Two St. John Homes Robbed in Night While Occupants Sleep

POWER CO. TO BURY CURRENT

Thieves Get More Than $150 and a Watch in Jewish Houses.
LIKE IN YARMOUTH
Isidore Amdur, Elliot Row, and John Ross, Charlotte Street, are Losers.

Tactics which are rather rare in criminal procedure in this vicinity were adopted by a thief or thieves who entered the homes of two prominent Hebrew families in the city between midnight and daylight this morning, gained access to bedrooms in which occupants of the homes were sleeping, took sums of money from their clothing and left the clothes lying outside the bedrooms. The residences of Isadore Amdur, 85 Elliot row, and John Ross, 27 Charlotte street, were the places entered.

Entry to the Ross home is thought to have been made through the front door and escape effected by the back entrance, as the latter had been secured by a heavy lock on the inside, and this morning was found open. Mr. Ross' room was entered and his trousers were taken from near his bed and left near the back door, after about $100 had been removed. Mr. Ross said this morning that he had a faint recollection of seeing someone in the room during the night, but evidently took it for one of the family, or thought it was imagination, for he went into a sound sleep and thought nothing more of it until he discovered (Continued on page 2, seventh column)

Belfast Hunger Strike May Spread

Belfast, Oct. 17.—Tragic results or else "a notable victory" may be the outcome of a hunger strike begun by the soldier prisoners in Mount Joy jail in Dublin a few days ago, according to a Republican manifesto. There are approximately 18,000 prisoners in the jails, says the manifesto, which continues: "When the hunger strike spreads to the other camps and prisons, the people may be prepared to be shaken from their apathy by a tragedy or a victory unparalleled in the history of the nation."

SINN FEIN GATHERS 1,200 AT MEETING

Decides for Passive Resistance to Free State—Membership Republicans.
Dublin, Oct. 17.—The Sinn Fein convention, or Ard Fheis, held at the Mansion House yesterday, fulfilled the expectations of its promoters. More than 1,200 attended from Sinn Fein constituencies from all of the 32 counties. The organization, which last year sought to avoid division by a pact between Eamonn De Valera and Michael Collins, now consists almost solely of Republicans, and the proceedings yesterday reaffirmed the full Republican plans. Mary MacSwiney, elected to preside in the absence of De Valera, who is in jail, defined the future policy of the Sinn Fein as passive resistance to the Free State, and the resolutions proposed cover a detailed programme with this purpose in view. One of these protests against entering the League of Nations as a British colony.

McLACHLAN GUILTY

Jury Decides Former Secretary of U. M. W. Issued Seditious Libel.
Halifax, N. S., Oct. 17.—The jury deciding the case of James B. McLachlan, former secretary of the U. M. W., district 26, charged with seditious libel in a letter he published during the last strike of steel and coal workers in Cape Breton, returned a verdict of "guilty" at 2:15 p. m.

Bluenose Chosen To Defend Trophy

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 17.—The United States racing committee will have a challenger at Halifax on Oct. 27 to compete for the international fishing schooner race trophy according to a final telegram received today by F. A. Saunders, secretary of the Canadian Racing Committee, from W. A. Reid secretary of the American Racing Committee. There will be no elimination races in Canadian waters and the Bluenose, last year's winner of the cup, will defend the trophy against the American entrants which will be decided by the preliminary race off Gloucester.

QUESTION OF CREED IS BAN TO MERGER

Moderator Speaks for U. S. Congregationalists—Union Definitions.
Springfield, Mass., Oct. 17.—There is no prospect that Congregationalists will form a merger with any other denomination upon the basis of the required use of any creed, said Rev. Wm. E. Bartoo, of Oak Park, Ill., yesterday. He is moderator of the National Council of Congregational Churches. He declared that the various organizations comprising the Church of Christ would need to learn if they did not already know, that Christian union and church union were not synonymous terms and that they were far from being the same as unity. "There is no prospect that Congregationalists will form a merger with any other denomination upon the basis of the required use of any creed as a necessary part of any service in the church."

MOROS ON RAMPAGE

Kill School Teachers and Ten Soldiers on Island of Mindanao.
Manila, Oct. 18.—Two school teachers, one supervising teacher, one lieutenant and sergeant and eight privates of the Philippine Constabulary were killed last Sunday at a school house at Lake Buluan, island of Mindanao, according to advices received here. The aid of U. S. troops has been asked.

Washouts Cripple Alaska Railroad

Washington, Oct. 17.—One hundred miles of the Alaska railroad have been put out of commission, according to a report to Secretary Work, from Anchorage, by an unusually severe rainstorm, combined with high tides. The entire section between Seward and Potter has suffered from washouts and destroyed bridges.
Ottawa, Oct. 17.—A much more generous attitude toward Canadian enterprises is now evident in London financial circles, said Major Graham A. Bell, deputy minister of railways and canals, on his arrival from the British metropolis, where he has been attending to some urgent departmental matters.

Marshall, Texas, Oct. 17.—The sheriff of Marion County and the constable of Jefferson met on the main street there last night and without a word shot each other to death. Both men, B. B. Rodgers, the sheriff, and W. B. Proctor, the constable, were past 50 years of age.

Hamburg, Oct. 17.—Hugo Stinnes, Jr., sailed today on the S. S. Resolute for New York. It was announced that his visit to the U. S. was for "information purposes." Dr. Otto Ludwig Wiedfeldt, the German ambassador at Washington, also sailed on the Resolute to resume his diplomatic post.

U. S. SHUTS DOORS ON EXCESS IMMIGRANTS

Rejected, Mostly British, Grievous as They Return—Italians for Canada Held.
New York, Oct. 17.—Pathetic scenes were witnessed at the Cunard pier yesterday when 566 immigrants in excess of the October quota were denied admission to the U. S. and returned to the Berengaria, which sailed yesterday. Most of those deported were British.
The Italian quota was also exceeded. The Italian liner Sestini was denied admission to the U. S. and returned to the Berengaria, which sailed yesterday. Most of those deported were British.
Immigration Commissioner Carr announced that, despite the return of the immigrants, every bed at Ellis Island was occupied and that 100 Italians bound for Canada were detained in quarters at the pier, awaiting a sailing by the Canadian liner Scotia.

NEWCASTLE MAN DIES IN MONTREAL

William Richards, Manager of Opera House, Succumbs in The Hospital.
(Special to The Times.)
Newcastle, Oct. 17.—A telegram was received yesterday announcing the death at Montreal Hospital of William Richards, manager of the Newcastle Opera House. Mr. Richards was born in England 37 years ago, but came to Canada at an early age and located at Newcastle, being employed as musician at the Opera House.
About 10 years ago he was appointed manager and retained that position until three years ago, when he severed his connection and opened the Empire Theatre.
Last spring he again secured control of the Opera House. He was one of the best known and most successful theatre owners in Eastern Canada.
Deceased is survived by a widow, formerly Janet McGowan of Newcastle, and three small children.

STINNES IN RUHR

Plans to Engage in Further Parleys With The French Authorities.
Düsseldorf, Oct. 17.—Hugo Stinnes is again here in the Ruhr and it is understood that he is to engage in further parleys with the French authorities, but as was the case during the last visit of the German industrial leader, his movements are being kept secret. French military headquarters today professed ignorance even of the magnate's presence, adding that he certainly could not be having another conference with Gen. Degoutte today, as the general had gone to Mayence.
It is considered probable that Herr Stinnes is conferring with his own associates.

BLOOD FEARED IN MEXICAN UPRISING

Troops Marching to State Capital to Support Candidate For Governor.
Mexico City, Oct. 17.—Bloody developments are feared in the region of San Luis Potosi in view of an uprising by the Cedillo Brothers, who are said to be marching on the state capital to support Aurelio Manrique, for the governorship.
Jorge Prieto Laurens, president of the Federal Congress and head of the rival faction in the state, has telegraphed Secretary of War Serrano confirming news of the uprising by the two men whose activities in past years have caused trouble for several governments. The brothers, according to Laurens' message, are deploping the municipal authorities of several towns and are destroying telephone and telegraph lines as they march against San Luis Potosi. The Federal Government considers the Cedillo uprising as purely a local question.

COAL SUPPLY GAINS

Increase is Reported in the Bituminous Production in United States.
Washington, Oct. 17.—Bituminous coal production in the U. S. during the nine months ending Sept. 30, amounted to 418,669,000 tons, and was greater than during any similar period except that of the war year 1918. This estimate was made by F. R. Wadleigh, chief of the U. S. commerce department coal division.
During the same period in 1922, production totalled 271,644,000 tons, the miners strike reducing the output far below normal.
Market conditions were reported by Mr. Wadleigh to be quiet in nearly all the principal mining and consuming districts.

Charge of Use of Mails to Defraud in Connection With Oil Concerns.
Port Worth, Texas, Oct. 17.—Presentation of evidence by the Government in the trial of Frederick A. Cook, Arctic explorer, and co-defendants charged with using the mails to defraud, began today when C. B. Whitmore, real estate dealer at Fort Worth, took the witness stand as the first of more than 100 witnesses expected to be called in the prosecution.
Mr. Whitmore testified that he received letters through the mails from the Arctic region, signed by J. S. Rooks, a co-defendant, and from the Petroleum Producers Association, signed by Dr. Cook. The letters urged that the stockholders in the Burk Hoyt Co. transfer their stock into Dr. Cook's association.

Eighty Cents Hour Straight Time; 1.20 Extra Work—Week of 44 Hours.
Boston, Oct. 17.—A wage increase of fifteen cents an hour was granted longshoremen of this port in a new agreement signed last night after lengthy negotiations.

The wage for straight time is increased from 65 cents an hour to 80 and for overtime from $1.00 to $1.20, bringing the scale back to the 1920 level. Work during the supper hour is to be paid for at double the overtime rate, or $2.40 an hour.
Similar agreements were signed recently at New York and other ports.

CHANGE TONIGHT
Power Company Link-up Started—Drydock May Aid.
That an agreement had been reached with the New Brunswick Power Company to supply current for the New Brunswick Power Commission and they were prepared now to carry out their contracts was the statement made this morning by Hon. Dr. E. A. Smith, chairman of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission, at a conference with the city commissioners.
The commission also agreed to assume the obligations of the Civic Commission for the supply of current secured from the McAvity plant, and announced that negotiations would be opened at once with the St. John Dry Dock and Shipbuilding Co., looking to the use of their plant as an auxiliary in the event of the Power Company not being able to supply the required amount of current for its needs.
Ready by Midnight, It Hope.
It was stated that phasing of the line from the power house of the Power Company to the city substation would be commenced this afternoon and it was hoped to have everything back to normal by midnight tonight. Captain Leahy of Station 3 heard the commotion and stepped lively after the fleeing Ambro, catching him inside a block. In his pockets were found wads of bills amounting to considerably more than the missing $13.
He was locked up on the charge of drunkenness, with another alleged fellow gambler, Nick Shilsky.

U. S. Is Watching U. S. Tariff Plan

Washington, Oct. 17.—Keen interest is being taken by Washington in the working out of the preferential tariff plan within the British Empire which has been under discussion in the imperial conference. Although President Coolidge has made it plain this government recognizes the full right of the British government and the Dominions to adopt a preference plan is not a threat of retaliation by the White House, but there is no doubt the high tariff leaders in congress and the country will endeavor to use the British tariff preference as reasons for keeping up a high level of duties in the country.

A VOICE FROM PORTLAND.
St. John people in discussing the trade of their own port and the Canadian business handled through Portland have never found it necessary to indulge in misrepresentation of the Maine export, but it appears now that at least one Portland official has no such scruples. Mr. Henry F. Merrill, chairman of the Directors of the Port of Portland, is credited by the Portland Press-Herald with an attack upon St. John which is wholly unwarranted and by no means creditable to him or his cause. The Press-Herald brought in Mr. Merrill's notice news of the proposed C. N. R. pier at Courtenay Bay and of the new elevator at Halifax, and was told by him that these enterprises need cause Portland no anxiety. That is a matter of opinion, and it would have been far better if the port chairman had confined himself to legitimate arguments in supporting his contentions. But that he did not do. He set out very alleged reasons why Portland is "necessary" to Canada's winter trade, namely, favorable grades, the shorter distance, better traffic originating territory along the Grand Trunk, and "safe harbor entrance." The first three "reasons" are familiar ones and Mr. Merrill gives them an exaggerated value. They afford no real excuse for the use of Portland for traffic which could be handled as cheaply and as expeditiously through St. John. Mr. Merrill, seriously or otherwise, misrepresents the question of grades, but that is less important and much less reprehensible than his deliberate attack upon the safety of St. John harbor and the Bay of Fundy route. He is thus quoted by the Press-Herald:
"If the steamship captains have anything to say in the matter, they will favor the easily accessible harbor of Portland, little more than a mile from the open ocean." Mr. Merrill continued: "They dread the thirty-foot tide and the heavy fogs which menace them at St. John and have given to the territory around that harbor the name of the 'graveyard of the Atlantic!'"
This is both false and nasty, and Mr. Merrill will scarcely succeed in gaining more Canadian business for Portland by slandering the winter port of Canada, much as he may dislike its safety of this harbor and the approach to it has been proved beyond question in long practice, and even in our period of heaviest traffic during the war the immense business done through St. John was carried on without mishap. Again and again captains of ocean liners have testified to the ease and security of this route, and to-day, with the wireless facilities by which positions are indicated immediately the margin of safety is beyond all question. The phrase "graveyard of the Atlantic" has never been applied to this region by mariners, for the very excellent reason that there never has been in the history of the route any phase which was considered to be dangerous. American waters and has been used concerning more than one locality, but never ours. Mr. Merrill drags it in without the slightest warrant, and his course in so doing lends an ugly aspect to his interview, and his unreasonable inference but that he sought deliberately to injure this port. Fortunately that is beyond his power, whatever may be his wish.
That sort of thing is all the more unworthy of Portland because citizens of that place have just been conducting a campaign on Canadian soil for additional business. The people of St. John will not take Mr. Merrill too seriously, but the malicious spirit he displays in his official capacity will stiffen their determination to keep up the fight to have Canadian business kept in Canadian channels—where it belongs. News about additional facilities here has evidently caused some anxiety in Portland, and not without reason, but however they feel down there they should refrain from official slander of St. John. That sort of thing only stirs our fighting capacity. The Portland man's interview has a hollow sound. If he had been sure of his case he would hardly have found it necessary to falsify the record. And if he had tried to do so he could not have hit upon a slander easier to refute than that concerning the safety of this route.

ONE TOURIST CROP.
New Brunswick's attractions for the tourist are more numerous, more varied, stronger on the whole than those of Minnesota, though unfortunately they are not yet so well known. During this past summer, Minnesota estimates, its tourists numbered 600,000 and spent about $40,000,000 within the state's borders. The chief charm of Minnesota lies in its numerous lakes and scenery, and its wider regions make a strong bid for the camping fraternity. It has some fishing, but its game fish do not compare with ours, while our hunting regions are in many respects not to be matched anywhere. We have lake and mountain scenery, a magnificent group of rivers and streams, and the seashore which ever appeals so strongly to inland folk. Our growing system of good roads gives us an attraction for visiting motorists which is much greater than in former years, and in this respect every year brings steady improvement. In climate alone during the summer and autumn we have a wonderful asset.

These are familiar facts here at home, so familiar that our people sometimes forget the possibilities that lie in them. To consider them in this way is to consider them on a basis which is not only sound but also constantly extended publicity which will bring a rich harvest. To increase the army of visitors means bringing in millions of new money which will give an impetus to every branch of business. Once the stream is turned this way there is no computing its growth.
The Minnesota figures are merely a suggestion. There are states much nearer us which reap a much richer tourist harvest than Minnesota and which have less varied and picturesque attractions than our own. When we are asked to assist in extending the work of promoting tourist travel, and when we urge that this work be taken up on a greater scale than at present, we must keep in mind that it is an expenditure of the most productive kind. If to the amount now spent in this province by visitors there were added $40,000,000 or $50,000,000 a year the effect would be wonderful enough. And such an increased harvest is not beyond the possibilities if we are ready to give the enterprise the strong and organized backing its merits warrant.

THE PULPWOOD.
It is well that the Pulpwood Commission is inviting testimony on the general question of conservation and the embargo which is suggested as one conservation measure. The commission will cover much territory, and its inquiry is still at too early a stage to justify anticipating the conditions which will be reached. The testimony thus far has included that of many witnesses who strongly insist that if more effective measures against fire were taken, and if owners of woodland could be induced in their own interest not to cut more rapidly than the growth justifies, the supply of wood would be perpetual and there would be no proposal to prevent the export of pulpwood from private lands. This is a familiar doctrine that crops up in the evidence, but the truth of it will bear no little repetition. The fire takes so much more annual toll than the axe that there is no real comparison. The owners who have cut over their holdings for twenty years and who have to-day a greater quantity of timber than when they started give an impressive lesson to those who have cleaned up in a season or so and left nothing behind but stumps. Rightly viewed, woodland should yield a steady annual crop.
The case of the private owner presents an awkward face when prohibition of export comes up. He is accustomed to using his own judgment about what he owns. It may be unwise for him to sell his house or his horse, but they are his own property. So is his woodland. He is naturally disposed to insist upon his right to sell as he pleases, and he points out that an embargo would shut off his foreign market without guaranteeing him a sale at home when he happened to want it, not to speak of a sale at a figure ordinarily fixed by the export price. There would be no export price. Naturally the farmer wants a choice of markets, meaning competitive prices. When another country shuts out anything he has to sell by a prohibitive tariff he cannot help it, but he expects his own country to assist him in marketing his product instead of preventing him from doing so.
He argues that the home market will not, as a matter of fact, absorb our surplus of pulpwood, and that in order to secure the extra employment and the revenue it is necessary to sell it outside. He expects to be guided by his own needs and circumstances as to when he shall sell. The idea of being prevented from selling does not appeal to him at all. Suppose his market were shut off this year, he says, and he could not get the extra money upon which he depended. Or, worse, suppose he were prevented from selling when he was ready, and the fire took his wood. These may be called selfish or even un-patriotic considerations but the farmer or the settler cares little what they are called. He is thinking of what he considers his inalienable rights.
That, of course, is but one side of the case. There is testimony affirming the value of embargo in the national interest. There is the question of the risk of retaliation. As the commission continues its work it will be easier to appraise the weight of the evidence purporting to show that necessity for such restriction exists, that the em-

Dr. Straton Intends To Resume War On New York's Naughtiness

Not Deterred by Fact That He Discovered Worse Conditions in Berlin, Paris and London; Bewails Condition of Cigarette-Smoking American Girl.
New York, Oct. 16.—Dr. John Straton has no intention of letting up on New York just because he has discovered that European cities are worse. New York will continue to receive all the chastisement that she needs and when she needs it, for Dr. Straton loves his city and will do all that he can to save it from the painted, cigarette-smoking, dog-kissing women that are dragging it down to ruin.
"Anybody who read that Fifty-seventh Street's Thunderer, on returning from Europe, had found little old New York to be a fairly decent place (by comparison) and thought that his Sunday preachments against the theatre, dance hall and bootlegger were to be abandoned doesn't know Dr. Straton. Getting Worse, He Mourns.
"New York seems to be getting worse and worse all the time," he said yesterday afternoon at his new home at 62 East Seventy-seventh street, "but I love her and I shall not cease to rebuke her for her follies, for she is several million miles yet from Christian ideals.
"The drinking and smoking among European women shocked me profoundly, for, accustomed as I am to cigarette smoking among New York girls, I had never seen so prevalent in public. And I saw there what I never saw here—girls actually taking French names to make vice artistic, while with the Germans it is gross. London—well, London is ponderous and heavy, but it is on the way to ruin. It is avoidpious, not virtuous, that holds London back.

London—well, London is ponderous and heavy, but it is on the way to ruin. It is avoidpious, not virtuous, that holds London back.
"The high society girl is the lowest thing on earth," he thundered. "The curse of modern New York is the social climber. Women among the customs of the ideals of the race, and when these are lowered our last hope is gone. I never pictured the fall of the Roman Empire when he described the Roman woman as 'lewd, petulant, reeling like a drunken pie plate, and Dr. Straton, who developed when the train reached here.
"Father O'Connor was in the second section of the train, which was unoccupied. As soon as this section reached the scene and its occupants were informed of the holdup and explosion, Father O'Connor hastened over an intervening hill to the scene. He said:

IN THE PASS
(Clinton Scollard in New York Times)
At Beckwith in the pass below Chilton Creek.
The wind set Pan-pursed lips as to a flute,
And blew a poignant long autumnal strain.
That brought the rain.
And all the little streams that cut the clay
Made in their joy a bubbling roundelay.
The glinting rabbit brush through the gray blur
Grew ever.
The cattle lifted heads and rank the mist;
The following mountains swam in sunshiny;
And there were bursts of laughter from the grass
Throughout the pass.
Had praise for answered prayer upon the mouth;
And those who had faced famine and feared fire
Had their desire.

IN LIGHTER VEIN.
Hame's Best
The story comes from Scotland of an American who was looking a shooting-box there with the intention of hiring it for the season. In the old-fashioned gun-room of the place was the inscription "Best, West, Hame's best," observing which the American exclaimed: "Say! If I take this little place of yours, that advertisement for Hame will have to come down—whatever it is."

Discontent
It's funny that we seldom want the things that we have got, and that we often want to be that we are not. If we are fat we would be lean, if lean we would be fat; the work that we do most like to do is work we are not at. Were we to enter Paradise, by special gift of grace, we straightway would begin to try to find the other place.

GUARDS WELCOMED HOME FROM TURKEY
Grenadiers and Coldstreams Reach Southampton—Message from King.
London, Oct. 16.—The final scene in connection with the British evacuation of Constantinople was enacted last week when General Sir Charles Mervin, British Commander-in-Chief in the Near East, and 1,000 officers and men of Grenadier and Coldstream Guards landed at Southampton. They received an enthusiastic greeting, and the Guards were paraded on the quay coming then home and thanking them for accomplishing their "long and difficult task in a manner worthy of my Guards." Sir Charles said, in an interview: "Our send-off was wonderful. The Turks, who had always been silent, though respectful, suddenly gave vent to their feelings of admiration for our troops, and applauded them warmly as they marched off after the final ceremony. We left on the best of terms, and I feel that the memory of the conduct of our forces will be a help and safeguard to the British community left behind."
The Mudania convention brought forth the first fruits of the peace which has since been reached, and which I sincerely hope will be long lasting. The last three years have been a wonderful experience. I carry away with me many memories of Turkey. It is a fine country. I have received nothing but kindness on every side from all the nations in Constantinople."
The general also paid tribute to the support he had received from the Allied admirals, generals and high commissioners.

BOMB DAMAGES CUBS STADIUM; IS LAID TO LABOR TROUBLES

Chicago, Oct. 17.—Damage in excess of $5,000 was caused by the explosion of a dynamite bomb at the entrance of the Cubs baseball stadium here early on Sunday. Police attributed the act to members of unions alleged to be opposed to the Landis labor award under which the stadium was erected last year. Four ticket booths were wrecked and houses block away were rocked and damaged. Many families were routed from their beds and sent scurrying into the streets. Telephone lines in the vicinity were put out of commission. A small blaze started by the blast was extinguished by firemen before it could do much damage. Police are searching for three men who were seen near the stadium entrance and who made off in an automobile.

PRIEST TO FRONT IN RELIEF WORK

Oakland, Cal., Oct. 16.—The Rev. William J. O'Connor of Cincinnati, O., national chaplain of the American Legion, played a heroic part in relief work after a holdup and explosion, which claimed four lives on Southern Pacific train No. 13, near Hills, Cal., last developed when the train reached here.
Father O'Connor was in the second section of the train, which was unoccupied. As soon as this section reached the scene and its occupants were informed of the holdup and explosion, Father O'Connor hastened over an intervening hill to the scene. He said:

New Console Models that emphasize the artistic leadership of McLagan
THE console model was a McLagan innovation. Believing that the decorative beauty and refined character of the console would appeal strongly to many Canadians, this company was first to manufacture several models, each one representative of a Master Period of furniture designing. The vogue for console models began with, and developed from, the McLagan—the first in the Canadian field.
The leadership that McLagan assumed at the start of the vogue for the console model has never been successfully challenged. The McLagan line of console models is the most extensive and the finest produced in Canada.
This season, nine new console models are being introduced that will further emphasize the artistic leadership of McLagan. Three of these are illustrated above.
Ask the McLagan dealer to show you these new console models. The artist has endeavored to show their splendid appearance, but to fully appreciate the beauty of the selected cabinet woods, the exquisite coloring and finishing, the faultless carving and cabinet work, you must see the models themselves.
And you must hear them before you will realize the wonderful tone quality of the McLagan models. Each one is equipped with the famous reproducer and tone arm invented by Elmer Fletcher and for which the McLagan Corporation had the good fortune to secure the Canadian and British rights.
Visit the McLagan dealer and be your own judge of the McLagan's supremacy.

Douglas Fudger Struck by Car Driven by Harold Broderick.

Douglas Fudger, the seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Fudger, 131 Wentworth street, was run over and killed by an automobile driven by William Harold Broderick, son of Dr. E. J. Broderick, in Duke street, yesterday afternoon about 5:30 o'clock. The driver of the car was held at police headquarters for a few hours last evening, but was released late by Coroner H. A. Porter on his own recognizance and that of his father, to appear at an inquest to be held in the Court House tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock. The little boy died a short time after being admitted to the hospital.

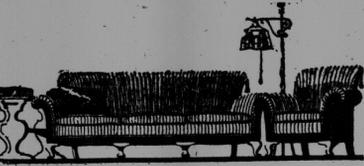

The unfortunate boy, in company with his mother, had called for a few minutes' visit on Mrs. Fudger's sister, Mrs. W. E. Richards, 75 Duke street, near Germain street. While his mother was in the house little Douglas was playing on the sidewalk with Mrs.

At the same time young Broderick drove along in a large automobile and, seeing the boy on the side of the road, gave the steering wheel a quick turn. The car swerved out but not clear enough to prevent hitting the boy. The forward mudguard knocked young Fudger down and the rear wheel of the heavy car passed over his head.

Bandits Get $929 Employer's Cash and Her $415 Savings.

R. D. Fudger, father of the dead boy, who is assistant secretary of the New Brunswick Board of Fire Underwriters, is not at present in the city, having been called to Toronto on account of the serious illness of his father.

A telegram was sent to him last evening, having been called to Toronto on account of the serious illness of his father.

New York, Oct. 17.—Miss Lillian Downman, 28 years old, of Brooklyn, cashier for Jaff Brothers, of 225 West Forty-fifth street, was held up and robbed of $415 which she had drawn from a bank to buy a trousseau and of $929 belonging to her employers.

When she was sent out to get the money for the firm she decided to draw her own savings for the wedding shopping she intended to do in the afternoon. She went first to the Franklin Savings Bank, at Forty-second Street and Eighth avenue, where her savings were deposited, and then to the Commercial Bank, at Broadway and Fifty-fifth street, where the firm of Jaff Brothers has its pay roll account.

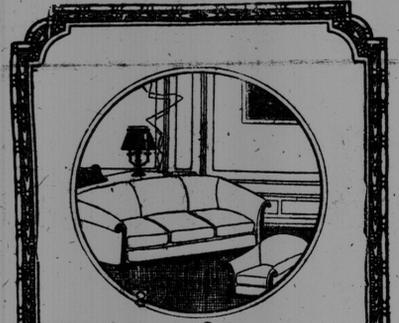

Max Stanger, of 338 Fifth street, chauffeur for Jaff Brothers, drove Miss Downman to the two banks and then back to the office of the firm. He entered the building at her heels and they were just starting up the stairs when two men, one of whom leveled a revolver at the other, confronted them and ordered them to put up their hands.

The young woman screamed and Stanger sprang at the man with the revolver. In the struggle the weapon was discharged, the bullet going into the wall. While his companion was struggling to release himself from Stanger's grip the other hold-up man snatched the portfolio containing the money from Miss Downman and ran out.

Several men who somewhat resembled the two robbers were brought before Miss Downman and the chauffeur for identification, but none of them was the man sought. The firm was insured against loss by theft, but Miss Downman, who had drawn almost all her savings from the bank, must stand the loss herself.

Girl's Purse Seized.
A crowd, aroused by the screams of Miss Anna Altshuler, was responsible for the arrest of Hyman Zimmerman of Brooklyn at Orchard and Delancey streets on the charge of grand larceny.

Miss Altshuler, who lives at 1244 Forty-fourth street, Brooklyn, said Zimmerman snatched her pocketbook, containing $122, at Grand and Allen streets, as she was on her way home. Patrolman Fargalle and Detective Joseph of the Chester street station joined in the pursuit, and, directed by the mob of pursuers, trapped Zimmerman on the roof of a building. When caught, the police say, Zimmerman admitted taking the money, giving as an excuse that he was out of work. Two men companions said to have been with him escaped.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Morris, of 206 St. John street, West End, were given a surprise on Monday evening, when several friends arrived and announced that they wished to spend the evening with them and thus celebrate their tenth wedding anniversary. Among the guests were several of the leading nurses of the city, in active work or retired. Mrs. Morris was Miss Edith McPeake, R. N., and followed her profession in Massachusetts after leaving St. John. W. E. Scully, M. P. P., presented a gold wrist watch to the bride and to the groom a box of choice cigars. Ten American Beauty roses were also given to Mrs. Morris by Mrs. Duncan Smith who, with Mrs. Harry Driscoll, Mrs. Walter Brown and Mrs. John E. Burke, served the guests at the supper hour. Many other gifts were brought by individual friends and the evening was spent pleasantly in dancing and bridge.

Needs of a New Building
Stressed at Annual Meeting Yesterday.

Mrs. Harold Lawrence was unanimously re-elected president at the annual meeting of the Ladies' Association of the Natural History Society yesterday afternoon in the society's rooms. It was decided to commemorate the late Mrs. George F. Mathew in naming the new course of lectures the Kate M. Mathew memorial course. Reports of a successful year were presented and reference was made to the great loss sustained through the death of members. Mrs. Lawrence presided.

The great need of the society at the present time, Mrs. Lawrence said, was a fireproof building as the collection which the present building contained were too valuable to be housed in a building which was not fireproof. She believed also that if a fireproof building were obtained the society's collections would some time be enriched by

CONSIDER FORMING VETERANS' SOCIETY

The possibility of forming an organization of returned soldier members among the community in East St. John was discussed at an informal meeting held last night in the East St. John Community Club hall. The hope was expressed that some place of meeting more centrally located than the Community Club hall might be obtained and that all of the war veterans in the district might join the organization for which "Allied Soldiers' Club" was suggested as an appropriate name. The purposes of the club were to be friendly intercourse and good fellowship. No definite action was taken last night but an endeavor will be made to interest all of the war veterans in East St. John and to advance the project further at a later meeting.

RALLY PLANS OF Y. W. C. A. HEARD

The programme for the rally with which the new season of activities at the Y. W. C. A. will be opened was presented at the meeting of the directors yesterday afternoon and was heartily approved. The rally will take place this week and will present all phases of the association work. Mrs. A. W. Estey, the vice-president, was in the chair and the opening devotions were led by Mrs. Alfred Morrissey. An inquiry from the department of immigration asking if the "Travelers' Aid" at St. John could absorb between 40 and 50 British girls for domestic service was discussed at the meeting and the general opinion was that this might be accomplished, although the overseas ideas of wages were considered unduly high.

The report of the physical committee showed about 150 enrolled in the gymnasium classes, of which 16 were being held. Three basketball periods had been arranged. The prospects for securing additional apparatus were considered good and the physical committee was undertaking to raise funds for this purpose. Many cases of special interest were referred to in the report of the "Travelers' Aid" and in discussing this report the suggestion was made that a tag day should be held to finance the "Travelers' Aid". The cafeteria and house committee report praised the administration under Miss P. Baird and showed a surplus in the cafeteria accounts. In the four summer months this year the number of meals served was 1,142 more than in the similar period last year. The general secretary, Miss J. Fleming, spoke of the hope of having the gymnasium used by girls' clubs from

Mother Knows It Washes Well
"The Underwear that Mother Chooses"

AFTER an experience covering fifty years, mother knows the kind of underwear which will wash well, without shrinking or stretching or losing its shape. Dods-Knit is her choice every time.

Mother has a way of washing Dods-Knit Underwear which seems to make it softer and fluffier. She uses plenty of suds and comfortably hot water for pure wool underwear. Fleece-lined underwear she soaks first in lukewarm suds. She doesn't rub knitted underwear on the washboard. She rubs it between her hands, squeezing and shaking it in the water. That keeps fleece and wool from getting hard. She rinses woollens in good, clean, warm water with a little fresh suds in it; wrings, shakes and hangs out to dry with some of the soap still in the wool. Fleece-lined, she rinses in two lukewarm waters with plenty of borax. Sunshine dries both wool and fleece as soft and "lively" as new.

Dods-Knit Underwear comes in the following brands:
Dods-Knit Cream Rib, all cotton—Men's; for Spring and Fall.
Plain White and Natural Fleece for women, misses and girls.
Ribbed White and Natural Fleece for women, misses and girls.
Dods' Natural and Random Fleece for men and boys.
Dods-Knit Natural Wool for men and boys.
Dods' Scotch Knit for men and boys (100% pure wool).
Dods' Elastic Knit for men only (Union and 100% pure wool).

Look for the Dods-Knit monogram trade-mark on every piece and to be sure of Dods-Knit unshrinkable quality and permanent softness.

feated in the battle of ballots yesterday. One of these was the Nestor of the body, Councillor Shanklin, of St. Martin's, and the other was Councillor Anderson, of Musquash. Of the five who will take their places three are former members of the Council and two are newcomers to the municipal field. In Lancaster the three members of the present Council were re-elected by good majorities. The closest fight was in Simons where there was only 34 votes between the high and low man. Following are the results by parishes:

Lancaster—John T. O'Brien, 699; William Golding, 534; W. Murray Campbell, 522; William McCavour, 447; A. D. Patrique, 384; A. C. Gregory, 342.

St. Martin's—George Mosher, 164; Reuben McLeod, 160; Robert Bowland, 154; S. J. Shanklin, 147.

Musquash—James O'Donnell, 79; Alexander Corseaden, 75; W. J. Dean, 64; George Anderson, 61.

Yesteryear's vote is said to be one of the biggest in the history of municipal elections in Simons, more than six hundred of the eight hundred voters on the list going to the polls.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home.

Mourey made a name as Marne fisherman. Lived in French Village like a Model Citizen and was treated by his friends.

Paris, Oct. 17.—Gabriel Alphonse Mourey, wanted in four American states for safe-cracking and especially by the New York police for his part as leader of the band that robbed Albert R. Shuttick of $80,000 in jewels, lived the life of a retired petit bourgeois at Chelles, a small village a dozen miles from Paris for three months before his recent sensational arrest by a dozen Paris detectives.

Carefully, but never flashily, dressed and somewhat trim in appearance, Mourey made his headquarters in a little cafe at the junction of the Marne and the Oise Canal. His intercourse with the other frequenters of the place was factually correct, the use of French or even vulgar language seemed to wound his sensibilities and he frequently refused to answer the question: "Liquor is the curse of the universe."

ZEV-PAPYRUS RACE MAY DRAW $475,000

100,000 Persons are Expected to Pay Record Gate Receipts.

New York, Oct. 17.—With an advance sale of more than $200,000 and with every indication of a sell-out, the $100,000 international race between Papyrus, the English Derby winner, and Zev, American champion three-year-old, is expected to draw the largest gate in the history of the American turf.

Already the advance sale has surpassed that for any previous turf classic, and according to estimates of officials of the Westchester Racing Association, which is promoting the race, close to 100,000 persons will pay gross receipts of about $475,000. It was said that this will represent the largest crowd, as well as the greatest receipts for a horse race in America.

More than 60 per cent. of the reserved seats have been sold, it was stated at the offices of the Westchester Racing Association. One official said that it was impossible at this time to give out any accurate data on the advance sale, but he said it was the greatest the association has ever experienced. He said a check-up on the various offices at which tickets are being sold would be made early this week and that it is believed that virtually every reserved seat would be sold before the day of the race.

The tickets now on sale are for the $22 and $11 seats, and the demand for them has been exceedingly heavy. The $5 tickets for admission to lawn and paddock will not go on sale until Wednesday. There also have been many requests for these. The infield admission at $1.50 will be sold only at Belmont Park on Saturday. Based on the forecast that all the reserved seats and many $5 tickets will be sold before Saturday, the advance sale alone will total close to $400,000. Such gigantic advance receipts for a horse race are without precedent. Only two sporting events in recent years have surpassed this advance, one being the Carpenter-Dempsey fight, which had an advance sale of $800,000, and the other the Dempsey-Frige fight, which had an advance sale of more than $1,000,000.

Based on figures supplied by the Westchester Racing Association, the estimate of ticket receipts is $475,000. If the general admission section exceeds the 25,000 estimate, there is a chance that the gross total, which includes the tax, will pass the $500,000 international mark between Papyrus and Zev. It is expected that the race will be a last-minute rush at the track on Saturday that will enable the club to dispose of general admission seats to all every inch of space. Of the estimated receipts, not all will go to the Westchester Racing Association, which is paying the tax out of the $22 and $11 charges, while $2 of the $22 charged for the clubhouse enclosure seats is tax, as is $1 on the $11 grandstand fee. Reserved tickets are procurable at the offices of the association, Room 1404, 66 West Fortieth street, at the various theatrical ticket agencies and at the Jamaica track. This week they will be procurable also at the Empire race meet at Yonkers. The ticket offices on Fortieth street will remain open this week for the sale of reserved seats until eight o'clock. There are apparently no tickets as yet in the hands of speculators. Unreserved seats will be on sale only at the park on the day of the race, according to present plans. Arrangements have been made for the parking of automobile at the oval. There will be no charge for this service. The Pinkerton Detective Agency will have charge of the seat sale at the park, and sixty men are to handle this service. The clubhouse enclosure will embrace sections 1 to 6, and will be nearest the start and finish. Tickets for this part are $22. There are fourteen more sections of the grandstand available at $11.

CUBS' BASEBALL PARK IS BOMBED

Chicago, Oct. 17.—Damage in excess of $5,000 was caused by the explosion of a dynamite time bomb at the entrance of the Cubs' baseball stadium here. Police attribute the act to members of unions alleged to be opposed to the Landis labor award under which the stadium was erected last year.

customs duty is chargeable as being largely smuggled into England by the same means. There is, in fact, a general revival of the smuggling trade which a century ago flourished all along the south coast of England. The result is not only that the revenue is being defrauded of many thousands of pounds, but the authorities are much handicapped in their efforts to stamp out the traffic and sale of dangerous drugs.

Two factors have contributed to this revival of an old traffic, which in recent years was completely suppressed, so that it might be said that hitherto there was no smuggling into England, aside from trifling evasions at the regular customs stations. In the first place, there is the influence of the depreciated French exchange. At the price at which spirits can be brought in France, smuggling them into England—where even ordinarily two-thirds of the price of a bottle of spirits is made up of duty—has become a highly profitable transaction. The profits of drug running are, of course, enormously greater. Cocaine is sometimes purchasable on the continent at as low a price as $10 a pound. It has been sold here, as was shown in a recent case in London, as high as $3,000 a pound. Coast Guard is reduced.

The other factor which has encouraged the revival of the mugging trade is the recent change in the system of preventive work here. The old coast guard, which kept day and night vigil over the coastlines, was abolished at the end of March, and a much smaller body, called the watchers, took its place. The older body was abolished so far as preventive work was concerned, on the ground of economy, in pursuance of the recommendation of a commission. The coast guards formerly had other duties, such as life-saving. Reduced from 2,500 to 1,000, they are now, under the control of the Board of Trade, engaged primarily in taking the first steps for saving life at sea. Formerly they were to be met all around the coasts patrolling the lonely cliffs. They had their regular beats like policemen, and a smuggler could scarcely hope to evade their vigilance. The customs now are responsible entirely for the prevention of smuggling on the uninhabited stretches of the coast, as well as at the ports. As some compensation for the disbandment of 1,500 coast guards the customs have recruited a new force of 400 coast watchers. But even of the coast guards are regarded as still partially available for preventive work there is a net loss of 1,000 men in the patrol of the coasts.

There is no doubt that a considerable amount of the cocaine which has figured in so many cases here recently has been smuggled into the country in this manner, and cases of ships' captains being brought to trial on charges of running spirits are increasing. The number of motorboats brought into use during the war is another factor which facilitates this revival of the running of contraband into creeks and other lonely points of the south coast. There is evidence that the illicit traffic is being carried on by a regular organization on both sides of the Channel, and customs officials here concede that it may go on until those responsible grow so daring as to give themselves away by the scale of their adventurous enterprises.

ARREST MADE IN NEW CHECK CASE

Munroe Wilson Taken; Allegation of Forgery and False Pretence.

Charged with uttering forged checks and obtaining money under false pretences, Munroe Wilson, aged 32, a native of Scotland, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Sergeant Detective J. T. Power. The checks in question were alleged to have been stolen from the office of Dexter & Richards at Musquash, where they were filled out in the names of Miles Coughlan and Wilnot Edwards and were for $115.00 and $88.85 respectively.

Wilson is said by the police to have purchased an overcoat for $25 from Robinson's Clothes, Ltd., King street, yesterday morning, tendering therefore the larger of the two checks. Besides the coat he received $28 in cash and was to return later for the balance of his change.

The detective department was notified and the matter was reported to the Royal Bank of Canada, on which the two checks were drawn, which in turn sent a warning to all the branch banks in the city and vicinity.

Yesterday afternoon Sergt. Power was notified by the Fairville branch of the Bank of N. S. that the second check had been presented there, endorsed "A. Edwards." Instructions were given to hold the man and on the arrival of the detectives he was taken into custody. It is expected that he will be brought before the court this afternoon.

It is alleged that the signature of Dexter & Richards which appears on the face of the checks is in the same handwriting and executed with the same ink as that used in the endorsement. In neither case, however, did Wilson endorse the checks in the presence of those to whom they were presented.

GRAIN INQUIRY HERE TOMORROW. Former New Brunswicker is Chairman—B. C. After Share of Traffic.

The Royal Grain Inquiry Commission will be in St. John tomorrow, to examine into the elevator methods and the system of handling grain and to discuss the grain transportation problem with the shipping men. No public hearings will be held.

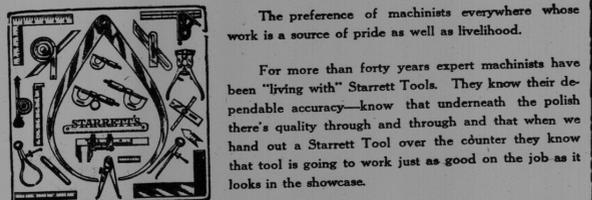

The chairman of the commission is a native of New Brunswick, Hon. W. P. A. Turgeon, son of the late Senator Turgeon. He was attorney-general of Saskatchewan, and is now a judge of the Supreme Court.

The other members are W. J. Rathford, Dean of the Faculty of Agriculture in the University of Saskatchewan, an expert on grain growing; Dr. D. A. MacGibbon, head of the Department of Economics in the University of Alberta; James Guthrie Scott of Quebec, transportation expert; D. D. Young, technical advisor on grain marketing; and L. A. Thompson, a milling expert.

The purpose of the commission is to study the problem of marketing grain, beginning with cleaning, storing, grading and dockage in the country elevators. They began with a series of meetings in leading centres in Saskatchewan and Alberta and are now studying the problem of transportation, having gone to Vancouver, Victoria, New Westminster and Prince Rupert, to size up the western situation, and followed the grain from Buffalo, which is a transfer station, to New York, through which a very large quantity of Canadian grain is shipped.

As Hiram Sees It. "Look-a-her!" said Mr. Hiram Hornbeam to The Times reporter, "I wasn't talkin' to you yesterday." "Who said you were?" demanded the reporter. "You did," said Hiram. "That's odd," said the reporter. "You say I told things you said that you didn't say?" "Yes, sir," said Hiram. "How very odd," said the reporter. "But you should have said them. You are supposed to talk to me every day. You ought to thank me for the publicity." "You noospaper fellers," said Hiram, "hes got a mighty sight too much imagination." The Table of a Hundred Uses

What a blessing a Folding Table is! One that may be kept behind a door or in a closet, ready at any moment for the odd game of cards, for serving tea on the verandah, or even for ironing there on a warm day, or in the cool of the evening it will support the phonograph or father's smoking kit and the daily papers.

The one illustrated is so light (weighing only 11 pounds) so strong (will support half a ton) so compact and so easily handled and withal so good looking, that it is not surprising that "everyone who sees one wants one." As shown, with fumed oak top, price is $5.65. Others have felt top or linoleum top and some are larger in diameter. Let us show you how necessary they are in your home.
