FOUR THOUSAND LIBERALS AT MASSEY HALL CONVENTION

PREMIER ROSS PRAISED WITH ENTHUSIASM PREFERS TO BE THE PEOPLE WHO CHEER HIM

Delegates to Convention,
With no Uncertain Sound,
Express Their Utmost
Confidence in Him and His Government.

ADMITS TEMPERANCE PROMISE
BUT ASKS VOTERS TO LEAD HIM

Finds Pleasure in Electoral Purity Resolution, Declines to Resign and Asks That His Majority May Be Increased.

The Provincial Liberal Convention began yesterday in Massey Hall at 10 a.m. Three sessions were held. It resumes this morning at 10 o'clock. There are 4000 delegates present. Great enthusiasm prevails. The great session for today is the handling of the temperance question. The features yesterday were the purity professions and Premier Ross' speeches.

The evening session adopted resolutions dealing with the conservation of timber in pulp limits, the full extension of the Temiskaming and Hudson Bay; the preservation of municipal rights in cases where companies refused provincial charters; the creation of an electoral board for the protection of the party, and the approval of the government's attitude towards labor and the consolidation of the labor departments. A motion dealing with radical railways and the distribution of electricity was referred back.

President's Great Chance.
A resolution declaring implicit confidence in the Ross government was made the occasion of a magnificent ovation to the premier. Ross declared himself delighted with the practical character of the resolutions adopted, and especially with that on the subject of electoral purity. He said that the Conservatives would be glad to see a similar one. He dwelt on the policy of opening up Northern Ontario and Hudson Bay with its resources.

Education Disapproved.
The resolution approving the educational policy of the government was met with an emphatic protest, led by W. Spence, who desired greater simplicity in school methods. Hon. R. Harcourt spoke in defence. N. W. Rowell's purity motion was the feature of the afternoon. He spoke with deep earnestness, and was followed by Capt. Hunter, whose coup in adding a hammering rider, driving home all the nails, made it his reputation. He was seconded by Ross, Fred T. Tapscott and J. Macdonald, who clinched the points. H. J. Patullo moved a resolution on the railway taxation policy he is identified with.

RESUMES AT 10 A.M. TO-DAY.

The Provincial Liberal Convention began yesterday in Massey Hall at 10 a.m. Three sessions were held. It resumes this morning at 10 o'clock. There are 4000 delegates present. Great enthusiasm prevails. The great session for today is the handling of the temperance question. The features yesterday were the purity professions and Premier Ross' speeches.

What the Convention Did Things That Stand Clear

The Liberal convention yesterday was attended by very few if any short of 4000 delegates, and the most slavish parliament could not help recognizing the deep earnestness and abounding enthusiasm which characterized all the sessions.

There was clearly an attempt in the morning to engineer the construction of a piece of machinery, the provincial Liberal convention yesterday performed the work for which it was called, whatever that machinery may be. The evening meeting was in no hurry to commence. The premier appeared punctually, but 15 or 20 minutes passed before business was resumed.

Develop New Ontario.
A. E. Dymont, M.P., introduced a resolution approving the development of new and northern Ontario, and the extension of the Temiskaming Railway up to Hudson Bay. It is approved by the construction of the railway by commission and its extension to the intersection of the Hudson Bay and the Ontario coast. The object of connecting the Hudson Bay with the centres of population, Ontario depends on the increase of these new districts for the assistance of her manufacturers. He thought there should be government service to look after colonization roads, town sites, water powers and other natural resources.

Crowns Lands Also.
C. N. Smith of Sault Ste. Marie and G. C. Cameron, M.L.A., introduced a resolution dealing with crown lands, timber and minerals. The resolution should be allowed to have all the timber and other resources of the land they occupied. The right of the government to dispose of crown lands should be granted at once, and sufficient provision for guiding and controlling the completion of the patent every resource without any reservation of pine or minerals should be granted.

Obtain from the Provincial Legislative Incorporation.
GOVERNMENT SHOULD OBTAIN FROM THE PROVINCIAL LEGISLATIVE INCORPORATION, GOVERNMENT SHOULD OBTAIN FROM THE PROVINCIAL LEGISLATIVE INCORPORATION, GOVERNMENT SHOULD OBTAIN FROM THE PROVINCIAL LEGISLATIVE INCORPORATION.

Holmes' Great Faith.
The next resolution, introduced by Mr. Holmes of Clinton, bespoke implicit confidence in the government of Hon. G. W. Ross during the past five years. The convention would regret any change in the government, and would support the government to the province. The adoption of this motion was the signal for a quite remarkable outburst of enthusiasm. The hearing that followed was of the heartiest character, and the demonstration for the premier that accorded to Mr. Wilfrid Laurier on a recent occasion. Again and again the cheering rose to a pitch, and when silence seemed to approach, new outbursts arose in different parts of the building. The right of the convention to be a party to the province, and to be a party to the province, and to be a party to the province.

Claims Vigor.
The enemy had considered them down, scathed and subdued, but they were still as vigorous and virile as ever. There was no weakening of character or conscience among them. He was more than delighted with the resolutions adopted. He was especially pleased with the declarations made that afternoon on behalf of political morality. He hoped his brethren when they met next day would be a similar resolution, and take it as much to heart as he believed the Liberals would.

Prize for Others.
He had served the great Sir Oliver Mowat and the generous Arthur Hardy.

"RESTORED"

Cap. (president): Well, then these convention artists is certainly wonders. Why, say, you'd hardly know he'd ever been drunk.

NOTHING DEFINITE DONE ON TEMPERANCE QUESTION

The delegates to the Conservative conference, called by Mr. Whitney, leader of the opposition, began arriving yesterday afternoon, and last evening the hotel corridors were well filled with prominent representatives from almost every electoral district. This morning the crowd will be swelled by the arrivals from nearby points, and Association Hall will be taxed to its fullest capacity.

The executive of the Central Association will meet this morning at 10 o'clock, and the conference will begin at 2 o'clock. The feeling among the delegates appeared to be that the meeting would be a purely business session, and questions of policy would only be discussed inferentially. The party is solid and united; with the assurance that its leaders represent the majority of the electors of the province and are entirely agreed upon principles which are already being endorsed by the electorate.

The Hamilton delegation will arrive in a special train this afternoon several hundred strong. Over fifty will come in this morning from Ottawa, including, in addition to the local members, Thos. Birkett, Ald. Champagne and W. D. Hogg, K.C. Among the early arrivals yesterday was "Judge" James W. Hanna of Windsor, late Conservative candidate in North Essex, who came down with Dr. J. O. Reame, M.L.A., and a coterie of Conservatives.

SIR PERCY AT WATERTOWN SEEKS BOGUS BALLOT BOX

Stops at Best Hotel in the City and Has Police Ready to Help Him.

Waterloo, N.Y., Nov. 23.—(Special.)—This city has been stirred since the announcement of the bogus election box scheme that has been worked in the Province of Ontario, wherein it is stated that trick ballot boxes, manufactured in Watertown for a consideration of $50,000, have been used in the recent election for the federal house in Canada.

Up until 11 o'clock to-night every cabinet maker and every tinsmith in this city deny any connection whatever with the manufacture of the bogus boxes. There is, however, no doubt that the manufacturer lives in this city.

In confirmation of this theory, Col. Sir Percy Sherwood of Ottawa, chief of the Dominion police, is stopping at the Woodruff House, the leading hotel here, investigating the matter. The local police believe that they have had no request for the arrest of any person in connection with the alleged crime.

Col. Sherwood in conversation with The World practically admitted that he was at work on the case in the interest of the Dominion government. He refused to divulge what results he had obtained, though he admits he has made a tour of the furniture shops and tinsmiths.

Public sentiment here is unanimous that the perpetrators of the crime should be punished, and the local authorities are doing everything in their power to assist the Canadian officer.

HATCHED IN BUFFALO

Buffalo, Nov. 23.—(Special.)—It is said here in Canadian circles that the bogus ballot boxes that have figured in West Virginia and Ontario had their beginning in the brains of certain men who frequent the saloon known as McArthur's. One of these men, who is known as "The Boss" or, in this city, "New from Buffalo" who figured at the election of the bogus ballot boxes, and these same men, in close touch with the Liberal machine, suggested the great possibilities of bogus ballot boxes, and the result was that in Watertown, N.Y., was engaged to make the boxes, and he did. They, the boxes, reached Ontario.

NORTH SIMCOE RECOUNT

Barris, Nov. 23.—(Special.)—Argument in the North Simcoe recount was almost finished at 6 o'clock to-night, and the judge's decision will be published to-morrow morning at 9. The matter has simmered down to a question of five or six votes all over the county. The decision is given on numbered ballots and ballots with counter exhibits. McCarthy makes a similar claim. To-morrow will tell.

DOWN WITH THE MACHINES "RESOLVED" BY LIBERALS

Purity Resolution Brings Rev. Mr. Tapscott to His Feet to Denounce Men Who Worked in the Soo.

The feature of yesterday afternoon's session of the Liberal convention in Massey Hall came after a condemnation of the members of the Liberal machine who were at that time chatting and smoking in the basement of the hall, away from the scrutiny and the voices of the denouncing delegates. The blow came in a purity resolution moved by N. W. Rowell, K.C., and received added force from a rider tacked on by Capt. Hunter, whose sarcastic invective gave wings to his numerous ideas. It remained for Rev. Fred T. Tapscott of Sault Ste. Marie to make the concrete application and he did so by naming Vance and Sutherland as the names of the men the government should keep out of election contests. He pointed his tale with his personal experience with these men in the Soo, and the delegates cheered.

Party for Rowell.
N. W. Rowell, K.C., then introduced a purity resolution couched in vigorous terms and rephrasing and condemning the most unqualified way every form of bribery and all fraudulent schemes to defeat the wishes of the electorate as contrary to the spirit and traditions of Liberalism. Election trials should be conducted and punished, no consideration, political or otherwise, to be permitted to interfere with the sanctity of the ballot. In moving the resolution, Mr. Rowell declared this was not a new policy on the part of the Liberal party for the people, and the whole genius and spirit of Liberalism was that the voice of the people should be heard uncorrupted. In some respects he contended it had a new application. They had denounced the crimes of their opponents. He saw with regret that there had been a relaxation of the past few years, and he declared that the application of some of that denunciation to themselves. If it was not the honest and sincere intention of Liberals to stamp out everything of that kind, it would be better not to have the resolution. They spoke of West Elgin. It was said that the corruption of the Conservatives made a by-election necessary there. That was no answer at all. If their opponents were corrupt, the center was all responsibility resting upon them to maintain a high moral standard in the discussion of the resolution. The saw-off system, and the method by which at election trials after the conviction of one party by a by-election was closed. He recommended the English custom, by which the public prosecutor pursued the case to the end. Any default had to be furnished by both parties before the withdrawal of an election case, declaring that no consent was involved.

J. M. Mowat, Kingston, seconded the party was pure at the source, whatever had occurred.

Hunter's Hit.
Capt. A. T. Hunter addressed his unready friend, the Liberal convention. He wished to test its honesty. It was all very well to repudiate corruption. That was a program of defiance of no one in particular. He wished to stop corruption in the beginning. He would

PURITY PROFESSIONS.
Purity resolution moved by N. W. Rowell, K.C., Toronto: "That this convention, representing the Liberal party of the Province of Ontario, repudiates and condemns in the most unqualified terms, every form of bribery and all fraudulent schemes to defeat the wishes of the electorate, and all fraudulent schemes to defeat the honest purposes of the electorate, as being a violation of the fundamental principles of responsible government and contrary to the spirit and traditions of the Liberal party. It is resolved that this convention will also call upon the Liberal members of parliament to devise the most ample means whereby election trials shall be continued until every offender is duly convicted and punished, and that no political or other considerations be permitted to stand in the way of the fullest vindication of the sanctity of the ballot and the protection of public morals."
Rider moved by Capt. Hunter: "That any candidate bearing the Liberal name should be a member of a responsible organization of reputable men residing or having business connections in his own riding, and that it is an active duty of every Liberal candidate to see that no person who is morally or financially connected with any party or organization known to be engaged in bribery or corrupt practices is included in his electoral organization, or brought into political contact with his constituents."
(Cheers.)

move as a rider to the resolution, and if they were in earnest some one would object to it. He declared that every Liberal candidate should be required to complete his organization with reputable men, chosen from his own riding, and that no person should be included in his organization, or brought into contact with his constituents.

He asked for a seconder, and cries of "We'll all second that" arose. It was the duty of the party, he said, to train workers in each riding. If they could give place to those who would come from their own ridings, and who would take possession of them that organization was a mystery, like the practice of law. They sent to Toronto and elsewhere.

Delegates to Conservative Convention Favor the Matter

Met But Decide Not to Press Mr. Whitney.

The Conservative delegates to the party conference who advanced temporary legislation held a meeting in the People's Cafe last night, but came to no definite result. The resolutions were made by John Brown, J. A. Austin, W. J. Connors, Emerson Costoworth and F. M. Humble, who generally agreed that the party should not press the matter, but that it should be left to the party to decide on the subject. The resolutions were made by John Brown, J. A. Austin, W. J. Liberal Convention in Massey Hall. IN THE MORNING.

4000 LIBERALS CONVENTION FOR BIG DEMONSTRATION

Temper of the Meeting in Massey Hall Yesterday Morning Was Clearly Against Any Attempt to Load Up the Nominating Committee According to the Wishes of Senator Kerr.

FOR LIBERALISM. "It was thought that it was fitting that I, as leader of the Liberal party, now and with your permission for some time to come should say something of welcome to those who have attended this convention at this time, and in the presence of these cases, personal inconvenience, I hope that this convention will be in harmony with the traditions of the Liberal party. We have called you to our council, not to follow our leadership, but to consider with us what is best to be done, to consider as Canadians and patriots what must be done, to our flag may not be lowered. Our opponents say that it is time for a change. This doesn't look like a change." Premier Ross to the morning convention.

There were no picturesque features about the opening scene of the great Liberal convention in Massey Hall yesterday morning. The delegates with their red badges began to gather early, but it was long after 10 before the floor of the hall, the first gallery and the stage were filled with the solid mass of the party. The top gallery had a fair sprinkling of visitors. The decorations of the hall were confined to two portraits attached to the front of the organ, one of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and one equally life-like of Sir Massey Bowell, which was understood to represent the lion. George W. Ross, a fustian of red serge dressed with Union-Jacks served as a frame to these works of art.

Councillor Develyn appeared on the platform about 10 o'clock and desired that all delegates from the various Liberal organizations should be seated. The delegates from the Ontario Liberal Association sat in the front row, and the delegates from the Ontario Liberal Association sat in the front row, and the delegates from the Ontario Liberal Association sat in the front row.

The Premier's Approach. At 10:30 it was reported that the smoking should cease and some boxes of cigars were being distributed. The delegates from the Ontario Liberal Association sat in the front row, and the delegates from the Ontario Liberal Association sat in the front row, and the delegates from the Ontario Liberal Association sat in the front row.

Senator Kerr's Eulogium. The speaker then eulogized the Laurier government, dwelling on the settlement of the Manitoba school question as having ended all the racial animosities in the country, and the G.P.R. bill, which was intended to establish a national railway, which would be a national railway, which would be a national railway, which would be a national railway.

Premier Ross. Names were all right, but he did not know them, as each riding should know the man whose name it bore. Mayor Urquhart endorsed the principle of popular representation. The roll-call was without incident, except at the naming of Manitowish, when Mr. Develyn rose and said that he did not know the man whose name it bore.

Scott's Emulsion. SCOTT'S EMULSION makes pale, thin children fat and chubby. Overcomes wasting tendencies and brings back rosy cheeks and bright eyes. It's surprising how quickly children respond to Scott's Emulsion. It contains just the element of nourishment their little bodies need. They thrive on it. Even a few drops in the baby's bottle have a noticeable effect for good. Nothing better than Scott's Emulsion for growing children.

New York, Nov. 23.—Fourteen hundred passengers were crowded into the Italian liner, the Le Valence, when it was rammed by a float in the harbor of the city. The liner was carrying 1,400 passengers and 100 crew members. The float was a large piece of ice that had broken off from a glacier.

SEAT OF GIBSON RULING COLLECTOR THOMPSON ADDS

New Cabinet Ministers. With and Without Portfolio, Address the Gathering—Hon. Mr. McKay Makes an Attack on the Man From Manitoulin.

On reassembling at 2:45, the nominating committee of the Liberal convention in Massey Hall yesterday afternoon, not being ready to report, Hon. George P. Graham was introduced and secured a hearty reception. He was not there to lecture them, nor was the government there to dictate to the party. The intelligence of the delegates would place their leaders upon a platform which would appeal to all classes of the community, and from which they could lead the party to victory. Their opponents had not a very big platform. Not more than one of them could stand on it at the same time. It was not a conference, but a convention they were holding, at which the people should say what the leaders should do. He concluded by prophesying that, more years of Liberal government.

Gibson Permanent Chairman. The report of the nominating committee was then brought in. Senator Gibson was named as permanent chairman. Col. Thompson, of Hamilton, was first vice-chairman, and Mayor Urickhart, second vice-chairman. H. M. Mowat, K.C., was nominated as secretary. With the exception of some substitutes the nominating committee was returned to the committee on resolutions. These changes were: John Birnie, instead of James Hood, West Simcoe; James B. Tudge, instead of D. L. Grant, East Simcoe; Newton Smead, instead of Thomas Stewart, West Victoria; Donald McGillivray, instead of F. E. Dalton, Welland; R. M. McPherson, instead of J. H. Denton, North Toronto; C. E. Hewson, instead of D. Ross, Centre Simcoe; John McKay, instead of John Dawson, South St. Marie; William F. Lawrence, instead of J. P. McDermid, West Lambton; Prof. Dale, instead of Walter Johnson, South Perth; E. J. Parrott, instead of J. Howard, East Kent; John A. Walker, instead of F. Stone, West Kent; H. J. Pettipiece, instead of M. A. Smith, East Lambton; W. J. McKee, instead of A. McNeen, North Essex; H. B. McGivern, instead of W. Anderson, Ottawa; J. Y. Murdoch, instead of Dr. Harrison, Hamilton; and the addition of Senator Edwards, Hon. James Young, F. S. Spence and the members of the Ontario government.

The permanent secretaries were H. M. Mowat, K.C.; D. J. McDougall, and F. T. Costello. In the absence of Senator Gibson, Col. Thompson was called to the chair. He thanked the convention for the seat they offered him in exchange for that lost in the last election. Hon. F. E. A. Evantroupe announced the new ministers were on exhibition and hoped they would not consider them such a bad bunch after all. He took the first opportunity after being sworn in as a minister to refer to the affair of the Liberalism. His words were very much in the nature of a rebuke to the country. He had been selected from a minority to set an example to the majority. He would stand behind the Hon. G. P. Ross. It had been conceded in Great Britain that the British empire ever had men on this side of the Atlantic were Laurier and Ross, two of the greatest. Hon. J. R. Stratton entered during Mr. Evantroupe's remarks and was greeted with cheers. McKay or Gamay. Hon. G. P. Ross addressed the convention, having been assigned to the department of crown lands. He was jealous as to who should provide for the crown lands. The opposition had already nominated Robert Howland Gamay for the office. Mr. McKay proceeded to denigrate the Gamay history, inquiring "where did the money come from?" After reciting the "incoherent" facts and figures, he tersely rebuked Mr. Gamay to Buffalo and to pay down the money. He referred to Messrs. St. John, Payne, Nesbitt, and the nominal leader, James P. Whitney, he declared that should be succeeded by Mr. Gamay that gentleman would be able to repeat the lines:

Lives of great men all remind us We are but little things. And, departing, leave behind us Timber limits stripped of pine.

He concluded with a tribute to the ability of the premier. Latchford heard. Hon. F. R. Latchford considered that one thing at least was indicated by the convention—the fact that the government of Hon. G. P. Ross. The contagious enthusiasm of the gathering would spread throughout the province. Rev. Mr. Chisholm desired to have the convention endorse Mr. Ross' reconstruction. Mr. Whitney had invited the ministers to come in and reform the government. One of them had come in. As a minister he would give the new ministers of the crown the injunction given to all new ministers: "Fear God, Honor the King, Love the brethren."

J. D. Allan seconded the motion of endorsement and spoke with approval of the Premier. The resolution was adopted, and a fine ovation was accorded "The Grand Old Man of Ontario."

The premier rose to return thanks for this expression of confidence from the largest convention that had ever met in the province. It was not such a hard job after all. He had a great deal of help from The Mail, The World and The News in constructing the cabinet. But he had not had his own handwork. He was glad they were satisfied with the men chosen, as they had been chosen by the government was a sort of a little relief. Weak Hearts, Weak Blood Weak Nerves RELIEF IN 30 MINUTES.

Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart never fails to cure the heart and nerves and to enrich the blood. It relieves in 30 minutes. It is a beacon light to lead you back to health. W. H. Musselman, of G.A.R., Weissport, Pa., says: "Two bottles of Dr. Agnew's Heart Cure entirely cured me of heart palpitation and extreme nervousness. Its value can not be estimated." Dr. Agnew's treatment relieves eczema and tetter in a day, 35c. 7.

Ontario in the past nineteen years, and criticized the policy of Mr. Ross. Messrs. Pettipiece and Dale were responsible for a resolution calling for the fair and equitable collection of taxes on all kinds of property in the country. Property of railways and other great corporations should be taxed on the same basis as private property. The afternoon session adjourned about 5:30.

POLITICAL NOTES

The Liberal convention in West Durham will be held on Saturday, Nov. 26. Hon. George P. Graham will speak.

Mitchell, Nov. 23.—An enthusiastic convention of the Liberal-Conservative of South Perth, held here this afternoon, Nelson Monteth, ex-M.L.A., was unanimously nominated to contest the riding at the approaching provincial election. Mr. Monteth accepted the nomination.

Berlin, Nov. 23.—(Special)—The delegates to the Liberal-Conservative Conservative conference in Toronto will leave Berlin by special train tomorrow morning. Victoria, B.C., Nov. 23.—W. A. Gallier, Liberal, was yesterday elected by over 700 plurality in Kootenay, where they would fall to find in Canada any man who served the people more devotedly than Mr. Gibson, to whom he paid a cordial tribute.

The Provincial Secretary. The late provincial secretary, who had been so much maligned, need not ask any compliment from him, nor from anyone, friend or foe. Had he been a second—the word used by the opposition—how could he have spent a million dollars as was charged and face the country to-day? The commissioner of crown lands had also retired. He parted with these three ministers with regret. Pleasant memories of their usefulness would be cherished by all present.

Mr. Ross dwelt on some of the advantages of an upper chamber. In Ontario they had nothing to offer for reward but a seat in Canada's upper chamber. He was pleased to be able to call the four new members to the cabinet to help him to maintain the Victoria Opera House. They were very much pleased. All Liberals were deemed. After watching them for five years, he could better tell them whether they were honest or not.

A communication from the executive of the Dominion Alliance was presented by the chairman as "an important communication." It was signed by G. P. Ross and S. S. Spence, and contained the prohibition resolution calling for the abolition of the public bar, the treating system and drinking clubs, and the imposition of such other restrictions on the liquor traffic as shall most effectively curtail its operation and remedy its evils. This was referred to the committee on resolutions.

Praised the Premier. Hon. J. R. Stratton, as a retiring minister, was glad to say a word in praise of Mr. Ross. It would and had been said that he had withdrawn at the desire of the premier. But long before any attacks had been made he had indicated his desire to retire at the close of the present parliament. He challenged any Conservative to place a hand upon any corrupt act of his. He had been subpoenaed but never given a chance to answer what was to be asked of him. In 19 years he had never broken a promise. He defended himself as administrator of the largest spending department of the government and declared his intention to continue to serve the party as a citizen of the province. There were malign people who believed the stories circulated about him by the greatest gang of corrupt politicians ever heard of in Ontario. He repudiated the connection imputed to him with the Belleville ballot box scandal. Mr. Whitney and his corrupt gang talking of pillaging the government, he demanded. As well expect the Father of Lies to preach the gospel of truth. He outlined the development policy of the government, and urged the people to choose the best candidates possible to stand in the coming election.

Confidence in Education. James Chisholm, Hamilton, moved a resolution of confidence in the educational policy of the government and commended the special courses in agricultural instruction, and the introduction of manual training in domestic science. The agricultural training disseminated thru farmers' institutions, schools, fraternal societies and similar organizations was approved. The speaker was encouraged to speak to his resolution.

H. Miller, Hanover, seconded it, and was also advised to cut it short. "We've got a superfluity of education" came from the galleries in the stentorian notes of Post Sabien. "Surely it hasn't come to this that a couple of thousand Liberals can't spend ten minutes on so important a subject as education," exclaimed Mr. Miller.

One Spence Protest. W. Spence, Toronto, arose in a protesting mood. They were called on to endorse a system which was not so good as it had been fifteen years ago. There were eleven children, six and seven. There were too many facts and not enough A, B, C and reading and writing. The elements should be taught and not neglected. They must not get away with the idea that the ministers knew everything. They did not want too much domestic science and manual training, but they did want their children to read and write. Was it possible to move alone? he asked. Teachers had no time to teach these most important subjects, and they should simplify elementary education.

Harcourt in His Defence. Hon. Richard Harcourt reviewed the situation and defended his resignation. It was impossible to have satisfactory secondary education, except along the lines which they had followed. There was no illiteracy in Ontario; in education the province excelled all other countries. Hon. W. A. Charlton was introduced as the back of the new minister. For two years he had been practicing the art of the suppression of the freedom of speech. By the kindness of his friend, Mr. Ross, the shackles had been removed, and he was permitted to speak. He told of the expansion of Ontario in the past nineteen years, and criticized the policy of Mr. Ross. Messrs. Pettipiece and Dale were responsible for a resolution calling for the fair and equitable collection of taxes on all kinds of property in the country. Property of railways and other great corporations should be taxed on the same basis as private property. The afternoon session adjourned about 5:30.

REILLY BELIEVED PRODUCED AT BELLEVILLE ON FRIDAY

Police Have an Outline of What He Proposes to Say—Shibley is Still a Mystery.

Kingston, Nov. 23.—(Staff Special)—Government Detectives Chamberlaine and Greer, who were in Belleville on Friday to appear before Magistrate Flint. Attendees at the hospital say Reilly is in a state of nervous collapse arising out of his connection with the case. He has been in bed since Monday, but suffering no bodily pain. Being of a nervous disposition, the realization of the awkward position in which he has been placed by the revelations of Phil Lott caused the breakdown. There is very little doubt that the prosecution will be very materially assisted by the evidence of Reilly, who, it is believed, has agreed to tell everything he knows about the ballot box case and has been promised protection.

His friends say he regretted having gone into the case, and that when he realized the diabolical nature of the plot he backed out and left it to others to go ahead. Mr. Reilly's confession is in the hands of the police—that is, he has not yet told them what he knows, and when he goes to Belleville he will give evidence implicating persons of more or less prominence in the Liberal ranks. Many people here say W. J. Shibley will also be on hand to testify in regard to the statements of the way for one reason only, and that is that he has a natural aversion to being arrested as a common criminal. The chances, however, are against Shibley giving himself up, as the general impression is that he is more properly involved in the scheme than any of his associates.

There are many stories going around about Shibley—one that he is in Syracuse, N.Y., another that he is in an out-of-the-way corner of the country, and others locating him in Quebec, N.S., and elsewhere. The fact, it is said, is that he has become a political fugitive; his friends will have to furnish him with funds. One thing is certain: the party in the county has decided not to become identified with the defence, if he makes any, to the charges that have been preferred against him.

One of the ballot boxes has been sent to Ardoch, where Councillor Tapping was the Conservative scrutineer for the late election. This will enable Mr. Tapping to say definitely whether the box used at the poll there on Nov. 3 was of the same construction. This is the poll where Avery, the Conservative candidate, received only seven majority in the poll. The fact that that was expected, Joseph Hawkey, a Chicago wrestler, was a deputy returning officer at this point. He is the son of County License Commissioner Hawkey. The chances are that the Conservative vote was so small here has given rise to much speculation as to the manner in which Chicago wrestler was appointed, and in this connection something of the nature of the Hawkey might be found interesting.

A Great Wrestler. One of the Chicago wrestlers several years ago and became a starter on a cable car line, finally developing into professional wrestling. He is now in Kingston in his new role as last spring, when he beat Dan McMahon at a match at the city hall. The place was crowded, and when a return match was arranged between the two men, they were prepared to meet on their own terms. This time, however, he lost. There was much doubt as to the result of the fight. The express messenger is not sure who signed for the package, but thinks it was Carey, the bar clerk. Carey denies it. He has been called as a witness in the case. The World called at the Alton to-day in search of the brother of W. J. Shibley, who came to town from the north country. The man described as Shibley was in the hands of the police, and was taken to the Alton. He professed no knowledge of the man.

SEKS TO BE DEFENDED. Brockville, Nov. 23.—(Special)—J. E. Whelan of Prescott, of the inland revenue department, who is out on bail to appear at the Ontario court on Friday, is expected to be charged in connection with the famous ballot box scandal. He had been under the care of two eminent doctors. People who heard the gentleman talking and had a doubt as to what he would say if Phil Lott had been a surprising lot of method in his madness.

Lott's Wife Regretted Confession. "There are many theories as to the cause which led Phil Lott to make a clean breast of the matter to Messrs. Fox and Corry. A gentleman well versed in the case expresses the belief that Mrs. Phil Lott is a deeply religious lady, and her husband's confession resulted from her husband's association, and our informant says he was told by Phil himself that his wife gave him no rest, night or day, but was continually urging him to do what was right. Mrs. Phil Lott is a Horner."

All other matters paled into insignificance this morning, however, when it became known that Phil Lott, who had been to Waterbury, N.Y., looking for evidence, had returned, bringing with him the man made the bogus boxes. There was tremendous excitement, and all newspaper reporters and his companions. After a lively search they found Phil, but the Waterbury tinker was apparently a myth. He had been secured a lot of information, and a leading Conservative is believed to have practically admitted much to a newspaper man, but sober-minded people doubted the story.

Satisfied With Trip. This afternoon Phil Lott was escorted with one of the parties for the prosecution for the purpose of getting a full report of the Waterbury trip was given. Newspaper men succeeded in leading Phil Lott for a couple of minutes' talk shortly afterwards. Phil Lott said he had been to Waterbury, but said there was no truth in the story that he brought the Waterbury boxes with him. Mr. Lott, however, is well satisfied with the result of his trip, and says he has secured a lot of information, and that a Dominion ballot box was taken over to the United States, and that the "quick fixes" were made by John Conway and Scott Hogan, two attendants.

SHOE STAMINA

It centres round the insole! Without good live leather in this, the mainstay of the shoe, there will come early ruin.

The stitching cuts, the upper spreads, the welt rips, and the shoe quickly loses its shape. When you buy shoes, the last thing you look at is the insole. Manufacturers know this, and they also know that the first thing you look for is fine upper leather, neat finish, and smart shape.

Result—insole robbery for mere outward effect. Of what use is fine appearance, if it won't continue under wear. But you can't hold the Makers responsible for this,—for value, or wear, unless the Maker too fixes the retail price. He usually gives the kind of value Shoe Retailers usually want—surface value, selling effect. His market is with the Retailer.

But the Slater Shoe market, created through advertising, is with the Wearer. Therefore, satisfaction to the Wearer is the ambition and prime necessity of the Slater Shoe System. And such permanent satisfaction depends, among other hidden things, upon an insole which costs nearly twice as much as that used in the ordinary shoe.

Order by Murdered Corpse. Chicago, Nov. 21.—Ontario by murder case, applied today by the police to a confession to the murder of Ned Mitchell, whose body was found in Lake Michigan a fortnight ago, failed to secure the desired result. The body of Selalet, which had been buried in Mount Carmel Cemetery, was exhumed, carried to a vault and placed in it sitting posture. The right arm and hand were propped up in such a manner that the index finger pointed directly at the face of any person entering the vault. The attitude of the body was made as nearly as possible like that which would be assumed by a person saying "I killed the man who killed me." Police Inspector Shipley then took the vault in which Selalet passed considerable time caused them to confront the accused by one of the dead man, and watched for the sign of nervous collapse. Selalet smiled and threw the ordeal without exhibiting emotion. The colored porter who had been frightened, but he did not reveal anything of the possible truth. He was returned to the vault and the officers were compelled to give upon it. He did not say anything that would indicate that he was connected with the murder.
