Cast in thy Mite. He who gives little from his store. If little be his means. Treads on as far the heavenward shore. As he who gives ten times the more, If ten times more his gains. He may be useful here who would, And walk within a zone of light ; There is a treasury of good ; Cast in thy mite !

Thou mayest not have one piece of gold To bless the poor man's paim ; But argels will with joy behold If they hast words that can be told His troubled heart to calm ; For kind words are as honeyed streams And he, the walker of the sod, Who gives them to his brother, seems A messenger from God !

There are abuses deep and loud ; Hoarse voices shrieking, " Bread !" And there are nobler spirits bowed, And forms that flit among the crowd Like phanthoms from the dead, Crush but one atom of abuse, Stay but a particle of sin, And God will sanctify the use Of all thy powers therein.

And if thy brother weaker be, If folly mark his path. And if that thou be folly-free. If knowledge clingeth unto thee, Give not contempt or wrath; But from the garner of thy worth, And from thy store of truth and light, To serve thy brother's wants on earth, Cast in thy mite !
