Men's Overcoats

Heavy-weight Overcoats—it's unusual to talk of them as early as this, but men are buying earlier this season.

And we were prepared for them—all our fine Overcoats are here—they are extremely dressy and fashionable garments—ones that will be in strong favor with good dressers this winter.

The styles? Well they are numerous, some are of medium length, others are very long, but all are built with wide shoulders and with the body designed to hang very loose.

Rough fabrics have the go—Friezes, Coatings and Scotchies in dark shades are the most popular.

The prices begin at $5.50 and continue till the $15.00 mark is reached.

BUT THREE SHORT WEEKS WILL END THE WAR

Optimistic Opinion of Mr. Sauer—Effort to Secure Release of the British Soldiers in South African Prisons.

London, Oct. 8.—The Cape Town correspondent of the Chronicle states that Mr. Sauer expresses the opinion that the war will be over in three weeks. This is probably too optimistic a view of the situation, says the correspondent, but Mr. Sauer ought to know.

TO RELEASE SOLDIERS.

London, Oct. 8.—It is stated that efforts are being made to secure the release of 3,000 British soldiers who are confined in jails for various offences in South Africa.

THE NATAL ELECTIONS.

London, Oct. 8.—A Durban despatch reports that in the recent elections for the colonial Parliament all the Ministers have been re-elected by substantial majorities.

TRIAL OF DR. KRAUSE.

London, Oct. 8.—Dr. Krause, the former Governor of Johannesburg, who was arrested September 2 on the charge of high treason, was arraigned in the extradition court at Bow street to-day, and charged with high treason and incitement to murder. The former charge is connected with the surrender of Johannesburg, when, according to the public prosecutor, Dr. Krause obtained from Lord Roberts a twenty-four-hour armistice, on the plea that street fighting would thereby be obviated, and utilized the period in getting all the Boer fighters out of town, and in sending £180,000 to Pretoria. After Dr. Krause had been pardoned, he went to Europe, and applied to Dr. Leyds, the agent of the Transvaal, for money on account of these services. The prosecution introduced evidence to show that Dr. Krause had been in communication with Dr. Cornelius Broekman, the public prosecutor of Johannesburg, who was executed September 30 last for treason, and had urged the necessity for shooting or otherwise disposing of Douglas Foster, an English lawyer attached to Lord Roberts' staff, who was very active against the Boers.

The prosecution introduced letters in which Dr. Krause described Lord Milner, the British High Commissioner of South Africa, as "an arch scoundrel, an enemy of Boer national existence, and a willing tool of the jingo." and advised the burghers to break their oaths and shoot traitors. The letters indicated that Dr. Krause had acted as a channel of communication between the Transvaal and the Boer Government in Holland. The prisoner was remanded.

THE STORM HAS BROKEN, BOARD ISSUE ULTIMATUM

Inspector Mounter's Resignation already asked for—Health Board Express Opinion of Council's Action

"A gratuitous insult to every member of the Board of Health."

In such terms did Dr. Thornton, chairman of the Board of Health, characterize the action of the council in appointing Anson Mounter health inspector.

The occasion was the special meeting of the Board of Health yesterday afternoon at which Dr. Thornton, W. S. Richards, Dr. R. V. Bray, Mayor Sulman, O. B. Hulme, R. S. Dunlop, and A. D. Westman, were present.

Dr. Thornton spoke first. He said: "I called this special meeting for consultation with the other members because of the very extraordinary proceedings of the council last evening. I don't need to go into details over the disagreeable task which this Board undertook in regard to the dismissal of the health inspector. We had no power to appoint a successor. In fact, we never saw the necessity for such power."

We considered the names of all the applicants carefully, and we suggested to the council the one we thought the best man. I consider the action of the council a gratuitous insult to every member of the Board. I want to be plain in my language. Freedom of speech is the birthright of every man. We asked the council to appoint a civic officer who is to work with us. While they had the legal right to appoint whom they liked they had no moral right.

Three courses are now open to this Board, go on and accept the man appointed by the council, press a resolution asking for his resignation, or we can resign in a body. If the Apostle Paul were the man appointed by the council, I would enter as vigorous a protest as I am entering to-day. I am not bound to any man. I have no complaint to make against Mr. Mounter, but I take the action of the council as a personal insult. O. B. Hulme—I had the privilege of attending the Board of Health yesterday, and I had the privilege of casting my vote for the resolution to the council. I must say just here that I have been a member of this Board for nine years and I am the oldest member. During that time, we as a body have never went away feeling that we had hurt one another. We are here to please the public and we have always tried to do our duty. I have never heard a word of politics at this board. The politics of the candidates never occurred to me. As near as I can say we have never been a political body. I don't think we have ever had as good a Board or as good a body of men, and, for the council—and they have the power—to ignore our resolution, puts this body in an awkward position. We did what we did for the good of the city, after putting up with poor work year after year. Finally the time came when we had to do what we did.

We thought over the best man for the city. Yesterday was the first I knew what politics was. This wouldn't have made any difference anyway. I thought the action of the council too bad. It wasn't treating us as we should have been treated. Mr. Thompson is a good Christian, has a good education and doesn't drink a drop. He is just adapted for the work; I think that the council didn't serve us right. The chairman says, "insulted us." I wouldn't say quite that. In view of all the facts, I would again say that the council is asked to dismiss the present incumbent, Mr. Mounter, and that they be requested to appoint Mr. Thompson as sanitary officer. I don't know Mr. Mounter; I have understood that he is a brother of Ald. Mounter, and that his brother was the man that brought forward his name. The Board of Health don't bring forward names because of politics. Of course, if the city isn't satisfied with our actions they can get somebody else.

Dr. R. V. Bray—in seconding Mr. Hulme's motion I feel that the council have ignored us. Mr. Hulme has sat a number of years longer than I have. During the time we have worked together, while we weren't satisfied with existing conditions and we one else was, still we endured them. The inspector was warned time and again. When we decided to ask for his resignation, we believed we were doing the proper thing. When we considered the names, we thought we had selected the proper man. When I learned that the council had ignored us, I was surprised. I was pained to learn that the council had such a want of confidence in us. If they are not satisfied with us, why appoint us? If the council are going to ignore us, I would be pleased to resign for my resignation. I don't intend to sit here and be treated in this way. Mr. Thompson is a fit and proper person. I am not saying one word against Mr. Mounter, but when I vote for a resolution I am going to stick to it.

R. S. Dunlop—I think this all looks like child's play. The council is elected by the people. The will of the people is supreme. Therefore the action of the council is the will of the people and is supreme. We are appointed by the council. Shall we say to the council, who are you? whence came you? for the principles of Orangeism in the House of Commons. He was one of the "noble 13" who voted for the disallowance of Mercers' Jesuits' Estates Bill in 1888. While the High Joint Commission was sitting at Quebec, in 1898, Mr. Wallace watched the proceedings for the Manufacturers' Association. He remained to the last an uncompromising protectionist.

W. S. Richards—As has been stated, we performed an unpleasant task. The council is supreme and, although I feel they have ignored us, I don't think we have any alternative. It, however, is immaterial who it is so long as he fulfils the duties of his office. I don't forget the slap in the face, and it is hard to take, but I think we should give Mr. Mounter a trial. If we are not satisfied, we can ask for his resignation. I think, however, that the Board should have the statutes revised so as to give the Board of Health the power to appoint the Health Officer and the Health Inspector. I shall support the amendment.

Mayor Sulman—I am placed in a peculiar position, being a member of both bodies. I have no excuse to offer for the action of the council. I don't think there is any excuse for their conduct. The Board of Health undertook an unpleasant duty and then passed a resolution. The council adopted the first part and ignored the second. As I told the council last night the Board of Health should have a say as to who shall be inspector, because the work of the two is so wrapped up. Mr. Seavey, at the beginning of the year didn't move the appointment of the old Sanitary Inspector. The council asked why. They said the Board of Health haven't complained so we will just appoint Mr. Guttridge as soon as the Board of Health do complain, the council turn them down. Personally, I wish the Board of Health had carried out the wishes of the Board. The vote was then taken. W. S. Richards and R. S. Dunlop voted for the amendment. It was lost.

O. B. Hulme, A. D. Westman, Dr. R. V. Bray and the Chairman voted for the motion, asking for the resignation of Mr. Mounter and the appointment of Fred Thompson. The motion carried. The Mayor didn't vote.

N. C. WALLACE PASSED AWAY

Demise of Another Prominent Canadian Politician.

An Ex-Cabinet Minister and Leader of the Orange Order—Sketch of His Career.

Woodbridge, Ont., Oct. 8.—Hon. N. Clarke Wallace passed peacefully away at 10:15 to-night.

Hon. Nathaniel Clarke Wallace was born in Woodbridge on May 21st, 1844. His father, Captain Nathaniel Wallace, a native of Skibo, Ireland, came to Canada in 1834. Clarke Wallace received his education at the Public schools and at Weston High school, and after graduating from the High school he taught for some years. The milling and mercantile firm of Wallace Bros., which is still the principal business place in Woodbridge, was established by Mr. Wallace and his brother Thomas in 1887. In 1864 he was elected deputy reeve of Vaughan and a member of the County Council of York. Four years later he became warden of the county, and the same year was elected to the Commons for West York, and continued to represent that riding until his death. In 1892 he was appointed Controller of Customs in the administration of Sir John Thompson.

The climax of his career came in 1895, when, on December 14th, he resigned his portfolio as Controller of Customs, and denounced Sir Mackenzie Bowell's Government as one under the heel of the Roman hierarchy, and determined to re-establish separate schools in Manitoba. His campaign of surprising vigor against the alleged coercion of Manitoba, and when the House met and Sir Charles Tupper, as head of the reconstructed Government, introduced the Remedial Act, Mr. Wallace led the fight, and supported the six months' hiatus moved by Sir Wilfrid Laurier; obstructed it openly and with great ingenuity, and forced the Government to go to the country with the bill still in issue. The Orangemen of Ontario stood very generally by the Grand Master, and his policy contributed materially to the overthrow of the Conservatives in the election of 1896.

Apart from his position in the Commons, Mr. Wallace was perhaps best known in consequence of his connection with the Orange Order, of which he became Grand Master and Sovereign for Canada in 1877. He had been re-elected to that high office every year since that time, a total of fifteen elections. He was also president of the Triennial Conference of Orangemen of the world. Mr. Wallace at all times fought strenuously for the principles of Orangeism in the House of Commons. He was one of the "noble 13" who voted for the disallowance of Mercers' Jesuits' Estates Bill in 1888. While the High Joint Commission was sitting at Quebec, in 1898, Mr. Wallace watched the proceedings for the Manufacturers' Association. He remained to the last an uncompromising protectionist.

DEATH'S CALL

Demise of the late Frederick Skye, a Highly Esteemed Citizen.

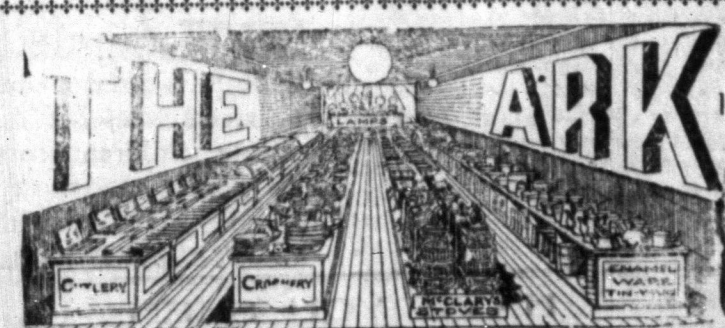

Frederick Skye, who has been practically an invalid for the last year, passed peacefully away at four o'clock yesterday afternoon at his residence on Thames street.

The deceased was a highly respected citizen, and was in his 58th year. He leaves a wife and daughter at home to mourn his loss and two sons in Spoken. His only surviving brother is Lawrence Skye, of Port Dover, while Mrs. Wm. Ball, of this city, and Mrs. C. F. Complin, London, are sisters.

Mr. Skye has lived in Chatham for 35 years, whether he came from Gloucester, England, his birthplace.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 from the home to Holy Trinity church and thence to the Maple Leaf Cemetery. Rev. Robert A. Sims will conduct the obsequies.

YOUR NEWSPAPERS.

Alluding to the demise of the Hamilton Post a contemporary pertinently asks—"When will people learn that the conduct of the newspaper is as much of a business undertaking as any other legitimate enterprise?"

Yes, when? No one recognizes the force of this query more than the newspaper-publisher. Every day he is called upon to donate dollars in advertising to individuals and organizations. Advertising is his principal stock in trade, yet those who would deem it preposterous to expect any mercantile man to supply merchandise to them free of charge, anticipate the gratis use of press columns and would be probably both incensed and offended were they declined.

Strange, isn't it? But, unfortunately, very true. And the Chatham press suffers fully as much as that of any other city in the Dominion. Here, as elsewhere, the newspaper offices are constantly besieged with items of commercial character for which free insertion is looked for and expected.

And—shall we whisper it?—the churches are by long odds the worst offenders. Day by day, and more especially Saturday by Saturday, the columns of this great home journal and those of its esteemed contemporary are crowded with church notes and notices of various descriptions. Departments are every week set especially apart for them and the service is given altogether free of charge. And yet it is a fact that no reciprocity is extended. There is not a church in our city which carries a regular business announcement in the columns of either paper. And both are repeatedly called upon to extend the use of their columns gratis.

There is not, so far as we are aware, any other city in Canada where all this is the case. Perhaps the action on the part of the local religious organizations has been thoughtless. We believe it has. And that is why we are casually calling attention to the matter.

SMOOTHING OUT NATIONAL PREJUDICES.

A despatch from The Hague the first of the week stated that for the first time since the establishment of Belgian independence the Government of the Netherlands had invited Belgium to send military representatives to attend the autumn manoeuvres in Holland.

The single line of comment, "This incident is of political importance," vouches what may be the end of an historical feud of four centuries' duration.

In the wars of the fifteenth century the Low Countries were divided between partisans of Philip of Spain and of the Prince of Orange. The sections out of which was later created the Kingdom of Belgium were for Spain, and those now included in Holland fought for independence.

Subsequent to the decline of Spanish power, France became the champion of the Papacy; and the independence of the Netherlands was in danger from France. Then the Kingdom of Belgium was set up by the powers as a buffer State to protect Holland.

and was the scene of diplomatic and military contest between the Protestant and Catholic powers until the early part of the last century.

It is significant that the rapprochement between Holland and Belgium should take place just at this time, when the passing of the Associations

Bill by the French Chambers marks

the change of France from a defender of the Papacy to perhaps the most anti-Papal country in Europe. The change of France from Papal champion to an opponent of the Papacy seems to be complete. The struggle, out of which grew the enmity between Holland and Belgium, later consecrated by the policy of Europe, is past, and it is fitting that that enmity should die.

It is too early yet to prophesy the ultimate result of the two sections of the Low Countries. But stranger things have happened. The chief obstacle now is probably the permeation of Belgium with Gallic influences, while the Netherlands have become more

Hollander than ever.

MR. ROOSEVELT'S BOY.

It has seldom occurred in the history of the American presidency that the President has been, as in the case of Mr. Roosevelt, born with a silver spoon in his mouth. The English have sometimes ascribed their very much purer public life to the fact that England has never lacked men of high rank, great ability, and independent wealth to devote themselves to the service of the nation, while in the United States men in easy circumstances are simply outside of public life. Mr. Roosevelt is a contradition to this generalization, having entered life in the lap of wealth and culture, and, as far as the United States knows anything of family precedence, an aristocrat. By cordially and strenuously and with the noblest motives, throwing himself into the life of the nation he has won the national heart. If he was rich it was his fault, and he has shown no upbushness about it. The people tell with great pride how he goes to a little out-of-the-way church in Washington and how he sometimes, when the minister is absent, takes the pulpit. We should gather from this that President Roosevelt is a devout and outspoken Christian. The fact is an illustration of the democratic quality of Christianity. However much religious forms may be used to bolster earthly distinctions, Christianity as a force upsets them all: One is your Father and all ye are brethren. The Duke of Wellington was one of the most aristocratic of men, but, when once a servant man, finding himself kneeling at the communion rail beside the Duke, was about to move away, the Duke made him remain, whispering, "We are all equal here."

Another thing in which Mr. Roosevelt has given the American people great satisfaction, and which they think a circumstance worth boasting of, is that his boy goes to the public school from the White House on his bicycle, just like any other boy. Why this should be a noteworthy thing is not very plain to those who have seen

all their princes sent to public schools.

No doubt there is a difference in the schools. The English public schools are schools of the gentry and the American schools are schools of the people where the most uncouth English is liable to be acquired and the worst of manners

are prevalent. There are many parents who naturally wish to shield

their boys from the mofal contamination of a public school, and those who have the choice often do so from the best of motives. There are, of course, snobs also who care more for appearance than morals, who do not want their boys to mingle with the poor.

Mr. Roosevelt, no doubt, knows all about the evils that are in the schools,

but he knows also that his boys have to learn when they are boys to take their place among men, that, as they must get their mental and physical training when young, so they must get their moral gymnastics then if they are to be men of virtue.

Indeed a sermon or discourse of Mr.

Roosevelt's on the Bible has just been put into our hands, which was spoken

last June in the Presbyterian church at Oyster Bay, and which takes up this subject. While boasting of the public school system of the United States he sets forth that the first thing in education is virtue morals.

He asked his people if they did not all know men and of one woman who gave an unhealthy turn to the lives of young people by trying to spare them from the very things that would train them to do strong work in the future.

Such conduct is not kindness. It is often shortsightedness and selfishness.

What is true affection for a boy?

To bring him up so that nothing rough ever touches him, and at twenty-two turn him into the world with a moral nature that turns black and blue in great bruises at the least shock from any one of the forces of evil, with which he is bound to come in contact?

Is that kindness? Indeed, it is not!

Mr. Roosevelt, no doubt, realizes that it is not only a popular but a patriotic thing to fall in with the institutions of his country. It is probably the most wholesome thing that can possibly be done for a rich man's son that he should meet on the dead level of the playground and of the class-room floor with all and sundry,

and, on the other hand, it must prove an elevating thing for the school system to have in the schools the children of those who demand the highest standard of manners and training. President Roosevelt seems, as we have before said, to be one of the strongest men who ever took possession of the people. Born rich but not robust, with no need to work for a living, and a good excuse for taking life easy, he has led a most laborious and earnest life. As an author his books show exhaustive research and patient thought.

As a civil servant he was a model of devotion to the duties of his office.

In war he established a reputation

not only for bravery but for the cheerfulness with which he shared all dangers and privations with his soldiers.

As a president, he is determined, though the most masterful of men, to be a leader rather than a master.

Too Long a Journey.

MINNAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 8.—"The Ocean" tells the following story, which smacks of a well-known type of Old Country man:

West had fairly pulled out of the depot at Jersey City, all the passengers in the day coach knew the elderly gentleman in the front seat was bound for Chicago. They had left his home in Limerick two weeks before to join his son "Tommy," whom he had not seen in twenty years. Sundry bags, boxes and packages that completely filled the aisle around his seat proved he was well prepared for the journey. He seemed as happy as a schoolboy when he spoke of meeting his boy in Chicago. As the first movement of the train denoted that the long ride had begun he was bubbling over with the delightful anticipation of the pleasure in store for him. Again and again he told how "Tommy" had left home for "America" years ago, and how, after settling in Chicago, earned lots of money and finally sent transportation to Robert Butler, windmill manufacturer, of Ridgeway, is spending the day in the city.

The police court case against Charles Conway, charged with being drunk, was dismissed without costs.

Captain and Mrs. E. C. Southey, of Bowmanville, are in Port Lambton this week the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Waddell.

Arthur Gammage is spending a few days in this city with his parents. He has just been on a visit to Toronto, and is on his way back to Toronto.

Sam Crawford, the former Chatham ball player, has signed to play extending the electric light on North street, toward the station.

Mrs. Duncan Bell, of Bowmanville, who has been the guest for the past week of her sister, Mrs. John Waddell, Water street, is visiting this week with her sister, Mrs. Henry Waddell, Port Lambton.

Matthew Wilson, K. C., Mrs. Wilson and Miss Wilson have received a special invitation to attend the reception given to His Highness the Duke of Cornwall and York, in Toronto tomorrow. Mr. Wilson and family will accept.

Rev. Chas. Gordon (Ralph Connor), a former Chathamite, is now pastor of St. Stephen's Church, Winnipeg. A Winnipeg lady, who is a member of the English Church, paid him a warm tribute while visiting in Chatham recently. Some of her Chatham friends asked her if she was a Presbyterian. "No," was the ready response, "I am a Gordonite."

MERRY WAR WAGES WARM

Rumor that the East Kent Liberal Convention may be Packed and Prejudiced.

John Lee, of Highgate, assumes Proportions as a Candidate—S. P. Sturgis will Accept—Jonas Gosnell is Confidently Waiting.

Candidates for the Liberal nomination in East Kent are developing every day. The woods are full of them and each name has its own set of vigorous backers, who strenuously hold that they are not prepared to see their men sat upon by any packed or prejudiced convention.

But they can all stand from under. A massive personality has now adorned the political horizon and purposes to envelop all the so-called minor individuals.

John Lee, of Highgate, has the floor. And rumor whispers that he intends to keep it.

John's political aspirations are said to have developed amazingly of late. The time was when the big Highgate comedian disclaimed the fray and would have none of it. No, he had no use for a nomination personally—let others fight it out. He hated to tackle any one that wasn't his size.

Now, alas, we're told it's all different. John is rapidly developing into a voracious glutton for parliamentary honors. He beats poor old Barkis hollow. He's more than "willin'.

Champions of Mr. Lee's cause point out that none of the other ambitious ones stand a show with him. We are told that in convention he will make them all look like the proverbial 30 cents. The party will recognize his friends say, that John could sweep Orford and district, notwithstanding all the Gosnells and their supporters could do.

Only a packed convention, they say, can beat John out of the nomination and even in an event of such an emergency arising he will be strongly urged to run upon his own hook.

"Look out for John," is the watchword of his enemies.

MR. STURGIS WILL ACCEPT.

"What do you think about the East Kent Liberal nomination?" said a Planet reporter to S. P. Sturgis, of Dresden this morning.

"O, I don't know," replied that genial county councillor.

"I have heard your name mentioned as one of the most probable candidates to receive the nomination," continued the reporter.

"Yes," said Mr. Sturgis, "I have heard my name mentioned along with others in that respect."

"Would you accept the nomination if offered?" he was asked.

"Well, yes, I would if it was unanimous, although I have no doubt I will be nominated candidate if my name is brought up, and I feel sure it will be. I had not thought of entering the field until some of my friends asked me to do so. When I consented to having my name considered."

If I am nominated there is nothing which I will adhere to strictly and that is to fight it out squarely with no ballot machines or anything of that kind. I will win my way along all through the election. I will see to it myself personally that there is no dishonesty practised in the riding during the election; everything will be done squarely and openly."

The matter is very enthusiastic over the nomination and is confident of success. The most important thing is to get the nomination, but after that everything will be plain sailing. Mr. Sturgis, however, is quite sure that he will receive the nomination, doubtless the result of the many assurances he has received from his supporters, who are bound not to be turned down by any expert of the party.

When the nomination was made, or a rumored packed convention. It has been stated that Mr. Sturgis will stand whether he receives the nomination or not, and even then his supporters are confident that he will carry the riding.

MR. GOSNELL CONFIDENTLY WAITS.

Jonas Gosnell, Highgate, was in the city to-day. Asked as to the probable candidate in East Kent, Mr. Gosnell said that he was waiting for a word from the party.

In reply to a query as to the possibilities of himself being a candidate he said that he was not hushing after the nomination, and if it were given to him it would be an after consideration as to whether he would accept or not.

Mr. Gosnell smiled confidently and his friends looked wise.

"He will be back from other nominations," said an ardent supporter of the ex-warden, "and I doubt if the other fellows will be in it at all."

MCCARTHY'S MISHAPS.

John Morris was in the city to-day. He is business manager for McCarthy's "Mishaps," which is on at the Grand tonight. Mr. Morris says that they played to packed houses at Guelph and will return there after filling two dates here. The Guelph Herald says: "Ferguson & McKim, in their production of 'McCarthy's Mishaps,' created a decided hit, if one may judge from the roars of laughter which greeted them during the performance. The play is full of almost everything that would tend to please the audience and create laughter. The specialties were numerous, and of a high class, among which might be mentioned the dancing and acrobatic performance of the Misses Joy and Clayton, and Harry Odell. The singing was also good. The performance concluded with Ferguson and McKim in their comedy acrobatic act, which was greeted with roars of laughter. As a funny play, 'McCarthy's Mishaps' leads."

The county property committee, Mr. Robinson, chairman, met in Harrison Hall to-day.

TEN YEARS THE PENALTY

Counterfeiter Cameron Will Sojourn for a Decade at Kingston.

Does not appreciate the Kind Hospitality of Old Castle Mercer.

Harry Cameron, who pleaded guilty to passing bad money, was sentenced to ten years in Kingston Penitentiary by Judge Houston to-day.

Cameron handed in two recommendations as to his good character, one from William Fullerton and one from the express agent at Jeannette's Creek. Cameron told Judge Houston that about three years ago he developed the habit of using morphine. The doctor had prescribed it in the first place.

The court remarked that Shane's excuse was that Cameron had got him into his trouble.

"I just want to be responsible for what I did myself," said the prisoner.

Shane claims that all he got was a 25 cent bottle of whiskey, but out of every bill passed he got his $4.

Judge Houston said that the crime of passing bogus money was looked on in the statutes as next to murder.

This was because it is quite easy to defraud the general public in this way. The Judge himself was almost satisfied that he would take counterfeits and pass them again not knowing they were bad.

"That man there," said Cameron, pointing out one of his victims, "gave me a $2 bill that was counterfeit. I could go into this city to-day and show you 500 counterfeit bills that are in circulation right now. You could not tell them, but I could. I knew it was impossible for me to continue successfully because it was impossible for me to perfect the counterfeits. I burned up $1,000 worth of money before I left Jeannette's Creek."

"The severest punishment I can give you," said the Judge, "is imprisonment for life. That is the limit the law allows. I don't intend to give you that sentence, but I must give you such a sentence as will deter others from following in your footsteps. I gave you a chance of showing your good character. You have produced only two references."

When the prisoner was being removed he stopped before the Judge and asked: "How long before I will be removed. I can't get proper medical attendance at the jail and I am shut up there like a dog. It is hard to be murdered by inches."

ONLY A COW

But it is a Bovine with a History and it Needed Identification.

A cow that harmless necessary, and quite peaceful, withal useful—was the cause of getting a Raleigh township blacksmith into serious trouble. This morning John Tompkins appeared to answer to the charge of stealing a cow from John Blake.

The witnesses all had something to say about the bovine.

John Blake owned the cow. John Bishop had bought the cow on the market and sold it to Blake.

William Wilson, a colored man, had owned the cow, but sold it to Bishop. Zedekiah Buck had seen the cow.

The evidence showed that Tompkins very much under the influence of the beverage that inebriates but does not make you wise. He had tried to buy the cow, but Mr. Bishop wouldn't deal with him on account of his condition.

When Tompkins started for home he took the cow with him. Tompkins didn't remember anything about the occurrence.

Judge Houston, reserved judgment and as the Crown Attorney asked that no conviction be registered, it is tacitly understood that the defendant will pay the costs, $14, and will be acquitted.

DAMSELS DEPART

Preferred Absence to the Grim Possibilities of Castle Mercer.

"Where are Annie Williams Annie Jenkins and Mabel Harris?" queried Judge Houston this morning, when the trio, secured in the raid on the house on the corner of Wellington & Duke streets, didn't appear.

"Call them," was his order to the court crier, Thos. Groves, and that officer repeated each of the names three times in succession, but, there being no response, warrants were issued for the three.

These are the merry maidens of somewhat sullied reputation who were released on their own bail in the hope that they wouldn't soil the Chatham soil any longer.

NEW CHURCH

Laying of the Corner Stones of the New Methodist Church on the 8th Concession, Raleigh, township, were well and truly laid by T. L. Pardo, M. F. F., S. F. Gardiner and Judge Houston, yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Hannon was director of ceremonies, and gave the opening prayer. The pastor of the church also offered up prayer.

Mr. Pardo then laid the first stone. He said that he was glad to see the farmers were doing so well as to be able to erect such a pretty church.

S. F. Gardiner laid the next stone, and Judge Houston, the last.

An adjournment was then made to the yard of George Jordan, where a splendid repast was served. After supper excellent music was furnished by the Charing Cross choir.

Rev. Mr. Shaw also delivered a splendid address. Dr. Hannon and Judge Houston also spoke. Each of the gentlemen who laid a stone was presented with a silver trowel, inscribed with the following: "Procession by the Wesleyan Methodist church, October 8th."

SPRENTALL-WARD.

A very quiet wedding was solemnized in the city at four o'clock this afternoon, when Miss Helen Sprentall, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Sprentall, and John Ward, down the river, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by Rev. Dr. Hannon. On the immediate relatives of both parties witnessed the ceremony.

After the marriage the newly married couple left for Toronto and the Rev. Dr. Hannon will afterwards take up their residence on Mr. Ward's farm down the river.

Miss Sprentall, who has been a teacher in the Payne school for the past seven years is one of Chatham's most popular young ladies and her many friends in the city will wish her much happiness in her future married life.

EX-MAYOR SMITH AT VESUVIUS

"I'll never forget my visit to Mount 'Vesuvius,' said ex-Mayor T. A. Smith chatting with some friends. "A man from Chicago went with me. There is a hotel near the top and a look for all the visitors to register in. He noticed the column for remarks, and said, 'Here we haven't written anything here.' Let's write something," says I. I'll do it and you can write the first and my friend second. We'll each and every guide. We've drank their wine. Knowing that every darn one lied.

A German tourist and a Japanese who were there and could read English were deluged with it. The people around the hotel, too, deciphered the poetry and you should have seen them shaking their fists at us as we drove away."
