Mad of their sufferings is daily increasing. Mad men are strapped down and whipped. Fierce yells resound throughout the night. Many prisoners have committed suicide. It is said one woman was outraged and then poisoned. Rats are the worst enemies of the prisoners. A woman with a babe was obliged to fight night and day to prevent the rats devouring the child. The use of combs and soap is forbidden and prisoners, especially women, are literally devoured by lice. Jailors are only kind to those having money. Prisoners who refuse to answer questions are tortured and cases of the violation of women are frequent. The wfiter appeals to the civilized world in behalf of the women, whose situation, he says, is far worse than that of the men. The Times says these allegations demand serious investigation.

Why They Oppose It. It is now coming to light why the de stake. The sensible men in the presbyterian, the methodist, and the anglic bodies are beginning to ask the question Is it profitable to divert money into th teaching of literature, mathematics, and natural science, when that work is done better and for nothing by the state, and when the money now, so misapplied for these purposes could be much more profitably spent in teaching divinity to their students, assisting struggling congrega tions, aiding missionary work?

If the baptists, the great mass of the presbyterians who look to Knox college, the evangelical anglicans, can get a better educated ministry by availing themselves of the provincial university for the scientific and literary training of their men for nothing, why can not the methodists and the high church anglicans, and the old-kirk presbyterians do likewise? The question can only be answered in one way.

And the promoters of the denomination colleges will find business men asking this question more and more when they come ound on their collecting tours.

More than this, we must tell these gentlemen who without the slightest provoca tion have assumed such a hostile attitude toward the provincial university, that they have been to all intents and purposes raising money under false pretences. Their appeals have been invariably for money to teach theology, but nearly all that money has been diverted into the teaching of arts into classics, mathematics and natural cience, and even some of it into medicine. We must tell Dr. Grant that two c have come under our notice of two presbyterians who subscribed several hunlred dollars toward teaching divinity at Queen's but who consider that that money is being misapplied, and who are indignant that the principal of Queen's has been so indiscreet as to go out of his way to attack the provincial university. They did not give him the money for that pur-

And Dr. Nelles should listen to the words of George Casey, M.P., both a methodist and a graduate of the provincial university, who can see no reason in the crusade that the principal of Victoria has lent himself Mr. Casey is one who happens to know both sides of the question, and his letter is therefore worthy of consideration. Another thing that we must tell Dr. Grant, Dr. Nelles and Senator Allan, and that is this, that their claim of educating sixty per cent. of the graduates in Ontario against forty per cent. of the provincial university is not the fact, and that when the graduates of the provincial university are put over against those of the three had for the scholastic ability of the men, of the positions they hold, of the service they gests anything but a corroboration of their

And in all their writings on this subject the denominationalists have asked the publie to take it for granted that they are giving as good an academic training to their men as the provincial college. They are doing nothing of the kind. The national institution is poorly enough equipped, but the others are much lower in the

The Ancient Family of Ross. The following unique obituary appeared among the death notices of the Globe the DIED. ROSS—At Lochee, Dundee, Scotland, on the 22nd Oct., 1883, Mrs. Jane Ross, aged 78, only surviving sister of the late Rev. Andrew Ross of Cromarty and Dundee, and great grand-daughter of George Ross, merchant and towns-broker of Gothenburgh, Sweden, and treasurer of the British factory of merchants there, youngest son of Andrew Ross of Sandwich, Ross-shire, and heir male of line and representative of the ancient Earls of Ross, whose daughter Euphain married John Randolph, Earl of Murray, and afterwards Robert, the second king of Scotland, and ancestor of the Stuartine line.

Just what Ross this Mrs. Jane is whose taking off at Lochee, Dundee, Scotland, has the New York Times misprints the latter's made the Globe so suddenly and desperately archaeological will perhaps never be known on this side of the Atlantic owing to the vast number of Rosses in Canada, but there is little hazard in guessing that name of the place whose existence he has she was probably the Ross, the very old, identical and original Ross.

Her late lamented brother, the Reverend Andrew, seems to have been a Ross, too. -probably he was Ross from Rossville. It is comforting to know that the deceased also knows who her great grandfather was. Ross, too, and his given name seems to water on his return to Berlin. He has have been George. He had an eventful been challenged to a duel by a Jewish City Agent. Resident Sect, ife, and was towns-broker (whatever that may be) of Gothenburg, Sweden. One wonders if he found it cold in so northerly latitude, and indeed we hope that so important an historical mystery may not always remain obscure, but that some statement relative to this matter may yet be found stored away in the archives of the Ross family. If so, we hope no time will be lost in publishing it.

Then Mrs. Jane Ross' great-great-grand father was evidently that Andrew Ross who was noted as being an "heir male in line," a high honor, as that kind of a male is not often met with now-a-days. He was also the representative of the ancient Earls of Ross, and these earls seem to have had a daughter named Euphain. Euphain seems to have been a good, nice kind of a girl, a trifle of a flirt, perhaps, but kindhearted at bottom. She seems to have had a good many fathers, for the obituary states that she was a daughter of the Earls of Ross; but perhaps that was he custom in those days. She had two husbands it seems, the first being John Randolph, Earl of Murray, and the next Robert the Second of Scotland. There is evidently some mistake here, for the obituary states that Robert was the ancestor of the Stuartine line; we always thought that General George Washington was the ances. tor of the Stuartines. We know George afterwards denied this in his old age, fre quently having been heard to declare to So phia Van Deek or Mistress Van Deek, a fre

W. could be very violent when he chose However it is generally conceded that he lidn't tell the truth about the Stuarting line, and if we are right this obituary must be wrong. We would like to hear

Here we are sorry to say that the obituary ends abruptly. There was no need for that. This Ross pedigree is a matter of national importance now that one of the family has been made minister of education. Perhaps we can supply what was missing. There was a James Ross who flourished at the time of the pattle of Bannockburn who was quartered for stealing sheep. This seems to have been one of the family. If his statement made the night previous is true, it would seem that his ancestors came over with William the conqueror. This makes the family of Ross very ancient indeed, although we believe the Smiths and the Iones lay claim to an antiquity even older than this.

The Whisky Head Must Go. The latest revelation in connection the Exchange bank is that some of the directors were on a steady spree for weeks before the collapse. Had they been half attentive to their duties Mr. Craig would not have been able to carry out his robbery. But whisky-head directors gave him his opportunity. Have we any more whiskyheads holding high positions, or low positions for that matter? We think we have. Let them go,

O'Donnell's Sentence.

General Pryor, the American counsel for O'Donnell, has asked Minister Lowell to request the English government for a commutation of O'Donnell's sentence. Mr. Lowell announces that he will communicate the request to Washington for instructions. This shows that Mr. Lowell has a level head, and remembers that the Washington government on a previous occasion was in duced to try its good offices on behalf of a criminal condemned by British law. He likewise remembers that on that occasion denominational colleges—when regard is the British government politely but firmly requested the government at Washington to mind its own business. And that the are rendering the state, the contrast sug- American press laughed at the Washington government for being such fools as to merit the snub. We ourselves have our own opinion about the justice of O'Donnell's sentence, but we believe that any government-especially one that, like the American, is deservedly suspected in England on ccount of the brood of dynamiters and sassins it harbors in its commercial metropolis-that will ask another nation to econsider its method of justice, will act like a government of fools.

> A Brooklyn presbyterian clergyman, the Rev. Dr. L. T. Chamberlain, recently returned from Ireland, has been lecturing in his church upon the Irish question. He says that one half of all the land in the island is owned by less than one thousand individuals or corporations, the whole number of landed proprietors, large and mall, being 20,000. These dominate 700, 000 peasants. There are many absentees and no manufactures to speak of. The corporations make the worst of landlords, as they have no individual contact with the tenants. Rev. Dr. Chamberlain thinks that similar conditions would create discontent in any country.

Perhaps if the loctor's agitation in London had been sucessful he would not have had to undergo this new adversity. However we con gratulate him on his troubles as neither he nor this world are going to progress aslong as the spirit of intolerance is allowed to hold sway.

Lord Lorne has been praising Canada a speech at Birmingham. This is a very proper thing for Lord Lorne to do. It the orthodox thing to and the Campbell's always were an orthodox family. But very strangely this heir to Macallum More ha been praising Canada chiefly en account of its salubrity. We always thought Lord Lorne and the princess considered Canada salubrious. That is why the princess always went home for her health, found Canada too salubrious. So salubrious in fact that she went home te months out of the year to tell the English how salubrious it was and how they ough to come to Canada and try the climate. And now Lord Lorne is going on a lecture tour in England for the same purpose. It's a salubrious world this.

What is Catarrh?

From the Mail (Canada) Dec. 15.
Catarrh is a muco-purulent discharge caused by the presence and development of the vegetable parasite amæba in the internal lining membrane of the nose. This parasite is only developed under favorable circumstances, and these are; Morbid state of the blood, as the blighted corpuscle of tubercle, the germ poison of syphilis, hereury, toxemea, from the retention of the effected matter of the skin, suppressed perspiration, badly ventilated sleeping apartments, and other poisons that are germinated in the blood. These poisons keep the interfal lining membrane of the nose in a constant state of irritation, ever ready for the deposit of the seeds of these germs, which spread up the nostrils and down the fauces or back of the throat, causing ulceration of the throat, in the eustachian tubes, causing deafness, burrowing in the vocal cords, causing deafness, burrowing in the vocal cords, causing hoarseness; usurping the proper structure of the bronchial tubes, ending in pulmonary consumption and death.

Many attempts have been made to discover a cure for this distressing disease by the use of inhalants and other ingenious devices, but none of these treatments can do a particle of good until the parasites are either destroyed or removed from the mucous tissue.

Some time since a well known physician of forty years' standing, after much experimenting, succeeded in discovering the necessary combination of ingredients which never falls in absolutely and permanently eradicating this horrible disease, whether standing for one year or forty years.

These who may be suffering from the above disease should, without delay, communicate with the business managers, Messrs. A. H. Dixon & Son. 305 King street west, Toronto, and get full particulars and treatise free by enclosing stamp.

Dr. Pierce's "Pleasant Purgative Pellets" are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. No cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. By druggists.

The best substitute for such pernicious drugs, and the use of which is never followed by disastrous effects upon the general health, is Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discover and Dyspeptic Cure, which permanently tones the stomach, regulates the bowels, purifies the blood, and gives a healthful glow to the cheek.

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradully built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."

THE GREAT DR. DIO LEWIS

The very marked testimonials from College Professors, respectable Physicians, and other gentlemen of intelligence and character to the value of Warner's SAFE Cure, published in the editorial columns of our best newspapers, have greatly surprised me. Many of these gentlemen I know, and reading their testimony I was impelled to purchase some bottles of Warner's SAFE Cure and analyze it. Besides, I took some, swallowing three times the prescribed quantity. I am satisfied the medicine is not injurious, and will frankly add that if I found myself the victim of a serious kidney trouble I should use this preparation. The truth is, the medical profession stands dazed and helpless in the presence of more than one kidney malady, while the testimony of hundreds of intelligent and very reputable gentlemen hardly leaves room to doubt that Mr. H. Warner has fallen upon one of those happy discoveries which occasionally bring helpsto suffering humanity. His Outspoken Opinion.

"She Does Not Know Chicken from Turkey.

Helene is the handsomest girl of her race,
She's an elegant form and an exquisite face,
And she dresses with perfectly consummate grace,
But she doesn't know chicken from turkey;
She knows many languages, living and dead;
In science and fiction is very well read,
But she cannot cook meat, and she cannot make bread,
And she doesn't know chicken from turkey.

She can play a "Fantasia" or "Nocturne" with skill; Can sing up to "B"—has a wonderful trill; Can write a good story or sonnet, but still

She doesn't know chicken from turkey.

She's been up the Tiber, the Rhine and the Nile,
She's a painter in every popular style. She's a painter in every popular style—
Can decorate china, a plaque or a tile,
But she doesn't know chicken from turkey.

She's always self-satisfied, graceful and cool; She's always self-satisfied, graceful and coor;
A critic, both just and correct as a rule;
And knows every stitch of the Kensington school,
But she doesn't know chicken from turkey.
She can work a design by Lansing or Burt;
But she cannot cut out for her children a skirt,
Or make for her husband a well-fitting shirt—
She doesn't know chicken from turkey.

I'm willing a girl should read Latin and Greek;
Should German and French and Italian speak;
And be "up" in the latest esthetical freak,
If she only knows chicken from turkey.
I'd like her in music and song to take part;
Read poetry, science and cultivate art,
If husband and children were first to her heart,
And if she knew chicken from turkey.

Knew barley from rice, knew a tart from a pie;
A boil from a stew, a broil from a from a fry;
And if she went into the market to buy,
Knew very well chicken from turkey.
For, to make a home happy, all knowledge must blend,
Art, science and service their benefits lend;
Then, ladies so clever and wise, condescend
To know about chicken or turkey.

Now, here comes the moral of this little tale, Which showed that Helene did not know the word "fail," For she went to where cookery books were for sale,

And made known her desire to the clerk. He.

From several volumes, immediately took
A copy of "Mrs. Clarke's Cookery Book,"
And said, "You'll soon know, if through this you will look,
What to do with a chicken or turkey."

MRS. CLARKE'S He has kindly given the Li-Quor Tea Company the use of a part of his store until they have rebuilt a handsome brick store on the site of their old premises. MUTUAL BENEFIT SOCIETY. IE DOMINION MUTUAL BENEFIT

TO THE MAN WHO THINKS

Suppose a wealthy man of your acquaintance, one whose word and whose ability to carry out his promises you placed full confidence in, proposed to sell you a valuable farm, worth at this time, say $10,000, and would sell it to you as being an exceptionally healthy man, on a credit running through ten years, with a certain equal amount payable each year of the ten, and that it was in your power to apply that sum each year to the payment required. Suppose further, that this friend said: You can make these yearly payments for any number of the ten years that you please, and if you see fit, for any cause, to stop these payments at the end of any of the years short of the ten, (after two years have been paid for) it will make you a deed of the land in the proportion you have paid for; and further, I agree to give you, at the end of each year, while you are making these payments, the annual profits, earnings, or dividends on that farm, and, each year, deduct from your annual payment such earnings, profits, or dividends as the farm may earn that year; and he assures you that these earnings or dividends will probably increase each year, and materially reduce the amount of your annual payment, and that the farm in that ten years shall not be liable for your debts, and he further guarantees that at the end of the ten years the farm shall be worth exactly $10,000. He then says: Take this offer and I will further bind myself and guarantee to you that if you will keep up your annual payments, and die ANY TIME within those ten years, and before all the payments are made, that in such case, I will deliver or pay over to your wife or to any person you may will or devise it to.
