Many of our readers are probably not aware of the circumstances that led to our village receiving the name of Watford. In the year 1843 R. Brown, Esq., was appointed the first postmaster, and on being asked by Postmaster General Cameron what he thought would be a proper name for the new office, he replied that he had just received a letter from a friend in Watford, England, and that if the hon. gentleman thought fit he might apply that name. The name Watford was accordingly adopted.

The bride, who was given away by her father, entered the parlor to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March played by Mrs. Russel Shea, the bride's only sister, and looked charming in a gown of duchess satin with overdress of georgette crepe with sequin and pearl trimmings and wearing a veil of net embroidered in silk and held in place with orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of bridal roses and maiden hair fern. The bride's only ornament was a pearl necklace the gift of the groom.

After the ceremony the guests numbering about twenty-five repaired to the diningroom which was beautifully decorated in pink and white where a daintily prepared dinner was served. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and costly presents showing the high esteem in which the young couple are held. NOTE AND COMMENT

Women jurors at Pottsville, Pa., object to the term "spinster" as the occupation of some of them. They claim it really means old maid and should not be used.

A pessimistic old bachelor says that "married life means three months of kissing and three hundred months of cussing." But don't be alarmed, young people, he has had no experience of the married state.

Spirits should not be depressed for alcohol made as a by-product of nearly all Brazilian sugar mills is coming into use as motor fuel—substitute for gasoline—so they'll continue to take a joy ride.

Up to date the Province of Ontario has paid out $252,264 under the provision of the Mothers Allowance Act. The board claims to be now nearly caught up with payments. Last month $72,444 was paid to those entitled under the act.

The Provincial Forestry Department will set out seven million seedlings in their reserve in Norfolk county this summer and counties will be encouraged to avail themselves of the government's scheme for reforestation of waste lands.

Halifax Echo—Canada holds second rank to Denmark in an unenviable record of a high rate of unemployment. There seems to be less excuse for it in a great, new, sparsely settled country like this than in little old, overcrowded Denmark. The cause is worth investigating.

Boston's latest is a mail order department of health. Do you feel out of sorts this morning, with a bad mouth taste, or pain somewhere, or the like? Then call up the municipal Health Information Bureau. It will answer queries and give advice by return post. The only cost will be a self-addressed and stamped envelope.

The British Empire is becoming more and more the source of supply of gold for the world, the Transvaal mines alone yielding 50 per cent. of the world's production. This change is due, not to any increased output on the part of British mines, but to the sharp fall in that of mines in other countries during the last five years.

Unemployment is a serious problem these days, but labor, in demanding wages even higher than those current in the past year or so, is merely making a bad situation worse and more difficult to solve. With conditions as they are at the moment, public sympathy cannot be allied with labor in its fight for higher wages. The tide has turned, and labor must show its willingness to share some responsibility, and be prepared to accept lower remuneration in order that business may resume and public confidence be restored.

Simcoe county, Ontario, is acquiring a block of 800 acres in the township of Vespra for planting out a municipal forest under the Ontario Government's reforestation scheme. The land, useless for ordinary agricultural purposes, is being secured at a cost of about six dollars an acre. There is some second growth pine, white birch, red oak, and a little hardwood on the property. The whole block was once covered mainly with pine, and since this was removed the land has remained practically idle. The land is within a mile of a railway station and about eight miles from Barrie, the county town.

Now that June, the month of marriages, is approaching, it may be interesting to the contracting parties to know the origin of some of the time-honored customs. When we dig back to the origin of many of the customs which surround marriage even when it is regarded in the light of a religious ceremony, it is surprising to find the number of signs which point directly to the days when a wedding was merely a matter of agreement between a man and a woman, and force, rather than courtship, was the chief argument used. The first form of marriage outside of a tribe was the "marriage by capture." The bridegroom simply went out, accompanied by a friend or two, seized upon some woman who appealed to him, and carried her off to his home. In modern marriage the very name "best man" is simply the successor to the strong-armed warrior who assisted the groom to carry off his bride, just as the wedding ring symbolizes the thongs with which the bride was bound, and the old shoes thrown after the couple take the place of the missiles hurled by the pursuers of the past. The honeymoon itself is nothing more than the space of time when the captor had to hide his prize from her kinsmen until their consent had been gained.

Worms in children, if they be not attended to, cause convulsions and often death. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator will protect the children from these distressing afflictions.

The Collingwood Bulletin pays the following grateful tribute to Premier Drury:—"The Premier's honesty and spirit of fair play are perhaps the biggest assets he possesses. It is something new in the history of the country to find a leader in the Government above resorting to the tricks of the politician. Mr. Drury like all the rest of us, may have faults, but insincerity is not one of them."

Germany has never expressed sorrow for her wickedness. She has never admitted that she was defeated. She has spent her time protesting her inability to meet the comparatively moderate demands of the representatives of the allies. The sooner Germany stops whining, faces the inevitable and gets down to work the sooner will her troubles disappear. She understands just one thing—force. And force alone will bring her to her senses.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

In Ye Olden Time

hoop skirts were worn by those who first asked the drugist for, and insisted on having the genuine Favorite Prescription put up by Doctor Pierce over fifty years ago. Dress has changed very much since that time. But Dr. Pierce's medicines contain the same dependable ingredients. They are standard today just as they were fifty years ago and never contained alcohol. Beauty depends upon health.

Worry, sleepless nights, headaches, pains, disorders and weakness of a distinctly feminine character in a short time bring the dull eye, the "crow's feet," the haggard look, drooping shoulders, and the faltering step.

To retain the appearance of youth you must retain health. Instead of lotions, powders and paints, ask your druggist for Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

PHIPPEN, SASK.—"Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription cured me when all other medicines failed. The home doctors could do nothing for me. I happened to see Dr. Pierce's advertisement in the paper, sent for the medicine, and felt a great benefit from even the first few doses. I took but a few bottles until I was entirely well. I cannot speak too highly of the merits of the Prescription." MRS. JAMES BROWN, R. R. 1.

Long Distance Service Is Now Classified

THE Classifications on long distance telephone calls in effect from midnight, April 20th, are of interest to all users of that service. It is possible, by a study of your long distance requirements, to effect savings in your long distance bills that are well worth while.

Station-to-Station Service

Station-to-Station service should be used when you are willing to talk to ANYONE at a distant telephone—that is, when you do not need to get a particular person on the line.

Station-to-Station service is not only cheaper, but more rapid and accurate than Person-to-Person service. On Station-to-Station service the call can be completed as soon as the distant telephone is answered, while on a Person-to-Person call the particular party wanted must be located and summoned to the telephone.

The charge for a Station-to-Station call cannot be reversed—that is, it cannot be charged to the telephone called, for in that case the telephone operator would have to locate a particular person to approve the charge, which would make it a Person-to-Person call.

Person-to-Person Service

When you make a call specifying that conversation is desired with a particular person at a given number, Person-to-Person service is used.

As this service requires greater operating labor and circuit time than a Station-to-Station call, the rate is about 25 per cent greater.

Appointment and Messenger Service

Appointment calls and Messenger calls are special kinds of person-to-person calls.

An APPOINTMENT CALL rate, which is about 50 per cent higher than the station-to-station rate, is quoted for service when an appointment is made by the calling party to talk at a particular time.

When a person who does not have a telephone is called over long distance and a messenger must be sent to summon the party to the telephone, the MESSENGER CALL rate, which is about 50 per cent higher than the station-to-station rate, is charged, and to this is added the necessary messenger charges.

The Report Charge

When you place a call for a particular person or persons and for any reason they cannot be reached the same day at the address given, or will not talk, or if you make a call and you are not ready to talk when the other person is ready within an hour, a REPORT CHARGE is made. The report charge is about one-fourth the station-to-station rate. It is intended to cover part of our expense of handling the uncompleted call.

Special Evening and Night Rates

The EVENING rate, between 8.30 p.m. and 12 midnight, on station-to-station calls, is about one-half the day rate. The NIGHT rate, between midnight and 4.30 a.m., is about one-fourth the day station-to-station rate.

However, no evening or night rates are quoted on station-to-station calls where the day rate is less than 25 cents. On such short-haul calls the day rate applies. For longer distances special evening and night rates are quoted.

Because it is difficult to reach particular persons at night, when many are away from their homes and places of business, there are no special evening or night rates quoted for person-to-person calls. They apply only on station-to-station calls.

HIS LIFE RUINED BY DYSPEPSIA

Until He Tried "FRUIT-A-TIVES" The Wonderful Fruit Medicine

MR. FRANK HALL
Wyevale, Ontario.

"For some two years, I was a sufferer from Chronic Constipation and Dyspepsia.

I tried every remedy I heard of without any success, until the wife of a local merchant recommended 'Fruit-a-tives'.

I procured a box of 'Fruit-a-tives' and began the treatment, and my condition commenced to improve immediately.

The Dyspepsia ceased to be, and the burden of my life as it had been, and I was freed of Constipation.

I feel that I owe a great debt to 'Fruit-a-tives' for the benefit I derived from them."

GOVERNMENT GRANTS FOR TOWNSHIP ROADS

In order to improve the Government grant for improvement of township roads, many township councils are at present considering the abolition of statute labor, and instead collect taxes in some shape or form for all improvements of the public highways in the municipality. This system will bring a larger grant to the township as no grant is made for improvement of the highways by statute labor. Under the new system a township road superintendent will be appointed, under whose direction all road construction and improvement will be performed and the same will be done according to a standard of the Minister of Public Highways and will be so constructed according to the amount of traffic on the road. Where fifty vehicles on an average pass over a certain road a more solid road bed is needed than on a road where the traffic on an average is only ten vehicles a day. It is in providing a solid road bed or surfacing the road for the statute labor system is most defective. The present Provincial Government institute the township good roads system and giving a grant to the municipalities that they may get back for road improvement some of the automobile license paid by car owners of the municipality and is for every township to take action in order to have part of the auto license fee returned to the township for the benefit of the ratepayers.

RESPECTING SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

In connection with the act respecting the school attendance of adolescents, the following clauses will interest parents who have children of 14 and upward at work or about to engage in work:—

(1) Where, in the opinion of the school attendance officer, the services of an adolescent between fourteen and sixteen years of age are required in some permitted gainful occupation in or about the home of his parent or guardian, he may be granted, by an attendance officer, on the written application of his parent or guardian a home permit to engage in such services.

(2) Where, in the opinion of the school attendance officer, the services of an adolescent between fourteen and sixteen years of age are required in some permitted gainful occupation for the necessary maintenance of such adolescent or some person dependent upon him he may be granted by an attendance officer, on the written application of his parent or guardian an employment certificate to engage in such services.

EMPTINESS OF FREE LOVE UNIONS IS EMPHASIZED BY "HARRIET AND THE PIPER"

Anita Stewart Goes Through Mock Ceremony of Bohemian Quarter Observations of the laws and fundamental conventionalities of society while considered by those who lead the Bohemian life to be a useless code followed only by the unenlightened, is nevertheless the only course to pursue if one wants to attain real happiness.

That is the moral forcefully emphasized by Anita Stewart's latest screen starring vehicle, "Harriet and the Piper," which will be shown at the Lyceum, Saturday evening, May 21.

In the role of Harriet Field, a girl from a small town who is dazzled by the "advanced thought" theories followed and the Bohemian life led by the natives of New York's famous Greenwich Village, Anita Stewart goes through a free love ceremony with a handsome young villager, Royal Blondin.

The emptiness of the lawless ceremony is emphasized by Harriet when at her studio apartment she received a package from her sister containing a letter telling of her sister's marriage and explaining that the lilacs enclosed are from the bower in which the wedding was held.

How Harriet is saved from her loveless "marriage" just in time finds real happiness in a different environment and realizes how false are the ideals of the professional villagers, is unfolded on the screen in what many declared to be the most fascinating of Anita Stewart's First National photoplays.

THE INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY LESSON, MAY 8th, 1921
Sweet day of grace we hail thee,
Sweet messenger of peace,
My strength would often fail me
If not for thy release.
Impossible to please him,
Mankind would let thee go,
Thou' come to release him
Thy blessings to bestow.
But we cannot do without thee
This is the choicest time;
The best that is about thee
Is grasping the divine.
We need rest and recreation
To put us at our best,
We need illumination
To satisfy our quest.
We'er apt to go declining,
We need thy nursing care,
The seventh day is bringing
The manna we should share.
The truest and the bravest
Have got their succor there,
Just reaping what thou gavest
A time for sweetest prayer.
If we would be sagacious,
The Sabbaths come and go;
The gems of time are precious,
Get all; she can bestow.

Misses Jennie and Jessie Hayward spent the weekend with friends near Petrolia.

Messrs Millar, Hood and Garson attended the Masonic Lodge of Instruction at Sarnia on Wednesday last.

Since water has again been found in the town well, Mr. Millar has been able to break away from his duties as Commissioner long enough to get acquainted with the shop again.

To get our season's requirements of Fly Swatters to our customers in good time we have just installed another sewing machine, this making three devoted to Fly Swatter production.

Irishman and Scotchman working beside each other repairing a road. Irishman thinking to spring a joke on the Scotchman says: "Scottie, have you seen a load of monkeys pass by?" Scotchman (cautiously) "Why, did you fall off?"

Miss Eleanor Thomas and Miss Alice Hodlock who have been in our employ for sometime left last week for Sarnia where they will reside in the future. On Thursday they were presented with an appropriate gift by their fellow-employees.

Mr. E. W. Scott, our representative in the Eastern Provinces paid us a visit Saturday. Mr. Scott reports business very quiet in Montreal, St. John and Halifax.

Some of our employees say that it is far easier to "make" Carpet Beaters than it is to "use" them. That's the worst of having holidays so early in the season. We wish to nominate Mr. Bate and Mr. Hood for membership in the Firemen's Union, and recommend that they be decorated with Leather Medals at once. While workmen were heating a kettle of pitch out back of the shop Saturday the kettle ignited making quite a blaze and considerable smoke. Mr. Bate and Mr. Hood sprang the smoke and after determining that it was not coming from Alf's pipe, frantically rushed out, each with a fire extinguisher and quelled the flames just as they were about to devour the last pint of pitch in the bottom of the kettle. So far as we have been able to learn there were no lives lost.

Money will talk, so don't you balk At any piecework rate, But just dig in, with all your vim And beat the working gait. You may sigh when you don't get high, But remember this awhile, The faster you leap, the more you get.

So why not give it a trial? The days crawl along so slow, Before we have our vacation, you know, But when the holidays arrive The days you'd think had come alive It makes you gasp, they go so fast And before you know it, your vacation is past, And you are back at your old position A wishing you had another vacation.

NOT LIKELY
Jock (to digger who has lost his arm in No Man's Land) "Hie, Digger what are you doing out there?" Digger—"Looking for my arm." Jock—"If you have lost your arm you want to get down the line, quick." Digger—"Do you think I'm going to leave my arm lying about with a wristlet watch and gold ring on it?"

A 988 pound sturgeon was landed with a drift net at New Westminster last week. But then what could you expect when British Columbia voted "wet."

Beatrice Given, a five-year-old Guelph child died from the effect of burns received when an explosion of gasoline burned her wearing apparel completely from her body.

Growers are demanding such a high minimum price for sugar beets that some of the Dominion Sugar Co.'s plants will close down and others run short time.

A WOMAN'S HEALTH NEEDS GREAT CARE

When the Blood Becomes Watery a Breakdown Follows.

Every woman's health is dependent upon the condition of her blood. How many women suffer with headache, pain in the back, poor appetite, weak digestion, palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath, pallor and nervousness? Of course all these symptoms may not be present—the more there are the worse the condition of the blood, and the more necessary that you should begin to enrich it without delay. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a splendid blood-building tonic. Every dose helps to make better blood which goes to every part of the body and brings new health to weak, despondent people. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are valuable to all women but they are particularly useful to girls of school age who become pale, languid and nervous. There can be neither health nor beauty without red blood which gives brightness to the eyes and color to the cheeks and lips. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the blood as is shown by the experience of Mrs. Joe. E. Veniotte, West Northfield, N.S., who says: "For several years I was in a bad state of health. I was pale and nervous, my appetite was poor, and I suffered from weakness, headaches and a feeling of oppression. I got so nervous that I was afraid to stay in the house alone. All this time I was taking medicine, but it only did not help me, but I was growing weaker. Finally I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after using six boxes I felt much better. I had a better appetite, slept better and felt stronger. However, I continued taking the pills for a couple of months longer and now I am feeling as well as I ever did. I give all the credit to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and hope that my experience may be of benefit to some other weak woman."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

For some time he was stationed at Herschel Island and Fort McLeod, in the Far North, as a missionary under the M.S.C.C., and was associated with the Stafansson party in discovery of the blonde Eskimo tribes. Ill health necessitated his transfer to a milder climate and the Bishop of Huron appointed him last year to Wyoming. He had been much in demand as a speaker, on account of his experience in the Northern mission fields.

HOLDING UP AUNT MARTHA

BY NINA MOORE JAMIESON.

"When I ran away—I stole your money." No! her wrinkled hand was on his lips, and pressed his head gently back against the chair. "You didn't steal it—it was—for you—you was welcome."

"But I—stole it—my only friends—the shame of it—kept me—from—coming back again." He paused to cough with an utter weariness. "Tonight—it seemed—like home—but I wasn't sure. Never sure—must be—sick—"

She beckoned the other youth, and between them, they got Freddy into the warm blankets in the kitchen bedroom. Then she applied mustard poultices to the sick boy's chest and back though sorely doubting their value. At last, when she had done all she could, he lifted a wavering head, and spoke, in a fierce, gallant effort against the onrushing delirium and the torturing cough, and the smothering breathlessness.

"I've taken—a lot—of money. Spent some. Want to give back—rest. Ask Dan—he knows—names. I'm done with it—all. Sorry so bad—Aunt Marthy—"

"Oh, listen, Fred!" she cried out in agony for this broken soul. "We'll pay it back, every cent. Wait, Fred—wait!" for his faltering gaze was flitting direly. "Afore you go down into the Valley of the Shadow—rest your soul on the Lord, an' He'll go with you all the way. Then, life or death—it is all the same. He understands—He'll forgive!"

A flash of comprehension brightened his dim eyes for one moment, while his hot fingers tightened on hers. Then the mighty effort which had held him responsive to her will, relaxed. Disease held sway.

"Aunt Marthy faced Dan. "Make me out the list he spoke of," she said straightly, "an' turn over any money of his you've got here. Silas an' me rose him up from a little home boy till he was seventeen, an' we'll be responsible for his debts. But be quick, 'cause one of us, you or me, has got to get the doctor here to Fred. Ammonia is quick—it don't care about weather."

"Don't be a fool," he said roughly. "Will I give you a list, to use against me? Will I go for a doctor, and fall into a bunch of policemen?"

"Why not?" she answered with amazing directness. "You've run an' hid all your money, an' you haven't got? Some day they'll get you, sooner or later, an' you'll be livin' in torment till they do. Poor Fred was always weak, an' easy led, but he never was a coward. Air you game to stand up an' take the consequences of what you've done? It seems to me the most manfullest thing to do now. You can quit now, an' square things. Some day your gun may go off an' kill somebody—you can never square that."

A moan came from the bedroom, and Aunt Marthy's face was grave as she heard it. She stretched out her hand to her for the lantern, and worked away at it a few minutes, while Dan watched her suspiciously.

"No use," she said, "I can't ring central—can't ring even on this line now, though I ain't so very long since I was speakin' to Silas. Do you understand horses?"

"Yes," he admitted heavily.

"Well," she said, wasting no time. "I'll git you the lantern. Put on these overalls—of Silas', these leggings, these overshoes, this sheep-skin coat, this heavy cap, these mittens. Go out to the horse stable, an' throw a blanket on old Jeff—he was sharpshod yesterday, an' he'll carry you as safe as any beast will. Fasten it on with a surcingle, rig up a bridle an' lines from the harness an' away you go."

She proceeded to give him minute directions for finding the doctor's residence, and impressed the urgent need for wasting no time in getting him to the sick boy.

At last, as he stood ready in Uncle Silas' dressing clothes, he stretched out his hand to her for the lantern, and said with a short laugh:

"What if I take this fine chance and clear out?"

Do so if you think best," she answered serenely. "Fred has to die somehow—it wouldn't matter so much to him. But it would matter to you, havin' a choice, if you choosed wrong. But you won't. You didn't come of traitors. You mebbe think you can go an' leave him to die—but somethin' in you won't let you. I know you'll come back with the doctor—that's why I ain't detainin' you now, fer that list. It's up to you—an' I know what you'll do."

She gave him the lantern, yet halted him a moment.

"Mind this—I trust you, all through. If Jeff falls, or you get lost, or hev an accident, an' you don't get through to the doctor—well, I'll never believe but what you tried your best, anyway. Now go."

The door slammed behind him. She crept into the bedroom and knelt beside Freddy's bed, while her soul groped blindly for help. "Oh Lord," she begged unevenly, incoherently, "I'm such an ignorant old woman—but you can work even through my mistakes. Now give me wisdom for this sick boy—an' be with that other lad, an' help him in his fight with himself."

Presently she rose, and took the mustard poultices off her patient.

"Poor lad," she murmured gently. "Home—an' so sick he didn't know it—home, an' a-scaret to come in! But the main thing is—he got home, anyway."

THE AMERICAN EMERGENCY TARIFF

To minimize the passage by the American Congress of the emergency tariff bill would be folly. It is directly aimed at Canada and at Canadian agricultural products in the interests of the United States. It is to be in force for six months, and in the mean time the general American tariff revision will be completed. Whether the emergency tariff is continued or not depends upon the attitude of the American consumer.

The new tariff hits the wheat grower and cattle raiser particularly hard. There is a duty of 35 cents a bushel on wheat and 30 per cent. on cattle. However, there are not many lines of agricultural products which are missed. The duties of the new tariff are as follows:

- Wheat, 35 cents a bushel.
- Flaxseed, 30 cents bushel (56lb).
- Wheat flour, 20 per cent.
- Maize, 15 cents a bushel.
- Beans, two cents a pound.
- Ground beans, three cents a pound.
- Potatoes, 25 cents a bushel (60 pounds).
- Onions, 40 cents a bushel (57lb).
- Cattle, 30 per cent.
- Sheep, one year or over, $2.
- Sheep, less than one year, $1.
- Fresh or frozen meats, two cents a pound.
- Prepared or preserved meats, 25 per cent.
- Live stock for breeding purposes, free.
- Wool, unwashed, 15 cents a pound.
- Wool, washed, 30 cents a pound.
- Wool, scoured, 45 cents a pound.
- Butter and substitutes six cents a pound.
- Cheese and substitutes, 23 per cent.
- Fresh milk, two cents a gallon.
- Cream, five cents a gallon.
- Preserved or condensed milk, two cents a pound.
- Sugar of milk, five cents a pound.
- Wrapper tobacco, unstemmed, $2.35 a pound.
- Wrapper tobacco, stemmed, $3 a pound.
- Filler tobacco, unstemmed, 35 cents a pound.
- Filler tobacco, stemmed, 50 cents a pound.
- Apples, 20 cents a bushel.
- Cherries, three cents a pound.

DEATH OF FORMER WARWICK RESIDENT

Strathroy, May 15.—The death occurred on Friday afternoon at the residence of her son-in-law, J. S. Clarke, Oxford street, of Mary Lancaster, relict of G. Hodgson. Mrs. Hodgson was Strathroy's oldest resident, being 101 years of age. She was born in Leeds, England, May 14, 1820, and came to this continent when 18 years of age. She was married in New York City to G. Hodgson, who predeceased her 25 years. They came to Canada, settling at Dufferin Creek, now called Pickering where they conducted a tannery, shoe and harness business, and came west in 1872, settling on a farm in Adelaide township, where they resided for six years, removing to Warwick Village. Mrs. Hodgson came to this town three years ago, making her home with her daughter, Mrs. J. S. Clarke, where she made many new friends, and up till a little over a week ago she enjoyed good health. She suffered a fall a week ago Tuesday and never recovered from the shock. The funeral took place from the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. J. S. Clarke, Oxford street, this afternoon. Interment was made in Strathroy cemetery.

DOGS WORRY CATTLE TO DEATH

Two dogs attacked a herd of young steers Saturday on a pasture farm a mile west of Petrolia, and chased and worried them, so that one animal died of wounds and exhaustion, and a second is not likely to recover. The remainder of the herd are in a very nervous and stiffened-up condition, which will probably be a season's set-back to them.

Ten days ago two dogs, presumably the same two, attacked a herd of milk cows and young cattle on a farm within a mile of the scene of yesterday's depredations and worried two of the young cattle to death.

Both of the attacks were made early in the morning and were continued till about eight o'clock, when the cries of the tortured cattle gave the alarm and the dogs were driven off. In both cases the cattle were horribly mutilated about the ears and head and on the heels and hind-quarters.

One of the dogs, a mongrel bull, was traced to his home in Petrolia and shot. The other dog, said to be a collie, has not yet been run to earth. These are the first instances in this county where cattle have been attacked in this manner and fatally worried.

Sores Flee Before It.—There are many who have been afflicted with sores and have driven them away with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. All similarly troubled should lose no time in applying this splendid remedy, as there is nothing like it to be had. It is cheap, but its power is in no way expressed by its low price.

The widow of the late Dr. Evelyn of Strathroy died last week. She had been a resident of that place for over 50 years. Mrs. Wm. McKay of Arkona is her only remaining sister.

On the Old Farm in Springtime

I was out driving a three-horse team on the disc-harrow," writes Mr. Edward Crane, of Kinburn, Ont., "when part of the harness broke. While fixing it, one of the horses kicked out and knocked my arm against the sharp edge of the harrow. I was severely cut about the elbow and wrist.

Not being able to leave work to get the wound dressed, dirt got into it, and my arm grew so stiff and painful that it looked as if I was in for a bad time. As soon as I could, I washed the wound and dressed it with Zam-Buk. Next day the arm was much less sore, and the stiffness less troublesome. I continued to use herbal Zam-Buk freely and in a few days it healed the injuries splendidly. Zam-Buk should be on every farm."

Zam-Buk is the purest, safest and most wonderful healing substance in the world. Invaluable for eczema, ulcers, ringworm, poisoned sores, burns, scalds, pimples, boils, and other spring skin eruptions. All dealers 50c. box, 3 for $1.25, or from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

"SHALL WE SELL OR ELECTRIFY THE FARM?"

This question has arisen in the mind of many a farmer who is "getting on in years," and begins to feel that it is about his time to give up the grinding hard work he has always had to do, retire and take things easy. So he thinks of selling the farm and moving to town. Many farmers do this, almost always to their later regret, because they find that they are not comfortable in town and that while they don't want to grind as they've always had to do before, still they miss their farm work and farm interests. So they fail to find satisfaction after all.

Others have struck a much better solution of the problem. During the last few years within which time the farm electric plant has put in its appearance and changed the whole face of country life. The farmer who has reached the retiring age finds that it isn't at all necessary for him to go to town to find the leisure that he needs. He finds that if he electrifies his farm, the drudgery will disappear from farm work, chores will almost do themselves, and he'll have an extra hired man.

Electrical conveniences of all kinds, such as washing machines, vacuum sweepers and flat irons will make his wife's lot much easier and give her, too, the increased leisure that she needs as much as he does. They will have in their house bright and safe electric lights in every room upstairs and down, lights in the halls, controlled from either floor, lights on the porches and at the barn that can be turned on and off from the house. They will have a bath room with hot and cold running water. There will be water on tap in the kitchen, faucets outside for sprinkling the lawn.

All of these conveniences come with electricity, and the farmer who takes advantage of them finds that he no longer has to think of selling the farm and moving to town for ease and comfort in his declining years. He can enjoy them much better right on the farm where he has life, and he can still take an interest in his life work.

Edna, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Scott, Lake Road, met with a painful accident on Sunday. She was up in the hay mow of the barn, and in some manner fell out, while falling she struck her neck on a nail or some other sharp object, inflicting a nasty gash which required several stitches to close.

James Gay, who has been manager of the Lambton Packing Company at Petrolia for the last eight years, has sent in his resignation and will be succeeded by D. J. Reid, of Hamilton.
