KNOX CHURCH SERVICES

Morning Service—The Condition of Strength and the Measure of Power.

Evening Service—Sixth sermon on the Beatitudes, The 5th Beatitude, or "The Quality of Mercy."

Mr. David Atkins is visiting with friends in Toledo, Ohio.

Mrs. John Prudham is holding an auction sale of household goods today.

Mrs. A. Tassie and children leave on Monday next for their home in Windsor.

Dr. R. J. Vance has returned from his hunting trip accompanied by a fine large deer.

Mr. Guy Stewart, of Toronto, spent the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Fofde.

Dr. R. J. and Mrs. Vance entertained the members of Grace church choir and a few friends on Wednesday evening last.

Remember the Dixie-Land concert being held this evening in the Methodist Sunday school room under the auspices of the choir.

Miss Cordonar and Miss Leaper of the Hamilton City hospital staff were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Davidson on Tuesday.

Miss Myrtle Slater, of the Prince of Wales hospital, Montreal, has been transferred to Vancouver, and expects to leave here tomorrow for the Pacific coast.

The Ladies' Aid of Knox church will hold their regular monthly meeting at the Maize on Wednesday afternoon, November 24. All ladies are cordially invited.

Owing to the illness of Mr. Samuel Carter, Ex-M. P. P., the special missionary services at the Methodist church for next Sunday has been postponed for one week.

Mr. Peter Mitchell has opened a wall paper and paint business at his home on Dundas street, and will handle a full line of wall paper, paints, varnishes, etc.

The W. M. S. of the Methodist church will observe a day of prayer on Wednesday, November 24th, commencing at 2.30 in the afternoon. The sister churches are cordially invited to be present.

It is reported that Mr. Geo. Potts, besides bringing home with him a fine deer, has shipped a large black bear which was caught in a trap. It is a large one will no doubt be a source of much amusement for the young folks of the village.

The afternoon tea held at the home of Mrs. Wm. Langton on Wednesday afternoon last was well attended despite the unfavorable weather. It is the intention of the ladies to hold an afternoon tea once a month in the different homes during the winter.

Thursday evening, Nov. 25th, the men's big banquet will be held in the Methodist Sunday school room. Dr. Jas. Endicott, who spent 23 years in China, will be the speaker. Secure your tickets early as space is limited. Tickets may be had from the committee, O. B. Griffin, Jas. Attridge, Thos. Allen, Reginald and William Langton, Geo. Willis, John Smoke, Chas. Richards and C. P. McGregor.

Junior Farmers' Meet

The Wentworth county Junior Farmers and their lady friends held their regular monthly meeting last Tuesday evening in the office of the Department of Agriculture, Hamilton when an address was given by Mr. Chas. Flatt, of Millgrove.

Mr. Flatt took as his subject Canadian Poets, dealing more particularly with the poems of Pauline Johnson, Robert Service and Alexander Scott. Mr. Flatt outlined the life of each poet and the circumstances which prompted the writer to write the different poems. Several poems of the writers were quoted by the speaker. Keen attention was given Mr. Flatt throughout the address, showing the appreciation of the audience.

Harry Gray, president of the association, presided. The next meeting will be held on December 2nd, when Miss Ethel Chapman, of the Farmers' Magazine, will be one of speakers.

Local Fanciers Are Big Winners

The Waterdown Poultry Association may justly feel proud of the fine record made by its members at the various poultry shows held in the province lately, especially that of Mr. A. E. Alton, whose birds have been consistent winners throughout. At the Dundas exhibition held lately Mr. Alton was the winner of two silver cups donated by Mr. H. T. Wilson for the best bird in American class, and one donated by E. Builder for best collection of Barred Rocks, besides the following prizes, 1st on cock, cockerel, and hen; 2nd on cock and cockerel; 3rd on hen and pullet; a very creditable showing.

Other successful exhibitors at the show were J. J. Green, E. H. Slater, J. Carter and W. H. Reid, whose birds attracted considerable favorable comment.

Waterdown may justly feel proud of the record made by her poultry fanciers who have spent time and expense in bettering their flocks, and they now have the satisfaction of seeing their birds win laurels at some of the best shows in the Dominion. These gentlemen are showing their birds at Toronto and fully expect to meet with further success. Let us hope they do.

Greenville

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Clarke of Orangeville were home over Sunday.

Thos. and Richard Surerus spent Sunday in Elmira.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Smith of Tilsonburg were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Tew.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Page of Strabane were visitors at Mrs. C. Rayner this week.

Mrs. Samuel Church spent a few days this week with Mrs. Ira N. Binkley.

Miss Blanche Surerus is recovering from her recent illness.

CORN

Scotch Concert

A grand Scotch Concert will be held in the Presbyterian church on Tuesday evening, November 30th. A Hamilton choir of nearly 40 voices, under the leadership of Mr. John McDonald, will render the program. This choir will be assisted by other high class scotch talent from Hamilton. There will also be selections by the orchestra from Westminster church. This concert promises to be one of the best of the season and will be looked forward to with interest. Further particulars will be given in next week's Review and also by bills which will be posted at an early date.

Millgrove

Rev. Mr. Cotton of Copetown gave his celebrated lecture "Flying and Fighting in the Air," which was very much appreciated by a full house in the Methodist church here.

Rev. Mr. Albright and Mr. B. A. Stuart attended district meeting in Barton street Methodist church on Thursday of this week.

Mrs. D. Mousher, of Toronto, has returned to her home after visiting her daughter, Mrs. Ken. Cummins.

Some of the parents of our young nimrods, who went north hunting deer, have received news that their boys have been very successful.

John and Mrs. Mitchell of Waterdown visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Cummins on Thursday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hounscome of Copetown visited friends in the village on Sunday last.

Mr. Basil Griffin has purchased a new wood-sawing outfit.

Mrs. D. C. Flatt is slowly recovering from her recent illness.

Mrs. Marshal Cummins is on the sick list.

Our Xmas entertainment for the Sunday school this year will be a white Xmas.

Our Sunday School convention of East and West Flamboro and Dundas will take place December 6, at Millgrove.

Mr. John Dalton, our genial school teacher, has been called to the bedside of his sick father at Calchonia.

WAR CAUSED FRICTION

AMERICANS LEARN ABOUT FEELING IN CANADA.

They Have Been Investigating in the Dominion to Find Out Why We Do Not Admire Them as Much as They Admire Themselves—Some Sane Conclusions Reached Regarding International Relations.

WILLIAM S. McNUTT in Collier's has an article on "As the Canadians See Us." He got started on the article by meeting a business man who told him that the Canadians were boycotting American goods, so he interviewed New Yorkers who had business dealings with Canada. One of them told him that the United States in 1919 did business with all the countries of South America to the value of $969,276,595, and the balance of trade was $167,473,293 against the United States. With Canada, in 1919, the United States did business to the value of $1,282,667,849, and the balance of trade was in favor of the United States to the amount of $344,768,213. The United States sells more goods to Canada than to any other country in the world except Great Britain. These facts impressed Mr. McNutt, and he interviewed others.

He met a traveling man, just back from Canada, who said the Canadians hated the Americans, and that he had had a terrible time. Another traveler, on being told of this, exclaimed:

"I know just what happened. He went over to Canada, and started in to tell all over again how America won the war. I'd bet anything that's what got him in wrong, and I wish they'd hang him before he got back! It's fellows like him who have made it hard for all of us in Canada. Americans go up there and blab around about how Americans won the war, and naturally the Canadians, who were in the war for more than four years, hear it and get sore at all Americans."

Mr. McNutt decided to come over to Canada and see what the state of feeling is, and he visited Toronto, Ottawa, and Montreal. He finds that nearly all Canadians have been made weary of the boastfulness and spread-eagleism shown in American movie films in Canadian picture houses; that they resent the abuse directed against Great Britain in certain American newspapers; that there is no boycott of American goods, although there is a campaign under way urging people to buy made-in-Canada goods. Every Canadian he met resents the fact that the Canadian dollar is rated away below par in the American market—he hates to lose the exchange, feels it to be a dead loss, and in some way or other an injustice. In England people are familiar with the fluctuations of exchange; in Canada people are not, and as they are buying American goods all the time this discount on their own money is a constant annoyance.

The conclusion at which Mr. McNutt arrives is that the friendship between Canada and the United States will long out-last the friction. He thus advises Canadians: "Be a little patient with the seeming boastfulness of the Americans as expressed in the movies and in some periodicals and newspapers. Perhaps, after all, the individual Yankee is not as vain-glorious and susceptible to flattery as some of the American movie, periodical, and newspaper writers may think. At least remember that most of the flamboyant conversation was meant for family ears only, and believe that it is as embarrassing to the majority of Americans as it is annoying to the majority of Canadians. Remember also that in our dark days during the Civil War the American dollar was worth only 40 cents in Canada, and that it did not get back to par until 1879." All of which advice is good. He advises Americans to remember that Canada has gone through a terrible ordeal, and that it is necessary to strengthen justice with a little gratitude.

Old Hats Exported.

Thousands of hats discarded by English women are exported every year to Brazil, where they are eagerly bought by the Indians. The feathers and other ornaments on the hats are taken by the men, and the bare straw shapes given to their women-folk.

Getting Together.

A youth named Beer was arrested the other day for breaking into a public-house. The magistrate decided that the proper place for him was the jug.—London Punch.

BANK JOBS GO BEGGING.

Serious Shortage in Clerks Worrying the Managers.

Think of it, our once-exclusive banks are hanging out cards asking for clerks, just as factories do when they want help. Neat little placards in this connection are hung up near the tellers' cages. Hark to the contents of one of them:

"Employment on the staff of this bank offers an attractive future for young men. We are in a position to place a number of boys with High School education at our different branches throughout Canada.

"For particulars please refer to the manager."

Can't you imagine one of Canada's hygienic general managers, pompous of mien, revisiting old haunts and nearly having an apoplectic fit at the sight of such a placard. Advertising for clerks! The very idea! Twenty years ago or more such an expedient would never have been dreamed of. Why, there was keen competition to get jobs in banks. In those distant days of Canada's hard times banks had waiting lists just like modern golf clubs, and picked and chose the young men who were to have the privilege of working for them. Applicants for positions approached a manager in humility and awe.

Not only good appearance, but social pull was necessary for admittance to one of the larger institutions. A boy's ancestry loomed larger with some general managers than did his penmanship. A bank job was the goal of most youths whose parents could not afford them a profession. For the post was a sure thing—banks never actually firing their clerks — and promotion, though slow, was regular up to a point, at least. Moreover—alas! that appeal to snobbishness—a bank clerk was some pumpkins socially in the city, and in the country towns he was absolutely IT. But that was twenty years ago.

Junior clerks started their career of finance in those days with as little as $150 a year. To-day bank juniors are hard to get at $600 and $700 a year. And they have adding machines to do the dirty work. Twenty years ago—yes, less than fifteen years ago—branch managers with long service, several clerks under them and heavy responsibility, frequently received per annum no more than street car conductors and motormen are rejecting as insufficient to-day. Ask any senior bank man.

About fifteen years ago the native supply of bank clerks began to peter out in Canada. Better times had come with the opening up of the West, and opportunities offered in the professions and other occupations for young Canadians. The demand for clerks rose simultaneously with the shortage, as new branches were springing up on the prairie overnight, like mushrooms. One or two large banks began importing clerks from Scotland, which has since furnished Canada with hundreds of hard-head bankers.

The outbreak of war made the situation more stringent. Girls, whom banks had mostly employed as stenographers or at work which did not bring them into contact with the public, presently appeared at tasks hitherto considered unsuitable for feminine endurance. To-day they run the big deposit ledgers and in some country offices even that nerve-racking post, the cash, where she might have to use the loaded revolver lying ready at her side to defend the money from robbers. Some girls receive $1,200 and $1,500 a year in banks.

One Canadian bank has opened no less than 200 new branches within the past two years. Two or three of the larger institutions have from 400 to 500 branches each. All of which illustrates the growth of Canadian banking and the opportunities it offers.

Body Heat.

The immediate nearness of a large and robust person at the theatre or in a street car on a hot summer day may be a cause of discomfort by reason of the amount of heat given off by his or her body.

Such radiation from the human body is so considerable that, as proved by recent experiments, the presence of a man can be detected in the dark, with the help of suitable apparatus, at a distance of 600 feet.

Apparatus of the kind—consisting of a concave mirror to focus the heat rays, a "thermopile" and a galvanometer—proved very useful during the war. If a man crossed the range of the instrument the latter instantly perceived the fact. Even the lifting of a head out of a hole in the ground was registered.

Taken From His Sock.

A humorous story comes from the country district where an automobile salesman had one of the biggest surprises of his life when an Italian farmer, who had ordered a car, made an old-fashioned specie payment and all in silver coin. The salesman was asked to "wait a minute" for his money. After an hour and a half he was summoned to the back yard, where the farmer had laid out the price of the car on two tables. The coins were all quarters, halves and dollars, piled $10 in a stack. When the salesman undertook to check up he quickly understood why he had been left sitting on the front doorstep so long. It took him another hour and a half to make sure that he hadn't been overpaid.

Aerial Game Laws.

Modern inventions begot new manners and new laws to govern the changed customs. The man who nets fish wholesale seems about to be out-clashed by the airplane operator who gathers in wild birds by means of a net. So, apparently, think the sportsmen in one locality of Canada. As a consequence, an association of them are sponsoring a request to the Government to prohibit the flights of airplanes over marsh lands, and the use of flying machines in pursuit, shooting, or netting of wild fowl. When warned of anything approaching, these birds do not seek cover, but rise immediately into the air and obviously become open at once to the ingenious contrivances of airplane pilots. Rapid-firing guns, and nettings attached beneath the body of the machines, would seem to be easy means of possible extermination of the birds, and this it is sought to avoid.

Prairie Dogs.

The little ground squirrels, or prairie dogs, of the western plains have their homes 12 or 15 feet underground, with corridors and rooms. In some of these chambers the squirrel family lives, and in others food and various materials are stored.

One of Four Millions

(A Photograph Direct from the War-Stricken Area)

$1 per Month Preserves the Life of One Child

Millions of war orphans in Central Europe are growing up undernourished and stunted.

Thousands of them are dying of typhus, tuberculosis and small-pox.

There is almost a complete lack of the nourishing foods growing children need, of clothing, of doctors, nurses and medical supplies. The condition of the children is pitiable in the extreme.

Upon this coming generation depends largely whether these nations will be healthy and right-minded or a hot-bed of anarchy and degeneracy—a menace to the world.

It has been found by experience that the cost of caring for a waif child is approximately three dollars per month; that of the supplies that are required by imports about one dollar is needed; and therefore the dollar that we provide, together with the local support of local governments, local municipalities, local charities and local services practically preserves the life of one child.

Public School Essays

Alfred the Great

When Alfred was a little boy his mother offered a book to one of her boys who could read it first. Alfred studied hard and won the book.

When he was yet a young man his father was killed. Alfred then was made king of England. The Danes were attacking England, and were successful at first. Alfred then had to flee to the woods for his life.

One day as he was walking through the woods he came to a cow-herder's house. He went in and found the woman baking cakes. She left him to watch them so they would not burn while she went outside. He forgot all about them. He was planning how to attack the Danes. When she came in and found them all burnt she was very angry. When he told her who he was she begged his pardon.

He saw the camp of the Danes. Their leader was Guthrum. Alfred dressed as a minstrel boy and went to the camp and played a harp. Then he found out their plans. Their camp was on the top of a hill, so he gathered his army together and besieged them for fourteen days, then Guthrum surrendered, promised to settle as christians in the Danelaw.

The people loved Alfred so much that they called him England's darling and the truth teller.

Ida Carson, St. III class.

Sir Walter Raleigh

Walter Raleigh was the most clever clever and handsome man in England. He was knighted by Queen Elizabeth. She gave him permission to settle in America. He tried to found a colony in Virginia, but it was a failure. He brought tobacco and potatoes to England.

He was the first man to smoke in England. When his cook saw him she thought he was on fire so she poured a pail of water over him. He heard about the city El Dorado. It was supposed to be a city of gold in South America, and he wanted to find it.

After the death of Queen Elizabeth James was made king. Some people wanted to put James off the throne and they said Walter Raleigh was the leader. So he was put in prison for twelve years. While in prison he wrote a history of the world.

After a while he wrote to the king and asked if he could go and find the city of gold, and if he found it he would bring him a large amount of gold. All he wanted was a half a ton of gold and a free pardon. The king said he could, only he must promise one thing, not to burn any Spanish ships or towns. One of his men burned a Spanish town, so Raleigh had to return to England again. In 1618 he was beheaded.
