BRITISH TARIFF REFORMS WILL AID DOMINIONS

Free Trade Policy Which Has Advantaged Enemy to Be Dropped.

British Chambers of Commerce Declare Strongly for Imperial Preference.

LONDON, Feb. 29, 7.15 p.m.—Trade after the war was discussed by a notable gathering today of the representatives of all the great commercial organizations of the country forming the British Association of the Chambers of Commerce.

The main interest of the gathering centred on a change in Great Britain's present tariff system, allowing practically free admission of foreign imports owing to the prevailing belief that Great Britain's free markets have been one of the chief sources of the building up of German industry.

Must Be Readjustment. The government's interest in the meeting was shown by the attendance of the chancellor of the exchequer, Reginald McKenna, who has charge of the framing of the tariff schedules. He addressed the executive committee, declaring that the government was not committed to adhering to the old economic policies, which the experience of the war had shown must be readjusted to the new conditions.

Representatives of Canada, Australia and other colonies, and the commercial attaché of the American embassy were present.

Several important resolutions were adopted after an extended debate, two of them reflecting overwhelmingly the sentiment for an entire readjustment of the British economic and trade policy. The first resolution, unanimously adopted, was:

Internal Production Vital. "The experience of the war has shown that the strength and safety of the British nation in time of national peril lie in the possession by this nation of the power to pro-

SIGNALER N. GURNETT IS SEVERELY WOUNDED

Won Gold Medal for Being Best Bomb Thrower in First Canadian Contingent.

A message received yesterday by Mrs. L. A. Gurnett, 218 St. George st., from Ottawa conveyed the information that her only son, Signaler Norman Gurnett, had been severely wounded in the back and had been admitted to No. 18 General Hospital in France.

On March 12, left with the first contingent, signaling section of the 1st Battalion, 1st Infantry Brigade, and had been in the trenches since Feb. 16, 1915. Before going to the front he was attached to the Queen's Own and was in the employ of the Consumers' Gas Co. The telegram received by Mrs. Gurnett stated that the wound was received on Feb. 29. At the 1st Infantry Brigade sports, held in Belgium last fall, Gurnett won the gold medal for bomb throwing over all competitors from all the battalions.

TURK ARMY CUT TO PIECES THRU RUSSIAN ONSET

Corps of Three Divisions in Caucasus Reduced to Brigades. ERZERUM VERY STRONG Only Fortress Controlling Main Highways of Anatolia and Armenia.

SEVERELY WOUNDED

Special Cable to The Toronto World. PETROGRAD, Feb. 29.—The Russian general staff has issued an official statement combating certain Turkish statements intended to minimize the importance of Erzerum which the Russians recently took by storm and giving the Russian view of the Turkish losses, while describing the value of this fortress in the Turkish scheme of defence of Asia Minor.

SEVERELY WOUNDED

The Russian statement is as follows: "The Turkish communications of the 21st state that the retreat of the Turkish army from Erzerum towards positions west of the fortress was effected without loss and that the Turks abandoned in the fortress only fifty odd guns they could not remove. At the same time Turkish headquarters denies statements alleged to have been disseminated by the Russians of the capture in Erzerum of 1,000 guns and 80,000 prisoners. The same Turkish communication declares that Erzerum was really not a fortress, but merely an open town with fortifications devoid of any value.

"In view of these assertions, the Russian general staff announces that the fortress of Erzerum was the only fortified point in the interior of Asia Minor protecting western Armenia and Anatolia and commanding all the best roads of Transcaucasia and the interior of Asia Minor. For many years past great improvements have been carried out in the works by the Turks with the assistance of Germans. The terrain in front rendered it naturally strong, while it was covered on the flanks by mountain masses, most difficult of approach and with their passes protected by powerful forts.

Formidable Barrier. "Such was the formidable barrier on the path of our offensive, with enormous defensive advantages on the northeast and east. "During the five days' assault the fortress was defended by the Turks with stubbornness, to which the enormous number of dead and frozen bodies gives testimony. The Caucasus army succeeded in surmounting

"K" MERE FIGUREHEAD SAYS NATIONALIST M.P. Chief Functions Taken Away From Kitchener, According to Lynch.

LONDON, Feb. 29.—In the course of a general discussion today in the house of commons on the "Consolidated Fund Bill" Arthur Lynch, Nationalist member for West Clare, declared that the government had inflicted upon Earl Kitchener severe censure by having taken from him one after another his chief functions, so that the secretary for war was now in a somewhat ignominious position, being little more than a figurehead.

No reply was made to Mr. Lynch's remarks.

LAST HONORS PAID TO NURSING SISTER

Casket Shrouded in Union Jack—Borne to Avondale Cemetery.

STRAITFORD, Feb. 29.—For the first time in the history of Stratford full military honors were accorded to a woman today, when the late Nursing Sister Elsie Ross, who died of pneumonia while on duty at the Soldiers' Convalescent Home Toronto, was buried at Avondale Cemetery.

The funeral was held from the late nurse's old home at Brookside, near here, and the casket, enshrouded in a Union Jack, was borne to the grave on a gun carriage. Six medical officers of the Toronto Soldiers' Convalescent Home acted as pallbearers, and the entire 110th Perth County Battalion marched in the procession. Great crowds saw the cortege pass thru the city streets.

No Infantry Attacks Launched by Teutons Who Begin to Entrench—Hun Artillery Fire Lessens—Local Fighting in Woevre.

Special Cable to The Toronto World. LONDON, Feb. 29.—The German infantry which was hurled for several days against the slopes and heights north of Verdun on the eastern bank of the Meuse did not venture today to attack the French, who are now firmly established in front of them and even the terrific bombardments of the heavy German guns began to slacken, although it was still maintained with some show of spirit. Information from every source, neutral as well as belligerent, received today, tends to confirm the previous reports that German losses were sustained by the Germans in undertaking a great offensive when the French were well prepared to receive them. It is believed that the second phase and perhaps concluding phase of the battle is over.

Seeing that without heavy reinforcements they could not hope to attack the French positions with success today, the survivors of the German infantry that was thrown into the inferno, entrenched themselves on the slopes north of Côte du Poivre (Pepper Hill), leaving the first edge of this hill in the possession of the French. Samogneux, which was occupied by a German battalion, was shelled by French batteries.

The onsets of the Germans against the French positions did not cease till this morning, for during the night they were still able to launch violent local attacks, especially in the vicinity of Douaumont Village, where hand to hand combats raged, in which the French drove back their enemies.

Stormed Small Redoubt. The Germans in their official statement today only claimed that the region of the Verdun fighting, they stormed a small armored work west of the village of Douaumont. They assert that they captured 228 officers and 16,575 men from the French, but military observers here impugn the accuracy of these figures. They believe that the French losses in the Verdun region up to the end of last week did not equal that figure.

Some persons believe that the Germans now intend to abandon all projects of a big offensive in France at least for some time and point as a justification for this view to the reports from Russia of the great activity noted among the German troops on this front in the past few days.

Heavy Fighting in Woevre. Fighting in the Woevre, which local in its object, developed into considerable intensity during the first week of the month today claiming that they had passed Dieppe, Abaucourt and Bionasse, that they had cleared the French from the region northeast of Watrinville and Handouville, and that they have taken Manheulles and Champlon. The fighting here is on a plain about seven miles south of Verdun. The French repulsed an intense artillery fire in taking Manheulles Village, but a counter-attack immediately delivered brought them back to the western boundary of this village, which they held under their fire all day. Further attacks on this front were prevented by French artillery fire during the day; the French immediately opening a bombardment of the German positions whenever they perceived preparations under way for an onset by the enemy. The other places which the Germans claimed that they occupied and cleared of French troops were in the zone abandoned Saturday when they perceived that the Germans were preparing to make a big attack by opening a heavy bombardment.

Minor German Successes. The Germans also report the taking of a projecting portion of a French position near the foresters' house of Lorraine, northwest of Badonviller. The French say in reference to this action that in Lorraine the enemy succeeded in penetrating several small sections of his advanced trenches, but he was driven out of these positions almost immediately. The Germans made no further attacks

WAR SUMMARY

Today's Events Reviewed

ALL that was left of the German infantry that swarmed up the slopes of the ridges and hills held by the French, without the French losing, but rather gaining ground since Saturday last, began to entrench where they stood yesterday, and thereby admitted defeat. The French last night reported some diminution in the storm of shells sent from the German batteries, and the absence of German infantry attacks thruout the day. But the Germans, loath to admit defeat, had stubbornly hurled waves of men against salient German infantry attacks thruout the day. And the absence of salient German infantry attacks thruout the day. And the absence of salient German infantry attacks thruout the day.

In the opposing lines in local attacks thruout the preceding night. In order to stop the onrush of the Germans, the French probably inflicted casualties of forty or fifty per cent. of the attacking force of 350,000 men. The remnants of the German brigades and divisions engaged in the conflict will, therefore, have to be withdrawn from the fighting lines in order that the gaps in their ranks may be filled up by fresh drafts. It is pretty certain that these units will be out of action for two or three months, and that new troops will have to be found and employed for any fresh adventures which the kaiser may rashly undertake.

The French, it is now known, suffered comparatively few casualties till their infantry clashed with the Germans in a counter-attack to regain the position of Douaumont on Saturday. They had cleverly withdrawn their infantry from the positions which the Germans had begun to bombard a week ago Sunday, and the Germans did not discover that their birds had flown to a position which gave them nearly a mile's clear sweep for their fire, till they sent their infantry forward to the assault. When the bewildered Germans appeared in the open they were smitten as with the Black Death by the intense volume of fire which was poured from the readjusted French lines. Thence, southward, every foot of the ground was contested by an elusive force, which kept the Germans guessing all the time, and which exacted its toll of lives by rifle and machine gun bullet, while shrapnel completed the confusion of the German troops. By throwing reinforcements into the fighting lines and using up their reserves, which the French wanted them to do, German commanders thought that all was won when their troops swept into Douaumont. They committed the blunder of publishing in their official communique that

REFLECTION ON TORONTO IS RESENTED BY MAYOR

Hon. Frank Oliver Greatly Overstated Number of Vacant Houses.

"Absolutely untrue," was the comment made by Mayor Church last night on Hon. Frank Oliver's assertion in the house of commons that there are 9000 vacant houses in Toronto.

The mayor pointed out that the latest assessment rolls show only 2501 unoccupied houses, and declared that the percentage was less than four per cent., one of the lowest in America.

When war began there were but 1000 vacant houses, and the increase was due, he said, to families of soldiers taking flats.

Official War Statements

British

The British official communication dealing with the fighting along the British lines on the continent, made public last night, says: "Today our artillery bombarded enemy trenches about Ouvillers, Authuille and Fromelles. There has been considerable artillery activity by both sides about 3 p.m."

Russian

The following official communication from Russian general headquarters was issued yesterday: (Russian) front: In the Dvinsk region, near the village of Garbonovka and north of the Fomel'skaya River, our troops drove back the Germans and made a slight advance.

French

The French war office reported yesterday afternoon as follows: "To the north of Verdun the bombardment has continued with increased intensity. In the sector to the east of the Meuse last night there was a resumption of the previous violent local attacks, particularly in the vicinity of the village of Douaumont, where the fighting came to hand-to-hand encounters, resulting in the driving back of the enemy by our troops."

Fighting at Manheulles. "In the Woivre district the Germans were successful in their intention of capturing the village of Manheulles. An immediate counter-attack on our part brought us back to the western boundary of this village, which we now hold under our fire."

Italian

The following Italian official communication was issued at Rome today: "In the Laguarda zone, northward of Col Falzarego, the enemy during the night of the 27th opened an intense artillery and rifle fire against our position. He was reduced to silence, however. We fired effectively, using one of our batteries in the heights northwest of Gornizza, our artillery during the night of the 27th successfully bombarded enemy detachments, which fell back to their first line."

WAR SUMMARY: Today's Events Reviewed

Their advance was being made under the eyes of the kaiser, thereby revealing to Germany and the rest of the world, that this was their great spring offensive, for the kaiser is too much of a stage manager to permit his name to be used with merely local offensives.

French opinion is that, having once committed themselves to a spring offensive against the allies in the west, it is too late for the Germans to remain in their present position, but must fight on in a region created difficult for operations by nature, and with bad weather, making their communications precarious.

But there is one thing that the Germans did not calculate on, and that was that the British and French were quite ready to give them a suitable reception. The allied intelligence service is first-class, and the allied censorship is proficient. The Germans seem to have been completely deceived into the belief that the allies did not know anything of their plans.

Three German aeroplanes, which became flighty, and essayed scouting expeditions over the British lines, were brought down yesterday, one by Flight-Lieut. Simms, above the Belgian lines, his fire causing the machine to burst into flames, and the other two south of Merville, and in the vicinity of La Bassée, apparently by British anti-aircraft guns, for one of them turned turtle in the air and fell wrapped in flames in the German lines. One of the machines was of the Albatross type. A German captive balloon also broke loose and drifted northward at a great height.

The Russian war office yesterday issued a statement denying Turkish assertions which had the object of minimizing the success of the Russians at Erzerum. Contrary to what the Turks and Germans said about Erzerum being not a fortress, but really an open town, with fortifications devoid of any value, and that the Turks had evacuated it without any loss, the Russian general staff says that Erzerum was the only fortified point in the interior of Asia Minor, protecting western Armenia and the interior of Asia Minor, and that for many years great improvements had been carried out in the works by the Turks with the assistance of the Germans. It was stubbornly defended by nature, and with bad weather, making their communications precarious.

The Russian report of the fighting with the Germans tells of driving them back and making a slight advance in the Dvinsk region, and the defeat of a German attack in serried ranks on the front between Lakes Illsen and Medoues.

This is the day on which the Germans promised to begin their new submarine campaign. It is supposed to ally have some long-distance submarines, which they will send out upon the high seas at a great distance from Britain's shores in an endeavor to pick off merchantmen. Britain's reliance, as in the past, will be on her navy, the one and sure defence.

The great activity reported as obtaining on the Russian front among the Germans, who are being marched about at a great rate, may be taken as an attempt to hide their failure before Verdun by suggesting that the attack on Verdun was merely a diversion. If they do not succeed any better in further offensives in the west, the Germans may turn their legions eastward and attempt something against Russia in a couple of months, or they may even undertake some local offensive in a day or so, or a week or so.

The loss of the great French liner La Provence, which has been used as a naval auxiliary in the Mediterranean, appears to have exacted a considerable toll of lives. She was probably used as a transport for soldiers, and this accounts for the numbers of men saved or drowned.

COLD WEATHER STOPS OPERATIONS ON CHURCH

Members of St. Michael's Society, Earlscourt, in Commendable Work. Owing to the cold weather work on the new Anglican church of St. Michael's and All Angels, St. Clair avenue, Wychwood, has been suspended. Work had been made with the erection of the edifice prior to the setting in of the winter weather, the same being well above the first storey.

Great activity is being displayed by the members of the St. Michael's branch of the Patriotic and Red Cross organization, which meet every alternate Thursday in the basement hall of the church for the purpose of knitting socks and preparing field caps for the front.

To date, according to the statement of Rev. W. J. Brian, pastor of the church, 235 men of the congregation have enlisted, depleting the music church membership of almost every available man. Of this number seven have been killed, six are prisoners of war in German prison camps, and a number have been wounded and invalided home.

JAMES BURROWS OF MARKHAM IS DEAD

Submitted to Attack of Heart Failure at His Home Yesterday.

The death of James Burrows of "Ridgeway farm," a prominent farmer living about three miles from Markham yesterday afternoon, was stated yesterday after a brief illness. Mr. Burrows, while indisposed on Sunday, was much improved yesterday morning. He had no ailment, but stated his intention of driving to Brougham. Shortly after the noon hour he complained of feeling ill and collapsed while walking across the farm. Medical aid was summoned, but Mr. Burrows died before the doctor arrived.

SCARBORO IN FAVOR OF MUNICIPAL CEMETERY

At a public meeting convened by Reeve Cornell of Scarborough in the Village of Woburn yesterday afternoon, a resolution was adopted recommending the purchase of a public-owned and controlled municipal cemetery was adopted. The resolve made it the duty of the council to acquire the land for a cemetery in the village of Woburn.

HALF-HOLIDAY IN WEST END EVERY WEDNESDAY

A petition has been signed by all the business men of ward seven, excluding drug stores, to have the day set aside as a half-holiday every Wednesday afternoon and evening during the year. The petition was presented to the council of the city of Toronto yesterday.

MUNICIPAL TELEPHONE SYSTEM IS GROWING

A striking example of the growth of the municipal telephone system in the city of Toronto is shown by the statement of the Scarborough Independent Telephone Company, organized in 1905. The company has now 200 lines, and the number of calls is increasing rapidly.

NICKEL TRUST AGAIN UNDER VIGOROUS FIRE

W. F. Maclean and Hon. Frank Oliver Not Reassured by Statements.

HOME REFINING URGED

Company's Pledge to Build Plant in Canada Not Definite Enough.

In a position to say that every grain of nickel leaving the Port of New York went direct to Britain and her allies. He said that the government could not forbid the export of nickel to the U. S. because nickel had to be used by American manufacturers in making munitions for the allies.

W. F. Maclean (South York) said officials might get track of the nickel shipped directly by the International Nickel Co. to Europe, but they could not keep track of all the nickel sold for consumption in the United States. They could not possibly know how much nickel would be sent out by German sympathizers to the enemy in various ways through the many ports of the United States outside of New York.

It might be necessary to send nickel to the United States at present for the manufacture of war munitions, but in the meantime a national policy should be adopted which would require all the nickel to be refined in Canada.

He did not doubt the good faith of the British or Canadian officials, but the Germans had humbugged a good many people. There was not a scientist in the British Government. Parliament had no faith in the International Nickel Co. or its officials. That company had humbugged the Province of Ontario out of the taxes due that province, and through some mysterious influence it prevented action by either the federal or provincial governments to compel the refining of nickel in Canada.

To Relieve Grain Blockade

Hon. J. D. Reid, acting minister of railways, introduced a bill to amend the Railway Act, and through some mysterious influence it prevented action by either the federal or provincial governments to compel the refining of nickel in Canada.

Oliver's Deep Gloom

Hon. Frank Oliver, resuming the debate, drew a rather dreary picture of financial conditions in Canada. He said there were nine thousand and vacant houses in Toronto and business blocks without tenants. In Ottawa there had never been any closing-out sales advertised by merchants. The country, he said, was not enjoying the greatest prosperity. Heretofore every year had greatly helped business. Canada had good times during the war of 1914-15. The American Civil War was used to mean good times and the people of Ontario had been jocularly accused of being "a bountiful crop and a bloody war."

"We certainly had a bumper crop last year," Mr. Oliver continued, "and the British navy has done pretty well in keeping out scrap nickel, but not so well as we have done in keeping the Sudbury nickel out of Germany." (Applause.)

Few Allies Held Stock

Referring to the charge that Germans controlled the International Nickel Company, Mr. Maclean said that the company was controlled by British and American shareholders. He said that the company had 4698 shares, of which 4698 were held by British and American shareholders. He said that the company had 4698 shares, of which 4698 were held by British and American shareholders.

passed by a majority of two to one. There never has been any question of the administration control on the senate side.

Adoption of the pending resolutions practically would amount to congressional repudiation of the policy announced and contended for by President Wilson and Secretary Lansing all thru the submarine negotiations. With their defeat and an affirmation by a majority of congress of their confidence in the president's course, Mr. Wilson's supporters point out that he will be enabled to continue to contend for the principles of international law and humanity with a united government behind him and with the same force as he did before a minority in congress weakened his position more than all the arguments of the foreign diplomats with whom he had to contend.

Goaded by Germany. It is known that among the elements leading to the president's action were repeated detentions of German ships, his unyielding attitude expressed in inspired statements from Berlin by the highest officials of the German government, and the fact that even approached intimations of bad faith on the president's part, because the U. S. would not accept the view that the Louisiana guarantee applied only to ships carrying no armament whatever. It is considered probable that action by both houses may be taken Thursday.

"Bliss Stick." Nor was the company's reply satisfactory. It was, in effect, a promise that at some indefinite time in the future the company would refine in Canada enough nickel to meet the needs of the British Empire.

Mr. Maclean said the prime minister had moved in the right direction when he sent a letter to the president of the American Nickel Company, urging the company to refine nickel in Canada. He ventured to think, however, that it would have been better for the prime minister to address the company, not by letter, but by legislation.

NEWS FROM THE CITY HALL

CONTROLLERS FAVOR NEW TREASURY POLICY. Endorse Mayor's Suggestion That Commissioner Should Head Department.

DEPUTATIONS HEARD. Numerous Requests Made and Dealt With at Yesterday's Meeting.

Mayor Church's resolution calling for the appointment of a first-class financial man to handle the city's bond and debenture business, as well as more or less reorganization in the treasury department, was considered at the board of control meeting yesterday.

A letter from T. Bradshaw stated that he would not accept the position, and postponement was made in order that the controllers may consider nominations.

It being deputation day, a number of requests were made, the largest deputation consisting of Lake Shore road representatives, who asked that their interests be guarded in respect to the proposed diversion of the Toronto-Hamilton highway.

J. A. Harris, of the Long Branch Ratepayers' Association, said the Queen street course would be a serious mistake, and in addition it was desired that the work in the morning should be done at this end of the line.

After Pte. Purchase, recently of the Sewer Pipe Contracts, J. R. L. Starr, K.C., appeared again on behalf of a Hamilton concern which tendered on the city's sewer pipe supply contract.

At this Mr. Phelan suggested that Commissioner Harris was trying to avoid an investigation, and thought that no one had a better right to know the facts than the people who pay.

Commissioner Harris: Mr. Phelan tried to put me in the position of not investigating an investigation. It is absolutely unfair and untrue.

Mr. Phelan: "Because we were told that the original figures allowed ample margin and that the cost would be less than the estimated figures, to which they did not object."

fire department, had appealed to the board that he be treated as other firemen who have enlisted, and after he had gained the sympathy of the members, Chief Smith was called in to consultation.

Mr. Phelan said that the cost of the deputation, waited on the court of revision yesterday to object to the confirmation of the assessment in connection with the East Toronto sewage system.

WILL SAVE ON STREET LIGHTING THIS YEAR. Hydro Rates Will Be No Lower for the Present.

On motion of Ald. Hiltz the subcommittee on street lighting yesterday decided that it would not recommend the expense of any money to improve the street lighting of the city.

General Manager H. H. Couzens of the Toronto Hydro-Electric System reported the advertisements of the Toronto Electric Light Company in regard to the cost of street lighting as most unfair and misleading.

MUNITION MAN WANTS FIRE DEPARTMENT JOB. W. G. Weber is Applicant for Vacant Secretaryship.

W. G. Weber, a munitions inspector living at 33 1-2 Maclean avenue, has been proposed for the position of secretary to the fire department, vacated by the resignation of Alexander McCulloch.

Mr. Ardagh suggested an adjournment until Friday, but Mr. Phelan wanted ten days, declaring that it was the intention to examine the books and everything.

Mr. Phelan: "I may appeal against your decision and you can't hurry me." Chairman Drayton: I should hesitate very much to hold up work of this kind for a single ratepayer.

Mr. Phelan: "That is the situation, and I am going to see that ample time is given." People Had to Pay. Mr. Phelan suggested that Commissioner Harris was trying to avoid an investigation, and thought that no one had a better right to know the facts than the people who pay.

Commissioner Harris: Mr. Phelan tried to put me in the position of not investigating an investigation. It is absolutely unfair and untrue.

RATEPAYERS DECLARE COST IS EXORBITANT

East Toronto Deputation Object to Confirmation of Sewage System Assessment. BEFORE REVISION COURT

Commissioner Harris Instructed to Collect Information for Next Hearing.

T. N. Phelan, at the head of a large deputation, waited on the court of revision yesterday to object to the confirmation of the assessment in connection with the East Toronto sewage system.

The figures, as given by Commissioner Harris, are as follows: Estimated cost, $672,792; actual cost, $888,997; estimated ratepayers' share, $408,277; actual ratepayers' share, $284,515; actual city share, $224,482.

Mr. Phelan said that some remarkable discrepancies had been found. "I am told that the figures have been reduced by some $27,000 already," he stated, "and that leads us to believe that we can get some hundreds of thousands more taken off."

Wanted Retainers Present. Mr. Fairly of the city solicitor's office suggested that Mr. Phelan have his retainer present, inasmuch as the cost of the levying of the assessment was delayed for a year, $41,000 interest would be added to the cost of the work.

Mr. Phelan thought the deputation that accompanied him was sufficient to allow the assessment to be confirmed. "I am going to hold back for one or two individuals," he said.

The court wanted to give a week in which to gather information, but Mr. Phelan declared that it would take more than a week.

Chairman Drayton: I want you to know that if this is delayed it will mean another $41,000. How many people does this affect? Mr. Fairly: About 1500.

Mr. Phelan: It becomes my learned friend to try and force this thing thru. Mr. Fairly: The officials are ready to justify this work, and I have a statement of the content of an report to be examined, and I don't see why the people represented here should have to pay an extra $41,000.

Mr. Phelan: If my learned friend is ready, let him make the statement. At this Mr. Fairly produced a statement showing the cost of the work, but it did not contain the details required by Mr. Phelan, and he would have none of it, insisting that his clients were entitled to full details as to who the contractors were and how much they were paid for each section of the work.

Commissioner Harris contended that the statement was in accordance with the act and gave all the information required, and Mr. Fairly declared that it was the only kind of statement that had ever been submitted to the court of revision.

DISCUSS ESTIMATES OF PARK COMMISSIONER

Controller Thompson Opposes Capital Expenditures This Year.

A special meeting of the civic parks committee was held yesterday to consider the annual estimates of Parks Commissioner Chambers, and the total estimated expenditure for the year of $50,824 was reduced by $24,067.

Commissioner Chambers pointed out the necessity for keeping up the parks, and the fact that the parks are the only thing that the people of Ward One had to put up with.

Alderman Hiltz objected to the item of $67,740 for the filling in of the Catfish Pond, declaring that the people of Ward One had to put up with the smell, while Alderman Macdonald declared that he didn't intend to allow the assessment to be confirmed.

Belgian Relief. The Belgian relief committee, 94 Bay street, Mrs. Arthur Pepler, convenor, report subscriptions for the week as $88,797.

ON CHARGE OF THEFT. Arthur Bentley, alias McRoberts, address unknown, was arrested yesterday by a patrolman on suspicion of being on the charge of stealing a watch belonging to Lila Clark, a teacher at Earl Grey School.

ACID STOMACHS ARE DANGEROUS. Nine-Tenths of All Stomach Trouble Said to Be Due to Acidity.

A Physician's Advice on Cause and Cure. A famous physician whose successful researches into the cause and cure of stomach and intestinal diseases have earned for him an international reputation, said in the course of a recent lecture that nearly all intestinal troubles, as well as many diseases of the vital organs, were directly traceable to a diseased condition of the stomach which ranged from acidity to heartburn.

Mr. Phelan: "I am going to see that ample time is given." People Had to Pay. Mr. Phelan suggested that Commissioner Harris was trying to avoid an investigation, and thought that no one had a better right to know the facts than the people who pay.

Commissioner Harris: Mr. Phelan tried to put me in the position of not investigating an investigation. It is absolutely unfair and untrue.

DRAINAGE TAXES REDUCED BY COURT

Residents of Silver Birch Avenue Won Protest at City Hall.

Complaints regarding charges in connection with sewage service in East Toronto were heard at a special meeting of the court of revision at the city hall yesterday.

A number of residents on Silver Birch avenue stated that the drain on Scarborough road was not deep enough. Arthur Knowlton, whose house is built on a low lying piece of ground, said that he got no benefit from the sewer, as he would have to drain up hill to get drainage for his cellar.

Commissioner Harris: We are giving sanitary drainage and we cannot possibly drain the cellars owing to location. Those complaining admitted that the sewer was some use to them, with the exception of Mr. Knowlton, who got no benefit, and the charge of 60.73 cents per foot was struck out in his case, and the others will pay only two-thirds.

BRITISH JUSTICE DEMANDS

Vote for Men Now Fighting for the Empire-- If Prohibition is to be Submitted to the Ontario Electorate

THE speech from the throne announces that legislation will be submitted relating to the prohibition of the sale of liquor within the Province, and for the submission of the same to the electors.

It is to be presumed that the question will not be put to the electors while the soldiers are away. Such a course would be inconsistent with the fundamental principle of British representative government, which is that all the electors shall have the right to cast the ballot.

FAIR PLAY FOR THE SOLDIERS

It is obvious, therefore, that any referendum taken under these circumstances would not be a fair index of the opinion of the electorate; that no representative vote can be taken unless the Ballot is Carried Into Belgium, France, England, Bermuda, the Balkans, and Wherever an Ontario Voter is Fighting for the Liberty of the Empire.

Surely the people of Ontario owe something to those who have responded to the call and are freely risking their lives for King and Country. It is not to be believed that the electors of Ontario would wish that those who are helping to win the war should lose the rights of freemen enjoyed by those who remain at home.

There is no need for undue haste; and a measure which, compared with the war, is of very minor importance certainly can wait until our men in the trenches have returned. We feel confident that this is the view the Government will take.

Dr. Jerry Laflamme had a new record this season. Jerry started out the season with a likely looking attack well-timed and well-placed. He was in the night with the same stick. This was the first time in Dr. Laflamme's hockey career that one stick has lasted him a whole season. Jerry is going to be up in the dark and light blue ribbons and hang it in his dental office.

Riversides left for Kingston last night. The first game of the senior O.H.A. semi-finals will be played in the Lionsville City tonight, with the Promentones, and the return game here Friday.

Torontos play Canadiens in Montreal tonight. A win for the locals will put the Frenchmen out of first place.

How Capt. Richardson Met Death in France

From a budget of letters received in Kingston, written in France subsequent to the death of Captain George Richardson, son of the Kingston hockey player, who died at a short time ago, we have the story of the heroic death of Captain Richardson. It appears that he was in charge of a party which was detailed to make an attack on the enemy trenches at dawn. In preparation for the attack it was necessary that certain entanglements of the enemy should be removed by explosives. These had to be placed by Captain Richardson, who had blown his whistle for the return of his men, all of whom had returned, with the exception of two. He ascertained if anything had befallen these men, Captain Richardson, who was in the parapet, and in the face of a vigorous machine-gun fire from the enemy trenches, went to search for them. He was twice wounded, once thru the body, again thru the stomach, a further bullet passing thru both hips. When he was wounded he endeavored to get back to his trench, and while he was doing so he was able to get close enough to the parapet to be rescued by his men.

OSLER RECREATION CENTRE. The point competition at the centre is proving very popular with the boys, each led in his respective class trying hard for honors. Following are the eight leading boys in the juvenile and junior section to date.

Under the auspices of the Wychwood Carpentel League two games were played last evening in Aitona Hall, Wychwood. Capt. O. Dunford leading the winning team. The results were as follows:

SCORE'S HAND-PICKED NECKWEAR. Don't imagine for a moment that there is not a great difference in neckwear, the same as in anything else. We only pick the very choicest materials, with a combined blending colors, which makes our neckwear just different. Special range at 50c and 60c.

Toronto School Team Had Good Alibi For Defeat at Ottawa

Ottawa papers admit that the Toronto school team had a good alibi for the 19 to 10 defeat there last Saturday. About 2500 saw the game. In scoring such a decisive win, says The Free Press, it is only fair to the visiting school boys to say they were snowed up outside of town, Saturday, and instead of reaching Ottawa early in the morning, did not get in till three in the afternoon. The party had nothing to eat since six o'clock the previous night, and a boy's stomach separated that length of time from a square meal is the next thing to a Mexican rebellion. The Toronto students also forsook their own rules, viz: seven men O.H.A. style—and played under the six-men Ottawa school code. They had eight boys on the square, while the Ottawa team used thirteen at various times. The only stipulation, however, was no Ottawa players once replaced on the ice, and the Toronto players, however, were allowed to rest men up and go back again.

MATTY'S "SOUPER" IS STANDING UP NICELY

Old Boy Shows the Recruits How to Burn Them Over at Macon.

MARLIN, Texas, Feb. 29.—Christy Mathewson sprang a startling surprise today when he demonstrated that his pitching arm still has its old-time power.

The weather was very hot, the thermometer having climbed up to 80 during the morning period of practice. Matty, appreciating that conditions could not be more favorable, cut loose and tried out his famous "wings," decaying to a chance even if it was the first day.

When limbered up Matty shot the ball in with a remarkable exhibition of speed. He followed this by using several fade-aways and outcurves. Manager McGraw was no less amazed than the others who gazed at the veteran. It was concluded by managers McGraw soon called a halt on his one best pitching out.

It did not seem as if Matty's arm will be all right. It did not seem as if Matty's arm will be all right. It did not seem as if Matty's arm will be all right.

Joe Wright as Amateur Ball Player Shone Like in Rowing, Rugby, Boxing

Joe Wright, the hon. coach of the University of Pennsylvania Boat Club, is receiving plenty of attention these days.

The reporters turn out columns about Joe as an oarsman, and also refer to him as a former boxing champion and Rugby player, but never a word about his career in the amateur baseball ranks.

Joseph Wright played baseball with John Gurnea, the late Billy Crofoot, W. O. Galloway, the late Dr. Scott, and the late Dr. Galloway.

Wright's best playing manager was the late Dr. Galloway, who was a member of the Clippers of Hamilton, when the American club Canadian League, Toronto and London, was the best.
