Really, Mr. Richard, you would not wish me to turn Quaker?"

"Clearly not, unless your reason and conscience bid you; I don't intend to turn Quaker myself, but I would like to see you turn a Rational, for which I am sure nature intended you, Maria; and from the Friends you may obtain excellent hints. With what you call your limited income, how much comfort and leisure a Quaker family could command; but how much more enjoyment could you command with your accomplishments and tasts." There was, with me, one decided superiority which Maria held over my friend Rachel. Her different mode of education, and scope of ragding and lively fancy, made her understand all may allusions, whether playful or sarcastic. This had at once established a certain intelligence and sympathy between us, even when we quarrelled. But if Rachel did not always perceive the point of my illustrations, Maria was far more backward in apprehending the force of my reasoning, when directed against her own notions and practices. It was in vain that I strove to convince her that the household god she had set up under the name of Duty, was an ugly mis-shapen idol, blubberslipped, and with squinting eyes, consuming the time and wealth of its votaries in the besotted

"I wish we were as rich as the Greenes, Mr. Richard," said she, "and then I should be so happy to visit your Infant School, or walk, or lead, or be social:—but at present —"

"Why, at present you spend more money than Rachel Greene."

"You don't say so! This last, to be sure, has been a dreadfully extravagent year; the outset, always must; and that sheekingly expensived a many concerns."

"Does she talk to you of her family saffairs to thouse-keeping cost in the last twelve months."

"Does she talk to you of her family saffairs to thought that had been indelicate, improper, in money concerns."

"So English people in general seem to think."

Money is the only thing of which they must not apsak because they real yfeel it a disgrace and crime not to have a great deal of filthy lucre—or what is thought a great deal for them. No one writes a hook on education, or domestic merals, on house hold economy, or even on cookery, but what is adapted to wealthy persons—Miss Edgeworth and Roussess included. This law of South Carolina has been made once and again the subject of discussion in the British House of Commons, and, lately, in the French National Assembly, and, on different occasions, the British Diplomatic Agents subject of complaint to the Government of those States

This old matter has just re-appeared temperately discussed in the leading New York journals, particularly in the Post takes rather a different view of the question, which we shall notice hereafter.

A few months since, a colored British subject was, in virtue of the provisions of the laws of South Carolina, seized and imprisoned at Charleston, and, in consequence, a correspondence took place between the British Cabinet and the American Secretary of State. Mr. Clayton then represented to Great Britain that peculiar difficulties surrounded the question, and suggested that it would not be expedient to press the matter, on account of the almost insurmountable obstacles to a satisfactory settlement. Now this difficulty is, simply, that in all matters of Police and State Government each State is sovereign in itself, and the General Government cannot rightfully interfere with the legislation of South Carolina, unless this legislation contravenes the constitutional obligations and restrictions by which South Carolina, in common with the other States, is solemnly bound. But Great Britain and the United States have also made between them a solemn treaty, by which are secured to the subjects and citizens of each country the free right of entering, departing from, and residing unmolested within, each not in that State the right freely to enter, depart or reside.

The question then comes, how is Great Britain to obtain the performance of not call that gentleman a foreigner, then these solemn treaty obligations.

Every limits of the United States, guarantees now bill was a fresh surprise; yet their items by this treaty, the United States by this treaty, the United States have ne other course than to give the usual notice and annul the treaty. But it cannot be supposed, that the United States, considering the enormous interests involved in the commercial relations between the two countries, will ever fake step which will leave those interests without rights in British ports, and without the protection of a formal compect with the British Government. That is out of the quartion; but it is evident that the question has to be settled in one way or the other, and the following todo, recently addressed by Lord Palmerston, through Lord Stanley, of Alderly, to the Secretary of the Anti-Slavery Society, proves that the British Government is not asleep over the matter :--

FOREIGN OFFICE, 31st December, 1850. Foreign Office, 31st December, 1850.

Ser.—I am directed by Viscount Palmerston to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 13th instant, complaining of the hardness and injustice of the laws of the Southern or Slaveholding States of the American Union, with respect to colored persons arriving in the ports of those States; and I am to state to you, for the information of the British and Foreign Anti-Slavery Society, that the matter treated of in your letter is involved in considerable difficulty, but that it has aitracted, and will continue to engage, the attention of Her and will continue to engage, the attention of He Majesty's Government.

I am, Sir, your obedient servant. STANLEY, Of Aldy.

Just sixteen days before the date of this note, it appears that Mr. Mathew. the British Consultat Charleston, had addressed the Coverna cut of the State of South Carolina, and it is this correspondence which has revived the discussion in the New York papers. Mr. Mathew has made a formal protest against the seizure of British subjects, and the Governor of the State promises to lay the matter before the Legislature.

The correspondence is mild, courteous, and dignified on both sides; but it is evident that the British Consul is acting under direct instructions from his Government.

The Post and Advertiser appear to assume that this stop has been taken in virtue of Mr. Clayton's own communications to the British Government; that gentleman pointed ont the peculiar laws of South Carolina as the difficulty in the way, and, therefore, the British Govern- number present was about three hundred. The We believe that most of our readers ment determines to appeal to South Caroare aware, that by the laws of South lina herself. This journal recomof the port, and there detained until the mends that Mr. Consul Mathew should been taken solely from the laudable desire to have a difficult and unpleasant question settled in the easiest and plea-

Our confident belief is, that England will insist on the performance of the treaty in the United States have made it the stipulations, and that the matter will be settled by the Federal Government compelling South Carolina to abolish her peculiar laws as contrary to the in a new shape, and we find it ably and Federal pact, which places in the General Government the treaty-making power, and the sole right to interfere in and Advertiser; the Courier & Enquirer all matters that concern her citizens and those of Foreign Powers. This will open up the whole question of Federal and States jurisdiction, and on this subject we shall say a few words in our next. The Editor of the Minerve, sail qu'il soil, has indited a letter to the Editor of the Pelot, accusing us of audaciously misrepresenting his language. He declares that he did not style the whole British population of Lower Canada nuisances," nor call Irishmen " foreigners." He now wants to say that he alluded only to the "Tory party" in the first instance, and absolutely denies the soft impeachment in the second. We will again take him on his own ground; if only the Tory part of the British popuation are nuisances, how many will he place under the other head? Our opinion is, that about nine-tenths of the British population are what the Minerve calls Tories; dreadful fellows for ownng Bank Stock, the fruit of their industry; awfully go-ahead folks in the matter of Railroads, Steamboats, Canals, Mills, Manufactories, and Mercantile enterprise generally; very devoted to the cause of Agriculture, Education, and general progress, and very hostile to the et-well-alone, do-as-your-grandfathersother's boundaries. Therefore this treaty did system, generally prevailing among is contravened by the peculiar laws of all the inhabitants of this glorious But South Carolina, and British subjects have Mineree's NUISANCES. We have taken the trouble to ascertain, by a careful and elaborate estimate, that to produce an Engraving worthy of this memorable occasion, and to make 4,000 copies of it, wou d cost at least would charge certainly $10, probably $15 a copy, and pocket perhaps $20,000 of profit. Instead, however, of letting this enormous sum be swallowed up by the print-sellers, we will publish the Engraving by co-operation, so that each subscriber can obtain a copy at, to say the least, one half the price the print-seller would charge, and then have a large sum to spare to distribute as prizes.

First, we intend to secure the services of a firstrate American Artist, who will proceed to London and make a sketch of the interior of the Great World's Fair in the very zenith of its splendor, when every thing will be displayed to the greatest possible advantage on the occasion of the visitor thereto of the projector, the Prince Albert, his Consort the Queen of England, and their children. From this sketch the Engraving will be made, and will form the most magnificent and Superfluity of bile may always be known by some unfavorable symptom which it produces, such as Almost every p-raon at this season of the year is some dangerous disorder, frequently terminating in bitious, the neglect of which is sure to bring on some dangerous disorder, frequently terminating in death. A single 25 cent box of Dr. Halsey's Gumerated Foigest Pills are sufficient to keep a whole family from billous attacks and ackness from six months to a year. A single does, from 1 to 3, of these mild and excellent Pills for a child, from 3 to 4 for an adult, and from 5 to 6 for a grown person, earry off all billous and morbid matter, and restors the stomach and bowels, curing and preventing all manner of billous attacks and many other disorders.

Dr. Halsey's Forest Pills are unlike all others. They set directly on these vital organs of the Somach, Liver, Kidarya, &c., which scerets the fluids of the body and separate the impurities from the blood. While they purge all billous and morbid matter from the stomach and bowels they cleanse and renew the blood, thereby destroy the seeds of disease. The Forest Pills do not weaken, but give strength and animation to both body and mind. They neither cause griping nor any inconventence whatever, and the patient is bester able to attend to business while under their influence than before taking them. They are mild in operation, yet powerful in restoring health.

The great amount of good these Pills have done for the sick und afflicted have induced thousands to commend them to their friends and the public. Individuals of worth and integrity in almost every part of the country have testified to the world in favor of their great effects in curing disease.

Testimonial after testimonial showing their great powers of curing in all cast every class of disease have been tendered to us by individuals of undoubted character and respectability. The following testimony is from a respectable and wealthy farmer residing near Uties, New York :—

This Work contains an accurate and complete account of the Anntany and Physiology of the Reproductive Organs, and of their relative conditions in health and disease. Nor-are these the sole sontents of the Work: the means of escape, as well as the nature of the danger, are pointed out in clear and intelligible language. It deservedly requires the closest attentions and study, for what subject can be of more importance than the preservation of health, and of the physical capabilities of which every man should be possessed. It unfortunately happens that the unhappy victim of excessive indulgence and vicious habits, whether acquired in early life, or from the follies of advanced age, while, suffering from their invariable consequences, unwisely entertains a fear of applying to a qualified physician. A COMPOUND FOR SHAVING.

This delightful article is totally different and far superior to anything yet invented for shaving. The base of it is derived from the Amole, or "soap plant," of Californa, an article used by the maiver of that country for washing; and thus the use of strong alkali, so harful to the skin, is avoided. Its regetable and detergent properties have the purest and most nourishing effects on the skin,—it soothes and allays irritation, and has a fine, thick, creamy lather, which does not dry on the face. It is a decided luxury to which does not dry on the face. It is a decided luxury to be shaved with this incomparable soap. It is done up in elegant style, calculated either for the dressing case of the trough and ready "traveller, or the toilet of the most fastistious connoisseur.
