It Quiets the Cough

This is one reason why Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is so valuable in consumption. It stops the wear and tear of useless coughing. But it does more—it controls the inflammation, quiets the fever, soothes, and heals. Sold for 60 years.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has been a regular life preserver to me. I breathe no other cough medicine. I have tried many others, but they have done me no good. I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for many years, and it has cured me many times. It is a most valuable remedy. W. A. WARREN, Pharm. B., Chemist & Optician.

Made by J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Also manufactured at Sarsaparilla, Pills, Hair Vigor.

Rojestrensky Makes Strong Accusations

St. Petersburg, Jan. 13.—The remarkable allegation that the British fleet was held in readiness to destroy the Russian fleet if the battle of the Sea of Japan had gone in the Russian's favor is made by Admiral Rojestrensky in a letter published in the Novoye Vremya recently with their permission of the Minister of Marine.

Referring to the absolute secrecy of Admiral Togo in regard to the disposition of his forces Rojestrensky declares "this was unknown even to the Admiral of the British fleet allied with the Japanese, who concentrated his forces at Wei-Hai-Wei in expectation of receiving an order to annihilate the Russian fleet if this, the final object of Great Britain, was beyond the power of the Japanese."

Mr. Spring-Rice, the British chargé d'affaires, without waiting for instructions from his government, demanded an explanation from Foreign Minister Lamdorff of the statements contained in the admiral's letters to the Novoye Vremya.

The Russian government will probably decline to settle the claims of foreigners for damages sustained during the riots at Moscow and elsewhere on the ground, as was previously the case when claims for damages were made by foreigners whose property at Bakou was damaged, that while every effort has been made to protect foreign interests and property, foreigners living in Russia are entitled only to the redress which Russian subjects have, namely, to recover under the law from the imperial government not being liable.

This was the position which Russia took in the case of the destruction of Chinese property at Vladivostok, although Russia's share of the Boxer indemnity exacted from China was $87,500,000. Russia also recently presented a claim against Persia for the destruction of Russian life and property. It was learned today from an authoritative source that the Russian government has been without communication with General Linerich for almost five weeks.

London, Jan. 13.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says he has had conversation with Count Witte, in which the premier stated that the emperor and his ministers alike were astonished at Admiral Rojestrensky's allegation that the British admiral had concentrated his ships at Wei-Hai-Wei expecting an order to destroy the Russian fleet in the event of Admiral Togo being defeated in the battle of the Sea of Japan. Count Witte said he was taking measures to clear up the matter but, he added, it was self-evident that no level-headed man in Russia would attach importance to the allegation which the minister of marine, he said, had not noticed until it appeared in print.

The Times' St. Petersburg correspondent says the Great Britain has been dragged in to help dissolve Rojestrensky and to prepare public opinion for his impending acquittal and rehabilitation, which are considered indispensable for the sake of the reputation of the Russian navy.

Money Leaders of the Fagan Strip.
Source of a Great Evil in Halifax That Should be Eradicated.
There is an active crusade now being carried on in Montreal against money carried on the Fagan strip. There might possibly be some interesting developments in Halifax were the limit of publicity thrown on the conduct of those who make a living by "loaning" on anything and everything of a purchasable character that is brought to them.

Of late these pawn-shops have been the means, so it is alleged, of developing a source of evil that has already caused trouble in many a home, and possibly have started many a verdant youth upon a career of crime, at least given him an incentive in that direction.

The evil, or source of evil, referred to, is the practice of young children pawning clothes belonging to their parents, older brothers or sisters, for pocket money. It is stated that a very large quantity of what good clothing is for sale in those shops is procured in this way. The children want money for something or another—to keep pace with their little friends who may be more fortunate than they—and not wishing to borrow from an inquisitive father, they take a cast-off garment of wear, or may be better than that, and dispose of it for a mere pittance at a pawn-broker's.

It is not known whether these people have any systematic method of lending money, but it is a well-known fact that the difference between the amount for which an article is sold and that for which it is redeemed is very large, sometimes as high as 75 and 100 per cent. A short time ago a young man,

DOMINION HAS GREAT FUTURE SAYS LORD STRATHCONA.

At End of Century Population Will be Twice as Large as That of Great Britain and Ireland Combined.

Montreal, Que., Jan. 11.—Lord Strathcona left this evening for New York, whence he will sail on the Carmania for England. This afternoon his lordship officiated at the formal opening of the St. Lawrence Curling Club's present rink. He was presented with an address and also with an onyx curling stone with a gold handle and with a handsome curling broom. In a brief reply Lord Strathcona said that he was especially interested in curling, because it was Scotland's national game. He wished that he could be free to join in active participation with them, but he was afraid that at the present he would be a very lame curler.

Lord Strathcona spoke optimistically of the future of the Dominion, which he said would be greater than any one at present anticipated. At the end of the present century he estimated that Canada would have a population twice as large as the combined populations of Great Britain and Ireland. The natural conditions of the country could hardly be improved upon. We had a greater territory than the republic to the south and a climate that was equally good. Satisfactory it was to know that the growth of Canada in the past and present was not the result of a boom, but due entirely to natural conditions. He trusted that whatever her prospects Canada would ever remain an integral part of the great empire to which she now gave her allegiance.

In conclusion his lordship said that while he was proud of the title by which he had been honored by the late lamented Queen Victoria, he would rather be remembered by his friends in Montreal as Donald Smith. It was the name by which he had been known to them in other days, and he would be loath to change the relations which had existed between them then.

REASONS FOR THE MILD WINTER

The extraordinary warmth of the winter up to the present time is a subject of universal comment and considerable wonderment. Since nothing happens without a cause, it is but natural that all thoughtful persons are inquiring: "What is the source of this uncommon winter temperature?" To say simply that warm periods and cold periods of the weather recur at certain intervals of years does not answer the question or account for the phenomenon.

What is the cause of the periodicity? Does it lie in the earth, or in the atmosphere, or somewhere in space outside the earth? It is clear that the changes do not arise from the rocky ball of the earth, which is not a source of any perceptible quantity of heat except that which had been previously stored up from the solar radiation.

Local peculiarities of weather may be due to peculiar states of the atmosphere, but any universal rise or fall of temperature affecting the whole planet, or a whole hemisphere, must originate from changes occurring in the one great source of heat supply that we possess—the sun.

Two or three years ago Professor Langley found evidence that the sun had quite suddenly fallen off in its radiation to such a degree that the whole northern hemisphere experienced a summer of extraordinary coolness, the temperature in America, Europe and Asia averaging several degrees below the normal.

If the sun can thus fall at times in energy it can also at other times rouse itself, so to speak, to uncommon activity, and that may very well be what is happening at the present time. It is now the period of maximum sun-spottiness, and many observations have shown that such a period corresponds with a general increase in the output of solar radiation.

But when we have established the fact that the sun is responsible for warm winters and cold summers through changes in its own energies, we have not yet got to the bottom of the subject, for another question immediately arises: "What cause underlies the periodic changes in the sun?" A definite answer cannot yet be given, but it is for the sake of solving just this problem that such institutions as the great solar observatory on Wilson's Peak in California have been established.

We may find some satisfaction in the reflection that our present extraordinary weather experiences indicate that the sun may now be partially opening up its secrets to the inspection of observers furnished with more powerful means of investigation than have heretofore existed. It is interesting for those who admire the winter heavens on these mild January nights to know that one of the brightest stars in view—the topaz star Betelgeuse in the shoulder of Orion—exhibits changes indicating that it undergoes a periodic increase and decrease of radiation not unlike that of which the sun is suspected, but apparently considerably greater in amount.

In a cycle of years, the length of which has not yet been determined, Betelgeuse becomes alternately slightly brighter and then slightly fainter than Rigel, its great white rival in Orion's foot. Variable stars, which run through immensely greater changes than Betelgeuse exhibits, are common in the heavens, but they are all comparatively faint.

Betelgeuse may possibly be regarded as an example of a sun which has progressed a little farther than our sun in the direction of variability, without yet having reached a condition where the evidence of habitable worlds in its neighborhood has been rendered impossible.

SYRUP WHITE PINE AND TAR

as a cure for Coughs and colds easily takes the lead of all the remedies we have seen of this kind. It is not only an excellent preparation, but you get about twice as much of it for 25 cents as any other medic. The preparation is too well known here now to need any words as to its thoroughly efficient action.

Now for the Heathen Right Here at Home.

(By Rev. Thomas B. Gregory.)
The Rev. Mr. Cryden, of Forty Fort, Pa., is reported as declaring that there are far too many preachers and churches in this country—in many places twice as many as are needed—and that our superfluous theological talent should be directed to heathen countries, where there is so much more need for it.

But the question forces itself upon us: "Is it really a fact that the so-called heathen lands are in greater need of religious and moral teachings than our own country is?" In some respects—in many respects—the heathen are away ahead of us "Christians," as we are in the habit of calling ourselves.

The foundation of religion is Morality, and the foundation of Morality is Love, Justice and Personal Integrity. How do the heathen compare with us in these directions? We dare not attempt to answer the question—lest we condemn ourselves.

India is a heathen country, and yet in India human life—and the life of every other living thing—is sacred in the people's eyes. The Mohammedan lands are heathen, and yet in all such lands the people eschew strong drink as they would eschew the devil himself.

China is a heathen land, and yet in China a man's word is, generally speaking, as good as a Bank of England note. As a rule, the people speak truth to one another, and deal with each other according to the canons of the strictest honesty.

Nowhere else is human life so cheap as it is in the United States of America. Nowhere else is there such cold-blooded selfishness and brutality in the struggle for life. Nowhere else is civilization such a heartless, unfeeling juggernaut.

With our alleged plethora of preachers and churches we can show, in our New Yorks, Chicagos and Bostones a great deal more misery and wretchedness, brought on by greed and cruelty, than can be found in the great cities of heathendom.

The inhumanity that "makes its thousands mourns" exists here to a much greater extent than it does in the lands where the light of the Gospel has never shone. It is safe to say that there is a hundredfold more drunkenness in America than there is in India or Turkey or Japan, and as for murder, statistics show that there are more homicides in the single city of Chicago every year than there are in all India, with its three hundred millions of population.

In this country, if a man has anything in the way of valuables he must put them in a strong box if he would not have them stolen, while in many places in the heathen lands his valuables would be safe anywhere, the honesty of the people being such that they would never think of molesting that which did not belong to them.

Why, then, this talk of sending our superfluous ministers to the heathen? Let them stay at home, where they are needed, as they are not needed in heathen lands. Christianity is already among the heathen to a much greater extent than it is among ourselves, and what we need is to get our own people to hear the Gospel and live by it.

THE WINE OF TAR, HONEY AND WILD CHERRY, made by The Braid Company Limited, is free from all ingredients that cause unpleasant effects, common to many Cough Remedies, and is a perfectly safe preparation for children and adults. For all Coughs, Irritated Conditions of the Throat, Asthmatic and Bronchial Coughs, Throat and Lung Trouble, Loss of Voice, for Public Speakers and Singers, this preparation is especially valuable. At all dealers. Price, 15 cents for a bottle containing six ounces.

Our Lawrencetown Page

N. B.—It is the wish of the MONITOR that the people in town and vicinity would hand in any items of news, or other matter, that would interest readers of this page, to our correspondent, S. C. Hall.

The MONITOR is on sale each week at the Lawrencetown Post-office. Subscriptions may be sent direct to this office or left at the post-office with Postmaster James.

The meetings last week were well attended.

W. H. Phinney is somewhat improved at time of writing.

John Leck, St. John, was the guest of W. E. Palfrey Sunday.

Mrs. F. B. Bishop gave a party to a number of young people last evening.

Miss Purdy, of Bear River, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Bishop, of Lawrencetown.

Now is the time to buy that incubator you talked of last year. Read S. C. Hall's ad.

Joseph Mailman, Albany, who has been seriously ill, was able to drive into town last Friday.

The announcement is made of the engagement of Horton W. Phinney and Miss Florence Purdy, of Bear River.

The Misses Etta and Grace Whitman, of Ingleville, are spending the winter in Boston visiting relatives and friends.

One of our merchants is taking in between one and two hundred pounds of butter daily, and has a ready market for it all.

C. B. Whitman is recovering from his illness, yet, he is by no means well. His son Crofton returned from St. John on Monday.

We here, were somewhat surprised to see that our council had made a change in the Inspectorship. The public would like to know why?

A hen owned by E. R. Whitman, of Ingleville, was known to lay two eggs in one day, the first egg being laid about 8 a. m., and the last about 5 p. m. Beat that if you can.

Several of the lamps and lantern globes of our street lights have been wilfully broken lately. The party that would do a mean act of this kind should be captured and taught a lesson.

CLARENCE.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Wotton, of Wilmot were guests of Mrs. Alfred Wilson, recently.

Miss Etta Nelly, of Wilmot, is visiting her relatives in this place.

Mrs. H. G. Wilson is spending a week in Brooklyn.

The social held in the vestry on Saturday evening was a success, the proceeds amounting to $18.00.

Harlock Nelly has sold the wood on his property here to the Middleton Clay Working Co. It is being cut and loaded on cars and taken to Middleton over the M. & V. B. Ry.

Clarence Division, No. 366 installed the following officers for the quarter: Fred Banks, W. P.; Mrs. A. J. Wilson, W. A.; A. P. Rumsay, R. S.; Aggie Jackson, A. R. S.; H. G. Wilson, F. S.; F. W. Jackson, Treas.; S. N. Jackson, Chap.; Ralph Williams, Con.; Winnie Banks, A. Con.; Nettie Elliott, I. S.; C. G. Foster, O. S.; A. J. Wilson, P. W. P.

ALBANY.

E. J. Whitman returned from the North-West on the 3rd inst., where he has been teaching for the past two years. He gives a favorable report of the country; says that although the thermometer sometimes runs 40 degrees below zero, yet the weather does not seem to be any colder than in Nova Scotia. Mr. Whitman has purchased a homestead in Saskatchewan and will return this spring.

Miss Annie Paine has gone to Greenwish, where she is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Neary.

63rd Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Palmer, of Wilmot, celebrated their sixty-third wedding anniversary on New Year's day.

The children of the venerable couple present were Isaiah, of Malvern Square, Heminger, of Spa Springs; Charles, of Brooklyn; Mrs. W. M. Sproul, of Clarence, and Avery, of Wilmot. The only member of the family absent was Mrs. Fenwick Nichols, of Lynn, Mass. The guests, comprising the sons and daughters and grand-children numbered twenty-one, and the occasion was one long to be remembered by all. Mr. and Mrs. Palmer are remarkably active for octogenarians, and the hope is heartily expressed by their family and friends that they may enjoy many returns of their wedding anniversary.

HYMENEAL.

MILBERRY-YOUNG.

The little church of St. Peter's-by-the-sea, Young's Cove, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday in last week, when George R., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Milberry, Young's Cove, was united in marriage to Mildred Helena, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Young, of the same place. The church, pretty in itself, was further embellished in the east end with evergreen, and with the letters M. Y. in white standing out prominently. Promptly at the hour appointed the bride entered the church on the arm of her father, who subsequently "gave her away." She was daintily gowned in a dress of white cashmere with lace insertion, and proceeded up the aisle to sweet strains from the organ. The well known Church of England service for the solemnization of matrimony, with all its impressiveness, immediately followed, the rector of the parish, the Rev. E. Underwood, Bridgetown, officiating. At the conclusion of the ceremony, the invited guests to the number of about fifty repaired to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Young, where they tendered their congratulations and good wishes to the newly wedded pair. Supper was then served in most hospitable fashion. The bride and groom are well known in Young's Cove and neighborhood and their many friends are delighted that they are remaining amongst them, being settled on the Edward Milberry homestead, A goodly number of presents testified their popularity.

Additional interest was added to this event from the fact that it is the first church wedding in Young's Cove. St. Peter's-by-the-sea, in the building and equipping of which, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. R. Milberry and their many friends have taken a warm active interest ever since its first inception, was opened for the first service therein on Jan. 1st, 1905, and was consecrated by the present Bishop of Nova Scotia the following June 27th, being the first church of his denomination, and this is the first wedding within its walls.

THOMAS-YOUNG.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mrs. E. L. Frost, 36 Beacon street, Somerville, Mass., Wednesday evening, January 3rd, when Miss Lydia Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Young, of Paradise, was united in marriage to Frederick I. Thomas, of Cambridge, Mass.

The bride was attired in white silk muslin over white silk and carried a bouquet of roses. She was attended by her sister Miss Etta Young, who was gowned in pink silk muslin, and carried a bouquet of daylilies. The bridesmaids were Miss Frances Calahan of Somerville, was best man. The bridal march from Lohengrin was played by Mrs. Marion A. Martineau, of Somerville.

From eight to ten o'clock the newly married couple received the guests in front of a bank of greenery and blue roses. Piano music was furnished and a collation was served. In the adjoining parlor were displayed many valuable presents, including china, silver and cut glass.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas will be at home to their friends at 36 Beacon street, Somerville, after February 1st.

OBITUARY.

EDITH MURIAL NEWCOMB.

A Port Williams correspondent writes: Early Friday morning, Jan. 12th, after a painful illness of five weeks the spirit of Edith Newcomb passed away. In the spring-time of life, beloved by young and old, and giving promise of a womanhood of great usefulness, her early death, at sixteen years and six months, calls forth universal sympathy to her bereaved parents and brother. She will be missed in the church, of which she was a consistent member, in the Bible class and Sabbath school by her friends and classmates, and most of all in the home circle, of which she was the life. The deceased was the only daughter of Newton and Isabel Newcomb, and grand-daughter of the late Robert Fitz Randolph, of Bridgetown.

Boston was the heaviest exporter of apples for the week ending Jan. 6th, with New York second, Halifax third and Portland fourth.

Boston shipped 23,785 barrels, against 26,921 barrels, a year ago. New York shipped 12,054 barrels, against 22,519 for the same week a year ago. Halifax forwarded 4,628 barrels, as compared with 16,187 barrels for the same week a year ago. Portland was fourth on the list with exports of 3,590 barrels, as compared with 23,083 barrels for the same week a year ago. St. John, N. B., was the fifth largest shipper with exports of 1,558 barrels, as compared with 561 barrels for the corresponding week a year ago. The total shipments from all ports for the week includes 45,895 barrels, as compared with 90,511 barrels for the same week a year ago. The shipments from all ports for the season to date have been 1,749,444 barrels, while for the same period a year ago the exports amounted to 1,701,399 barrels.

Annapolis Co. Farmers' Association

At a meeting of the Directors of the Annapolis County Farmers' Association held at Lawrencetown in December last it was decided to hold meetings with all Agricultural Societies that would manifest a desire for such gatherings. The first one was held in South Williamstown with good success.

The Provincial Farmers' Association was asked to send speakers, who will probably come into the County after the close of the short course at Truro. Notice of places and dates will be given as soon as we hear from Mr. Bryan, secretary of P. F. A.

W. W. Woodworth, of Berwick, who has been speaking in Pictou and Kings counties has been engaged to address five meetings in this county on subjects of interest to all farmers, viz.—Clover, Balanced Ration for Stock, Seeds, Orchardling, Soil Moisture, Fertilizer, Cultivation, Value of Feeds, etc.

S. A. Sanford, representing the Kings County Farmers' Mutual Insurance Company will also speak in the interest of that organization. It is hoped that some local talent may be secured.

Directors of the A. C. F. A. are requested to attend these meetings, and all members of Agricultural societies are urged to secure a good attendance and make these meetings a success. Remember places and dates:

Lawrencetown, Thursday evening, Jan. 18th.

West Clarence, Friday evening, Jan. 19th.

Annapolis Royal, Monday evening, Jan. 22nd.

Granville Centre, Tuesday evening, Jan. 23rd.

Upper Granville, Wednesday evening, Jan. 24th.

Mr. Woodworth will probably speak in Clarence East on Saturday.

L. W. ELLOITT, Secretary A. C. F. A.

Teller Banwell Caught at Jamaica.

Detectives Successfully Followed the Crown Bank Absconder on a Long Chase.

Toronto, Jan. 11.—Edwin St. George Banwell, the Crown Bank Toronto, who disappeared on December 9, with a large amount of bank notes, was arrested today in Kingston, Jamaica, by Detective Black, of the Toronto detective department, after a long chase. Although Banwell decamped in company with a young woman, Nora Hector, whom he is known to have subsequently married at Buffalo, all trace of his movements appeared to have been lost. Pinkerton detectives employed on the case discovered a clue in St. Louis. Detective Black left Toronto to follow it up on December 22, and after following the fugitive's movements to Memphis, New Orleans and Havana, finally caught up with him and his wife in Kingston. It is said that nearly all the money he took has been found in his possession. No extradition proceedings are necessary, as Banwell will be prosecuted under the fugitive offenders' act.

A Fisherman's Complaint.

The following is taken from the Halifax Herald.

To the Editor of the Herald: Sir,—In looking over your paper I see quite a number of letters from people stating grievances, so I thought it well to let the public know that the fishermen have. The last two or three years there have been quite a large number of boats added to our fishing fleet. These boats, if tonnage, would be from seven to twelve tons. The deck boats are all tonnage, but the open boats are not tonnage. They all fit out in the spring for the off-shore fishing grounds. The decked boats and the open boats fish on the same fishing ground the whole season through, and if any would suffer more hardship than the other it would be the open boat and crew.

Now let us see where the fishing bounty comes in. The fishing officer will come in the fall and take the claims; in March he will come again with the cheques. The decked boats will get from ten dollars to fifteen dollars (according to tonnage) and the crew will get seven dollars and thirty cents each. The open boat will get the magnificent sum of one dollar and the crew $3.75.

Now if that is doing justice to that class of boats and their crews I fail to see it. Should there not be an amendment to the law that all boats, whether decked or open, from six or seven tons and upward, that fish three or four months on the off shore grounds, should get the same bounty as all other tonnage fishing boats?

Digby Man Dies in Halifax.

Digby, Jan. 11.—Much sympathy is felt for the widow of Loran Turner, who died a few days ago after being operated upon at Halifax for appendicitis. Mrs. Turner had been in delicate health, and upon receiving word of her husband's death became insensible, in which condition she remained for several days. Today she is somewhat improved and hope of her recovery is felt.

McGill's Principal May Go to Chicago.

General Herbert Parker, of Boston, in an interview, says that "sound philosophy underlies Dr. Norton's theory, but that it is too much to hope, or conceive of, that it can ever be put into practice. No law could ever justify the taking of a life, even though it was obviously for the benefit of one whose life was taken, and for that of those associated with him." It would be a strange thing, indeed, to make a doctor judge and a man and his wife jury, as to how long one of them had to live. As the victim would not remain to speak for himself, one might easily have terrible suspicions of one's doctor or of one's family. It would be an usurpation of the divine prerogative. It is a crime for a man to attempt to take his own life, even though he has finally decided for himself that he desires death. Much greater is the crime for anyone to decide that death is desirable for another. The suggestion is one for a return to barbarism when unwelcome babies were exposed to perish and old people were smothered or strangled. It only shows how the doctrine of utilitarianism may be carried to horrible extremes by well-meaning people, who seem to think that, because it is considered humane to put a suffering animal out of pain, it is equally compassionate to treat human beings in the same manner. The sacredness of human life is the very foundation of social order, and even were there no higher consideration, this alone should be sufficient to end the argument.

Dr. William Peterson Spoken of as Successor to the Late Dr. W. R. Harper.

Montreal, Jan. 11.—There is a probability that Dr. William Peterson, of McGill university, will be appointed to succeed the late Dr. Harper, principal of Chicago university, whose death occurred on Tuesday. Although the demise of Dr. Harper is of so recent date his last illness was a long one, and it has been known that the eminent educator could not recover. So the question of a possible successor has been raised from time to time. When asked today whether the report of Dr. Peterson's appointment was correct, Dr. Peterson said: "I have no statement to give out on the matter."

A Startling Proposition.

As usual, when somebody makes a startling proposition in sociology, others are ready to carry the idea to extremes. Thus, Dr. Ouler's famous suggestion for chloroforming the aged has been taken up and given wider application by Dr. Charles Eliot Norton, of Cambridge, Massachusetts, a Harvard professor, Miss Annie S. Hall, of Cincinnati, and Mrs. Maud Bellington Booth. These declare that, on the grounds of humanity, all hopelessly insane persons, or human beings fatally injured, should be killed to hasten success of pain, or misery. A Miss Crozier, of Philadelphia, goes still further and advocates the chloroforming of poor children instead of going to the expense of rearing and educating them. In these astounding propositions so opposed to all law, Divine and human, we have examples of how some people rush to conclusions on the most profound questions. Once admit such a principle and murder would be made easy for those who desired to get rid of relatives they regarded as incumbrances. Nor is it likely the line will be drawn at the insane, the fatally injured, hopelessly diseased, or poor children. Rich persons, whose prospective heirs might think they lingered would become numerous under the hypocritical mantle of humanity. These tender-hearted maniacs have not seen their subject whole, Attorney-

General Herbert Parker, of Boston, in an interview, says that "sound philosophy underlies Dr. Norton's theory, but that it is too much to hope, or conceive of, that it can ever be put into practice. No law could ever justify the taking of a life, even though it was obviously for the benefit of one whose life was taken, and for that of those associated with him." It would be a strange thing, indeed, to make a doctor judge and a man and his wife jury, as to how long one of them had to live. As the victim would not remain to speak for himself, one might easily have terrible suspicions of one's doctor or of one's family. It would be an usurpation of the divine prerogative. It is a crime for a man to attempt to take his own life, even though he has finally decided for himself that he desires death. Much greater is the crime for anyone to decide that death is desirable for another. The suggestion is one for a return to barbarism when unwelcome babies were exposed to perish and old people were smothered or strangled. It only shows how the doctrine of utilitarianism may be carried to horrible extremes by well-meaning people, who seem to think that, because it is considered humane to put a suffering animal out of pain, it is equally compassionate to treat human beings in the same manner. The sacredness of human life is the very foundation of social order, and even were there no higher consideration, this alone should be sufficient to end the argument.

The Annapolis Spectator says: "Annapolis River and Basin promises to be a lively spot with the steamboats in the near future. We already have the Granville and the Bear River, while Digby's new boat is now about ready for sea. A company has just been formed in Bridgetown to build a boat in Bridgetown of the same type to ply between that town and St. John."

A Savannah dispatch says: "Revengeful at being placed in irons by the captain of the Norwegian ship Regent, lying at Sapelo, several members of the crew, after being lacerated, scuttled the crew by boring holes in the bottom. They escaped. The ship will be raised."

Chatham, Jan. 11.—The British barkentine Altoona, loaded with 600 tons of coal, from Elizabethport, N. J., to St. John, N. B., is aground and leaking badly on Shovel Shoal. The S.S. Prince Arthur.

The Havana Post of Sunday, Dec. 24th, for a copy of which Captain A. W. McKinnon, of the D. A. R. liner Prince George has our thanks, contains a lengthy reference to an excursion of newspaper men from the leading cities of the United States to Havana. Of the D. A. R. steamer Prince Arthur which carried the pencil pushers from and to New Orleans the Post says:

The steamship Prince Arthur, which will convey the visitors from and to New Orleans, is already well known to the people of Cuba. The steamboat is one of the fastest passenger steamers on the Atlantic, and the accommodations offered the passengers cannot be surpassed on any waters of the world. Captain Kinney, who is in charge of the ship, is an experienced seaman and makes friends with each and every passenger making a voyage with him. He is a favorite around the water's edge in Havana, and the tourists are always anxious to return on the Prince Arthur when their sight-seeing is over, for they know that they will be assured of all the comforts obtainable—Yarmouth Times.

MARINE NEWS.

The schooner Shaffner Bros., Captain McDonald, went ashore on Gull Rock, three miles southeast of Brier Island at 12.30 p. m. on Thursday. The wind was southeast and very light at the time of the disaster, and as she lies on a dangerous spot, will probably be a total loss. The schooner hails from Annapolis, was built in Clementport in 1894, is 98 feet long and 28 feet beam, ten feet deep and registers 145 tons. She is owned at Louisbourg, N. S., and is in ballast on a voyage from Gloucester, Mass., to Sydney, C. B.

The master of barque J. H. Martens before reported ashore at Spikeroog Island, have been cut away, causing the vessel to rise. Salvage Snow has been a scarce article throughout the Valley this season and the cause is apparent. The British Isles have a corner on the supply and are using it to bury Ballour.

More diseased apples sent to South Africa and naturally there is a big kick coming. It would be interesting to know how many were Valley apples.

The board of trade of St. John is working hard to secure new industries. The board of trade of Bridgetown is welcome to the hint.

This present upheaval in Great Britain's political life is not much out of the ordinary. It happens about every five or six years.

The British Elections.

Gerald Balfour and Walter H. Long Go Down to Defeat.

London, Jan. 15.—The liberal landslide continues. Out of 76 contests today the liberals and laborites together secured 62 seats. The liberal gains today allow the surprising total of 42, while the Unionists gained only one seat, that of Hastings. Two former cabinet officers went down before the storm of liberal sentiment. Gerald Balfour, president of the local government board in the Balfour cabinet, was defeated at Leeds by a majority of 1,069, and Walter Home Long, former chief secretary for Ireland, lost his seat for South Bristol while Augustine Birrell, president of the board of education, defeated the unionist candidate at North Bristol.

Lord Hugh Cecil, leader of the conservative free traders, was defeated at Greenwich, and T. Gibson Bowles, a unionist free trader, lost at King's Lynn, both being opposed by Chamberlains.

Aside from the overwhelming gains by the liberals throughout the country, the immense majorities secured in the turn over are causes of surprise to both sides.

The labor candidates are showing remarkable strength, the total gains of the labor party today being seven, not including one socialist—W. E. Horn—who, at Westham, defeated the unionist candidate, Sir J. G. Hatting, by a majority of 5,090.

The composition of the new parliament up to the present is as follows: Liberals ... 95 Unionists ... 31 Laborites ... 17 Nationalists ... 1

The total liberal gains number 64, the gains made being classed among the liberals.

Twenty-one London districts voted today. Out of these hitherto unionist strongholds the unionists only succeeded in securing five seats. Three members of the new ministry were returned today by strong majorities—Herbert John Gladstone, secretary for home affairs; president of the board of education Birrell, and James Bryce, chief secretary for Ireland. The attorney-general, Sir J. Lawson Walton, also received a large majority. Among the unionists who retained their seats were H. O. Arnold-Forster, former secretary of war, at Croydon, and Sir Howard Vincent, at Sheffield. Newcastle-on-Tyne only voted for two seats today, but the returns were not declared tonight. These seats hitherto gave unionist majorities, but it is predicted that the vote will be close, and both are likely to be returned over the liberals.

The announcement of the re-election of Sir George Doughty, unionist, for Great Grimsby, with a majority of 2,300, an increase of 550 over the result of the last contest, in 1898, proved a welcome pick-me-up to the unionists, who were somewhat panicky after Saturday's landslide. A number of unopposed returns were made this morning, the most notable being Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman in Sterling district; Timothy M. Healy, Irish nationalist, North Louth, and Joseph Devlin, Irish nationalist, North Kilkenny.

London, Jan. 17.—The British elections up to and including yesterday show the following results: Liberals ... 127 Unionists ... 54 Labor ... 28 Nationalists ... 88

Meeting of the Tariff Commission at Middleton.

Pursuant to a request of the Middleton board of trade, delegates from a number of boards of trade, and other representative bodies, in the Valley from Kentville to Digby, met together at Morrison's hall in Middleton, on Monday evening last, to arrange a program of the various matters to be laid before the tariff commission on the following day. After the meeting had been called to order, a discussion took place as to the best mode of procedure, when it was decided that committees consisting of those representing the various interests, should be formed to decide upon the several matters to be brought before the commission, and upon their reports, a program was to be made up of the subjects to be discussed and the names of the gentlemen who were to address the commission, and support the various subjects assigned to them.

The meeting having adjourned the different committees got to work, and upon their reports being handed in, the following program was made up, viz: (a) The propriety of increasing the duty on fresh fish.

(b) To place gasoline on the free list.

Mr. Jamieson, town clerk of Digby, was assigned to represent these matters before the commission. 2.—Manufactures: Under this head there was only one subject for presentation, viz., an application from Mr. Reec, of Bear River, proprietor of the Nictaux Granite quarries, who desired to have the duty on "granite finished and polished, and manufactured into tombstones and monuments," imported from Scotland, increased from 35 per cent. to 50 per cent. which, with the preference allowed, would make the net duty 33 1/2 per cent. Mr. John Ervin, of Bridgetown, was assigned to represent this industry, and press its claims to increased protection before the commission.

3.—The farming and fruit growing interest. This being a very large subject, and embracing a great number of propositions, the most prominent being that the present duty on fruit be maintained; that the duty on agricultural implements be reduced to one-half; that the duty on commercial fertilizers be taken off and placed on the free list, also cornmeal be placed on the free list; also that gasoline, which is coming into use as a motive power in farming operations, be placed on the free list, and incidentally the subject of transportation, and express charges on fruit was given an airing.

The following gentlemen were assigned the duty of placing these matters before the commission: Colonel Shippey Spurr, Ralph Messenger, Ralph Eaton, S. G. Craker.

The commissioners, Hon. Mr. Fielding, Hon. Mr. Patterson, Hon. Mr. Brooker arrived on the express train from Halifax yesterday morning at 11:30 o'clock, and immediately convened at Morrison's hall, where the program was taken up, and the hearing of the arguments to the commissioners proceeded with.

The sitting of the commission was largely attended and all present were much interested in the discussions, the commissioners having charmed every one present by their urbanity, and their evident desire to do full justice to the subjects brought before them. After the program was gone into, and every subject fully discussed, Mr. G. C. Miles, of Middleton, in a neat speech referring in complimentary terms to the patient and interested hearing given by the commissioners to the various interests represented, moved a vote of thanks to the commissioners. This was seconded by Mr. J. M. Owen, of Annapolis, and being enthusiastically endorsed by those present, was replied to by Mr. Fielding, the chairman of the commissioners, and the session then adjourned.

Religious Activities.

To the Editor: Dear Sir,—I note with gratification that there has been a column especially set apart in the Monitor to be devoted to religious matters. I wish personally to thank you for this movement in the right direction. There are many people in the community who are unable through infirmity or old age to be present in the respective churches on the Lord's day, and to them it is a pleasure to have an abstract of the sermons that are delivered in the different pulpits in the town. While it is true that in the distinctively religious papers that come to their home they may find good religious food, nevertheless it is a pleasure to them to have an idea of what their own pastors are saying in the home churches. I feel that the editor is conferring a favor upon such in the new department.

We are passing at the present time through a season of almost world wide religious revival. Thousands of the most intelligent and upright people throughout the world hail this fact with delight. Many are praying that the wave of revival power may spread until every church throughout the broad earth shall be quickened into new activity. Do we not need this in our own community? Should not Christian people not only pray but begin to labor more zealously to this end. I have been feeling that the time has come to make some special efforts in this direction in the church of which I am the pastor. Tonight we begin a series of services. These will be continued during the remaining evenings of the week in the vestry of the church, and then next week, beginning on Tuesday evening and continued until further notice.

FARM FOR SALE

We are offering for sale that valuable and well known farm belonging to the estate of the late F. E. Miller. It is situated in Ganville about two and one half miles below Bridgetown on the Post Road. It is well watered by windmill appliances, has good buildings and has about twenty acres of good marsh. Cuts about seventy-five tons of good hay. The orchard is capable of yielding 400 barrels of good fruit with a number of small trees just coming into bearing.

Intending purchasers can apply to Mrs. F. E. Miller, on the premises, or to Oliver S. Miller, Bridgetown. OLIVER S. MILLER, Executor of the Estate. Bridgetown, Jan. 5th, 1906.

I would like to see all the churches in the town take a month or six weeks for this kind of work for I believe that such a course would result in a wider interest than can possibly be brought about by the efforts of but one church. I wish to ask the co-operation as far as possible, and the prayers of all Christian people for a season of spiritual refreshing in the town and country around from the presence of the Lord. Wishing the new management all success, I remain, Sincerely yours, E. E. DALEY.

Local and Special News.

The average citizen learns more facts through his newspapers in a day than he learned from his public speakers in a month.—Prof. Hadley, of Yale University. The publication of the minutes of the Municipal Council has crowded our columns to such an extent that several of the usual departments and also the sermon, are crowded out this week. The Ladies' Baptist Sewing Circle was successfully organized yesterday at the home of Mrs. W. E. Reed, with the following officers: President, Mrs. W. E. Reed, secretary, Miss Mersereau. Fifteen members were enrolled. The next meeting will be at Mrs. J. E. Lloyd's on Thursday of next week. An important business change which has taken place during the last few days was the retirement of Fred E. Bath from the firm of Graves & Bath, vintner manufacturers, and the acquisition of the interest formerly held by him by Captain J. W. Salter. The firm will in future be known as M. W. Graves & Company. The factory is situated on the line of the M. & N. B. railway, near the station and the high grade of goods manufactured has won good words wherever introduced. Last year the output was in the neighborhood of 100,000 gallons, and it is likely that the present year will show a substantial increase. The new firm starts out with the best of prospects and, it is hoped, will prove a success.

PERSONAL.

Milford Losses Valuable Teacher.

(Milford Daily Journal, Jan. 12th.) Supt. Halsey received this morning the formal resignation of Miss Harriet F. Morton, the science teacher in the Milford high school, to take effect Friday, Jan. 26. Miss Morton goes to Chicopee at a salary of $800. Miss Morton has been an earnest, faithful and most capable instructor in the Milford high school since her election in 1900 and her place will be very difficult to fill. Her salary in Milford has been $650. A sub-committee of the school committee of Chicopee came here last Monday and such was their satisfaction with what they saw and learned that the result of their report was Miss Morton's election by the Chicopee school board on Wednesday evening. A special meeting of the Milford school board will be held very soon to arrange for election of a successor.

What Others Say.

(Evening Times, St. John.) The Times has received the first issue of the Bridgetown Monitor under its new management by Jas. J. Wallis. It contains admirable reviews of the year's prosperity in farming, industry, stock and general trade in that section, tells of Bridgetown's factories, the new buildings, erected, and other valuable news about the town. There are agricultural and household departments, local and district news, special late news by wire, a short story, a sermon, and well selected general news. If succeeding issues keep the pace set by the first one the Bridgetown Monitor will be a veritable magazine of valuable information for its readers.

What Others Say.

(The Yarmouth Times.) The Bridgetown Monitor, always one of the best weeklies in the province, is now under the management of Mr. J. J. Wallis, formerly on the staff of The Times and later with the Halifax Herald. Mr. Wallis is an experienced newspaper man and under his supervision the Monitor should continue to occupy a prominent position in the Valley. A town is frequently judged by its newspapers, and taking that view of it The Times has no hesitation in saying that Bridgetown must be an enterprising place.

BEAR RIVER.

Mr. and Mrs. Judson Chute returned from Bridgetown Friday. "Evangeline Bink" is well patronized under the management of C. F. McDonald.

Friday night sneak thieves entered the home of Orlando Ford, but something alarmed them and they left without any "swag." They had secured furs worth $150, but in their hurried flight left these just outside the window.

Rupert A. Harris met with a painful accident Saturday in George T. Tupper's mill, the fingers of his left hand coming in contact with a live circular saw, lacerating all four fingers quite badly, but fortunately he will not lose any of them.

The Board of Trade met in their rooms Tuesday evening, 9th inst. Some routine business was transacted, but owing to the absence of several committees, the attendance being small, the meeting adjourned until Tuesday, Jan. 23rd inst.

Another case of sneak thieving within the past few days. Some party or parties stole several coils of rope from the deck of the schooner Josephine. One of these days the guilty party or parties will land in the lock-up, and the time may not be far off.

LOWER GRANVILLE.

The annual donation party in the interest of the Methodist preacher was held at the residence of Wm. Van Blarcom, Esq., on Wednesday evening last and a most enjoyable occasion it was. $94 was handed to Rev. Mr. Kinney and $8 to Mrs. Kinney.

The Episcopal friends held an ice cream sale at the residence of Mrs. Libbie Bogart on Thursday evening and realized $4.50 towards the church funds.

James Morrison, Sr., has been confined to his house with a carbuncle on his neck. Mrs. Edwin Ryder, Sr., has been very ill with pneumonia.

BELLEISLE.

Mrs. A. W. D. Parker is visiting her friend, Mrs. Foshay, at Bridgewater. When returning she will stop off for a week at Niagara to visit her daughter, Mrs. Frederick Chipman.

The Misses Louise and Georgie Roop, and Miss Sadie Edwards, of Annapolis Royal, are visiting relatives here. Miss Beatrice Barnes, of Bridgetown, is with her sister, Mrs. Abner D. Troop.

Please don't forget the cake and pie social to be held in Belleisle hall on Monday evening, the 22nd inst. Fifteen cents pays for you and the entertainment is thrown in. The ladies will serve ice cream during the evening. Do not miss it. Just the place to come and have a good time. Proceeds to wipe off debt on hall.

Jermel F. Loughey showed your correspondent a beautiful bed spread presented to him on New Year's day by his mother who is 81 years of age. She made it all herself. It is indeed a fine piece of work and reflects much credit upon the handwork of a lady of her advanced age.

Miss Rhoda Genser who has been visiting relatives in New Brunswick, is at home again. Miss Avis Genser is with her grandmother, Mrs. R. L. Hardwicke at Annapolis Royal.

Those who were doubtful if an auxiliary fishing schooner for Bay of Fundy fishing would prove a profitable investment, are now obliged to admit that this style of vessel is just what is required. They will also find that the Wilfrid L. Snow will have even a greater advantage during the moderate weather which prevails throughout the summer season. The new vessel was only in commission 28 days during which time she stocked $1,928.00, her highest dorymen, Albert Ellis and Ira Haynes, of Victoria Beach clearing $230.00. She is now hauled up for the winter months at Messrs. Syda & Cousins' wharf. It is rumored that the Alyona and other fishing vessels will be fitted with a gasoline or kerosene motor next season.—Digby Courier.

DEEP BROOK.

Walter Parry returned from Boston last Saturday where he has been visiting friends. The chief object of the day. Every Tuesday evening some quiet household is unexpectedly turned into a scene of merrymaking. We hear that in some cases, macons and carpenters have to visit the house the next day.

Some members of the choir of the Church of England and Baptist churches have formed an Oratorio society. The chief object of the Sunday evening sessions being the singing of favorite hymns and anthems, while the week night meetings will be devoted largely to practicing new anthems, quartettes, songs, etc.

McClanahan Bros., harvested the first cutting of ice last Friday. Chas. T. Harris is getting out a frame for a new barn. Quite a number are preparing to cut timber to be sawn into shingles.

The Girl.

"Before we can sympathize with others, we must have suffered ourselves." No one can realize suffering attendant upon an attack of the grip, unless he has had the actual experience. There is probably no disease that causes so much physical and mental agony, or which so successfully defies medical aid. All danger from the grip, however, may be avoided by the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy, not one case has ever been reported that has resulted in pneumonia or that has not recovered. For sale by S. N. Wear.

The North Sydney Herald says—"That there is considerable superstition yet in this enlightened age may be gathered from an accident which occurred a few days ago at No. 3 Colliery Sydney Mines. A well-known Sydney Mines doctor was treating a female patient for a nervous affliction of the face. The trouble was a common one and the patient was progressing satisfactorily. However, a neighbor in the ordinary course of events, called upon the sufferer and advised a new mode of treatment. The elixir suggested was the blood of a member of a certain family. That member resided in North Sydney in the person of a well known teamster. He was quickly summoned and of course responded. He went to the afflicted home, and with but a little ceremony, as possible, secured his hand with a needle and sucked a supply of his own gore sufficient to answer the purpose. The blood was applied to the affected part, and after it had dried sufficiently a coat of ink was administered. The healing virtue, however, is believed to be in the blood, but all ink contains an acid which is used by medical men in nervous affections, similar to the case in question, and it would not be surprising if the patient was accordingly cured. It is not an uncommon superstition in the country districts not far from North Sydney, that the members of two families contain in their blood the great cure-all, and this is not the only instance of its rather peculiar application."

Following is the number, by provinces, of latent freezers in operation: Nova Scotia, 26; New Brunswick, 1; Prince Edward Island, 5; Quebec, 2. Now building, Nova Scotia, 5; Quebec, 3. Arrangements have been made for one at Digby for 800 tons, and one at Lunenburg of the same type.

By the will of the late Senator Church it is devised that after the death of his widow, his property is to be sold, and the proceeds to be used for the purchase of a public park in his native town, Chester. In the event of the proceeds not being sufficient for such park, the proceeds are to be invested for ten years, and at the expiration of that period the park is to be purchased and laid out for the use of the public. It is stated that the estate is worth in the vicinity of $20,000.

throughout the building became loose and had to be repaired. Various parts of the building have received a much needed coat of paint. Looks like there have been nearly all the doors taking but one key to unlock all. Previously each lock had a different key, causing a great deal of delay in getting into the various rooms. In case of an emergency serious results might have resulted.

There are many items under this heading that might be mentioned, though reference will be made to but a few. If any deficiency exists the difficulties can only be properly understood by those who have to deal with them daily.

The Institution, though second to none in the province, could be made more efficient by a little expenditure. Very often we are obliged to hold several destructive or violent patients for a time. It is for these that strong dormitories are required. Councils consisting of course, wire should be placed over the windows and some of the present doors replaced by stronger ones.

As this seems to be the only Institution other than the Nova Scotia Hospital for the care of the harmless insane and nervous cases, several councils have sent their patients to us as well as private parties, several applications have been refused owing to lack of room.

It is necessary that another building or annex be erected if we wish to continue the admission of private patients in fact Council patients.

I would suggest that a wooden building be erected near the present one, such building to be occupied by all the staff, and a few of the best patients. The rooms now occupied by the staff could be utilized for holding services in for the patients and for amusement, etc.

The service as the present building has no room large enough for that purpose. The Institution is in need of a night watch as various instances call for such. Very often patients through sickness must be watched at night by the day staff, and as the duties of the day call for their continual attention, it becomes a very trying ordeal to them. It is almost needless to mention other facts why a night watch is needed.

The work asylum seems to be in the minds of the patient and relatives a very desirable one, and it becomes our duty to moderate it. We can do so by converting the word asylum into County Hospital. The patients would feel more reconciled to their confinement.

The supply of milk is insufficient; we should have at least four or five cows when we have more barn room; the present barn must soon be replaced by a new one, the building under that name is in such a state of decay, due first to its peculiar construction, and second to its age, that it would be a waste of time and money to attempt on it even moderate repairs.

The doors of the Hospital are open to all visitors who are anyways interested in the Institution. I regret that there are a few who visit for mere curiosity, showing no sympathy for the inmates, but make just at their actions. Their class will be reduced admission. Our patients are not on exhibition, hence the refusal of curious seekers.

DONATIONS. Cut flowers, Mrs. G. E. DeWitt; magazines, H. W. Cain, Rev. Mr. McDonald and Y. M. C. A. It is needless to say that the patients appreciate the above.

Papers—Weekly Monitor. This paper is eagerly sought for by many of the county patients who enjoy the perusal of its contents. A handsome gift in the way of an organ was presented to the Institution. Too much cannot be said of the cheer it gives our inmates; of the liberality and the sympathy shown to our inmates by the donor. I regret that the donor's name cannot be mentioned as the party wishes to remain anonymous in the matter.

A handsome flag was presented to the Institution by S. W. W. Pickup, M. P., while warden of the Council. Mr. Pickup took a deep interest in the welfare of the patients in our institutions and though he resigned his position as Warden, to take up a more responsible one he still continues to give his liberal support to the best interests of our patients.

Last year the friends were very liberal in helping to make Christmas pleasant for our inmates this year. We wish to repeat the same and I have the assurance that friends will come to our assistance as freely as in previous years. The Warden, W. G. Clarke has already come to our rescue by giving a liberal amount.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS. To Mr. F. Fitch, the valuable and indefatigable chairman of the committee, recognition is not only due for his constant care and attention since his inception of that office, but for his assistance and good counsel in time of need. The greater part of the management and improvements of the Hospital are due to Mr. Fitch. Thankful recognition is due the attending physicians for their kindness and professional attention to the inmates of this institution.

I wish to extend my most hearty thanks to the Warden, W. G. Clarke, who like his predecessor, is ever ready to lend a helping hand to the best interests of the county, and the welfare of the inmates of our institutions.

We are indebted to the Rev. Dr. Jost, who is ever ready to respond when his services are required. We wish further to express appreciation of the kindness shown by Mrs. Jost, who has helped with the singing in connection with the services held here and who is never forgetful in many other acts of kindness.

It is the desire of the Superintendent here to gratefully acknowledge the encouragement and good counsel given him by the committee and the devotion to duty by the faithful work of the employees.

The faithful discharge of the duties assigned to the male and female attendants, John Myers and Miss Annie Pettigrew, deserve recognition. They have been in our employ for upwards of two years and during that time I have found them to be industrious and trustworthy.

May I be permitted to express to you gentlemen, my thanks for the kindness and attention which you have always shown me personally, and for the ready and hearty manner with which you have ever been willing to receive and discuss any matter relating to the duties of my office to which I have asked your attention.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen, Your obedient servant, ALFRED F. HILTZ, Superintendent.

Upon reading the petition of Herbert L. Steadman and upwards of twenty others, freeholders of the County of Annapolis, asking for the opening of the Pound Road, so called, across the properties known as the Snow property, on the south side of said road as far as east line of the Snow property, it was ordered that the prayer of said petition be granted and that Commissioners be appointed to take such further action as prescribed by statute.

Commissioners—Edwin Gates, Charles B. Dargie and Robert Hardwick. Upon reading the report of the Committee on Finance the same was on motion received and adopted.

The following is the report: To the Warden and Councilors of the Municipality of Annapolis County, now in session: Your Finance Committee beg to report that they have carefully examined all bills and accounts placed in their hands for the year 1905 and have attached same hereto. They desire to call the attention of all persons interested to the fact that under the law all bills must be in the hands of the Clerk thirty days before the Annual Session July 1st.

This provision is only partially recognized this year with the result of materially increasing the work of your committee and delay in the presentation of their report. It is the intention of your committee to have the same continued on page 8.

The Late Captain Munro. (Yarmouth Herald.) On the evening of the 13th of last month the sad intelligence was received at Bridgetown of the death of Captain N. V. Munro, Capt. Munro was in charge of the ship Canada, which was loading at Pensacola, Florida, at the time of his death. After bringing his ship into port he was attacked with typhoid fever and after suffering for some time passed away on the evening of the 13th of December. His body was embalmed and brought to his home in Bridgetown, N. S., where it was interred in the family lot by the side of other members of his family. Mrs. Munro, who was Miss Della Robbins, daughter of Captain S. B. Robbins, formerly of Yarmouth, was with her husband at the time of his death. She had accompanied him upon his last voyage. Captain Sailer, his brother-in-law, who was in port at New York, was summoned to the bedside and ministered to the sufferer until life had ceased, and then accompanied Mrs. Munro and the body to Nova Scotia.

The Franco-German Situation. The Kaiser May Raise Some Irritating Questions at Moroccan Conference. London, Jan. 13.—Official and unofficial circles in Great Britain do not consider the Franco-German situation serious. It is true that the reports emanating from France had a slight effect on the stock market, but this was only temporary. The British government is going on with the arrangements for the Moroccan conference and while it is admitted that Germany may raise questions which will cause irritation, it is not believed that this will prevent the conference from arriving at a final and satisfactory settlement.
