Sh.OM The Bridge.

Was Mr. Blair or Mr. Wetmore right on the Bridge question? The Attorney General declared in the Oity Hall and in the Legislature, that the Crown, meaning of course the Local Government, had authority to construct the Bridge, regardless of the Dominion Parliament. He quoted alleged precedents for such a course, and declared that " what has been done, may be done, and hand, has given his opinion that it will be necessary to seek legislation from the Federal and because he has advised this course, he and his friends have been charged by one newspaper crank, with opposing the construction of the Bridge. Further than by the same parties, and he has been abused for having, as this irresponsible authority al leged, exerted his influence with the Do-Government on the Bridge question All these charges are the merest folly, manufac tured to the order of Mr. Blair, and by his command, given to the country to injure his opponents, and to relieve him of some of the opposition his handling of this matter, has

Why did he not go to the Deminion Parliament at its last costion, and for Mr. Rielding to form a new administration, but Mr. Fielding has not been able and secure the necessary legislation. We suppose it will be said in reply, that he did not believe it necessary to obtain Dominion legislation. Does Mr. Blair still believe at he does, why is not the construction of the heiden maked forward. Why is it. of the bridge pushed forward. Why is it, Church and Gayton, declare that they still that nearly the whole season has been lost, continue advisers of the Crown, and that Mr. The Astorney General has made a laugh-Pipes, although he was premier, had no ing stock of himself before the country, on authority to tender the resignation of the Ex-ecutive as a body. We have always heard that a St. John man would collapse at any time, provided the liquid refreshments were sufficient in variety and quality, but this is the first instance recorded, where one of them, and an editor at that, went down before a square meal.

We have now the pleasure of queting from the Telegraph of Monday, the following endorsement of the Murray Farm :-

Beyond doubt the Murray farm is both a large and good farm. It fully bears out the description given by those members of the Board of Agriculture and the Government who visited and reported upon it. It is remarkable well writered annines detting the markably well watered, springs dotting the hillside and upland here and there throughout its entire extent. The farm bears evidence of good cultivation throughout. It is abundantly fenced with cedar; this, with the distribution of water supply, giving facilities for utilising any portion of it, or many different portions at the same time for the purposes of separate pasturage. We found the grain and root crops all looking well, and the highland hay promising a good average for this rather unfavorable season. Here, as well as on the Provincial Stock Farm, chemical manures have been used to some extent. cal masures have been used to some extent.

Sin.—I see by late numbers of the FanMER, that the Teachers are specified out their minds on the recent changes in the School Law. I am glid as young teacher, intending to follow teaching as a profession, that such is the case. The teachers it appears to me, could, in justice to themselves and the country, do nothing less.

I have been accustomed a fear the School Law, as it was, held up as comething greatly to be admired, and with a very few exceptions, all the teachers at their Institutes, andorsed the whole, anoughlifiedly. Of course, i do not forget the much silvense criticism was had an the introduction of the "Course of Instruction" and the "Re and System; but in this discussion the teachers aimed rather at modifications than any radical changes in either the one or the other, and changes in either the one or the other, and changes corresponding to their wishes were made. I may be untaken but I think the present Chief Superintendent arranged the Course of Instruction. It was tried and teachers and Inspectors were loud in its praise. In my humble opinion it deserved to be well received notwithstanding the multiciplicity of subjects embraced in it. In changes in either the one or the other, and difficulty in fairly covering each standard in the given time. I now appeal to every intelligent teacher in the Province, for his canadid opinion as to the results of his lessons in Natural Science, and here I mean by Natural ace, and here I mean by Natural Natural Science, and nere I mean by Natural Science, the subjects in the course under the head of Plant Life, Animal Life, Chemistry, and Minerals. employment to the same teacher in the same district. It may be that these objects were into attained, but I do know that all the Inspectors in their reports said they were. And further, I do know that the present Chief Superintendent, seemed most hearthy and religiously to endorse all that Dr. Rand proposed. Here let me say, that no man in the teaching profession in New Brunswick, has the Local Geverament is weakening on the matter of changing the Stock Farm.

Judge Fraser has fixed December 9th, as the day for the hearing of the Sunbury Election periods in New Brunswick, has the day for the hearing of the Sunbury Election profession in New Brunswick, has the day for the hearing of the Sunbury Election petition. He would not dare in the face of day declare, that the changes were made of his own more motion, and if, they were contrary to his convictions of what was best to promote education, in the name of consistency, and honesty, and the same of consistency, and honesty, and the same of consistency, and honesty, and honesty, and the same of consistency, and honesty, and honesty and honesty and honesty and honesty and honesty and honesty and honesty. the name of consistency, and honesty, and truth, how could be accept the office of Chief, Superintendent?

From King to Pauper. The death in Berlin of a pauper who but fourteen years ago was the railway king Strougherg is a timely illustration of the truth that even kings may loose their meney. This famous entreprenour was once worth drink. If you have not the use of a good filter, then put two, three, or even four drops of Condy's fluid into each tumblerful of water that you drink. If you cannot procure that, then boil your drinking-water, and let it stand until quite cold before you drink it; only first to get rid of the "boiled" taste, pour out the water after boiling, rapidly from vessel to vessel, repeating the process frequently. The admixure with air that hereby ensues will well-nigh counteract the auseous taste. 2. Eat stale bread, not new; content yourself with plain wholesome "roast" or "boiled," and eschew all sweets and pastry. Eat funities for target drill and practice. There is a young man in Oakland, Cal., he wondered if she would acquire the airs and affectations that certain young ladies that he knew had, by attending the fashionable seminary. After being there a year he begun to flatter himself that his sister was proof against such nonsense, when he received a letter signed "Jessica," instead of Jessic. as heretofore. In answering, he wrote some-thing like this;—" Dear Sister Jessica—Your welcome letter received, Mammaica and papaica are well. Aunt Maryica and Uncle Georgica started for the Santa Cruz Mountains yesterday. Have bought a new horse; it is a beauty; it is named Maudica, &c Your affectionate brother Samica." next letter was signed Jessie, resided at the QUIEEN HETEL for the last three years, may now be consulted at the OOEMERCALL HOTELL, Fredericton, either personally or by a lock of hair. Hair may be sent from any distance by iether, and should be cut close to the head and not handled if possible by any person but the patient. His examinations are made whilst in Trance, and entirely unconscious of everything which takes place unless told afterwards by the parties themselves or his anatuments. Some of his most successful easies were throughout, treated by a lock of hair; in some instances sent from Mova Sootis and from distant parts of this Province.

His description of the physical condition of a patient from a look of hair is very wonderful, this too, without the slightest knowledge of the party. The Doctor especially prefers that notaing should be said to him of any patient's aliments, before examination. His success in several cases in his city which baffied the best

We knew by the clouds to the eastward It was going to rain that day, And there was the whole of the meadow All spread with the fragrant hay,
And the clouds grew darker and large!
As the wind the tree tops tossed,
And hard though I was working
It seemed that the hay was lost.

My farm was a small and poor one, And the hay crop was all I had, And I could not afford to hire a man, For the times were dull and had. And the matters were looking dreary For me that summer day, When I heard a sweet voice behind me,

Two by neighbors daughter Molty, a who lived just across the road, And soft was the light in her downcast eye And the blush on her cheek that glowed I gladly accepted the service She offered in steadly way, And there by my side that afternoon alshe helped me gather the hay.

She was no fine lady feeble,
Though her same web plump and white,
And she raked all day with me, row for row,
Till the full of the summer algab.
And then, when we ceased our labors,
And the may was intend away,
From the depth of my heart I thanked her For her kindness to me that day.

And I took her home to her cottage, and I asked not her hand in marriage Which I know que use and I left her there at the gateway, Which I know she thought I'd do And from her looks, I know she was
