CLOSE OF THE SESSION.

END OF THE THIRD SESSION OF THE SEVENTH PARLIAMENT.

Very Unanimous Proceedings.—The Royal Assent given to the Bills Passed During the Session.—Speech from the Throne.—The Session Closed.

TO-MORROW, MAY 31.—In striking contrast to the busy and splendid work which the Assembly was opened on April 4th were the proceedings of today. The day was spent in the closing scenes of a very thin House. Not more than 50 members were scattered through the galleries and about a score more on the floor. Fifteen minutes before the whole act through. Shortly before two o'clock the members of the Canadian Regiment of Infantry, under command of Lieut. Lauris, marched up to the buildings by way of College street, and were drawn up in front of the great stone pile as a guard of honour. A few minutes after his Honour Lieut.-Governor Kirkpatrick accompanied by Commander Law, R.N., Lieut. Col. Hamilton, the Q.O.R., Capt. Grenville-Harper, R.G., and Lieut. Arthur Kirkpatrick, A.D.C., drove up, and were saluted by the guard at the present arms. The Hon. Mr. Lauris then read the National Anthem as his Honour entered the chamber. There were present the following members of the Legislature: Sir Oliver Mowat, Messrs. Hardy, Gibson (Hamilton), Ross, Gibson (Knox), Macdonald, Macdonald, Macdonald, Macdonald, and Vice-General Rooney.

The proceedings were opened in a plain business-like way without ostentation or flourish. Mr. Sydney, assistant clerk read the Bill which passed during the session, and the royal assent was formally given to the same.

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly.

In relieving you from further attendance upon your legislative duties, I am glad to be able to congratulate you upon the advantages which have already been experienced from the completion of the new Parliament buildings. While they have greatly contributed to your comfort and convenience in the discharge of your legislative duties, they have also proved themselves to be perfectly adapted for the discharge of the duties of a public service. It is very satisfactory to know that buildings so substantial and commodious have been erected at comparatively so low a cost.

I desire to express my appreciation of the diligence and zeal with which you addressed yourselves to the work of the session. Although called together at a season of the year when the demands of private business are most urgent, you have shown no desire either to hasten legislation unduly or to postpone the consideration of measures important to the province.

I recognize with pleasure your production and forwarding for the establishment of a large national park, about 19,000 square miles in area, in the north-western part of the province, and in thereby securing for all time a forest reservation of untold value to the community, and including as it does, in the north-western part of the province, animals as it is desirable to protect. The name, Algonquin, by which the park is to be known, will form a connecting link between its former and its future occupants, while, amongst other advantages, its ample areas of timber and forest will furnish unbounded facilities to your industry for rest and recreation.

I greatly concur in the provisions of the bill which you have introduced for the establishment of a large national park, about 19,000 square miles in area, in the north-western part of the province, and in thereby securing for all time a forest reservation of untold value to the community, and including as it does, in the north-western part of the province, animals as it is desirable to protect. The name, Algonquin, by which the park is to be known, will form a connecting link between its former and its future occupants, while, amongst other advantages, its ample areas of timber and forest will furnish unbounded facilities to your industry for rest and recreation.

I am pleased to learn that steps are to be taken for the purpose of ascertaining whether, or to what extent, a provincial Legislature has the power to deal with the prohibition of the liquor traffic in the province, and in this connection, in response to numerous petitions from all parts of the province, a bill is to be introduced, the advisability of prohibiting by law the importation, manufacture, and sale of intoxicating liquors in the province. It is reasonable that before legislating you should procure the settlement of any constitutional question as to the powers of the Legislature, and that you should ascertain whether there is such a substantial public opinion in favor of prohibition as would justify its enforcement in the case of legislation being adopted. I shall watch with interest the course you will take with respect to these questions.

I have assented with great pleasure to the bill which you have introduced for the prevention of cruelty to the better protection of children, as a means of securing from a possible criminal career many who would otherwise be homeless and unprotected. I am confident that the measure will be of great service.

I have given my assent with pleasure to the bill which you have introduced for the purpose of securing the better registration of voters in cities, for the further improvement of our municipal laws, for the extension of jurisdiction of Division Courts, and for further facilitating the enforcement of the just rights of wage-earners and sub-contractors. It is a fact that the laws relating to the registration of instruments relating to land, and the laws for the protection of the gauge have been improved and consolidated. The measures also concerning houses of refuge, respecting the public health, and amending the liquor license laws, are timely and important, and will be found beneficial.

I thank you for the liberal appropriations which you have made for the public service. The supplies which you have granted will be expended with care and in the public interest.

The Provincial Secretary then said: Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly.

As his Honour's will and pleasure in this Legislative Assembly be progressed; and this Legislative Assembly is accordingly prorogued.

At fifteen minutes after two o'clock the proceedings were over, and the audience dispersed.

The workmen in the Thomson House, near the Lyttle, Messrs. Deane and 34 hours a week for 39 hours' pay, and threaten to strike involving $500.

He left some effects of little value in his stall, and there are in charge of a half-dozen of his effects. Obituary. The reporter learns with feelings of deep regret of the death of Mrs. N. Brown, wife of Nicholas E. Brown, township clerk of Elizabethtown.

Mrs. Brown was a daughter of the late Wm. Goff, of Harvey's Corner, Elizabethtown, and sister of Chas. Goff of the same place. She was in her 42nd year at the time of her death.

Some months ago she had a severe attack of grippe from which she never recovered and has been gradually failing ever since. She leaves a devoted husband and six small children to mourn her loss. The funeral which took place at the English church, New Dublin, on Sunday was largely attended.

Death of Geo. A. Balfour. On Friday afternoon the people of Athens were shocked by learning of the death of Geo. A. Balfour, merchant tailor. For over a score of years Mr. Balfour had suffered more or less from a fever sore and although for several days prior to his death he had been confined to bed, few people of the village knew that his disease had reached a critical stage.

But such was the case, and chance being informed that his only chance of recovery, and that a faint one, lay in submitting to a surgical operation, with characteristic energy and decision he announced himself ready to take that chance. On Friday morning Dr. Hart and S. S. Cornell conducted the operation, and though they were successful in removing a large amount of pus, the system of the patient was unequal to the trial.

Mr. Balfour came to this country when a young man from the island of Guernsey, just off the English coast. Though severely handicapped by the affliction that ultimately caused his death, by his energy and industry he provided a comfortable home and living for his large family. About two years and a half ago his wife, an estimable woman, died suddenly, leaving to him the care of their eight children. This task he fulfilled to the best of his ability until death called him hence, and they are now left to the care of the eldest daughter. The aged mother, who lived with deceased, was distracted with grief upon learning of the death of her son, and her presence added an additional pathos to the sad scene presented by the little orphan children weeping over the loss of their only earthly parent. The case is a particularly sad one and well deserves the deep sympathy that all feel for the bereaved little ones. The funeral took place on Saturday afternoon, the service being conducted in Christ church by the pastor, Rev. Wm. Wright, who delivered a most impressive sermon, taking for his text the 90th Psalm, 12th verse: "So teach us to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom." The church was crowded with sympathizing friends, a large number of whom followed the hearse to the Methodist burying ground, where the remains were interred.

James Hales, P. A., Fortia, has had the degree of L. L. D. conferred on him by Toronto university.

Rev. David Savage, the well-known Methodist minister and evangelist, died at Tilsonburg last week. He conducted meetings in Athens and elsewhere. His last work was done at Pembroke.

The rumor that gained currency here on Thursday that "Prof. Watson had died suddenly on Wednesday night proved to be a canard, pure and simple. However, nothing is created in vain, and in this case the rumor, stated as a fact, served as a very pointed illustration for the temperance lecturer on Thursday evening.

Mr. Parker Orser, a popular lecturer, will hold meetings in the Royal Templars' council chamber as follows: Sunday, June 4th, 4 p.m. and 8 p.m.; lectures on Monday and Tuesday evenings at 8 o'clock. Silver collection at each meeting. The public are invited to attend. A rare treat is promised. Good lecture. Good music.

The new lodge room shortly to be occupied by Athenian Masons promises to be very fine and convenient quarters. Mr. Phil. Willis has moved to his residence on Wilkes st. and is fitting up the fine flat over his store specially for a Masonic lodge room. The present interior stairway will be used, access to which will be gained through a side entrance to be opened at the foot of the stairs.

Dr. Cadieux, a prohibition lecturer, delivered one of his popular addresses to a large audience in the Methodist church on Thursday evening last. With chemicals he showed the action of alcohol on the human system, and secured and retained the close attention of his audience. The many students present the lecture constituted a fine lesson in practical chemistry, and was generally regarded by all as being very entertaining as well as highly instructive.

The Post-office Department of Ottawa has determined to put a stop to the practice which evidently prevails in certain sections of the country by people attempting to use postage stamps a second time. Some time ago a conviction was secured in the county of Bruce, and this was followed last week by a conviction at Kingston. Several cases are under consideration in which there is evidence of parties having attempted to use old stamps by oblitterating the cancellation mark.

A peculiarly sad death occurred at Plum Hollow on the morning of Sunday, May 21st, by which Mrs. Hulse was deprived of her daughter Laura, in the 9th year of her age. The little girl had scratched her finger slightly, and for some cause (supposed to have been the spilling of aniline ink into the wound) blood poisoning resulted. Dr. S. S. Cornell attended the little sufferer and everything possible was done to check the spread of the virus, but without avail.

The funeral took place on the following Monday morning at 2 p. m. at the Baptist church, Plum Hollow, and was conducted by Rev. T. J. Murdoch. A very large number of neighbors and friends testified their deep sympathy with the grief-stricken family by attending the obsequies.

Mr. Entree.—California is a lovely country, the sick get well, the poor get rich, cyclones and frosts are practically unknown. A hundred to three hundred dollars is made each year on fruits with irrigation. The California Land and Water Exchange, of Dayton, O., control large quantities of land in California, which they plant, cultivate, pay taxes for ten years, paying you $40 per acre as your part of the profit, they keeping the balance for the care and cultivation. They give an acre of land away with each 4 certificates. All they ask you to do is to pay for the irrigation, which can be done in small payments each month. They will send you the names of 90 persons who last year received from $25 to $500 on one year's investment. President Harrison says: "Half of the good things of California have not been sold." The Hon. Jeremiah Bush says: "Truly California is a poor man's paradise." To five-acre holders the California Land and Water Exchange, of Dayton, O., give a free return ticket to view the property. Why should any man be poor when such a chance remains open and you do not have to do any labor or work to get the profits and do not have to leave home. Write them to-day and get full particulars. A CALIFORNIAN.

Do you want 30 pounds of tea? If so, you can get it for just two dollars by getting it at The Tea Store, Brockville.—T. W. Dutton.

Rebecca Williams, of Brownsville, Ind., says: "I have been in a distressed condition for three years from Nervousness, Weakness of the Stomach, Dyspepsia and Indigestion until my health was gone. I bought one bottle of South American Nervine, which does more good than any other worth of doctored I ever did in my life. I would advise every weakly person to use this valuable and lovely remedy." A trial bottle will convince you. Warranted by J. P. Lamb.

HE HAD HIS REVENGE. An Old English Family Vendetta With the Usual Result. The prologue is in the King's Bench Prison. There is a man of about 40 years of age, thin, and somewhat unkempt. He is a prisoner in the King's Bench Prison, and is awaiting trial for a crime which he has committed. He is a man of a very peculiar character, and his story is a very interesting one.

Justice Jones, who has just had to commit a Duchess to prison, is an aristocrat himself—the son of a Bishop, the husband of a leader of fashion, the principal politician of the moment, and now the judge of the morals of his country men and women. "And a good judge, too." The firmness and the sense of humor, which is an immense relief to those who have to deal with the petty and tragic side of life. Even from dry colonial cases he extracted humor. When the famous Bishop of Lincoln trial commenced in the House of Lords, he opened, of course, with prayer. Mr. Jones, as he was then devotedly called, when the counsel asked him for the Bishop's name as his own and said: "Jones, you must not do that. It is a mistake. I acknowledge this court." "AN' right," replied Mr. Jones, "but paying no prejudice!" In the same case, however, the reporter present when Mr. Jones was called away zealously, taking down every word, until one of them said to another: "I have never heard this at anywhere before. It was some time before they discovered it was not a part of the legal proceedings. I hope none of them are the staff members of the Institute of Journalists."

A couple of weeks ago in this village American silver was subjected to a discount of 20%, and silver certificates were handled with reluctance even at that discount. Holders of these bills will be pleased to learn that a representative of the Gannaque Report recently interviewed Mr. Hinds, manager of the Merchants' Bank in that town, and was informed that they were accepted by him at par, and further, the U. S. Government was paying gold for them, although they are supposed to be paid for in silver.

Obituary. The Reporter learns with feelings of deep regret of the death at New Dublin on Monday morning last of Mrs. N. Brown, wife of Nicholas E. Brown, township clerk of Elizabethtown.

Mrs. Brown was a daughter of the late Wm. Goff, of Harvey's Corner, Elizabethtown, and sister of Chas. Goff of the same place. She was in her 42nd year at the time of her death. Some months ago she had a severe attack of the grippe from which she never recovered and has been gradually failing ever since. She leaves a devoted husband and six small children to mourn her loss. The funeral which took place at the English church, New Dublin, on Sunday was largely attended.

Death of Geo. A. Bulford. On Friday afternoon the people of Athens were shocked by learning of the death of Geo. A. Bulford, merchant tailor. For over a score of years Mr. Bulford had suffered more or less from a feverish ailment, and though for several days prior to his death he had been confined to bed, few people of the village knew that his disease had reached a critical stage. But such was the case, and on being informed of his only chance of recovery, and that a faint one, lay in submitting to a surgical operation, with characteristic energy and decision he announced himself ready to take that chance. On Friday afternoon Dr. Harte and S. B. Cornell conducted the operation, and though they were successful in removing a large amount of pus, the system of the patient was unequal to the trial. Mr. Bulford came to this country when a young man from the island of Guernsey, just off the English coast. Though severely handicapped by the affliction that ultimately caused his death, by his energy in the industry he provided a comfortable home and living for his large family. About two years and a half ago his wife, an estimable woman, died suddenly, leaving to him the care of their eight children. This task he fulfilled to the best of his ability until death called him hence, and they are now left to the care of the eldest daughter. The aged mother, who lived with him, was distinguished with grief upon learning of the death of her son, and her presence added an additional pathos to the sad scene presented by the little orphan children weeping over the loss of their only earthly parent. The case is a particularly sad one and well deserves the deep sympathy that all feel for the bereaved little ones. The funeral took place on Saturday afternoon, the service being conducted in Christ church by the pastor, Rev. Wm. Wright, who delivered a most impressive sermon, taking for his text the 90th Psalm, 12th verse: "So teach us to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom." The church was crowded with sympathizing friends, a large number of whom followed the hearse to the Methodist burying ground, where the remains were interred.

The rumor that gained currency here on Thursday that "Fred" Watson had died suddenly on Wednesday night proved to be a canard, pure and simple. However, nothing is created in vain, and in this case the rumor, stated as a fact, served as a very pointed illustration for the temperance lecture on Thursday evening.

Mr. Parker Orser, a popular lecturer, will hold meetings in the Royal Templars' ornamental chamber as follows: Sunday, June 4th, 4 p.m., and 8 p.m.; lectures on Monday and Tuesday evenings at 8 o'clock. Silver collection at each meeting. The public are invited to attend. A rare treat is promised. Good lecture. Good music.

The new lodge room shortly to be occupied by Athenian Masons promises to be very fine and convenient quarters. Mr. Phil. Witte has moved to his residence on Willis st. and is fitting up the fine flat opposite the Masonic lodge room. The present interior stairway will be used, access to which will be gained through a side entrance to be opened at the foot of the stairs.

Dr. Cadieux, a prohibition lecturer, delivered one of his popular addresses to a large audience in the Methodist church on Thursday evening last. With chemicals he showed the action of alcohol on the human system, and secured and retained the close attention of his audience. To the many students present the lecture constituted a fine lesson in practical chemistry, and was generally regarded by all as being very entertaining as well as highly instructive.

A peculiarly bad death occurred at Plum Hollow on the morning of Sunday, May 21st, by which Wm. Hance was deprived of his daughter Laura, in the 9th year of her age. The little girl had scratched her finger slightly, and for some cause (supposed to have been the spilling of aniline ink into the wound) blood poisoning of the most virulent type resulted. Dr. S. S. Cornell attended the little sufferer and everything possible was done to check the spread of the virus, but without avail. The funeral took place on the following Monday morning at 10 o'clock at the Baptist church, Plum Hollow, and was conducted by Rev. T. J. Murrick. A very large number of neighbors and friends testified their deep sympathy with the grief-stricken family by attending the obsequies.

RHEUMATISM CURED IN A DAY.—South American Rheumatic Cure for Rheumatism and Neuralgia radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. 600 FOUND.—Mr. Ersson—California is a lovely country, the sick get well, the poor get rich, and cyclones and frosts are practically unknown. A hundred to three hundred dollars is made each year on fruits with irrigation. The California Land and Water Exchange, of Dayton, O., control large quantities of land in California, which they plant, cultivate, pay taxes for ten years, paying you $40 per acre as your part of the profit when they keep the balance for the care and cultivation. They will send you the names of 90 persons who last year received from $25 to $500 on one year's investment. President Harrison says, "Half of the good things of California have not been told." The Hon. Jeremiah Bush says, "Truly California is a poor man's paradise." To five-acre holders the California Land and Water Exchange, of Dayton, O., give a free return ticket to visit the property. Why should any one be poor when such a chance remains open and you do not have to do any labor or work, to get the profits and do not have to leave home. Write them to-day and get full particulars. A. CALIFORNIA.

I bought one bottle of South American Nervine, which does me more good than any $50 worth of doctoring I ever did in my life. I would advise every weakly person to use this valuable and 'lovely remedy.' A trial bottle will convince you. Warranted by J. P. Lamb.

HE HAD HIS REVENGE. An Old English Family Vendetta With the Usual Result.

The prolonging in the King's Bench Prison. The time is 1790, or thereabouts. It is a gloomy evening. In one of the cheapest rooms a man of about 40 lies dying. The foul air, privation, disappointment, and imprisonment have killed him. By his bedside sits his wife weeping. There also stand two boys, aged 15 and 16, and a girl of 12. "Take them away, Lucy," says the dying man; "I shall be gone before morning. Take them to America. Teach them to hate England. Teach them to remember the man who sent me here to die like a rat. Teach them to take revenge upon his children and grandchildren. A hundred years hence, my great-grandson, the first of the line who has ever got on his feet, will be in the blood, and now lies buried in the churchyard of St. Andrew's, Southwark. He will see the old country. His grandfather, the boy of 15, never forgot the death-bed scene, and he never forgot the water he would have crossed the water himself to execute that revenge. But circumstances have intervened, and he cannot carry out. He imagined himself hunting down his enemy, paying his enemy's children. But he could never muster up money enough to leave the hospital where he had been confined, unrevenged. His son inherited the vendetta, together with the papers connected with the case, and he has been hunting down his enemy's children. Perhaps he would have done a bad turn for his grand-uncle's enemy, but he would not do it. But, like his father, he could never afford to leave his native town. So he is in the hospital, and his enemy's grand-son, the boy of 15, never forgot the death-bed scene, and he never forgot the water he would have crossed the water himself to execute that revenge.
