TO HIS EXCELLENCY THE LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR OF PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND.

MAT IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY;

MAT IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY;

There is no subject so pleasing to my own mind as the study of life in its various manifestations and development, and especially when extending to what may be called the science of Providence, where as progressing ages turn over the pages of her volumes, may be found accumulating matter for increasing confidence, in the prescient care and regard of Him who has established its laws, and made provision for its administration; and I should much sooner be induced to believe that God did not make man than that he has not provided for his preservation, and his suitable comforts and contingencies; one page from the history of the Redemption would abundantly affirm this position; but the extremities of individuals and families, and the priess of nations, are recorded corroborations, in proof that relief has been found at hand, from unknown, unexpected and immediate resources, to which enquiry would not have been directed had not pressing necessity urged attention to the place. In what light are we to look at Liebeg, the apostle of organic eleminary, but in the light of providential gency—a prophet of nature—an expositor of the science of Providence, brought forward at a time when a crowded world required more food, and he shewed the teeming millions where the elements of their support were to be found, and how their food was produced and reproduced, and it is from his inspirations that this country must learn the lessons of its daty, and the science of its agriculture.

There is suffering in this country, which its evident resources ought to have prevented, but the vory existence of the suffering is, to my mind confirmatory, that there are hidden treasures within reach of the sufferers; and while the serpent crawls over the leaf that destroys its poison, I shall always believe there is provision, abundant provision for the wants of this people; and that it only depends upon personal exertion, whether it shall be supplied or not. I may not have found out these resources; I only point wha

1. As the basis or vehicle of this menure, I should use the river mud, which contains such a large proportion of mussel and other shells in all stages of disorganization, that whether ground or calcined will greatly improve the staple of the soil; and abundant supply of this could be readily procured at small expense.

2. The scarenge of Charlottstown consisting of all the organic substances which 4,000 or 5,000 people have taken from the soil; the orderly removal of this will greatly help your sanitary operations, and to carry it out well, may suggest to your Excellency, the propriety, amongst many other reasons, of creating an imperium in imperio, as the mayor and burgesses of a borough can do no more and better in that way than the Governor and Council or Representatives—and would very materially aid the improvement of agriculture.

sentatives—and would very materially aid the improvement of agriculture.

3. Fish.—I would establish the very best fish market, and encourage the fishermen by taking all the inferior and superabundant supply at a remunerating price, paying cash for all supplies. This will be a better bounty than all they now receive, and its results vastly increase their domestic advantage; the soil will receive its much wanted phosphates, and shipping its supplies.

4. Bones.—These now lie like bleaching stumbling stones and putrid naisances up and down the country, while the soil suffers for the want of their berial; a few of the want-employment little folks would pick them up, and be glad of a few shillings a-week earned in that way; and the servant girl would not object to needles and pins, and, perhaps, a new gown, as the price of taking care of her weate bones. I know we shall have a rival in the soap tub, but we can afford to beat her in price, and we shall soon get all the cussat her in price, and we shall soon get all the cus-

5. Soot.—We must not forget our friend the sweep; we can sflord to pay him well for his labours, both with money and good beef and turnips.

6. Charcoal.—The young wood now burnt, almost to waste, on the barrens, we will make into charcoal or carbon, with which we hall want very carefully to remove the offensive effluvia of our

he barreas, we will make into charcoal or carbon, with which we hall want very carefully to remove the offensive efflavia of our compost, and render it subservient to the best purposes of vegetable rendection.

8. Sea-weed.—This I would clear in my process of preparing charcoal,—I am afraid our supply will be less than I should like, for it is highly serviceable. So far we have kept at home; we must now go shread for some of the sulphates and ammoniacal bases; at I suppose these are not very expensive here, as I understand here is plenty of gypsum and bitumen just over the water.

Of these materia's the very best manure for the growth of root rops may be prepared, subject to the advice of a practical agricultural chemist, as respects the manuer of its preparation, and the reportions of the ingredients. Now for my miniature model garten farms; for you possess the most suitable school apparatus,—only add to them the industrial principle, and supply the master with suitable works on practical scientific agriculture and organic shemistry; with a little oversight he will teach by example and precept all his pupils want to know, in the most impressive manner, and the profit should be given amongst the whole as a reward. I would propose about two acres. To be divided into six parts, representing fields, and numbered 1, 2, 3, &c.; à journal having its entries in corresponding numbers should report the work done in every field each day, with particulars of cost, produce, &c.; this to be kept under the supervision of the master by the first-class echolars, in weekly or daily rotation. Now if the pupils don't learn farming by this means, their minds must be past culture, and let it be remambered, they will be self-supporting as well as self-teaching. As hour or two of recreative labour, each day, will do more than required.

My third proposition may be considered as a sort of appendix, an utima thuse which were moment in proparing our hand for spring rowing. We cannot do it in the spring to any profitable extent, we must because a comparatively trifting additional expense will provide all that is required—buildings will be required for a mill and dry store, and the same roof will cover in two or three stories that will answer all the purposes to begin with, and if more are required by circumstances, as I am sure there will, they can be added according to feture regulation, and the labouring operations, and superintendence may all be conducted by a proper regulation of the same help on the same ground.

may att be conducted by a proper regulation of the same hetp on the same ground.

This, your Excellency, is a sort of rough draft of my plan; there are many more things to be said in the way of explanation, which I really must defer, being absolutely cumbered and thought-sick at the many reasons that suggest themselves, why same such insti-tution should be immediately formed for the improvement of the agriculture of Prince Edward Island. Craving your Excellency's forbearance for the familiarity of my address, and my inability to express myself clearly amidst constant other engagements and inter-ruptions.

I remain, most respectfully,
Your Excellency's
Obedient Servant,
H. A. JOHNSTON.

It is known to many of the readers of Gazette, that the Rev. John Geddie, formerly pastor of the Presbyterian Congregation at New London and Cavendish, devoted to himself as an herald of the Cross, to proclaim the glad tidings of Salvation to the degraded Heathen in the Islands of the Pacific Ocean; and that himself and Mrs.G. and their infant family have been for some time located on the Island called Anciteum, one of the New Hebrides group, where on their first arrival, they found the natives in the lowest stage of Heathen barbarism, and moral degradation, and as many of your readers would like to know what success (if any) has attended his labours among them, the follow extract of a letter, addressed by him to his former pastoral charge, dated November 11, 1851, will be generally interesting, should you be inclined to favour his friends with its publicity in the columns of your paper.

I am, Sir,

Yours respectfully,

W. M'NEILL.

Extract of a letter from the Rev. Mr. Geddie, dated

'You will be pleased to hear, that I labour with some degree of encouragement in the dark land, a great change has been wrought by God in the hearts of these poor Islanders, since we landed among them; many are now in earnest about the one thing needful, and instead of being obliged to go out on the Sabbath day and talk to a few natives here and there as lused to do, often exposed to scorn, repreach and insult, I now preach the Gospel to crowded assemblies. I tell the same truths to them that I used to tell to you, and find the gospel is God's remedy for these degraded and savage Islanders, as well as for those who have been born and brought up in a christian land. I tell them as I have told you of man's rain by the fall, of his condemnation under the law, and his moral inability to deliver himself by any power or strength of his own—of the divinity and incarnation of the Son of God—of a free and fall justification through faith in the atoning blood and righteousness of the Redeemer—of the agency of the kledy Spirit in the regeneration and sanctification of believers, of the necessity of a renew-ed-heart and holiness of life, not as a title to heaven, but as a meetuses for the enjoyment of it. These are the truths which a man must receive or perish. These truths have been the food of the Church in all ages, and these truths are our guide to life and immortality beyond the grave. For all information about the mission I must refer you to my letters to the 'Board.' You will learn from them, that we have encountered great trials as well as great encouragements in this dark land. Satan has stirred up many enemies to oppose the work of God. We have had to contend with such hostilities that must have have vanquished any other than a divine cause. Those who have forsaken their superstitions have been severely persecuted by their heathen countrymen, and my own life has, I believe, often been threatened.

lamity, in a Beld of labour as arduous and peritous as the heathen world this day presents. If we are in difficulties there are none with whom we can take sweet counsel—if we are cast down, there are none to whom we can look for encouragement and support—if we are in sickness, there are none to lend a helping hand. In our present circumstances, we are cut off in a measure from human sympathy; and we can only cast oursieves on him who has never, and will never forsake us even though human aid be withheld. How long we are to be left in our present circumstances, I know not; we have already been too long alone.

The Missionary work I can now say, after an experience of between three and four years, is a delightful one. It is, indeed, a repulsive and self-denying labour to hold constant intercourse with those who are sank into the very depths of degradations and momoral pollution; but yet how pleasant to contribute in any way to their moral and spiritual elevation, along with its trials, the work has its joys. I trust that your interest in the best of causes will continue and increase. You have already pledged yourselves to the cause—endeavour in the strength of divine grace, faithfully to redeem your obligations to heaven and a dying world—never, never look back after having once put your hand to the plough. I think you were the first congregation to contribute for the support of the Church's Mission, and you were also the first to contribute an agent for the work. God grant that while you endeavour to do good to others, you may be abundantly bleased yourselves.

And now, dear friends, whom I love in the Lord Jesus, Grace, Merey and Peace be multiplied from God the Pather and from his Sou Jesus Christ.

I remain,

I remain,
Your late and affectionate Pastor,
JOHN GEDDIE.

To the Congregation of Cavendish, New London & New Glasgow.

Cavendish, New London & New Glasgow.

The foreign Missionary Society of the Cavendish and New Glasgow section of the Presbyterian Congregation of Cavendish and New London, in connection with the Presbyterian Church of Nova Scotia, held its Annual Meeting at the Cavendish Church of Nova-day, the 27th of July, 1852. An impressive Sermon was preached on the occasion by the Rev. Mr. Murray, Pastor of the Congregation, from Isaish atilii. chap, and 12th verse, 'therefore ye are my witnesses suith the Lord that I am God.'' The Chair was then taken by the Rev. Gentleman, President of the Society, and the Report of the Committee for the past year read by William MacNeill, Esquire, Vice President, which is as follows:

At the termination of another financial year, your Committee, with devout and sincere gratitude to the great King and Head of the Charch, for the signal manifestations of his favour vouchasfed toward our feeble attempt at Missionary effort in behalf of the perishing Heathen in the Pacific Isles; congratulate the Society on the present position, and future prospects of our infant mission.—

The receipts of the year just ended, amount to the sum of £13
4.5, being a small advance on those of the preceding year. This sum has been remitted by your Secretary and Treasurer to the Board of Foreign Missions in Nova Scotia, and will no doubt be duly acknowledged in a future number of the Missionary Register.
The latest accounts from Mr. Geddie are of the date of November 11, 1851, being the same with his interesting letter to this Contropation, publicly read here on a former occasion, and what produced, your Committee confidently trust, emotions of deep, and thrilling interest in the minds of all who heard its contents enunciated, and cannot fail to stimulate to renewed zeal, and vigorous exertion, in sustaining what has, by the Divine blessing, been so happily commenced.
Your Committee deem it quite unnecessary to enter into detail, as regards the circumstances in which our missionaries are placed, (as such information is diffused by means of the circulation of the Missionary Register) but would ardently, and affectionately remind this Society of the toaching appeals to its sympathy contained in Mr. Geddies letter, which your Committee hope and believe, meet with a devout and carnest response, in the breasts of all the faithful and dutiful subjects of him who is "King of Kings and Lord of Lords."—And your Committee would here express its grateful sense of the kindness of Dr. Selwin, Bishop of New Zealand, for the aid and encouragement he has, on more than one occasion, afforded to our devoted friends on the Island of Anciteum; and also to the Agents of the London Missionary Society, for the interest they have at all times manifested in behalf of our Mission.

In contemplating the effects already produced by the instrumentality of the Church's Foreign Mission, we have abundant reason to 'thank God and take courage," and to him alone we would ascribe the glory and the praise. Your Committee therefore devouily desire to recall to the recollec

GOOD TEMPER.

BY CHARLES SWAINE. There's not a cheaper thing on earth,
Nor yet one half so dear;
'Tis worth more than distinguish'd birth,
Or thousands gain'd a-year.
It lends the day a new delight;
'Tis virtue's firmest sheld;
And adds more beauty to the night
Than all the stars may yield.

It maketh poverty content, To sorrow whispers peace;
It is a gift from heaven sent
For mortals to increase,
It meets you with a smile at morn,
It lails you to repose;
A flower for peer and peasant born,
An everlasting rose.

A charm to banish grief away,
To snatch the brow from care;
Turns tears to smiles, make dulness gay—
Spreads gladness everywhere;
And yet 'tis cheap as summer-dow,
That gems the lily's breast;
A talisman for love, as true
As ever man possessed.

As smiles the rainbow through the cloud When threat 'ning storm begins—
As music 'mid the tempest loud,
That still its sweet way wins—]
As springs an arch across the tide,
Where waves conflicting foam,
So comes this scraph to our side,
This angel of our home.

What may this wondrous spirit be, With power unheards spirit be,
With power unheard before—
This charm, this bright divinity?
Good temper—nothing more?
Good temper;—'tis the choicest gift
That woman homeward brings,
And can the poorest pensant lit.
To bliss unknown to kings.

DUTIES OF FRIENDSHIP.

DUTIES OF FRIENDSHIP.

The duties of friendship are sacred, and ought on no account to be violated and trodden under foot. Indeed they have always been held in high and deserved estimation by the wisest and best part of mankind. At the same time we should be assiduous to secure and to perpetuate the blessings of friendship, and careful to deserve them—not forgetting, that he who has a good friend must prove himself friendly. Between minds, as well as bodies, attraction can subsist no longer than it is reciprocal; and mutual kindeas can only be cherished by endeavours to serve and oblige. If you are frequently receiving from your friend tokens of attachment and affection, watch for opportunities of making equivalent returns; or if inequality of condition should on your part render this impracticable, beake more careful to seize every occasion of expressing, in ways not inconsistent with the delicacy of friendship, the sense of obligation. Above all study to render yourself worthy the friendship you value, by cherishing all those amiable qualities, and practising all those substantial virtues, which unite to form the character of a true friend. More particularly, cultivate the kind and generous affections, for friendship is the reciprocation of affection, and he who has none to bestow has no right to expect any in return. To hope to gain a friend without this, is as if the merchant should expect to purchase a jewel of the highest value without being able or willing to pay the price for it. On the contrary, kindness will always be found to produce kindness, and no man will fail to be rich in the returns of love who is careful to purchase it with the payment of affection. Exercise an habitual command over yourself, to check those sudden gasts of passion and ill-humour which the casual interference of opinions, inclinations, or interest may tend to excite. The maxim is well founded, that friendship is not to be formed with an angry man. Be ever ready to allow to your friend that indulgence which you claim for yourse

The London Weekly Depatch, in speaking of the late "strike" among the English engineers, states, that upwards of £30,000 were lost per week, for fifteen weeks, making no less than $2,272,500. But this is not all.—Since they have returned to work, their wages have been reduced greatly below the level of what they were before the strike, and there are now hundreds of workmen out of employment, their places having been supplied by more labourers during the strike. A new invention has also resulted from the strike, by wich casting are made by a firm in London, without the use of skilled moulders.

New York, July 23.—The City of Sonora destroyed by Fire.—$2,000,000.—The Steamship United States, 7½ days from Aspinwall, with 438 passenger, arrived this morning.

The San Francisco Whig, says:—Sonora, the chief city of the Southern mines, which has for so long a time enjoyed impanity, while conflagration was raging all over the country, is at length hid in ruins. There is no need to particularize—to give details in regard to who are burnt out and who ape not—all, all is gone.

The fire commenced on Friday morning, 18th inst, a little after to 'clock. It broke out on the building on the plaza, called the Hotel de France, occupied by Mad. Landrean and facing on Wanington-street. From thence it spread in a southerly direction, smill it had sweet off every building that had any connection with its neighbours, including the whole of the centre block, on buth side of East and west Washington-streets. The Masonic Hall, the has building on East Washington-street, was entirely gutted, the wall alone remaining.

of East and west Washington-streets. The Masonic Hall, the last building on East Washington-street, was entirely gutted, the wall alone remaining.

But the whole northern end of the city, from the place of commencement up to the Barnum House on Main-street, has been consumed. The wind soon took a turn to the northward, and the fire spread rapidly from house to house. Great efforts were made by the citizens to stop the flames, but all were unavailable. The intensely inflammable nature of the material, dried up thoroughly as it had been, by a month's continued to the consumed, with the scarcity of water, rendered it an impossibility to effect any substantial good; the consequence is, that the whole city has been consumed, with the exception of a few scattered buildings on the outskirts together with a great portion of the suburb of Sonorits, the fire having been stopped in the neighourhood of the Barnum House by the judicious application of the axe and rope. A continuous line of houses, of nearly half a mile in length, many of which had been built at an expense of from two twenty thousand dollars each, has been swept away at a breath.

Property to the amount of $1,000,000 has probably been in a a few hours destroyed.

Crime continues on the increase all through the country. Murders and robberies, and all other villanies are as rife as ever; and Lynch Law is still in demand.

DEATH OF JACOD BELL.—Mr. Jacob Bell, of New York, of the firm of Brown & Bell, died at Sharon Springs on Wednesday morning. He was an eminent ship-builder, having built the steamships Pacific and Baltic of the Collins' line. Liverpool, July 24.—Although business has not been fairly resumed, the markets are beginning to feel the effect of the close of the parliamentary contests. Considerable anxiety, neverthelees, still prevails as to the final result of the elections, and the effect which will be produced upon the commercial & fiscal policy of the Government. There is evidently more confidence on the part of importers of Colonial Produce, and the markets have been less freely supplied with all articles during the last few days; at the same time consumption, both in this country and on the Continent, exceeds that of last season. The accounts are of the most favourable description as regards the grain erops, which, under the influence of the late forcing weather, have rushed forward with amazing vigour, and afford every promise of an early and abundant harvest. The same description of report comes from Ireland and the Continent, and as a consequence the various Grain markets have been during the week comparatively dull and inanimate. Monetary affairs, however, continue favourable, and with the large quantities of gold uninterruptedly flowing in from our Australian colonies, independantly of the heavy receipts we are obtaining by the royal mail steam-ships from the United States weekly, there seems every inducement to believe that the trade of the country must progress in prosperity.

THE CROPS.

THE CROPS.

ENGLAND.—The corn crops, under the influence of the present genial and much-desired heat, are rushing forward with amazing vigour, and afford every promise of an early said abundant harvest. The Sherbourne Mercury agays:—"We are sorry to say the potatoe blight has made some sad ravages in the neighbourhood of Weymouth, the stalks in many parte being completely decayed, and emitting a most offensive odorur."

odorur."

Instant.—The crops are still healthy and abundant. Nothing can be finer than the potatoes, which are now generally brought into market large and well tasted, and without any appearance of disease. We have a favourable report to make of all the agricultural crops. In some distant counties of Connaught a partial ramour of potato blight prevailed; but it was in isolated districts. The recent thunder storms have been attended with a few disastrous results in some parts of Ireland. They passed over Ulster without occasioning any very serious damage.

NARROW ESCAPE OF THE QUEEN.—A correspondent of the Court Journal states that a few days since, while her Majesty and his Royal Highness Prince Albert were walking within the now dismantled walls of the building in Hyde Park, which was but a few months since the glory and pride of this kingdom, a beam of wood, of enormous size and weight, fell close to the Queen—so close as to have given rise to feelings of the most painful excitement amongst the distinguished personages by whom she was surrounded.

He was sentenced to imprisonment for three years. The Debete announces as imminent the following ministerial changes—Foreign Affairs, Drouyn de Lhuys; State, Turgot; Public Works, Magon.

It is stated that the President has not abandoned his attention of paying a sist to Algiess on the occasion of his visit to the zouth in September. The Cautier of Marseilles states that the visit of the President of the Expublic to that place is to take place between the 15th and Each of September. The Prince President arrived on Sunday, at Strasbourg, for the inauguration of the railway. There, as everywhere on his journey, he was saluted by enthusiastic cries of "Vive Nipoleen." On Monday morning he crossed the Rhine by the bridge constructed by the engineers, and went to Kehl, where he reviewed the Baden troops amidst the loudest acclamation. He re-entered Strasbourg escorted by the envoys of the foreign powers. He left Strasbourg on Tuesday afternoon incognite, for Bardon-Babon, to escort the Grand Duchees Stephanic and, the Marchioness of Bouglas. The Montieur states that the Prince President, having been received so warmly by the people of Alsace, will remain two or three days longer in Strasburg to testify his gratitude.

There are new symptoms of a serious movement for the establishment of the Empire. Petitions with this object are being got up in the south under the avowed patronage of the authorities.

THE CROPS.

Residing in the country, and actively engaged in farming, we shall speak of appearances for the next harvest, as they have fallen under our personal observation, which, we adre say, will be very generally applicable

Har.—This important part of our crop has suffered from the long winter, and hot, dry summer. It is somewhat, but not much, under an average.

Wheat.—This grain is, perhaps, less injured by drought, generally; than any of the other cereals, and we never saw a prospect of a heavier return. What the wheat-midge may leave us, is a question which cannot now be determined. We regret to learn that it has again made its appearance, as might be anticipated.

Barley is fair, but not equal to wheat. It is to be regretted that the farmers raise any other sort than the Engelish two-rowed. It is a surer crop, and a better article than the four-rowed, and will bring a higher price in the United States markets.

Buck-wheat.—We have never seen this valuable, but delicate, grain, look better; and if it escape early frosts, an abundant yield may be anticipated. Its value is not sufficiently understood in this Island. We understand it has come into very general use in some sections of New Brunswick; and in the Western States, and in some parts of Upper Canada, the people subsist to a great extent on it, not for the want of common wheat, but because they like it better. It is there invariably eaten in light, spongy pancakes, with honey or molasses. In this Island we have two varieties—a large, coarse grain, which does not flower, and said to be somewhat bitter, and a smaller sort, bearing a white flower when in blossom. The coarse variety yields a larger quantity of flour from an acre, but the fine, white flowering buck-wheat can alone be recommended for pancakes.

Oars.—The straw was exceedingly short before the late rains, and how they may affect it remains not be seen. In OATS.—The straw was exceedingly short before the late rains, and how they may affect it, remains to be seen. In the meantime, we see no reason to anticipate a short-coming of the grain.

of the grain.

POTATORS.—This standard looks well, but have, in some localities, been thinned by the grubs (which are unusually abundant this season, cutting the young sprouts. We regret to learn that symptoms of disease have been observed, not in the leaves, but in a 'second growth of tubers.

TURNIPS.—The early Swedes have been so much injured by drought and grubs, as to be very much of a failure; but what have survived are now doing well.

Upon the whole, we have, at present, every reason to anticipate an abundant crop.

Tannete an abundant crop.

The KROLEMAN's gave their first Entertainment on Priday Evening and their second, list Evening, before a very large and highly respectable audience. To all true lovers of music an a science—of music as an inspirer of high thoughts—great deed—noble sympathy—or as a pastime and an enjoyment, it was a rare treet. Erollman's performances on the violin were extraordinary, and are said to be not inferior to the celebrated Paganis. Madame Krollman, the Vecalist, a lady of very pleasant manner, rang a number of Songs, which was greatly admired and enclaved. Count Wolowski, the Pianist, exhibited must brilliantly, all his pieces, and proved to be one of the most skilful Pianists, giving the greatest satisfaction to the sudience.

The Company intend performing This Evening for Madame Krollman's benefit, and we feel confident, there will be a full attendance.

and less pervious to moisture, and consequently preventing decay and destruction from corroding influences hitherto supposed unattainable.

The principal ingredients are Alumina, Silica and the Oxides of Ison. The adhesive quality of the latter not cally binds and attracts, the particles tegather, but the substance covered also. The longer exposed to the weather the more powerful the attraction, and consequently the harder the State. As various values of colour are obtained, Brick buildings may be made impersions to moisture, and the fashionable colours of either Free Stone or Grantic. The oil must be evaporated by the action of the weather before it is Fire proof, which will take from nine to twelve months.

The METALLIC PAINTS. Purple and Red, are offered as Weather and Water Proof solely. Their base being from, secures them from Galvania eaction of fast, to lead other Paints on Iron work—and their chemical combination makes it impossible, that any change should take place from atmospheric influence or the action of Salt. Water and Sulphareted hydrogen.no provalent in Sea Ports and Tidal Harbours. They surpass all Paints yet discovered in Chairpasse and Durability, whigh render them pre-eminently adapted to the covering of all kinds of Iton work, such as Shipping, Mills, Bridges, Stean Machinery, Railway Care, and Iron Railing. The METALLIC PAINTS have been analysed by Professor Hays of Boston. The following is an extract from his Certificate:—"As a permanent pigment, this mineral must rank with the most fradestructible and unchangeable bases. For covering Metallic Ware, its composition shows that it is eminently fitted.

JOHN Ross, Esq., Patentee of the Purple Metallic Iron Paint.

Sin,—I have just painted a new Ship with your Metallic Iron Paint, and I have much pleasure in stating that I never painted a Ship with so small a quantity of Paint and Oil, and look so well. From its adhesive qualities and the manner it covers the wood, I have no doubt but it will be more durable and much cheaper than my other paint used for such purposes, and would recommend it to the public generally.

Ross' METALLIC PAINTS.—We have already called public attention to the high estimation in which the Metallic Paints, manufactured by John Ross, Esq., Truro, are held by those who have had eccasion to use them. Certificates of a highly satisfactory character in praise of these articles of Provincial manufacture appear elsewhere, in this issue, and from information afforded by parties who have similarly applied them, we can safely endorse the opinions these contained.—Halifax Sun.

My friend, my lunband, I have always thee;
And gaily round, our laughing treasury plays
In all the winning grace of childhood's ways.

I never can be leastly. Where I go

For these departed days, where all things glow
With a bride glory from that far-off land,
Wind round my heart, with a magic chain,
Which I must kiss ere I unwind again.

Oh! days for ever gone—for ever fair!

Pair, because gone—Oh, sunbright, youthful days!

Are ye not worth one earnbut thought, one care,

One heartfelt lay, devoted to your praise?

But not the lays of an immortal tongue

Could give me back the days when I was young.

Far from the friends whose gentle teachings led me
In the bleat ways of innocence and truth;
E'an from my own pecaliar Northern Star,
From every childish memory, I am far!

CURE OF A PAIN AND TIGHTNESS IN THE CHEST AND STOMACH OF A PERSON 84 YEARS OF AGE.

From Messrs. There & Son, Proprietors of the Lynn Advertiser, who can rouch for the following statement.—August 2, 1851.

To Professor Holloway.

Sin,—I desire to bear testimony to the good effects of Holloway's Pills. For some years I suffered severely from a pain and tightness in the stomach, which was also accompanied by a shortness of breath, that prevented me from walking about. I am 84 years of age, and notwithstanding my advanced state of life, these Pills have so relieved me, that I am desirous that others should be made acquinisted with their virtues. I am now rendered, by their means, comparatively active, and can take exercise without inconvenience or pain, which I could not do before.

AN EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF THE GRAVEL, AND A MOST DANGEROUS LIVER COMPILAINT.

Copy of a Letter addressed to J. K. Heydon, Eag., Sidney, New South Wales, dated February 25, 1851.

Sin,—A Mr. Thoman Clark, a settler at Lake George, was for a considerable time seriously afflicted with a complaint of the Liver, ingesther with the Gravel. His medical attendants, after trying all their skill, candidly told him that his case was hopeless, and any further folict useless. In this situation, and when expecting every day would terminate his existence, a friend recommended him to try Holloway's Pills, and asa forlorn hope he did so, the first dose gave him considerable relief, he therefore persevered in taking them according to the directions, and is now restored to perfect health. He will feel great pleasure in confirming this statement, or even make an affidavit to the same effect, should it be required.
