VEGETINE.
Worth its Weight in Gold.
TORONTO, ONT., June 2, 1880.
H. R. STEVENS, Esq., Boston, Mass.
Sir—Having been persuaded by a friend of mine to try VEGETINE for Kidney Disease, with which I had been troubled for four years, I concluded to give it a fair trial, and am happy to say that I am relieved to such an extent that I can attend to my work with ease and comfort, which I was deprived of for over three years. The best medical men of Toronto have given my case up as hopeless. I have tried every kind of medicine I ever heard of, but with no avail whatever. Any person who may be afflicted with the same terrible disease I would certainly advise to try VEGETINE, for I assure you (as many can testify) that it is undoubtedly the best medicine on record for the Kidney Disease. I am able to work at my trade as before and earn a living for my wife and children, and myself through VEGETINE, which I consider is worth its weight in gold. Hoping that those who may give VEGETINE a trial may receive the same benefit that I have, I remain,
Yours respectfully,
CHAS. COOKE,
106 John St.

I gave Mr. Cooke the medicine, and I know this statement to be true.

The Standard Medicine.
TRURO, N. S., June 17, 1880.
H. R. STEVENS, Esq.:
Sir—I have been selling your VEGETINE for the last three or four years and have much pleasure in informing you that I have given very general satisfaction. I find that the sales have increased from fifty to one hundred per cent. per annum, and it has now established a reputation for itself as one of the standard proprietary medicines of the day.
Yours very truly,
H. L. ATKINS,
Druggist.

Vegetine.
Best Blood Purifier in the Market.
ST. JEAN BAPTISTE VILLAGE, P. Q., Jan. 8, 1880.
H. R. STEVENS, Esq.:
Dear Sir—I find the sale of your VEGETINE constantly increasing, and from the favorable reports I receive from my customers, I consider VEGETINE the best preparation in the market for a blood purifier and general tonic.
Yours respectfully,
E. D. WYSON,

A SKILLED DETECTIVE.
UNRAVELLING THE MYSTERY OF A NEWARK ROBBERY.
About two years ago Mr. Azariah Body, of Newark, N. J., retired plumber, on returning from a visit to New York, was astonished to see the front door of his splendid residence standing open, although he had closed it securely upon his departure. Proceeding further he at once perceived by the empty wine bottles and costly vases scattered over the magnificent parlor, that his house had been burglarized in his absence. A ponderous hair trunk, in which he kept his valuables, had been opened and a set of shirt studs and a package of four per cents removed. It was impossible to tell exactly when the robbery had occurred, but the excited millionaire at once started for police headquarters.
On the steps of the office he encountered a keen looking man, with the eagle nose and hawk eye peculiar to detectives, who inquired if he wished to see the chief.
"Immediately!" said the millionaire.
"He is in New York," replied the man on the steps; "but if anything of importance I will attend to it in his place."
"I have been robbed," said the victim.
"I know it," replied the police attaché, with the true promptness of his profession. Let us at once to the house.
"I trust nothing has been removed since the case was discovered?" said the detective.
"The rest are pledges against drinking at bars or public houses, solitary drinking, and treating and being treated. The promise binds only during membership.
It will be seen that the order of entrance to the society is wide enough to let everybody in except confirmed and hopeless drunkards, who have lost all self-respect and moderate pleasures, who are opposed to giving any specific pledge, deeming it a needless surrender of their freedom, are provided for in the general promise to promote the objects of the society. By making the wise distinction between temperance as a Christian obligation of universal application, and total abstinence as a rule of expediency in certain cases, Episcopalians avoid the controversy which has so greatly interfered with the success of the temperance reformers of the past, who denounced the use of alcohol in every shape, and in any quantity, by all means.

They have therefore begun a temperance movement which must command general approval, for it is sensible, philosophical and practicable. The drinking usage of society against which they make war need to be changed, and a body so influential can do a great deal to help to add to the disparate into which they are gradually falling among people of taste and intelligence.

The Pope on the Observance of Sunday.
Recently the Pope granted audience to the Catholic Society for the Observance of Sunday and Religious Festivals, and in reply to an address, read to him, delivered a discourse on the want of respect prevailing amongst the authorities for this day. Amongst other things he said—
"In the shadow of a great liberty, it is very difficult indeed to distinguish the day consecrated to the Lord, those destined to work. The shops and stores are opened; manual labor, public and private, is protracted to a late hour. It seems as if the proposals of the impious to wipe out from the earth the Lord's day had revived. As the observance was willed by God from the first origin of man, so it is demanded by the absolute dependence of the creature on the Creator. And this law which so admirably responds to the honor of God, regards not only individuals, but nations and peoples, who are debtors to Divine Providence for their well-being. Through that fatal tendency, which prevails to day, of leading men away from God, and of organizing the nations without the aid of God, is it owing that the Lord's Day is being lost. It is said that thus it intended to glorify the Creator, and to procure prosperity. Foolish and false words! It is sought, instead, to take from the people the consolations of religion; it is desired to weaken the sentiment of the rights of God upon the earth, to head the most tremendous chastisements of God, justly irritated. That which renders still more deplorable such an excess is that it happens in the midst of the Catholic nations upon which God has shed His benefits,—in Rome, the centre of Catholicity, at the very time when anti-Catholic nations feel the need of returning to the observance of the days sacred to the Lord. Hence it is that we cannot, without sorrow, see that the faithful of the whole world, instead of finding motives of edification and motives of scandal. Our grief becomes still deeper, since we, being reduced to this state, find it impossible to repair the evil and to vindicate the outrage honor of God."

The Pope then recommends these Catholic associations to use every effort to bring a remedy to this crying evil.
Acadia College.
ANNIVERSARY EXERCISES THIS FORENOON.
(Despatch to Globe.)
Woolville, N. S., June 2.—The large lecture-room was crowded to-day at the closing exercises of Acadia College. The exercises were opened by the entrance of the Alumni by the choir from St. John singing a processional hymn, composed for the occasion by the Rev. James Spencer, of St. John. Prayer was then offered, after which the choir sang the "Te Deum." Orations by members of the graduating class succeeded, and were listened to with great attention.
During the intermission Miss Richards, of Fredericton, and Miss Prudie Hart sang solos very sweetly, and received well merited applause. The choir chanted the sixty-first psalm. The De Deum and two choruses were finely rendered.
The degree of B. A. was conferred on O. P. Daniel, A. C. Hines, E. R. Curry, H. H. Walton, F. A. Welton, A. J. Pineo, J. Donaldson, S. F. Andrews, H. D. Bentley, Ed. Webber, W. F. Parker, by Dr. Sawyer, president of the college, in a well chosen address referring to their past connections with the college and their duty to the world in the future.
The degree of D. D. was conferred on Revs. C. Bell, Geo. Armstrong and S. W. DeBlois, and M. A. on J. S. DeBlois and W. H. Robinson.
Honorary certificates were awarded to A. G. Gault, H. W. Moore and O. C. Wallace.
The President of the Alumni, J. R. Longley, presented prizes to J. R. Hutchinson and O. C. Wallace for the classical department in the Sophomore class.
The very interesting proceedings closed with God Save the Queen.

The Alumni are to have a dinner this afternoon in the dining hall of the College.
Terrible Twisters.
ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 14.
Sunday was a terrible day for cyclones in the north-western States. The atmospheric pressure at St. Joseph was great between 4 and 5 in the afternoon, and during that one short hour no less than three twisters died death and destruction in its many paths. The first reported was from King City and vicinity. The cyclone started near Savannah in Andrew county. The course was northwest through King Springs and King City. Many houses were destroyed, and not less than twelve lives lost in Andrew county. At King Springs and King City the destruction was much greater. The loss of life in that vicinity will probably be fifty men, women and children. The public school building in King City, a large brick structure, was razed to its foundation. Hundreds of horses, cattle, hogs and sheep were killed, one man losing eighty cattle, another sixty sheep, another seven horses. Another cyclone started at Winslow, DeKalb county, another started four miles southwest of Rosebud, Andrew county, and passed eastward one mile south of Rosebud. The course of all the above cyclones was east by northeast. Another started eight miles northwest of Hopkins, in Nodaway county, its course for twelve miles being southeast. It was a quarter of a mile wide, and nothing escaped destruction in its track. Many lives were lost in all of those cyclones, and the destruction to property, which cannot now be estimated, is very great.

Later in the evening another cyclone passed north of Savannah, Andrew county, northeast into Nodaway county. From information received it appears that the cloud formed in a field near Wesley Chapel, about eight miles northwest of Savannah, and moved south of east, bearing timber, trees and fences, until it struck the large brick house of Nathaniel Kellogg, six miles north of the town, which it tore to pieces. Mr. Kellogg and family were carried through the air and a field near the house were found in a field a quarter of a mile away, supposed carried there by the cyclone. The cloud then moved east, and was about 100 yards wide. The wind in this way was the residence of Mr. J. Holt, situated near the toll bridge. It struck the corner of the house moving it off its foundation and damaging it considerably. W. S. Wright had fifty hogs killed. J. W. Parks's house, further on, was blown away, and Miss Parks severely injured. Helman's house was carried through the air and struck a church, near by, in pieces. Mrs. Loughlin's house further on, was blown to pieces, the furniture, clothing and everything in the house were carried away. Feather beds were torn to pieces and feathers strewn all through the timber. Stoves and all kinds of household goods for the houses were carried through the air and the owners have not yet found any of them. Linn Roberts's house was destroyed, as well as that of E. A. Phillips near Fishford. From there the storm passed on to Flag Springs and King City. The cyclone was about a quarter of a mile wide and was very violent. Fully two-thirds of the houses blown down were occupied, the families being away from home, either at church or visiting, otherwise the loss of life would have been frightful.
CROPS DESTROYED AND STOCK KILLED BY HAIL IN WESTERN IOWA.

Intelligence from western Iowa, including Audubon, Cass, Pottawatomie and Guthrie counties, depicts the storm of Sunday as severe in damage by wind and hail. Calves, hogs, chickens, ducks, etc., were killed. Cattle are much bruised by hail stones and going about with swollen eyes and flesh, losing blood. Buildings, trees and fruit were blown down. The hail stones are represented in many places as the size and shape of door knobs, weighing over a pound apiece and covering the ground in places to a depth of six inches. One farmer coming to Atlantic, Cass county, this morning drove through a drift of hail stones two and a half feet deep. At Minden, Pottawatomie county, a train of cars was struck off the track by the wind. The locomotive overturned and was much injured. Five thousand panes of glass were broken in Audubon, Cass, Pottawatomie and Guthrie counties. Some barns were completely demolished by hail and wind near Adair; the wind was as sadly seen; the city hall of Menlo, Guthrie county, was unroofed. The damage to the growing crops, which are almost ruined in many places, is almost impossible to estimate.
FRIGHTFUL DESTRUCTION FROM THE CYCLONE IN KANSAS.
TOPEKA, June 14.

A correspondent describing the scene near Olive, says: A horse was lifted out of a stable and carried over a high hill and dashed upon the ground in a completely mangled condition. The horse was lifted from the ground, carried into the air and dashed to pieces. Powell's orchard was destroyed. The trees were torn off the ground and twisted into a thousand fragments. Miss Tweed found the works of her gold watch a quarter of a mile from her house. Everything was carried away. The furniture was all destroyed. Her trunk was lifted from the house and was carried off, and is not yet found. From this point the storm moved a little north-easterly, going about a mile north of Olive, where it twisted into a thousand fragments. Mrs. DeWitt was badly hurt. John Lee, Thos. Lee and Wm. Apper were badly bruised near Olive, and following the track of the cyclone over a score of houses were demolished, and the Presbyterian Church at Queenana was destroyed. The debris of the buildings are scattered over a score of ground. In many instances fragments were four or five miles from where the buildings stood. Articles of household goods were smashed and ground into atoms, and bedding and clothing were scattered in all directions.
DESTRUCTION IN MINNESOTA.
ST. PAUL, June 14.

A special from Wells, Minn., gives the following details of damage by the storm: "The barn of G. P. Probert was carried fifty feet and then dashed to pieces. The house and outbuildings were blown off and all things scattered beyond recovery. Two harvesters were lifted into the air and dashed to the ground and ruined. The dwellings of George Hagen at home near Grady of this town were destroyed. The storm then passed into Blue county. In the town of Danville

They have therefore begun a temperance movement which must command general approval, for it is sensible, philosophical and practicable. The drinking usage of society against which they make war need to be changed, and a body so influential can do a great deal to help to add to the disparate into which they are gradually falling among people of taste and intelligence.

Recently the Pope granted audience to the Catholic Society for the Observance of Sunday and Religious Festivals, and in reply to an address, read to him, delivered a discourse on the want of respect prevailing amongst the authorities for this day. Amongst other things he said—
"In the shadow of a great liberty, it is very difficult indeed to distinguish the day consecrated to the Lord, those destined to work. The shops and stores are opened; manual labor, public and private, is protracted to a late hour. It seems as if the proposals of the impious to wipe out from the earth the Lord's day had revived. As the observance was willed by God from the first origin of man, so it is demanded by the absolute dependence of the creature on the Creator. And this law which so admirably responds to the honor of God, regards not only individuals, but nations and peoples, who are debtors to Divine Providence for their well-being. Through that fatal tendency, which prevails to day, of leading men away from God, and of organizing the nations without the aid of God, is it owing that the Lord's Day is being lost. It is said that thus it intended to glorify the Creator, and to procure prosperity. Foolish and false words! It is sought, instead, to take from the people the consolations of religion; it is desired to weaken the sentiment of the rights of God upon the earth, to head the most tremendous chastisements of God, justly irritated. That which renders still more deplorable such an excess is that it happens in the midst of the Catholic nations upon which God has shed His benefits,—in Rome, the centre of Catholicity, at the very time when anti-Catholic nations feel the need of returning to the observance of the days sacred to the Lord. Hence it is that we cannot, without sorrow, see that the faithful of the whole world, instead of finding motives of edification and motives of scandal. Our grief becomes still deeper, since we, being reduced to this state, find it impossible to repair the evil and to vindicate the outrage honor of God."

The Pope then recommends these Catholic associations to use every effort to bring a remedy to this crying evil.
Acadia College.
ANNIVERSARY EXERCISES THIS FORENOON.
(Despatch to Globe.)
Woolville, N. S., June 2.—The large lecture-room was crowded to-day at the closing exercises of Acadia College. The exercises were opened by the entrance of the Alumni by the choir from St. John singing a processional hymn, composed for the occasion by the Rev. James Spencer, of St. John. Prayer was then offered, after which the choir sang the "Te Deum." Orations by members of the graduating class succeeded, and were listened to with great attention.
During the intermission Miss Richards, of Fredericton, and Miss Prudie Hart sang solos very sweetly, and received well merited applause. The choir chanted the sixty-first psalm. The De Deum and two choruses were finely rendered.

The Union Advocate. Established 1867. NEWCASTLE, MIRAMICHI, N. B. WEDNESDAY, JUNE 22, 1881. TIME WILL TELL.

The Advance tries very hard to believe that the lumbering interest is not waning, and doubtless has strong personal reasons for hoping that it may flourish here for many years to come. But it is no use hoping against hope. There are persons in the County whose pursuits enable them to speak, not ignorantly, as does our contemporary, but intelligently, and who give it as their unprejudiced opinion that within ten years from this date the lumbering interest cannot be profitably conducted in Northumberland. The hauls now in some instances are long ones, and the distances are increasing every season. There are therefore good and sufficient reasons why our capitalists should bestir themselves in the matter of manufactures, and thus make provision for the future in the interests of the County. It is quite possible for the Advocate or any other paper to endeavor to promote the establishment of new industries without being chargeable with attempting to throw cold water upon any industry now being prosecuted in the County. The advocacy of new industries in our midst may perhaps not be acceptable to mill owners, as a rule, in that increased competition in labor would result in better pay for the workmen; yet it is the duty of the public journalist to look beyond the present, and in the interests of the people among whom he labors, to scan the future, both with reference to the industry or industries which now furnish employment to the laboring classes, in order to provide against those contingencies which may arise to deprive our breadwinners of the labor upon which they have for so many years depended in this and the neighboring counties. It seems to be the policy of one journalist in our midst to keep up a monopoly in the labor market, and by insinuation and otherwise, to attempt to thwart the efforts of those who, actuated by the desire to further the interests of the people, are seeking to open up new avenues of labor, and to bring about the expenditure of capital in the establishment of manufacturing enterprises, which will be of immense benefit to the country. Such a policy may be, and perhaps is acceptable to those who are directly interested in maintaining a labor monopoly, but it is not one which will find acceptance with the public generally, nor is it consistent with that journalistic independence which allows no particular class to stand in the way when the future welfare of the people is under consideration.

The Nova Scotia Elections.

The election campaign in the constituencies of Colchester and Pictou closed on Saturday, with the triumphant return of the Government candidates, the splendid majorities cast for the ministerialists being a complete vindication of the policy pursued by the Government with reference to the coal interest in Nova Scotia and the general manufacturing interests of the Dominion. In both constituencies the Opposition entered into the fight with a determination to win, knowing that success at this period, especially with a Cabinet Minister in the field, would exert an influence in their favor at the general elections in 1883. To injure the Hon. Mr. McLellan's chances in Colchester, and side issues were dragged in, the Opposition not daring to grapple boldly with the policy of the Government. Some of the Grit journals entertained the hope that the Minister's course in assisting to secure the Union in Nova Scotia, and which at the time raised so much feeling in the sister Province, would mitigate against him, and lead to his defeat. They have been most grievously disappointed, for not even these differences, with a free distribution, it is said, of Yankee gold, the contributions to the corruption fund of men whose interests would be furthered by the repeal of the coal duty, would induce them to lose sight of the real issue. In Colchester the majority in favor of the Government exceeded four hundred votes.

New Boats.

Mr. Wm. Sinclair, one of the oldest master builders on the Miramichi, has just completed for the Marine & Fisheries Dept., for the use of light house keepers, four boats, which have been built at Chatham during the past winter. They are very handsomely modelled, and strongly built, and are just such boats as one might expect to see turned out by a workman of Mr. Sinclair's experience and skill. They are clinker built, and fastened with galvanized nails, dimensions being—length over all, 16 ft., depth in the hold, 4 ft. 6 in., and beam, 5 ft. 6 in. They are all row boats, but one can be used for sailing, being provided with a centre board, rudder, and a small mast and sheer, which adds to their otherwise good appearance, and we have no doubt will give every satisfaction to the Department. The boats are for the use of the keepers of light houses at the following points—Carquet, Hay Island (where two boats have been erected this season), Portage Island, and Upper Fox Island. Mr. S. has for sale at Chatham, three boats, which he has built, and which he has seen in the boat shop on his premises.

The London Disaster.

The investigation into the loss of the steamer Victoria terminated on the 14th inst., and resulted in the finding of what, considering all the circumstances, is a verdict of culpable negligence. At the close of the inquest, and before the verdict was known, Capt. Rankin, a manager of the Victoria, was also in the lobby of the City Hall on the information of a man named Jones, postmaster of London West, on a charge of having been guilty of culpable negligence. The Parli. himself in $2,000, and one surety in $1,000; and Rankin himself in $2,000, and two sureties in $1,000 each.

The General Assembly.

The General Assembly closed last night—earlier than usual. The meetings have been most successful throughout. Through the day they were carried in Convocation Hall, Queen's College, and were devoted to business, in the evening, up to Tuesday night, when they were held in St. Andrew's Church, and were devoted chiefly to missionary matters. Some of these latter were deeply interesting, especially the meetings devoted to French Evangelization and to Foreign Missions. The Presbyterian Church raised $30,000 for the French work during the past year. In missions she has done well. Dr. McKay of Fornosa addressed the Assembly on Foreign Missions, and urged the necessity of making more frequent visits to the Maritime Provinces, and bring before the people the needs of the foreign fields. Several were deeply affected as he bore forward to the Assembly.

The London Disaster.

The investigation into the loss of the steamer Victoria terminated on the 14th inst., and resulted in the finding of what, considering all the circumstances, is a verdict of culpable negligence. At the close of the inquest, and before the verdict was known, Capt. Rankin, a manager of the Victoria, was also in the lobby of the City Hall on the information of a man named Jones, postmaster of London West, on a charge of having been guilty of culpable negligence. The Parli. himself in $2,000, and one surety in $1,000; and Rankin himself in $2,000, and two sureties in $1,000 each.

The General Assembly.

The General Assembly closed last night—earlier than usual. The meetings have been most successful throughout. Through the day they were carried in Convocation Hall, Queen's College, and were devoted to business, in the evening, up to Tuesday night, when they were held in St. Andrew's Church, and were devoted chiefly to missionary matters. Some of these latter were deeply interesting, especially the meetings devoted to French Evangelization and to Foreign Missions. The Presbyterian Church raised $30,000 for the French work during the past year. In missions she has done well. Dr. McKay of Fornosa addressed the Assembly on Foreign Missions, and urged the necessity of making more frequent visits to the Maritime Provinces, and bring before the people the needs of the foreign fields. Several were deeply affected as he bore forward to the Assembly.
