WORLD CLASSIC OPENS 1 WEEK FROM TODAY; SEAT SALE GOING WELL

East Saint John, Fairville and Beaconsfield Schools Follow Lead of City and Declare Half Holidays; Interest in Races Growing

CLAS THUNBERG, world's amateur speed-skating champion, is due here tomorrow noon from New York to complete his training here on Lily Lake for the defence of his world's crown against the best skaters on this continent at the championship meet on January 26, 27 and 28.

The schools will open at 8.30 in the morning, instead of 9 o'clock, and will close at 12.30 p. m. With the opening race of the world's titular meet exactly one week away, interest locally is mounting to a high pitch and with Thunberg on the ground providing an opportunity of seeing and studying his style, it can be safely taken for granted that citizens will talk, eat and sleep on the chance of the various contestants for the prized honor of champion of the world.

PLANS WELL ADVANCED. The culmination of many weeks of quiet, patient work to make this dream of a world's meet a reality first practically all arrangements completed, not only for the holding of the meet but for the entertainment of prominent visitors, including a number of newspapermen representing some of the largest newspapers in the United States. This party will be here as guests of the C. P. R.

The races also are bound to draw large numbers from the outside counties and for the week of the meet it is expected that lodgings will be at a premium. It was reported today that there would be quite a number here from such large centres as Boston and Montreal.

The sale of the reserved seats boomed this morning, only a few hundred remaining for the second day of the meet. For the opening day and the second day, considerably more than one half are gone. The sale of the rush seats will be opened probably the latter part of this week. A large number of the boxes have been taken up.

The question of handling the sale of tags was satisfactorily settled yesterday at a conference with representatives of the Local Council of Women. Mrs. A. C. D. Wilson will be convener for the sale of the tags.

"DUKE" DONOVAN ENTERS. The formal entry of Richard "Duke" Donovan was received here today. "Duke" was a member of the Olympic team from the United States and was credited by Thunberg as being the only one of the North American contingent that really tried hard in the longer distances. Donovan holds the world's records for the one and three miles and has always been a favorite with the crowd ever since he first came here.

HALF-HOLIDAYS. The trustees of the three school districts of East Saint John, Beaconsfield and Fairville have agreed to conform with the action of the Saint John School Board and have one session on each of the three days of the World's Championship Skating Meet, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday—of next week.

Here's Chance For Everybody To Learn Old Time Dances

AFTER a sleep of several decades, the old-fashioned dances are coming back—sweeping the country and creating a new interest in dance circles. Henry Ford, chief advocate of the revival of the old-time dances, says: "We are not in any way trying to stop the so-called modern dancing. People will dance what they like. But we do feel that a great deal of pleasure has been lost to a great many people through the fading out of the steps of years ago. In the old days you would meet everybody on the dance floor during the evening. There was a constant changing of partners. The community spirit was present. Today couples often dance alone all evening."

An Appeal, and YOUR Opportunity

WITHIN a few days the Saint John Amateur Skating Association hopes to realize the successful completion of a project undertaken many months ago—the staging in this city of the World's Skating Championships.

To say that this was visualized a matter of months ago is hardly correct, for it has been the ambition of the promoters of the skating sport in this city to have one step higher each successive year with a view of some day holding in Saint John competition for the highest crown that can be bestowed in athletic competition, and placing the laurel wreath on the brow of some individual as Champion of the World. At Lily Lake on January 26 we hope to see this ambition realized.

MAN SLAUGHTER CASE OPENED IN CIRCUIT COURT

right hand went out and heard a smack as if a fist striking flesh and saw the blow strike the policeman's face on the right side, and the policeman disappeared. Witness then ran out and shouted, "What the hell's this?"

A man named McVieville, who had been standing near Evanson had replied "What the hell is your business?" and then struck witness in the mouth, knocking him down. He then ran out past Policeman McCarver, whom he saw lying on his back in the doorway apparently unconscious. Witness said he was kicked again in the way by the man McVieville but finally managed to get to the street, where he afterwards found Policeman Corvay. After securing additional help, the policeman went to the Institute and, Steele said, it was found that Evanson had disappeared. He was found under a bed in the dormitory and Steele identified him as the man who had struck the injured policeman.

CROSS EXAMINED.

In answer to a question, by Mr. Drummond, Steele said that he did not stop to help McCarver as he believed that McVieville would have killed him if he didn't get away. He said that he was not hoping to avoid the police but to meet them.

DOCTOR TESTIFIES.

Dr. Harry L. Abramson, provincial pathologist, who performed the autopsy on Policeman McCarver, was called and gave in non-technical language the substance of his evidence at the request and preliminary hearing. He repeated his statement that the fracture which could have resulted in nothing other than death could not have been caused by a blow from a fist.

Policeman Corvay was next called and told of his meeting with Steele in Prince William street and what he saw when he went with other officers to the Beaumen's Institute. He was not asked any questions by the defence.

After ordering that the jury be kept together during the noon-hour, the court recess until 2:30 this afternoon. The court adjourned at 12:25.

There were not many spectators present in court during this morning's proceedings.

ITALY'S DEBT MOVE IS MUCH CRITICIZED

Making of British Friendship Part of Settlement Resented in England

British United Press.
 LONDON, Jan. 19.—Much resentment is being expressed in political circles, and in some quarters direct and vigorous criticism is being expressed over the action of Italy in attempting to link up her political problems with the question of debt settlement in such a manner that amounts almost to a threat.

Several Italian newspapers and Professor Cito Borgolla, who is the acknowledged leading authority in Italy on economic matters, have stated that Britain should make generous terms in arranging the settlement of the debt in order to preserve the good relations of the two countries and this is construed here as a warning that should Britain refuse demands which Italy regards as too severe British friendship with Italy will be impaired.

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF SAINT JOHN

100 LIONS ADD TO QUO VADIS THRILL

New Film Version of Story of Early Christians at Imperial Tomorrow

One hundred lions afford a portion of the thrills in First National's version of "Quo Vadis," which begins at the Imperial Theatre tomorrow. The scenes show the wild beasts turned loose by Nero in the arena of the Circus Maximus to devour a band of Christian martyrs accused of burning Rome by the tyrant emperor.

Expert marksmen were stationed amidst the actors with automatic pistols hidden beneath their robes as a protection against the lions should the lions become too "realistic" in their roles.

The picture deals with the struggles of early Christian martyrs and the cruelties and lavishness of Rome under the despotism of Nero. This latest version of "Quo Vadis" is replete, it is said, with all of the elaborateness and cinematographic splendor yet incorporated into a picture.

Perhaps no configuration of its size and realism was ever before screened than that of the burning of Rome in this picture. While Nero strums his either "long shots" show below him the "hot city" cloaked in smoke and fire.

"Close-ups" catch the thousands of unfortunate residents—rich and poor—feeding from the flames, their arms clutching what few valuables they could seize before the red tongues reached them.—Adv't.

HUNTLEY TURF MAN AS WELL AS AUTHOR

With the musical comedy "Three Little Maids" G. P. Huntley's approaching visit here, an event in itself, is of particular interest to devotees of the sport pages for the celebrated actor in a noted figure on the English turf. He built up a fine stable of thoroughbreds and his string, at one time numbered between 20 and 30. His racing colors became nearly as well known at English meets as his name is to English theatre-goers.

Among the most notable wins made by his horses are the Corinthian cup at Lansdowne which was captured by G. P.'s "Ante"; the Visitors' Plate at Newmarket; and "Fernow" and the Spring Cup at Lingfield which was carried off by "Slouidy Sky."

But like a great many other figures on the English turf, Huntley's interest in the sport of kings was due to his love of the horses themselves rather than his fondness for races or the prizes he could carry off.

Mail orders for Three Little Maids are now being received by the Imperial Theatre.

Gyros so Decide For Next Tuesday—Discuss Radio For Military Hospital

At the weekly luncheon of the Gyro Club today in the Admiral Beatty Hotel, the matter of co-operating with other organizations in installing a radio in the Lancaster Military Hospital was left to the executive with power to act.

A letter expressing appreciation of the Saint John Skating Association for the support accorded to the meet next week by the club, was read. It was decided not to have the regular Tuesday luncheon next week—Tuesday being the first day of the meet. The club also decided to combine with the Canadian Club on February 15 to listen to the address of Rev. Canon Allan P. Shattford, Montreal.

BETTER THAN SODA

For fifty years genuine "Phillips' Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it opens comes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

THE CHURCH CREDS SAY—YES! MINISTERS—NO!

There has been controversy over the question of a hell of torment for centuries, and ministers of all denominations for hundreds of years have defended this doctrine until recent times. However, the thought of hell fires as a reward for the wicked has become unpopular in this age of greater enlightenment, and the question of the state of the unchristian dead is left severely alone wherever possible.

The preaching of damnation is the exception rather than the rule in the denominational churches, and those who ask questions are often discouraged, or the main point evaded by the "Spiritual Pastors of the flock."

If there is a hell of torment, it is the Church's place to teach it in uncompromising terms. If there is not, then the Church should bend every effort to eradicate this calumny from the minds of the people.

MOTHER SEEKS DREAM CITY FOR SOLDIER SON

Canadian Woman in Germany Hunting Lad Reported Killed at Ypres

WAS FIRST VICTIM OF POISONOUS GASSES

Mrs. McGill, Edmonton, Tells of Vision in Which She Saw Him Alive

PARIS, Jan. 19.—A vivid dream in which a mother saw her son alive after he was reported killed at Ypres, has brought a mother from Canada to search the whole of Germany for the boy she now believes to be alive and suffering from loss of memory.

The mother who has undertaken this labor of love is Mrs. Sarah McGill, a native of Edmonton, Alberta. She has arrived in France, accompanied by her husband and daughter.

WAS GAS VICTIM

Her son was one of the first victims of German poison gas, but although she was reported through his body was never found. "Something tells me he still lives," says Mrs. McGill.

"In the dream I had my boy looked very ill," says Mrs. McGill, "and he was moving about as though the place was strange to him. I am sure it was my boy, and I am sure I could recognize the town again."

Her first visit in Paris was to one of the photographic agencies that specializes in views of German towns.

Special arrangements had been made to keep the library open for her, so that she might run through it on the chance of recognizing a street which she had seen in her dream.

Some of the views resembled the place of her dreams, but none was quite the same thing.

TASK NOT EASY ONE

"It was a disappointment," Mrs. McGill said, "but I did not think my task would be an easy one. My boy was one of the first to sample the German poison gas in the Ypres salient, and the last heard of him was that he was left behind, dying, when the front line was forced back by the gas clouds."

"Though the ground afterwards regained, there was no trace of his body, and I am convinced that he was taken into Germany as a prisoner."

"I have never believed that he was dead. Something tells me he still lives, and when I had a dream in which I saw him plainly moving about in a strange city, I felt sure I had found the long-sought clue to the mystery of his whereabouts."

"In my dream my boy looked no older than he was when I saw him 12 years ago, but he was very ill and obviously suffering. I thought he recognized me, for I saw him give a start and rush forward with the look of recognition in his eyes. Then the dream faded and I woke up."

WILL ADVERTISE

"I made the speediest arrangements I could to get over here, and I am hurrying through to Germany to make inquiries at every likely place. I will also make a point of advertising in the German papers and watching closely in the streets in case I should recognize my boy as I did in my dream."

"If I find a street scene such as that of my dreams I shall stay there until the town has been thoroughly combed."

Mr. McGill and his daughter are firmly convinced that the dream was sent to inform them that the boy mourned as dead is indeed alive.

FOUND HUSBAND HANGING ON DOOR

Woman, Thinking Him Carrying Out Prank, Slapped His Face

LONDON, Jan. 19.—A dramatic story was told at a Woolwick inquest on Charles William Hayes, aged 29, of Plumstead.

Mrs. Hayes said her husband had worried because he could not get work. They were spending an evening at a neighbor's house, and her husband, who was a jolly fellow and always ready for fun, dressed himself up.

At midnight he said he would go home to change his clothes, and as he did not return she went home to see what had become of him.

She could not open the door at first and called out "Open the door, you fool!" There was no reply, and she forced the door, and then saw her husband behind it and smacked his face, saying, "You fool, what are you doing?"

She had no idea he was dead, because his eyes were open, but a neighbor told her he was not acting, and then she saw that he was hanging by his scarf from a hook behind the door. She cut him down and sent for a doctor, who said he was dead.

Doctor Tells How to Strengthen Eyesight 50 Per Cent. in One Week's Time in Many Instances. A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home. PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye-strain or other eye weaknesses? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing say: "They have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says, after trying 'I was almost blind; could not see a read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they could pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seemed clear. I can even read fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now hear them in a reasonable time and hundreds more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Get a bottle of Bon-Opto drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time. NOTE: Another prominent physician to whom the above article was submitted said: "Bon-Opto is a very remarkable remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. The manufacturers guarantee it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or return the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family." It is sold in this city by all good druggists.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., JANUARY 19, 1926.

HEAVY GRAIN MOVEMENT.

The Canadian grain going to Vancouver for export this season is establishing a new high record. Up to date the movement over the lines of the Canadian National Railways has been five times as great as during the same period of 1924-25, and it is announced from the C. N. R. headquarters that the flow of grain to Vancouver at present is limited only by the port facilities there.

Thunberg will certainly have to stretch himself at the Saint John meeting if he is going to take his reputation home with him. He will meet the world's best here, and the size of the track will give him a better chance than he had in New York. But is the Olympic champion fast enough for the company?

A host of friends here and throughout the province will read, with a deep sense of personal loss, of the death of Mr. C. J. Milligan, regional counsel of the C. N. R. at Moncton, yesterday.

Mr. C. J. Milligan, a native of Saint John, was active and prominent here for some years after he was graduated from the University of New Brunswick in 1886, and he was widely and favorably known.

Canadian grain is still flowing extensively through American ports. Last year's decision of the Railway Commission giving lower rates on westward-bound grain and flour for export has improved the Vancouver situation very materially.

Friday was distinguished by a whirlwind oration by Mr. Lloyd George, accusing the harmless and seemingly necessary Bedegman of wiping out Welsh towns as if they were Pompeii or Herculaneum, and explaining the services to the navy, now to be destroyed, historically given by the inhabitants of the purple hills of Wales.

Indeed, if Parliament is determined to stop the diversion of Canadian traffic to American ports, or to really limit it, it can show its good faith only by making adequate provision for the further equipment of Maritime ports, for delay in this matter would inevitably mean that we should continue to lose traffic which, under proper circumstances, would move this way.

Europe's Nitro Loss Low. Europe has a noticeably low fire loss, as compared with the United States, the reason is three-fold. In the first place, being short of timber comparatively, more stone and brick are used; in the second place, the Europeans are naturally more thrifty and careful than Americans; and, in the third place, they are held to a stricter accountability for fires.

50,000-Year-Old Road. The German Geological Society claims to have discovered, at Hoerde, in Westphalia, a wooden or plank road, leading over a swamp which the Germans say is ten times as ancient as the Pyramids, and dates back 50,000 years. The pathway is more than 100 feet in length. The wood is still remarkably well preserved.

Now For The Big Test! Beating Thunberg is getting to be a habit with Moore and Gorman, and they defeated him even more decisively in the mile and a half at Madison Square than they did previously at three miles. But the big test is yet to come. Here in Saint John, where on a much larger track than that in Madison Square there will be an all-round trial for the championship, embracing seven speed events.

The Best of Advice

BY CLARK KINNAIRD

WE offer as a Golden Text the first verses of the fourteenth chapter of Romans:

"Him that is weak in the faith receive ye, but not to doubtful disputations.

"For one believeth that he may eat all things; another, who is weak, eateth herbs.

"Let not him that eateth despise him who eateth not; and let not him which eateth not judge him that eateth; for God hath received him.

"Who are thou that judgest another man's servant? to his own master he standeth or falleth. Yes, he shall be holden up; for God is able to make him stand.

"One man esteemeth one day above another; another esteemeth every day alike. Let every man be fully persuaded in his OWN mind.

"Let us not therefore judge one another; rather, that no man put a stumbling block or an occasion to fall in HIS brother's way."

"I know, and am persuaded by the Lord Jesus, that THERE IS NOTHING UNCLEAN OF ITSELF; but to him that esteemeth any thing to be unclean, TO HIM it is unclean."

"But if my brother be grieved with THY meat, now walkest thou charitably. Destroy him not with thy meat, for whom Christ died."

CONSIDER the antipathies which men cherish on no better grounds than that persons whose religious opinions are different from theirs, do not practice their religious observances.

Suppose that a country where the people of whom the majority are Musulmans, should insist upon not permitting pork to be eaten within the limits of the country. (This would be nothing new in Mohammedan countries.)

Would it be a legitimate exercise of the moral authority of public opinion? And if not why not?

Answer this question and you pass judgment on the justice of many of the "reforms" forced upon the minority—and even the majority—in this country.

THE SONNET.

Nuns fret not at their convent's narrow room; And hermits are contented with their cells; And students with their penance-closets; Maids at the wheel, the weaver at his loom.

High as the highest peak of Furness-fells, Will murmur by the hour in foxglove bells; In truth the prison, unto which Dante drove Ourselves, no prison is; and hence for me, In sundry moods, 'twas pastime to be bound Within the Sonnet's scanty plot of ground; Pleased if some souls (for such there needs must be) Who have felt the weight of too much liberty, Should find brief solace there, as I have found.

Scorn not the Sonnet; Critic, you have frown'd; Misdread of its just honors; with this key Shakespeare unlock'd his heart; the melody Of this small lute gave birth to Petrarch's woe; A thousand times this pipe did Tasso sound; With his Camoens' soul'd an exile's grief; The Sonnet gives a gay myrtle leaf Amid the cypress with which Dante crown'd His visionary brow; a glow-worm lamp; It chere'd mild Spenser, call'd from Faery-land To struggle through dark ways; and when a damp Fell round the path of Milton, in his hand The thing became a trumpet; whence he blew Soul-animating strains—alas, too few!

Timely Views On World Topics

"MORE and more each year the United States is being dragged into the circle of the League of Nations' influence," declares Raymond B. Fosdick, former Under-Secretary of the League, in an article in the anniversary number of the League of Nations News.

"Officially or unofficially," he continues, "we are represented at nearly every important conference and Genoa and American citizens are members of many important commissions that originate there. Surely the day will come when Raymond B. Fosdick, her place at the council table of the nations and join in this great new venture that is laying the foundation of a better world."

"The technique that was born in 1920 was new in that it was based on the principle of continuous conference. It brought 50 nations together automatically in the uninterrupted discussion of problems that are always overflowing national boundaries. It set up machinery that was permanent, ready for any emergency that might develop, able to focus immediate attention on any question whatever relating to the well-being of mankind. Instead of spasmodic conferences dotted over a score of years, it established the tradition and habit of conferences. It marked a new train of thought, a new method of approach, rooted in the mechanism of Geneva.

LEAGUE IS 'OUTSTANDING EXPERIMENT'.

"That is why the League of Nations is so outstanding an experiment in human relationships. It represents the ingenuity of man trying to rationalize his relations with his fellows and adapt himself in orderly fashion to his new environment.

"Every conceivable sort of human problem has been brought up for discussion. Matters of peace and war, of health and disease, of economics, trade and industry have been thrown on the conference table.

"It is from these small and uncertain beginnings that the League of Nations has grown to its present proportions. Every year adds to its effectiveness and prestige. Internationally speaking, nothing can be done without reference to it. The Locarno treaties were built into it, and the new conference for disarmament is part of it."

A CENTURY WELL OBSERVED

Half Century Story of Church of England Institute Told

Rev. H. A. Cody Gives History—Conversations Enjoyed Last Evening

The fiftieth anniversary of the Church of England Institute was observed yesterday when a service of thanksgiving in Trinity church in the morning was followed in the evening by a conversation in the institute hall.

The historical sketch given by Rev. H. A. Cody recalled the former days of the institute.

PROGRAM ENJOYED

A delightful musical program was given, including vocal solos by Miss Stanley Harrison, Miss Agatha Steves, A. LeDrew Gardiner and Miss Louise Knight, and piano solos by Miss Ruth Clark. The accompanists were Miss Louise Knight and Miss Pauline Bledemann.

Archdeacon Crowfoot spoke of the lecture course-planned for this season which consists of four lectures on different schools of thought in the Church of England. The speakers will be Archdeacon Crowfoot, Rev. A. L. Fleming, Rev. W. R. L. Palmer and Rev. Dr. W. R. Hibbard.

RECALLS HISTORY

Rev. H. A. Cody in his paper told of the founding of the institute on Jan. 18, 1874 at a meeting called by Archdeacon Brigstocke in Trinity school room, when it was decided to establish a non-parochial centre for uniting all church men and women in the city with the hope that later a centre for all the diocese might be established.

A library and reading room were opened at 88 Princess street that year, but rooms, furniture and books were destroyed by the great fire of the following year and while repairs were made a reading room was opened in Hall's building in King street.

The former rooms were re-opened in 1878 and the Ladies' Association was formed in the next year. Rooms in the Old Fellows' building in Union street were occupied for a time and in 1880 the institute moved to Orange Hall, German street. The present brick building was the gift of the late Senator Thomas and cost $1,000 and was first used in 1914. The large rear hall was a later gift of Senator Thomae and was built in 1923.

ENTERPRISES RECALLED

Rev. Mr. Cody recalled the various enterprises which the institute members had undertaken, including the Girls' Friendly Home established in 1885, to be a boarding home for young women employed in factories and a coffee room for the public. The home was closed after two years, for lack of boarders.

Efforts were later made to start a waterside mission for sailors and fishermen in 1879 but nothing was accomplished. A committee was at one time appointed to render assistance to members of the church who wished to emigrate from England.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES

Through the urging of the institute members religious services were provided for those in the Municipal Home. A special committee of the institute arranged for regular services in the hall.

Ven. Archdeacon W. O. Raymond, D. D., was second president of the institute, succeeding Archdeacon Brigstocke in 1899. Rev. J. A. Richardson, now Bishop of the diocese, became the third president in 1902 and was succeeded in that office by Rev. P. Owen Jones in 1906.

WAS FIRST LAYMAN

The next year Dr. J. Roy Campbell was elected president and was the first and only layman to occupy that position in the 50 years. Rev. E. B. Hooper was elected president in 1909 and in 1913 was succeeded by Rev. R. A. Armstrong, who retained office until 1923 when Ven. Archdeacon Crowfoot was elected to the chair.

Rev. Mr. Cody paid a glowing tribute to the chief personalities connected with the institute's half century of progress.

W. M. S. HAVE SOCIAL

The members of Knox church W. M. S. enjoyed a social evening last night, and a pleasing musical program included Scotch songs by Miss Frances Murdoch, quartette selections by Mrs. Bisset, Mrs. Barrett, Mrs. Brunstrom and Mrs. Shonyo, and piano duets by the Misses Christine and Marion McCoo, and Mrs. R. A. Sewall, who was in the chair, and there was a large attendance. Rev. Mr. Newton, of Winsor, who is occupying the pulpit of the church for two Sundays, was at the meeting.

DEER HERD SAID TO BE 350 YEARS OLD

LONDON, Jan. 19.—There are 48 herds of deer registered in England, including nearly 8,000 animals. This is the figure provided by the Deer Herd Book, a record of Great Britain, which points out that there are herds dating back several centuries, which have had no new blood introduced since their formation.

One of these is the Marquis of Bath's herd at Longleat Park, Wiltshire, which was enclosed about 1276. There has been no blood introduced into the herd owned by Lord Clifford of Chudleigh, at Chudley, Devonshire, which has existed since 1672.

OLDEST MONS PRIVATE

LONDON, Jan. 19.—Edward Thomas Mendell, aged 66, a taxi driver of Mitcham, claims to be the oldest private who took part in the retreat from Mons. He told this when charged at the Marlborough street police court for causing an obstruction with his taxi. The summons was dismissed.

DEATHS

Samuel Arsenau

Samuel Arsenau, aged 62 years, residing with his daughter, Mrs. Thomas Buckley, 115 Chesley street, was taken suddenly ill in the street in the North End yesterday afternoon shortly after 1 o'clock and died in the General Public Hospital about an hour later.

Coroner H. A. Porter was summoned and after learning the facts, decided that death was due to natural causes and that an inquest was not necessary.

Mr. Arsenau had not been well for some months past, and for a few weeks during last July and August had been a patient in the hospital being treated for gastric ulcers. When taken suddenly ill yesterday he complained of severe pains in his chest. He was immediately removed to the hospital and when being placed in bed, expired.

The late Mr. Arsenau is survived by his wife, who resides in South Boston, Mass., also four daughters and two sons. The daughters are Mrs. Thomas Buckley, 115 Chesley street; Mrs. Hewitt, King street east; Mrs. Loretta, Prince Edward street, and Mrs. Carl Galloway, of South Boston. The sons are Harry and Freeman, of South Boston.

V. O. NURSES IN DOMINION 2-75

Miss Smellie, On Visit to Saint John, Speaks of Work

Tells of Scope of Activities—Needed in Rural Districts as Well as City

Miss Elizabeth Smellie, general superintendent of the Victorian Order of Nurses, who left Saint John today after a short official visit won high honor in her chosen profession and it is said of her that she was the popular choice of the nurses of the order when she succeeded Mrs. Hanington as superintendent. Her home is in Port Arthur, Ont., and during the early days of the C. P. R. her father was one of the railway company's doctors at Port Arthur. She graduated from Johns Hopkins Hospital Training School for Nurses, Baltimore. She served overseas as a nursing sister during the war and was mistress of the Moore Barnards Hospital at Shorncliffe, one of the large military hospitals. The R. R. C. was awarded her for her services. She was recalled to Canada in order to take over the important duties of assistant to the matron in chief of the Canadian military hospitals in Canada. Miss Rayzide, in that office became familiar with all parts of the Dominion.

She took a special course in public health nursing in Boston and for a time was engaged in public health nursing there. She was afterwards appointed instructor in public health at McGill University and was working with the V. O. N. in Montreal. In January, 1924, she succeeded to her present position as general superintendent of the V. O. N.

V. O. N. NURSES NOW 275

Speaking of the work of the Order in Canada yesterday she said that there were now 275 nurses under its provisions. Each V. O. N. centre has three or four nurses. The head office in Ottawa Miss Smellie pointed out does not do police work for the local centres but it furnishes the nurses required by the local centres and gives supervision in order to ensure uniformity in the work, to assist a nurse and see that a high standard is maintained. C. A. Magrath, the president of the order, is an outstanding personality in the business world in Ontario and has recently been appointed chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission. He takes a keen interest in every phase of the order's work and is an excellent leader.

FIELD IS WIDE

Miss Smellie describes public health nursing as embracing health, school, industrial, clinic and child-welfare fields as well as including public lecturing. In the last ten years the number of public health nurses in the United States has advanced from 6,000 to 16,000.

With reference to Miss Mary Gardner's striking address on public health nursing given at the international convention of nurses Miss Smellie said that it had shown how in the last 10 years the emphasis had been greatly changed. In maternity work it was now prenatal care that was specially stressed. In tuberculosis work it was not the patient in advanced stages but the child and the contact that were the objects of most attention. In mental hygiene the conduct of the child was watched as a means of diagnosis. Self help was everywhere stressed and the children at school were encouraged to take an interest in their own health and in the health of the group.

IN RURAL DISTRICTS

The area served by public health nursing had been changed too, she said. Formerly it was thought the cities were the great fields for work but now it was realized the need of public health nursing was very great in rural communities and the telephone and the automobile assisted in bringing rural districts nearer. She specially stressed the importance of personality in the public health nurse and wished that training schools gave more attention to this point when they were selecting probationers.

Miss Smellie left for Nova Scotia today.

TWO PROMINENT C. N. R. MEN DIE

F. E. Whelpley and C. J. Milligan Pass Away

Both Belonged to Saint John Death Comes After Short Illness

Saint John friends this morning received a shock on reading of the death of two former residents of this city—Frederick E. Whelpley and C. J. Milligan—both of the C. N. R., who died in Montreal within a short time of each other. Mr. Milligan passed away at 11 o'clock last night and Mr. Whelpley at 12:13 o'clock this morning. The former was regional counsel for the C. N. R. and the latter was treasurer of the Atlantic region. Mr. Milligan succumbed to an attack of heart trouble and Mr. Whelpley died of pneumonia following a cold contracted a week ago. A Montreal dispatch says:

NATIVES OF SAINT JOHN

The death of Mr. Whelpley coming so soon after the death of Mr. Milligan at his home here last night, has been a great double shock to the community. By a coincidence both men were officials of the C. N. R. and natives of Saint John, Mr. Whelpley being a son of the late Daniel Whelpley, of that city. Mr. Whelpley is survived by his wife, one son and one daughter. The son is Roy, residing here. The daughter is Mrs. Dr. D. L. MacDonald, of Shawmut Falls, Que., who was at his bedside when death came, having been called here on Wednesday. Two brothers, Frank, of Wakefield, Mass., and Arthur, of Manchester, N. H., also survive; also one sister, Miss Nina Whelpley, of Boston.

The funeral will likely be held on Thursday.

The Milligan funeral will be held on Wednesday afternoon.

DEATH OF MR. MILLIGAN

C. J. Milligan, aged about 65, Regional Counsel of the Canadian National Railways, died at his residence here this evening at 11 o'clock after an illness of only a day. Heart trouble is given as the cause of death. The late Mr. Milligan took ill only yesterday.

Mr. Milligan came to Montreal a little over two years ago from Regina where he had held the position of registrar at the local telephone office and the duties of counsel of the Atlantic region of the C. N. R.

Mr. Milligan was a native of Saint John and was president of the recently organized society of U. N. B. graduates in Montreal and was also a prominent member of the Masonic order. He was president of the recently organized society of U. N. B. graduates in Saint John for some time and was at one time manager and editor of The Telegraph. Since his arrival in Montreal he was active in the circles of Saint John's United church and was a prominent member of the Masonic order.

PROMINENT IN CITY

Mr. Milligan was prominent in the life of Saint John, in addition to his duties, in St. Andrew's Society, in the practice of law and as manager and editor of The Daily Telegraph for some time beginning in the year 1909. He was also at one time registrar of probates here. In the days when Hon. Adam G. Blair was leader of the Liberal party in the province, Mr. Milligan was very active in the Liberal interest and was party organizer. He was of the federalist party, graduating class of 1885 and one of the class were J. King Kelley, K. C.; Stewart S. Skinner, Charles Skinner, Thomas L. Dendie, Dr. Oscar Watson, now with the Associated Press in New York; G. W. Fleming, Frank Barbour, civil engineer who was in charge of their school; and many others here some years ago, and Dr. Harry Steves of Fredericton. Mr. Milligan graduated from the U. N. B. in the class of 1888 and took up the study and practice of law. He was a man of kindly manner, a great worker, a good friend and there are many in Saint John deeply interested to learn of his sudden death.

South African Men Criticize London

LONDON, Jan. 18.—We don't like your weather, dirty buildings, narrow streets, low ceilings, telephone books which are too big, and miles of houses without gardens. But we like your tubes, buses and traffic, wonderful stores, historic buildings, complexion and beautiful hair of your girls and electric sky signs.

This is a typical table of the likes and dislikes of the 122 South African students visiting London prior to a tour of Europe. Without exception they are staggered by the immensity of the metropolis and have found much of interest, their favorite spot being the Tower.

The Part-Time Wife Who Refuses to Live With Her Husband, But Lives Off Him—Is It Wise for a Widower to Marry His Dead Wife's Sister?—The Wild Flapper Who Wants to Keep the Love of a Clean Boy Without Giving Up Gay Parties.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—My husband's work keeps him away from home most of the time. He is in other cities and three months at a time and gets home only a few days during the year. He wants me to go with him wherever his work is, but I have refused to do so, because he has gotten into several flirtations with other women. He sends me money to live on, and says that I am not fair in refusing to live with him or write to him. I don't want to leave my friends, and they advise me to get a divorce from him. Don't you think I am right?

MILDRED. ANSWER: No, I think you are absolutely and entirely wrong, and that if you will not live with your husband, and be a wife to him, that you are dishonest in taking his money. Moreover, if you divorce him you are not entitled to a cent of alimony because you haven't earned it. Part-time wives, such as you are, who will not go where their husbands' business calls them, because they would have to leave their friends and their little social circle, or have to put up with the discomfort of living in hotels or boarding houses instead of their own homes; and wives who go off seeking cool places in summer, or warm places in winter, or on jaunts to Europe, leaving their husbands for months at a time, are responsible for a lot of the unfaithful husbands of whom we hear so much.

Do these women think that marriage works a miracle in a man that turns him into a plaster saint? Do they think that because a man has a wife somewhere in the offing it takes away from him all desire for pleasure and amusement and companionship? Do they think that marriage turns a man into an automaton that knows nothing, feels nothing, and that goes on mechanically grinding out money for them to spend? If they do, they are fit candidates for a lunatic asylum, yet we see hundreds of wives all about us, who go upon that principle. They live gayly forth to summer resorts and winter resorts and dear Paris, apparently under the impression that husband will spend all his days grubbing in his office, and all of his evenings writing her how loudly it is at home without her, and indorsing a check in the letter.

And when such a woman comes home, and finds that hubby has entertained himself well and gayly while she was gone, and that he has found a convenient and pleasant lady near at home, why she beats upon her breast and calls upon the world to witness how badly she has been treated by a faithless husband.

But, in reality, she was the one who was first unfaithful to her obligations, and if she had stayed at her post and done her duty, the catastrophe would never have occurred.

Every woman, and especially every married woman, knows that a man has to have some feminine companionship. He has to have some woman to talk to, to confide in, to share his pleasures and sorrows and jolly him along; some woman to play around with. And he has to have some place to go to evenings where he will be amused and entertained.

And when his wife deprives him of her society, and shuts up the house and goes away, he is not to be blamed if he finds a substitute.

So far as your individual case is concerned, Mildred, you haven't a right to a single kick because your husband engages in flirtations with other women while you are staying at home with your friends.

If you want him to be true to you, stay with him, and watch your property. If you are not going to do this, you certainly haven't any right to expect him to support you. DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—Is there a law in this country prohibiting the marriage of a man to the sister of his deceased wife?

Do you think it wise for a man whose wife died, and left him with a small child, to marry his wife's sister, provided he loves her and she loves him, and, further, that she and the child are very fond of each other?

LONESOME WIDOWER. ANSWER: There is no law in this country against a man's marrying his deceased wife's sister, and I am under the impression that even in England the ban has been lifted against it.

So far from there being any objection to a man marrying his dead wife's sister, or a widow marrying her brother-in-law, there is every reason why such marriages should be encouraged, and why it should bring greater happiness to the individuals concerned than if they married strangers.

The thing that impedes the marriage of every widow and widower who have children is the stepmother or stepfather complication. For it seems to require more nobility of soul than the average woman and man possess not to be jealous and revengeful toward the children that belong to their husbands' and wives' previous marriages, and to whom their husbands and wives give a father's and a mother's love.

This is especially true of a woman who always wants to monopolize the man she loves, and who wants her husband to give all of his paternal affection and money to her children, and who feels defrauded of anything he does for his first wife's children.

But this feeling is minimized when the widower marries his wife's sister, who already has much of a mother's love for her sister's children, and who does not feel that they are the interlopers that another woman's children would seem to be. Therefore, she takes the little ones into her heart as her own, and is kind and just to them, and they hardly know that their mother-in-law is not their own mother.

No man is ever put in a crueler position than when he stands between his wife and his children, and you may see that, Lonesome Widower, if you marry your deceased wife's sister. DOROTHY DIX.

I don't suppose you flappers bother to read an old-fashioned book that is called the Bible, but in it you will find a very wonderful story about a man who sold his birthright for a mess of pottage. He was the oldest son, and as such the heir to vast wealth. The lordship of miles and miles of land and the flocks and herds that dotted the vast plains were his, but coming in hungry, his appetite pleased by the odor of a savory dish that was cooking, he gave all of his prospects for the future for a few mouthfuls of the dish he craved at the moment.

I often think that it is what you girls do, for the thrill and excitement of a few gay parties, sell your birthright of womanly fitness (and purity). How much you give and how little you get! You rub the bloom off the peach by letting every Tom, Dick and Harry kiss you and paw you over. You sell your good name and get yourself talked about by being out at all hours of the night and doing unconventional things. You ruin your health and forfeit every man's respect by drinking too much.

And where does it get you? Does it bring you any peace and happiness? Does it build up any fine character in you? Does it even get you a good husband? For the kind of a man who wants to marry you, you don't want to marry.

It doesn't pay, my dear. It doesn't pay a woman not to be good. DOROTHY DIX. Copyright by Public Ledger Company.

ADVENTURES of the TWINS by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

THE NIB NOB'S FIRE ENGINE. In came the man with two noses bearing a large bunch of catnip on a silver platter. It was a good thing that he hadn't 40 noses because he already had such a fine opinion of himself that his wig kept slipping backwards, from holding his head so high. Suddenly the cat smelled the catnip, and with a loud "Mew," he made a jump and knocked the platter out of Mister nosy's hand. The catnip flew all over the room and the platter fell with a clatter. At the same time the scissors, which were hidden in one of the everlasting umbrellas, jumped out and fell in the floor, just missing the cat's nose by half an inch. But in falling they cut off, not one, but seven of the cat's whiskers. Up jumped the cat at once. "Good for you, Mister Nosy," he cried. "You are as smart as the brave little tailor who killed seven flies with one blow. I couldn't have done better myself. As a reward you shall be promoted to be my chief brass polisher, when I get my new fire engine to ride in."

Nancy and Nick looked at each other and then at Inch o' Pie. And Inch o' Pie looked at Nancy and then at Nick. And then they all looked at each other. "What was this Ub Glub was saying? A new fire engine. He had said that he wanted a new fire engine, but nobody had promised him one. Four little Inch o' Pie was thinking 'It's all my fault. I brought the Twins here to this queer place. What if Ub Glub should take a notion to be mean? What if he should press a button and the slide his stilly old castle back into the ground with all of us in it. Oh dear! What will the Fairy Queen say when she hears of it? Oh dear me!" But Ub Glub the Nib Nob of No-body's Land was speaking. He was saying: "Here are the seven whiskers, my dears. See! Each one of them has three and odd! Seven times three—how's that for luck?" "Pretty good," said Nick, putting the seven whiskers into his knife pocket.

C. G. I. T. RALLY IN CENTENARY

Miss Mary Allison, National Girls' Work Secretary, Gives Address

Community Service Great Challenge to Girls—Banner Year is Hoped For

High ideals of citizenship duties were held up for the C. G. I. T. members by Miss Mary Allison, National Girls' Work Secretary of the United Church, in her address at the largest attended rally held last night in Centenary Hall.

It was Miss Allison's first visit to Saint John since she had left the Maritime field for the national secretaryship.

GIVEN WELCOME.

Miss Florence Christie, president of the Girls' Council, was the chairman of the meeting.

Miss Eleanor Rice spoke of the ideals of the C. G. I. T. member, Miss Florence Christie spoke of service, as the big ideal of the C. G. I. T. group and urged every one to try and make 1926 a banner year in C. G. I. T. Miss Gretchen Morhouse spoke of what the Girls' Council accomplishes in influencing C. G. I. T. members, and through them, girl-life in the community.

Miss Allison said it seemed like coming home to be at a rally in Saint John after three years absence. She spoke of the subject of citizenship and community service as the great challenge to the girls. Concentrating on church group activities she felt was a bit selfish and questioned whether this narrowness was not the reason why the C. G. I. T. had not brought into membership the girl in poor circumstances and the girl not connected with the church.

She described to the girls their task

In loving those in their own home and loving their school associates, friends and strangers alike. She pointed out their larger responsibility to strive for the social reforms which are sought for women and children.

She said it rested with women to make these things clear and that unless women and girls dedicated their lives to the service of their country, there would not come the better conditions so much desired.

The hardships of women and children in industry in this land and in other countries, Miss Allison pictured next and declared the girls could not any longer be ignorant about these things and that they ought to ask themselves if there was anything they could do.

TOUCH OF MASTER NEEDED. She closed by saying that while the girls might be filled with desire to diffuse the spirit of love throughout the world it required the touch of the Master to turn desires into fruitful acts.

The place of the C. G. I. T. in the community was the subject of the discussion led by Miss Mary Allison at the meeting of the C. G. I. T. Leaders' Council held last evening in Centenary church hall after the C. G. I. T. rally. The discussion was entered into generally and there were 80 of the leaders present.

DISCUSS CITIZENSHIP. Citizenship was discussed at a meeting of the Exmouth street Epworth League last evening. Papers on the subject were read by Fred Withers, Rev. E. E. Styles and W. C. Panjoly. A vocal solo was sung by Miss Frances Withers and a piano solo given by Miss Isabel Carr. In spite of the inclement weather there was a large attendance.

CARDS ENJOYED. There were 48 tables of cards at Stella Marie church hall last night in spite of the rain. Those present greatly enjoyed the evening and the prizes were won as follows: Ladies' first, Mrs. J. B. Stevens; second, Miss D. O'Flay; and gentlemen's first, Thomas Yorkie; second, M. C. McCormack, of Chatham.

LORD KITCHENER CHAPEL IS OPENED

Memorial in St. Paul's Cathedral Contains Effigy of Field Marshal LONDON, Jan. 18.—Resting in an unknown grave, Lord Kitchener has not been forgotten. In fact, his memory is to be perpetuated in the magnificent chapel which has been opened to his memory in St. Paul's Cathedral.

The chapel is in the base of the Bell Tower, north of the main entrance to the Cathedral. It is a small round chamber with a coffered dome and the stuary has been designed in scale with the place. The recumbent effigy in marble of Lord Kitchener in his robes is guarded by upright figures of St. Michael and St. George and faces an altar surmounted by a marble plectra. There is an illuminated roll of honor containing the names of the Royal Engineers of all ranks who fell in the Great War, kept in a niche behind large silver candle sticks standing on either side of the altar, presented by the London Rifle Brigade.

Your grandparents relied on ENO Years before the C.P.R. spanned Canada, ENO's "Fruit Salt" had found its way across the continent. As years have sped, its sterling merits have become more and more widely acknowledged. Now there is not a corner of the civilized world where the morning "dash" of ENO is not part and parcel of life as it should be lived. ENO excels because it is the one simple, pleasant and, above all, natural way to ensure internal cleanliness. You never wish you hadn't taken ENO, as perhaps you have wished with other laxatives. It doesn't do good-to-day to leave you worse to-morrow. It excels, too, because of its purity, its unchanging high quality, its freedom from purgative mineral salts and sugar and flavouring matter. The rule of our grandparents—ENO's "Fruit Salt" first thing every morning—is as sound to-day as ever it was.

To Give Your Gums a Healthy Coral Tint and restore "off-color" teeth to clearness

It's been learned that teeth are seldom naturally off color, clouded or dull, but simply coated with a dingy film your present cleansing method does not clear off successfully. Modern dental science now has discovered a way to remove that film. Results in restoring teeth to clearness quickly and in firming tender gums are surprising. One's whole appearance is changed. Send coupon for full 10-day tube to try. In a short time you can work a transformation on your teeth. Their natural lustre is probably just film-hidden.

Letters to the Editor

HE WANTS TO KNOW: To the Editor of The Times-Star. Sir,—Is it a requisite of the City Commissioners to pair off and draw extra salary for extra work, year after year?

In the published report of the city's expenditures for December, 1924-1925, there are two items of $50.00 each paid to two commissioners for services rendered to the revisors. Since the commissioners are in receipt of good salaries, one would suppose if the work did not come within the scope of their duties, there would be more chance of the money going into circulation if it were paid to two of the many idle taxpayers that are walking the streets, providing there is space at City Hall for a couple more superintendents.

Yours, CHAS. F. NAYLOR. Saint John, Jan. 18, 1926.

Letter Tells of Wonderful Relief After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Constion, Ontario.—"After a severe operation and a three weeks' stay in a hospital I returned home so weak that I was unable to move a chair. For four months I was almost frantic with pains and suffering until I thought sure there could not be any cure for me. I had very severe pains in my left side and suffered agony every month. One day when I was not able to get up my mother begged me to try your medicine. My husband got me a bottle of Vegetable Compound at once and I took it. I started a second bottle, and to my surprise and joy the pains in my side left me completely, and I am able to do all my work without help. I am a farmer's wife, so you see I can't be idle long. In all, I have taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and have also used the Sative Wash."—Mrs. L. LAJUNESS, Box 108, Constion, Ontario.

WHAT difference does it make? Light is the least expensive of all modern comforts. It costs less now than it did before the war.

A 75 watt Edison Mazda Lamp averages less than half a cent an hour for current. If you read your daily newspaper from end to end under the proper light, the paper will have cost you more than the light you read it by.

The price of a cigar given to a guest will more than cover the cost of illuminating your house all evening. In comparison with any other service to the same end, light is an infinitesimal item in the cost of comfort and convenience.

Near you is an Edison Mazda Lamp Agent. There you can obtain real information about good lighting.

St. Jude's and the Kirk Boy Scout troops in West Saint John with Scoutmaster T. Linton and Rev. W. McN. Matthews in charge, held a joint meeting last night in St. Jude's rooms and heard with close attention a lecture by Scoutmaster E. Boyaner on "Light, Color, and Vision." There were 30 of the scouts present. Mr. Matthews spoke briefly. An investiture of two of St. Jude's boys as tenderfoot Scouts was carried out impressively. Those invested were George Woodland and Frank McKee. A council circle was formed afterwards and songs, speeches and stories made the time pass very quickly. L. L. Johnson, district secretary made a plea for co-operation with the district organization and Scoutmaster Boyaner spoke on "Real Scouting." Assistant Cubmaster Douglas MacLennan spoke of the plans for the pack this season. A court of honor meeting was held afterwards.

In his own constituency, 1,500 fewer people were employed this year than in 1921, and it was similar throughout the provinces where mines were working one or two days a week. It was strange that men had to be driven to such looting, as had occurred recently, for lack of work.

BLIZARD SAY

Consolidation WHEN YOU BUY Miller's Creek Coal

It has come to our notice that there are those making a door to door canvass selling a coal claimed to be exactly the same coal as CONSOLIDATION Miller's Creek.

It is true that coal other than CONSOLIDATION Miller's Creek has been imported which is reputed to be from the Miller's Creek district. Be that as it may, it is not CONSOLIDATION Miller's Creek, and there is no coal exactly the same. CONSOLIDATION Miller's Creek has qualities found in no other, even in the Miller's Creek district.

If it is genuine the word "CONSOLIDATION" as well as Miller's Creek should appear on your delivery slip. If the word "CONSOLIDATION" is not there, you are not getting the genuine article. The word "CONSOLIDATION" is used to protect the public from substitution and trickery.

The genuine article can be had in Saint John from the following: C. R. Nelson, Fairville, telephone West 578; Robert Roberts, 26 Murray street, telephone Main 4769; Peerless Coal Co., 71 Dock street, telephone Main 2647, or direct from the sole wholesale distributors in the Maritimes.

Montreal Maroons Are Playing in Boston Arena Tonight

MONTREAL, Jan. 19.—For the first time since they jumped into their best form, Canadiens will meet their old time rivals, Ottawa Senators in a scheduled N. H. L. fixture here tonight.

The two teams, which in recent years have been close rivals for the league championship, met twice in the first third of the schedule and in both contests were blanked. Since then, however, the local team has opened the throttle, and have been flashing rare speed against the other club in the circuit.

Cleveland, Woodstock Defence Man Was Most Effective Player on Ice

Special to The Times-Star. ST. STEPHEN, Jan. 18.—In an exhibition game of hockey here tonight, St. Stephen defeated Woodstock by a score of 4 to 3. It was a game that pleased the fans. Sometimes there was some good team work and some good individual rushes, and at other times it was ragged. The visitors, who did their playing in an open air rink, found the boards quite difficult, but they have a little sticky ice and a rink with a good addition to one of the sections of the M. A. H. A. Cleveland, their defence man, was exceptionally good and was the most effective player on the ice tonight.

Penalties were numerous with both teams sharing alike and mostly for tripping. George Walker referred.

K. O'S CARBONE SYDNEY, N. S., Jan. 19.—Fighting at catchweights, Phil Flanagan of Boston won a comparatively easy victory last night here, knocking out Joe Carbone of Glace Bay in the ninth round of a scheduled ten-round bout.

SKATING TAGS TO GO ON SALE TODAY

With the world's championship skating meet at Lily Lake only eight days away the cry of the sporting fraternity in Saint John is to get the skating tags. The tags have been put on sale today.

FIELD HEAVY ONE

As the opening day approaches it is becoming evident that the field will be very heavy. Already more than forty entries have been received, or are on the way in the senior class.

NEW STARS APPEAR

The supposition is a wrong one as the reason for the old stars not making the trip is that new stars have arisen and some of the old favorites have not been able to make the grade.

CALGARY WINS, 3-0 CALGARY, ALTA., Jan. 19.—Calgary Tigers, flashing one of the most elusive and colorful forward passing games and a defence that outmaneuvered the opposition every turn, decisively outclassed the Vancouver Maroons here Saturday night to take the long end of a 3-0 score.
