions, Rotary and Kiwanis clubs chamber of commerce and Commercial travellers' association, who have already gone on record as being whole-heartedly in favor of the scheme, have another ally added to their numbers.

The G. W. V. A. discussed the hotel question because, as they say in an official letter to The Advertiser, they are "deeply interested in the welfare and growth of the city." Declaring itself "to boost any reasonable proposal to retain and further build up the commercial prestige London has always held in Western Ontario," the association points that a very large proportion of its owning or buying their houses."

The G. W. V. A. enumerates thir

teen reasons for lending its support a Mussolini to the new hotel, both for the exchange of sites and the fixed assessment for ten years, as follows:

1. City only interested in the ex change of properties.

2. City will receive $25,000 in cash in addition to the exchange.

3. The properties involved. City will give the vacant lot corner Dundas and Wellington, and will receive the property on Richmond street. Essex and Kent Visitors Gain the property on Richmond street from Fullarton to Queen's avenue including the Merchants bank build-

4. City paid for their property $125,-090, and the hotel company paid $100,000 for their property, which accounts for the $25,000 difference to be paid to the city. The city guarantees no bonds

PLAY TOO MUCH

Less Inclination For Hard Work in Britain Than in Canada.

"There is no need for a dictator in England," declared E. E. Reid, manager of the London Life Insurance Company, this morning on his return from an extended trip abroad. "Italy needed Mussolini, but the people of England would not stand for a dictator for one minute." "What England does need," continued Mr. Reid, "is work and steadiness. Earl Haig told his people when he got back to England from Canada that this is the country where they work, but, to my mind, we in Canada are as far behind France and Switzerland in real hard work upon the part of the masses of the people as England is behind us. England has a greater desire to play even than has Canada: over there they want to play half the time and they do not hesitate to gratify that desire even at the expense of the demands of industry.

'The disgraceful scenes in the English and Scotch saloons," Mr. Reid, who is an avowed temperance advocate, "are only another evidence of the need for tightening up in regard to the liquor trade in the British Isles.

The Canadian people million last year on confectionery, 64 million million dollars for ice cream. Mr. Malcolm's the manner in which people should spend money, but he established his point that there is money in Canada, and it is being spent.

Coming to the charge used by Mr. Meighen that the tariff was putting Canadian businesses out of existence, the member for North Bruce, himself a manufacturer, took direct issue with the Conservative leader. As proof he used Bradstreet's analysis of the reasons for business failures. It makes in itself an interesting contribution to a discussion that is bound to play a large part in the next election. What It Means to Canada.

The debtor nations of the world are slowly coming to the point where payment of long-standing obligations will be undertaken. Britain pioneered the movement two years ago, and has already paid the United States $322,000,000 in principal and interest. The debt of Belgium to the United States has been funded and will be paid in 62 installments, a total of $728,830,500, James Malcolm, M.P. for North Bruce, gave a with no interest charged for that portion created decidedly practical address at the Liberal con. prior to the armistice. That is a step toward getting down to a government squarely, and mapped out step by business basis. Another is the conference to arrange a Rhine pact. The significance of this is that it is necessary to establish security between France and Germany. Germany has still the memory of the French invasion of the owned 571,795 automobiles; they spent 35 Ruhr and the bringing to a standstill of her industrial life; France looks back into history on tobacco, 62 million for beverages, two million and is always on the lookout for the first sign for gum, four million for perfumery and seven of German business recovery on the goose-step of a German soldier. There is an atmosphere contention is that no government can regulate of mutual distrust and suspicion to be removed. and that is why the holding of the conference, which started today, is of world-wide interest. On one hand the allies, France, Britain, Belgium and Italy, and on the other, Germany, are gathered to come to a clear understanding on the question of future motives and aims. Another step grows out of this, and it remains for the sixth session of the League of Nations, on Sept. 7, to show whether Germany will enter the world court. It would be well from all angles were she in-better for the allies and better for Germany. Germany realizes that it would be easier for her to bring her grievances to the attention of the nations as a member in good standing of the league than to continue to nurse them at home, or even to have them presented by a distinterested party to the league.

There is a direct bearing between each of these developments, (1) debt settlement, (2) the Rhine pact, (3) Germany's relation to the League of Nations, to conditions of world business, and what affects world business has an adversely affected by the tariff, and these important influence on Canadian trade. Dress Reform

Yes, writers they have writ long lines, and had them printed in the press, advisin' of the women folks as how they ought to carve their dress.

The clothes that women get to wear has been a talkin' point for years, a matter for the scoffers, too, as well as horn-rimmed goggled seers. The preachers, too, pay heed at times and sound a warning plain and loud, about the capers that they see when viewin on the giddy crowd.

And writers they have joined the chase and stabbed the skirts with pen and ink, and they have writ short things and long on what the dress reformers think.

But lookin' back some twenty years, there's always been a fevered care, about the way they sawed the goods to make the skirts the women wear.

You mind the time when skirts was long, they dragged and swished upon the street, and they was longer in a way than where they passed and left the feet. Well scientists and doctors talked about this dreadful thing, and on it blamed the mumps in fall, likewise the measles in the spring. For microbes sat upon the street and watched for skirts to come their way, and jumped upon them as they passed and kept on doin' it day by day.

Ten microbes would be sittin' here and fifty more just over there, they might be baskin' in the sun, just soakin' up the mornin' air-when one would see a swishin' skirt and holler out to all the rest, here was a chance to jump aboard and travel for a trip out west. For other microbes farther back had jumped and ridden on that gown, 'twould gather up ten thousand such in makin' of a trip down town.

Well now they've cut them short as short, and still the crowd it meets to talk, and write opinions on the skirt and register each

It may be that the style today is built to ward the microbes off, it ought to please the critics now who at the long ones used to scoff, for certain sure it seems to me it's safe enough to rise and say, the microbes would be jumpin'-jacks to grab the skirts

S OME cities hesitate to erect new and modern hotels through a desire to do no harm to an older hotel, particularly when the owner of the older hotel has been a publicspirited, wide-awake leader in the community. Perhaps he is a member the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, or other civic club He has always been a community leader, and his fellow citizens will see their town limp along with inadequate hotel facilities rather than hurt the feelings or the investment of the older hotel man. Such a spirit annuated within a few days, his succivic loyalty might well be applauded were it not for the fact that this self-sacrifice is wholly unnecessary; unnecessary, because experience in all parts of the country has taught us that when a modern hotel s erected in a community, the older hotels do not suffer! Indeed, in most cases, the erection of a modern hotel in a poorly hoteled town aids the older hotels. It aids them through bringing a far greater number of visitors, tourists, commercial men and others, filling the newer hotel, and usually, the overflow filling the older hotels. There is a definite eason for this, readily understandable when all facts are assembled.

In the first place, the poorly hoteled town gets only those visit ors who cannot avoid it. The reader will appreciate this better perhaps f he puts himself in the role of the traveller, either commercial or tourist. The commercial man has, let us say, two towns to "make." One has a good hotel, the other a mediocre one. His business demands that he visit both towns, but he runs into the poorly hoteled town, transacts his business and is gone before sunset, if such action is within the bounds of possibility. The hotel there, even though it be without competition, has a vacant room that night. This one case can be multiplied by the scores of travellers

The next town down the line has modern hotel. To this the salesnen from the poorly hoteled towns round about pour from surrounding territory and before evening the modern hotel is filled and the overflow is also filling the second and third hotels of the town. Theory? No. experience!

Writing of a new hotel in San Louis, Obispo, Cal., A. L. Barnard, in a recent issue of the Western Hotel Reporter, states: "The population of the state is increasing s rapidly that housing conditions in all sections are inadequate. As soon as one hotel is completed and furnished hotels of the city in which it is situated."

In Harrisburg, Pa., a few years ago, before the completion of their modern hotel, the older hotels had to Clifford Knight Succumbs in keep out of the hands of the sheriff. about the same time. Elgin County Official Denies Rumors That He Will Resign.

Special to The Advertiser.

St. Thomas, Aug. 31.-Vigorous denial was made by Crown-Attorney Angus McCrimmon tonight of a story in a local paper that he was about to retire. "I never heard of it," he said. "I have never thought of such a thing." The story was to the effect that Mr. McCrimmon would be supercessor to be W. H. Barnum, of Aylmer. According to the local paper the position, which hereafter would pay $4,000, had already been offered to Barrister A. A. Ingram and Barrister H. C. Cameron, who both refused it.

Question Not Discussed, Declares Premier After Lengthy Session.

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, Aug. 31.—"We did no even discuss elections today-there is nothing to report," declared Premier W. L. Mackenzie King this evening at the conclusion of a lengthy session of the cabinet council, which lasted over four hours. It was intimated further that no action was taken at today's meeting by cabinet in respect to the numerous vacancies to be filled. A further session of the council will be held tomorrow afternoon.

The application of the Backus Seaman interests for pulp concessions in Manitoba was considered by the cabinet today, but it was stated afterwards that no decision was arrived at in the matter. Further consideration, it is understood, will be given to this application at tomorrow's meeting. An accumulation of routine matters was also dealt with by the council.

Manitoba Woman Thanks Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Crandall, Manitoba .- "When I was a young girl at home and working I had terrible pains, almost more than I could bear, and I was not regular. These troubles kept me so tired all the time that I had no strength and no ambition to join in with my friends and have a good time. I was just tired and miserable always and life just emed as if it wasn't worth living. I saw so much in the papers about Lydia E. Pinkham's vegetable Comd. and then I had a friend who had taken it and told me about it, so I got some. Every month after takt I got stronger and I soon did not suffer every month. It stopped the pains and helped me in other ways. Then when my babies were coming I was tired and worn out the first three months and ached badly. I took the Vegetable Compound right along and must say it made a new n of me and able to do mywork, and it helped me through confinement. You see I am a farmer's wife with a big house to look after, and three bables now. I have told ever so many women about your medicine. Just last week I got a letter from my old chum in the East. Under decidedly adverse conditions, the government has made a heavy reduction in the cost of ad-ministration, has succeeded in turning an adverse trade balance into an enormous credit trade balance, has reduced the public debt and furnished the country with a balanced budget."
Such was the answer of James Malcolm, M.P. for North Bruce, given to the critics of the King government.

Dealing with trade, Mr. Malcolm contended that no government could regulate the way in which people spent their money. There was money in the country, and the people were spending it freely, even if outside what used to be regarded as the reg-ular channels of business. Where Money Goes

In 1924, 239,036 people paid income tax, yet there were 571,759 automobiles owned in the country. The people spent, according to the Canada Year Book, 35 millions for canada lear Book, 35 minutes confectionery, 64 millions in tobacco, 62 millions in beverages, 2 million for chewing-gum, 4 million for perfume and 7 million for ice cream, besides the other millions that went for entertainment, moving picture shows and horse races. He could not see, in face of these figures, that there was much poverty in Canada.

Turning to the charge that the tariff policy of the King government was responsible for so many business failures. Mr. Malcolm quoted the following causes for these failures in 1924, as given in Bradstreet's analysis:

Why Businesses Fail. Incompetent 591 Inexperience Lack of capital 887 Unwise credits Failure of others Extravagance Neglect Competition

ST. PAUL'S SCENE OF WEDDING HALF CENTURY AGO TODAY

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tozer London Woman Are Receiving Many Congratulations.

FITTING FESTIVITIES

Fifty years ago today a timid bride passed beneath the portal of St. Paul's Cathedral to be wedded to Henry R. K. Tozer. She was Miss Elizabeth Jane Tierney, and after these many years they are this afternoon receiving the congratulations of a host of friends on the success of their marriage at their home on Woodward avenue

Their eight children six sons and two daughters, are all at home for the event and the interesting anniversary is being marked with fitting festivities. Mr. and Mrs. Tozer are members of St. George's Anglican church in West London and the members of the Women's auxiliary are special guests this afternoon of the bride and groom, while this evening Mr. and Mrs. Tozer will be at Party Returns With Glowing home to their family and intimate friends.

The Grandmother Who Refuses to be Nursemaid to the Second Generation.

> Dear Miss Dix-I am a young man of 26, and have a widowed mother. A few years ago, against her wishes, I married a girl several years older than myself, and we now have a baby 2 years old. Immediately after the ceremony mother started doing everything she could for us. She even denies herself new clothes in order to give us every dollar that she can spare.

My mother has always been

HAVE HAD REST

Though the London seniors are naturally elated with their one-sided win over the formidable Dissoen team last Saturday, they are not blinding themselves to the fact that the Kent themselves to the fact that the Kent county champions may show a surprising reversal of form here in the game tomorrow afternoon.

Dresden had played continuously for days to cinch the Kent county title, and were naturally stale. Though defeated 15 to 1 by Sarnia, they showed their come-back powers, and the locals are not overlooking this bet here tomorrow. Overconfidence proves as disastrous as lack of confidence, and the locals are trying to establish a mean in spirit between the two extremes.

Hank Johnston, Dresden's famous pitcher, who last year practically won the title single-handed for the Dres-den champs, will probably hurl Wed-nesday. While Sarnia defeated John-nesday. While Sarnia defeated Johnden champs, will probably hard nesday. While Sarnia defeated Johnston in the play-offs, he may be in his real form here, in which case the London swatsmiths are in for an afternoon full of worry, Johnston, however, at his best shouldn't be any bogeyman in the face, of the way the Londoners have been hitting during the various play-off series. They have the moral support of knowing that they've knocked off the best amateur pitchers in the province already, and Johnston would have to be in superform to stop them altogether.

have to be in superform to stop them altogether.

Quick will start for London. His wonderful victories both in St. Thomas and Preston have put his pitching out of the accident class. Both games were perfectly pitched, and Quick now has the confidence he seemed to lack earlier in the season. The team, too, has every confidence in Quick. Down and Baker will be in reserve.

The game is scheduled to start at 3:30, and the Dresden team has been asked to make an early start. St. Peters Play Wallaceburg, Aug. 31.—On Saturday the Wallaceburg intermediate lacrosse team was defeated, 16—6, by an all-star combination from Havelock, Norwood. Feterboro and Orangeville. The visitors throughout staged a sparkling exhibition and fully deserved their win.

In the first period the only goal was scored by D. Brennan for the visitors. In period number two goals were scored for the visitors by Baker 2, King 2, D. Brennan, and for Wallaceburg by Shepley, Lawson and McLean. The third period saw the visitors further increase their lead while for Wallaceburg Frobel scored the only counter. During the last stanza McLean and Lawson completed the Wallaceburg score, and the visitors replied through McGee two. King, Baker and Brennan.

MERELY A SATURDAY.

Saturday brought into bold relief two opposites of baseball. While Ty Cobb, believed by many to be the greatest ball player of all time, was being honored by a Ty Cobb day and the surface adulation of 20,000 fans, Babe Ruth was speeding home to New York in disgrace. It was a strange coincidence that these two contrasting examples should have happened Saturday.

There is another contrast, however. Cobb, in the cold official figures of baseball, has broken more records than probably any individual player will ever hang up again, and he stands out as the first man in baseball to have become a millionaire. Yet Cobb has never been granted the spontaneous adulation which was Ruth's portion while he reigned as King of Swat. Cobb could and does get respect and admiration. Ruth seemed to get effection. How thin an effection tha was, however, did not seem to have impressed itself on Ruth's mind when he suffered his first slump last year, and was the recipient of the raspberry chorus in nearly every ball park in the American league

Ban B. Johnson perhaps made one correct estimate when he said Babe Ruth had the mind of a 15-year-old, and as a result he stands on the brink of being remembered more as the spoiled child of baseball than for a time its greatest hero. If Johnson's estimate of Ruth is right, and there is little doubt on that score, then Ruth is more to be pitied than jeered at.

Cobb has gained riches and escaped popularity, which was perhaps a good thing for Cobb. He was always the opportunist and coolly cal-culating, never popular with his mates nor with the public and not caring a hang. Cobb knew values-especially the fickle value of the Greater minds than Babe Ruth will ever possess have been mud dled by a tenth of the shimmering, hero worship the Bambino received while he was at the height of his career.

THE COLTS HAVE RECORD.

Often one finds unusual records even among players who gain little mention during a season of baseball. And quite often a last place ball club will compel attention through some peculiar mark in action. Kitchener has won only seven out of 52 games played the second half of the Michigan-Ontario league season. It is a record in this league, and it may be a record in organized baseball of modern times by the time the curtain rings down Sept. 13. There is another record, however, over which Kitchener is justly proud. It is the mark of 77 consecutive games without striking out once as compiled by George Orme, present manager of the club.

No other batsman in the Mint league, and possibly no other batsman in any of the minor leagues, is believed to have such a distinguished mark this season. The record is considered rather unusual because the Kitchener club has not been a good hitting one, and Orme's average for the season to date is only .267 for 104 games. The average does not tell the story of safe hits: Were records kept showing the strong armed efforts of batemen to drive the ball into safe territory, Orme might be among the leaders. As it is, he is considered the hard luck hitter of the circuit. Day after day the Kitchener leader has started hits only to have them swallowed up by some spectacular bit of fielding. "I'll have my day, though," George says. "I'm completely satisfied with the strike-out record. Perhaps next year I'll do more fanning and collect

FINAL SCORE 14-3

Special to The Advertiser.

Saginaw, Aug. 31.—The Chicago Whita Sox, without Eddie Collins or Earl Sheely, had an easy time with the Aces of the Mint league here today, winning an exhibition game 14 to 3.

Andy Miller, on the mound for the Aces, was wild and was hit in bunches, the White Sox combining seven hits with two bases on balls and an error for eight runs in the seventh.

The Aces could do nothing with Connolly or Kerr, but found Chief Bender for four hits and two runs in the eighth, and got a run off Bill Barrett in the ninth on a double and, single. Mostil hit two home runs, each with nobody on bases.

Dealers State Enough Coal To Last Citizens Three Months.

Special to The Advertiser. Stratford, Aug. 31.-That Stratford is in good condition to meet conditions incident to a coal suspension in the hard coal fields, scheduled for midnight tonight, is the opinion of coal dealers here. About 50 per cent of the householders in the city have their winter's coal in their cellars, the dealers say, which is more than previously. Details of construction of the proposed school are being carefully considered before being passed upon. There appears to be a general antipathy towards "frills," and, at the same time, there is a desire to construct an attractive building.

Modifications of Tudor and Gothic architecture were discussed with some freedom last night. A battlemented front, windows with rounded tops, entrances set out from the main walls and other modes of securing relief from strict lines are suggested.

During its two-bour session last night the building committee discussed library, lunchroom, assembly hall, ventiloation and other matters. The committee will hold a special meeting curtain speeches. Such was her curtain speeches.

TRADE HEALTHY

Monthly Report Indicates Londoners Are Patronizing Home Industries.

A healthy trend is evident in the ustoms and excise duties collected in London district for the month of August. That we are importing less and buying more from home industries is proven by the decrease in import taxes collected. In August, 1924, such duties totalled $105,171.20, in August, 1925, $97,575.88, a decrease

An abnormal increase in the amount of sales tax collected is the other feature of the report. This gain amounted to $79,527.27. In August, 1924, but $73,341.02 was collected from this tax, last month-the total was $152,868.29. This more than disproves the oft-repeated assertion that less buying is being done in the district.

A slight decrease of $5,091.75 is noted in the amount of excise taxes
