Asquith Dodges Many Queries About the Budget

"Wait and See," Answers Premier to Curious Opposition—Belief Now That Concessions Will Be Granted the Nationalists.

Canadian Associated Press. London, April 4.—In the commons today the government obtained a majority of 106 on Sir Robert Finlay's amendment in connection with the veto resolutions.

"Wait and see," was Premier Asquith's answer to the questions of several opposition members who endeavored to obtain immediate resolutions regarding the government's legislative programme and possible alterations in the budget.

Replying to Austen Chamberlain, however, the premier said he had not authorized Winston Churchill's statement that the budget would be passed without alteration.

The debate on the budget was largely a matter of words, and many friends sent beautiful butes.

ST. JOHN TO GET DRY DOCK AND SHIP REPAIR PLANT

Negotiations Are Under Way

Sir Robert Perks to Be in Ottawa Today, and it is Now Practically Assured That Big Industry Here Will Be Under Construction Soon.

(Special to The Telegraph.)

Ottawa, April 4.—Hon. Dr. Pugsley stated to your correspondent tonight that he expects to see the operations for the commencement of a dry dock at St. John started within a comparatively short time. He stated that several companies were considering the undertaking, and the subsidy agreement which was before parliament would be open to any reputable company.

The company with which the Canadian Pacific, Harland & Wolff and Sir Robert Perks are associated have expressed themselves satisfied with the aid which the government proposes to give to a first class dry dock, namely, three and a half per cent for thirty-five years. Sir Robert Perks will be in Ottawa tomorrow, having written Dr. Pugsley to that effect, and will then discuss the proposal for both St. John and Lewis with the minister of public works.

While all the details of the proposal are not yet available it is certain that St. John will have a first class dry dock, capable of accommodating the largest ships now afloat.

There will have to be, as a complement to this, a first class repair and construction plant. The extent of this will depend upon the ideas of the promoters as to the needs of shipping for the present and for the future.

Hon. Dr. Pugsley does not anticipate that there will be any difficulty as to the site for the dock, as there are several first class sites available, and it will depend upon the company themselves as to where they will locate.

Powerful Company Being Formed

There is excellent reason to believe that a powerful company will construct, at St. John, a dry dock of the first class, for naval and general purposes, with ship repairing and shipbuilding plants.

Montreal, April 4.—It is stated here on what appears to be good authority that the Canadian Pacific, the Harland and the great ship-building firm of Harland & Wolff are seeking incorporation of a company to construct a dry dock at St. John under the terms of the bill brought down by Finance Minister Fielding.

It is stated that some St. John men are interested in the project. It is known that St. John has been favorably regarded as a site for a dock, and that the port has been quietly looked over by representatives of parties interested in dry docks and shipbuilding. An authoritative announcement is expected in a few days.

VICTORIA COUNTY FARMER SUICIDES

Gustavus Giberson, of Arthurette, Drank Carbolic Acid

NO REASON ASSIGNED

Was Separated from His Wife and Child Who Lived in Michigan—Epidemic of Measles at Andover—Ice Running Freely Over Grand Falls.

Andover, April 4.—(Special)—Gustavus Giberson, a well to do farmer at Arthurette, on the Tobique about twenty miles from here, committed suicide this morning by taking carbolic acid it is supposed in a fit of despondency. Giberson lived with a married brother. This morning he rose at the usual hour and going to the barn harnessed his horses. Returning to the house a little later, however, he drank a large part of the contents of a two ounce bottle of carbolic acid.

Soon afterwards his brother had occasion to go into that room and he was horrified to find the body. He lost no time in going to the house of a neighbor, who had a telephone, about 200 yards away. He sent in a hurry call to Dr. Coffin, of Plaster Rock, but before the medical man arrived the unfortunate man was dead.

Giberson was about 35 years of age. Besides his brother he is survived by a wife and daughter living in Michigan. Deceased had lived for a time in that state, where he married but had been separated from his wife for some years. He had been away from Arthurette last week and when he returned on Saturday he told some of the neighbors that he intended to commit suicide.

The ice in the river here ran out last week but it was full again today. The ice, however, was very much broken up and it was supposed that it had come over Grand Falls.

There are twenty-five cases of measles in town at the present time.

FOSTER REFUSES TO BE SHELVED

Hon. George E. Calls It "Dirty Work"

Announces He Will Be at His Place in House Next Week

Says His Health is Improving and He Intimates, in Spite of Treatment by His Leader, He Will Attend to His Parliamentary Duties.

(Special to The Telegraph.)

Ottawa, April 4.—Mr. Borden is evidently going to run up against a few snags in his spring ploughing and harrowing of his party. This, however, was probably not unexpected when he set his hand to the plough.

Saturday's announcement of his intention to more firmly assert his leadership and effect a party re-organization, in which some of the present sub-leaders would have to give way to newer and more promising men, has been the chief subject of discussion in the parliamentary corridors today. For the most part comment has been in the nature of a commendation of the opposition leader's attitude. "This is what he should have decided on long ago," most of the members say.

There are, however, a considerable number of recalcitrants. In the first place, Mr. Foster, with returning health, does not seem disposed to quietly retire into comparative oblivion and thus relieve the situation, which for obvious reasons is embarrassing to his leader.

FOSTER REFUSES TO BE SHELVED.

In a statement issued today, Mr. Foster declared that he intended to resume his place in the cabinet next week and did not intend to give up political life, "unless the Lord takes me."

In reference to the report of his intended retirement, Mr. Foster is quoted as saying: "Someone has been getting in his dirty work." He takes the ground that as long as he represents a constituency in parliament only his own electors can demand his retirement. At the same time, however, he says he has no official position as first lieutenant to his leader to whom he professed full loyalty. But, although he will come back to the house and resume his parliamentary duties in a few days, it is certain that he will no longer be regarded as the deputy leader after Mr. Borden.

Mr. Foster, himself, says: "I am getting better, but I have been advised to keep quiet. I propose to do so for some months. I have not the least intention, however, of giving up public life."

Between the lines of this much may be inferred.

As to the forecasted retirement of Mr. Monk, there is also some objection raised by his fellow Conservatives in Quebec who follow his lead on the naval policy in opposition to Mr. Borden. The latter's decision to replace Mr. Monk by Mr. Doherty, or possibly by T. Chase Casgrain, ex-M. P. of Montreal, will not be carried out without a family squabble.

The whole situation presents some decidedly interesting features, and from the Liberal standpoint it is edifying and entertaining.

Semi-Weekly Telegraph and The News ST. JOHN, N. B., APRIL 6, 1910.

BEFORE AND AFTER

Unwilling to wait long enough to get the facts, the unhappy Standard, which condemned Mr. Fielding in advance as a trucker and a bearer of tribute to Washington, finds itself in an awkward and ridiculous position now that the whole country has the details of the new tariff agreement.

MODIFIED TRANSPORTS

In view of the affected excitement in a section of the Conservative press over the tariff agreement, it is a curious fact that the American newspapers have not yet discovered the great victory their statesmen are supposed to have won.

A CONSERVATIVE VIEW

One of the few Conservative newspapers which did not shout "Surrender" before seeing the list of articles affected by the new tariff agreement, and which thus avoided the foolish position now occupied by the Standard and others of its class, is the Toronto News.

THE OUNCE OF PREVENTION

While our works of charity multiply and the spirit of true religion grows ever stronger, society still goes on neglecting the basic causes of crime and treating the symptoms of its own neglect.

concessions are shocking, that we shall be overwhelmed by an influx of cheap American feathers, watch springs, soap, perfumery, nuts, raisins, and prunes; but the consumer will smile, knowing that the protectionist heathen rage, not because of the thirteen items on which duties are lowered, but because the expected tariff war has been averted and their hope for war prices and war profits in the home market is gone.

THAT TROLLEY LINE

Despatches from Ottawa the other day quoted Solicitor General McLeod as saying the Valley railway would be operated by electricity. That was the impression conveyed by Mr. Hazen's speech when he introduced the Gould scheme.

THE FIGHT OVER BORDEN

"Broken and disorganized and more or less at sixes and sevens," is the Toronto World's description of the Conservative party at Ottawa. More than half of the Conservative members, the World asserts, want a new leader.

PORT EXPANSION

St. John, its progress and its prospects, figured extensively in the House of Commons discussion yesterday, and the Minister of Public Works, in explaining the work of expansion now going forward at this port, took occasion to correct Mr. Haggart's impression that Courtenay Bay is not a part of St. John harbor.

IN A BAD WAY

The Standard expresses the opinion that the matter of the Conservative leadership in Parliament is not a live question. If it is not a live question it is odd that conservative newspapers throughout Canada are giving it so much obviously anxious consideration.

SAVING HIS FACE

"Mr. Taft," says the Montreal Star, "needed something to save his face. Sir Wilfrid provided it, and after all it was a trivial concession, and may some day prove to have been a good investment as evidence of goodwill."

MR. ROCSEVELT'S LATEST

Theodore the Lion Hunter will receive first-pace mention in a thousand newspapers this morning, because of an incident similar to that which gave ex-Vice-President Fairbanks a day's publicity some months ago.

stood on both sides that practically all we wanted was a face-saving concession. That we have received, and trade will follow in its accustomed channels."

Let us add to these straightforward and unprejudiced tributes to the wisdom of Canada's course, a word from Ambassador Bryce as to Mr. Taft. Mr. Bryce does not share the view expressed by some of our more violent Conservative journals, that Mr. Taft was engaged in trying to bluff this country by threats of tariff war.

Judge Wallace makes the strong point that parents should be made to realize that juvenile courts or other institutions can in no way relieve them of their responsibility. He says: "Instead of punishing the child it is far more sensible in many instances to punish the parents who contribute either directly or indirectly to the delinquency of their children."

Canada's tariff policy is only three days old, yet already throughout the Dominion there is a well-nigh unanimous agreement that Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Fielding in every step of the tariff negotiations, and in the settlement, acted with admirable judgment, and have added notably to their enviable record of public service.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A judicial Ottawa contemporary, having looked over the evidence, feels compelled to confer upon the St. John Standard a position in the front rank of the Anandias Club.

NOT THE SAME JOSHUA

"We had a country judge down my way a few years ago whose love for Biblical lore was so pronounced that he couldn't resist the desire to air it on every possible occasion," said Congressman Henry D. Clayton of Alabama a few days since.

We're questioning the distant stars, to lay their secrets bare; do human beings live on Mars? Is Saturn round or square? open discussion not only in the columns of Liberal newspapers, but in some sections of the Conservative press.

"WHAT IS NEEDED IS A GENERAL HOUSE-CLEANING AND REORGANIZATION. WHATEVER ELEMENTS STAND IN THE WAY OF UNITY AND HARMONY SHOULD BE REMOVED, DISCIPLINE MUST BE ESTABLISHED, AND A UNITED FRONT PRESENTED, AND THE POSITION IS NOT DOING, AND HAS NOT FOR SOME TIME BEEN DOING, ITS BEST WORK; IT HAS BEEN MISSING OPPORTUNITIES AND FAILING TO ACHIEVE RESULTS. THIS IS LARGELY DUE TO DISSENSIONS WITHIN ITS OWN RANKS, WHICH HAVE A MOST DISHEARTENING EFFECT. REORGANIZATION IS IMPERATIVE, AND THE SOONER REORGANIZATION TAKES PLACE THE BETTER."

"To allow the present condition of affairs to drift along until the general election is approaching, and then call a convention with the joint object of reconciling discordant factions and organizing for the imminent campaign, is out of the question. It is the accepted time for the party to set its house in order, and by its accomplishment in opposition justify the confidence of the people to manage both its own business and that of the country."

THE PULPWOOD QUESTION

The Forestry Convention held in Fredericton a few weeks ago avoided a declaration in favor of restricting the export of Crown Land pulpwood, hesitation being due to fear in some quarters that the American government was soon to impose the maximum rates on Canadian lumber.

NOTE AND COMMENT

After thoughtful consideration of the prunes, the nuts and raisins and the feathers, the sorrowful Standard has decided that Sir Wilfrid and Mr. Fielding must be allowed to remain in office a little longer.

obnoxious to the Pope. It appears to have been intimated to Mr. Roosevelt that if he desired to see the Pope he should first cause it to be known that he did not intend to follow Mr. Fairbanks' example in lending countenance to the followers of Wesley. This, it seems, argues no special distaste for Methodism, but is a means of expressing the Pope's disapproval of proselytizing at his door, as it were.

At the time Mr. Roosevelt recalled his Austrian ambassador, Mr. Bellamy Storer, the fact leaked out that Mrs. Storer had been meddling in religious politics and had been seeking to have Archbishop Ireland made a cardinal. The publication of the "Dear Maria" correspondence as a result of Storer's recall and his good wife's rage thereat, caused much adverse criticism of the then president and annoyed him greatly.

Mr. Roosevelt has courted much publicity, and few public men know how to use it to better advantage; but he has much publicity thrust upon him, of a sort that is far from pleasant, and he fumes at it, for while he is bold he is sensitive and impatient too. He has none of Mr. Taft's humor and little of his philosophy, and even Mr. Taft was heard the other day complaining because the newspapers sometimes criticized him unjustly, as he thought. Even if he desired it now, Mr. Roosevelt would find it impossible to keep out of the limelight, and every day increases American speculation as to his future.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A Connecticut man has just invented a fishing rod with an attachment which weighs the big ones that get away. There will be no great demand for it. No self-respecting fisherman would accept the evidence of the scales against that of his own eyes, if the victim escaped, and a ton of fish scales wouldn't convince the non-angler who has to listen to the fish stories.

miles of the Pole and I rather think he'll go all the way. I pick Scott to win."

On March 29, before the facts were known, the Toronto Mail and Empire, senior Conservative organ of Ontario, printed a column of editorial frenzy, the intended meaning of which was that Mr. Taft had bluffed and tricked Mr. Fielding and Mr. Graham and taken from them their country's "fiscal independence and industrial welfare" in return for a "gold brick."

After a sumptuous table had been served by the ladies, Mr. Penna asked the attention of the friends for a few moments, and then presented Mr. Purvis with a dress suit and four train pins, gifts from members of the congregation as a slight recognition of his faithful and willing services given

THE POPE DEEDED TO SEE ROOSEVELT

Another Row Over the Methodists

Ex-President Wouldn't Promise Not to Address Them

Incident Creates Great Sensation in Rome and United States — Teddy Deplores the Situation But Says it is Only a Personal Matter.

Rome, April 3.—The audience which it was believed that President Roosevelt would have with the Pope on Tuesday next, will not occur, owing to conditions which the Vatican has imposed and which Mr. Roosevelt refuses to accept.

Although the definite negotiations relative to the audience ended in failure, Mr. Roosevelt left Egypt, the announcement was withheld until after Mr. Roosevelt reached Rome tonight, at the solicitation of his American Catholic friends here, who believed that in the meantime the Vatican might change its attitude.

One of the former president's American friends, who was with him in Egypt, came to Rome yesterday without, however, any authorization from Mr. Roosevelt, and intimated to Cardinal Merry del Val, the papal secretary, in an endeavor to avoid a situation which, as it now stands, has caused a real sensation in Rome, although it was not entirely unexpected. But his efforts were unavailing.

While at Alexandria, in February last, Mr. Roosevelt wrote to Ambassador Leishman saying that he would be glad of the honor of an audience with King Victor Emmanuel and the Pope. The audience with the king was promptly arranged. Before an arrangement could be reached relative to an audience with the Pope, several telegrams were passed, and the negotiations ended by Mr. Roosevelt refusing in any way to be bound as to his conduct, as the pope had insisted that an audience with the Pope, under the circumstances, was now impossible.

As a matter of fact, Mr. Roosevelt, although declining to accept any conditions which might be put in the way of an audience with the Pope, had neither directly or indirectly before, during or after the negotiations, made or considered any engagements in Rome except those of an official character, and he actually entered Rome tonight without any official engagements, the audience with the king, and the dinner to be given in his honor by the municipality.

Pope Imposed Conditions.

The history of the negotiations is about as follows: While at Cairo, Mr. Roosevelt received the following telegram from Ambassador Leishman, dated March 23:

"Monsignor Kennedy, rector of the American Catholic College, in reply to an inquiry which I caused to be made, requests that the following communication be transmitted to you:

"The Holy Father will be delighted to grant an audience to Mr. Roosevelt on April 5, and hopes that nothing will arise to prevent it, such as the much-regretted incident which made the reception of Mr. Fairbanks impossible."

Replying by Ambassador Leishman on March 25, Mr. Roosevelt said: "Please present the following to Monsignor Kennedy:

"It would be a real pleasure to me to be presented to the Holy Father, for whom I entertain high respect, both personally and as the head of a great church. I fully recognize his entire right to receive or not receive whomsoever he chooses, for any reason that seems good to him, and if he does not receive me I shall not for a moment question the propriety of his action. On the other hand, I, in my turn, must decline to make any stipulations or submit to any conditions which, in any way, would limit my freedom of conduct. I trust that on April 5 I will find it convenient to receive me."

On March 28, Mr. Roosevelt, at Cairo, received a cablegram from Ambassador Leishman giving the message from Monsignor Kennedy, which concluded: "The audience cannot take place except on the understanding expressed in the former message."

The following day Mr. Roosevelt sent another message to the American ambassador, saying: "The proposed presentation is, of course, now impossible."

Mr. Roosevelt particularly desires that the incident should be regarded by his friends, both Catholic and Protestant, in America, as personal, and that it shall not give rise to an acrimonious controversy. With this end in view, he cabled today the following statement to the Rev. Lyman Abbott, editor of the Outlook, at New York:

Roosevelt's Statement. "Through the Outlook, I wish to make a statement to my fellow Americans regarding what has occurred in connection with the Vatican. I am sure that the great majority of my fellow citizens, Catholic quite as much as Protestants, will feel that I acted in the only way possible for an American to act, and because of this very fact I most earnestly hope that the incident will be treated in a matter of course way as merely personal, and, above all, as not warranting the slightest exhibition of rancor or bitterness."

"Among my best and closest friends are many Catholics. The respect and regard of those of my fellow Americans who are Catholics are as dear to me as the respect and regard of those who are Protestants. On my journey through Africa I visited many Catholic, as well as many Protestant missions. As I look forward to telling the people at home all that has been done by Protestants and Catholics alike, as I saw it, in the field of missionary endeavor, it would cause me a real pang to have anything said or done that would hurt or give pain to my friends whatever their religious belief. But, any merely personal considerations are of no consideration in this matter. The important consideration is the avoidance of harsh and bitter comment such as may excite mistrust and anger between and among good men."

The more an American sees of other countries, the more profound must be his feelings of gratitude that in his own land there is not merely complete toleration, but the heartiest good will and sympathy between sincere and honest men of different faiths—good will and sympathy so complete that in the innumerable daily relations of our American life Catholics and Protestants meet together and work together without thought of the difference of creed being present in their minds. "This is a condition so vital to our national well being that nothing should be permitted to jeopardize it. Bitter comment and criticism, acrimonious attack and abuse, are not only unbecomingly but harmful and to seize upon such an incident as this as an occasion for controversy would be wholly indefensible and should be frowned upon by Catholics and Protestants alike, and all good Americans."

Colonel Roosevelt was greeted by Mayor Nathan and Mayor Bellini, director-general of the Italian foreign office; Ambassador Leishman, and the other members of the American embassy.

A detachment of carabinieri and a large force of police made a pathway from the hotel to the royal waiting room, the king having ordered that the ex-president should be given the same honors as the members of royal families when they visit the Italian capital. Colonel Roosevelt was met at the entrance to the waiting room by the king, who was received on all sides, and he shook hands with many of those about him. The streets to the hotel were lined with spectators, and Colonel Roosevelt and his family were cheered from time to time as they proceeded in their carriage.

Vatican Statement.

The failure to arrange an audience between ex-President Roosevelt and the Pope, which was known only in certain circles tonight, is expected to create a tremendous stir here, as well as abroad, far overshadowing the importance of the incident in which ex-Vice-President Fairbanks was technically between Ambassador Leishman and Monsignor Kennedy, it was well understood in Rome that Monsignor Kennedy was acting under the instructions of Cardinal Merry del Val. The telegrams, however, were in reality between ex-President Roosevelt and the papal secretary.

When the Associated Press correspondent called at the Vatican this evening, great surprise was expressed at the news that Mr. Roosevelt had given out the text of the messages exchanged by Monsignor Kennedy and the American ambassador, as they were regarded by the Vatican in the light of diplomatic documents.

Monsignor Kennedy explained that on March 21, John W. Garrett, first secretary of the embassy, called upon him to "transmit" Mr. Roosevelt's request for an audience with the pontiff on April 5. He said that Mr. Garrett insisted upon the word "transmit."

Monsignor Kennedy informed the secretary that he would immediately present the request to the proper Vatican authorities, and promised a response as soon as possible.

"The following day," said Monsignor Kennedy, "I was authorized to send Mr. Roosevelt the first message, which is quoted in his statement. The reference to the Fairbanks incident in the message was intended by the Vatican only as a friendly intimation. I notice that my second message is not fully given. It ran thus: 'His Holiness will be much pleased to grant an audience to Mr. Roosevelt, for whom he entertains great esteem, personally and as president of the United States. His Holiness quite recognizes Mr. Roosevelt's entire right to freedom of conduct. On the other hand, in view of the circumstances for which neither his holiness nor Mr. Roosevelt is responsible, an audience could not occur, except upon the understanding expressed in the former message.'"

After this no further communication was received from Mr. Roosevelt.

It further appears that it was John Calan O'Loughlin, former assistant secretary of state, and a great personal friend of Mr. Roosevelt's, who yesterday tried to intimated to Cardinal Merry del Val, the following semi-official version of what happened at that interview has been furnished to the Associated Press by a Vatican authority:

Cardinal Merry del Val said to Mr. O'Loughlin: "Can you guarantee that Mr. Roosevelt will not visit the Methodists here?" O'Loughlin replied: "I cannot, indeed, I believe that Mr. Roosevelt is just the man to go there. He will do as he pleases."

"It is indefensible," said the papal secretary, "for any person to ask to be received by a great personage whose feelings he would be unwilling to respect."

In the course of further conversation, the cardinal declared that no court in Europe granted unrestricted audiences. "Mr. Roosevelt himself," said the cardinal, "when he was president, declined to receive persons unconditionally at the White House."

Without giving the name of the person, the cardinal recalled a case where President Roosevelt, having been erroneously informed that a certain person was visiting him by the authority of the Vatican, immediately sent a cabinet officer to the apostolic nuncio in Washington to inform the delegate that he could not receive this personage, but he meant no discourtesy to the Pope by his refusal. The pontiff, when he heard this, replied: "I esteem Mr. Roosevelt more than ever."

Returning to the present incident, Cardinal Merry del Val remarked: "It is not in any sense a question of religion. Mr. Roosevelt might have gone to an Episcopalian, a Presbyterian or any other church, except the Methodist, and delivered an address there and he would have been received by the Pope, even on the same day. But he could not be received when it was suspected that after the audience he intended to go to the Methodist church in Rome, which is carrying on a most offensive campaign of calumny and destruction against the pontiff."

The papal secretary even recognized Mr. Roosevelt's right to claim the privilege of visiting the Methodists the day after the audience on condition that he, Merry del Val, had received private assurances that he would not actually do so.

The Vatican emphasized the statement that it did not receive from the American embassy any notification of Mr. Roosevelt's final message that an audience had become impossible.

After being apprised of the contents of the Vatican's statement, it was explained on Mr. Roosevelt's behalf that his final message had not been communicated to the Vatican because Monsignor Kennedy's second telegram was an end to the matter so far as he was concerned, but that he wished to keep the door open, not for his own sake, but for the sake of the Catholic church in America.

When Mr. O'Loughlin came to Rome, it was with the distinct understanding that he did not do so in Mr. Roosevelt's behalf but in behalf of his co-religionists in America, and that he did not carry any authorization to suggest or add a word to Mr. Roosevelt's position as defined by his telegram for Monsignor Kennedy.

Vatican Too Hasty.

New York, April 3.—The Outlook is authorized to say that Mr. Roosevelt had not directly or indirectly communicated with the Methodists or anyone else and had not made any agreement to speak or to receive anybody. He entered Rome on the 21st, and was in the city for the audience with the king, so that the Vatican, in endeavoring to impose conditions upon, acted before he even thought of taking steps for any other engagements.

The foregoing statement was given out in New York tonight by the publishers of the Outlook.

Bishop H. J. Greer, of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of New York, commented tonight on Col. Roosevelt's experience with the Vatican, said that in his opinion the American people would regard it as a national affront. And they will continue to regard it in this light, he added, unless others attempt to depreciate the incident. The Vatican's attitude he characterized as ill-willed.

THREE GERMAN AERONAUTS KILLED

Stettin, Germany, April 3.—The German balloon Pommern which made an ascent here this afternoon, met with a serious accident which ended in a disaster under three men lost their lives, including the pilot, the observer, and the ballast.

The Pommern, carrying del Brueck, who was acting as pilot, a banker, Herr Semmelhardt, an architect, Herr Benduhn, and a man named Hein, ascended early in the afternoon at the gas works. The wind at the time was blowing a hurricane, and the Pommern broke away before she had been completely ballasted.

A chapter of accidents began immediately. The balloon collided with telegraph wires, which broke, almost overturning the balloon, and then dashed into the roof of a neighboring factory, destroying the smoke stack. With the basket swaying wildly, and half of its ropes cut, the balloon soared to a great altitude and disappeared in the clouds at a terrific speed.

The crowd of on-lookers, including a detachment of military, which had assisted in the ascent, ran along the roads, expecting the basket to break away. The balloon, however, was not seen again until it reached Swinemunde, thirty-six miles north-west of Stettin, over which it passed at a height of 6,000 feet in the direction of the sea. Tugs followed in its track, and one of them which had out-distanced the others, was almost directly under it, when suddenly the balloon fell into the sea. The tug steamed to the spot quickly but the rescue work was difficult. Already del Brueck and Benduhn had disappeared, but Semmelhardt and Hein were clinging to the ropes and they were dragged aboard the vessel.

Hein died soon after being taken on the tug and del Brueck's body was washed ashore this evening.

The crowd of on-lookers, including the seronant Oscar Erlsboeh in command, won the international balloon race at St. Louis in 1907.

Del Brueck and Benduhn had disappeared, but Semmelhardt and Hein were clinging to the ropes and they were dragged aboard the vessel.

THINKS BRITAIN WILL NOT GRAPPLE WITH CABLE RATES

London Radical Paper Fears Government Too Busy to Follow Canada's Lead

Thirty Thousand Settlers to Sail for This Country During April; London Times Sees Another Election in May

London, April 1.—The Leader hopes that concurrent cable legislation in Britain will be passed without difficulty and says the rapid increase of mutual interests between Canada and Britain makes it of interest to everyone to see the present restrictive charges lightened without delay.

According to interviews with the cable company officials here, the announcement of the passing of a bill at Ottawa is interesting rather than important. With respect to the necessary concurrent action of the British government, the manager of one of the largest companies said he was quite content to rely on the answer of Premier Asquith to the deputation from the Imperial Press Conference in 1909.

The opinion appears to be that in the present unusual state of political affairs it is improbable any legislation will be attempted as the new postmaster-general is overwhelmed with routine work. Still, the view is firmly maintained in some quarters that the matter must sooner or later be taken up by parliament.

The Canadian Associated Press learns that the government will give only a week to consideration of the veto bill. After its introduction into parliament it is expected the bill will be presented to the Lords before the end of April. Should the government fail to pass the veto proposals through the Lords they will not resign but advise dissolution and ask parliament for a vote on account of their own convenience.

It is anticipated that dissolution will take place before the end of May.

The result in Middle Glasgow bye-election is (Gibbins, Lib. 8929; Hartshorn, Labor, 6216).

It is stated that 30,000 emigrants will sail for Liverpool to Canada in twenty-three steamships during April, the increasing proportion of the emigrants going with capital is the subject of comment here.

Interest is aroused in Liverpool by a suggestion that a hotel be provided for emigrants who have to wait before shipping offices open and who are often exposed to inconvenience by lack of accommodation.

Canadian officials and experts now in Britain declare emphatically in interviews that Canada scored a triumph over the United States in the tariff negotiations and also state that no Canadian government could afford to refuse reciprocity if offered because of the great advantages to the dominion. A point is emphasized by several Canadians is that England should not worry about the present trading reductions to the United States but apply herself more assiduously to sympathetically cater for Canadian trade with the motto: "We want British made goods not because of our loyalty but because of their superiority."

In the House of Lords today Lord Brassey suggested that, instead of scrapping vessels the admiralty should make a free gift of them for service in colonial waters.

Lord Granard, replying on behalf of the government, said they had no demand by the dominions for such ships. If they really wanted them the dominions would have asked for them.

CAPT. GEO. MOREHOUSE, OF SANDY COVE, DIGBY, DIES IN SIBERIA

Taken Ill While on Train En Route to China—Capt. Melbourne Morehouse, of Same Place, Killed in New York Friday.

Digby, N. S., April 3.—Word reached here last night of the death of Captain George Morehouse, of Sandy Cove, which occurred in Siberia, March 3.

Captain Morehouse, who was forty-six years old, had for a number of years been in the employ of the Chinese government, being master of a passenger steamer running between two Chinese ports. A few years ago he returned home on a short vacation and married Miss Annie Task, of Little River, who survives him, the latter having always resided at home.

This winter Captain Morehouse again returned to his native country, having been sent to London on business for his employers. While in Digby, he informed your correspondent that this would be his last trip away, and at the end of two more years he would retire from business.

He was taken ill with pneumonia while on the Siberian railway. His parents are dead, but he is survived by two brothers and two sisters.

An odd coincidence is that also yesterday the news reached here of the death of Captain Melbourne Morehouse, a native of the same village, who was killed in Perth Amboy, N. J., on a coal barge, Friday.

George Turnbull, a carpenter on the Pines hotel, was taken suddenly ill and fell from a staging yesterday afternoon, being quite badly injured. It is thought he will recover.

SHACKLETON VISITS THE GRAVE OF BRITISH OFFICER KILLED IN WAR OF 1812

Portland, Me., April 1.—A feature of the coming of Sir Ernest Shackleton, the Antarctic explorer, to Portland today was the visit paid by him to the grave of Captain Blyth, of the British sloop of war Boxer, who was killed in battle with the American sloop Enterprise off Portland in the war of 1812, and lies buried at the Eastern Cemetery.

Sir Ernest arrived in Portland at noon and was met by British Vice-Consul Keating, who accompanied him to his hotel. Here he was met by Chas. J. Nichols, Commander Peary's personal representative, who welcomed him to the home of the discoverer of the North Pole.

The visitor was given a complimentary luncheon at the Cumberland Club and was then taken in an automobile to the grave of Captain Blyth.

PRaises CANADA'S IMMIGRATION LAW

American Congressional Committee Finds That It Surpasses Theirs

QUALITY THE OBJECT

Report Says This Country Picks the Best Class of European Settlers to Locate on the Lands, While the United States Does the Reverse.

Washington, April 1.—A report was submitted to congress today by Senator Dillingham, chairman of the joint immigration commission, in regard to the immigration situation in Canada.

Probably the most important statement made in the report is that Canada wants immigrants whose purpose is to enter agricultural pursuits, either as owners, tenants, or laborers, and desires to exclude those immigrants whose presence would tend to a congestion of towns and cities.

Another striking feature of the report is the comparison of immigration into Canada during the past decade with that into the United States. This shows that while seventy per cent. of Canada's immigrants during that period came from northern and western Europe, and only thirty per cent. from southern and eastern Europe, the reverse was true in regard to the immigrants entering the United States. The report says: "That no effort is made to secure immigrants from southern and western Europe, and unless it is the purpose of such immigrants to enter agricultural pursuits their admission to Canada is doubtful."

On the other hand, it is pointed out, effort is made through salaried agents of the Canadian immigration department aided by sub-agents, to whom a bonus or commission is paid, and by means of advertising, to secure immigrants from France, Belgium, Holland, Germany, Denmark, Ireland, Finland, Norway, Sweden, Switzerland and the United States.

Of the total number of immigrants going to Canada during the past three years, more than seven-eighths were classed as farmers or farm laborers.

From 1900 to 1909 in western Canada, 23,639 homesteads were entered for, more than sixty-six per cent. of the entries being by immigrants, divided as follows: English, 20.32 per cent.; Scotch, 5.30 per cent.; Irish, 1.89 per cent.; continental Europeans, 27.67 per cent., and American, 44.91 per cent.

Continuing, the report says Canada gives great liberty to her administrative authorities in the matter of rejections or admissions, and allows her officials substantial freedom in the matter of deportation. All persons who become public charges within two years after landing may be deported. No one is debarred from Canada because of previous arrangements made for employment.

The dominion maintains free information bureaus in the principal centres both for the benefit of employers of labor and of immigrants seeking employment, and in dealing with oriental immigration Canada has adopted a policy which practically excludes Asiatic labor.

$4,000 TOWARDS SIR LEONARD TILLEY'S MONUMENT PASSES

Some Members of Parliament Suggested the Memorial Be Erected at Ottawa by the Government, Instead of Aiding St. John Scheme.

Ottawa, April 1.—In the house of commons today, Mr. Henderson, of Halton, did not like the look of an item in the estimates of $4,000, described as a contribution towards the erection of a memorial to Sir Leonard Tilley at St. John (N. B.). In view of Sir Leonard's great services, he thought the government should erect a monument to his memory, like others, instead of making a mere contribution.

Mr. Pugsley explained that the erection of a monument towards which the government proposed to contribute $4,000 was taken up in St. John by Sir Leonard Tilley's friends, and the government was asked by the committee in charge of the work to make a contribution. He did not think it would be doing justice to the feelings of Sir Leonard Tilley's friends if the government took the matter out of their hands.

Mr. Pugsley agreed that the suggestion was certainly worthy of consideration, and he had no doubt the government would carefully weigh it.

The item of $4,000 was passed.

Dr. Pugsley Outlines Plans

House Passes Vote of $450,000 Towards the Dredging

Minister of Public Works Also Announces That G. T. Pacific Has Bought Terminal Site at Courtenay Bay and Development Will Proceed When Company Files Plans.

Ottawa, April 1.—The development of St. John harbor and the development of Courtenay Bay were discussed in the commons today by a substantial vote for the work was put through by the commons.

On motion of Sir Wilfrid Laurier the resolution providing for morning sittings, beginning with Monday, until the end of the session, was adopted.

Dr. Pugsley said that he would be some supplementary estimates, a resolution respecting dredging docks, a renewal of some railway subsidies, but no new railway subsidies would be granted, resolutions regarding the Ottawa Improvement Commission and legislation affecting judicial appointments.

On the item of $450,000 for dredging in St. John harbor, Hon. Dr. Pugsley said that the Grand Trunk Pacific had not yet completed its plans for terminals in Courtenay Bay and plans for harbor facilities there had, consequently, not yet been submitted. The vote this year was intended for dredging on the western side of the present harbor, though possibly, if it were found necessary, some work might be done on the eastern side.

In reply to Hon. Mr. Emerson, the minister said that the borings taken in Courtenay Bay were not yet all completed, but it had been shown that thirty-two feet of water at low tide could be obtained without dredging any material other than clay. No contract would be entered into for the work in the bay until the completed plan of the G. T. P. had been submitted and approved by the government.

Dr. Pugsley could not say whether the dredging in the bay would be done by government dredges or by contract, but personally, he preferred the principle of doing all government dredging by government dredges.

Courtenay Bay Development.

Dr. Pugsley, in reply to Dr. Danielson that no part of the $450,000 vote would be used for Courtenay Bay unless there was a further vote in the supplementary estimates. This amount would be too small for both portions of the harbor.

Hon. J. Haggart said he was in favor of spending money for the development of Courtenay Bay, provided the Grand Trunk Pacific carried out its intention of making a terminus there.

Hon. J. Haggart said the minister had no right to make a contract for Courtenay Bay dredging, as he had done last year, on a St. John harbor vote. Courtenay Bay was not a part of St. John harbor.

Hon. Mr. Pugsley said Courtenay Bay was a part of St. John harbor. There were wharves upon it and vessels of a small class had made use of them for many years.

Hon. Mr. Haggart wanted to know how much would be spent to carry out the complete plans for St. John.

Hon. Dr. Pugsley said that would be hard to say. The harbor had been dredged for their trade and for that of the fisheries and there had been dredging and wharf building going on ever since.

Plans Eighteen West Side Berths.

To Mr. Borden, he said that there were now six steamship berths on the west side of St. John harbor and the government was building two more, which would soon be completed, making eight. There was a plan which was being carried out for widening the harbor and the Beacon Bay which would give ten more berths, making a total of eighteen. When these were provided it might be found there were sufficient facilities to accommodate the trade without further construction.

Mr. Borden wanted to know if the Grand Trunk Pacific had decided to go to Courtenay Bay.

G. T. P. Has Bought Courtenay Bay Site.

Dr. Pugsley I have been informed by officials of the company that they have made a contract for the purchase of land and foreshore rights from Messrs. Gilbert at the head of Courtenay Bay. The certain fact is that the company has bought about thirty-one acres and the foreshore to some thirty-five acres.

Dr. Pugsley said that was an unduly statement, according to his information.

Mr. Todd asked Dr. Pugsley if the harbor facilities on the west side would not accommodate the Grand Trunk Pacific, if they could it would save the country a large amount of money which it was proposed to spend in developing Courtenay Bay.

Dr. Pugsley said the Grand Trunk Pacific engineers had reported that the west side facilities could not be sufficient for their trade and for that of the Canadian Pacific, which now used them. They to go to the west side the Grand Trunk Pacific would have to use the C. P. R. tracks and there were always difficulties in such a plan.

Mr. German, Liberal, condemned work by government dredges. He stated that for the original cost and the expense of maintenance the Fielding did not appear to move enough material.

Dr. Danielson said the Fielding had been working exposed to the swell of the Bay of Fundy.

Dr. Pugsley declared that the Fielding had been engaged in difficult work. She was operating to a great depth, and where there was a heavy tide, no dipper dredge could have done as well.

The item carried.

"NEW BRUNSWICK SLEEPING AGAINST A HORNETS' NEST"

Grave Fears That Brown Tail Moth Will Invade This Province—Maine, in State of Excitement, Takes Practical Steps to Fight the Pests—Mr. McIntosh on the Trail Under Orders from Secretary for Agriculture.

Tuesday, April 5. William McIntosh, of the Natural History Society here, received instructions yesterday morning from W. W. Hubbard, secretary for agriculture, to make a thorough search for traces of the brown tail moth in the province. Mr. McIntosh had already begun the search in the St. John district and will finish the work here before proceeding elsewhere. An important feature of the campaign will be that Mr. McIntosh will address the school children wherever he goes with a view to getting them interested in the search for the pest. The State of Maine, Mr. McIntosh says, is infested with the brown tail moth and leaving St. John he will go to the extreme west portion of the province adjoining that state. A thorough and systematic search will be made around St. Stephen and St. Andrews and in all the orchards in the district where the moth is likely to be found. The search will be extended to all points along the line of the C. P. R. Mr. McIntosh conducted a similar search last year, and he is of the opinion that it will be necessary to continue the work for a good many years to come.

The town of Bangor, only one hundred miles from the New Brunswick border, find such cause for alarm as to the brown tail moth that the civic government has been issuing recently scare head notices in the newspapers and otherwise. These inform the public that all owners of orchards or of ornamental trees must take steps immediately to exterminate all signs of the larvae of the brown tail moth, in order to prevent their development when the weather grows warm.

GREAT PROGRESS ON LINE OF G. T. P. IN NEW BRUNSWICK

End of March Saw Total Expenditure of Nine Million Dollars in This Province—Work Being Rushed.

The expenditures of the past month on the six contracts of the National Transcontinental in New Brunswick have brought the total cost of the section of the road in this province up to the nine million mark. To exact the cost to date has been $9,080,509.68. March has naturally been a slack month, but it has been possible to do considerable work on two of the sections and $103,909.29 has been expended. On the 4th, that between the junction of the N. T. R. and the Canada Eastern at McGivney's and Plaster Rock $38,799.74 was spent during the month. The work has consisted chiefly of big fills made by train hauls. There is still an abundance of snow in the upper portion of the province, and May will be the first month of great activity. From that time on to the end of the year, things will be very busy along the line of construction, as the New Brunswick section is to be completed by the end of the present year.

PREDICTS GREAT FUTURE FOR ST. JOHN AND NEW BRUNSWICK

Mexican Consul-general Declares Next Five Years Will See Great Growth in This City—Should Be Better Advertised—A Few Practical Suggestions.

Saturday, April 2. D. A. Ansell, consul general of Mexico in the dominion, has a flattering opinion of St. John's prospects of advancement within the next five years. "The people of the town have been asleep incredibly long," says Mr. Ansell, "but I can see a great difference in the attitude of the people since my past visit here. They are beginning to realize the possibilities of their town and province, and are beginning to do the hustling which they now see is necessary for their development. I expect to see St. John go ahead immensely during the next five years. Great new factories and shops are bound to come within that period. The city is bound to get the money for developing its harbor to yet untried proportions. Its possibilities are immense in the opinion of men who know. Geo. W. Stephens, chairman of the Montreal harbor board, for example, is solidly in favor of the full development of St. John harbor as a water port.

"There is plenty of beautiful land in your province of which old country people would know. If many of those who pass through your port knew I will furnish it to you here and of the comfort and conveniences they could have here as compared with the hardships in the west, they would never go beyond New Brunswick."

Mr. Ansell left last evening for Montreal. He expects that the King's exequatur ratifying the appointment of Col. Sturdee as Mexican consul here will arrive shortly. The Mexican government has already appointed him.

He was formerly a dentist, having studied under Dr. Eske, of Boston. On account of an injury to his arm caused by the explosion of a vulcanizer he was obliged to abandon his profession, returning to this city to live. His wife, who survives him, was a daughter of the late John Boyd, of Exmouth, Mrs. W. H. Jones, of California, and two nephews, Conductor W. L. Broad and Harold L. Lynam, also survive. Mr. Lynam was known by a great many people in the city and was very highly thought of.

CARLETON FAMILY HEARS OF RELATIVES

Reunion of Descendants of Joseph Mullaly and His Sister After Sixty-two Years.

The postman has been playing a welcome part in the past few weeks for the descendants of one of Carleton's best known and respected families for he has brought them—first inquiry and then word in confirmation of hopes—news of relatives whose existence was not known. Far back in 1835 or 1836 Joseph Mullaly came to St. John from Mullingar, West Meath, (Ire.) He landed at Miramichi, later in Musquash and finally in Carleton and raised a large family. He lived to the good old age of 89 dying in the year 1889 and leaving the memory of a man who had lived his life well and made for himself an honored name in the community. Following the death of Mullaly from the home land came his two brothers but it is not known where they located though there is some thought that the Mullaly family on Prince Edward Island may be descendants of one of them. About the year 1847 a sister, Esther, who had married Thomas Gallagher in Ireland came to St. John with her daughter, also named Esther and they stayed for about a year with Mr. Mullaly, leaving in 1850 for Chicago where they joined Mr. Gallagher who, with his two sons had located in the west. They accompanied him to the new home in the western states and, until a few weeks ago, had never been heard from by the family in St. John.

One day recently Rev. J. J. O'Donovan, pastor of the Church of the Assumption, Carleton, received a letter from E. R. Tye, of Chicago, making inquiry about Joseph Mullaly's family. The letter stated that Esther Mullaly was living in Chicago where she had married John Tye. The writer told that he was Esther's son. The years were growing upon her—she is now 78 years old—and she as well as all were anxious to know about the St. John branch of the family. The letter gave the Christian names of Mr. Mullaly and his wife and there was evidently a good memory in the household, for the names of nearly all the children were mentioned as well. There was no doubt, from the letter, that Joseph Mullaly's family was the one sought.

The letter was forwarded to Mrs. P. J. O'Keefe of 132 Waterloo street, the only member of the family now living, an 88 year old woman. Up to the time of her death she had been a remarkably healthy active woman and the end was a great shock to all who knew her. Before marriage she was Miss Frances J. McCrea, daughter of James McCrea, of Walsingham, who had been connected with the Baptist church at Shannon all her life and was active in all the organization of the congregation. Besides her husband and three small children, Mrs. Belyea is survived by her parents, four brothers and five sisters. On Sunday afternoon Dr. McIntyre officiated at the funeral of George Rodney Belyea at McDonald's Corner.

Party Arrived Here Yesterday from England and Will Take Up C. P. R. Irrigated Lands Near Calgary—Pictures Taken at Different Stages of the Journey—What the Scheme Is.

Two hundred British settlers, carrying in the aggregate of between $500,000 and $750,000 in hard cash, arrived on the Empress of Britain yesterday afternoon, had themselves featured in cinematograph pictures while landing at Sand Point and left for the west on a special train last night. Two cinematograph operators with complete equipment left on the train with them and will "metograph" the party at intervals on their journey westward and until they have become settled on C. P. R. ready-made farms east of Calgary. These pictures will be exhibited in England.

The enterprise of bringing the settlers to Canada and locating them was developed by the Canadian Pacific Railway in accordance with Sir Thomas Shaughnessy's idea to plant English settlers on prepared farms in the west, with a crop already planted for them.

The credit for the picturing of the settlers en route and thus presenting an absolutely correct pictorial record of the making of a Canadian farmer from the time he leaves the old land until he is settled in the new, belongs to the London Daily Mail. This enterprising newspaper sent out the cinematograph men and equipment with the party, and the result of their labors on screens in connection with the bulletin services at their London offices.

As a comprehensive advertising scheme to present Canada's advantages to the British on his native heath, this will probably rank as high as any which has been attempted. Pictures were taken on the steamer during the voyage over and as the party came down the gangway yesterday afternoon they passed in the range of the rapid fire cameras. The settlers found it all highly diverting, and the folks at 'ome' who see the results cannot but see that the trip to Canada has been a pleasant one. Following the trip, the expressions on the faces of the landing party can be accepted as evidence. There was a broad grin on every countenance and from their demeanor while awaiting the departure of their train, they treated the whole affair very much as a huge picnic. It is to be hoped that the stern realities of the Canadian west will not be effective in changing their joy. These settlers, however, start out with every advantage and there is consequently no doubt that they will be successful.

81,000 Necessary. An interesting feature of this particular party is that no one of them is likely to go " broke." Before they registered in England it was conditional that each should have not less than $1,000. Many of them have much more than this and there are probably half a dozen in the number who are taking a comfortable fortune with them to the west. The party is in charge of Archibald S. Walter, an alert young Englishman of pleasing personality, whose card bears the inscription "The Canadian Pacific Railway Co., colonization department, 62 Charing Cross, Trafalgar Square, S. W." Mr. Walter selected the party in Great Britain and will stay with them until he sees them on the land in Calgary.

Have Half a Million. Talking to a representative of The Telegraph, Mr. Walter estimated that the party had at least $500,000, and the amount would probably more nearly approach $750,000. Beyond a little stir around the shed, the arrival of so much real money on one time aroused no undue excitement on the west side. The party was divided on the steamer, some traveling saloon and a few in the steerage, but the majority came second cabin. Where an examination was necessary by the immigration officials, it was made on the steamer to facilitate the speedy departure of the newcomers. A special train, consisting of a first class coach, two tourist cars, two dining cars and a diner with baggage van, was made up awaiting the arrival of the steamer and pulled out during the evening.

The farms are of eighty acres each, some are on irrigated land while others are in their natural condition. By the conditions of sale, the newcomers pay $18 per acre for the non-irrigated farms and $30 per acre for those under irrigation. These payments are distributed over a term of ten years, the first passing when payments are completed.

Mr. Walter says this is the first party he has brought this season to the C. P. R. farms, and no more will be brought until more farms can be made ready, as those now prepared have all been disposed of.

Houses Await Them. This party may fairly be designated as "settlers de luxe" for the farms which they will occupy are already provided with new houses and stables, and have fifty acres sown to wheat of the best quality expected to grade No. 1 Alberta. It only remains for the settler to furnish his house, stock his farm and a portion of his equipment. The party is entirely composed of those with agricultural experience, selected principally for their ability to adapt themselves to Canadian conditions.

It is Mr. Walter's intention to make ten more trips to Canada during the summer. All other parties arriving will, however, be obliged to make their own purchases of unimproved lands.

MRS. MCCREADY'S DEATH WAS GREAT SHOCK

Tuesday, April 5. Rev. Dr. W. E. McIntyre came down the river yesterday from McDonald's Point, where he attended two funerals on Sunday. During the forenoon he, with Rev. C. B. Lewis, officiated at the funeral of Mrs. Robert B. McCready at Shannon. Mrs. McCready died very suddenly of apoplexy at her home in Shannon, aged 28 years. Up to the time of her death she had been a remarkably healthy active woman and the end was a great shock to all who knew her. Before marriage she was Miss Frances J. McCrea, daughter of James McCrea, of Walsingham, who had been connected with the Baptist church at Shannon all her life and was active in all the organization of the congregation. NEARLY ALL THE RIVER BOATS NOW IN COMMISSION

Tuesday, April 5. The May Queen will start on her route tomorrow and then all of the main river boats operating from here will be running. She will not try to get to the end of her trip on Wednesday, but will go as far as Upper Jemseg, at the entrance to Grand Lake. She will apparently be some time before the Belleisle will be open. The Champlain Landing prevented the Smeencoms from getting further than that point. There is open water above, however, and it is expected that the boat will get to the end of her route on Thursday.
