CHATHAM TRIMS LOCAL TEAM TWICE

Baseball Games on Dominion Day Viewed by Good Crowd Home Fans Disappointed

The Chatham Baseball team paid a visit here on Dominion Day, and the local enthusiasts were looking forward to an enjoyable double-header. Unfortunately the weather was anything but summer-like, and in the afternoon the conditions were not conducive to making the summer girl don her finery and root frenziedly for her team. Notwithstanding the threatening nature of the weather a goodly number turned out to see our local organization perform against the first foreign team. The least said about the afternoon game the better. There was a lack of cohesion among the players, and the day seemed to have a dampening effect on their spirits, for none played up to standard. On the other hand it seemed as if Chatham could do nothing wrong, and Veno's hit over the right field fence from which he scored with runners ahead of him in the third innings took all the stuffing out of the locals.

In the fourth, misfortune still followed, when an easy out at first which was muffed by Paterson, Shirley and Lavoie started the balloon, and by the time our boys had got wakened up six runs had come over.

We had no luck whatever for whereas Shirley was touched for thirteen hits which with the assistance of seven errors set Chatham 13 runs, Veno was found for 10 hits and four errors only brought in two runs.

Sad details are appended.

Evening Game

The evening game which was viewed by a larger gathering, was nothing more like a ball game. The weather had cleared a little and a few of the fair sex were conspicuous in the stands, among all the real moneyed magnates. The local lineup had undergone a change. Shaddick doing the heaving with Cady at the receiving end, while Troy strengthened 3rd base. Chatham led off, but found that it was a different team facing them than that of the afternoon and they would need to go some to win, and for the first three innings the score read, 0, 0, 0, not a hit being got off Shaddick. The locals were faring just as badly at the hands of May, but in the third Troy hit the first ball pitched to centre, and scored on Duncans out at first, and an overthrow to get Troy off third base. Chatham made a rally in the fifth, Veno having a two base hit with one out. Curry beat the ball to first, and then May was safe at first on Veno's out at 3rd. Godfrey hit to second filling the bags. Curry scored on a passed ball and Synnot hit to right field scoring May and Godfrey trying to reach home on the play was out falling to touch second base. Total, 2 runs.

Chatham gained another in the sixth, and a batting rally in the seventh by Campbellton came within an ace of tying the game. Duncan hit through second with two down, stole second and third. Lavoie walked and got to second. Paterson's drive scored Duncan, but

SERIOUS RUNAWAY WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Wm. Richards Horse Took Fright on Water Street and Bolting Upsets Rig

While driving on Wednesday evening with his wife and two young children, Mr. Wm. Richards met with a driving accident. The horse which is a spirited animal suddenly bolted along Water street and dashing along collided with Mr. R. L. Duncan's rig upsetting it, and wheeling round at McLean's house over the lot, upset the machine, then made for home, dragging the damaged rig after it. Beyond minor bruises and a severe shaking up Mrs. Richards and the others were not seriously hurt, but the call was a very close one. The occupants of Mr. Duncan's rig were uninjured.

FOURTH OF JULY SEA EXCURSION

S.S. Canada Will Sail on Saturday Morning For Gaspe

A pleasure excursion which will come as a boon in this hot weather will take place on Saturday when the owners of S.S. Canada will run a special excursion to Gaspe and return for $5.00. Ticket including meals and berth $9.50 return.

The steamer will leave Campbellton on Saturday morning at 6 a.m., arriving at Gaspe on Sunday morning. Passengers will have a number of hours ashore there, the vessel leaving again on her return trip on Sunday afternoon, arriving back in Campbellton on Monday forenoon. This trip is considered one of the finest in the land, the sail down the famous Bay de Chaleur being world-famed.

TO POSTMASTERS

We would request the postmasters to notify us when copies of the Graphic addressed to their offices are not delivered, so that the necessary changes to our list can be made promptly. After sending a paper to a man at Charlo Station for nearly three years he informs us that he has not taken the paper from the office in all that time. Postmasters are provided with proper cards upon which to notify the publisher and these should be used promptly.

Lavoie was out at the plate in a close decision, leaving Chatham victorious by 3 to 2. The play all over was a decided improvement on the afternoon display, a special tit-bit being a splendid running catch by Duncan in the fourth which brought out cheers from the stands, even although Chip got a nasty fall in taking the pill. Wall also accepted two chances in centre field and the team as a whole gave Shaddick splendid support.

The Chatham team is a strong organization, most of the team having played together for years while the same results can never be obtained here having to pick players from three teams with little or no practise together.

NEGOTIATING FOR INTERNATIONAL

Ministers of Railways Understood to be Anxious to Acquire This Railroad

Ottawa, July 2.—The minister of railways is negotiating for the acquisition of the International Railway of New Brunswick.

This is a line 112 miles in length through the centre of New Brunswick. It is a new line, having been completed by the present owner, Thomas Malcolm, only two years ago. It penetrates an undeveloped portion of New Brunswick and its operation has given a great impetus to lumbering in central New Brunswick.

The line crosses the province from east to west. It extends from Campbellton on the Bay Chaleur to the international boundary at St. Leonard's, where it terminates at the St. John river. When the river is bridged the branch will connect with the Bangor & Aroostock Railway which will give a good connection with Boston.

The International, starting from the Intercolonial main line, crosses the Transcontinental main line and the Canadian Pacific branch line in New Brunswick. The opening of new country has led to considerable agricultural developments, as more than 1,100 farms have been settled upon along the line since it was opened.

AN HONEST AND CLEANLY DRAMA

A prominent American dramatic critic concluded a recent play review with this sentence, "If a wholesome, honest, cleanly play that alternates pathos and laughter with gaudy gun rapidity is what theatre-goers want they will go to see 'Quincy Adams Sawyer', and it is quite likely they are going." The great masses of the people want their drama to be wholesome and cleanly; they leave the highly seasoned dramatic pabulum to the so-called society epicures. They want "no problems," no suggestive disquisitions upon topics that, outside of the theatres, are not discussed in public. "Quincy Adams Sawyer" gives them an honest story of wholesome people, told brightly and with great human interest. The pathos is of the decent sort and is never obtrusive. The fun, while fast and furious, is always cleanly. The company has been selected with special reference to the fitness of the players for the work they are to perform and the ensemble shows that completeness which is welcomed by theatre-goers. When the play is here at the Opera House on July 8th, the proof of all these statements will be so self-evident as to be indisputable.

Forest fires are doing serious damage in Northern Ontario and are reported in such number as to threaten serious damage in northern Quebec. The lesson of years, many times repeated, has not been mastered yet by those who have greatest responsibility in the matter, the governments and the people who live in the exposed regions. Governments make proclamations and appoint agents and receive reports, and settlers see their property endangered; but carelessness continues and destruction follows. The knowledge that produces results is of slow development even under forcing conditions.

The Balkan nations have been fighting each other for a few days past and already charges and counter-charges of massacre and rapine are being made. In Mexico, where is also skirmishing, there have been looting and brutality. War today seems to stir up the worst passions of the men engaged in the fighting just as it did in former times when the soldiers of the most civilized nations among other cruelties bayoneted women and babies to death.

A MESSAGE FROM A WOMAN TO WOMEN

"Every Woman Should Take 'Fruit-a-tives'"

LAKELT, ONT., MAY 12th, 1911

"I kindly publish this letter of mine if you think it will benefit other women who might be afflicted with the diseases I have had in the past, but am now cured of. It is my firm belief that every woman should take 'Fruit-a-tives' if she wants to keep herself in good health.

Before taking 'Fruit-a-tives' I was constantly troubled with what is commonly known as 'Nerves' or severe nervousness. This nervousness brought on the most violent attacks of Sick Headache, for which I was constantly taking doctors' medicine without also a source of great trouble to me and for which the Doctors said 'I would have to take medicine all my life', but 'Fruit-a-tives' banished all these troubles and now I am a well woman!"

AQUERY

Is there any license required before one can open a beer shop? This query was propounded to the Graphic the other day, and although simple yet was a poser.

Wherever an empty shack can be found, some person comes along and soon the sign appears "Ice Cold Drinks". How are these persons allowed to open up without a license and any other one doing a legitimate business has to pay a license? It does seem queer on the face of it, for those dispensers of liquid refreshment are here today and away to-morrow, and make big profits on the retailing of "Ice Cold Drinks" whether hard or soft. They require no stock, they spend no money in fitting out a store, yet for two or three months in the year can do a rushing business and when the trade falls off, walk out and lock the door, carrying their shekels with them. This matter is worth looking into.

THE SAME VALUE

The Montreal Witness points out that whenever a large drop in stock takes place as within the last six months, it is common to see estimates given of the shrinkage in the world's wealth. Just such a computation was made the other day with regard to King George's loss on Canadian Pacific stocks. His purchase is supposed to have made him $100,000 poorer. If the King purchased 2,500 shares of Canadian Pacific when the stock was selling at $200 a share, he would have paid for it $500,000. While at the present time that 2,500 shares at the price of $220 a share, would only sell for $550,000. There is a difference between the present value of such a block of shares expressed in dollars and cents, and the value of this same block expressed in dollars and cents six months ago, of $100,000. The Witness points out however, that it is not correct to say that the King, if he purchased these shares six months ago, is to-day $100,000 poorer. He is to day getting exactly the same income from his purchase as he was getting six months ago. His shares are, therefore, of the same value to him to-day, from a revenue producing standpoint, as they were when bought. While they are $100,000 less valuable in dollars and cents, they are today of almost exactly the same value as they were when bought, if used in the purchase of shares in other large companies. "The drop has not been a drop in the Canadian Pacific Railway as a security, but a drop in the general list. As a commodity with which to purchase money, or as a commodity with which to purchase work or materials, the shares have become of less value; while as a revenue producer, or as a commodity with which to purchase other securities, they are of the same value today as they were when the King bought them."

SMARTER CLOTHES FOR TOMMY ATKINS

Brilliant Uniforms Attract Men to Serve the Flag—Poverty a Contributing Factor

According to London recruiting sergeants reforms are urgently needed to encourage promising men to enlist in the British Army. "For a long time complaints have been made in military circles," a recruiting sergeant said, "that the number of candidates for the 'shilling' is regularly and steadily on the decrease. But I, for one, am far from surprised, for the 'powers that be' seem to overlook the fact that at present no great inducement are offered—it times of peace, at any rate—to join the army. For instance, I feel sure that more men would readily enlist in, after a number of years' service, soldiers were allowed to wear civilian clothes on their 'evenings out' so to speak. A large number of the best and most conscientious soldiers I have ever met have frequently complained to me that it seems unjust to them to have to wear uniforms when going to the theatre, or to visit their friends. "Again, uniforms should be made smarter than they are, for what invariably attracts the man with a much depleted wardrobe is the prospect of getting a really smart, well-fitting red coat for the asking—that is to say, always providing the difficulty of passing the doctor is overcome. Moreover, from the standpoint of enlistment, at any rate, I think the fact that red coats will probably never be worn again in action has had a depressing effect on candidates for the 'King's shilling.' You see, the average class from which privates chiefly spring have, since their earliest days, heard tales of the gallant deeds of bygone warriors of bright red uniforms; and, therefore, although many people may laugh at the apparent paltriness of such a consideration, the prospect of going into action in khaki instead of scarlet is not so alluring to the recruit who has not quite decided whether to 'take the shilling' or not. "And there is another point. I do not think the number of candidates for enlistment will increase to any great extent until better means of obtaining employment are found for soldiers when they have to leave the Army. "Of course, it is the primary duty of a recruiting sergeant to make the prospect of 'taking the shilling' as alluring as possible, but many men come to them only as a last resource, when they have failed to earn a living in absolutely every other walk of life. "It is in the East End of London, in the poorest districts, that recruiting sergeants have, as a rule, the busiest time. "People who don't know what it is to want a coat would not believe how often men who haven't tasted food for hours, and sometimes for days, come to me and want to enlist," said a recruiting sergeant in the neighborhood of Bethnal Green, "simply to procure food to keep body and soul together. And very often these men turn out to be first-rate soldiers when once they have learned what discipline means, and what it is to be able to hold up their heads without fear of a policeman telling them to move on."

REMARKABLE FLIGHT

Aviator Flew High to Avoid Strong Head Wind

A new flying record was made by the French aviator Gilbert. In less than eight and a half hours he flew from the north of France to Vittoria. In Spain, a distance of 512 miles, without once alighting. From Paris to Bordeaux, a distance of three hundred miles, he travelled at an average speed of 74 miles an hour, and during the latter part of his journey he flew at an altitude of 19,000 feet in an endeavor to avoid a strong contrary wind. After covering in under eight and a half hours what it takes an express train fifteen hours to accomplish, he was so little fatigued, that after a two hours' rest he resumed his flight and added 185 miles to his record—making 698 miles in less than eleven hours.

Rome's New Church
Sir Rennell Rodd, British Ambassador in Rome, laid the foundation-stone of the new Anglican church in Via Dogliani, in the upper quarter of the town, which is designed to take the place of Holy Trinity, the first Protestant church erected inside the walls of Rome after the fall of the temporal power.

Free Mutton For Poor
As one result of Sir John Kirk's visit to Australia, Mr. W. J. Tualoy, president of the Queensland Evangelization Society sent over 150 carcasses of sheep, which were cut up and given to the poor of London.

FREIGHT RATES TO BOOST C.P.R.

The Hon. Mr. Cochrane, representing an Ontario constituency apparently is simply running the Intercolonial Railway to squeeze all the money possible out of the poor people along its line of route, so that an enormous surplus in the Dominion of Treasury may be swollen. He came to the railway with the reputation of being a C. P. R. man. The latter railway runs through a portion of the Province of New Brunswick and it has long been a sore point with the Canadian Pacific management that the reasonable local freight rates on the Intercolonial Railway were contrasted with the excessive freight rates on the C.P.R. in New Brunswick.

To help the C.P.R., the government despite the fact that it claims to have had a one million dollar surplus on the Intercolonial Railway last year, has advanced the minimum rate to the C.P.R. basis, and in addition certain other classes of freight has also advanced to more nearly approximate the C.P.R. standard.

It follows this up by placing the general management of the railway in the hands of a former C.P.R. employee and other C.P.R. employees are placed in responsible positions.

It changes the old numbers of the trains on the Intercolonial Railway to coincide with the numbers of the trains on the Canadian Pacific Railway, and is gradually making the Intercolonial a mere feeder of the Canadian Pacific Railway and a subordinate adjunct to it. Without selling the I.C.R. it is allowing the C.P.R. to milk it.

It boasts on the one hand of its one million dollar surplus last year wrung out of the poor people living along the route of the railway.

It is a blood stained surplus because of inadequate outlay in maintaining efficient operation or equipment of the road, causing unnecessary loss of life.

It has increased the burden of freight charges by forty per cent on all minimum charges and by fifty per cent on some particular classes of freight. Such an increase is enormous.—Moncton Transcript.

CONVENTION OF POLICE CHIEFS

Interesting Meeting Held at Halifax Last Week

Chief of Police, Hughes returned on Saturday from attending the convention of police chiefs from all over the Dominion at Halifax. The convention lasted three days from 25th to 27th of June, and was interesting and instructive.

Seen by representative on his return chief Hughes said it was a great pleasure for him to attend such a gathering, meeting with so many heads of departments and listening to discussions and papers which were of enormous value to all, heads of Police departments who were anxious to increase the efficiency of their forces.

Among the speakers were Deputy Chief Stark of Toronto whose paper dealt with the "White Slave" traffic, Chief Zeats of Toronto, on "Juvenile Delinquency", Inspector Foster of Ottawa on "Finger Print System" and Chief Langley of Victoria on "Extradition". Supt. Rogers of the Provincial Police of Ontario read a paper on the need of co-operation between all the police departments of every town, showing that however small, yet each one was a unit in a great system extending from ocean to ocean.

The chief is greatly delighted with his trip and feels that his time in Halifax was well spent.

Hogan belongs to the Miramichi. Hogan was using a patent extension ladder. He had drawn it out to a sufficient length to reach the window but did not see that the hook to keep it extended was properly caught. He then climbed up to resume his painting when the ladder slipped together. Hogan held on until the ladder came together at the extension, when he was violently thrown to the ground a distance of about 20 feet. The injured man is now in the hospital.

COOD CUTTING

At the Chaleur Bay mill on Tuesday, working ten hours, one hundred and forty-five thousand spf feet of spruce and pine were cut. The mill is running well this season. About this mill nearly three hundred men are at work. Of this number eighty board at the Company's cookhouse, where the cook provides the best of fare.

AETER MANY YEARS

Some years ago, while Mrs. Sargeant of Nelson, was placing flowers on a grave in St. Paul's churchyard, her gold watch slipped from the chain and the loss was soon detected. Search was made day after day for sometime but the watch could not be found. A few days ago a workman when removing some of the debris where a fence was being built at the churchyard, the long lost time-piece was found and returned to its owner.—Commercial.

SHOULD BE REMEDIED

At the present time there is floating in the Restigouche river a large quantity of mill refuse, sawdust, edgings, and bark. This refuse is not willfully dumped into the river, but is deposited by the mills behind slab wharves which do not seem to be sufficient protection to keep it from floating away during spring tides. This certainly should be remedied. It is generally admitted that the dumping of sawdust and mill refuse into rivers has spoiled them as fish streams and the mill owners and authorities cannot be too careful in respect to this as it will eventually have a detrimental effect upon valuable fishing.

BLACKLANDS

To many the happy holiday season has again come round and the school activities are, for a time, a thing of the past.

The examination of our school was held on Friday afternoon in the presence of many visitors who enjoyed a profitable half-holiday.

The young women too, who have gone out to teach from the different homes are glad to get back and there are not a few of them, for two miles we have nine teachers and one of them, Miss Elizabeth Cook, teaches in Blacklands school, where she has faithfully taught for years.

RUNNYMEADE

On Wednesday evening, June 25th, a very successful concert was held in the schoolhouse, which was tastefully decorated for the occasion.

The stage was tastefully arranged and adorned with ferns and potted plants, and by a simple contrivance a drop curtain was manipulated.

At 8.30 the curtain rose to the strains of the opening chorus, "O Canada." Then followed a programme consisting of humorous recitations, tableaux, songs and dialogues.

The features especially worthy of notice were two dialogues. The first, "The Train to Mauro," in which Mrs. Dugald Myles ably played the part of Mrs. Buttermill, a lady who lives fifteen miles back in the country, and had come in early to take the train to Mauro to visit a sick relative.

Having time to spare she pesteringly asked after the health and usual pleasure pursuits of the station agent, whose part was competently filled by Mr. Fisher. The part of the terrible child was especially well played by Jack Wheeler.

The other, "Gertrude Mason," M. D. was rendered in a very effective manner by seven of the Runnymede ladies and although all performed their parts well, Miss Rose Montgomery, in the role of Dr. Mason, and Miss Maude Lodge as Mr. Mason's Irish housekeeper, deserve special praise.

The other ladies assisting were Mrs. Dugald Myles and the Misses H. Falle, E. Falle, G. Lodge and D. Wheeler.

The musical part of the programme ended in a number of baskets filled with good things, and artistically designed by the young ladies to entice the young men of the audience to part with their hard earned money for the good cause, were in a masterly manner auctioned off by Mr. Dugald Myles, and by this means a considerable amount was added to the proceeds of the evening, which amounted to $73.00, which will be devoted to the repair of the school building.

The success of the evening was largely due to the executive ability of Messrs. Fisher, Allen Falle, N. Falle and John Lodge.

Weather is still cool, crops are backward. High winds are prevailing, so much so that, only for the sight of our quaint little farms and cottages, we would think ourselves in the proverbial windy State.

Mr. F. Miller of Sagatchewan is here winding up his business, prior to settling in the West.

Scholars who passed the year at different colleges and convents are flocking back home. One feels happy to witness the joy of this return, to see the young faces brightening up at the sight of the dear familiar places.

OLD CONVICT SHIP

The Success Was Built in 1790 and Carried Felons

The ancient British convict ship Success which has been showing herself to the New Englanders is worth looking at from the viewpoint of prison reformers and philanthropists generally. She has been patched up a bit since the days when she transported across seas to the penal colonies of Great Britain hundreds of felons and carried in iron handcuffs more who perished on the voyage, still in iron. Originally the Success was an armed East India merchantman with old fashioned ports, from which protruded highly polished brass guns to fight off pirates that had a habit of taking chances with ships bringing luxuries from the Indies. She might have been regarded beautiful in those days, but as compared with modern models of the sleek, high speeded clippers and packets of the '50's she is mighty homely. She was built at Moulmain in 1790 of teak. Her sides are two and a half feet thick at the bilge. She has a square stern, quarter galleries, bluff bows and other peculiarities of the ships of her era. She is 125 feet long, which was big for her day as a merchantman, but vessels of almost her length might be suspended from the davits of the Emperor or the Aquitania. She never made any records as a merchantman, but she created one when she made her last trip across the Atlantic under her own sail, by covering the course in ninety-six days. This is the longest Atlantic trip in modern times. If the human beings who died aboard her should all come back to make a personal inspection of her she would be unable to accommodate them. Some of them, if they brought along their human forms, would be unable to see the old hulk, as they went blind before dying in the "black holes." The Success went out of commission as a convict ship after the exposure in 1857 of the inhuman treatment of prisoners under the bulk system. From 1860 to 1869 she was used as a women's prison and later was a reform school and ammunition store. In 1892 the Success was scuttled by residents of Sydney, N.S.W., after she had been sold. The owners raised her and used her and put her on exhibition. She has been shown five times in London, and her press agent declares that 15,000,000 have since looked her over, including the King of England, the German Emperor and the Prince of Wales.

ORIGIN OF GYPSIES

The first official recognition of the presence of Gypsies in England is contained in an act prohibiting their itinerancy, dated 1540. Bands of Gypsies appeared in Germany, Italy and France early in the fifteenth century, but it is supposed that they did not reach England in considerable numbers until the early part of the sixteenth century. The law referred to commanded Englishmen to refrain from all intercourse with the dark-skinned tourists, and during the reign of Charles I. thirteen persons were executed at one sitting for having associated with Gypsies. In both England and America, up to comparatively recent times, Gypsies were treated as vagrants and often persecuted. There are many theories in regard to the origin of Gypsies, but the one most generally accepted is that they are the descendants of low-caste Hindus expelled by Timur about 1398. Despite their association with other peoples, the manners, customs, superstitions, visage and appearance of the Gypsies remain practically the same as when they made their first appearance in Europe five centuries ago, and they continue to make the same pretense of a knowledge of futurity.

AUTOMATIC LIGHTER

Press Down Lever and Flame Appears in an Instant

An automatic lighter that is designed for home as well as store use has been patented by a Western man. With it comes an ornamental ash tray with four cigar rests around the edge. The lighter stands in the center of the tray and consists of a reservoir for gasoline, a small tube at the top with a friction cap and a lever that operates the cap. It is said that one filling of gasoline will FRICITION IGNITES GASOLINE. gives over 1,000 lights. The principle on which the gasoline lighter is that of friction. One end of the lever is just below the cap of the lighter tube and when the other end of the lever is pushed down, the cap is pushed off and the gasoline ignited from the cap spark that results. The cap is fast to a small chain so it does not get lost. It is claimed that there is no odor to this device.

The invention of the barometer dates back to the year 1644.

FIRST HUNGE! -STRIKERS

The hunger strikes of the suffragists represent the revival of a very old and once widespread custom, known in the East as dharna (or dharna) bathing, or "sitting dharna." This custom was once very common in India, but is now almost obsolete. It was chiefly resorted to in order to force payment of a debt. The creditor would sit at the debtor's door and taste no food until his claims were satisfied. If the debtor allowed the creditor to starve he was believed that he had himself liable to supernatural punishment, especially if the starver happened to be a Brahmin; accordingly, Hindus of lower caste would sometimes engage a Brahmin to starve for them. The custom was much abused being used to levy blackmail upon persons who were not debtors at all. It also gave rise to various analog practices, for instance, that of begging in the Punjab, known as "strap-riggers," who twist a leather strap around the neck and thrust themselves on the ground before a shop until aims are given them. Again, in order to obtain compliance with some demand a person would threaten to commit suicide or kill one of his own children unless his demand was granted. All such practices are forbidden by the Indian Penal Code. An identical custom once prevailed in Ireland, and is frequently mentioned in the Brehon laws. It is recorded that St. Patrick "fasted upon" Laigaire, the heathen over-king of Ireland, until the latter embraced Christianity, and in accordance with the superstitions of the times the king and his family felt it incumbent upon them to fast at the same time until this test of endurance was won by the saint.

HUNGRY LAW MAKERS

Embarrassing Rules Prevailed for Time in Commons Tea-room

The new regulations of the Kitchen Committee of the British House of Commons with reference to the particular classes of eatables that may be supplied in the members' tea-rooms have been revised, but in the interim there were some heartburnings and amusing experiences. Two members coming down from one of the Committee rooms decided to have tea together, and therefore repaired to the tea-room. One of them ordered tea, bread and butter, and a boiled egg. It transpired, however, the eggs were no longer available in the tea-room, so the two members retired to the dining-room, where they were dismayed to learn that tea was no longer served. Here was a problem for statesmen, and they proceeded to solve it by directing a waiter to collect the different refreshments in the different rooms and convey them to the smoking-room. The waiter did so but at the entrance to the smoking-room he was stopped by the superintendent with the announcement that eggs and fruit were not allowed to be supplied in that room. The hungry and thirsty legislators vainly sought to discover any person who could tell them when and under what conditions they could eat what they wanted to eat, and baffled at every point, they at last decided to confine their repa to tea and toast. One of them was heard to say something about the advisability of "hanging the Kitchen Committee with their own red tape."

ORDER OF THE THISTLE

Knighthood Conferred by the King on Lord Haldane

The King directed that Lord Haldane of Cloon be appointing a Knight of the Thistle, in succession to the late Earl of Crawford.

The Thistle is one of the most coveted orders of knighthood, and dates back several centuries. The Knights number twenty-three. They include the King and the Duke of Connaught, the Duke of Argyll, the Duke of Buccleuch, the Marquis of Zetland, Lord Aberdeen, and Lord Rosebery.

A Generous Prince

The Crown Prince of Germany decided to spend the profits from the sale of his book, "From a Sportsman's Diary," in providing a three weeks holiday for one hundred boys attending the Berlin elementary schools. The boys were selected from the poorest class, and were quartered in the barracks of the Prince's regiment at Langfuhr, near Dantzic, which locality combines the advantages of country and seaside.

Famous Men's Hair

Locks of hair from the heads of three men famous in English literature were sold at Sotheby's. That of Milton realized only $14.00, Dean Swift's brought no higher bid than $9.00, and the tress of Dr. Johnson's was knocked down for $7.10.

LAIRD OF ASSYNT

Vancouver Man Big Landed Proprietor in His Native Scotland

The Duke of Sutherland sold to Mr. J. W. Stewart, a well known railway contractor of Vancouver, the northwestern part of the parish of Assynt, in the county of Sutherland. The property has an area of over 50,000 acres, and embraces the districts of Stoer, Achmelvich, Inver and Kylesku. The land forms one of the most fertile spots in Scotland, and from an agricultural point of view is ideal. The scenery is of the choicest, and no more bracing and invigorating spot could well be found in the kingdom. A large number of shooting tents are annually in the district, and angling is to be had in abundance.

Mr. Stewart, the purchaser, is a native of Drumbeg. He came to Canada about thirty years ago, and from the first fortune smiled upon him, everything he turned his hand to being successful, with the result that in a very short time he became one of the leading railway contractors of Canada. It was always his desire to become possessor of a piece of his native country, especially the part where he was born and reared. His ambition has been realized, and his satisfaction that one of their own kin and kin had become the proprietor was received with great rejoicing.

When it became known that Mr. Stewart was the proprietor of the lands, the people of the district unit to honor the occasion in true Highland fashion. Bonfires were set alight on the hillsides, at which parties gathered for rejoicing and dancing, the merry accompaniment of the pipes, the new proprietor's health, and the health of his wife and family being toasted amid every token of good-will.

The principal rejoicings took place at Assynt, at which there was a large and enthusiastic gathering. Mr. Mackenzie, in voicing the feelings of the people, referred to the rejoicing which was universal among the friends and neighbors of Mr. Stewart and his respected family at the fact that one of themselves had become laird of the countryside. They had evidence of that in the large gathering met on that occasion to do honor to Mr. Stewart, who they were expected to think and speak of as laird of Assynt.

COMPULSORY TRAINING

Quite Justified in New Zealand

"Very cheerfully I consented to my son taking the time away from business to undergo the compulsory military training," said Mr. John Watson of Auckland, New Zealand, in discussing at Montreal the measure adopted by his country. "We are trying to keep Australia and New Zealand white. That is our aim and it threatens to be a difficult one to carry out. We are not much impressed with the German menace, and the need of a North Sea fleet, but we do understand what the yellow peril means.

"I firmly believe that as soon as China and Japan are in a position to take aggressive measures that we can look out for trouble. They have tried gaining our country by colonization and other drastic measures, prevented New Zealand from being overrun. The head tax of $500 held them in check for a while, but the wealthy Chinamen already with us were very fond of advancing the tax to capitalists and bringing them in to work out the loan.

"Our next step was the educational test, requiring newcomers to have some knowledge of English, and this served the purpose. The Chinese population is now decreasing." Mr. Watson first saw snow while crossing the Canadian Rocky Mountains.

Smoking Made Harmless

Nicotine is the poison that lurks in tobacco, and many have been the efforts and experiments to do away with this harmful feature in "the pipe that cheers." It has been found with different methods that when the nicotine has been extracted the tobacco was tasteless, but dealers and manufacturers have now reached their end by the simplest of processes—soaking the nicotine out of the tobacco.

This is the method. Soak the tobacco in fresh, pure water in an earthen dish for about an hour, then remove the tobacco and dry it out of doors.

Chemical analysis of the water in which the tobacco has been soaked shows that a very large percentage of the nicotine has been dissolved. This solution, incidentally, is a useful poison to kill insects on greenhouse and other plants.

Tobacco treated loses its aroma to some extent, but the smoker soon acquires a liking for the purity of the blend, and saves in health and pocket by buying tobacco in natural leaf form from the wholesalers, soaking carefully for several hours, and drying slowly on paper.

Sheep as Beasts of Burden

All sorts of animals are pressed into service as beasts of burden in various parts of the world. In Tibet, for instance, sheep and goats are used as pack animals, and a flock of these animals, well loaded, journey from there to the Rampur fair, in India.

The hardy little beasts take over a month on the long and arduous journey, traversing on the way several high passes, where other pack animals would be useless.

Once in India and their loads delivered, they are kept on the plains during the winter, and then sent back with a stock of grain for Tibet and regions on the border where food-stuffs are scarce.

WOMAN IN TERRIBLE STATE

Finds Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Cape Wolfe, Canada.—"Last March I was a complete wreck. I had given up all hope of getting better or living any length of time, as I was such a sufferer from female troubles. But I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and today I am in good health and have a pair of twin boys two months old and growing finely. I surprised doctors and neighbors for they all know what a wreck I was.

"Now I am healthy, happy and hearty, and owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies. You may publish this letter if you like. I think if more women used your remedies they would have better health."—Mrs. J. T. Cook, Lot No. 7, Cape Wolfe, P.E.I., Canada.

Because your case is a difficult one, and doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has remedied many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, and it may be exactly what you need.

The Pinkham record is a proud and peerless one. It is a record of constant victory over the obstinate ills of women—ills that deal out despair. It is an established fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored health to thousands of such suffering women. Why don't you try it if you need such a medicine?

Mount St. Vincent Academy is beautifully situated along a far-stretching arm of the broad Atlantic—the Basin of Bedford.
