

MINERS LIEN LAW

Passed by Yukon Council in Special Session Saturday

AFTER FAIR AND OPEN DISCUSSION

Although it is Not Exactly to Liking of all Members

EFFORT TO PROTECT ALL

Was Disposition Which Characterized Council in Passage of Important Law.

The revised miners' protective wage ordinance which was substituted for Wilson's original miners' lien bill was brought before the council for consideration at Saturday's meeting and as usual was the cause of a lively debate. After considerable discussion and the addition of several amendments it was finally passed and has now become a law.

The amendments which were proposed by the legal adviser the import of which were to give other creditors than the wage earners an equal show in the output was strongly objected to for a time by Councilman Prudhomme who said that as the original intention of the bill was to give the miner exclusive protection regardless of all other creditors he considered it the duty of the council to give that point precedence. His idea of the matter was that the men who provided the mannerist upon which the mine was worked had means of protecting themselves by mortgages, etc. while the laboring man had no such means of protection and in case the providers of such material had not such protection they were in much better condition to stand the loss than the men whose existence depended upon the recovery of their wages.

Legal Adviser Congdon arose and with considerable eloquence answered Mr. Prudhomme stating that he was not aware of any law either of God or man which protected the rights of one to the detriment of the rights of another. He made a strong argument in favor of his point and stated the well known fact that the mine owners rely upon the credit obtainable, for supplies and machinery with which to develop property and which would, altogether be taken away from them should such a proposition as the one suggested by Mr. Prudhomme be put into active force.

Mr. Prudhomme said that the credit system which was used to such extent was one of the things which it would be desirable to obliterate especially on the part of laymen whose chances for coming out even at the end of a season's work were always more or less of a speculation.

Justice Dugas said that while he, and he believed every member of the council, is in favor of protection to the laborers, yet there were others to be considered who were undoubtedly entitled to consideration. Mr. Wilson stated that the original proposition had been for protection to the miners and all the difficulties in the proposed ordinance had been encountered by endeavoring to run in everyone and he was of the opinion that after the miner had been properly protected the balance of the creditors would adjust themselves. He stated, however, that he had always in mind the men who furnished provisions and believed that the groceryman should be likewise protected. He also recalled the days of Col. Steele who had enforced the laborers' rights in the police court by putting the men in jail who would not pay their laborers.

Mr. Congdon suggested he introduce such a law and that all debtors be put in jail who could not pay their debts. Commissioner Ross, in his calm, forcible and diplomatic manner poured oil on the troubled waters by stating that the council had taken a great deal of time and interest in the preparation of the bill. He believed that all members of the council were interested in the protection of the miners not only the elected but the appointed members as well. He realized the strain which was brought to bear on the elected members by their colleagues and appreciated their position, but at the same time considered the other members as also having an interest in the matter. He considered the bill as presented as nearly equitable as possible giving the groceryman, the hardware man, the wood cutter, the laborer and everyone who sided the work of developing mines and who are all entitled to consideration, a fair and square proportion of the product of the assets in case the mine worker was unable to pay in full the amounts of his indebtedness. Commissioner Ross' remarks closed the debate and the bill was passed with the amendments proposed without further dissent.

The ordinance as amended and passed is as follows:

In this ordinance and in all petitions, affidavits, documents and other papers made thereunder, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a). The expression "miner" means a person who performs or has performed for wages work which produces or assists to produce an "output."

(b). The expression "mining claim" means and includes any placer, quartz or coal claim.

(c). The expression "output" means, with respect

(I). To placer claims, the gravel and bedrock obtained from such placer claims and the minerals in such gravel and bedrock or abstracted therefrom.

(II). To quartz claims, the quartz obtained from such claims and the minerals or such quartz or abstracted therefrom, and (III). To coal claims, the coal taken therefrom.

(d). The expression "owner" means any person who has an interest, other than as mortgagee, in a mining claim, in respect to which work has been performed for such person, at his request, and includes every person claiming under such person by right accruing subsequent to the commencement of the performance of such work.

(e). The expression "person" includes any body corporate and the heirs, executors, administrators or other legal representatives of such person to whom the context can apply according to law.

(f). The expression "wages" means money earned by miners for work performed.

(g). The expression "supplies" means and includes food, fuel, tools, machinery and all articles necessary or useful in carrying on the work required to produce an output.

If it is made to appear to the satisfaction of the territorial court or any judge thereof

(a). That any owner is indebted to any miner for wages, and

(b). That there are reasonable grounds for believing that such owner does not intend to pay such wages, or that there is danger of such wages being lost to such miner unless the court or judge intervenes, such court or judge may appoint a receiver of the output of the mine to which such wages have been earned. And of the remaining supplies furnished to the owner for the purpose of working said mine.

It shall not be necessary for such miner to issue any writ of summons or other process. He shall merely present a petition setting forth the grounds upon which he claims the appointment of a receiver and praying for such appointment. Such petition shall be verified by affidavit; and the person making such affidavit shall appear before the court or judge for oral examination at the time of presenting such petition. The court or judge hearing such petition may ex parte or after notice appointed a receiver for such time and upon such terms as are just and proper.

Upon such petition the court or judge may, upon notice being given to the various parties interested summarily determine and fix the liability of such owner for wages to the petitioner and to other miners who have assisted to produce the output and also his liability to any other person for supplies which have supported such miners for supplies. contributed to makes possible the production of such output.

The court or judge may take into consideration all the circumstances connected with the production of such output, and with the furnishing of supplies, the condition of the parties interested and may direct that by way of preference there be paid to such miners such percentage, not exceeding 50 per cent of the several amounts due them and that the balance due such miners and the accounts due such other persons for supplies be paid pro rata out of the remainder of the proceeds of such output and of the sale or disposal of such supplies before any other creditors of such owner are paid therefrom.

No person shall be permitted to rank under the next preceding section except among the other creditors therein mentioned or be entitled to receive any payment from the receiver on account of any sum due him for supplies unless the same have been actually

(a). Consumed by such miners as aforesaid during the time they were working to produce the output; or

(b). Used in producing or assisting to produce such output; or

(c). Partly consumed or partly used as aforesaid and received by the remainder received by the receiver, or (d). Wholly received by the receiver.

The receiver so appointed may, subject to the direction of the court or judge, carry on such work as may be necessary to obtain from such output all the valuable metals or minerals contained therein.

WAS DINED AND WINED

Mr. F. F. Burns, President of the Vancouver Board of Trade

ROYALLY BANQUETED BY DAWSONITES

At Hotel McDonald Saturday Evening

WHEN HE WAS FAMILIARIZED

With Conditions, Requirements and Demands of Dawson and the Yukon—Happy Occasion.

It was a representative crowd of officials and business men that surrounded the festal board at the Hotel McDonald Saturday night, the occasion being a complimentary banquet to Mr. F. F.

Burns, president of the Vancouver board of trade who for a week previous to this morning, when he left for his home, was here on a business and pleasure trip, accompanied by his wife.

Although Mr. H. T. Willis presents the title "Perpetual Chairman," he presided Saturday night with the ease and grace of a Chauncey Depew. To his right sat the guest of honor, Mr. Burns, while Gov. Ross graced the seat to the chairman's left, others present were, R. P. McLennan, J. T. Lithgow, F. R. Ritchie, R. J. Davis, G. W. Adams, G. B. Buchanan, Chas. Milne, Dr. Milne, J. J. Smith, Jeff Davidson, H. P. Gilmore, Frank Johnson, J. L. Timmins, Harry Euroit, D. A. Matheson, H. H. Morris, E. J. White, A. Uford, S. W. Wye, Harry Jones and Geo. A. Maudson and some 12 or 13 others who arrived after those mentioned were seated.

It was not an occasion of boquet throwing or sewing circle talk, but of outspoken, honest conviction, which, by the way, is something of a Scotch characteristic. "The King," "The Ladies" and "The Press" were quietly disposed of when the toast list was reached, Mr. R. J. Davis covering himself with glory in his disposition of the second subject. Commissioner Ross, in his usually happy and pointed style disposed of "The Yukon" and Chairman Willis in proposing the toast "Our Guest," complimented Mr. Burns on his city having at last awoke to the importance of reaching out for Yukon trade and commerce. Mr. Burns made a most happy response and in behalf of the interests which as president of the board of trade he represents, promised fair dealing and proper consideration with and of the great Yukon country in the future.

Dr. Milne of Victoria spoke interestingly on "The Empire" and referred feelingly to the brave sons of Canada who fought, bled and died on the veldt of South Africa in defense of the empire.

Mr. J. L. Timmins spoke on "Transportation," and told what was necessary to insure future development and prosperity of the Yukon.

Mr. R. P. McLennan made some pointed remarks on the subject of mining when proposing the toast which was responded to by Mr. P. R. Ritchie who pointed out errors that should be corrected in the laws of the country.

Mr. Chas. Milne in responding to the toast, "Trade and Commerce" called—a spade, a spade, especially when delivering to Mr. Burns a message to carry back to the wholesalers of his city regarding the quality of goods to ship to Dawson. Mr. Burns thanked Mr. Milne for the suggestion and promised to carry the message to his fellow Vancouver merchants.

Other remarks were made by Chief McKinnon, D. A. Matheson, J. T. Lithgow, Jeff Davidson, Mr. Wye and Geo. A. Maudson.

During the service and progress of the banquet, one of the crowning efforts of the Hotel McDonald chef, vocal and instrumental music was supplied by Mr. Arthur Boyle, pianist, and Mr. Wye, while Mr. Johnson entertained with two or three of his inimitable stories.

Elsewhere in this paper is published a cut of Mr. Burns, the young and popular gentleman in whose honor the banquet was given.

Number the Houses.

There should be no hesitancy in the numbering by owners and occupants of their homes and business houses in Dawson. Two years or more ago Mrs. Ferguson at her own expense had put up the corner posts which designate the streets and avenues of Dawson and which have been of incalculable benefit to the people. At that time labor was very high here and the cost attending the erection of the posts was very great, yet the promoter asked for and received no assistance. Now, to further benefit the public Mrs. Ferguson has house numbers which she is putting up at the minimum cost of $2.50 per set, a price within reach of every one. The posts are good, but systematic house numbering is indispensable. Be ready to have one put over your door when Mrs. Ferguson or her representatives call.

I have a consignment of choice, well assorted groceries which I am ordered to close out immediately, also two fire proof safes and two crates crockery. Parties, desiring small or large outfits will do well to call at once.

AS TO THAT "BLOW BACK."

At a recent gathering of Dawson business men and when the question of the day and hour, that of transportation, was being discussed, one gentleman in the course of a few remarks stated that already this season upwards of $1,000,000 have been paid the W. P. & Y. R. for transportation and that in case of a reduction in the freight schedule of thirty-three and a third per cent, it would stand a reduction of 200 per cent and still make money for the company, the amount due the shippers of the country in the form of rebate would be between $300,000 and $400,000.

That settles it and there will be no "blow back" this year. The money has passed from the Yukon forever into the maw of the rapacious corporation and it will stay there. Instead of the schedule being reduced this year, promises of a reduction for next year will probably be made, but they will not satisfy the people. Similar promises were made last year and knowledge of the manner in which they were kept is too fresh in the minds of our people to permit of further betrayal. Dawson shippers have this season been lead like sheep to the slaughter but it is for the last time. By next season all business concerns of any magnitude will operate their own steamers on the lower river. The worm has already turned and the company will do well to hold on to what it has already received for, if it cuts wages in proportion to the cut which it will notice in its receipts next season, its longshoremen will receive not over 12 1/2 cents per hour—in fact it will have no demand for longshoremen. Rust and weeds will possess its railroad and cockroaches and spiders will hold high carnival in its ships.

The confidence of the people has been betrayed once but the opportunity for a second betrayal will not be afforded.

A Dawson merchant remarked at the banquet to Mr. Burns Saturday night that in order for any outside city to hold the trade of Dawson it is necessary that it supply only the very best grade of goods. The time when a cheap, deteriorated class of goods can be peddled off on the people of the Klondike is happily past. When the transportation charges are, in many instances, several times the original cost of the article the importer can not afford to make all this mighty outlay on an interior article and the outside wholesaler who works off stale and inferior goods on Dawson will not have the opportunity for doing it a second time. The merchant above referred to very truthfully remarked: "The best is none too good for Dawson."

We can't see why the B. Y. N. company should go into competition with hotels and restaurants of the town especially when there is nothing in it for them. To accommodate the traveling public on board the boats while they are tied up at the dock here is simply knocking a very important part of this town's business on the head. If the company wants to get into the better graces of the traveling public let its energies be devoted to courteous and generous treatment of people when they are passengers proper. Then the traveling public will get everything it has a right to expect and there will be a better feeling all around.—Whitehorse Tribune.

If the B. Y. N. Co. would make its Sunday excursions popular it should eliminate such features as beastly drunkenness, free fights, obscene and profane language and other objectionable and shocking adjuncts such as were prominent on the steamer White Horse on her trip down the river yesterday evening. The management that cannot maintain order on its Sunday excursions should refrain from giving them. The time when prostitutes and their escorts can capture excursions should be past, but unfortunately such does not seem to be the case.

The Hanna family is still keeping its name prominently before the public. Mark shoves his stool a little nearer the presidential chair every day while Mark's sister-in-law, his brother's wife, has just left her husband in New York and skipped off with her children to Europe leaving Mark's brother to secure a divorce as soon as he wants one. As advertisers, the Hannas are all right.

A New York official has been indicted by a grand jury on the charge of corruption. This is awful, not that he has been corrupt but that he has been indicted.

Nome Needs It.
Nome is to have a complete electric lighting plant and complete installation will be made before the close of this season's navigation. The plant will be installed by Capt. F. N. Seiberg. The captain is now in Seattle purchasing his plant. He is a Nome operator, backed by capital and experience. Nearly all of the machinery, save the boilers and engines, and the necessary electrical appliances are to be supplied by Seattle firms and manufacturers. Much of the equipment has been purchased. Equipped and in operation the system will cost about $75,000. It will be owned and operated by the Nome Electric Light and Power Company, with Capt. Seiberg as superintendent. Associated with him in the venture are some of the richest men in Nome. One of the heaviest stockholders is a millionaire. Every dollar of the stock is owned by Nome men.

The company secured the necessary municipal franchises this spring, and last fall, before the granting of the light privileges. By September 1, Superintendent Seiberg says, he will have the plant in operation. It will be such a property as will supply 25,000 incandescent lights of 16-candle power. It is proposed to charge at the rate of 30 cents per day per light.

"We can make good money at such a rate," Capt. Seiberg said, "despite the fact that it costs us $1 per ton for coal laid down on the Nome beach. Already we have made many contracts, and I believe that within a month of the time our plant is in operation we will be supplying 2000 lights. The business will grow. Nome is going to be a substantial town. It will be permanent. The gold output this fall is going to surprise everybody, and next summer I expect to see a greater rush to the Nome diggings than we witnessed during the season of 1900. That may seem a wild prediction, but time will demonstrate the correctness of my judgment."—Seattle Times.

"Sharp is no name for it. Why, one time he said he had a nightmare, and the whole town got agitated and took to wonderin how he was going to use it so as to get the best off some one in a loss trade."—Ex.

FIRST CENSUS OF THE YUKON

Official Counting of Noses Will Begin in a Few Days.

Deputies Will Be Despatched to Every Point in the Territory Where There is a Settlement.

Work will very shortly be begun on the first official census ever taken by the Dominion government of the population of what is now known as the Yukon territory. In Canada the census is taken once every ten years, the last one being in 1891, and the next following the present will be in 1911. In the preceding counting of noses the official maps of the Dominion contained no record of the existence of such a place as the Klondike, Dawson was undreamed of and Fortymile with her rich bar diggings was but a myth except to a score or more of the most adventurous who had crossed the Chilkoot en route to the older diggings on the Stewart river. Ottawa is approximating the population of their portion of the Northwest territories ten years ago probably considered there was but a handful of hunters and trappers and possibly a hundred or two nomadic Indians in all this vast region. It is incredible that anyone at that time should have thought of the next census taking where once was but a dreary waste there should stand a prosperous city of 10,000 inhabitants surrounded by dozens of creeks which in less than a half a decade should have enriched the world by millions and millions.

Mr. Henry J. Woodside, who recently received the appointment of census commissioner for this territory, is only awaiting final instructions from Ottawa before he will proceed with the business entrusted to him. Owing to the remoteness of many outlying districts and the extent of the territory it will be months before his duties are completed. Deputies will be sent to the headwater of the Klondike, others will be despatched to Fortymile and its tributaries, a number of miners at work on the head of Sixtymile, and there are many scattered about the upper reaches of Stewart river on the McQueen, Clear and other creeks. Quite a population has sprung up 200 miles up the Big Salmon, a few will be found on the upper end of the Hootalinga near Lake Teslin, the White and Tahkeena rivers, the Pelly and McMillan each has a small quota and all will have to be secured in order to make the census complete. There will be but one section of the territory which the census man with his questions as to your age, sex, and previous conditions of servitude will not invade. Along the Arctic slope bordering upon the ocean are a few scattering bands of Eskimos whose number will be guessed at instead of counted, unless the census commissioner should change his mind. To make the round trip to that section would require nearly a year's time and an amount of labor that is almost incomprehensible. It would necessitate a trip across the Rockies to the McKenzie river, thence to the ocean and a journey by canoe of hundreds of miles along the bleak and most inhospitable coast on the continent.

Mr. Woodside is getting his forces together now and will begin his work just as soon as the final instructions have arrived.

COUNCIL MEETING

Many Petitions and Notices of Ordinances Presented.

The Yukon Council held a special meeting Saturday afternoon for the consideration of public matters which required immediate attention.

A petition was presented by legal adviser Congdon on behalf of the Whitehorse Coal Co. asking for the incorporation of the company.

Councilman Prudhomme presented a petition from the residents of Seventh avenue asking for the grading of Seventh avenue between Mission and First streets, and also asking that two caches which are now located in the street be removed.

Petitions were presented from the N. C. Co. and the B. Y. N. Co. asking for licenses to carry on their respective business in the Yukon territory.

A petition was presented by Justice Dugas on behalf of the Gold Mill Mining Co. asking for the incorporation of the company.

Legal Adviser Congdon gave notice of two ordinances which would be presented to the council at its next meeting. The first providing the licensing of garbage and scavenging, more to a view of keeping it under the control of the council than as a matter of revenue and the other regarding the protection of miners by timbering mines and other precautionary measures to be taken in the working of mines as a means of preventing accidents.

The public works committee presented the following report on the petition of Mrs. M. L. Ferguson regarding the numbering of the resident and business houses of Dawson:

In respect to the communication of Mrs. M. L. Ferguson in connection with the numbering of the houses in Dawson your committee recommend that the council in no way interfere with the privileges given by ordinance No. 49 of '99 to Mrs. Ferguson. But cannot recommend that she be given a bulk sum of $5000 for performing the work. In view of the fact that she has found it impracticable to number the houses and collect from the residents the committee would recommend that such material as she has in the way of numbers be purchased from her at their value at the place of manufacture plus the freight and customs duty provided she releases from provisions of ordinance No. 46 of 1899.

PERSONAL PROPERTY

Ordinance Passed by Yukon Council Saturday.

The council at its meeting Saturday afternoon passed the assessment ordinance which provides for the assessment and collection of taxes on real and personal property, incomes of every person carrying on any occupation, profession, trade, calling, or employment or filling or exercising any office and from every person residing in any town in the Yukon territory.

The ordinance is exceedingly lengthy and space will not permit of its being printed in full. It provides the following property exempt from taxation:

All property vested in his majesty the king or vested in any person for Imperial, Dominion or territorial purposes, and either unoccupied or occupied by some person in an official capacity. If any such property is occupied by any person otherwise than in an official capacity the occupant shall be assessed and rated in respect thereto, but the property itself shall not be liable.

Every church and place of worship and the land to the extent of half an acre used in connection therewith and every church yard and burial ground.

The real property of every public institution of learning, every public schoolhouse, town hall, courthouse, jail and lockup house.

All school lands.

All public landings, public breakwaters and public wharves.

The property of every city or town if occupied for the purpose of such city or town.

Property specially exempted from taxation by any ordinance of the Yukon council.

Income to the extent of two thousand dollars.

The Good Samaritan and St. Mary's hospitals are also included in the exempt list.

The ordinance provides for the making out of the assessment roll between the 20th day of July and the 20th day of September of each year and rules for the governing of the assessor in making up his roll. Property is to be assessed at its actual cash value and incomes to the actual amount received. In the assessment of indebtedness or expense of living. Personal property shall be assessed if known to the assessor and otherwise in the name of the person in possession, providing that the assessment may be transferred to Section 8 of the ordinance provides as follows: The assessor shall forthwith on the completion of the assessment roll give notice of the assessment by delivering to each person, firm, company, association or corporation or by mailing to such person, firm, company, association or corporation postage prepaid, a notice setting forth the sum at which the property and income of such person, firm, company, association or corporation is assessed. The assessor shall enter on the roll opposite the proper name the date of such delivery or mailing, and such entry shall be representative evidence of such delivery or mailing.

Every person who commences business which has not been assessed must give notice to the assessor within one week after such business has been started and the assessor shall within one week assess the business so commenced.

Any person who commences business and fails to give such notice in writing is liable to a penalty of $100 or imprisonment from one to three months.

Sub-section 20 of section 11 provides for appeals and the establishment of a court of appeals as follows:

The person assessed shall have the right to appeal from such assessment and the court of appeal shall have power to reverse, vary or modify the assessment so made and amend the assessment roll accordingly.

The ordinance provides the duties and powers of the court of appeal, the meeting of which is to be held on the fourth Tuesday of October every year to adjourn from time to time as is found necessary.

The rate of assessment will be based upon the amount required to carry on the expense of government as provided in the following section:

Upon an estimate being made by the proper authority of all sums which are required for the lawful purposes of the city or town for the then current year after crediting the probable receipts from all sources of revenue other than the rates for such year and after making due allowance in such estimate for the abatement, losses and expenses which may occur in the collection of the rates and taxes and for the rates and taxes which may not be collected or collectable the assessor shall levy and collect so much on the dollar of the assessed value of the property and income assessed in such roll as he deems sufficient to defray the expenses of the city or town for the then current year as stated in such estimate, including any deficiency from any preceding year.

The balance of the ordinance provides for the collection of taxes which become due upon notice being served by the assessor and 30 days thereafter if such taxes have not been paid the collector is given power to issue a distress warrant and sell the property for the taxes due and the amount due on taxes takes priority over all mortgages or other claims against the property.

THE GAME WAS ALL HIS OWN

How Mr. Collins Lived by Working Expressmen

Would Steal His own Valise From Wagon and Then Put in Bill for Lost Bric-a-brac.

"There is no end of ways for beating the small expressman about town," said the man in the peaked cap, "I've had a good many clever tricks played on me in my 20 years' career as an expressman, but the smoothest chap that ever worked me for a snap was J. Collins. I saw Collins just three times in my life. The first time was when I moved him from Forty-fourth street up to Ninetieth street. I was employed then by an express company whose place of business was in Eighth avenue, and when Collins came around to the office and said he wanted us to move a trunk and a box of books I was sent out to do the job.

"Collins was a little man with bulging blue eyes, a sandy mustache and a mole on his chin. He watched me like a hawk while I was carrying his things down stairs and loading them in the wagon. When I got ready to drive off, he said: 'Oh, by the way, I have an extra valise here I wish you'd put in with the other things if it isn't too much trouble.' 'I carry it myself, but I'm not going straight up to the house, and I hate to be bothered with lugging it around all over town.'

"Now, it was against the rules of the company for the driver to haul anything for a customer not listed at the office. I told Collins so, but he didn't give a continental for laws and regulations.

"'Oh, pahaw!' he said. 'That'll be all right. Nobody need know anything about it but you and me. It'll be a great favor to me for you to take the grip, and I'll make it worth your while.'

"Clear up to the last minute my judgment argued that the course of wisdom was to persist in my refusal, but Collins' insistence finally won the day, and I consented to take the grip. Collins went down to the street with me, and just before I mounted to the seat he pressed a half dollar into my hand as a sedative for my uneasy conscience. I drove direct from Forty-fourth street to Collins' new boarding house, but when I got there the grip was gone. Collins raised a terrible row about it. He maintained that it contained odds and ends of valuable bric-a-brac, and he threatened to bring suit against the company for $100. The company acted wonderfully white with me. Although they could be held in no wise guilty for a violation of their rules, they naturally disliked police court notoriety and finally compromised with Collins for $50, of which they generously paid one-half, thus letting me off with a punishment fee of only $25.

"Three months after that I left the Eighth street concern and went to work for a company up on Columbus avenue. One evening shortly after I was sent out to all several orders that had come in late in the afternoon. I was half dead that night with toothache, and my companion, a good natured sort of fellow, did most of the work and attended to all of the details of the moving. So intense was my pain that I gave scarcely a thought to where we were or what we were doing until I heard my man snoring around and swearing like all possessed. Then I got up snapp enough to ask what was the matter.

"'Holy smoke,' he said, 'that grip is gone! That fellow up on Seventy-fifth street insisted upon my bringing a valise along with his trunk and boxes, and now it's gone. I'm in a pretty fix, I am.'

"'Instantly my tooth ceased to jump and my heart took up the tempestuous refrain. Was the man's name Collins?' I asked.

"'Yes,' said he. 'Did you see him? He was monkeying around between the house and the wagon all the time, but it was kind of dark, and you had your face all bundled up and seemed to be more dead than alive, and I didn't think you took any notice of him.'

"'I didn't,' said I, 'but I know how he looks.' Then I described Collins to a T. Sure enough, it was my old friend J. C. who had met with the loss, and again he got damages for bric-a-brac which had been packed in his grip. At that I began to get suspicious, and when I went into business for myself a few weeks later I resolved to keep an eye open for J. Collins. I hadn't been on this corner two weeks before I fell foul of Collins. He wanted to be moved again, this time to the depot. I deputized one of my men to transact business with him, and that night when the driver went over after his trunks I hovered around in the background and watched his movements. His trick was simple. He swiped his own grip, which was comparatively easy to do, considering he always had the expressman call late in the evening, I hurried over to the depot ahead of him to watch the entire proceeding. As usual he flew into a terrible rage when the driver reported that the grip was lost and demanded satisfaction then and there. Then I stepped up, and in less than five minutes J. Collins had become considerably wiser.

"'I ought to bring you into court,' said I, 'and make an example of you, for I don't doubt that there are other deadbeats working the express companies the same way, only they may not do it so frequently, but if you pay me what you soaked me and my friends or I'll let you off.'

"'J. Collins was inclined to show fight at first, but he soon weakened. 'I haven't got the money here with me,' he said.

"'Then get it,' said I. 'You won't leave this town till you do.'

"'He saw I was in earnest and dived down into his pockets and forked over the money.'—Ex.

THEY LIKE DAWSON

Miners on Miller and Glacier Want Trail From Here.

Another rich placer district is to be brought within reach of Dawson and the trade, naturally belonging to this city, but which heretofore has gone to Fortymile, will be diverted into its natural channel. A delegation of miners from Miller and Glacier creeks waited upon Commissioner Ross a few days ago and stated that the empty of which they were the representatives would be very happy to do their trading at this point providing some means were provided by which access could be had to the city. Miller and Glacier creeks are tributaries of Sixymile and are among the oldest producing creeks in the Yukon territory. At the time the discovery was made in '92 the attention of the few miners then in the country was about equally divided between the new strike and the bar diggings on Fortymile creek. The nearest port to the new discovery was at Fortymile and miners naturally went there for their supplies, a trail was soon blazed out and they have continued going there ever since. The route is only a pack trail and in addition to being a hard one to travel, there being several divides to cross, it runs for a short distance through American territory which makes it extremely inconvenient for miners taking in supplies. When gold was first struck in the Klondike Miller and Glacier creeks were at the height of their prosperity and yielded several good sized stakes. Pete Wyborg, well known by the old timers, arrived in San Francisco in the fall of '95 with 257 pounds of gold in an old battered tin trunk, all of which was taken from his claim on Miller creek within three years. At that time that was the greatest amount of gold ever brought out from the Yukon by any single individual, and quite a little furor was caused by his receipt in Frisco. Bob Inley is another who struck it rich on Glacier. He arrived in Jancon over the ice in February, '96, with $15,000 to the good. When Carmack made his discovery on Bonanza the district was practically deserted by everyone and it is only within the last year or two that work has been resumed. The trade of that section is well worth fostering and it can be had by merely reaching out for it.

Commissioner Ross received the delegation with his usual urbanity and gave them his assurance that he would provide them an outlet from the mines to the city. To a Nugget man the commissioner later said as soon as Engineer Thibedeau returned he intended sending him out to take reconnaissance and report upon the probable cost of constructing a trail. Its approximate length will be 50 miles and the government will be strongly urged to appropriate sufficient funds to build it at once.

Standard numbers are now ready for distribution. Approved by Commissioner Ross.

HAPPILY MARRIED

Fire Chief H. A. Stewart and Miss Amelia Williams.

Yesterday evening at 9:30 o'clock Rev. Dr. Sparling, of the M. E. church, performed the interesting ceremony which united for better or worse in the holy bands of matrimony Mr. Hector A. Stewart, chief of the Dawson fire department and Miss Amy Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Williams. The ceremony took place at the residence, corner of Fourth street and Sixth avenue which Mr. Stewart has fitted up for his bride and only the relatives and most intimate friends of the contracting parties were present. Dr. Barrett supported the groom as best man and the bride's sister, Miss Tottie Williams, made a sweet and winsome bridesmaid. The happy couple was the recipient of several very beautiful presents, not the least among them being a handsome sterling silver tea and coffee set of five pieces presented by the fire boys. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart left on the Whitehorse today for a short honeymoon as far as Vancouver. They will be absent about a month.

MAYOR OF SELKIRK

Goes Up Against an Overdose of Dawson Hootch.

Mr. J. J. Pitts of Selkirk who hears the distinguished title of mayor was before Magistrate McDonnell in the police court this morning. Mr. Pitts acknowledged that he had been drinking but "strenuously" objected to the proceedings as he had been in nowise creating a disturbance or doing anything which a peaceable and law-abiding citizen would not do. It appeared in the evidence of Sergeant Beys, who had issued the complaint, that Mr. Pitts was on the interdiction list and had been seen drinking in a public saloon. Mr. Pitts said that he had been interdictioned at Selkirk but was not on the list in Dawson and again entered a protest against his rights as a citizen being interfered with. The magistrate informed him that the interdiction issued in one part of the territory applied throughout the whole territory and also informed him that he had made himself liable to a fine of $50 and also imprisonment. Sentence was suspended.

John F. McLeod was before the magistrate charged with no visible means of support and sentence was suspended allowing him four days in which to obtain employment or get out of town. Joe Bluet proprietor of the Madden house was fined $50 and $20 costs for selling liquor on Sunday.

INTEREST INCREASING

Lawn Tennis is Now Most Popular of All Local Sports.

Saturday afternoon and evening was one of the best attended days at the tennis court. During the progress of the games in the evening tea was served by Mrs. J. P. McLennan and Mrs. J. Langlois Bell.

The match between A. P. Hughes (owe 0-3) vs. D. S. Finnie (owe 30) was undoubtedly the best yet played, the players being very evenly matched and equally skillful in the use of the racquet. Hughes was the favorite but Finnie had a large number of friends present who had confidence in his ability to hold his opponent in check. Finnie made a brilliant start and kept it up throughout the first game which he won easily. The second was made an advantage game and was won by Hughes. The next game was won by Hughes giving him the set.

Finnie made another brilliant start in the next set gaining point by point until the games stood 5 to 2 in his favor, at this point Hughes braced himself and the points began to show in his favor until he tied the score making five in all. Finnie won the next game and Hughes the next. The same order was kept in the next two games making the score seven all. Finnie fell down a little in the next games and Hughes taking advantage of every opportunity won the next two sets giving him the game by a score of 9-7 this won the match for Hughes who has now entered the lists of the semi-finals and will play with H. G. Herbert some time this week and the winner of this match will compete for the cup.

A match of mixed doubles was played between Mrs. French and Mr. Pattullo vs. Mrs. McLennan and Mr. Berry. The match was won by the former by a score of 6-3, 9-7.

STEAMBOAT NEWS.

The Bailey will make a second trip up the Hootalingua for the benefit of shippers and miners headed for the Big Salmon district.

A scow of brick is being unloaded today for Wilson's new building.

The little steamer Lorelei is back again from Eagle City, having made the round trip in three days. Twelve passengers were brought up and Capt. Waters states both Eagle and Fortymile are now almost depopulated. Both places have plenty of provisions and the few people yet remaining in town are most anxiously awaiting the arrival of the down river steamers. The present is Capt. Waters' first season on the Yukon. He hails from Belleville, Ontario, where he was well known as a skillful navigator. The Lorelei leaves for Eagle tonight at 7 o'clock.

The Prospector leaves tonight at 9 o'clock on her first trip up the Pelly river. She will proceed only as far as the logging camp, 60 miles from the mouth, but later may make a trip up the McMillan which enters the Pelly 40 miles farther up.

Steamer Quick arrived Saturday evening from Mayo creek, 170 miles up the Stewart and 30 miles below Fraser Falls. She will do towing in and about Dawson for the present.

The Columbian left for up river yesterday evening. She carried five passengers.

Noted Wrestlers Matched.

Ole Marsh, champion wrestler of the Yukon territory, who has for the past year been touring the States with "Farmer" Burns, has challenged Col. McLaughlin, holder of the world's champion belt for collar and elbow wrestling, to engage in a wrestling contest for a purse and the gate receipts. The terms of the match are that each is to choose a hold the winner of the first to have choice of the second. It is said that the challenge of Marsh has been accepted and that the bout will occur in the near future.

A HUMAN LIFE.

A ship that throbs along in dire distress Till lost in ocean of forgetfulness.

A tangle of sweet flowers, whose petals turn To ash of unfulfillment in an urn.

A wisp of tangled threads, whose parted ends Do diet hand joints, no endless effort mends.

A play whose feeble players merely greet And go and leave the story incomplete.

A bud that opens brilliant at the dawn, Flings sweet perfume a moment and is gone.

A breath between a cradle and a bier, The blending of a smile, a sob, a tear.

A book whose pages turn with each new day Till time has read the tale and cast away.

A mask worn till a passing play is done To cloak a wraith and hide a skeleton.

A lie, whose ghostly semblance is concealed Till in a shroud its untruth lies revealed.

A thing that shapes the sod for a brief day And dies and leaves its faithful slave mere clay.

A story that is told ere 'tis begun, A song that only whispers and is done.

A thing that chains the lightning and that shatters the deep, the elements its messengers.

Lord of the sea and sky, a ruler proud That quakes at storms and trembles at a cloud.

That comes and goes on wings unseen, a germ That grows to fill a grave and feed a worm.

Baseball Saturday.

A baseball nine has been organized among the employes of the various mercantile firms and has been given the name of the Commercial baseball team. Last Saturday evening for the first time they got onto the diamond with the Gandolfo team as their opponents. The Gandolfo team had the advantage from the start and won the game by a score of 19 to 7. The Commercial team are not by any means discouraged by their defeat but consider themselves in better practice for the next game.

SHIPPERS, ATTENTION!

The report circulated by a venal press that Black Sullivan's barges are wrecked is a canard and was manufactured for the purpose of scaring possible shippers this fall via the mouth of the river. Read the ridiculous telegram (?) published in the News:—

*** It is understood that the Captain's telegram will read: "Send no more this season to mouth of the Yukon as storms are unprecedented." ***

Wouldn't that make a horse laugh? The intent is so apparent, the design so absurd that the intended evil will only react on the silly fabricators. Interested shippers may rest easy—your goods will arrive safely.

P. S.—The "wrecked" barges did not contain freight.

THE DEVIL'S PHILOSOPHY

First impressions are lasting. The first chapter of a book forms our opinion of the author. The first view of a man forms our opinion of him. If he is well dressed we give him attention and he has a greater influence than if he were shabbily attired. In many important transactions of life, in trade for instance, we never see the man. Not seeing him we must form our impressions from other influences.

"Polished Brass Will Pass Upon More People Than Rough Gold."

Your Letterhead, Card or Billhead, if properly dressed, will command the attention of the reader. If, however, your printed representatives are shabbily attired you gain the unenviable reputation, by inference, of being "a cheap man." No one can grow big in business carrying that burden.

We are in a better position today to do fine printing than at any other time in the history of our business.

All our 1901 stock has arrived; new fonts of type, and paper that cannot be excelled in the wide world. Inks and presses, paper and type are all awaiting your order to make them talk.
