IMAGE EVALUATION
 TEST TARGET (MT-3)

Photographic Sciences

CIHM/ICMH Microfiche Series.

CIHM/ICMH Collection de microfiches.

圖

Canadian Institute for Historical Microreproductions / Institut canadien de microreproductlons historiques

The Institute has attempted to obtaln the best original copy avallable for filming. Foatures of this copy which may be bibliographically unlque. which may alter any of the lmages in the reproduction, or which may significently chainge the usual method of filming, are checked below.

Coloured covers/
Couverture de couleur

Covers damaged/

Couverture endommagée
Covers restored and/or laminatad/
Couverture restaurde et/ou pelliculce

Cover title missing/
Le titre de couverture manque

Coloured maps/
Cartes gjograjhiques on coulourColoured ink (i.e. other than blue or black)/
Encre de couleur (i.e. autre que blaue ou noire)

Coloureci jiates and/or illustrations/
Planches at/ou illustrations en coulour
Bound with other material/
Relio avec d'autres documants
Tight binding may cause shadows or distortion along interior margin/
La reliure serrée peut causer de l'ombre ou da la distortion le long de la marge intérieure

Blank leaves added during restoration may appear within the text. Whenever possible, these have been omitted from filming/
II se peut que certaines pages blanches ajoutces lors d'une restauration apparaissent dens le texte. mais, lorsque cele était possible, ces pages n'ont pas dte filmbes.

Additional commente:/
Commentaires supplémentaires:

L'Institut a microfilm' io meilleur examplaire qu'll iul a été possible de se procurer. Les détails de cet exemplaire qui sont peut-étre uniques du point de vue hlbliographiqua, qui peuvent modifier une image reproduite, ou qui pauvant axiger une modification dans la méthode normale de filmage sont indiquas ci-dessous.

Coloured pages/
Pages de coulour
Pages damaged/
Pages endommagés
Pages restored and/or laminated/
Pagas restaurbes et/ou pelliculdes
Pages discoloured, stained or foxed/
Pages décolordes, tachetées ou piqueses Pages detached/Pages dútechdes
Showthrough/
Transparence
Quality of print varies/
Qualite indgale de l'impression
Includes aupplementary materia!/
Comprend du matériel supplémentaire

Only edition available/

Saule édition disponible

Pages wholly or partially obscured by errata slips, tissues, atc. ve been refilmed to ensure the best poss. de image/ Les peges totalement ou partieliement obscurcies par un feuillet d'errata, une pelure. etc., ont été filmdes à nouveau de façon à obtenir la meilleure imaga possible.

This item is filmed at the reduction ratio chacked below/
Ce document est filmé au taux de réduction indiqué el-dessous.

The copy filmed here has been reproduced thanks to the generosity of:

Library of the Public  Archives of Conada

The Images appearing here are the best quallty posalble considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and In keeping with the filming contract apecifications.

Original copies In printed paper covers are Nilmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impresslon, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the firat page with a printed or lliuatrated impression, and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated Impression.

The laat recorded fraine on each microfiche shall contain the symbol $\rightarrow$ (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the aymbol $\nabla$ (meaning "END"). whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratlos. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper loft hand corner, ioft te right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams lliustrate the method:

L'oxomplalre film' fut reprodult grace ile gendrosit' da:

La bibilothique des Archives publiques du Canada

Les images sulvantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tonu de la condition et de la nottot' de l'exempiaire flimd, ot en conformite avec les conditions du contrat de filimage.

Les examplaires originaux dont is couverture en papior eat imprimbe sont filimes on commencant par lo premlor plat ot en terminant solt par la dernielre page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, solt par lo second piat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmbe en commencent par la promidre page qui comporte une amprelnte d'impression ou d'illuatration ot en terminant par ie derniäre page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

Un des aymboles suivants apparaitre sur la dernidre image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole $\rightarrow$ signifio "A SUIVRE", lo symbole $\nabla$ signific "FIN".

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, otc., pouvent stre filmb́s de des taux de réduction différents. Lorsque ie document eat trop grand pour Otre reprodult on un seui cliche, il eat filmb id partir de l'angle aupériour gauche, de gauche d droite, et do haut en bas, on prenant lo nombre d'Images nócessaire. Les diagrammes suivanta illustrant ia múthode.

IIIs Absy y Hent -1 on the

Demoonat
Alerk Mor
AND, WITI
EmDC, on Eminive yEE NAVLC yIE NAVK MAT DATE chatat Ral wniont in romyen
${ }^{4}$ The isown lal algned not Inbouring eates of th striotions which will must not. I have not witions by the way of plies e trad
if the trade Hon: We, tione Our TIONS TE EMUNE peinaive do retain ot as open
$t$ requires from the oed So DEPREXD 18 EROULD At PLENTT. tloely to be nd wreak? ublio splri

From
he Frencl
$ the IIote
he bevt of eppobllaan fault not miar to as monaro volene oleng. ediag ath veir count chetio of t ral openn ancill mn saxill m mont of What ext of of the of on of bon ctume, 8 ant of mo de of a po ghis pop Four of a

And to arnliill, L
sen comp

THE CRISIS OF SIR ROBERT PEEL'S MISSION ;

 mubr-if we woutd prevent unfortunato Leglalation becoming a cause of Rcvolu,ion, after losing the Colonies and our supremacy on the sea-prgolpitati

UNIVERSAL SUFFRAGE.

FROM TIIE NEWSPAPER WRITINGS OF ISAAC BUCHANAN,
 in the fimg parlingent of unithd cayada.
"The protective syatem is purely demoerntio in its tendency. It fosters industry, and ennbles the poor man, who has no oapital, but isown labour, no surplus but what is found in his own ninews, to acquire a competency to aupport and edacato hle family. It is dealgned not for the fow, but for the many; and though it wili be productive of the commongood, its peculiar bleanings witl fali npra the labouring olasses. But there is a mort of looseness in the phrase ' Free 'Trade,' which renders this disensslon erabarrassing. The advoeates of this doctrine do not toil us with sutficient precision what they mean by thephrane. If they mean that weahonid cake off ail restrictions from conmerce, whother other nations do or not, it in one thing; but if they menn that wo should do it towards thoee mations Which will reciprneate the favonr, it is quite another thing. But the phrase must linply a trado whiloh is mutwally benefioial, or it must not. If it does not imply a trado that is matually unrestricted and mutually benefioial, that is a good reamon for rejeotiug it. I have not made sufficient proticionoy In the science of poiitical non-resistance to cudrocato a aystem of trade whioh enrichem othor nations by impoverialing us. I ennnot consent to open our purts, duty free, to thase nations which throw evory embarreagment in the way of our commerce. My politionl oreed does not require ue to love other nations bettor than my own. But if Free Trade implies a trade mutnaliy ndrantigeona, I am villing to adopt it ; but this can nover be done by taking off all commercial reotriotions, if the trade is to be matually benofioial, it must not only imply a reciprocity in commereial regulations, bus a similarity is condifiow. We, an a nation, aro peculiarly aitusted. We aro neparated from the Old World by dianance and by the natare of onr inatitutions. Our ieading oharacteristio la, that our oitisens nro freemon, and are labourers. TIIE NATURE OF OUR INSTITUTIORS TENDS TO ELEVATE TIIE WORKING CLASSES, AND TO SECURE TO THE LABOURER AN AMPLE BEMUNERATION FOR HIS TOII.. This ralees the prioe of iabour-I'T MAKES TIIE, LABOURER A MAN. So MPLE Fe retain this our national charactoristio, by protooting our own indastry, our country will be prosperous, But lot the pleauling but. telusive doctrines of Fres Trade obtnin in our land-let that poiioy under whicis we have grown up and proxpered be abandoned, and ot us open our ports to tho fnbrios of thone nations whose hardy labourers oan obtain but a shilligg a day, and board themselrea, and t requires no spirit of prophcoy to predict the embarrassment and distress which would anaue. Wheu onr narigators are driven rom the ocean, and our manufactureve and mechanics from their miitis and their workahops, and all are oompelled to onltivate the oil, the beanties of Free Trado would be, renlized. We might have agrioultural products, bnt we shonld have no market.- Bre

 AL PLumpt."-From Hunt's New York Alercirnin' Magasine.
"In domocracies, where the rlght of making i, aws resides in the people at Jarge, publio virtue and goodnces of intention is more Thely to be found than in either of the other qualities of Government. Popular assemblies are frequently foolish in their contrivanee, ind weak in their excoution ; but generally mean to do the thing that la right and just, and have alwayn a degree of patriotism or public spirit."-Blackotone.

From the pulilished conversation of a French gentleman, (at Cinremont, In November 1818), with Louis Philippe, late King of no French:- Gentlemnn.-But the expression of Lafayette, 'Sire, yon will be the beat of Ropublice !'.. King.- This was not said t the Ilotel de Villo : but a weck previcualy at the Palaia Royal, and far from leaving It without reply, I lmmodiately added : Not to beat of Ropublics, for the very best li, good for nothing. 'Weil, then,' added Generai Lafajetto, 'a Monarchy surronandad hy pablioan institutions ?' Ah! Yea! snid I, a Monarohy surrounded by Republican inatitationa, I approve of are Repnllio, No I"', From Cogos r'e Residence in France, in 1832 :-"'Lafayette frankly admitted, what all now seom disposed to admilt, that it was frult not to hare made sure of the ingtithtions before the King was pot upon the thrpne. He affirmed, however, that it was much raier to ascert the widdom of taking this precaution, than to have adopted it in faci."

- This and the abore quotations go to ahow that had the legialation been Repabilicin, Louia Philippe could not have loat Franae ts moparohy ; whife from the following, (the beat-jnformed view of the present state of France that has been publighed, it ripe cobable we may soon hare an examplo there of the state of things, which Pecl'a unprincipled conrse must lnfict on England, solone plone.
of At prewont, indoed, such in the atate of France, that the exercise of the supreme power Yepela more than it attract, apd the ading mintermen of the nation liare aliown more anxiety to escape from the responsibility of so arduons a positlon thnn to reacies ciatio of the confalionmonntabie dangers at the cost of their owo repitations, inconsistent political doctrincs are is characvial opemness; and the nation is less adverse to the regret publiciy dispiayed hy the partisanus of the late dynasty, or to the elaimis astill more formidable Pretender, than it is to the oxtreme tieorlen of the demoeratio Republic.
mocat of the departmonts an impreapion prevailed favourablo to the revision of the Constitution, but none nindertook, to nflirm I) what extent the requinite changem ought to bo carried, or what result they should prodace.

Some
wo of the central districts openly profersed tho doctrines of the Red faction. In none was tinere any atriking or decided innulfeate. on of Boanpartist opiniong, or any personal hamage to the imperial protensions of the President. Neverthelcens, it is stiil the opjjon of many of the mest profound nind oxpcrienced ofocervers of the French nation, thint, with the assistance of opynrtunlty and of ant of monoy for the support of thia qunai-royalty-the olainis of a needy and ambitious family-and perhaps eventualiy the attias bis popuinrity with the army it in poesible that in.the hour of action that poworful inatrument may again decide for a time in Vour of an Imperial dynaoty.-Thmes,

GREENOCK:

PUBLISHED AT THE ADVERTISER OFFICE,

And to bo had at the Offices of the Grecnoet Advertiser in Greenock and Giangow (40, Union Sireet) : at Mr N: un's, Bookseller, ornhili, London ; and at Meimry John Ilarchill &s. Sons, Waterloo Place, Edinbu'gh-where may alioo be hiv! :... enfire Jamphiet hen completed.

CONTENTE.

[I do not placo here the hendingn of the particular articley but a liat of the Important pointe whioh I have labonred In these and all my other writings, to got the putic to consider before, liko the French, we roquiro to any, "it io now too late."]
I. Tho principles of tho Political Economints, into whono han. Sir Robert Peel has botrayed the Intercats of Britioh labour, must soon lead to tho atarvation not only of our working men, but of all our industrious olamea, and of men with fixed property whioh is encumbered with debt.
II. No oppoulng or vative induatry party can be formed, as things now stand, becauso the friencle of the working classes are divided by the Chureh Question, and inre not trust each othor with powor : so
III. Therefore-the Immedinte adoption of Demeeratio Logislation or the responsibility of our I.egialativo Aots being tranaferred to the entire poople, (as tho only possible meana of doing away the obetacles to a union of the friends of the labour, as opposed to the moner-power) ia synonymous with preserving the Crown and saving this country from political confusion, even if Peel'; assertion of the omnipotence of parliament wero not equivalent to an announcement of Univanial Surfacor.
IV. Dotails of some of tho mensures which would como to bo adoptod under Universal Suffrage for the well.being of this oountry'y Induatry-being tho nntipodes of tho tenohings of politienl cconomy, or " the science of cheapness " the publio having at length come to yee thint Cusap Commopitiks and Low Wagzs ane thi Ghzateat Impoaition on the induatry of a oountry, an just in truth meaning dear money, - or, money increased in exchangeable valus, not from tho suporabundance of Britiah productions, but from our supply of mones continuing limiied by Law: and front untaxed forelgn labour monopolislag our pre clons metala-that greatest of national calamilies.

PEEL'S UNPRINCIPLED AND FATAL COURSE.

 cong to be neprabsented bi Social Economita, on Pbaetical Man, or Patrioth, the chanacter oy whoge legialation will dr that it tafea the circonstanceg of our own bocikty into account; the Monetrower baino nerbetantid bt Political Ecomo-

"Cnpitnl has usually had the power to take care of itzelf, and docs not recuire tho aid of Congreas to place it in any other position, than to put the labour in motion. Congrena slinuld legislnto for the inbour, and tho eapitnl will tako care of ltaelf posit. Tho Freo Trade of the Political Econonilsts of Great Britnin ia a transeendeutal philosophy, which is not likely to he ndopted by any government on tho face of the Globe, unless it be the Chineso, and we have already thi earnest of the effect of low dutice in the internal condition of that country. The Trade of that Empire is fast appronohing to barter ; the precions metals lanving been drainel, to pay for the foreign products introduced into it."
Precioushlet of the IIonourablo Abbott Lawrence of Boston, Intely appointed the A merican Ambassador to the Court of London, pul-
Jished carly in 1846 , in oppotition to the propossl to upset the 'Inviff of 1842, being letters addreased to the lionourable Willian Rives of Virginin, lately nppointed Ambnssador to France. These valunblo lotters are at page 17 of the Appendix.
" There are many who impute the commercial crines of the United States to their pnper and banking syatems ; but there can be no doubt that the evil originnted in the 'Compromifo Bill' (1882), in consequence of which America's imports soon exceeded her ex. ports, and the United Stntes becnme debtors to England for several hondred millions of dollars, which they were unable to eancel by their exports. The proof that these crises must chicfly be ascribed to the excess of lniports lies in tho fact, that they invarinbly occurred in timen of great influx of foreign manofactures in consequence of a reduced tnriff; nnd that, on the contrary, they neve took place either in time of war, when few imports could talie place, or when, by the high import duties, the exports had been brought Into just proportion with the imports." "A cimilar phenomenon presented itself In Ruesic Soon after the war in 1815 there nrose a tescher of the Free-Trade theury, a certain Storch, who taught in Russia what Say did it France, and Dr Smith in England, vis., that Balnnee of Trade is a mere phontom, a ehlmern engendered in the diaurdered brain o the teachers of the moroantilo ayptem. Government gave that Freo Trado syatem $n$ fall trinl, until the Chwncellor of the Empire Count Nesselrode, declarel, in an Offieinl Cireular of 1821, "That Russin finde herself compelled by eireumstances to adopt an inde pendent system in commerve, as the raw proluctions of the country find bat an indifferent market abrond, the native manufacturer are becoming ruined, all the rendy ensh ls going nbrond, and the most solid mercantile houses nro about to break.' In a few week aftorwaris tho now protcotivo Tariff wns issued, and the bencficinl consequences soon minnifested themselver, Cnpital talent and meehanioal industry soon found their way into Rustin from all parts of the civilized world, and more capechlly from England and Gecmany. Nothing more was Jienrd there of commercial erisen, eaused by over-trading ; the nation his grown prosperous and the Germany. Nothing more was henrd there of commercial crises, cat
" Mr Cobded and the politieal economists, like their pupil Sir Robert Peel, persist in that most fatal of nll legislative heresies that a country should be legislated for as a consumer instcad of ne a producer. Their nrgument, that this country would pay as cenernl rulo tho fixed duty on corn were sueh imposed (and not tho foreign producer of the corn), proceens entircly on the nssump'tion of an exceptlonsl caso. In defiance of all thio facta, they begin hy nesuming tlut this country, nided by her colonics and rocipro cating countrics, could not grow a sufficiency of food for her population ! and then they nesume that tho price nbrond is as great as the prico bero, concenling that the causo of this is onr being purchasers in tho markets of irreciproenting countrivs in comsequence o thore being no lupport duty in this oountry. Thus by the absence of the iupport duty thoy produce (call into existence) the fanot ol which they found their argument, that tho foreign grower dees not pay tho British duty, for how urould he send his wheat to Britai to get 45 s when he can get $45 s$ at home! The reader will easily see that it is our national infatuation that hass raised the prico abrond, so as to give a semblanco of plausibility to this nrgument. It will also be perceived that, in any case, thls argument is of any value only whilo the quantity of food in this country is under the oonsumption ; for enpposing the supply of our own growth, aided by ouf Colonies and by reciprocating countrics, to be equal to our consumption, and the price to be 45 s per quarter, the forelgner whoe price at home is also 45s would psy the 8s duty did such exist, so that nothing but his neceswitice or $n$ aurplus, would induce hini to send whent here while the prico in his own country (we mean, of course, including freight and uhargee to britnin) is over 878. But we get quit of nll Mr Cobden's mystilieatlons by keeping tho simplest common sense position, again frankly nasuring him that we an we get quio can bo from dexiring to see the price of foed enlianced in consequenee of the supply not being equal to the conaumption as far ns ho can rising abovo the price whicla a full markot would give, aay 450 . Why, In the name of common sense (under the plea of meetlog suc) exceptional case), should we extirpate the agricultural customers of our manulacturing and artizan populatlon, lyy permitting th free introluction of fond (after our supply is full) by forelgnem, who refuse to take in exchange the labour of our mannufacturing of mining districts?"-From my nnawer to Mr Cobdets on the Question of a Fixed Duty on Corn, dnted 20th July, 1840.
"Our Colonies are passing from us before we have learned the use of them."-Spectator.
"Let mo implare, thereforo, the landowners to abnndon the futile attempt of artifieially maintainlng high pricca under the an cient standard; let them make a timely compromiso with the public, and take an ample, but fair protecting dutr, wlth open porte on the aduissio: of foreign eorn-a duty equivalent to the hurdens imposed on the produco of corn in this conntiy, to which the consumers of corn are cqually lialle; and, on the same princlplea, a drawback on exportation may be obtnined. Thin ooncession will wio back the friend! frelings of tho people; nod let not the landowners loee this great advantage; let them rivot the gratitude of the community to thinir canst; let them exert all their power, and insist on the rovision of M: Peel's Aet of 1819-an Act no less fatal to the landown "hy $t^{\prime \prime}$, the payer of taxes-an Aot now nbout to como into full operation-nn Aet which, from ite firat introduction zonded thi perphr to insiurection : and the returning induence of which has not falled to produce the amme alarming consequences Here the inndow:ars nay with anfety inake their stand : the position in impregnable; the payers of tnxen, tho prodnotivo classen, ar

the Ed
Jamee
ter, but ter, bul
bo aub
beat $j u$ beat ju fare of fare of yet the cats of those,
wanted
five an if gove
rom $\begin{aligned} & \text { Ing } \\ & \text { Bn }\end{aligned}$ of
"A proving joct of joet of from th
with Br
eost of wagen, abour paricon rom a 13,000 to carry he supp
and imp volght o
own, the
the whol clent to he emp of this employa
iog 3 mpa brought whips, al
cs, 024.0
in our ex
my rema Promier
eede $\mathrm{P}^{\prime}$ know ful
Interents England
lation of extent extent that Sir
enly dour of of $h$ aboured in these te."] itiah labour, must ith fixed property asses ara divided churoh eatablich:
eing transferred tn labour, as opposell sio
Ig of this oountry' publio liaving a try of a country, a: ance of Britjah pro. pnopolisling our pre.
nciples. Evan tin HAVE MEEN MRDUCR Laboverpower mue eroialation will na wh Political Seiext $w$ Politica lace it in any othe tako care of Itsel tal philosopliy, whic e alrondy tho earnes ebing to barter ; the purt of Londnd, pul lloneurable Williar pondix.
ms ; but there can be soon exceeded her ex. re unablo to cancel by , that they invariably contrary, they never the exports liad been ented itself In Ruaria ussia what Say did in le disurdered Prain of rellor of the Empire, nees to adnpt an inde. native manufacturer native manufacturee Capital, talent, and ally from England and wn prosperous and th Ill legislative horesies ountry would pay an Itirely on the assump$r$ colnnics and recipro nbroad is as great a: itries in eomsequence oxintence) the faet on ad his wheat to Britain aised the prloo abrond, gument is of any value growth, nided by our igrow foreigner whowe $r_{\text {; }}$ the forenger who th thin) is over 87n. But suring limm that wa are al to the consumption Would be by the prite he plea of meetling auel tlon, by permittlag the our manufacturiag or sly, 1849.

gh prices under the an dutr, with open porit, inty, tn whilch the con Ihin conceasion will wio rot the grailtude of the B-An Act no lesa fata on its first introduction, alarming consequences of prodinctivo classes, ar
s, the Fundnoldems, and the Economistn ; a hedy whioh the landownem, if truo to themerlyen, ond in coneert wlth the people, cannot fail to difeit."-Sir James Graham's Pamphlet on Corn and Currency, publlshed in 1827.
"Ila hegged the house would pay particular attention to the petition which le hald in hia hand. It was of no conmmon oliaraceter, but that of a great and important body, all of the first reapectability, praying that those rosulutions whicl) wero Intended to be submitted to tha house might not bo carried Into effuct. lio begged leave to state hia opinion, that tho petitioners were the beet judges of nueh a measure. Ile would add also, that although they wero intimately eonneotel with all that concerned the welfare of the eountry, tho moat experianced men, and the bent qualitied from their conneetion with our manufnetures and commerce, yot they had not been examined by the committes; ha hoped, therefore, that before a measars 30 deatructlve of the commeroial intorcats of tho country was pased, (and when he sald that, honourablo niembers would conclude every othor literest in be combined with those, and to go along whith them, ) the house would panso awhile, In order to colleot that infurmintinn wilch they ao partionlarly wanted. In looking at the reporte which had been published on the subjeet, ho must say, that the uritucescs were not men likely io give any information to government, not men aoqualnted with the state of the country; the last men who should have been guestioned, if governmemt wanted to arrive at the merits of the case.
From thic apeeoh of Peel'n father, the Jate Sir itobert Peel, delivered in the Ilonse of Commona, on tho 24th Mny, 1818, In present-Ing the petition of abont five handred of the Leading Merchanta of the City of Londan, agalnat the conclusions at which the Bank Committeee had arrived. It will be obeerved that not only is his son's Monoy Bill desoraneed, but the Jeremy liddler way in which it was then boing foroed on the country. Thila, and the late SIr R. Peel's appeal to the members of boch Houses of Parliament in 1820 (with which I shall oloue the Introductory Artloie), ought to put an ond to the notlon that, ln expremaing our irreconcileable objeotiona to P'eel's prinelples and measures, we have any pernonal hostillty to the Might Honourable Bart.
"A Ad it may not be inapropos that I here quote the following from myletter In tho Glangow Reformers' Gazette of 14th March, as jeot of oolonlal trado to ahow its infinito superiority over a foreign trade, or a morely manufactu ing eommerce, and I tako my figures from the official atatements, of the exports and imports of Grent Britaiu in 1843, not having the later roturna at hand. In the irade with Britaln and her eolonies in tho western world, about 00,000 seamen aro yearly employed, for whom the amount of wages and cout of provislons cannot be leas than $£ 3,500,000$ per annum; and the repairs, Insurance, and replacing of onpltal In the ships \&4,500,000 more. In the trade between Britaln and Indla and China, 10,000 aeamen are employod, and at a similar rute thelr wages, provialons, to. will amount to $£ 600,000$; and tho replacement of capital and inerease $£ 800,000$; In all, $£ 1,300,000$. The whole. or ncarly the whole of the supplies necessary to malniain thene seamon and tonnege, are the productions of British soll and Inbour, which, in a natinnal point of ylew, show, tho superiority of such a trade over a merely manufacturing commerco. A comparison of tho trade of the eantern with that of the western worla, taking the value of luports and exports, atands neariy thus:From and to China and the East Indics, about £16,000,000; and from and to British North Amerien and tho West Indlan Coloniea, e14,000,000. It thus appears that the latter or Britisn American trade requires nearly five times more ships, tonnage, and seamen 0 aarty It on than the formar or trade to all lodis and Cbinal thereby atiording an incileniabla advantage to a naral power, and the oupport of a naval forre, and aleo to the empleyment of Britishlinhour and eapital. From the official atatemerst of the oxports the appport of a naval forre, nnd aleo to the ompleyment of imports of Groat Britsin to the difierent parts of the world for the year 1843, to which we bave alluded, we find that the whole and imports of Gront Brits cotton goods exported from Groat Britaln annually la 120,000 tons, and the valuo $\mathbf{£ 2 3 , 5 0 0 , 0 0 0 \text { . It fol- }}$ lows, then, that one-half the tonnage employed in carrying the West Indian exports (valuo $\pm 2,882,441$ ) would be sufficlent to carry the whole ontton export trade of thfa country; and an regards the North Amerioan crade, one-seventh of tho tonnnge would be sufficlent to earry all that cotton trade about whioh Mr Cobden lass mado suoh a noise, but whose real and great intrinsio importance to tho empire, no nf diculturlat nor colonist has ever shown any dispositlon to undervalue that I am aware of. I oannot better finish of this statemerit than by repenting that, while the trado of B. Amerion and the West Indies, stated in 8813 . to be only $\mathbb{E 1 4 , 0 0 0 , 0 0 0 , ~}$ employs $2,000 \mathrm{silps}$ of 870,000 tons ${ }^{8}$, and $\mathbf{6 0 , 0 0 0}$ seamuen, our trade with the United States, estiniated at $£ 22,000,000$ three-fifthe be: ing imports of raw ootton, de., is carried in 350 shipa of 233,000 tons; and the import from China, amounting to $\mathbf{E B}, 000,000$ is brought in 84 ahips of $\mathbf{9 0 , 7 1 2}$ tons. The trade of America when our colony in 1700 employed, on the aveinge of three years, 1,678 hips and 28.910 seamen and tho value of the goods taken from Great Britain was $£ 3,370,000$; the exporta of the colony being es 054008 . 10 poping in our exporta to Ainerlea, (causes over which wu land no control, brought them down in the year 1842 to $£ 3,628,80$.') Before eloaing my remarkn, I desire to recur to the disingenuous conoluaiun of Sir Robert Peel'a great speech, whloh I have quoted from. Yes, the Promier trinmplanntly enneludes-. This is what you have to decide by your vote on this question-Will you advanee or will you recede P' And again- 'What should be the motto of a coustry like this ! Should it advance or retrograde ?' Now, Sir Robert Peol know fuli well that he had not shnwn, and could not show, how raza taapz is to advance, eved temporarily, any one of the great Interests of this country. And Sir Robert Peel knew, morcover, that neither has any elase of polliciciana, nor any body of mon in fition of commerce. Nor is Sir Robert Peel ignorant of tho tact that all pabina abs miling and asinua to abvance to the greateat extent thag think they ean without glving a fatal blow to the industry of our own people, whether artisana or agrioulturists, All anly deinand an explanntion, and it seema high time that they sloould do so, when they can now see in the Premier searcely the sha dow of his former principles. Pausiog,-Sir Robert l'cel's fullowers aimply address their politionl leader ms Hamlar did the Ghont of him father-

> Hamlet-Whither wilt thou lead me I > Speak! I'l go no further.
> Ghoot-Mark me. ['I'his is Sir R. Peel to the life.]
> Mamlet-I wifl.
> Ghost-My hour ls almost come,
> When 1 to sulph'rous nind tormentling flamea
> Must render up myself.
> Hamlet-Alsa ! poor Ghost!
"But the melancholy fact is that the Britiah Government is now, and has for mnre than twinty years been, in hards somorally weak no to have no real control of tha greator affiaira and interests of this country. The statesmen of tha priesent day aspire to no mose than to bo (apparently unconcerned) lookers-on at the fights of the Free Traders against the Protectionists, and the FreeShinkers against tha lyoteatanta, and side with the winning party for the time being. Such micn as Chatham, litt, Fox, Jinrl Groy, Canning, Willberforce, and Anti-Corn-Law Villiers, disdained to count numbers in their moral contesta : hut the present, nnd most © our governmonta aince the days of Canning, have not lind the moral power in England and her dependencies, even of the Norths and Walpoles of tho last century."-From the Glasgow Reforiner'' Gazette of 8th April, 1816, heing my answer to the Jancheater mandian.

GENERAL REVIEW.

The Ex-Premier had better have resigned himself to the tender mercies of his old than his naw friende, "' Save me from may friends," If applicable to old friendr, in yet more so to new ones ; and Peel shonld not have forgotten that in his plage in l'arliament, ha has acknowledged that the loss of respect is only on the part of his quondam friende towarda him, not on his part towards that patriotio, however mlataken band. He ahould have asked his own breast whether it is not oven now the pride of liis heart to have been an instrument in rearing this living monument to prineiple "are perennius." Was it an eany thing for Pcely old friends to part with a leader of unrivalled tact if not talent i This wat only more easy for them than to forsake sheir principles, and to profer their party to their country. Peel knowa that they did not part with him rashly, and even at last that they dul so more in geief than in anger. Ilad not their respect for his practical talents, compared to contemporaneous atatesmen. shui their sillz againat what Sir James Graham ealled "the ineurrection of a popilace" on the subject of Peel'a Money Law f And in the ense of the Emanoipation of the Catholles did they not go farther with him than any lover of conatitutional gorernment oan over pardon, (homever much like niyself he may have desired the emancipation), when at that time they paoved over Peel'a delinguency to the comalitnencies of the empire, arguing that it was of leasf a generous act, and one which gave moneching to a drser'ving portion of our fellow-suljecte, without taking any privillege awny from any olasa ? Such are the frienda SIr R. Peel has lost. Jike the children of a worthicss parent, they have atood up for hing till their longer doing so wonil only loo losing thele own character without thoir belag able to mave hia. They have too mueh cenfidenco in the morallty of publio oplinon to let them belleve that tho eountry will over oome to regard the present Peel men otherwise than with the same suspiclon with which we regard the potatoes of a bilghted lot. The eliange in hifospind ean no more be explained than the eorruption in tho potatoen ; and politleal ls like ferunto virtue, onee gone no charm can restere Jt , Duoency, tharefore, unitod with the publio literest in lending ua to hope that we ahould hear no moro of Peel and sthll less of hls orentures. . Ile has wounded the honenip, and ingulted the rank of atatesimanslilp, by ansoojating its character with hile profilgate prinelple that "the end justilies tho theans." Publie opinion may nt at once be sufficiently independent to repodiate ytterly a min whose name was latoly pewerful, but if se, let litos think what value ahould be placed on a judgment which oonld approve of prinelples belng admisalble in publle which nive repuiliated in privite life, and of popularity belug taken an a gulde, inatead of bolng valued only as tho folloreer of oonsistont and correct prinelples. l'eel lias yet-say his old frlends-by cover ing himself with the obilvion of political denth, nn eppertunity of recording what must be his oplalen of what will bo the just and certain fate of all men who liereaftor may betiny natlye industry, llko him, allowlog themselves to bo debruched by Mr Coblen, " the friend of every country but his own." All men are fallible, nnd why should Peel net bo willing to confean the truth that, oven If it friend of every country but histurn. were preved that he did $n$ fortunte thing, this can never excuse hils settling the example of a disregard of the constltuendies, which, If followed, might lone this conntry Its hegt secured and most valued institutions, and oven the crown itself, although no volco may have beeli litiod against these at tho hustings! Ile knows well that the ex ponit facto nssent of tho conatlitnencles only showed that their independence was gono, and that the country could huve nothing werse In the shape of olectors. This, Sir Robert knowa, ceuld not do away hia gallt ; jt could only snve him, an a criminal is onyed, trom gunishneent.

- In glving op our Wostern Colonien to tho United States, Pet nearly doubles their tonamge in Feteig trude which waa, in 1848, $1,241,312$ tona.
 a Momper in Parlianeut doing the contrary to what he promised at the linsthgs : as it I.ord Jolm lhassell, whe has been sent Jato Parllament to build up a freo trado aystem, wero to use the power with wheh the confldiug constltucncles havo entruster him to hurl the whole free trade fabrio to the greund. So great an eutrage on constitutional principle a this would be on Lord John's part, and as Peel's course was on his part, ean only be justlfted by the enempes of constlational prluclple. Iloynau, "Torilugtong O'Ferall, nnd Elgin mny as ensily bo juatifled by our Aberleen friends on tho principles ol mercy nnd justlec. Ilut the " ery" of "motives not men" wifl hnve small ohance of puttiag out the good old "ery" of "measures not men" whilo tho "cry" of the masses la for "fool "" anil the Manchester sehool witil in valon attempt to roase the country to "the political neceesity of Sir Robere reel." Let hem stlek to Cobden If he will agree to repeal l'eel's Moncy 1 lif of 1810 , In which tho wholo conntry would support him, repudiating hils own (Cobulon's) bullionist hereay, and stlekjug to the evid. .nce which he gave in 1810 before the Parifinnentary Committee on bauks of lssue. Our working cingses invo no conndence in, nitiough they could not, porinps, afford to troublo tleal wlydom, that they are now nulonger nuxious about the men or instriments to be employed. Starvation, staring them in the tace, has renicred them ouly anxlons abent, and detcrmhed ons, certain mensures-by whatevor party brought ubout-ns lifo or death to their families. The mensures of Sir ltobert Peel, they say, aro those which lave roduced tho emplayment of the poople, and ground down waxes to the earth. IIfs menctary measure of' 1910 veiluead wages and prices of commedlites to the low forcigu standard of gold at an intaxed prleo, thougli our protective sgstem prevented any frent diminution of empleymant. In $\mathbf{1 8 1 0}$, howevor Sir Roleert licol did nwny the protective system, without demanding reeipuoeity, which maturally mast result in atill more reduced wagea!. And a reduction of wiges or prices, the result of forcign compefition, is seen to be lust another winy of expressing a want of employnient, for when prices nnd wages, and freights, are reduced one-halt, the evll is not only that wo flind oursolves paying the tundlielders and annustmats donble the amount of British industry that we belove did for the money due them each linlf yoar ; hut, under free trade (op where the seduction in the price of our labour fow from foreign competition), we must bo subjected to the Inthnitely great $1 \cdot$ calnmity of the loss of all our bank faeilitles. The ludustrions elasses in this ceuntry find that, In nudition to paying to nnmitant or minn of money ns mueh labour as formorly, (sceing that the price in moncy in only onc-half) they will have, out of forelgn labour, thus fostering and increashig tliat forcign industry to compete with which is Impossible for us under our national burdens or (cyen thousli freed from theso burdens) till our populntion is rednced below the circumstances of tho foreign serf or slave, for tho netual $w$ wen of tho latter must ever remain tewer than those of a people with habity such an ours, nud living in so mueh more rigovous a climate ns that of Great Britain. Those subsisting on wnges, the great component part of prico in commoditles, havo been deeply injured by the oneness formed by Sir R. l'eel's law of 1810, between gold and money, out of which has arisen all the evils of our working pepulation. Even when wo get whent fu return for gold, wo liave n right to complaln of the lmporter being paid in "godu ns $n$ money," or gold nt a fixell prlce. The forcigner is a buyer, nud laving it always in hia power to got gold at $\& 3$
 For instance, with wages near the starvation point in this country, the forelgner finds he can for $£ 1$ get either an ounce of gold or 80 ynrds of eloth at is por yart, and he may probably talco tho cloth lin preferenco ; but as soon ns prosperity ralses pricen, say to is home indusiry, ns it is cleur that for the commodity which the forejgner hinself imported ho must have got tho paper, or "prosperity" price ; and to exchange or barter, with tho foreigner; Gold at a low fxed, or continental, priee ngninst our lucnl paper money representing prices raised so as to cover Dritish rents, taxes, wages, and profits; (which our priees must do when tho tinilo is not un profitablo), is conduet ns silly as if the Bank were to advertise that it was ready to exchange full weight soverelgas for ellpped oncs! Indeed, the former is the gienter national delasion, as the profits deriyed from the legal elippiog under leel's nbominable act of 1819 lonve the country, while in the latter ense tho "elippings" would just go from one pocket to naother ameng ourselves. But how muoh more monstrous it is, that, witheut gotting any uscful niticlo in return, but only for the benefit of the

* Richard Cobrten, in 1840, makes the following impressive statement bafore Parlinment :-" I could adduce a finct derived lirem my own experience, that would illustrate tho heayy, losses to whieh manufacturers were exposed in their operations, hy those fluctuations (in 1837) in tho value of moneg. I an a calico ppinter ; I pureliase the cloth, which is my rnw material, in the niniket; and have nsually in whrehouse three or four months' supply of materini. I mast pecessarily proceed in my operations, whatever clinnge theco may be-whether a rise or $n$ tall in the market. I empley 600 hands; nnd those hands must bo omployed. I huvo flxed uachinery and enpital, which must also be kept golng; and, theretore, whatever the prospects ef $n$ rise or fall in prices may be, I nm constantly oldiged to be purchasing the material, and contraeting for the material on whileh I operate. In 1837, I lost by my stook in hand, $£ 29$, the, n9 compnred with tho stock-talking in 1835, 1830, and 1838 ; the nvernge of these three yenre, when compared with 1837, shows inat I lost $\pm 20,000$ ly my business in 1837 : and what I wish to ndd is, that tho whole of this loss arose from tho dopreciation in the value of my stock. My business wns as prospervis; we stood as high as printers as we did proviously; onr business since that has been as good, and theie wns no other cause for the lesses I then sustained, but the depreciation of the value of the articles in warchonse in my hands. What I wish particularly to slinw is, tho defencelesa condition in which we manufacturers are placed, nad haw comipletely we are at the merey of these unnatural fluctoations. Alihough I was aware that the lesses were oomiog placed, nnd haw completely we are nt the merey of theso unnatural fuctoatious. Ahhough I was aware that the losses were oomiog, 600 hands, nud to fail te supply our customers would have been nitegether ruinous ; thent is a faet drawn from my own experienoe. I wish to point ta sunther exumple of $n$ most strikiog kind, she wiag the offect of these fluetuations on merchants. I hold in my hand a list' of 36 artich is, which were imported in 1837, hy the house of Butterworth und Brookes, or Manchester, a hoise vory well knewn: Mr Brookes is low horongh-reevo of Manchester. Ilere is a list of 36 articles Imported in the year 1837, in the regular way of busi ness, and oppointe to ench article thore is the rate of loss upon it ne it arrived, nud ns it was ofd. The average loss is $37 \frac{1}{2}$ per cent. on thoso 36 nrisicrs, and they were imported from Canten, Trieate, Bombay, Bahin, Alexnndrla, Limn; and in finet ali the interme. diato places alisist, This, I presume, is a fair guide, to show the losses whieh other merchants Inourred on situilnr artioles. pi Mr Cobden buw: however, denies that the price of gold is fixed at all in this country ! but we arguo that the price of gold. fixed, secing that niy one enng go to the nint and get coln for gold bullion at the rate of $£ 3178102 d$ per ounce. Mr Cobden replies that this is merely the goyernment putting their stainp on tho sovereign, to nttest its fineness and weight, the oame as a bushel measure for" wheat is stamped or regutated by antherity.: It is clear, however, that the one caso is not parallel to tho other thus fix the price of whent op gold, although no legislatien can supplant the operation of the nat nal law of supply and demand whioh determines all valucs. And if whent wero fixed in prico by law, its variations (arlsing from its belng plestiful or scaroe) would be driven 1 ", cxpress themselves in tho inereosed or decreased price of money. This is exaetly what now eecurs with gold The reduction of : bee stack of gold is oxpressed by the rise in the prioe or exchangeble value of moncy, and the consequent ruin of the puopurty nad iidustry of the country.

L.ondon Jew houses, In taking forolgis loane, we mhould have, on the atntute book, $n$ lnw which, by making gold and monoy eyneaf, mous, makem the expert of foiltion.

If we do not asnumo that Sir iR. Pool intonis conatitutional ohangen, wa muat hold his intelleet in auprome contempt, and beleve the Tory papers that, incapable of an original iden, he barely underutaids the borrowed prinolples of hio own meanures, and certainly hing not the gulit of being able to foreneo their reault. livery ona but hinuelf knew (if lio dld not), that the oxlatence of his maney lill of 1810 was the great argument for tho axoenalre reatrletlons retalned upon lmporta. Peel'a money bili prevented, and atifit preventa, our abllity to increase our export trado, and till its repesi, our only safo courso was to restrict our inportn, as thus alone we cound retain our hanking fincilities, by preventing an oxport of gold. What, then, ary we to think of Sir It. l'eel's doing awny with this broakwater. If the had no ultersor viown fio not of a nenteanian, however, lina no ilfirerent efiect whether done from imbesilits or desiph, ami rovolutionary olinnges minat asnareily how froin leel's liaving in 1810, Judna like, botrayed with a kise the canee of our nativo ludustry, which till thell, he hall professed, wan the oause of his heart. Every one knew that patriotle selfehneeo or the fontoring of British industry wns the vitni intereat of the Cologies, and that the lons of these noble appendages of the Britioh Crow vaunted movement in 1846 ntuounted to the reduetion of Great Britain from the lofty benring of a great Einpire, the mistress of she sens, to the pesition of a petty country, And even werv such clange shown (as it nover could be), to be the intereat of this oountry why not lave effected no haporinnt a trananetion with the annethun of the onnatitueneles? Why not let even the Colonists, who ha roetol prejudieen? Was there nny proof thant with the Colonints their innterini interesty would havo weighed in their minds as a fenther if these were found obstriceluy the great intoreats of their glorlous father lanil P . The following languago of ing own in the
 I Lolleve, the sentiments of tho Colaniats an as sony :-' In a former number it was shown that irveciproeal trado must necessarily, be in very nature, loat us the colonces, becruso the principle of proteotion aboudioned, the colonical system (which is a mers branch of ie), to bencfte the mother connery in any way aftor they have thrown off the lmperial Parlianent's right to layislato for their trade, and lng, uness our manuraotures aro prolted if tho proveby. Find grade tho condition of our innuiffacturers: In lisit, I oonslder that free trado is suielde the extent of our own mannfactures, to deWell ilo the indepenicit aristoomey aee, that though the onden will bo a liery one to their nelghinours whoso lands aro in leht, muda moro fiery one stil to tr:o manataceurers, the inmil reailit will assuretly fo, thit the landowners will be tho permanontir predeminant and popular or powertil interost, the wenvors lanving been onc-linif driven batk ngain to tho fields by want of unaulacturing amplorg mont. The effect, in fact, of Sir itolert leel's ineasure will bo to prevent all progress in manufneturing, and veduce the whole of the interests of the conntry into a narrowsr eompass, in which, in the way I liare pointed out, agrioulture will loom the largent, not be-tion of this, wanter by ang leng poriod, olinquered by adversity nud prosperity, the polinerionn Leiguo, of which the fillowing in the charac-ter:-"During a long porlod, chnqueced by adversity nud prosperity, the people of this oolony havo, In wne, ralioiod round the fing of their forefithers, and in peaoo have ondoavoured to oomont the mulun with thoir fiatierhimb by the stromgest ties of amity and interest. In return fur this ilerotlon, the British Government has long extended to the oolony n oommorcinl preference lin lier inarkebs.

 oolony beoamo nlmost unesamplal, under tho fistering Influence of a wise imperial legislation. But unhappily for Great britaln, an empiro whoso colonies ner the atrong aria of hor power-sho has recently eponed lier ports to foreign mations, inpon equal terins wleh her colotios i thas virtunily excluading us fromi hor markots, by throwing us into a ruinous compotition with thoye to whom hor porta are moro immediatcly nud ehonply nccesnibie. In her promulgation if tree trade prinejples, shat has lost sight of the intereats of her colomice with the (rain ? rew of orng tron all ma The new policy of the empire has recently produced lts inevituble rcoulas. Unproteeted by an ndequate tariff, wo have eontlinued to consume a vast amnint of british mnnufuctures; while our pruluce-atio principul source upon which wo rely for thelr puymenthas raroly entered the English marisets, exceptint $n$ sacrilice. The reault has been a monstary: prresure, extensive bankruptey, and general distre Irelaul, tho, looks on Peel ns n man with his thraat cut* would do an the perpetrator who coulil unblushingly stop to npostrophise his motives; bit, say Peel's priends, spo tho great gtatesman about ol leal on a torlern hope for Ireland! see him, wo repiy, liaving and by n petitio geting the phblic to subseribe for hin fatherless hamily ' 'the Timps comes to the nid ut the bold men of diberdeens. feel ablo to hope that, by way of resouing good not ( catlon anil banlahmeut of the presont prophletors, it is like the cholern, if, an has been said, it eomuenees whero nutural discasee ond than allaying the morbidity, so ns to allow hature to work its own eure, which it always loes (when once the merbid excitement is nilayed) if suffleient stanuna in tho constitution remains; bat Sir Rolject's plan would remevo whatover staninn remalne in Irelanil, lenving only the nlien church as a onbat runove on an cmaciated raprisess rawk; and I never cenn believe that nuy miniatry or man can have elther the power of the will to ridiss leland out of tho wretehed condition it is in without first antempting to remove, nad suecceding in removing, Ireland's ucclesiastical tumour. But evon if the whole as wio of thio Iriels Chureh were dovoted ns I would wish to ragged geheels (to teach roading, writiug, arithmetic, ind trades, len: w, tho religion of the elilddera to thole churches and guavilans), I yet believo that prosperity would be impossiblo, as the whols as cais on hipe of limitau and If left in such hands as Peel's. Morv phrasomongers, and men who have to appeal beyond their measarea for their motiven, wilif no longer do for lreland. It now becomes vory apparent that if lrelant was Peel's chiaf diffeulty, the Ex-premier lias, in a far higher sonse, been Ireland's chief difioulty; nnt ns to his motives let us geo what Lovd Anglowey says. (Sce Lord Anglesey's letter to Lord Cloncurry, dated Rome, 28th January, 1835:)-"I do not quite see into the atate of aftiuirs, but it appenra to me that. take what riew you will of them, they nre frightful. Cnil the I'eel and Wellington Goverament stand ? am sure it ooght not: and if there be common bonesty and fair douling in man it will not. Dut ean any one count upon honeaty and fair denling in these days 9 I think net. I atrongly suspeet whint are ealled the modernte Whiga. I have no faith in thein. I believe that in gencral they aro frightened, and only ghow liberalisin as long as the tide runs that way, and as it turns (if turn it do) they will flont back with it. Nelther have I any faith in the ultri-'Tarics. I suspect that a great part of them, with a view to office, or at all events to retainlng in offico mon who, upon the wholo, the like better, and believe themsclies to be salice in the hanes of than tho honest Liberals; that with a view to proserving in power, I say, tho presont leaders, they will ancrifico nill their prineiples, and eat all thele worls, and vote through thick and thin for retirm-ay, even for Churol reform. Lere, then, if 1 be vijglit, will be a tolerablo equipoise of basenoss, and thus Peel and Wellington will continne to loold the roins, and, with a bad grace, give all the reforms that were in contemplation by tho last Gevernment, and which, if my voieo had bsen attended to, would, as furs ne tho Irish Church is onncorned, linvo been set smoolh three yoars ago. and sure finve no mutucement to take any parn mexpess a wish that I should, in the cvent of $n$ eliango. again reindi. nnd uncenerously goented both ly friends and foes, nuil I do not sea wo in either situntion? it ling been my fato to happy by eithcr. The truth is, I have not tho oapacity for neting with men who ave recourse to tricik nnid duplicity, I have Independent thought : and if I go I must go my own way. I eeald and therefore I did net mult my employer and omployers: generally.:

It is but too true that the British Govarnment has been pract:cally the worst oonsible goverrment in Ireland and the Coleniea,
*With lem rhan half Great Britain's popnlation, Ireland has nbout as many souls dependent on agrioulture ; and the Dablis Evening Mail thas deseribos the condition of Ireland-"' She is andene-Irritrievab'y unduno. Fiee Trade, then, in corn and provitions, is progressive ruin to Great Britain-to Ireland it is andden and untimely death."
becanae overything eleg has alwnys heen sacrificed to the building up nf an allew entablished churoh. Tha inhabiants agree entirels upon the lagitimafe ohjeots for which government ls wanted, but the chureh guention proventa their cordinl co-operatlon-for Intance, with the following vlewn in Mr Butt's appeal to the conetiturney of Cork ientirely comeur, thoes being the antipolen of Pect' ar any more than he eouintely profor a rood Romian Cathalio to a bad Proteutant. Mr Ruth asys-"I have formed deelifed and dolibernte convietions, that to seenire the linbowring mppuintion the greatest anount of comfort, and to the country the greateat amount of production, profection to native Industry is indinpensilile. I acted on these views aine yeam ayo when itook part in a voluntary novemiont to ainataln out native mannfootures. I liave scen no rennon to change my opinions, and am therefore opposed, eapeolaily in the case of Iriah interests, to the Indiseriminate applieatien of what are termed prineiples of Free Trale. I am colivinced, that for a country like Ireland, a protection to all home industry in emaential in lea progreme in properity at the time of the unlon, ana for many years after, there wore flouriahing mannfactires and an employeriand mappy pormation, in many of tho diatrlote of yous county and eity, that are new ateepod in porerty. Why i becaume an Iriwh parliament had impoeed protecting dutles upon these manitiotures, while aftewnrdn were taken away. I will vete for the foteterng of home industry and reasonahle protection. I will rota for it for ail branelics of induatry nine I have seen with indi nation thin noble lajand reduoed to micery and desay-I have seeb lim.

The fnot is that in our politica In Great Britain and lreland, no less than In the European countries in rerolt, we are being tanght that thore la anvernment of the afinirs of chin worid superior to that of statecmien. We sce that a wrong prinolple can-et up in this country will not opernte practical philanilirony, it onn, (iike tie continentai roynities), only exiat till thic evils it oceationa become intolepable. The mont cliaritablu view that can be taken of Sir H. Peel is to suppose that ho know how degrailed the operatinn of hia monetnry law had made the mamen in thin country, to that our population would never hare "acen" tho truch till they "feit" it, and could never have been perxuaded that olieapnees is oniy a biesaing on condition that the labourer is able to pay In his iahour (the onig thing he han to pay with), or, in other words, is minly emploged by the growem of the brendstuma he onts, If he bo a manufacturing artiean, or by the furnishers of him clothing and implementa, if he be an agrjoultural jabourer. Thus (wo may suppose It Junt posible), that Prel may have thought that poltien discontent and convulajon might temporarily be staved off by bil ennre-thus giving mahe-shif goverminent another chanoe. If he could have, in 1845, foreacen the continental revolutiona of 1848. hia ense would be all the better ; but to nttribute any far-ajghtedrem to the puny atateamen we now have, would, in my opinion, be very absurd, Onr Free Trade, howeyer, lins hac. ite "mlaalon" In lenving bad subjeetis without grounds of agitnilon: we may allow this, and yot nee that our no-called F'ree Trade must still have Its natural and necesary reaults. If (na lappose It nust) it diminiahes employment, it will noonor, or Inter, caune wide-spread atarvation, not in one, but in every closs, and this, without any dinloyalty to the novereign, must fnd either in revolution, or in the repudiailon of 'government by throry, or palltienj economy. I showed all thio to Lord Georgo Bentinek enrly in 1840, in Cavendish Squaro. My words woro nearly an foliows. These I rameinber the better that I afterwamis innerted them in a atatement of viows consldered by me caential to the triamph of a Nativo Industry party :-" Fiven if your Lordahlp and Mr Lispaeli, and nil the members of both houses of Papilament, and all the people in the cone at their baok, were to go orer to the 18 hige as sirl free trade-only free importa-freedom, in fact, to furelgn, but not to Brition labour But that the Protectioniots can come into power now ecems quite out of the queation. The thorongh reformation of the Irich Eeclealastical nolasnee, must bo a preIndo to onr truatlag a clanat of men who, though dintinguinhed for their persomal honour, are equally dintinguinhed for tholr Church Toryimm. The Church will no longer be permitted to rulo this oolintry in the name of the Governmont. The lieforma. tion of the Irish Chureb in imperatively ealied for, na n prolude to the unprojudieed diccumaion of the queation of labour, or of the fuls employment of the country'e induatry, that grent intereat which now must alone be legiajated for, as seen to farolve the stabillty nf ail that we hold sacred-the happineen of the people, the Crown and the national oredit; but it is alse required as a prelude to the negensary social ameliarations in Jreland, the condition of whioh country la a diagrace to the emplre. The other Estahlished Churchen may be defended an matters of circumintanee, but the Irish one, as now conatleuted, oannot. Some good men within tit have been able to do a little good, in apite of the degrading sytem of which thoy are a part. But let us masities whloh their exclusive syatem has erented, generally ending in the fonleat batohorien by Christinas of their fellow.Chris. tians. The whole revenues of the Jrish Clinceh will probabiy linve to be devinted to the endowment of a great lrish Poor Law, charity being the mnly roligious duty in which the formor and present foesensora of them consolentiously agree (the State guaranteeing an equitable provinion for the prement incumbents for (ifo i) of omuree, if wo ceuld get the whole or half for tagged sohoniu, no much the better. Relisions inequality banished from Ireland, the law may, and will be vindionted ; for murder will then have none of those thounand excuses, which the present ramified syatem of oppreseion le dally oreatling. Tho foregoling seems our duty, oven if wo could not expect in our day, to nee the blessinge of oven a good syatem of law appreciated by a nation of men so dead to erery feeline of nationil independence, an to have quietly eubmitted so long to have a churoh so unlike Ireland in its extravagance, and otherwise no palpably unadapled to the coantry, forced on them, oven If it were the bent ohurch on enith. I would, however, feel very confident, that an inmediately gool effeot wonld flow, from the genorous treatment men abrond, to believe, that, if in lreland we invent them with all the privileges of British subjeote, they will be prepared and forward to; perform all their dutiet with alnerity. In auch ense, how soon the scene woald ohange! Ire and bocoming an outlet for British mannfhoturing labour, such as no forcign countiz can present, and in every thing the ornament and boast of tho empire, inatead of, an at present, Its canse of ahame." l.ord George Bentinek kirw that 1 had strack the fint blow for Iord Metcalfe In Upper Canada, when colonial public opinion ran as atrong in favour of hin retirel miniaters (the anme to whom Lord Elgin has suceumbed) as British priblio opinion was made to appear to be in favour of Corn Law Repeal; but hin lordohip was aleo aware that I had in similar language to the foregoing, always pointed ont to Lord Metcalfo, that [thowsh we were cortain to tripmph at the moment, our onuse beling nelther more nor less than that of British conneetinn] the trus friends of Great Britain oonid not poseihly have a permanent trimmph, because churoh questionn aplit them up. The minietry who deserted Lord Motcalfe, in the vain attempt to ooerce that rent man, and to make the Britinh Government the mere tool of a parlamentary omnipotence in Canada, were supported aftorwards, not becanse they (or most of them) were rebels, bat beeames, oven as rebola, they were proferred to Chnroh Tories ; and, I believo that both Canada and Ireland hare to endure anti-British Government, and haro in a word been breught into tho atatce they now are (very aimilar to each other, in many respect, ) because stateamen cannot bo fonnd fodopendent enough to do awny wilf Eeolesiastical Inequaltiten. Lord Geerge Bentinck, however, instend of potting down tho English Choroh in Irelnnd, would havo andowed the Cathollics, and, had he got power at once, his career would have been a short and a not rery popular one, probably doing more harm than good to the eause of Britinh industry, as associating ft with Choroh Toryimm bat my antioipatlou was that he woald have left publio life (for a whilo, at least, ) as abruptly as he onter It. My fond hope, however, was that he would hare oen called ior by public opinion some yenrs afterwnrds, and that, in the mean time, he would have got conivinced las lexplained is the anbjoined sketch, 1 that all muat be sacrificed to the safety of a protestant throne, and thas have been prepared to head tho Lathe anbjoine gainet the Money-power of the rountry, at the leader of a new parts of Social Eeomomintu.
 O above as it appeared at the time in the Glasgow Examinor.

In Lord George Bentinck, second non of the present Dhite of Portiand, and nephew of the distinguiabed nobleman who lataly ropresented the city of Giangow, the country hase loat its mont promising stateaman, and a perfoetly bonest man. Hnmanlyspeaking no man could be a greater lose to the empirt at this moment, for the great drawbook to hio lordohip, his morbid attachment to Lord Stainley, could not, in such a mind-the very soul of honour-have ontlived the conviction that his noble and maeh admlred friend hat only the talents of a parliamentary gladiator, wanting the jndgrent which entitlee a man to bo called in the true senge a atateorman. Lord George's popnlarity, joined to Lord Staniey's infinence, would probably have given them the relbe of government for ashort period as saccessorn to the present ministry; but soon Lord Stanloy't incapmoity as a general or chief would have become as much a matter of notoriety; as is his unfitness for the businew of a department of the porermmont. It wha at thlo point we expected Lord George Beatinck to beceme emphaticslly the maN oz tue propin. Into hic ablor and botter hands-anoh wae our fond hope -the government must have come, for before Peel can araln have a party be must have prinolples, and the Wriga' facapacity ie
 George bentinck -as the honest man we beliove him to have beso-muit, in the counctry's oxtrumity, have rieen with the ciroum-

My enjaying the cenfldenee of lord Mataalfo the ddus AeAntes In India of his anele, Lord William Ilentingk, Was the cames ot my incereourme with lord Georgo lbentlnek being unrestralued by the pooniblility of donbt me to the oljects 1 would recommend boins modernte and practionl, although so often olothed by my Indlgnation In violont language. At our first meethig I pointed out to cutional, thuat (If we would provint unfortunate leginiatlon beonming a oause of revolution) fond to the reaponalbility of our Leepis lative Aeta being tranaforred to the eillire people, beennue omnipotence may beoomo syranny, which could only anfuly be oxerofed hy prinolyala. Anil I expreaned to hila loordghip iny opininn that l'sel'm unprinelpled couras would be fatal to fenuso the alteracten of) every Institution in the conntry, exeept the erown, diatinctions hitherto valuable beenuse regulatell by prinelple bolng now a

 muand to pite plepginution

Indeed, to my minil. It never nppenred that tho permnnently finportant quentlon was as to whether it was a right or a wreen thing, per se, elint J'eel didin 1810. IIis limpolley, however great, appenva to mie to atand, In reintion to hila repudiation of moen alnd conatitutional princlple. Junt as n misfortune does to a crins, I myself, for inatance, anin opposed to Eatablishod Churohoe, ovea denco in the Crown nuil law of the l,anll : but plyartiality to any cinas of her Minjestys sulycets an impedimont to gonein we

 me to bo the duty of a mininter rather to try to and cridence in favour nf a reapeotnble oxistency: and a state of thinge dom ane deacrve the mamo of constitutlounl of of mornl, unlens it in one in which n Grent Interent can repose with even more safoty in the hands of its avowed enemy, acelng that he, as an hanouruble man, woula require tho greater evidoneo for ita overthrow, to leare alindow of a nimploion, even in hin own mind, that hiln permonal prediloetlons had influenced his oonduct as a publlo man.

The roverno of the pleture is $n$ very humbing one. Behold the constituencius of the empire, atanding in the poasitlon of truatee of tho entire peoplo, ompinylig, an ogent under the trust, the man of Tramworth, who lmmediately turna round and repudiates all obilgntlon to abide by the torins of the truat deal, or evon to net on nny prinelple whatover! And what are we to think of our contemptible trustees in suhbiltting thus to ho builled i What are wo to think of tho bonourr of our constituenelen In dolegating, by thait er post factu assont to l'oul's conduet, an omnlpotenco or arbltrary power to parinmont which hiey had not to glve! My own piew lins always been that wo have in this transaction mogross a violation of our Jegiviative constitution na to nimount (whatover may have lieen l'eel's intentlon at the time) to $n$ virtual abdlentlon hy tho prenent eonstitnencles. Dut tho lmmedlato importance ef thit ane.
 as teniling to lessen inatend of to liorenso the employmont of our massen, at hoine, nt sea, and In tho eulonies-lius eontnining is it the seeds of lievolintion, holls nt home and in our lureign dependenoies, whother dune oonstitutionaliy or unconatifutionaliy.

In a worl, two groat ohjecta prosent themselvos to Britinit kulijeots-lat, viowing Britain in the isolinted and aimplo ifglit of a come Iri. Lo save glarlous, and eommanding empire, the tristoo of liberty and progress, to preqerve its iulogrity, Tho second of theso oljects eas not be nttnined exoupt by linving, pueniliar privilogos to bextow ont, na wo reyniro peoular dution of, our Colonial fellow-subjeots but the fivat may be otherwlee nitnined, nt lenst in a great dogree-vin., by our ndoption of paper money as the legal tender. There must bo a different value atterbuted to money to be exported than ivo sllow to money remaininy here to vivify our ouga indusfy which oan only be done by pormitting gold to rise, under the law of supply and domand, like all other commoilitios; and we need ant wait, boforo issuing poper money, to garrel over what security to give the pablit for the paperodesuen to be made a legod tender, for twenty milllons of papor pounda, tho evidoncea of the deposit of twenty millions in tho vaules of tho Government, or Hank of Englinn I, will clepresiato, or in more correct phenao permit gold to appreviate, quite as well as in moro rational, because leme expensive, machinery of paper maney. Our great practical dithoulcy is the nobleness of our objeot -80 degraded and hatastering are the statesmen of tho present day, The movemont for F.mblematio monoy (ax opposod to conntors ambodying in themselucs intringes value) is a movoment in ennstitutional, not in party or merconary, polities ; and our objooks mro high and diainterestod compared so those of a mero party atruggle. We desiro tho cetabliehment of a grent principle, and have lof our ranks mon who on the merely loenl or banding question take difforent sideg-jast as all Proteatant or Biblo Cliristiane may unite in a movernent lor a l'antuarant mandments than for tho 4th), allhough thoy may bo aplit up into two partiea ns to whother a Church bistablishmene is a lilesmeng or ath evil in our particutar circumatances. Linblomatio money, me tho gront machinory for securing national industry its full derelopement, and thus omploying the massos, will come to bo aeen to be ne neceseary to the woll-being of ovory country's industery ace a stances enlling for nn extrome course. ITo must linve given to the winds all aplit atraws of opinion, and offered the hanas a follewship to overy minn with the heart of a patriot. Will you support the British crown and a Protestant succession? Will yau hold with me thint the greatest and beat paid omployment of our own warklng-elassos shall hereafter be the great constitutional question aad aecurlty of our times ? Those nre tho two elomenta of opinion out of which we looked to ace Lord George Bentinck form the greateete and moat onduring, beeauso tho most nobly patriotic political superstruotrie the world over anw. We trusted thint it was he whe should bave been tho proper instrument of oxtricating our nation, and anving it from our faotiona. We eonld not, Indeed, agree with all his views as he avowed thom, but wo lald this to the ohivalrous way he followed Lord Stanley as his lender. And, obsorving Elate the meeting nf the churchmon in parliament, which nominnlly disenrded Lord George as leader in the Ilouso of Commons, on acecount of his Jew rote, was held at Lord Stanley's house, in thie we oaw the fist ray of hope of the final separntion of oninds to tutequally yoked. Wo are tinaware how fur tho alienation betweun their lordohips had proceered, but we fcel certain that the apell thre bound Lord George was broken, and that the utter ulianation of o great from a little mind could only lanve been a sliort matter es time. We have oupposed it poseiblo that ther miglt bave sat together in one ministry, and that a very short lived ono. and folt sure that one short trial is all the country wantu of Lord Stanley. Tho Stanley ministry past, we hoped to soo a purely Bentidel or "native industry" administration, one that, disdaining to dwindle its resourcos in party struggles, would throw itself for aoppar on tho entire domocracy of the conntry, on the princlple of allogianoe only to tho throne. And had a pure-minded man, like lare Georgo Bentinok, of the highest rank, with the greateat firmncss and ability, adopted auch a course, who can doubt lia sucaese owho can doubt, what io far better, that n olass of politios, whose alpha and omega wero the elevation into men first, and then late Christians of our now wretehed masises, deserved success? Thus it is that, with bitter and deep regret, we lament the prematars decease of ono of the noblest of the British people, In every sense of tho word. The memory of Lord George Bantingk in one whictre wll for ever be green wlth the taurels of hif country's beat and warmest affections. In common with nearly the ontire country, (this whas to appear in a liberal paper, wo at ono period believed bim wrong in his almost superhuman oxertions to inpress on tho community that Sir Robert Peol had not Introduced Frue Trade, but only frce imports. But, howevor opposod to thio inoans by whicte Lodd George Bentinck would attain the prosperity of this great eonntry, no onc ever doubted that such was his pure nidd lofty purpose. Lord George Bentinck neror doubted (even in what he considered the country's darkost day) that the British empine las gos pithin itself more elements of creatnise and prosperity than this or any other country evor before posseased if only they could be teduced from thetr present itato of ohaos by some matcr pind Such a mind was his own, aithough Lori Goorco soterlatio modesty made it his uncenieing rearet that there had not been tound n better man than himsoll' to fight the batcles of his country's working elasees. With all the ndvantages of enrly political training nvailed of by Sir Itobert l'eel and Lord John Rameell we ourselves have no doaltt thant the smbject of our prosent notico would havo been immeasurably their superior as a fino Britiah char aoter and statesinn. And by men of all partices and all ulades of opinion, he will, at least, be allowed to have bson one of our gineent examples of the " Jubrume er fexacrin propoertit vinus.

But it will not do for the friends of native indostry and monetary reform to dwell too long on the heavy loss we linvo sustained in the death of a friend of the people, an commanding at onco in his olaracter and praetienl talents. Whatever our instrumentis to. wo aust carry our purpose, or a revolution must sood be the consequence of diminished wagea nind lessened employment. If all the ntatesmen, bieked by all the electors in the country, were on one aide, thoy could not make our ond-sided. Freo railo to work. Many of the protectionists-spanicl-like, fawning the more they are kidked. - nre arready declaring that no man is fert for them to follow fant tained otherwle than throngh tho mיang of a completely new organisation in politics pheman who latoly Humaniy npenking, atteohment to Lord true sonse a mtateos of government for ould have become as point we expected Thisg' isoapnoity in with the dirogm culficiency of pure sir la to the healthy setion of the Jongs." In faet, paper monoy, perfoetly soeured, and above suspiolen, la m mueli a coniliflon of cend and imparifin goverament as ls the great prineiplo of equal juatice to the poor man as to the rioli i and the conueht a coniliton of Sorias Econosinta whlch we would form, to prevent this cenntry bolog ulterly rulined by the theorion of the politionl

 -1 Irrectprocni $r$ ree 1 race ani a eumstanres thnn any pephle ; and when a owheiout mupber of coneat and indeppodent. whinted mow eome to see thre, a great popular be dinne, hut 1 sec empire. Let ua oniy deciare the Coleniea Amerieans have their trado between Naw York and Callforila.j lot in which no foriga Froo 'Irade with our Coloniea, no dutice, except on nrtecon anion mothor oountry of

 in favour of countriea which will agree to free trade with our coluniem, and to reduce their tariff on fritiah gnode bo not more than is per ceut on tea (as we would have froe trmile with China, timi conntry only oharging 5 per cent, on Ifritiah goods) ; my idea, however, as wil be seen from the following writinga, has inng been that fisenfalieratlons of a rar more revolutlonary nature ape due to tho eountry'o following quotalinn from my lolter to the Olaegow Examfuer of 25th May, 1818 ,-
"I ako begin to have my eyes opened to the aboolute and immediate mecesoity of separating ithe mamagoment of sho natlonal disbe from the ofles of Chancellor of Ereheguer (thue deelaring that the renlioed propory of the evuniry fo alone bound for and proseme to to be paid by the proporty of the eountry, Commiontoters of the National Dres wowld thus have to pay the miterest by levying a haff por com. on owlo cional Dabe ae the meaesre of the protectivn to native indurtry aforded by the comnery' property.

By de other meanm than thus retting the Einglioh money markel at deflanec, ean the fixod proporty and industry of thin oountry ever get represented by a great party in the Stato. A panyy mapazasmyazfy op harour (which in intercat is the aume as fixed property, an it is labour that given property its value), will of course, nover got the support of the money market; mo Britlah induatry must elther be contented to remaln unrepresentell (unprotected), or the nupport of the monoy market muat be voted, as abova, to bo ale tis Capulspa

Those who have atill doubts whether Peel's course neceovarily involree the revolutlonary changee whioh I Indionte, have not atudied our poiltion sufficiently. The combired ignorance, celfahnees, and oventual unpopularity of the fandlorda, bave boen Sir Rebert Peel' toole for offecting the dirty work of tho money market. Ignorant that io the long run the intereat of men with tixed property Is identical with every inseress in the community iut that of monoy, the landiorda betrayed the othur intereets of the oountry om pettiog thomeolven sceured, ins thoy valnly thought, againat a tali in agrioultural prieet. Coneelving that the sop glven them by the goting manket (the Corn BIII of 1815) lind permanently aecured the bigh or war pricen of corn, thoy wiaked at the monetary hereale whioh in 1810 were first attenupted; and thoy consummated thelr foolery in 1810 by emabling Peel to pase the currenoy law, whote objeot (they were told, wns to reduce wages and the prices of artifles in general of which thay wore purohacera and not sellors! Thit continued to be the nolfali polioy of the agriculturists, for in 1827 Slr Janes Grabam nays (page 10 of the pamphlot ous oorn and ousrency): "Aa a body up to thla moment they romain undecelved; for it is woli known that in thia last semsou they bargained with the Klog'a minlatera to anpport tha further contractinn of the currenoy, on condition that the goverament did not deatroy thoir monopoly by a repeal of the corn laws. It was not posilble to make a moro innprodont bargain; they conoeded a measuro whioh, wichout coliateral asfoguards, muat prove fital to thelr interesta; nid they recoivod, as the conaideration, on the preoarivus tenure of one year, the shadow of a benofit, in fact illusory by their own concession."

- It is impossible to perpetuate in thls country any leglalativo ensolment, the tendoney of which is to degrade and to Impoveriah the labouring elasses ; yet such in the decided efiect both of our precent Corn Lawa and of Mr l'eel'n Aot of 1810, unaccompanied by any adiustment of contraote, or adequate reduction of judireot Laxce. Tho paramount duty of every government is attention to the Infereste of the comnunity, of which the labourera must form the great majority; the righs of property ltelf in instituted for the rood, not of the few who possem wealth and honours, but of the many who have them not; If the majority be doeply lnjured, the pube

Then in 1840 Peel found, in the deserved uapopularlty of the landlords, an eflicient inatrument for oarrying through hia uapatriotlo dealgna gainat British Industry, for tho entice repeal of Sir It, I'eel's corn meaure of 1812 was not oarriod on itio own merfis but because Reform was resiated by the landlords, who, always a selfich and auperellious, had become a hated, clang.

All the really Britinh olasses lave a oertain onences of interest, (for if one of the logitimato intereats of the body poiltio of a counstury prospera, all the other members prospor with it :) and the case, therefore, would nof have beon no bad if any other section of the community, than the monerge intraker, had been jeft, through Peel and hin mon decerting to the Whigg the ong conatitutional party in the State, or the one represented interest in Parliament. Dat the money power had, by Sir R. Peela Bill of 1810, been made an alion olass, liaving lits interesta nt onmity, with thowe of the ixed property and induatry of the country. To ace thile olearly wo bare only to refloot that the export of gold, whioh is the vanteot of ovins to the propertied and induntrione olamecs, enhaneen this exchange abio valie of the money of the annultants and money mongers, through reducing wages and prioea of commoditien, while it raicee th rate of discount or Interoat whioh they charge to the commualty. Such are the atrong impremions on my mind, long turned to the philosophy of politics, whloh cansed my newapaper writings early in 1810 and aubequently (my reason for continulng theme beidg the amalliness of the minority in whloh tili lately my opinions have been]; and I may here repeat one of the carlient of these my warning bear pooullar burdens, by the romoval of all its peculiar privileges." I foel that in this general riow of Peel'a unprincipled and fatal gourno, I eannot do bettor than extract from Dr Liat's Das Inrinafrowasi Handar, t tho remaindor of the paragraph, part of whioh appoarts at the top of this, showing the rula whleb in the United States oniformly Fowed from far loes irrational Legiolation than oary in the direction of free importa. If the reaier will almo turn to the artiole hemded Cavaze or fan Reroly of fan Old Amzeioar Coconme, he will cee that the mout prominent canse of offence to our Trancatiantio fellow-mbleeots was our interference wlith thair local Currencles, whilo nevor failed to prosirute their induatry.

Some writer-oither Mr Taylor or Mr Jonathan Duncan, I thlak-likening mereantilo teanisotions to tho lunge, abows how folish is the fear of an oxocmive circulation of paper. The paper may oxint, ilke the sir, in anferabuadance, bat the meronntif lunge oan only put in motion the quantity they requiro-the quality or goodnose of the paper is ous only ancietr, juat as it is of the air wo breathe.
"It was In 1780 that the firat Amerioan Tariff was framed, impooing a trifing daty on the moet important articles of import. Trifing an the rate of the duty was, Itn effects on the prosperity of the conntry booame co manifcet, that Wauhington in his inessage (1791) already congratulated the dation on the flonrishling atate of manufacturea and agricultare. Encouraged by the success of the Irrat attempt, the Congrem rained, In 1804, the Import Duties to 15 per ceat., and in 1815 the mannfaotures of the Unlted States already employed (according to the Report of the Commeroial Committee to the Comgrome) 100,000 handr, and the annunl amount of the produce amonated to aixty million of dollarn, while the value of hand and the pricen of all sorte of goods, an aleo of wagen, rone to mo extraordinary degree. Alter the pesce of Ghent the Congrees doubied the rate of duty for the first year ; hut pressed by ther argumeote of the dieciplew of Free Trade, it lowered the carifi in 1816, after whleh the cinamitien of the period of 1780 to 1791 soon made their re-appearance, ris, rain of the manufacturern, valoolomanem of proinotione, and a fall in the value of landed pro-

I'eel nnd the Theorists, with the fheta before tham, seem Inoapalile of antloipating the enormons Inerence to Amorican Exports of hirlenitural produce which munt arles from the more anfo mail ohesp conveyance of it froin the interfor of the $tatea, oym driving away their subjeets more and moro. The following interoating factu, on this aubjeet, nre frovin the Times of Oth Sept., 1849 : -" A frut roport of some experiuents on the brend-stufis of tha United Statee, mails by l'rofeasor Beok for the governmast of Wathingtow, has juat beon publlahed, the objeet having boon to swertain how tho intrlnalo value of the varlous kind of grain may be determined, their infury gunrded againat, and thelr adultarations deteoteil. The aggregate ameunt of grain oonrertible into suppased to be about 100 mililona of bunleoly, and it in to whoat anil wiseat-thour that tho prosent report is conilnod, With rogard to the ainount of water enntained in the varloum morte, the results ohtalned by Prufusoor liosk give 10 to 20 per eont. for Alsatian, 16 to 17 per cent. for Eingliah, 12 to 14 ger cent, for Amorloan, and y to 11 per cont. for Afriean and Sicilian. In relation to the amount of gliten in varieus anmplen of four from diferent parts of the United Staten and Lurope, the preference in awardod to the Kubankn varlety, frem the nouth of Ituma. On the anbloes of lose by the presenes of molature, from want of due preautions, is flour, and that In every yenr the total low la tho United States frous molature in wheat and flour ha estimatod at from $83,000,000$ to $85,000,000$

But, that Sir Robert I'eel made a Poarflul blunder in ansuming that Engllah ngrioulture oan succensfully eompete with the agrieulture of Anieriea, onnnot he bettor showa than by the following axtract from thio paniyhlot of tho liononrable Abbot Law. rence, nlrealy roferced to. That exporlonoed and praotioal shaterman shows that it is Pain opon for tho Old or Atlantlo Staten of Amerien, to attempt to nompete in agrioulture with the vip in siiln of thoir own co:sntry, bejoill the Iliver Ohio. Ilis oljoet was, when lie wrote, (in 1813,) to illrect the energion of his friendin in Virgindic to flelda of entorprize in which sucoosh coulil reasonably bo expreted :-" The nottloument and dovelopment of the resourceps of the Western country, have brought luto exintoneo an aotive and eflectinal competition with your people, lu tho grent staples of your agrioultural produoth, namoly, Whoni, fiulian Copn and Tobnooe.
 Indlana, Illibois, Mismourl, Miohlgan, WlaoonsIn and lowa Tho Uront Wost ls now supplylug largely tho Now Kingland and other siden. The linternal improvem nits of tho oountry already finishod, liave brought basting, by atean, within the distance of four days travel of C'inelnantl, Ly way of Buff.lo ; and n contemplated ralirond from Burjlagton, Vurmont, to Ogdonsburgh, New York, will bring in practically yet nenrer to thene fertile reglons of the Wext. The expense of tranaportation is easentlally ruduced wherevor ralirwads or ennals hare been conatrueted, and even the Miswissippl hermelf boarn duwn upon her bosom the produots of tho Wuat, at linve brought us Thobaceo, Indian © ©orn, Flour, Cotton, Beef, Pork, Lard, lead, de., nimounting in the aggregato to many milliona former tinew, were almost exelusively from Virglnla, Nurth Cavolins nal Maryland, Can you expeet to compote sucoesafully with the Wentern reglons of our country, where, without much labour, tus soll phouvcks novile, and momerimi: xver noak, 70 tise achas, than the average crops of the inst-minoitlened Staten ?"

And even If we, an a nation, were in ciroumstancen to saoriflee our agrloulturists, It is olear that Peol's unprinelpled conrwo will be fatal to every lintereat in tho country, by upsothing the mancy market and dolig away with our banking system, tho linport of erala being nily nother term for the nbatrnction of our papor as well an our metal cireulaton. In the ease of Virginin, alluded to above a follover of Alam Suith, why did he ropent the Navigation Laive ? Alit why doos lio not moe tho ndranture of llome and Colunlal over Furoign 'lyate, ns stnted hy Suith " The eaplan whleh is emplayed ln purehaslug In one part of the ecouthy, lu order to employed in the ngriculture or unnufacturen of that country, and theroly eanblen then to continuo tint emplaymont.

The eaplat which sonis Souteh manufacturen to Landon, anil bringe buek binglish corn nad mabufactures to Eilnburgh, necossarily replaces hy every suelh operathon two Britlsh eapitnit which had both been euployed fin tho agileuiture and manulactures of Oroal oratlon only ono Brittish oapital. The other is a l'urtugnesa one pho figet ls, that Peol and Cohitan preplaces by every such oporatlon only one British oapital. The other is a l'urtuguese one. "The fact ls, that Puel and Cob.len have only followed Adams smith in eurory which so sinewd a inan wonli not have committed had he ived in bur day, Adam Simith oldhor poee aftor realing the following from his "Wualth of Nations," that he would have heen the nipoente ot any syatom whieh dirvolly of pens to be either favourable or nnfavoirable, necessarily oogisiuns the prosperity or decay of overy nation. 'this is tho bainuce of the nunual produce nuid cousumpton. If the exchangeable value of the annital proihuee, it has already been obsorved, "xoeeds that of tho annual consumptlon, the capital of the socicty must annuilly lnerease in prop irtlen to this excesi. 'Tho sooluty in thila oase dives within its revenue, and what is annually anved out of its rovonus is naturally aldsd to its enpital, nud emplayed bo as to increnso still further the annual produee. If the exchangeable value of the anumal produce, ous the contriary inil short of the anuual consumption, the eapital of tho society must annually decay in propertion to the duilciency. The expense of the society in this oase oxeceds its revenue, nnd necessarily oneroaches upon ita oapitnl: its eapital, therelure, must neopssarily decey, nud, together with it the exchangeable value of the auminl produco of its Industry." Mr Fox, the lato lord Groy, Durke, and sheridan, wore deeldedly opposed to the delasive theorien of lires 'Irade. 'Thin in ndmitted la the Edinburgh Review ot Januny, 1840. "We must in candour admit and fament that thome maxims of policy-taught by D. Adan Smith, which blad natlons together by tho reolprocal benuflia of commeree [there is ne reciproelty-le. B.] produced leas elfeot on the minds of the Whis Juadurs than on that of Shr l'itt.

In fact, all the vital interests of this country require (oven the safety of the state requires) the proteotion of nativo industry; lat Throngh anch a radieal elunge of the Money Law as will romove our home trado beyond the inluenee of any disturbaneo to our in termat curreney, towiog from the forcign trado being able to demand gold at the fureigo, not the British, price; 2d, Th ough the imposition, withut deliy of a tlxd duty on corn when the prico is ander tüs. the quarter, with muderate datles on all other articles, execpting eotton iop the preaunt. And those who doubt that wo are on the ove of great constitutional ohanges, for whioh we sball have to thank Sit LI. I'eel's deviation from principle, have to consldor whethor Parliayent as yow constitutad belug ropro-sentatives of, or under the inilucuse of, the money market, can bo expected thue (by tho measnyes indiented) to raiso the prive of labnur and commoilities, nud proportionably reduce the exchnusoablo valuo of eheir articlo, money. #litherto ecrtalnly the monetary bnttle lias nlways been lust hy thu selfalinesa of the "anowno ones" in Parliminont. Tlie "dodge," to ueo Mr Cebden's clogant phras:, has been to confuse or mingle it up with tho banking quarrel, with which it has no necessary connection. I explained this as Collows in my evirmmiention to the Glasjow Examiner of 12th Angust, 1848 :-

We have always srell clearly that Sir Rokert Peel must of necessity have temporarily a triumph over his present opponenta in parliament on the question of Money, beenuae their ignoraneo nad want of prnctical exporience of the countrys trade and other解 1814 only, instend of on tho bill of 1810 . The bill of 134 had gurstion whether the councry tas ate nerty. After the conntry had thus ngain, during the scoond wne, enjoyed the blessings of pence, it once more cxperjenced all the oreviots evils nfter the conclusion of peace, when a great infux of manufactures ngain took place, and these evila of penco wore ven greater than those caused by the devastntions of way. It was only in lez that the congress snive che oxpedienoy of, and ro tate of the industrini classeg of the United States at last compelled the Conyress to raise the tarifl' in 1828, whleh rae owever, inodica in Bill was the importation into tho United She or was the importation into tho United States of such onormous quantitics of Enghinh manufictures as tutnily to destroy the bnameo ecovered, despite the revision of the tariff in 1840. All this plainly shows the neecssity of not nllowiog tho imports of a country to xeed the Exports, or, in short, of keeping continually in sight tho Balanee of Trade.'

Peol should (to attain to siopple an object) preeeat the eatablishmant of new banke, Wo may think It prepoaterous that the old mank of issuo should not be allowred in 1848 to inereass their iasue of bank notee, as compared to their oirculation in i84t, In the mane proportion (if they found they conld do so) as their pald-up capital in 1848 had increaped ou compared to thair pald-up capital in 184: and we may ridicule a principle whieh dooma the commereial transaotions of 1044 to be meanared by the game vofame of cirmating medium as those of 1844. And, as regarde Scotiand, we have an obvouis right to compiain that Bank of Eingland notisa are not elegal tender here, nt our bank counters, since the banks in cogiand enjoy this priviepe, All theme are Indubitable, buculuse practieal, evils, and the eountry would not long rest satisned wionow a romedy of then, fis wore not at annio thme very elear that our rocent distresses arising from the threatened saport of gold. Situated as we were from Ootolior, 1840 , till May, 1817 , nas evin ovanssoy

The rise of gold aliould ne longer lead te the rise of money, but should be shown directly by the priee of gold riaing when through its being lo demand as a ommodity for export its value has risen (anatead of thia incroatod value being exprensed in the dishonest, indireot modes of a rise in the rate of interest, of money, and a fall in wages and commoiltion). Than the forelgnor wuild, nt suoh thmes as our markets stand in nced of bis article ask for his commodity just oo mweh more prioe an boubd gield him tho tame suelghe of gold, (thus we show the prejudice, that 'this plan would interfere with forelgn trade' to be without fuundation), while at times Then our markets den't stand in need of the partieular artiele of foreipn produce the foroigner could not, ol' courmo, reoover the tull premium on gold, which would be a thing indieated by tho geveral demand for gold. Our rate of wages would be good, as on a par with good and uniforme employmene which would no longer be dimininhed by the obbe and flowa ol'forelgn trade. wery our bank note clrculation no longer affected by the low price of gold, cemparcd to labour, loading to lts exportation lnutead of British labour to pay foreigners. If addressing only our Glasgow readern, we might not feol it necemary to amplify at sueh length enr proofs, that cheap gold becomes an equivalent term for dear money, and ni a consequenco luve luages, the nument that gold gcts into demand as a commodity for export, which ccours wheaever prices of British commoditles becomu remunerative or dearer to the fareigner than $£ 317 \mathrm{~s} .10 \mathrm{id}$ per ex.

At present our paper as inereasing the amount of neney, and in tho samo ratlo inoreasing tho demand, and arasuently the price for labour and commodities, appears at frst sight greatly to allevinte the effeot of the bill of 1810 or the fixed Cold Standırdwhich has for its olject to reduce the price of British commoditics and labour by making moncy rlear, (this being a convertible terin for making gold cheap nominally, and at the samo time making British commodities and wages low or worthless in exchanyeable tialue.) But this lappy and natural influenee of paper monoy, as old Sir Robert Lad bualness knowledge onough to gee Inevicable, is nearly altogether lust to the lindustry of this ceuntry lyy the malign influence whloh Sir Robert I'cel'n monetary leglalatlon oauses eur' Foreign I'rade to exert as the dietator er regulator of prices, and consequently of wagca, and as tho grrcat lensener of employment through leseening the circulating medium. It is only, therefore, which prieea are down to a rulnous lovol- which unfortunately they usually are wnder Heel's systim-that the $r$ mark of thic Economist holds true that the forelgn trade la now carried en practlenlly in the same

 tary Reformers, is to do away the influence of the foreign Exclanges on the elrculating modum, whilo it will prevent the price of
 -being as it present not permitted to riso uhove the level of the low foreigu price of $£ 317 \mathrm{~s} 10 \mathrm{H} 1$ per ounou for standard gold. We sea - being as at prow perfeet canfideoce in the locnl bank notes-the ehief object ef Sir R R. I'cel's bill of $184 t$ wan to scoure them, and in whleh he has perfect canfideoce in the loenl bank notes-the ehief object ef Sir R. Pel's bill of $184 t$ wan to acouro them, and in whleh he has suoceeded; 2 d and 3 d . Cemmercial confldence must also be impossible cither when tho lank, as must alwaya be the ease under our new system of Free Ir ports, is aetually being clrained of gold as in 1847, or when thiore ls the nutioipation of a drain of our precious metals as at preseot ; and, ns it thus is evident that it is the assured presenee of a oertain amount of gold that is required, we thercfore propose, as nhove, to prevent the Bank of England parting with any more specie when its stoc: gots down to fourtern millions. It is ebvious that whes the Foreigu Exchunges get more agalnat us than this point Indlcates, tho ceuntry's industry is unnccessarily sacrificed, and our object is to save it, even though the moneyod olassea should sutfor from the absence of bad times, a high rote of discounts, and low prices and ucajes '-which are only different ways of expressing the same thing, the necessary effect of the l'eel principle of money. Let me repeat two sentonces from former nrtieles-" 'The remody for this stais of things is, that we make up our minds to retain jold only as the strurity of the bunk uutd chrculation, doing away twith gold as a standard of volue." And ognin, "The true principle of monetary science is only another way of erpressing the full employment.of our national industry free from the disturbance of any foreign or external infusuce." We must draw the line of demareation between foreign intevests and heme and British interests, otherwise-between tho eporation of the ountieting prineiples of Peel's Carrency bill of 1810, which hanga nill confidence and bank lacilitics on gold, and Jeel's F'reo limport Bill of 1840 , whioh givea away our gold to forcigners-the trade and inilustry of this country must bo ruined, and we shall have the most dreadful social convulsions. I now sulyoin, "as I promised, the eclebrated lotter of Sir R. 'eel's father, merely remarking that there is this evidence that the fither kuew nere abont Mener than the soa, that the petitlona to I'arliament of tho London Merchants and Bankers from 1793 to 1847 have been in substance the same as this ]etter, which indeed omboden the viowa ol alinost every practical man who lind studied the suljeet 1 have ever met with. Ihave always dispated the olalim of our oplienonta to be the Lalssezfaire" politieians. Our position is not that by legisgation the prosperits of a country oan alwayy bo meoured, ludeed our olject -as explained nbove-is not to introduce any new principle, but only to remove away the mal-lorishintion ol' 1810 , which has aubuerted country's independence of other countries, and rendered the permanent prosperity of our labouriug olasses in thing impossible.
It may not be gencrally understood that l'eel's father, when thus lustlly epposing his son'a menuure sald oll a publio oceasion that the Act of 1810 would add hali-a-million sterliag to his fortune; but such being the fuet, arlicles like the following, which I take from the London Standard, in answer to the Aberdeen demonstration, are nut to fo wondured at :-" Sir Rober" eliallenges any suspieion of his motives. Now this is hardly fair, but the challenge thrown down must be taken up at any rlak. Lord Grey, an able

- Sin Ronejt Plecis father to the 3 /emlers of loth Howses of Parliament.-Ny Lords nud Geutlonnon,-Will you periult an eld man to address you on the sinjeet of our Currency? I sat in Purliament thirty yeare, during whioh thine I freyueutly heard this important question discussed in the house by Mr l'itt, Mr Fox, and ether distinguished cliaiactera. On the passing of the Bank Restriction Aet, I was entrusted hy the merchants and eitizena of Lendon to presont thoir petition agalust the measure. Though my opinions were embotied in their ense, my best endeavours to servo them woro not anooensfu. flaving beon long and extensively engaged in cemmercial dealines, I often witaessed a national embarrassment arising liom a defuetive and lupure Currency, which resembled the present stagnation in trade ; and I lament to ebserve, that suffering and expollence lanvo tialied, in thia instanee, ef producing their usual gond effects. In the enlarged scalcoof business carried on liy this oountry, embraeing a great vuriety of pursuits, a rolinnce on a metallic cireulation alone crer did, and ever will finil us. Guld, though In ituelf masky, oltundisappeara in consequence of war or speculation-may, the breath of rumour itself is sufficient to disperso It. Our donicatio colicurns are hiterrupted aud coufidence lost for want of nn anple and upproved mediun of tratfie. I am no friend to an unrestrninell lissue of paper money, and sanv with eonecrn, in the absenee of a duo quantiry of specec, bills admitted into eirculation ianneil ly persons of respectability, possessing property, but evidently unnble to mett a sudden and large demand upon them. More than two yenra ugo, I mentloned to a triend high in his Majesty's councils my fears of the mischief likely to ensue if the practleo werp nut discuntinued, acconpauled with a suggestion to comfine future issues of poper money, or tokens, to the Bank of Englani and uthor dumpetent bodles of men, who wuald give security in land, the public funds, cannis, biildings, er nther tangible property, amounting, at leatt, to one-half of the value of theirbills or tokens in circulation. My proposition was not fivoured with any notlee, yet had is been adoptel, lans of opinion that most of the panic and dintress nov so severcly felt in the nation world have been avoided. If suoh nu hmprovement in the banking aystem could be made available, golet would become lexs requinite, and the country be suyplied with a stathonary medinn of exchange originating with ourselves. The present panic and distress in the country have been deolured by high authority to proceed from "over trading" and " $u$ "ld apeculation." Infant nations and establishments are liable to mlsoarry fiom want ef experionce and solidity. Trapino and Sprculatiox being natives of this island, ard parents of our wealth nod independence, ure shroly excinpt from such an imputation. The same anthority has deelsred "gold and paper money are ineompatible with thoh other, and oannot exist together:" The population and trade of the empire having been much inercased, a proportionate incrosass dis the medinus of circulation is called for; and when gold is found insufficient, reciurse must be had to paper, which, if imprownd on the principle already sugge:ted, the two substances tonld be found in the same pockt without disunion. Auxiona to seo our situation anllimuted, trust the eurrenoy may bo mended, without changing er impairiug the national oommerclal charuoter; whioh moasure, if resorted to would resemble tho poliey of diverting from its conse n poweriul river that liad long given fertility anil happlaeas to a large distrlet, merely because, from perpesive rains, it. lind sometimes exceeded its natural limits, and produed purtinl injury.-1 am, my lords and Gentlemen, your faithful and obedient servant, Drayton Manor, April 3, 1820.

And eve eloquen conld gri our giea Corn Bil beasts" Peel and ture, but also observin though painted canvas.
dono wi
their res lassua Zeuxis mysklp. of his a own prais
and high-minded man (we mean the late Earl), npon a memorable occasion declared that he would consult the intereste of his ownis ordor when they came in confliot with any other laterents. llere was a very plain and a very honourable arowal of motives, whethere tho motives deserved disapprobation or applavae.' We cannot. therefore, be charged with dealing unceandidly by Sir Robert Peel, if we impute to hin motives corresponding with those so frankly avowed by Earl Grey. The right hon, Baronet and the noble Eart may be charged eaoh with a personal Interent in the interent of hla order; but every man who tights the battle of his order, nay the patriot who fighta the battle of his country, is more or less open to this eliarge of pemonal interest. Let us not, then, be aconsed of maligning Sir $\mathbf{R}$. Peel when we any that hin whole devious and algag political career has, notwithstanding all its sinuosities, been teadily directed to one oljeot- the adyamooment of the literests of the monied olase, an order of whloh he in himasif one of the moets distingulahed mombers. By hia bill of 1810 he doublel the value of his vast paternal wealth; and In all hia subsequent measures. without exception, may be traced the same determination to augment, at whaterer cost to othert, the riohes of the rieh, and to dofond the enormous acquisitions of 1810. Ae we have said, a just reluxation of the ourrency would diminish Sir lioliert'a wealth fifty per cent. In valuo, and (what no doubt lo would feel mich more sensibly than any loss to himself) must depreclato the wealth of auch eatimable persons na Mossis. Rothachild and Gurney in the same ratio; but between free trade, whioh prodiglously enbancen the value of money eapital, and a relaxntion of the earrenoy, that would so seriously impair that value, he had to ohoose, and, of course, as the patriot of the money order, he determined for free trade, and upon the same rather limited gronnd of patrlotiem, he atill de: votes himself to tho protection of the ninney order, remaine in \& Ilouse of Commone whioli muat for inany reasons be disagreeable to hins, and lelps an administration whioh he duteata, but whlohis, as he supposen, a barrier between the 'money order' and the terrible day of restitution. They who cannot count possiblo losses or gaing by millions may perhape question the general patriotiam of tho ex-promier's motives; but he is entitled to be tried by his peers, and we have no doubt that a jury of Rothschilds, Gurneys, \$c., would ratify the deciaion of the Aberdeen people and Sir Robert's own deeision in favour of the periect propriety of his motives.

But why, I may be asked do you single out poor Peel-lf all our stateamen are gulty of having something nearer their boart than the employment of their countryman, and the moral and religious elevation of our masses. I answer-Peel has sianed againat his light and his conviotions, while the Whigs have done so in their ignorance, and in the utter absence of prnctiogal rievs that diatingilishes them as a party, so that Peel la as much more guilty, than the Whigs, na the murderer actiog fromi impuise and in the preaence of his renzon, is a moro guiltyman than tho manine committing the same act would be. It has indeed been said, that ''eel deceived even his own Cabinet, leading tbem unawares within the enemien' walls, and that Lord $\Lambda$ berdeen held up bis hands ! when he was told what Peel, then on his logs in the IIonse of Comnons, was sayiog "the ministry would do." The sad fact that wa do know, however, is that Peel's more innodiate friends, who were tho flower of British stateanign (so-oalled, but really anly Red-T'npists) indorsed his talse step, and have thua eruelly suatched from ns what would have been sone little oonsolation, our belng able without qualification to say-

He stood alone, a renegade  Against the party he betrayed

He stood alone amidst his band,  Without a truated heart or hand

It may, however, be said that, if Peel deceived the proteotionists of native induatry, Cobden decoived Peel. I may, therefore, be allowel to draw the line betwees what was once Peel the statesman, and what is now Peel the artist, and the rival of Cobden; for lt is only in the world of nrt or of simulation that one can be deceived. A stateaman is a personifiention of principles, and in the world of principle there is no decoption-" Fiat justioin ruat collnm." So that as a minister of the constitution Peol had no honourable course but to withstand tho Anti-Corn-law mob or any other violence or threats from beyond the palo of that constitution, till the constituencies conld be appoaled to.

$$
\begin{array}{ll}
\text { Justum et tenacam propositi virum, } & \text { Dux inquieti turbidus Hadriae } \\
\text { Von civium ardor prava jubentiun, } & \text { Nee fulminantis magna manus } \\
\text { Non vultus instantis tyvann: } & \text { Si fractua iliabatur orbis, } \\
\text { Mentequntit solida, nuque Austor, } & \text { Impavidum ferient ruinge, } \end{array}
$$

And even as an antist Peel by his own confession ia inforior to C'bbden and all his no longer doubted motives, and all his unadorned eloquence! One is nlmost tempted to suspect Mr Cobrden of being the Abserican who "grinned tho bark off the tree" (Oh! that he could grin it on again, ); for till his day the "wyling of the birds of their buish," the treo of the constitution, ns aohieved by Pocl was our gientest performance; and if wo view the birds na representing the friends of British industry deceived by Sir $\mathbf{R}$. Pcel from the Corn bill of 1815 downwnrds, [I represented them elsewlicre to be the birds in the fable of ' ' the bnttle of the birds and the beasts" when showing the unprincipled or bat-like character of the Times newspaper,] wo are struck with the resemblance of Peel and Cobden's straggle for mastery, to a rivalry of nnclent times betwcen two men in their way great artists or simulatora of paturo. "Zbuxts (Peel) was a celebrated painter, born at IIeraolen. In the art of palnting, he not only surpassed all his contemporarice, but also his master, and beoame so sensible, and at the same timo so proud of tho palue of his pieces that he refused to nel! them, observing that no sum of money, however great, was sufficiont to boy thom. Ilis contest with Pabniasios ia well-knowis; but thongh be represented nature in suoh perfection, and copied all her beauties with such exaotness, ho found himself decoived. He painted grapes, and formed an idea of the goodnces of his pioce from the birds (Protectionists?) that eame to eat the fruit on tho canvas. But he soon ackuowledged that the whole was an ill-exceuted pieco, as the figure of the man who earried the grapes ras not dono with sulficient expression to terrify the Birds! Pabarnalus (Cobden) was a great master of his profession, and particularly excellel in strongly expressing the violent passiona. Ile once ontered tha lists against Zeuxis (Peel), and when they had yre "uced their respective pieces, the Birds came to piok with the greacest avidity the grapes whioh Zouvis had paiuted. Innediately annmasius exhibited his piece, nnd Zruxis said, remove your curtain that we way see the painting. The curtain was the painting, and Zeuxis neknowledged himself eonquered, by exclaiming, Zeuxis uas deceived the Binds, iut Pammabies das decrived Zeuxia himself. [Thero will be found ns little behind the name Frce 'Trade, as behind Parrhasius's curtain.] Parrhasius grow ao vain of his art, that he elothed himself in purple, and wore n crown of gold, ealting himself tha King of Paiaters. He was lavish in his own praises, and by his vanity, ton often exposed himself to the ridicule of his enemics.

And whence is to come our National Remedy, if not from an entine abmodeling of paries, tipe postrano of Britiah Industif beino the pbincitle Unifrasaley admityrig, and our quabrele or qurbtiona beino only as to the aegt method of at-

* I lere give two of tho many proofs of Pecl's knowing that British industry could not compete in growing wheat and sugar with the foreigner :-"Sir lobert f'eel, in his adelress to tho electors of Tamworth, June 28, 1841, sald:-1 now como, I repeat, to a most important question-that of the introdnction of forelgn corn. I must repeat to you here the opinion which I have declared heretofore, whieh I have declared to you, and also in the Commons' House of Parliament, that I cannot consent to substitute a fixed duty of 8s. for tho present aseending and descending scale. I prefer tho principla of tho ascending and descending scule, and I do not consider, when I look to the burden whieh land in this country is subjected to, that a lixed duty of 8s. per quarter oul corn bronglit here from l'oland and the north of Europe, will affurd a sufficient protection to the land of this country. The proposition of buying corn in the elieapost market, is certainly tempting in thoory : but boforo you determine that that is just, gou mast asaertain the amount of burdens to whloh land in other eountrics is subjected, and compnre them with tho burdens imposed on land in this country. Look at the amount of poor rates levid from land in this country, comparel with the amount levied trom the profits of manulinetures. Who pays the highway rate? Who pays tho clureh rate? Who pays the poor rate and the tithe? 1 say not altogether-but ehiefly-tho landed oecupier of this conatry; and if there be eorn produced by other land not subject to those burdens, it would clearly be not just to tho land of this eountry to admit that corn on equal terme. The duty of 8s. per quarter is proposed as a fixed and invariable duty. Now I forese that it you apply that duty, this will be tho consequence. Goa will have an abnadance of terelgn eorn Introluced just at the time you do not want it, when your own producu is most plentiful." [Let us have no duty at 45 s, and upwards.-Ic. 3 .

Then we have l'eel's letter to Sir Thomas Fowell Buxton:-" Whitehall, Aprll 18, 184t. Dear Sir-It is gratifying to ine to receivo from you, the untiring and disinterested friend of humanity and of the Afriean race, the assurances of which your letter of yesterdny conveys. In tho present temper, and with the present yiews, of the ruling authorities in Brazil nnd Cuba, 1 cannot doubt Shat the opening of tho market of this country to Brazilian and Cuban sugar, at greatly redued duties, weuld give an encourageuent to its production by slave labour, to which there would bo no eheck, either from the influenoe of humane ard moral feolings, rom municipal law, or from Internationnl obligations. The state of things in Cubn, sinco the removal of General Valdez from the Government, is mest unsatisfactory. This is a eritical perlod in the anbals of slavery, and the slave-trade ; and the examplo of England, If she were now to rolax her honourable exertions in that cause, of whioh she is in truth tho only netive nnd zoalous supporter, would have a very extensive and very evil influence. If the exertion of forco will avail for the suppression of the slaverade, I cannot conceive a usa of foree more justifiable in the cyes of God than the omployment of it in the defent and punishment f an infmous traffic. If it will not avail, though justifiahle, it would be of course i. politio, but the experience of a fow montha a the coasts of Afrien and Braell, were every British cruizer withdinwn, would, I fear, clemonstrate the incfficiey of any ather neans at preaent for the suppression of the slave-trade. I have the honomr to be, de., de. Ronenr l'ehe.'

Abstract

zamizo rifa oazar onjeor? Have not the present race of inflaentini atatemen fallen helow even the lovered scale of patrlotism to bo oxpeoted in the publio opinion of a country so oroshol in its oirommatances a Do not these miserable pollticiana appenr to us ilke the tenants of a great political gravo-yard, who have said to everything yile, thou art iny brother-among them there soeming to be no emential difference, but only diferent degrees of defacoment-tho spirit of patriotlam or truo British feeling liaving apparently fled uhike from all tho influentiai statemmen of all our parties-one-from all that appears to usmoving his placo, another hum hoards of gold, and another lis ecolasiastlenl machinery, whleh he sacriliglously enils the Churel, better than lie loves his alleglance, his comintry, and his finth? In the extremitr of our case seenis our ouly hope, juat as in the darkeat hour of night theco is an evidence of the npproneling dawn. "Our forefithors, (says Neibulir), who wought confort in proverbs, used to may -When the people's tale of brioks is doubled, Moses is at hand $i^{\prime \prime}$ And. Ilke Egypt, have not we also pyramlda of national glory and prlde, In our enormous publlo debt, and In the accumulntions of our millionnires, whowe colosenl greatness is a true mensure of the dependence and sufferings of our masses? P'eel's Monoy Bill of 1819, as giving the neck of the courtry's labour and property to the feet of fhe Money Power, truly has been and is the badgo of worso than Egyptinn bondage among ourselves, while his measure of 1846 will be found to be tho doubling of the talo of bricks, and tho withdrawn of the atraw, as the withdrawal of our Bank faollities, the moment apecic oomes to be wanted, as in 1847, for our cxcesslve imports of forolgn labour. The following is the eloquent language of a "Refutation of the last Fallnoy of the Times," 8th November, 1843. Published by Samuel Clark, London.-" I have answered this challenge, by proving that tho existing monetary system being unuttended with that reduction of indirect taxation whiel jnatly ought to havo acoompanicd it, has forced the poorer class of our industrious population to pay annually more than thirty millions n-yenr of that taxation whieh the legislaturo had proviously imposed on the wealthy olasses, nnd from which they were freed ouly by the jugglery of this blia of Sir Robert Pee.'s. Moro than six hundred millions sterligg havo been wrung, since 1810, from the overworkell and underfed bodies of tha wretohed belngs who have been the vietima of thia ill-considered, this cruel moanure, whiela atill demands lis annunl sacrifices of human life to an extent too horrible to contemplate. Compared with this, the prostrite Ilindona before the oar of Juggernaut, the aged peoplo swept away by the Ganges, - the widows sacrificed at suttecs, - ind even all the lifes lost, and miserica endured, by earrying on the necutsod alnve trade,-dreadful as these things are, thil to exhibit, in their immedinte and remote effiects, a mass of human suffering equally appalling." Uur worst feature is that tho intelligence, on the vital sithject of Money or the Currency, of oue upper and iniddle classes is aotually getting bohind that of the lowest olass, In regard to the future, we nre deluding ourselves with the cry of pence, peace, when there is no peace in prospect. Even our working men now begin to see that when they hire out their labour or skill lor wages, they, under our monstrous noney law, nre buyers of gold, and that when gold is hoarded or exporied to the diminution of its quantity, they must (aconrding to tho oternal law of aupply end demand) givo snore time for less gold, so that their wages fall, even if they are not oompletely deprived of employment. In a word, yne Bitisil artizan mas to oive mona yime of  and their families (fely equalix in exducino ties paice of all propertr) nrisea from no causo within their own control. Prudence could not prevent it : so prodence geta to a diacount in their oyes. It arises from the cbbs and flows of forcign trade being per mitted to regulate diveetly, and moat arbitrarily to affect, the valuc of all property, including the labour of the peor nan's liands although he may never liave worked for a foreign market! 'lhe means by which this is effeeted is the making tho plentifu article money (it should be plentiful if productive property, or value, of which money is merely the representative is plentiful) always hold tho same value as the scarce article geld, "i consummation which Sir Itobert l'cel effected when, in 1810, he apset Mr Pitt's money law, and thus gave tho ncek of the industry of this country to the feet of the money monopolists by a yiolation of the law of aupply and demand so outrageous, that its very impudent excess bliaded the publie to it at firat, and has ever aince continued to do so. No minister would dare haventtemptel the same result above-board. If the gold were made to rise as Indigo or ang other commodity docs, without wages and prices exchnuged for it being permitted "to rise equally, the minister would linve been stoned; but the very same thing is done indirectly, only that tha rise in gold is directly exprelsed, not by the rise of gold, but by the rise of the rate of interest, snd which novor fuils to canso a tilll, not a rise, in wages and prices : Aud 1 f'eel that 1 callanot better olose this introductory article than in the worda of a most excellent panuphlet, to which I partly ave my having been so early con firmed in the views I nm now humbly endeavouring to get tho public to aee their deep intercat in. (". Currency Fallacies Refuted," 1883.) "If we are to adhere to a metnllio curreney ou the present ayatem, it is certain that licavy taxes cannat be paid much longer by "the productive classes. They haro found that out: nind this makes them so clamorous for the repeal of the house and window "taxcs. Whenever these are sbolished, othery will remain, equally obnoxious, as the supposed canses of their distress : they muat calso bo reduced; till at last the minister, driven to extremes, will consent to, If he does not originate, a property tax, in lieu of all. other imposts pressiog particularly on the industrions classes. Let this be agreed to, and what then will be tho condition of tho " landed interest? With corn at $\$$ in a quarter, to which we shall come, it will take nearly the half of evory man's property to  in tna asiz deonees [With wheat at 60s, we paid 00 milliuns sterling of taxes, with 20 milliou quarters, but we ghall havo to givo 40 million quarters wheat when the price is 30s, to whieh it is coming under Free Imports.-Isasc Buciasan.] Even if it - hhould, what a prodiglous revolution will have been quictly effected in a few sesre, by that bill for restoring cash paymente, whioh "was passed with neclamations by the wealthy members of the State, but which has brought with it so mueli nisery to the produotive clasees ! nod how truly does it illustrnte the remark of a Into eminent Christian philosopher, (the Rev. Itobert Kall,) 'In the moral system it is a part of the wise arrangements of l'rovidence that no member shall suffer alone; and that if tho luver clasies - are involved in wretchedness and beggary, the more elevated shall not enjoy thoir prosperity unimpaired.

renedy for peel's monetary measures.

Some hard, but always successful buttlep, in support of Government nnil or'er, have brouglit uader my notice how littlo talent is requlred to be a good fault-finder, and how nucli casier it is to object to nn exiating system than to propose a better; so that, tor myself, I never would bive written a line against I'cel's mensuros, ulthough roy personal opinion was that they uro outrageous, till 1 felt that there was at hand an easy and effectual remedy aguinst their extreme consequences.

Without supposing that no more is required to promote British Industry, 1 have whwys scen that the mere preservation of the peace of the country would be effectually secured by siniply changing Prel's Bank Bill of 1844 and 1845 , so as to admit of New
 the Bank of Euglund's notes being a legnl tender of its own counter cxeept when it has over twenty millious of specie, and even then the payment to he at the market price of the gold or silver; nll Bunks to issue one pound notes; the capital of the Bank of England to bedoubled ; and the Bunk of England to be lound never to liave less than fou, icen millions specie in its vaults. Ac cording to the Times, a very bal mensuro cannot have a very good motive, nud the sense nud indepoudence of Aberdecu will come to repudiate the actors in the late farcienl transaction. Tho fact is, that uo tyrant of incient or modern times ever did so practically cruel an net as did Peel In 1810, when he decread that our local circulation, or home cmployment, should depend on tho state of the ronsion trade or exchanges: P'eel's frlend, Sir James Ginham, in lis pamphet in 182 ' thus speaks of its curly operation:-"They (Peel's collengues) kuew that it was intolernble; they were merelful; they were disinterested : regardless of tho inerensed value of their own sularics, they felt for the debtors, tho tax paycrs, the great body of the people; nud preferred their interests to tho profits of the ereditors, the tax enters, the blood suekers of Lord Chintham. They thought wholesome food and constant enipleyment better for the reople than whalesome eurreney and hunger, nmidst laudlords without renta, and manufacturers without profits. They turned aside, thercfore, from the 'stern path of duty ;' they relented for a time, and renewed the Bank Itestriction act ; with an increase of the circulating mediunn, prosperity returned. I cannot fail nlse to remark the inmacnse sum added to the debt during the period of the grent depreciation of the currency; according to the aucient standard, which was then suspended, wo generally borrowed about 1 of in tho potticl ; nad with omr return to that standard, we nre now required to pay the entire 20 s. The letter of the bond, and the pound of flesh, nre elained by the ereditor." And on the ocension of the enactnient of the lijli of T819, Pecle father is rclated $\dagger$ to buve said to lim, "Robert, Robert, you've doubled your fortune and ruined your country ;" well, then, may we appeat agninst it :-

> Ye friends of truth-yostalcsmen that survey
> The rich man's jogs incrense the poor's decay,

Tis yours to judge how wido tho limits stand Between a eplendid and a happy land.'
*"It in c bvious that the moval of the plug is not the cause of the rise of waicr, but is only that which permits it to riso ; the cause is tho ucight of the athorphere, and it ceases to act when an cquilibrium is gnined. So, in like nunner, tho exteusion of the currency is not the ecuse of the rise of pilces, as many think, but is ouly that which permits it; tho cause is the weirlit of taxation, and the rise will ccase whenever a paico which will lorm an cquilibrium when the weight of tnsation is ubtained."-Mir Capps.

a New Party of social economists must arise.

WHAT MUST BE THE PRINCIPLES OF A NEW PARTY ORGANISATION? I ANSWER-TUE ANTIPODES OF THE PRINOIPLES OF THE POLITICAL ECONOMISTS OR MONEY POWER.

"There la anothor balance, indeed, $w^{2 \prime}$; 'ass nlready been explained, very different from the Balauce of Trade, and whioh, accorling as It happens to be elther finvox. a the balanco of the anmual prodnce nndi con aceds that of the annual conaumption. If the excliangenble value of the annual produco, it has already been ohserved,號 解 annual consumptlon, the enpital of the society must annunlly decny in proportion to this delleienoy. The expense of tha soclety In this ense excecds its revenue, and necossarily encronches upon its oapital ; its capitnl, therefore, must neecsaarily decay, and, ogether with it, the exolinngeablo value of the annunl produco of its industry."-Adam Smith"s "Wealth of Nations.
"The soience of monoy anil tho science of omploying the working classes, is ono nad the same science, the security of the lubour power agalnst tho money poncer, forming the great mad only vital constitutional question in all countrices, but nuore ospeolally in Great Britain, whose population is in moro artifiolal circumstances than any other people ; and when ia suffoient number of honeat and Independent-nilided mon come to see this, n great jopular party will bo formecl, which will upset the maohinations of the fixed standard bullionists, anll thus save the country a rovolution,"-My oommunicatlon to tho Olasgow Examiner of 21 st Oot., 1848

We find politica left in a state of en.108" ; but pilnclples are, of course, " undying " thought they may be banialied from a country as from a mind, nud though polioy or "temporising" has, unfortunately, usurped the plnce of prinoiplo in the minds of all th British statesmen who, till Intely, wore most prominent-prominent, just beomuse standing on the rock of prinelple. The only dis tinetion now left us to draw is between men who are the active element nnd men who would stand still thl the waves of revolution overthrow the institutlons of the cotuntry, as want of cmployment did those of Firnnco. Wo must look to tho former elass, seelng or, in otirg wonds, of oovrning mex empire. Their failure is tho more ronimkablo that for more than two years the Whigs have had the adlicsion of Sir Robert Peel nad all the working talent of his party. That it is the interest now of men of property to becone progressionists in politics I am quite satisfied, for without Universal Suffrage the money law will not be ehanged till after tho monicd class shall have swallowed up all the property in the country, as woll as starved out half its population, on the approved process now golng on In Ireland. The working classes nt all events will no longer submit to he unrepresented in Parlia ment. Now, however, that they are alivo to the oneness of the Intercests of fixed property and labour, they will use the anffroge to protect and promote the interests, and eapecially the security of property, seeing this the ouly means of inercasing the demand fo their labour. 'They now sce that property and labour nro in ono boat nind soser In another ; and thelr modus operandi will be to crush the nover rower in the House of Commons, and to the samo extent raise the condition and better the prospects of labour, which is in the hands ol tho poor, as well ns of the result of libour in tho pnst, ns it is found enpitalised as property in the possession of tho rich. And as the country's vital interests now requizo an organisation of Progiessionists of truly British character and feelings who can be depended on as having no ulterior ohjects, patriotism demands us to lay aside all our political predilections ns well as antlpathies, and to be ready to co-operate with every man who, laying aside mero personal or party politics, will join in effecting the vital object-the omployment of our working elasses. Wo, in fact, deslderate a party whose onir pninciple op commana tion wifl be tile employment of tie peofle, witil Unifensal. Sufftage, as the oniy neans of atthinino that patalotic odject.

There seums to us no small likolihood that in alasgove will be found the school of politics which will bo the instrument of pre venting an nctual revolution, by sceuring the country a social one. To see this we have only to consider that it is not in London but in the provinces that grent social movenents are originated, and then review the position and circumstances of the various other great head-quarters of manufacturcs and commerce-Manchester, Liverpool, nnd Birminghnm. Manchester has nlrenily moved, and, unfortunatcly for tho working-classes, gono too far, in the theory of political cconomy, or, in other words, "curarness ;" while its press and lending men, by strongly advocating an adherence to fixed standard bullionism, as tho country's monetary principle, are threatening the working classes with the second of the two nccessary effects of Sir R. Yeel's legislation-" diminished employment," the first having been "reduced wages," ns we have shown nbove. The safety of the country, and the saving from starvation of our nitted. We would not be understood as objecting to tho principle of free trade, or tho mutual interchange of commodities, but to the Manchester principlo of fireo imports without any reciprocity. "Birmingham, too, like Manchester, has carried its'princlplo-paper money-too fir, nnd lias thus, nlmost fatally, injured a princlple whioh nust be the regencrator of this country. We agree with the Birmingham school that we cannot mako money too choap, bit we hold that it must ever remain practically convertible. We agree with Blrminghan that gold and silvor shonld only be deinnadable at tho British or innrket prico of these, as compared to other com modities in this country. With Birmingham wo have denounced the enicide committed by our working elasses in tolerating Sir $R$ Pecl's Moncy Bill of 1810. We, however, wish to sco a bullion hasis to the chreulation, holding that a bank note may depreciate from tho publie's opinion of its insecurity-which renders it practically not convertible into tho country's commodities-nitliough we wild never be behind in proving that all the other apparent elepreciations are in renlity only the naturn and proper appreciation of gold, arising from its becoming searce, which tends to apprecinte all other commodities as compared to the bank note. we, thovetore are bullionists, with gold at its market price, nad at samo tius repudinte tho Birningham "litule shilling," or as Cannin are wibod them, "the flehy rape of paper practicnl party, or organise an exceutivo which will he nble to feed the masses. And it is ensy to sco that tho public opinion of liverpool is not now under the centrol of the men who gloried in such representatives as Canning nnd IInskisson, hecanse its views in the present day go only to starvo n few superannuated pensioners of the country, and do not rise to the generous nttempt to feed the country's millions. We would not be understood ns under-rating the importance of practicable untional retrenclament, but wo see tbat to expeot myy great immediato nillevintion from this souree is to dereive ourselves nad tho country ; and we, therefore, object distinetly to tho nasumption of our Liverpool friends that in "cheese paring" is to bo found tho immedlite cure of tho overwhelming national ovils under which this country now suffers, and the greater calanitice wo havo iu prospeot. Its financlal associntious or leagnes show us that Liverponl's viows extend not to principles of money but only to sums of moncy. We may suspect that in the present passive position of politics Mr Cladstone has had infuenco enough to get nll this dust about national rotienchment raised in Liverpool to cover his retreat, or to divert the people from his owiz and his patron's fundnmental error in national polioy or principle ; but his would only he to prove still more the utter inability of Liverpool as the great national regenerator at tho present moment.

We may be asked how the Glaggow seliool can tale a moro noble stand than Liverpool at the present erisis. Weanswer, Glasgow may grapplo with the philosoply ns well na the detnils of the country's finance. Glasoow mar set an rxample to the bapira in aet-we nemeved our African fellow-sunjects. $\dagger$ Glagoow may take ur the thur oround tiat it is tie ribierty of tie countri that

* A philosothy [as Selhegal says of Buddhism) which, by a dinlectio or idenl course, has been led into a elnos of void abstracons, and puro nililisim; and noro scientifio observers havo ovor judged it to he an absolute system of atheism.
+ The dolay in ro-publishing those views (they first appenied n eonsiderable time ngo) enables ino to quote the following from ir Werwman rceont work. I camnot consent to Mr Newinan's novel heterodoxy that no Parliament cau give a legal obligaion beyond the period of the partioniar marinments existence, if this bo done honourably; but I think that it is the property alone of the indestry, that is bound for delending the country:-" Rermation. - The very sound of this word lepuliation is tuo dreadal for dulieato enrs: by naming it we nre supposed to nilvise it. On the contrary, It is requisite, not to name it only, but to warn eople of that which threntens futurity, in oriler to enforce on them the necessity of an immediato settlement by preacnt economy. Iny single member of parlinment who may choose to persevere in pressing a declaratory law on this subject, is able to show the publo creditors by how trail a tenure they hold their imnginel rights. Ile has but to proposo a vote of the llouse of Commons: "No arliament lins legal and constitutioninl nuthority to dictnte to a succecding parlinuncut eonecrning the lerying of tnxes, nor to emsowor any minister to mako promises of payment from such future tases; but all sueh promises mado in past times are nad alwnys

 rini country. We shoold llke to see tho Glangow viow declared to be that for one year a half per cont. be raised from the whole property of Great Britain, lenving the asessment next year to be reduced to tho ostont of the balanoe during the first year of the meramus yrow thane alluded to mbove. The property of Great Britain is estimated at five thousand milliona of pounds sterling, and one-half per cent on this is twenty-five millions. But under a reansoitated atate of proaperity in the country wo would oaloulato that one-ighth per cent. would be more than enough in times of peace. We may be anked how Glangow can make a more practieal efiort than Birmingham et the present orisis. We need only refor to our views as atated abovo. Glasgow may, in lts monetary reform, than Birmingham et the present crisis. We need only reior to oifr viewe as atated above. Giasgow may, in lts monetary reform, combine the bulionist basis for tho legal tonder paper with the total erndioation of the hard money monopoly-whioh in tho objeot of gow, in a word, may hold to the simple oure of making the state of the foreign exohangem, or the export of gold, be indiented in 8 rise In the commodity gold inatnad of in the commolity money, the bank note being only representative of gold at the market price of gold in the London market, and the Bank of Eogland being entitled to have notes out to tie full London markot value of the gold in its vatuit-besidea the fourteen millions-the bank thus being made interested in supplying any vacuum of ciroulation through the exportation of gold by an increased issue of paper up to the inoreased market vaiue of the goid in ita vaulte. Wz may as asero how tax mot stoppino short ay political sconomy. OUR vixws are patriotic-on have nefeaence to oun own dountat for we do not expeet to get oredit for our good Jatentlons towards the world, till aftor we havo practically fliustrated them in our otra familiea; in a peet to get oredit for our good jatentions towards the world, tili aftor we havo practically iliustrated the

"From scencs like these old Scotia's grandour springs,  That makes her loved at home, revci'd abrond."

 in fact, may go for reciprocal free trade, as opposed to the Manchester commercial atheiam of irreciprocal free trade ; or, in othor words, we may hold that the wain ouention is exploymesr, whioh may be regulated by Britishlaws, and not price, whlela we can never eontrol by British legisiatlon, except that by so framing onriaws as to give to our own poople, and to those who will reciproceto with us, a preference of our national employment-at home, nt sea, and it the colonics-we may gradually increase the bidders for the poor man's labour, and thus indirectly raise his wages. T'ne oneatest muplotment of our woreino classes, innzepzotive op price, must bes ras GLasoow paixciple. While acknowledging price to be an important element of convideration, wo muat see ayplormany to be the vital question. We of course hold that che principle of free trade would, if attainable in practice, be the best for this country, becanse wo liave moro onpital, more industry, and moro ccenomy than any other conntry ; and none could object more than ourselves to the protection, for ite own soke, of any class interest in thls cominunity. We, however, have always expected free trade to be, at least to a great extent, reciprocal, becaus , we hnvo aivays seon the abselite necessity of our currency-the lifo's blood of all our interests-being protected from invasion at tho will of our foreign opponests, by their draining us of our preoious metala; And we now give below our alcetch of a Free Thade lieciriocal Leagee:-

A RECIPROCAL LEAGUE, OR BRITISU ZOLLVEREIN, MUST RE PHOLOSED BY THE SUCIAL ECONOMISTS.
1at. We would at once proclaim entire Free Trade with our colonies, thus making thom integral parta of the empire, and receiving their sugnr, wheat, and every other production free of duty ; and by the same Act of Parliamont we would provide (ao great is our confidence in British manufacturing superiority) that foreign productions be also received duty freo from all countries which agreo not to eharge us more than fitteen per cent. dity on the value in Britain, on any British manufheture. 2d. We conceire lt to be remsonable that sueli countries as will not teko Britishlabour in payment should havo deduoted from tho price they get in England for their productions, a certain sum equivalent to the national and looal burdens and taxes, which weigh to the carth our native or Colonial producers of the same articles. And our Act of Parliament would provide that on all foreign articles oxcept cotton (the production of countries that will not accept the above liberal terms of reciprocity), on which thero is now no duty, or a duty loss than fifteen petcent. on the valuc in Britain, the said duty of fifteen per cent. be levied by our Custom Houses. 3d. The foreign price of gold to be done nway-the price hereafter to be that indicated by tho foroign exchanges, so that bad times will hereafter raiso tho prioe of the commodity, gold, in which foreigners and annuitants are alone interested, instead of, as nt present, the price of money (to keep down the value of which is the interest of all classes in Great Britain and her colonies, except tho mere annuitants), and so that the annnitants or money market, finding gold going to nn increased price as oompared with their money, may be driven to co-operate with our working elasses in pushing the oxport of British labour, in whieh way alono it is evident the prico of gold can bo brought back to the Enropean price, or. in other words, the annuitants mado to rogain the present vaiue given to it by the money la wof Sir Robert Peel. In a word, we decidedly aro free traders ; but in common with almost the entiro working classes, and most practical mauufacturers and merchanta who prefer their country to their party-we now ace that what is not reciprocal, is not in truth free trado. By our nocalled free trade measures, it now appears that we have only set free foroign and not British industry. We must, by withholding the great beon we have it in our power to give, till we get something approaching an equivalent, make it the interest of the foreign growers of wheat and other produce to use ail their united influence with their reapectivo Governmonts in favour of the Britinh manufacturer: for we seo reciprocity to be absojutcly necessary to prevent no great a reduction of omplogment as in this conntry and her colonies must lead to revolution, althougli thero exists no disloyalty to the Monarchy.

means to tile foregoing great ends or maciinery of the social economist party.

Universal Suffrage need be the only thing agitated for, beeause the Parliament once popalarized, the other Reforms will follow as a matter of course ; but our Universal Suffrage must bo by tho ballot, and we must use it as a machinery for the election of both houses of Parliament, if we would prevent aristocratio prejudices fron hindering popular legisiation, and from thus precipitating such a state of things as oxists on tho Continent. We would not degrade the Lords from being an ennobled class, hut before permitting any of them to interfere in the country's legisiation, wo would require lim to gain the votes of one of the samo conatituencies as clect the Commons, and we would naske cligible for the House of Lords all the descendants (when registered) of all English, have been electh pecrs, Blong with the wholo baronetey of the empire, and thicir sons, with perhaps the Knights, and such mon as have been elected to scats in the House of Commons in tinree different Parliaments.

But it may be asked, how cannot the money-iaw be clannged, and tho rights of labour assorted, with Parlinment constituted as at present? We anower-Eyen if the Whigs and political economists wero beaten in Parliament by tho friends of the working classes, and even if the theories of political economy were to break down (as no doubt they will) from shoer inherent weakuent, the fricnds of the people will still be divided hy church questions. Lord Siapley would not support a ministry composed of Dissentors, as on their principles they must do a way with the Established Church. The Diseen ers, on tho other hand, would not truat Lord Stanley with power, because he would perpetuate the Chureh, which they holu to bo our greatest nuisanec. All, therefore, must seo that

Wero illegal, nuil and void.' Nothing is wanted, but a voiec to apeak such words in a acat of publio deliberation, and the oreditor will Instantly understand that ho receivos his dividends by aufferance, by indulgence, as a matter of expedienoy, but not by law or right. The house may be counted out, and ne debate take place, but the condennation of tho syatem will be dated from the day ou which notiee is given of the motion. Indee, i, the value of the sceurities may full moro by a protracted and veliement debate, than by an dividends are not primary, or dependiag on the ocigithal contract, but secoudary, viz. (1.). Because ol' the imminent and great dangers public salc of the claims of individuals orer the procecds of futurc tnxution."

TRT-AND THAT OUNFRY, LAMDIBD HTRREAT OY tax OT, EXCEPT TEAY
ON PROPABTY AR PROPERTT or tho whole pro-irst year of the lrst year of the id oaloulato that practieal ofiort 10metary reform, is tho objeat ol dicated in sion ket price of gold of the gold in its through the exa AgED HOW TEy sociAl HOONOMT, or we do not ex-

THEAx. Glangow, or, in other words. can never control to with us, a pre. or the poor mane mplotyent to be for this oountry, more than our ceted free trade to lifo's blood of al ous metals; And

ECONOMSTS.
mine, and mearinovido (so great is atries which agreo aceive lt to be renget in England for sur native or Coloton (the production ass than fifteen per: prico of gold to be prica tho price of the uney (to keep down I so thint the pnnui-co-operate with our rought back to the of Sir Robert Peal. ticni manufacturers trade. By our soby withholding the of the foreign grow10 Britith manufac-

ist party.

Reforms will follow ry for the election d from thus preciplled class, but before the samo constituen ered) of all English, ment constituted as iends of the working terent waknesm, the sed of Dissentors, nofore, must sec that
, and the oreditor will t not by law or right. om the day on whioh it debate, than by an ounds for paying the int and great dangers turn connived at the

If Universal Sufirage is the only meana of getting rid of the Churoh, It is the only means of rendoring it posalibe for us to have the If Universal sumoun considered-the only way, in our opinion, to avoid revolution (even of rendering it possibie for no to have the yorarion op laboun conaideredthe person of tha Soverelgn exiets in this onuntry, S Suoh is the resilt of the descrtion by Bighops and otiaer ohurchmen, under Sir R.

 with my nnawer on that coension 1 shall olose thin explanation, already, I foar, too much extended for the general render:-
"I answer No, emphatioally No, unless our Upper Cinases permit the immediate adoptlon of measurea which their personal intereat will, I fear, mahe them denounco as revolutionary, just as tho Slavc-breeding Lord of Repuhlienn America prefers risking the integrity of the Republle rather than yleld the wretelsed 'institution' of slavery. I believe the people of England are as loyal as over to the Monaroliy, but I don't bolieve their aclf-respeot will nny longer permit thom to tojerate ohureh eatablishmente, exoluaive universities, or the uncontrolled interference of the nobility in the legislation of the oountry. The time han come when the possisihity or baving the obown itazis, dopends on our hnving it distinctly understood, that the objeote of the Government are jast the simple, practical, and disinterosted objects of philanthropy, oo boidly and unequivoes:y expressed by Oliver Cromwell when he said, 'If any man thinks that the intorest of these patlone nnd the Interest of Christianity nre two separato and distlnet things, I wish my soul may never enter into his seoret l' And I have not the least toubt that every Government, till it lias come to feel itself the mere inatrument of God's purposer, is liable to the moral conaequenoes of lts conduct, disquer, ovearuar, and arvolurion."

UNIVERSAL SUFFRAGE THE ONLY ALTERNATIVE LEFT US BY PEEL.

HY LEAVING TMIE LABOUR AND FIXED PROPERTY UNREPRESENTED BY ANY EFFECTIVE PARTY, PEEL IIAS LEFT THE COUNTRY NO ALTERNATIVE BU'I A CHANGE IN TIE CONSTI'TU'IION OF PARLIAMENT.
"After $n$ trial of seventoen years, lt cannot be denied that, with regard to any systematio legisiation for the ameliorntion of the moral and material condition of the working classes, tho Reform Aet has failed to mako good the protesslona which it held out, and by means of whlels ohicfly it was capriod. Tho objoots which its authors then professed to desiry have not been attained by the measure which they preseribed as sufficient to offect them,

Our complaint, therefore, ngainst the Reform Act, is not with regard to tho nature, but to the extent of the measure which it has produced. In 1832 the necessity was folt of efficoting a change which shoulil secure a greater attention to tho intorests of the middlo and werking elasses. The change which was notually aceomplished resemblod the annwer of Jove to the hero's petition-he granted half the prayer, the other half he acattered to the winds. Since 1832 we have had a syatematio course of legislation, in which the wants and wishes af the middle olass have been carefully attonded to, and their interests habitually consulted. But have we seen signs of the same sollcitade with respect to the ncoessities and interests-certainly not less pressing nor less important-of the working olasses ? We do not, indocd, for an instant suppose that thero oan be any antagonisno or contraricty between the interests of the employer and those of the employed; no crror could be more fatnil, no doctrine more mischlevous. We are most anxions to assert that the galn of the former is ultimately, thongh indirectly, the gain of the latter. But, while we admit the concurronce of their intereats, we deny that thoy are at all points co-extensive. © This is onr clarge ngainst the reformed House of Commons- that it has dealt effectually with no questions where the interests of the middle class ceased to be co-extensivo with those of the working clnes. The long and anxious dimzussions, the thorough and effective logislation, on all commercial questions-contrasted with the indifferenge to educational and sanitary mensures, and with tho miserably insufficient provision tor theso objects-completoly ostablish our position. The predominant influence in tho legislature had no direct interest in theso questions, and they consequently went to the wall."-From the Peel Organ, the Morning Chroniele, of Bth Septeinber, 1849.

By the Reform Bill two-thirds of the geats in the IIonso of Commons worogiven to the boroughs, and two-thirds of the votors in the borouglis, in the now constltuenoy, were shopkeepers or those in their interest. Thus a decisive majority in the House which, from fiaving oommand of the public purse, praotically became possessed of supremo powor, was vested in those who mado thoir living by buying and selling-with whom ckeap prices (and low wages as n necessary consequence) was all in all.. The producing classes were virtunlly, and to all practioal purposes. cast ont of the scale. The landed interest on all questions vital to its welfare, would cvidently soon be in a minority."-From Blackwool's Magazine for July, 1849.

- IJence we ean say to tho gentlomen of the Rcform Leaguo, Your project fills us with no terror on account of what wo may jose. We are not inclincd to receive a new constitution at your hands; but as for the oxisting aystom of representation, it came from the Birminglam mint-A Lambton was its prinoipal inyontor. No Conservative assisted at its fabriontion ; nor will any Conservative mourn when, as base metal, it shall be cast nway. * Wo end, as we begnn, by recommending these matters to the consideration of the Conservatives. Thero is nothing in the existing system for which they are bound to fight. And any change in whieh justice and common sense aro not thrown quito out of view, must be nehange for the bettor. So saying, however, we give no accord or approval to the Drury-Lane procoedings. We doubt the honeaty of the prometers of that movement. We fear that their ultinate object is to get the government of the country, by fair ineaus or by foul, iuto their own hanis. But this conviction makes us only the move anzious that is great question, such as thint of the reprasentntion, sihould not be left entirely in their posscssion."-IForning Herald, Aug. 18, 1840.
"In regarding l'col's monetary soliool, or the House of Commons as at present constitutoil, we fully sympathiso with Cromwoll whan he told the parliament to mako room for better men. The original policy and present effort of Peel's class is to bribe the moncy market, hy giving money a monopoly of the property nnd labour mialicts. Pesciss seems altogether inoapable of seeing that in afl countries tho gooduess or popularity of a government is just in tho proportion that it sides with the labour, as opposed to tho money, power."-From my communication to the Clasgow Examiner, of 4th Nov., 1848.
I.oyalty to the monarchy and dovoted nttachment to tho Sovereign are shewn by her Majesty's recent reecptlon in Ireland, and all classes hore (in Scotiand), to be quite compatible with our entertsining the gionost objections to the nation's Legislative acts, and with tho tirmest determination on our part to lave a radical alterstion in the maehinery of Parlinment, for millions of her Ma lesty's subjeots are well known to have been bronght to feel that no remed y short of Universal Sufrage will avail to curo our national wretchedness. We of courso soe that as is mon on being ealled on to nct as a special constable, or to portorm any other duty of the subject, is not interrogated as to his possessing a ten pound qualifioation, neither should this be a condition to his enjoying the privileges of the subjeet; but we nlso sce that the wresting of the practical monopoly of legislative power from tho moneyed interest is not puly absolutely necegsary to the improvement and moral clevation of tho working elasses, but to their very existence. We think, in fact, that the overthrow spesdily of the doctrines of political cconomy or "cheapness" is necessary to save our people from atarvation, and the country as a neecasary consequenco from political troublo and confusion. Comparatively few seem to liave their eyes open to what is passing around them, and this is what induces the republication of those letters in this shape. The writer's aim however, was originally, and is now, only tho lumble ono of leading abler minils to tho subject of our criticul position as a nation before we again find ourselves anid' commerclal difficulties like thoso in 1817, which were wholly oansed by Sir fobert Peel's money Bill of 1810 or surrounled-by other continental Revolutions, when all our danger would be felt to flow from the veasonable discontent four working masses. At the breaking ont of tho late French Revolution the writer endeavourod to express this critical position of he country in n letter (publishod at the time) to tho late Lord Georgo Bentinek, dated New York, 25th March, 1848, as follows :-

The timo has come when we mist be in a position to have a rensonable expectation that every olass of her Majesty's subjects vill be checrfully prepared to do all the dutics of the subjeot, and when, as a matter of cour io, we nust yield to overy one all the subect's privileges. A man can seareelytbe expected to lay his life and property on the nltar of his country, if he has not the samo extent $f$ interest in, and attachment to, tho Government as is enjoyed by his neighbour. Upon this ground alone thon I weuld insist on tho ital necessity of immediately doing away with Church establishlinents and exclusivo Universitics. I would let each incumbent enjoy that he at present has during his lifo, but nt his death, I should have the clergyman's lncome diverted to the purpose of Common Sohool Ednention, or to support Ragged Sohools. If any other reasons were wanted to show this important feform boing injuriaively called for, wo weuld find it in the fact that church quarrels divide thoss who are mutually the people's advoentes in the uestion of protection to the British labouter or artizan. At tho opening of the Parliament in January, 1847, being then in Glassow, I pulbished tho following remarks on this vital point:-' It will soon become palpable that therc are not veally tuo Working Constitutional Parties in the State, and that the IF'iigs or Pulitical Economists have a Monopoly of Power: for it vill be self-evident that the existenen of Church questlone prevents the possibility of onk;'foining the Protectioniats, or trusting them with powsr, though on: all other subjects they might coms to bo a better reprecentation of pubhio opinion than the Whige. The discussion of the great and vital question of labour will thus have no chanes of fair play, and the greateat distress and misery will be the inceitnble consequeneo, if we eould Guppove it p.osible that the working classes wosld rewain quies, and permit the throat of their peculiar intercat, the Qumarion or LasBoun, thas to be cut. Ao reasonably might we gxpect the publio to colerate the culpable leaving of impodimente in the way of ant enpries Railway train, to seatter edriain death and destruction all arouml. So edrtainly, therrfort, tvould I caleulate on the Church question being speedily diopatolied, or tha Whigs blawed for retaining it ai a source of panty rolirical oarital, that I earnestly desirt tho present Jifmistry to secure their tenure of ofice, tystrengthening themselves on the question of labour, instead of leaning ou the political ureakness of their opponents, arising jrow wost of the Protectioniats being ChurcheTories.' In thls alveadful condltion the workingolasses will blame, and Justly so, the Government. Tho Government will plead tis good lintentions, but this wili not feed the atarving mnsees, who will, In reply, charge the Government with at least not having ability w prevemt, even if it did not cause their disasters. No chango to peoplo fin these clrcumatances can be for the wormo, and a Revolution miny come upon England, If Retrenchment and tho most aweepiug reform of the Currency are not made, without a momonta delay, almultancourey with auoh poltical altorations in Irolend, and otherviec, ns will throw the now gloomy minds of tho population forward to a liappier future. The Peel Conservativ es in erder to popularise themselves an a party to conearve the Church, ancrifleed what thoy bad told thoir conatituents they In thelr hearts believed to be tho intereat of the liritish lnbouror; and they are now a moral nullity, incajable of aerving the Crown, while tho retentlon of neeuliur privileges by theli class, and lts Chureh, atter the interents of industry havs been betriycd by them in the leglslature, positivoly endangera the existing order of thinga, so that wo have no hope from Sir R, I'uel and his "loose fish." (Unlesa we should atcop to use bud instrumenta, urguing, that having saorifieed British Industry to the Cliuroh, they are the very men to sacrifieo tho Church to British Industry l) And neithor will the people accept assiatance froni the Proteotionists (altliough this is admitted to be the rily party which has taken n popular or patrlotio view of the righte of nativo labour) because by loing so, they would sacrifiee their jights of conselenco and hand themselves over, bound hand and foot, to.a misorabiy selfish ehureh oligarchy, which they hate. 'tho Crown eannot be snved by tho Whigs, even if fhey could do so on prinoiple, lor they cannot save themselves as a party, which is alwiys theil flrst look out. As for the irreclprocnl free-traders, or free-thinkers in oommerco they ean do no moro fur tho working-people (through whose contentment and happiness alone tho Crown can be austained than tho free-thinkers in religlon oan. The one would land theic boiles in denth, the other their souls. The total want of ali patrlatio principle, or tanglblo principle of any kind, in Irreoiproeal freo truders, mny appear temporarlly to be blessed, just as the total absence of respect for roliglous principle may bo; but either peraduentare is a very miserable oalculation, and 1 eannot underatand how any man, or set of men, feuling fully the responsibility of a government, would dare to rely on such dolus long. I therefore think that there exists at present no party in Euglanil with suffioient power or influence to save the working claseen from staryation; and that iy the Cnóvn cannot ohoanise an Expcutive carable of this finat duty of a Govanment, it muet of cal moment I would net hepitate to meet tho Chritists more than bulf way. I would oall the now party the nocial soonomiata (as opposed to political economists), whose objects as n party I would state to be-1st. The Social Economists will hold it to bo tho fres duty of a government, at whatever sacrifice, to malesall aure, whonro willing to work, of tho motual necresarles of life. 2dly. They will hold that every means should lyo alopted to raiso tho outwnid cemfort of the working olasses, ns well ag to olevato them morally and religiously-a church establishment not being one of these means. Other thingat viow as only, subsidiary, or means to these ends.

After perusing the mateer under tho hending " Alteration of the Money Law," the reader will, I doubt not, agreo that a Unrvepsal Suffraoz Panty is imperatively called for, if for no other purpose than to mako sure of Gold baing, without loss of tlme, reduced to the rank of an ordinary commodity the same as the foor mas's Lahoull which no Lav can fix tire prica or.

THE MOST FEARFUJ, SOCJAI CONVULSIONS COULD NOT FAIL TO ARISE OUT OF ANY SUCCESSFUL ATIEMP' IN PABIIAMENT TO PERIE'IUATE THE PRINCIPLE OF SIR R. PEEL'S MONEY LAW OF 18IO, OR I'O LOWEIL OUR FIXED PRICE OF GOLD DOWN TO THE VALUE TO WIICII GOLD MAY FALL ABKOAD.

We deceive ourselves if wo suppose that the people vemain so ignorant as not to know that tho lowering of the price of Gold is an cquivalent term 'or rnising tho purchasing power of money-or, in other words, for lowering the exchangeable value of proporty, commodities, and labour. The Working-Classes have been taught by long and most eruel expericnec, that the principle of tho Mones Law of 1810 practically denies to British labour the reward which tho Law of Supply and Dewand would naturalfy award to it, by lending to tho export of gold (which upsots the country's Banking facillijes), and thus contracting the currency whencver tho Fo reigner prefers taking Gold, whleh lue of cunrse does unless the prico of britisli Manufaotures approximate in cheapnesss to that of Gold - even nlthough the samo Foreigner did not import into this country Goil, or othor commodity sold at tho cheap rato, but had nvailed of a Paper or prosperity price for the Foreign Commodities in payment of whieh tho imbecility of our Law puts it in his power to take Geld at the eheap price. -They now geo clearly, that the fact of Gold being absurdly fixed at the same low rate when it is in tho grentest demand as when it is iu tho smnllest demand for exportation as a commodity necessarily fixes down, as tho genera rule, to tho same low, untaxed, and profitless standird tho remuneration to tho produeers of British Commoditics, whleh have ta be sold against Gold as a Commodity to Fureigners, is well as into Gold as a Joney to our own peoplo in tho same niarket / Our Uftioial and Annuitant Classes thus particlpate in the monstrously unduo advantnge whieh tho bill of 1810 gives to the Foreigner over the British Artiznn, and this sacrifico of our Working-Classes operates a permanent reduction in tho price of British products, by so prostrating the British producer himself that lie ccases to bo a consumer of other than the mereat necessaries, a large proportion of which, being ontables, now aro (under our irreciproenl Free-Trude syatem) the product of foreign labour, in payment of whieh the Foreigner will never take anything but Cold till compelled to do so by the prico of Gold in this country being at an advance over its price abrond, equal at least to the amount of the taxation paid by our Artizan, and the fair profit which the free and unreatricted operation of tho natural regulator of priees (the influence of the Law of Supply and Demanil in his partleular trade) would award him. And, as in this state of degradition in tho circumstances of our Working-Classes, few Working Men are in so independent a position as to be able to attend to Politics or Public Questions withont fatally injuring their fanilies, it has necessarily followod tiat tho Working Men have been able to get few leaders amoner themselves execpt buil zacn mal bad subjects, who, by their con duct, have deterred tho triumph of tho great Chartist Frinciple-Univansal. Suffnage, Now, howeyer, a total change in thels views of what is their true interest is ceming over the convietions of our Woukiag Men which enunot tail to sceure them the netive sympathy and eo-operation of tho Propertied Clisses. Jhe Working-Classes, in their sinklag eondition, havo engerlj eaught at such nosurdities as Organizations of labour, Conmunisms, and Associationisms, from which the Capitalist Classes were excluded just as sinking men eateli at stiaws; but struna they linve found these dulusiens to bo (however well intended), and our Linbeuring Masses are no longer open to be humbugged by the silly doctrine that labour is a scjavate intercst. Iho Working Men now see Masses are no longer open to be humbugged by the silly doctrine that labour is a scjarato intercst. Tho Working Men now see employars of Inbour, ns contradistinguished from tho mere moneyed nan or Sir J. Grabam'a drones of the hive; and tho Working Men's distresses having led them into a mueh better linowledge of the Noney Question, which is in reallty the question of labour than is possessed by the Middle Classes, they eec that to inercaso tho number of bidders tor the: Jabour, (the only means of raising their wages permanently, sueh an alterntion of our Money Laws must be made as will permarently Reduce rus Exchanorabis value of Money, as when less property and a smaller quantity of commodities como to stand for tho same amount of Moley, it is evident that lese of the Working Man's time and labour' will do the same thing. 'f'hus the intereste of all elesses except the Ufficials, Annuitants, and Money-mongers, aro seen to be tho same, and inscparnble; and, as thousanis of the Cpper and Middle Classe Lave no oljection to Democratic Legislation, a new party of Social Economists will soon be in a position to demnnd and to eniry Untviasal Suffeage as the oniv means to the oneat comaon bind in vicw, the Money power being lound to be so strong in I'arliament as at present constituted, ns to prevint justice being dono to tho lubour of tho country by the repudintibn of tho Monctase Sehenem of Sir Robert Peel nud the usurcis. If; huweyer, the middle classes were to continut to allow thenselves to be used ns barricadea against the non-clectors, our futuro would bo dark ludeed. This would sour and exisperato our working elasses :-

So tho struck Eaglo, stretchod upon tho plain
No more through rolling clouds to sour again,
Viewed his own feather on the fatai dart,
Winging the shaft that quivered in his heart.
Keen were bis pangs ; but keenel far to feel Ile nursed the pinion that impelled the stel:
While tho same plumago that liad raimed his nest,
Drank the last lifte-drop of his bleching breast."

PATRIOTIC VIEWS OF THE AMERICANS ON THE SUBJECT OF NATIONAL LABOUR.
oower, though on enee, if we could quastion or La. vay of an exprese Church question carneolly desiro If leanitig on tho endful eundition butt this will not ven if' it did not re upon Eugland, ncounly with auch - happier future. lity, Incapmble of dustry have been ry to the Cluaroh from the Proteo of nativo Jnbour) ot, to.a miserably prinelple, for thay -thlukers in com. can be sustained total want of all lessed, just as the m , and I cannot in such dolusions - workling classe mast, it muar on as papriotic (and AL. YCONOMISTS (a dit to be tho firt lifo. 2 dly . They vate them morally ans to theso ends. reo thint a Univara ss of time, reduced

- SUCCESSFUL AW OF 1810, 0 L ABROAD
price of Gold is an of proporty compiple of tho Money liy award to It, by $y$ whenever tha Fo eapnesss to that of beap rate, but had aw puts it in hif e low rate when It whlch have to be irket! Our Ufticial Foreigner over the sh products, by. so a large proportion ment of which the ment of which the an advance over It e and unrestricted made) would award In so independent a ecessarily fullowod, who, by their conal change in their are them the aetive o engerly enurlit at rses were excluded, and our Labouring king Men now see le condltion of the ; and the Working question of Inbour, ras Exchanazabl: rax Exchanazable unt of Mohey, it is except the Oticials, and Middle Classes dand to carvy UnIrong in I'arliament, Mlonctn y Schenea - used ns barvicade

RESOURCES OF VIRGINIA.

LETJERS

Finov the Hon. Abootr Lawrence or Masahciuabrts, now Ast bageador to sha Couht ur London, to the llon. Whliam $O$. Rivas or Viboinia, nuw Amoassadouito tha Couit op l'amis, Published In $1840 \ln$ Aneriea,

Ma Lawnenca to Mr Itrves-Numen I.

Bosten, Januatry 7, 1840
My Dear Slr, -When you were with us last smmuer, 1 mote than half promised to make you a short visit in Februaty, and I have not yet given up ontlrely tho long antieipated plensure of doing 80 .

I have not forgotton our conversation on the conditioh of our country generally, and more particularly the strong desire manifested by you, to improve tho condition of the peoplu of your own State. I have nlwaya entertalued feelings of high reunid for tho "Anclent Dominion," ariaing probably from tho iathante revolutloancy associations botween hel' and our "Old Bay Stute," as woll ns from my having looked upon hor as the mother of many of the greatest statesiuen, and pureat patriots, whioh our colutry has produced.

Inm not aurprised that you of VIrginis should dewirn to do something by whioh the matohless naturnl resources of your nativo State may be developod. I hare thought that the state of Virginia, with its temperate ollmate, variety and excellence of soil, exhauatleas water power, nnd exulerant mineral wealth, contains within herself more that is valuable for tho uses oi mankind in thene modern days, than any other Stato in urr Union.
Thirty years alnco, a few bmall schooners wero natheient to carry on tho commeroo between thls olty and Now Orleans; now, within the last year, we bave had one hundred and sixty-five nrrivals from New Urleans at this port, and many of the vessels are of tho largest clnss; ships from five hundred to seven humdrad tons burden. Thoy hnve brought us 'lobaceo, Indiua, Corn, Flour, Cotton, Beef, Pork, Lard, Lead, do., nuwunting in the aggregnte to many millions of dullars. Of the first three of these artioles, whloh now cone to us in suoh quatities from New Orleans, our Importailons, in former times, were almost exclusively from Virglnia, North Carolina, and Maryland. Cax rue exprect to comhera succubsyclly wita tir Western armons of och counthy, where, without mucu lainour, the gill produces dolhle, anil bomatimes aven mone, to the acte, tilan the avedaok chors of thb iabat mentoned Statrs ?* 'This compotition will lierease ; and it appenrs to mo that tho remedy for its innuspioious effeots upon your welfare is to crento a market at home for your surplus agricultural products; by estnblishing such Manufictures as muy bo adapted to the peouliar condition of your labour. There nre two classes of Jabour ; intelligent, and unintelligent; tho former is that kind of labour which requires a considernhle antomit of mental culturo, with active physioal power. This combimation is capable of applying Science to Art, and of producing resulta that are diffioult, and oftentimes complicated. 'The latter desuription of labour, is of that obaracter which depends prineipally on phy ieal strength; this quality of libour you have in abundanes and I hopo you are not without a toletablo supply of the higher class. Yon may, without doubt, commeneo the manufacture of almost every desertiption of articles, requiring but little skill, and prosecute the work with suocess. Manufactures of such article as Iron, Henp. Wool, Cotton, Leather, de., wrought into tho coarser and inore common articles, would suceed with you.
Just for a monent imagine the wholo supernumerary popula tion of Virginia employed at a rate of wages, such as nev paid in he Northern and Eastern States; what think you would bo tho offect? I have not a doubt that the value of land would inereaso within fivo miles around ench mannfiacturing village, equal to the cost of all the machinery in it. The ephere of tabour mast bo enlarged, diversified, if you would bring out the energies of your peoplo. I yet hope to see Viresinia take that pheee, among the old Thinteren, that seened by Providence to bo assigned to her: it can only be nehieved by energy and perseverance, on the part of thoso who have tho destinied of their fellow-citizens in keenng. Lot tho law-inakers, and thuse who almluister them, tiot onls spenk out, but so not, ns to give an impetus to labvur; let t be considered respectable for every man to have a vocation and to follow it. If not for his own pecmiary profit. let him labour for character, which ho is certain to obtain, if his labous benefit others. I intended to make some remarks on the recom mendation of the President in his annual message, and the repor of tho llonourable Secretary of the 'Iroasury, to change our whole Revenuo syatem. $\dagger$ The plan proposed, if carried out, has an important bearing on tho subjeet of this lettor, which is, however already sufficiently long. Reserving thereforo my remarks upon the last mentioned topics, for another communication, 1 reminin very faithfully, your friend and olot. servant, Aunotr Lawnesces To the Hon. W. C. Rives,

Castlo Hill, Albenarlo County, Virginia. England even the Atlantic States of America ca

It is an absurd dea that tho Amiericon congessions (na a reduction to 30 per cent. dutics is c.lled) were caused by Peel's com measure. They were talked of in America when 1 was there in August 1845.-Igaso Bucuavan, sury, who appearin to have recalved new light upon the anbject of our natinnal economy, to examine the hirtury of the logislation of Congreys tu the above periods. IIe whil find in his own departmont of the Government abundant evidense of the distrese that uxiated under low dutles and a deranged ourreney.
T'inere la a prevalent idea abroad, that the enpital of the enuntry will nufier exceedingiy log a rovalsion in its businesm, and that the tarlff of 1842 has operated In fayour of the eapitai, and not the labour of the country. Thero can be no doubt that oapitni is generaily profitably and safcly employed, and well paid. T'se protite of enpltal are low, when wages are low ; but eaplat has usually had the powor to take eare of itself, and does not require the ald of Congreas to place It In any other poaltion, than to put the inbour in metion. Congress shonld leginlate for tha labour, and the capital wIII take care of lisolf. I will give yoil nn example of the rato of wages uniler low duties, nind undor the tariff of 1842. In 1841 and 1842, the deprassion in all kinds of butslness beenmo so opprassive, that many of the manufinoturing establichments In Now England were olosed, the operatives dismissed, the meehanical tradea were still, and evory resource for tho labouring man seamod dilod up.

In the eity of Lowell, whore there are miero than thirty large cotton milila, with from alx to sixteen thousand spindos each, it was gravely considored by tho proprietom whethor the millis shouid be stopped. It was enncluded to reduco the wagea ; this wis done eeveral times, untll the reduction brought down the wages from about $$ 200$ to $$ 150$ per week, exolusive of board; thle oferation took place upen betweon 7000 and 8000 formales; the milis run on; no sules wero made of the goods; the South imil West had neither monoy nor oredit, and linully, it was detormined to hold out tili Congress should not upon the tariff. The bill paseed, and of courso the milis woro kept running, which would not have been the cave if tho act liad been rejected ; and now the nverngo wages paid at Loweil-taking tho same number of fensales for the saiue servicu-is $$ 200$ per woek. oxelusive of tonsed. Yot Mr Walker says habour has fillen. Whero aro the wagen for labour, Insk, lower than they were In 1842? Who is to be benefitted by the ndoption of $n$ oyatem thint gives up overy thing, and gives no rearonable promise of any thing

I havo succeeded, I trust, in shewing that there ls no probnbllity of eur exports incrensing, in consequonee of a rednction of the tariff, and that tho products of tho. Weatern Staten find the beat market among the manufacturere at home. In regaril to the Southern and cotton growing Sintes, thoy aro to be greatly benetited by the inorease of censumption of thoir staples at home. No appreciablo quantity oan be shipped to England, if tho tariff should be repenled, it being already free of daty. I'he establishlment and successful prosecution of the spinning of cotton in this country, has onabled the pianters to obtain for severul yenrs past at lenst na aduitional eent. per pound on the whole emp, nud perhaps even moro. Tho Amerienis aro the grentest apinners of cotton in the world, the British exoepted. This competition lias kept the price trom failing to $n$ rilnons point on severai oceasione, and it lins been acknowledged by many of the most fatelligent planters in the South. Our consumption renched, the last yenr ne hundred nnd seventy six millions of pounds, whioh ls equal to the whole erop of tho Union in 1825, and equal to the whole consumption of Great Britain in 1823, This is a striking fact, and ono that shouid be remembered by the planters. The histery of the production and manufacturo of cotton is so oxtraordloary, that I propose to send to you somo stntisties on tho subject, furnighed mo by a friend. I hope you will not deem me ovor sancoine, when I tell you that it is my beilet that the consumption of cotton In this country will donble in cight or nine years, and that it will reach 400 nillions of pounds in 1856 ; and further, that we nre not only destined to lo tho greatest cotton growors, bitt the most oxtensive cotton spinncrs, in the worli.. Wo havo all tho elements among ourselves to make us so. The inanufacture of cotton is probnbly in its infancy: but a modernto portion of mankind have yet been e'nthed with this healthful and cheap article. Nothing ean stop the progress of this manufacture, but some sojeidal legislation, thit will prostrate tho eurrency of the country, and deprive the penple of the means of consuming. There can be no legislation thint will break down the mannfacture of cotton and wool, exeepting through tho operations of the eur-renoy. We may bo disturbed by renoy. We may bo disturbed by low duties; the finer deseriptions of cotton and woollous, printed goods, and worsted finbries, would be seriously affeeted by low nd palorem duties, but the coarser fabrics, sueh ns ate generally consumed by tho great body of the people, will be made here under any and all eirenmstances. If wo have competitlon from abrond, tho labour must, and will conso down ; this has been often tested, and otur experienco establishes the fact.
In Virginis and other Sonthern States, aut even at the West, many petsons have believed that tho proteetive system wias mado by, and for Now Eingland, and that Now Enrland, and particularly Massachusetts, could wot thrive withone it. Now, this is an error; tho South and West began the system of higli protective duties, for the purpose of creating a market for thelr rodueo (although the principle of discrimination was recognized and ostablished when the Ilrst tariff was onacted.) It is not truo, that we aro more dependent on n proteetive tariff, than the Middie, Western, or Southern States. I'hose Stnters that possess the smallest amount of capital, ire the most benelleted by a protectivo tariff. We linve in New Jingland, ingrent prodnetive power; in population. Wo have a hardy, and industrious, and highly Intellipent population, with a perseverance that coldom tiren, and we have also acquired a conaidernble amount of akiii, whioh is inoreasing every day ; bealden this, we have already aocomplialied n magnificent aystom of intereommunleation between ali parts of this nootion of the country by rall-roads; thia is the hout kind of proteotive power, having roduoed the rate of carringe to a wondorful extent ; thls being done, we haro mones enough romaining, to keep all our inbour omployed, and procecuto our furiga and domentio commeroe, wlthout boing In dubt beyond the Ilmite of our own State. Now, I ank, how wo thall atand, ocmpared with Peanuylvania, Ohio, Alabama, Geergia, or Loulaiana, when the day of finanoial trial ahall oume. I do not deny we shall nuffer, but as it has been In times pasi, we shall go Into and oomo out of the troubles far stronger than any other $$$ state eut of Now Eugland. It is not my purpose to prosent to yon the balance ahoet of Missaulausetts, but fif is due to her olharaoter and her dignity, that sla should atand before you in her true position. I havo nover adyocated a proteotive tariff for my own or the Now England States oxoluyively, nor have those gentlonion with whom 1 have been ausociated in this oause, at any thme, entertained a narrow or aectional view of the question. We have helloved it to bo for the intarest of the whole country, that its Iabour should bo protected, and so far as I have had to do with the ndjustment of those ditficult comblano ions embraoed in a tarifif bill, I have endeavoured to take onre that the intereats of all tite sitates were proteotod, whether they were large or manll. I say now to yon, and jt ahould bo said in Congress, and to the country, that Masssachusettis asks nu exoinsive logialation. If Pennaivania, New York and Ohio, the three grent States, with Kentucky, Georgia, Missouri, Aiabama and Louislnna, wish to try nn experiment on irou, coal, hemp, cotton bagging, sugar, Ato., &o., I am rendy, as one cltizen of Massachusetts, to meet It and nivait in patient aubmission the rosult, which 1 doubt not will be found, within eighteen months, in the realizntlon of all 1 have predioted. 1 say agaln, 1 would not, If I could, have a tariff made for Mawachnssette alonc. If, however, there ahould be a now one, let our interesta, with those of overy other in the Union, share that protection to which we are all entitied, and of whigh we claim our full share. I enn with confidence nssure yon, that we shail go npward and onward, Wo will work. If 12 hours Inbour in the 24 wiil not sustaln un, wo can, nnd wiil work 14; and at the same time feel that Congress cannot take the sinews from our arms, or rob us of the intelligence anquired from our publio schools, eatablishod by tho foresigitat and whedom of our fithers.

At tho riak of writing a long letter, I oannot forbear allading to the finct, that the liabitual agitation of this question of the tariff, has workod, in the main, to tho advantago of Now England.
Wo wero, prevlous to the war of 1812 , an agricultnral and narigating people. The Amerionn aystem was forced upon us, and was adopted for tho purpose of cieating a home markot for the prolucts of the noil of the South nind West ; we resisted the adoption of $n$ system, which, we honestly beileved, would grontly injure our napigation, and drive us from our aechstomed omploymeats, into a business wo did not understand. We cume into it, howeror reluctantly, and soon learned that, with tho tranafor of our capt, tnl, we nequired skill and knowledge in the uss of it-and thpso far from our foreign commerco being diminished, it what, in. erensed, and that our demestic tonnage and commerco were very soen more than quadrupled. Tho illustrntlons were so striking In overy department of labonr, that those who, fifteen years agg were the strongest oppononts of the protective tariff nmong uge, have given op thoir theories, and acknowledged that the na have given up thoir theories, and heknowledged that the revelations aro such as to satisfy tho most sceptical. We have gone forward stendily, till many deseriptions of manulacture $\theta_{\text {a }}$ gone ae weil sotiled in New Enginnd as the raising of potatoes. Our experience has given us sklll-and, of course, we have cunfldence in our own resources, that does not oxist elsowherc.
Whon 1 converso with nentlenen from the South and Went, respecting thic establisiment of manufiotures, they reply that they should long ngo hivo engaged in them, but the repealof tho the action of the governineut, provented them. Now tho tariff, blame us, if this constant agitation of the tariff qua cannot tended to give Now England not a monopoly, but qucation has which sho lias not been instrumental in bringing about. I hars no doubt we have been gainers, on the whole, by these agitntions yet we have at times beon groat sufforers. I wish those States, that have withheld their encmica from entering apon those indes trial pursuits, to examine this matter-and, if 1 anm right, to take an observation and n now doparture. We hnvo no jealousy take ovor, eoncerning tho establishment of monnfactoricalousy, whatthe country; on the contrary, I believe those gentlemen from the Sonth and Weat, who havo been liere, will bear witness to the the sire on tho part of the yeople who aro engaged in manufactures to impart all the information in their power; thero isnufactures, nll. When the southern and western States shall manufactustheir own clothing, we shall have bec ono extensive exporters of the variety of manufinotures produced here. Wo havo the ahips, and the men to bavizato them. Wo shall pursue no extensive ioreign commerce with manufaotures, and bring home the produee of other countrics, such as cotfee, tea, doc., de., and pay for the produes of the South nod West, with forelgn Juxnries the producs of the South nind West, with forelgn Juxnries, nnd necossarics of life. It has ofton been said here by us, eate protection to American labeur; that in wearing who advotons, woolle1ss, dc., dic., wo wore consuming British whent, beef, pork, \&e. 1 ain happy to find authority of the higlest reapectabillty for thls opinlon, in the permon of one of the moat eminanit moreliants as well as one of tho bost and mont honouraible men in England, Mr. Willinm Brown of Lirerpool-lately the fruo-trade candidate for Parllament, from the county of Lanenster. In a letter to Jolin Rolfo, Bisr, a Inndholder, upon the advantagee of free-trade, ho saya: "" noxt allude to the Leayus wishlug to injure you, I presul: a, of dill not bedenied, that all intervis lis tha hingdons nre no lim ud cogether, that none of thems enn aufter without the others boing lijured. Wo muat aink or awion toge. thor! Y'arndoxical as It may appear, I think Great Britnin is the largest graln exporting nountry la tho world, although it is imposifiblo to entimnte accurntoly what quantily of gruin, de., is consumed in proparing $\mathbf{8 0 0 , 0 0 0 , 0 0 0}$ value of exports, by whileh you are no grently benefled. It la placed in tho laboratory of that wonderfill intellectual nanohino, man, whioli gives him the plyas cal power, alded by steapu, of converting it into brondeloth, calico, hardwaro, de., do., and in these shapes, your wheata find their way to erory coulitry in the world.
Ithank Mr Biown for the olear atatement ho has preaentel of the limportanoo of a honio markot, and oommend this extract from hia letter to the oonalderation of every farmer In the United States: it is perfuntly wound, and applies with particular foree to owr present condltion. T'o place the people in a oondltion of purmanent and colld prosperity, wo must enoourage home Industry, by olttaining the greatest ainount of produotion; this ean only be obtalned by diversifylng labour, whioh will bring with it higli wages; and unless the labour is well paid, our country cannot prosper. Agrioulture, the founilation of all wealth, depends on production, and in market lor those produots. The encourngomont of agriculturo is found in the establishment of manufactures, whtels il maintalned, will be oertnin to neoure a market.

The free trade of the polltioal economists of Grent Brituin, is a transeendontal philosophy, whioh la not likely to bo adopted by any government on tho face of the globe, unloss It bo tho Chinese, and we have already the earnest of the effeet of low dutles on the internal condition of that country. The tivilo of thint cimpire is fast appronohing to barter; the precious metals having been drained, to pay for the forelgn produeta introduced luto It.

I am awaro that I have written a long letter, but I could not woll abridge It , conalutently, with glanolng at many topies in Whioh I take a deep intorest. The aubjeet is boundless, and I would eheerfully earry out by Illustrationa, and examples, nuauy of the points, upon whleh I have touched, but I forbear for the present. When 1 have the pleasure to meet you, we onil discuss nil these questions, ombracing not only the prosent condition, but the futuro prospects and destiny of our beloved country, for which I entertain the strongeat nttachment. Our atrength and glory is in upholding and maintalning the Uuion.

I shall send, in a fev dnys, atatiatics furuiahed me by a frienl, who is intelligent, eareful and ncournte in theso matters, and who holds himsolf responsible for all that will be stated.

I pray you, my dear sir, to necept the assurances with which I demain, most faithfully, your frlend, and obedient servant.

Abnott Lawnexce.
To tho IIm. William C. Rives,
Castle Ilill, Albularle County, Virginia.

Ma Latinexce to Ma Rives-Numaer III.

Boston, Februnry 20, 1810. My Dear Sir, - When I wrote to you on the 10 th of hast month, 1 proposed to present in another letter some fnots in regard to tho progress of tho spinning of cotton, since the first higli protective
These facts 1 shall offer for the specinl consideration of those who lnhabit the cotton growing region of our country ; anil of those who brought forward aud enrtied that law through Cougresss.
The tnilff inw of 1810 was founded in wisdom, and I am ready here to make my acknowledgnents to thoso distingnished stntegmen of the ootton growing States, who auccessfinly consummatel an act that has doneso much to promote the prosperity of the swole Union.

The primary objeet on the part of those members of Congress representing the cotton planting States, in establisling an high proteotive taritt, was to extend the conaumption of their great staple in this country, by exoluding foreign male cotton fabrics, and eubstituting a domestio article, manufactured of Amerienu cotton. I think the authurs of the tariff law of 1810 may congratulate themselves and their countrymen, on tho complete suecess that has followed from tho ndoption of tho minimum of twentyfive oents tho square yard, contrined in that bill. Uuder its bencficial operntion we havo been enabled to supply our own population with cottons of the coarso and middling qualities, and to export to foreign oonntrica to the amount of four or five millions of dollary annually,-for which wo receire in pryment, ten, eoffoo, allgar, hides, copper, de. These goods, tho product of oul own labour, have lecoine a substitute for coin, in the seroral countrios to which they are shipped.
It would seem that the founders of this system of high protection to labour ought to be antisfied with its results, ns tho quantity of colton now spun in tho L'nited States is fur grenter than the nost sanguino of its friends natieipated in 1810. Aecording to a statement made up by Mr P. T. Jackson and Mr

Julin A. Lowell, for thu uve of the tariff convention hold in Now York in 1892, the home consumptious of cotton prior to tio passage of the act of 1810 , was elevoll millisns of pounds, being about three elightha of the quantity now apun at Lowell.
The quantity spui In Oreat Brlcain In 1818, was olghty-olght mililions of pounds. Thoro ara no data to be relied upon for con. timious returna of homio consumptlon, belwem 1816 and 1825. 18:3.
III 1820.'27, the returns wore malu In a New York price ourrent, and they liave aince been continued, and are deonsed to be an correot as the nature of tho ene will nolinit
In $18 \% 6^{\prime} \cdot 27$, tho annount spin in Hio Ünited States was 103,489 bales, whleli, wo may eatimute at 830 lise, exch (nut of tarv), equal to 34, 149,390 Jus.
In tho sanine rear, tho quantity spun In Great Brltain was $107,200,000$ pounds. F'rolu 1818 to 1430 was a period of ombarmaminout and ilistreas nimons manufiscturers, oonsequently the consumption of 1820 -' 30 was unly 120,812 bules, of about 345 oach, muluntlag to $43,646,010$ poinds ; while the consumption In Great Jritalu was $217,000,000$ puands. At this period noine of our southerin friendy, who hal been foremost in advocatiug humo manufnoturen, and had counted largely on tho bonefita ansticlpatel by them in 1816, from the eperation of tho proteotive pulioy, (as greatly augmenting tho conaumption of thoir staple,) begnin to manifeat dissacistaction, with what they conadored the now progreas of our cotton manuhioturem. The dea entartahad, and put forth, was, that wo alould nevor require so muah as to boar any considerable pruportion to the ounsumption of Grent Bri-tain. I'his, as will be shown, was a false view of the case, and has proved a capital errur.
In 1832-'83, the quantity apun at home reached 101, 112 bales, avernying porhaps 330 pounds oach ; In 1835.30, 230,733 bulew; in 1837.'33, 240,003 balen ; in 1830-40, 205, 103 bulea ; in 1841-'42, there was deep commerelal and munutacturing distress, and the consumption receded to 207,851 ) bales. In tho latter part of the year 1842, and in 18t3, after tho present tarift law wont linto oporatlon, a revival of business throughont tho comintry took place, and brought up tho amount spun to 825,120 bales.
In 1815'45, (year ending 3lat August last,) the amount spun was 380,000 balus. Thero is a quantity of cotton consumud in the Interior of the States, whioli naver having reached the seaports, is not inoluded In tho Now. York atatoment, that haw boen eatimated to be at least 41,000 balis ; we shall therefore esthinute the total quantity ut $\mathbf{4 3 0 , 0 0 0}$ bules, of $\$ 10$ pounds enoh, net, niaking a totnf of $170,300,000$ pounds as tho consumiption lasi year, againut $11,000,000$ pounds in 1810-being a pertod of 20 yeurs.
The consumption in Great Britain has gono on steadily increasing, but not is so rapidi a ratio as in the Unlted Stntes. The returns for 1845 have been recoived, and amomint to $500,000,900$ pounls against $170,300,000$ pounds in tho United States. Thus tho increase in the United States from 1810 to 1845, has extended from $11,000,000$ to $175,300,000$ pounds in 20 yenrs. being an augmentatlon of eixteenfold. Tho increaso in Great Britain In the same period of time has been from $88,700,000$ pouads, to $500,000,000$ pounds; being en augnentation of luss than sevenfold, agninat an Increase in the United States of sixteenfold.
'I'heso are not only striking, but important facts, and presont a jiew of the ense which refitis the unticipations of those who entortained different opinions of tho futuro increase in tho apiuning of cotton in this country, Hfteen years ago. 1 cannot but hopo that the views and opinions of some of the promident men of the South may undergo a change, when they exmmine this qucstiou dispassionitely ; and that they will come to the conclusion that chey are deeply interested in the spinuing, as well ns in the pro. ducing of cotton, nt homo. As regards the future, if the general penco of the world be maintained, and the leading business concerus of this country are not disturbed by the leristative notion of tho federal government, thero is no reason why the increasert homo demanil for cotton should not go on in ns rapid a ratio as during the past. This would bo doubliug the present consumption in a fittle niore than cight years.

There are now an immense number of spindles under construction in a majority of tho States, (probably not less than 500,000 ,) nll of which nre intended to bo in operation betore the lst of Juh. 1850, and the probability is, that at that time, the quantity of cotton spun will reach $$ 50,000$ bales, of 410 pounds cach, or $200,500,000$ pounds. Thero will, also, be in grent hacreaso in Gireat Britain, but not in the samo proportion; as wo possess some advantages in tho manufacture of heavy goods, which are not enjoyed in England. So long as we prociuce better goods, and enn maintain our superiority abroad, there will be a constantly iluerensing export demand; which is of geent value to tho whole country. Upon a ruview of this branch oi industry, It appeats to mo that its future prospeots are excellent, if nut disturbed by bad

* Quantity of Yums apun in Great Britnin in 1845:-

401,000,000 pounds
Exported In Y rurbs.
131,500,000 liss. valued at 12u, 2 tets
Exported iu manufactures, $202,000,000 \mathrm{lbs}$. valued ai 181d, 301ets,
40 cts ,
108,000,000 Ibs. valued nt $\overline{401,860,000}$
Whole value of eotton manufiactured in England, banking, and (what is atill more pernioious to all branches of buainema, unatable and unwise legislation.

The tarlif' ham already beon altered ecreral timen, (I belleve alx or aevenl mineo 1816.
If the present movement againat the ach of 1842 sitali suoveed, in aecordanee with Mr. Walker'a plinn, It muat bo followed soon by a counter movement; If not nil the part of the peoplo, the gorernment liself will recommend it, for revenue.

It may be truly assorted that the conrse cotton fabrien, much an are worn by the labouring clamen, are mold an cheap here at in England, or in ally part of the world. Of course thene in no further burdon imposed on tho ennsumers of thin desoription of home made goods. It has been snld that the exinting duties on cotton goods prevent importations of almont every kind. Thls in so far from tho fact, that for the last three years the amount of cotton, ard mixed cotton and worated fabrica, printed and plain, lmported, have been larger than in former yonra, harlag ranged from $$ 10,000,000$ to $$ 13,000,000$. Tlisis largo amount is of the finer ilescriptions, and suoh at aro worn by tho fnalionable and rioh. We shall coutinue to import largely of these luxuries, no long na our people have surplus means to oxpend in dress ; and tho permanent revenue under the prosent syatem, wiit be much greater than under that proposed by the Secrotary of the 'Irensury.
Tho questlon has often tieen asked, why not roduce the dutien on cottons, If youl enn aell them an low 1 answer that the daty now la nearly fnoperntive, ontliely so on somo kinds, auch, for example, as aro exported in large quantities. If the dutles were reduced matorinily on the conrse goods, I should interpose no objection, provided amplo protection was malatnined on the midding and fine qualities. Thls is a matter to be carcfully arranged by practical men. We linvo now certainly nothing to fear in the manafacture of yarns, as hich na No. 14-so thr, we ean go on without protection, but the ligher numbers requires protection, and it should bea spocitic duty. Tho law, as it not atnnde, ajthough inoperativo on coarse eloth, gives confldence to the ajthough inoperativo on coarse eloth, gives confldence to the investment of eapltal in machinery, for the manufneturo of investnient of eapital in machinery, for the manufneturo of finor falbrics, In fuct a vory largo amount la already Invested finor falbrics, ln fuct a vory largo amount ls already Invested in mills, which produce yarns and cloth as high as No, 60 . in millg, which produce yarns and cloth as high as No. 60.
Without protectlon, and that in form of speciflo dutics, there wili Without protectlon, and that in form of specifo dutics, there will bo no lncrease of maclinery nidapted to tho midding and fine fabries. The great amonnt of printed enllcoes requires protection and will suffer soveroly without it. I will not dwell longer on this spliject of cotton. I trust I huve presented finets to satisfy thic cotton planter, that his interests have been promoted by orenting another market, and a larger one, too, for the spinning of his staple. Wo actunlly consuino (wear) iboro pounds of cotton in this conntry, than is conaumed in Gront jorltuin-sinco more than two-thirds of the quantlty spun in that country la oxported in the form of yarns and oloth. Wo work up more than France, and quito as much as $60,000,000$ Gormans. Our consuming ability of this, and all othor comforts of lifo, is heyond that of an equal number of porsons of any other conntry, and firo times as great as that of Russ'a.
The factories of only Massaohusetts, and a noighbouring State, spin annuaily 180,000 bales of cotton.
Wo received one inillion of larrels of flour (more than the whole export of the United States to forelgn countrics) the last yenr. The amount of producte of Statos out of New England, taken by Massnelusetts the last year, nmounted to $$ 40,000,000$, in cotton, cad, wool, sugar, conl, fron, flour, grain of all sorts, pork, beef, lard, tobacco, riec, do., dc.; frr which wo poid in the products of our labour; and this la a steady and incrensing market for tho articles I havo named.
In finet, Massachusetts (not to speak of the other New England States, which aro all largo cousumers) affords grenter support to the Agricultural and planting States, South nad West, tham any State in tho Union, and grenter allpport to the strictly Agricultural Stntes, than all foreign countries. The tariff of 1842 was enacted as muoh for the benefit of the Southern and Western States, as for Massachusetts, and thoy havo derived as inuch acivantage from it is proportlon to their capital. Of tho truth of this declaration, they will bo satisfied, after a year's exporience under Mr Walker's plan of low ad valorem duties.
The notion is prevalent, I am fully aware, that tho Northern and Eastern States, engaged in manuffeturing, enjoy the principal benefits from tho present tariff. But this is not the ense. 13y referonec to the following quantities of protected artleles, produced out of New England nimost wholly yon will see that there nro other great protected interests in tho country, besides the manufucture of cotton and wool. The duties on these are from 40 to 100 per cent. and on spirits to a greater extent. These are produced from 450 to 500,000 tons ol iron.

$20,000,000$ ponnds of sugar.
$20,000,000$ pounds maple sugni.
9 to $12,000,000$ gallons of molasses.
$\delta$ to $7,000,000$ tons of coal.
50 to $00,000,000$ pounds of wool.
$10,000,000$ bushels salt.
60 to $7(1,009,000$ gallons of spirits, mostly from grain.
12 to $15,000,000$ yards of cotton bagging.
$20,000,000$ pounds bale ropo and twine.
80 to 00,009 tons of hemp and flax.
To this list might bo added twonty minor articles, woith in the aggiegate. more than the whole amount of eotton fabries produced in the United States.

Iron, wa atll! Import to the amount or 70 to $\mathbf{8 0 , 0 0 0}$ tons, InoludIne noarly all umed on milroads, which can and will he prodacod at home, as soon as increated asplal is acquired. Wo now produce miore tron than Franco or Runsit, or any other country, bare Oroat Britain, whoeo produet is now $1,100,000$ tona.
Within a fow yeara there can be no doubt that the prodict of iron will be doubled, provilied the prosperity of the emintry in not intorfored with by exporimonte mado by Congrens on the laboar and eirreney of the country, whoh la a greater dincouragement to branches of buainens requiring a large atued caplat, than it ime sined by many of our legislatom who make and unmake tarift.
It la estlimated that at the prenent prices of sugar, the cultivetion, in a very briof period of timo, will boextended to the required hame consanaption, now about $800,000,000$ pounds, which in top years may be $500,003,000$ pounda. I have no doubt that the bent Intereats of the nation reyulre that the present duty on augar should be maintalned with other protsetivo dutles. Thlis oxtonalon of augar oultivatlon will einploy a large amount of labour, now dovoted to the prodiction of cottort.
It would ceem tisat meveral Stntes of tho Unjon, might wilh profit muitiply tho oceupationa of inbour. It appeara to me, they require news sourcen of support, and the progress and condition of their popuiation, with tho smount of production, prenent to the refleoting portion of the people a strong argument, in favour of such now souroes : I will state a fow facts.

The State of Virglula contalna 64,000 nquare milien; had, In 1840, 1,230,707 inhabitants; being lasm than 10 to the aquare millo 1 grons products, according to Profensor Tucker, $70,700,058$.
New York contalns 40,000 suluare milles ; had, $1840,2,408,017$ Inhabltants; producte in the same year, $$ 103,808,438$; add the products of navigation, na distinct from counmereo, which in omitted, on 050,000 tons ahlpping, $$ 20,000,000$; making In the agrregate, $$ 213,000,000$.

1600, by the flrat oensua, Virginia had 12 persona to the square mile, and Now York 7s; now, Virglaja coutaina 10, and Now York 63 to the square mile.

In 1820, V'rginia find a population of $1,005,370$; la 1830, $1,211,405 ; \ln 1840.1,230,707$. Now York in 1820, $1,372,812$; in $1830,1,018,608$; In $1840,2,428,021$.
In 1850 , Now York will probably contain nearly $3,000,000$, and Virglinia sny $1,200,000$. These facta, one would suppose, would be aufficient to laduce tho peoplo of Virgiula to introduce ncw branchee of industry, and to establish the modera laternal improvernonts for transportation, that the rieh resources of tho State nuay bo developed. I'he condition of the two Carolinas is much the aame ne Virginia. The population of North and South Carollnn, in 1830, was 1,313,172; in 1840, 1347,817 -incroase 24 per cent in ten yenrs, (princlpally In North Carolina.)
Evon in Great Britain, tho incrense in the samo time was 11 per cent. In Massachusotta, nithough there were 81f to the square nile in 1830, agninst 17 in the Carollinas, there was an inorease of 21 per cent. from 1830 to 1840 . The aggregnte producta of the tivo Carolinas $\ln$ 1840, was $\$ 59,808,744$, with a population of $1,3: 71817$. 'The products of Mansachusette, with a population of losa than 800,000 people, amounted at the same tlme to $\$ 100,000,000$, and now the products of labour and capital are more than $\$ 120,000,000$.

1 have littroduced these atatomients for tho purpose of exlibltiag fairly the true condition of somo of the old States, and to awaken the public mind in thoso States to the importance of bringling out thelr productive labour, by latroduclng new branches of buslicse, in order that tho industrinl classes may bo profitably employed, and to show that the three States nained have as great a stake in proteoting tho labour of tho country, ns any other In the Union. They have now but little else than soil and physical power remainlng. You posseas but a amall amount of protuctive power, in the form of railroads and labour-saving maehines, You linve: deep intereat in common with all the States, in upholding the labour of tho country. You aeem to be satistied that the time has oome when something should bo done to improve the condition of your people. The peoplo of Virgiala, with South and North Carolina, (partioularly the two former Stateg) have pursued a policy that has brought them, so far an population ls concerned, to a stntionary conditlon : and from present indieations, I should not be aurprised to sce Eastern Virginia and South Carolina with a leas number of peoplo in 1850, than they contained In 1840.
If you propose now to enter upon thoso pursuits that aro certain In thele operations to give employment, and that of a profitable kind to yomr people, and to create a market at homo for your agrienltural prodncts, what object ean there be in transferriug our workshops to Cireat Britain? The South and West have overy motivo to give efficient protection to the labour of tho whole Union; first, because those employed In the meehanienl and manufncturing nits, are the best customers for your ngricultural products: and, sccondly, becnuso you desire to engage in those departments yourselves. I say then, look well to this project, now under consideration at Wnshington, to change our whole revenue system. There is one principle upon whleh every Govern. ment and every commercial community, wlth which I am acment and every commercial commorld ; and that is, to establish quainted, agree throughont the word is and that is, to establish apecitio dutios, or $a$ valuation of their ovv. Mr Walker has reversed this decision, and recommends nd valorom duties on an alleged valuatlon abroad. I deem this featuro in the bill, a violation of sound principle, and such as must be condemned by men of all partics, whoso experience and knowledge are of value. It la no eth
argenu minincm roal the The I' that the 1 eonfes aries of informa $\operatorname{lng}_{\text {from thin }}$ rom abourin who we ralned ciety, Wr of him t obly art augarbliten a the pres our own le an er ment t prinelp than th to Man to Man if it be and wh
men wl
Anderi Toricu, Torien,
of the now, $t$ of labo atnte a of hia
In tt return

UNJV
"I
$\triangle$ RRA
IVEJE
$\operatorname{mzx}$ axpec If he tical
Adve
mny
tor $h$
the 0
tloni
the Bucl men depe
to e. licly
Sir 号 bod
Bu time cons tend oug
tma, Inciuri. he produead
We now proWo now pro-country, - prodinet of mintry ln not an tho laboue than If Ime ako tarifily. , the oultivathe requilired Whlel in ton that tho bent uty on sugat Thila nxten. This nxten.
nt of la bour,
, might with to to me, they condition of In faveur of llea; had, In 0 the aquare $$ 70,700,058$. $$ 70,700,053$.
$40,3,408,017$ 433; ndd the ce, which is nking in the to the square 70 ; $\ln 1830$, 1,572,812; in pprose, would ptroiluce ncw of thal im: Inas le mnoh South CaroSouth Carocroase 2\& per time was 11 - 81 to the re Was an Ina population th a popula. ame ime to of exhisiting nd to awaken of buslinese, ly employed, at a stakeln tho Union. al power rective power, You linve a pholding the the time has he condition 1 and North e pursued a oncerned, to I should not ollina with a 1840. $t$ aro certala a profltable or your agrlaferriug our ; have every $f$ the whole enl and mangrleultural ge in those this project, cry Governcry Govern-
h I am noto establish alker has reutics on an med by men f value. It

Is no ather, in practice than to drive from our forelgo trade $n$ largo number of houent importing marchants, and to place their bealncar in the hands of uneerupuious forelgners. Time may roveal the truth of this predlotion.
The l'realilent, ami hio Secretary of the Treasery, have atated that the operations of the present carlif law, opprested the poor. I confess this amertion surprlaned me, coming from high functionaries of the Government, who have the menns of olitalaligg correot Information. I nasume tho reapenalbility of atating that a labourIng man may be, and h, olothed with Amorloan manulioturen, from the erown of hila head, to the molo of hile fivot, ats oheaply as a fabouring man in Oreat Iritain, nr nity other part of Europe, who weam ns eomiortable galmonts ; nnd that tho rovenue is ralned prinelpaliy froms articies consumed by thos I beg to rofer olety, who aro in ongy pecuniny circumatances. of him to present thems to the l'reaident, and ho will there find the only articlo on whileh the poor man is taxed to any extent, is sugar-anil that ennuot ho deemed very onerous, when he obtains blaten and eoffee free of dity, and with a favourable pronpeet, if the present duty le maintalned, of very soon belig supplled from our own noil, with augar at a price mueh below that now paid. It In an error of tho l'realdert and Secretary, to put forth a atntement that the tariff of 1812 oppressen the poor man, when the prinelpal part of the rovenuo is derived rather from the luxurien, than the necesanties of llfe.
When we hear from high sourees, of tranmferring our worknhopm to Mrinehester, BIrnilnglinm, and L.eeds, I should bo glail to know If it be proposed to transfer our latelligent workmen with themand whethor a frrmer in Olio call be made to bellevo tiat those men will eat mote of his beef and pork, In Old than In Now Eng tand. This is a strange doetrine, and sound to mequite antlAmeriean, and in the same as the sentlimenta uttered by the old Ameriean, and in the same as sentimen Thero fs one other point to whloli 1 shail allude, In the report of the llon. Seeretary. He sayn that the wnges of labour are lower now, than prerlous to the tariff of 1812 . If he meaus the wnges of labour In tho mnnuffecturing portione of the country, I will state a faot, whioh I thilnk completely illustrates the lncortectness of his nssertion.
In the State of Masanchussetts, the Inatitntlona for snvings aro obliged by law, to make returna to the Legislature. In the annual returns, just published, I find the followling :-

Doing an inerease from 18il to 1892, of aboat 8 per cent. on depositors, and about 3t per oent. on amount deposited-and an Increane, from 1812 to 1845, of nbout 32 par eent. on deposftorm, or nearly 11 por centoper annum, and about 38 per cent. on amount depositted, or noariy 13 per cent, per annum.

I ahall make no cemments upon thls extraordinary exhilition of the inorense of depositors and deposits, further than to atato that all the world know for whom these ndnilrable Institutione ware ontablished, and hy whom they are used.
I will not troublo yau with more facts, arguments, or ilfuatrations touching thin great questlon, natlonal in its olinaracter, and ea bronil as the limits of the Union, and one that reaohos the conditlon of evory Individual in It.
I have, pormenally, no mure interent in this quention than any other cltizon. If the Oovernment adopts a evurne of meanuren that proatrates this labenr of the country, I aliall, In common with every other oltizon, foel lin effec.n. Wo are, il hold, ono great family, and Indissolubly linked together, and the chain cannot be touolici, withous tho vibusilon being folt at elther oxtremity.
I entertnin and cherlsh a atrons Amurlcan fcellng ; although Lorn and brod In Minsanoliussette, I have a leeling of pride In the honour and olinvioter of overy Stato In our Union. 1 deslre to see our whole population go onward nond upwari, in n ceurse of prosperlty and lanpplineas. My affectiona for thin country nro not Goundod by geographical lines, and whether 1 tind niymelfin Maino or Georgia, still 1 am an Amorioan citizen, protected by the conatltution and laws of one of the moat prosperous and happy countriee upon whioh tho sun ever shone. With all our parts strifew and blckerings, the country goes on prospering, nad I trunt, to prospor. I linvo only to nsk of those who nre now the aetors on our groat political ntage, not to experiment upon the prosperity and cleatiales of a happy and contented people.
With senthononts of thie highent respect and regard, I romain, denr alr, your friend and oledient servant,
To Hon, William C. Rives, Castle IIIll, Albenarle County, Virginla.

UNIVERSAL SUFFRAGE THE ONLY ALTERNATIVE LEFT US BY PEEL.

[CORROBORATIVE TESTIMONY.]

UNIVERSAI. SUFFRAGE BY TIIE BALLOT FOR BOTII IUUUSES OF PARLIAMENT.
"Tite time has come whin wa mest di in a position to have a erabonanle expbetation that mybit olass of llea Majgette subjects will bs oumenfulif raepaned to do ald. the duties of gyrar onz all tus suiject's pmivilizoes. A man can searcely be expected to lay his lifo and property on the altar of his country, If he has not tho smue extent of intereat in and attaohmont to tho government as in enjoyod by his nelghbour.'
From Mr Buchanan's lettor to lord George Bentinck on the occurrenco of the Conilnental Ilovolutions, lated New York, $25 t h$ March, 1848.
(From the Glazgow Examiner, June 17, 1848.)
Wo cannot revert to this most vital of subjects with more praclleal effect than by transferring the following from the Greenock Advertiser to our columns. Ouy highly respectable contemporary may be entirely relied on ns to tho veiva of our corrospondent. ne he and tho editor of that paper have long beon Intimato, tho lat. tor having been formerly editor of the Montrical Iferald:-

Wo give below an articlo on this all-important aubject from the Olasgow Examiner. Tho letterit contains, signed "a Protectionist," is ovidently from the pen of our old friend Mr Isuane Buchinan, Intels returned from Anseriet, -for tho number ol men is very limited who combino independence of mind with independence of circumstances sufficiently to hold, or, nt all oveuts, to express, their sentiments so fearlessiy. Mr'Buchanan's pubIlely nind alinost single-handed donouncing tho late mensures of Sir Robert I'eel ns not in truth Free Trade, but only Freo Inmports, and his, nt samo thene, strenuously supportiug the principle of Sir Robert Pcel's restriction of the bank note oireulation, cmbodled in tho curroncy laws of 1844 and 1545 . (although Mr Buchanan would repeal the Monetany or Gold Bill of 1810, ) aro sufficient ovidence that the mere popularity of a measure, for the time bcing, welglis nothing with him. But laviug had the advantage to contemplato tho position and working of the British constitution from a distance, nud free from local or party exoitoment, Mr Buchanan, anil many others of the most Conservative tendencies, who havo had the aame advantago, have formed the strong opinion, that if we make any change in this country, it ought, to be safe, to be sweeping and nevolutionary of eveit thina excert the Canem.

Such people think that as the Crown Is saved from the odium of its acts by the responsibility of thees being thrown on tho

Ministers, so it inny be found that the only way to savo the social blessing of tho Lords, (as an elemient in society whileh la beneficlal,) is to throw tho responsibility of thoir political acts on a constituency as powerful and popular ne elcots tho House of Columions.
"In a word, they would nllow both Houses of Parlinment to bo elected by Univerand Sutfirago. They would allow overy man over 21 years of age, who has never been convieted as a criminal in court, to give ling vote, ly ballot, at ono and the snmo tlme for his reproaentatives in notu Ilodars-the Upper House boing thrown open to the ennobled class, yle., to all who wero Peors at the Llanoverian succession to tho British throne, or who havo since beon, or may licreniter be, created Peets, and their sons, including aiso all the Baronets and Knights of the Empire, with including aiso all the Baronets and Knights of the enpire, with perlinps all men who have been thace tinces elected to tho Lowor perlinps all men who llouso of Parlianient.
"Tbein object is to place tire Britibi Monajeriy on so dnonis a dasis that we may heab without alains of the downfall of alf tay otirb Crowns in Eunope."
From tho foregoing notice and the letter of a protectionist, (which we decu of sutticient importance to republish bolow, it will bo seen that our correspondent vlews the question of latour or employment as the great constitutional question in every conntry, and tlat on its proper and immediato adjustmont in this country depends the fate of the natlonal debt, and even of the orown itself. Ho belicves that there is a majority in this country of all classes who have the elevation of tho working olasses as their chief object ; but he thinks that differences on church ques. tions render it inpossiblo for the frionds of the peoplo to act in concert, and that tho result will be that no amelioration of the circumstances of the working classes will be attnined, and thint a lovolution may be precipitated.
For instance, mnny protectionists, liko limself, would not trust Lord Stanley with power (although they agree with him in their disbelief in tho operation of ibreciprocal Free Trade), beranse they would thus put into his bands the opportunity of crusbing their religious libertics.

And such people nro gradually being led to the concluaion that Uxivensal Supfacie is tho only machinery which will securo for the qubstion of the employment of the people a fair dibcusbion, by first removing out of tho way chureh questions, and all comparatively insignificant matters that now eneumber tuis moss vital of sidijects.

It is no less true than it is strange, that we find a protectionist whose feelings sympathise as effectually in tho operatives' distress,

Which Jonde some man to leok to organle ehangen, an do the viowe of those who mee no roliof oscept in the erganination of iabour, atsociation, or communiern. Our correapondent, however, thimhe thint the way to attaln the propperily and ladopendence of thoes who labour for their broand is not to bo fonnillin gusivetie alteracions of soelaty, hut fa rellering the men of Hzed ppaperty in the ceuntry, an woll an thees whome onle property in the in bour of their hanila, of "" the aweat of thole miluda," frow the gripe of the woncy hanisia, of "i l'ruperty and Intelleet are thas held to be at present in the same mad pllyht with manual incour.
It in ntirmal shint the momepoly was glven to moxey liy Sir Ro. bert Peel'm eols hill of 1810, whileh made money (the pientifil urtiele) aynonymous with eotn (tho searee articlo), thins outraging the law of supply and demand, to Invest sha man of money wlith an limportance dlepropertloned to the man of property, and the manis of laboutr, of in osher warila, to make two olanaes of the nom. munity "hewers of wood and drawera of water" to the third or money elann.
Uur correapondent points out that Sir Robert J'ecl's hill of 1810. which eroated a tixed goll steturland of endure, has had two eficiets i
Int. Hy confualng between the cernia monry nud gold, it han veriluced wagas and prlees, becmuno inbour and properyy (chungh they do not exiat In larre disproportlon to monepy are lit gient dis. proportion to gohe at all tlmes.
3al, by giving gold a low ixxed price, It has led to the export of anid in.proferenee to Dritioh Imbour, and thine not nisly direetly ollininidied empolonment, but indirectly (by the retuoval of gold) aisilhilated the confilonee and banking facilitles of tho home traile, although this ahould have no neeossary connection with the foreign trade.

The oountry whe saved from the zeeond offect of the measure allailed to for a long period, by the balanee of trade southoulug in tiapour of Fingland, for, as forelgners euuld not demand gold at aray price, tho quantion, as to tho prico at which they should got 1t. did not eome practionlly up; but at longth in 1840 the foreign livaluagen wers broughit-parinamently, as our corieppondent $t^{\prime}$ inn's:-ngainut this country by Sir liobert l'eul's ineasurven almitting of five imports, and the second effeet of the Bill of 1810 (ria., the wamt of employment af any price), then for the first time nhowerl lta Hydra head.

It wore, Indeed, a fearful thing if, as our correnpondent antlelpates, the onuse of our prosent evila to not only temperary, an in tisulner cases of oational dintress, but arimes from a perimanent ${ }_{3} \mathrm{H}$ u.ce, and that no oonfldence ean ever again be permantently on. joyed, from tho porpotual femer hanglig ovee us thint withina fev wselsg or montlis our uous may again begin to leave us. J'lu linputation on Fres Trade is not that it (or that it ulone) got un into our present positlon, hat that it preventa us gettiug wat of our efilewnot, eceing that liren Imports coincident with a low fixed price of gold, will for ever crunh in tho buid the riding if' eontsdonec, by whiols alone we ean elther manulatiorv or shif gaoda, Our cort fondent anya that tho remedy for this mate of thinge in,
 "י' Yub oanif more cincllation, deino awar wiril hela as a btanano ef valers.
He would cticet this by minking Bask of linglan! notes (one pound notes beling issued In England nn well ns in scotland) Huarinteed by thin Govormmont, a disual. texnen not on!y all over the Uuited K'ingionu, but nt tho Bank'n own counter on condition thint all isaues beyond the fourteen millions owlige by the Guvernmeat be reprenented by gold or slliver to tho mame nimount (at tho market prico of gold and ailver') in its vaults.
In this way, mint in this way alone, it ta nsierted, omn our home tride and industry be eet free from the influence of forcisners, or, in ather words, In this way alune canl that contile neo bo restored that will savo oue workiug population from staryation in the present, and in thin way alone will frery Industrious man have it put in his power to mako aure, hy conomy aud nerseverance, of certainly securiug independonc, for hiniseli and his fiunily,
These ends (no less philanthropic than patriotic) aro sought to be attmined not through any hunibug winimum of wages, or other sjeculative or artificial monne, but throupht the creation of a generil and lasting prosperity whiell will nuke the poor man's labiour, ans it shoukd be, as saleable a property ne noy other property in the comitry, moxi:r not execpted. .
We now subjoin the letter of a Pmiectioniat which has led un into this lengthy explanation of whit wo unders.and to be his views:-

UNIVERSAL SUFFRAGE.

To the Eiditor of the Glargow Ecamiatr.
Sia,-I havo been attracted by the excelleni art?: e in tho last number of the Examiner on "Who Bimployneat of "ritibl La-household suffrage voula giec ut a rlangcrobs hew:, wion fiage umpldoc polific and eafe."
My difference of opinion with you in the past hisu bee. Lin by thing more than foreign labour or Industry. Our fivat objut, however, is the same, vis., the employint nt of our own working classes, as the only guarantee wo can have for the sceurity of the Crown nnd everything else which wo hold sneved ; nul, liko you, $I$ ann nearly a convert to tho dnetrine thit our only sutic course is ar oxer (and before it be too late) to adopt universal suffrnge.

I see that the present howees of tha logitalalurs are not onfilicionly free from srlatcernato Influence to be oxpected to cahe the rlow wo do, that the prosection and ingoroyoment of the rundition of tha nowt ing olasose is the irwe orud of all gowernmants while the worting clanees have It before thelr ayas at prowent, in thole mont ormel and palnfil experionee, that whatever may be the Intention of our logialatom, they are cotally Ineapalilo, as roformera free ifnoranee of trade, agrloulture, and the ramilioallome of them vieal intereats.
I wee that conmined ac yion aming the frue flenila of the workIng einsaes onn nuver be expected to lie attained while ehureh ques. tlona are lurf to divide and aplit up the communlty, and I auspeet that erporaton botween ohuroh and atate call neper be encected by any refurm aliort of unliremal sufirraze.
I have long hal my oyen opened to the abroluto and dwawoslinta neoesaity of meparneluy the manngemons of the natlonal debt from the ofllee of Chaneellor of Fixehequer (thus declaring ibogin to deapalr of seelng thlis duno by parliamont, comalluted an if ha, and the Induutry of the conintry nuat remailn in a miser. anly erualicd condifluintry of wo copindlate the jurinolpite, or want of prinolple, that took of the war tax without takligg of the war dolts.

Mryine in that thr Indomatat of tha countat anotion mapy. matk pilk Nationar. Dmat, heayinu it to be paid nt thr fhophatt on oun Fiph Tholbayd Milliong op J'homatr, amal add op time pnotsction to native indtertir ayromdeo br zilk dounTnr'a pnoiknty.

T'ill the Intter reform is effected-flun canting the expense of wir on the property personal an woll na real of the country-we shall havo ne guaranteo agaluat our government elisbrolling us In the quarrolo of our neighboura.

And were my mind decinedly brought to aco that elther tho one or the other of theso two grent practical reforma eannot be at-talnod-and that without minoli nuove delny-throught tho leginlature an at present conatituted, tho opluloua I hold would make me aro it my duly to domand unlvorwil auffingo, an tbo ouly meane of anying the country und the crow.
IN CASE OFA MOFEDENT FOR WNIVERSAL SUFRFAGE THERE UUGHT TO DE NO OTILAN QUFETION MNGLED UP WITII IT.
Wo ahould show our oonflenco in a priliament oleoted under univeranal suffrage by lenving to it all lesser yeforing, anch as the change of tho elcotornl districtm, vuto by ballot, and trlennial parliamenta.
If too mulich in inttemipted, nothing will be got till (ns was ashld In Frinee) "It is now too late."

Unlversal Suffrage has Ittilo agningt it in my mind exeept the objection which wam raunly nppilenble to tio glorions Heformailon, nnd all ather reformis that tho world ever whtuessed, vik, the baturnl nuid proper dexire to avohl chanife, na a genorad rule; fir I belleve that the vast vapyondanansia of those who would be x.sphancmiakit ny uxiybuhal guphiage wollo br youad thank, and ahytoation, ano that it wollit thes de a most con-Bnitiali inrenker.

Yours, respectfully,
A Porkchunint of Native Indintar.

Glasgow, May 25, 1848.

And an it appears to un most huportant to antlefy the publio as to the practirability of the machinery throngh means of which, under Usivenaal Supfinage justice aliould be dano to fixed property and the poor man'a labour, ns opposod to tho mens asnustast or moneyed class, wo think it right to explnint the remark of principle of restriction' cmbudied In Sir Robert l'eci's liids of 1844 nad 1840.
Mr Buchunun's view eerthinly is that laut yens of money, or, in other words, an extended issuo would only havo arempited the iliatreas, ohesper prico and theroturo making it more aping gold at a oheaper preo 18 per. $18 t 0$ extenus no farther timn his eanviction of the necensity of sulfioient ground of thu public's condlilence in liank notes, whether Lie expertence of Euglind or Ameriea be adduced.
TVe know that Mr lsuchaman is very far troin holding the Whatrous of witrine of Sir Robert l'eel, [tbat 110 new lanks ought to be establ shed, and that tho Banls note elreulation, which mensured the $t_{1}$ tidsactions of chis country in 1815, must neeessarily be sufficieni as a clrculation in 1040]; be on the contrary would nllow an extran power of circulation to the extent farthor oaplal hecomes pald up either In the present or in now Brnks, i e., the future bank note elrealntion should be linble to be locreased, eompared with the prevont civeulation, In the mame proportion that tho fitture pnid-up espitnl of the Ilanks is found to have Increased in proportion to what it was in 1815.

Owr ceuplad awryeney tio hol 1019 that gon ma al asexyt canylua ${ }^{\text {yonaton }}$ It lisel riceain sbove) forolyn on proven nemat by shaper
woulde che fore when 4 any llm dis nat when it cold, en nate of undor the wor In fy muas the have $t$ whola Aniry
Nit

not sufficlenly se the rlew 70 com of tha gurph - its warting oir moot orwe - Intonition flormern, fh lis of the woils. to ehwreh quet. and 1 nuspees do and imane. The natloual thus docluringe DHI mound gom oArione) ; and be, consiltutad in in a mileer. Inle, or want takligg of the anotin nepy. TMm Phormat Dkbr would LP PME UZME P, MEAL ABD o cona to हn bancraion on тй мkanems BY THI OOUNhe expenee of country-we alther the one cannot be atpit the legiala would make

- SUFRFIOE MNOLED
clected under Hina, meh a and trlountal I (an was sald mind uxcept glorioun Keas a geuced r ruone whe LD DR YOUAD Ol TIIK HoME A Mont cona-LuBur jnuly

Indtarily.
ho public as of of which, ofixed proe remark of "ii) f(1" the soteb, gold at jeet to the 1844 and 1844 and rs that the lewrud an a olding the inks ought thwa ought which menWhich mesary would Her enpital is, , the lincreased, noportlon hare In.

Our eerreapondont, however, thinks that the alnove change eouplod with our lianha being enabled to hold liank of Kinglapul ecte Imatead of genid, Is all that we want done in regard to the arreney gety of 1814 and Jals.
Ilo hoids that it ia in the erusAing prineipise of the cold act of 1010 that the shoe pinclien, and thal mo panmanner ablipertation colintom taans.

It in elear that this ean only be done In one way, vit., by ao far cepealing the bill of 1810 an to minke Darkh myionncen ov tur egeonir or gelid in tur bayk of bimolayd fan wo have nhom cope) a legal tendor as well as the gold lealf $\rightarrow$ so that when the corolgn exchanges gu ngainat Vingland, as alown by gold rising In prico above 23 17n lojd per ounce, the limnk evuld aliteld lea cifors the atate of whinh determinee tho confidence of ull husiaenas) by tendering paper.
thaver thun moeured would not depreelato, fir a pound noto wouli certalaly bring 5 dwte and 8 gralns of stanilarif golit whon ted Sure! gn ovehangen are at par [although leva gold would be got then the artiele la In demand for export), and the diftierenee at any time between the gold and the bank note would be whally of dio matare of an apprertation of oold enused by tia nemreity.
It meemn, ne dunibt, the enrreot prinelple that golil nhowlil rise when it getn scarce, Inatend of the acaroenesa of the commindity gold, eausing a rine in the value (an expreasend by an inoreanen rate of Interent) of all the foometng sapifal of the connitry Included ander the comparatlvely almetraet corm money, and which in huadreds of tiaces the amoint of all tho golil In tho country or lit the world,
In fact, beernar fininne use our gold na neommodity, we raves do an toc $n$ il: thi, forrigner ennthine to linve an adrantage over the Bllishl art, ast, nul, the ehange wo have roferred to will have thia great moumendation that it with ar oves entant ying

Aceurding to our propoanal, we proceed to determ the the oliaraoter of the Honae of Commons which household anil unlvernal suffrage would ln all probability respeotively eleot. T'o begin with Scotland, we formorly ahowed that, aceording to an equal diatri. bation, Scotiand would retrirn abouts alxty membicers, Inateal of fifyetliree, an at present ; nnd, Inntond of a hundred thounanil eleotom, honsehold auffrage woild give us 300,000 , and univermal auffrage, or suffirngo whioh inoluded every anane and sober alute male, weuld givo 500,000 . The following will show the rosult of prosent auffrago, household nuffrage, and univeranl suffrage.

To commenco with the prosent ayatom, tho following is a lint of the conatleuenclef and members:-Aberdoen connty, comatituoncy 3836, Hlon. Willam Gorilon, member. Aberdeen 3050 , Alexnader D. Fordyce. Argylo county $1030_{0}$ Duncan $M$ 'Neili' Ayr county 4208, Alexander Oawald. Ayr 420, Campbelton 264 , Inverary 40, Irvine 235, Oban 65, total 1030 ; Lord 1'. J. 0 ,. Stuart. IJantf eounty 840, James Duff. Berwiok county 1250, Hon. F. Seott. Bute county 414, Ilon J. S. Wortloy. Calthnow oonnty 870 George 'Tralli, Clnckmannan and KInroa countien 1402, Wllliam Morrinon. Dumbarton county 1250, Ale*, Anoilett. Dumfries oounty 2149, Viscount Drumannrlg. Durifries 841, Annan 150, Kirkendbright 80, Lochmaben 35, Sanguhar 40, total 807 ; William Ewart. Dundee 2632, Georgo Dnnoan. Eilinhargh county 2104, Slr John Ilupe. Ejllnhurgh 6827 , W. Gibson Cralg and Charles Cowan. Elpin and Nair conntios 700, C. L. Bruco. Eigln 258, Banfi 252 and Nnirn Inverury 103. Kintore 55, 1'cterhend 244, total 010 ; (ieoryo $S$, Duff. Falkirk 502, Airdrio 440, Ilamilion 203 Lanark, 224 , Linlithgow 00, totnil 1507 ; Farl of Lincoln. F'orfhr oounty 2000 , Lord J. F. Gordon Ilallyburton. Fife county 2430, Jolin Fergun, Glangow 12,154, John Maegregor and Alexander Ila tic. Greenock 1166, Viseount Melgund. IladdIngton county 795, IIon. F. Charterin. IIadilington 219 , North Borwlek 44, Ilun: bar 150 , Jedburgh 245, Lander 50, total 714; Slr II' It. F. Davje, Invorness county 887 , DIenry J. Baillic. Inverness 490, Forres 148, 'irtrone 40, Nairn 01, total 781 ; Alex. Mathenon. lmarnock 650, Dumbarton 178, l'ort-Glasgow 100, Ronfrew 100, Antherglen 181, total 1281; IInn. E. Bouveric. Kincardine county 868 , Ilon. II. Arbuthnot. Klrikealdy 476, Burntlglad 52, Dynart 103, Kinghorn 28, total 710 ; Robert Ferguson. Kirkeudhright county 1300, Thomas Maltinnd. Lanark county 3732, William Lockhart. Leith, de. 1350, Munselburgh 208, Portolsello 250, total 1808 ; A. Ritherfurd, 1, inllthgow county 560 , George Dundas. Montrose 457. Arbroath 303, Jrechin 180, Forfar 250, Borvie 20, total 1290 ; Joseph llume. Orkncy nind Shetland countlon 641, Arthur Andenson. Paisloy 1080, Archd. Ilastio. Peobles county 65t, W. F. Markenzie. Porth county 1231, II, II. 1rummond. Perth Jiss, Iton. Fox Nate. KenIrow county 2830, William Mure. lioss and Cromarty 801, Jas. Matheson. Iloxburgh counce 2080, Ilun. li. Elitiot. Selkhe county 620, Allan E. Lockhart. Stirling county 2500 , Willinm Forbes. Stirling 507, Culross 25, Dunfer'mline 504, Inverkelth. ing 45, Qucenaferry south 30, total 1171 ; John 13. Smith. St. Andrew's 268, Anatruthor, east 58, Anstrnther west 11, Crini 40, Cupar 324 , Kilrenay 45 , Pittonveem 55 , total 807 : Fi. Filife, jub. Suthorland eountr 100 , Sir David Dtradaw Wiek 333 , Cromarty 36, Dingwald 107, Dornoch 38, Kirkwall 116, 'Thin 86, bital 710 : damou fimili. Wizawn eounty j3as, John Dalpymple, Wigtown es, Halleway 17, Strancaer 239. Whithorn 80 , tusil 307: Nir J. M"Thegart.
The averaye of each ematkueney in abouk 1700 electora to a populatiom of mbout 60,000 .
Of the twenty-three inember for Seetoh boroughe, fourteen mo present a population of has, vo0, while the remasining nine evyrto sent a poppulation of 017,000.
Ileuayliold sumiage, noeoriling in equal eleetoral diatricts and 30 membery, weuld, out of it 900,000 voters, allow Hre thet andil voten to ench I and weoording to onlvernal sulfrage, abmis 8331 votorn. Accoriing to this arrangutaent, Glacow, with itw fifty thousand houacholders, would have ton memaborn, Edinburuti ive, Aberdeen and Ihundee two taoh, while, of emuree, many foronulia dignitioci with a member would hare to ahave with nomu nelghtipurlin town. liot us now attempt to ascertaln the hilit of pernoan likely to be nens by the rospeotive klad of sulirnge. islagew, we havo seen, inatead of $t$ wo, an at present, in entifleil st fan, but it in a queation whether 1 l wore pasible or ilesirahlit to presur re the linathetitut between olty and county conatitneneley. seatland semme in liavo bern apportioned for county eonstitueth. cies, an therm are juat haif the mmmber of countles that thoro thonld to of metuleme, but, of courne, the nwaiber of members for each eounty would requife to be determined by its reqpoulire and comparative population. Thys Lanarkshlve (lucludims (ilus: gow) might hive ten or twelve, Eidimburglanlife aix, Abenlres. shire three, Argyleahite one, Aymbiro own, Forfar and Kinemi'dinculive one, filio and Kinroes-shire one, Menfrewshite one, dinemfire one, one, Moray, fow, and Cremarty one, L.lolithgowalitre and Sitirlingahire one, Wigton and Uallowny one, te., de.
Now to determine the character of the twelve mamabert Iannarknhiro would eleot it would be necessary to conasider the charac. ter of the popuiation. The retera of the count of Lanark ame innt only to 3734, whilat the voten of thangow excoed twelve thounnid. It is expeeinily to be eboseved that whilic housuhald sulifrago would hat very ailgholy inoruase the nuinber of tomaty vaten, univeral autirage would augment them hamenaely. The farmer with hia one vote, han from ton to two hundred fall grown men under h/m at present wholly uneppresented, many of when have no houses, but all of whom would fee invertel with the franchise were universal suffirnge adopted. 'I'han large aceession of agrieultural labrarr-ars-who outnumber all othern-wind balames the roten of thono emploged in our factorles, and whome votes nee consldered mo dangerous, It is alno to be borne in inind itnat universal sutfrage, in elties, include an limmenve mass of onr misdle elunew whom household aufirage would leavo unrepremented. Suppome, then, that Lanark, an a diatriet Incluiling Glasem, an entruated with the eleotion of twelve members by unlviraal suitirage, there in no slonibt but men of respectabillty would be ohumen. Every Intelligent working minu fiela that hin welfaro is intimately bound up with that of his amployer, and henee Intead of roting fur ono of his own class, the probability in that mome of our tisont extensive landed proprietors and entorp:ining manufacturers would be eleoterl. It in extremely unlikely that the agrioulturiac and trade operntive would agree about tho olaims of operative enmulatas, unlewa theso were pomnessed of mnuman lintelligence.

A MONARCTIY SURROUNDED BY REPU BI,ICAN INSTI: TUTTONS-PROPOSAL BY GENJ:RAI. L.AFAYE'TH: IN 1832.
(From the Amevican amothor, Mrr J. Fmimore Cooper's Reside see is France in 1832.)
Ifelt convinced the present ayatem the jusp militu (that of I, outh $f^{\prime}$ hilipue) coild not continiso long in fraices. It mighit dis for a few yeare, as a renctiun; but whell things wero reatored t, their natural courno, it would bo found that herer is an nunatura union between facts that are peculiar to lespotianta, and facta that are peculinrly the sdjunets of liberty ; as in tho priainions of tho Codo Napoleon, and in tho liberty of tho press, without naming t multitude of other disorepancles. Tho juste milion that he hut Ho ndmirably deacribed could not last long, but the gnvernmene would noon find itaulf driven into strong measures, of Into liberal menaurea in ordor to sustnin itself, Men could no more sorvo "God and Manmon" in polities than in relizion. It then related to hlun an ancedoto that had occurred to mysolf the evening of the lirst nnniversary of the present volgn.

- When the term juste milieu was first used by tho King, and adopted by his followers, La Faycto sald in the Clamber, that "he very well understood what a justo milices meant, in any partleular case ; It toenit noithor more nor less than the truth, in that partleular ense : but as to a political party's nlways taking a midille course, under the pretenco of being in a juate milien, ho should liken It to a diacreer man'a laylog down the proposition that four and four make eight, and a fool's crying out "Sir, you are wrong, for four and four mako tens" whereupon the advooate for the juste miliens gystem, would be obliged to say, "Gintlemen, you are equally if extremes, four ane four make sime." It is the fushion to say la Faycte wanted euprit. This was much the eleverest thing the writer over heard in the French Chambers, nnd, generally, lis knew fow imtell who said more witty things in a neat and unpretending manner than General La fiuctte, Indeed, this was the blas of his mind, which was littlo given to profound reflections, though distinguished for in fort bon scma.

On the night in question, 1 was in the Tuilerics, with a view to see tho firoworks. Thking $n$ otntion $n$ littlo apart from the crowd. I fuund myself undor a tree alono with n Frenchunn of some sixty years of nge. After n short parley, my companlon, as uaunl, mistook me for an Eaglishuan. On being told his error, ho Im mediately openod a conversation on the stute of things in France. 110 asked mo if I thought they would continue. I told likin, no ; that I thought two or three years would sulfiec to bring the present systenn to a close. "Monsleur," sild my companion, " ynu are inistaken. It will require ten yents to dispossess those who have soized upon the goverament, sinoo the last revelution. All the young men are growing up with tho new notions, nad in ten years they will be strong onough to overturn the present order of things. Remember that 1 prophesy the year 1810 will sco change of government in France."

La Fnyette lnaghed nt this predlotion, which, ho said, did not quite equal his inpatience. He then nlluded to the ridicule which had been thrown upon his own iiea of " $A$ monarely suith republican institutions," and asked me whit I thought of the system. As my nnswer to this, ns will ns to his other gucstions, will serre to lay belore you my own opiniuns, which you linve a right to expeet from mo, ns a traveller rendoring an necount of What ho has seen, 1 shall give you Its substance at length.
So far from finding anything ns absurd as is commonly protended in tho plan of " $n$ throne surrounded ly repmblicnu institutions," it rppears to mo to bo exactly the system best suited to the actual condition of France. By a monarehy, however, a real wonarchical government. or one in whieh the power of the sovereign is to predominnte, is not to be understood, in this instanee, but such a semblaneo of a monnrely as exists to-diy, in Eng land, and formerly existed in Vonice and Genon under their Doges. In England the aristocracy notwiously meles, throvgh the king, nad 1 see no renson why in Franee, a constitueney with n baso sufficiently brond to entitle it to nssume the anmo of a republic, might not rule, in its turu, in the same manner. In the cases the sovercign wonld meruly represcat an nust tic wil of the constituency; ho would be a parlinmentary ceho, to pronounce the sentiment of the legtslative hodies, whenever it clange of men or a change of measures beenme neeessary. It is very true that, under such $n$ system, there would be no renl sciaration, in prineiple, botween the legislacivo and the exeeutive branchrs of government; but auch is, to-day, and sueh has long been the aotunl condition of England, and her stntesmen aro fond ol' suying. the "plan works well." Now, nlthough the plan dives not work half as well in England, as is pretended, except for those who moro especially reap its benefits, simply because the legisinture is not established on a sufficiently popular basis, still it works better, on the whole, for the publie, than if the systom were reversed, as was formerly the cose, and the king ruled through the parliamacnt, iustead of the parliament ruling through the king. In France the facts are ripe for an extension of this principle, in its safest and most salutary manner. Tho French of the present generation aro prepared to dispeuse with a hereditary and politienl aristocraey, in tho first place, nothing being mowo odious to then than privileged orders, nud no nation, not even Ameriea, having more healthfol practiees or wiser notions on this point than themselves. The experience of tho last fifteen years has shown the difficulty of cleating an independent peerago in liranee, notwithstanding the efforts of the government, sustained by tho example nat wishes of England, havo been steadily directed to that objeet. Still they havo the traditions $n$ d preatige of $n$ monarchy. Under sucl cireumatances, 1 seo no difficulty in carrying out the idea of La Fayette. Indeed, some suel polity is indispensable, unless liberty is to be wholly saeriticed. All experience has shown that $n$ kiug, who is $n$ king in liet as well as nante, is too strong for law, and tho iden of restraining such a poree by principles, is purely chimerical. He may be curtailed in his nuthority, by the force of opinion, nul by extreme construetiors of chese principles; but it this be desirable, it would be better to avoil tha striggle, and login at onee, by lafing the foundation of the system in such a way, ns will prevent the neoessity of any change.
As respects France, a peerage, in suy opinion, is neither desirat le nor pracicicable." It is certainly jussible for the king to tuain tain a ehoson politienl corps, as long ny he can maintain himself, which slanll act in his iaterests, and do his bilding; but it is folly to aseribe the attributes thrit belong to a peerage to such a body cf mercenaries. They resemble the fimous mandamus connsellors, who had so great an ageney in preeipitating our own revolution, and are more likely to achieve n similar dissemviec to their mastor than fnything else. Could they become realy independent, to a point to render them a maseuliae teatme in the state, they would soon, by their combinations, beeome too strong for tho other branchess of the govemment, ss has been the ease in England, and France would have "a throne survomided by aristocrutic inatitutions." The porvian nuthox that as amistocmacy is necesbatit to a monarcuy, I take it, is a ghoss erron. A titular aristocracy, in some shape or other, is always the coaseyncuce of $n$ monarchy, meroly beeanse it is the reflection ef tho sovereign's favour, policy, or esprice; but political aristocrueies like the peerage, have, gine times in ton, proved too strong for tho monaroh. France would form no oxooption to the rule but, as men are apt to run into the dolualon of belleving it liberty to atrip one of power, although hia mantio is to fall on the faw, I thin'; it more than probnblo tho populner error would bo quile likely to ald the aristrocrats in offeoting thoir objeot, aftor hablt had a little ace customod the mution to the presence of such a body. This is eald however, under the anpposition that the clements of an indopendont peerago conlil be luund in Franoe, a fnot that I doubt, as hat just been montloned.

If Linoland can hayk a thinony, then, humboundrd dy amieto cratical institutiong, what it thinu to pakvent fimanou pros havive a timons "sumiuunoxn he heivulican isatitutiona f" The word "Republio," though it loos not exclude, does not neecssarily lnoludo tho ldea of n diomocricy. It merely means a polity, in whiloh the predominant lidea is the "publlo thinga," or common wenl, iustend of the heruditary and inalienable rights of one, It would be quite prnotionblo, theretire, to entabilah in France auch an efllelent constlinency an would meet tho latter couditions, and yot to maintaln the throno, ns tho maohinery buecssary, in ocretaln onsos, to prumulgnte tho will of thile very constituenoy. This is nil thut the throno doon in Eugland, and why need it do moro in Frnueo ? lly substltating thon a more oularged constitneney, for tha borougli nysteru of England tho idea of La Fnyetto woild bo eompletely tinlillled. The retorm in England, Itsoli, is quito likely to domunstinto thint hils schome was net as monstrous us has beoun wilimed. 'tho throne of Frane shonld be occupiod as Consien is oocupled, not for the apirmative good it does ths nation, so much do to prevent harm from its being occasionally vactiut

In the courso of tho ennyersation ! gave to Cenerai In Fayette the tollowing ontino of the form of government I could wish to glvo to lipance, were 1 a lirenohman, num hail In volee in tho matter. I glyo it to yon on tho prinelplo nlrendy nvowed, or as a travcller furnishing his notions of the thiugs he has seen, nad becanso it may aid in glving you a botter insight into my views of the state of this comntry.
[a monarcuy sulaounded ny nejumlican anstitutiong.]
I wouhd ostablish a monnrely, nud lloury V. shouh bo the monareh. I wonld sclect him on necount of hils youth, which will admit of his being odueated in tho notlons necessary to his duty aud on necount of his birth, whide wuuld strengthen his nomina govermment, and, by noccesary ounnexion, tho notual government : for, I bellevo, that, in thelr henrts, and notwithstandine their prolessions to the contrury, benrly hinif of liranco would grently prelio the logitisate line of their nueient kings to the actual dyansty, This point mettloi, I would extend the suffrage ns much as finoty wonli justily; curtaluly so :is to Inolude a mile lion or a million nad a linti of olectors. All iilen of tho represen. tation of property should be relinguished, as tho most oorrupt narrow, and vicious form of polity thint hins over been dovised, invariably tendlag to array one pottlon of tho community agalnat another, and endangering tho very propurty it is supposed to proo tect. $A$ iuodernto property qualication inglit bo alopted, in connexion with that of intuligense. 'I'ho present solieme in Franoo 1 nites, in my viaw of the unse, preolsely the two wont fontures of ndmission to thosuthago thint eouli be dovised. The gualification of an elector is a givon amount of dirent contribution. This qualification is so high as to mmonit to rypresentation, nall France is already so taxed as to mako n dimiuntion of the burdens one of tho ilrst objects at which a goal government would ains; It-follows that as tho onds of liberty neo nttained, its foundations would bo narrowed, nud tho reprecentation of property would bo moro and mory assured. A simplo proporty qualifiention wonld, theretore, I think, be $n$ better sebeme than the present.

Each derartmont should semi an allotted number of deputies, the polls being distrihuted ont the Amerlean plan. Jespecting the term of servioe, thore might arlse virlons considerations, but it should not exeeal flve reers, and I wonld prefire three. The present lioase of peers shomid becolverted Into a semate, its members to sit as loug a- the diputies. I see no use in making the term of ono body lunger than the othor, nud I think it very easy to shan that great injury has arixon lioun the praction numg ourselves. Neither do 1 see tho ndyuntage of having a part go out periodicallv: but, on the contmry, in diaduantage, ins it lenves a representation of old, mild, pordups, rojected opinions, to strug. glo with tho opinimes of the day. Sueli colliaions havo invariably mopeded the atetion nad diaturbeil tho limrmony of unr own govern. ment. 1 Wond have erery proneli clestor vote for eneh semantorl tho senate would strijetly repsenent Franes. 'I'inis united notion would control ill things, anil the ministry would be nu cmanation of their will, of whieh the king nhouid werely bo the orgnn.
I havo no donbt tho retlon of our own oystem wonld bo better, could wo devises some plan hy whicha minlatry should supersedo the present exooutive. 'Tho project of Mr 11 lllionse, thint of making the senators draw lots nnumily fior tho ollco of l'resident, is, in my opinion, better thin the eleotivo system; lut it wonld be, in a manner, liable to the old objectlon, of a wait of harnony be-

* In England I woulh oppose any disruption of society, Just as I would defond tho throne with my lifo mul prup rety ; but-while permitting l'eers to retain their dignities-l would suffer no Poer (not oveu the Royal lukes) to have an uncontrouled interference 1, hovever, would lat
treen the different branches of tho government. France han all the nachluory of royelty, in her palaces, her parks, and the other the nanchluory of royelty, in her palaces, her parks, sou the other appllanoes of the condition i and alie has, moreover, the necossary habita and oplnious, whlle we have neither. There is, thorefore, juat as mind reanon why France ahould not rofect this simple expedient for naming a minlatry, as there is for our not dopting it. Hole, thon, would be, at once, a "throno surronnded by repablican institutions," and, although it would not be a throno as powerful as that whloh Frinoe has at presont, it would, 1 thluk, be more peimanent than one surrounded by buyonets, and lave Franoe, horself, moro powerful, in tho end.

The capltal miatako mado in 1830, was that of eatablishing tho enrone before establishing the republic; in trusting to men, instead of truating to inatitutions.
I do not tell you that I.a Fayette assented to all that I anid. IIe had reason for tho impraoticablity of setting najde the personal interesta whloh would be aotive in defoating such a reform, that involved detalle and a knowledge of charaoter to whioh 1 had nothlug to say; and, as respects tho Duo do Bordenux, ho affirmed that the reign of the Bourbons was over, in France. Ithe country was tired of them. It may appoar prosumptuous in $a$ foreigner to give an opinion against such high nuthority ; but, " what onn we reason but from what wo know ?" and truth compola mo to say, I onnnot aubscribe to this opinion. and truth compolion mo say, ion onnot subscribe to this opinion.
My own observation, imperfet thonghit be has jed to a different conclunion. I heliovo there are thousauds, even among tiono who throng the 'tuileries, who would hasten to throw off the mask nt the firat serlous milifortune that alould Fefall tho present dyunsty. and who would range themsolves on tho slde of what is called legitimacy. In respeet to partien, I think tho republicans the holdest, in posseasion of the most talents compared to numbers, and tho least numerous; tho frlenila of the King (actlve and passive) the lenst deelded, and the lenst conneeted by prinelple. thourh atrongly conneoterl by a denite to proseoute their teniporal interests, and more unuerous than the republicans; the Carlists or Henriquinquists tho most numerons, and the most genorally, but seeretly, sustained by tho rural population, partleularly in tho weat and south
La Fayctte frankly admitted, what all now scem disposed to admit, that it was $n$ fault not to have mado sure of tho institu. tions before the King was put upon tho throne. Ne nffirmed, however, it was much enaier to assert tho wisdom of trikitg this precaution, than to havo ndopted it in laot. The world, I believe, is in crror, about most of the politien events that aueceeded the three days.

PEEL'S MEASURES THAT LOSE THE COLONIES MUST ALSO CAUSE A REVOLUTION AT HOME.

" Oh I let grlef come first. O'er pride ltself victorious-
" Clime of the unforgotten bravo, Whoae land from thoro to mountain cave Was freedom's home or glory'a grave;

[CORROBORATIVE TESTIMONY.]

OUR INABILITY TO PAY THE INTEREST OF THE NATIONAL DEBT WITII REDUCED PRICES AND WAGES.
It may rather anrprise somo people that Mr Malthua, far from boing what is now known as a Politleal Eeomomist or advocate of "Cheapness," pointed out thirty years ngo that tho certnin ruin of the country must nrise from auely measures as we adopted in 1816 . "If the prico of corn," says Malthua, "were to fall to 50 a a quarter, and Inbour and other commodities nearly in pioportion, therc ean be no doubt that tho stookholder would be benofitted unfairly at the expenso of tho Industrions classes of sooiety. Juring the twenty fears, beginning with 1704, and ending with 1813, the arernge price of whent was abnut 833 ; daring ten geais, euding with 1813, 62a; and during tho last five years of thla same twenty, the price was 108s. In the course of these twenty years, government borrowed near $£ 500,000,000$ of real capitnl, exeluaive of tho sinking fund, nit the rnte of about five per cent. interest. Put if eorn shall fall to 50 s a quarter, and other commodities in proportion, instend of an interest of five per cent., tho government will really pay an interest of seven, elght, and ninc, and for the last $£ 200,000,000$ of ten per cent. Ilhis must be paid by tho industrious classes of society, and by the landlorda; that is, by all those whose nominal incomes pary with the varintions in the mensure of value ; and if We completely succeed in the reduction of the price of corn and labout, this increased interest must be paid in future from a revenuo of about half the nominal value of the national income in 1813. If wo consider with what an increased weight the tuxes on ten, sugar, malt, soap, candles, so., would in this case bear on tho labouring ciasses of soeiety, and what proportion of their incume all the aotive, industrious middle orders of the state, as well ns the higher orders, must pay, in assessed taxes and the various aricles of onstom and exoian, the pressure will apyear to be absolnlely intolcrable. Indeed, if the ineasure of value wero really to fall as wo have aupposed, thero is great reason to fcar that the country would be absolutcly unable to continue the payment of the present intercat of the national debt."

ADAM SMITH'S NAME AND MR IIUSKISSON'S FRAUDULENTIX USED BY TIIE POLITICAL ECONOMISTS.

I havo shown at page 9 that Peel and the Political Economists have beon guilty of as great a Frand in oalling themsolves folowers of Adam Smith, as in calling the Manehester System Free Trade, while it is only a system of Freedom to Forelgn labour ; but as I vew it all unimportant for the public to be awakened on this point, so fir at least as to begin to luquire for theniselves, I quoto the followlng atatement of Adam Smith's errors-mo called-from Ar M'Culloch's Index :-
"Da Smirh-IIia theory of productive and unproductive labour defective. His view of what determines the valuo of commodi"Lies and of the value of rent how erroneous."
"Ifis overright of the ciroumatance-which determines the price of corn in different countries," "Speculations of, respecting the origin of the division of labour, though ingenious, not solid."
"Afistook the reason why corn rents have preserved their value better than those in money."
"Mfistaken in asserting that agricultural labourcrs are more intelligent than those enployed in manufactures and commerce."
"His expesition of the nature, origin, and causea of rent defective."

- Ifis fallacious doctrine respecting the cireumstances which, in different states of aocicty, regulato the cost and produco of corn."
"Host erroneously asserts that profit is ligh in poor, and low in rich countries."
"His fallacies respecting comparative advantageousness of different employments of capitnl further illustrated."
"His most objectionable doctrine that farming is of all possible ways the mast advantageous for employiny $\mathfrak{a}$ capital."
"Overstates the loss to be apprehended from the change to a free commercial system."
"Wrong in concluding that as taxes on necessaries raise the wages of labour, a rise in wages affecte commodities ganerally."
"His theory of proft plausible, but perfectly unsound."
And no less havo the Politioal Economists abused the memory of Mr Iluskisson, as will be seen from the following quatations from that great man, who, though speculatively liberal, was reasonable compared to tho advocates of "Chenpness":
"Cheapness without a demand ior labour is a symptom of distress. Cheapness always provails where enterprise is at a atand."
"I admit that if unlimiled foreign imports, which the war has suapended, wero now again allowed, bread might be a little, though a very little, ohenper thsn it now is for a year or two. But what woold follow? The small farmer would be ruined; improvements would everywhere atand atill; inferior lands now produoing corn would be given up and return to a state of wasto; the home consumption and briak demand for nil the various articles of tho retail trinder (which havo so much contributed, cven during the pressure of war, to the prosperity of our towns, and especially of those whioh nre not conncetod with minnufactures or foreign eommerce) would rapidly deellne ; farming servants, and ill tho trades which depend on agrieulture for einployment, would be thrown out of work, and the necegsary result of the wnat of work would be that wages would fall even more rapidly that bread."

And we have the following most explicit und satisfiaetory corroboratinu of these his sentiments in tho tollowing quatation from his apeceh on the Corn Law debate on 18th April, 1820. I believe that, in the language of Mr Malthas whieh I nin about to give below, Mr IIuskisson uvoided to a very different extent fiom the modern politieal Eeonomists, that onvect fallacy wuicia give below, Mr Iiuskibson woided to a very diferent extent from the
" 1 am the first to declara my conviction, that if from any circumatances tho price of whent were at this mouent to be reduced materially below what it now is, there is nothing which could moro contribute to aggravate the existing distress, and to take away the best ohance of carly relief. Sir, I say this advisedly. I say that the prisent avorage prico of wheat is one which eould not in my opinion be waterially lowered without producing nore of suffering than of relief to ull elagaes of tho conmunity. If the liouse my opinion auddenly and materially reduee the pricea of all necesbaries of lifo, so far from relieving, it would only nggravite the general distress."

OUR MANUFACTURERS RUINED WIIEN TIIE COUNTRY DEPENDS FOR FOOD ON FOREIGNERS.

The following, from Mr Maltbus, in nnother item of the information auppreased by the Anti Corn Law League when pretending to sive the views of our renowned political philosophers on the aubject of corn, but when in truth ther wero quietly substifutlog, In ignorance as gross as thelr want of patriotism, a Manchester aystom of "cheapness," instoad of a British aystem of national "om. pleyment":
"In the wildncas of apceuiation it has been anggested (of courne moro in jeat than in earnest), that Europe onght to grow ite
 ". But even on the extravagant aupposition that the untural courte of thinga might load to such a divialon of labour for a fime, - inustly to be dreaded. It la an unquestionable truth that it inuat answer to erery territorial state, in its natural progress to wealch,
 " to manufacture for itself, uniesa the countrica from whis capital and akill. But when upon this princle America began to withdraw its oorn from Europe, nand the agrioul"" them besides capital and akill. But when upon this principle Amorica bezan to witharaw its oorn from europe, and tho agriaui"tural exertions of Eurepe were inadequnte to unake up for the defiepency, it would oertainly be feit that the temporary advantagea
" of a greater degrea of wealth nnil populntion (supposing them to have been renlly attained) had been vory dearly purehased by a ' lung period of retrogrnde movementa and misery.'
$"$ But it will be asid, thut, althougli a country may be allowed to be eapable of minintaining from its own soil not oniy a great, " lut an increasing population, yet, if it be acknowleilgod that, by npening lta ports for the frce adnission of foreigin eorn, it may " he made to aupport a greater nad more rapidly increasling population, it is unjuatifiablo to go out of our way to check this tendency, " and to prevent that degree of wealth and popaintion whioh would naturally take place.
"This is unquestionably a powerful argument; and granting fully the premises, it eannot be annwered upon the priuciples of "politienl economy solely. I ahonld say, however, thint if it could be clearly ascertnined that the addition of wealth and population " so nequired would subject the society to a greater degree of uncertainty in Ite supplies of corn, greater fluetuations in the wages of " iabour, greater unhealthiness and immorality, owins to a larger proportion of the population belng emploved in manufactories, " and a greatel elinnce of long and deptegsing retrogrado movements oecasioned by the natural progress of those countries from which corys lad beon imported, 1 should linve no hesitation in eonaidering such wealth and population as mueh too dearly pur"clased. Trae happiness of a society is, after nll, the legltimate end even of its wealth, power and population. It is eertainly true - that with a view to tho structure of society most lavourablo to this happlness, and an adequate stimulus to the production of wealth - from the acil, a very considerablo admixturo of commercial and manufacturing population with the agrieultural is nbsolutely ne" cesarary ; but there is no uryument ao frequently and obviously fallacious as that which infors that what it good to a ecetain extont is " cood to any oxtent ; and though it will be most realily admitted that, in a large landed natlon, the evils whieh belong to the nanauficturing and commercial syaten are much mure than counterbalnneed by its advantages, as long as it is supported by agrlculture, - eet. in reference to thu cffect of the excess whieln is not eo supported, it may fnirly bo doubted whether the evils do not decidedly whieh, though it wonld adranee the riehes and happiness of Euroje, would unquestionably rendor aome parts of it (as, for exainple, - Eingland wifh its eapitnl and population) puorer and less popnlousthan they are at present; and thero is little reason to expeot "that individual states witl ever consent to sacrifice the wealth within their own confines to tho wealth of the world."

I might multiply instances to show that none of our great atatesnen or writers over eontemplated the utter absenee of patriotism, or of patriotic aelfishness, which has been introduced by l'ecl into our legislation, and that all held, as all men of common aense must hold, "enuployment" to he the vital question. not "price," reeing that when a people have plenty of employment they must have ligh prieca nill wages. I, however, linve only space left to bring forward, in the following quotations, our prosent actual and most daigerous position as a nation. And I wonld only just romatk the total nbsenee of phllosoply, or even the far-aightedness requilred every day in mereantile transnetions, in Peel nnd his men ; for let thein gain theip object of "cheapness," what wonld it bu if unaccompanied ly inereased employmenta the certain callso of "dearness" and high wages! The practical knowledge of Lamartine, wibich it has been fishionable to sneer at, ia fiur betore that of the l'eels and Gladstones of the preseat day, as the following will ahow : - "'Thls sei, nee mist not be as formerly, the science of "tiches. The Demoeratic Republie must und will glvo it another charnoter Tise Republic will make it the Seience of lirothechool, the seience by the proceedinga of whieh not only labour and its fruits shall be inerensed, but by which a more general, more equitable and moro universal distribution of wealth ahall be necompliaghed arooggat the wholo people." [From the answer of the Provisional Governuent of France, on 234 April, 1848, to the petition of the Political Eco:omy Society, protesting against the suppression of the chair of j'olitical Economy in the College of I'aris.]
"In 1827. Lord, John Russell, who hall bean acentomed to bring forward every year, in the IIouse of Commons, a motion for the wform of Parlianient, gave pablic notice that ho shond do so no more, as ha percuived that tho publie took no interest in the al:ostion. In 1830 eame sovere and general distiess, the extent and vlolenee of whieh were proved by the presentation of more than 1 sit petitions to the llouse of Commons, from nearly ail the counties in England, and most of tho prineipal towns, counplaining in the strongest terms of their aulferings, and distinctiy stating that auch was the condition of the people that, if not relloved, even tho Government would not bo safo. In 1830 the Duke of Wellington was driven from office by the popular feeling, nnd Lord Grey be came Prime Minister, and bis fist declaration was that the Government nust find some mode of relleving the diatress of the ooun try. No mode, however, was found; nnd the conseguecree was, that in two yonrs more that reform whicli Lord John Ruasell had even giren up proposing to the Iouse of Commons, in consequence of the publie indifference, was aarried by popular tumult. Aud may this lesson not be logt! In the present state of the Britiali colnnles, tho experience offorod by the past, of tho consequences of listress not relieved, ourlit surely not to lie disrogarded." Seo a clocument aubjoined entitled "Cauaes of the Rovolt of the old Ameriean Colonies" showing that individual distress always endangers the Government, whieh, if not its cause, has failed to prevent it. To the same point is the fullowing extrset from Mr Burke'a Spech on American Taxntion, April 10, 1774, showing that tho dissatisfaction caused by the Stamp Aet, and other measuren, mainly originated ia distress. "The Ministry was not elanged in Eugland until the 10 th day of July, $176{ }^{2}$. On the 14 th of the preeeding June, Governor Fanquier, from Virginia, writes thuo to the Easl of IIalifix :-' Goverument is set at Ilefianco, unt having atrength enough in her handa to enforee obedleneo to the thass of the community. The private distress, whieh every man feela, increasea the general diesatisfaction at the dutien lald by the lass of the community. The private distress, which every man feels, inere, B tamn Aet, whlelh breaks out and shows itadf upon every trifling oceasion.'
es Befure, however, the gigantio speculations upon human labour, in which the manufacturers here and elsewhere fondiy ladalge whoce seciet workings and deep communings with itself the world does not scem to heed; there is a voloe whose fearful nocents in all their strength and power the world has not yet heard-the mind and the voies of the working population thronghout Chriaten dom, burdened beyond the power of further enduranee, and asking on every linnd, where the region of rightenus resistanos begins If governments take not good heed, this mind and voie will one day give utteraneo to the sense of wrong unjuatly infieted in forma and ways that will shake from their founlations all the existing institutions of the earth. "The doctrine that the only tive capital is lulnur, however specious nad nusound in its appliention, ia gaining fast hodd of the minda of the masses. The elaim of the workman to cat the fruits of the enrth-to partake of the gifts of God-to be warm and to be elothed-to be fed when he is hungry, and to be slicltered from tho atorm, in filir return for the toil of his arm and the sweat of h's brow, is daily making itself hearil in accents that cannot be mistaken. A communism of interests-of indignation at the inlliction of past wrongs-of determination to resist frish oppressions, is binding the labouring classes of all lands into one poworful finternity. T'o meet this growing conlederacy is by far the most ditticult task of the statesman in the present day; for it is by fir tho moat fonrful and dangerous element with which he has had yet to denl. "-The Church of Enghand Quarterly Review of A pril 1840.

The natire and exteat of these embarrassments are too notorious for it to be necessary to dwell upon thom at any length. A vely short time ago the interest of money was at $2 \leqq$ and 3 per celit. Evely body found it difticult to employ thelr eapital now nobody enn obtain it for the best scemity under 81.10 or eren 12 per cent. The stagnation of the most legitimute trade is :omplete ; the manufncturer steps his wollis: the Minister is obliged to double the intereat of hia Exehequer-bils; nnd is atill at $\boldsymbol{R}$ lose to glve even u deeent nppeurnnere to publie er dit; while Mr Brown, a merchant of the first eredit and eliarneter, representing combli Lanenghire, telle the llouse of commons ' that the alarm and wint of confidence were such, that orders for luman fond to the United States and other countries were in many eases countermanded, prudent louses not choosing to risk their credit by being drawn upon, until they aliould sce what strps fiuvernment might tnko to reatire the henithy netion of trade, On the other hand orders for the manulacturts of tho country ennot tee executed, by which we wero to be enabled to puy for thia food, becanse the pntire stngnation of the eirculation prevenied the ordianary cperations of credit by which nlone such transaetions can be condueted. There is no elass in a country where the bunchinery of its economy is so compliented who do not autler under this strange state of things, fram the richnet rapitallut to thr noor meehanie who lives by his daily lalour : but my object is, not to deneribe ite intal eonsequences if suffered to continue, which are sufficiontly obvious, but to call puhilic nttention to the causes which bare

NERS. en pretendiag ubstituting, in national "em. ht to grow lts $r$ of tho globe. our for a time, equonces ought gross to wealth, age pecullar to nd the agricolpurohased by a pt only a great, $1 c_{0}$ corn, it may k this tendency, lio principies of and population in tho wages of maunfaotorien, countries from too denly puris certainly trae uction of ivealth s nbsolutely neecrtain extent is ug to the naanaby ngriculture, Ho not decidedly Ho not decidedly, as, for exarople, reason to expeot of patriotism, or huon senso must they must have aetual and most tedness required nid it bo if unacye of Lamartine, owing will show: sother character. other eharacter, ld its fruits ahali 1d its fruits ahall aplished amongat 0 of the Political as, a motion for interest in the ion of more than complaining in olieved, ovon tho d Lond Grey betress of the counohn Russell had ar tumult. And oonsequences of lovolt of the old se, has fuled to 0,1774 showing Ministry was not Vircinla, writes oberlieneo to the laties lald by the re fondly indulge Thore is a mind saifful noeents in ughout Chriatonisiatance begins? inflioted in forms oly true eapital is of the workman lugry, and to be hearit in ascents ination to resist contedaracy is by men n at any length. y their esplital: gitinnte trade is and is still at $R$ oter, representing luman food to the ir credit by beiag a the other band, food, because the an be conducted. this to dewange state ite uses which have brought it about, that we may endeavour te avoid the repetition of auoh a celamity."-Lord Ashburton on the Commerolal Crisis of I847.
"It was fondly but foolishly hoped that ihere was a turn in our affira ; that the lawless liad obtained a oheck, and that the dey lad at length arrived when Ireland poasensed what she never had before,-seourity for life and property. The snake turns out to have been scotched, not killed."-Jublin News Letter, Oct. 1849
" Rasx or Fanms,-A correspondent in Kinoardineshire writos us-' Farms coming into tho markot, atlll oommand plenty of biddere, but in moat oases they are people that have not been breught up to the protession, and of that clnss we lasve in our eye at the present moment in thie neighbourhood, half a dozen who wore ouly settled some elghteen months ago, and are now far more anxinus to get rid of than thoy were to get into their possesalons. At that time there was not $n$ farm far or noar that oame into the market but the whole hoat of them were after it. One of the best farms in the county, vis., Balandia, was let lately to a new tenant, at about E170 less than it was taken at by the provious olle, who now gives it up, his loaso heing out. It was nover brought to the market hut let to a tenant upon the aame eatate, and to all appearnnce yet at a full rent.'" This Shadow of Coming Eventa us from the Rdinburgh Weekly Register of 22d Aug., 1840, a libural newspapor, which has always put the best face, conalstent with truth, on the djings of ita frionda the Politioal Economists or Irreciprooal Free 'Traders.]

There are about 800,000 (hoing, as nearly as it is cecensary to caloulate, thlity in every thousand of the population) employed in our factories; that is to say, in the silk, ootton, woollon, and flaz factorics, whioh produoe the ataple manufactures of the kingdom; and from which alone it would be possible to inorease onr exports to any eonsiderable amouat., of the forty-seven millione of our oxports last year, thirty-three nillions were the prolnce of these departmenta of manufacture, according to the Government returns, which are as follow :- Cotton manufactures, $£ 16,770,868$; cotton yarn, $£ 8.927,956$; linen manufactures, $£ 2,802,823$; llmen jarn being about one-third of the amonnt produced in those faotorlos; it is plain that only one-third, or not more than ten in every thonsand of the labouring population are employed in consequence of our export of factary prodnoe. Now we will suppose our export trado to be increased to double the amount of the exports of lant year-suppose it to extend to ninety-four instead of forty-seven inillions, and that it necessarily required double the number of hands to produce that atoount. What would this amnunt to after all, but employing ten persons, at the most, in evory thounand, more than are at presont employed? Whilst, on the other hand, thero are 118 in every thoasand employed upon the lands, who must suffor from a ruduction in their wages, if not from tho total want of omployment, consequent upon the freo introduction of foreign agrioultural produco, to any nothing of rents, or of the tenant-farmers who are cither verging towards bankruptoy, or throwing up their holdings, from the inpossibility of oarrying on with a proft at prosent prices."-Social Reformer.
"What made tho Roman power stendily sdvauce during seven centurica, and endure in all a thousand years? The protection hich the arme of the legions affurdel to the induatry of mankind. tho international wars which they prevented, the zeneral peaco ther arch they prevented, the general peaco the Government to be felt through jects : and the manifoenoe with whioh local nadertnikings were cy lise vast marke the imperial Treasury. Free Trade in grain at Magazine of July.
'But let the Free'Traders be of good oheer-they have done marvellous thlngs. 'They have acoomplished what no British statesmen, since the days of Alfred, have been able to effeot. They lave stopped the growth of our population, and, tor the first time for fouli centurics, rendered it retrograde. They have sent from two hundred and fifty to three hindred thonsand people yeariy out of the country, for three yeare, in search of food. They have lowered the lrish olroulation of notes a half. They have, with one blow. swamped the Poor Law Amendment Aot in England, and rondored rates higher, evon with prices extremely low, than thoy ever were in Eugliah history. They have extirpated 200,000 cultivators In Ircland. They have cut $£ 80,000,000 \mathrm{n}$-rear off from tho remuncration of oultivation and the encouragement of the home market to our mannfaetures in Great Britain. Thoy have lowered railway property more than a lialf. They have destroyed, at least, a half of the whole commercial nad trading wealch of the manufacturing towns. They have made the nation dependant, in two years, for $a$ fourth of its subsistenec on foreign states. They have rendere the maintenance of the national independence, if the present system is persisted in, impossible. They have destroyed $£ 100,000,000$ worth of property in the Weat Indies. They liave sown the seeds of revolt in Caurda, and rendered its separation, at no distant period, from Grat Britain a matter of certainty. They have repealed the Navigation Laws, and thercl'y cut off the right arm of oll naval strengtif: They are fast laying the sceds of dismembernent in our colonisl empire. Thoy will soon reduce, if unchecked in their career, the immense empire of England to two islands oppressed with Laxes, enten up by paupers, importing a third of their aninual subsistence from foreign ataten, brought in in foreign bottoms. These are the effects of Frce Trade at its Zenith. What will they be at its Nadir ?"-Blackwood's Magazine of December.

"COMFORT FOR THE SIIIPOWNERS AND SIIIPBUILDERS

" We bave already seen how hollow, or how based opon ignorance of the effect of their own measures, were the promises made to the agriculturists of Great Britain, that foreign competition would not knook down pricet below a paying point. Wo have now to warn our shipping interest, and especinily our ship-builders, that their turn for a aimilnr experience of the folly of having traster ia these clariatans, in their concooted blue books, and in their unprincipled evidence, is now at hand. A Liverpool oommercia paper of yesterday contalns an advertisement, whioh will not be read by the partles just referred to with much satisfuction.
'It is headed 'Contracts for Shipbuilding,' and atates that thie undersigned have made arrangements with ehip-builders in the Baltic, thr the bnilding of ahips of any tonnage or description required; and the advertiser proceeds-. The low rate of hips there, as well as the known durability of Baltio ships, may induce shipowners here to avsil themselves of this opportunity to make ehoaj contrnets, for whioh he begs to solioit orders. These shlps can be built under the aurvey of Lloyd's agent, snd can be coppered therv bofore launching, without increase of cost.' He has three of these cheap ships now on sale.
"This is only a beginning. I'here is more to follow."-Liverpool Standard of 4th Dec.

DREADFUL PROSPECTS IN IRELAND.

 to Iasland it ie sumpen and difingly drath.'
" When wo adopt anch terms an 'our prospects,' we certainly include those of England, and the other portions of tho United Kingdom. But we confens the intereats of Ireland are, as they naturally ought to be, paramount in our minds. England, Scotiand, and Wales hnve many equivalents of value out of which to win a livelihood-if not to amass a fortune. Rohbed of one, they may tult back upon the rest, and for awhile sustain their position, and graduate their ultimste tall. But Irelnnd with lier aingle equivalenther one produce-her only source of suetenance or wealth, no sooner loses her agricultural markot, than ruin hems her in. She liam nothing to fall baok upon. She is undone-irretrievably undone. Froo trado, then, in corll and provislous, is progressive ruin to tireat Britsin-to Ireland it is sudden and untimely denth.
"The imports into London for the last week dó very distinctly illustrate our position :-
" (From the Morning Chronicle of Saturday.)
" 'Aanivalis rurs Ware.-Constwise: Whent, 1390 ; barlcy, 1780; oats, 1380 qra. ; flour, 2080 sacks. Irish: Oats, 1040 qrs. Foreign: Wheat, 16,570 ; barley, 31,500 ; oats, 44,810 qrs.
"We shall junt classify and contrast those importa:- Coasrwise (or from the different porta of Grest Britain- armivals in london.

| Wheat m 1,300 qrs. | Irsal-Wheat ... | 0,000 | F'oneriox-Wheat mo | 16,070 qrs. |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| Bariey m 1,780 do. | Baricy .- | 0,000 | Barley - | 31,530 10. |
| Onts m 1,380 do. | Onts mos | 1,040 qrr. | Oats $m$ | 44,810 do. |
| Flour m 2,080 sacks. | Flour | 0,000 | Flour - | 00,000 |
| 0,680 |  | 1,040 |  | 03,970 |

"Thus (omitting 2080 sacks of flour) the ocreal supplics of London for this singlo week amount to $90,5 C 0$ quarterw, of whielı $45 \delta$ s quarterim are of Britioh growth, and 1040 qusiters of Irish. The rest, amounting to 03,070 quarters, nre the produce of foreign inponelog courrriza !"一Dublin E'vening Mail, December, 1840.

AGRICULTURAL DISTRESS, TIE PRELUDE OF BANKRUPTCY IN TIE IIOME TRADE APPEARING MUCIL SOONER THAN WE EXIECTED AFFIER OUR LATE MAGNIFICENT IIARVEST.*
"T This sooiety, therefore, this day, though it is announced and maintained to be formed for the rellef of property, yet it is to-day peculiarly summoned to consider the depression of tha ngricultural interest. (Henr, hear.) It is net necessary for us to enter into cietails to prove that the agricultural interest is suffering. On the contrary, I believe that every one admlta It- thongh there may be differences of opiniou as to the reinedy to whloh you eught to have receurse. I lave recelvel within these few days a dozen communications from persons of distinetion and authority on this subject, and I can nanre yen, that whatever the sufferings of tho fnrmers In the aonth of England may be, yet the Scetch farmers-those philosophiena Sootol farmers, wha we were told wero net afraid of free innorts-are at this monobit auffering more, and conplaining more, than the farmers of England. Among others, I have rocolvol a letter from one of the largest proprietors in the Lothiann, which' ends hy saylag, 'this can't go on louger for many weeks.' (Cheers.) I think, therefore, there can be ne question that there ls great and onprecedented distress nniong tho agrieulturai elasses of tho United Kingdom. I mentioned that all seemed to agreo in this statement, though there mny be rifferences ns to tho remedies recommonded. Tho free-tradera acknowledgo that you are in diatress, and they recomnotend to yout energy and enterprise. Thoy bay you ouglit to invest mere capital, and to exert more energy, and then probably you may extrleate yoursolves from your sufferings. On tho other hand, those who opposed the recunt changes in our commerelal system-who adroente what is onlled lrotcetion-many of them, whilo they announco your sufferings, whilo they ackuowledge your gricvances, effer you no hope. They recommend you to walling nad gnashing of tecth (laughter and cheers). They tell you nothing hut that tho recurrence to proteotion under tho presont Government and the present Parliauent is clearly impossiblo. We-myself and my frienuls, who have consulted togother upon the subject, and have laid the foundation of this society-wo differ from our ether friends, and oul differenco is this-we nre of oplaion with them, that until protection is restered-until n termination can be lixed to that proeess which is now dilapilating the fortuncs and torturing the industry of the country, no satisfactory reault can be obtained. (Cheers.) But though we think with them that it is hopeless under the present Pailiament to obtnin a general and a cemplete settlement of the question, yet we are of opinion that it dees not beeume us to be idle, but that even in the present Parliament wo may with advantage agitate many questions, and perhaps carry many mensures, all of whieh havo tho tone to restore protection (loul cheers); and which will do far more than that-whieh will prove vemedinl, and perlaps highly remelial, measures for the burdeus which now press upon you. Now, with regard to those of our friends who lay it down as a prineiplo that it ls nsoless to attempt to obtnin relief from the presont parliament I would venture to observe that I think their principle of action is not very constitutlonal, and next, that I doubt whether, proctienily, it ls very just. It was not tho present Parliament that repenjed the Corn-laws. (Hear, hear.) It was net tha present fiovernmelit that repenled the Corn-laws. (Langhter and eries of henr, hear.) On the contrary, all that we know of the original tendeneles of the present Governmont is, that so far from repealing the Corn-laws, they would have substituted a modified protection, whioh we should all of us now be very glad to nceept. (Cheers and langhter.) I do not hesitato to express my opinion-an epinion forinel after some ob-servation-that the majority of tho present Ilouse of Comnons are not by nny moans deroted to that inconsistent and ineoherent system which is only too mueh honoured by being ealled a syatem of breo Trudu. (Cheors.) Well, that bring the ense-that being my impression-and remember that the present Governmont, as a boily of public mon, are less violently devoted to thess uev-fangled doetrines than ony other body in the IIouse of Commons whe havo ever formed a Govornment-I cannot, with the prospect of four yenrs, during which this present Parliament is likely to remain-I cannot sineerely ceunsel you to do nothing but despair," (Cheers.)-Mr Disracli's Speeel at Aylesbury on 31st Octeber 1840.

* "Dring the pnst month the whele of tha ontstanding erops have been settled, ind under the most favouralile circumstances. Potatoes nezer wero lifted in better order; the land being as dry: as in mid-summer, nud to nll apprarance the disense has not formed itself so strongly in the tuber as the discased state of the haulm weuld have led us to believe, and wo would still hope that in the pits they mny leeps sound; and while, everything has thus in een stored, we can say with Thomson-

Now anthered in, beyond the rage of storms,
Sure to tho swain ; the circling furze shut up And instant winter's utmost rage defied.'
But whilo the treasmres of the past have been so well stored, we eannot neglect the future, and one and all are busy for the next crop. In the bigher and poorer districts the turning of the stubble is fnst progressing ; while in tho lower and flner portions the werlsing of bean and potato lands has not been retarded, and now a good brendth of them his been sown in whent in most excellent season ; although, at the same time, we camot say that the prospects are of the most Hattering deseription, ns we do not seo how present rents ean be paid with present priees. True, indeed, wo have laid before us an ablo namphlet by alr Caird of Baldoon, showing that int the prices of late years large profits wero realised, but tho great sonreo of profits was the crops of potatoes. On reclaimed or wasto lands it must be evident to every one that this was what very few had the epportunity of doing, as thero is not nttached to every one a breadth of moss or unreclamed land, and that. instend of prolit, tho growing of potatoes on mans, indeed I may say on most firms, has been the cause of very serions loss, but at present wo havo no wish to enter jato the pamphlet very minutely, but at some future period wo may be indueed to bring several parts more fully before the public. Lord Kinnaird lins also been publishing statements of prolits on the farm of Millhill. Thess we are not intending to confute, but fike Mr M'Culloch's farm, it may have its ewn peenliar advantages, and certainly he does aceuso tho tenantry of Scetland of a want of honesty of intention that wo could searcely have expectod; but wo trust that his brother preprietors will seo better than take his advice. Certainly an indiseriminato reduction shenld not be gono into, but let then earefully eonsider the matter before they resume the possession of the soil which has hitherto been so well managed by an industrious tenantry."-linceardineshire Correspondence of the E'linburgh W'ehly Register of 14th Nov., 1840.
me one-sided faee tadide cuts tite timont or datisu industny.
The partial distrust, well er ill-founded, is not the question, in the tendency of the free-trado progress."

It is curious to observe how truth peeps out, even whero it might least be expected to make its appearance. The words which we have just quoted are copied from a free-trade oracle, tho Times, where they form part of the narrative given by the reporter of a Musical Festival, by whom they are employed to account for the expectations which had prevailed of $n$ thin attenclance at that celcbrity. "Well or ill-founded," the admission is at least valuable, as evidence of the genernl distrust which preloubt the reality of that distrust, then we ask him to explain the reaction whioh has taken place at Kidderminster and Reading, -to say nothing of. West Surrey, on which, as a county litherto represented by one who, though in other respects a "Liberal," was still a Protectionist, we shall not nt present dwell. The "renction" will be found, to lis cost, by minny nn honourable gentleman at the next election to be no ordinary metter.
In comparisen with the testimony-a little unguardod perhaps -which we havo already aldreed from the enomy's eanp, any proceeding from a Conservative quarter will, wo fear, bo lightly estecnued; yot we are tempted, notwithatanding, to mention a striking passngo in the Quarterly Revies., After asking how ang man in lis senses an suppose "that England-with her dense population and propertionate estnblishments-hor enorinous debt -her taxes and rates - the habits of living and sealo of wages of her working cinsses-can suceessfully contend with countries whero such hurdens hardir rxist-the maikets of Guildford on Uxbrldge, with Eilbing and Odessa, or the building-slips of Inull and Sundertand with Drontheim and Gottenburgh?" the writer adds-"Wo have seen within fuw days a letter from ne intelligent and rospectablo Norwegian gendeman, which says, As a gool phtriot, I amr rejoiced nt the repeal of yur navigation laws, so much to our advanago ; but I own I do not understand what has induced you te be se libernal.' As we know of more than one letter of advice frem the United States to Britisls correspondenté, expressing the same pleasuro and surprise-but adding, 'You nuist not think that we slanll be so mad as to follow your, reumple.'" Fnets like these-and we have had abund your exnm recently-are opening, or rather have nlready opened, tho eyes of the people; and the process of enlightenment will, we appre hend, be fully matured by the next dissolution of 'rarliament. Its operation is a very plain and straightforwarl one. We shali state it in the samo words of the same writer. "Our recent legislation." says lig, "is ruining the farnier and the small shopkeeper with the low prices of wheat, and, we must now add, with out the compensation to tho people at large of cheaper broad. Chnnges of this nnture affiect nt once the original seller of the article concernell; but, if they ever rench tho actual privnte consumer in the shape of reduced prices, it is only ufter a long lapse of time. Accordingly thongh, as we all know, the breders bullocks and sheep is already half ruined, the private freeder o paying at least ns much as they did threc years ago for every pound of beef and mutton. F'oreign competition is, notwith struding tho disturbed state of the Continent, pressing very acverely on many large elasses of our artisans ; nnd we linvo seen $n$ letter from an eminent Whig who supported all the so-enlled free trade measures, confessing that free trade is quite unf upular in the manufacturing as it is in the agriculturn distriets." The people of Fidderminster and Reading, tho farmers of West Surrey, and, to come nenter home, the tradesmen of Lests, of Chiehester,-aye, and of IIastings and Brighton-can best tell whether the pieture here drawn is overeharged.
" But what is the effect of these things on the working-classes ? Of their effect upon tho tradesman there is no room for doubt 'As a practical agriculturist,' said Lord Stradbroke last week at the meeting of tho Esst Suffelk Agrieultural Association, 'I confess I am not one of those who ever doubted that tho late clanges weuld increase the size of the loaf while it diminishes there nay be f tho firmers not afraid of thers, I have many weeks.' ultural classes
tho remedies tho remedies
se. They say ar nr sufferings. ectlon-many mmend you to er tho present ther upon the aro of opluion the fortunes plnion that it s, anil perlanps n thint-whioh pgnrd to those would venture It ls rery just.
that repenled that repenled e shonld all of fecr some obnd incolherent ye that boing roypect of tour but despail."
ter and Roadns a county her respects a $t$, by many nn wo ordinary unriled perhnps tys canp, any fear, bo liglitly tear, bo lightily to mention a asking how nny with her dense ellorinous deltt ale of wages of ale of wages of with coantrles of Guildford or ag-slips of Ilull '?" the writer from nn intellich, ${ }^{\text {Brys, }}$ 'As arigation laws, nderstnnd what more than one correspondents, adding, You low your exnmadinee of thom pened, the eycs will, wo appre-of Prriamont. of Parliamont. one. We shall tho smnll shopnow add, with-cheaper broad. al seller of the ual privateconter a long lapse the brceder of vato family are 3 ago for every on is, notwithressing very seWe hinvo seen ill the so-called quite unf,upular distriots." The rs of West Surn -can best tell orking-classes? coom for doubt. broke last week Association, 'I io It diminishes

WHAT HOPE, TIIEN, IS THERE FOR TIIE COUNTRY

In my oplaton the bold stand mado by some free traders for reclproolty is the only good fature of the times. RECIPROCITY, SAY 'IIEY, IS A Ring yuc non OF FREE TRADE-ALI, FREE TLRADERS EXPECPED, OR SAID TIEE EX: PECTED IECLIPROCI'TY FROM OTLIELL COUNTRIES. I allude eleowhere to the Glasgow Reolproelty Associntion, whose viows are advocatell with grent abllity by the Freo 'Trado Editor of the Glasgow Doily Dail. The Glaspow Examiner nlso, nnother Frco Trade puper, had tho followlag exoellent remarke as Jar back an 30 th September, 1848 ; to see which I wne greatly rejoieed:-

The Natlonal Ansembly have discussed the preliminnries of their constltution, and, after muols spechingking, they have come to the determination to leave labour in much tho wame position he it in in this country. They approve of enfploying labour, ne who does not? but they do not choose to oome under any obsigation to employ it in all eirconstances. Conmunism and all similnr isms liave thus got their denthblow in tho preanuble of the now republican conatltution. Every nntion feels that the better the industrial classes are employed and pald, the lietter for all elasses; nnd hence, iustead of requiring onactinents to eniploy labour self-interial clase it sopicty in Britain, and indeed throughout Europe is so constituted thet uo one conse of cociety is indenendent of nnothest Whien tho Inbourer in idle, the ehopkeeper losee his trade, nind the house proprietor hls rent. The houselioliler'a loss aoon tells on the Iniden proprictor's interent, by detracting from the value of hand and feus, so that between the aristocincy and the lnbourer there is an inseparable oonnection. Leglalation mny, nnd ought to, proteot the labourer In his rights nid liberties, but It never can secure lim ecuployment by any direct not of legislatlon, It may do much to encournge national nind internntional traftio nad conimerce, but it is not by direct nets that it will nld the enuse of labour, Indeed It begins to be pretty obvlous that it requires the legislationg of nore thin one natlon to encourage trade. Our lawmakers for a tlmo were under the apprehension that it only required a good example to accure the henrty reciprooity of the world. Accorlingly, restriction after reatriotion was romoved, but other untlons, instend of opening thelr portn to receive our manufnctures, shat thons closer than before, and the consequence is, thint our experts have beon on the decrenso. It la now discovered thant a asstem of reciprocity mast supersedo our one-sided policy. English nianufneturers have their rigits, which may not be vionter with impunity, and it hohoves our legislators to nid our merchants nnd manuficturers by procucing for thom n good market on foreign ohores. Britnin does not need to atand and bog for admission nt nuy port If any nation enn nfforl to be indopendent Britain is, but it is not its iselntion we eeel, but its prolltable intermingling with nill untions, It is in a position now almost to dictate tariffs to all nntiona, and we know no renson why these should not be mutually considered as well ns treatises for war or penco. Free trado, for whicl! $n$ large section of politieal and commeroinl men have sighed, is unquestionabiy an excelient thing, but the questiun is, ean wo obtain it? Is it free trade to admit the product of other nations to our shores while these very mations exolude our produotions, or at least levy $n$ heavy rate on them. Enela nation has its own staple artiole, and as long as any one nation will protect that artiele. so long must nuy other nation see that it is not giving nis unduo ndyantage to that protectionist nation. We need not very carefully aettle the question as to whether universal free trade would be a universil blessing -that we may discuss when the nations aro preparod for it ; but moantime, if wo are to linvo leagues, they must bo international, otherwise they will defeat their own ond and only bring misory whero thoy otherwise would seoure peace."

And from the following, from tho Manchester Guarlian of $22 d$ August, tho Manchester school woull appear to bo discovering that nbundnuce of foreign food at th? ports of a forcign country is not aynouymous with the feeding, or, in othor words, the employment of the working elasses :-
'Sir,-Your speculations concerning Californin are somewhat celoured by your bullionist preconceptions; for you see that, if gold becomes as plentiful as copper, it won't do for paying delts; that is, it won't serve as a monoy. In ono placo you say the people in thein, nnd yet unsuccessful gold diggers in the interior may be quite lnenpable of procuting food. 'Pnetolus' saya, that if gold was ns plentiful ns cupper, it would not sorve ns woney. Does not copper, then, serve as money? Let him npply to any Brazilimn merchant for information on that point.-ECl, Guarel.]"
the wages of the lnbonver. - Tho first principles of politioal econosuy tell us that when shy article of consumption ts greatly increased in the market, as in the instnuce of eorn, of which an unlimited supply ean be thrown upon the bincket, the natural and certain elfect is to reduco its value. It may be remarked that in nll countries, ns in this, where, for a grent portion of the yenr, $n$ larger number of labourers exist than profitable employment enn be found for, wagos must always be at a minimuni, depending entirely upon tho produce which is consumed," We have reason to know that this effect lins alrealy taken place to a large extent; and how slanll it bo otherwise ? They who first lower the prices obtained by the prollucer lor his commodity to less than $n$ remunerative point, and then expect lim still to pay his labourers the same nunount of wages, are like the tnakmastirs of Egupt. 'Ilsey take nany the straw ; but, nceording to their olinritable and " liberal" theory, the brieka must still be supplied. "lree tride," said Mr Drummond nt Guiliford on Saturdny, "was a gook thing. if that wha all ; but the inerense of wenlth which it brought was only nominal. There were to be deducted from it the trales which had been destroyed. There must be dalincted tho tirmers' enpital, which hal been destroyed. There wns to bo deducted the loss, ly opening the ports to Sparish barilla, of the kelp trnde, formerty carricd on upon the morthwest coast of scotland, and on the west coast of heland, where the famite had hech most seriously felt. There were to be deducted the losses of the lrish farmel and landlord, nud the $£ 12,000,000$ voted fir the relief of Irish distress. All these things unst be taken into necount before nnything was said of the profits of free trade." The elector's of West Surrey, like those of Kiddermingter nnd Reading, hrve prenounced their opinion on these things ; and wo look forward, with eagerness, to the day when every constituency in tho land shall have nn opportunity of following their example.

The following letter on the stnte of Canada is from an Intolligent liriend on the other side of the Atlantic. It requires no comruent:-
"New York, Sept. 3, 1840.
'My dear Sir,-The work goes bravely on in Canada. The progpectus of a newspaper has just been issued at Ilanilton, in Upper Canadn, which boldly ayows the principle of independenco as $n$ necossary step to annexation. This paper will be well supported in the U. S. The plan seems to bo to establigh independonce. and, when independent, to unito with this country a la 'Texas! Such $n$ courso would meet the viows of the Executive at Washington.
" I'cel with his Free Trade, Elgin with his Rebellion Bill, and the London Times with its coarse nbuse, have done wonders. "How long will it take to ruin England, if the principles of Free Trinde and tho aystem of rewnrdlug treason be well followed up? Even you nad I may live to see a good deal, at the rate things go on. In 1840, British goods imported at Montreal amounted to $£ 1,700,000$; in 1848 the same importa fell to n million, of oourse beenueo the Canadians are getting nll their things from the United Stntes. It was no wish of the Cnnadinns to denl with the United States; but they wero foreed into it by the Government. They would have sent to Enginnd even for their monse-trups, If left to their own will."-Brighton Gazette.
"There may be many a labourer, married and single, tolerably well off in Devon and Somerset, but there are maltitudes so imwersed in the deptlis of wretchedness, that it is nlmost impossible to fancy them sinking lower. There nre hundreds of families, with four or tive ehileren, whose sole dependenee is the earning of the husband-the children beine too young and the wife too busy nt home to work nbroad-their earnings not execeding Ts. a week. It is on this sad feature of the diversified picture that publie nttention ahould be most closely riceted."-Morning Chropuble, Novenloer 1840

Not one of the 56,000 offered to snle yesterday [the Mnrtin Estates in Connemarn] was purchasel, notwithstinding tho great variety of ehacice na to quality and situation, whiels, in other circumstances, must have excited a spirited competition in the company.'

Ay, sir, 'in other circumstances!' Bit thoso other circumstanees' you tell us we shall noi nive. Ioll insist that, for the sake of eheng bread for you English factorists, the Irish ngriculturist shall perish, the Irish labourer be doomed to starvation or a workhouse, an Irish proporty be rendered so valueless that, no matter how highly faverred in quality and situntion, no one will venture to bid for it. That, sir, is the result of your Corn Lnw repeal; and whether it is worth your while to retain your crot-ehet-whether it will not bo 'cheaper' to rovert to the policy you have abondoned, to restore to tho agriculturist the protection of which you have deprived him, and thus to encourage him to cultivate the ground, and employ the labourer, to provido work for the nrtisan, and 'custom' for the shopkeepor-whetiher it will not be better and chenper to do this than to persist tn a poliey which is derouring its vietims by the score, filling ho workhouses and bankrupting those who are to suproft them, is a question. Which even the authors of much of tho misery that nhounds in Ireland wny find it prudent to consider.

It may bo said that we look too gloomily on our prospects. Perhapa we do; but ean any one who restrnins lis wishes with tho ourb of reason see in the circumstanecs which surround us ground for a brighter and wore checring anticipntion. We read a great deal about 'symptoios of improvement ;' but we have been reading the snme thing for months, anil we ask, where are they? Have they any existence ont of the hopeful hearts which gave them utterance? Does the shopkeeper meet them behind fis counter, the merehant behind his desk? Aro thoy evidenced in the decline of those burdens which indicate the incrense or diminutiou of distress? We might run the round of custoniary interrogation, but from every class and every occupation the answer would be the same.-The Cork Conatitution, Nov, 1849.

These, I feel satiafiod, are an indiention of the feeling of the wholo Free Trailo prew, aithough the oxpremion thereof by the diffovent newnpapera will be. sonner or later, mocording to the olmounantanoes whilh ariso to open thieir eyeas.

And the filinwing, onuplod with tho Ellinburgh Revieu's late pelitio privelyif, may be taken as the shaken position now of the Free 'Trado Magarinea:-
"The nnawer might be aupplied by nny farmer's wife who has been twlee or oftonor to markot with butier. A learned profowormay Inatrnot her that ' cost of production' in an eloment in the priee of hor hutter; but she known, perhaps better than the learned profemoer, that whether she wili got a third mare or lean for her butter next Saturday, doponde not upon the cont, but upon the quanelty then brought te market, and the number of biycere thon and there. The cont to her of the milik and tha labour of churning may be 8d, but the price may, notwithntanding, finetuate hotivoon 8d and Is 3 id .

The average value of butter and gold for the next hundred yeare may be govorned by the wasen of ehurning nnd mining; but upon the prineinise admitted by Mr Rieanto in reference to 'Ilmited perioda, the valne of either butters or gold between laat Ohriatmam and next Midaummer, muat demend upon the quabelty that enn, within that time, be brouglit to market, as compared with the demanda,"
[From the Ilistery and Exposition of the Curreney Question in the Westminster Roview of Jannary, 1848.]
" Appreciation of the purchasing power of money [or, in other worda, cheapnese of commoditica,] on the contrary, la a oheok toprodnotion. The farmer who pays hila rent and taxes, when onney is dear, with the proceede of 60 quartors of wheat inatoad of 50 , lias ten quartern ieas for other purpmeat than he colculated on when ho took the farm. Whilo hia labourers are congratulating themselven that a shilling will now go farther than lt did a year or two ago, lis la making up his mind to turn some of thern adrifi. The landlord, the fundholder, and all who stand is the relation of ereditors receive the bonefit while it lanth, but it lants only while the goono is dring whioh Inid the golden eggs. Ulimateiy iand is thrown up, manufacturing operatione aro maspended, renta fall, the fixed burdon of the taxps beenmes more and more intolerable, and if we wern to imayine the prosees of appreciation (of money) eontlinulng fre a great number of yesrs in a country manacled with the intereat of a debt, like that of England, which couid not be shaken off or reduced like private obligalions, the end wouid neceasarily be nationai bankruptoy and univermal oonfualon. These inets were anted by David fiume, but they have been almost wholly lost aigh of by modern econominta."
[From the Westminater Review of Jnnuary, 1848. Any one carefully atudying this must come to see that Mr Cobden and the political economiats are oither very criminai in drugting the public mind, as they have, as to the valuo, to a oountry's induatrious - elasses, of "cheapness," or are se atupid ne not to be able to undoratand that the cheapmess of commoditice is a convertille terta for the dearness of monay.]
"What, then, do we require 1 We aro neither retrogressive, conservative, nor obstrnotive. These terminations suit us not. Wo are for progress. It is a good word, and implles a necesolty. We must progress backwards or onwarde. Now wo are going hackwnrds. Peel's Impulae aent in an a bad track.
We wnit free trade as a world'a blessing-a hond of pesce-a anuree of mutual and ever-growing happiness and proaperity ; but it is the trade expounded in Colonel Thomen's Catechiam of the Corn Iaws, when the wearer here may freely exohange his wob with the farmer elacwhere thr a barrel of flours, or whatever the former requires and the latter can sell. This result is not yet obtained. The State, for public purpones, Intervenes, and clinrges a high sum for license to matio the trangaetinn. The only advance made is, that our Government gets, in many enses, no slinre of this money contributed by two nationa; for wherever a high import tax ia charged on goonds, it is paid partly ly both biyer and sellor. The absurd iden that we liave no intereat in thri tariff of foreige coantries is abolished. No sane man would now nanie it before an inteliggent nudience. Some men eay that we do well ln apite of high tarifis, hut they will not deny that thoy could do better withnut them. Let ua, therefore, try for the better fate, and not rest contented with enta of prosperity, when we may pluck the fruit unchipped nad unblemished from the tree. The position of our trade with the United States and the Eur,penn powers, with few exceptiEan, in that of a taxed bualness, in which the proceeds of the tax are all paid over to fnreign gevernmeats. The trade with the enlonifs, with China, Turkey, and some other countrien, is also a inxed bnaineas, but one in which we kesp rery nearly all the proecede of the taxation. The syatem is, therefore, unequal and unjust. and demanda an immedinte revisal in juatice to China, to Turkey, to foreign Henthens and oolonial Christlans-but the intter olase of sufferera, in Canada, take reparation into their own hands. The decomposition of the empire would be mont injurious to free trade principles, for it would ndd the colonices to the taxing eountries; while the existence of the empire wonld be highly benefcial to free intercourve, becnase it is at onces a gruat Hritiah League, saperior to the Zoliveroin, to the United States, and to Russin; within which alone enn we show, by exnmple, the bencficial operation of our theories, This circumatance rhonld infan-ence the conduct of libral politicinas. Forelgn nationa may refinge to reciprocnte our purpoess but the colonice denire nothing more than untaxed trade hetween them and the hnme conntry, which ahould be only the centre and heart of the emplre. Foreign nntiona may decree exclasive dealing in times of auch distresa nnd: acarelty na we have folt and seen, but the atorea of the colonies are nlways open to oor papulntinn, and no arbitrary decree can ever come between them and our requirementa. The union between this country and ite colonicasbould be compiete-a federative union, in which they should bo fairiy and fully represented. The advantages and hononrs open to tl:e Queen's auhjects in the Lothiana or Lancabliro should be equaily open to them jn Jamaica or in Canadn."-Tait's Magazine lor November, 1849.

CONCLUSION.

A grent part of my ohjeot has heen to keep hope alive in the breast of the Coloniat that pablio opinion in Britain is coming ont of ita nearly fatal aliniber, in which it hna allowed the conntry to be robbrd of all it once held valuable. 1 desire to assure our tranpatlantic brethren that british public opinion will soon repudiate the organs of our nllen money ariatocracy and even the money market itself rather than lose the colonica nnd our marltime *upremacy. Let the Coloniats rely that the People of this conntry liegin to look with something whirh will sonn beenne contempt on the agitnting deceiver, who said, "SIX WEERS AFTER THE PASSING OF THE CORN BIIL, EVFHY SIINDLE IN S'OCKPOITT WOULD BE IN FULL EMPLOYMENT, AND EVERY HAND JN FUII, OCCUPATION. WITII GOOD WAGES." The experienced Editor of the Banker's Circular has, the other day, the following, making out, better than In my mon worde I could do, my long hold pooition. The late Lond Wharnelfife, with whom the writer, I heileve, had much communication on the subject, is ovidently the ohiof party pointed at among those whom no one could supposic wowld be mate a cal's paw of by Peel and Groham.

No calm and soher-minded person will contend that theie was nat much in the old restrictive tarif of this country which po. puired aupervision and rectifiention ; and if our commercinl reformers had proceeded on the impalae of a convietion of the neceasity of judicious alterations, and had taken, sa a guide for their proceedings, experlence and a searching knorledge into the exigencies and peculiar cireumatances of ench principal ease which demanded change and rectification, eound philosophy would have approved their conninet, and generoun patrietism would have rewarded their exerticns with eamest and enduring gratitude. This is the language Which we lield when the f'ecl Administration was formed. We are not amamed to say, that, althoagh wo had no confidence in its chief, exerpt for a faculty of departmental aupervision nnd diligont official attention, yet wo believed there were certain members of that Gevernment who would hare sufficient wright of oharaster to connteractithe designs of the sangaine, volatile, and weak andor*Landiag of their chiif, if he ehould le impelled to prnject erude intemperate echemee of nubverion of the exiatingivatate of things. Wo were griovously disappointed and alarmed when we dineovered thero were no such men in the Poel Cabinot; that they were all, withont even the exeeption of Lard Stanley, mere alaves of a dominant will and a plausibie tonguo, co long as thelr leader kept his destructive handa off the land. Mr Disraeli might be right when he tuid that ail the proeeding concetoions to the olamour of the Sanehester tehool were made for the purpnee of anving the landed intorest from the freo-trade policy ; but if that wore so it only sbows the mean and corrupt notiona of politicnl experiency which directed the oouduct of the Government in their leginiative procreding up to the eesaion of 1846. They wlehed to savo the landed intereat from the extreme action of a polioy whioh, if it be the trua and riglitenns policy, ought to be equitably applied to all interesta according to their capacity to bear it and prospor under it. If. this veration of their netunting motive be correct-and Peel's famous speech of June, 1845, rooommending Parliament to keep their rough snd rude liande from tnuching such a system as had grown up on the land of England, according to the maxims of economy, eecms to confirm the iliegntion-thnt it is mavifest, wo may, that fear of the parliamentary power and publio authority of the nritopraey alono restrained the Peel Adminintrntlon from thmee catreme conrses which they rentored on in the weasion of 1848 , and whichi led to their apeedy and irrecorerable overthrow. Caim and sober-miluded persona would not, ata we intimated at the commenoement of this paragraph. have nbjeeted to jndielons and temperate relaxations of the tarify, If thay had been undertaken in a proper apirit, earried on according to the forms prescribed by the conatitntion, and consummated with the conaent of the people expremed is their clectoral enpaelty.
"It in beenuae these wise and necepasty provisinns were more fingrantly and audncionsly violated than was ever before done by any Ginvermment ainst Cinmwill's time, thint all intelligent men of education and weight of oharnoter and position condemned the manner at lesse of accompliahinga great ievolotionary deaign, and more than nine-tenths of apoh men condemned not only the mazner of eficeting the purpose; but the swceping nature of the thing itself. This is the reason why all refective mon uow contemplate: uith ditnay the ecming wreek of the farming intereat, as they look back with deploring regret at the overthrow of tho colomis intorest. The number of sueh persona is being rapidly inereaced by aympathisorn from the doluded free-traders. They all auk, Wiil the Government, seelng the connequences-consequences admitted and deplored by all pernona except a fuw hardened and anserupu. lous ultraa-persist in a courno which is manifestly sinking into perdition the bent olasees of the community $?$ Wo cannot imagine, they say, that the spirit of faction will earry statesmen onward to suoh a point of ruin when the ovidencea are so piain, genetal, anil unequivecal. We, too, should say no if the free-trado Minister and ex-Minister were left to themaelves ; if there were no antagonist

 Wool, and many other articles, and incrensed duty on foreign timber, angar, coffoe, butter, cheese, do., amidut the accinmation of the mnjority. This in our entire, unheslitating conviction, so palpabie have beoome the ovidences of faifure in the free trade poiley: so alarmed are become all men of property at the prospeot which persovoranco in the same oonrse holing out to them.

When Pariament is not sitting, wo have no other moana of Juiging of tho temper of the freo-trade party than the language of their journala. Those of the higheat and oldent charactor are qulot and apparently apprehensivo of consequences, for they perceive that the prosent state of things is far from boing as they expeoted, and as was ao presumptuousijg and rnshly promisarl ; but momo of the now organs are mere coarse, unsorupulous, and manacling thin ever. The pensioned 'Economian' ls the most recklems and audacions of these organa ; for, although it revenia its uneasiness in the following sentences, we ahuif see presentiy that ita bearing towards the afflifoted farmern is as coaree, hoartless, and revengeful as wo describe. In an claborato nnalytionl article on the cotton trade, which is exeented with renearch and ability, theso sentences escape. On tho other hand, high as tho present price of cottou is, compared with what it was a yenr ago, the manufneturer, in entimating the ability of the conaumer, must not overiook tho fuct that whent is 41 a quarter in place of 804 , as in 1840-7, and all other necessaries clienp, in place of the famino prices whioh pre vailed when cotton was denr three years ago. Ahuch as some of the manufacturtrs affec now to diride free trude, it wonld lie un intercsting and important inquiry to ascertain how mueh their property during the last year has arisen soleiy from cheap and nbundant food.' The words which we have marked in ltalio letter'showing a consciousness that somo of the manufacturers 'aftect not dant food. 'Tre words which we have marked in it "Trade,' mre pregnant with instruction."

And the followling from tho liverpool Mail of tho Ist inst. (Dec. 1840,) may be viowed as tho ahadow of coming ovents to the agriculturai and sailor olames, if l'eel and politioal economy are stuek to by tho natlon:-
"The struggle-and a desperate and portontous struggle it is-whioh Is going on hetween money and inbour, and between wage and freo trade, cannot posibly continuo long without Initiating a national convulsion. The ngricultural labonver and the handicraftaman, mainily dependent on agrionlture, of which there nre several millions on this island, aro at this inoment in a state of suf: fering, withont hope, and of augmenting and dishartening destitution, unknown in nny othor Stato in Europe. It is clear to ins that tho Engliah labouror, if tho present aystom is to ho continuec, must sink to tho condition of tho frish peasant. But tho alarm ing question presents itself more formidablo every day, viz. will the Englishi Inbourer submit to the alandonment and tho utter wretchednese which have decimated the Irisli peasnntry ? We wish to observe a prudent eaullon in not answering the quostion foi the present. If the working men to whom wo invo alluded wero pormitted by the absorbing and despotio monoy power to earn 12 or 14 s a-wrek, they coald nfford to pay 7 d for tho 4 lb . loaf. But if the wages are reduced tu 0 s or 7 s a-week, ns is the avernge earn ings at present, they cannot nfford to buy tho same quantity of bread, even though tho priee of the 41 b . Jonf were reduced to 3 d . This:enibraces the whole case as betwoen the English labouror on tho one hand, and the money power nud treo trate on the othor. The sweeping ehangos whlch a parliament of protended politioal economists-of cold-blooded men who repudinte all national sympalhic, -who legislate for purposes exclusively selfish-who call tho whole world thoir family and disregard the povorty they havo caused. and which the Almighty has permitted them to eause for infinlte designs which will be consummated in their own destruction-these swcoping changes, wo say, wili inevitably lead to grave and latul consequences.
"We wero informed the other day that a new huilt Swedish silip lias been ehartered for Manilla, to briog sugars to this country at a fielght of 40 s a ton, An Einglisis slip, fettered as her owners nie by stringent regulations, onnnot perfi, ria tho voyngo with any profit umier $£ \delta$ per ton. The last necounts from the United Stntes inform us that the shipowners of tho Union nro determined to diseunntenance and boldly oppose ono of Mr Jabonchere's nostrums as far as they ne concerned. They are right. The enso is this, Suppost n Baltio-built ship, owned by a British or Baitic shipowner, having performed a voynge, is gold in a port of tho United States, will the United Staten give to that shlp so sold the protective benefit of her fing Accorling to Freo 'l'rado principles thoy nre bound t do so. But againgt this proposition thay rebel They will not tolernte or oudure it, and ns the Government of the Ropublic i founded on popular opinion, the Govormment wili be compejled to sucoumb. Hero thon, nt the outset, is a mortal lulow to the liboral principles of Liabouchere and the Jew Ricardo. The British shipownor is compelied by law to act upon this lihernl eonecssion, although America, and all other forcign nations, whose commercial tranaactions are worth anythiog, reject it. Tho British ship. ouner is now, however, in tho dilemma which wo foresnw. llis property is not now worth more, as regards shipping, than cule-hati of what it was three yeare ngo. But oan wo sympathise with him ? Most certninly not. Wo recogniso, cven among our own frionds, many honourable exceptions. But, as a body, they wero not the unwilling consentors to the Peri and Ruasele robbery of th. landowners and farmers. As long ns the work of spolintion did not obtrude upon then, they were silent, if not pliant, tools of tho ministey. Dut the erash has como upon them unexpectedly. Thoy were too blind, too narrow-minded, too sordid and belfish, to see or anticipate it ; and, therefure, while we feel deeply for certain parties, we nust say wo have no consolation to spare for thoso wha, with their cyes open, hurried on and supported mensures which engulphed themselves.
"We turn now to the corn question, whirh, under Free 'Trade, must beggar a largo proportion of tho landowners, ruin tho fitrmers, and consign to destitution the ngrioultural labourers. Wo have told the finmers, although they havo heen sufficieutly bigotted ol bind an to render to our warning an ear of unbelief, that tho imports of corn lrom Anorica and other forcign conntries aro not regulatod by price or the vaine of corn in our markets. Wo have now tho means of proving all we have advanecd on this nubject. Cortu comes into this port despite falling markets, und will continuo to do so while England lins money left to pay for it. Witness our imports for tho two weeks endel the 23 th November. Thero were, in the nbovo period, imported into Liverpoal alono the follawints duantities of corn, flour, de., and cheese, n new fenture in our reports, and which will opernte in a reduction of rent, when the proper time comes, of at least 30 per cent-in Gloucester and Cheshire, perliaps 50 per cent. The return is us follows, taken, as is our rulo, from the Custom-house entries, genernily under the mark :-

102,068 Bushels Whent.
2,334 13igs do.
3,313 Barrels Flotr.
963 Bngs do.
13,010 Bushels Onts.
143,426 Businels Indian Corn.
70,810 Bags do.

6,4S0 13nbhels I'eas
4.000 langs do.

15,020 Buslicls Benins.
110 Rags Barley.
5,006 Iloxes Cheese
jis loose do.

Sir Robert Peel will very probably say, with that plausibility which it is necessnry to assume, in order to cover the dishonesty, or, to use the gentler word, the fatal orror, of his poiicy, which the hired quack and leeturer Cobden fored upon his pure and disinterested? couviction-he maysay, as ho has said before, that it is fortuante for England that sho has been supplied with sueh a quantity of cheap provisions.-We tell the ex-Premier that it is not cheap, nad wo lenve him to benefit by the lesson nnd its consequenecs, which will inevitalily be reallsed in a national convnlsion. We beg to whisper to his deendent ear tbeso few words. 'I he Colonies have leech wacrified-tho landioris and farmers nre struck down-the shipowners lave lost one-half of their property-the shopkeepers ennnot pay their rent and taxes cxerpt out of their stock nad capitnl-and, in the ruie of degression, the fundhoders will, from inevitabib wecessity, be compelled to necept ono instead of three per cent for their investments, or, if they prefer it, no interest at all."

IEET THEN TIIE COI,ONIST NOT DESPAIR: NOT ONIY IIAVE " ${ }^{\text {TIIIE COLONIES BEEN SACRIFICED." BU'T }}$ "IIFF LANDLORDS AND FARMERS ARE STRUCK DOWN-THE SHIPOWNERS IIAVE LOST ONE-HALF GF
 STOCK AND CAPITAL-AND, IN THE RULE OF DEGRESSION, THE FUNDHOLIDERS WILL, FROM INEVI'G ABLE NECESSI'TY, BE COMI'ELIED TO ACCEP'I ONE INSTEAD OF TIIREE IER CEA'F. FOR TUELR INVESTMEN'TS, OR, IF TIIEY I'REFER IT, NO INTEMEST A'T ALL."

