ACADIA EVENING AT PARADISE

Play Put on, "Lure of Acadia," Written by Mrs. Ritchie Elliott.—Social and Personal Items.

Paradise.—An Acadia evening was given in the Church Vestry, Nov. 4th, when a short play entitled, "The Lure of Acadia," was put on by the writer, Mrs. Ritchie Elliott. The following is a copy of interpretation.—"The Lure of Acadia" presents as its heroine, Christine Lee, only daughter of a widow. She is a girl of quick intelligence, with a remarkable talent and passionate love for music. Her mother has repeatedly endeavored to persuade her daughter to enter Acadia Seminary, but without success. Being a wise mother she does not command Christine in the matter, but trusts for a turn of events which will cause her to enter willingly the institution. Christine possesses a noble heart but she has, since graduation from High School, one pet ambition, "a good time." She indulges in all modern slang, and gets fun out of all occasions. Her mother entertains a missionary, whose description of a musical recital given by a former graduate of Acadia, decides Christine to yield to her mother's wish and enter the Seminary. She enters, graduates and plans a big musical career, but is turned aside from this by the finding of a tract, presenting the need for medical missionaries in India. She consecrates her life to this need and the play closes with a service of farewell given in her honor in the old home church which service is presided over by her pastor, the Rev. Dr. Wood."

The cast was:—Mrs. Lee, Mrs. W. H. Robinson; Christine Lee, Miss Marjorie Morse; Edward Lee, Mr. Karl Starratt; Miss Longe, Miss Longe; Mrs. Mary Mercer; Miss Helen Starratt; Professor Von Bront, Mr. E. G. Morse; Rev. Dr. Good, Mr. H. W. Longley. Others assisting Mrs. Elliott were Mr. H. A. Longley who read the poem entitled, "How Acadia College was Built Without Money" by D. O. Parker, and found in a scrap book owned by Mrs. N. G. Banks. A reading entitled, "Bethoven's Moonlight Sonata," was given by Miss Eleanor Longley. Excellent music was sung by Mrs. Ralph Beard, Mr. H. W. Longley and Mr. E. G. Morse. The pastor, W. S. Smith, gave a ten minute address on "The Influence of Acadia upon the student and community life of Paradise and West Paradise." Mr. Smith referred also the contributions that this community has made to Acadia College, especially noting the services of Hon. Avar Longley (father of Mr. H. A. Longley and Mr. H. W. Longley) who for nineteen years was a member of the Board of Governors of Acadia in days of special effort and struggle.

The financial returns of the evening amounted to nearly $300. The remains of the late Mrs. Ritzen Marshall, formerly of this place but for some years a resident of Keen, N. H., was brought here Nov. 7th for interment in the Paradise Cemetery. Funeral services were held in the church, which was appropriately decorated by the Women's Missionary Society of which Mrs. Marshall was a life member. During their days of active christian influence in this place, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall made a lasting impression for good upon the life of the church and community. The clock and responsive reading books are among their gifts to the church.

Our community extends its deepest sympathy to the friends who mourn the loss of this much beloved mother. The Women's Missionary Society

REAL JAPANESE MEETING AT MRS. F. E. BATHS WITH APPROPRIATE SETTING—MISS JOST CONDUCTS SERVICE.

On Tuesday evening of last week at the regular monthly meeting of the W. M. S. of Gordon-Providence United Church nearly sixty members of the W. M. S. Alcorn Mission Circle and visitors gathered at the home of Mrs. Fred E. Bath.

After opening and roll call, responsive bible verses containing the words "thanks" or "Thanksgiving" were given, expressing gratitude to the Divine Father for all his goodness during the past year.

A special collection was taken for the "Best Funds" the object of which was explained by Mrs. B. Duncan.

Mrs. Frank Fowler moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. Fred Bath for opening her home on this occasion and for the preparation of the Japanese room, to Mr. Bath for radio selections while the members were assembling.

At the end of the dining room was a softly lighted room void of furniture but well supplied with cushions, and deeply carpeted. In it a charcoal fire was burning and a tea service was in evidence.

Miss Newcomb and Mrs. Harry Magee were at each door in Japanese costume. Miss Harriett Jost received each one entering and a real Japanese W. M. S. was held like those in Kanazawa months ago, hymns were sung and real christian experiences given as at Kanazawa but in English by two of the ladies. At the close Miss Jost served tea and Mr. and Mrs. Bath were "At Home" to all.

Before the gathering dispersed a vote of thanks was moved to Miss Jost by the President of the W. M. S., Mrs. J. C. Dalrymple, expressing the pleasure felt by all from the meeting.

FRANK PIGOTT HAS NARROW ESCAPE WHEN RIFLE DISCHARGES.

Frank Pigott of West Paradise, had a most narrow escape from fatal shooting a couple of days ago when he was beating the bush for a rabbit. It appears he had the rifle a twenty-two cocked and in pushing the butt under a bush the weapon discharged, the bullet going through his left leg below the thigh and passing into his right. Wonderful to relate the bullet in its passage broke no bone, inflicted no injury to muscle nor did it break any blood vessel. Mr. Pigott will, it is thought, be laid up for only a week.

Glouce Bay.—Just a week ago Mrs. J. Quan, 90, left the home of her daughter, Mrs. Alex. Matheson, New Aberdeen to visit her son James Quan MacLeod's crossing Reserve. Because of her great age Mrs. Quan is naturally very feeble.

In addition there were readings by little Lydia Hopkins and by her mother, Mrs. M. Hopkins. Vocal solos by Mr. Charles Wheeler and by Miss Belyea of St. John, who is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Miss Violet Gillis returned from Greenwich, Conn., in Oct. and will spend the winter with her parents at home.

A touch of winter and the first real snowstorm of the season came to us on the 3rd. At time of writing it is again mild and summer-like.

Our annual Thanksgiving reminds us of the final gathering of the various and kindly fruits of the earth. Our vast Dominion rejoices in full store houses and the outlook generally is hopeful. For all these continued blessings let us give thanks.

DOCTOR PRESCRIBES MOIRS

A druggist in Moncton noticed that one of the nurses in the hospital there was buying cream centred chocolates every day. Inquiry revealed that these were for a patient who had been operated on for appendicitis and stomach trouble. After the operation the doctor prescribed chocolates as the best means of obtaining a sufficient supply of sugar in his diet, orders being given to give him a half pound daily. When his wife noticed this she volunteered to buy the chocolates. She was instructed by the nurse to buy Moir's Chocolates. Though the man's diet is increased and more varied now that he is up and around, he still takes his Moir's Chocolates regularly.

THE COUNTRY WEEKLY.

(The Farmers' Sun.)
During the American Civil War President Lincoln used to find relief from the terrible strain of his official duties by telling funny stories or swapping gossip about his friends "back home." A British writer tells us that Ramsay MacDonald likes nothing better than a pipe and an hour's gossip about old friends and neighbors. The word "gossip" has suffered at the hands of people with sharp tongues and long ears but wholesome gossip—a kindly but not inquisitive interest in the doing of one's neighbors—helps to make life more pleasant and deserves no censure. Perhaps the best medium for odds and ends of personal information of this sort is the country weekly, and no doubt when Ramsay MacDonald has no visitor from Scotland to tell him the news he eagerly scans the column of the Looismouth Weekly.

Just as the element of personal rumour has passed out of our politics, one finds in looking through old files of the country weeklies that today editors do not publish the type of personal items that used to add spice to the paper's columns but which engendered hard feelings and sometimes ended in blows. The change may in part be due to the fact that in the earlier days many rural centres boasted two weeklies which reflected the bitter personalities of the political area. Today the majority of rural districts are served by one weekly. The interests of the whole neighborhood are now considered paramount to furthering the interests of cliques who happened to be in the good graces of the editor. Local news and local improvement hold first place in most of the Ontario country weeklies, and with this field to cover they play an important part in the life of the province.

SPEND THE DOLLARS AT HOME.

Under the above caption, Frederickton Mail says editorially:—"Did you ever stop to figure what you would have in the bank if you had been able to keep a small part—say a twentieth—of every dollar you ever spent? An interesting exercise in arithmetic for those who like it, you say; but you, as a sensible person, don't purpose to throw away perfectly good time puzzling over money that can never return."

You are quite right. You cannot call back the dollars that are spent. But you can—in the future—spend your dollars in a manner that will bring a part of each one back to you. If you ask how this is possible, here is the answer.

Do you see that tall chimney whose nearness to your home has so often distressed you? The owners of that chimney and of the factory which it shows pay taxes in your town. The people they employ pay taxes, also—directly or indirectly. The workers, and perhaps the owners, too, spend the bulk of their money in your community, when they have it to spend, and some of the money they spend gets around to you. You may not be a merchant, receiving their money over your counter and ringing it up on your cash register. But there is a large probability that you receive some of it, even if it has to go "all round Robin Hood's barn" in reaching you. If you don't somehow find your property strengthened or increased when the workers beneath that chimney are fully employed at good wages, then it is because some of them—like you—have been indifferent about spending their dollars near home; where you would benefit, and where they, as spenders, could get back a share of what they spent."

FOES IN FRANCE.

London Daily Chronicle: It is not only in their Press and their theatres that the French must abandon the habits of the last four or five years; if the new Entente is to become a reality, as the old was. During that period the whole force of official French propaganda abroad has been working against us—often with considerable results. We owe to it a large proportion of the troubles which have confronted us in the Near East, in Egypt, and in our mandated territories.

THE CULT OF COMMERCIALISM.

The Villager (New York): We wish we could think that what society is experiencing today is but the after-effect of the Great War; that this was so, then all we should need to "do about it" would be to hold fast until the disturbed waters settled into calm again; time would be on the right side. Our fear is that time is not on the right side. We do not think society is today merely in the dirty backwash of the war. We believe reality is today only just beginning to realize the programme on which it embarked more than a century and a half ago.

CHANGE NOT NECESSARILY GOOD.

Natal Advertiser: When America is really dry and every pipe and every tobacco pouch has been thrown into the sea—naturally, outside the six-mile limit—it may well be found that the world is no better and the people no happier. Even now there are some who profess a predilection for a pipe over a packet of chewing gum, and in those days of self-denial it may come to be realized to be a virtue, pushed to excess, ceases to be a virtue, and becomes a vice. We should hesitate to range ourselves on the side of those who claim that everything is for the best in the best of all possible worlds, but, at the same time, it is necessary that steps should be taken to dispute the view that change is good just because it is change. Being in the frying pan is far from pleasant, but one gets no relief by jumping into the fire.

LESSON FOR POLITICIANS.

(From the Boston Herald.)

A politician might take a lesson from the careless act of the good housewife who, newly established in her new home, resolved to make some dumplings. This design she carried into execution. The dumplings were made and molded. But alas they came forth a soggy and abhorrent mass. The woman, being discreet though newly married, forebore to test her husband's devotion by such hazardous and heroic means. She slipped out the back door and dumped the dumplings where, she thought, none would ever find them and where their power for danger was nil. She threw them into the duck pond. An hour later she was called to the door by a rapping. On the doorstep stood a small boy. "Lady," he said, "your ducks have sunk."

There would be fewer political eclipses if politicians were less indiscreet, and if their comprehension of a situation were keener than it is.

ten is. There are wise men in politics who never make mistakes; but they are few. To see clearly, to follow wise instructions—these are assets for the political climber. He was no politician who undertook, with his woefully limited intelligence to carry out the doctor's directions regarding the medicine. The doctor poked him and prodded him, and at last gave him a little box of pills. "These will help you," he said to the patient. "Try one tonight when you go to bed. If you can keep it on your stomach it will help you." The following day he met his patient and asked him if the pill had helped him any. "No," said the patient, "but I am going to try it again tonight. I kept it on my stomach all night until I fell asleep. But then I rolled over and the pill fell off."

SHIRT SLEEVES DIPLOMACY.

The Australasian: Ever since the conclusion of the war the world has been learning a lesson in international politics which we hope will not be soon forgotten. We were told by the "spellbinder" politicians that "the old diplomacy" was at an end. They were going to inaugurate a new era. The simple result has been that no peace settlement since the close of the Thirty Years War in 1648 has been the subject of so many calamitous blunders as was that of 1918-9. If the management of the Versailles conference had been left in the hands of skilled diplomatists, men accustomed to negotiation and careful to explore the ground before they formulated their terms, it is extremely unlikely that they would have fashioned an unworkable instrument. It is notorious that expert advice was heeded. The rhetoricians wanted to paint placards and be photographed in picturesque attitudes

RUSSIA HAD IN WAR.

General Alexander S. Lukomsky, who was assistant minister of war and chief of staff of the commander-in-chief of the Russian army during the war, contributed to the London Times an article on "The Forgotten Army" in which he shows the important part played by the Russians in the early years of the Great War. He says among other things:

The vigorous offensive of the Russians in East Prussia in August, 1914, compelled the German High Command to transfer to the Russian front two Army Corps from the shock troops marching on Paris. According to the admission of the French High Command this contributed greatly to the Allied victory on the Marne and, consequently, to the saving of France during the first period of the campaign.

The victory of the Russian Army over the Austrians in 1914 likewise compelled the German High Command to transfer considerable forces from their Western front to the Russian front.

The stubborn and hard struggle on the Russian front in the course of 1915 also greatly relieved the French and British.

The so-called "Brusiloff Offensive" on the Russian South-Western front in 1916 completely shattered the might of the Austro-Hungarian Army and saved Italy.

Lastly, in the spring of 1917, the old Russian Army held back on its front 187 enemy divisions out of a total of 381 at the disposal of the Central Powers; that is to say, 49 per cent. of all the forces of the enemy operating on the European and Asiatic fronts.

The "Brusiloff Offensive" on the South-Western Russian front, in the spring of 1916, which ended in the crushing defeat of the Austro-Hungarian Army (with the capture of about 500,000 men and more than 200 guns), began with the breaking of the Austro-Hungarian front by the 32nd Infantry Division in the direction of Cernowitz and the 4th Rifle Division in the direction of Lutsk.

Fighting in the Caucasus.

The Caucasian Mountains, too, had their quota of Russian blood spilled in the cause of the Allies. Let us recall here the last days of that extremely severe winter of 1916-17. It had been a very hard winter for the Corps of General Baratoff, which now once more was displaying much excitement. An order, it was said, had come from the Headquarters of the Supreme Commander-in-Chief to send several "sovnias" of Cossacks to Mesopotamia, to reconnoitre the roads and establish a liaison with the British; also, it was said, a large force would be sent later to unite with the British in that part of the world. Before the order could be carried out it was necessary to wait for the snow to melt and drive off the Turks who had been facing this corps since the autumn. Finally, the order was given to advance against the Turks. Contact with the enemy had been lost during the winter in some sectors. In one of these sectors the advancing Russians saw a gruesome spectacle. In caves and dugouts were the rigid corpses of entire Turkish detachments. These poor fellows, cut off by the impassable snow from their food and fuel bases, had perished of

TO CALIFORNIA OR PACIFIC COAST

Rail services of the Canadian National provide the highest standard of travel comfort for those whose desire it is to spend the winter in Sunny California, or in British Columbia.

From the Atlantic to the Pacific the Canadian National Railways operate trains of the finest equipment—all steel trains with library cars, observation-compartment cars, standard sleepers, modern diners, tourist sleepers and spacious coaches. The services of the Canadian National are not exceeded anywhere.

The superior trains run from Halifax to Montreal—the "Ocean Limited" and the "Maritime Express."

From Montreal the famous "Continental Limited" leaves Bonaventure Station at 10.15 p.m. for Ottawa, North Bay, Winnipeg, Edmonton, Saskatoon and Vancouver.

From Montreal the famed "International Limited" runs daily to Toronto, Detroit and Chicago, leaving Bonaventure Station at 10.00 a.m. At Toronto connection is made with "The National" leaving Toronto daily for the Coast. There are optional routings to California points via Chicago.

To escape the rigours of winter, such a trip is desirable, and by the C. N. R. Lines it can be made a tour of delight, so excellent is the service given and the personal attention shown every patron.

Ticket Agents of the Canadian National Railways will give intending travellers every information, and arrange reservations, or one may write to the General Passenger Department at Montreal for descriptive literature and full details of such a trip.

BY PARLIAMENT.

Australia Wants Treaty Held Back Until Old Stocks Are Worked Off.

Ottawa.—An impression which is abroad that the Australian treaty with Canada, in whole or in part, may become operative by Order-in-Council, has not failed to justify it. Premier Bruce has asked specifically that the treaty be ratified by the Canadian Parliament, as has been done already by Australia, and it is made clear by Hon. J. A. Robb that no other course will be followed. The arrangement being mutual, the wishes of the Australian Government have to be met even though the Dominion Government was prepared to proceed more expeditiously.

Australia's desire to defer the arrangement until it is sanctioned by the Canadian Parliament is understood to be due to the fact that the last rain crop has all been sold and the new crop will synchronize with the time that the treaty will be operative. In paper and some other commodities affected by the treaty Australia evidently wishes to get rid of the stocks on hand or contracted for before the arrangement is effective.

At the Present time I am Making Hats

"I can't tell you how delighted I am with them for, before studying the course, I did not know one thing about making a hat and now I have completed four. I wish you could see them. I feel that I have gained a lot of knowledge already, and I am not nearly through with the course."

—This typical letter from one of the growing list of successful N. S. Technical College Correspondence Division students, shows how you too can learn to make pretty hats and clothes at trifling prices, for your family or to sell. Fees only $8. to $15. Send the coupon—no obligation.

Wembley, England.—The British Empire Exhibition, which opened April 23rd, was officially closed on Saturday when the Prince of Wales, just returned from Canada and the United States addressed a large audience in the stadium.

As President of the Exhibition, the Prince declared that he ventured had achieved the full measure of success in the task it had set out to accomplish. It had given a picture of the Dominions to the people at home, he declared, which indicated the resources and boundless potentialities of their territories. It had also created a greater demand for Empire products as well as giving visiting peoples of the overseas territory a better knowledge of the manufacturing resources of Great Britain and a more sympathetic understanding of the problem of the Empire in development and defense.

Despite the unkind attitude of the British weather, the Prince concluded, approximately 15,000,000 persons had passed the turnstiles of the exhibition, creating a record for Great Britain.

operators on duty and the sentries went to bed. Suddenly, in the stillness of the night, the cottage was surrounded by Austrians. The division commander and his staff and Cosack escort were unable to offer resistance and were taken prisoners. It appeared that an Austrian battalion, during the general retreat, had lost its way in the forest and, in attempting to join in the main body, had accidentally stumbled across the staff of this Russian division and captured it.

In the meantime one of the regimental commanders of the Russian division, having put up for the night about a mile away, desired instructions as to operations on the following day, and ordered the telephone operator to call up the chief staff officer of the division. There was no answer. Nor could connection be made with an adjoining regiment of the same division. Becoming alarmed, the regimental commander dispatched several mounted orderlies to Headquarters. In about half an hour they returned and reported that Austrians had been seen around the forester's cottage. The commander rushed two hastily awakened battalions of his regiment to the forester's cottage. At daybreak the Austrians sighted the pursuing Russians and shots were exchanged. The hapless divisional commander and the members of his staff were dragged from the cottage and placed in the firing line, the Austrians hoping thereby to make the Russians cease firing. At this moment, however, a company of the attacking Russians appeared in the rear of the Austrians, who surrendered. This experience made such an impression on the divisional commander that for a long time after this he refused to ur-

NET REVENUE EQUAL TO THAT OF LAST YEAR

Old People Need a Tonic Now

They should Take Father John's Medicine

If Sir Henry Thornton's Prediction For C. N. R. is Realized It Will be a Signal Achievement.

Ottawa.—A notable achievement will be credited to the Canadian National Railway if the operating results of that corporation for the present calendar year are a net revenue equal to that of last year, which was a little in excess of $20,000,000. In predicting such an outcome for 1926, Sir Henry Thornton, President, speaking at Prescott and Brantford last week recalled that at the beginning of this year he had set as his objective a net operating revenue of $20,000,000 but that has had to be revised downward because of a serious falling off in traffic, especially that originating in the United States and with the Grand Trunk foreign lines.

It is a common error to think that old people are frail and weak and unable to resist the cold as the chill of winter comes on. Their body energy is often at a low ebb. They have not been getting quite the proper amount of nourishment from their food.

When this is so, they should at once begin to take a food medicine to strengthen the body and to nourish and enrich their blood.

Father John's Medicine is the best food tonic and is perfectly safe. It builds up the resisting power so that the system is able to throw off poisonous, waste matter. It acts as a very natural laxative. All pure food. Guaranteed free from dangerous drugs.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Mary Binyay.

It is with much regret that we record the decease of Mary, widow of the late Geo. T. Binyay, M. D., in the 83rd year of her age. She was predeceased by her husband over 24 years ago. She was a woman universally beloved in the community, and her sudden death was a great shock to us all. She leaves to mourn their loss, two sons and two daughters; Robert, manager and principal owner of the Pittsburgh Transformer Co. of Pittsburgh, Penn., and William, who is engaged in the electrical business in New York city; Mrs. Albert Bailey, of Westport, and Mrs. Colia Thompson, with whom she made her home for many years; also two sisters, Mrs. George Graves, of Aylesford, and Miss. George Vroom, of Boston, Mass.; also a number of grandchildren and other relatives.

When the great World War was desolating our villages, Mrs. Binyay was always to be found in time and finances She was also an active member of the Baptist Missionary Aid Society. Mrs. Binyay was able to be at her home almost to the last moment of her life. We tender our sympathy to the afflicted ones. The floral tributes show the great respect shown by the village. Rev. Mr. Taylor of the Anglican church Weymouth, conducted the funeral services.

BRICK HOUSE, BARN AND CONTENTS BURNED

Middleton.—The fine brick residence and barn belonging to Mrs. Annie Smith, at Wilmet, was completely burned by a fire of unknown origin early Tuesday evening of last week. Starting from the barn, the blaze spread to the woodhouse, which connected that building with the house. Being without means for fighting the fire practically nothing could be done to save the buildings. Most of the contents of the lower floor of the house was saved, but that on the upstairs, as well as the contents of the other buildings, was a complete loss. The brick walls of the house remain standing, but are in an unsafe condition. Very little insurance was carried on the property.

URGES REVIVAL OF SINGAPORE SCHEME

Winston Churchill Advocates Construction there of proposed Naval Base.

London. Winston Spencer Churchill, who has just been re-elected to parliament, is the first Conservative of possible governmental rank to advocate publicly the revival of the Singapore Naval Base Scheme. This he did in the course of a political speech here today.

Resumption of the plan to establish a great Naval Base at Singapore has always been advocated by several Australian newspapers.

The project for a naval base at Singapore, at a cost of about £11,000,000, was brought forward by the Conservatives in 1923. The naval estimates, which were adopted in July of that year, provided for the Singapore development.

In March of this year the Labor government abandoned the plan. Premier MacDonald contending that world peace by agreement would be a more effective guarantee of security than strengthening or increasing naval bases and armaments.

It was urged also by the Labor party that the project was contrary to the Washington agreement.

The Australian government has always been strongly in favor of the Singapore plan.

LABOR TROUBLES ARE LOOMING UP.

Leaders of British Unions Are Anxious about the Future.

London.—With the defeat of the Labor Government responsible Trades Union leaders and officials are anxious about the industrial future of the country in view of the avowed belief of the agitators among the rank and file that labor can no longer build high hopes in the use of the political weapon to achieve its purpose. Many of the leaders predict that there will be attempt to revert to industrial pressure. Probably the first storm will arise out of the demands of the National Union of Railwaymen which are now being embodied in a new programme so far reaching that it is expected the National Wage Board will find great difficulty in presenting a report which will satisfy both the companies and the union.

If the Board fails to avert a crisis the danger point may be reached early in 1925. Another outstanding dispute which is threatening to cause trouble concerns the electrical supply industry, in connection with which a joint Industrial Council will meet on November 14th to continue their efforts to avert a National strike. A special tribunal has reported that no case has been made out for an increase of ten shillings a week in the trade.

There is also grave unrest among the miners, and the question of hours among the various building trades remains to be one of the thorniest problems for some of the members of the Labor Cabinet, who, being Trades Union officials before they entered the Government, will mostly resume their former duties.

Outward actions are a clue to secret.

LOOK FOR RECORD GAME SEASON

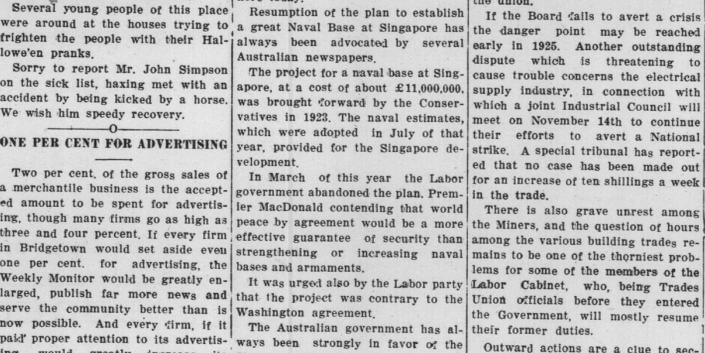

The moose and deer-hunting season is now in full swing in the Province of Quebec and the indications are that game is more abundant than it has been for many years. This fact, together with the rainy weather of the summer, which caused many sportsmen to postpone their visit until the fall, may quite possibly lead to a record season.

The fish and game preservation policy of the provincial government, which has resulted in the phenomenal increase of wild life, is of interest to sportsmen. Interviewed on the subject recently, Mr. J. A. Belleisle, superintendent of that branch of the government concerned in this policy, said: "For the past fifteen years we have concentrated on game preservation in this province. This has been most effectively accomplished by the establishment of small preserves which are leased to private fish and game clubs. We have now no less than 500 of these and are working steadily to establish more. As a condition of the lease we insist that each club provide at least two fully qualified game wardens whom we license as such. The result is that we have 1,000 game wardens more than our own corps of about 125, maintained at no expense to the government, a far larger number than we could possibly supply were we compelled to do so from public funds. Were it not for this policy, large tracts of country into which Returning victorious from the chase—via the St. Lawrence River. The fish and game overflow from these preserves would be utterly destitute of such life on account of the great numbers of sportsmen drawn into the province over whom we could exercise little or no effective control. As it is, the whole country teems with trophies awaiting the sportsman, whether he belongs to a club or not.

"As a proof of the increase of game," Mr. Belleisle continued, "I might say that moose, bear and deer have lately been seen even in the suburbs of the cities and towns. Of recent years, a moose was shot in the very heart of Quebec city, in the square between the Basilica and the city hall, and another near a large apartment house a stone's throw from the Parliament Building on the other side of the city. In the province, this increase is apparent. Lake Megantic, the Laurentians, the Gatineau Valley, Temiskaming, Kipawa, St. Maurice, Lake Edward, Maniwaki and other places on the Canadian Pacific lines, are packed."

And, to clinch Mr. Belleisle's case, the following comes to hand from Temiskamp Camp, on Lake Temiskaming: "Moose, deer and bear are very plentiful this season, especially moose. They are all over the place. I have been out for four days with a party from New York city who have never seen anything like the abundance of game we have here."

WHY RHEUMATISM OFTEN COMES BACK

The Usual Treatment Does Not Reach The Root of The Trouble.

Most treatments for rheumatism do no more than aim to keep down the poison in the blood and enable nature to overcome that particular attack. Then when the system becomes run-down from any cause the disease again gets the upper hand and it all has to be done over.

Sufferers from rheumatism who have found their condition unrelieved or actually growing worse while using other remedies, would do well to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The tonic treatment with this medicine has proved in thousands of cases that it builds up the blood to a point that enables it to cast out the rheumatic poisons through the regular channels, the bowels, kidneys and the skin. When this is done rheumatism is banished, and as long as the blood is kept pure and rich the patient will be immune from attack. This is fully proved by the case of E. E. Davis, J. P., of Dinsmore, Sask., who says:—

"I feel it my duty to sufferers from rheumatism to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Some years ago I was a great sufferer from this trouble and was confined to my room. I tried two doctors without relief and had become despondent. Then I saw Dr. Williams' Pink Pills recommended for this trouble and got six boxes. Before they were all gone I was able to get around on crutches, and when I was on the eleventh box I started to work. I have not missed a day's work since on account of rheumatism. On two occasions since I have had light touches of the trouble, but a box of the pills soon put me right. I strongly recommend rheumatic sufferers to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial."

You can get these pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Wedding

Bent — Chute

Very quietly and in the presence of immediate friends, this wedding was solemnized by the Rev. Canon Underwood, Rector of Bridgetown at the rectory on Wednesday morning last. The groom, Donald Lester Bent, is the youngest son of the late Watson Bent and Mrs. Ernie Bent, of Phinney's Cove, and the bride, Achsah Lavina Chute, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Chute, of Hampton, N. S., both being well known and very popular in their respective communities.

Both bride and groom were unattended. The bride wore a very becoming suit of brown, with hat to match.

After the ceremony the newly married couple took the east bound train for Halifax followed by a host of good wishes. On their return they will reside at the Bent homestead, Phinney Cove.

OPENING OF NEW FRUIT WAREHOUSE.

Middleton.—Another has been added to the long chain of fruit warehouses which are springing up in every town, village and section throughout the valley. This week will see the completion and opening up for receiving apples, of a fine new warehouse at Ruggles' Road Crossing, three miles east of this town. The buildings are Northard & Lowe, who have several local owners in this vicinity, and, have handled the valley produce for many years. The building is 150 x 40 ft., and has been built after the most modern ideas in fruit houses. For the present the warehouse will be in charge of R. W. Elliott, who has been one of the local agents of the proprietors for several years.

The warehouse was built by the firm of J. H. Hicks and Sons of Bridgetown.

QUADRUPLETS ARE TEN MONTHS OLD

St. John, The Mahaney quadruplets are ten months old today and have made such sturdy growth that their combined weights now total 56 pounds and fifteen ounces and the smallest of the four weighs ten lbs. and one ounce. Their total outfit in teeth is an unfair arrangement as they boast seven dental fixtures among them, and John the only boy, has three of the seven, while May has none at all, John is the liveliest of the quartette and besides possessing three teeth has the honor of being able to pull himself erect on his feet. He is an expert at creeping and means to be a fast walker in a very short while. His efforts at standing are not always a success but they are persistently made.

The babies will be weighed today and the only weights available yesterday were those which had been recorded last Saturday so in all probability the record is still more substantial today. The weights last week were as follows: John, 17 pounds 3 1/2 ounces; Christine, 17 pounds 15 ounces; Edna, 11 pounds 11 1/2 ounces, and May, 10 pounds and 1 ounce. Christine and Edna have each two teeth and May is the only toothless baby of the four.

The children have had many interested callers at their home, 170 Queen street, and the visitors have all been much surprised to find how strong and healthy the four babies are. While Edna is one pound and 10 ounces heavier than the smallest baby, May, yet May is almost as large in size but thinner.

The mother of these famous quadruplets is a Nova Scotian.

If youthful enthusiasm over scholastic games were carried into business twenty years after what a bustling world this would be.

POINT OF VIEW

The little villages along the way are leads strung on a rustic rosary-- We strive our city souls in telling them.

The small and prim, white painted houses stare in curiosity at us who pass so quickly--and we look at them, beneath their elms, behind their hollyhocks.

Do wistful ones within, as we pass by, peer from behind the hollyhocks--and sigh?

London.--Englishmen of a scientific turn of mind, seeking an explanation for the progressively worse climate of the last few years, are wondering if they can blame it on a shift in the Gulf Stream following disclosures that the water of the English Channel has fallen steadily in temperature since 1921.

Charts made from observations taken at the Plymouth station of the Marine Biological Association show that the waters of the Channel reached their highest average temperature in 1921, and that the average has since fallen a few degrees each year.

AN INTERNATIONAL OPIUM CONFERENCE.

Begins Talk of Devising Means to Check Use of the Drug.

Geneva.—The international opium conference today began, under the auspices of the League of Nations, its task of devising means of checking opium smoking.

The conference, representation at which is confined to Far Eastern countries where opium smoking is prevalent and to those countries which have far eastern possessions, is the precursor of a second and more important international consideration of the opium question which will open on November 17th, with wider participation.

The present meeting is expected to furnish the second one with an estimate of just how much opium is used for smoking purposes, so that the meeting on the 17th may be enabled to formulate measures limiting the production of opium and narcotic drugs to the extent needed for medical and scientific purposes.

The nations represented today were Great Britain, China, France, India, Japan, Holland, Portugal and Siam.

COUNTY RELIGIOUS EDUCATION COUNCIL MET AT PARADISE.

Various Aspects and Problems of Religious Education Discussed.—Church Must Change Policy.

Paradise.—The Annapolis County Religious Education Council convention opened at 10 a.m., with the President, Dr. J. B. Hall, in the chair. Delegates gathered in large numbers at the church.

The President's address strongly stressed the value of both secular and religious education in order to increase the efficiency of the young man and woman to accomplish the great task of life. He advocated a constructive educational programme that would better safeguard the boys and girls as they go forth into the world.

Rev. A. J. Prosser, of Bridgetown, Secretary of the Annapolis County Children's Aid Society, gave an address on the subject of "Present Social Conditions in Annapolis County." Mr. Prosser stated that practically one-half the young people of Annapolis County over 15 years of age were not connected with any Sunday School. He suggested as a remedy that the church should recognize the logic and veracity of Jesus' teaching and reference to the church's own self-preservation. She must cease thinking of saving herself and must leave the beaten road of self-complacency and give herself up for the service of others. She must change her whole policy—providing for the underprivileged lambs, as well as caring for the sheep in the fold.

The Committee on Nominations reported as follows: For President, J. M. Parker, Torbrook; 1st Vice-President, F. G. Palfrey, Lawrenceport; 2nd Vice-President, Rev. A. Gibson, Annapolis Royal; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Amos Frail, Clementsport; County Secretary, Mrs. E. H. Freeman, Lawrenceport.

At the afternoon session the church was crowded, and many young people were present from the various districts. The interest was greatly increased by the competition of the schools for the beautiful County banner which was to be awarded to the school having the largest percentage of its enrollment present at the convention. Many of the schools had encouraging delegations, but two schools especially—Lawrenceport Baptist and West Paradise Baptist—led and were close contestants, the former having 61 present out of a enrolment of 80, and the latter having 35 out of 45. West Paradise won by a small fraction and the banner went to that school.

An address bearing on the subject of Religious Education in the Public Schools was given by Rev. P. R. Hayden, of Bridgetown.

The speaker read a report of the M. R. E. C. Special Committee, submitted at the recent convention in Halifax, which suggested that it was primarily the responsibility of the church to provide for the religious education of the young, whether on Sunday or week days.

The report stated that week day religious education in Canada had already passed beyond the experimental stage and that the time was ripe for some definite awakening of public opinion concerning its need and possibilities in every province of Canada.

A paper on the subject of "The Grad Roll" was read by Mrs. C. S. Talcom, of Lawrenceport, who has had a long experience in connection with the primary department of the Sunday School. Her paper showed the grad roll value in forming a connecting link between the Sunday School and the home, and again in providing a regular stream of young recruits for the Sunday School itself.

Rev. W. C. Machum followed with an address bearing upon various phases of Sunday School work. At the evening session Rev. W. H. Rackham, of Lawrenceport, gave a stirring address on the subject of the Teaching of Temperance in the Sunday Schools. He said the liquor traffic has not changed in its nature, that it cannot be controlled, but that it can be outlawed and discredited. The speaker said no man, or group of men, or an entire Government control may become booze control. The only way is to rigidly enforce the law against it.

Rev. W. C. Machum followed with an address on the problems of Teen Age Boys and Girls, in which he strongly advocated the right kind of adult Christian companionship for them, and declared that what was needed today was the impact of Christian adult personality and character upon the character and personality of the young.

Resolutions were passed recommending that a survey be made of all the districts of the county, with a view to ascertaining the actual conditions, morally and socially.

Urging the reading of the Bible in public schools and deploring the neglect of this, or the deliberate prohibition of it, on the part of some teachers now employed in the county.

DOCTOR ADVISED AN OPERATION

Lead Alberta Woman's Experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Provost, Alberta.—"Perhaps you will remember sending me one of your books a year ago. I was in a bad condition and would suffer awful pains at times and could not do anything. The doctor said I could not have children unless I went under an operation. I read testimonials of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the papers and a friend recommended me to take it. After taking three bottles I became much better and now I have a bonny baby girl four months old. I do my housework and help a little with the chores. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends and am willing for you to use this testimonial letter."—Mrs. A. A. ADAMS, Box 54, Provost, Alberta.

Pains in Left Side
Lachine, Quebec.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because I suffered with pains in my left side and back and with weakness and other troubles women so often have. I was this way about six months. I saw the Vegetable Compound advertised in the 'Montreal Standard,' and I have taken four bottles of it. I was a very sick woman and I feel so much better I would not be without it. I also use Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I recommend the medicines to my friends and I am willing for you to use my letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. M. W. ROSE, 30 Notre Dame St., Lachine, Quebec.

tion of a suitable course as soon as feasible.

That the convention express its hearty appreciation of the valued services rendered by the retiring President, Dr. J. B. Hall in connection with the work of religious education in the county.

Solos were sung by Rev. W. H. Rackham and Mrs. Ritchie Elliott.

A BIG DIFFERENCE.

Nova Scotia Fish Sold in Ottawa at Five Times Fishermen's Price.

Ottawa.—That fish from the Maritime Provinces was sold at Ottawa for five times the price that the fishermen got for it at the ports, was a statement made by T. H. Blair, local agent of the C. N. R. Express Company, in the course of a trade talk at the Rotary Club luncheon Monday.

Mr. Blair said that, when he asked the local storekeepers the reason for the large difference in price secured by the fishermen and that at which the fish was retailed in Ottawa, he was told the express charges were so heavy. The speaker pointed out that the express rates on such fish were only 1-14 cents a pound.

NEIL McNEIL'S WILL NOT CONTESTED.

Income of Million Dollar Estate Will Eventually go to St. F. X. College, Antigonish.

Boston.—The will of Neil McNeil, disposing of an estate estimated at between $300,000 and $1,000,000 the income from which is to be paid to seventeen nieces and nephews, during their life times, and then go to St. Francis Xavier College of Antigonish, N. S., was allowed Monday, objections being withdrawn. Some of the heirs had announced the intention to contest the will on the ground of undue influence by the Governors of the College.

'UNTO THE THIRD AND FOURTH GENERATION'

The Social Service Council of Canada, Marjorie Bradford, B. Sc.

"Sweetheart Slayer is Accounted Insane by Medical Experts,"—this headline recently appeared in an Eastern Canadian paper. A rather familiar headline too, in these days when murderers almost without exception seek a mitigation of their punishment on an insanity plea. But as we read on in this gruesome tale, we discover that this young Canadian, who is the murderer of his sweetheart, is suffering from mental disease and defect, which in its present development is diagnosed as dementia praecox resting on an hereditary foundation; that in boyhood he had been known to a doctor as feeble and nervous and subject to night terrors; that his mother ten years ago was known to be weak mentally; that his grandmother some twenty years ago had been confined in a hospital for the insane. Thus are the sins and disabilities of the parent visited upon the children "unto the third and fourth generation." Nor does the grim procession of crime, disease and untimely death stop at the fourth generation. An hereditary taint in human stock has proven capable of infecting and corrupting whole communities, and we have some striking examples of its stupendous power in Canada today.

The case of the famous "Kallikak" family in New Jersey has become a classic, where in five generations a child born of a young soldier of good stock and a feeble-minded servant girl has given to society 143 feeble-minded, 36 illegitimates, 90 prostitutes, 43 grossly immoral, 24 confirmed alcoholics, 3 epileptics, 82 who died in infancy, 23 criminals and 8 keepers of disorderly houses.

Further investigations will doubtless reveal the existence of many "Kallikak" families. Our public institutions are filled with the offspring of diseased or feeble-minded parents who should never have been allowed to marry. They are providing the large part of the burden of crime, vice and misery in the world, and almost invariably must finally be maintained at the public expense in our prisons, asylums and hospitals. Humanity demands that these poor unfortunate be given the kindest treatment that modern science and knowledge has made possible. Any other would be incompatible with the principles upon which our civilization is based. But surely humanity demands more emphatically still that they be not allowed to bring more of their kind into the world. The placing of mentally deficient persons in institutions might well be done without waiting for them to get into trouble first. And a certificate of mental and physical health before marriage would prevent the occurrence of such tragedies as that of the case in point.

RECEPTION FOR BAPTIST PASTOR LAST EVENING.

Large Number Attended Banquet Which was Followed by Business Meeting.

At the Baptist church last evening an exceedingly pleasant and successful function took place in which a large number of the members participated. The affair took the form of a public reception for Dr. and Mrs. Marshall, which was held in the ladies' parlor, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Shaw and Mrs. (Dr.) Leslie Eaton assisting.

The company then repaired to the dining room, which had been handsomely and artistically decorated for the occasion by Mrs. Herbert Johnson, and where a sumptuous repast was served by a committee composed of ten young men and ten young women from the B. Y. P. U. under the direction of Mrs. A. M. Young. The tables presented a tempting appearance and the whole arrangement was such as to reflect the greatest credit upon those responsible for this feature.

After the good things had received due attention addresses were given by Dr. Oakes on behalf of the church, Mrs. Leslie Eaton on behalf of the ladies and Dr. Patterson on behalf of the university. These were graciously responded to by Dr. Marshall.

Adjournment was then made to the school-room where the annual business meeting of the congregation was held, with Rev. Dr. DeWolfe in the chair. The reports of the various departments of the church were presented and officers for the ensuing year elected, with the exception of the deacons, which on account of the late hour was deferred until next Wednesday evening.

The financial statement showed that during the year the receipts for current expenses had been $5610.54 and for denominational and benevolent work $1699.04 had been raised.—(Wolville Acadian.)

Minard's Liniment Used by Physicians

PREPARING STOCK FOR WINTER PRODUCTION.

(Experimental Farms Note.)

It is high time to think of preparations for the winter. The houses should be thoroughly disinfected and lime washed, leaky roofs, broken glass, torn cottons and cracks in the walls mended and everything put into A1 shape before the pullets are brought in from the range.

This should be done sufficiently early so that the pullets will not receive a check. When they are brought in conditions should be made as much as possible as they were when on range; that is, the houses should be kept as open as possible so that the pullets will not suffer from the confinement—as no doubt many of them have been used to roosting in the trees.

Feed scratch grain sparingly so as to keep the birds active and give them all the green feed you can get them to eat. If a variety of green feed is used and it is given in various forms the birds can be induced to eat more of it than if only one kind is used. Sprouted oats, chopped clover, rape, cabbage or anything in the way of green feed that will prompt the birds should be given them. It may be used both separately and chopped up and mixed in a moist mash.

Unless care is taken when the birds are put in, to feed sparingly with grain and heavily with green feed they are liable to become sluggish; if any tendency to this is noticed, Epsom salts should be freely used, about a pound to 100 birds.

The following methods of feeding have given good results:—

A hopper of dry mash composed of equal parts bran, middlings, cornmeal and oat chop and half part tankage is kept before the birds at all times, as is also water, grit, oyster shell and charcoal. When possible milk is also supplied. When milk is not available additional meat food must be supplied. In the morning the birds are given a very light feed of scratch grain scattered in the litter, green feed is also supplied, at noon a moist mash is given in which is mixed a goodly proportion of chopped greens, at night a full feed of scratch is fed.

Where lights are used—and they add greatly to the early winter production—an extra feed may be worked in.

TEXTILES AND TARIFFS.

Sydney (N. S. W.) Bulletin: Hardly anyone disputes that England's great manufacturing industries were established and held for centuries chiefly by Protection. The skill of the English weavers and the quality of the Cotswold wool doubtless has much to do with the rise of the weaving industry in England, but what established it was the law of Edward III's day enacting that no one other than royals, should wear cloth made outside the realm. That decree nearly ruined Bruges and Ypres, but it enriched thousands of English workers. From then until the middle of last century the British protected any industry that appeared worth it, and the kingdom flourished as much as costly wars, bungled peace, pestilence and illiteracy would permit.

THE MEDICAL SOCIETY OF NOVA SCOTIA

A Warning For The Tuberculous.

In the name of the National Committee of Defence against Tuberculosis, French physicians have issued a formal notice counselling the tuberculous to be on their guard against the 'healers' and vendors of medicines or 'new cures' for tuberculosis.

Those who have issued this warning are alarmed by the extent of the exploitation of the sufferers from tuberculosis who have given credence to the extravagant claims of a host of frauds. Patients are warned that there is no medicine, chemical or biological and no serum or vaccine, that has been proved to be effective, and that they should waste no time in purchasing 'cures' which are often harmful and always useless. (This warning is equally applicable, not only to the tuberculous, but to the host that rush to buy every type of 'cure' whose pretensions are widely and boldly advertised.

THESE ARE THE FACTS ABOUT SOME OF THESE 'CURES'

LUNG GERMINE, which is advertised as having cured several advanced cases of consumption' is composed of Alcohol 44% Sulphuric Acid 4% and water. It is misbranded in that it claims to contain only 14% Alcohol. That it is harmful may be judged from its ingredients and from the following report:—

"The tuberculous path in the upper lobe of the left lung was about the size of, or possibly a little larger than a silver dollar when I examined her about two weeks before she began the 'wonderful cure' and the case had been stationary for about six months. Two weeks after cessation of the two months treatment with Lung Germine I found the left lung was involved and the process had extended to the lower portion of the upper lobe and the upper portion of the middle lobe of the right lung."

ADDILINE contains Kerosene, turpentine, and a small amount of aromatic oil. The cost of these materials per bottle would be 35 cents, but it retails at $5.50. The chemist say it would make better furniture polish than tuberculosis remedy.

PARMINT, another worthless remedy is mentioned in the book of Miscellaneous Nostrums, published by the same Association. "Catarrhal deafness, head noises, catarrh of the stomach, catarrh of the bowels, loss of smell, lung trouble, asthma and bronchitis" should, according to advertisements be treated with this nostrum. The claims made for it were declared by the federal courts to be false and fraudulent.

TUBERCULOCIDE was discovered by Charles Aycock, who had been at one time sentenced to the penitentiary on a charge of embezzlement and who had formerly exploited a catarrh cure. It is a solution of creosote or guaiacol in some bland oil, - probably olive oil. If the public were informed of its composition it would be impossible to sell this preparation at the exorbitant price asked for it $15.00.

Others, such as Duckett's consumption cure (Guaiacol, Salicylic Acid and Glycerine) Eckman's Alternative (Alcohol, Calcium Chloride, and Cloves) Nature's Creation (Potassium Iodide in a weak alcoholic medium of vegetable extractives, inorganic salts and flavoring matters) are equally harmless in content, but equally harmful on account of their useless and exorbitant price and their worthlessness as a cure.

There is another interesting phase of the nostrum business, on which they all place great stress, and that is the testimonial. There are many samples of testimonials of cure being used when the unfortunate sufferer was already dead from the disease. Taking into account only those that are genuine one of two things is practically always true - either the writer of the testimonial did not have tuberculosis, and recovered from his indisposition in spite of the nostrum rather than because of it; or the poor victim, in the first flush of optimism that comes whenever a new remedy is tried, deluded himself into believing that the stuff actually helped him.

"There is a ghastly sameness in the description of various consumption cures:— Exploited in nearly every case by men who are lacking in professional training as they are in moral responsibilities, these 'cures' are sold under claims that are grossly false and with an utter disregard of the most elementary canons of commercial honesty: the same tragedies of money wasted that can be ill-spared, of time squandered that can be spared still less, of the occasional testimony favorable to the preparation given at the beginning of the new 'treatment' and finally of the same depressing death lists.

"And thus it goes. Under our present inefficient laws, there is no way of halting this slaughter of the innocents. So long as men, immoral or unmoral, see fit to enrich themselves on the blood money of the consumptive, there is nothing to prevent them doing so except the tediously slow process of educating the public to realize the utter worthlessness and potential danger of every consumption cure.

DANGEROUS SMALL GARAGES

On several occasions there have been noted in the press instances of persons being found in garages unconscious or dead, having been overcome by the gases of combustion given off by the motor. Health authorities are warning the public that with the onset of cold weather a tendency for the more frequent occurrence of this accident is to be expected.

In tests of the exhaust of a small 23 horsepower automobile engine it has been found that it discharged approximately 25 cubic feet of exhaust gases per minute, this containing 1.5 cubic feet of deadly carbon monoxide. Larger engines will give off more. A ratio of fifteen parts carbon monoxide to 10,000 parts of air is considered a dangerous concentration to be exposed to for a considerable time, and the small 23 horsepower engine in "warming up" and giving off only one cubic foot of carbon monoxide per minute would contaminate the air of a small closed garage, 10 by 10 by 20 feet, to the danger point in about three minutes.

Carbon Monoxide is colorless, tasteless and almost odorless. It kills by combining with the hemoglobin of the blood, to the exclusion of oxygen, which is necessary to maintain life.

If an engine is being run in a small garage, there must be sufficient ventilation to carry off this dangerous gas. There is also danger if there is lack of ventilation in a room in which coal or gas is being burned.

An attack of carbon monoxide poisoning comes on insidiously, consciousness being gradually lost. There is also early loss of muscular power, making it impossible for the victim to escape, though he may realize that he is being poisoned.

If a person be found acutely poisoned, get him immediately into the fresh air, give stimulants, keep him warm, and use artificial respiration, giving oxygen if this is available.

A CURIOUS REPTILE.

Some days ago The Record exhibited in its bulletin window a curious reptile sent to the office by a lady who found it on the road at Margaree. The creature was about a foot and a half long and snake-like in appearance, with a small black head, it was as thin as a hair.—(Sydney Record.)

The countryman says that The Record's specimen is a water snake and not uncommon. The first one of them that the countryman saw was in a mountain spring by the roadside as he was taking a drink by putting his mouth in the spring before watering his horse. The Record's description of its "reptile" fits the species. On inquiry of his elders he was informed that they were water snakes, but developed from hairs that dropped in the springs from the manes of the horses as the latter drank. After a number of years the hairs grew heads—there was no need of tails for they were all tails except the heads. The elder wise heads warned the inquirer of the calamity that would come upon him if he swallowed one of them while drinking from the spring in a prone position and his mouth in the water. After that he took the precaution to carry a pint or by lifting the water to his mouth with his hands.

He found, too, by experience, that when he carried a tin mug, in his drives along the mountain roads, it was well to have a little bottle out of which to add a certain ingredient to "kill the germs." If there is any other information useful to The Record man the countryman, through these columns will be pleased to have an opportunity to furnish it.—(Eastern Chronicle.)

TRADE INCREASE OF $132,000,000 IN THE DOMINION.

Imports Show Decrease of $76,797,823 While Exports Jump $76,265,983.

Ottawa — In the twelve months ended with Sept. 30 Canada improved her trade balance with other countries by the remarkable sum of more than $132,000,000, when the year's trade is compared with the previous year. There was a large decrease in imports and almost the same increase in exports.

During the year ended with September last the Dominion's imports amounted to $286,196,029, as compared with $302,993,325, or a decrease of $76,797,823; while the exports in the 12 months ending with September last totalled $1,073,463,570, as against $997,197,587 in the previous year, or an increase of $76,265,983.

Still to Improve

It is a notable fact that in the year ended September last the only three important countries with whom Canada was not trading on a satisfactory basis were Australia, British South Africa and the Netherlands—countries with whom Canada this year has taken steps to effect better tariff relations. It is hoped by Federal Government Officials here that these steps will soon serve to adjust the adverse commercial position with these countries.

Canada's imports from the various parts of the British Empire (including the United Kingdom) decreased from $196,426,130 to $191,611,556, and her exports to the British Empire increased from 448,078,578 to $469,458,567. To the United Kingdom Canada's exports increased from $377,635,389 to $391,105,598, and her imports from the United Kingdom, decreased from $154,559,308 to $149,280,027.

Trade Outlook

Canada's imports from the United States decreased from $614,571,400 to $541,736,243, and her exports to the United States increased from $406,597,727 to $419,814,635.

Exports to China nearly doubled, those to Germany jumped from $11,774,355 to $20,431,502; those to Italy increased by nearly $3,000,000, those to Japan increased by more than $8,000,000, exports to Belgium advanced by $3,000,000, and those to Australia dropped nearly $2,000,000.

COERCING THE RURAL TEACHERS

Attempts Alleged to be Made by Agents to Secure Salaries of County Schools.

Two weeks ago the Monitor published a letter with certain account of the visits of the County schools of the County, selling a set of books, $57.50 and covering the educational authorities. The net result of the purchase was the teaching privileges. The purchase was assured, etc. The Director published the letter of warning to Annapolis County teachers but it would from reliable sources reveal a plan somewhat similar has to be regretted, some details.

Nothing he said against the sale of through the county by use legitimate methods but intimidation of young and experienced teachers is to be strongly reprehended.
