CONVENTION AT DORCHESTER

North Dorchester Union Sabbath School Association Met Yesterday.

The annual convention of the North Dorchester Union Sabbath School Association, held in the Methodist Church yesterday afternoon, was largely attended and of great interest. Besides 50 delegates, 300 or 400 other persons interested in Sunday school work were present. Rev. Thomas Wilson, of the King Street Presbyterian Church, London, preached a sermon, and Rev. Mr. Kay, of Dorchester, addressed over 100 children, who filed ing on Hamingspruit. The Fifteenth in for the occasion. Mr. D. A. Mc-Dermid, superintendent of the Dundas Center Methodist Sunday school, gave a practical talk on the "Business End of a Sunday School;" Mr. W. Thompson read a paper on the "Sunday School Library;" after which the business session occupied the afternoon. In the evening Rev. Dr. Saunders, of London, and Rev. Mr. Currie, of Belmont, addressed the convention. The Belmont choir furnished the music. It was decided to hold the next convention at Gladstone.

TICKET FRAUDS.

Denver, Col., Oct. 19 .- The officials of the Colorado Midland Railway have discovered a case of ticket counter-feiting which promises to prove one of the most extensive ever unearthed. The ticket counterfeited is a skeleton round-trip ticket. The frauds found have been all on eastern points and were so nearly perfect that conductors and employes in the general offices passed them without question. The number out is believed to be large.

LIFE SAVED.—Mr. James Bryson Cameron writes: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice I procured the medicine, and less then helf a bottle cured were and less than half a bottle cured me; I certainly believe it saved my life. It was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any semedy to de me good.

Vryburg Captured by the Boers-Another Train Said to Have Fallen Into Their Hands.

Ladysmith, Oct. 20 .- At 5:20 this morning a dispatch was received from Gen. Symons, announcing that the Boers were shelling Glencoe camp with big guns, and that the troops were moving out to attack them.

London, Oct. 20 .- A special dispatch from Glencoe, dated 8:25 this morning, announced that the Boer position had been captured after heavy fighting, Later an official message was received from Glencoe, time 7:40 this morning, saying the fighting was still proceeding there, and announcing that the Boer strength was about 9,000 men. The Boers, it appears, posted guns on a hill M. H. Gallaway, chief justice of Naoverlooking the town, opened fire on the camp, and the battle became gen eral. The war office, during the morning, received a report that GEN. SYMONS WAS WOUNDED in the engagement at Glencoe. The war office also received the following dispatch, dated yesterday evening, from Ladysmith: "The Boers commenced descending the western passes on Tuesday, and came in contact with our patrols yesterday. They continued to advance, halting for the night with their left flank at Bester's Station, their center at Bluebank, and their right more retired. At Acton Homes, Lieut. Galwey, Trooper Pencer, of the Natal Carbineers, was slightly wounded. I moved my camp into a position I have selected, with the chiect of covering the town of Ladysmith, and I hoped today that the Boers might have been sufficlently near to me to strike a blow.

ENEMY RETREAT. "Today, however, the enemy seems to have retired west, our patrols get-ting in touch nowhere except with a comparatively small body at Bester's Station. Communication with Glencoe Junction was cut off at Elandslaagte, where they captured a goods train. A Boer force is advancing over Beggarsberg Nek. Communication by telegraph is still open with Greytown.' BATTLE IN PROGRESS. London, Oct. 20 .- The war office has received the appended dispatch from Ladysmith, filed at 10:45 a.m., today. "The following advices from Glencoe camp just to hand: The King's Royal Rifles and the Dublin Fusiliers are attacking a hill occupied by Boer artillery. They are within three hundred yards of the position and are advancing under cover of our artillery, at Battery and the Leicester Regiment have gone to meet them." An unconfirmed report has been re-about 2,000 yards range. Scouts report ceived here that Boer artillery is shelling Dundee. EXCITEMENT IN LONDON. Yesterday (Thursday) was one of the most exciting days known at the war office since the crowd attended there to know the result of the relief expedition to Gordon at Khartoum. The news that the Fifth Lancers had been engaged brought many ladies and friends of the regiment to inquire for news. The greatest intelligence seems to be the report of a capture of a train with officers at Elandslaagte, where it is understood the whole cross country line was regularly patrolled. As no correspondents are allowed at the front, it is impossible to gain definite information, but it is known that Gen. Sir George Stewart White has been making some extensive move-ments of the troops in that neighborhood, and developments are hourly expected. It is reported that Commandant General Joubert's northern column with twelve guns, is now at Dann-hauser. Although the Boers have shown considerabe activity in Natal, there is nothing to indicate that they are yet prepared for a serious com-bined attack, and the general belief here is that unless something unex-pected happens, Gen. Sir George Stewart White will maintain the defensive.

The surrender of Vryburg is not of great importance, but it will be regarded throughout Boerdom as a splendid triumph over the British. 1,500 BOERS KILLED.

The Daily News' Cape Town correspondent says: "It is rumored here that news has reached Deaar Junction that the Boers attacked Mafeking in force, but were repulsed. The defenders, seeing the enemy retreating, pursued them for some distance. Then a feint was made, and they commenced to retire on the town, allowing themselves to be driven in by the Boers, who, eager to retrieve their position, again advanced to the attack, and were drawn over lyddite mines, laid for the defense of the town. It is reported that 1,500 were killed by the

The London Daily Mail's Cape Town correspondent says that a refugee, who has reached Grahamstown from the Rand, states that a train arrived at Johannesburg on Monday from Klerksdorp with 300 wounded burghers. The Daily Mail suggests that these wounded were from Mafeking.

BRISK FIGHTING. The Pietermaritzburg correspondent of the London Daily Mail, in a dispatch, dated Thursday, says: "The brunt of the fighting at Bester's Station yesterday was sustained by the volunteer patrols. The fighting was brisk. The Boers numbered 2,000. The volunteers at one moment were in great pell, being nearly cut off, but the officers handled their men splendidly, and the Maxims effectively stopped the Boer rushes. The Boers' shootduring which five guns were taken, ing was wretched. Our men were in the saddle three days and two nights with hardly any rest.

BOERS FALL BACK. Ladysmith, Oct. 18, noon-(Delayed in transmission.)—A cavalry patrol be-low Twintwa Pass had a brush with the enemy yesterday evening. The Boers opened with artillery, but retreated on the advance of the Fifth Lancers.

President Kruger telegraphs an account to President Steyn of the affair at Kraaipan, where the Boers derailed of the Natal Carbineers, is missing and and bombarded the British armored train, capturing Capt. Nesbitt's party. Mr. Kruger said that Nesbitt and seven men were seriously wounded, that one man was killed, and all the prisoners were well. According to the same advice, a Dutch farmer living in one of the border towns, has received a letter from a friend in the Transvaal, referring to the Mafekin g affair as "bad business" ANOTHER BOER REVERSE. Orange River, Oct. 18-afternoon.-(Delayed.)—The Boers suffered a reverse on Sunday at Spruitfontein, ten miles south of Kimberley. An armored train went out to bring in a train reported to be captured by the Boers at the Spruitfontein siding. A party of Boers, who were encamped near by, lowered the railway signal and displayed a white flag, apparently with the idea of inducing the driver to proceed. The driver suspected that the Boers were in possession, and stopped the train, whereupon the Boers opened fire, but without any effect. The soldiers replied from the train, and about half a dozen Boers were killed. The British were unscratched.

KILLING OF 200 BOERS AT MAFE-KING DISCREDITED. Stories of British successes in the Mafeking district are so persistent that, in the absence of contradiction Boer sources, they may be accepted as true in the main, although the alleged killing of 300 Boers is discredited. BOER DEFEATS. Cape Town, Oct. 19.—The Cape Times duce the soldiers, and inciting them, publishes the following dispatch from acting as assistants to the enemies of the Queen, and what action, if any, the Mafeking says that an armored train, government proposed to take in the while reconnoitering north of the town last Saturday, engaged 500 Boers, who suffered heavily. Col. Fitzclarence's column foiled the Boers, inflicting severe loss. The British casualties were two killed and fourteen wounded, two severely. London, Oct. 19 .- A dispatch to the Daily News from Cape Town says a gentleman who left Bloemfontein on Sunday stated that before he left the Boers were heavily repuised, and that heavier guns had been requisitioned and were en route from Rustenburg. The armored train of the British did great execution.

WAR CORRESPONDENTS CAPTUR-

ED BY BOERS. London, Oct. 20 .- The correspondent of the Morning Post at Ladysmith, in a dispatch sent Thursday night, confirms the statement that a train had been captured at Elandslaagte and said the train was partly made up of four trucks of cattle consigned to an army purveyor at Dundee. It is re-ported that one British officer and Mr. antchell, the Johannesburg Star war correspondent, besides other war cor-respondents were captured. The train which preceded the captured train was fired on, but the Boers' attack was not successful. The place is full of rumors of fighting, but there is nothing definite. There are said to be 4,000 Bosrs, with a heavy wagon train encam ed party of thirteen Cape Colony police who were guarding the Cape Railway at Riverton Road, eighteen miles north of Kimberley, on Sunday morning. The police retired. A terrific explosion was heard later, and it is believed that the Boers blew up the station. Surgeon-

Major Sullivan was captured. VRYBURG SURRENDERS. The Cape Town correspondent of the Daily Mail says: "Vryburg surrendered Sunday. The police, having wathdrawn from Vryburg, the town surrendered to the Boers, the inhabitants fleesing towards Kuruman."

NOTES. A Ladysmith dispatch says: Free State Boers, on the falling back of the British patrols, occupied Acton Homes on Wednesday. Their probable intention is to co-operate with the discontented Natal Dutch in Umvoti. The Boers are boasting that they will hold fancy dress balls and masquerade in British uniforms at Cape Town and Durban by the end of October. Another $125,000 of Transvaal gold has been seized aboard the steamer Avondale Castle at Delagoa Bay. It is reported from Delagoa Bay that the Swazi king, Bunu, is collecting his forces for the attack, presumably of the Boers. It is stated that the Portuguese forces at Delagoa Bay will be raised to war strength. Pietermaritzburg is crowded with refugees, to shelter whom all the public buildings are being utilized. There is much distress. Seven thousand men have entered Natal from the Transvaal within the past week, and most of them have gone to Zululand At Cape Town there is an incessant Racial Animosity the Curse of South Africa-War Has Long Been Inevitable.

London, Oct. 20.-At yesterday's session of the House of Commons, Lord George Hamilton, replying to a question on the expenditure for the Indian troops in South Africa, said the entire charge would be defrayed out of the imperial exchequer. Mr. Balfour, in reply to an interpallation as to whether the imperial government were now reviewing the action of the Cape Colony premier, Mr. Schreiner, and other members of the Cape government, and as to whether the governor of Cape Colony, Sir Alfred Milner, would be allowed to dismiss the Schreiner ministry, to dissolve the Cape Legislature, and temporarily to assume full authority, said: "This question is apparently founded upon newspaper reports, for which, so far as the imperial government are aware, there is no foundation."

Mr. Balfour announced that the present sitting of parlament would be regarded as a complete session, to be terminated by prorogation, and not aujourned until February.

Mr. Henry Seaton-Kerr asked whether the attention of the government had been directed to certain speeches by Messrs. Patrick O'Brien and Wm. Redmond (Parnellite), regarding the matter. Mr. Redmond said that before the first lord of the treasury replied, he desired to ask him whether it was not a fact that he (Mr. Redmond), in suggesting a message of sympathy to Pre-sident Kruger, had only followed the precedent set by her majesty's grand-

A GRAND RECEPTION.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. Mr. Fielding drove over to Paisley from Walkerton, accompanied by Mr. H. P. O'Connor and Mr. Reuben Traux, M.

P.P. They were met at the outskirts of the village by a procession and escorted, amid cheering crowds, along the main street and back to the mar-ket place. The procession was headed by Mr. Hugh McKerracher, grand marshal, Piper Thane, of Guelph, and a mounted escort, consisting of 75 of the members of the Young Liberal

Club, carrying a banner, and a long string of buggies and carriages containing leading residents of Paisley and many of the most prominent farmers of the county. Music was provided by the 22nd Battalion Band from

Walkerton, and the Southampton and Pinkerton Citizens' Band. Cheers were raised by the crowd all along the route as they caught sight of the first minister and his colleague. In honor of the occasion Paisley had donned its best appearance. Not only were most of the leading stores decorated, but it seemed that almost all the residences displayed some token of welcome in the shape of flags. Bunting and strings of mottoes were suspended across the main street, setting forth such sentiments as the following: "Hurrah for Laurier!" "Times Have Changed," "Canada now for Canadians," "Welcome to Paigley "Bruce Welcomes Our

I may point out, among the differences between himself and the emperor of Germany, his imperial majesty is not a Britisher, nor a member of this house. I have reason to doubt the accuracy of the reason to doubt the accuracy of the statements contained in the question. So far as my memory serves, support of a similar character has invariably been offered by the same quarters to those engaged in hostilities with her majesty's government, quite irrespective of race, creed or the theater of hostilities. I have no ground for think-Then came the Jameson raid, and our South African officials decided that they could not with propriety present the message. The Boers in their own words, treked because they wanted to "wallop the niggers."

Mr. John Dillon eried: "That is not hostilities. I have no ground for thinking that such support was ever regarded as important, and I advise the house to take the same view now." (Peais of laughter.)

The league was one of the poorest, pecuniarily, but at the same time most reantative political organ established. With regard to the allegations respecting his own association with Mr. Cecil Rhodes, he declared that from the time of the Jameson raid he had had no communication, either direct or indirect, with Mr. Rhodes, on any subject connected with South Afri-

WAR WAS INEVITABLE. Passing to the general question of the government's South African policy, Mr. Chamberlain said that in the light of recent events, and of the utterances of President Kruger, he had come to the conclusion that war had always been inevitable, although it was only of late that he had himself most reluctantly reached this view. He had hoped for peace and striven to maintain it, and up to a recent date he had bethat peace was possible. He had always been determined to secure Justice for the Britishers in South Africa, and to maintain the paramountey of Great Britain; but with these things assured he desired peace. BRITAIN MUST BE PARAMOUNT.

Turning to the principles involved in the war, the colonial secretary went on to say: "If we maintain our existence great power in South Africa, we are bound to show that we are willing and able to protect British subjects wherever they have suffered injustice and oppression. Great Britain must remain the paramount power in South Africa. I do not mean paramount in the German and Portuguese possescions, but in the two republics and the British colonies. Everyone on both sides of the house is determined to maintain these great principles. Chamberlain then proceeded to discuss the question of racial animosity, denying that this feeling, which, he said, was based in South Africa on contempt, would be increased by hos-He declared that racial animostty had not been created by the present government but it existed before majesty's present advisers assumed re-

The work of examining and enlisting the volunteer for South Africa went on very quietly yesterday at Wolseley Barracks. Dr. Belton commenced the medical examination at 9 o'clock in the morning, and by noon only four men had passed. As soon as the doctor was satisfied, the men were sworn in by Major Stuart, and had then to remain at the barracks. The form of enrollment was not immedia-tely gone through with in some cases where the men wished to say good-bye to their friends. These were allowed leave of absence, some unti tomorrow, and some only until 1 o'clock this afternoon. The volunteers from ernment increased the garrisons for defense on pressure from the Natal administration, to whom gratitude and outside points are now at the bar-racks. The men will remain under military discipline until they leave for

THE WINDSOR TEN. Windsor, Ort., Oct. 19.—Lieut.-Col. Guillet, of the first Fusiliers, yesterday received notice from Col. Holmes, D. O. C., of the London district, that the Windsor contingent for the Transvaal would have to report at military headquarters in London on Friday. He had to notify his men who had volunteered their services to meet him at the city hall last night. There was a large turn-out of military men, and Col. Guillet explained what the duties of those who volunteered would be. In speaking to the boys, Lieut.-Col Guillet said he was pleased with the offers by the young men of Windsor to serve the mother country in the war. He wished them a safe return, and trusted that they would distinguish themselves and prove an honor to Canada. The following are the names of the Windsor boys who were selected: Lieut. Bowden, Lieut. ## THE SHAMROCK WAS BEHIND

In Yesterday's Yacht Race, Which Was Not Finished for Want of Wind.

New York, Oct. 20.-Had the wind held yesterday, the Columbia-Shamrock series for the America's cup would have ended in three straight heats for the defender. When the race was declared off, about ten minutes before the expiration of the time limit, the Columbia was leading by about three miles. She was then four miles from the finish. Had the race ended, the challenger would have been beaten by at least twenty minutes.

The British boat was badly handled, her crew failing to get her over the line before the handicap gun was fired, and she went into the race penalized by two seconds on that account. The additional ballast put in her also seems to have been a blunder on the part of her managers, as it increased the size of the body to be forced through the water, and in the light air that prevailed. retarded, instead of increasing her

Fair weather and a fine breeze from the north greeted the skippers and crews of the racers in the morning, and pounds of tea in lead air-tight packthere was a promise of plenty of wind. Columbia crossed the line 27 seconds in the lead, without the handicap, which meant fully two lengths'

The official time of the start was: Columbia, 11:01:33; Shamrock, 11:02.00. The Shamrock's actual time of crossing was 11:02:02. She was handicapped two seconds, because the yachts were allowed 7 minutes from the starting gun in which to cross the starting line, and she exceeded that time two seconds. They sailed between four and five points to the east out of the course in order to make the sails to draw to the best advantage. thereby covering at least five miles more ground than was necessary. During the first fifteen minutes of racing, the Columbia seemed to increase her lead. After that, for the next halfhour, Shamrock apparently was gaining on the white sloop.

The official time of the turn was:
Columbia. 2:24:45; Shamrock, 2:31:03. By this it will be seen that the Col-umbia was 6 minutes 18 seconds ahead at the mark, that her elapsed time was 3 hours 23 minutes, 12 seconds. The Shamrock's was 3 hours, 29 minutes and 3 seconds, showing that the Columbia's gain actually was 5 minues 5 seconds, in the 15 miles.

Later on the wind became lighter every moment, and at 4:19 exactly the race was declared off. At this time, Columbia was leading by about three miles. She had sailed towards the finish about 11 miles of the fifteen. So ended the eighth fluke of the international series. The yachts will race today over a similar course, to windward or leeward and return.

A NICE NUGGET

A Poor Swede's Luck-Picked Up a Pound Chunk of Gold.

The Detroit News: G. H. D. Sutherland, a former Windsor newspaper man, returned from the Atlin gold fields last evening, where he has been for fourteen months. He brought back a half dozen big nuggets and a bottle of gold dust, just to show the people, he says, that there is gold in the country.
"The Atlin country isn't a second

Klondike, by any means," he says, "but still there is sufficient gold to pay handsomely. Poor men and even those of moderate means should give the country a wide berth. The richest finds are being made at Cape Nome on Behring Sea. A man just down from there told me that he and seven others took out $5,000 in ten hours, and men with rockers are reported to be clearing up $50 to $200 a day. The biggest nugget ever taken out in the Atlin country weighed seven pounds. A Swede, who hadn't a dollar made the find, and has refused

$1,000 for the nugget. 'Skaguay is one of the greatest cambling places on earth. The profits from the fare bank are said to be $20,-000 a year. The game goes on night and day, and has stopped only once since it began. That was when 'Soapy' Smith and United States Marshal Reid killed each other while the marshal was endeavoring to arrest Smith."

Ontario Government Gives $500 Toward the Red Cross Fund.

Toronto, Oct. 20.—The Ontario Government has contributed $500 toward the Red Cross fund for the aid of sick and wounded Canadian soldiers at the front in South Africa.

CAPTAIN STAIRS. Halifax, N. S., Oct. 20.—Capt. H. B. Stairs, of the Sixty-sixth Fusiliers, who has been appointed to the command of the Halifax company in the Canadian contingent for South Africa, is a brother of Lieut. Stairs, who perished in Africa some years ago while on an exploring expedition for the British Government. Prior to that expedition, Lieut. Stairs was associated with Henry M. Stanley in African exploration.

HALIFAX HAS ENROLLED 80. Seventeen more men were enrolled in Halifax yesterday for the Canadian contingent, making 80 so far registered here. Major Griffiths, commanding officer of the Seventy-fifth Battalion of Lunenburg, has offered to serve with the contingent, and Major Anderson, a young officer of the same regiment, would also like to serve. It is probable that 15 or 20 volunteers will come from that regiment. Col. Oxley, the commanding officer of the Ninety-third Battalion, sent to Col. Irving the names of five volunteers, and stated that more would follow from the Ninety-third. AT OTTAWA.

Ottawa, Oct. 20 .- The work of enrolling men for the Transvaal is going on at the drill hall and is about completed. Dr. Borden, minister of militia, was busy all day yesterday arranging lists of officers and attending to other matters connected with the contingent. The only companies that have got their full list of officers is the French-Canadian. They are: Major J. E. Pelletier, Sixty-fifth Battalion; Capt. Harry Panet, R. C. R. A.; Lieut. Louis Leduc, R. C. R. F.; and Lieut. A. E.

Quebec, Oct. 20. - The local militia officers have decided to tender a dinner at the Garrison Club to the officers of the contingent previous to the departure of the Sardinian for South Africa. Although yesterday was a holiday in the public offices, the staff at the brigade office and department were on hand as usual, and kept quite busy throughout the day. Recruiting was reported very quiet at the brigade office. In addition to other names mentioned, two men of the First Field Battery are volunteering for service. The staff in the military stores have their hands full preparing the clothing, arms and accourtrements which are to be served out to the contingent

NOTES. Eight men of the Essex Fusiliers are to go with the Canadian contingent to the Transvaal.

A telegram was sent to the minister of militia Thursday morning by the Salada Tea Company offering 1,000 ages, for the use of the Canadian contingent to South Africa.

The latest government militia orders state that the government will make a grant of $125 to officers of the force towards defraying the expenses of outfit. An advance of pay to the amount of $60 will also be allowed.

HEART DISEASE.

Some Facts Regarding the Rapid In crease of Reart Trouble.

Heart trouble, at least among the Americans, is certainly increasing, and while this may be largely due to the excitement and worry of American business life, it is more often the result of weak stomachs, of poor diges-

Real organic disease is incurable; but not one case in a hundred of heart trouble is organic. The close relation between heart trouble and poor digestion is because both organs are controlled by the same great nerves, the Sympathetic and Pneumogastric. In another way, also, the heart is affected by the form of poor digestion, which causes gas and fermentation from half digested food. There is a feling of oppression and heaviness in the chest, caused by pressure of the distended stomach on the heart and lungs, interfering with their action; hence arises palpitation and short Poor digestion also poisons the London, Friday, Oct. 20.

Colonel Denison's Rebuke. Col. Denison, of Toronto, is a distinguished military man, and so zealous an imperialist that he has even been accounted a bit of a jingo. But jingo or not, Col. Denison is wise enough to see that the unity of the Empire cannot be realized if its component parts are not united in themselves. The enthe Upper Canada College on Wed- of the Dominion, they will be welnesday. Referring to the fact of a come. Canadian corps enlisting for South Affrica, the colonel said:

There had been a great deal said in not paying the full expenses of the contingent. He was glad, on that account, that it had been clearly and definitely shown that it was the wish of the British Government that the men should be paid from imperial funds, and not by any of the colonial authorities. Had it not been so, Canadians would have felt that they were not doing their whole duty. Now they felt relieved to know that the Dominion Government were doing all that the Imperial Government wished them to do or would allow them to do. (Cheers.) Then, in the second place, It should be remembered that the home authorities had yielded to the wishes of Canada, and permitted the men to go as a distinct costingent, so that on both points we should be satisfied. A point he wished to emphasize was that If our beloved country is ever to become a great and powerful nation, if the time is ever to come, as he hoped, when Canada shall be the most important, the most powerful and the most tion. populous part of the greatest empire of the world, it would only be accomplished through the united effort of every individual by the people standing together as one. History showed them that on every occasion on which it was necessary the Canadian people had stood together.

"They must not forget that it was owing to the loyalty of the French-Can- proved. adian population that in 1776 this counwas saved to the British Empire and for us today. (Cheers.) In the war of 1812-14 these men stood shoulder to shoulder with our fathers and fought on the same fields with them, with the result that the invader had been repelled and our freedom and national ity preserved. He cited the example of the Swiss, who had four different lan- without paying them a bonus either. guages and four different religions, to Britain is buying mules, not men, how that neither language nor religion need make any difference to the patriotism of the people as a whole. the battle of Ogdensburg it might be recalled that the loyal Canadians were boundary question is doubtless the partly Roman Catholics and partly Protestant, and as the battle line advaniced to the attack under heavy fire, on one flank marched the Roman Catholic priest (afterwards bishop), Macdonnell, carrying the crucifix, and encouraging the men, while on the other flank marched the Presbyterian minister with the Bible in his hand encourwhich all classes and creeds should be united under the flag."

Canada's New Settlers.

As we have pointed out before, repent visitors to the Doukholbor settlements in Manitoba and the Northwest Territories assert that everywhere they found the new-comers wellspoken of by their English-speaking neighbors. They found both men and women ready and willing to work, and as speedily as possible to make the land assigned to them capable of yilliding them sustenance. They found these Quakers from Russia anxious to learn the English language, to have their children taught it, and to conform to our laws and usages. For the first year, or mayhap for the second, railway and other contractors, and farmers who need labor will no doubt find among the men efficient and much peeded help. But such help, and such competition with those looking to be employed by others, is certain not to be continued. The Doukhobors are tillers of the soll. They have suffered much in Russia from persecution and from compulsory separation from those pear and dear to them. It is not remarkable, therefore, to find them passionately fond of their homes and attached to their domestic surroundings. They do not heritate to declare that though they have been wilking to go from home to work this year, they do not mean to do so in the future. They essert that they will confine their attention to growing crops and rearing cattle, and leave other laboring work for those less inclined to agricultural pursuits. This shows that the outery against the Doukhobors on the score of their allieged competition with professional laborers is totally ill-founded, as much without warrant, in fact, as the allegation that they are filthy and loose in morals. There is not a scintilla of evidence against the new-comers in this regard.

We have said that they are well spoken of by every person. An exception must be made. One rancher has written against them, but on investigation it was found that he is a prejudiced authority. He resents the settlement of the Doukhobors on vacant lands next to his place because their taking up of the property, and cultivating it, will deprive him of the free use of lands hitherto held by the Govpointed out by the I nister of Justice dent. The deputation represented to average rancher of today in Manitoba and the Northwest is no more anxious for a farmer settlement of the prairies than were the Hudson's Bay Company in the early days, when they described the fertile plains as barren and incapable of cultivation, in order that they might hold them as a preserve for their fur-bearing animals in which they dealt. It is these ranchers, who derive free pasture, and, therefore, are opposed to speedy settlement of the vacant lands, who set the unfounded stories going against the Doukhobors. But, as Hon. Mr. Mills pointed out, they are as much opposed to settlement by people from Great Britain as by hardy farmers from the European continent. And it is not in the interests of the great mass of the people that amies of imperialism are not the Dutch their desires should be respected. There of Cape Colony or the French-Cana- is room for many millions of agriculdians of Quebec, but an English-speak- turists on the vacant lands of the Doing clique in this country, happily as minion. The settled portions represent small in numbers as in principle, who but an infinitesimal part of the great are trying to array province against expanse of territory which is the naprovince, and race against race, and tional heritage. This was the spirit in McKinley Administration on this af-

> The London Free Press apparently regards the movement in favor of compulsory arbitration, in cases where public franchises are involved, as what it terms compulsory nonsense. The Advertiser holds a distinctly opposite view. With compulsory arbitration, it would be impossible to have a strike lasting well on to six months, virtually depriving the mass of the public of the free, conscientious use of their own streets. When our contemporary says that compulsory arbitration is impossible in a free country, it says what a free country, New Zealand, has disproved. The legislation that works so well in New Zealand should work equally well here. As the Hon. W. P. Reeves, author of the New Zealand law, truly says: "Railroads and railroad employes should not be allowed to carry on a civil war, while the public stands by helpless."

The presence of Sir Charles Tupper and Mr. W. F. Maclean, M.P., on same platform is one of the the little ironies of politics. The two men are diametrically opposed in everything but the desire for office. Mr. Maclean, through his newspaper, the Toronto World, daily denounces the railway corporations and calls for the appointment of a railway commission. Sir Charles Tupper is the friend of the corporations, and expresses the hope that he will never live to see a railway commission. Mr. Maclean is or was, a strong advocate of Canadian independence. Sir Charles Tupper is an ardent Imperial Federationist, on the condition that Great Britain will some day tax herself to give the colonies a preference in her market. Mr. Maclean, through the World, calls for the nationalization of the railways, telephones, telegraphs and cables. Sir Charles would condemn this as rank sicialism. Mr. Maclean has been one of the cross-currents in his party, and has openly chafed and fumed at Sir Charles Tupper's leadership. Now he says Conservatives are united behind the veteran. It looks as if Mr. Maclean had swallowed himself.

J. P. Fitzpatrick, son of an Irish judge, who has lived many years in the Transvaal, gives an interesting picture of the condition of mind of President Kruger, in his book, "The Transvasi from Within." On one occasion, he ernment, and over which he had free says, a deputation of United States pasture for his cattle. The fact is, as residents went to interview the presiin his recent speech at Winnipeg, the him that there was no danger at hand unless the president by his own act precipitated matters, and caused the trouble himself; that matters were completely in his hands; and that if he would deal with the people in a liberal and statesmanlike way, and grant the reforms universally acknowledged to be necessary, there would not be anywhere in the world a more law-abiding and loyal community than that of Johannesburg. The president answered merely by the question: "If a crisis should occur, on which side shall I find the Americans?" The answer was: "On the side of liberty and good government." The president replied: "You are all alike, tarred with the same brush; you are British in your hearts." No more effective recognition of the justice of the cause of the Englishspeaking population could be wished than this declaration of Oom Paul. It does citizens of the United States, resident in the Transvaal, credit that they have always worked shoulder to shoulder with their cousins from the British Empire in the promotion of liberty and good government.

Every Municipal Monopoly Is Under City Control in Huddersfield.

Even the Baths and the Bands Are Public-The Housing of the Poor.

In his pursuit of big things, the American is apt to neglect the cities of medium size in Great Britain, and to concentrate his attention to London, Glasgow, Birmingham, or Liverpool. This is a mistake, for among the cities of 100,000 or 200,000 population there are instances of municipal enterprise not excelled by any metropolis. Such a one is Huddersfield, a Yorkshire town of 100,000 situated in the midst of the British textile industries.

Every municipal monopoly is under city management. The waterworks have been satisfactorily maintained for years. In 1872 the gas works were taken over, the object being to reduce the price of gas and increase its use by the poorer classes. To this end the department introduced penny-in-theslot meters, which have been so well received that about one-fifth the population is now supplied in this way. When the meter is used a stove is supplied and "fixed" free of charge. Not one penny need be invested, except for the 30 feet of gas sold for two cents. This is a great boon to Who find it very difficult the poor. save enough to purchase fittings outright. Stoves alone may be returned at 10 per cent of cost price per year, and the department has its own stores containing styles to suit the price of gas has been steadily reduc-ed, until not it is 2s 9d (66 cents) for and trade pumposes. Inde has been so considerate of public welfare in every way that practically the whole population consums municipal gas. How does this compare with some of our cities? St. Paul, for example, where not more than one-fourth of the population use gas?

The workingman and the taxpayer have come to rejoice as well. The hours of labor have been reduced to eight-Huddersfield was the first city adopt the eight-hour programme. About $20,000 is annually used to decrease taxes, and yet adequate amounts have been set aside for depreciation, renewals and amortization of debt. The object, however, is not to make a profit, but to lower the price as rapidly as possible. It is cheaper in some other cities, but the density of population is very, very low, being only 7 per acre, which makes it necessary to have an unusually large number of miles of pipe. The interest and maintenance charges are correspondingly high. The city did not allow electric lighting to fall into the hands of a private company, but constructed its own plant in 1893. From the first electricity has been very popular, and consump-tion has been stimulated by the same methods, as in the gas department. All fittings and apparatus are rented on very reasonable terms; showrooms are maintained; and the price for cooking, heating, motors and trade purposes fixed so low-4.5 cents per unit-as to invite extensive use. For lighting the price is 12 cents per unit.

The management of the tramways shows the municipal esprit de corps at its best. Huddersfield was the first city in Great Britain to operate its street railroads, and it was forced to do so, because no company would lease its lines. Believing that adequate transportation facilities were necessary for the best development of the city, the council decided to begin operation, although it might involve loss. Such indeed, was the case until the last year or two, when there has been a sumplus. Huddersfield has often been pointed to as an illustration of the failure of municipal operation; but, in truth, the city ought to be praised, not blamed. deficit is not a desirable factor nor to be sought for, but a large profit is not the sole object of an efficient city government. No one will deny-and citizens of Huddersfield the last of all that the tramways have been worth to the city all they cost. Further, the failure to make a profit is not due to lack of good management, but principally to the nature of the city. city is very widely scattered; there are many hills; wages are above the normal; hours are short (eight per day); fares are low, all of which go to increase the expense of operation. That the system is greatly used, and meets a want is shown by the fact that over 4,300,000 passengers are carried annually—equal to the population of London. Every man, woman and child rides, upon an average 43 times per year-a wonderful record for a city of 100,000 population. A unique feature is a letter box at-constantly occupied and of great benefit to the working classes.

The city's health is just as well guarded as its industrial life. There is an ample municipal bath, the charges varying from 2 to 12 cents. Parks and recreation grounds, where musical concerts are given during the summer, afford the poorer classes abundant ent fresh air and sunlight. The city also maintains public halls, a municipal hospital and sanitarium, a public lib-rary, art gallery, refuse destructor, sewage disposal works and a technical school in addition to the schools maintained by the school board. Markets and slaughter houses are owned and controlled by the city, annually yield-ing a considerable revenue. And, finally there is a municipal cemetery, which shows a profit of some $7,000 per year. What more socialistic town? Beginning life in a municipal artisans' dwelling, the young man rides to his work in a municipal tram. He gets his gas or electricity from the city. rents a gas stove from the city, purchases her produce from a municipal market and buys meat that has been prepared in a muncipal abattoir. Both use the public baths, enjoy the city's parks and send their children to the city's playgrounds. Their house refuse is removed by the city. When sick they go to the city hospital, or, if unfortunate, to the municipal lodging-house. Their mail is collected by a city tram. And in a thousand other ways their daily life comes in close contact with the city government. At last they are buried in a city ceme-This may be socialism, or it tery. ## ANNUAL RALLY

Of Baptist Young Peoples' Unions of the Middlesex and Lambton Associciation - Afternoon and Evening

The annual rally of the Baptist Young People's Unions of the Middlesex and Lambton Association was held in the Adelaide Street Baptist Church here yesterday. The different sessions were attended by about 350 young people. The delegates from outside were entertained while in the city, and were given dinner and supper at the church, served by the ladies.

In the afternoon a praise service was held, presided over by Mr. C. R. Sayer. An address of welcome was read by Mr. J. S. McMichael, and Rev. A. Parke, of Forest, made a happy re-

Canadians for the Postoffice Corps That Will Be Sent to South Africa.

[Special to The Advertiser per C.P.R.] Ottawa, Oct. 20.—Hon. J. I. Tarte sent the following telegram yesterday to Lieut.-Col. Otter, Toronto:

"Ottawa, Oct. 19.—Col. Otter, Toron10: Sir,—I read in the papers that you are holding an inquiry into the conduct of the few dragoons who, I understand, have burned me in effigy. Will you permit me to suggest that even if they have been guilty of a breach of discip-line you forgive them. Those poor fel-lows have simply been deceived by those who accused the French-Canadlans of being disloyal. Besides I do not suffer very greatly either in my flesh or in my feelings, on account of those cremating operations. Have written to same effect to minister of militia and defense. (Signed) J. 1.

Late last evening Mr. Tarte received the following reply from Col. Otter: "Toronto, Oct. 19.—To Hon. J. I. Tarte: The report in the papers has been misleading. Full statement has been forwarded by officers commanding to chief staff officers. Please accept our hearty thanks for kind considera-

Lieut.-Col. Pinault, the deputy minister of militia, has taken the matter up with Lord Strathcona, and has sent the following cable:

"Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 19.—Dispatches from London state that the British postoffice is sending an army postoffice corps. The Canadian Government offers five named officials for the corps, Canada to defray expense. (Signed) PINAULT."

Notes of the Strike.

At a special meeting of the Trades and Labor Council, held on Wednesday evening, it was resolved to hold a grand mass meeting of trades unionists in Jubilee Rink on Wednesday evening of next week, admission to be by card. A letter was received from Secretary Dower, of the Trades and Millie's right to put a bicycle off a circular mailed to all the labor organizations of the Dominion, appealing local street railway strike. It was de- fined $5. termined to arrange for a monster de-monstration in the course of a few sod from the public highway on Regent cipal committee made a lengthy report on the platform for the coming municipal election, which will be submitted to the mass meeting on Wednesday evening. The strike committee held a session after the council had adjourn-

The Trades and Labor Congress of Canada has issued the following cir-cular: To the officers and members of all labor organizations in Canada: Greeting.—Brethren,—At the last session of the congress, held in the city of Montreal, Sept. 19, 20, 21 and 22, the following resolution was introduced and unanimously adopted: "That, whereas the members of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employes of America, Division No. 97, of London Ont., have been engaged in a desperate struggle for months for the right to belong to a labor organization, this Trades and Labor Congress of Canada hereby expresses to them its hearty sympathy and appreciation of the splendid battle so heroically waged; and, be it hereby resolved, that the executive of this congress is hereby empowered and instructed to issue a printed appeal to organized labor throughout the Dominion, asking for their financial assistance in bringing this long-contested battle to a successful and satisfactory conclusion.'

During the last few days there have been persistent rumors circulated around the city to the effect that a settlement of the street car strike was at hand on the basis of twenty men being re-engaged by the street railway company. The Advertiser has been requested by 'the local division to state that at no time since the strike began has the company made any proposition that it can in any way accept. true," they say, "that of late Vice-President Smallman has sought several interviews with the men, but it is also a fact that up to date there is no settlement in sight, as no proposition has been made to the division that they could seriously consider." The strikers say they are determined that they will not call off the strike until they have secured ample protection of their rights and the liberty to belong to a lawful organization, and they re-cognize fully that the people of London would not accept any settlement that was not final and satisfactory in its character. All rumors should therefore be viewed with reserve. The status of the strike remains unchanged, and the men are resolutely maintaining their stand, and have no idea of wavering or weakening, though perfectly willing to make and stand by any fair give-and-take arrangement.

A member of the Trades and Labor Council strike committee desires It stated that Messrs. Garnett, Westby and Delisle have gone to Detroit in the Interests of the local street railway employes division.

Police Court Notes.

Edward Cutler and John Kelley were up before the police court this morning charged with having assaulted Mrs. Wm. Strongman. Mrs. Strongman testified that the men sold her some carpet, and the other night came and forced open the door and took it away, as it was not paid for. Defendants denied breaking into the house, and told the court that Mrs. Strongman had given them consent to take the carpet. They were discharged.

Pte. Milite, of the Military School, was charged by Mrs. Harriet Brimblecombe with having assaulted her. The trouble arose through a dispute as to Labor Congress of Canada, inclosing a piece of ground surrounding the gold club property. Millie denied having struck the complainant, but several witnesses corroborated the story told for financial assistance in aid of the by Mrs. Brimblecombe. Millie was

BRUIN'S LETTER OF INTRODUCTION

Was Not Presented to the Proper Person-Hard Luck of a Bear With a "Character."

Hotel-Keeper Doyle, of the Britannia House, received a dead bear over the Grand Trunk yesterday. It was caught near Owen Sound a short time ago and shipped by the Canadian Express Company, in a large crate; but as his surroundings did not please him he broke loose. The baggagemen made their escape, and soon stopped the train. In a few minutes the bear was shot, placed in his old quarters and the train proceeded. The guests at the Britannia were forced to partake of the rather lean bear steak yesterday instead of the fattened article on Christmas, as was intended. Mr. Doyle, though not personally acquainted with his bruinship in the heydey of his career, is inclined to believe that the baggagemen were too previous. Bruin had a good character. J. J. Noble, of Killarney, when shipping the bear to Mr. Doyle, wrote, "Don't be afraid to take Billy out of the box. Take the rope and lead him. He won't do any harm." Unfortunately Billy did not present his letter of introduction to the trainmen.

MASONVILLE Masonville, Oct. 20 .- A barn belonging to Crowell Swartz, hotelkeeper at Masonville, was totally destroyed by fire between 7 and 8 o'clock last evening together with a quantity of hay and a set of harness. The fire is sup-posed to have been of incendiary origin. It was first noticed by a man who was passing the place on his wheel, and as it was then only well started, a number of horses, cows and buggies were removed to safety. Several young men who had been ejected from the hotel a short time before were found near the stable when Swartz reached it, and it is believed that one of them may have decided to "get even" with Swartz by setting fire to the place. Arrests are expected. Swartz's loss will be $200 or $300.

ORANGEMEN AND THE WAR. The following resolutions were passed unanimously by the members of L. O. L., No. 762, London, and directed to be sent to the public press with a respectful request for their publication:

Moved by Bro. Caleb B. Simpson, P. C. M., seconded by Bro. Charles Taylor, T., L. O. L., 762, and resolved: 1. That we regret the necessity laid upon the imperial government to protect its citizens in the Transvaal Repulolic from the tyrannous exactions and injustice of a comparatively few heads of families who, under President Kruger, assist him to govern that country as he pleases. 2. That the Transvaal Government is, in no sense, a republic governed by the representatives of its people, but is under a despotic ruler, who has violated his treaty obligations made with the imperial government in 1884, in not granting equal civil rights to the for-eign residents after a reasonable perlod of residence in the country, and taking the oath of allegiance. 3. That it is not to be permanently endured that a few half-civilized, uneducated, ignorant men, leading lives of idleness on their farms, and compelling the black people to work on them as slaves, should absolutely rule three times their number of educated, enterprising people of other nationalities, who have made their country what it is, but whom they compel to pay nine-tenths of all the taxes levied under the most oppressive laws, and who are not allowed to say how any portion of them shall be expended, even for schools for their own children, or for sanitary purposes in their city of Johannesburg, against which the Boers have spent a large amount of these taxes to erect forts and purchase arms, to destroy it, if they dared to agitate or hold public meetings to agitate for a redress of their grievances.

4. That it now appears that President Kruger was not sincere in his expressed desire to do the outlanders justice, but, as the head of an Afrikander bund, or conspiracy, comprising his own people, the Orange Free State and their sympathizers all over Africa, he purposely wasted the time in fruitless negotiations with Hon. Mr. Chamber-lain, in order to strengthen his own position and get assistance from Holland and Germany. 5. That the members of this lodge heartily sympathize with our people, and all others oppressed in South Africa, and hope that the Boer tyranny will soon be substituted by British justice and equal rights to all.

5. That we heartily indorse the ac-tion of our Dominion Government in sending a battalion to represent us in this contest, but we think that our government should pay and provide these men out of our own public chest, as our part of the burden of empire, and we believe that the above resolutions express the sentiments not only of the great Orange association, but of every true British subject in Canada. That a copy of these resolution be sent to the press with a respectful request for publication.

19): "The author assumes in the first place that Mars is inhabited, and in the second place that its inhabitants are vastly more clever than we poor human beings. Then he inquires by what means we may establish com-munication with these celestial neighbors. Unfortunately, the author no-where proves to us that Mars is inhabited: he presents very well some old arguments that seem decidedly out of date after the recent careful studies of the astronomers who have been lately occupying themselves with this planet. The arguments unfavorable to his thesis he completely neglects. Even admitting his claim that Mars is inhabited, why must we suppose also that these inhabitants are wise men? It would be a very narrow idea to clothe these beings with an intellectual organization analogous to our own-a mind (let us say the word, although our author does not use it); we may just as well assume that the problematic dwellers on Mars are reptiles, occupied in eating each other up. "As to the great engineering works on the surface of the planet, we know now what to think of all this. "Finally, M. Mercier makes an appeal to the friends of science for a fund to be used in attempts to communicate with Mars.

The Strange Metamorphosis.

The very first sentences scattered his faint expectations to the winds. He read on with staring eyes, till the room seemed to rock with aim like a boat, and the sprawling schoolgiri handwriting, crossed and recrossed on thin paper, changed to letters of scorching flame. But perhaps it will be be er citement, flourishing his letter wild-to give the letter in full, so that the reader may judge for himself whether "Dr. Grimstone!" he said; "never it was calculated or not to soothe and mind my behavior now. I've something to tell you. I can't bear it any encourage the exiled one.

Here it is: "My Dearest, Darling Dick,—I hope you have not been expecting a letter from me before this, but I had such lots to tell you that I waited till I had and almost dictatorial. Some thought time to tell it all at once, for I have such news for you! You can't think how pleased you will be when you hear it. Where shall I begin? I hardly know, for it still seems so funny and strange-almost like a areamonly I hope we shall hever wake up. "I think I must tell you anyhow, just as it comes. Well, ever since you went away (how was it you never came up to say good-bye to us in the drawing-room? We couldn't believe drawing-room? We couldn't believe "Now, sir," said the doctor, looking till we heard the door shut that you really had driven away without another word!)—Where am I? Oh, ever "I've just had a letter," stammered since you went away, dear papa has been completely changed; you would hardly believe it unless you saw him. He is quite jolly and boyish-only fancy! and we are always telling him that he is the biggest baby of us all, but it only makes him laugh. Once, you know, he would have been awfully angry if we had even hinted at it.

"Do you know, I really think that the real reason be was so cross and sharp with us that last week was because you were ging away; for, now the wrench of parting is over, he is quite light-hearted again. You know how he always became the state of the st how he always hates showing his feel-

Boaler has given warning, but we can't think why. We have been out nearly every evening-once to Hengler's and once to the Christy Minstrels, and last night to the pantomime, where papa was so pleased with the clown that he sent round afterward and asked him to dine here on Sunday, when Mr. Benjamin and Lady Bangle and Alderman Fishwick are coming. Won't it be jolly to see a clown close to? Should you think he'd come in his evening dress? Miss Mangall has been given a month's holiday, because papa didn't like to see us always at lessons.

Think of that!
"We are going to have the whole house done up and refurnished at last. Papa chose the furniture for the drawing-room yesterday. It is all in yellow satin, which is rather bright, I think. I haven't seen the carpet yet, but it is to match the furniture; and there some day I shall be annoyed. There, is a lovely hearth-rug, with a lion-

"Had Dulcie forgotten you? I should like to see her so much. Now I really must leave off, as I am going to the Aquarium with papa. It would be nothing short of an in-

It would be nothing short of an insult to the reader's comprehension if I were to enter into an elaborate explanation of the effect this letter had upon Mr. Bultitude. He took it in by degrees, trying to steady his nerves at each additional item of poor Barbara's well meant intelligence by a sin at his well-meant intelligence by a sip at his tin-flavored coffee. But when he came to the postscript, in spite of its purport being mercifully broken to him gradually by the extreme difficulty of making it out from two under-currents of manuscript, he choked convul-sively and spilled his coffee. Dr. Grimstone visited this breach of etiquette with stern promptness. "This conduct at table is disgraceful, sirperfectly disgraceful—unworthy of a civilized being. I have been a teacher of youth for many years, and never till now did I have the pain of seeing a pupil of mine choke in his breakfastcup with such deplorable ili-breeding. It's pure greediness, sir, and you will have the goodness to curb your indecent haste in consuming your food for the future. Your excellent father has frequently complained to me, with tears in his eyes, of the impossibility of teaching you to behave at meals with common propriety."

There was a faint chuckle along the tables, and several drank coffee with studied elegance and self-possession, either as a valuable example to Dick, or as a personal advertisement. But Paul was in no mood for reproof and instruction. He stood up in his ex-

he would get a licking on the strength of it, and most hoped so. But the doctor dismissed them to the playground keeping Paul back to be dealt with in privacy.

Mrs. Grimstone played nervously with her dry toast at the end of the table, for she could not endure to see the boys in trouble, and dreaded a Dulcie looked on with wide, bright eyes.

"Now, sir," said the doctor, looking Paul.

"No one ill at home, I hope?"
"No, no," said Paul. It's not that; it's not that. She doesn't know what horrible things she tells me!"
"Who is 'she'?" said the doctor, and Dulcie's eyes were larger still and her face paled. "I decline to say," said Mr. Bultitude. It would have been absurd to say "my daughter," and he had not presence of mind just then to transpose the re-lationships with neatness and success. "But indeed I am wanted most badly."

"What are you wanted for, pray?"
"Everything!" declared Paul. "It's all going to rack and ruin without me!' "That's absurd," said the doctor; "you're not such an important individual as all that, Master Bultitude. But let me see the letter."

Show him the letter! Lay bare all the follies of Dick, the burden of which about him. Generally ne stays at isome all the morning, and plays at soldiers with baby in the dining-room. You would laugh to see him loading the cannons with real powder and shot, and ment in favor of sending him home he might have to bear himself very he didn't care a bit when some if made holes in the sideboard and smashed the looking-glass."

Once more would Paul have given worlds for the firmness and presence of mind to state his case clearly and effectively; and he could hardly have had a better opportunity, for schoolmasters cannot always be playing the tyrant, and the doctor was, in spite of his attempts to be stern, secretly more amused man angry at what seemed a peculiarly precocious piece of effron-

But Paul felt the dismal absurdity of his position. Nothing he had said, nothing he could say, short of the truth, would avail him, and the truth was precisely what he felt most unable to tell. He hung his head resignedly, and held his tongue in confusion.

"Pooh!" said the doctor at last; "let me have no more of this tomfoolery, Bultitude. It's getting to be a positive nuisance. Don't come to me with any more of these ridiculous stories, or hunt worked on it.

"But that isn't the best of it; we are going to have the big children's party after all! No one but allow."

"There's nothing half so sweet in life as love's young dream."

It was meant to be so when woman was ordained man's helpmeet. But it was never meant that love's dream should have so sad an awaking. It is due chiefly to ignorance that young women are so rudely awakened from the dream of love. They enter on the married state without physcal or mental preparation. They are entirely unaware of the great physiological change

Every young woman should be prepared for that change. There should be no neglect of irregularities. The perfect health of the peculiarly womanly organs should be the daily care.

Thousands of women who entered in marriage unprepared, and passed from irregularities to debilitating drains, inflammation, ulcera-tion and female weaktion and female weak-ness, have been alto-gether and absolutely cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This great medicine is not a cure-all, but a specific for the chronic diseases peculiar to women. It does one thing perfectly; it makes weak women strong and sick women well. "For two years I had been a sufferer from chronic diseases and female weakness," writes Mrs. Allen A. Bobson, of 1125 Rodman Street, Philadelphia, Pa. "I had two doctors, who doly relieved me for a time. My niece advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I did, and have been highly benefited. I am now a streng woman, and can recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines to all similarly of Life Flows From The Tide the Country.

Tribute to the Farm-The Perennial Source of Food and Vitality.

[Chicago Tribune.] "These beautiful fields of peaceful wheat," says Richard Jeffries, writing in Field and Hedgerow of English tillage, "are the battlefields of life * * Each of us in our voluntary and involuntary attacks."

tary and involuntary struggle for money is really striving for these little grains of wheat that lie so lightly in the palm of the hand." To the same effect Mayon Onion Walcoming the effect Mayor Quincy, welcoming the Farmers' National Congress to Boston on Tuesday, declared: "The tide of prosperity starts from the farm * * Agriculture must always take the place of the most important vocation, because it produces the food on which mankind subsists."

emphasis upon country as against town life was stated on the same day to some of our school officials, by Dr. J. C. Cuthbertson, of the Cincinnati Board of Education. "If you will ob-serve a family," he said, "of which there are four generations, and have lived in the city, you will observe that the last generation has, in a measure, run to seed * * It is the result of city life. Degeneration is the foe civilization will have to fight in the future. Country life is the weapon to meet it with."

The other recognized argument for

The ultimate dependence of civilization, both for sustenance and virility, upon the rural district is no more a challenge to the character of city life than it is a summons to a higher order of rural life. It is no truer that the city cannot and does not of itself sustain its own vigor than it is that the country cannot and will not endure its own drudgery, monotony and isolation. If the city has the problem of degeneration, the country has that of repugnance. People flee from the soil because they "don't like it," and there is no good either in reasoning with this aversion or railing at its imprudence. Indeed, it will only change with conditions, and obviously enough those of the farm need improvement. trolley car and the bicycle are adding their benefits to those of machinery, but all these agencies are not adequate to the entire case.

President Hoard, ex-governor of Wisconsin, in his address to the congress at Boston, specified three needs of present day agriculture in this country—namely: (1) A closer "union and sympathy between scientific theory and the everyday practice of the farm"; (2) the protection of the soil from exhaustion. Following European precedents, he would have "a new order of teaching agriculture " the with experiment and demonstrating farms.

at various places in each state,' and he would have sons educated for scientific farming with as much liberality as for the professions. He would, in the second place, have farmers observe the hint which the trust movement contains concerning the value of associated effort, a hint which, "except in dairying, and to a small extent in fruit growing," has been utterly unheeded by them, though "in France over 600,000 farmers are members of supply associations, through which they buy fertilizers, implements, blooded stock, and sell their produce." Finally, he charges that fertility has been sold out of the soil by the bushel and by the ton," while this waste in the west has only been arrested the immigrant farmer, who has been earlier trained to the art of soil pre-

The practical value of these three contentions is plain. And it is in the interest not only of the present generation of farmers and of the dependent centers of population, but likewise that moderated decentralization which is the persistent ideal and hope of great numbers of people, that eyery practical means should be applied toward a more scientific, better organized and more prudent national agriculture. The congress in Boston is engaged upon topics which are of fundamental social importance.

There is likewise something peculiarly refreshing to many urbanites of country birth in reading the senti-ments expresed by the agriculturist at this meeting and similar ones. It is like a walk between rows of brown vegetables and rosy fruits in the fall market, where the fascination recalls one from the feverish emphasis upon to the perennial source not only of food, but also of vitality.

OUR DEBT TO NATURE

A French Politician's Experience-The Effect of Nature on Poets.

[Philadelphia Saturday Post.]

Is one of his charming sketches, the late Alphonse Daudet describes how an ambitious French politician went forth into the country one day seeking the solitude and inspiration of nature that he might the better compose a great oration which he meant soon to deliver before an as-sembly of his compeers. Deep in a wood, amid the flowers, with the birds singing around him, he essayed to be-gin the important work; but he could proceed no further than the fourth "Gentlemen and beloved constituents," he wrote and repeated, with the odor of violets sweet in his nostrils and the haunting note of the nightingale filling his ears. That was all he could think of; his brain stopped, simply luxuriating in the sensuous delights with which it was overwhelmingly assailed. We are not told how the orator succeeded when the time for delivery arrived; yet the fact that he was found a little later, not writing a speech at all, but diligently nibbling violets and scratching down a poem, gives us a hint well worth aying to heart.

Nature pours out the refreshment we need, or we intuitively select from her riches just what will renew the worn places in our imagination, and it is safe to assume that Daudet's politician worked the poetry into his oration with refreshing effect upon those who heard it.

Daniel Webster liked a day's fishing alone by the brook-side, not so much for the trout he sometimes hooked, as for the opportunity to browse amid the ancient yet ever comforting and encouraging simples that grow where nature has not been rectified by art. In dreaming over one of his masterly sweeps of eloquence he drew in the pounding undertones of the waterfalls and the singing of the wind on high in tossing treetops. We feel the weight of the cliffs and the majesty of the mountains in his periods. Ten-nyson, more than any other modern genius, has brewed from nature's wild-est growths a draught for the most enlightened imagination. Poets as dif-ferent from each other as Keats and

Burns have reached nearly the same result; for, after all, the tremendous human appeal to the plowboy's tender songs scarcely surpasses that so subtly irradiated from the Ode to a Nightingale. We feel that both poets come to us from the unshorn nooks of nature, but by way of opposite paths. The painters show the same indebtedness to the old, old fountain; each master arriving from some haunt of ness to the old, old fountain; each master arriving from some haunt of freshness, bearing his load of wild honey and his smack of thyme and violets. It is by this we know them, by this we separate them from the crowding hordes that overrun the slopes of Parnassus, trying to take the height of fame by sheer persistence and reckless audacity.

But what is the practical application of this discovery that the simple wells of nature are the only sources of of nature are the only sources of freshness? The pregnant answer is, there can be no practical application. For the practicable, teachable part of art is but that which the artisan can command. Charles Baudelaire, taking his cue from Poe's analysis of how the Raven was composed, asserted that he could impart the secret of writing poetry in a few easy lessons. But who since Poe has learned how to write a wonder like the Raven? By a little study of that remarkable poem we find that, while the form and style of it have a decided fascination, the true source of its permanent grip of the imagination lie far below mere oddity of composition. The human appeal comes out straight and irresistible from the soul that lies in the shadow on the floor—the ancient and ineradicable shadow of death which hovers in every nook of the universe. Here is the stroke of genius, no matter how made—the stroke that falls, as the lightning falls, always with a starling certainty, out of some simple combination of old, old elements drawn from the most obvious phases of na-MAURICE THOMPSON.

"Bright, Dull And Average.

Professor Ashcraft, of Chattanooga University, following out a suggestion of the National Bureau of Education, has been conducting some investigations concerning the differences in the nature and capacities of children. His conclusions, although not final, may throw new light on the pathway of social improvement, and lead to modifications in our theory and practice of educa-

Everybody knows that children are not all alike, but the causes and significance of their unlikeness need to be more carefully studied. By the help of more than ninety teachers, Professor Ashcraft has secured reports that cover forty six hundred school children, classified according to age, sex, parentage and domestic conditions.

The method of examination includes physical measurements, tests of strength and nervous susceptibility, with estimates of mental capacity and activity. On a general scale they are classed as bright, dull and average. Of thirteen hundred and sixty-seven white pupils twenty-nine per cent are found bright, nine per cent dull, and sixty-two per cent average. Only two hundred and seventy-eight colored children had been examined. Of these sixty-seven per cent were dull. As a rule the children of educated and well-to-do parents were brighter than those of the ignorant, indigent and

The number of bright girls was much larger than that of bright boys. The girls outrank the boys in all studies except value for little money.

mathematics. It appears that sensitiveness to pain is keenest from the age of twelve to fifteen, and that bright children are most sensitive, This is determined by pressure on "the threshold of pain" at the right and left temples. Also that two fifths of the child ren born, die before they reach the age of seven, and another fifth between twelve and eighteen

These statistics and such as these make a strong appeal to all who love their country or their kind. "The least of these little ones" should be as dear to the country as to the heart of a mother. We must steadily press toward the removal of all conditions which impose needless disabilities upon minds and bodies, so that the whole population may be put on the up-

A BIBLICAL FIND

The Hehrew Text of Ecclesiasticus Unearthed.

Three years ago two learned Enghish ladies, Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Gibson traveling in southern Palestine, in search of Syriac manuscripts, found a bundle of fragments, mostly written in Hebrew, which upon their return they submitted to the inspection of Professor Schechter, the Hebrew scholar at Cambridge. One of the fragments he identified as a Hebrew version of Ecclesiasticus. Encouraged by his success, Dr. Nebauer, the curator of the Cairo synagogue, made search for further portions and found nine leaves immediately following the Lewis-Gibson fragment. Further scraps were found by Professor Schechter in the British Museum. Up to the present more than three-fifths of the Hebrew text of Ecclesiasticus have been recovered. Professor Schechter has also discovered there is a list of quotations from the Bible in these fragments, extending over the whole of the biblical books with the sole exception of the Book of Daniel. Joseph Jacobs, an oriental scholar, in an article in the Fortnightly Review, says the discov-ery seems destined to throw light 'upon the fixation of the Old Testament canon, upon the development of Hebrew between the Old Testament and the Talmud, upon the theology of the Sadducees, while incidentally it will give pause to those who have so confidently attempted to revise the Hebrew text of the Old Testament from the Septuagint version, as well as to those higher critics who have been so positive about dating separate In short, it will go much psalms. In short, it will go much towards filling up the blank pages between the Old and New Testaments."

The Modern Sermon.

By a Minister.

During a recent period of rest I heard twenty sermons. They were preached by different ministers, one of them was a student from a London college. Each sermon thad been carefully prepared by the preacher. Most of them were read from manuscript. The themes were well thought out, and all were useful, interesting and Christian. But I was greatly pained by the fact that in not more than three of these 20 sermons was there any attempt at, or any approach to, a clear statement of the Gospel way of salvation by faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. Nor was there any reference to the sity of conversion, nor to the work of the Holy Spirit. So that if a sinner had come to listen to any or all of these seventeen sermons, desiring to know how he could be saved, he would not have been instructed.

Is this a state of things that justifies optimistic views of our ministry? Does it not rather call for misgiving and serious inquiry? Should our sermons be of this character? Are they not on this account shorn of their real power? Can we expect conversions while this is the case?

John Angell James, in his most earnest and spiritual introduction to "A Pastor's Sketches" of the late Dr. Spencer, says: "In all preaching there should be a prevalence of the conwerting element-i.e., of truths and the manner of treating them, which are likely to rouse the hearer to the state of his soul; to show him his state as a sinner; to awaisen a deep solicitude for his eternal welfare by convincing him of his danger; to make him feel the necessity of repentance and faith, and to urge him to flee without delay to Christ for salvation. Almost any truth of the Bible may be so handled as to lead to this," Is not this true? why, then are our sermons so often stitute of this element. That this is their character is readily confessed by our best friends.

I was one of a group of ministers a short time since. We were speaking about the present-day pulpit. One of our company said, "How is it that there is scarcely ever any earnest pleading with staness for conversion mgw? One seldom hears it? There was silence; all felt it was so. There is very little in the sermons we now hear to convince of sin and to lead to genuine repentance and conversion. Yet that should be the prominent aim of our sermons. I think it is William Law who says: "Nothing can do good, for should be used by us in preaching or worship, that has not in it a re-deeming virtue." There is need for earnest prayer that our ministers may get back to more rousing, convincing, converting Gospel preaching.-Dominion Presbyterian.

THANKSGIVING SERVICES

Held in a Number of the City Churches References to the War-Unjustly Forced Upon the British Empire, Said Rev. Dr. Saunders.

Thanksgiving services were held in several of the city church yesterday. A union service was held by the Methodists of the city in the morning in the First Church. The attendance was not large. Rev. Dr. Saunders preached an appropriate sermon, and a number of the other Methodist ministers were present and took part. In speaking of the South African trouble, Dr. Saunders said the war had been unjustly forced upon the British Empire by the Boers. Special music was rendered by the choir, and Miss Smith sang a solo in excellent voice.

'At the Memorial Church the Bishop of Huron preached a forcible and appropriate thanksgiving sermon. His text was taken from the 92nd Psalm, in which David says: "It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord, and to sing praises unto thy name, O Most High." In referring to the war in High." In referring to the war in South Africa the bishop said: "God has made war upon one portion of the em-pire, and when we think that every man who is killed is some mother's son, some brother taken away from a sister, some husband from a wife, some father from a family, we can only pray to the God of Battles to hasten its conclusion and to thank him for the blessings we have enjoyed."

At the Talbot Street Baptist Church an appropriate sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. Sowerby. He spoke of the many reasons existing for devout thanksgiving to God, for the blessings of home and native land.

AS A BAND OF BROTHERS!

Rev. W. J. Clark Severely Condomns Race and Creed Cries as Unpatriotic.

In his Thanksgiving Day address,

Rev. W. J. Clark, among other subjects, alluded to the Dreyfus case, out of which good would come. It was creditable that the strongest defenders of justice, like Zola, Labori and Picquart, were themselves Frenchmen. As to the Transvaal business, he was slow to pronounce upon the matter, for he thought it possible, that he was himself insensibly predisposed to one side through British prejudice of race. Then there was a certain sympathy for a weaker people, however much in the wrong. But the Transvaal government, it was clear, by their last message, precipitated the war. He prayed that the conflict might be brief, that its horrors might be mitigated, and that the God of history and providence would overrale it all to the good of mankind. Canadians were interested, especially now that a Canadian contingent was being sent to South Africa to fight side by side with the other forces of the empire. In this connection he felt it his duty to condomn in the strongest manner the attempts of certain writers and speakers at this time to introduce dissensions of race and creed faced the future, with all the probabili-ties of becoming a great, a powerful and populous country. But it could only be by every dweller in the Domin-ion, whatever his national origin, what-ever the shrine before which he wor-shiped God, being united as patriotic Canadians to hold and develop our Canadians to hold and develop our mighty heritage. Let all true Canadians put aside everything like divisive speeches, actions and cries, and go forward into the responsibilities and priviward into the responsibilities and privi-leges of the twentieth century a band

NEWTON PARSONS FATALLY SHOT

Sad Accident in a Bush Near Komoka

Terminated the Day's Sport for Garfield McCormick, of This City-A Number of Boys Were Out Shooting.

A fatal shooting accident occurred yesterday afternoon in a bush two miles east of Komoka. The victim was Newton Parsons, aged 14 or 15 years, son of a well known farmer living near the scene of the accident. Garfield McCormick, the 18-year-old son of Andrew McCormick, grocer, of this city, together with Herbert Moorehouse and Stanley McDonald, also of London, were out for a day's shooting in the vicinity of Komoka, and while in Mr. Parsons' bush they met Garrield and some com-panions. The boys roamed about to-gether for a while. It is understood that about three o'clock, one of the younger boys asked McCormick for permission to fire his gun. McCormick refused, saying the gun, which was a double-barreled .breech-loader, would kick, and discharged it himself. Parsons was running about near by, and received the full charge in the groin. He sank to the ground, and the other boys carried him to his home, but before reaching there he breathed his last. Young McCormick and his companions were horror-stricken by the accident. They drove home as rapidly as they could and notified their relatives. Messrs. Kenzie and Thomas Mc-Cormick hurried back to the Parsons home and learned that the accident had proved fatal. Both the Parsons and Mc-Cormick families are greatly unset by the sad affair.

Fatally Shot Joseph Merdian—Is Now Repentant.

Detroit, Oct. 20.-Joseph Merdian, son of ex-Ald. Harry Merdian, died at Harper Hospital last evening as the result of a bullet wound inflicted by Mrs. Emma Stevenson. Merdlan's death was preceded by an ante-mortem statement made to the prosecutor and Detective Brooks, in which he accused Mrs. Stevenson of shooting him, and identified her when she was brought before him. Merdian's parents and his wife were with him when death came. Mrs. Stevenson, who must now answer to a charge of murder, is well known in Detroit society, where she occupied an honored place before adopting the life that led to her down-Her name is not an assumed one. Less than a dozen years ago she was at the head of a beautiful home in this city, and she was in possession of all that woman could wish for to make her comfortable and happy. Though only 35 years old, she is the mother of six children. Her former husband is now a member of a well-

THE CRIME. Pauline Smith, who was arrested

"Merdian had been drinking and was cranky. We could do nothing with him. He said he would do just as he pleased. He abused Mrs. Stevenson and said he would leave the house.

She was raging, and rushed excitedly upstairs, where she got her revolver. When she came down she had it under her arm. Merdian grabbed hold of her. He didn't see the gun, and he was evidently going to thrash her. Then she pulled the gun, and at the same time he put his right hand to his hip pocket, but turned half-way towards the door. Then Mrs. Stevenson shot him. Ordi-
