ailor Pugilist Told to "Go Way Back and Sit Down" By Munroe.

ets Badly Worsted in Six Round Bout Last Night With Butte Miner.

ould Not Stand Stomach Blows and Constantly Lo His Temper.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 27.—Jack Munroe outboxed Tom Sharkey in a six-round bout at the Second Regiment armory in this city last night. Sharkey stepped from the ring with a mark, while both of Sharkey's eyes right and left swung of the side under the blows of the victor. Sharkey has an advantage in the shoulder and was hard on the stomach. After this the battle was most wholly in Munroe's favor. When Munroe began to find the sailor all of his leads went round and a neck. In the fifth round Munroe's blows landed on Sharkey's head and again on the forehead. Sharkey's eyes were badly swollen from the blows which Munroe landed on the forehead and were hard to open. THE PRELIMINARY

Sharkey and Munroe reached here in the afternoon, the former going to the Scott House and the latter to the Bohemian House. Sharkey was accompanied by his manager, H. Buckley, and a second, while Ed McCreary, Munroe's adviser, and half a dozen others were with Munroe. Shortly after their arrival both men were weighed in the presence of a large crowd of sportsmen. Munroe tipped the beam 160 lbs. and Sharkey 155 lbs. The referee called the two men to the center of the ring and gave them instructions. Sharkey was given a 10-minute rest before the fight. He was given a tremendous effort but did not enter the ring until minutes later. The referee called the two men to the center of the ring and gave them instructions. STATUS OF THE PANAMA CANAL

Nothing in Way of Transference of Concession to United States.

Paris, March 2.—The officials of the United States embassy share the view of the officers of the canal company that there is nothing now in the way of the actual transference of the concession of the canal to the United States. At a recent conference between Ambassador Porter and President Bo, of the canal company, the president pointed out that the concession is now pending, one involving Colombia's right to hold shares and the other the general question of the company's right to transfer its concession to the United States. It is further pointed out that no negotiations were in progress between Colombia and the canal company for the withdrawal of the concession.

Nova Vremya Bitterly Angry at Anglo-Saxon Sympathy For Japs.

St. Petersburg, March 2.—According to a special despatch from Port Arthur, twenty Chinese have been arrested there for signalling to the Japanese ships from the shore with flashlight and lanterns. A warning has been issued that similar offenders will hereafter be treated as spies and shot.

Although it is denied that the present plans of the admiralty contemplate the despatch of the Black Sea or Baltic fleets to the Far East, it is reported that the fleet is being prepared with haste to meet any emergency. General Altkorn, chief of staff, is reported to be inspecting the fleet. Work on the fleet is being pushed night and day. The battleship Borodino, the battleship Orel and the transport Krutshchik are being readied for service at the admiralty dock yards here.

The Nova Vremya today prints an editorial in which it expresses its regret at the news of Japanese victories, in which it says "the whole world with those exceptions, realize that the Russian occupation of Manchuria would benefit civilization."

A despatch from Vladivostok, dated today, says that according to private sources the Russian government has ordered 800 men each recently landed at Ching Chiao, Korea, about 120 miles north of the mouth of the Yalu, with the supposed object of reaching the valley of the Yalu river and threatening the communications of the Japanese warships which are on the horizon of Vladivostok. They are believed to be equipped with modern weapons, now powerful enough to blockade Vladivostok or endanger the Russian first-class cruisers which base in that port.

INTENTIONS APPARENT.

"In view of the facts, who can see that Russia had no warlike intentions or that she was unprepared for war? Seeing that the situation had become so critical that it admitted of no further delay, the Japanese government was compelled to break off negotiations that had proved abortive, and to take the necessary steps for self-protection. But the responsibility for the challenge of war rests not with Japan, but solely with Russia. On the 6th of February Japan announced to Russia her determination to end negotiations and take up independent action, as she might deem best to defend her position, and to take up independent action, as she might deem best to defend her position, and to take up independent action, as she might deem best to defend her position.

General view of the fortifications at Port Arthur.

Secretary Hoki was one of the Japanese commissioners who drew up the treaty between China and Japan at Shanghai last fall, which, like the American treaty with China, provided for the opening of the ports of Mukden, Aitung and Kungming.

On many points the Japanese government and the United States have agreed, said the diplomat. They are united on the open door policy and the integrity of China. Japan and the United States would suffer most from the acquisition of parts of China by Russia. The Russian policy in Manchuria seems to be to exclude all other nations.

The impression among my people is that the government did not go to war quickly enough. They clamored for war long before hostilities began. The people will do all in their power to support the government. Even the school children are trying to provide funds to carry on the war.

Surveying The Burned Queen

Pacific Coast Liner Is Badly Injured and the Cargo Much Damaged. Capt. Cousins Gives High Praise For the Heroic Work of Subordinates.

At Seattle on Monday, marine surveyors representing the insurance companies began an investigation of the damage to the steamship Queen resulting from the fire which broke out on Saturday morning.

The Queen is still at the Ocean Dock, which was through with the surveying and discharging her, says the P. O. Capt. Cousins was aboard the ship all day. He was congratulated and warmly praised for the work he and his crew had rendered in saving the ship.

"Anderson was overcome by heat and had to be dragged out. Chief McCready was leading a hose through the passageway to the fire and was overcome by the steam and smoke and was almost asphyxiated. These men were down near the fire and in very close quarters, yet they fought like heroes. They had little chance of escape in case the fire should have come. Throughout the fight I received regular reports from them as to everything that was going on."

First Officer Zeh, Second Officer Jackson and Able Bodied Mate, John McKeay, were the only ones who remained on the ship. The fire was extinguished and was returned to her.

The consignees of the cargo on the Queen, in accordance with marine insurance regulations, are being required to put up general average bonds before they can remove the cargo from the vessel. This is in order that the people whose freight came through without damage shall pay the proportionate part of the expense incurred in being the ship in for the benefit of all concerned. As a result, the vessel's hatchets had to be cut and water used to great damage to the cargo in that the fire might be extinguished. If the consignee has his goods insured, the loss made up by the insurance company falls proportionately heavier on the one whose wares are uninsured, though damaged. Each consignee is liable in proportion to the general average fund in proportion to what he has on the ship.

OF MUCH INTEREST TO CANNERYMEN Strongest Measures Proposed For Protection of Salmon In Alaska Waters.

The Washington correspondent of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer has written a paper as follows: The administration bill for the further protection of salmon in Alaska waters was introduced in the Senate on Monday. It was handed to Representative Humphrey by the bureau of fisheries this morning and immediately introduced in the house by him. The bill is by far the most stringent means yet devised for the protection of the salmon fisheries, and it will necessarily impose much hardship on several cannery owners, although deemed necessary by the government as a safeguard against the serious depletion of the salmon stock.

This bill amends sections 170 to 180 of the Alaska criminal code, so that there are only slight restrictions on former statutes. The most sweeping change is in section 180, by which all fishing for red and silver salmon in the lesser streams of Alaska, above mean low tide, is made unlawful, and penalized by fine and imprisonment.

The most significant part of section 180 as amended makes the broad provision that it shall be unlawful to fish for, catch or kill any salmon of either red or silver salmon by any means, on or near any stream, river, lake or other body of water in the district of Alaska, or after January 1, 1905, in the district of Alaska, except only for the purpose of propagation.

The proposed changes to the present law of the mouth of the streams is defined as "mean low tide," and this will therefore formerly restrict the area of present law fishing in several localities. The proposed law reads "low tide" and "above the limit of ocean tides."

Under the proposed changes in section 180 no exceptions whatever are made in favor of Cook Inlet and Prince William Sound. While there is a provision for mean low tide it is provided that the secretary of commerce shall decide and shall establish suitable law roads for the secretary of commerce may prohibit fishing.

Big White Liner Arrives From Orient With Valuable Cargo. Impressions of Japan's Naval And Military Forces by Passengers.

TO HAVE seen the coronation of Queen Victoria and the jubilee on the fiftieth anniversary of her reign, falls to the lot of the Empress of India, the magnificent steamship which is now on her way to the Orient. The ship is a magnificent vessel, and is one of the finest of the line. She is commanded by Captain Williams, who is a well-known seaman and a member of the Royal Naval Reserve.

Remarkable amongst the cargo for its value is a big quantity of gold, which is being transported to the Orient. The gold is being transported in the form of gold bars, and is valued at over $2,000,000. The gold is being transported to the Orient for the purpose of being used in the construction of the new gold mines in the Orient.

The weight of each box was sufficient to make the hands and assistants strain with the exertion of lifting them from the deck and getting them on to the ship.
