CORNERED

Free State Boers
Are Surrounded.

LORD ROBERTS WILL NOW PROCEED TO DRAW THE NET—PRESIDENT KRUGER'S TERMS OF SUBMISSION.

London, Saturday, June 23, 3.45 a. m.—Gen. Steyn's force in the Orange River Colony are for the time drawing most of the attention of Lord Roberts, rather to the neglect of Com-mandant-General Louis Botha and President Kruger. The evasive be-tween the Transvaal and the Orange River Colony was completed yesterday, as Lord Roberts said it would be, by the arrival of General Buller's advance under Lord Dundonald at Standerton. The wide net around the 6,000 or 8,000 men under Steyn will now contract. Adroit maneuvering and brisk fighting are likely to take place, because until all resistance south of the Vaal is at an end the British line of communication will not be safe.

President Kruger's sons, who sur-rendered to General Baden-Powell, are back on their farms, working peacefully.

Gen. Baden-Powell rode with only 300 men from Mafeking, and he made the last section of the ride to Pretoria with only 35. Lord Roberts met him in the outskirts of the town and escorted him to the Presidency.

Gen. De Wet's farm houses have been burned by the British.

Gen. Buller has issued a special or-der enjoining the services of Strath-cona's Horse.

Capt. Jones and the brigade from H. M. S. Forte have been ordered back to the ship at the admiral's re-quest.

A Lorenzo Marquez despatch of yesterday says: "President Kruger's principal condition for immediate peace is that he be allowed to stay in the country."

"There are 5,000 British sick and wounded at Pretoria."

"Mrs. Reitz, wife of the Transvaal State Secretary, and her family, who arrived at Lorenzo Marquez en route for Europe, had so little money that the Dutch consul purchased second-class steamship tickets for them."

A despatch, dated Kaatsbosch, June 22 says: "General Dundonald, with the Third Cavalry Brigade, occupied Standerton to-day without opposition. The burghers left yesterday after having blown up the railway bridge and doing other damage. The infantry marched 22 miles to-day and camped at Kaatsbosch Spruit to-night."

An Amsterdam despatch says: "The Netherlands Railroad Company of South Africa has received official notification of the expulsion from the Transvaal of 1,400 of its employees, with their families. The Dutch consul at Lorenzo Marquez telegraphs that a proclamation has been published to the effect that the company's officials who refuse to do British mili-tary transport work will be sent to Europe, via East London, Cape Colony."

The final shipment of horses from Canada for the South African cam-paign will leave Toronto on Tuesday next by special train from Montreal, where the steamer Raeburn is waiting to receive them. The shipment num-bers 600, and when they are aboard Major Dent's work in Canada ends. He has bought 1,500 horses in Chatham and western districts of Ontario, and 1,000 in the Montreal and Ottawa districts. In Toronto he inspected 2,000 and rejected 500 of them, chiefly on the ground of unsuitability for mili-tary work. The horses will arrive in Cape Town to provide the cavalry with remounts at the close of hostilities in August.

LADIES' AID EXCURSION.

The steamer City of Chatham car-ried a large and delighted crowd of excursionists down the river yester-day afternoon on the occasion of the ladies' aid excursion. The ladies, who arranged under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Presbyterian Church. The weather, although threatening at times, was de-lightful throughout the sail to the mouth of the river, and excursion into the lake was exceedingly enjoyed. The ladies in charge contributed much to the enjoyment of their guests. Bright stringed music was fur-nished and capital refreshments served by the ladies in charge of the booths. The boat reached the Raeburn dock on its return at nine o'clock, af-ter a most pleasurable outing.

WOMAN'S RIGHTS

At Vestry Meetings Again up in the Synod.

Referred to the Executive Committee to Report Upon Next Year.

London, June 23.—At the Synod yesterday the debate on the resolution to admit women to vote in vestries was resumed.

T. H. Luscombe moved in amend-ment that the matter be referred to the executive committee to frame such amendments to the canon as to enable women who pay pew rent or its equiva-lent to vote in vestries and in the election of delegates, the executive to present such amendments at next Synod.

Matthew Wilson, Q. C., expressed appreciation of the able manner in which the subject had been presented by Mr. MacKinn.

It had been said that the proposed plan would raise women to the plane of man. Looking at re-cent events in connection with elec-tions, such as stuffed ballot boxes, wo-man would not be raised very far. He pointed to the height to which she is raised in scripture, wherein she is placed upon a rock above others. We drag her down by such a proposed plan. The effect would be that men would drop out altogether and leave the business to women. He was strongly opposed to the proposed canon.

Rev. A. G. Dann, referred to scrip-ture teaching and examples to show the proper sphere of woman, and asked who would attend such meet-ings? The busy-bodies, the self-as-serting, those who delight in the glare of publicity, which is contrary to her sex.

Rev. R. McCosh placed himself on record as in favor of the principle of the proposed canon and asked what would be the result if women with-drew from active church work? He thought it unfair to ask them to raise money and not be allowed to expend it, and felt that the franchise was due to women on account of their devotion and intelligence, and as a matter of right.

The Dean related a conversation with two ladies who expressed the hope that the canon would never carry, and thought that if it were left to the women to decide, they would vote against it.

Principal Dymond congratulated the Synod upon the height which the sub-ject had attained, which was greater than ever before, and scored the former speakers against the motion for getting into a fog and losing sight of the real question, which was the right of women to vote in ves-tries, not to go into the pulpit.

Rev. R. Hicks said all agree in regard to the wonderful influence of woman, but felt that it was not right to bring such influence into the church. Woman was created to be a help-meet, and not a rival of man, and alluded to the courtesy which used to be shown when a lady visited in office, as con-trasted with the treatment accorded such since they entered upon office work.

On motion the whole question was referred to the executive committee to consider and report.

THE B. M. E. CONFERENCE.
The 4th B. M. E. conference is still in session in Dresden. The work of the morning and afternoon sessions Thursday was devoted to committee work and discussions upon ways and means to bring to bear a greater power against sin and destruction. Bishop C. A. Washington and Rev. Richard Hatch received a grand ovation by the brethren as they took their safe ar-rival across the sea. On Friday the morning and evening work of the conference consisted of hearing the read-ing of letters and petitions from other churches as to their desires for the fu-ture. All the ministers are now pre-sent but Thomas Miller, Owen Sound, H. Rockhold and S. A. Lucke, Brantford, and G. R. Blount, C. Mayo, and S. P. Hale. Conference will close on Monday.

FOR THREE

Days the Bombard-ment of Tien Tsin

HAS BEEN GOING ON—THE SITUATION IN CHINA UNIMPROVED.

Berlin, June 22.—The commander of the German squadron at Taku has wired as follows to the government: A French officer who has arrived here from Tien Tsin, which he left June 20, reports that for three days the city had been bombarded by the Chinese, and that the troops of the foreign de-tachment were short of ammunition. The German cruiser Irene has arrived here with 240 marines, who with 300 English and 1,500 Russians, proceeded to the relief of Tien Tsin. The rail-way is working from Taku to within 15 kilometers of Tien Tsin. According to a despatch from Shanghai, Tien Tsin is being bombarded by Chinese regu-lars and not by Boxers.

THE SITUATION.

London, Saturday, June 23, 3 a. m.—The silence of Peking continues un-broken. Four thousand men of the allied forces were having sharp de-fensive fighting at Tien Tsin Tuesday and Wednesday with a prospect of being reinforced Thursday. This is the situation in China, as set forth in the British government despatches.

"Eight hundred Americans are taking part in the fighting at Tien Tsin," says the Shanghai correspondent of the Daily Express, cubing last even-ing, "and they apparently form a part of a supplementary force, arriving with Germans and British after the conflict started. It is impossible to estimate the number of Chinese, but they had a surprising number of guns." This information appears to have been brought by the United States gunboat Nashville to Che Foo and telegraphed thence to Shanghai.

The Chinese are deserting Shanghai in large numbers and going into the in-terior. Statements from native sour-ces continue to reach Shanghai of an-anarchy in Peking. According to the statements the streets are filled day and night with Boxers, who are wholly beyond the control of the Chinese troops, and who are working them-selves up to a frenzy and clamoring for the death of all foreigners.

The English consulate at Shanghai is said to have received from influential natives news of a tragedy in the pa-lace at Peking, though precisely what, is not defined.

THE CERTIFICATE

Which Dr. Borden Flourished in Parliament

Concerning the Emergency Ratons Seems to Have Been a Fake One—The Investigation.

Ottawa, June 23.—Some interesting evi-dence was given before the emergency rat-on committee this afternoon.

The Messrs. Edson, of Montreal, testified that they ground up 2,300 pounds of stuff, which came from the United States in bulk, and which another witness described as lencolina, composed largely of green of wheat, and it was ground up so that it would go into the quarter-pound tin boxes.

John T. Lyons, drug clerk, who helped pack the stuff in the store, corner of Heury and Craig streets, Montreal, whence the "Vitaline Company" is supposed to be lo-cated, laughed when they asked him if he knew such a company. He had never heard of it.

Hospital Sergeant-Major Cotton, whose certificate to the effect that he had tested the vitaline at St. John's, Quebec, and found it identically the same as he had lived on in Kingston for 30 days, was an important witness for Dr. Borden and the department of Militia. He told how he had lived for over 30 days on vitaline at St. John's and had even better results from the vitaline than Hatch's protease. Under cross examination he said he had only commenced his test at St. John on February 23rd. His attention being drawn to the fact that this certificate to Lieut.-Colonel Neilson, direct or general of the medical staff, was dated February 22nd, he admitted he had given the certificate after his first meal of the food, and really before he had tested it at all.

Lieut. Colonel Neilson, recalled, admitted he would set very little value upon a cer-tificate given under such circumstances. Yet this is the certificate which Dr. Borden flourished so triumphantly in the House as settling the nutritive value of the precious emergency ration sent to South Africa for the use of the Canadian soldiers.

Mr. Monk's suggestion that a cable be sent to South Africa informing the Cana-dian officers that the vitaline is unreliable as an emergency ration was voted down by the Liberal majority in the committee. They are quite willing for all they have the front to take chances of being sent off on a long march, depending upon a so-called em-ergency ration of four ounces per day per man, composed of stuff not quite as nourish-ing as brown bread.

THE EXCISE DUTY ON TOBACCO.

With a view of giving the Canadian raser of tobacco a greater advantage over his foreign competitor, Mr. Clancy moved in the House of Commons for the removal of the excise duty of five cents a pound on the native raw leaf. The Government, however, declined to accede to Mr. Clancy's proposal and it was defeated. Speaking of the matter the Mail says: Mr. Clancy's proposal for the removal of the excise duty on home-grown tobacco was a decided move on behalf of the native industry. It would have given the Canadian producer an advantage which would have been most useful to him, and the loss of revenue, in view of the present heavy scale of taxation, could easily have been sustained. Mr. Fielding's objection that too much is already being done for the native industry harmonized with the anti-Canadian policy of the Government. The Fielding tariff gave the Indian corn-growing business to the United States of America in spite of the protests of Mr. John Charlton, who pronounced that course folly. Now the author of that tariff is afraid to give the industry which has been resorted to with a view to covering the loss which his mistake as to corn has produced too much encouragement. The Standard Oil monopoly enjoys all the help the Ottawa Government can give it. But when it comes to the farmer the case is different. He has to pay the taxes, and the profits voted to United States monopolists, and receives nothing in return.

The excursion season this year has opened with a boom. That's as it should be. Usually the summer is nearly over before people begin to take advantage of the fine weather.

Had ex-lieut.-Governor McInnes, of British Columbia, remained a peaceable resident of Dresden he never would have reached the gubernatorial dignity, and hence would not have had so far to fall when turned down.

The unfortunate bicycle is blamed for the decline in church attendance. But this decline was going on before the bicycle was ever heard of. That goes to prove the bicycle is not the real cause.

The Scotchman who invented the Mafeking blend of porridge received a bonus of £5 from the government, so invaluable was it to the garrison's rations supply—it being equal to six weeks' additional provisions. The natives prefer it to any other food.

When a British soldier allows himself to be taken a prisoner of war he is guilty of an offense against the Queen and is liable to be put upon trial should there be any doubt that he gave up his liberty when there was any possibility of his retaining it. He must then prove that it was impossible for him to take any other course without uselessly throwing away his life.

Michael O'Brien, commercial master in the Peterboro' Collegiate Institute, has been appointed Inspector of Separate schools. It was expected this appointment would go to Mr. Twohey of the Collegiate staff in this city, a teacher well qualified in every respect for the position. But the policy of the Ross Government has ever been for the ministers to grab everything possible for themselves and their friends, and in pursuance of that policy the Inspectorship is handed over to a friend and supporter of Hon. J. R. Stoughton.

Here is a witty illustration offered by Bystander in the Weekly Sun: Sir Wilfrid Laurier, with his little installment of preferential duties seems to be in the situation of a man in a lift jammed between two stories and unable to get up or down. He is irrevocably parted with commercial union or unrestricted reciprocity, which was once the policy of his party, and he has no hope of getting an imperial tariff, towards which his present policy points. He is stuck between two stories, and there is nothing for it but to send for the mechanic.

Hugh John Macdonald, Premier of Manitoba, proposes to refuse the ballot to the Doukhobors and Galicians for seven years. This is in the face of the fact that a war is at present in progress in South Africa, in which Canadians are taking part, because the Boers refused to confer the rights of citizenship upon British people who settled in the Transvaal.—Windsor Record.

Here is one of the bright comparisons that we sometimes find in the columns of the Record. Now, the two cases it refers to are in no way analogous. There was no question about the Outlanders being fit to exercise the franchise. It was refused them because it was feared they would outvote the burghers and overturn the old order of things. In Manitoba the franchise is simply withheld from the Doukhobors and Galicians until they are capable of properly exercising it. They can neither read nor speak English and know no more about the politics of Canada than the Zulus of South Africa. Yet the Record seems to think they ought to be presented with votes at once.

"Evil Dispositions Are Early Shown."

Just so evil in the blood comes out in shape of scrofula, pimples, etc., in children and young people. Taken in time it can be eradicated by using Hood's Sarsaparilla, America's Greatest Medicine. It vitalizes and enriches the blood.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints

The Boxers also seem to be fighters.

The defence in the emergency ration scandal seems to be stupidity. The militia department apparently alleges that it was not guilty of dishonesty or of endangering the soldiers' lives by fully supplying them with bad food because it wasn't smart enough to know what it was doing.

A MUNICIPAL PLANT THAT PAYS.

Woodstock Sentinel-Review.
Portland, Ind., paid $17,140 for its electric light plant in 1905; improvements since have made the total cost $20,344. Including the saving in cost of street lights, the profit to date is $15,697.90.

MIDSUMMER EXAMS SHOULD GO.

Brantford Expositor.

Why are school examinations held at mid-summer, when human nature is crying out for rest and recreation rather than strain and worry, and when climatic conditions are least favorable to mental activity? We believe if examinations were held at Christmas time they would be far less exhausting to the energies of the young people, and that results of a more satisfactory character than those now obtained would be secured.

GOVERNMENT'S LACK OF COURAGE.

Hamilton Herald.

Here is the case: The government challenged Mr. Monk to make definite charges, promising that if such charges were brought they would be investigated. Mr. Monk has brought his charges. Now the government complains that one of them, aimed directly at a minister, is quite too definite, and refuses to allow it to be considered. It is to be regretted that the government should have shown such inconsistency and want of courage.

THE TELEPHONOGRAPH.

London Daily Mail.

The telephonograph is a new invention, which comes to us from Denmark. Not quite for the first time, for we had heard of it about a year ago; since then, though the inventors have made progress. The telephonograph is a combination of the telephone with a newly constructed phonograph, which makes it possible to fix and preserve conversations in the absence of the intended hearer, so that he can listen to the message after his return. But the importance of the invention reaches

HAVE GONE BACK ON ANOTHER PRINCIPLE.

The Dominion government proposes to take the census next year under the de jure system. Under this system, those who are away from Canada at the time the census is taken are counted of their relatives state that they are likely, to return to Canada again. In this way, a large number of Canadians who reside in the United States are counted by our census takers, and the population of Canada is made to appear larger than it really is. When the Liberals were in opposition they denounced this method of taking the census, and demanded that it be taken under the de facto system, that is, by counting only those actually residing here. Now, however, they want to make as good a showing as possible, and so adopt the system under which they can count the largest number.

IS IT DECLINE OF FAITH?

Bystander in Weekly Sun.

The falling off in church attendance continues to be the subject of debate. Is it the fault of the clergy? No, it is not the fault of the clergy. The clergy, as everyone who has lived long enough to be able to draw the comparison knows, are superior to those of past generations in every respect; in character, as preachers, and in pastoral activity. Their congregations, being better educated, are more on a level with the preacher, and consequently more critical. This is the real explanation of the supposed falling off in church attendance. Bicycles and increased allurements of other kinds may have played their part in diverting attendance from the church, especially in the summer. But the main cause of diminished attendance is diminished belief in the doctrines taught and in the necessity and efficacy of the church as the instrument of salvation. The only real cure is a revival of faith. By making the service more operative a certain increase of attendance may be drawn but it will be an increase of attendance at a music hall, not at a house of prayer.

LITERARY NOTES.

FOLLIES OF THE AMERICAN EXPORTER.

There seem to be a large number of American manufacturers who think they want foreign business, but who want it only on the condition that it will fall into their hands at the expense of a few cents in postage for a letter, usually badly written, in a language (English) of which so many of their prospective customers are totally ignorant, and know so little, as to make the reading of it a Herculean task. It is obvious that such letters—frequently mimeographed, and badly at that—are treated as all circulars usually are, namely, they are thrown away without being read. The effect of a circular of the same kind, written, say, in Hungarian, to one of these same American houses

"Circularising" Europe from America for business does not pay under any circumstances that have ever come under my notice; but circularising Europe from some point in Europe, for the same class of goods, may be made to pay, and may be made to pay. The Engineering Magazine for June.

McCLURE FOR JUNE.

The June number of McClure's is particularly strong and varied in its contents, both as regards fiction and special articles. President Kruger of the South African republic is portrayed in an acute character study by F. Edmund Garrett, who has had the advantage of personal contact with the venerable Boer leader, and is thoroughly familiar with his past career and with the political history of the Boers. Excellent portraits of Kruger and his wife are included. J. Lincoln Steffens, of the New York Commercial Advertiser, relates some striking "incidents of conflict" between Governor Roosevelt and the party leaders, and considers whether his first term as governor was turned out a successful experiment. A fully illustrated article on Cape Nome Gold Fields, by William J. Lampton, describes life in Nome City, which is "the largest city of its age in the world," and gives the latest and exactest information available concerning the possibilities of this new gold region, one that is much richer than even the Klondike. "Experiments in Flying," by O. Chanute, is an account of the author's own flying-machines, one of which was so constructed as to maintain successfully a speed of seventeen miles an hour. The article is illustrated from photographs. One of the most striking features of the number is a thrilling naval story of the Japanese-Chinese war by Adachi Kinnosuke, who is almost the only existing Japanese writer whose literary reputation has been established by his work in the English language. How the "Hiyei" ran the gauntlet of the Chinese Squadron, how the valiant Yamaji fulfilled his dedication by his dying father to the service of the Emperor of Japan, all this is graphically and thrillingly told. The pictures are full of action and unusually effective. In addition to this, there are several other good short stories. There is also a true historical story by the Rev. C. T. Brady—the story of the greatest fight in the history of American privateers, Reid's great fight in the "General Armstrong" against the British.

THE GARDEN OF EDEN.

Since the beginning of time, discussions have arisen over the old, old story of Adam and Eve, who dwelt so happily in their beautiful bower until the serpent entered, bringing discord. Interest in the home never grows dull, each new comment being eagerly listened to. Blanche Willis Howard, author of "Guenn," and "One Summer," has recently modernized the first romance of paradise in her new work, "The Garden of Eden." Interpreting the time-worn facts to fit modern environments, while a pretty love-story threads its way through the devious path, it is not a light novel, but one of provoking thought, involving as it does sexed social and moral questions, which are treated with a masterly hand, yet with great refinement of touch. The author has fearlessly dealt blow

Cures Weak Men Free

A most successful remedy has been found for sexual weakness, such as impotency, varicocele, shrunken organs, nervous debility, lost manhood, night emissions, premature discharge and all other results of self-abuse or excesses. It cures any case of the difficulty, never fails to restore the organs to full natural strength and vigor. The Doctor who made this wonderful discovery wants to let every man know about it. He will therefore send the receipt giving the various ingredients to be used so that all men at a trifling expense can cure themselves. He sends the receipt free, and all the reader need do is to send his name and address to L. W. Knapp, M. D., 1710, Hull Bldg., Detroit, Mich., requesting the free receipt as reported in this paper. It is a generous offer, and all men ought to be glad to have such an opportunity.

after blow at many of the standing social shams of present day life; and widely read, it would do much to broaden and better mankind.

The reader is led up to the story proper through three taking little allegories, which are not only fanciful, but help much in the interpretation of the story.

The later story is told of older grown people, and shows what a beautiful thing love might be were there no mercenary powers to mis-shape it, nor any ties necessary to recognize them the love kind. Monte Randolph, the great character of the book, was a strong and fearless woman. Her nature was intense in every fibre. She hated hypocrisy, and was particularly bitter against loveless unions; on the other hand, deeming the whole world lost for love—well lost.

ANXIETY AND WORRY

The Divine Sympathy for Those Who Are in Trouble.

AN EVER PRESENT FRIEND IN GOD

Dr. Talmage's Prescription—Bind Up All Your Griefs Into a Bundle and Set Them on Fire With a Spark From God's Altar.

Washington, June 17.—Dr. Talmage, who has finished his tour in England and Scotland, where thousands thronged to hear him wherever he preached, is now on his way to Norway and Russia, in which countries he is already well known through the publication of translations of his sermons. In the following discourse, which he has sent for publication this week, he gives a prescription for all anxiety and worry, and illustrates the divine sympathy for all who are in any kind of struggle. The text is Matthew xiv, 12, "And his disciples went and told Jesus."

An outrageous assassination had just taken place. To appease a revengeful woman King Herod ordered the death of that noble, self-sacrificing prophet, John the Baptist. The group of the disciples were thrown into grief and dismay. They felt themselves utterly defenceless. There was no authority to which they could appeal, and yet grief must always find expression. If there be no human ear to hear it, then the agonized soul will cry it aloud to the winds and the woods and the waters. But there was an ear that was willing to listen. There is a tender pathos and at the same time a most admirable picture in the words of his text, "They went and told Jesus."

He could understand all their grief, and he immediately soothed it. Our burdens are not more than half so heavy to carry if another shoulder is put under the other of them. Here was John the Baptist, standing amid the group of disciples, who, with tears and violent gesticulations and wringing of hands and outcry of bereavement, were expressing their grief. Raphael, with his skillful brush putting upon the wall of a palace some scene of sacred story, gave not so skillful a stroke as when the plain hand of the evangelist writes, "They went and told Jesus."

I feel that I bring to you a most appropriate message. I mean to bind up all your griefs into a bundle and set them on fire with a spark from God's altar. The prescription I give cures the sorrow of the disciples, will cure all your headaches. I have read that when Godfrey and his army marched out to capture Jerusalem, as they came over the hills, at the first flash of the pinnacles of the beautiful city, the army that had marched in silence lifted a shout that made the earth tremble. Oh, you soldiers of Jesus Christ, marching on toward heaven, I would that to-day, by some gleam of the palace of God's mercy and God's strength, you might be lifted into great rejoicing, and that as the prospect of its peace breaks on your enraptured gaze you might raise one glad hosanna to the Lord!

In the first place, I commend the behavior of these disciples to all burdened souls who are unpardoned. There comes a time in almost every man's history when he feels from some source that he has an errand. The thought may not have such heft as to fell him. It may be only like the flash in an evening cloud just after a very hot summer day. One must get rid of that impression will go to prayer, and other will stimulate himself by ardent spirits, and another man will dive deeper into secularities. But sometimes a man cannot get rid of these impressions. The fact is, when a man finds out that his eternity is poised upon a perfect uncertainty and that the next moment his foot may slip, he must do something violent to make himself forget where he stands or else fly for refuge.

Some of you crouch under a yoke, and you bite the dust, when this moment you might rise up a crowned conqueror. Driven and perplexed as you have been by sin, go and tell Jesus. To relax the grip of death from your soul and plant your unshackled feet upon the golden throne, Christ let the tortures of the bloody mountain transfix him. With the beam of his own cross he will break down the door of your dungeon. From the thorns of his own crown he will pick enough gems to make your brow blaze with eternal victory. In every tear on his wet cheek, in every gasp of his side, in every long, blackened mark of laceration from shoulder to shoulder, in the grave shattering, heaven storming death groan, I hear him say, "Him that cometh unto me I will in nowise cast out."

You will never get rid of your sin in any other way. And remember that the broad invitation which I extend to you will not always be extended. King Alfred, before modern timepieces were invented, used to divide the day into three parts, eight hours each, and then had three wax candles. By the time the first candle had burned to the socket eight hours had gone, and when the second candle had burned to the socket another eight hours had gone, and when all the three candles were gone out then the day had passed. Oh, that some of us, instead of calculating our days and nights and years by any earthly timepiece, might calculate them by the numbers of opportunities and mercies which are burning down and out, never to be relighted, lost at last we be amid the foolish virgins who cried, "Our lamps have gone out!"

Again, I commend the behavior of the disciples to all who are tempted. I have heard men in middle age who have never been led into temptation.

If you have not felt temptation, it is because you have not tried to do right. A man, hopped and handcuffed, as long as he lies quietly, does not test the power of the chain, but when he rises up and with determination resolves to snap the handcuff or break the hoop, then he finds the power of the iron. And there are men who have been for 10 and 20 and 30 years bound hand and foot by evil habits who have never felt the power of the chain because they have never tried to break it. It is very easy to go on down the stream and with the wind lying on your oars, but just turn around and try to go against the wind and the tide, and you will find it is a different matter. As long as you go down the current of your habit you seem to get along quite smoothly, but if after awhile you turn around and head the other way, toward Christ and pardon and heaven, oh, then how we have to lay to the oars! You have your temptation. You have one kind, you another, you another, not one person escaping.

It is all folly for you to say to some one, "I could not be tempted as you are." The lion thinks it is so strange that the fish should be caught with a hook. The fish thinks it is so strange that the lion should be caught with a trap. You see some men, with a cold, phlegmatic temperament, and they say, "I suppose that man has not any temptation." Yes, as much as you have. In his phlegmatic nature he has a temptation to indolence and censoriousness and overeating and drinking, a temptation to ignore the great work of life, a temptation to lay down an obstacle in the way of all good enterprises. The temperament decides the styles of temptation, but sanguine or lymphatic, you will have temptation. Satan has a grappling hook just fitted for your soul, man never lives beyond the reach of temptation.

A man who wanted a throne pretended he was very weak and sickly, and if he was elected he would soon be gone. He crawled upon his crutches to the throne, and having attained it he was strong again. He said, "It was well for me while I was looking for the scepter of another that I should stoop, but now that I have found it, why should I stoop any longer?" and he threw away his crutches and was well again. How illustrative of the power of temptation! You think you are weak and crippled influence, but give it a chance and it will be a tyrant in your soul; it will grind you to atoms. No man has finally and forever escaped temptation until he has left the world. But what are you to do with these temptations? Tell everybody about them? Ah, what a silly man you would be! As well might a commander in a fort, when he is looking for the enemy, tell the other that I should stoop, but now that I have found it, why should I stoop any longer?" and he threw away his crutches and was well again.

Now, what are such to do? Are they merely to look up into a barren sky and wonder why they are there? A blasted heath under stream, unsheltered by overhanging trees? Has God turned us out on the barren common to die? Oh, no, no, no! He has not. He comes with sympathy and kindness and love. He understands all our grief. He sees the height and the depth and the length and the breadth of it. He is the only one that can fully sympathize. Go and tell Jesus. Someone has said we have brought "re go" to our friends and we explain it, and they try to sympathize; but they do not understand it. But Christ sees all over it an all through it.

It is often that our friends have no power to relieve us. They would very much like to do it, but they cannot disentangle our finances, they cannot cure our sickness and raise our spirits, they cannot get us out of the world. The disciples went with all power in heaven and on earth, and at our call he will walk our calamities and at just the right time in the presence of an approving earth and resounding heaven will raise our dead. He is mightier than Herod. He is swifter than the storm. He is grander than the sea. He is vaster than eternity. And every sword of God's omnipotence will leap from its scabbard and all the resources of infinity be exhausted rather than that God's child shall not be delivered when he cries to him for rescue. Suppose your child was in trouble. How much would you endure to get him out? You would go through any hardship. You would say, "I don't care what it will cost. I must get him out of that trouble." Do you think God is not so good? He is. You see you are in trouble and having all power, will he not stretch out his arm and deliver you? He will. He is mighty to save. He can level the mountain and divide the sea and extinguish the fire and save the soul. Not dim of eye, not weak of arm, not feeble of resources, but with all eternity and the universe at his feet. Go and tell Jesus. Will you? Ye whose cheeks are wet with the night dew of the grave; ye who cannot look up; ye whose hearts are dried with the breath of sorrow; in the name of the religion of Jesus Christ, which lifts every burden and wipes away every tear, and delivers every captive and lightens every darkness, I implore you now, go and tell Jesus.

If you go to him for pardon and sympathy, all is well. Everything will brighten up, and joy will come to the heart and sorrow will depart; your sins will be forgiven, and your foot will touch the upward path, and the shining messengers that report above what is done here will tell it, until the great army of God's rescuers with the glad tidings, if now, with contrition and full trustfulness of soul, you will only go and tell Jesus.

But I am oppressed as I think of those who may not take this counsel and may remain unblest. I cannot help asking what will be the destiny of these people? Xerxes looked off on his army. There were 2,000,000 men—perhaps the finest army ever marshaled. Xerxes rode along the lines, reviewed them, came back, stood on some high point, looked off upon the 2,000,000 men and burst into tears. At that moment, when every one supposed he would be in the greatest exultation, he broke down in grief. They asked him why he wept. "Ah," he said, "I weep at the thought that so soon all this host will be dead!" So I think of these vast populations of immortal men and women and realize the fact that soon the places which now know them will know them no more, and they will be gone—whither? whither?

unto him with your bruised soul in some humble, child prayer, saying: "I see thy wounds—wounds of head, wounds of feet, wounds of heart. Now, look at my wounds and see what I have suffered and through what battles I am going, and I entreat thee by those wounds of thine sympathize with me." And he will sympathize, and he will help. Go and tell Jesus.

Again, I commend the behavior of the disciples to all the bereaved. How many in garb of mourning? How many emblems of sorrow you behold everywhere? God has his own way of taking apart a family. We must get out of the way for coming generations. We must get off the stage that others may come on, and for this reason the life of the child that was folded so closely to the mother's heart is put away in the cold and the darkness. The laughter freezes to the girl's lip, and the rose scatters. The boy in the harvest field of Shunam says, "My head! My head!" And they carry him home to die on the lap of his mother. Widowhood stands with tragedies of woe struck into the pallor of the cheek. Orphanage cries in vain for father and mother. Oh, the grave is cruel! With teeth of stone it clutches for its prey. Between the closing gates of the sepulcher our hearts are mangled and crushed.

Is there any earthly solace? None. We come to the obsequies, we sit with the grief-stricken, we talk patheetically to their souls; but soon the obsequies have passed, the carriages have left us at the door, the friends who stayed for a few days are gone, and the heart sits in desolation listening for the little feet that will never again patter through the hall, or looking for the entrance of those who will never come again, sighing into the darkness—ever and anon coming across some book or garment or little shoe or picture that arouses former association, almost killing the heart. Long days and nights of suffering that wear out the spirit and expunge the bright lines of life and give haggardness to the face and draw the flesh tight down over the cheek bone and draw dark lines under the sunken eye, and the hand is tremulous and the voice is husky and uncertain, and the grief is wearing, grinding, accumulating, exhausting.

Now, what are such to do? Are they merely to look up into a barren sky and wonder why they are there? A blasted heath under stream, unsheltered by overhanging trees? Has God turned us out on the barren common to die? Oh, no, no, no! He has not. He comes with sympathy and kindness and love. He understands all our grief. A Young Girl

May be very old in suffering. She is very apt to neglect the earlier symptoms of disease. Often when she takes treatment it is the wrong treatment for her case. Very many young women write to Dr. Pierce and consult him by letter free. All such correspondence is strictly private, and womanly modesty is spared the shock of indecate examinations, unpleasant questioning and offensive local treatments.

"I suffered with female trouble," writes Miss Agnes McGowan, of 1221 Bank St., Washington, D. C. "I tried various remedies, but none seemed to do any permanent good. The doctors said it was the worst case of internal trouble they ever had. I decided to write to Dr. Pierce for help. I received his 'Favorite Prescription' a week before I began to feel better, and, as I continued, my health gradually improved. It is improving every day and I will continue to take the medicine."

"LAUGH AND BE BEAUTIFUL"

By Harriet Hubbard Ayer.

In England the women are trying the laughter cure. According to one of my colleagues, who is a London beauty specialist, the advantage of this system are many. I give her theory, and I hasten to add that I have not had time to put it thoroughly into practice. Internal laughter consists of the movement of the muscles which make up the simple result of laughter, translated from the outside and made to act internally, thus producing its effects on the internal organs of the body. Those happy people who are used to laughing heartily know how sometimes they "chirp" until their sides ache, because they have brought into action unusual muscles, and they also know how much better they feel after the exercise that before.

This is exactly the same with internal laughter. The way it is done is very simple. You stand straight up, the knees pressed together, the heels touching each other and the toes pointed out, the waist drawn in, the head and shoulders pressed well back—the ideal position for beginning gymnastic exercises. Then close the lips tightly, set the teeth firmly together, take a long breath and fancy you have just heard the funniest story you ever heard in your life. After a few minutes of this sort of exercise the quickened circulation produces a most delightful feeling of exhilaration. The blood is pumped rapidly through the arteries and veins, and the effect of the quickened circulation is found in the rapidity with which cold hands and feet get warm, and a delicious sense of well-being and peace with the world which follows the feeling of quickened health, suffuses the whole body. So much for the immediate effects.

The after effects are even more marked, for rapid circulation, with its burning up of noxious matter in the blood and its sweeping away of waste materials from the body, produces a marked change in the general nutrition, and therefore in the health of the body. It is not long before the digestion, which is sure to be more or less enfeebled when cold hands and feet are present, begins to improve from the exercise of the stomach, which is stimulated to do its work and keep the food constantly in motion, so that it is digested better and more quickly. Now, then, who'll join the internal laughter, health and beauty class?

When is a man like frozen rain? When he is hail (hale).

song, W. J. Fannier; chorus, Misses Wilson, Sandison, Kirkwood, Weekes, McMillan and McKenzie; instrumental duet, Misses Weekes and McMillan; recitation, L. McKenzie. Over $30 was realized. Mr. Needham acted as chairman in his pleasant way.

ALLIES REPULSED

In an Attempt to Break Through
the Chinese Line

At Tien Tsin—It is the Regular Army
and not the Boxers Who are Fighting

Washington, June 23.—The navy department this morning received an important despatch from Admiral Kempff, stating that an engagement is now in progress between the United States and other forces against the Chinese army, outside of Tien Tsin.
The following bulletin has been issued by the department:

Acting Secretary Hackett has this morning received a despatch from Rear-Admiral Krumpff, dated Che Foo, June 23, to the effect that American marines, under Maj. Waller, together with 400 Russians, have had an engagement with the Chinese army near Tien Tsin. They could not break through the line. A force numbering 2,000, Kempff reports, is now ready to make another attempt.

The main importance of the despatch is Kempff's disclosure that it is the Chinese army and not the Boxers who are fighting the foreign troops.

AMERICANS KILLED.

New York, June 23.—The Journal
prints a copyright despatch from Rev. Frederick Brown, presiding elder of the Tien Tsin district of the Methodist Episcopal church. The despatch is dated Che Foo, June 22, and is as follows:

"I have just got away from Tien Tsin on a German gunboat. The city has been bombarded severely during the Chinese. All the foreign part of Tien Tsin has been destroyed.

"Lieut. Wright, of our navy, and 150 others of the white residents, are being held in the city. The Chinese are killed or wounded.

"The American consulate building has been destroyed. Ammunition is almost gone. The garrison are suffering terribly and need instant help."

CHINA AGAINST THE POWERS.

London, June 23.—Matters in China appear to have reached nearly the climax of seriousness. The announcement that Prince Tuan has assumed active command of the Chinese troops and the bombardment of Tien Tsin seems conclusive evidence that the dowager empress has declared war against the combined powers, and will fight the world on behalf of the Boxers.

CHANGE IN TIME

To-morrow a change in the G. T. R.
train schedule will be in effect. The train east at 2.30 will not leave until 4.30, reaching Toronto at 7.45, making the run in three hours and fifteen minutes. The train going west at 8.27 will not leave until 8.55.

A ROMANTIC STORY.

New York, June 23.—Erna Ihde, a young German girl, sailed today on the Anguste Victoria for Hamburg to claim a fortune of $1,000,000 bequeathed to her by a rich man of Berlin, who died two weeks ago. It was in Berlin six years ago that Erna Ihde was a nurse in a hospital. A patient whom she attended in the hospital was a rich clothing manufacturer of Berlin.

Consumption was sapping his constitution. Careful nursing led to his recovery. When discharged he was comparatively a well man. The rich merchant forgot the little nurse. He proposed marriage to her.
Timidly she rejected his offer, her parents dissenting, owing to the disparity in their ages. Two years later the merchant died. He willed his sweetheart nurse his entire fortune of $3,000,000, and she sailed to-day to claim it.

ARCHIE'S RAILWAY BILL

Killed by the Senate Committee—
Rather a Good Joke.

Ottawa, June 23.—The bill to incorporate the Canada National Railway and Transportation Company was thrown out yesterday by the Railway Committee of Senate. This is the bill promoted by Mr.
Campbell for a railway from Toronto to Georgian Bay. The action of the Senate was based upon the fact that the charter would constitute an interference with existing rights, inasmuch as there exists an unexpired Ontario charter covering the same territory.

The Senate action is considered rather a joke on Messrs. Campbell, McMillen, Wood and Macdonald, the Liberal members who are interested in the bill financially or otherwise. They voted down another application on the ground that the bill interfered with existing rights. They did not know of this Ontario charter at the time. So the senators took their own resolution and applied it to their charter thus killing.

AGAINST PROFANITY.

New York, June 23.—A crusade has been instituted against profanity in Berks County, Pa. Two young men have already been committed to prison charged with using blasphemous words in public. Christianity is part of the common law of Pennsylvania, and maliciously to vilify the Christian religion is an indictable offence under the province law of 1700 and the act of assembly of 1860. The former imposed a fine of $10 sterling, and the latter makes the fine not to exceed $100 or three months' imprisonment, or both, for ordinary every-day profanity. The fine imposed in the town of Hamburg is 87 cents per oath.

MARTINUS PRETORIUS DIDN'T BE-LIEVE IN FIGHTING BRITAIN.

New York, June 23.—A despatch from London says: Martinus Pretorius, the first president of the Transvaal, in an interview in Potchefstroom, said he had never been in favor of the war, and had told Kruger
so. He is of opinion that the burghers will settle under British rule if leniency is shown them. Reitz is reported to have stated that the Boers are in a position to carry on guerrilla warfare
for three months or longer.

A BAPTIST SOCIAL.

Pleasant and Successful one at the Residence of Mrs. Walters.

The social given by the Ladies' Aid of the William Street Baptist Church at the residence of Mrs. Walters, Selkirk street, last night proved highly successful both to pleasure and to finance. During the evening a splendid program was rendered by Mrs. James and three of her pupils assisted by Miss Maude Weese and Miss Margaret Houston. The different numbers were charmingly rendered and each and every one acquitted themselves excellently.
Miss Margaret Houston, youngest daughter of Judge Houston, gave several instrumental selections with her usual skill and finish. Miss Maude Weese, gave several excellent instrumental numbers that were marked by truthfulness of technique and brilliance of execution. Miss Weese also rendered the beautiful solo, "The Shepherdess," with charming fluency and grace.
Miss Cora Merritt sang Lyon's "He was a Prince," in a manner to win for her glowing plaudits from the assemblage. Miss Minnie Edmondson also contributed a beautiful and clever style. Miss Minta Oldershaw won golden words of praise for the manner in which she sang Guy D'Ardelet's "Little Boy Blue."

An excellent trio was rendered by Miss Smith and the Misses Royce. Mrs. James,
the leader of the William Street Baptist Church choir, sang "Where Shadows are Not" by Cowan, in her sweet soprano voice.
In the matter of singing a merited encore with "The Creole Love Song," by Edgar B. Smith. Miss Cora Merritt, Miss Edmondson and Miss Oldershaw are all pupils of Mrs. James. This was their first appearance in public and they acquitted themselves nobly. The accompaniments were all played by Miss Houston and Miss Howie. At the conclusion of the program dainty refreshments were served. Mrs.
MacLachlan and Mrs. Benson had charge of the ice cream stand. They did a good business and added materially to the receipts of the social.

FINANCE COMMITTEE

The civic finance committee held a short session last evening, when matters submitted to them at the last council session were dealt with.

In the matter of charging City Secretary Andrew Harbert with the expense of removing cans and rubbish from the streets the committee, after examining the account and looking into the by-law, decided that the city had no right to charge the removal to the scavenger.

In connection with the complaint for impounding animals found tethered
the committee held under the present condition of the by-law they did not think the council could interfere.

In the matter of the communication asking co-operation in petitioning the Government against bonusing a railway from a point on the Georgian Bay to Toronto, the committee decided on no action.

The application of Messrs. Thornton & Douglas to have their license fees reduced and applied upon their taxes was granted.

THE DRILL CORPS

London and St. Thomas Will Make a Big Struggle

For First Place Here on Dominion
Day—Both Are Well up—Celebration Notes.

Secretary Cairns, of the Dominion
Day celebration committee returned this morning from London and St.
Thomas, where he succeeded in securing the cadet corps of these two cities
as competitors for the handsome purseils of the drill contest on Te-mucum park on July 2nd. These corps each number from 35 to 40 men and are in the very best of shape, both having passed the government inspection during the past week. There is much rivalry between them and the fight for points on Dominion Day will be a better one. Indeed so confident are each of the corps that they both regret the absence from the competition of the Brantford and Guelph corps, who are generally considered the best of the other companies connected with Ontario Collegiate Institutes.

The London corps is in many respects
a remarkable one, in that it adopts more of the features of regular military routine than any other corps in the province. Its members own their uniforms and wear them continually on school and on the street. All officers and men salute regularly whenever they meet; no officer or private is ever seen smoking or chewing gum
in uniform, and numberless other little details of military life are rigidly adhered to. The drill instructor has been Lieut. McCrimmon, of the 7th Fusiliers, who sailed for England
a few days ago as member of the Canadian rifle team at Bisley. The captain, who will be in charge on Dominion day is Gordon Ingram, a soldierly young student, fully six feet tall. O.
C. Watson and D. L. Graham will be his lieutenants.

The corps will come in a private car and Principal S. J. Radcliffe, of the London C. I. will accompany the boys on their trip.

The St. Thomas corps has been trained by Capt. Thomas H. Jones, who will be with them on the 2nd. Capt. Jones has long had the reputation of being one of the very best instructors in Ontario and he has taught the boys all he knows. The corps has a long list of fancy movements and special physical drill that it will introduce as part of its exhibition. Captain Allen Lindsay will be in command with Messrs. Glassey and Ridley as lieutenants.

The trip to Chatham will cost each of these corps nearly $400 so that the struggle for the long end of the purse is sure to be a merry one.
Photographs of both corps are on exhibition in the window of George W.
Cowan.

Captain Gordon Gauthier, of the Essex Fusiliers, will be asked to act as one of the judges in the drill competition.

The London, F. B. C. is very anxious to send a team down for the first, but finds it difficult to fill out a satisfactory team on the holiday.

The medals for the public school championships will be on exhibition in VonGuten Bros.' window on Tuesday day next.

The great amount of design work done at the Victoria Avenue Green Houses is sufficient proof of the excellence of the work. Nothing but the best at the lowest prices. Telephone 181.

Your best friend can give you no better advice than this: "For impure blood, bad stomach and weak nerves
take Hood's Sarsaparilla."
