MRS. HOLT DEAD IN HER 106th YEAR

Passed Away at an Early Hour This Morning

ILL ONLY SHORT TIME

Venerable Resident Remarkable in Good Health and Enjoyment of Her Faculties—Born in Ireland But Nearly all Life Spent Here

After having lived to the grand old age of 106 years, the oldest resident in the city, and perhaps in all Canada, Mrs. Ann Holt, widow of James Holt, formerly of Carleton, passed peacefully away this morning about 4 o'clock in the Mater Misericordiae Home.

Up to within a week or ten days, Mrs. Holt was in complete possession of her faculties, in spite of her advanced age, and could talk with interest and enthusiasm of years gone by, in relating incidents of early times in St. John. She could tell much that was new to the present generation, though old in local history.

Mrs. Holt was born in Ballyshannon, Ireland, a little more than 100 years ago, having celebrated her birthday on Tuesday, March 15 last. Up to the time of her death, she was cheerful and contented, and her faculties were apparently unimpaired.

Mrs. Holt was well known in this city and her friends will regret to hear of her death. She is survived by sons, Bartholomew and Edward; a daughter, Mrs. Alois Werner, and a grand-daughter, Mrs. James Daley. With these three survivors she spent her last birthday. Her funeral will be held on Thursday afternoon from the Mater Misericordiae Home.

STOCK OPERATIONS BY LEGISLATORS BEING LOOKED INTO

New York, Sept. 14—After a rest since last Friday, the members of the graft investigation committee reassembled here today to resume the work of probing legislative corruption. Former Lieutenant Governor M. Linn Bruce, chief counsel, today was prepared to place before the probers the accounts of various individuals with the banking and brokerage firm of J. S. Bache & Company which are expected to throw light on the recent speculative operations of legislators.

The Bache firm, which hitherto had declined to produce its books and was threatened with prosecution, consented to produce the records.

THE WEATHER Moderately northerly wind; local showers at first, then fair; Thursday, fine.

TRADES AND LABOR CONGRESS ON MATTER OF IMMIGRATION

Port William, Ont., Sept. 14—(Special)—Immigration was the principal theme of the discussion at yesterday's session of the Trades and Labor Congress. W. R. Trotter, of the Winnipeg Typographical Union, former agent of the congress in Great Britain, presented a long report in which special stress was laid on the necessity for restriction and for provisions against exploitation. He severely criticized some of the schemes for immigration and concluding a part of his report, said: "It should be understood that no scheme detrimental to the interest of Canadian citizenship will be tolerated and Canadian citizenship must be held to include more than the Manufacturers' Association and allied press. No scheme of imperial labor exchange can possibly be agreed to which is not preceded by a system of provincial and dominion exchanges. Any other arrangement would be open to suspicion of scandalous shipping, by the Salvation Army, to British Columbia, of 11,000 persons when there were at the time 7,500 unemployed in Toronto alone. It should be clear that our fight from now on is not so much against number of immigrants as against the many schemes of the cloud of dividend-gunning corporations which have descended upon Canada and whose agents, titled and otherwise, are much in evidence during the summer months."

The subject of immigration was referred by the congress to a special committee.

The Standard referring to the phrase "imperial army" in the message to Earl Grey, says: "King George has inherited the valuable gift of saying much in a few words. It is impossible to doubt that the expression was deliberately chosen and it is because the public spirited men in Canada thoroughly grasped the principle of imperial defense that the message was so heavily criticized. The king's reception of them and say it was the crowning surprise of a list of delightful surprises they met with in the month."

Hon. Messrs. King and Lemieux

Armand Hubert, minister of industry and labor, gave a luncheon last evening in honor of Hon. Mr. King, Hon. R. Lemieux and other members of the cabinet.

At the conference of the institute of journalists today Robert Macmillan of Sydney, Australia, moved a resolution expressing the view that the time has arrived for binding the empire together by a giraffe of cheap cables.

Honorable Heaton, supporting the motion, contended that the cables were now in the hands of operators of cable lines. They should be bought out at market prices by the government of the world. The first step was to call a conference of the postmasters-general of Europe, then another with the United States. Two resolutions were carried.

SORRY FOR JIM

Mr. Hiram Hornbeam spent some time this morning sounding the puddles of water on the surface of the new pavement on Water street, and then sounded those on the city's macadamized work on Canterbury street.

"I just wanted to find out," said Hiram to the Times newspaper, "what you people down here considered the right kind of a crown to put on a new road."

VALUABLE TOURMALINE DISCOVERY WHILE DIGGING FOR FELDSPAR ON OLD FARM

Auburn, Me., Sept. 14—By a single blast of dynamite, Forest L. Hovey, of No. 35 Ash street, Lewiston, has acquired a fortune. A mining expert of many years' experience in various parts of the country, Mr. Hovey was mining feldspar on the old farm of his father, in the town of Poland. An excavation to a depth of about twelve feet under the surface of the ground had been made when a hard, crust-like layer was encountered. A hole was drilled and a charge of dynamite inserted. The explosion lifted the crust-like cover of a basin shaped depression in solid rock.

VATICAN AND SPAIN

Madrid, Sept. 14—Count Benamery, President of the Spanish Chamber of Deputies, is quoted in an interview today as declaring that the policies of Premier Canalejas are daily gaining adherents among the adversaries of the governor as the country is convinced that he is working for the best interests of the nation.

At the opening of the Cortes, Canalejas, according to the president, will announce an unmodified continuation of the religious programme. The "Padlock Bill" prohibiting the creation of new religious establishments until the revision of the concordat has been completed, and a definite law upon the subject has been passed, which measure is opposed by the Vatican, will not be withdrawn but on the contrary the senate will resume its discussion of the legislation.

HUNDRED CAMPAIGNS FOR LOGAL OPTION ARE PLANNED IN ONTARIO

Toronto, Sept. 15—That there will be 100 option contests in fully 100 municipalities next January was announced to the general executive of the Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance here this week. Already the alliance is in correspondence with 100 municipalities in Ontario where campaigns are proposed; and Messrs. Morrow and Shoemaker, superintendents of the Anti-Social League of Michigan, and J. H. Roberts of the Quebec Alliance, have been secured to help in the campaign.

SHOULD HAVE BEEN ARRESTED

A man who started to walk across the grass to read the inscription on the Tilley monument on King Square was turned back by a civic employee, but was not arrested as he should have been. The fellow, evidently a stranger, was so impertinent as to say that there should be a path up to and around the monument, so that visitors could inspect it and read the inscription. Instead of ordering him to get out, the civic employee merely explained that we don't do things that way in St. John.

SIXTEEN IN CHAMPIONSHIP GOLF ROUND TODAY

Brookline, Mass., Sept. 14—There were plenty of driving rooms at the Country Driving Club today for the sixteen winners of the round for the title play of amateurs for the Country Golf Association cup. The field, however, was unusually strong was thirty-six hole matches for the next four days. On Monday 188 starters fell by the wayside and this number included champion Robert A. Gardner and former champion H. Chandler Egan, both of Chicago. However a member of the executive committee remarked that it was no disgrace not to qualify in such a field, for it was 25 per cent larger than ever before, the links were 23 per cent more difficult and the character of the play was 30 per cent higher.

ANOTHER ROBBERY OF GOLD IN THE WEST

Seattle, Wn., Sept. 14—A registered mail pouch containing several thousand dollars in gold bullion shipped from Fairbanks, for Seattle, is missing and is supposed by local postal authorities to have been stolen. The package was sent over the government trail to Valdez. Secret service men have been at work on the mystery for several days.

Crippen Prosecution Encounters Set Back

EXPERT ON STAND

Professor Gives Details of Examination of Remains Found in Cellar of Crippen's Home—LeNeve Looks Distressed But Doctor is Cool

Associated Press

London, Sept. 14—Dr. Crippen and Ethel Clara Le Neve were in Bow street again today. The former looked quite cheerful, the latter showed signs of nervousness. Dr. Pepper, the home office expert, described his first visit to Hilldrop Crescent, and what he found there. He then minutely described his examination of the remains and explained the portions of a body from which the flesh appeared to have been taken. Some important parts were missing.

He had no doubt the remains were those of a human being. The person who removed the viscera must have had some real anatomical knowledge or was accustomed to the process of evisceration. Asked whether the remains were adult, Dr. Pepper replied that, about early middle life, and the remains were buried soon after death. As to the length of time the remains were in the ground he said approximately from four to eight months. Examination did not reveal the cause of death.

LeNeve Distressed

On the other hand, Ethel Clara Le Neve accused as an accessory after the fact, was seen and plainly in mental and physical distress. The police authorities had anticipated that the day would be a trying one for her and accordingly she was attended for the first time in court by a wardress who sat close to her throughout the proceedings.

Could Not Say Man or Woman

Prof. Pepper said that the hair discovered included a short strand of fair texture wrapped up in a handkerchief of the size commonly used by men. The witness identified particularly a piece of flesh six by seven inches in size as coming from the abdominal wall and which bore a scar which in his opinion was undoubtedly left by a wound from an operation.

Under Left by a Wound from an Operation

The witness said that the scar was in a vertical direction and more than four inches in length. It was old and might have been on the body for a year, possibly many years. The condition of the organs recovered was healthy and in his judgment indicated a rather stout person in middle life whose hair was dark brown where it was cut.

WEDDINGS Haines-McBeth. The home of Mr. and Mrs. James McBeth, Adelaide street, was the scene of a pretty wedding last evening, when their daughter, Myrtle J., was united in marriage to Mr. Haines McBeth by Rev. R. H. Noble. The bride was very becomingly attired in a dress of champagne crepe de chene trimmed with point d'esprit and silk. The house was beautifully decorated with green and white trimmings in honor of the occasion. The bride and groom were the recipients of many beautiful and costly presents.

DAVIS PERFECTION CIGAR. "Do all these big men prefer mild cigars, Fred?" "Most of them come to me sooner or later. They get in the habit of smoking all day in the office, and going back and forth. They cannot stand so many strong cigars, and so they take to Davis' Perfection." "Why, sir, that was Mr. president of the big merger." "But didn't I see him getting a box of Perfection Cigars. That's a moderate priced cigar for a man of his wealth." "You would be surprised, sir, to know how many wealthy men smoke Davis' Perfection 10c Cigar in preference to higher priced brands." "I suppose that's how they got rich, eh, Fred?" "No, it isn't the saving that interests them. It's the fact that the Perfection, although a mild cigar, has the true Havana flavor."

FAMOUS GEMS OF PROSE A SOUTHERN CONFEDERACY By Daniel Webster

From the famous "seventh of March" speech in the U. S. senate, March 7, 1850. I KNOW, although the idea has not been stated distinctly, there is to be, or is supposed possible that there will be, a southern confederacy. I do not mean, when I allude to this statement, that anyone seriously contemplates such a state of things. I do not mean to say that it is true; but I have heard it suggested elsewhere that the idea has been entertained that after the dissolution of this union a southern confederacy might be formed. I am sorry, sir, that it has ever been thought of, talked of, or dreamed of, in the wildest flights of human imagination. But the idea so far as it exists must be of a separation, assigning the slave states to one side and the free states to the other. Sir, I may express myself too strongly, perhaps, but there are impossibilities in the moral as well as the physical world, and I hold the idea of a separation of these states, those that are free to form one government and those that are slave-holding to form another, as such an impossibility. We could not separate the states by any such line if we were to draw it. We could not sit down here today and draw a line of separation that would satisfy any five men in the country. There are natural causes that would keep and tie us together and there are social and domestic relations which we could not break if we would and which we should not if we could.

PAVING JOB IS GIVEN THE EXPECTED WHITEWASH TOUCH

Council Adopts the Report of Committee of Inquiry—Ald. Baxter Gets Engineer Authority to Use Hassam Method in Smythe Street Too, if He Wants To, Instead of Following Specifications.

At the special meeting of the common council last night the report of the committee investigating the Main street pavement was adopted with some amendments. At the same time the members reconsidered their former resolution taking the power from the engineer to accept an alternative method in Smythe street and by a vote of 8 to 7, rescinded it. This means that the method used in Main and Water street may, at the discretion of Mr. Murdoch, be the same as the third street. The members sat as general committee first and it was not until after a protracted and warm debate that the report of the committee was finally recommended to the council, which passed it as amended. The motion to adjourn was put twice before it was finally carried about 11:30.

The Report Following is the full report of the committee appointed by the common council to hold an investigation under oath, into the Main street paving contract. 1. Your committee report that from the evidence taken it is clear that no person or employee of the city government has received directly or indirectly, any money, gifts, rewards or promise of reward from the contractor, or any person connected with the contractor, in connection with the paving of the Main street.

Here's Your New Collar! BEDFORD FAMOUS CASTLE BRAND—3 to 50c. Made in Berlin by At 2 for 25c, you can buy this shape in Elm Brand No. 5-8 3/8 to 7 1/2 inches thick. No. 6-8 to 7 1/2 inches thick.

Asphalt sidewalk, 1,300 square yards at 65c per yard... 845.00 Granite block pavement... 9,240.00 Curb stones (new), 80 lin. feet at $12.00... 960.00 Catch basins (new) (2) at $75... 150.00 Repairing catch basins (2) at $28... 56.00 Old curb stones reset, 1,400 lin. feet at 65c... 910.00 Bridge stones at $1.75... 1.75

7. Your committee find that the concrete foundation for the pavement is the item which has caused the charges to be made and upon which the controversy swings. The cost of this specification is one-fifth of the whole pavement, or approximately $1,800. The sworn statement of the inspector that the city is receiving but fifty per cent. of value of the specification has failed to be substantiated by calculation or estimate, and afterwards this statement was modified by the inspector, that this was only his opinion, and applied to that portion of the foundation upon which he was employed as an inspector. In other words, that the concrete foundation upon which the pavement is laid costs $12 per cubic yard, and when your committee know that the ordinary wooden blocks used in and on the street are the equivalent of one cent, a radical error has been made in regard to this statement, even admitting that the statement is true and could be substantiated it would mean that the sum of $800 is involved in this dispute, which has been the subject of an animated controversy which has prevailed in this community and province for two months past.

8. Your committee find that the contractors brought to their notice during the investigation that the specifications as submitted to the tenders on the printed form, permitting alternative methods of making concrete was a wise provision, allowing the contractor of limited means an opportunity to compete with large concerns endowed with capital, which have the advantage of improved and labor-saving machinery, and it is sworn in evidence that ninety per cent. of the concrete made and used in the world is through the agency of concrete mixing machines, which were admitted in the evidence to be the most perfect method of mixing concrete extant, and yet under the detailed specifications as it stands it would have been impossible for the engineer to have permitted the use of machine mixed concrete, and had he permitted it was in violation of the Hassam method, your committee feel confident that there would have been no fault found if he had deviated from the printed detailed specification.

9. Your committee have also to report from the evidence, that from the beginning, there was not exhibited that spirit of harmony which should have existed between the inspector and the engineer, and if the evidence is to be believed, extraordinary conditions existed, which the assistant engineer states that the inspector told him he had had nothing to say, but I will have my say when the work is done, then the trouble will arise, such condition of affairs in the opinion of your committee, was destructive to good and effective work.

10. Your committee find that the city engineer has not kept a force account on this work, which we believe should be kept for the future protection of the city's interests. Respectfully submitted, J. H. FRINK, Chairman.

11. Ald. Jones moved reception of the report. It was taken up by sections. The first was adopted. The second Ald. Baxter thought too strongly worded but it was passed. Section 3 was passed without comment.

12. Ald. Christie—"It is just like all other council investigations. They bring along a big bucket of whitewash." Ald. Hayes thought it was very gratifying to find out who was responsible. The summer in leisure bring forward their criticisms of the committee which had worked hard and faithfully. The old hand-mixed method.

13. Ald. Christie—"Was not carried out. That's the whole trouble. The Hassam method ought never to have come in." Ald. Hayes, continuing, said that while he thought the engineer was blameworthy, Mr. Carleton was also to blame. Mayor Frink said that now they had got down to the crux of the whole investigation to find out who is responsible. The whole evidence showed that neither the engineer, his assistant nor the inspector knew anything about the Hassam method.

14. Ald. Potts thought that they should not censure Mr. Carleton when several of the Hassam people had admitted they did not know the method. Mr. Low knew this work was being done wrong and when asked why he did not see to it at the beginning of the work he did not like to make any unpleasantness.

15. The section was finally adopted, an amendment by Ald. Potts and Scully to strike out the last sentence being lost upon the vote for the amendment were Ald. Potts, Scully, Wigmore, Baxter, Sprout and Christie.

16. Sections 5, 6 and 7 were carried as was also Section 8. In regard to section nine, Ald. Potts moved that all the works after "inspector and city engineer" be struck out. It was, he submitted, rubbing it in too much to Mr. Carleton. A statement was attributed to the ex-inspector which Ald. Holder said he had said he did not.

17. A Voice—"Oh, well, that's the sworn evidence Ald. Potts." Ald. Potts—"Well, some people were hearing to retain their jobs, while others were resigning. Continuing, the alderman said that it seemed to him that the whole evidence seemed to bear on the point that Mr. Carleton was connected in some way with the other parties. He felt the report dealt too severely with the man to whom they ought to be thinking about putting up a monument.

18. Ald. Christie—"I can't see what good that section is anyhow. I move that it be struck out." After some more discussion Ald. Potts withdrew his amendment and a motion to strike out the section was carried.

19. Ald. Willet then introduced a resolution that the common clerk notify the city engineer of the findings of the council and send him a copy of the committee's report. Ald. Wigmore did not see how at least one member of the committee could agree with the report that all the work above J. A. Likely's place was good.

20. At this point Ald. McDougall rose and moved for adjournment. He had been up in front of McArthur's book store, which was far from satisfactory. Ald. Ald. Wigmore had picked stones out with his fingers around which there was no cement.

Ald. Baxter then intimated that the Hassam method of laying pavement was all right if properly carried out. In fairness to the contractors he moved that the council reconsider its action in regard to Smythe street.

The New York Primaries. New York, Sept. 13—Primaries held throughout New York city today show the relative positions of Theodore Roosevelt and the "Old Guard" who are fighting for control of the coming Republican state convention, are practically unchanged. Roosevelt will have the support of practically the entire delegation from New York county, numbering 100, while his opponents claim 105 of the 142 delegates in Kings, twenty-four in Queens, and eight in Richmond county. There were uneventful contests, backed by the "Old Guard" leaders, in several districts in New York county, while in Kings the friends of Colonel Roosevelt endeavored to capture some of the districts here. Wigmore, there had been a block taken up in front of McArthur's book store, which was far from satisfactory. Ald. Ald. Wigmore had picked stones out with his fingers around which there was no cement. Ald. Baxter then intimated that the Hassam method of laying pavement was all right if properly carried out. In fairness to the contractors he moved that the council reconsider its action in regard to Smythe street.

The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., SEPTEMBER 14, 1910
The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Canterbury street every evening (Sunday excepted) by the St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

THE EVENING TIMES THE DAILY TELEGRAPH

New Brunswick's Independent Newspapers. These papers advocate: British Connection, Honesty in Public Life, Measures for the Material Progress and Moral Advancement of our Great Dominion, No Craft, No Deals, 'The Shamrock, Thistle, Rose entwined The Maple Leaf forever.'

THE LAST NIGHT

Tonight the exhibition will be practically closed. Tomorrow is "get-away day." The citizens should make this evening's attendance a record from the standpoint of local patriotism. It will be their last opportunity to see to advantage the greatest exhibition ever held in St. John. It is no more than justice to the management that their successful efforts to provide a great educative and entertaining fair should be stamped with the seal of a generous approval by all the citizens.

THE PAVING REPORT

The city council has condemned Inspector Carleton, who resigned his position in protest against the waste of civic money on the Main street paving job, and has endorsed the Hassam method, although no alderman has yet been discovered who can tell exactly what that method is.

With regard to the city engineer, the council began by censuring him, and ended by giving him a free hand on Smythe street.

The Hassam people are the only persons, with a few exceptions, who are not guilty parties. The report of the paving committee is an ingenious document, skillfully prepared. It proceeds by exonerating all aldermen and civic officials from any suspicion of desire to profit at the city's expense, and then gently chides the engineer for not having a clear understanding with an inspector who foolishly believed that it was the duty of an inspector to inspect.

The committee also expresses its approval of concrete mixing machines, and concludes with another charge against the inspector and a love tap for the engineer. The general discussion of the report, concluding with Ald. Baxter's artful manoeuvre to give the Hassam method to Smythe street, will rank with the humorous incidents of the whole affair.

What is the Hassam method? In Frederickton the people contracted for a Hassam pavement. There, we are told, the stones were rolled before the street was applied, just as was done on Main street before Inspector Carleton resigned.

It is to be regretted that Ald. Hayes fell into an error in some remarks which discredited Mr. Carleton. The alderman stated that Mr. Carleton swore that he had never spoken to Mr. McLeod about the contract, and that Mr. McLeod swore that his firm had raised its figures after a conversation with Mr. Carleton. There is here a confusion between two contracts.

Mr. Carleton told the truth when he stated that he had never spoken to Mr. McLeod about the present contract, and Mr. McLeod did not contradict him.

The public, however, will not be surprised at the action of the council. The members were investigating their own conduct and the result was as expected. We may, however, recall some remarks made by Mayor Frink on August 17th, as follows: "I have called this meeting as a result of the revelations regarding the Main street paving made yesterday. The city has not received value for the money expended. Any observer can see that the work is not up to the standard and is altogether bad."

FARMERS' INVESTMENTS

The Farmer's Advocate gives sound advice to prosperous farmers on the question of the investment of their surplus earnings. It points out that these may be invested in such ventures as will fall, or may be placed in the bank at four per cent.; but there is a better way. We quote: "But, before you decide what to do with this year's accumulation, try to find out what the boys feel to be most urgent, learn the girls' opinion, and consult long with your wife. Are there no fields needing underdrainage? Are all the fences all they should be? Is the home well provided for in those things that make the young folks love to linger in it, and the mother happy? Think it over, long and well. A bank account drawing interest to make a larger bank account, or an investment in more land to make money to buy more land, does not add one whit to the pleasure or satisfaction or fulfillment of a life, and when the end of it all comes, it is hard to see what good it can then do; but judicious investment in improvements for the home, the farm, the stock, add to the joy of everyday living, and to the financial account, as well."

This is good advice. Money that is wisely invested in the farm itself yields the best financial returns, and tends also to make farm life more attractive to the younger members of the family, among whom there is too great a tendency to seek other fields of effort.

The Ottawa Citizen, Conservative, says: "During the first five months of this fiscal year the revenue of Canada increased over $7,300,000. There is also a large increase in the savings deposits, both of which go to show that the national and individual wealth of the country is making splendid progress."

The Toronto Telegram does not admire Mr. Bourassa. Therefore it says: "Conservatives at Ottawa may not have left themselves with much of a future to lose. The future of the Borden opposition, such as it is, cannot be prolonged or brightened by the strategy which imagines that in smart politics to coddle Henri Bourassa, M. P. P."

The Montreal Gazette presents the Father Vaughan incident in a light that should appeal to thoughtful readers. It says: "Those who feel inclined to cast stones at Father Vaughan for what he said during the past week would do well to remember that one of the great ideas that Protestantism has claimed as its own is that, in regard to matters religious as well as concerning things civil, it is the right of a man to stand forth and declare that which he believes to be the truth. The right has been exercised freely by those who differ from the Church of Rome ever since the great Protest that gave the separated bodies their name. It is a right of Roman Catholics as much as of Protestants. Some speakers at the Congress contented themselves with expounding their Church's doctrine in regard to the great sacrament. Some, Father Vaughan among the number, explained why they thought the doctrine of Protestants generally was inferior. They had a right to do this. Protestant theologians can reply. One foretelling reply has already been made. The great reply, however, will be by Protestants living their lives so that all people will see by its fruits that the tree of their faith is sound and rooted right in the teachings of the Bible."

Mr. High Spottiswoode, the Kent cricketer, has a veritable store of humorous stories. An amusing one he related long since on the occasion of his being presented with a portrait of himself in recognition of his services to printers' charities. Responding, Mr. Spottiswoode remarked that he knew the painting was a good one because it had stood the test of the British workman's criticism. He was crossing Clifford's Inn one day when he met a tinner bearing the framed picture, who stopped and inquired his way. And then, as Mr. Spottiswoode told him, he swung the picture round to the light, and exclaimed: "Why, blow me, guv'nor, if it ain't you!"

BRITAIN'S GREAT FIGHT FOR COLONIAL RIGHTS

Fisheries Case Shows That Motherland is Not Ready to Sacrifice Them — Court Like Canada's By Board

(Toronto Telegram) Writing from The Hague, at the close of the Newfoundland Fisheries Case before the Peace Tribunal, Nelson P. Battersby, official stenographer, says: In times past, and even not very remote, it has been said in Canada with a persistence designed to drive home the suggestion, that the desire on the part of England for friendly relations with the United States has led to the sacrificing of Canadian interests. This suggestion has been based upon the assertion of a weak or like-warm diplomacy by England when dealing with questions with which Canada was vitally interested.

Now, this statement is easily made, and it has created at times a deep impression. Nothing could be more mischievous than such a statement, all the more dangerous because though easily made it is so easily denied without a full knowledge of all the facts concerning any one dispute. It has taken years of research, the expenditure of hundreds of thousands of dollars in the searching of the archives of Great Britain, Canada and Newfoundland to present the history connected with this fisheries dispute, which has taken into the third month of discussion, producing a record of some 2,000,000 words, besides printed cases, counter-cases and official documents, covering perhaps 1,000 pages, already placed before the tribunal.

War or Arbitration

Senator Root testified in this in the first hour of his great speech when he told the tribunal that during all these years each country had held to its ground and neither being willing to recede, there were only two solutions, war or arbitration, a common sense, he said, had prevailed, and they were here as an example not only to Great Britain and the United States, but to other nations. It must not be inferred that because counsel are fighting to win, there is not the best feeling animating all concerned. Natural pride in country, and patriotism have inspired great effort, and sometimes counsel have warmed up to their work, in the old Hall of the Knights, at the Binnhof making history for the world.

Like Railway Commission If I were asked what court most nearly corresponds to the peace tribunal, I would say by all odds our Canadian Railway Commission. The man with a technicality to present does not make much progress. The only counsel here who has had to have rest at the close of his argument, was the man who had to deal with the technical branch of the case.

Have just learned that owing to the danger of a political crisis in England during the early part of this case, which would have demanded the return of Sir William Robson and Sir Robert Fulay, Mr. Shepley had to be prepared to go in. The trial and counsel came from different parts of the world, and an adjournment would have been impossible. In that event Mr. Ayleworth and Mr. Shepley would

The presentation of our case, and the legal organization, has been simply perfect. British officials, with Mr. Ewart and Mr. Tilley, have spent over a year in research here in England. At the trial, the British, Canadian and Newfoundland counsel worked in sections, building up the case step by step, until at the close it was said by those who should know that the work was as complete as has ever been listened to in any court.

JOHNSON-JEFFRIES PICTURES.

Queen's Rink is to have the genuine pictures of the fight at Reno, between James J. Jeffries and Jack Johnson. The opening pictures show the training quarters of Jeffries, who can be seen boxing, skipping, punching the bag before a crowd of sports, which include George Harding, the time-keeper; James J. Corbett, Tom Flanagan, of Toronto; Jeffries in action with Sam Berger and Joe Choyinski, Partner Burns; John L. Sullivan gives an exhibition of bag punching in which the bag gets the best of the contest. The building of the arena is an interesting subject. The morning of the fight the crowds are seen waiting for the gates to be opened. Of the fight itself there is little to be said, as everyone knows the details. Friday, Saturday and Monday the pictures are to be shown here.

GOOD SCHOOL SHOES

Beware of trash! Many stores are crying school shoes at prices wonderfully small. What if it, if the shoes are poor—coarse leather, spongy soles, carelessly made? Economy doesn't lie along that route.

Pay as much as you can for school shoes; get Goodyear welt, if possible. It is stronger, easier, holds its shape better and is cheaper, though it costs more. STRONGER, because the welt gives flexibility, and because the stitches are side-ways, not up and down; no hard ridge inside and no ticks in the shoe. CHEAPER, because it wears longer and can be repaired better—the new sole can be sewed on—in others it must be pegged or nailed on. Goodyear Welt Shoes for Boys and Girls, $1.50, $2.00 and $2.50, all sizes. Other good School Shoes at $1.00 and $1.75.

OLD AGE TAKES BACK SEAT

Fifty is Fatter and Paler Than Thirty—No Other Difference

There is no fact more striking than the way modern life is pushing back the period of old age. Less than a century ago a man was old at forty. You have only to pick up Jane Austen's novels to find gentlemen of 35 described as middle-aged. Sixty years were grabbing in their dotage. And there is Mr. Pickwick—that dear, delightful benevolent old gentleman of 45. Fifty years ago when a man reached the age of forty-five he grew a beard under his chin, bought himself a pair of drab gaiters and a white neckcloth, and spoke with anxious concern of the rising generation, whose manners were so different from those he had known as a "young man." In our generation 32 is outwardly indistinguishable from 22, save in that the former has a slightly more youthful tint in its cheek and its waistcoat.

As for the fair sex, the genus old lady is all but extinct. The pretty vivacious matron you admire at a garden party may have seen 25 or 30 summers. As Queen Alexandra not long ago said to Miss Adeline Patti: "We two are two of the youngest women in England." The illustrious royal example has been so sedulously followed that the ladies—always young, always active—may be said to laugh in the very face of Father Time.

THE WAY TO SLEEP.

Edwin Markham, famous poet, advocates and practices outdoor sleeping. He said: "It seems that people are just beginning to discover that they have lungs and that their lungs have to be fed as well as their stomachs."

No one who has thoroughly enjoyed his bed in the open night after night, in summer and winter, even willingly relinquishes it, and is generally eager to get back to it. And here are some of the reasons: The sweet feeling of naturalness and bodily well-being. Freedom from insomnia, for which outdoor sleeping is an absolute specific. The wonderfully recuperating and vitalizing process of which one quickly reaps the benefit, even though at first badly run down in physique. The consciousness of escape from conditions that hamper if they do not actually threaten human life. Immunity from colds and the diseases they engender—Technical World.

Not since the days, almost 400 years ago, when the legates of the Pope were received in state in Canterbury, has any British city beheld such a stupendous spectacle as that which yesterday crowned the work of the Eucharistic Congress in Montreal.

Over his head a canopy, beneath his feet a carpet of flowers cast down by children, and all around him the bowed heads and reverent silence of packed streets of worshippers, marked the event as a most sacred and significant.

Behind the canopy, themselves more gorgeous than the cardinal legate, who had stripped himself of his apparel of authority to put on that of the sacrifice, walked two other cardinal princes of the church, their long purple trains borne by a half dozen of acolytes, their attendant clergy with them, their heads uncovered and bowed in reverence to the Host before them—two men whose very presence inspired both reverence and love.

Secret of Good Pies

PIE CRUST, more than any other delicacy of the oven, ought to be tempting and appealing to the taste.

You do not eat pie as a nerve tonic or to strengthen your appetite. You eat it for pleasure mostly.

Ogilvie's Royal Household Flour

You want it, of course, to taste good. At the same time you want the crust to be light, flaky, wholesome.

Now, pie crust properly made from OGILVIE'S ROYAL HOUSEHOLD FLOUR is always good food, the absolute uniformity of this best of all flours eliminates failure entirely.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

Do you laugh? No, that's not a funny question. If you think it is, just pause a moment and look over your acquaintances really do laugh.

Most people smile, and once in awhile chuckle or giggle, but this hearty, un-restrained laugh that makes you want to laugh too, even if you don't know what the joke is—well, that's about as rare as a man who doesn't measure success by money, or a woman who doesn't judge other women by their "get-togethers."

And because of its rarity, the gift of laughter is an invaluable social asset.

A man was telling me recently how he happened to spend an evening at a summer boarding house where there were half a dozen girls and not a man but himself.

He told how he was introduced to the group, and what nice girls they were, and what a shame it was there weren't some nice men to amuse them.

"Did you see any of them again?" I asked.

"Yes, I was back there the next week and I took one of them out," he said.

It was an interesting opportunity to inspect the psychology of a man's choice, and find out just why, with the pick of six, he chose that one.

I put the question, "Why did you choose that particular one?" Was she the prettiest?

He considered a moment.

"No, I don't think so. I guess it was just because she laughed the most at my attempts at wit."

You see.

Laughter is an oil for the social relations. In a crowd on an ocean voyage, I noticed one woman whom everyone seemed to like to talk to. I watched and listened and found it was not because she was extraordinarily witty or amusing, but because she always laughed at the proper moment and with a looseness and spontaneity that made her companions feel that they must be extraordinarily witty and amusing.

Maybe you don't find it easy to laugh. You are afraid your laugh is un-musical.

Then make it musical. Learn to laugh prettily. It can be done just as an un-musical voice can be modulated into harmonious tones.

Listen to your own laugh and conscientiously attempt to make it more pleasing. If you can afford it, go to a singing teacher and ask him to teach you how to laugh.

All that will make you self-conscious—some one protests. You will become affected if you learn to laugh.

Don't let it make you self-conscious. Don't be affected. First learn to laugh well enough so that you aren't afraid to, so that you aren't self-conscious, and then cultivate a disposition to be genuinely and easily amused, and you will have a social talent that will do much to make you welcome everywhere.

and parishes which headed the interminable line marched too fast for the sacrificial group to follow them, and consequently allowed a gap of nearly an hour's duration to occur between the arrivals of the two sections on Fletcher's Field, with much consequent perturbation among the spectators everything moved as smoothly as clockwork.

Every inch of the route of this immense procession was packed with spectators, every square foot from which it could be scanned had its stand and its load of people. It was between two solid walls of humanity, averaging ten deep on each side to the roofs of the houses and the backs of the stands, that the cardinal and his sacred burden passed through the three miles of city streets.

And thousands upon thousands of the multitude had been awaiting there in their coigne of vantage from early morning—and went on waiting until about seven o'clock in the evening and the end of the procession drew past them. It was a miracle of human endurance.

Four and three-quarter hours elapsed between the arrival of the full-dress detachment of firemen heading the procession at Fletcher's Field and that of the carriages which followed the last of the procession. Some three-quarters of an hour of this time was occupied by the wait between the two sections of the procession, usually at a distance of several hundred yards, and the remainder was entirely occupied by the passing of processionists, usually at a pace much more rapid than is ordinarily associated with a religious parade.

A dozen bands and as many choirs provided music for the march, and were never close enough to clash with one another. Long before the ceremony on the slopes of the mountain was over and the Host had been finally deposited in the chapel of the Hotel

AGENTS WANTED

AGENTS WANTED—In every locality, to sell high-class specialties. Write for samples and particulars. C. A. Munro, Fogley Building, St. John. 2918-9-10.

Synopsis of Canadian Northwest Land Regulations.

ANY Person who is the sole head of a family or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, New Brunswick, or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency, on certain conditions, by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.

Duties—Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres solely owned and occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter section along the homestead. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside upon the homestead or pre-emption six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including the time required to extra homestead patents) and cultivate fifty acres extra.

A homesteader who has exhausted his homestead rights and cannot obtain a pre-emption may enter for a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must remain six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect a house worth $300.00.

W. W. COREY, Deputy of the Minister of the Interior. N. B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tender for Ammunition, Summer 1910, N. B." will be received at this office until 4.00 p. m., on Wednesday, September 23, 1910, for the construction of an Ammunition, at Summerside, P. E. I.

Plans, specification and form of contract can be seen and forms of tender obtained on application to Mr. Angus McSwain, Caretaker, Post Office Building, Summerside, at the office of Mr. B. B. Brown, resident Engineer, Charlottetown, P. E. I., and at this Department.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed forms supplied, and signed with their actual signatures, stating their occupations and places of residence. In the case of firms, the actual signature, the nature of the occupation and place of residence of each member of the firm must be given.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, made payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, equal to ten per cent (10 p. c.) of the amount of the tender, which will be forfeited if the person tendering declines to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender is not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

R. C. DESROCHERS, Secretary, Department of Public Works, Ottawa, September 2, 1910. Newspapers will not be paid for this advertisement if they insert it without authority from the Department.

MAIL CONTRACT.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the Postmaster General, will be received at Ottawa until Noon, on Friday, 14th October, 1910, for the conveyance of His Majesty's Mails, on a proposed Contract, for four years 4 times per week each way, between Newton and Sussex from the 1st January next.

Printed notices containing further information as to conditions of proposed Contract may be seen and blank forms of Tender may be obtained at the Post Office of Newton, Sussex and route offices and at the Office of the Post Office Inspector at St. John.

Post Office Department, G. C. ANDERSON, Mail Service Branch Superintendent, Ottawa, 27th August 1910.

ABSOLUTELY CURES STOMACH TROUBLE AND INDIGESTION

Heartburn, Gas, Dyspepsia and Headache Relieved in Five Minutes With a Little Diapispin

The question as to how long you are going to continue a sufferer from indigestion, Dyspepsia or out-of-order stomach is merely a matter of how soon you begin taking some Diapispin.

Diapispin is a powerful stomachic and purgative, which not only cleanses the stomach, but also acts as a powerful aperient.

People who take Diapispin should take it at bedtime, and after taking it should be free from all stomachic troubles.

Go to your druggist and get a 50-cent box of Diapispin. It is a powerful stomachic and purgative, which not only cleanses the stomach, but also acts as a powerful aperient.

FOR FREER TRADE WITH WEST INDIES

Movement on Foot to Unify Islands in Commercial Life and Have Line to Canada

(Montreal Staff.) A movement is on foot among a number of Canadian merchants and business men of the West Indies, to develop more trade relations between the dominion and Jamaica.

A movement is on foot among a number of Canadian merchants and business men of the West Indies, to develop more trade relations between the dominion and Jamaica.

"Jamaica," he said, today, in the course of an interview with a representative of the Star, "has not begun until now to realize the advantages that she may receive by direct interchange of trade with Canada.

At the present time there is but little steamship communication between Canada and Jamaica, but there should be sufficient trade for a regular service of steamships coming to Montreal, Canada.

"We have to go on our feet more for trade purposes, and then we shall be what I may term a little more 'worth while'."

Several influential business men are working hard towards this end, and the government of Jamaica is actively appreciative of the importance of the enterprise.

P. H. Murray, who represents the Canadian Manufacturers of the Toronto Exhibition committee, was with Mr. de Lisser at the time of the interview, and he said that it seemed obvious to him that there was real scope for developing a profitable direct trade with Jamaica.

MOVING PICTURES WHICH DO NEWSPAPERMEN INJUSTICE

(New York Times.) Now and then a bit of misinformation about newspaper work is put forward which is thoroughly disgusting to active newspaper workers.

The latest attempt to capitalize the glamour with which the popular imagination has surrounded the newspaper office is the publication of daily events takes the form of a series of moving pictures announced for early exhibition.

Not one essential incident here related would be likely to happen in newspaper office in a hundred years.

ST. JOHN MAN KILLED BY A TRAIN

John P. McMullin, Run Over and Fearfully Injured at Fredericton, Dies in Fredericton Hospital — Chas. London Was With Him

Fredericton, N. B., Sept. 14.—(Special)—The man run over by a train at Fredericton Junction last night has been identified as John P. McMullin of Exmouth street, St. John. He sustained terrible injuries and died soon after he was brought to the Victoria Hospital.

It is difficult to ascertain just how the accident occurred but the supposition is that he fell from the Fredericton express. A companion named Charles London, who was here last night, did not seem able to give a clear account of how McMullin came to his death. He left on the St. John boat this morning but will be brought back to give evidence at the inquest to be held here.

James McMullin, father of the unfortunate man, arrived here this morning and will take the body to St. John today. Coroner Weaver empaneled a jury and will hold an inquest this evening.

The news of the death of the unfortunate man was received with sorrow this morning in at least two homes in this city. Those of his father, James McMullin, of 53 Crown street, and his own home, where his wife and little child resided in Exmouth street. No particulars of the sad affair were received, but Mr. McMullin, the father of the dead man, left at once to arrange for bringing the body to this city for burial.

Besides his wife and parents, the deceased is survived by one brother, James J., and four sisters, Irene and Annie at home, and Mrs. D. B. Spears, of Boston, and Mrs. J. L. Peller, of Roxbury, Mass.

The bride, who will be given in marriage by her cousin, Stuart Mitchell, of New Scotia, will be attired in a handsome costume of brown chiffon velvet, with hat of the same shade, trimmed with ostrich plumes. She will carry a shawl bouquet of yellow and red roses. She will be attended by Miss Lena Baird, of Anderson, who will wear a suit of pale blue chiffon cloth, with hat to match, trimmed with blue and white plumes. She will carry a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums.

The groom will be accompanied by Wm. Pugsley, jr., while A. D. Dann and B. Burns will be ushers. Miss Alice Hies, who will wear a suit of pale blue chiffon cloth, with hat to match, trimmed with blue and white plumes. She will carry a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums.

Mr. Lewin presented to his bride as a wedding gift, a handsome necklace of pearls and pyrope. The bridesmaid received a valuable silver card case, while the ushers each received a similar present from Miss Baird. The remembrances received by the young couple were many and handsome, and included a splendid assortment of silverware, cut glass, furniture, and other useful articles.

Among those present at the wedding will be Mrs. J. K. Scammell, and Mrs. M. Lewin, of Montreal, mother of the groom. Dunbrack-McInnis.

GIRLS' TAILORED COATS
FOR FALL AND WINTER WEAR
Ages 4 to 16

Some four or five years ago we placed in stock a limited number of Girls' Tailored Coats. This was in response to repeated questioning, "Why don't you carry Girls' Coats?" We cannot get anything worth buying in any of the stores about town. The mark of approval has been placed upon our efforts by increased business each succeeding season. This season we have prepared for a much larger business than ever. Our stock has been to hand for some few days and already the selling has been brisk.

The coats for the present season are made extra long, buttoning close, up to the neck, with motor-collars of velvet. All are lined throughout with warm material.

Now is the time to choose your girl's coat while the stock is complete.
