So Says Ex-Commissioner
Chambers - Had Given Committee
Credit For Being
Businesslike.

"If the committee did not know about it, they knew even less than I thought they did."
This was the answer given by John Chambers, ex-commissioner in regard to the parks' enquiry yesterday in regard to the splitting of accounts in order that no voucher should be for more than $200. He referred to the parks and exhibition committee. Later he said to W. E. Raney, K.C., that he felt certain that the mayor and controllers knew of the practice. It was, he said, simply to keep within the law.
The whole effort of Mr. Chambers' evidence was a repudiation of the charges of irregularities made against him.
The first matter taken up was the sale of lumber from the exhibition buildings. Mr. Chambers said that he had acted with the consent of the board of control, and that every cent had been turned over to the city treasurer.
It had first been intended to sell the building for $275, and he had saved the city $220. Afterwards he had been congratulated for the way in which he had managed the matter by the mayor,
the board of control and the directors of the exhibition.
Mr. Chambers spoke with some impugnance of the report that he had received $285 for pasturage and had not paid it over. Mr. Raney said that he had stated that the money had not been accounted for, to which Mr. Chambers replied that every cent he had received had gone to the city treasurer.
Mr. Raney explained that in the statement furnished by him in the enquiry's department a mistake had been made, and these amounts omitted.
There was a record of these accounts
having been received, and he had, however, had been traced to Mr. Chambers.

AS PILGRIMS TO HONOR TOLSTOI

Lawrence Irving Suggests That High-
Class Englishmen Do Novel Stunt.

LONDON, March 11.—Lawrence Irving, the actor, has written a letter to the London papers, in which he suggests a novel tribute to Count Leo Tolstoi in the shape of a pilgrimage of Englishmen of high standing, if possible,
but traveling third-class or party
afoot.
Mr. Irving further suggests that sumptuous hotels should be avoided by the pilgrims, who should live plainly and mix with the people. The pilgrimage should be so arranged, he adds, as to reach Tolstoi's home in time to present to him a birthday greeting on Aug. 28.

JAPAN BECOMING WEAVER TO CHINA

An Uneasy Feeling in
the Flowery Kingdom
That a War May Be Forced on Them.

NEW YORK, March 11.—The Herald prints a long article from its Pekin correspondent under date of Feb.
1, which declares that Japan seems inclined to seize on any excuse to bring about a clash with China. The attitude recently assumed over the seizure of the Tatsu Maru would bear out the statements that Japan is really menacing the Chinese Empire.
The correspondent writes:
That Japan is on the verge of casting aside all pretence of concern for the independence of China and is hoping to find in the Anglo-Japanese alliance support for an assault upon the integrity of this nation, is the conviction not only of high officials of the Chinese Government, but of many of the foreign diplomatists who, from the Pekin vantage ground, make close study of developments in the Far East.
Despite official expressions of friendliness at Tokio, the negotiations of Japanese officialdom have during the last few months developed a constantly increasing tendency to hector and bulldoze China, which is interpreted by observers here as part of a studied effort to provoke some act
that will furnish excuse for aggression on the part of Japan.

E. N. Lewis Appeals For

dustry.

OTTAWA, March 11.—(Special).—E. N.
Lewis (West Huron) to-day proposed a debate on the pulp wood question by moving "That in the opinion of this house such duty should be placed on the export of pulp wood as will be sufficient to induce its manufacture into paper in Canada, and thus save to the labor of Canada $6,000,000 now lost."
Mr. Lewis began by quoting an expression by President Roosevelt that "No other question of equal gravity is now before the nation." There was no desire in Canada, that the people of the United States should be without their daily paper, but the product of our forests should be manufactured
in Canada.

United States amounted to 21 billion feet, which meant that the supply was practically inexhaustible. That country the total area of the continent. It must also be remembered that only 11 states were importing pulp wood.

THE MAN AND THE HOUR.

If a man is to be judged by his public utterances, the Hon. George P. Graham is what might be termed a broad-gauge politician. While he himself shows a lack of experience, he has shown a remarkable grasp of the transportation necessities of the country.

The St. Lawrence River is the natural channel for the movement of traffic between the markets of the great west (including those of the United States), and the continent of Europe, and if it is made a deep waterway to the Atlantic Ocean, the Erie Canal can never become a formidable competitor for this trade.

Cheap transportation is necessary for the development of trade, and a deep waterway thru the Welland Canal and the St. Lawrence would place Canada indisputably in control of the carrying trade between the west and Europe.

The Trent Valley Canal as a channel of commerce is, and always will be, useless, and had the money wasted in that enterprise been spent in deepening the Welland Canal and the St. Lawrence route, Canada would have had something of value to show for the expenditure.

If the Hon. George P. Graham will undertake this task, together with the extension of the Intercolonial Railway westward, he will achieve a work that will result in lasting benefit to his country and redound to his credit as a statesman.

THE HOUR is auspicious for the development of Canadian trade. Has THE MAN to accomplish the work arrived?

THE MEN WHO DID.

Ontario has been robbed of the right to generate electricity at Niagara Falls. O monstrous treachery! O treasonable larceny!

And by that theft a self-governing people have been put in bondage to a soulless aggregation of speculators. Who is responsible for this thralldom? Who have sold out the people?

Senator Ross, former prime minister of Ontario, his colleagues and his following in the legislature were the arch conspirators, but along with them are Robert Jaffray, now, as then, chairman of the Niagara Falls Park Commission, and now, as then, president of The Globe, and the Rev. J. A. Macdonald, now, as then, editor of The Toronto Globe. These are they who are responsible for the diminution of the rights of the people of this province.

Let Prime Minister Whitney no longer hint at what he can reveal by exposing how the "slaving" clause got into the electrical companies' charters; let him make the exposure. He owes it to himself and to the people who cast out Ross to choose him.

And let Prime Minister Whitney at once call upon Senator Jaffray to resign from the Niagara Park Commission. Surely Mr. Jaffray must see that Premier Whitney's speech in the legislature on Tuesday accuses him! Have accumulated years blurred his moral vision? As for The Globe, how rubbery is its illusionized conscience!

MONEY FOR HOSPITALS.

However widely people may differ regarding certain expenditures of public money, few, if any, will dispute the propriety or even the right of governments to make generous provision for the sick, suffering and dying. Premier Whitney, when addressing the delegation from the tuberculosis conference of the National Sanitarium Association, a week ago, declared that in his opinion, whilst hospitals should in large measure be the outcome of private philanthropy, yet it was the undoubted duty of the state to aid generously every effort in this direction.

So far as the Province of Ontario is concerned, a special source of revenue was opened up when the Succession Duty Act was passed in 1892. The preamble to that act was in these words:

Whereas this province expends large sums annually for asylums for the insane and idiots, institutions for the blind and deaf mutes, and towards the support of hospitals and other charities, and it is expedient to provide a fund for defraying part of the said expenditure by succession duties on certain estates of persons dying as hereinafter mentioned.

The powers of the legislature are by no means limited to the revenue derived from the succession duties, but the act itself is specific in stating for what purpose the large sums annually coming from the estates of deceased citizens should be used, and this was the main argument used in the legislature when the act was under discussion.

W. J. Gage, in his address before the tuberculosis conference, pointed out that the revenue now received from succession duties has nearly doubled within the last three years, the returns showing an increase from $458,000 in 1904 to $821,000 in 1907. There is good reason to believe, too, that the exactness of succession duties has cut off gifts and bequests that otherwise would have been made to charities.

At the present moment the government is considering the proposal made by the conference for an increase in the allowances for maintenance of patients in consumptive sanitariums throughout the province. Not only has a strong case in its favor been made out by friends interested in hospital work at all points, but the government has also been shown how satisfactorily this end can be attained by drawing liberally on the succession duties already ear-marked for charitable purposes.

FAITH IN THE PEOPLE.

Ignorance and suspicion breed distrust and cannot supply remedies. And wherever, in lieu of attempting arbitrarily to deal with matters which are intricate and require analysis, we can devise a provision for suitable study and authoritative report we add to the security of business by insuring intelligent governmental action. I am a firm believer in the sound judgment of the people. We cannot expect to be altogether free from foolish propaganda and absurd vagaries. But they will be rendered harmless if the facts to which they are applied are generally understood.

The above is from an address by Governor Hughes of New York State, a probable Republican candidate for the presidency, at Boston Tuesday night. One might almost imagine he had reference to the license reductionists in the city council.

SAULT STE MARIE MOVES FOR RAILROAD LINES

Deputation Will Be Sent to Toronto Respecting Algoma Central and Other Projects.

SAULT STE MARIE, March 11.—(Special).—To-night a joint meeting of the council and board of trade was held to consider the matter of sending a deputation to induce the government to take some action towards the extension of the Algoma Central Railway and give the residents of the northern portion of the province a small share of the benefits enjoyed by easterners as to railway and other transportation facilities.

Council members cited the very successful efforts put forward by the towns of Collingwood, Port Arthur and Fort William.

John McKay urged that the provincial government be requested to build a railway from the Soo, northeast to the Grand Trunk Pacific, which action would leave splendid opportunities for the towns of Bruce Mines, Thessalon and other northern communities to construct short lines and come into the fold.

W. H. Hearst explained the application made to the provincial government in 1907, to have the bonds of the Algoma Central for $40 million guaranteed to the extent of $20 million on undertaking to complete the Algoma Central Railway, and also the Manitowish & North Shore Railway.

It was moved and carried that a joint committee of the council and board of trade send a deputation to Toronto to ask the Ontario Government to take steps to give this portion of Ontario more railway accommodation, especially regarding the Algoma Central, and that the government re-grant $500 acres and $20,000 per mile to build from the Manitowish Pacific Railway to the Grand Trunk Pacific.

FARMER'S TRAGIC DEATH.

Fell Under Runner of Sleigh and Dragged Long Distance.

SMITH'S FALLS, March 11.—(Special).—Peter Fox, a farmer living in Burgess Township, was found dead on the road about three miles from Smith's Falls last night. He had probably been driving a sleigh during the day and about ten o'clock at night left for his home, 14 miles from here. He had fallen from the load and went under the sleigh.

He was caught by the runner just at the neck and was dragged some distance. When found he was under the sleigh and the horses were standing still. He was 38 years old and unmarried. It is said an inquest will be held.

COMPANY HAVE POWER TO SAY WHICH DOOR

Statute Which Was Overlooked When Magistrate Gave Decision.

There is likely to be a pretty pickle with the Toronto Street Railway and city affairs over the rear and front door episode, in which J. R. Young figured so conspicuously before Deputy Magistrate Kingsford.

At Manager Fleming's office it is maintained that Magistrate Kingsford based his decision solely on the company's charter, whereas if he had consulted the Ontario statutes, 1901 under "An Act Respecting Steam, Electric and Steam Railways," in clause (j) s. 15 to 16 the bylaws, rules and regulations, he would have seen that the company may make bylaws respecting "the number of passengers to be allowed in cars, their mode of entrance or exit, and the portion of the car or the class of car to be occupied by them."

When The World queried Magistrate Kingsford about this matter, he said that at the trial of Young he had asked the Toronto Railway's representative if there was any regulation to that effect, and he had informed to the contrary, had not looked the matter up. However, he continued, even if a bylaw were to be passed, the city should be careful not to abide by anything of the sort, because, in his opinion, the construction of the bylaw would have to be altered in order to make it possible in case of crowding, for those at the rear to pass up to the front. In fact, he stated, the bylaw would only make over-crowding worse than it is now.

Magistrate Kingsford was quite firm in his attitude on the matter, and insisted that while Young was arrested for disorderly conduct, he had discharged him because he was plain in his own view that Young was roughly handled, off the car, without cause and had a right to sue. The World asked the magistrate if this meant that in a similar case anyone had a right to sue the city. The court replied: "Yes, knock him down."

At Mr. Fleming's office Division Superintendent McCullough had calm and collected story to tell, which he uttered as if the Toronto Railway has been really an injured party. He stated the allegation that the new mode of entrance and exit was designed solely to crowd the cars, and that, then, and at the same time not to let a fare escape. He said the thing was wholly intended for the people's comfort. He showed the World representative dozens of letters from citizens, expressing their appreciation of the present system, and of leaving the cars. Further, he said that the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board thoroughly approved the recommended system. And in one aspect, he continued, the present system has been exceedingly beneficial—it has reduced the number of accidents in three months by 66 per cent.

When The World asked Mayor Oliver whether he or the city solicitor would take any action in the matter, his worship replied that the initiative would first have to come from the people. If they wanted him to act, he would do so, he said, but not till the people themselves first said, this is an abuse which must be stopped.
