LONDON, Aug. 16.—Mr. D. L. Moody, the evangelist, in replying to a memorial from London ministers asking him to conduct a great mission in London this winter in conjunction with Mr. Sankey, says that his home work has more claim upon his attention at present, but that probably he will comply with the request should it be renewed in 1894.

New Knights Invested.

LONDON, Aug. 15.—There was to be such a great investiture last week, and so many individuals to be knighted, that the Queen decided to divide the function into two parts, and the first contingent attended at Osborne on Tuesday, while the second, consisting of new kights, went down on Friday. This will be the last court function during the present year, unless the Queen holds an investiture at Windsor Castle early in December.

A Great Tiger Story.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 16.—The Orioßski Viestnik tells the wierd story of a gigantic tiger which has recently caused great damage in the Bolchovsk country, and has spread consternation among the peasants by devouring several of them, male and female, without discrimination. Where the brute came from is a mystery, since the climate of the Province of Orel is not at all one favorable for the breeding of tigers. The animal first made his presence known by eating up a young boy, Prokofi Suchatchey, who had been sent a little distance from the village on an errand. All they found of him four days later was a pair of boots and several half-crunched bones. Following this first victim came in rapid succession an old woman, a young matron with her child, and, finally, a peasant who was driving home a cow. Both went to satiate the hunger of the tiger. On July 24 the Governor-General of the Province dispatched 40 soldiers and four officers to hunt down the terrible monster. At last accounts there were only 39 soldiers left, for one of them had incautiously wandered away from camp and had fallen prey to the animal he had come to hunt.

Seventeen Drowned.

DUBLIN, Aug. 16.—An excursion boat was capsized in the River Shannon to-day and seventeen persons were drowned. A number clung to the boat and were rescued.

Grand Trunk Dividend.

LONDON, Aug. 16.—The Grand Trunk Railway has declared a dividend of 2 per cent. per annum on guaranteed stock, as against 2½ per cent. for the first half of 1892.

Cholera Spreading.

VIENNA, Aug. 16.—A dispatch from Lemberg, capitol of Austrian Galicia, states that cholera is spreading in the towns of Nadjorna and Sniatyn. Within the past 48 hours there were 24 new cases of the disease and 11 deaths reported.

To Stop Hay Exports.

BUDA-PESTH, Aug. 16.—The Hungarian Ministry has entered into an agreement with the Austrian Government to forbid the further exportation of hay, straw and other fodder, because of the rapid advance in the price of the articles affected. The enormous exportation led to a big deficiency in the army bill, and as it was feared that the prices would still further advance the Government deemed some measure necessary.

Sensational News from India.

A special from London to the New York Evening Sun says: Government dispatches say that Bombay is in possession of the mob. Troops are powerless. Every mosque has been destroyed. Many persons have been massacred. Europeans are panic-stricken. Troops are now protecting only the public buildings. The Governor has appealed for help, asking for instructions.

BOMBAY, Aug. 16.—The religious race rioting was resumed in this city to-day, and for several hours the streets were the scenes of desperate conflicts. The fighting was of the most sanguinary nature and a large number of persons were killed and wounded. To-day being a Hindoo holiday, the authorities anticipated a renewal of the recent disturbances and were in a measure prepared to suppress an outbreak, but the police force and troops in the garrison were inadequate to cover the whole city, and when peace was restored in one district fresh outbreaks would occur in other parts of the city. The rage of the mob was directed especially against the mosques, several of which were sacked and burned. All the public buildings are now guarded by troops, and the gunboats in the harbor have been cleared for action and brought into position to cover the native quarters. The local authorities are confident of being able ultimately to quell the rioting.—[Central News.

LONDON, Aug. 16.—Rumors were current here to-day that religious riots in Bombay had broken out again and that the fanatics had massacred many persons. To-day is a Hindoo holiday and the authorities at Bombay, fearing that the troubles would be started again with the Mahommedans, had 3,000 troops held in readiness for instant service in repressing the disorder.

In the lobbies of the House of Commons the reports that the European residents of Bombay were in jeopardy were ridiculed, as it is known that the military authorities could at short notice flood the city with troops from Poonah and other cantonments.

BURNED OUT.

Fatal Fire at St. Paul, Minn.—One Fireman Killed and Several Hurt.

ST. PAUL, MINN., Aug. 16.—As the result of a fire, which lasted fifteen minutes, this evening, one fireman is dead and several others injured, and the stock of goods of W. J. Dyer & Bros., dealers in musical instruments, 137 East Third street, is ruined. The fire started at 6:30 o'clock, and gained very rapid headway.

The whole department was quickly called out. The burning varnish on the musical instruments made a smoke so dense that it sickened the firemen, and half a dozen reached the ground with difficulty.

Michael Clonan, of engine No. 3, jumped from a fifth story window and was horribly mangled. He lived only a few minutes after striking the street.

Jerry Murphy, of the same company, was carried down from the fifth story. He was badly cut about the head, and is still unconscious.

Capt. Jerry Strap, of engine No. 8, was taken from the third story unconscious. His injuries are internal.

Chief Jackson and John Devlin, of engine No. 4, were both partially suffocated. The loss of W. J. Dyer and Bros. is about $100,000; insured. The building was damaged to the extent of $20,000.

MERLIN, Ont., Aug 16.—A fire broke out early this morning in Waiter Hall's carriage and blacksmith shop, totally destroying the same, also the house and stable adjoining. Part of the household goods was saved. Loss about $3,000. Insurance on house and contents, $500.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 16.—Keeler & Jennings' carriage factory in North Washington street was damaged to the extent of $100,000 by fire this morning. It is thought the fire was of incendiary origin.

INSANITY IN CANADA.

As Reported by the Census Enumerators—The Causes.

OTTAWA, Aug. 16.—The Dominion census commissioner has issued a bulletin relative to insanity and idiocy, which shows that of the 13,335 insane persons reported by census enumerators as the number in the Dominion of Canada in 1891, there were 7,029 who reported as inmates of asylums. Thus somewhat more than one-half are sheltered, cared for and supplied with medical attendance within the asylums provided for their reception. The commission figures that 35 per cent. of the insanity in Canada is due to heredity, 4 per cent. to drink and 11 per cent. to ill health, various minor reasons causing the balance.

The daily shipments from Middletown are 400 baskets, from Millington 1,000, from Milford 1,000.

FINANCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL.

The Gilbert Car Works at Troy in Difficulty.

TROY, N. Y., Aug. 16.—The sheriff of Albany county this afternoon took possession of the works at Green Island of the Gilbert Car Manufacturing Company, of Troy, on five judgments aggregating $150,000 in favor of members of the Gilbert family. The works are among the largest in the country, and now have orders for cars for an elevated railroad in Chicago and other roads, enough to keep running until fall. The concern dates back to 1823.

OTTAWA, Aug. 16.—A letter from a Canadian at Grand Forks, Dakota, says:—"There has never been in the history of Dakota anything like these hard times. There is no money and nothing doing. Some places there will be scarcely any crop—not enough to pay for seed. The miners are coming here in droves, and they can't get work. They say four weeks will finish all that has to be done, and then there is nothing to be done all winter. No person could believe the state of affairs here unless they came and saw for themselves. The farmers are disheartened."

MONTREAL, Aug. 16.—Mr. Wier, president of the Ville Marie Bank and one of the oldest Canadian bankers, addresses an open letter through the press to the President and Congress of the United States, expressing the opinion that the National Bank Act of the United States is the principal cause of the present financial trouble.

VARYING VIEWS

On the Decision of the Bering Sea Board of Arbitration.

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 16.—Local sealers, while regarding the decision of the Bering Sea arbitrators as favorable to securing compensation for losses caused by the Americans, say the regulations will be disastrous in stopping sealing on the coast, where the catch is principally taken.

Ottawa, Aug. 16.—The Citizen (Conservative), this morning says:—While the arbitrators have solemnly recorded their judgment that the American contentions were untenable, they have nevertheless adopted provisions for future government of the industry which practically hand it over to the Americans. It may possibly be too early to draw these large inferences from the necessarily imperfect information conveyed by the cable, but it appears at present as though the arbitrators had given us the shell and handed the kernel over to Uncle Sam.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—The local papers comment editorially on the Bering Sea decision, as follows:

The Herald says: The country may well be satisfied with the decision of the Bering Sea arbitrators given in Paris yesterday. It is against the United States on every claim to exclusive right, but it calls for the protection of seals by joint action of this country and Great Britain, and protection is the substantial advantage we have been seeking.

The World Says: The decision gives to the Government and its lessee, the fur company, all that was rightly asked. It only remains for the two interested countries to carry out the provisions. The tribunal has decided against us, but the contention was practically abandoned by Mr. Blaine and by our counsel on the argument.

The Sun says: So far as the position taken by the United States in the Bering Sea affair was the outcome of a humane purpose it has been sustained by the decision of the tribunal. So far as it may have originally been prompted by a desired monopoly of the seal fur trade for an American company it has been pronounced untenable.

The Times says: So far as one can judge as to the working of the regulations adopted, there is every reason why the United States should be entirely satisfied with the conclusions of the board of arbitration. It was not desirable that the clear and well established principles regarding maritime jurisdiction and freedom of the seas should be disturbed or confused to suit a particular exigency, and our Government was put in the wrong in ever being made to contend for anything of the kind. It seems likely to obtain all that it ought ever to have asked for in a practical protection of sealing interests from injury done from indiscriminate pelagic hunting.

The Tribune says: The decision is a compromise, with the technical rulings in favor of England and the practical regulations for the protection of the fur seal, wholly in the interest of the United States.

The Recorder says: We have not won all that we contended for in the Bering Sea question, but Great Britain has less reason to be satisfied with the conclusions of the commission than we have.

The Press says: The sum and substance of the decision is that England has gained a nominal success, while the United States has scored a real and actual triumph.

WON'T WORK.

Farmers Complain That the Unemployed Refuse to Come to Them.

ST. PAUL, Aug. 16. — Farmers in the Northwest are now harvesting. They find great difficulty in securing help. The country in this section is overrun with tramps and unemployed people, and it was thought that the unemployed would accept places with the farmers. They refuse to do so, and say that wages are too low, and fears are entertained that unless the harvest excursions change the situation the farmers will be unable to take care of their crops properly. A dispatch from Hallock, Minn., says:

"The acreage of grain in this country is larger than ever before and the crops fine, but unless the farmers obtain more help a great deal will be lost. Big wages are offered, but not one-tenth the number of workingmen necessary to harvest the crops is to be found in the county."

GEORGE WAS THERE!

World's Fair Ball in the Natatorium Building.

All Classes and Colors in Attendance, from Snowy White to Sooty.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 16.—This was a great night at the World's Fair. The nations of the world intermingled at a ball. Every class of all people was there.

The Natatorium Building, where the grand fete was held, contained thousands, who gladly paid $3 to participate.

The ball was arranged by the concessionaires of the Midway Plaisance, and all the strange people from that strange quarter took part. There were Chinese, Japanese, Samoans, Dahomeyans, Turks, Syrians, Persians and many other nations in native dress. The World's Fair officials were all in attendance.

Citizen George Francis Train led the march with a dusky woman from the far east.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 16.—There was a large attendance at the first regular session of the congress on arbitration and peace, the fifth international congress that has been held in the world to abolish war. Dr. Trueblood, of Boston, is president.

JUST FOR FUN.

The Butcher Bird Kills Mice and Snakes by Spiking Them on Thorns.

The butcher bird that is familiar to all ranches in California is considered by the foremost ornithologists as the most sagacious bird in America. Thomas Oldham, of Lordsburg, tells the San Francisco Examiner that he believes it is as cruel as it is sagacious. "I have paid lots of attention to a pair of butcher birds at my place for six months," said he to us the other day, "and I have learned many new things about the habits of the peculiar butcher bird. A pair of them have followed me while plowing for three or four days at a time, watching and waiting for me to overturn a nest of field mice. When I overturn a nest they will pounce down upon the little mice and claw and peck them to death. Then the mouse carcasses are carried away to some neighboring orange or lemon tree and spiked upon the thorns. The birds seldom eat the mice, but kill them from sheer love of excitement. When they can spike a live mouse, or even a rat, on a thorn they flutter about and chatter with themselves as if they had great fun in seeing the rodents squirm and twist in the throes of death. But I am most surprised to see how strong butcher birds are, and what they can lift and fly away with. I have often seen toads that had been impaled upon the thorns of a century plant upon my place and left to die. The other morning I saw a butcher bird with a snake fully a foot long. He had it by the back of the neck and flew with it up into an orange tree. He then nailed the reptile on to a thorn and sat and watched it. He let the snake almost wriggle off, when he flew at it and would fix it on more firmly. Because these birds are destructive to gophers and rats they are considered the friends of the orange-grower."

FELL THROUGH A BRIDGE.

Railway Disaster in Virginia — Five Persons Killed and Several Injured.

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 16.—A special from Milton, N. C., says: The Atlantic and Danville train No. 4 fell through a bridge this morning and two cars and a Pullman car were completely demolished.

The killed are Conductor Morriss; George E. B. Elam, of Durham, N. C.; J. T. Davis, of Casterville, Va.; W. R. Eliason, Alton, and Thomas Lee (colored), Winston. Seven were injured.

A Canard.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Aug. 16.—The village authorities of Niagara Falls pronounce the sensational story that the Oddfellows while meeting in grand lodge there had destroyed the American flags and also the American consul's coat of arms a pure fabrication. There is not the slightest ground for such a report.

Fourteen Years For Biting Off a Nose.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—A bit of a man's nose preserved in alcohol was on exhibit before Recorder Smith yesterday. It had formerly belonged to the body of Robert H. Jackson, who on July 31 was assaulted by Robert Hickman, an ex-convict. Hickman was jealous of Jackson, and in a quarrel used his teeth as well as his hands. He was sentenced to fourteen years in prison.

Wouldn't Pay His Fare.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Aug. 16.—James Watt, son of a prominent citizen of Dunbar, fatally shot Wm. Hartman and seriously wounded Justice Cotton on a Baltimore and Ohio passenger train last evening. Watt refused to pay his fare, and the conductor called for assistance to eject him from the train. As the men advanced toward Watt he fired at them with the above result.

Fast Steamship Service.

OTTAWA, Aug. 16.—The Government has received from R. Napier & Sons, ship builders, of Glasgow, an offer to establish a fast steamship service between Canada and England. The offer will be considered at the first meeting of the Government. An offer of $500,000 by way of annual subsidy to a line of fast Atlantic steamers has been standing for several years, but without result so far.

Epidemic of Safe-Blowers.

BOSTON, Aug. 16.—The New England States at the present time are infested with a desperate gang of successful safe-blowers and robbers that are striking terror to the hearts of New England postmasters. During the last three months and up to last Saturday night just 35 postoffices have been broken into, the safes blown open and the contents taken. In all, the Government is a loser by over $10,000.

A Splendid Start.

First Annual Meet of the London Bicycle Club.

Three Thousand Spectators Enjoy the Sport.

Favoring Skies—Good Management—Interesting Contests—Hyslop and Manville Retain Their Honors—Summary of the Various Events.

To over-estimate or misappraise the interest, enthusiasm and success of the London Bicycle Club's first annual meet held yesterday afternoon on the Queen's Park track would tax a well-stocked vocabulary of superlative adjectives. The interest taken in the pastime was amply attested by the 3,000 persons who congregated to witness the various events. The enthusiasm possessed by the cyclists themselves rapidly permeated the whole assemblage, and the pecuniary success—substantial and encouraging — was commensurate with the patronage indicated. The race course was in prime condition. Rollers had been effectively used, and ease and celerity of motion was dependent but on personal effort. No pains, it may safely be said, were spared to minister to the wants of riders; and all these, judging from the numerous expressals of approval overheard, were gratified. Several asserted that this was the best meet they had ever participated in upon a horse race track. It was undoubtedly the finest ever witnessed in this section of Ontario. With a finely-constructed track, such as that now under consideration, London cannot but become the center of cycling race contests in Canada. Her facilities are unexampled, and the people are willing to extend a hearty support. Rarely has an affair of this kind been more efficiently managed than the one just concluded. No waits between events were experienced.

Hyslop, the Canadian champion at all distances, was, of course, "the cynosure of neighboring eyes." No one could help admiring his admirable muscularity of build. He had fully recovered from the illness which crippled his Chicago ventures. He was in capital form. The one mile open, the first event in which he competed, was an exciting contest. The official time—2:42 1-5—does not indicate the justness of this remark. The last portion of the race, however, was finished at a warm clip. Robertson and Smith had secured a considerable lead. The home stretch was about to be entered. Around the finishing turn the two contestants swept with characteristic velocity. Hyslop realized that the time for action had come. A spirit of indomitable determination rose within him. He immediately nerved for the final sprint. Down the center of the course, his eye upon the leaders, he swept with the speed of a mustang. A few yards from the tape he overtook both and won easily.

Hyslop also started in the half-mile open. This event he won without trouble. Blake, McCarthy and Robertson were dubious as to the shape of a bicycle at the finish. There is consolation for them, though, in the thought that a race with a fast man is conducive to the development of speed in embryo riders. Time made—1:12 1-5—was excellent.

The one mile novice brought out a good field of riders. Tambling is to be congratulated on the plucky manner in which he hung to the winner.

The one mile city championship went to Manville. This achievement is especially creditable in view of the fact that the speedy Londoner was "under the weather." He also took the primal place in the first heat of the one-half mile (1:20 class). The track in the second effort referred to was circled in 1:14 1-5.

The five mile club team race was probably the most exciting event of the afternoon. Three sets of men, representing the Londons, Athenæums and Wanderers started. The combination belonging to the latter club—entered a few minutes prior to the commencement of the contest—was strong. That belonging to the Athenæums was most favored. The miles were finished thus: First 2:52, second 5:40, third 8:22, fourth 11:13, fifth 13:47 1-5. The Athenæum's team was victorious.

F. W. Young, a youthful rider belonging to the Wanderers, is deserving of prominent mention. The way in which he kept with the more experienced and seasoned riders in the long distance test was truly marvelous. He is the most promising rider among the younger element of track racers, and his form of locomotion in the various events in which he tried issues with the best and speediest cyclists in Canada does not indicate him as rateable very much below. He will doubtless be in the foremost rank next season.

Brakeman Killed on the C. P. R.

MONTREAL, Aug. 16.—Crawford Atkinson, a C. P. R. brakeman, fell off his train at Caughnawaga to-night and was run over by the cars and killed. His body was terribly mutilated.

The habit of what is called flirting, which some young men and women indulge in, is severely condemned by the People's Journal: "It is through flirtation, which has advanced to something like a fine art, that many marriageable young folks lose their chance in life. Flirtation destroys confidence between the persons who indulge in it; it prevents the natural growth of mutual esteem; it is not a thing of good faith. It is an error to suppose that lovemaking and flirtation are identical; they are, in truth, antithetical. Lovemaking is tender and ennobling, while flirtation is cruel, foolish, and demeaning. The one is the prelude to wedded happiness; the other is inimical to it. Young men and women should exercise their reason while on the lookout for suitable life partners; yet many of them give encouragement to flirters, silly flirters, who are taken up or thrown off, with results that are often grievous indeed." This is truly a sage discourse of the People's Journal upon a serious subject. We are inclined to think that it is sound in the main; we guess that it is worth the notice of those concerned. We, therefore, present it here, in the interest of all young people of both sexes, including those of them who are summering away from their homes in the city at this pleasant season of the year.

An Eloper's Hard Luck.

Mrs. Alfred J. Mansfield Deserted by Her Paramour.

A Former London Wester a Chicago Restaurant Cook.

Mr. Mansfield Does Not Want Her Back—He Will Bring an Action for Divorce—Frenchy Goes Back to Gay Paree.

Mrs. A. J. Mansfield, a former resident of London West, who eloped from Cleveland last June with Edward Le Grande, a French language teacher, has been deserted by her paramour in Chicago and is now a restaurant cook.

The Cleveland Tribune prints the following account of the affair:

"She left her indulgent husband and a comfortable home to elope with a French language teacher. Her paramour deserted her and she is now a cook in a Chicago restaurant.

"This is the story in brief of Mrs. Alfred J. Mansfield, whose elopement with Edward Le Grade last June caused a widespread sensation. Mr. Mansfield is an insurance agent, and at his home, which at the time of the elopement was at No. 337 Prospect street, he had surrounded his beautiful wife with all the comforts of life, even indulging her in some of the luxuries which belong only to the wealthy, for he was a good and kind husband. In their home was a lodger, one Edward Le Grande, a polished Frenchman, who called himself a professor of languages. He was 23. Mrs. Mansfield was 40. They became much attached to each other, and the wife gradually turned a cold shoulder to Mr. Mansfield. He upbraided her for her duplicity and threatened to kick the little Frenchman out.

"The latter feigned sickness and took to his bed. Mrs. Mansfield was very attentive and nursed him through his illness. The presence of the French professor in the house was a thorn in the husband's side and he told his wife so. But, oily-tongued woman that she was, she smoothed the wrinkles on her husband's brow by soft intercessions, promising to send the "Frenchman" away as soon as he was able to journey. On June 6, the friends of the Mansfield's were startled to learn that Mrs. Mansfield had eloped with the French teacher. The husband ascertained that the eloping couple had gone to Chicago. Mrs. Mansfield paid for the tickets, as the Frenchman had nothing but his entertaining manners and his clothes. In the Windy City he soon tired of his middle-aged companion, and it was not long before she was left to fight the battle of the world alone. To make a living she went to work as cook in a restaurant.

"At the time of the elopment G. T. Williams, an agent formerly in Mr. Mansfield's employ, was in Chicago. Mrs. Williams, who was in this city at the time, mailed to him Cleveland papers containing an account of the disappearance of Le Grande and Mrs. Mansfield. Stopping at the same boarding-house with Mr. Williams was a man from London, Ont., named J. B. Miles. Mr. and Mrs. Mansfield lived in London West before they located in Cleveland. Friends of Mrs. Miles mailed her the Cleveland newspapers, and she in turn forwarded them to her husband in Chicago. Mr. Miles knew that Mr. Williams lived in Cleveland, and asked him if he was acquainted with the Mansfields. He replied in the affirmative, and the two men discussed the elopement at some length. Several days afterward Mr. Miles told Williams that he had located Mrs. Mansfield. The Frenchman, he said, had returned to Paris and Mrs. Mansfield had been obliged to earn her own living as a cook in a Chicago restaurant. Mr. Mansfield now resides on Cedar avenue. He is well aware of his wife's present condition, but will never try to reclaim her. He has retained Col. Edgar Sowers to begin an action against Mrs. Mansfield for divorce. The petition will set forth the elopement as a ground for legal separation."

Prairie Fires in the Northwest.

Mr. M. H. King, a former resident of Downie, writes the Stratford Herald from Estevan, N. W. T., under date of Aug. 8, as follows: "The weather here has been extremely hot and dry the last month. The hot winds from the south are like a blast from a furnace. Prairie fires are raging here on all sides, and thousands of tons of hay are being burnt up. Some men out haying have to take their haying implements and run for their lives. The fire travels very fast on a windy day. The Soo line of railway is being pushed rapidly now, and will be completed in about four weeks. It is a very substantially built road, heavier rails, ties and wider grade than the ordinary road. Crops are not looking well; the hot wind is too much for them."

Are You Nervous.

Are you all tired out, do you have that tired feeling or sick headache? You can be relieved of all these symptoms by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which gives nerve, mental and bodily strength and thoroughly purifies the blood. It also creates a good appetite, cures indigestion, heartburn and dyspepsia.

Hood's Pills are easy to take, easy in action and sure is effect. 25 cents a box.

A girl's "Yes" is brief; but it isn't taken as a short answer.

Love and anger need no Volapuk.

Many men lightly spoken of as "henpecked" would starve if henless.

Nothing is sure in politics but uncertainty.

A Man Made Happy.—GENTLEMEN,—For five years I have been a great sufferer with Dyspepsia; the pain in the pit of my stomach was almost unbearable and life only seemed a drag to me. When I would go to sleep I would have horrible dreams, and my life became very miserable, as there was no rest either day or night. But with the use of only two bottles of Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY this unhappy state has all been changed and I am a well man. I can assure you, my case was a bad one, and I send you this that it may be the means of convincing others of the wonderful curative qualities possessed by this medicine, that are specially adapted for the cure of Dyspepsia. A lady customer of mine had the Dyspepsia very bad, she could scarcely eat anything, and was troubled with pains similar to those I suffered with; and she cured herself with two bottles of Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY. I wish you success with your medicine, as I am fully convinced that it will do all you claim for it.

Signed, MELVILLE B. MARSH, Abercorn P. Q. General Merchant.

BRANT.

The marriage took place Tuesday in St. Basil's Church, Brantford, of James O'Grady, of Toledo, Ohio, to Miss Maggie Davis, of Chicago. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Lennon.

Prof. Graham Bell, the inventor of the telephone, is visiting Brantford and the vicinity.

A daring robbery was committed at the house of Wm. Nunnick, Scotland, Tuesday. Two tramps entered the house and stole a silver lever watch and $96 in cash.

A woman arrived in Brantford Tuesday night somewhat late, and passing down Market street deposited at the door of Mr. John Gardiner a bundle, which was subsequently found to contain a healthy male child of about six weeks old. The woman disappeared.

T. Luck, the young man who had both his legs cut off under a train at Burford, is dead.

ESSEX.

Ald. Will, of Windsor, was robbed of $75 by a burglar Tuesday night. The cash was taken from a bureau in the owner's bedroom while the latter was asleep.

The Sandwich council will offer the Canada Brush Company free water and taxes for ten years if they decide to locate in the town on condition that half the men employed shall reside in Sandwich.

LAMBTON.

An old vest lay on the pavement crossing in front of the Belchamber House, Sarnia, the other day for about an hour. Passers-by kicked and walked over it and it was ground in the dust by any number of buggies and wagons. Finally a farmer on a hayrack drove up and picked it up. He was greatly relieved at finding it, as in one of the pockets were about $25, the proceeds of his day's business.

PERTH.

Thomas Aitcheson, a well-known Downie farmer, had an accident Tuesday, which resulted in a broken nose. He was hauling out manure when his team ran away. The tongue of the wagon fell from its fastening, and, sticking in the ground, caused Mr. Aitcheson to start skyward. His contact with the earth on his return caused the broken nose.

MIDDLESEX.

At the high school entrance and public school leaving examinations held at Lucan in June, school section Nos. 3 and 10, London and Biddulph, made a very creditable showing. Out of ten candidates the following were successful: Public school leaving—Fred W. Langford. High school entrance—Grace Fitzgerald, Chas. Sale, Lillie Walden, Wm. Fitzgerald, F. H. Langford, Laura Westman. Fifth class—Austin Walden.

At the special meeting of the Ottawa Presbytery in Knox Church the call from North Gower congregation to Rev. John S. Loughead, of Parkhill, was sustained; and it was decided to ask for $50 from the home mission committee to help make up the $750 stipend for that field.

OXFORD.

A barn belonging to J. Stoakley, of con. 5, Dereham, on the old G. M. Harris farm, was destroyed Tuesday night by lightning, including hay, wheat, two hogs and a lot of implements. Loss partly covered by an insurance in the London Mutual for $1,600. A hired man named McDonald received some severe burns while rescuing a horse, but he will recover.

TO WARD OFF CONSUMPTION.

Proper Lung Development by Well Regulated Breathing of Great Value.

I think it is evident, says Dr. T. J. Mays in the Century, that proper development and expansion of the lungs by means of well-regulated breathing must be regarded as of the greatest value in the prevention and in the treatment of the inactive stages of pulmonary consumption. The more simple the method the more effective and practical will be the results which flow from it. Among the many exercises which are recommended for the purpose the following movements are very valuable. The arms, being used as levers, are swung backward as far as possible on a level with the shoulders during each inspiration, and brought together in front on the same level during each expiration. Or the hands are brought together above the head while inspiring, and gradually brought down alongside the body while expiring. A deep breath must be taken with each inspiration and held until the arms are gradually moved forward or downward, or longer, in order to make both methods fully operative. Another very serviceable chest exercise is to take a deep inspiration and, during expiration, in a loud voice count or sing as long as possible. A male person with a good chest capacity can count up to 60 or 80, while in a female, even with good lungs, this power is somewhat reduced. Practice of this sort will slowly develop the lungs, and the increased ability to count longer is a measure of the improvement going on within the chest. Or, again, the taking of six or eight full and deep breaths in succession every hour during the day, either while sitting at work or while walking out in the open air, will have a very beneficial effect. The breathing of compressed and rarefied air is attracting wide attention at the present time in connection with the prevention and the treatment of pulmonary consumption, and is another mode wherewith the chest capacity can be decidedly improved. When air is breathed in this manner there is felt during each inspiration a gentle distension of the whole chest, while during expiration a feeling of emptiness is experienced.

Consumption is not a disease which originates in a day, but it is an outgrowth of morbid habits and agencies which may even antedate the birth of the individual. Defective breathing is one of these habits, and its pernicious prevalence is more widespread than is generally supposed.

Not in Church.

"By the way, bishop, why is it that you always address your congregation as 'brethren,' and never mention the women in your sermons?" "But, my dear madam, the one embraces the other." "Oh, but, bishop, not in church."

You don't know how much better you will feel if you take Hood's Sarsaparilla. It will drive off that tired feeling and make you strong.

Conscience, or What?

"Conscience doth make cowards of us all," says the poet. But it is just so with the nerves. When a man's nerves are unstrung, through indigestion and torpid liver and impure blood, what wonder that he feels depressed and nervous! He starts at every little unexpected sound; is afraid of his own shadow, and feels like a fool. Let such a man go to the drug store and get a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the great blood purifier and liver invigorator. This is the only blood purifier and liver invigorator guaranteed to benefit or cure, or money will be promptly refunded. It cures Indigestion, or Dyspepsia, and from its wonderful blood purifying properties, conquers all skin and scalp diseases, Salt-rheum, Tetter, Eczema and kindred ailments. All blood poisons, no matter of what name or nature, yield to its remedial influences.

"That experience is enough to make anyone blue," said the manuscript, as it crawled from under the editor's excited pencil.

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles.

SYMPTOMS—Moisture; intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail, for 50 cents. Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia. Lyman, Sons & Co., Montreal, wholesale agents. ywt

Excessive humility is a fungus which springs from a decaying character.

A man never really knows what he wants until he finds that he cannot get it.

No one need fear cholera or any summer complaint if they have a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellegg's Dysentery Cordial ready for use. It corrects all looseness of the bowels promptly and causes a healthy and natural action. This is a medicine adapted for the young and old, rich and poor, and is rapidly becoming the most popular medicine for cholera, dysentery, etc., in the market.

For a person who is entirely happy sin has no temptation—but—where is the person?

The help question—How much for how little?

Nothing impure or injurious contaminates the popular antidote to pain, throat and lung remedy and general corrective, Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. It may be used without the slightest apprehension of any other than salutary consequences. Coughs, rheumatism, earache, bruises, cuts and sores succumb to its action.

—[BROWNING.

London, Thursday, August. 17.

A LONDON township farmer has erected a dog house. Would it not be well to celebrate this splendid proof of the efficacy of high taxation as an aid to the farmers?

RECENT Dominion Government regulations have had the effect of throwing whisky making into the hands of one or two rich firms. This is probably the reason why the Goderich Signal refers to Mr. Paterson, Minister of Militia, as "Hiram Walker's hired man."

ASTRONOMERS say that the peculiar position of the moon is the cause of late hot, dry weather, and that it arises from the fact that there are only two eclipses this year. This is very interesting, as is also the further intelligence that a similar experience—in eclipses—will not again occur for 100 years.

THE Queen of England recently knighted a negro in the order of St. Michael and St. George; and France has pinned the star of a grand officer of the Legion of Honor on the breast of the negro Gen. Dodds, conqueror of Dahomey. Give the colored man a chance and he will get along.

CANADA'S mercantile marine has steadily decreased since 1878, when the "protective" system of taxation was resolved on. Our shipping interests were tolerably stable till then, but each recurring year since the blighting influence of the trade restricting policy is shown in the decreased number of vessels owned and operated by Canadians.

THE Ottawa Citizen says:

"An absurd outcry against clerical domination is being raised in Toronto because some Protestant ministers have appeared on the platform during the discussions on Sunday cars. Does a man lose his rights as a citizen when he enters the church?"

Certainly not! Besides, a clergyman, by virtue of his position, must be regarded as a special authority on all questions where the moral welfare of the community may be at stake.

IN NINETY-NINE cases out of a hundred the woman who leaves her husband and goes off with another man is deserted before a month is over. This fact is emphasized by the experience of a former resident of London West, chronicled in our local columns to-day. Even apart from the moral aspect of the misconduct, it should be apparent to every tempted one that the pursuance of such a course is sure to bring disaster to the woman.

A CONTEMPORARY suggests that Dr. Montague is likely to be taken into the Dominion Government because he has been traveling around the country in one of the Government palace cars at public expense. That is by no means sound reasoning. If traveling around the country, without expense, and in Government-provided palace cars, is a passport to Cabinet office, a revolution in the Government must be contemplated, as Dr. Roome, Alex. McKay, Mr. Masson and other M. Ps. have recently been jamboureeing around in Government cars, and have even been provided with the services of civil servants free of all charge.

THE San Francisco Examiner shows how easily the Referendum could be applied to settle the money question in the United States. In Switzerland there would be no trouble about such a question as that of the repeal of the Sherman silver coinage law. Whatever the legislative body might do there would be 30,000 voters to sign a petition for the submission of the matter to the people. It would be put to a vote and the people would decide it. Then everybody would be satisfied. There would be no chance to say that a conspiracy of bankers had induced legislators to betray their trust. If the people burned their own fingers they would be the sufferers. They would correct the mistake next time, and no lasting harm would be done.

SENATOR FRANK SMITH has returned to his home from Chicago. The Senator is an enthusiastic supporter of the Sunday street cars, and incidentally he gives Chicago a testimonial for sobriety. Despite the fact that it has miles of saloons standing side by side, Mr. Smith asserts that he saw no drunkenness during his stay. The saloon district of Chicago, indeed, is rated as a sort of paradise by the Senator. Those who read what Mr. Smith says on this subject, however, must bear in mind that the men interested in the perpetuation and extension of the sale of intoxicants rarely confess to seeing any evil results from the traffic. For example, the House of Lords recently had before it a bill for the further restriction of the liquor traffic in Ireland. They changed its provisions so as to practically destroy it. And why? Because 172 members of that Chamber own or control no fewer than 1,539 public houses in Ireland.

THE POINTS DECIDED.

The five points decided by the Bering Sea arbitrators may be briefly summed up as follows:

1. The United States claimed jurisdiction over the Bering Sea, in accordance with an old claim made by Russia when that empire owned Alaska. It is held by the arbitrators, however, that though Russia claimed jurisdiction in that sea, to the extent of 100 Italian miles from the coasts and islands belonging to her, in the treaty of 1824 with the United States and in the treaty of 1825 with Great Britain, Russia admitted that her jurisdiction should be a cannon shot, or three miles, from shore. Russia did not again assert wide jurisdiction over the sea from that time till the cession of Alaska to the United States, therefore the United States has no extended jurisdiction in Bering Sea.

2. Great Britain never recognized any claim upon the part of Russia of exclusive jurisdiction as to the seal fisheries in Bering Sea outside the ordinary territorial waters. Russia, therefore, could not hand over any such jurisdiction to the United States.

3. The body of water now known as Bering Sea was included in the phrase "Pacific Ocean" as used in the treaty of 1825 between Britain and Russia.

4. All the rights of Russia to jurisdiction and to the seal fisheries passed to the United States, limited by the cession.

5. The United States has no right to the protection of or property in the seals frequenting the islands of the United States in Bering Sea when found outside of the ordinary three-mile limit.

These are the findings as to the rights of parties. The regulations to be enforced prohibit the capturing or pursuing of seals within a zone of 60 miles around the Pribyloff Islands. They further establish a close season for seals in Bering Sea from May 1 to July 31. They prohibit the use of fire-arms in sealing. They permit the capture of seals outside the Pribyloff zone after Aug. 1.

Thus, in future, there will be severe restrictions upon the sealers of both nations. Both parties to the arbitration very fairly claim a victory, because each has been able to have points decided in its favor. Herein is proof that the arbitrators have made a fair settlement of the troubles. After all, however, the ownership of a few seals, more or less, is of small moment. We could all get along though the seals were annihilated. What we desire once more to emphasize is the splendid effect of such an amicable settlement of difficulties between the branches of the English-speaking race on both sides of the Atlantic. They are much nearer to one another, both in sympathy and in aim, than mischief-making self-seekers would have us believe. Their reunion may not be so far short of realization.

THE CANTEEN MUST GO!

The Dominion Government, despite many protests against the practice, refuses to abolish the canteen system in connection with the militia camps. This is much to be regretted, as there is absolutely no necessity for retailing intoxicating liquors to the young men who attend the camp, or to throw in their path unnecessary temptation.

In Michigan Gen. Eaton emphatically pronounces against the canteen, which was abolished at the State encampment this year. He says that the State has no business to go into the business of dispensing liquor, and that if it does, the result is certain to be intemperance and violence. He further contends that there was less intemperance at the State encampment this year than last, when liquor was openly sold in the canteen, and that the refusal to set up liquor bars on the grounds has resulted in officers and men giving better attention to drill and in much improved behavior all around. Even those who formerly supported the canteen concede this.

The canteen must go in Canada as well as in Michigan. United effort on the part of those opposed to it will overthrow the power behind the throne that compels its perpetuation.

INSANITY IN CANADA.

Census Commissioner Johnson has issued statistics with regard to the insane in Canada. There are 13,355 insane persons in Canada, but only a little over one-half of these are reported to be in asylums. It will surprise most people to learn that even in Ontario, while 3,450 insane persons are in the five public institutions, there are 2,405 outside of them. The commissioner claims that drink had little to do with the causes of insanity, and he gives this table of results from the average returns from England, France, Denmark and the United States:

	Per Cent.
Heredity	24
Drink	24
Business	12
Loss of friends	11
Sickness	10
Various	19

The corresponding table for Canada is as follows:

	Per Cent.
Heredity	34 5
Drink	3.8
Business	5.0
Loss of friends	2.2
Sickness	11.0
Various	43 5

We cannot believe that these returns are reliable. The commissioner says that it is difficult to properly classify the insane population; but all who have investigated the diseases that arise from intemperance, and who knows how mental worries are augmented by it, must reach the conclusion that the old world results are more likely to hold good with regard to Canada than are the figures supplied from Ottawa. Before we adopt the latter, we must at least have the data upon which the compiler built.

TOPICS OF TO-DAY.

The latest recruit to the temperance ranks in Great Britain is said to be Mr. Victor Buxton, eldest son of Sir Thomas Fowell Buxton, of the well-known firm of Truman, Hanbury, Buxton & Co., London. By this step it is understood that he relinquishes no less than £1,000,000.

‡‡‡

The laying of the telegraph cable between Queensland and New Caledonia, which is intended to form a first section of a trans-Pacific cable between Australia and Canada, will be begun very shortly, and is expected to be finished by the end of this month. It is stated in Sidney that the cable will be completed to Vancouver within two years.

‡‡‡

The largest two-piece pulley ever constructed was cast a few days ago in Pittsburgh. None of the casting works of the country would take the contract for the pulley, and the firm wanting it finally did the job for itself. The wheel is 24 feet in diameter, has a face of 48 inches, and weighs 54,000 pounds.

‡‡‡

According to an old tradition, silver was first used as coin in Great Britain 1,900 years ago. A mint is said to have been established in Colchester, in the county of Essex, England, by one of the native kings during the reign of the Emperor Augustus, and gold, brass and silver coins, to a small extent, were issued therefrom. In the coin and metal division of the British Museum there is a fine assortment of early English silver coins.

‡‡‡

A prominent legal journal of London makes the startling proposition that the wig be abolished as part of the English judicial system. "Its abomination in every sense, practical and ornamental, is admitted," says this journal. "It is a relic of a bygone age, and spoils the looks of most men with any pretensions to beauty, while ugly men it makes grotesque. It probably conducts to somnolence."

‡‡‡

In the cold air freezing machines now employed on board ships for the transport of meat from Australia, New Zealand and America, the meat is placed in large chambers, the walls of which are double, the interspace being filled with wood charcoal as a non-conducting material. A jet of intensely cold air is delivered into the chamber at each stroke of the piston of the expansion cylinder, and the temperature of the chamber is thus kept at or near the freezing point during the whole voyage.

‡‡‡

An Antartic whaling and sealing company designed to operate on a large scale is being formed in Dundee. The promoters propose to fit up a depot on the Falkland Islands, where sealskins could be salted, so that the ships could make several trips from there to the grounds, large steamers being employed to bring home the catches. The experts who went with the recent Dundee expedition aver that not only are whales and seals found in much greater numbers in the south than in the north, but that an Antarctic sealskin of the second class is at least as good as an Arctic skin of the first grade.

‡‡‡

A woman who lives in the suburbs usually places a large tin pan on her front door step to receive the ice that the iceman delivers each morning. During a recent hot spell her little grandson, who is full of mischief, thought that he would play a joke on his grandmother. The next morning, when the pan was put on the step, he filled it partly with water and then yelled "Ice!" It was nearly five minutes before the grandmother started to take the ice into the house. She was surprised to find that the ice had melted so quickly. Meantime the iceman had come and saw no pan for the ice. He did not leave the usual piece, and the grandmother was telling her neighbors of the unusual heat until the other day, when the young hopeful told his big brother about the joke he played.

Mr. S. G. Derry.

I spent trying to find a cure for Salt Rheum, which I had 13 years. Physicians said they never saw so severe a case. My legs, back and arms were covered by the humor. I was unable to lie down in bed, could not walk without crutches, and had to have my arms, back and legs bandaged twice a day. I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and soon I could see a change. The flesh became more healthy, the sores soon healed, the scales fell off, I was soon able to give up bandages and crutches, and a happy man I was. I had been taking

THE TURF.

ST. THOMAS RACES.

The St. Thomas races that take place on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Aug. 30 to Sept. 1, promise to be the best ever held in the Railroad City. The club has arranged with all railways for a fare and a third for the round trip for that week, and a very large number of visitors are expected to attend. On the first day the ball opens with a 2:45 race for sidewheelers for $400, followed by a 2:24 class for both the lateral and diagonal gait for $400 in the finish of the day's sport. The bang tail gallop for $200. The second day's programme opens with the big trotting stake for $750, the entry of which is already closed, will have twelve starters and will be a battle royal from beginning to finish; then follows a 2:29 race for $400, and a three-minute stake with twelve entries for $300, in which 2:30 is expected to be beaten in every heat. The last day opens with a free-for-all for $500, when the fastest race of the year may be expected. Word has been sent to the officers of the club to have that extra $50 ready—the track record of 2:16½ will be beaten. The 2:40 trotters then go for $400, and the meeting winds up with a running race for $200. Clean sport, good order, fast time and honest racing will be enjoyed every day.

GRAND CIRCUIT EVENTS.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 16.—This was the second day of the Rochester meeting of the Grand Circuit. The day was not prime for record-breaking. In the 2:15 class, Pixley, the favorite, had Azote as a contestant, and posted people claim that Azote could have won had the driver made an honest race.

In the 2:40 class for 3-year-olds there were but three starters out of twelve entries. Fantasy won straight heats, Double Cross second, Onondaga third. Best time, last heat, 2:14¼. Summaries:

4-year-old trot; stake $2,500—Lady Roberts 1, Break o' Day 2, Peveril 3. Best time—2:17¼.

ONLY TWO STARTED.

Sixty-five dollars was won and lost at a horse race on the Queen's Park track last night. The event was a quiet little running race between horses owned by F. C. Perkins and Fred T. Trebilcock. The former was ridden by Wm. Lawrence, and Trebilcock's horse, which, by the way, won the race, was ridden by a colored jockey named Moxley. The course was one mile and the time 2.06¼.

BRUSSELS FALL MEET.

BRUSSELS, Ont., Aug. 16.—Brussels Driving Park will hold their fall meeting Tuesday, Sept. 12. Events—Stallion trot, open to Huron and Perth, $200; 2:29 class, trot or pace, $200; 3 minute trot or pace, $150.

THE TRIGGER.

The great international live bird and target tournament announced to be held at Des-chree-shos-ka Island, Detroit, on Aug. 22 to 25 has been postponed to Sept. 5 to 8, inclusive.

THE KENNEL.

HAPLESS OWNERS OF PRIZE DOGS.

The owner of a prize dog is not the happiest of men. He must perpetually study the animal's health with as much concern as a schoolboy shows towards his first watch. The diet of a beast is a constant anxiety day and night, and all the dog does for him in return is to die. At least, that is what Baseldine, champion bulldog of the world, value £5,000, has just done, suddenly, in a train near Grimsby, only a mile or so from the exhibition, where he would have carried off another first prize. How sharper than a serpent's tooth it is to have a thankless dog!—[London Globe.

THE WHEEL.

A HINT TO WHEELMEN.

Look out for
Kyphosis bicyclistarum;
It's a bend in your spine
Which eight times in nine
Will give you a whole lot of trouble;
If you wish to prevent
This bicycle bent
Don't sit on your wheel in a double.
Look out for
Kyphosis bicyclistarum.

MAY RIDE NO MORE.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 16.—Walter C. Sanger, the champion Milwaukee bicycle rider, may never appear in a wheelman's race again, in consequence of the injuries he received in Chicago. It is feared that he is injured internally, and that the injury will prove of such a character as to preclude the possibility of his ever again making any kind of speed upon his wheel. He has been taken to Waukesha for a rest and medical treatment.

WOMAN CYCLISTS IN FRANCE.

In France a bicycle record-breaking mania has spread to women. Mlle. Saint Sauveur, a well known circus rider, has been showing the Parisians at the Buffalo track what can be done by a woman who has been carefully trained. In one hour she covered a distance of 16½ miles without the aid of pace-makers, a very respectable performance for one of her sex, although there can be little doubt it could be beaten. The lady was dressed in white surah shirt with flowing sleeves and white flannel breeches fastened below the knee by buttons. Contrary to advice, she was nipped in tightly at the waist and did not seem to suffer in consequence, although before she had gone very far she had to take off a leather belt which greatly inconvenienced her.—[London Daily News.

GOLF.

DESCRIPTION OF THE GAME.

"What is golf?" said a fair Westerner recently arrived in Newport, hearing the Golf Club spoken of on every side as a new social center. "Well," answered the New York girl, "it is a game that strikes one simply as a combination of what the boys vulgarly call 'shinney' and 'tiddledy winks'; they hit the ball tremendously long distances with long sticks, and then knock it into little holes which are placed in the center of queer little patches of turf called 'putting greens.' They say it is a game that requires an immense amount of science and skill, but it seems very simple to an outsider." As every one knows, it has long been the national game of Scotland; but it is only during the last year or two that it has become the rage in England, having quite superseded tennis in the ever fickle popular favor. In this country, however, despite our readiness to adopt every British fad, the golf mania has not developed itself as rapidly, although it is undoubtedly the fashion, and will probably become general.

Golf may be played by two or more sides, each playing its own ball. A side may consist of one or more persons. The game consists in each side playing a ball from a "tee" (the latter being indicated by two marks placed at right angles to the course) into a hole by successive strokes, the game being to "hole the ball" in the fewest strokes. These "holes" are about 4x4 inches, and are placed in the center of the large squares of very smooth turf, which are called "putting greens." A good course of three miles has generally eighteen holes. After the balls are struck from the tee, the ball furthest from the hole to which the parties are playing is played first, and the side winning a hole leads in starting for the next hole, and so on. One round of the "links" (18 holes) is a match, and the match is won by the side which gets more holes ahead than there remain holes to be played. In the course of three miles, or the ladies' course, which is generally about a mile and a half, there are to be found "hazards" or "bunkers," which may consist of impediments either natural or otherwise, in the way of water, loose earth, railways, bushes, fences, ditches or anything that is not in the ordinary green of the course; and when a ball lies in a "hazard," the club does not touch the ground, but the ball must be hit clear out of the hazard. For a really scientific game the rules are too many and complex to publish in a limited space, but those who enjoy a long breezy walk, with the excitement of an interesting game, may be sure it is worth while to take up golf. For man or woman it is equally delightful and healthful, and from a sanitary point of view it is far better than tennis, for it is a game that old and young can enjoy.

ASYLUM VS. DELAWARE.

The London Asylum "B" eleven went to Delaware yesterday and played the Delaware Cricket Club. The score was: Asylum "B" eleven, first inning, 162 runs; Delaware, first inning, 77 runs; second inning, 68 runs. This left the Asylum "B" Club winners of the match by an inning and 17 runs.

ATHLETICS.

ORTON READY FOR CONNEFF.

George W. Orton, champion runner of America and Canada, writes to James E. Sullivan that he will not contest with Tommy Conneff at Boston on Aug. 26, as he will not be in condition at that time for a hard race. He, however, states that he will be at Bergen Point on Labor Day, Sept. 4, to compete in the New Jersey A. C. games, and if Conneff is anxious for a race he will meet him in the one mile. This will give the young Irishman an opportunity to see just how fast the Canadian can run.

POLICEMEN HAVE A PULL

TORONTO, Aug. 16.—The annual athletic tournament of the Police Amateur Athletic Association was held to-day and witnessed by some 3,000 people. The event in which the greatest interest centered was the three-cornered tug-of-war between teams representing the Montreal, Hamilton and Toronto police forces. The first heat between Toronto and Hamilton was won by Toronto by one and a half inches. In the second heat—Montreal and Hamilton—Montreal won. The final was between Toronto and Montreal, and was won by the eastern men by four inches.

AQUATIC.

YACHTING IN ENGLAND.

LONDON, Aug. 16.—The Royal Albert Yacht Club, Commodore the Duke of Edinburgh, had another race to-day open to yachts above 40 rating. The prize was a cup valued at £90. The Britannia won, Calluna 2nd, Navahoe 3rd, Satanita 4.

THE COLUMBIAN REGATTA.

LAKE GENEVA, Wis., Aug. 16.—After a delay of two days the Columbian regatta began this afternoon under favorable conditions. The events of the day were exclusively in the junior class. Summaries:

Junior double, international—Minnesota 1, time 10:41; Catlins of Chicago 2, time 10:46; Dubuques 3.

Junior single, international—E. W. Smith 1, time 10:45; Sam Dale 2, time 10:45½; James Berry, Aquacknock, N. J., 3.

Junior four, international—Minnesotas 1, time 9:17; Dubuques 2, time 9:47½; Iroquois 3.

Double working boats, Chicago navy only—Catlins 1, time 10:45; Delawares 2.

Half mile canoe race—D. C. Muntz 1, Walter 2.

Junior pair oared shell, international—Dubuques 1, time 10:59½; Iroquois distanced.

International four-oared gig—Delawares 1, time 11:07; Evanstons 2, time 11:11.

Tandem paddle, half-mile—C. F. Muntz and H. F. Thompson 1, time 4:02; E. A. Thompson and R. Muntz did not finish—capsized.

The Ontarios are backing up Dale's claim of a foul in the single shells, and it is believed the judges will decide in his favor. The outcome will probably be another race between Dale and Smith.

Edward Hanlan, ex-champion, gave an exhibition of skillful and awkard oarsmanship in front of the grand stand.

CLOSE OF A DOUBLE LIFE.

Death of a Well Known Furrier, Sporting Man and Bigamist.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—John Harris, a well known ferrier and sporting man of Williamsburgh, who won fame for himself by bringing pedestrians Rowell and Hazel from England to this country, died suddenly of apoplexy this morning in the Revere House on Broadway. Mr. Harris was the manufacturer of the white skin coverings used by druggists to cover fancy bottles. He is said to be the only man in America, with the exception of his son, who knew the secret of the preparation of these skins. Mr. Harris came to America from Birmingham, Eng., 40 years ago. He leaves a wife and five children and an estate worth $200,000. The circumstances attending the death of Mr. Harris show that for some time he had lived a double life with a woman who figures as Mary Stanton, whom he knew in childhood's days in England.

It is reported the C. P. R. may operate the line.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—The compositors of the newly-organized commercial paper, the Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin, in the offices at No. 19 Beaver street, went out on strike yesterday. The disaffected workmen comprise all the compositors, proof-readers, as well as the foreman and assistant foreman. The men complained of their inability to make fair wages in running the typesetting machines.

ST. PAUL, Aug. 16.—Salaries of officers and employes of the Great Northern Railroad will be reduced, taking effect with the current month, as follows: On salaries rating $5,000 a year and upwards, 30 per cent.; on salaries rating $2,000 per year or more up to $5,000 per year, 25 per cent.; on salaries of $1,200 per year or more up to $2,000 per year, 20 per cent.; on salaries rating less than $1,200 per year, 15 per cent. The reductions will continue until financial and business conditions improve.

The Old Story.

DETROIT, Aug. 16.—Mrs. Frances Brasher was visiting at the residence of her mother this morning. Her little brother-in-law, Charles Martini, was fondling a Flobert rifle, and with the remark, "This won't shoot," pointed it at her. The gun did go off, and Mrs. Brasher received the bullet in the abdomen. Harper Hospital ambulance took her to that institution, where the doctors found that the wound was serious.

"Fun" with a Fog Signal.

STRATFORD, Aug. 16.—Two employes of the blacksmithing department of the G. T. R. shops, named Lonsdale and Carroll, were injured by the explosion of a fog signal yesterday afternoon. One of the workmen found the signal, and in fun placed it on an anvil, telling the striker to hit it. The blow was struck, and then the fog signal struck back. Lonsdale and Carroll each got some of the contents of the signal in their legs, and will be laid up for a while.

DANGERS OF PROTECTION.

(Toronto Week.)

Though there can be no reasonable doubt that unwise silver legislation is the chief cause of the terrible financial depression which now exists in the United States, and that the prompt repeal of the Silver Act will do more than anything else within the power of the Government to restore confidence and prosperity, it is by no means unlikely that the protectionists are right in attributing the panic in part to the dread of tariff reform. On that hypothesis, no less than on the other, the situation affords a striking object lesson in regard to the evil of any legislation which makes the industries and business affairs of the nation more or less dependent upon acts of the Legislature. One great cause of the stability of British commerce, her success in colonization, etc., as compared with France and other European nations, can easily be found by those who are willing to search with minds free from prejudice, in the fact that in Great Britain the channels of industry and business enterprise are left open, and private individuals and companies learn to rely upon their own energy and foresight for that success which the Frenchmen, e.g., thinks can be gained only through the agency of the Government. It is not those American industries which have grown up independent of bounties and protective tariffs which are in danger of becoming paralyzed at the prospect of tariff reform. When the National Policy was first under debate in Canada one of the strongest arguments of its opponents was derived from a forecast of this very fact, that when once a considerable part of our manufactories became accustomed to rely upon the artificial props supplied by a protective tariff, it would be very difficult to return to a sounder system without giving a violent temporary shock to the business of the country. The fact that reform is difficult or dangerous, is no argument against reform, but rather for hastening it, though it may be a valid reason why reform should be brought about cautiously and skillfully, so as to give the least possible shock to the system enfeebled by unhealthy coddling.

She Died in Her Summer Day.

The following, from the Houghton, Mich., Gazette, chronicles the death of a lady that had many friends in this city and neighborhood. She was a stepsister of Mrs. Henry Plastow. "A sad death occurred in Hancock last Thursday, at the home of Miss Sadie Jones. Rev. Mr. and Mrs. M. McLennan, of Leamington, Ont., were on their way to Brainerd, Minn., to visit Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bartle, of that place. They arrived in Houghton on Tuesday, and stopped off to visit Mrs. McLennan's brother, Mr. Albert Jones, who is superintendent of the Lake Superior iron works. Mrs. McLennan was feeling quite well until Wednesday night, when she was taken seriously ill, and on the following day, at noon, passed away. She had had consumption for about eight months. Mr. and Mrs. McLennan were married less than two years ago. The deceased was born and brought up at Calumet, where she was well and favorably known. The funeral took place from the Jones' residence, in Hancock, Sunday, Rev. G. Washburn officiating. The remains were laid to rest in the Calumet Cemetery, Rev. Mr. Stalker, of the Calumet Presbyterian Church, concluding the services at the grave. The relatives in attendance at the funeral from away were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bartle and two daughters, of Brainerd, Minn. Mrs. McLennan's stepmothor, whose home is in Boston, was telegraphed for, but arrived too late for the funeral."

IN MAN'S DRESS.

"Tommy" King is a Pretty Girl Who Stole Horses.

OKLAHOMA CITY, O. T., Aug. 16.—"Tommy" King is a pretty girl of scarcely 20. She donned male attire and engaged in horse stealing with an organized band. Now she is in the county jail.

"Tommy" has quite a crime record. Twice she has broken jail. The first time she cut a hole in the jail roof and slid down the conductor. The next time she sawed out an iron bar of her cage with a corset stay while the other prisoners in the jail were holding religious services. The hymn, "Hold the Fort," drowned the noise of her sawing. She waited until but one guard was on duty, and got a fellow-prisoner to call him to a rear cell. Then the nimble "Tommy" removed the bar and slipped out the front door.

When arrested the other day she denied her sex, but her ways and her voice soon betrayed her. "Tommy" can play any kind of instrument, is a pianist of considerable ability, and a splendid conversationalist. She is also a crack shot with a rifle and can ride the wildest Mexican broncho. She beats Belle Starr's record.

CARD OF THANKS.

The Late Alexander W. Brown, of Missouri.

REBECCA, Ont., July 29, 1893.

E. S. Miller, Esq., secretary the P. P. I., St. Thomas, Ont.

Dear Sir,—Your company's check for $3,000 is just at hand, covering full amount of my claim under certificate No. 5,194, held by my late husband, Mr. Alex. W. Brown. According to the terms of the policy this claim will not be due for several weeks yet, but you have very generously paid the same immediately on completion of proofs, and I assure you I do not fail to appreciate your promptness. This insurance was very easily carried. The cost was moderate, and coming in small sums payable at different times throughout the year was not felt by us. Your treatment of me has been all that a claimant could desire, and I gladly recommend your company to the insuring public. Yours truly, (Signed) MRS. A. W. BROWN, beneficiary.

THE OPEN FORUM.

A Question as to Subscribing.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

Please answer this query in your valuable journal:

A person subscribes to a periodical for one year, at the end of which time he does not notify the publishers to have it stopped. The publication is sent on for three or four years; then a bill is sent in, claiming the amount of subscription for those years. Can he be made to pay such a bill when the periodical was not ordered? Is it necessary to notify the publishers to discontinue sending the paper? BYRON

[NOTE.—The subscription being a contract for one year, the subscriber is not liable to pay for the succeeding years, for which there was no subscription. When there is a fixed term of subscription there is no legal necessity to notify the publishers to discontinue sending, but it would be always prudent to notify them that the term subscribed for had expired and that the subscription would not be renewed.—EDITOR ADVERTISER.]

A Forgery Exposed.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

The following lines were sent to the Health Inspector:—

London, Aug. 9, 1893.

Mr. Bell, city inspector,

Sir,—I have to complain to you about a nuisance that we have been forced to endure for some time. My neighbor, Mr. O'Hagen, who lives opposite to me at the corner of Maitland and Regent street, keeps a number of hogs, and the stink at nights is unbearable this hot weather. I trust you will have a stop put to it at once before we are all laid up with diphtheria or some other deadly disease. I hope you will not let it be known who has made the complaint, as we are neighbors, and it might cause ill-blood. Trusting you will treat this as strictly private and confidential, I remain, yours truly, I. C. GERLACH.

Now I most emphatically deny that said hogs are a nuisance to me, as I detected no odor whatever from the same, and I also deny all knowledge of the above complaint until accused of it. I wish the public in general, and Mr. O'Hagen in particular, to understand that I have not descended so low as to commit such a sneaking, contemptable act. In my opinion, the scoundrel who wrote that complaint and signed my name to it has a more deadly disease than diphtheria, and not contracted from Mr. O'Hagen's hogs, either. I intend to leave no stone unturned to find the perpetrator and expose him. Kindly insert the above in your valuable paper, as it is my only means at present of setting myself right. Yours truly, I. C. GERLACH,

Weighing Hogs.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

On Saturday last, Aug. 12, I drove a load of hogs, dressed, on the London market weigh scales to be weighed. The clerk refused to weigh the load, saying that he could not weigh them within ten or fifteen pounds of the exact weight, but that he would weigh them one at a time on the small scales. Now, sir, what I want to know is the reason London cannot have a market weigh scales to weigh a load of nine hogs on the wagon as correct as one hog on smaller scales, or employ a weighing clerk who has brains enough to enable him to adjust and balance the scales to weigh as exact as a grocer would weigh a pound of butter? Please answer the above through the columns of your valuable paper or otherwise. Yours, etc.

Poplar Hill, Aug. 15. A SUBSCRIBER.

[NOTE.—In respect to the above, Mr. H. W. Heely, the official mentioned, says that it is against the rules of the market to weigh hogs more than one at a time. Numerous complaints have been received, he said, from dealers because the exact weight was not given; and, the scales not being marked for less than five pounds, it was impossible to ascertain the actual weight if several hogs were poised in gross.—EDITOR ADVERTISER.]

HIS REPENTANCE.

"My!" ejaculated Dick in his dismay. Miss Davenal's dinner-hour had been altered from six to five while the boys were with her, and Dick had certainly meant to be home in time. He had not thought it was so late as this. Dick's hair stood on end, and the wolves fought desperately.

"Suppose old Bett should say I shan't have any dinner!"

The shop next door to the baker's was a cook's shop—as they are called; and perhaps Dick's dreadful doubt caused him irresistably to linger for a fond moment at the window and gaze at the attractions inside. Under Dick's very nose was a steaming mound of beef just out of the pot, some parsnips round it; other joints were there in plenty; pea-pudding, plum-pudding, sausages, and a whole host of things irresistible to a boy in Dick's famishing condition. He mechanically put his hand into his pocket, lest a stray sixpence might by some miracle be there. In vain, Dick Davenal was one who could not keep money for an hour, and his having sufficient to buy the potatoes was a notable fact.

Hurried as he was, he could not tear himself from the tempting shop. The shopman in a white apron, a great carving-knife and fork in his hands, was cutting thin slices from a cold round of beef, and placing them in the scale upon a piece of white paper. The balance went down, and he rolled the paper round the meat and handed it to a customer waiting for it, a young woman—or rather lady, for she looked like one—who wore a crape veil over her face. She gave him sixpence and some half-pence in return, but the man did not seem to like the sixpence; he held it close to the gas, and then showed it to her, and she put her veil aside and bent her face nearer while she looked at it.

If ever Dick Davenal believed he was in a dream, he believed so then. He rubbed his eyes; he rubbed his frozen nose; he stared through the intervening steam; and he pinched himself to see whether he was awake. For that face was the face of his cousin, Mrs. Cray.

Dick could not believe his senses. The shopman apparently decided that the sixpence was a good one, and put it in his till, and the lady left the shop before Dick recovered his bewilderment. He had believed Mr. and Mrs. Cray were abroad. From a shrewd boy like Dick it was impossible to guard the secret that something was wrong; besides, he had heard of the Great Wheal Bang, and that its promoters were away, abroad or somewhere.

But that was surely Caroline gone out of the shop with the paper of meat in her hand! Dick's spirits went down to zero. However, he might condescend to the purchase of hot potatoes, and such like stray escapades he did not like to see Caroline buy cooked meat and carry it away with her. Dick knew that something or other must be all wrong, and he suddenly felt as timid as Leo.

She crossed the road and went down a by-street, where lights were scanty and the houses poor. Dick followed her. He saw how tightly her veil was drawn over her face; and she walked with her head down; it might be to keep out the cold, or to avoid observation.

She turned into a house on the left-hand side, whose door stood open; a shabby looking house, but sufficientiy large. Dick, hardly certain in his own mind yet, deliberated whether he should follow her and show himself; and when he at length went to the door nobody was in sight. He took courage and knocked; and a woman came out of the parlor on the right.

"Is Mrs. Cray here?" asked Dick.

"Mrs. who?"

"Mrs. Cray. She's just gone in."

"There's nobody here of that name. Who's Mrs. Cray? You have mistaken the house, young man."

Dick had his wits about him, as the saying runs, and they were sufficiently alert to prevent his insisting on the point of its being Mrs. Cray. "I'm sure I saw some lady come in," said he.

"Mrs. Marks came in a minute ago, for I met her in the passage. First floor if you want her."

"Can I go up?" asked Dick.

"That's as you please," returned the woman, who was crusty enough to be first cousin to Mrs. Bann. "The other lodgers in the house is nothing to me, who goes up to 'em or who doesn't."

She retreated inside the parlor and banged the door. Dick stumbled up-stairs in the dark, the words "first floor" having guided him. Some light came in from a window on the landing and he distinctly heard Caroline's voice in the front room. Dick fashion, he burst in without knocking.

Caroline gave a short scream. She was untying her bonnet and the paper of meat, slowly unfolding itself, lay on the table. It was a plain sitting-room, carpeted with drugget, a large sofa covered with dark blue stuff seeming to take up one side of it. A white cloth was spread on part of the table, with some tea-cups and saucers, a loaf of bread and a piece of butter.

"Caroline, I was sure it was you!"

The first moment of surprise over, Caroline threw herself on a chair and burst into tears. Dick sat opposite to her and stared round the room, staring off his bewilderment. Poor Dick was not possessed of any superfluous sentiment, and the sobs and emotion only made him feel awkward. The sight of a home face was too much for Mrs. Cray.

"Is Mark here?" Dick asked presently.

"No."

Dick glanced round again, but he could see no door except the one he had entered at.

"I am sure I heard you talking to somebody, Caroline. Let me know which was the room."

"I was talking to myself. The words I said were 'I hope Mark will not be long,' and I suppose I spoke them aloud."

A few final sobs and the emotion passed. Dick was timid, almost nervous, and he never remembered to have been so in his life. A thought crossed the boy's mind of what his Uncle Richard would say, had he lived to see this curious state of things.

"Do you live here, Caroline?"

"Yes. We went away in the country for a little time at first; but it was so out of the way of hearing anything, so dull, so wretched, that we came back again. Mark thought it would be better to come pretty near to the old neighborhood; that there was less chance for our being looked for there than elsewhere."

"You don't have all the house."

"All the house!" echoed Caroline. We only have this room and the use of the kitchen, which I hardly ever go down to. That sofa is a bed," she added, pointing to it. "Mark draws it out at night."

Dick felt more at sea than ever. "Has Mark got no money?"

Caroline shook her head. "There's a little left; not much. We did not save a thing from Grosvenor Place. People came in and took possession, and I got frightened and left it. Afterwards, when my clothes were asked for, they sent me a boxful of the poorest I had, and said those were all. I don't know whether it was that they kept the best, or that the maid-servants helped themselves to them. Dick!" she passionately added, "I'd rather die than bear all this."

"Do you have to go out and buy the meat?" questioned Dick, unable to get the practical part he had seen out of his head.

"There's a boy that waits on the lodgers, the landlady's son, and he goes on errands sometimes. Mark thought we should be safer in a house like this, where there are different lodgers, and one does not interfere with the concerns of the others; that we should be less likely to attract notice In truth, we were afraid to venture on a better place lest persons might recognize us."

"Afraid of what?" questioned Dick.

"I'm sure I hardly know," she answered. "Of being arrested, I suppose."

"I say, does Sara know you are here?"

Caroline shook her head. "I have written her a note twice, saying we are safe; but Mark would not let me give the address. Aunt Bettina has shaken us off, there's no doubt; she'll never forgive Mark."

"Forgive him for what?"

"Oh, altogether," returned Caroline, with a gesture of impatience. "There was the leaving Hallingham, and Sara's money, and other things."

"Where is Mark?" continued Dick

"He won't be long. He goes out a little after dark, but he does not care to venture much by daylight. And so you are up for the holidays, I suppose."

Dick nodded. "Aunt Bett wouldn't have us at mid-summer. But Leo broke his arm, and he wasn't strong, and she sent for him; and then she said I might come up for Christmas, and we could both go back to school together. I say, wasn't it unkind of her not to have us in the summer? She said her house was small. Summer holidays are jollier than winter ones, especially when they don't let you go on the ice."

Did a remembrance cross Caroline of somebody else who would not have them in the summer? whose house was not small? Probably not. Caroline had room only for her own griefs. Since the falling of the blow she had existed in a state of bewilderment. The change was so great, the order of things so completely altered, that at times she believed she must be in a prolonged dream, and should shortly wake up to reality. As one who is suddenly put ashore in a foreign country, where the land, the customs, the people, and the tongue are all strange to him, and he can only accept them passively, yielding himself perforce to the necessity of circumstances, so it was with Caroline Cray. Believe me, I am telling you no untrue story.

(To Be Continued.)

A Sure Remedy for Neuralgia.

Neuralgia is one of the most common and distressing complaints incidental to this climate. It is not confined to any particular season, for whilst most general in the winter seasons, yet many suffer its excruciating agony in the heat of summer. In late years this form of disease has become better known, and consequently the means of relief have become greatly increased in numbers, as well as in efficiacy. Among the most powerful and penetrating combinations, placed within the reach of the public for the relief of neuralgia, we can mention no remedy equal to or more certain than Polson's Nerviline. Its power over pain is something wonderful, and we advise a trial for neuralgia, or any other painful complaints.

"This," said the frightened young man who had encountered some Western road agents, "is positively my last appearance on any stage."

Carter's Little Liver Pills must not be confounded with common Cathartic or Purgative Pills as they are extremely unlike them in every respect. One trial will prove their superiority.

A shower of fishes, from 1½ to 3 inches in length, fell recently in Middlesborough, Ky. The whole State is famous for its bait.

Worms cause feverishness, moaning and restlessness during sleep. Mother Graves Worm Exterminator is pleasant, sure and effectual. If your druggist has none in stock, get him to procure it for you

There's no excuse for the man who goes off and gets tight just because everybody says that money is.

A mans' wife should always be the same especially to her husband; but if she is weak and nervous, and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they will make her "feel like a different person," at least so they all say, and their husbands say so too.

SELF-CULTURE.

[From the Young Man.]

It is for these reasons that I have so strongly urged that every youth who wishes to make something of his life should be resolute in some form of self-culture. The more monotonous is his daily work, the more urgent is the need to do something to counteract its dulling effect upon the mind. Dullness is the mother of all the vices. It is simply because a youth has no interest to absorb him when his work is done that he falls into loose talk, lounging stupidity, evil company and every form of folly and mischief that can make shipwreck of a man. There is no wiser saying than that of Wesley: "Never be unemployed, and never be triflingly employed." The very name of Methodist arose because Wesley and his workers were men who knew the value of time, and divided the day, and used all its moments with a zealous vigilance to get the most and best out of them. They were methodical, and their method told upon the world. You can only read scraps of ephemeral journalism. You are too dull in mind to attempt serious reading. Why? It is really as easy to read noble literature as rubbish, if you will once form the habit. Have you ever soberly calculated how much can be accomplished by a single hour a day of serious self-culture? Zola, who holds at the present hour the greatest place among French novelists, has lately told us something of his methods of work. He does not produce more than 1,500 words a day, which is, roughly speaking, about three pages of foolscap. Three hours a day is the limit of his work. This seems little, but consider what it has accomplished. In twenty years it has produced a library of twenty volumes. The secret lies not in the intensity of the industry, but its regularity. Nothing has been permitted to interfere with this daily normal production of so much copy, and the work that Zola has done is the victory of an undelaying and strenuous patience. It is a lesson that youths would do well to lay to heart. Three hours a day, wisely used, may accomplish almost anything. It is the aggregation of small scraps of time, devoted to a set purpose, that achieves great ends. Here, then, is "an object in life" for the man whose lot seems most cursed by monotony. Use the unused fractions of time for self-culture, and not only will the monotony of life disappear, but it will move into the zone of radiant activity and hope.

LOVELY, BUT LONELY.

How Pretty Pennsylvania Girls Pass Away the Time—A Mock Wedding.

WILKESBARRE, Aug. 16.—Society in West Pittston, a wealthy and fashionable town nine miles from here, is amused over the escapade of twenty prominent young ladies of that place. The girls of the town, those between 15 and 20 years of age, are a jolly crowd, and are compelled by the lack of young men to amuse themselves to a great extent. Some of the most adventurous a few days ago decided upon a novel entertainment and rapidly completed preparations for the affair, which came off the other night. The greatest secrecy was maintained, but, unfortunately for the girls, several young men were suspicious of their unusual activity and managed to obtain a clue to their object—mock marriage.

It was held at the home of Miss Genevieve Rommel, and was a complete success. Ten of the girls were attired in men's suits, three being in full dress. The ceremony was performed in regular style. A temporary altar was formed by a table; the minister stood waiting as the bridal party entered the room, the bride leaning on the arm of her pretended father and the brides maid following. Then came six ushers in male attire. The groom and his best man met them at the altar, where the mock ceremony was performed with all due solemnity.

Unfortunately for the girls, three young men who had discovered their secret watched the proceedings with a great deal of interest, and the whole town soon heard of it. The poor girls are now in a very embarrassing situation; their parents are angry and shocked, and they are afraid to venture on the street to face the laughter of the people.

The London and Port Stanley.

With some difficulty the secrets of the London Council Star Chamber are wormed out of aldermen, but the industrious investigator succeeds. It is learned that one result of Tuesday night's secret meeting of the Council and the London and Port Stanley Board was the resolution that offers for the lease of the railway must be put in immediately.

The principal attraction here on civic holiday will be the teamsters' picnic in Queen's Park. Last year this affair was a grand success, and this year's picnic promises to be even better. Sheriff of Middlesex.

Mr. D. M. Cameron, ex-M. P., of Strathroy, has been appointed sheriff of Middlesex, in succession to the late Sheriff Glass. Mr. Donald Mackenzie Cameron was born in Dingwal, Scotland, Nov. 11, 1843. He was educated at the George Heriot school, Edinburgh, and at the London (Ont.) public school, having come to this country in 1859. In 1879 he married Victoria Wilson, youngest daughter of the late Wm. Gooderham, of Toronto. He was a journalist for some years and served upon the staff of the London (Ont.) Prototype, and of the Toronto Globe. For some years past Mr. Cameron has been a merchant. He has been deputy reeve and reeve of Strathroy, warden of the county of Middlesex in 1883, and a trustee of the Strathroy high school board. He was first returned to Parliament as one of the Liberal members for West Middlesex, Mr. G. W. Ross, the sitting member being unseated. He was defeated in the election of 1887 by Dr. Roome.

In the City Police Court.

An alleged child-flogging episode occupied the attention of Magistrate Parke in the Police Court yesterday. Herbert Swazie was the defendant. Elizabeth Slade, the complainant, in her evidence said that he had taken her boy in his arms, carried the child into the street, and there kicked him severely. These allegations Swazie absolutely denied. The magistrate thought that both parties should try to get along in neighborly amacibility, and adjourned the case for two weeks to await developments.

Benjamin Harris, whom, it appears, occupied a portion of the street with his commodities, was warned. He will be given until Tuesday to remove the obstructions.

Thomas Burke, who was arrested by Detective Nichol on a charge of vagrancy, was remanded until Tuesday. His antecedents will be investigated.

Men and Women Bicyclists.

Wives and Daughters remarks: "A physician says women, as a rule, on the bicycle are graceful, dignified, easy, whereas men, in the majority of instances, look like agitated grasshoppers. 'They sprawl over their wheels, sit with their spinal columns almost in a half circle and act as though it were necessary to work for dear life in order to get ahead.' We had noticed how much more gracefully women ride, but out of regard to the feelings of gentlemen bicyclists of our acquaintance, refrained from commenting on the fact until now. Truth, however, like murder, will out. Mrs. Denner, in 'Felix Holt,' you remember, had very decided notions about the general deficiencies of the other sex. 'It mayn't be good luck to be a woman,' said Mrs. Denner, 'but one begins with it from a baby; one gets used to it. And I shouldn't like to be a man, to cough so loud, and stand straddling about on a wet day, and be so wasteful with meat and drink. They're a coarse lot, I think.' Mrs. Denner is rather hard on our gentlemen friends, many of whom, indeed, 'in their own sphere,' show to advantage even in comparison with women—but not on bicycles."

World's Fair Cattle Here.

The cattle and horses from Ontario destined for exhibition at the Columbian Exhibition mustered here yesterday, and proceeded to Chicago last night. The cattle, about fifteen car loads in all, go by way of the Grand Trunk and the tunnel, while the horses go by the C. P. R. At noon to-day everything was in readiness for the journey, and the train was waiting for the arrival of one car load from Mr. Edwards, M.P., Rocklands, in the Ottawa Valley. The exhibitors for the most part accompany their stock, and the cars are all decorated with flags and bunting. The grades of cattle exhibited are Shorthorns, Herefords, Galloways, Devons, Jerseys, Ayrshires and Holsteins. There are about 150 cattle in the exhibit, and they are all splendid-looking animals. The principal exhibitors are: W. B. Coburn, Aberfoyle; W. C. Edwards, Ottawa; G. & W. Russell, Richmond Hill; T. & L. Nicholson, Sylvan; Morgan & Son, Kerwood; Mr. Sanders, St. Thomas; Mr. Flemming, Toronto; Wm. Cahoe, Owen Sound; Mr. Cockburn, Aberfoyle; W. J. Reid, Eden Mills; Thomas Grey, Oshawa; Mr. Stewart, Belleville; Mr. Smith, Oxford; M. Neely, Simcoe. Henry Wade, Toronto, is in the city in the interest of the exhibit, and Joseph Barnett, of the Guelph Agricultural College, accompanies the train. A wait will be made at Sarnia for inspection, and Chicago will probably be made late Thursday night.

Important to Dairymen.

The following circular has been sent to the cheesemakers in Western Ontario:

Dear Sir—I have been instructed by the executive committee of the Dairymen's Association of Western Ontario to invite you to co-operate with the association and the Dominion dairy commissioner to secure a thorough representative exhibit of cheese from Western Ontario at the World's Fair at Chicago in the competition in October.

Definite and particular information in reference to the different classes and the arrangements which have been made for receiving and transporting the exhibits may be found on pages 5 to 8 of the enclosed bulletin issued by the dairy commissioner.

"The cheese from every factory which will merit the highest number of points when judged in October—no matter in what month they were made—are wanted. Probably those selected from the last half of August or the first ten days of September will be best." Particular attention should be given to the quality, general appearance and boxing of the cheese. Be careful to have the cheese perfect in flavor and finished without any blemishes in appearance from bandaging or pressing. Put them only in strong, well-made boxes with covers that will stay on securely without nailing. If nails or tacks are used let them be short so that they will not deface the cheese through the box.

The executive committee of the association have made arrangements for expert judges to visit the factories as far as possible and select the cheese to be sent to Ingersoll for shipment from there to Chicago.

Those who desire to receive assistance in the selection of cheese at the factories may obtain such assistance by applying to the secretary of the Dairymen's Association of Western Ontario at 361 Richmond street, London, Ont.

Address labels, entry forms, etc., may be had free on application to the secretary as above, or to the dairy commissioner, Ottawa.

All cheese should be sent, addressed to the dairy commissioner, Ingersoll, to reach there not later than Sept. 26.

It is hoped that every factory in Western Ontario which has particularly fine goods will be represented at the World's Fair in October in order that we may maintain our reputation at the leading cheese-producing district in America. Yours very truly,

J. W. WHEATON,
Secretary of the Dairymen's Association of Western Ontario.
