JUNIOR FAINTS; TRIAL IS HALTED

Crippen Case Was Resumed In London Today

DEW ON STAND

Inspector Tells Story of Search of House and Arrest of Dew—Alarming Collapse of Juror Interrupts Evidence of the Detective

Times' Special Cable

London, Oct. 19.—The trial of Dr. Crippen was resumed today. Crippen stepped lightly into the dock, smartly groomed as yesterday.

Inspector Dew, the first witness, repeated his story of friends of Mrs. Crippen consulting him of his interview with Crippen, who, confessing he had lied, said his wife was still alive but he had said she was dead to cover up a scandal.

Dew described his first visit to Hilldrop Crescent. Crippen was most courteous, showing him over the house. Crippen suggested inspection of an advertisement in American papers, asking for Dew to see his wife, and offering a reward for discovery.

Dew described his search of the house, and gardens, on the second day, finding human remains as before told.

The inspector told of Crippen's flight, his chase across the ocean, his confronting Crippen on the S. S. Montrose. "I am not sorry," said Crippen, "the anxiety has been too much." Dew told Crippen the reason he handcuffed him was because he left a card saying he could not stand the horrors he might undergo and would commit suicide. Crippen declared he would not.

Dew told of finding jewelry worn in Crippen's underwear and told of Crippen's statement that he never knew nothing about the matter.

Mr. Tobin objected Dew to a searching cross-examination. He asked: "Did Crippen seem at all anxious, worried or nervous when showing the evidence?" "He was perfectly cool and showed no alarm or fright."

Mr. Tobin put a series of questions with the object of getting from Dew a statement that the floor of the cellar had the appearance of having been undisturbed for years, and Dew admitted the bricks were tightly packed and covered with dust. It was by pushing a sharp poker that he found there was no mortar between them.

Juryman Collapses
While Inspector Dew was being questioned in reference to the suggestion that Crippen meant to jump overboard from the Montrose, a juror fainted, his collapse being preceded by alarming guttural sounds. The proceedings were at once suspended.

Dr. Wilcox, home office expert, attended the juror who was taken out of court. The judge asked Wilcox to confer with him. Crippen seemed keenly interested, and spoke to the juror, apparently asking what was going to happen. At the juror's brusque reply, Crippen smiled as if amused.

Mr. Tobin had been putting before Dew the statement that Crippen need not have written a card to Le Neve when he was continuously with her, but the judge, interposing, said that was a matter for argument.

One of the doctors who examined the juror, was then called to the box, answering the judge, he said the juror fainted as the result of indigestion. The doctor thought he would be all right in an hour. The proceedings were accordingly adjourned, the judge remarking that this might prevent prolongation of the trial a couple of days.

Later the juror having recovered the trial was resumed.

Professor Pepper said the remains were human, those of a stout adult, dissection had been done by some one skilled in dissection. The remains were according to four or eight months. It was impossible that they were buried in 1905. A brown hair was found. There was no evidence of disease in the organs, and no apparent cause of death. On a piece of the abdominal wall was the scar of a wound.

To Mr. Tobin, he said that, taking the remains themselves, apart from the hair and other things it, would be impossible to tell the sex. He had heard Mrs. Crippen had undergone an operation before he formed the opinion that the mark on the flesh was a scar.

LABOR OF EMPIRE IN CONGRESS

British Leader Writes to Head of Unions in Colonies

MEETING IN 1911

Idea is to Discuss Plan of Joint Action on Labor Matters—Tariff Reform and Imperial Federation—The Reville Movement.

Times' Special Cable

London, Oct. 19.—British labor leaders are conferring with colonial labor leaders with the view of arranging for a special conference of representatives of the various labor parties of the empire, to be held in London in 1911, about the time of the colonial conference. The idea is to discuss the possibility of joint action by the parties on all matters affecting the interests of the workers of the empire.

Sir A. Crippen, M. P., speaking at Slough, said: his visit to Canada had done much to strengthen his views on the necessity of not delaying action in the cause of tariff reform and formulating some practicable system of imperial federation. Many influential men he met seemed to think there was danger in delay. The opportunity now open might not remain so for an indefinite time.

The closing paragraph of the manifesto of the committee on the reville movement reads: "The first and last items on the reville programme are the navy and colonial preference, vital securities, on one hand, of the immediate and, on the other hand, of the future. In neither case is there a year to lose. The British Empire is at the parting of the ways from one foreign state supremacy against Britain or a bid for naval supremacy from another country to Canada an offer of reciprocity. If the gates of our dock be swept away, the social prosperity of our people must inevitably sink."

"With regard to settlement of Mayes case, no suggestion was made to me that I should agree to purchase or employ the Beaver, and there was no understanding to this effect."

FOUND GREENLAND HAS GOOD HARBOR
Danish Expedition Returns After Four Years, With Good Reports

London, Oct. 19.—The latest expedition to return from Greenland's ice coasts is the Danish party under Capt. Borg. It has reached Copenhagen after four years' absence in the polar seas.

The task was to explore and to chart the waters of the south-west coast of Greenland from Juhlshavn to Godthaab. In order to facilitate navigation on the west coast of the island, Capt. Borg's vessel marked a number of dangerous channels and reefs with buoys. An important result of the expedition's work along the icebound inlets of the Greenland coast was to prove the existence of good harbors. To the south-west an excellent anchorage was found near the copper mines, which are believed to promise great wealth for future generations.

The chief cartographical fruit of the quest of the Eislaene was the mapping of several navigable skerries. Capt. Borg's report that last summer an unusual quantity of enormous icebergs interfered with the passage of the ship along the coast. At times during the four years the commissariat of the expedition ran very low and a mass of seal steak or fricasseed seal dog occasionally formed the sole fare.

Very Noticeable Increase in Quantity of Spruce Sent Last Month as Compared With September 1909—The Figures for the Two Years.

The shipment of wood goods from St. John to the United Kingdom, the continent, etc., as compared with last year, shows a big increase all round. Particularly noticeable is the increase in spruce shipments for September, as compared with the corresponding month of last year. In one line only—birch—does there appear a falling off. A comparison for September shows the increase in spruce to be 9,055,381, and the spruce totals for the year ended September 30, show the increase to be 8,888,022. The falling off in the birch shipments is 9,159. The statement follows:

WERE MUCH PRESSURED
The Times new reporter yesterday accompanied the Daughters of the Empire on a tour of inspection of the Old Burial

Ground. He showed them the handsome large monument erected by the citizens in memory of the Loyalists, and bearing on its four sides the names of the founders of the city. The monument is in that place of sacred remembrance. The ladies were much interested in the monument and also in the quaint heterophony on the ancient tombstones that still remain. One of these were inscriptions, and the new reporter explained that if he planted along the German street boulevard there had ever been any inscriptions, a loving and reverent posterity would have kept them legible, as that people could not read them. The Daughters said she had not thought of that, and therefore gave up the task of trying to decipher the curious marks. All of the Daughters were much impressed by the many evidences of loving remembrance with which the place abounds, and one of them said it would not be her of a pasture in Ontario that was long used as a burial place by the Indians, except that in the latter case there were no decaying headstones scattered about.

REAL ESTATE RUMORS RIFE

More Deals Afoot—A St. John Man Buys Kings County Farm

One of the latest rumors regarding real estate deals is that a big project involving as much if not more money than the C. P. R. deal in Main street, has been or is about to be arranged. At present details are not available but it is believed in well informed circles that the announcement will be made in a few days and that it will be of more than ordinary interest.

A representative of McKenzie & Mann, of the Canadian Northern Railway was in the city not long ago and it is intimated that a deal may be the outcome of that visit.

Regarding the statement that the Ryan property, on the north side of King square had been sold, it is learned that the property which was owned by Trinity church has been purchased by J. M. Barry, but it is said that he was acting as an agent for other parties. Mr. Barry was asked about the deal declined to discuss it in any way.

There is a real estate in Kings county was put through a few days ago, whereby Andrew Myles, of this city became the possessor of the Harrison farm, called Beach Hill. It is of about 200 acres and was formerly owned by Rev. John Harrison, but the last owner was John Oetting and the last occupant, Miss Mary Harrison. The price paid is said to have been 2,000. It is a splendid piece of property.

POLITICAL CHANGES IN AIR
Outline of Project as It is Considered in England

London, Oct. 18.—Fundamental changes in British legislation and the whole system of parliamentary government are impending. The conference of leaders of the Government and the Opposition, which has been considering a possible compromise on the question of the House of Lords, held four sessions this week and has now reached the crux of its deliberations. Not a word of the proceedings has been allowed to transpire officially, but it is possible to give the general scope of the great changes contemplated.

It is by no means certain, perhaps not even probable, that an agreement will be reached, but the leaders of both parties have made a genuine effort to reach a non-partisan solution of the grave question involved.

The basis of the sweeping changes under discussion is Eary Grey's federation scheme, the Empire, as he outlined during his visit to London. This provides for local home rule for Ireland, Scotland, England and Wales. The Imperial Parliament is to consist of a House of Commons of 200 members and a Senate of the same number. The Commons will comprise approximately twenty-five Irish, twenty-five Scotch, twelve Welsh and 138 English members. The Senate will include 100 snow storm struck it from the north-west. The steering apparatus gave out at the first blast, and the dirigible, utterly helplessly turned and drifted south east toward Coul Bay, where the ship's party took sight of it. A rescue band set out at once, and finally found the aeronaut two miles and a half from the coast, stranded on a glacier, but uninjured. The envelope of the gas bag had been torn by contact with the ice, but the car and most of the equipment were saved.

Gave Up When Pearly Reached Pole
But Wellman was still convinced that an air craft could reach the pole and began at once to plan another attempt. He built and strengthened the America, and on August 15 of last year the big flyer cast loose again from her Spitzbergen anchorage. This time she was manoeuvred for some time, that there might be no fatal defect in her gear to be discovered after the real start. Everything seemed to be in perfect condition. So after a little it headed north at twenty-five miles an hour.

This time the elements were favorable and, for some thirty-two miles all went smoothly. Then, without warning the fastener guide rope to which was attached one thousand pounds of provisions broke away and the second attempt was at an end.

Then came the announcement that Commander Peary had reached the desired goal and Wellman gave up his ambition.

When it was announced last July that the polar explorer would attempt to cross the Atlantic in his ill-fated trans-Atlantic expedition in the dirigible America who were rescued from almost certain death at sea, 300 miles east of Cape Hatteras yesterday, believe that a voyage in an airship across the Atlantic is yet to be accomplished. The Wellman party are aboard the steamship Trent, which rescued the aeronauts when their position was desperate. The Trent will dock this afternoon. He succeeded in creating a new record for dirigibles, being between 70 and 72 hours in the air and covering, according to Wellman, 4,000 miles over rough sea.

His Story
Wellman says that after working well to sea on Sunday the dirigible was caught in a thirty-mile northwest blow which carried the America clear off her course. Night came, and the equilibrium was upset and tumbled over the waves threatening the America with destruction. The crew was calm, but exhausted, and one after the other went to sleep expecting to wake up in the sea. Every effort was centered on keeping the America afloat and gasoline was tossed overboard. The equilibrators kept up its incessant pounding and threatened to sweep away the life boat.

Wellman said that a course was laid for the Azores, but a veering wind made it impossible to reach the island with reduced gasoline. Bermuda was the next hope. On Monday night some gasoline and some damaged machinery was jettisoned to keep the America afloat. Early Tuesday morning rescue came.

The weight of the life boat and of the party removed from the airship, the America shot up high into the air and disappeared quickly in the darkness.

The loss of the unfortunate dirigible was witnessed without regret, according to Mr. Wellman, as it could never have been used again, having been weakened by the constant jerking of the equilibrators. Wellman believes that the feat of crossing the Atlantic in a gas bag may be accomplished, but that a larger and stronger air craft will have to be built.

Wellman says the equilibrator was the mistake of the expedition.

Walter Wellman first attracted attention to himself as an explorer when he discovered the landing place of Columbus on Watling Island (San Salvador) in the Bahamas, and set up a monument there. Next he turned his attention to the north, and in 1884 led an expedition up north-east of Spitzbergen to latitude 81 degrees. For a long time nothing of the kind had been attempted, and he was believed to be lost, but as he had been equipped with a record of successful discovery. He followed this up in 1887-9 by leading a party into Franz Josef Land and discovering several new islands.

In the spring of 1906 began, under the auspices of "The Chicago Record-Herald," his series of abortive attempts to reach the North Pole by airship. He built a big dirigible balloon the America, in which he hoped to make the distance between Spitzbergen and the North Pole. The airship was put together in Paris, and there transported to Dane's Island, Spitzbergen, on September 2, of the following year. The America started up through Sverdrup Sound in tow of a steamer. After an hour's sail the boat cut loose, and the airship headed north, driven by her own motors. It had proceeded only a little distance however, when a wind and snow storm struck it from the north-west. The steering apparatus gave out at the first blast, and the dirigible, utterly helplessly turned and drifted south east toward Coul Bay, where the ship's party took sight of it. A rescue band set out at once, and finally found the aeronaut two miles and a half from the coast, stranded on a glacier, but uninjured. The envelope of the gas bag had been torn by contact with the ice, but the car and most of the equipment were saved.

HIS CHOICE BURDEN. Among the late Bishop Fox's anecdotes about prayer, "said a Philadelphia Methodist, 'there was one concerning a very original Norwegian preacher. This preacher in the course of a long prayer one Sunday night, recounted the many misfortunes and evils that had befallen him in the course of his long life. Then, sighing heavily, he prayed: 'Thou hast tried me with affliction, with bereavement, and with sorrow of many kinds. If Thou art obliged to try me again, Lord, try me with the burden of wealth.'"

APPLE PACKING CONTEST FOR TITLE OF BEST IN WORLD

APPLE PACKING CONTEST FOR TITLE OF BEST IN WORLD. Test on Nov. 16 at Apple Show in Spokane—How Judging Will Be Done. Spokane, Wash., Oct. 19.—Interest in the free-for-all apple packing contest for the championship of the world at the third national apple show in Spokane, November 14 to 19, is not confined to the commercial orchard districts in Washington, Oregon, California, Idaho, Montana, Colorado, Utah and New Mexico, composing the box apple group, but has attracted the attention of orchard centres in the middle west and east. Ren H. Rice, secretary and manager of the show, has received requests for information and conditions of the competition, which is scheduled for the afternoon and evening of November 16, from a score of eastern cities, including St. Paul, Kansas City, Omaha, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Washington, D.C., New York, Boston and several points in the Florida orange belt. He expects at least a dozen entrants from these cities. The first prize in this contest is $100 in gold, a specially engraved medalion watch chain and the title of world's champion apple packer, with $50 to second and $25 to third. The points to make a perfect score of 100 are: Uniformity and alignment, 10 each; height at center of pack, 10 each; height at ends, 10 each; length of pack, 10 each; width of pack, 10 each; weight of pack, 10 each; and time to pack, 10 each. The apples will be packed diagonally or in alternate rows in the standard box adopted by the Northwest Fruit Growers' Association. The capacity of the box is a little more than a Winchester bushel. Each contestant will be required to pack four boxes within forty minutes to each twenty points for speed, and each additional minute consumed will reduce the score two points. If not finished in sixty minutes the packer will be ruled out. The management will furnish tables, boxes, apples and paper free of charge. No entrance fee will be charged. A. P. Betsworth, of Mosier, Ore., an expert packer, will be chief judge.

MUNICIPALITIES UNION BUSINESS SESSIONS OPENED

MUNICIPALITIES UNION BUSINESS SESSIONS OPENED. Woodstock, N. B., Oct. 19.—(Special)—The Union of Municipalities met in the Court House here today. Mayor Reilly of Moncton in the chair. Among those present, are—Secretary McCready, of Fredericton; Ald. Porta, Moncton; Ald. King, of St. John; R. E. Armstrong of St. Andrews; and M. G. Siddle, of Westmorland. Mayor Jones of Moncton presided. The meeting referred to the slow growth of the town, and said the chief reason was heavy rates of the P. R. Mayor Reilly said the object of the union was co-operation, and it was intended to be a factor in the development of necessary legislation. In the discussion on the president's address, J. King Kelly said the union would make a thorough investigation before reporting any act going through the legislature. He referred to the monopoly given the telephone company and denounced it as a most iniquitous act.

IT CAN BE DONE, SAYS WELLMAN. (Continued from page 1.) its course to which a balloon would be subject in the air currents of the open ocean. The record for sustained dirigible flight is now thirty-seven hours and a distance of 49,000 miles by Count Zeppelin. It is now believed by aeronautical authorities generally that the Wellman dirigible has greater staying power than the Zeppelin. Walter Wellman is fifty-two years old. He was born in Mentor, Ohio. He began life as a newspaper man, or rather newspaper boy, for he was still a youngster when he started to run a weekly in Sutton, N. H. At the age of twenty-two he established The Cincinnati Evening Post. In 1884 he became Washington correspondent of The Chicago Herald and later of The Chicago Record-Herald.

BIG BOWLING PRIZES. Spokane, Wash., Oct. 19.—Ten thousand dollars in prizes and $2,500 in guaranteed purses for the highest individual and 3-team scores will be offered at the 1911 tourney of the Western Bowling Congress in Spokane, beginning March 6, and continuing ten days. The $1,000 prize for the high five-man team is the largest ever hung up in a bowling tournament. The other special prizes are: High three-man team, $750; high two-man team, $500; high individual score, $300. Managers of the congress in Spokane say the three-man tourney, a new feature of the sport, will establish a precedent for prize money, while the other guaranteed purses equal the largest amounts ever offered in similar events. Expert bowlers will come from Denver, St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaha, Council Bluffs, Des Moines, Duluth, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Milwaukee, Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, New York and Boston, and 100 other centres in the eastern, middlewestern and southern states, also from various parts of the Northwestern and Pacific states. The entrance fee has been placed at $100, to permit teams to enter their members in the four special events. The Spokane chamber of commerce will furnish the convention hall and raise $5,000 for the tournament, and $10,000 is to be subscribed by business men and received in entrance fees. The funds for the expense of the tourney will be secured by $1 membership fees, and the gate money. The chamber of commerce is also planning to entertain officers of the congress and visiting delegates and families at a series of receptions and banquets.

The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., OCTOBER 19, 1910. The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Canterbury street every evening (Sunday excepted) by the St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

Subscription prices:—Delivered by carrier, $3.00 per year, by mail, $2.00 per year in advance. The Times has the largest afternoon circulation in the Maritime Provinces.

Special Representatives—Frank R. Northrup, Brunswick Building, New York; Tribune Building, Chicago. British and European representatives—The Clougher Publicity Syndicate, Grand Trunk Building, Trafalgar Square, London, England, where copies of this journal may be seen and to which subscribers intending to visit England may have their mail addressed.

Some material has been hauled to Church street and spread upon the surface of the street. The rains will wash much of it down upon the pavement of Prince William street, after which it will no doubt be hauled away again.

The Toronto Mail and Empire says:—"Maritime union is an old subject, and is from time to time discussed in an academic way. But there is reason to believe that it will not become a practical issue for many, many years. The three eastern provinces are quite indisposed to give up their legislative independence and seeing that they are not financially in need of union, owing to the increased subsidy from Ottawa, their desire to remain apart is not unimpaired."

British Columbia papers have a good deal to say about the apple show to be held in Vancouver on Oct. 31. It is described by the Victoria Colonist as the first Canadian apple show, and visitors are expected to be present from the United States and Europe as well as from different parts of Canada. Forty car loads of fruit have been promised and include a consignment from Nova Scotia. There is no mention of an exhibit from New Brunswick.

Spruce lumber shipments from St. John to transatlantic ports for nine months of this year were 120,512,727 superficial feet, compared with 111,623,795 feet in the corresponding period last year. The British lumber trade has therefore been fairly active this year. The shipments in September were more than double those of September, 1909. Shipments of birch have been about the same as last year. The weak spot in the trade this year has been in the United States, where the demand has been very poor and prices unsatisfactory.

The Victoria Colonist enters a protest against the statement that the agitation for commercial union between the United States and Canada some twenty-odd years ago was an annexation movement, and declares it was an honest effort on the part of some Canadians to improve trade conditions. The Colonist adds that those who charge that annexation was the ultimate goal of those who sought commercial union are confounding that agitation in Canada with a more or less secret campaign for annexation about the same time by people of wealth and influence in the United States. The Colonist adds: "There was good money for such Canadians of repute as would openly advocate the political union of the two countries, but the takers were few."

The question of the Canadian navy will be the chief issue in the political campaign in the by-election in the constituency of Drummond and Arthabaska. The Liberals have nominated a candidate and in opposition to him will be a Nationalist supported not only by Mr. Bourassa, but by Mr. Monk and as many of the Conservatives as he can influence. Thus the Conservatives are making common cause with Mr. Bourassa. Whatever the effect may be in the constituency where the fight is in progress, the lesson will not be lost upon the people of the provinces outside of Quebec. It is that the Conservatives are willing to unite themselves with any influence, however narrow and destructive it may be in its tendencies, so long as it may appear to offer them some advantage in their fight against Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his government.

A man named Casey of Neguac, if his strength holds out, seems likely to get a good deal of stimulating exercise, along with the small-pox which he is supposed to carry about his person. According to a correspondent, he walked from a lumber camp in the county into the town of Newcastle. The town authorities ordered him back to camp. The county authorities insisted that he had no business there. The story breaks off at this point, but it may be presumed that Mr. Casey is still ferrying his luckless way from the county into the town and from the town back into the county, while the learned gentlemen of the health boards of town and county settle their little differences. If Mr. Casey had it to do over again he would probably have himself vaccinated.

THE RISE IN SOAP (Bradstreet's) The "ultimate consumer" after battling for many months with high prices for candles and wearing apparel, is now confronted with a new peril, a rise in the price of soap. Laundry grades have gone up 10 per cent. The Oil, Paint and Drug Reporter tells us that soap-making formulas have undergone a change, and that raw materials have risen in a noteworthy way. Coconut oil, formerly extensively used in the manufacture of the higher grades of toilet soaps, has become almost unavailable for this purpose. Margarine now absorbs large quantities of that oil. Coconut oil is in light supply. Palm oil is at prohibitive prices. Corn oil is quoted at record figures. Soyabean oil, a new ingredient, is so cheaper, and although the advent of this oil has helped the soap industry somewhat, it has not depressed prices on other oils. Olive oil and foats are away up. Peanut oil has practically disappeared from the market. Tallow is scarce, which means high prices, and rosins have joined the procession towards higher levels.

When you visit a meat shop the butcher is sure to give you the high sign.

Premier Hazen's organ, the St. John Standard, appears to be doing what it can to encourage the farmers of New Brunswick to remove from the province. In today's issue it has an article with this head: "Maritime farmers leaving for west—Many of them have purchased land and will leave in the Spring." The story which has this heading tells of the visit to this city of a C. P. R. land agent and of the great interest alleged to be shown by our farmers in his proposal that they should go to the west. In addition to this article the Standard has a very long interview with another gentleman, who, although he says that he sees evidences that the farmers who work intelligently make more money here than the average farmer does in the west, yet advises the man who is not making much headway to go west and speaks of the better opportunities in the west, in his opinion, offers for the man with a family of growing sons.

The publication of such matter as this in the organ of Premier Hazen cannot but excite surprise. An effort has been made to convey the impression that Mr. Hazen and the Canadian Pacific Railway had large plans by which, working together, they would attract a large and growing number of desirable settlers to the province of New Brunswick; but here is the agent of the railway company actively campaigning to induce New Brunswick farmers to leave the province, and the organ of Mr. Hazen is giving him all the assistance in its power. It is had enough to have harvest excursions offering cheap rates and taking thousands of young men to the west, many of them to remain there. It is worse when an organ of the provincial government encourages the movement to induce "whole families" to leave the province. The C. P. R. has interests in New Brunswick as well as in the west. What does it propose to do in the line of getting new settlers here to take the places of those whom it is inducing to go west? What is Mr. Hazen doing, and what does he intend to do, to offset this campaign by the railway company, to which his organ is giving such eager assistance? Why should the province of New Brunswick in its fight for population be encoupled to meet the competition of a Canadian railway having such friendly relations as does the C. P. R. with the government of the province? This is a question the people will ask and to which they should demand an answer.

Premier Hazen's organ denounces the federal government for its alleged failure to come to the aid of Campbellton. The federal government is carrying on very extensive work in connection with the I. C. R. at Campbellton. What is the Hazen government doing?

SEPARATED The day is drear and cheerless—dear, A sadness fills the atmosphere; Seem whispering grasses to allude To nothing but my solitude, And in her sombre morning dress Dame Nature mourns my loneliness.

The day is long and weary—dear, How yearns my heart for bygone cheer! Where once we walked I walk again; I rove through woodland, house and glen—her were where we sat together, too, And all my thoughts are thoughts of you. The night is dark and lonely—dear, Mine eyes strive hard to shed no tear: As travels time night's weary road Increased becomes heart's heavy load; The very fall of morning dew Reminds me of my grief anew!

The sky is black and moonless—dear, Should not my bright star alone appear No longer would night starbe in Ah! could your starry eyes I see, Heart's firmament would then have light And glow would be my starless night! —Charles Arthur Vandermolen.

NOT WORTH THE RISK. (Utica Globe). Harry, according to the story of Booker T. Washington in a recent speech, had belonged to an Alabama planter who owned a ferry on the Chattahoochee river. This ferry the negro had operated. To make the ferryman realize, to his duty the owner had allowed him one-half his earnings. Harry saved his gains carefully, and in the course of time proposed to his master to buy his freedom. The master consented, and an agreement was made that Harry should pay $800 for himself, half in hand. Not long after Harry's skill was capsize in the middle of the stream, and he himself was carried down two or three miles before he could get ashore, being then more dead than alive. Wretchedly bedraggled and dilapidated, he presented himself before his master. "Arise, John," he said, "I want to trade back." "What's the matter, Harry?" "Well, Master John, $400 is no 'money' in I want 'risk in dis byar bager."

CELTIC REASONING.

(Winnipeg Saturday Night.) A son of Ireland was painting a fence around a house in one of the suburbs of Chicago. His face wore a troubled look; but suddenly it brightened, and, dipping his brush into the paint pot, he began to paint faster and faster.

PROUD OF OUR CRUISER

"Kit" of the Toronto Mail and Empire is no politician, but she is evidently inspired by a truly Canadian sentiment. During a recent trip to England she went to Plymouth and was shown over the Canadian cruiser Niobe, and the one thing which impressed her most was that she was, while on board the cruiser, on Canadian soil.

Niobe filled her with satisfaction. It is not H. M. S. Niobe, but H. M. C. S. Niobe, and the "C" makes all the difference. Trust a woman to get at the truth of a subject and she will be generally right. And in this case this Canadian woman has made a bull's eye when she emphasizes the pride which she felt in being upon the king's ship under the Canadian flag. There is nothing "in" about "Kit," and her visit to the Niobe ought at once and for all end the timorous references in the editorial columns of the Tory newspapers.

Theatrical expense accounts come under the head of play bills.

The Evening-Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

Do you know of any unusual way in which a woman can earn, either all her bread and butter or just a little butter to go with the bread with which she may already be supplied?

If you do, please send the good word along, so that some little sister who has not yet found her niche in the world's work may profit by it. That there is no need for the tremendous overworking of a few professions by women and the consequent lowering of wages, is a burning belief with me, and therefore I occasionally devote this column to items as to unusual occupations in which women have been successful.

Surely, in all your acquaintance there is some woman who has found happiness and profit in some unusual occupation. Then let me know about it. Flower-growing is an occupation which is attracting more women year after year. Those who think that simply a love of flowers is sufficient stock in trade for that business, are finding in school of tribulation the folly of their expectations. But many women who realize that good business head and indefatigable energy are also necessary, are making great successes as florists. Three women in a small town in New York, who are making a very good living growing carnations chiefly and other flowers as a side issue, tell me of this very much better money than their school teacher and stenographer friends.

"I once knew a lady who made a very nice sum of money by taking care of large private libraries," writes one of my correspondents. "Her work was placing books in their correct order and dusting them and their cases at regular intervals—say once a month. She also took care of bric-a-brac and fine articles that could not be left to servants."

That reminds me of a sign which I myself recently saw hanging in an employment bureau. I do not remember the exact wording but the sense was an advertisement for the woman whose name was signed would clean jewelry and silverware at the employer's house. The names of several of the best known women in the city were given as references. It seems to me that such an undertaking should be a great success. I know many women who dislike to allow their diamonds to go out of their homes for cleaning at a regular jeweler's because of their fear of substitution.

"What is greatly needed," another correspondent writes, "is a companion for the many elderly ladies who for a variety of reasons, although well provided with money, are more or less alone in the world. A woman who would make a business of visiting and amusing these people, and at times accompanying them to places of amusement, ought to be a very profitable occupation. Personally, I never heard of anyone engaged in just such a business, but I present it as a suggestion which some reader who is of the cheerful and lively disposition requisite for such an occupation, might work out."

ter half as large as an egg. Beat 2 eggs till light and stir into the dry mixture. Add 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 cups of sweet milk, in which has been dissolved 1 teaspoon soda. Bake in a cake tin 9 1/2 inches and 2 inches deep. Good warm or cold.

APPLE PIE. Three tablespoons hot water, 6 of melted lard, pinch of salt, flour to roll. For filling 1 part about 5 tablespoons brown sugar; shake of cinnamon; and a few tiny lumps of butter, with the apples. When the top crust is on I wet it with thick sour milk. When baked it is a rich brown and flaky.

DOUGHNUTS. One and one-half cups of sugar, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon melted butter, 1 cup sweet milk, 1 teaspoon soda, in the milk, 2 teaspoons cream of tartar, 1 of salt, spice to taste and flour to roll. Workmen are Wanted (Charlton Gazette) D. K. Morrison, of Morrison & Clark, the contractors in charge of the new railway line, has gone to Charlottetown to endeavor to secure workmen, as the work is not progressing as rapidly as the contractors would wish owing to the scarcity of workmen.

The wage generally offered is $1.05 to $1.75 a day, but the contractors have paid as high as $2 a day for such manual labor as unloading cars and yet the supply is not equal to the demand. It begins to look as though Charlton needs workmen about as badly as Campbellton, for contractors in the town are short-handed as well. It is rare to see an idle man on a street corner these days and there is no excuse for any man to be idle who is able to work.

WHY SUFFER FROM PILES? Zam-Buk Gives Certain Ease

Friction on veins (the hemorrhoid veins) that are swollen, inflamed and gorged with blood, is what causes the terrible pain and stinging and smarting of piles. Zam-Buk applied at night will be found to give ease before morning. Thousands of persons have proved this. Why not be guided by the experience of others? Mr. Thomas Pearson, of Prince Albert, Sask., writes: "I must thank you for the benefit I have received from the use of Zam-Buk. Last summer I suffered greatly from piles. I started to use Zam-Buk and found it gave me relief, so I continued it, and after using three or four boxes, I am pleased to say it has effected a complete cure."

Magistrate Samuel of Weston, King's Co., N. S., writes: "I suffered long from itching piles, but Zam-Buk has now cured me. Mr. William G. Upper Nine Mile River, Has. Co., N. S., says: "I suffered terribly from piles, the pain at times being almost unbearable. I tried various ointments, but they failed to do me the slightest good. I was tired of trying various remedies, when I heard of Zam-Buk, and bought as a last resource. I would give this balm a trial. I procured a supply and commenced with the treatment. After a very short time Zam-Buk effected what several other ointments and medicines had failed to do. I am now cured. Zam-Buk is also a sure cure for skin injuries and diseases, eczema, ulcers, various veins, cuts, burns, bruises, chaps, and sores, etc. 50c. box, all druggists and stores, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. New York Giants Won Game. New York, Oct. 18.—Christy Mathewson was an unmovable problem to the Highlanders today and the Giants had no trouble in winning the fifth game of the post-season series, 5 to 1. The games now stand: New York Nationals, 3; Americans, 1; tie, 1.

Ty Cobb at Last Gets the Auto. Chicago, Oct. 18.—Tyrus Cobb, by official verdict of President Johnson, Secretary, was the leading batsman of the American League during the last season, with a winning percentage over Larry Lajoie of Cleveland, of 0.089.

Black's Team Won Championship. The provincial bowling tournament, which began and concluded yesterday, was won by Black's Alleys team. In six matches were played, two in the morning and four in the afternoon. As a result of yesterday's play, the Black's Alleys trophy goes back to Black's Alleys. The Victoria Alleys team were last year's winners, but they explain the loss of this trophy by the loss of all but two of their former team. "To Small Investors"

Re offering of securities of Pacific Burt Co., Ltd. To small investors. Because of the attractiveness of this offering all signs point to a large over-subscription if the books remain open for the maximum time stated in the advertisement, viz, until Tuesday afternoon next at four o'clock.

With such over-subscriptions there is always dissatisfaction through the cutting down of amounts applied for and this should be avoided as far as practicable. At the same time the object of public flotations is the widest possible distribution amongst those who may be called permanent investors, and our experience is that an important percentage of the smaller subscriptions usually come in during the last two days for which the offering remains open.

This notice is to suggest that intending investors send in their subscriptions without delay so that the books may be closed at a time involving the least possible delay consistent with allotment among the largest number.

AMUSEMENTS FOR OURSELVES AND OTHERS CECIL THEATRE For Wednesday and Thursday three great pictures are promised—"The Lily of the Ranch," a great western drama, showing life on a western ranch; "Parina," a strong drama of a young life in the Italian court in the 15th century; and "The Girl of the Northern Woods," one of the best pictures of the kind produced, showing life among the hunters and trappers of the far north. It is new and worth seeing.

THE GEM The programme at the Gem Theatre, Waterloo street today and tomorrow is a splendid one, offering dramatic, scenic and comedy films of more than ordinary merit. "The False Friend" is a pathetic drama in which a bright and happy ending is brought about by a young child. "The Duke's Jester," or "The Fool's Revenge," is a Vitaphone production showing stirring scenes in the olden days, a wealth of handsome costumes, gorgeous stage settings and thrilling incidents. "A Trip to the Isle of Jersey" is a very interesting colored scenic picture. The spectators are carried around the island to the points of interest and strange and entrancing sights are unfolded. "A Simple Mistake" is a comedy brim full of laughs. The police in this picture certainly make a very funny mistake. The orchestra has a new programme of up-to-date music and the songs are bright and catchy. Miss Doris Dean will sing "Just because he Couldn't Sing, Love me and the world will Mine," and Donald McGregor will render "Promises, Promises."

THE STAR For its leading feature this evening and tomorrow the cozy Star theatre in North End will have a magnificent travel picture showing Lake Brienx, one of Europe's most beautiful spots. Its western feature will be entitled "Under Western Skies," a genuine prairie romance, but what will undoubtedly be the real hit of the whole bill is Biograph's "Examination Day at the Village School," a serio-comic hit from title to trademark. Al Weston will continue in picture songs.

THE UNIQUE The Unique offers a special treat for its patrons today and Thursday in a grand scenic educational picture, "The Zoological Gardens in Antwerp." This garden covers a large extent of ground. The animals and birds will be shown and the monkey house will come in for much attention with comic incidents adding to the interest. This film is beautifully colored in natural tints. "The Sheriff's Capture" is a good western sensation and comedy galore will be unfolded in the side splitting farce, "Who is Boss?" Miss Harrington will be heard in a new song.

THE OPERA HOUSE The play all to see—"The Old Homestead" will be staged in the Opera House tomorrow night. N. W. Mason in the character of Joshua Whitcomb, is considered by press and public to be second to none outside Denman Thompson. The company carry a full line of scenery and electrical effects, each act is as complete as seen in any of the large cities. The character of Aunt Matilda Whitcomb is in the hands of Miss Della Olding, who has played the part several seasons. The entire cast shows dramatic ability.

THE LYRIC Those who have not yet seen the performance of Lander, Australian ventriloquist, at the Lyric Theatre, the management strongly advise to do so this evening, as it will be the last chance of seeing this marvellous and amusing exhibition of ventriloquism. He is too good to miss, and is considered one of the best acts the Lyric has yet had. The pictures will be changed today with, "The Fishing Smack" (sea drama), "Mother" (Thamboom story) and "The Blazed Trail" (western hit), as features. Another star attraction will be presented for the week end, starting tomorrow afternoon in Howard Dotson with his novel offering of smoke fantasies. Mr. Dotson is said to be exceptionally clever in his line, drawing varied and beautiful pictures from smoke.

Poking Fun at Rev. J. A. (Ottawa Free Press) Dr. J. A. Macdonald isn't leaving much about Mexico unwritten in his daily letters in the Toronto Globe. The other day he talked about the sonoritas with dark eyes. We didn't mind that so much because we knew that the reverend editor always had an eye for beauty. But now he's gone and tried out all the native drinks. He didn't think much of them either. He says: "I saw the whitish pasty-looking liquid, but the look of it and the smell of it were enough. I know of nothing with which to compare it except a compound of sour creamery buttermilk and stale beer." When did they ever have stale beer around the Globe office, and what does the rev. editor know about it? Proceeding he says: "That if pulque, fermented from the sap, is stupifying, tequila, the distilled liquor is fiercely alcoholic. One could drink large quantities of pulque, but a glass of tequila intoxicates to the point of madness and murder." Mexico must be an awfully bad community, and it was no place to send the Globe's editor, now, was it? The little daughter of a clergyman stubbed her toe and said "Darn!" "I'll give you ten cents," said her father, "if you'll never say that word again." A few days afterward she came to him and said: "I've got a word worth half a dollar."—Philadelphia Public Ledger. If people knew the frightful risk they run of infection from unclean dentistry they would better realize the awful chances they take and what a mighty important factor cleanliness is.

No one has ever disputed the fact that there are no cleaner offices in Canada than ours. This is worthy of consideration.

DROVE AROUND WITH O'LEARY'S MILK WAGON

Wm. White Gets Into Trouble and is Arrested—Milkman's Desire Not to Prosecute is Not Regarded

William White, besides the more common place charge of drunkenness, had also to answer in the police court this morning to the charge of stealing a horse and driving a milk wagon, property of John Leary, from Mill street.

White, uninvited, took a drive on Leary's milk wagon which has been left standing in Mill street, and in his drive about the vicinity distributed the milk in the street. He was later held up and arrested by Patrolman Semple and Corbett.

Mr. Leary in court said that he did not wish to prosecute but he was told that that part of it and it was not his to choose. He was further told that he would be required as a witness and to be on hand on Friday morning at 10 o'clock when the case would come up.

James Campbell was again remanded to jail and Charles McKinnon was fined $4.

PROBATE COURT

A petition for administration of the estate of James A. Wishart was presented in the probate court today. He was formerly a farmer in Northfield, Sunbury county, but moved to Vancouver where he became a lumberman and where he died on September 14 last. He left no will. He is survived by two brothers, J. Henry Wishart and Robert T. Wishart, of Northfield, Sunbury county, farmer; and one sister, Elizabeth, wife of William Hason of Gasperaux, Queens county farmer. J. Henry Wishart the elder brother was appointed administrator. Real estate in the parish of Chipman is valued at $25; personal property $3,200 in the Dominion Savings Bank here. Fred R. Taylor is probator.

In the estate of Catherine Williams, to choose, there would seem to be little likelihood of there being any local games. It is understood that a mixed team composed of Carleton and the Adirondacks will go to Fredericton on Thanksgiving day to battle with U. N. B.

The University Women's Club will meet Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. A. McNaughton, 93 Mecklenburg street.

LOCAL FOOTBALL

The second game in the Junior football league will be played on the Every Day Club grounds on Saturday afternoon when the opposing teams will be Carleton and M. C. A. The first contest took place at Rothsay on Saturday when Rothsay College team defeated the Y.M.C.A. Both Carleton and the Y.M.C.A. have been getting in some good practice and a hard game is expected. The team composing the league are: Ipsley College, High School, Y.M.C.A. and Carleton.

So far as the senior situation is concerned, there would seem to be little likelihood of there being any local games. It is understood that a mixed team composed of Carleton and the Adirondacks will go to Fredericton on Thanksgiving day to battle with U. N. B.

The University Women's Club will meet Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. A. McNaughton, 93 Mecklenburg street.
