MONEY FLOWING INTO NEW YORK TO PREVENT FINANCIAL PANIC

Prominent Financiers Have Buried the Hatchet and Are Combining to Guard Against Further Disturbance of Credits

Secretary Cortelyou Turns $25,000,000 of Treasury Department Money Into New York Banks to Restore Public Confidence---Three Banks Suspended Payment This Morning--Ex St. John Man At the Head of One.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24 (Special).--All the prominent financiers of the city under the leadership of J. P. Morgan, have buried the hatchet for the time being and are combining to avert any further disturbance of credit.

J. P. MORGAN

It is realized that the situation is intensely critical, and the newspapers have been asked to join in the effort to restore public confidence.

J. P. Morgan attended a meeting of the clearing house committee this forenoon, for the first time in many years, and when he came out he said: "The situation is all right."

Secretary Cortelyou was at the sub-treasury all morning. He too, declared that the situation was well in hand.

It is generally believed that the Trust Company of America will come out all right. The run upon it continued as great as yesterday, but everybody was paid promptly. Funds were turned in by other banks, and a big shipment of currency arrived from a Pittsburgh institution.

Wagon were busy all day distributing the $25,000,000 which Secretary Cortelyou turned over to the various banks from the sub-treasury in Wall street.

As a matter of fact, withdrawals of deposits are being made from every bank in town. In many cases these demands would be dignified in ordinary times by the term "run." Now they are scarcely noticed.

Any little thing is sufficient to cause a run now. The Harlem Savings Bank was besieged this morning by a crowd of hundreds of depositors, but everybody was paid promptly.

There are crowds outside the doors of the Lincoln Trust Co. and other concerns, but all are declared solvent. The two banks, which suspended this morning, the Hamilton and the Twelfth Ward, are state banks and are not members of the clearing house association.

Therefore represented to a considerable extent, the closing out of stocks carried to speculative account on margin. The decline in prices after 11 o'clock became more precipitate.

EMPIRE CITY BANK HAS ALSO SUSPENDED It Suspended Payment for Thirty Days This Morning.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24--The Empire City Savings Bank, located at 231 West 125th street, posted a notice this morning announcing its suspension for thirty days under the banking laws.

The officials of the bank declare that the institution is entirely solvent but that they decided to avail themselves of the thirty days' notice of withdrawal because they feared a run on the bank.

The Empire City Savings Bank is one of the city's comparatively minor institutions and does not rank among the great metropolitan institutions.

Without exception all say that yesterday's effect on the situation, if any, was that the Iron City Trust Company failed.

It is believed the exchange will not resume business until next Monday. The local financial situation is in good shape, and is under perfect control.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 24--In well informed circles it is believed the exchange will not resume business until next Monday. The local financial situation is in good shape, and is under perfect control.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT ON FINANCIAL TROUBLES

There has been trouble in the stock market, in the high financial world, during the last few months. The statement has frequently been made that the policies for which I stand, legislative and executive, are responsible for that trouble.

These policies of mine can be summed up in one brief sentence. They represent the effort to punish successful dishonesty.

I doubt if these policies have had any material effect in bringing about the present results, but if they have, it will not alter in the slightest degree my determination that for the remaining sixteen months of my term these policies shall be persevered in unswervingly.

It is impossible to cut out a cancer without making the patient feel for a few days rather sicker than he felt before--From speech of President Roosevelt at Nashville, Tenn.

NEW YORK NEWS CAUSES DECLINE IN MONTREAL

MONTREAL, Oct. 24--(Special).--There was a tendency to recovery noticeable at the opening of the stock market this morning but later declines were renewed as a result of the unsatisfactory state of the New York market.

THE WEST SIDE WORK

It is expected that the dredging of the Sand Point berth will be completed this week. The Beaver is now working at the Donaldson line wharf and will finish there probably tomorrow or Saturday.

THE CONTRACT SIGNED

The delayed contract with G. S. Mayes for the cleaning up of the Sand Point berth was signed today. There was no dispute about No. 4 and everything was amicably arranged, to the complete satisfaction of all parties.

H. L. Spencer has been spending a couple of days in the city.

VON MOLTKE LIBEL SUIT WILL ASTOUND BERLIN

BERLIN, Oct. 24--The libel action brought by General Count Kuno Von Moltke against Maximilian Harden, editor of Die Zukunft began here yesterday. Von Moltke is an intimate friend of Prince Philip Zu Eulenburg, the ex-German ambassador to Vienna, and a kinsman of the present chief of the general staff, Lieut. general Count Helmuth Von Moltke, and of the governor of the province of East Prussia, Frederick Von Moltke.

These three Von Moltkes are nephews of the late great Field Marshal Von Moltke, Harden began last November to assert that Prince Zu Eulenburg was the head of a group at court that sought to influence the emperor's political actions by subtle indirect suggestions.

Count Von Moltke said that he was abnormally in temperance. Count Von Moltke said that such a circle as the "round table," which as defendant alleged had sought to influence Emperor William's political actions, often in a sense contrary to the views of his constitutional advisers, never existed.

Herr Harden declined to withdraw what he had written, but admitted frankly that he had twice been imprisoned for insults to the sovereign, each time for six months, and that he had also been fined several times for the same offense.

ST. JOHN MAN PRESIDENT OF THE HAMILTON BANK

W. R. Montgomery Elected When E. R. Thomas Was Forced Out.

E. R. Thomas, who was associated with A. Heinz and Chas. W. Morse, in several banks and financial ventures was formerly president of the Hamilton Bank but resigned after the break in Union Copper which marked the beginning of the recent financial troubles in this city.

THE TIMES NEW REPORTER

DISTURBING RUMORS.

The rumors that the mayor and Ald. McGoldrick would fight a duel with wooden blocks on Union street this morning caused a good deal of excitement about town, and a number of wagers were laid on the result.

One citizen, who saw the mayor putting the shot at the sports on the Victoria grounds last summer, offered five to one on his opponent, and is said to have found several takers. The duel, however, did not take place. It is stated that the mayor's clerk insisted on going out with his St. Martine mossa gun to act as second for the mayor, and to this the friends of Ald. McGoldrick would not agree.

The whole affair may end in a jawing match at City Hall, with the recorder as referee.

CANT FIND ONE

It is expected that a reward will be offered for the discovery of any alderman who remembers how the street railway company got their authority to double-track Union street.

The mystery deepens from day to day, and the efforts of local detectives to solve it have proved fruitless. Officials of the street railway company are understood to have made anxious enquiry, with a desire to assist in the sporting editor that he had not deprived himself of pleasure and clean collars for a year to have the results melted away in the mad vortex of financial disaster.

STUSSEX, Oct. 24--(Special).--A large number of non-political cooks are today preparing the broth for the banquet tomorrow evening.

PRUDENT YOUNG MAN.

The Times new reporter, in view of the general uneasiness in financial circles, withdrew his savings from the bank this morning and locked them up in his desk.

They represented the savings of more than a year, and amounted to $1,200. He said in the sporting editor that he had not deprived himself of pleasure and clean collars for a year to have the results melted away in the mad vortex of financial disaster.

WHITE CANDY COMPANY TO STOP THE DOUBLE TRACKING

There were no new developments this morning in the matter of the street railway company's double-tracking Union street. The White Candy Co. said, however, that he expected the firm would get an injunction this afternoon to restrain the railway company from continuing the work.

The mayor said he thought it queer that the company should overlook the mayor and council and write to the chairman of the board of works when by their own letter they state that the former permission was granted by the council.

It appeared, said his worship, that the various boards had more power than the mayor.

Ald. Spronk, who represents Prince ward said he had not heard many complaints about the street except from one or three of the merchants. He thought the majority of the people were in favor of the double-tracking as it gave such an improved service on that line.

It is claimed that a petition signed by about two hundred teamsters who were opposed to the double-tracking has never been considered at all. The street railway company is rushing work on the street as quickly as possible and will probably finish the laying of the rails by Saturday. A day and night crew is engaged in pushing the work ahead.

WILL PLAY IN FREDERICTON

The Algonquin football team will leave Saturday morning for Fredericton where they will play the U. N. B. team. There will be some slight changes in the team's regular line-up. Fred Gibson, who played with the team last year, will strengthen the team. The line-up will be as follows: Gibson, full-back; halves, Howe, Merritt, Wright, King; quarters, McKinnon, Macmichael, McIntyre, Clark, Smith, Seely, March.

MUCH DAMAGE DONE TO CARGO ON C.P.R. STEAMER

VANCOUVER, Oct. 24--(Special).--The steamer Empress of China, lying at the Canadian Pacific Railway wharf, was discovered, last evening, to be rapidly filling with water from some cause unknown. It was suggested that some stoker withdrew a stop-cock. Excitement reigned on the wharf. The fire engines were called out to pump the water from the steamer. The Empress is scheduled to sail for the Orient on Monday next and is partly loaded. The cargo probably will be much damaged.

A SMALLPOX OUTBREAK

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 24--(Special).--Eight houses in East Chedoke were placed for small-pox quarantine. The school has been closed.

BRIEF DESPATCHES

MORDEN, Man., Oct. 24--(Special).--Lawrence Gowland pleaded guilty yesterday to murdering Georgiana Brown at Killarney on May 22 and was sentenced to be hanged on December 13.

TORONTO, Oct. 24--(Special).--In order to disprove some statements made that labor, skilled and unskilled, is scarce in Canada and in Toronto, the Building Trades Council opened a register for unemployed on Tuesday last. Up to last night some 500 men had signed their names. They reported almost all occupations, carpenter, preforming. The time of idleness recorded is, as a rule, between one and five weeks, although many run as high as nine or ten weeks. Most of the men are non-union, about 80 per cent are newly come from the old country.

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 24--(Special).--William J. Costello, who a little over a month ago came to Halifax from New York in prosecution of his business as a commercial traveller, died this morning at the hospital. His wife came from New York, reaching here shortly after his death.

The organization meeting of the Phillips & White Company, Limited, was held last week. The directors chosen were: T. J. Phillips, F. E. Williams, T. J. Durick, W. White, J. B. Keenan. The officers elected were: W. White, president; J. B. Keenan, vice-president; T. J. Phillips, secretary treasurer and manager. Manufacturing confectioners, Dock street.

Dealers say that the catch of haddock has not been sufficient to meet the demand for fish haddies. Receipts in fresh fish thus far reported have amounted only to 44,000 pounds, mostly haddies, during the past week. Harbor fisheries, particularly in sardine fishing, have fallen off and picked herring have advanced from $1.35 to $2.00 a half barrel.

Come--Follow the Crowd

"THE LATE TENANT"

By GORDON HOLMES

"Van Hupfeldt stole it from the flat during my absence."

"How could that be?"

"He has duplicate keys, I suppose. Once before I have reason to believe he was there. We struggled together, one on each side of a door. It was in the dark, and he managed to dodge past me, but I fired at him and drew blood, I think."

"When was that?" she demanded with a quickness which did not escape him.

"On the morning of the day you were to have met me at the cemetery, but sent such a bitter little note instead."

"A bitter little note!"

And thus were the words said which, pursued for another sentence, must have unmasked Van Hupfeldt wholly; but they were both so excited, so carried out of all bounds of reasoned thought, that Violet let flow at a tangent, and David doubled after her, so delighted was it to hear the words coming from her lips, to watch her eye telegraph their secret meanings.

"He was lame that day," she whispered. "He is not quite free from stiffness in his walk yet."

"Ah! I hit him then?" And David smiled a different kind of smile to that which Violet was learning to like.

"But if all that you say is true, the man is a monster," she cried in a sudden rage.

"It am coming to think that he is not in his right mind," said David, a surprising charity springing up in him.

"And do you know what they are waiting for now?" she asked vehemently.

"I cannot tell, save that it is for you."

"They want me to sign a marriage settlement. Oh, what a vile world!"

"Not a vile world, dear; nor are its humans altogether bad. Even this Van Hupfeldt, or Strauss, seems to have loved your sister. And she did love him. Poor girl! she meant to kill herself on his account, owing to some secret he revealed to her, something about another woman who had adopted him as her son. That was not clear in her story. She purposely kept the definite things out of her diary."

"The girl's mind was driven back, with quick rebound, to the memory of her sister's fate. The mere mention of the name of Strauss touched a poignant chord. Strauss was a blacker, more Satanic creature in her imagination than Van Hupfeldt. She swathed herself free and sprang toward the door.

"Do you swear that you are telling me the truth?" she cried.

"I swear it."

"Then I go now to meet him, and his lawyer, and my mother. Poor mother! How she will suffer when she sees me! Shall I come with you?"

She blushed. She began to remember more vividly each instant, how long she had been there in his arms, almost clinging to him.

"Better not," she said. "I will drive him away, and when mother and I have cried together we shall see you. Are you staying in the village?"

"Yes. At the inn, the Feathers I think it is called."

"Then I shall send for you tonight, or perhaps tomorrow morning."

"Make it tonight, if possible. Tell your mother I will not add to her sorrow, and it is best she should know all."

"Good-by, then, Violet."

"Good-by, David."

He held out his hand, so frankly that she placed her white fingers within the grasp of his strong ones. He was tempted to draw her nearer, but her color rose again, her eyes dropped, and she tore herself away, breaking almost into a run.

David, careless whether he was seen or not, walked off towards the lodge, glancing every now and then over his shoulder to watch Violet hastening to the house. Once, when crossing the lawn, she looked around and waved a hand to him. He replied. Then she vanished, and David walked on, the happiest man in England.

What a pity it is that ignorance should so often be an essential part of bliss.

DR. HETHERINGTON WRITES AGAIN

He Replies to Some of the Statements Made by Dr. H. B. Hay.

To the Editor of The Telegraph.

Sir,—I don't know just what sentiment of duty or desire has prompted Dr. Hay to rise and address the audience at this time, but since he seems ambitious to shoulder large responsibilities, he must, of course, have the attention.

Therefore, in reply:

First—Dr. Hetherington manifestly could not agree to a convention, or anything else, until he was consulted. The convention was arranged and the day set before Dr. Hetherington was informed, the information not then coming from any one of the party leaders personally, which he took the liberty of thinking rather unusual, especially as the convention was supposed to be strong in their allegiance to him and uniting in their labors in his behalf.

Second—Dr. Hetherington believes that Col. McLean made all necessary arrangements for the convenience of his guests to the reception he was tendering himself at Gagetown, Oct. 17. It was not Dr. Hetherington's party and he was obviously not called upon to assist in the preparations. The steamship Aberdeen was engaged to convey the Washademoak contingent upon a purely business basis, and Dr. Hetherington trusts that everything was satisfactory.

Third—Dr. Hetherington has no recollection of having ever consented upon any lack of posters or newspaper advertisements. Indeed, had it not been for these, he might have almost never known anything about the affair at all. Neither does Dr. Hetherington doubt but that every possible arrangement was made by the host and the receiving party to make the reception a success. He failed to observe anything lacking along that line.

Fourth—Dr. Hetherington agreed at no time to support any one, either before the convention, at the convention, or after the convention. He trusts he has made that plain.

Fifth—No doubt the reception was the largest ever held in Queens and Sunbury. Dr. Hetherington has not Dr. Hay's experience in functions of the sort and so really could not argue that point with him. However, it seemed to be ample in its proportions and everything that could be desired in that respect.

Sixth—Dr. Hetherington did not rise and give the address at the convention. Dr. Hetherington must say to Dr. Hay that he is an unqualified, uncalled for misstatement of fact. Dr. Hetherington left the building immediately after addressing the gathering, and it is entirely useless to attempt to argue that point further with him. He did not even "rise" to make his own few remarks, neither being in the room long enough to sit down, nor seeing any opportunity for doing so had he been. Oh, it was unquestionably a very large affair, the seating capacity being so limited and the attendance so large that, when the standing vote was taken, a large proportion of the guests were already on their feet, and some few have assured me that at that critical moment they were unable to secure anything to sit upon and so, in spite of themselves, helped to swell the crowding triumph of that famous, unanimous standing vote.

Dr. Hetherington's protest is against public misrepresentation of his attitude and a public misinterpretation of his speech at Gagetown, together with unfair, diabolical and unnecessary methods employed toward him on the part of certain of the party leaders before the convention and in the calling of the convention.

ST. JOHN LEADS

This City Considerably Ahead of Halifax in Postal Revenue

Ottawa, Oct. 23.—The report of the postmaster-general for the fiscal period of nine months, ended March 31 last, which is the first of the departmental blue-books to make its appearance, shows that the increased in letters and postcards, on the same basis as for the nine months, would be 44,470,000 for the full twelve months. The total number of letters for the nine months was 273,611,000.

The total expenditure for the nine months was $5,452,701, and the surplus $1,082,301. This is more than the total surplus for the year previous. Taking the twelve months of 1907, the total amount of money remitted by money orders was $47,929,250, as against $48,083,237 for the year previous.

The balance due depositors at the close of the fiscal period was $47,432,457, compared with $47,091,491 for the same nine months last year.

The number of unpaid letters sent to the dead letter office for the nine months was 67,394, as against 72,532 for 1906.

The revenue for the St. John post was $78,305, and for Halifax $75,091. For the head office alone the revenue of Halifax was $70,794, and for St. John $68,977.

The statistics of the dead letter branch show some curious things very wrongly addressed through the mails. There was one bark canoe, one bed tick, one bird, three bottles of whiskey, 127 calves, one can of salmon, one football, numerous articles of jewelry, five packages of gum, one hair brush, one hair switch, three kimonos, one lamp, one military busby, three mine pies, nineteen mortgages, seven napkin rings, thirty-six neckties, five night-dresses, one oilcloth, four pawn tickets, two redigees, six packages of peanuts, forty-five pipes, twenty-one puddings, twenty-seven razors, six diamond rings, four rubbers, fifty-six socks, twenty-three stockings, one clergyman's stole, thirteen summonses, five teeth, fifty toys, one war medal, ten watches, two wigs and one window chair.

Men Require Nerve and Blood Tonic.

How Are Your Nerves?

The daily grind of life burns up a man's vitality faster than he renews it. He gets shaky, starts at trifles, loses in his sleep, is ready to fly off the handle any minute.

The nervous man is nervous because his blood is so thin his nerves are starved to death.

He needs Ferrerozine!

A fine action is upon digestion. It stimulates secretion of gastric juice, ensures perfect digestion, prepares the food so it can be at once assimilated.

Hence the blood in our veins is fortified, made redder, richer, stronger.

To the whole organism is imparted a vim, endurance and reserve of vigor that the nervous man never knew before.

The restorative power of Ferrerozine is marvelous. In a month it will make you feel like new, just as it did the King E. Newsome of Rothsay, who writes: "I owe a debt of gratitude to Ferrerozine which saved my life after a severe case of nervous prostration. About a year ago my health gave out. I was in such a weak, irritable condition I could not work, and found that three doctors did nothing for me. My druggist recommended Ferrerozine as the best preparation for nervous troubles, so I bought a bottle and took it at meals. Every box of Ferrerozine I took did me more good than the previous one, and it was very long before I was strong enough to move around again. In three months I was completely cured. Ferrerozine braced up my nerves, gave me a strong healthy constitution, and is certainly a marvelous restorer and tonic."

First—Dr. Hetherington manifestly could not agree to a convention, or anything else, until he was consulted. The convention was arranged and the day set before Dr. Hetherington was informed, the information not then coming from any one of the party leaders personally, which he took the liberty of thinking rather unusual, especially as the convention was supposed to be strong in their allegiance to him and uniting in their labors in his behalf.

Second—Dr. Hetherington believes that Col. McLean made all necessary arrangements for the convenience of his guests to the reception he was tendering himself at Gagetown, Oct. 17. It was not Dr. Hetherington's party and he was obviously not called upon to assist in the preparations. The steamship Aberdeen was engaged to convey the Washademoak contingent upon a purely business basis, and Dr. Hetherington trusts that everything was satisfactory.

Third—Dr. Hetherington has no recollection of having ever consented upon any lack of posters or newspaper advertisements. Indeed, had it not been for these, he might have almost never known anything about the affair at all. Neither does Dr. Hetherington doubt but that every possible arrangement was made by the host and the receiving party to make the reception a success. He failed to observe anything lacking along that line.

Fourth—Dr. Hetherington agreed at no time to support any one, either before the convention, at the convention, or after the convention. He trusts he has made that plain.

Fifth—No doubt the reception was the largest ever held in Queens and Sunbury. Dr. Hetherington has not Dr. Hay's experience in functions of the sort and so really could not argue that point with him. However, it seemed to be ample in its proportions and everything that could be desired in that respect.

Sixth—Dr. Hetherington did not rise and give the address at the convention. Dr. Hetherington must say to Dr. Hay that he is an unqualified, uncalled for misstatement of fact. Dr. Hetherington left the building immediately after addressing the gathering, and it is entirely useless to attempt to argue that point further with him. He did not even "rise" to make his own few remarks, neither being in the room long enough to sit down, nor seeing any opportunity for doing so had he been. Oh, it was unquestionably a very large affair, the seating capacity being so limited and the attendance so large that, when the standing vote was taken, a large proportion of the guests were already on their feet, and some few have assured me that at that critical moment they were unable to secure anything to sit upon and so, in spite of themselves, helped to swell the crowding triumph of that famous, unanimous standing vote.

Dr. Hetherington's protest is against public misrepresentation of his attitude and a public misinterpretation of his speech at Gagetown, together with unfair, diabolical and unnecessary methods employed toward him on the part of certain of the party leaders before the convention and in the calling of the convention.

EDWARD MORGAN DIED IN A CHAIR

Sudden Death of Well Known Fredericton Man—Inquest Will be Held.

Fredericton, N. B., Oct. 23.—Edward Morgan, a well known citizen, died very suddenly at 5 o'clock this afternoon while sitting in a room at the Commercial Hotel. He had been drinking heavily of late, and about 1 o'clock dropped into the Commercial Hotel. Being considerably the worse for liquor he sat down in a chair and was soon fast asleep. About 3 o'clock some persons, who chance to be in the room, noticed that he was breathing heavily and called in Dr. F. B. Gunther, who was in F. B. Gunther's Bros' livery stable next door. The doctor, after feeling his pulse, expressed the opinion that he would be all right in a short time.

Nothing more was thought of the matter until nearly 5 o'clock, when it was noticed that Mr. Morgan had stopped breathing. His features had become pale and it needed only a glance to convince those in the room with him that life was extinct.

Dr. G. J. McNally, who is also a coroner, was called in and after making an examination of the body, expressed the opinion that death had resulted from heart failure, brought on by the excessive use of alcohol. Permission was given to have the body removed to the deceased's late home.

The affair has created quite a lot of talk about the city, and Coroner McNally has decided to hold an inquest tomorrow afternoon.

Morgan was about 40 years of age and was survived by a wife and two children. For some years he was engaged in the manufacture of carriages here, but of late has conducted a saloon on King street. He was well known and popular among his acquaintances, and his death, under such sad circumstances, has occasioned much regret.

$100 Reward, $100

The reader of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one remedial science that is able to cure in 100% of cases, and that is Catarrh. Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in its efforts to cure. Send for list of testimonials to Dr. J. C. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O. "Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation."

(Write looking up from her book)—"You know a great many things, John; now what do you think should be done in a case of drawing?"

Husband—"Have a funeral. I should think."

REV. MR. DOBSON ILL

Charlottetown, Oct. 23.—Rev. Dr. William Dobson, pastor of the First Methodist church here, is critically ill of pneumonia. His children have been summoned to his bedside.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MISS HELEN ADAM

Death came last night with terrible suddenness to Miss Helen Adam, teacher for some years in the Protestant Orphan Asylum. She and her sister, Miss George, had been attending the mid-week service in St. David's church where they also assisted in making arrangements for an entertainment to be held there tonight. Returning to her boarding house, Mrs. Findlay's, 127 Duke street, Miss Helen Adam was passing through the hall when a lady asked her for a match. She made a joking reply and went on, but on reaching her room she fell on the floor dead. Dr. Semmell was called but nothing could be done. Her sister was almost prostrated by the fearful shock.

Miss Adam was a daughter of the late James Adam. The family formerly lived in Moncton but moved to St. John. Both Mr. and Mrs. Adam are dead, and an only brother, James, at one time manager of Jones' brewery, died suddenly in the old burning ground some years ago. Miss Adam is survived by three sisters—Miss George, who boarded in the same house with her; Miss Elizabeth B., a patient in the Home for Incurables, and Miss Johanna, who is now in Boston, having left for that city only a few days ago.

The deceased had been for a number of years a teacher in the Protestant Orphan Asylum, a position she filled to the satisfaction of all. All those in the institution cherished the highest regard for her, and the little ones especially looked upon her as a close personal friend. She was a consistent member of St. David's Presbyterian church, where she was prominent in the work of the mission society, besides being a teacher in the Sunday school. Miss Adam, although naturally retiring in her manner, had a sunny disposition and a gift of ingratiating herself with children. She will be sorely mourned for by a very large circle of friends and acquaintances.

POLITICS AND PUBLIC SPIRIT

Certain cynical observers, who have had more or less experience in election campaigns, profess to believe that there is so little public spirit in this province that it cannot effect the result in an appeal to the people.

FINANCIAL CONDITIONS

The weakness of the banking system in the United States has been that in recent years the apostles of high finance have got hold of banks and utilized them for speculative purposes, when they should be a tower of strength to legitimate business.

"We have frequently condemned, before this acute situation was revealed by the failure of a speculative stock operation in which a prominent bank was involved, the practice of allowing regularly organized and supervised banking institutions to pass into the control of promoters, speculators or great corporate concerns engaged in other business to be used to serve their purposes. That practice was a violation of sound banking principles and was sure to demoralize banking methods and lead to dangerous abuses, for it is the duty of a bank chartered by law, and subject to public supervision to guard the interests of all its depositors and treat all its customers with equal fairness and consideration according to their just claims.

"The case of F. Augustus Heinze and the Mercantile National was typical, though an extreme example. When Heinze obtained control he began to use the bank to promote his own purposes and advance the interests of himself and those associated with him, as considering his past career, it was to be expected that he would."

The Journal of Commerce points out, however, that further reform is needed. We quote again: "Every effort should be exerted to put our banking upon a basis of sound principle and upright methods and make it independent of all sinister influences which would make it subservient to special interests of any kind. The control and management of banks should not be entangled with that of corporate affairs in other lines of business, such as insurance, railroads and industrial concerns, in a way to put them under obligation to serve these and to discriminate against others. This is an element of evil that has been working insidiously and is widespread. It is to be feared that this infection has gone far and deep in some of the strongest members of the Clearing House Association, but its ravages are more serious in a class of institutions that are outside of its jurisdiction. Lack of adequate regulation, supervision and publicity has made of some trust companies the pliant tools of syndicates, promoters and speculators, until they have lost their original character and belied their name."

Hon. Mr. Barnes, the newest member of the provincial government, has committed so serious a blunder that the Sun this morning implies his colleagues not to take him seriously. Mr. Barnes expressed himself in favor of capes labor for the Queens county coal mines. The Sun joins the Times in the assertion that this province wants no oriental labor, and warns the government that "if it yearns toward the cool shades of opposition it can attain its desire in no easier way than by following Mr. Barnes's advice."

The more the friends of Col. McLean try to make the people believe that the colonel's nomination in Queens was a spontaneous tribute to great worth, the more the people are convinced that Dr. Hetherington's view is the correct one, and that the whole affair was skillfully managed by the machine.

With Rockefeller, Morgan and others of their kind to the rescue, the seriousness of the panic in New York is revealed, but their action also reassures the public. For the present the worst is doubtless over.

A GENTLE REMINDER "I wonder," remarked a youthful astronomer who was very slow in doing what was expected of him, "if—if you will let me associate with you a star—Venus, perhaps, the star of love?" "Well, no," replied the young lady addressed, thoughtfully. "I would rather that you thought of me as Saturn."

WAS A WISE GUY. In a New York street a wagon loaded with lamp globes collided with a truck and many of the globes were smashed. Considerable sympathy was felt for the driver, as he gazed ruefully at the shattered fragments. A benevolent-looking old gentleman eyed him compassionately. "My poor man," he said, "I suppose you will have to make good this loss out of your own pocket."

The driver held out his hat and several persons hastened to drop coins in it. At last when the contributions had ceased, he emptied the contents of his hat into his pocket. Then, pointing to the retreating figure of the philanthropist who had started the collection, he observed: "Say, maybe he ain't the wise guy! That's me boy!"

The Boy and the Occasion. It's great. There's no lemonade or firecrackers or turkey stuffed with oysters, but you feel like a calf turned loose among the holly-hocks.

Any citizen that objects to your groans at his back is no patriot. A policeman that runs you off the front steps of a millionaire is a grater and his name should be sent to the President.

The town of Warren, Me., was not so many years ago one of the leading ship-building towns in New England. Vessel building began in that town, along the banks of the upper Georges, as early as 1787, and extended over a period up to 1867. In all, 270 craft were built there.

HIGH SCHOOL 5 CURRIE BUSINESS 3

In a rough but rather loosely played game of football, High School defeated Currie's on the Victoria grounds yesterday afternoon by the score of 5 to 3. Willis was kicked in the head in the last part of the first half and was rendered unconscious. Sadler went into the line for Currie's. Sears of last year's St. Peter's, was on the last line for Currie's. The line-up was:

FOOTBALL NOTES

Protest Not Sustained. The protest entered by the La Tours against the awarding of Saturday's game to the Victoria was not sustained at the Intermediate League executive meeting last evening. The claim that iron cleats were worn was withdrawn by the La Tours.

MONCTON PAPER ON GAME WITH GREEKS

Sturday's football game here, between the M. A. A. team, and the Marathons, champions of St. John, is the only topic of discussion in local sporting circles this week. The first contest of the season for the much talked of Moncton football team is creating more than usual interest, for it is well understood that in going against the Marathons, the local team is tackling one of the hardest propositions in the province. The Marathons will have one distinct advantage over the M. A. A. team, from the fact that they have played several games this season. While the local team has been practicing hard for several weeks, and every man is in the best of condition, the handicap of actual playing is one not easily overcome, and although followers of the game realize that the line-up scheduled for Saturday is easily the strongest that has ever represented Moncton on the gridiron, they are not overconfident as to the result. All are unanimous in admitting that a great struggle may be looked for.

ATHLETIC

GOT GLAD HAND BUT LOST WAGER Toronto, Oct. 23.—(Special)—Jimmy Reynolds, the Port Hope barber, landed in Port Hope this evening at 6:12, having walked from Port Hope to Toronto and back, a distance of 138 miles, in thirty-four hours and ten minutes, beating Langford and his own former attempts all the way, though neither of them were finished. Reynolds is fifty-seven years old, and has more than a local reputation as a walker. He was something over the stipulated time, so fails to win his wager, but his record will probably stand for a time. At Port Hope he was received by cheering crowds, bonfires being lighted in his honor, and a band turning out.

THE TURF

Hampton, Oct. 23.—Hugh Gallagher, of Woodstock, was here on Monday and concluded a purchase from Mr. Fowler of the Baron Duncan colt, bred from Maud, the mother of the trotting mare Marguerite, famous in trotting circles in the province. The Baron is three years old and is said to be the fastest stepping colt in the province, and is, no doubt, destined to make a record for himself. Mr. Gallagher also purchased Mr. Fowler's brown mare.

THE RING

Rouse O'Brien Defeated. Young Donahue, of Roxbury, gave the majority of the Boston fans something of a surprise at the Winstonsport A. C. in Chelsea Tuesday night by clearly outpointing Rouse O'Brien in their ten-round bout. Young Donahue fought a very heady contest. He was cool at all times and displayed great generalship. He blocked well, and did nearly all his work at long range. It was only at close quarters that O'Brien could land an effective punch, and Donahue was crafty enough not to give him any of his own style of milling. The rookery boy jabbed and countered freely and rarely misjudged distance. He repeatedly led O'Brien on to miss and overreach himself by his footwork and clever dodging. From the opening O'Brien never had a chance, and if Donahue possessed a knockout punch he would probably have put the South Boston lightweight away. He came near doing so in the eighth round, when he sent O'Brien to the floor.

Boxing Notes.

George Menzies wants $5,000, two round-trip tickets from Los Angeles and two bouts to box in Philadelphia. He is not likely to get what he asks. Owen Moran, the English bantam, and Tommy Poole, who fought in the Quaker city last Saturday night, have been rematched to box in Philadelphia.

Spoke Robinson, the English lightweight, has been matched to box Billy Griffin, New Zealand, at the National Sporting Club of London, the latter part of next month. Promoter McCarry, of Los Angeles, cannot see his way clear to give Jim Jeffries $1000 to referee the Weeke-Attell bout next week. So Jack (Twin) Sullivan will probably get the job.

Manager Johnny Money has matched welterweight champion Honey Melody to box Frank Mantell (twenty rounds at Dayton (O.) Nov. 1). Melody has been cutting a wide swath through the ranks of the welterweights in the west, is said to be a wonderfully fast fighter, and will be heavily backed to beat the champion. The weight is to be 145 pounds at 3 o'clock.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Charles Emory Smith, Postmaster-general of the United States from 1898 until 1902 and publisher of the Philadelphia Press was born at Mansfield, Conn., on February 18th, 1841, and graduated from Union College in 1861. Mr. Smith married Miss Ella Huntley on June 24th, 1863. In 1865 he accepted the editorship of the Albany (N. Y.) Express and retained this position until 1870 when he became connected with the Albany Journal where he remained for ten years as its leading director. Since 1880 Mr. Smith has been prominent as the publisher of the Philadelphia Press. Before Mr. Smith was made a cabinet official he was sent to Russia as the Minister from that country.

DISASTER WAS DUE TO BLUNDER

Theodore Cooper Blames Incompetent Officials for Collapse of Quebec Bridge.

Montreal, Oct. 23.—A special cable from New York says: "If prompt action had been taken to protect chord 9 west from further deflection when the bend was discovered, the Quebec bridge would not have gone down. This would have been only about three hours' work, and the expense would only have been about $100 in timber and bolts."

Furthermore Mr. Cooper, to a certain extent, emphatically blames both companies—the Quebec Bridge Company and the Phoenix Company—for the collapse, inasmuch as he is of the opinion that neither had proper officials at the work, men with sufficient technical knowledge to superintend a construction of such magnitude. The consulting engineer states positively that, in his opinion prompt and intelligent action on the part of the officials at the bridge would have prevented the failure. This action should have been taken by the officials of either company at the bridge, and the contracting company should have had at the works an engineer of sufficient intelligence to have appreciated the necessity of prompt action while the executive of the Quebec Bridge Company should not have hesitated, in the absence of prompt action of the contractors, to have given the necessary orders.

"It was not the best bridge, but the best bridge that could be built with the money," declared Mr. Cooper. "The amount to build it with was limited to a certain extent, and the bridge had to be planned to meet this amount." That Mr. Cooper has not the best opinion of either the methods used or the officials on the work is evidenced by his testimony. For the past week, the commissioners have been working with Mr. Cooper, as much each day as his enfeebled health would permit, going over plans and discussing the matter from every standpoint and the culmination was reached today when Mr. Cooper went with Commissioner Holgate to the British consular general at New York and made a lengthy statement on the subject under oath—a statement that contains many things hitherto unknown concerning the collapse of the Quebec bridge, and contains many things that will prove a painful surprise to Canadians.

This statement was a long one, containing about fifty typed, written pages, or about twenty thousand words in all. This is the first time that Mr. Cooper has broken his silence relative to the matter since the collapse, but now that he has done so, the commissioners seem to feel that he has done everything that could help them in their investigation.

LATE LOCALS

The steamer Senlac will be on the marine slip at Halifax for about two weeks.

Yesterday's Yarmouth Times says: "It is expected that the Yarmouth will leave here tomorrow (Friday) evening at 8 o'clock. All the numbers and friends of the church are cordially invited to attend. Special evangelistic services will be held on the steamer, and will be continued every night indefinitely."

On Monday a man professing to be an employe of the electric light company, called at the house of George H. Waring, St. James street, and stole a number of articles of value. Next day he was at the residence of Wilfrid Barlow, where he also secured some booty. The police are on his track.

Thomas Davis of the north end had been imbibing freely yesterday afternoon and, taking exception to the vehicle used in street cleaning by Patrick McAnulty, proceeded to batter the little cart and later to batter Mr. McAnulty. Sgt. Kilpatrick and Patrolman James Corbett placed Davis under arrest on charges of drunkenness and assaulting Mr. McAnulty.

While hunting for partridges in the woods near Rolling Dam, last week, Isaac Storr came across the dead body of a finely antlered deer which was wedged in the fork of a tree. The poor creature had made desperate efforts to free itself from its prison but in vain. Some wild animal, probably a bob-cat, had been feeding on the body.

This afternoon's session opened with a Bible talk by Rev. G. A. Kuhring, after which W. C. Cross, of St. John, read a splendid paper on Three Factors in Sunday School Efficiency. He handled his subject in very clever manner, and was heartily applauded. A round table talk, in which a number of delegates participated, followed.

Glad Tidings Hall was crowded last evening, and the civic fair had a very successful night. The pretty booths were well patronized and the evening was a good time. The large room below, where cream was served, was utilized to hold the large number, and the temperature helped along the sale of the ice cream. The voting contest proved exciting, the vote standing: Bullock, 133; Sprout, 132, and McDouglck, 89. The closing night promises to be exciting.

P. E. ISLAND GIRL IN BOSTON PEST HOUSE

Jessie McPherson Just Returned to Boston From P. E. Island Suffering With Small-pox.

BOSTON, Oct. 23—Suffering from small-pox, Miss Jessie McPherson, an 18-year-old girl, rode about Somerville in an electric car packed with passengers returning from theatres and dances. Yesterday Caleb Page, the board of health agent, removed her from her place of employment at 85 Cross street, East Somerville, to the pest-house on the summit of Clarendon Hill. Monday night she felt ill and took an electric car to Charlestown, where she consulted a physician, who diagnosed her case as smallpox and allowed her to return to her home. Soon afterward, the physician realized the mistake he had made in advising the girl to return to her home, and reported the case to Dr. Wesley T. Lee of the board of health. Drs. Morse and Lee of the board of health hurried around and found Miss McPherson at 85 Cross street, where she is employed as a domestic. The girl came from Prince Edward Island. She has been employed at the Cross street residence for the past year. Last July she secured leave to visit her relatives and returned a fortnight ago.

PERSONALS

Rev. H. J. McGill, of Carleton, (Me.), is visiting his sister, Mrs. John O'Neill, Elliott Row. Wm. Downie, general superintendent of the C. P. R., came in from Montreal yesterday. Lieut. Col. Vidal, inspector general, who arrived here some days ago on his way to Fredericton, is still at the Royal Hotel. Mrs. Vidal is with him, having been summoned from Ottawa. Fred E. Jordan, editor of the Chatham Commercial, was in the city yesterday. Senator Comeau, of Meteghan River (N. S.), was registered at the Dufferin yesterday. W. E. Farrell, of Fredericton, was at the Royal yesterday. D. W. Smith, pastor of the S. S. Prince George, went to Melvern Square this morning. Before resuming duty Mr. Smith will visit St. John and other points.—Yarmouth Times.

A DIVORCE CASE

The divorce case of Mrs. E. I. Simonds against her husband will be heard shortly in Fredericton, before Judge Gregory who is expected to reach Quebec by the Empress of Ireland, on Friday the 28th. The suit which is brought on the usual grounds, will be of interest to St. John people as it involves representatives of some of the oldest and best known families in the city. W. A. Ewing is acting for the plaintiff and Dr. A. W. Macrae, K. C. for the defendant. It is understood that no co-respondent has been named.

VALLEY SKATING ASSN. FORMED LAST NIGHT

All the Speedy Ones Banded Together to Boom the Sport This Winter.

The Valley Skating Association was formed last night for the purpose of booming skating this season. The new organization contains nearly all the speedy lads of previous winters. The association is to stand for strictly amateur sport and are in affiliation with the M. P. A. A. The following officers were elected: President, Wm. Whitebone; treasurer, Roy McLean; secretary, Alfred Murphy; manager, Herbert Rodgers; auditors, Leonard Coleman, Ernest Wright. The colors are red and grey. The association will commence its amateur events the coming season. Roller skating as well as ice skating is to be taken part in. Manager Rodgers is endeavoring to get a man to represent his club at the coming Marathon road race. The boys also intend to have a hockey team. Any skater in good standing may become a member at a small fee.

Such an organization as formed last night can do a lot for skating here if they take hold in the right way.

RETURNED FROM TRIP TO ST. JOHN

R. J. Myles Now in Vancouver Welcomed Home From Visit to Maritime Provinces.

R. J. Myles has returned after a trip to the home of his boyhood, St. John, N. B., and has resumed his position with James Stark & Sons in whose employ he has been for several years. A number of his fellow employes, assisted by friends, made this the occasion to extend to him a pleasant greeting. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mitchell, of 1415 Ninth avenue west, kindly lent the use of their residence for the occasion of a very enjoyable social was given on Wednesday evening. The evening passed pleasantly with games, dancing and vocal and instrumental music. W. Moore added much to the success of the evening by his vocal and guitar selections. He was assisted by Messrs. Crawford and Croaker and Miss C. Vance, who accompanied him on the violin and the piano. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell proved to be the best of hosts. Mr. Myles was completely taken by surprise but needless to say, he felt both pleased and flattered at the trouble his friends had taken to do him honor.—Vancouver World.

While in St. John Mr. Myles enjoyed the privilege of again meeting his relatives and renewing old acquaintances. He was also glad to see St. John showing signs of sharing in the general prosperity of the dominion, and while wages were not as high here, as in the west, yet the cost of living is less. His trip here was the fourth he had made across the Canadian continent and he said, he was delighted with the great strides the dominion was making.

KIPLING AND HIS BURDENS

New York World Pokes a Little Fun at the Man Who Thinks Imperially.

(New York World.) Mr. Kipling has solved the Asiatic problem for Canada. It took him the best part of a week to get the immigrants from the old country," he says. "Pump them in, England has five millions of people to spare." Having disposed of this troublesome question, he can now pass on to the other pressing matters of imperial concern. Running the British Empire keeps Mr. Kipling pretty busy. Life for him has become a steady grind of great state affairs. During the Boer war he financed the hospital service with a music hall ballad. Then he adopted the Morris tube for village marksmen to shoot through and created a nation in arms by organizing a rifle club. He wiped Russia off the map with "Truce of the Bear." He smashed the alliance between the British and the shameless Hun when the European fleets blew up a mud fort in Venezuela. He commanded the United States to take up the mantle of the British Empire. He saved the British Empire from collapse by reviving the British constitution. On his way home he will stop off long enough in Newfoundland to adjust the fisheries dispute, and if he can find time between now and evening he may have to look in on the Australian high protectionists and ask for better terms for wool.

There's no telling. When duty calls, Mr. Kipling packs his grip and writes a poem. He recognizes that as a British institution he makes it his special affair to think imperially. The government may wonder along over the business of governing, but Mr. Kipling has stationed himself on the watch tower to keep the nation awake and alarmed. You see it is his responsibility for one man to shoulder, and it takes a lot of valuable time. The result is we get no more "Jungle Books," and no more "Pala Tales from the Hills," if only Rudyard Kipling would write stories!

OBITUARY Mrs. Archibald Page

Mrs. Sarah Page, widow of Archibald Page, who at one time conducted a barber shop at the Oak Hill corner, died yesterday in the General Public Hospital. Mrs. Page was about seventy-five years of age. For some time after her husband's death she conducted a store, but later removed to New Glasgow, returning to this city two or three years ago. Interment will be on Friday afternoon, from the home of A. P. Morton, 17 St. Andrews street.

Mrs. Gilbert Chapman

Salsbury, N. B., Oct. 23—A large number of sympathizing friends and relatives attended the funeral at Coverdale this afternoon of the late Elizabeth Chapman, wife of Gilbert Chapman. The services were conducted by Rev. H. H. Ferguson. The late Mrs. Chapman, who was fifty-two years of age, was suddenly stricken with paralysis last Saturday afternoon, while driving with her husband to attend the monthly conference meeting at Five Points United Baptist church. She appeared to be her usual health until leaving home. She never regained consciousness, and passed away yesterday morning. She was survived by her husband and two daughters. Deceased will be greatly missed in the community, where she was highly esteemed for her many fine Christian qualities. The church at Five Points also loses one of its best members. Schr Delta (Br), which received extensive repairs at Parrboro, has gone to Hantsport to load lumber for Havana.
