Russians Rescue a Few Members of Jap Crews-A Fierce Five-Hour's Battle.

St. Petersburg, May 3, 3:48 p.m. - It is reported that Vice-Admiral Togo made another desperate attempt to block the entrance of Port Arthur last night, but failed. Viceroy Alexieff sent out a section of the fleet to meet the attack, and sank eight fireships and two Japanese torepdo boats. The Jap Commander Reports Heavy The absence of official information is channel is reported to be clear.

St. Petersburg, May 3, 4 p.m.-Later the report that Vice-Admiral Togo had made another attempt to block Port Arthur was confirmed. Viceroy Alexieff reported officially that the Japanese sent eight fireships last night to block the entrance of the harbor, but they were all sunk by the Russian land batteries, leaving the channel clear. The viceroy also reported that the Russians sank two Japanese torpedo boats.

RUSSIANS ON THE RUN.

Seoul. Korea, May 3. - In the fighting between the Japanese and Russians on the Yalu, all the Russian guns post-ed to oppose the crossing of the river, were put out of action before the actual crossing took place. For two hours, from 7 until 9 o'clock, continuous fighting went on, the Japanese stea!ily pressing forward and the Russians falling back before the weight of men and guns opposed to them.

ORGANIC CHURCH UNION DESIRABLE

The Meeting at Whitby Drafts a Constitution.

NOT TO BE PRESSED AT PRESENT

Some Difficulties in the Way of the Anglican Church Entering a Union.

Whitby, May 3. - Church union which has been in the air at several places in the Province recently, seems to have reached almost the tops of the mulberry trees in the County of On-The idea had its origin or, perhaps it would be more correct to say that it was quickened by the peculiar conditions in the village of Brooklin, Here are three churches, and it happened that Rev. J. B. Maclaren, Presbyterian; Rev. M. E. Wilson, Methodist, and Rev. James Harris, Church of England, are all on the most friendly terms. It was natural should arise, and one phase of the question was particularly interesting in that the Church of England clergyman took a leading part. A prelimi ary meeting was held in Brooklin, and the result was so satisfactory that it was decided to call another and larger meeting about a month ago in the hall of the Ladies' College at Whitby. Unfortunately the roads were very and, moreover, there was a storm that night, which, in itself, would have kept many away. It was, therefore, decided to hold another meeting yester-

Those present were: Presbyterian Rev. J. Abraham, Whitby; Rev. P. F. Sinclair, Sombra. Rev. Hugh Crozier, Ashburn; Methodist, Rev. J. E. Moore, Pickering; Rev. M. E. Wilson, Brooklin; Rev. V. H. Emory, Whitby, and Rev. Dr. Hare, principal of Whitby Ladies' College; Baptist, Rev. M. Gold. Whitby, and Church of England, Rev. A. H. Wright, Whitby, in the place of Rev. James Harris, as secretary, who was unable to be present. The discussion was on the lines of agitating and stirring up the Christian sentiment ra-ther than on any definite basis. It was evident from the first that there would be difficulties for the Church of England in organic union. A draft constitution for the union of Presbyterans, Methodists and Congregationalists was submitted, but it was not thought wise to press at the pr time. But consideration of financial means and effective results made a strong impression. Rev. J. E. Moore, Methodist, for example, pointed out the waste involved in maintaining five Christian churches in Pickering, which had only 500 to 700 inhabitants. Rev. Dr. Hare, Whitby, was a strong advocate of breaking down narrow denominationalism and building up a wide and strong Christian unity. The situation, he said, was not the same finncially in Whitby as in Pickering, but there was the kindliest feeling between all denominations. As an instance, he Catholic pupils in the college, one in her third year, and they all had perfect liberty in matters of religion. As a further instance, he said, that recently a Methodist clergyman had given an address in the college upon Father Ryan's poems, and the Roman Catholic clergyman, who was a frequent visitor, presided on that occasion. In the evening a public meeting on The notice given of it was insufficient, but, nevertheless, there was a fair attendance. Rev. DUKE BORIS IN DISGRACE from Port Arthur say that Grand Duke Boris, cousin of the Czar, has fallen into disgrace, because of a drunken orgie, in which he engaged recently, and General Kuropatkin has requested the young man's recall.

Boris is said to have paraded the streets of the besieged town wearing a cal position of the fortress, his conduc created disgust and anger, and nothing but his high rank saved him from violence at the hands of the people. Boris' conduct is unfavorably contrasted with the gallantry of Grand Duke Cyril, who narrowly escaped with his life in the sinking of the Petropavlovsk. It is understood that the Czar, when informed of the disgraceful incident, angrily ordered Boris' recall. FOR THE MONTH

The Charity Organization and Humane Society Make an Excellent Showing.

Mr. H. E. Gates, vice-president, occupied the chair at the monthly meetng of the Charity Organization and Humane Society held in the city hall yesterday afternoon. A number of the members of the executive board attended, and a sense of keen loss pervaded the meeting, all who were present expressing deep sorrow at the death of the society's esteemed president, the late Mr. A. B. Cox.

The chairman then quietly proceeded with the regular routine business. A large number of accounts, amounting in all to $66 51 were ordered to be paid; these were nearly all for fuel and groceries given to poor families during the long and severe winter just past. Nearly $200 was expended by the society in this way, and the board expressed itself as gratified that it ccept the lowest or any tender. By order, had been enabled to give that much in FRED GELINAS, Secretary. material relief to those in distress. Quite a number of communications had accumulated since the last meeting, several of which were letters asking for assistance, some of these being of very interesting nature. The secretary then submitted his reort, which contained, he said, only a few of the many interesting cases with which he had dealt. There was some wonder expressed on the faces of those present as he read of families who had come under his notice, living in conditions of almost incredible filth wretchedness and poverty. The secretary stated that while, of course, there no crowding here like that which existed in the large American cities. ne was firmly convinced that New York held no more wretched households than some which were scattered (happily only here and there) throughout London. A brighter side to the picture were the cases mentioned of a few very respectable and deserving families, who had been placed in straitened circumstances on account of sickness or other trouble and had, through the society's assistance, been tided over until such times as they were again beyond the need of relief report stated that since the last meeting there had been 34 personal

Southern Congregational May Be

To the record of successful anniver-TION, Vocal and Physical Culture, Miss saries which have always characterized the Southern Congregational Church, the one observed Sunday and last night may be added. The Sunday services were conducted by Rev. J. P. Gerrie, B.A., of Watford, and his appropriate words were much enjoyed. Last night the anniversary tea and oncert was held, and the result was gratifying to all concerned. The tables presented a very pretty appearance, and much credit is due the ladies for the tasteful arrangement and the manner in which supper was served. Among the many pleasing numbers on the programme were violin and duets by the Misses Blackburn, several elocutionary numbers by Miss Laine and Miss Wilson, and among the vocal talent were the Misses Maud and Lily Fowler and Miss Pickard, whose services were much appreciated. Besides the pastor there were present Rev. C. C. Claris, Rev. J. P. Gerrie, B.A., and Rev. D. S. Hamilton, of the First Church. In their addresses the latter reviewed the work done and the progress made both in spiritual life and financial welfare, and closed by wishing the church continued prosperity in a degree it never before enjoyed. This eleventh anniversary of the church, and when one takes into consideration its condition in its first years and compares it to that of today, it cannot be denied there is cause encouragement. The Secret Memorandum. The Government has shown forbear ance is not pressing the matter of the stolen Blair memorandum, which came into the hands of the leader of the Opposition, and was read by him in the House of Commons. Mr. Borden com promised himself by this use of a confidential and therefore prohibited document, and his position might have been made intolerable had the Government chosen to push the inquiry. The incident is no less surprising than unfortunate, as Mr. Borden had a reputation for high-mindedness, and for scrupuas a public man, that the Blair docusume that he was not aware of the at present for suppressing the evil of inviolable secrecy which should have congested drink areas. the case as follows:

The HOUSE OF COMMONS, EVEN IN ITS MOST INQUISITIVE AND carrying the measure.
TURBULENT MOMENTS WOULD SCARCELY PERMIT THE NOTE OF A CABINET MEETING TO BE READ. No Minister who respected the fundamental usages of political practice would permit the reading of such a note. The committee which unites the law-making power with the law-executing power -which by virtue of that function is. while it lasts and holds together, the most powerful body in the state-is a committee wholly secret. No description of it, at once graphic and authentic, has ever been given. It is said to be sometimes like a rather disorderly board of directors, where many speak, but few listen-though

Upon their first introduction in the Privy Council, Ministers are sworn to secrecy: they are not at liberty thenceforth to divulge conversations or proceedings in council-or to reveal to others any confidential communications they may have had either with the sovereign or with a colleague in office—without the permission of the crown. This applies equally to those who have ceased to form part of the Administration as mbers of the existing Cabinet.'

The permission of the crown means in this country, of course, the permission of the Governor-General, Todd cites a case which happened in 1832, and which exactly fits Mr. Borden's offense. The Marquis of Anglesey, then lord-lieutenant of Ireland, and consea letter to the Prime Minister, Lord House of Commons with saying that fair hand, "but I have for the rings I Grey, for the information of the Cabinet, stating his views with regard to Ireland. This letter was afterwards read to the House of Commons by Mr. Hume to the great indignation of Lord Grey, who said it was "a letter to which even funnier by solemnly telling its no public reference could fairly be made,' adding that "it could only have to "Muskego," the trapper's name for been produced to the public by a most foul and scandalous breach of confidence." This view was concurred in by the House of Lords without a dis-

It can be said of Mr. Blair's memorandum, as truly as it was said of Lord Anglesey's letter, that no public reference could fairly be made to No one would accuse Mr. Borden of being privy to the conspiracy to procure or purloin the Blair document. His offense is in making public for party purposes a document which he knew could have come into his possession only through theft or "a scandalous breach of confidence." There is nothing new or sensational in Mr. Blair's paper, nothing that can damage the Government or make party capital. The wonder is that those who are responsible for its publication should have resorted to immoral means when there was nothing to be gained.

CURED BY CUTICURA

Which Acted Like a Charm After Doctors and Hospitals Failed.

Here is another of those remarkable cures of torturing, disfiguring skin humours daily made by Cuticura Resolvent, assisted by Cuticura Ointment and Soap, after physicians, hospitals and all else had failed.

"I feel it my duty to try to help those suffering from skin diseases. My case was a very bad one, covering all of one side of my face and had reached my eye. I had two or three doctors prescribe without any relief. They said my disease was Epithelioma. I was then advised to go to one of our hospitals, which I did, taking their treat-ment for some time. I had given up all hope when my husband asked me to try the Cuticura Remedies. My face being in such a very bad state, I used the Cuticura Soap with luke-warm water and a small silk sponge and then applied the Cuticura Ointment. I took one teaspoonful of the Resolvent four times a day. They acted like a charm, and in one week's time my face was cured entirely and has remained so. I certainly can recommend the Cuticura Remedies as infallible." MRS. A. G. SMITH, 2400 Catharine St.,

The purity and sweetness, the power to afford immediate relief, the certainty of speedy and permanent cure, the absolute safety and great economy have made Cuticura Remedies the standard skin cures, blood purifiers and humour remedies of the world.

Who are we? We are the boys of the M. E. D. C-O-L-L-E-G-E. This call resounded through the city streets early last evening. Why? Because it was the night of the annual convocation of the medical department of the Western University and all the pent-up feelings of the student body were let out in honor of the event. Down the street, or up Waterloo street to Dundas, the boys marched in double file, then along the north side of Dundas street, they marched, taking the sides of the walk so that passers by had to walk between the rows, and the old college custom of raising their hats to the ladies was observed with that decorum for which students are noted. At stated intervals and at unstated time between, the boys began to "boom-a-lac." They triumphantly entered the Auditorium on Wellington street and took up a position in the front of the gallery.

The rest of the audience consisted of ladies chiefly, though some gentlemen were there. Ladies graced the boxes of the Auditorium also, so the students had the satisfaction of having their convocation under the most desirable patronage. Every seat was taken long before 8 o'clock, and by the time the proceedings began-which was about twenty minutes later-hundreds were standing up in the aisles.

The Musical Society Orchestra unrendered some excellent music. Both before the proceedings started and during the ceremonies the musicians gave music that in each instance delighted through the stage door and down the platform to their seats at the very front, while the boys in the gallery made remarks appropriate to the occasion

This Ceylon black tea has an advan-

Every other process is by automatic machine. Could flammation. cess is by automatic machine. Could the Chinese ever have had sense pounded into their heads in time, could their greed for gain only have matched their obstinacy, their senseless adherence to old customs for old custom's sake. Chinese tea would not have been driven from the English market, and a pros perous China would be dotted with tea factories, too. Instead, the tea is rolleach small tea farmer's house, and brought into Klukiang and Hankow, in any sort of paper bags and old boxes to be sorted and sifted and refired by the European exporters, who, in those two black tea ports, are all Russians. The Chinese names for the different grades of tea are maintained in Cey ion, and from the silvery, unopened leaf bud or pekoe, the quality descends to orange pekoe, the just opened yellow leaf, to souchong and cougon, as the third and fourth leaves on the twig are known. The most flavor is contain. ed in the silvery pekoe or bud and in the young orange pekoe leaf, and when these are sifted and sorted out by themselves they make a tea of an incredible value like those few pounds of fine pekoe at the Chicago World's Fair valued at £35, or $175 gold, for each pound

The best broken pekoe sold at the Kiosque and at other tea rooms in Colombo is sold for one rupee—35 cents gold—a pound, and if one orders directly from an estate factory he can get a first quality tea for table use for little less. The tea dust is not made into bricks in Ceylon, but sold as dust, and much of it goes to Russia, with which counments for Siberia have for some months past been going direct to Dalny, but recent events have turned the whole Russian trade again to Odessa, for so

NEW WAY TO EVADE NEW FARMING RULE

These two are enough in themselves to start a team going. Jimmy Bell is The "farming evil," which consisted of the practice of major league clubs about the only man of last year's team loaning players to minor league teams who will not be in the running this year. Stress of business is the cause of this. Guy McFadden, "Doc" McDonald, Billy Fleming and George Eccesson are the old men who will still be some other major league might pick them up, was supposed to be dead Leagues had passed so strenuous a rule that it seemed impossible to get around it. Now, however, some inbusiness and makes it possible for big good blood. The other players are Ed Dewar, W. Collins, A. Gatecliff, G. F. Saunters, Dan Stewart, W. Crone, T. M. O'Hagan and Billy Cripps.

The St. Johns have the greatest number of players signed in the league and most of them are new men. The men of last year's team who will play are of last year's team who will play are chase him back for delivery at the end. Will chase him back for delivery at the end of the season. The only difference be-tween this scheme and the old farming arrangement is that the player probably would have to accept a minor league salary, where in former years, when he was loaned to a minor league club, the major league club having a team, but a number of men' who played with the McClary team of last year. Among them are Ed Jackson and Billy Wilson. Harry Waud will be on the Richardson and will. Hier.

But this list is not a complete one. Claim on him was compelled to pay the difference between the minor league limit and the salary at which the play commences.

ANTON DVORAK DEAD

Famous Bohemian Composer Dies Suddenly at Prague. Prague, Bohemia, May 3. - Pan An-

Dvorak was born at Nelahozaves, Three Cities To Have Parts of Mon-Mullhausen, Bohemia, in 1841. His father was an innkeeper. Early in life Dvorak showed great aptitude for the violin, and after leaving school he earned his living by playing in a band of wandering village minstrels. His first attempt at composition resulted in utter failure. In 1857 Dvorak came to Prague, where for the first time he heard the names of the great composers and was present at the performance of an opera. He hired a piano and gave lessons and a year after his marriage in 1874 he gained a competition scholarship at Vienna.
