Town and County News

The proposal is on foot to unite the two Presbyterian congregations in Elora, and build one large and handsome church.

Two Listowel merchants pummeled each other in the streets of that village the other day, to the great amusement of the onlookers.

The nine hours movement has spread to Brantford. A meeting was held the other night, and resolutions adopted in favor of the proposition.

The fifth annual convention of the Canadian Dairyman's Association commenced at Ingersoll on Wednesday. The proceedings are of a most interesting nature and instructive to these manufacturers.

The Galt Reporter says the demand for saw-logs by the various mills in Galt and vicinity, has made timber rise very materially in price. The prices paid, standing on the ground, have ranged from $6 to $9 per tree, and if all the cost of cutting and hauling to the mill and then cutting into lumber is added to this, it will be seen that lumber here, during the next season, will range high.

Y. M. C. A.—The regular weekly meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association was held in their rooms last (Thursday) evening. The President, Dr. McInnis, in the Chair. After the regular business Mr. Gilbert Maddock gave a recitation, "The Ladies' Dream," and Mr. W. Strong an excellent essay, subject, "Liberty."

The staff of the new morning paper to be started in Toronto is nearly all organized. Mr. Patterson, Assistant Secretary, known as an occasional contributor to the Globe as "Quartz," has resigned his position and assumes the management. Ed. Farrer, of the Telegraph, is on the staff. Messrs. Belford and Kingsmill are joint editors. The prospectus will be out in a few days.

THE SCOTTISH AMERICAN JOURNAL.—This excellent weekly enters upon its fifteenth year and is a welcome visitor to the homes of many thousands of Scotsmen throughout the Dominion. Its independent and fair criticism of American policy as well as its known high character as a family journal should make it acceptable to Canadians generally. Mr. Galbraith, the agent, is at present in town for the purpose of increasing its circulation. He is staying at Parker's House.

PURCHASE OF PROPERTY.—Messrs. McLeod, Wood & Co. have purchased the factory which they now occupy at the Executors of the Smiley Estate, also the property adjoining from Mr. Wm. Bookless, occupied by Mr. G. M. Todd and Mr. C. Shevart. As soon as spring opens they will make important alterations in it, and fix up the portion adjoining the factory so as to enable them to have all their employees together. At present they are unable to do this on account of the small accommodation, and are obliged to do a portion of their work in the old brick building near the gas works. When these improvements and additions are made their Melodeon Factory will be one of the largest and most complete in the Dominion.

CONESTOGA FAIR.—The fat cattle fair held at the above place, like all the preceding ones was very well attended. A large number of cattle were brought out, and with very few exceptions were in splendid condition. Of the 300 head on the ground about one half were sold. In this respect the market was not quite so good as on former occasions; as more cattle were generally sold. The prices appeared too low to suit the farmers, many driving their cattle home in anticipation of better prices at the Easter market. Prices ranged from 3 to 5 cents live weight. All other kinds of business were proportionately brisk during the day.

Centre Riding Reform Convention.

Mr. James Ross, M. P., Receives the Unanimous Nomination.

The Reform Convention for the Centre Riding of Wellington met at Marsville on Thursday the 8th, for the purpose of nominating a candidate to represent that Riding in the Reform interest in the Dominion Parliament. The Delegates present from the different Municipalities, elected at the Township meetings previously held, were as follows:

Fergus (2)—J. Craig, W. Robertson. Elora (3)—J. Mundell, J. Clark, D. Foot. Nichol (4)—A. Munroe, Jas. Burnett, J. Cowie and I. Modellan.

Parkington (4)—J. Smith, H. Larter, Jno. Burnett and D. Wallace. Eramosa (6)—L. Parkinson, R. Royce, J. A. Armstrong, H. H. Swinford, D. Stewart, H. Dunbar.

Erin (7)—L. Currie, T. Tolton, G. Dixon, W. W. Ball, M. Henshaw, John Fletcher, Jno. McMillan.

East Garafraxa (3)—A. Nicol, M. Cook, J. Gibson.

West Garafraxa (4)—T. Buckland, C. Sargeant, A. Dyce and H. Cull. Orangeville (2)—John Green, S. McKittrick.

All present but T. Modellan, of Nichol. Mr. John Smith, Parkington was appointed Chairman, and Mr. H. H. Swinford Secretary.

After the transaction of some formal business, the Convention proceeded to elect the office bearers of the Centre Riding Reform Association as follows:—President, John Smith (Parkington); 1st vice do, Lazarus Parkinson; 2nd vice do, Alex. Dyce; Recording Secretary and Treasurer, H. H. Swinford; Corresponding Secretary, J. Craig.

It was then moved by Mr. L. Parkinson, seconded by Mr. Thomas Tolton, that James Ross be the candidate for this Riding in the Reform interest at the next election for the House of Commons. The resolution was carried unanimously.

An American Opinion on the Geneva Conference.

The New York Tribune of Wednesday, speaking of the excitement about the Alabama claims, says:—

"What the result of all this will be, it is premature to say. Every day of this needless excitement in England makes the matter more difficult. It is not probable that our Government will withdraw its case. After Mr. Gladstone's speech, yesterday, it will be hard for the British Government to abide by the Arbitration. Both sides in Parliament are working so earnestly to get the matter decided, that it is not likely to be called off until it is done."

"One result of the incident is worth noting, as confirming the view we have taken. We suggested some days ago, that one object of the English clamor might be to influence European public opinion against us, and thus indirectly bear upon the decision of the Arbitrators. If this be so, the attempt has failed. The Allypne Zeitung of Augsburg severely criticises the violent tone of the English Press; and the Neue Preiss Presse of Vienna denounces this pretension of England to make herself at once party and judge in the suit. These are two of the most influential journals of Germany and Austria, and may be taken to represent the intelligent thought of Europe upon this sudden and unexpected obstacle opposed by British susceptibility to international peace and harmony."

Trade Between Canada and the West Indies.

(From the Ottawa Free Press.)

Before Confederation, a commission was sent down to the West India Islands, having for its object the development of trade between those rich tropical regions and the Dominion of Canada. Comparatively little notice has been taken of the results of that effort to open up direct trade between Canada and the West India Islands and South America. The failure has not been by any means a failure, and it gives us no small degree of pleasure to be able to chronicle the fact that commercial men at Barbadoes announce a very considerable increase in the trade of 1871 as compared with that of 1870. It witness, as we saw from the following statement, that all imports into the West Indies from Canada show a decided advance, with the exception of flour and bread. The trade in those articles has increased, although not to the same extent as the other articles; bread and biscuits went down in the preceding year. The following figures will tell the tale more strongly than any words of ours:

1870.	1871.
Bills, flour.....	96,851	98,879
Bills, meal.....	46,639	65,462

NEWSPAPER TRAINING.—We can safely recommend a graduate of a newspaper office for almost any station in life, at least for all such as require a pretty good knowledge of the peculiarities and characteristics of the human family. A man who can preserve the serenity of his temper, the sweetness of a Christian disposition, and an unflinching perseverance amid all the obstacles and difficulties which newspaper publication presents, deserves to be ranked with Job for patience. Baxter for goodness, and the Iron Duke for instance, for nerve, power, and obstinate determination.—Christian World.

The following may be of interest to parties in Ontario, who propose emigrating to Manitoba. The Secretary of the United States Treasury has decided that an emigrant from the Eastern Provinces of Canada may pass with his team, vehicle, and household effects through the Northwest States to Manitoba without payment of duty, on giving his personal transportation bond, properly secured, on any route or in any manner he chooses. Circulars to collectors at ports of entry, giving full instructions, are in course of preparation, and will be issued in a few days.

Ontario Legislature.

MR. MACKENZIE'S SPEECH

(Concluded from yesterday.)

Feb. 7.

He then proceeded to deal with the chief sources of expenditure, as shown in the estimate amounting to $1,910,000. The largest amount required was for our public institutions. Amount expended on Central Prison $10,925; he asked for a vote of $200,432 necessary to complete contracts entered into. London Lunatic Asylum expended $311,003, vote asked for $36,195. Deaf and Dumb Institute expended $99,215; vote asked for $14,350. Brantford Blind Asylum expended $69,318; vote asked for $33,387. Toronto Lunatic Asylum expended on capital account $184,037; vote asked for to complete the buildings $5,000. Pentanguishine Reformatory expended $12,081; vote asked for $1,910. Agricultural College and Farm expended $17,350; vote asked for $97,424. The $17,350 had been expended chiefly upon the purchasing of the land, and $97,424 was required to complete the contracts entered into, and supply articles needed according to the estimate. For the school of Technology there was expended $38,529.36, and a further sum was required to complete it of $11,470.66. The Model School expended $13,630; vote asked for $3,318. Government House expended $105,222; further sum asked for $1,500. He referred to the estimate for the school of Technology to be taken into consideration for the continuance of these projects, without being able, in the short time placed at their disposal, to mature a plan for their management. His own impression was that these institutions would have been placed on a better footing had time been taken for deliberation, and thoroughly competent plans been prepared by the late Government, which in several cases were not. The cost of the maintenance of these public institutions—the did not include the central prisons—was threatening to become, before long, a serious tax upon the country. These institutions, however, were necessary, and the unfortunate classes who are inmates must be provided for. The charge on the public so imposed must be considered as requiring a large portion of the revenue for the future. The cost of their maintenance in 1869 was $146,702; in 1870 it was $157,947; in 1871 it was $171,401. And we were obliged this year to take a vote—as we had one new institution—of $208,921. Before leaving the subject of charitable institutions, he desired to refer to that class which comprised hospitals, houses of industry, and institutions for the indigent poor. We were voting for this purpose an annual sum of $42,000. He thought the proper way to do so was to form some plan by which aid would be given in a systematic way throughout the province amongst which these institutions were established contributing their share. The Government, during the recess, would endeavour to mature some plan by which they could come to the House and ask it to do justice to the different benevolent institutions throughout the country. With regard to the next item of that Education—it would be observed that the Government had increased the vote over that of last year. He proposed to explain the reasons for that increase. The chief item under the head was an increase of twelve and a half per cent. upon the usual grant for distribution among ordinary schools. The late Government last year asked $175,000. The present Government asked $200,000 for the same purpose. The item for High Schools were $2,000 larger than the vote of last year. For public schools inspection the Government asked a vote of $26,550, instead of $22,000, the vote of last year. For colonization roads the Government asked $79,000. The Government had felt that it was extremely desirable to adopt some plan whereby we could direct a large stream of immigration into the country. We wanted more of the agricultural class. The Government intended to reach this class by means of local societies, and by the distribution of soil much per head. The actual number of immigrants had not as yet been decided, but would be explained on a future occasion. If regard to the expenses of civil Government he did not propose any serious change; but he proposed to have a different system of presenting the expenditure of public money to the public view. He asked a vote of $200,000 for the present year to enable them to define the western boundary of the Province. The late Government had appointed Hon. Wm. McDougall commissioner to make a report upon this subject. This appointment had been continued by the present Government, and as soon as his report is received, the Government would adopt such other measures as was desirable in the matter. He also asked a small vote for the purpose of defining the Quebec boundary.

They also asked a vote of $5,000, to offer as a reward for the apprehension of the murderers of Thomas Scott.

The present Government was now proposing to follow up the expression of sympathy recorded by them, both while in Opposition and in the Government, by a direct offer of a reward in order to secure the apprehension of those who were guilty of the outrage. He believed that this would accomplish the desired result, and that the man who had acted in this manner would never again have the honour of shaking hands with Lieut.-Governor Archibald. (Cheers.)

The Government also asked for a vote of $30,000 to enable them to make the reduction they proposed in the price of school lands on the portion of the Ontario. In conclusion he estimated the revenue for 1872 as follows: Cash balances $172,935, interest on investments $296,235, revenue from public lands $906,517, Municipal Loan Fund $40,000, tavern licenses $59,000, casual revenue $20,000, stamps, education office, Algoma land tax, $129,000, revenue from Public Institutions $25,000. Dominion payments: Subsidy $1,196,872 80, less interest on debt $291,666 06, $905,206 14; interest on special funds from do $149,694 27, marriage licenses from do $35,000, common school lands $77,343 70, Municipalities fund $70,567 70. This made a total gross estimated revenue of $2,796,999 89.

Feb. 8.

The House went into Committee of Supply on the Estimates, Mr. Wood (Victoria) in the chair.

After some discussion Mr. Mackenzie, finding that some of the members had not been supplied with the estimates, moved that the committee rise and ask leave to sit again. Carried.

The committee rose and reported progress.

Mr. Scott moved the House into Committee on his resolution for reducing the price of School Lands, which we have already published.

Mr. Scott traced the history of the Common School Lands, from the time when they were set apart, 1849, for educational purposes, under an Act of Parliament. He then moved the resolutions.

Mr. Blako said that he believed it was for the material interests of both Ontario and Quebec that these reductions should be made. He quite agreed with the opinions expressed last year, by gentlemen on the opposite side, that it might be imprudent to do anything that might affect the award. And so the Government proposed to make the abatements out of the consolidated revenue to the extent to which Ontario itself was interested.

The House discussed the resolutions till the recess, after which the debate was resumed, which continued for some time, after which the five resolutions were carried and reported without amendment.

Mr. McKellar moved the House into Committee of the whole to consider the following resolution:—

"That it shall be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor in Council to direct the payment out of the consolidated revenue of the sum of not less than dollars, to the County Inspector of Schools, for every Mechanics' Institute which he may inspect and report upon to the Commissioner of Agriculture."

Mr. McKellar then moved his resolutions giving further encouragement to the draining of swamp and wet lands. He explained the different clauses, after which the House went into Committee, and the resolutions were reported without amendment. The House then adjourned.

CENTRE RIDING CONVENTION.

We are much gratified to find that Mr. James Ross, the present worthy member for the Centre Riding of Wellington, received the unanimous nomination from the Reform Convention at its meeting on Thursday. Mr. Ross is an old and tried representative, ever faithful to his party and the principles they hold. He is highly esteemed by all who know him as a worthy man and a consistent politician. The Convention could not have made a better choice, and we little doubt but Mr. Ross will be returned without opposition.

MR. MACKENZIE'S FINANCIAL STATEMENT.

Mr Mackenzie's financial statement, made to the House on Wednesday night, must be regarded as eminently satisfactory. It is difficult to invest a long array of figures with any special interest, but the Provincial Treasurer handled them with a skill which showed that he had, in the short time at his disposal, made himself thoroughly master of the finances of the Province, and presented them in a shape at once intelligible and attractive.

The subject, dry and apparently devoid of interest as at first sight it may appear to be, is never the less one of special interest to every one who takes the slightest concern in the affairs of the Province, and who has its well being at heart. It enables us to know how as a people we stand in the Provincial ledgers—what we owe, what we have to pay, and how much there is to our credit when the yearly balance is struck. We may well congratulate ourselves on the favourable position we occupy as a Province. We may well congratulate ourselves on the enviable position we have been able to attain as one of the results of Confederation, in contrast to that which we occupied before that peaceful revolution was accomplished. Then, as Mr. Mackenzie showed, Ontario paid from two-thirds to three-fourths of the gross taxation, while she only received about one half as her share of the public funds, the balance going to Quebec, which got a much larger share of the public money than she was entitled to in proportion to the amount she contributed. Happily this is now at an end. Our satisfactory financial position is not however, so much owing to the revenue we raise, or the amount we draw from the Dominion Government, as it is to the Municipal system in force in the Province. Mr. Mackenzie showed in the clearest manner that through the effective working of this excellent system, the amounts raised by the people for local improvements, through their agency, and under their operation, is far in excess of the contributions of a similar character raised in other provinces. In other words the people of Ontario carry out and pay for nearly all their local improvements by means of their Township and County municipalities, while in the other Provinces the people go direct to their local Governments, and receive from them the assistance they require. That this is beyond question is proved by the Treasurer, when he stated that the Parliamentary and Municipal expenditure in Ontario is a fraction over $4 per head, while in Quebec it is only $2, in Nova Scotia a fraction over $2.30, and in New Brunswick a fraction over $1.52. The people of this Province raise voluntarily by municipal taxation over $5,000,000—an assessment closely approximating to two cents on the dollar, while we only receive about $1,000,000 subsidy from the Dominion, and our total income from all sources is estimated at about $2,800,000. The secret of our success as a Province, and of our handsome surplus in the Treasury, is therefore in the self-reliant and independent spirit of the people, who pay for their own local improvements, and who scorn to run to their Government whenever they require to spend money.

It is unnecessary to refer at length to Mr. Mackenzie's statement, as it fully explains itself. He calls public attention to the large increase in the amount required for the maintenance of our Public Institutions, such as the Lunatic and Blind Asylums, the Deaf and Dumb and other Institutions. These will in future entail a heavy expenditure each year; but then, as benevolent institutions, they are necessary, and the people of Ontario will not grudge the amount required to keep them up. In referring to these institutions, Mr. Mackenzie pointed out the loose way in which the late Government had gone about their erection—sometimes without sufficient plans or estimates of their cost. They are asked for so much money to begin with, and if that was found insufficient, then they came down and asked for more.

We are glad to see that the Government is fully alive to the importance of promoting immigration, and opening up the remote and unsettled parts of the Province by the extension and completion of colonization roads. Nothing will conduce more to the prosperity and growth of the Province than a wise immigration policy, vigorously carried out. Mr. Mackenzie's ideas on the subject of immigration are correct. It is not the wisest policy to confine our operations to the large large cities in inducing immigrants to come to this Province. We do not require skilled artisans so much as ordinary mechanics, farmers and agricultural and other laborers. To secure these you must steer clear of the cities, and extend your operations to the rural districts—bring the advantages of immigration directly home to these classes in the most convincing and familiar way possible. You must supply them with every needed information in regard to the country, its capabilities and resources, and contrast its advantages with the many drawbacks experienced by the industrial classes in the old country. By this means you bring a direct, effective and certain agency to bear on them which cannot fail to be followed by successful results. There are other subjects of importance referred to in Mr. Mackenzie's speech, which we cannot touch on to-day. The financial exhibit which he made cannot fail to be satisfactory to the country, as it affords conclusive evidence of the rapid strides this Province is making in all that tends to its growth and prosperity.

PRESIDENT JAREZ, with his customary good fortune, is making considerable progress in subduing the Diaz revolt, which is, however, still strong enough to be troublesome.

THE ATLANTIC Cable announces the resignation of the venerable Speaker of the British House of Commons, the Right Honourable E. Denison. He has been Speaker, if we mistake not, about eleven years; and now resigns from his high office.

The "only genuine and original" Paul Du Chailu, is announced to deliver a lecture in London on the 15th inst., on his explorations in the interior of Africa. He will doubtless draw a full house.

ITALY has the small-pox a trifle worse, apparently, than any of the other afflicted nations. In Rome the deaths have been more frequent than in Philadelphia. The Bavarian Minister died of it, and the American Minister was driven from his house by two cases of the worst type at his own door.

We see a Wisconsin politician is advocating a new principle in license laws. It is that the man who drinks, as well as the man who sells liquor, shall have to take out a license. The idea is by no means a bad one. If it be an evil necessitating the restraints of a license to sell intoxicating beverages, the evil of drinking them no less demands a license. Let the moderate drinker at a moderate cost be privileged to take his three or four glasses a day. For a quarterly spree the fee would have to be increased; for a monthly spree it could be made still higher; while a good round sum might be demanded from those who desire the questionable privilege of being in a state of continual soak.

THIS MORNING'S DESPATCHES

The Geneva Conference.

The Excitement in England Continues.

The Union Pacific Railroad Still Blocked.

The Japanese at Salt Lake.

Grand Masonic Ball.

The Mormon Troubles.

LONDON, Feb. 8, 2 p. m.—The excitement over the Alabama claims is unabated. The speeches in Parliament, succeeding the newspaper discussions, serve to keep the public mind agitated. The anxiety as to the manner in which the Cabinet at Washington will receive the representations of the British Government is felt in all circles. The effect of this state of affairs is more particularly shown on "Change," where business for the moment is demoralised. The market for American securities opened flat, with a marked decline in all quarters. Since opening, however, Unit States bonds '62 and '67 have recovered a fraction, but others continue a falling off of from one-half to three-quarters from the closing prices of last night, and the market remains inactive. In American railway shares there have been no transactions thus far to-day. General uneasiness is also reflected in the quotations of consols, which have declined from one quarter to three-eighths since last evening.

The London press although still moderate in tone, find fault with Mr Gladstone for defending the Treaty, and maintain that Parliament is unanimously for rejection of the American demands.

Omaha, Feb. 8.—The blockade along the Union Pacific Railroad still continues, and no trains are expected to arrive here for several days.

Salt Lake City, Feb. 8.—The Japanese Chief Justice and associates, along with Minister Delong, were presented this morning to the United States Supreme Court in Utah, and welcomed by Judge McKean in most eloquent terms. The Court Room was crowded to excess, and the Japanese Judges manifested much gratification. Last night Minister Delong, his wife, with the Japanese girls in her charge, and the entire Embassy, attended a Masonic ball, which was one of the most brilliant affairs ever witnessed.

There has been more snow-slides and loss of life at Cottonwood. Business is duller and money scarcer than has been experienced for the last two years.

Washington, Feb. 9.—A legal gentleman just arrived in this city from Utah throws some light upon the judicial muddle into which Judge McKean seems to have brought the Mormon prosecutions in that territory. The Court over which McKean preside sits during the first six days of its term as a United States Court, and all its machinery is supplied by the United States Government. The Grand Jury and witness are named by the U. S. Marshal, and U. S. District Attorney prosecutes. After an first six days Judge McKean holds a Territorial Court, and the machinery of the territory is then substituted for that of the United States, and the Sheriff, the witnesses, and a new process attorney conducts the cases. McKean made a mistake in causing the Mormons to be indicted under the territorial law forbidding lewd and lascivious cohabitation, instead of under the United States law of 1862, forbidding polygamy, but as the officers of the Territorial Court are mostly Mormons, it was impossible to successfully present the prisoners to that Court, and the Judge ordered the District Attorney to appear as prosecutor, and the U. S. Marshal to summon the Jurors and witnesses. Unless Congress give Attorney-General Bates money to prosecute these cases they cannot go on, since there is no provision for the payment of the expenses of the Court, and even if Congress does make such an appropriation it is doubted by the best lawyers of Washington if the proceedings of the Court would be legal and its judgments valid.

Washington, Feb. 8.—It is understood that a majority of the House committee on Foreign Affairs are opposed to Gen. Banks' bill to carry out the Eschery clauses of the Washington Treaty. The understanding among all the members was that it should be reported without recommendation from the Committee, and that any one who desired to oppose it should be free to do so.

AN AMSTERDAM Story.—An extraordinary story has gained currency in Halifax, in a circle professing to be well-informed. It is that at the passage of the Confederation Act the British Government and Dominion Government entered into a secret treaty to separate the colonies from the empire as soon as public opinion could be prepared for the change. It was not intended to take effect for some years, unless war with the United States threatened; in which case the independence of the colonies would be at once declared, so that England might not be attacked on this side of the Atlantic. The story will be in the Halifax papers in a day or two.

Love and Honour.

A TALE OF THE CLYDE. CHAPTER XV. HERMANN IS LAD WITHIN THE AWFUL SHADOW. "I fear you are very tired, Helen, you are so silent," he whispered, and there was self-reproach in his tone. "No, Hermann," she answered, "my silence is not the result of physical fatigue. The way we have come has not tired me."

silent till she had unfolded all. Then he spoke. "And why should this have cast you into such an overwhelming distress?" he kindly asked, drawing her gently and lovingly towards him, and smiling upon her as he did so. "It is certainly not a pleasant story for you to hear, and I honor Ritchie for keeping you ignorant of it with such noble, faithful devotion. As to Dubosque and his share in the discovery, it is, of course, another manifestation of his cowardly malevolence; but his poisoned arrow will hit the mark only if you allow it. Call your sense and judgment to your aid, and don't allow the truth which has been brought to your knowledge to grieve you unduly; and lest you had the slightest idea that I should feel particularly annoyed at learning of your father's lapse from rectitude, I hasten to remove it. I regret it, of course, as I regret the fact of any true-hearted man falling before temptation—I regret it more because it was your father who so fell; but beyond that it does not affect me, and I trust you will not suffer it to grieve you to the extent to which it seems to have done."
