THE VOTE FOR LIBERAL LEADERSHIP TO BE HELD TOMORROW

SWING TO FIELDING FOLLOWS A REPORT THAT MARTIN WILL DECLINE TO ENTER RACE

Rumor Is Afloat That Saskatchewan Premier Will Not Allow His Name To Go Before Convention For Liberal Leadership—200 Additional Delegates Arrive and More Are Expected in Time For Selection of Leader.

(Canadian Press Dispatch.)

Ottawa, Aug. 6.—About two hundred additional delegates arrived this morning to attend the Liberal convention, and more are expected in time to participate in the vote for the leader, which will take place on Thursday. There is still much speculation as to who is likely to be the successful candidate, but this morning there appeared to be a swing in the direction of Hon. W. S. Fielding. This is largely due to a report that Hon. William Martin, the Saskatchewan premier, will definitely decline to allow his name to go before the convention.

Hon. Geo. R. Murray, premier of Nova Scotia, is being mentioned as a probable candidate, but, on the other hand, it is generally known that Mr. Murray is favorably disposed to the candidature of Mr. Fielding. Hon. Geo. P. Graham, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King and Mr. D. D McKenzie are all still in the race with many supporters.

At the present time the indications are that none of the candidates are likely to secure a majority of the votes cast on the first ballot, and additional ballots will be necessary.

RUMANIANS SERVE ULTIMATUM ON HUNGARIAN GOVERNMENT

Demands Made by Rumanians Call For Reduction of Hungarian Army to 15,000 Men, the Surrender of Fifty per Cent of the Harvest, Animals, Farm Machinery and Railway Supplies.

Paris, Aug. 6.—The Rumanians have served an ultimatum on the Hungarian Government, according to messages reaching the peace conference. The ultimatum, it is said, makes demands far in excess of the armistice terms and gives the Hungarians until 8 p.m. today to comply with them.

It is greatly feared in conference circles that the Rumanian action will result in the overthrow of the new Hungarian Government.

French circles state that the Rumanian army is not under the command of Marshal Foch, the allied commander-in-chief, the Rumanian generals refusing to accept orders from the French. The Rumanians have not been actively participating in the peace conference since Premier Bratiano some time ago took exception to the decision of the conference upon the principle guaranteeing the rights of minorities within national borders.

In their ultimatum, the Rumanians demand the reduction of the Hungarian army to 15,000 and the surrender of 50 per cent of the harvest animals and farm machinery and 50 per cent of the railway supplies.

RUMANIAN KING TO REACH BUDAPEST IN A FEW DAYS

Budapest, Aug. 5.—King Ferdinand of Rumania is expected to arrive in Budapest shortly, so that the already acute political situation will be sharpened. Count Julius Andrassy, formerly Austro-Hungarian minister of foreign affairs; Ernst Garami and Dr. Wilhelm Vaszony have arrived in Budapest from Switzerland.

Count Andrassy had a conference today with Hungarian politicians and expressed his preference for a purely bourgeoise government. He said, however, that he recognized the necessity for a coalition ministry, which he promised to support, though under no circumstances would he participate in it.

NIGHT CLUB ON THEATRE BUILT BY HAMMERSTEIN

London, Aug. 4.—The late Oscar Hammerstein's London opera house, which he built, one of the most magnificent buildings in London, but a failure as an opera house and now a cinema palace, is to have its roof converted into a luxurious night club with a large restaurant. "A unique feature," said one of the organizers, "will be that guests will be taken from the street to the roof by a moving stairway."

500,000 POUNDS OF FOOD SEIZED IN MONTREAL IN 1918

Double the Amount That Was Confiscated in 1917.

Montreal, Aug. 6.—According to the 1918 report of Dr. A. J. G. Hood, chief food inspector for the city, which was made public yesterday, nearly a half million pounds of food was confiscated in Montreal last year, having been found unfit for consumption, which is twice the amount seized for the same reasons in 1917.

CONCENTRATE ON MISSIONS.

London, Aug. 6.—The conference on the church in Western Canada has made encouraging mention of the archbishop's fund for pioneer work there, and stated that during the last five years they have been determined to concentrate upon three missions at Regina, Edmonton and Cardston and equip them thoroughly, so as to hand them over in 1920 to the church in Western Canada.

Food Prices Cut In Two By Efforts of French Missionary

Profiteers Are Blacklisted by Methods in Effect in France.

Paris, Aug. 6.—The plan recently adopted by the French food ministry to reduce food prices is working successfully in some of the French cities. At Havre eggs have been reduced from $1.20 per dozen to 60 cents, onions from 10 to 5 cents per pound, and potatoes from 4 to 2 cents per pound. The reductions in some food stuffs vary from 20 to 50 per cent. A local committee has been created, representing both the dealers and consumers, which determines fair prices and accredits dealers who accept the prices specified. This results in practical blacklisting of unfair dealers by public opinion, without any formal legislation.

PAST IS FORGOTTEN WHILE UTMOST HARMONY PREVAILS AT BIG LIBERAL CONVENTION

Men Who Supported Union Government During War Turn From It Now and Condemn It As an Administration That Has Betra yed Its Trust.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Aug. 6.—The national Liberal convention has already more than justified its calling together, and has already vindicated the conception in the mind of the man who in the first place decided it should be held. In the course of the last speech which he delivered at the eastern Liberal convention in Ottawa in January, Sir Wilfrid Laurier declared that such a convention should be called, and that no man who came would be asked for his past, but would be required only to subscribe to the progressive policies laid down by the convention. That principle has been adhered to the letter. The calling of the convention was in accordance with the wishes of the old chief. The method of its calling was the same. And no man who has come has been asked for the record of his past, or for his stand at the last election. The utmost harmony prevails, and there is neither recrimination or discrimination.

BETRAYED ITS TRUST.

To Premier Murray who approved union during its formation was accorded the English chairmanship. This morning John Wilton, M. P. P. for Assiniboia, Man., who espoused union during the last election, was given the task of moving the resolution condemning the Government because it had failed to properly enforce the income tax. While having recognized the principle of direct taxation the Government, asid Mr. Wilton, had been playing up again to the capitalistic class, and had betrayed its trust. Mr. Wilton has been overseas as an officer.

Organization on a broad basis will follow the convention. A resolution providing for such organization came from the organization committee this morning. Practical harmony will rule in connection with the tariff, on which at present there are but minor differences with regard to details, but not with regard to principle.

In the final decision on the matter of leadership national considerations will prevail.

U. S. WILL EXTEND WELCOME TO PRINCE

Visit Will Tend To Enhance Spirit of Good-Fellowship.

London, Aug. 5.—The newspapers this afternoon reiterate the statement printed this morning that the visit of the Prince of Wales to the United States means something more than a formal return of the visit of President Wilson to England.

"Through him the peoples of the Empire will be able to express in the fullest sense their fellowship with the people of America," says the News. "He has only to be his own simple, modest self to be welcomed for his own sake, just as the dominion troops welcomed him for the man he was and not for his rank. In the United States also he will depend upon the same human man he is.

LIVERPOOL TRAMWAY MEN IN SYMPATHETIC MOVE WITH POLICE

Suspension of Traffic On Systems Creates Bread Shortage.

Liverpool Aug. 6.—Tramway service was suspended completely today, and there was virtually no bread to be had as a result of the strike movement, which began with the police and now includes the tramway men and the bakers. Municipal employees last night voted to give twenty-four hours' strike notice unless the demands of the tramway men were met. Physicians at a meeting today adopted a resolution in favor of organizing themselves on a trade union basis.

VON TIRPITZ'S STATEMENT IS DENIED BY GERARD

Former U. S. Ambassador Declares He Always Warned Germans Against Sub Warfare.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 6.—James W. Gerard, former ambassador at the German imperial court, denied absolutely yesterday afternoon that he had evet made any statement during the course of his stay in Germany that could lead the German Government or German people to believe that the United States would not resent ruthless submarine warfare.

Mr. Gerard declares that he always informed the Germans that the resumption of ruthless submarine warfare would be followed by hostile action on the part of the Americans.

The cabled article by Karl von Wiegand, published in yesterday morning's Sun, purporting to quote from the memoirs of Admiral von Tirpitz, states that Mr. Gerard, in an address before the Bremen Chamber of Commerce, gave the Germans the impression that America would not take offence at the operation of ruthless submarine activities. Mr. Gerard denies the entire statement of von Tirpitz as it relates to him.

DETECTIVE SWEARS COMMUNIST BOOK OFFERED FOR SALE

W. A. Pritchard, a Winnipeg Strike Leader, Accused by Official.

RADICAL LITERATURE

Excerpts From Publication Show Aim of Communists Is Revolution.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 6.—W. A. Pritchard recommended literature called "objectionable" by the crown, which was sold at the Industrial Bureau Socialist meeting last Sunday, at which he was the principal speaker, a Royal Northwest Mounted Police detective swore yesterday at the trial of W. A. Pritchard and seven other labor leaders for seditious conspiracy.

This statement brought from Magistrate R. M. Noble the remark that: "During the trial such activities on the part of the accused should cease," and, "I think if they do this it is wrong that they should be on bail."

The same detective at the morning session told of a conversation with R. E. Bray on June 10, in which Bray declared he had a fully organized army of 3,000 to 4,000 ready to seize arms and take possession of Minto Barracks at a given signal.

Ald. A. A. Heaps, also on trial, was present, when Bray, not knowing the identity of Detective W. H. McLaughlin of the R. N. W. M. P., the witness told of his plans, McLaughlin swore.

A Communist Publication.

The booklet containing the "objectionable" matter was the "communist manifesto" written in 1848 by Karl Marx and Frederick Engels. McLaughlin said W. A. Pritchard, at the close of his address last Sunday, announced that it was for sale and recommended it. McLaughlin bought one in the meeting.

J. G. Coyne, prosecuting counsel, after putting the booklet in as an exhibit, then read the following excerpts, among others to the court:

"In short, the communists everywhere support every revolutionary movement against the existing social and political order of things.

"The communists disdain to conceal their views and aims. They openly declare that their ends can be attained only by the forcible overthrow of all existing social conditions.

"Let the ruling class tremble at a communistic revolution. The proletarians have nothing to lose but their chains and a world to win."

No Organic Change Should Be Made in Canadian Consitution With Regord to Imperial Relations Without a Referendum to the People, Is View Outlined in First Resolution to Committee—Amendment Calls For Opposition to Centralization Scheme Being Advocated by Ultra Imperialists—Dr. W. D. Gregory Declares, "We Are For Canada, First, Last, and Canada All the Time."

(Special to The Advertiser.)

Ottawa, Aug. 6.—The second day of the national Liberal convention opened with the resolutions committee sitting in full force and the convention proper ready to deal with and discuss the resolutions which might emanate therefrom. There is no apparent inclination on the part of the convention committee to lightly accept any tentative proposals which may have been made for the facilitation of business on the business sheet. Rather there is an inclination on the part of many to the erroneous view that the committee is a legislating body and that it is really only called upon to lay down the broad principles on which progressive legislation may be based. However, the fault is a healthy one.

ADVOCATES DOMINION AUTONOMY.

The first resolution to come before the convention from the committee was one which proposes that no organic change may be made in the Canadian constitution in regard to imperial relations without a referendum to the people.

Senator Dandurand, who moved the resolution, and M. A. MacDonald, who seconded it, both laid down the principle that the best way to preserve the ties which bound the Dominion to Great Britain was imperial duty with complete dominion autonomy.

The proposal to submit any change to the people was based on the democratic doctrine of self-determination.

Dr. W. D. Gregory, Liberal candidate for Halton, moved in amendment that the resolution should voice against the campaign for centralization now being carried on by the "ultra imperialists." John Boyd of Montreal supported the amendment, characterizing the campaign above referred to as an insidious one, calculated to disrupt imperial ties in the long run. "We should remember," he said, "that we are for Canada first, Canada last and Canada all the time." (Applause.)

Mr. Boyd reiterated the right of Canada to absolutely govern herself and to be master of her own destiny.

In replying, Senator Dandurand declared that his mandate from the committee was not to discuss imperial relations but simply to present the resolutions. He had no objection to the amendment. The resolution expressing opposition to centralized imperial control was then put.

Lemieux Is Applauded.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux rose. "First of all," he declared, "let me say, as a representative of the French-Canadian people, that we are British subjects, proud to be so, happy to be so. (Applause.)

"We are a conquered people, but we have made a conquest, we have secured a conquest, we have secured a constitution which we desire shall remain unimpaired." (Applause.)

Canada was no longer a colony, she was a nation. Downing street days were done. "We have the same King, the same flag, but we have our own government, and we want that government to be run by Canadians."

The insidious movement for centralization had received a severe blow during the recent session. "Titles have been done away with," said Mr. Lemieux, "and I am glad to say that the man who moved the motion was W. F. Nickle of Kingston, an honest Tory." (Applause.)

Mr. Lemieux referred to the naval policy of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. The late chieftain had evolved the idea of a Canadian navy. Instead, the Borden Government favored the handing over of "a paltry tip of 35 million dollars." When war broke out, Canada was devoid of defence for her coasts.

"Let us stand by the principles, not only of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, he declared, but of Sir John A. Macdonald, of Sir Charles Tupper, of Baldwin and Lafontaine, of George Brown, of William Lyon Mackenzie."

The convention burst into wild cheering, and the resolution was carried as amended.

Mr. Duncan Marshall, minister of agriculture for Alberta, who was called upon for a speech, declared that he would "be glad to burn every custom house between Canada and the United States." He emphasized the necessity of encouraging increased production.

Mr. H. H. Dewart, Ontario Liberal leader, who followed, declared that the Union Government which had been named to govern on one issue was abusing its powers. He told the convention that "Ontario was getting rid of its middlemen," and declared that it was the duty of Liberals to fight for the rights of the people.

A resolution condemning the Government because it has not properly enforced the income tax law, moved by Captain J. W. Wilton of Winnipeg, and seconded by D. A. Lafortune, M.P., was carried unanimously, and the convention adjourned until 2:30. Subsequent to the adjournment the delegates were photographed outside the convention building.

Winnipeg, Aug. 6.—Representatives of Great War Veterans of Winnipeg left today for Eli to investigate conditions there and investigate rumor that Hutterites there are living in a large building fashioned after shape of a cattle stable with only stalls to sleep in.

"We will demand that the Government exclude these Germans," said Capt. G. F. C. Wheeler, president of Imperial Veterans. "These Huns have come across the line to take land from our men who have been "over there" fighting them; it is time for action."

NEEDED REVOLVERS TO BEAT THEIR WAY ON FREIGHT TRAINS

Windsor Youths Will Be Sent Back Home.

CHIEF EXPRESSES VIEWS

Says Yellow Novels and the Movies Induce Boys To Carry Guns.

Attempting to emulate the heroes of the canned dramas and the highly-colored "real life" novels, where the said heroes invariably flourish automatic revolvers in the well-known nonchalant manner is the reason why so many youngsters are carrying weapons, according to Chief of Police Williams.

Carrying concealed revolvers or other weapons without a police permit is a serious breach of the law, and most of the offenders in this respect are young men in their 'teens, with a bent of waywardness and a misconception of citizenship fostered by association with gangsters and bad characters with the movie and novel hold-up "heroes" as their example, the chief says.

"We needed revolverz while we were beating our way on freight trains," was the explanation given to the police by Bert Petermalz and Freeman Bondie, both of Windsor, when they were arrested recently, carrying a revolver apiece, with cartridges. They rode to this city from Windsor on freight trains, they told the police.

The two were remanded for a week when they appeared this morning in police court, and they will be sent back to Windsor to be dealt with by the police there. Both were at liberty under suspended sentence from the Windsor courts on theft charges. Bondie, according to information received by the local police from the Windsor authorities, is on suspended sentence for stealing a bicycle and for breaking traffic laws, while Petermalz has been let go on charges of stealing harness and an overcoat at Windsor.

The revolvers have been confiscated and added to the chief's collection of weapons and crime relics.

Police Think They Are Now on Trail of Importer of Liquor

Suspect White Man, Who Is Said To Be Boasting.

Clues which may lead to the arrest of the white man who is said to have ordered the importation of the 380 bottles of whiskey, taken in a raid on a dining car on the Grand Trunk tracks at Burwell street Sunday night, July 20, by police, has been secured by local detectives.

Jules Kennedy, the colored man who was arrested by Patrolman Reich shortly before the raid and who pleaded guilty to having possession of the whiskey haul in police court, for which he was sentenced to four months in jail and later escaped, is still free.

A white man, believed by the police to be a bootlegger is said to have bragged to associates in a saloon bar here recently that he stole clothes from the car in which the whiskey was hidden before it was taken in the police raid. He is also believed to be the man who employed Kennedy to bring the whiskey to this city from Montreal. Kennedy in police court refused to divulge the names of those to whom the liquor was consigned here, but police believe that the white man suspected may be able to furnish information which will lead to the recapture of the colored jail breaker.

The whiskey, amounting to 380 bottles, was valued at $2,600 by police, and was the largest haul made in this city since the Ontario temperance act became effective.

Youths In Tramp From Chicago To New York Call Here

Americans Claim To Be Walking For Wager.

Declaring themselves on walking tour from Chicago to New York, three American youths called on The Advertiser this morning. The object of the walk was declared to be the winning of a wager, amount of $ and parties to it not mentioned.

All three were in uniform, and announced that they had seen overseas service. They said they left Chicago in July, date uncertain, but somewhere around the 10th, and had walked all the way to London without mishap. They started with 50 cents each, and had three-fifths of this amount left, having lived and slept as guests of the Salvation Army, Red Cross and K. of C. huts en route. The trip from Chicago had worn out four pairs of boots for each man, the Red Cross having provided new ones as required, together with thick woolen socks.

According to the story told, a time limit of three months is placed on the trip, and if it is accomplished in less than this time the wager is won.

The party is composed of: George Morgan of Auburn, N. Y., who states he had 19 months' service with the Rainbow Division, and was twice wounded; Ben B. Allison of Detroit, Mich., who was with the 675th Aerial Squadron, Aviation Section, spent 16 months overseas, four of them in France, and was once wounded; A. Rosenbloom, U. S. S. von Steuben, a sailor, who gave nine months' service.

Mrs. Primrose was the famous minstrel's second wife, and was his secretary for many years.

KRESELLA FREED ON CHARGES OF HAVING FORGED BANK NOTES

Will Appear As a Witness Against Joe Manenti.

Police will secure Lebert Kresella, 472 Talbot street, the 16-year-old Italian boy, as a material witness to testify at the trial of Joe Manenti at the September assizes, charged with having a number of forged American bank notes which he passed, through Kresella, in London on May 23.

Kresella's mother will give bond at the police court tomorrow for the boy's appearance at Manenti's trial. Kersella this morning was freed on the three charges of having forged bank notes in his possession on which he was held in bail from the time he was arrested several days after he met Manenti here.

Manenti was arrested in Hamilton a month later and brought here for a hearing at which Kresella gave evidence. Manenti elected to be tried by jury, and in the meantime he is a prisoner in the county jail.

WEDDING BELLS

GALPIN—TENNENT.

The home of Dr. E. Tennent of Lucan was the scene of a quiet wedding on Saturday when his daughter Ida became the bride of Hubert B. Galpin of London, who recently returned from overseas. Rev. Wm. Lowe, former rector at Lucan, officiated. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Harlie Tennent, and Miss Edith Fetherstone sang while the register was being signed. After a dainty luncheon, Mr. and Mrs. Galpin motored to London and left on the evening train for Kingston and Montreal.

JUDD-HYSLOP.

A very quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Hyslop of Thamesford when their younger daughter Esther Lindsay was united in marriage to William J. Judd of London.

The bride, dressed in white silk crepe de chine trimmed with pearls, and wearing a veil and orange blossoms, and carrying a bouquet of ophelia roses, entered the drawing-room on the arm of her father to the strains of the wedding march played by Harry Haynes of Kintore.

The bridesmaid, Miss Margaret Hossack of Thamesford, was dressed in white crepe de chine, and carried a bouquet of red roses. Little Miss Gladys Hossack, dressed in white silk and carrying a basket of snapdragon, made a sweet little flower girl, while Gordon Judd, brother of the groom, acted as groomsman.

The ceremony was performed under an arch of evergreens and white roses, in the presence of only the immediate relatives and friends of the bride and groom by the Rev. William Scott Galbraith of Thamesford.

After the ceremony the young couple were entertained at luncheon. The tables were very effectively decorated with sweet peas and ferns. Following the luncheon, a toast was drunk to the young couple.

Amid showers of confetti and hearty congratulations, Mr. and Mrs. Judd left for their new home at 650 Piccadilly street, London.

The bride traveled in a suit of navy blue with hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Judd will be at home to their friends after September 15, 1919.

The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl necklace, to the bridesmaid a bar mounted with pearl, to the flower girl a signet ring, to the groomsman a tie pin mounted with pearls, and to the violinist a pair of cuff links.

R. N. W. Policeman Gives Evidence at Winnipeg Conspiracy Trial.

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 5.—R. A. Bray, returned soldier and Winnipeg strike leader, on trial for conspiracy, declared on June 10 last that he had a fully organized band of 3,000 to 4,000 men, ready to take up arms at a given signal. A. A. Heaps, labor alderman of the city of Winnipeg, who is on trial with Bray and six other labor leaders, knew of the plan.

This was the sworn evidence of Detective W. H. McLaughlin of the Northwest Mounted Police, in court here today. McLaughlin testified in part as follows:

"In the course of my conversation with Bray he stated that this affair was going to end in a fight, and when I lamented the fact that we had no guns, Bray said, 'Don't worry about guns. We'll have them. We have got between 3,000 and 4,000 men ready and instructed to be in certain places when the alarm is sounded and they will get into the citizens' cars which are to carry the militia to Minto Barracks, get possession of the rifles, turn these on the real soldiers and seize the barracks.'"

McLaughlin was a plain clothes man assigned to follow the strike and he was in the confidence of several of the labor leaders.

Fully Informed.

In the same conversation McLaughlin testified, Bray said that the strikers were fully informed through their agents of what was going on in the ranks of the opposition. Bray had heard that a raid was to be made on aliens in the north end of Winnipeg and said that he got a car and a girl who could speak their lingo to warn the aliens. Bray was quoted as saying that "the way the bohunks ran to their homes to get something to fight with was plain evidence that the police would get what was coming to them."

McLaughlin's reports covered various meetings of the strikers and their committee and dealt exhaustively with revolutionary utterances made by various leaders as the strike progressed.

Tack-Makers Vote To Go On Strike For More Wages

BORCKTON, Mass., Aug. 5.—Members of the recently organized Tack Makers' Union voted tonight to go on strike tomorrow in an effort to enforce wage demands of $9 a day for men operating more than fifteen machines and of 60 cents a machine for less than that number. The strike will affect more than twenty factories in Canada, New England and Pennsylvania. The men claim that the United Shoe Machinery Corporation, which controls most of the factories, has refused to submit their demands for arbitration.

FARMERS AND LABOR MEN LIKELY TO JOIN FORCES IN N. PERTH

Conference Held at Stratford To Discuss Joint Candidate.

STRATFORD, Aug. 5.—As a result of a conference here tonight between representatives of the United Farmers' Clubs of North Perth and the trades and labor council, it is probable that a joint farmer-labor convention will be held here in the near future to choose a joint candidate for the coming election.

The platforms of the two organizations were discussed, and also the question of co-ordinating the efforts of the two bodies in the election. While nothing can be done until the delegates report back to their clubs, the general opinion was that the two bodies could get together successfully. The press was not admitted to the meeting.

The farmers' representatives were: W. A. Amos of Palmerston, who has been mentioned as a probable farmers' candidate, W. C. Good of Brantford, and W. T. Shearer of Poole.

OWNER OF CAR IS FREED; CHAUFFEUR ARRESTED AT GALT

Reckless Driving Charge Now Against Driver of Auto.

GALT, Aug. 5.—Paul Freeman, a local Russian, was this afternoon dismissed by Magistrate Blake on a charge of reckless driving. The case was the outcome of an auto collision on the Preston road early in July, in which Freeman's car struck a taxi, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Consaul and child of Toronto, and Joseph Kayan being injured. The defence claimed Tony Charnaboy was driving the car and not Freeman. Charnaboy was arrested on the same charge, was committed for trial at the fall assizes and was released on $1.000 bail furnished by Freeman.

STORE ENTERED.

Chief German announced today that the Galt Sweets Confectionery store, on Main street, had been burglarized during Sunday night and $18.50 and some other articles taken. Entrance was gained into the basement from the lane in the rear of the block and the door was smashed on the stairway leading to the main floor.

SALARY INCREASED.

The quarterly board of Ainslie Methodist Church has granted Rev. G. K. Bradshaw, the pastor, a $200 increase in salary.

WORKERS ON THE CANAL TO GET HYDRO SCHEDULE

OTTAWA, Aug. 5.—Hon. J. D. Reid, minister of railways and canals, had a meeting with Welland Canal contractors today. The contractors informed the minister that the demands of the men were for the same hourly schedule rate as paid by the hydro-electric commission for similar work in that district. It was decided to prolong the work by working only the shortest number of hours each day that will be satisfactory to the men, and to pay them the hydro-electric hourly schedule.

WOULD CONTROL FOOD PRICES IN GREAT BRITAIN

Food Controller Says Further Advances Are Inevitable Otherwise.

INTERNATIONAL ACTION

Favors Prison Sentences in Cases of Flagrant Profiteering.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—George H. Roberts, the food controller, testified today at the first sitting of the House of Commons as a select committee to inquire into the high cost of living and profiteering. He said his department had had difficulty in defining cases of alleged profiteering. He added that where persons were clearly found guilty of profiteering they should be punished more severely than at present is the case.

Mr. Roberts said he had reached the following conclusions:

First, that there should be an effective control of food prices always, and of supplies and their distribution at all stages.

Second, that the same method could be applied to other articles, such as household utensils, if they could be standardized. Whether it should be applied was a question of politics.

Third, that the costing department (which fixes prices) could do for other articles what it had done for food.

Fourth, that a single department should be responsible for publishing facts regarding the cost of living here and in other countries.

Fifth, that with a reduction in working hours and without an increase in output a further increase in prices seemed inevitable without control.

Controlled Prices.

Mr. Roberts said that 94 per cent of the food in England was subject to maximum-controlled prices. Part of the balance, he added, was more costly, but a part was lower in price since control had been lifted.

The food minister said that unfortunately much of England's food had come from America, because other sources had been shut off, and that in America the exchange rate had worked hardships.

Mr. Roberts said the ministry was unable to do anything regarding an alleged American meat combine. He suggested that this situation called for international action. The board of trade, Mr. Roberts added, was inquiring into what might be done to protect the country against high meat prices.

In cases of flagrant profiteering, Mr. Roberts said he favored sentences of imprisonment and the permanent withdrawal of the license of guilty persons.

LACK OF BUSINESS CAUSES TIE-UP OF LAKE FREIGHTERS

Large Steamer, J. H. C. Hagarty, Pays Crew Off at Sarnia.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

SARNIA, Aug. 5.—The large steamer J. H. C. Hagarty, in command of Capt. Ed. Robinson of Goderich, is lying at the dock below the offices of the Northern Navigation Company and the crew have been paid off. Inability to secure cargoes is given as the reason for the tie-up. The Hagarty has been handling iron ore between the north shore and Point Edward this summer and has made several trips, but has been forced to tie up owing to lack of freight.

Other well-known steamers are said to be in the same position and are idle for the same reason. The Grant Morden, the largest freighter on the lakes, the E. B. Osler, Midland Prince and other boats are reported to have gone out of commission until business picks up.

INQUEST ADJOURNED IN BAKER DROWNING CASE AT STRATFORD

Quite a Stir Caused in Labor Circles Over Machinists' Union Action.

STRATFORD, Aug. 5.—The inquest into the circumstances surrounding the death of the late Roy Baker, who was drowned in the Avon on Monday afternoon, opened before Coroner Monteith this morning. After the body and the scene of the drowning had been viewed an adjournment was made until Friday evening. Coroner Monteith announced that the reason for holding the investigation was, not that anyone was suspected of having directly or indirectly caused his death, but to determine if there has been any negligence on the part of any civic body of those responsible for providing equipment for lifesaving for any who might get into difficulty while in swimming.

QUITE A STIR.

Quite a stir has been caused in local labor circles by the action of the machinists' union in recalling its entire slate of delegates to the trades and labor council and electing new members. Only two of the former members were returned.

This in itself is not so remarkable, except for the fact that among those who failed to be returned were President J. Semple, Vice-President R. Hurst and Treasurer A. Skidmore of the trades and labor council. Ordinarily their term would have run into December, but dissatisfaction by members over their actions resulted in their being recalled and replaced. This action leaves the trades and labor council without three of its principal officers. Their successors will have to be named at the meeting next week.

Plan Big Celebration.

Local labormen are planning a big celebration on Labor Day, and the committees are now working on the program. It is the intention to secure an outside speaker and to hold a general day of sports.

SOLDIERS' MONUMENT.

There is keen interest being manifested in the controversy over the location of the soldiers' monument. Another suggestion advanced today was to place it on the court house grounds, at the foot of Ontario street. The chamber of commerce has invited Thomas Adams, town planning expert, to come here and discuss the matter with the members before any definite decision is reached.

Monsignor McGee, who was recently raised to that dignity, was waited upon by a deputation from the congregation of St. Joseph's Church and presented with a purse of money.

ANOTHER PROTEST ADDED AT SARNIA TO ALIEN LABOR

Grand Army Veterans Pass Resolution—Indorse the Liberty League.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

SARNIA, Aug. 5.—Another protest against the importation of alien labor was added tonight, when Listening Post, No. 12, Grand Army of Canada, passed a resolution objecting to the bringing in of any class of foreign laborers, including negroes and Mexicans. The resolution will be forwarded to the headquarters of the association in Toronto and to the representative of the association in Ottawa.

The Principles of the Liberty League of Canada were indorsed by the association. The Liberty League now has about 500 members, including prominent businessmen, and is growing rapidly. An active campaign is to be started in about two weeks, it is expected. The Grand Army branch is also increasing in membership here.

Peace Circles Fear Serious Effect of Rumanian Action

PARIS, Aug. 5.—Members of the peace delegation here expressed fears today that the setting up of a stable democratic government in Hungary might be jeopardized by the Roumanian attitude. Vigorous representations, it was said, are being made to Rumanian officials, both at Budapest and Bucharest, but means of communication are so bad that peace conference officials have been unable to learn if their messages are reaching the Rumanians.

It is not known yet whether the order to Rumanians not to enter Budapest reached them before their arrival there. American officials, it was said, have warned Rumania that economic support will be withdrawn unless Rumania heeds the Allies' orders. Reports have reached the peace conference also that the Serbian army has begun an advance on Hungary and is ravaging the country.

PREDICT $20 A TON FOR COAL SHORTLY, DO BRANTFORD MEN

BRANTFORD, Aug. 5.—The head of one of Brantford's coal firms on his return from a trip through the coal regions expressed the opinion that householders would have a harder time than ever this year securing anthracite coal. A premium of $2 was already being offered to independent dealers, and the supply being mined was far behind requirements. A price of $20 per ton was predicted.

WILSON WILL GIVE WHOLE TIME TO THE H. C. OF L. MATTER

Abandon Conferences With Leaders on League of Nations Meanwhile.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5. — Conferences with Republican and Democratic Senators on the league of nations have definitely been abandoned by the president until the problems of the high cost of living are solved. Secretary Tumulty announced today. The president, Mr. Tumulty said, is going "to give his whole time to the question of the high cost of living."

Whether the president will go before Congress to recommend steps designed to relieve the situation in which the country now finds itself will depend, Mr. Tumulty said, on the nature of the report to be made by Mr. Palmer.

Members of the president's cabinet went into conference early today with Mr. Palmer to receive the report of the special committee appointed last week to tabulate the various suggestions as far as advanced. The conference was expected to continue until just before the regular Tuesday cabinet meeting at the White House.

Mr. Palmer's report was to be submitted at the cabinet meeting, and the president then planned to discuss a free market for wheat with Julius H. Barnes, president of the United States Grain Corporation.

Laws Inadequate.

While the cabinet officials were in conference, the federal trade commission began a study of all British laws against profiteering. Some officials regarded it as probable that Congress would be asked to enact legislation dealing directly with all classes of profiteering. The attorney-general has said that existing laws are inadequate.

Meantime Congress is devoted further attention to the general subject of living costs with the Senate agricultural committee voting to begin hearings August 18 on bills by Senators Kenyon of Iowa and Kendrick of Wyoming, proposing federal regulation of the meat packing industry.

Senator Johnson, Democrat, South Dakota, told the committee drastic action must be taken to meet the present situation.

"If we don't, we will have a revolution," said he. "It is in the air."

SUBJECT OF ATTACK WAS DR. M'NALLY IN COUNCIL MEETING

KITCHENER, Aug. 5.—Dr. McNally of the Provincial Board of Health was the subject of attack in the discussion by the city council here tonight on the cemetery site question, when Chairman Iler of the cemetery committee declared that Dr. McNally had worked in collusion with the Grand River Country Club in condemning the Hummel property at Bridgeport for cemetery purposes. The site had been recommended for purchase by Ald. Iler, and was held up pending the report of the Provincial Board of Health. Ald. Iler declared that Dr. McNally had come to the city, and instead of getting in touch with the chairman of the committee got in touch with the members of the golf club and left the city without the cemetery committee chairman knowing he was here.

The proposed site borders on the country club property. A motion was finally passed requesting that Dr. McCullough come to the city and consult with the cemetery committee in connection with a suitable site.

CHEESE MANUFACTURERS ASK GOVT. ASSISTANCE

OTTAWA, Aug. 5.—Canadian cheese manufacturers will ask the Government to give them financial assistance in their sale to the British Government of the output for the present season at 25 cents a pound, less freight and cartage to the wholesalers' warehouses in Montreal. This was decided upon at a meeting this afternoon attended by between 400 and 500 members of district cheese boards and dairying institutions, covering territory from Peterboro, Ont., to St. Hyacinthe, Que. Last night a committee of ten was appointed to present the case to the premier tomorrow.

WANT MINISTERS GIVEN FRANCHISE FOR REFERENDUM

The Westminster Temperance Workers Make This Appeal.

WOULD CHANGE PLANS

Object To Voting On This and Election On the Same Day.

Lambeth, Aug. 6.—At a meeting of the temperance workers of the Township of Westminster, the following resolutions were passed unanimously:

Moved by J. W. Hunter, seconded by J. W. M. Crawford, that this meeting of temperance workers of the Township of Westminster, wish to give an expression of thankfulness for the good that has been accomplished by the passing and enforcement of the Ontario temperance act. Crime has greatly decreased, the traveling public have felt a much greater degree of safety and many wives and children are being far better fed and clothed, making their home life more like what it ought to be; and we hope that the above act will not be repealed. We, therefore, recommend that the proposed referendum vote be taken upon a separate day from that upon which the provincial election will be held, so that the vote on the Ontario temperance act may be taken on its merits, free from political influences as much as possible.

Moved by P. D. Learn, seconded by John Currie, that where there are a number of Methodist and other ministers now residing in our Township of Westminster, but because of a recent change of residence are disqualified from voting in the approaching referendum, and knowing that there are many other municipalities in Ontario having resident ministers who will also be deprived of casting their ballot, and recognizing their moral influence in favor of prohibition and their right as loyal British subjects to vote, we appeal to the premier of our province that the act be so amended that those men and their families be given the franchise.

NO DATE SET FOR STRIKE VOTE HERE

Railway Carmen Have No Word From Union Heads.

The date for the strike vote among the railway carmen in this city has not yet been decided, according to Joseph Corbett, chairman of the local brotherhood of railway carmen, who announces today that he has received no further word from heads of the union beyond the announcement that a strike vote will be taken by members of the brotherhood prior to August 24.

With a general tie-up of all railway traffic in the United States, which is threatened unless the demands of the federated railway shopmen are met by the United States authorities, the railway situation in this city would be critical, the representative of the brotherhood states.

More than half of the railway business from this city is carried on with concerns across the border, and even if a strike is averted here, the situation will become acute unless differences across the border are cleared up, he said.

Shorter working hours and increased wage schedules are the demands of the men, and unless these conditions are met the feeling still maintains here that a strike will result. Eight hundred members of the brotherhood, which includes all of the shopmen, comprising machinists, painters and electrical workers, will be affected in this city in both Grand Trunk and C. P. R. shops.

FIELDING BOOM IS GROWING STRONGER

Ottawa, Aug. 6.—In the leadership race it is stated this morning that the boom has again set in for Hon. W. S. Fielding. It would appear that certain of the champions of other candidates have now turned their energies in the direction of electing the member for Queen's-Shelburne and former finance minister in the Laurier Government, and even in Quebec it is apparent that a reaction has set in his favor, and there are indications that his name will stand high in the first balloting tomorrow morning.

NUDE BOYS BATHING AT TRACTION BRIDGE ANNOY PEDESTRIANS

Are Alleged To Be Destroying the Structure.

POLICE ASKED TO ACT

Council Repeats Request That Law Be Enforced At That Point.

With youngsters and even grown-up youths wearing nothing but their own skins, bathing in the river under the old Traction bridge at the foot of Richmond street, residents in that vicinity are very much embarrassed and inconvenienced, while the women folk are shocked at the display of nudity there.

As Alderman E. R. Seabrook said at last night's meeting of the city council men who live near the bridge are afraid to walk across it accompanied by their wives or families, and he asked that the police be asked to stop the bathing or else enforce the wearing of bathing suits.

Two weeks ago, the alderman said, a request to the police department was made asking that the "nuisance" be stopped, but the swimming hole is as popular as ever, and the lack of apparel is just as noticeable.

Residents near the bridge also complain that the swimmers are destroying the bridge. Almost any time during the evening, anyone who cares to brave the shock of glancing in the direction of the bridge, may see ties and boards being thrown into the river from the bridge work, it was said.

The council decided last night to make another request for police protection against the embarrassing situation, and also to ask the police to put a stop to the vandalism.

HOLD-UP FRUSTRATED BY THOMAS SIMMONDS

DUART, Aug. 5.—Thomas Simmonds, courier, Muirkirk R. R. No. 1, reports having been held up this forenoon on the town line, south of Duart. At the loneliest spot on the route he was stopped by a stranger, who demanded access to the mail box and attempted to break into it. Simmonds valiantly protected the box and succeeded in driving the would-be robber back. With a threat that he would blow his brains out he held the desperado at bay, and, whipping up his horse, succeeded in getting away, possibly the man was one of the gypsy gang which passed through this way recently and was following up the band, who were working towards the east.

PLEAD GUILTY TO MOTOR CAR THEFT; TRIAL BEFORE JUDGE

Coffin Brothers Admit Taking Glencoe Automobile.

DENY DELIBERATE FIRE

Say Their Own Vehicle Burst Into Flames While Traveling.

Charles and Albert Coffin, aged 21 and 19 years respectively, of this city, who were yesterday morning committed for trial on a charge of auto theft, appeared before Judge Talbot Macbeth in the county court this morning, and pleading guilty to the charge, elected trial by judge. The prisoners were not represented by counsel.

Charles Coffin, the elder of the pair, stated to Judge Macbeth this morning that in company with his brother he started for Walkerville in his Chevrolet auto on the evening of July 19 last. While proceeding westward near Glencoe, his car backfired, and before it could be stopped the engine burst into flames. He jumped with his brother for safety, and the burning car ran into a ravine.

Purloined Another.

Seeing that the auto was to be destroyed by fire, the brothers removed the numbers, and on the suggestion of Albert Coffin, they proceeded to the garage of D. A. Dobie nearby and purloined his Chevrolet car. Albert stated that having worked on farms in the vicinity, he was aware of the location of the Dobie garage. The accused youths then returned to London with the stolen car, and in a few days painted the wheels a bright yellow and substituted the numbers. The markers bearing Dobie's license number were thrown into the river at Delaware, according to Charles.

His Own Property.

He stated that the burned car was his property, which he purchased from a chum, with gratuity given him by the military authorities for war service. Both brothers denied piling stakes and other wooden material around their car and deliberately igniting it. They were arrested recently by city detectives, Albert Coffin being in possesion of the stolen car when apprehended at Mount Brydges.

The accused youths made no application for bail today, and they will be held in the county jail for trial in the near future on the above charge.

The second fire at the Dyment-Baker Lumber Company, 271-309 Bathurst street, within eight hours, caused about $200 damage at 4 o'clock this morning, when the roof of the plant caught fire from flames which ran up the pipe from an automatic blowpipe.

Some damage was caused ot the roof close to the same spot at 9 o'clock last night, when a hole was burned by sparks, it is believed, from a nearby chimney. Both fires were extinguished by firemen with chemicals.

Musicians Return To Work; All's Well That Ends Well

Musicians employed in local theatres, who went out on strike civic holiday, are back on the job today, all grievances having been adjusted satisfactorily. The wage schedule as presented to the musicians was met by the theatrical managers, who, however, retain the privilege of employing as many musicians on their respective staffs as they please. The strike was a friendly affair, and there was no antagonism manifetsed during the walkout between managers and musicians. The Advertiser today was informed that there would be no reductions in the musical staff at local theatres, and in the words of one manager, 'All's well that ends well."

CITY TEAMSTERS OUT ON STRIKE; ASK $1 AN HOUR

Fifty Refuse To Work Until Their Demands Are Met.

TRACTORS MAY BE USED

Council Considering Plan For Purchasing Some of These Machines.

Asking a wage of $1 per hour, 50 city teamsters struck this morning, with the result that the city is seriously considering using tractors instead of horse-drawn vehicles to do its teaming. City Engineer H. A. Brazier declared that there had been talk some time ago of securing tractors for roadwork. He was confident that these motors would pay in the end, as they only require to be fed during the time that they are in action, while a horse must be nourished all the time.

On Tuesday night the city council, by a vote of 6 to 5, with the mayor deciding the tie, offered 90 cents per hour, but not a cent more. The men were willing to come down to 95 cents, but the council remained firm.

Excepting the garbage teams, the city does not own a horse. The men who struck used their own horses when doing city work. If necessity demands such action, the city will use a few of the garbage teams for road work.

Meanwhile the city is not worrying. There is plenty of work for all other civic employees.

The construction of two storm sewers on Front street and on St. George street was commenced this morning. This work does not require the use of teams. Such work as this is plentiful, so that the loss of the teams is not felt to any great extent.

LAD BADLY INJURED; PLACED GUN POWDER TO FUSED GAS PIPE

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 5.—George Bishop, aged 17, residing on Woodward avenue, is lying at the Amasa Wood Hospital in a critical condition today as a result of an accident last night, when he placed gunpowder in a gas pipe. He placed a fuse to the powder and lighted it, with the result that there was a terrific explosion, which marred his face and injured him bodily. He was rushed to Amasa Wood Hospital, and although it was at first thought that he might lose his eyesight, such will not be the case. He is resting easy tonight, but may be marked for life as a result of his foolish experiment.

The lad, with some more boys, was celebrating the civic holiday, and intended to have some fireworks of his own.

Reynolds; W. Gunn, J. Rodger, J. Wittaker.

WABASH FARMER KICKED BY HORSE

WABASH, Aug. 5.—John Stewart, a young farmer residing on the base line, met with a serious accident when he was badly kicked on the head and jaw by a horse.

He went into the stable to turn out some horses that were prancing in the stalls. A few minutes later Mrs. Stewart found him sitting in the house with his hands up against his face and blood pouring out between his fingers. He was unable to speak, but there is no other way to account for his terrible wound, except that he was kicked by one of the horses as it raced out. He was hurriedly taken to the Chatham Hospital for treatment.

HONOR PLYMPTON SOLDIER.

Raided Cellar Brings To Light Efforts To Produce Stuff With a Kick.

KITCHENER, Aug. 5.—Potato whiskey is the latest invention of some Kitchener moonshiners whose lair was raided by the police and a quantity of the liquor seized. The stuff was in the process of fermentation when seized, and judging from appearance and smell, is a concoction of potatoes, yeast and sugar. The concoction is the work of foreigners. They were nowhere to be found when the police raided the cellar used as an amateur distillery, but it was stated today that it is only a matter of hours when they will be rounded up by the police.

WALL STREET.

a.m.)—Further recoveries from Monday's extreme depression were made by leading stocks at the opening of today's stock market. Rails and shippings were the exception, however, averaging initial losses of a point. Steels, equipments, coppers, motors, oils and tobaccos scored gains extending from 1 to 13 points, Brooklyn Rapid Transit being only moderately affected by the strike, easing a fraction. Stronger tendencies ruled before the end of the first half hour on the better tone of rails.

Noon.—Improvement among transportations, led by such investment shares as Union Pacific and Reading followed the announcement that Director-General Hines would confer with representatives of the brotherhoods during the day and was accompanied by a vigorous advance in shippings. Motors and Oils continued to forge ahead with steel, equipment and rubber issues. Food shares asserted some of the recent activity and strength with specialties comprising the paper and textile groups. Call money opened at 6 to 6½ per cent.

SERVICE ON BROOKLYN RAPID TRANSIT LINES TIED UP BY STRIKE

Part of Company's 13,000 Employees Take Part in Walkout.

PICKETS WERE ACTIVE

Thousands of People in the Suburbs Waited in Vain To Get To Work.

New York, Aug. 6.—Service on the elevated, subways and trolley lines of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit system was demoralized at the rush hour early today by the strike of part of the company's 13,000 employees. The walkout set for 5 a.m. did not assume serious proportions until 8 a.m., when thousands of commuters on their way to work in New York from various boroughs across the river waited in vain for cars.

The East River bridges were soon filled with processions of automobiles, motor trucks and other vehicles pressed into service to carry the throngs to Manhattan. Congestion in the subway trains which were operated on a limited scale, was most marked. Trains on the "L" roads ran desultorily, and the surface cars gave only partial service owing to the activity of the pickets.

Non-union operators began pulling the cars into the barns at 7:30 a.m., saying they were afraid to run their cars because of the threatening attitude of the strikers.

Coney Island practically was isolated so far as "L" trains were concerned, few of the trains reaching there. No tickets were sold and guards were stationed to keep the people out at the beach resort depot.

Motormen employed on the elevated and subway lines of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company who are members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers will quit work at 4 p.m. today in sympathy with striking trainmen and guards, according to Edward Smith, chairman of the executive committee of the street carmen's union, who said he had been so advised by a representative of the brotherhood.

Civic Employees in Liverpool May Go Out in Sympathy

Liverpool, Aug. 5.—(By the Associated Press).—The municipal employees at a meeting tonight decided to give 24 hours' notice of strike unless the demands of the striking tramway men are immediately granted.

A meeting of the trades union organizations of all lines of industry tonight appointed a general strike committee which will meet on Wednesday. Tom Mann, president of the Workers' Union, attended the meeting. The speakers generally supported the police strikers.

GERMAN COMMISSION TO CONTROL EXECUTION OF INDEMNITY CLAUSES

Under another decree issued by Herr Ebert, the imperial navy office ceases to exist and the admiralty will have supreme naval authority. The admiralty will be directed by an admiralty chief, under the supervision of the minister of defence. The admiralty staff of the navy is dissolved.

CAYUGA SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC A BIG SUCCESS

CAYUGA, Aug. 5.—A familiar figure on the streets of Cayuga was removed Saturday when Rev. Father O'Leary passed away at Dundas, where he had been living for some few months. For many years he made his home at St. Stephen's Presbytery, Cayuga, and will be much missed by many friends.

The Union Sunday school picnic, held at Featherston's Point, Lake Erie, was a pronounced success. The large crowd was taken down in autos and enjoyed a splendid day of sport. The chief sporting event was a swimming contest, with cash prizes donated by Jacob Kohler, ex-M. P. P. The prizes were won by Ted Blabre, 1; Jack Clive, 2, and Wadel, 3. The picnic had been postponed from Thursday, owing to the rain. The only undesirable event of the day was when Monty Jarrett, motoring down from the lake to Cayuga was thrown from his car by a jolt caused by some trouble with the steering gear. His injuries were slight.

Much interests centres around the peace demonstration to be held on Cayuga's Civic Holiday, August 9, and preparations for a gala day are being rushed.

The Erie League baseball game, between Selkirk and Fisherville, at Selkirk, billed for Thursday last, was postponed, owing to rain. The next game of the series will be played at Cayuga on Civic Holiday, between Selkirk and Cayuga.

Montreal, Aug. 6.—The offerings of live stock at the Canadian Pacific stockyards this morning amounted to 300 cattle, 750 sheep and lambs and 1,050 hogs; 400 calves.

There was a heavy run of live stock on Monday, some of which remained on the market until today and trade today was only moderately active. There was a good inquiry from butchers for choice stock for the week and trade, but inferior grades of live stock were not much in demand, although plentiful. The small meat section was fairly active, there being a continued good demand for hogs at $24 to $24.50 per 100 pounds weighed off cars, the usual reductions for sows and heavyweights. Calves were strong, but the market for lambs is a little easier and the best were 16 cents per pound. Butcher's cattle sold at from $9.50 to $11.50 per 100 pounds for the best, while canners were down to $6.00 per 100 pounds.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—An instantaneous upward jump of 4½ to 9½ cents a bushel was the response of the corn market today to the announcement that the Government would maintain the guaranteed $2.26 price of wheat. The biggest rise of the corn market was in the principal trading deliveries, December, which soared at once to $1.52.

Ex-Kaiser's Refusal To Abdicate Made Revolution Worse

Prince Max of Baden Was Unable to Convince Wilhelm of the Real Situation.

Berlin, Aug. 5.—The Neue Berliner Zeitung today publishes excerpts from a lengthy description by Prince Max of Baden, former imperial German chancellor, of a telephone conversation he had with the then Emperor William, November 8, 1918. The conversation lasted twenty minutes.

"The kaiser was very violent and frightfully unaware of the attitude of the troops to him," says the description. "We spoke of a military expedition against Berlin, but he refused to listen to my recommendation that he abdicate. Had the general staff told him November 8, as it did November 9, the truth about the army, I have no doubt that the kaiser would have abdicated the evening of the 8th.

"Certainly there would have been an uprising, but only by the radical element. The troops in Berlin would have conducted themselves more reliably. One of the most dangerous points of contact between the rioting workmen and the soldiers was the fact that the kaiser had not abdicated."

WOMAN IS KILLED WHEN GASOLINE IN BIG TANK EXPLODES

Accident Happened While Liquid Was Being Transferred.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Aug. 16.—As a result of the explosion of a gasoline tank in the laundry of John Dobson, Summerside, this afternoon, Miss Mary Perry, 45 years of age, an employee of the laundry, is dead, the owner lies in a precarious condition in the Prince County Hospital, and six other employees are also in the hospital more or less seriously burned. The accident occurred while a cask of gasoline was being emptied into an underground tank.

PYORRHOEA OR DISEASED GUMS

Hundreds of Cases Here Says Dentist —Don't Have Your Teeth Pulled. Make Diseased Gums Healthy and Teeth Tight With This New Prescription— Instant Relief.

A prominent New York dentist recently discovered a new prescription—Epithol—which is so successful in the treatment of Pyorrhoea and Riggs Disease that it is sold here in London by leading druggists on an absolute guarantee to refund money if in any case it fails to correct the trouble.

If your teeth are loosening or if your gums are receding and are sore or tender, inflamed or bleeding, spongy or flabby, or if they discharge pus, get an ounce of Epithol today if possible and start using it right away. It seems to work like magic. Teeth tighten and the gums grow sound and healthy and the bleeding pus discharge soon stops.

Fred Chapman says: "My teeth became very sore and loose, pus formed around the roots and gave me a severe case of stomach trouble. My physician urged me to have my teeth extracted. A dentist recommended Epithol, and after a short time my teeth became tight and my gums restored to a healthy condition. I recommend Epithol to anyone suffering from Pyorrhoea."—Advt.

LIFT OFF CORNS WITH FINGERS

Doesn't hurt a bit and costs only few cents

Magic! Just drop a little Freezone on that touchy corn, instantly it stops aching, then you lift the corn off with the fingers. Truly! No humbug!

Try Freezone! Your druggist sells a tiny bottle for a few cents, sufficient to rid your feet of every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and callouses, without one particle of pain, soreness or irritation. Freezone is the discovery of a noted Cincinnati genuis.

Tells Dyspeptics What To Eat

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas on Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous, and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion, or they can eat as they please in reason, and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentations by the use of a little Bisurated Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antiacid than Bisurated Magnesia, and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach, and is not a digestant. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five-grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present, and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble, and the meal digests naturally and healthfully without need of pepsin pills or artificial digestants.

Get a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate, and in the bisurated form is not a laxative. Try this plan, and eat what you want at your next meal, and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."—Advt.

MOTHERS TO BE

Should Read Mrs. Monyhan's Letter Published by Her Permission.

Mitchell, Ind.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me so much during the time I was looking forward to the coming of my little one that I am recommending it to other expectant mothers. Before taking it, some days I suffered with neuralgia so badly that I thought I could not live, but after taking three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was entirely relieved of neuralgia. I had gained in strength and was able to go around and do all my housework. My baby when seven months old weighed 19 pounds, and I feel better than I have for a long time. I never had any medicine do me so much good."—Mrs. Pearl Monyhan, Mitchell, Ind.

Good health during maternity is a most important factor to both mother and child, and many letters have been received by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass., telling of health restored during this trying period by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

OPENING DAY OF CONVENTION MARKED BY HARMONY WHICH AUGURS WELL FOR RESULTS

Desire To Get Together For Common Weal of Dominion Characterized Deliberations and Speeches — Clash in Quebec Committee Over Suggestion That the French-Canadian Delegates Withdraw.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Aug. 5.—The National Liberal Convention has got away to a swing which augurs well for the results which will be obtained before the delegates depart for their various homes. Enthusiasm has marked all the meetings, both public and private. A desire to get together for the common weal of the Dominion characterized the deliberations and the speeches.

Naturally there is a difference of opinion regarding leadership, but there is no radical difference of opinion on the question of the adoption of a platform Liberal in its character and national and progressive in its aims. Everything worked with clockwork precision, and if there were minor differences of opinion they were those which must characterize any gathering of Liberals who are not bound by custom, law and statute, but who desire that there shall be an improvement in the existing order of things.

Rumors Denied.

Rumors have been carefully spread in the Unionist press to the effect that in the appointment of delegates there have been clashes between Laurier Liberals and Union Liberals. It has been stated that from several of the provinces delegates of the latter type would come "under reservation," and that they would consider themselves open to retire from the convention whenever they pleased.

Such a rumor was especially prevalent with regard to Manitoba, but as an indication of its lack of truth the experience of the Manitoba convention in appointing members of committees may be cited. At the outset of the gathering the matter was broached. Morning paper rumors were cited and the Union Liberal delegates were requested to explain.

Out and Out Liberal.

Premier Norris arose and emphatically denied the rumors. "I am here," he said, "because I am absolutely opposed to the Union Government. I am here in good faith as an out-and-out Liberal. I am here to stand by the convention. These reports are absolutely without authority and without truth. I am here without any reservation whatever."

John Wilton of Assiniboia spoke in similar terms, and when the committees had been nominated there were on the one dealing with resolutions four former Union Liberals in the persons of Premier Norris, Hon. Dr. Thornton, John Wilton and W. Broadfoot. The atmosphere has been cleared and the canard nailed.

The three main features of the convention to date may be cited as follows: First, there is neither recrimination nor discrimination; second, it is a popular convention in the truest sense of the word, and there is nothing cut and dried; third, there is a deep seriousness among the rank and file.

The Watchwords.

"Sincerity" and "honesty" appear to be the watchwords of the convention. There is no inclination to make promises or adopt policies without the intention to implement and carry them out. Race and creed prejudices are deprecated, and speeches advocating the doctrines of Canadianism, tolerance and charity are universally acclaimed.

Various delegates have their various favorites for leader. That is natural, but there is the best of good fellowship among the delegates. Tentative proposals have been made to facilitate matters, and these have been presented by the advisory committee, which has been responsible for the admirable arrangements.

But the delegates are not willing to be bound even by these. Ontario delegates this afternoon took the initiative themselves, and on their committees appear the names of ten farmers, four or five ladies, several representatives of labor and of the returned soldiers. In fact, the Ontario committee members are probably the most representative of all progressive elements among all the provinces.

Moved Withdrawal.

In the Quebec sub-division a dispute arose early in the proceedings, and Athanase David Rose proposed a resolution providing that Quebec withdraw itself altogether from balloting for a leader. He declared that as the leader was to be English-speaking Quebec had no interest in the matter. After some trouble he secured a seconder, but that was the only support he got.

Ernest Lapointe of Kamouraska, in an impassioned speech, rose and characterized the resolution as "a base insult as well as ingratitude to the legion of loyal English-speaking Canadians who had followed Sir Wilfrid Laurier for the past quarter of a century."

No Distinctions.

"This convention," he declared, "should know no distinction of race or creed or nationality. We are all here as Liberals. Where would French-Canadian chivalry and generosity be if French-Canadians should withdraw from this contest? It would be a blow at the cardinal principle laid down by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, whose whole political faith was the unity of Canada."

That was the close of the debate, and the mover of the resolution retired discomfited.

There was general harmony in the other committees. The Saskatchewan delegaces briefly discussed the tentative tariff proposals and approved of them in a general way. In fact, it is not anticipated that there will be any serious differences of opinion on policies.

A variety of speeches were delivered during the session. Premier Murray, who had given his blessing to Union when it was formed, today declared that Union Government must be overthrown, as it had outlived its usefulness.

Sir Allan Aylesworth experienced difficulty in hiding his emotions when he proposed the resolution of sorrow at the death of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and of tribute to his great career and blameless life. In fact, his voice broke on several occasions.

An Eloquent Speech.

There was no more impassioned or eloquent speech during the day than that in which Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux seconded the resolution. The standing vote confirming the resolution was taken also in eloquent silence, and the kindly eyes of the old chief looked forth from the painting at the back of the stage as if in thanks and gratitude.

Attorney-General Turgeon of Saskatchewan declared for honesty of purpose in political life. "Honesty" John Oliver of British Columbia emphasized individual responsibility. Hon. Dr. Beland brought the gathering to its feet cheering in the course of a brief speech, whose keynote was freedom and toleration. Altogether the opening day of the convention was an inspiration to the delegates.

Convention's Greeting to H. H. Dewart Shows He Is Highly Popular

Correspondent Thinks It Not Impossible That Ontario Liberal Leader Might Be Wanted in the Larger Field of Dominion Politics.

[Special to The Advertiser by H. F. Gadsby.]

OTTAWA, Aug. 5.—The correspondents tell you all the news. So let me write a little color story about the first day of the convention, which was devoted largely to ceremony.

It is a great gathering, this first national Liberal convention in twenty-six years. As one delegate said, it is such a large gathering that if it got any larger it might have to be lanced. And indeed there may be a little lancing tomorrow. Today it's kind words and mutual compliments, but I see a steely gleam in the Hon. Frank Oliver's eye which may mean knives out at a later hour. Just now all is harmony, which the band helps by playing "Hail! Hail! the Gang's All Here," and other dulcifying tunes. Two singers add to the general concord, the one leading off "Canada" in French, and the other "God Save the King," in English.

The preliminary announcer is the Hon. Charles Murphy, who is of Irish extraction. From his hands Judge D. D. McKenzie, who is Scotch, takes over the convention, and he in turn hands in to the permanent chairmen, Premier Murray of Nova Scotia and Premier Gouin of Quebec.

Convention Etiquette.

It will be seen that the committee has done it's work well. In these manoeuvres of convention etiquette we have all the elements of a successful family re-union. I think of those groups en famille at the Chateau; the enemies of a year ago chatting over their cigars; and I can almost forget that there has been a jar.

Of course the spirit of Sir Wilfrid Laurier haunts the scene. His face beams down on this great audience from the illuminated transparency on the platform. His memory pervades. The first pious duty of the convention is to render buried Caesar his meed of praise and affection. D. D. McKenzie speaks of this greatest Liberal convention in Canada's history as carrying out Sir Wilfrid's last will and testament, and being a Highlander he cannot forbear taking a fling at those who would question our right to be here. "There were those, too," says D. D., "who questioned the right of the Lord to heal on the Sabbath." Which is countering Mr. Rowell in his own vocabulary.

The Dead Leader.

Premier Murray dilates on the virtues of the dead leader, as does Premier Gouin, each offering psalms and hosannas in his own language.

It falls to Sir Allan Aylesworth to move the resolution of regret at Sir Wilfrid Laurier's death and to the Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux to second it. Sir Allan's is the heartfelt tribute of a friend who loved the dead man as he might a brother. Sir Allan makes a good beginning on what promises to be a chaste and beautiful panegyric—falters—breaks down—starts again, but cannot continue. Tears fill his eyes. A sob trembles on his lips. He leaves the great speech unspoken and plunges into the typewritten resolution to hide his manly sorrow. That unspoken speech of Sir Allan's will go down to history as the finest tribute Laurier ever had.

Rodolphe Lemieux, having his emotions under better control, delivers a gem of classic eloquence. A gem, by the way, with sharp edges, for those who despitefully used the old chieftain.

These solemn rites performed, the convention gets down to earth and immediate business.

Platform First.

Mayor Fisher of Ottawa delivers an address of welcome which leads me to suspect that he is a Liberal trying to preserve a good average as an official welcomer. One hint he throws out—that platforms come first and leaders afterwards, and this hint I understand is the policy of the convention. The leader will have to fit the platform rather than the platform the leader. This may make a great difference in the final ballot, especially if the platform has radical trimmings. In that case I would say that Fielding's, Graham's and McKenzie's chances were that much worse and Martin's and Mackenzie King's chances that much better.

The band plays "O, Canada" again, this time with an ironical squint at our national debt of two billion dollars, with more to follow.

Eighty Years Young.

Again it draws melodious attention to the fact that the gang is all here—the north pole to the forty-ninth parellel, from the Atlantic to the Pacific and back again. Old Liberals eighty years like D. C. Bowlby of Brantford, and young Liberals forty-five years old like Mackenzie King, and all full of pep and high purpose. I see a couple of senators, who, I thought, would be picking out their shrouds by this time, but they tell me they would quit the grave to attend a Liberal convention.

An interesting fact about this convention is that the delegates are nearly all big men physically, which goes to prove that Liberal principles demand liberal accommodation. Another fact is that all these delegates, except the M.P.'s and senators who travel on passes, have come here from the far corners of Canada at their own expense. Greater love than this hath no man, that he goeth down into his pocket for five hundred dollars and three weeks' lost time to put in an appearance at the present pow-wow. The gang's all here, there can be no doubt on that point, and nine-tenths of them have paid their own freight.

Chairman Murray, having invited all privy councillors, senators, members of parliament, provincial prime ministers and, mark this distinguished inclusion, the provincial Liberal leader of Ontario, I have my first chance of giving the official light and leading of this convention the once-over in mass and in detail. I am particularly interested in the eight provincial premiers, eight actual and one potential, which makes nine, the prime exhibit of the convention and supposed-to-be the writing on the wall for those belshazzars on Parliament Hill.

Stars Come Late.

Here they are, all in a row, or nearly so. Up to now I have only seen them surrounded by their cabinet ministers, as Orion by his bands, or Saturn by his rings. Now I single them out, one by one. The stars come in late, as stars usually do, if they would make effective entrances, and as they walk up the aisle I judge by the volume of sound just how popular they are. Measuring that way I find Hartley Dewart the one premier so far potential, heading the list. He gets twice three cheers and two ferocously friendly tigers—sort of fifty-fifty ovation, half of it strong liking for Hartley and the other half something equally strong, but quite different, for Newton Wesley Rowell, which draws shrill yells from Quebec lungs.

The latest tip is that there is a boom for Dewart. Launching booms is one of the favorite indoor and outdoor sports of this convention. Nearly every visiting statesman has a boomlet all his own, but most of them are polite conversations.

The twenty-four hours of the day are now pretty well divided into booms of one kind or another, the freshest of which in the morning are those that are floated after midnight. The Dewart boom is said to be the real thing if he will let it have its own way.

A Larger Field.

There is no more reason against calling Mr. Dewart to a larger field than there was against Mr. Rowell. Ontario can't expect to keep a good man down or refuse to share him if the party wants him. At all events, there is a Dewart boom which shows that Mr. Dewart has made a hit, and if the three hundred and ninety delegates want Hartley Dewart, and the three hundred Quebec delegates, who love a winner, and the-tariff-be-damned, say so, too, it looks pretty soft for Dewart, provided Dewart is willing. But he cannot be a dark horse. He cannot come in, say, on the umty-umth ballot. The voting rules are against dark horses. They must declare themselves at the start and be in it from post to finish.

Next in the matter of cheers is Premier Murray, who might do anything with that convention if it didn't make him the third candidate from Nova Scotia. It is a proverb that two is company, three's none, and even two may be one too many when the choice is between two tried and true statesmen like Fielding and McKenzie. Both their booms suffer a little from this embarrassment of riches, and Premier Murray, robust, ruddy, jovial, but dignified, is my idea of what a good bishop ought to be. A bishop who smokes a brier pipe and has mellow views of life. Tall, rugged, careless in his dress, he is a complete contrast with his associate chairman, Premier Gouin of Quebec, meticulously tailored, snug of figure. A tight-faced little man who is abidingly serious.

Round and Rosy.

Premier Norris of Manitoba inclines to be round and rosy, while Premier Martin of Saskatchewan is tall, thin and intense. He looks more eastern than any other of the western premiers. Premier Martin also enjoys a boom which will not down, spite of protests that he is not a candidate. His friends say "just you wait, Billy, until you see the platform, then we'll attend to your case."

The west has one vote in five and of course the platform has to fit if the Martin boom is to get over. If Martin looks like a winner, Quebec will help. That goes without saying. Premier Stewart of Alberta must be over six feet two in his socks, and is an outstanding example of the natural resources of that province which were handed over by Premier Borden when there wasn't any of them left.

Premier Oliver of British Columbia, last but not least of the glorious eight, is the only premier who wears whiskers. He indulges in a full set of white ones. Other premiers may need to go bare-faced as a guarantee of good faith, but honest John, who is as open as his smile, can afford to take cover.

The candidates form a pretty full picture gallery just now, but there will be only two faces in the fade-away, George Graham's and Mackenzie King's. The last fleeting glimpse looks like George Graham.

GARDENER SAYS EFFORTS FAILED

Minneapolis Man Was Unable to Get Relief From Trouble Until He Took Tanlac.

"My efforts to find a medicine or treatment that would overcome my troubles, failed completely until I commenced taking Tanlac," said Earl O. Freeby, a well-known gardener, who lives at 705 Kenwood Parkway, Minneapolis, while talking to a Tanlac representative the other day.

"I had a bad attack of pneumonia about eighteen months ago," continued Mr. Freeby, "and up to the time I commenced taking Tanlac I had been having a pretty tough time of it ever since. For about three months after getting up from this spell I was not able to do any work at all. I finally improved to the extent that I was able to do a little work and then the 'Flu' hit me, and this just about put the finishing touch to me. Well, I managed to pull through this trouble, and after being in bed for several weeks, I was able to be up again, but my entire system was left in a terribly weak, rundown condition. I didn't have any appetite to speak of, and what little I did eat didn't seem to give me any strength or energy to get about very much, and the different medicines I took didn't seem to do me any good at all.

"I had been reading so much about Tanlac, and what it had done for so many other people, so I decided to give it a trial myself. I didn't think it was possible for anybody to improve as fast as I did after I began taking Tanlac. Why, my troubles have been completely overcome, and I am so well and strong now that I not only put in full time at my work every day, but I work in my garden at home until dark every night. I have such a big appetite that three hearty meals a day doesn't satisfy me, and I have to eat a little between meals. In fact, I just feel fine all the time and never enjoyed better general health in my life. I have induced a good many people to take Tanlac, and every one of them have been greatly benefited by it, and I certainly take pleasure in recommending it to anybody who is in a run-down condition from any cause."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, and by an established agency in every town or city.

LIBERAL PARTY MUST BE A PARTY OF THE PEOPLE AND NOT OF THE CLASSES

Dr. Beland Emphasizes Importance of Harmony in All Sections of Country—Quebec Desired To Live at Peace With Rest of Canada.

OTTAWA, Aug. 5.—At the close of the first day of the national convention of the Liberal party the question of leadership is still very much in doubt. Owing to the amount of business still to be disposed of, the vote for the leader will not take place until Thursday. Tonight it is an open field with much depending on whether or not Premier Martin of Regina decides to be a candidate. As far as one can gather from conversation with delegates from the various provinces, he appears to be the favorite. Should Mr. Martin decide not to run it is believed that there wil be a close contest between Hon. W. S. Fielding, Hon. George P. Graham and Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King.

Dr. Beland, referring to the selection of a leader, said it was well recognized that no one could think himself worthy of succeeding Sir Wilfrid Laurier. But Sir Wilfrid had left behind a political inheritance. Liberals should be actuated in the future by the great principles which were the guiding principles of his life—justice for all classes, tolerance and liberty.

Could Appreciate Liberty.

Referring briefly to his own imprisonment in Germany, Dr. Beland said that perhaps he could appreciate liberty more than anyone present. A war had been fought against autocratic power. Now the war was over, but great tasks remained, tasks which it would be futile to ignore and futile to disregard—the problem of the cost of living, of social conditions, franchise and other matters.

The speaker strongly emphasized the importance of harmony in all sections of the country. The Liberal party, he said, must be the party of the people and not the classes. As far as the Province of Quebec is concerned, its one desire was to live in peace and harmony with the rest of the country. Quebec wished to share in the government of the nation so long as this government was not based on prejudice. Party interests must not be allowed to obscure the interest of the country as a whole. Canada must come first in all considerations.

Three Hearty Cheers.

Dr. Beland was given three hearty cheers at the close of his address. Chairman Murray then announced that the various committees were now at work, so it was considered advisable to adjourn the convention until tomorrow morning at 10:30, when their reports will probably be received. The convention accordingly adjourned shortly before 6 o'clock.

The dominant note of the convention today, insofar as the speeches made were concerned, was moderation. Hon. George H. Murray and Sir Lomer Gouin, the joint chairmen of the convention, carefully avoided any criticism of Liberal-Unionists. Mr. Murray particularly emphasizing the necessity of recognizing that men who favored conscription, as well as men who were opposed to compulsory service, were entitled to have their views respected.

Brief and to Point.

Attorney-General Turgeon of Saskatchewan, who spoke briefly at the afternoon meeting, advised the convention to make its platform brief and to the point. It should deal, he thought, only with the vital questions of the day in such a way that it would be clear to everybody. He declared that a clear-cut platform with good leadership was desired by the people of the west, who are anxious to know what remedies are to be applied to the solution of present problems.

Premier Oliver of British Columbia predicted that the results of the convention would be far-reaching. Canadians had fought overseas, he said, but freedom would not be won until selfishness had been eliminated and profiteering had been stopped.

Premier-elect Bell of Prince Edward Island, who received quite an ovation, outlined the reasons for the recent Liberal victory in that province, declared that the Dominion and provincial issues were interwoven and that the result in a measure indicated the feeling of the country as a whole.

LABOR SITUATION IN BRITAIN BECOMING THREATENING AGAIN

Liverpool Remains the Centre of the Agitation.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—(By the Associated Press.) — With the Yorkshire strike still unsettled, the bakers' strike continuing, a number of minor sporadic strikes in other trades in sympathy with the smouldering discontent of the police at the failure of their strike to secure the withdrawal of the police bill, and the possibility of another big railway strike, the labor situation has again become so threatening that it is stated Arthur Henderson, the Labor leader, who is attending the Socialist conference at Lucerne, has been hurriedly summoned to London.

Liverpool was quiet today, but it remains the centre of agitation, for a strike of the dockers is now being threatened in support of the striking policemen. The executive of the dockers' union met today, and passed a resolution demanding reinstatement of the dismissed policemen, failing which they will give whole-hearted support to the police.

Another meeting of trade union organizations of all trades was convened at Liverpool tonight to consider the advisability of calling a general strike in support of the police union and to elect a strike committee. It is stated that Tom Mann, president of the workers' union, will go to Liverpool to take charge of the situation.

WOULD CHANGE BRITISH ACT WITH REFERENCE TO CANADIAN CATTLE

London, Aug. 6.—Discussing the question of admission of Canadian store cattle into Great Britain, the Morning Post's agricultural correspondent thinks legislation could reconcile justice to Canada with domestic policy here, and suggests an act of two clauses to remove an ancient sore. One clause would exempt from the act of 1896 Canadian cattle born and reared in the Dominion and leaving it for the first time by direct shipment to Britain; and the other clause would provide that nothing in the act permits the admission of Canadian store cattle except by order of the board of agriculture confirmed by both houses of Parliament.

HIGHER PRICES FOR CLOTHING NOT JUSTIFIED

Cost of Living Commissioner Issues Report on the Subject.

WOOL PRICE IS NOW UP

Canadian-Made Cloth of Excellent Quality Available at Reasonable Price.

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 5.—The cost of living commissioner makes the following report regarding woolen and worsted cloths for suitings and overcoatings:

"Following my report of June 7, the retail trade made vigorous attacks on the assertions contained therein and sought to have the cost of living committee of the House disprove the facts of the same. In the evidence brought out before the committee my assertion was fully substantiated that the Canadian manufactured cloth for suits to be sold during this fall was sold by our manufacturers this spring at prices eight to ten per cent below their previous lists. Moreover, our domestic manufacturers submitted samples of material showing that the Canadian-made goods were of very high quality and equal to many of the lines imported from England previous to the war.

"It was brought out in testimony before the committee that the three and one-half yards of the finest domestic material necessary to make a suit of clothes only amounted to $17.50 at the cloth manufacturers' prices. The goods purchased in the United States covering the same periods showed an even greater decline in price than the Canadian over the previous sales. The sole grounds for high prices offered by the retailers were the price of the goods imported from England and the increased labor charges.

Unfair Standard.

"It happens that since the war English prices have changed from the lowest to almost the highest levels. Since exports of woolens and worsteds from England have been so largely curtailed of late it is unfair to make these prices the standard by which to charge for suitings in Canada. I have been informed, even, that it is not uncommon for Canadian-made goods to be sold as material imported from Britain.

"Since my report in June on this subject there has been no warrant for increasing prices. The Canadian prices of fine wool have risen somewhat; the coarser wools have only risen slightly. The grading of our wool has improved and, as a consequence, the upper level of prices has risen these last few months, while the lower level has remained at nearly the old figure. In no case has wool in Canada advanced anything like the prices of last year, moreover the manufacturers' sales for this season's consumption were all made some time ago at the reduced prices quoted above.

"As far as the supply of raw material is concerned, no attempt was ever made to disprove the fact that Canada is better supplied with wool than ever, owing to large stocks brought in from Australia and New Zealand and accumulated in Canada for war needs. Our customs figures show that this situation has not changed since June."

WESTERN FARMERS PROTEST AGAINST $1.75 WHEAT PRICE

Demand That Canadian Growers Be Placed On Par With American Farmers.

Arden, Man., Aug. 6.—At the political organization convention of the grain growers of Nepawa district held here Monday, the nomination of a candidate was discussed, but the general feeling against linking up with others in support of a partisan nominee was expressed by resolution. The convention also went on record as opposed to the reported suggestion that the Government set the price of wheat for the 1919 crop at $1.75 as a minimum at the lakes, which we consider is not fair to the western farmer, as it is much below the value of wheat at the present time.

The resolution further placed itself on record as being "in favor of the price being set so as to place the Canadian farmer on a par with the United States farmer, and that speculation be eliminated."

A resolution was also passed favoring a bonus to returned soldiers on the basis of $2,000 for soldiers on active service from the second year of the war, with a scale for shorter periods of service, contending that the system at present in force, which, while it makes provision by the land settlement scheme for men who are in a position to go on the land, makes no equivalent provision for men who are not so situated.

WOMAN KILLED IN RUNAWAY ACCIDENT

Horse Bolts When Bridle Is Removed To Allow It To Drink.

Collingwood, Aug. 6.—Yesterday a runaway accident occurred on the 10th line of Nottawasaga Township, in which Mrs. Charles Brooks, formerly of Toronto, was killed, and her sister, Miss Katie McDermid, seriously injured. Accompanied by their cousin, Neil McEwan of Detroit, they were on their way to a church picnic, at Robroy, and stopped at a wayside trough to give the horse a drink. The bridle was removed from the horse, and immediately it bolted, upsetting the buggy and throwing the women upon the road. Mrs. Brooks received a fracture of the skull and died almost instantly, while Miss McDermid was badly cut about the head and bruised about the body. She will recover. Both women are daughters of the late Archibald McDermid, a pioneer of the township.

FIFTY RACE RIOTERS TO BE PUT ON TRIAL

Chicago, Aug. 6.—Fifty alleged race rioters will be placed on trial in October for murder, assault with intent to kill, conspiracy to riot and carrying concealed weapons, it was announced today by the state attorney. Speedier trial will be urged, it was said, but for the supreme court decision, which declares that a person charged with crime must be given "reasonable time in which to prepare a defence."

GREAT BRITAIN PLANS TO DEAL WITH PROFITEERS

Sir Auckland Geddes Announces That Central Authority Will Have Power To Investigate Methods of Unfair Dealers—Deficient Production Blamed For Certain Amount of Trouble.

London, Aug. 6.—Great Britain purposes establishing a central authority to deal with profiteering, it was announced by Sir Auckland Geddes, minister of reconstruction, at the resumption today of the hearings by the House of Commons, sitting as a select committee, to inquire into the high cost of living and profiteering.

Sir Auckland said this central authority, according to the Government's plan, would be associated with local and county tribunals. New powers would be asked for in connection with the project and an increase in penalties for violations put into effect.

Production Too Small.

At the first sitting of the committee yesterday, George H. Roberts, the food controller, set forth the difficulties of the situation in dealing with the high cost of food and other necessaries, declaring for one thing that deficient home production was responsible for some of the trouble, Great Britain not having the coal or manufactured goods to exchange for food. He advocated more severe punishment for persons found guilty of profiteering, and gave his opinion that there should be always an effective control of food prices and of supplies throughout all stages of their distribution. He said the Government was making an inquiry into possible measures for protecting the country against high prices for meat. This statement was made after he had suggested that the situation with regard to an alleged American meat combine called for international action.

PREMIER HEARST TO RETIRE IN FAVOR OF W. F. NICKLE IS RUMORED AT KINGSTON

Questioned on the Subject, Mr. Nickle Warns Interviewers Not To "Believe All You Hear on the Streets."

KINGSTON, Aug. 5. — There is a rumor here to the effect that Premier Hearst is to retire, and that W. F. Nickle, Kingston, is to succeed him. The latter was approached on the subject today and said: "Don't believe all you hear on the streets."

A. E. Ross, who is the present member for Kingston in the Ontario House, is mentioned as successor to Mr. Nickle at Ottawa. He is at present overseas, having been there since the beginning of the war, but is expected home shortly. He was elected as a Conservative for the Ontario House, and as a result of his service his name has been received with general favor. He is an ex-mayor of the city, and for many years took a prominent part in municipal affairs.

What Next?

The resignation of Mr. Nickle has stirred up things here politically. Politicians have awakened from their long sleep and are now engaged in lively gossip regarding what will happen next.

"What is the matter?" is the general question asked on all sides. Mr. Nickle had been most aggessive, independent and fearless, and his work met with the approval generally of citizens, and his dropping out has come like a bolt from the blue, as it was thought he would continue with the Union Government.

Mr. Nickle says he has served the time he intended to and that he is dropping out of political life and that is all there is to it, but in spite of this statement many anxious inquiries are being made. Discussing the matter tonight the British Whig says: "There are those who say that Gen. A. E. Ross, the sitting member in the Ontario Legislature, is the logical successor to Mr. Nickle. He is at present overseas and his friends say that he has never referred to Canadian politics since he crossed to the front. His acceptance would probably be followed by an acclamation, thus leaving a vacancy in the provincial house, for which a strong fight would probably be made."

FOUR KILLED AND MANY INJURED IN STORM THAT SWEEPS OVER OHIO, DOING $2,000,000 DAMAGE

Two Hundred Families Driven From Their Homes by Electrical Storm—Two Killed by Lightning in Youngstown—Rock Creek Basin At Tiffin Is Flooded.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 6.—Four persons known to be dead, probably six seriously wounded, property and crop damage estimated at more than two million dollars and two hundred families driven from their homes, was the toll early today of the electrical storm which swept Northern Ohio late yesterday. Three of the deaths occurred in Youngstown, where two persons were killed instantly by lightning and another electrocuted by coming into contact with a live wire. At Bellevue a boy was drowned when he was drawn into a sink pool while bathing in a flooded street. At Tiffin more than 200 homes in the Rock Creek basin were flooded and abandoned.

BRITISH AND CZECHO-SLOVAKS ARE ON THE WAY TO BUDAPEST

EMBARGOES PLACED ON U. S. RAILWAYS BECAUSE OF STRIKE

Walkout of Shopmen in Many States Is Interfering With Traffic.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—Effects on traffic of the strike of federated railroad shopmen which started last Friday were seen today in the embargo placed by several lines in the southwest on all freight shipments except carload lots of live stock and perishable goods. Accessions to the ranks of the strikers would lead additional lines to place embargoes on traffic.

Investigation of the manner in which the strike was called is under way today by W. A. Milroy, assistant United States district attorney.

"The district council which called the strike was formed here during the conference between the general director of railroads and the union officials at Washington," said Mr. Milroy. "It was the policy of the union officials to have the men remain at work pending the adjustment of the differences. The district council of railroad shopmen had no authority to call the strike, the testimony already taken shows.

"Responsible union men have complained to the Government and we are conducting an examination to determine who is responsible for the interference with Government arbitration and with the operation of the railroads under federal administration."

SATURNIA TO DOCK AT MONTREAL ON THURSDAY MORNING

Montreal, Aug. 6. — The Saturnia passed Cape Magdalen at 2:30 p.m. yesterday and is expected at Quebec today about noon. If, as is expected, it gets away at 4 o'clock, it will dock here tomorrow morning around 7 o'clock.

The Cassandra, which is being refitted up, will be leaving Glasgow at an early date, and her next sailing from Montreal is fixed for the 23rd of August.

RAISE PASTOR'S SALARY.

WATFORD, Aug. 5.—The quarterly board of the Watford Methodist Church at their regular meeting increased the salary of the pastor, Rev. A. C. Tiffin, by $200, bringing it up to $1,500. This is the third time they have increased the salary in the past two years. They are planning for special evangelistic services during the autumn or winter.

CHARGE VIOLATION OF LORD'S DAY ACT BY AYLMER FIRM

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 5.—A charge has been laid against the Carnation Milk Company of Aylmer, in which it is alleged that the defendant company unlawfully received milk at the condenser on the Sabbath, and in this way violated the Lord's Day act. The case, which promises to be one of the most interesting in years, is to be heard before County Magistrate Hunt on August 18. Authorization for the prosecution has been obtained from the attorney-general, as this is probably the first case of its kind to come before the courts.

Senator Lynch Staunton, K.C., of Hamilton, will, it is stated, defend the Aylmer Company, while Crown Attorney McCrimmon will prosecute. The whole countryside is interested in the result, owing to the fact that many prominent farmers are large patrons of the condenser, and they claim that they are bound to deliver milk there on Sunday or suffer a heavy loss.

POLICE STRIKE IN BRITAIN SAID TO BE PART OF CONSPIRACY

Believed That Signal Would Have Meant Action on Vast Scale.

London, Aug. 6.—This afternoon's London newspapers make a feature of a statement printed in the Times this morning to the effect that it was understood the British authorities were convinced that the present strikes were part of a conspiracy organized abroad to subvert Great Britain's system of government.

The statement added that the Government believed that if the police strike had succeeded it would have been the signal for "direct action" on a vast scale.

APPEAL DISMISSED

Action on Behalf of Mennonites Is Thrown Out By Court.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 6.—Taking the view that the provincial and not the Dominion Government has jurisdiction in educational matters in this province, and that the school attendance act can be applied to Mennonites, the court of appeals without hearing counsel for the province decided to dismiss an appeal brought on behalf of the Mennonites against its convictions of violating the school attendance act. The decision will be issued in writing at an early date.

It is understood that the case will be taken to the privy council.

U. S. RAILROAD SITUATION IS MORE SERIOUS

Threat of Strike Continues To Spread Throughout the Country.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 5.—The threat of a railroad strike continues to spread throughout the country despite the efforts of the organized labor heads to hold the men in check until authoritative and official strike votes can be taken.

Shopmen everywhere throwing down their tools in premature strike, it was reported, were threatening national industry because without them the railroads' equipment cannot be kept in usable order at the most necessary of all times—crop-moving season.

Above that, however, is the threat of an even more serious labor situation, the demand of all organized railroad industry that the profits of the business be overhauled to retire private capital and create a new partite control.

Reports began coming in today, saying that unless railroad equipment can be kept in running order, mills, mines, and factories will be threatened with closing. It was reported that there are more than 200,000 cars now out of commission.

Businessmen Opposed.

Formal announcement was made tonight on the final tabulations in the referendum conducted among businessmen by the chamber of commerce of the United States on the question of government ownership of railroads. More than 99 per cent of the vote, the official announcement said, was against it.

Meanwhile threats of hundreds of thousand of railroad employees to go on strike to force higher wages to meet the high cost of living were reiterated. From many parts of the country today came reports that striking shopmen refused to return to work, despite the fact that their action was denounced as illegal by the executive council of the six shop crafts. Strike ballots were mailed from the American Federation of Labor for taking an official vote as to whether the 500,000 shopmen shall walk out to obtain their demands and express their disapproval of President Wilson's reference of the railway wage question to Congress. Demands are also being made by 450,000 freight clerks, freight handlers and station employees. Director-General Hines was to have discussed their case today, but other business interfered and the conference will be held tomorrow.

5,000,000 LABOR MEN BACKING SIMS BILL

Chief of B. of L. E. Outlines Attitude of Members of Strong Organization.

INDUSTRIAL FREEDOM

Organized Labor Advocates Public Ownership and Private Operation of Railways.

Washington, Aug. 6.—Labor now demands that America become the home of industrial freedom as it has become a land of political freedom. Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, said today, in appearing before the House interstate commerce commission in support of organized labor's plans for public ownership and private operation of the railroads. Declaring that American democracy was controlled by an autocracy in industry, Mr. Stone argued that there could be no solution and no lowering of the cost of living as long as consumers had to pay extortionate profits on their own earnings in purchasing the necessaries of life. Labor's belief in the Sims bill, embodying the railroad employees' plan for the solution of the railroad problem, was declared by Mr. Stone to be profound. In this plan, he said, the workers raised the banner of democracy in control of industry and advanced "to a new crusade with the faith of the pilgrims."

"At the request of these organizations (the Railroad Brotherhood) the Sims bill is now before you," said Mr. Stone. "I speak as the voice of these two million men, delegated by them to announce to this committee and to the people of this country that they are supporting this measure with all the strength and all the unity of purpose that can move so large a body of citizens.

"Joined with us, and represented by Frank Morrison, is the American Federation of Labor, adding three million and a half men to that body of railroad employees who instituted this movement."

HUNGARY SITUATION TAKES UP TIME OF SUPREME COUNCIL

PARIS, Aug. 5.—The supreme council devoted most of its time today to a discussion of the Hungarian situation. Instructions were framed for the Inter-Allied military mission in Budapest, which is ordered to effect a withdrawal of the Rumanians from the Hungarian capital as soon as possible after the Hungarian red guard is disarmed. A copy of these instructions has been forwarded to Serbia and Rumania and the Serbian army has been requested to cease its advance on Buda Pest.

M. Venizelos, the Greek premier, appeared before the supreme council today and discussed the Bulgarian boundary. No action on this question was taken.

ELGIN COUNTY LIBS LEAVE FOR OTTAWA REFORM CONVENTION

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 5.—Representatives from Elgin County have left for the big Liberal convention at Ottawa, and if numbers mean strength, then Elgin is most decidedly well represented. J. E. Nelson, president of the St. Thomas Liberal Club, and Mrs. R. W. Ball, president of the ladies' organization, will represent this city, with Mrs. C. H. Watters of Leamington, formerly of this city, who was desirous of going, although not a resident. Outside districts are to be represented by ex-Reeve J. B. Ferguson of West Lorne and president of the West Elgin Association; ex-Reeve William Tolmie of Aldborough, the former Dominion House candidate; W. G. Charlton of Aylmer; Dr. F. H. Miller and E. Miller of Aylmer.

The candidate for East Elgin in the coming provincial election, W. H. Mills, of Sparta, deputy reeve of Yarmouth, was chosen at Toronto as one of the provincial representatives, so that he will attend regardless of any local action. Elgin County Liberals were never as enthusiastic as they are at the present time. They have imbibed a new determination which promises to cause trouble for the Tories and Unionists in any future campaigns.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

Thomson & McKinnon, brokers, Royal Bank Building, report fluctuations in New York stocks for The Advertiser as follows:

New York, Aug. 6.

EIGHTY-SEVEN YEARS ST. THOMAS RESIDENT DIES; ILLNESS BRIEF

Rifle Association Reports Loss of Quantity of Material From Ranges.

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 5.—Levi Adam Laur, a life-long and respected resident of Aylmer, passed away at his late home there in his 87th year today. The deceased had only been ill a few days and his death is deeply regretted by all his friends. He is survived by his widow, two daughters and two sons, as follow: Mrs. A. W. Pierce, Aylmer; Mrs. John Caron, Malahide; Dr. F. C. Laur, Wisconsin; S. Norman Laur, Niagara Falls, and two brothers, Andrew of Malahide, and James of Courtright. The funeral is to be held on Wednesday afternoon to Aylmer Cemetery.

THIEVES AT RIFLE RANGE.

The St. Thomas Rifle Association reports the loss of a quantity of material from the local ranges, just outside the city. This is the second occasion on which vandals have broken into the premises and stolen a quantity of the property of the association. New targets that had been purchased for the purpose of entering the Ontario Rifle Association's shoot in Toronto on August 19 and 22, were destroyed. A reward of $25 is offered by Capt. R. J. Miller of the club for the apprehension and conviction of the guilty parties.

MANUFACTURERS ASK PERMANENT BOARD TO STUDY TARIFF

OTTAWA, Aug. 5.—A delegation of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association composed of representatives from Montreal, Toronto, Hamilton, Windsor, Ottawa, Quebec and London, waited this morning on the prime minister, the minister of finance and the minister of trade and commerce, and presented resolutions passed at the last annual meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association. They urged the Government to appoint a permanent tariff board to make a scientific study of the Canadian customs tariff and the tariffs of other countries with whose products Canadian producers are forced to compete, and to investigate the nature and probable national effect of all requests for tariff changes, and endeavor to frame a tariff that will serve the best interests of Canada.

Another resolution petitioned the Government to exercise its influence to hasten the adoption throughout the Empire of substantial customs preferences for empire products corresponding with the preferences now existing in the customs tariff of Canada.

EXCESSIVE PROFITS DEMANDED FROM PACKER TO RETAILER HAS CAUSED HIGH PRICE OF SHOES

U. S. Federal Trade Commission's Report of Investigation Is Made Public Today—Tanners and Manufacturers Have Taken Unwarranted Margins, Declares the Commission.

Washington, Aug. 6.—The high price of shoes was declared to be due to excessive profits taken by every factor in the shoe production industry in a report by the federal trade commission to Congress made public today. The packers were charged with having begun the pyramiding of shoe prices by an unwarranted increase in the price of hides, the supply of which they were said to control. On top of this increase it was charged, the tanners have taken "exceptional profits," while the shoe manufacturers have demanded an unusual margin and the retailers have charged prices that are "not justifiable."

The commission's report covering the four-year period from 1914 to 1918, is the result of an exhaustive inquiry into the price of hides, leather and shoes begun more than a year ago, it was said.

Made Unwarranted Increases.

It has been in the president's hands for some time and it is understood that he urged its speedy printing and transmittal to Congress in connection with efforts of the Government to combat the high cost of living.

To show that the packers during the last four years have made unwarranted increases in the price of "packer" hides, the report pointed out that the price differential between their hides and country hides—hides of a lower grade—has increased "far beyond the usual proportion." Charges of excessive profits against the tanner and the shoe manufacturer were said to be supported by "the high rates of return on investments" in both industries following the price increases.

"The public," said the report, "had to pay for shoes that not only could not be justified, because retail shoe dealers took too much profits, but because the dealer had to pass on to the consumer the excessive profits received by butchers for hides and also the excessive profits of tanners and shoe manufacturers."

POTATOES FAILURE IN MELBOURNE DISTRICT

MELBOURNE, Aug. 5.—The funeral of Amos Carter was held from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. William Tanner, of this place. Mr. Carter was visiting at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William Jones, at Straffordville, and was apparently in his usual health when he was stricken suddenly, and death followed immediately. He was in his 76th year, and is survived by one son, James Carter of Montreal, and three daughters, Mrs. William Jones of Straffordville, Mrs. William Young of Toronto and Mrs. William Tanner of this place.

The funeral services were conducted by Elder E. B. Slausen of St. Thomas, and interment was made in Longwood Cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. George Sponenburg was held from the family residence to Longwood Cemetery on Saturday, August 2. Mrs. Sponenburg had been in ill-health for the past three months, but death came suddenly, and as a great blow to the family. She was in her 55th year, and was a member of the Presbyterian Church here and a staunch member of Anna Rebekah Lodge of this place, and will be greatly missed in both circles. She is survived by four sons and two daughters, namely, Earl of St. Thomas, Carl of Texas, Frank and Ira James, who have recently returned from overseas, and Mrs. Bennett of Strathroy and Grace at home.

Rev. Mr. Stuart and Rev. Mr. Elder conducted the services at the house and Anna Rebekah Lodge at the grave. This is the first break in the lodge here.

The farmers in this locality are busy harvesting their oats. Some have threshed their wheat, and it is only a fair sample and turning out about twenty bushels to the acre, while potatoes are a failure.

BURIED AT DELMER.

TILLSONBURG, Aug. 5.—The funeral of Thomas Hewer, who died in his 77th year at the family home on Harvey street, Friday, after many months of illness, was held yesterday afternoon to the Delmer Cemetery for interment. The deceased was a pioneer farmer of Dereham and retired from the farm a few years ago. The funeral was largely attended and the floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. Besides his widow he leaves one unmarried daughter, Marguerite, at home, three married daughters, Mrs. B. Hatch of Ingersoll; Mrs. H. A. Bingham of Woodstock, and Mrs. C. Charlton of Springfield, also one married son, Lieut. V. Hewer, who recently returned from overseas. The funeral services were conducted by Revs. Veal and Waldron. The pallbearers were: F. Simmons, D. Bucknall, J. Hewer, Wm. Hewer and John R. Hewer, J. Hewer.

Tremendous Strength

That's the important feature of Dodge Wood-Split Pulleys.

They may be run at terrific speeds without danger of bursting. There are:

No keys to fit.

No set screws to work loose.

Their balance is perfect.

Their surface provides a greater adhesion than metal, consequently there is less belt slippage.

And they are lighter than metal pulleys—so there is less weight friction.

By actual test Dodge Wood-Split Pulleys average 50% greater efficiency in operation than metal pulleys. At the present price of coal, that saving alone is sufficient to warrant using them.

Our local stockers carry standard sizes, and will wire orders for pulleys of special dimensions.

Now For The Leader

The Liberal convention, now in full swing, is a spectacular gathering. Today comes up the great question of the leadership, for which there is no lack of powerful candidates. Never since 1867, not even in the time when the "exodus" was at its height, nor even in the day of the Pacific scandal, has the political situation in Canada been so anxious. The delegates in the huge convention are filled with an earnest enthusiasm for the duty of framing a platform that will be sharply advanced, no ambiguous or milk-and-water pronouncement, but still not rashly progressive, a fair platform for west and east, for all the widespread interests of the Canadian people. They know that the leader must be a man to hold such a platform.

It is not in a party spirit that the convention has met, rather in a national spirit. There is a feeling all over the land, which is strongly reflected in the delegates, that it is a people's party that must pull down the profiteers from the seats of power. The Liberal party has always aimed to champion the rights of the common masses against family compacts, all sorts of combines, all forms of secret conspiracies in "red parlors" or in magnates' rings to do the general public. More than ever today Liberalism resolves itself altogether into nationalism in the highest sense, a fight by all sections of the Canadian people against the wire-entangled, machine-gunned nest of privilege. And the leader will have to be as big and broad and progressive as the spirit of the convention. All we want is a true Canadian, big in mind and sympathies, such as were Mackenzie, Blake and Laurier. As we want him, we shall find him, through the vote of the delegates.

All over the land goes up a cry for the removal of tariff iniquities, for enforcement of the income and excess profits taxes, prosecution of combines, settlement of labor questions, taxation of government bonds, control of cold-storage, etc. The delegates feel themselves bound as representatives of the people at large to satisfy these demands in the best way possible, so far as a well-considered platform and an outstanding leader of men can do.

A New Alignment

In England the Coalition Government of Lloyd George is not satisfying the labor element, and by its unwieldy weight, as well as under stress of repeated by-election defeats, it shows a tendency to break into two or three sections.

The old die-hard Tories who got in last December in strong force, dressed in Lloyd George's colors, do not follow him in his policy of social reform. Labor sees clearly that the premier's task of fulfilling his promises is being held up by the old gang. The Sankey report favoring nationalization of mines seems to be as unpopular with a mass of coalition M. P.'s as rain at a picnic. Labor, therefore, threatens "direct action" if the sluggish delay of the Government on this matter is too long prolonged by the blocking coalitionists.

Hence a number of the more progressive, or more flexible and wideawake of the governmentals are said to be forming a "centre party" for the purpose of furthering the reforms seen to be absolutely essential, while at the same time steadying legislation and supporting the premier against revolutionary attempts. Within this party of the Government's forces there will certainly be give and take, a harmonizing of smaller differences in an agreement on main lines. It is an effort to solidify the elements of the coalition that are worth solidifying, in the old British spirit of progress without hurry.

An Example For Ottawa

The United States Government has started out to slash prices and put the boot to the profiteer after a fashion that promises success. The high cost of living has been placed above every other problem at Washington and a nation-wide drive to bring relief and allay unrest is underway. If when Uncle Sam gets through his investigation prices are not brought to a lower level throughout the United States it will be because such an achievement is impossible by government action. Experts are being called in to tackle the job of discovering where rests the blame for the soaring figures that, according to labor leaders, are driving the people to explosions that will be near-revolutionary, to put it mildly. The American Government, however, is not waiting for this report before acting. Surplus army foodstuffs, principally canned goods, to the value of $120,000,000, have been put on the market for purchase by municipalities. Any amount can be purchased on a thirty-day payment basis. Even the individual may order a single can of vegetables for instance. No prices have yet been announced, but they will be placed so far below the average retail figure that plus the postage or cost of transportation they will still be considerably below market prices.

The necessity and clamor for relief is as great, if not greater, in Canada as it is across the border, but Canada is helpless under a government that from timidity or indifference, or both, will not take any direct action in this supremely vital matter. Instead of a vigorous attempt to ameliorate the conditions which are responsible for our labor troubles and general discord and discontent, the public is told that it is the guilty party, and the profiteer is congratulated for the efficient manner in which his business is conducted.

The Union Government has been parroting Washington off and on for five years, but in this matter of war on high prices it is too much to expect it to run true to form. Nothing but a dynamite charge of public expression will jar Ottawa into an actual courageous campaign to bring prices down.

R. R. Board's New Head

The acceptance of the chairmanship of the Railway Commission by the Hon. F. B. Carvell is welcome news. Mr. Carvell made good as minister of public works, and he will make good in his new position. He will do more good for Canada as head of the railway board than he would as chief justice of New Brunswick.

Mr. Carvell has always taken a deep personal interest in the work under him. He reaches correct conclusions quickly. This was shown by his decision to improve Port Stanley harbor and by the plans already prepared to erect a joint post-office and custom house at London. His experience in the department of public works will fit in well with his new position. He is exceptionally well qualified to be chairman of the Railway Commission by reason of his experience and his views on railway administration. Public control, but not public ownership, we believe is his motto, as it was that of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

It will be necessary to secure and hold the best men in high positions. Mr. Carvell being a good lawyer will direct the work under him according to sound principles. He has strong common sense, is easily approached and will treat everyone coming before him with the greatest consideration. He will not be the tool of anyone, but will bring good judgment and fair play to all decisions.

The railways of the future as well as the present hold questions of the first magnitude. When Mr. Carvell has taken the position of chairman of the commission it is a guarantee that the interests of the country will be in the keeping of one who will act justly towards all and bring a mind strengthened and perfected by experience to the discharge of his duties.

International Law and League of Nations

In May last in Paris President Wilson addressed the International Law Society Association. It is to be hoped the thoughts he then expressed can be realized by the adoption by the United States of the league of nations covenant.

At the outset he declared that the spirit of the United States was liberty, and that they were prepared to cast in their lot in common with those whose liberty is threatened.

> "What I have tried to do, and what I have said in speaking for America, was to speak the mind of America, to speak the impulse and the principles of America, and the only proof I have of my success is that the spirit of America responded—responded without stint or limit—and proved that it was ready to do that thing which I was privileged to call upon it to do."

When speaking of international law he referred to the great importance it would be to the world in future. Heretofore it had been understood by lawyers only, and while there was no machinery to enforce it, it still had behind it "the moral rectitude of mankind." Lawyers like definite lines. They like charted seas, and if they have no charts, hardly venture to undertake the voyage.

It is clear how firmly he believes in the league of nations. He says:

> "Now, we must venture upon uncharted seas, to some extent in the future. In the new league of nations we are starting out on uncharted seas, and, therefore, we must have, I will not say the audacity, but the steadiness of purpose, which is novel in such circumstances, and we must not be afraid of new things, at the same time that we must not be intolerant of old things. We must weave out of the old materials the new garments which it is necessary that men should wear."

In these conclusions he discloses the mind of the true reformer, as Whittier puts it:

> "'Twas but the ruin of the bad,—
> The wasting of the wrong and ill,
> Whate'er of good the old time had
> Was living still."

He concludes his speech by an eloquent reference to the brotherhood of man:

> "The heart of the world is at very simple firesides, the heart of the world is in very humble circumstances.
>
> "To live and let live, to work for people and with people, is at the bottom of the kind of experience which must underlie justice.
>
> "In a sense, the old enterprise of national law is played out. I mean that the future of mankind depends more upon the relations of nations to one another, more upon the realization of the common brotherhood of mankind than upon the separate and selfish development of national systems of law; so that the men who can, if I may express it so, think without language, think the common thoughts of humanity, are the men who will be the most serviceable in the future.
>
> "God grant that there may be many of them, that many men may see this hope, and wish to advance it, and that the plain men everywhere may know that there is no language of society in which he has no brothers or co-laborers, in order to reach the great ends of equity and of high justice."

The president has the heart of the true democrat and it is to be hoped the views he so well expressed will be realized and that America will respond and do "that thing which he has been privileged to call upon it to do."

Let the United States join the league of nations and do its part to maintain the peace of the world.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

One of the first tasks of the league of nations should be to attend to that plague of the nations—the profiteer.

That Chicago labor leader who consigned the public to hell should be referred to recent happenings in Seattle and Winnipeg.

Bonar Law announces that the Dominions will have nothing to do with settling the Irish problem. This is good news. Ireland's trouble would too quickly become a political issue in this country, launching endless hostilities and antagonisms.

Bernhardi says Germany will win the next war because there will be 80,000,000 Teutons against 40,000,000 Englishmen. He forgets that 8,000,000 Canadians can take care of 40,000,000 Huns.

THE BIG HOPE.
(By Laura Drew.)

Lindley had been in New York four weeks before it dawned on him that his capital was dwindling to a few dollars, and nobody seemed to appreciate the value of his presence there in a business way.

He had been so accustomed to the way people regarded him up home it had been a distinct shock to be overlooked. In Saginaw his father was the old lumber king, Jackson Lindley. His boats were leaders in lake shipping, his name a power in state politics and he had just one son to slip into his place.

The trouble was that son had inherited the temperament and looks of his mother, Nanon Sevrier, a French-Canadian girl from the straits, whose dark eyes and capricious ways had drawn the silent Yankee lumberjack to her back in the early days in the northern forests.

Lindley had come out of Ann Arbor with a new viewpoint and the wanderlust. His love affair with Bab Wellesley had been a natural result. She was with a little musical comedy company that happened to strike Saginaw on its route up the lake, and to Lindley she was the personification of the New York world he longed to see and be a part of. In his Senior way he had tried to meet her and make her four-day stay a whirlwind memory, but the trouble was you couldn't find the makings of a whirlwind in Saginaw. At the end of the motor trips and little suppers after the show Bab said good-bye.

"You're an awfully nice kid, Lind. If you ever hit New York you'd get along great, if you'd keep your head and not be like they are down there."

He had asked what she meant, and she had only shrugged her shoulders. Nothing, she had said, only nobody cared about anybody else down there. They weren't neighborly, they just didn't care whether you lived or died, even if you happened to be next door to them.

"You'll know what I mean if you ever go there," she added.

Now he knew. He had moved from the McAlpin into a little furnished room on a side street. Not that he had to. He could have wired home for money, but he wanted to show the old man he could stand on his own and make good. There was nobody in the rooming house who ever spoke to him excepting the old Irish woman who came to clean up his room.

But when he passed in and out he often saw a girl at the telephone in the lower hall. She attracted him oddly, because she seemed like one of the girls back home. She was rather little, with big, earnest eyes and dark hair worn simply. She had the front hall room, he knew, and seemed to go her way with a happy independence that interested him immensely.

"She's a fine little lady," Nora told him, as she ran the carpet sweeper nonchalantly hither to yon. "Her name is Miss Donald, and that's all I know, but she's very talented, Mr. Lindley. You should hear her sing. Sure, she can trill just like a bird and better."

By the end of the second week he found himself watching for her every day. She was the only person in New York he wanted to know, and she passed him in the hall quite as if she did not ever see him.

Then one night he was wakened by the smarting sensation in his throat, and he opened his eyes to find himself in a grey cloud. There was no light in his room except from the transom. He tried to draw his breath, choked heavily and wrapped the blanket about his mouth and nostrils as he struggled to the window and threw it wide.

From the basement windows the smoke was pouring out thickly. A man passed in the falling snow, and he hailed him, telling him to turn in the alarm at the corner while he roused the rest of the house. He tried as he made his way through the smoke-filled halls to remember the people in the rooms above, but on the third landing Miss Donald met him, and she was wrapped in a long grey cloak, the fur collar turned up. Some way in the unreality of the moment he thought she was like a spirit of the smoke that curled around her.

"I've called them all," she told him quietly. "It is just the furnace. There isn't any real danger of fire. Nora forgot to open the drafts before she went to bed, and the house is filled with coal gas and smoke. It's all right now. She went down to fix it. There's somebody pounding on the basement door."

It was a patrolman. Lindley let him in, and after inspecting Nora and the furnace he went away.

"I feel pretty foolish losing my head over that little thing," said Lindley, standing in the low hall and looking up at her. "You were mighty brave."

"When there's so much smoke there isn't much flame, Mr. Lindley," she said seriously.

"How did you know my name? I didn't think anybody in New York knew their neighbor's names even," he told her.

She laughed and hesitated.

"You see, I know someone who knows you, Bab Wellesley. She's in the same show I am this season up at the Jardin des Fleurs, a roof show, you know. I'm from the West, too, Omaha, and we're friends. She was down here to see me and recognized you as you came through the hall, but you didn't seem to remember her. But I know all about you, and I've wanted to talk to you so much and tell you to go back home."

"Go back?" he repeated. "Why?"

"Before you lose your big hope. Bab wanted to be the new Marlowe, and I thought I would be at the opera in a year, and here we are up there at the Jardin, and glad to get the engagement too. She's going home, too. I would too if I had any to go to, but my mother's dead and my father's married again, so I'm not wanted."

At the end of three months old Jackson Lindley landed in New York to look up his "one and only," as he told Nora when she led him into the old red brick house. And Nora broke the news to him confidentially and jubilantly.

"Sure, he was the finest young man ever lived here, and that free, too, with his small change to a body who needs it. And she was so pretty, sir, you would have loved her yourself. And it was just like Cinderella, for one day they went away together, and came back in a big new limousine, and there she sat, dressed like the best of them, and her little new ring on her hand, and the smile of her——"

Nora's hands lifted rapturously. Lindley looked at the telegram he had found forwarded to him. Nora had interpreted it for him.

"I've found the big hope. Expect us home 15th. DAVE."

German honor has been carried to the grave, according to a Berlin paper. And the paper might have added that the corpse did not require a very big coffin.

GEN. BYNG FOR CANADA.

[London Evening Standard.]

Now that the Duke of Devonshire's tenure as governor-general of Canada is coming to a close, Canadians are turning their thoughts to the selection of a successor. There is a growing feeling, I hear, that the choice should fall on Gen. Sir Julian Byng, who as commander of the Canadian Corps endeared himself to all Canadians.

THE SEA QUEEN WAKES.

She wakes! in the furthest West the murmur has reached our ears.
She wakes! in the furthest East the Russian listens and fears.
She wakes! the ravens clamor, the winds cry overhead;
The wandering waves take up the cry, "She wakes, whom nations dread!"

She calls, and Her ships of battle—dragons Her seas have bred—
Glide into Plymouth harbor, and gather round Beachy Head.
She wakes! and the clang of arming echoes through all the Earth,
The ring of warrior's weapons, stern music of soldiers' mirth.

In the world there be many nations, and there gathers round every Throne
The strength of earth-born armies, but the sea is England's own.
As she ruled, She still shall rule it, from Plymouth to Esquimalt,
As long as the winds are tameless—as long as the waves are salt.

This may be our Armageddon; seas may purple with blood and flame
As we go to our rest for ever, leaving the world a name,
What matter? There have been none like us, nor any to tame our pride:
If we fail, we shall fall as they fell, die as our Fathers died—

What better? The seas that bred shall rock us to rest at last,
If we sink with the Jack still flying,
nailed to the Nation's mast.

AMERICA AND THE PRINCE.

[New York Times.]

The Prince of Wales, after a visit to Canada in August, will be the guest of the American Government at Washington upon Mr. Wilson's invitation, and will afterwards stay in this city for a short time. Here, doubtless to the disappointment of many amiable Mrs. Leo Hunters, he will live on a British naval vessel. Fifty-nine years ago his grandfather, the then Prince of Wales, traveled in the United States under the guardianship of the Duke of Newcastle and the name of "Lord Renfrew." The then rather unformed youth of nineteen was to develop into the accomplished man of the world, the mirror of tact, the able and quietly influential statesman whom the world learned to know and admire as Edward VII.

Vastly different are the relations between the United States and Great Britain, wonderfully transformed is the general American feeling toward Great Britain, since then. The cardinal work of the British navy through the war, the unfailing heroism and dogged resolution of the British army through all discouragements and disasters, the fact that American and British soldiers have fought together side by side and in the same great cause, have removed the ancient prejudices and grudges from the hearts of Americans. The co-operation of the two great democracies in war is felt to be a promise of their cordial co-operation in the long peace for which the world hopes. They have stood together for freedom and democracy. They must stand together for the maintenance of freedom and democracy.

The young Prince of Wales has the reputation of a brave, modest and democratic young man. He comes to us, however, rather as a symbol than as a person, though both for himself and as the son of his democratic father, George V., whom Americans respect and like, he would be more than amply welcome. He comes not as the representative of a family, nor of a sovereign who is himself but a symbol of the sovereign Parliament and people of Great Britain. In him the Government and people of the United States will honor that mighty people and nation wherefrom the traditions and foundations of our liberties, our law and representative institutions sprang, in all the course of its splendid history never so great and so heroic as in its desperate battle with Germany. They will honor our gallant comrade in that battle wherein it made sacrifices far exceeding ours, our friend, our honorable competitor and associate in the arts and works of peace, a fellow guardian of the peace of the world.

What You Can Do To Beautify Your Shoulders

By Lucrezia Bori, The Famous Spanish Prima Donna.

Beautiful shoulders are important features of a symmetrical body. The perfection of your shoulders depends upon your carriage and upon the development of your chest, and the manner in which you carry your arms.

Exercise for developing your shoulders and chest will be found beneficial, not only as a means for beautifying the external muscles, but also as a method of strengthening and increasing the power of your lungs, upon whose action depends your physical well-being and beauty to such a large extent.

Your shoulders can be beautified best by exercising your arms, because the muscles that move your arms at the shoulder joints are located not in your arms, but in your shoulders. The muscles that move your arms at the elbows are in your arm between the shoulder and elbow, while the muscles in your forearms are employed to move your hand and wrist.

Standing erect, with your chest well forward, reach your arms out directly in front of you, with your hands clenched and your palms turned upward. Draw your arms backward as far as possibly, bending your elbows and keeping them just as close to your sides as you can. Repeat this exercise ten times. During this exercise keep your chest as far forward as possible, and as your elbows come backward take a full breath. Breathe out as you send yours arms forward.

Next, raise your arms and stretch them high above your head. You will find that this position raises your chest and arches your back. Slowly bend your arms at the elbows, bringing them down until your hands are in line with your shoulder tips.

Always keep your elbows back as far as possible. At any time of the day when you find your carriage incorrect or slouchy, go over this exercise. It is not only fine for your carriage, but is also good for overcoming round shoulders.

Stand with your hands naturally at your sides. Take a pair of light flat-irons or dumb-bells and bring your hands up backward as far as possible. The repetition of this exercise will reduce the flesh on your shoulders and back.

If you will tilt your body forward while performing this exercise, at the same time throwing your chest up as far as possible, it will help develop your chest walls and improve your carriage.

Next, stand erect, holding your dumb-bells or flatirons with your arms down at your sides. Bend your right arm sharply until the weight touches your shoulder. Then while your right hand is descending bring your left arm up in the same way. This exercise develops the front part of your upper arm.

With your dumb-bells or flatirons in each hand, bring them up until the weights touch your shoulders. Then push upwards with your right hand until it is extended at full length over your head. While this hand is descending push upward with your left hand. This exercise develops the back part of your upper arm.

KITCHEN ECONOMIES

By Isobel Brands, of the Applecroft Experiment Station.

For the quick home luncheon what is more satisfying than the omelet dish? It can be made sweet, pungent, light for the mild appetite or blended with cheese or fish or some other substantial food so that it is solid enough even for the outdoor worker.

There are two kinds of omelets.

One is the so-called plain omelet, which we know as a light, fluffy affair, and in which the white of eggs and yolks are beaten separately and finally folded together.

The second type of omelet, in which the whites and yolks are beaten together.

Plain Ometlet.

4 eggs.
4 tablespoonfuls of water.
2 tablespoonfuls of butter.
½ teaspoonful of salt.
¼ teaspoonful of pepper.
Dash of paprika.

Separate the whites and yolks of the eggs and beat each well. Add the seasonings to the yolks and fold in the whites. Heat the butter in the omelet pan and cook the egg mixture slowly a few minutes. As soon as it sets lift it up and let more of egg mixture run next the pan. When almost cooked fold over and brown on both sides. Serve at once.

If the omelet is to have a filling of jelly or minced chicken or ham or other foods this should be poured over the omelet before it is folded. Jelly is simply spread on the omelet, but minced chicken or minced meat of any kind, oysters, shrimps or other foods should first be moistened with a little cream sauce and then spread over the omelet. If put in without this they are hard when finally cooked.

For a sweet omelet less salt should be used and no pepper, and a little powdered sugar may be mixed with the omelet before cooking.

The second type of omelet is made after practically the same directions, except that the yolks and whites are beaten together and, naturally, this is not so puffy or large an omelet. It is more quickly prepared, however, and like the other may be served with a variety of other foods to give it additional substance.

If cheese is to be added, sprinkle grated cheese over the omelet just before folding, cook less than a minute, for the heat of the omelet will quickly melt the cheese, and if cooked too long it will become tough and inedible.

Using Vegetables.

Leftover vegetables may be mixed with a little cream sauce and used as the stuffing of either of these types of omelet.

Or, if desired, the additional foods may be cooked as a separate sauce to be poured over the plain omelet. This can be handled more easily and makes it possible to serve more of the additional dressing than if the omelet is stuffed with it. A piquant sauce is made by frying together onion, tomato, green peppers, and, if possible, a few minced mushrooms either fresh or canned. Minced ham, chicken, chicken liver, fried bacon can be made into a delicious sauce by mixing with the ordinary cream sauce and then pouring hot over the omelet.

Another delicious dish is tomatoes and omelet, prepared by frying thick slices of tomato in butter and then placing around the hot omelet. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and garnish with a few sprays of parsley.

Good Night Stories

By Blanche Seivel

"Oh, dear!" exclaimed Peggy one morning as she tumbled out of bed and ran to look out the widow. "It's going to rain, and we can't have our picnic!"

"How do you know it's going to rain?" asked a merry voice, and Happy Giggles, the elfin from Makebelieve Land, hopped upon the window sill beside Peggy.

"Why, because it's cloudy, of course," replied Peggy, pointing to the grey sky. "Besides, it always rains when I plan to have a picnic."

"Now you hurry and dress, and I'll show you something out in the yard," laughed Happy Giggles.

Peggy—who loved nothing better than an adventure with Happy Giggles—quickly put on her shoes and stockings and her pretty clean apron and her bright red bonnet.

"I just can't imagine what it can be!" she laughed. "I've seen most everything out in our yard."

"Not these little fellows," replied Happy Giggles. "They came in the night while you were asleep and pitched their tents in your front yard."

"Pitched their tents!" exclaimed Peggy. "Oh, dear, Daddy wouldn't like that, I'm sure, for he doesn't want us to play on the lawn."

"I'm afraid Daddy couldn't keep these little fellows off his lawn," laughed Happy Giggles; and, taking Peggy by the hand, he ran out the door to the front yard with her.

Sure enough the whole lawn was dotted with soft grey tents—not the kind Peggy had expected to see—but tiny little silvery-grey webby tents, fastened to the blades of grass with soft spider cords.

"Oh, dear!" exclaimed Peggy, as she stooped to examine one. "How cunning! Why, the whole lawn looks like a tiny tent city! Good morning, Mrs. Tent Spider, and how are you today?" she asked, as a tiny grey spider hurried out to the end of her tent web to see what the noise was about.

Mrs Tent Spider was delighted when she spied Happy Giggles with Peggy, and invited them under her tent.

"Come right in and sit down," she laughed. "It's going to be one sunshiny, hot day, and I was afraid you were doing to tear my tent down. That's the way most folks do—walk right through them."

"Not Peggy!" laughed Happy Giggles. "She's the best friend you little meadow folks have. So you say it's going to be a hot day?"

"Indeed it is!" replied Mrs. Tent Spider, wiping her face. "That's why we've pitched these tents—to keep the sun off."

"And it isn't going to rain today?" exclaimed Peggy, who could hardly believe Mrs. Tent Spider, for the sky was still grey and cloudy.

"Rain? I should say not!" replied Mrs. Tent Spider. "Whenever you see our tents spread over the lawn this way you can bank on it the day will be sunny and hot before night comes."

"Then I can go to my picnic!" cried Peggy. "Oh, I'm so glad!"

"See, I told you!" laughed Happy Giggles. "Little folks so often cry before they're hurt. Now, you'd better hurry and get ready," and before Peggy could answer him he had disappeared.

"That's what Grandma used to tell us," her mamma smiled, when Peggy told her what Mrs. Tent Spider had said. And sure enough, Peggy went to her picnic, for it turned out to be a lovely sunshiny day.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

The Good Old Days.

Dear Miss Grey,—Here I am to make my first call this summer. But, considering that I have been "best man" at the hay crop, I bring a barrel, more or less, of excuses for my absence. Looking over your column, a great desire came over me for the good old days when Cynthia's Mail-Box filled nearly a whole page. What is the trouble, readers? Has the "H. C. of L." made stamps scarce, or what?

Let's send in such a supply as shall again make the Mail-Bag sigh.

Say, let's all get up a petition for some rain. Everything looks so appealingly dry—looks as if prohibition was in force, all right.

I enjoyed Aunt Dinah's letter immensely, only really, readers, I believe she is a white darkie. Now, Mammy, don't slap me!

Could any of the readers loan me "The Doubts of a Doubter," the end of each verse being, "Well, maybe you do, but I doubt it."

Any Pageites who are teachers come to my rescue and tell me all you know about giving seat work to pupils in the primer grades.

Wishing your column every success, I am the same old reader,

LOVER OF THE FARM.

Ans.—I am always glad when some of the older Pageites show interest in the Mail-Box, and there is no one who wishes more than I for "the good old days." But soon the vacation trips and the haymaking and harvesting will be over for this year, and then I hope the old Box will just fairly teem with letters.

Any responses to Lover of the Farm's two requests? It would be very nice if some of our teachers could aid each other via the Mail-Box.

Mail-Box Recipes.

Peanut Brittle—One cup brown sugar, cup molasses, 2 tablespoons butter, tablespoon vinegar; boil together until brittle when dropped in cold water, then add cup peanuts, little vanilla, teaspoon soda; beat briskly for a minute and pour in buttered pan. This is a good and cheap candy which the children like, as it makes a good-sized pie-plate full.

Quince Honey—Five large quinces, 5 lbs. granulated sugar, 1 pt. water, grate fruit, boil in water until tender; add sugar, boil until clear—about 15 minutes.

PRISCILLA.

Quince Jelly—Wash and core quinces without peeling; cover with cold water, cook until tender, drain through jelly bag; allow 1 lb. sugar to a pint of juice; while it is heating, have sugar in oven to get hot, after adding sugar boil 20 minutes, or until it will jelly. Part apple juice is a great improvement.

Plum Relish—Five pounds plums, 4 pounds sugar, 3 oranges and 2 lemons cut in small pieces, ½ pound walnuts, a little salt. Boil until soft.

Carrot Jam—To two pounds carrots cooked and pressed through a colander, add 1 pound of sugar (or more if desired sweeter), and the grated rind and juice of 2 lemons and 2 oranges. Cook slowly until thick. If desired, a few chopped apples added makes an improvement to the flavor.

Hooking Ma's Dress.

So many requests were received for the recitation, "When Pa Hooks Ma's Dress," referred to by Mrs. Sam, that I am publishing the poem below, Mrs. Sam having kindly sent me a copy. Your copy for Slim and inclosed request have been mailed to her, Mrs. Sam.

WHEN PA HOOKS MA'S DRESS.

When Pa and Ma are going out, Ma tells him after tea
To go upstairs and shave and dress, 'cause very shortly she
Will want the room, "and then," she says, "as soon as you are through
You come down here and read awhile until I send for you."
Then Pa puts on his evening clothes and comes back looking glum,
And doesn't have a word to say until Ma hollers "Come."

Then up he goes to hook her dress, and we all follow, too,
And stand around to see the fun, until he yells "Skidoo!"
You kids are always in my way; I've got no room to spare;
I need the space to do this job, just move away that chair.
Now, Ma, just take a good long breath, I'll hook it sure this time;
The way you women hook your clothes is certainly a crime."

And then he scroozes down behind, and wobbles on his toes,
And gives a yank and slips and almost tumbles on his nose,
And stands up straight and bends his back until his face gets red,
And if he went much farther he'd be standing on his head.
He whispers language to himself that we don't understand,
And sometimes breaks his fingernails and yells to beat the band.

"You ought to wear a rubber dress, then maybe it would stretch,"
Says Pa, and sucks his fingernails, and Ma says "You're a wretch,"
And then he starts to try again, and then his fingers slip.
"It's most astonishing," says he, "that something doesn't rip."
At last, he gets it hooked, and in a voice that's weak and low,
He mutters "I'm so tired, I wish we didn't have to go."

Meouw! Meouw! Meouw!

Dear Miss Grey,—May I call on the Mail-Box for a favor? I enjoy reading queries and answers, but have not contributed yet. I have two dear little kittens I wish to get good homes for; they are four months old. Can you help one? May I call again?

MRS. NEWCOMER.

Ans.—Of all the surprises my Mail-Bag ever brought this is about the "most surprisin'ist," as Aunt Dinah would say. Now in all this big city of London-the-less surely there will be a home for these "two little kittens." I'd love to adopt the dears myself, but as the Greys already possess three cuddlesome cats, it's impossible, I'm afraid.

Who'll be first to offer a corner? By the way, Mrs. Newcomer, you didn't inclose your address, so, of course, you must call again and bring it with you.

Some Doily Directions.

Dear Miss Grey,—Here I am again, asking this time—no, not to exchange crochet patterns—but would it be possible for you to print directions for making a crochet doiley of medium size? I'm away off in the country and want to make a pair of doilies for a friend, but have no instructions for a pattern, see? So if you could, dear Cynthia, I'd be just awfully grateful. It don't matter much what the design is, so long as it's crochet and not too hard. Will sign this time "Sad I am,

A VISITOR TO THE FARM.

Ans.—I'm not extremely well versed in the art of crochetting, so am not sure whether this would be thought hard or easy. However, the rules are given below, and I hope you succeed in completing your nice gift. The friend will be pleased, I know:

Okrie Made Fifteen Custer Batters Whiff

London Southpaw Was Hit Seven Times, Once For a Home Run, But He Was Strong in the Pinches, and Tecumsehs Won by 4 to 3.

(BY BERT B. PERRY.)

Danny Jenkins' Custers faced Frankie Okrie in the opening game of their series here with Stewart's Tecumsehs in the West London baseball meadow last night. The London southpaw came through with a 4 to 3 victory, and turned in another good pitching performance. But not until the last man flied out in the ninth was it at all certain that the Custers were going to be content with the small end of the tally. Okrie fanned fifteen Battle Creek batters. He also contributed a couple of nice hits, one a two-bagger, and brought in two of the four London runs. Altogether, the Detroit lad made his presence in the fracas somewhat conspicuous.

Bullard Opposed Okrie.

Opposed to Okrie was Bullard, who also throws from the port side. He yielded nine hits, four of which were bunched in the fifth inning for the runs that gave the Tecumsehs a strong grasp o nthe game. Both pitchers were fairly well supported, although all four errors figured in the run-getting.

The game was witnessed by "Fighting Dick" Kinsella, one of McGraw's best-known scouts. Kinsella has been raking the bush leagues for material for the Giants for a number of years, but this is his first visit to this particular section. He saw a couple of games in Hamilton, then came down here after hearing about Okrie. Frankie was pitched out of his turn again in order to give the New York scout an opportunity of sizing him up.

Fyfe Umpired Well.

The contest was also marked by the initial appearance of Umpire Fyfe. Fyfe is the pick of the league umpires, but this is not giving him much of a boost. However, he is as good an umpire as has ever been seen here on his showing yesterday, and it was a treat to witness a whole ball game without the numerous arguments that have marred recent contests here. At Kitchener, on Monday, the crowd made a demonstration against Fyfe during the morning game, and he did not umpire the afternoon contest, when the police failed to provide adequate protection. However, that is liable to happen to the best of umpires. Nobody could find fault with his work here and he kept the players hurrying the game along all the time.

Tecumsehs Start in Third.

The Tecumsehs opened on Bullard in the third inning. With two down, Okrie pushed a single into left and Bullard handed Mitchell a pass. Newman was there in a pinch and his double to right brought Okrie in. Command flied to Jenkins.

The Custers jumped out in front in the fourth. Pittenger got Kaylor's grounder, but his throw was away over Newman's head. Newman tossed his glove up at the ball and knocked it down. The visitors claimed Kaylor should go to third base as a result, but Fyfe sent him back to second. Stupp followed with a long drive over Emery's head. The left fielder made a great try for a catch and got his bare hand on the ball only to knock it toward the fence, under which it rolled for a home run.

Game Won in Fifth.

The fifth inning saw the Tecumsehs stage their big attack on Bullard. In this frame, the heavy artillery started to work and the Custer pitcher was picked for four hits, one a double. Milligan started off with a single to centre, but Fearnley flied to Main after twice fouling on attempted bunts. Okrie rapped the pill over Main's head for two bases, Milligan stopping at third. Mitchell singled to centre and Milligan and Okrie scored when Jenkins allowed the ball to get away from him. Newman flied to Kaylor, but Command hit to left and Mitchell counted. Command went to third when Main's throw got away from Heving. Command was out trying to steal home when Shay was at bat.

Custers Score Another.

The Custers threatened in the seventh. Stupp opened with a single and Heving was safe on Fearnley's boot. Lamb walked, filling the bases. Main flied to Emery and Stupp scored on the throw-in. Okrie then tightened up and fanned the next batters.

In the eighth Jewell got as far as second, but in trying to take third on a passed ball, Milligan pegged him out by several feet. The Custers went out in order in the ninth. Okrie fanning Stupp and Heving and Lamb flying out to Mitchell.

Jenkins made a couple of nice catches in the outfield. He robbed Command of a good hit in the first inning when he pulled down his long fly.

TIGERS TAKE ANOTHER ONE FROM BAY CITY WOLVES

Zinn and Donnelly Drive Laurent's Shoots For Extra Bases and Hamilton Wins.

HAMILTON, Ont., Aug. 5.—Guy Zinn, the hero of the holiday game with the Custers, continued his good work here today, when his triple in the first inning started the Hamiltons on the way to victory. O'Rourke had walked before Zinn poled the long one, and Donnelly followed Zinn with a double.

Errors were responsible for the three runs Bay City got. A walk, an error and three hits got Hamilton the other two. Donnelly was the hitter of the day, with four safe blows in as many times up, including a triple and a double. Breckenridge, secured from the Toronto Internationals, played his first game with Hamilton.

ARMY CHAMPION DIES AS RESULT OF INJURIES

St. John, N. B., Aug. 6.—Jack Clements, said to be the champion heavyweight boxer of the Canadian army overseas, who was taken to Fredericton for treatment yesterday, following an accident while bathing at his home in Gloucester County, died last night in hospital.

Jimmy Hill, the Australian featherweight, wants the title of his division, but doesn't want to take it unfairly. Hill came all the way from the Antipodes to get a championship match with Johnny Kilbane, but has decided not to meet Kilbane at present in a decision bout.

It isn't because Hill has "cold feet" that he does not want to meet Kilbane, but because of the recent death of the featherweight champion's daughter. Hill declares that he does not want to be the first boxer to meet Kilbane following his bereavement and has temporarily withdrawn his challenge.

Benny Valgar, the French featherweight, who has practically clinched a bout with Johnny Kilbane for the featherweight title, enjoys the distinction of being the first boxer to drop Johnny Dundee, one of the leading lightweights, in two years. Valgar fought Dundee in a twelve-round bout at Boston and dropped him in the second round. He had the better of the first seven rounds, but lost the referee's decision.

Kinsella Says Okrie Must Use More Speed

Giant Scout Declares Hooks Are No Good Without Real Speed on Them—Saw Glasier at Hamilton, But Is Not Favorably Impressed.

BY BERT B. PERRY.

"Fighting Dick" Kinsella, who spends his working hours watching baseball as it is played in the minor leagues for John McGraw's New York Giants, is making his first trip to London. Kinsella claims he came here in order to get away from Hamilton, where he has just spent three days that seemed like three weeks, watching the Tigers perform. He does not mention why he went to Hamilton in the first place, but he watched Glasier when the Hamilton twirler pitched his no-hit game against Brantford. Even this performance did not impress McGraw's famous scout. He does not like Glasier's delivery. It is too jerky. Apparently, Knotty Lee's men didn't like it either, or perhaps they couldn't see enough of it to hit.

His Opinion of Okrie.

Kinsella watched Frankie Okrie yesterday, and in mentioning the fact he asked why Okrie didn't use any speed.

"A left-hander needs speed to stay in the big show," said Kinsella. "Hooks are easy picking for the batters up in the majors. But speed is something different. A good hook with plenty of speed on it is real bothersome. Two or three times I asked your London manager to get Okrie to use his speed. He didn't show enough of the fast one to my notion."

But baseball scouts usually have nothing good to say about a player who looks good to them. It's their business not to be too keen in looking over a prospect or else up goes the price, and in these days of the forbidden draft rule, the poor old major league clubs have got to go down in their dip and dig up real money for minor league stars. And the less they have to dig the better they like it.

No Players in Minors This Season.

Kinsella says the minors are poor picking this season. There are few if any youngsters in the bush leagues who are worth sending up, in his opinion. There are a lot fewer leagues also.

He claims that the greatest enemies of the minor leagues are picture shows and automobiles. These provide counter-attractions and have been largely responsible for the falling off in attendance at ball games the past few years.

Kinsella also maintains that the minor leagues are only doing themselves harm by drawing away from the majors and eliminating the draft rule.

Is Anxious About Rumor.

The New York scout was rather anxious to know whether there was any truth in the rumor that England and Japan intended to challenge the United States to a war. He witnessed a civic holiday procession in Hamilton on Monday, and was quite astonished to note that no American flags were being displayed and that nobody was waving the Stars and Stripes and cheering for Uncle Sam. He was somewhat surprised to hear that the great majority of Canadian soldiers who went to France were volunteers and not draftees. It was also news to him that Canada had a Government of its own and was able to govern itself.

Dejected When New York Lost.

Mr. Kinsella was eager to learn how the Giants had made out with St. Louis, and when the scores arrived over The Advertiser wire, and he was shown the result, his face took on a serious expression and he had little more to say. The fact that Cincinnati won while the Giants lost nearly overcame him. Besides, Larry Doyle, the Giant star, was reported injured and liable to be out of the game at a time when the Giants needed him badly. This was too much for "Fighting Dick," and he departed showing signs of dejection.

Soldiers Make a Sixth-Inning Rally, and Win From Border City Easily.

WOODSTOCK, Aug. 5.—The G. W. V. A. defeated the Windsor ball team here tonight, 13 to 8. The game was called in the last half of the sixth inning on account of darkness. With the score 8 to 4 in favor of the Border City aggregation, the soldier boys staged a rally and drove Best from the box. They continued on Finney and had annexed nine runs, with two out, when darkness put a stop to the fray.

Best pitched good ball until the sixth. Bond, the local southpaw, was not at his best and the visitors connected when hits counted. Shortstop Tierney of Windsor, had a homer and a three-bagger to his credit. The summary:

HALLIGANS HELP BEAVERS ON THE DOWNWARD TRAIL

Players Have To Umpire, As No Arbitrator Showed Up To Handle Game.

KITCHENER, Ont., Aug. 5.—Flint won this evening's game by a score of 5 to 4, on a soaked diamond, caused by a heavy rainfall half an hour before the game was to be called. The game was started at 6:30 p.m., and provided a good-sized crowd of fans with some sensational fielding. Harry Fisher pitched seven innings for the Halligans, allowing only four hits and one run. Triples by Kyle and Wade and two singles netted three runs for the Beavers in the eighth, and then Fisher gave way to Main, who prevented the locals from scoring in the ninth.

Cy Pieh pitched for the Beavers and allowed nine hits and five runs. Arthur Johnson took the box in the seventh and stopped the visitors. There was no umpire on the job and two players filled the roles of arbitrators.

LONDON EXPECTED TO BE REPRESENTED AT O.R.F.U. MEETING

This Conference Will Be Held To Organize Senior Group in District.

TORONTO, Aug. 5.—The O. R. F. U. officials expect London to be represented at Thursday night's meeting in Toronto, when the question of the make-up of the senior circuit will be discussed.

Though nothing definite has been heard from the Forest City, it is rumored that, while they are anxious to play in the highest ranks, they desire to get a line on their prospective material before making a decision. It is expected that they will send a representative to Toronto on Thursday and say "yes" or "no" then.

Hamilton Rowing Club, too, are expected to have a delegate on hand. Toronto R. and A. A. and Parkdale Canoe Club are certainties while the Beaches may make up the third club in Toronto.

The meeting is called for 8:15 p.m., and will be held in Room No. 8 at the Central Y. M. C. A., on College street, near Yonge. President DeGruchy is looking for a turnout of all O. R. F. U. officials to help in the work of making this season a banner one for the old union.

NUXATED IRON

For Red Blood, Strength and Endurance

THINK of the strong, healthy men and women you know—people who are prominent and who are doing things worth while and you will find that they usually possess remarkable force, vim and energy—the kind that simply brim over when the blood is filled with iron. Iron is red-blood food—it helps put strength and energy into the veins of men and roses into the cheeks of women. Nuxated Iron by enriching the blood and creating new blood cells strengthens the nerves, rebuilds the weakened tissues and helps to instil renewed energy and endurance into the whole system.

If people would only keep their blood filled with strength-giving iron by taking Nuxated Iron when they feel weak, rundown and nervous, they might become stronger and healthier in every way. Unlike the older inorganic products it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black nor upset the stomach. Nuxated Iron often increases the strength and endurance of weak, delicate people in two weeks time. It is dispensed in this city by Cairncross & Lawrence, Standard Drug Co., Ltd., Taylor Drug Co., and all other druggists.

The name Fashion-Craft needs no introduction to the citizens of London and surrounding community.

The Clothing Department in the new store will surely offer you something new and suggestive, as well as affording plenty of room and comfort to choose your favorite cloths in bright daylight.

The Clothing Department is in the rear of the new store, modernly fitted with new uniform cabinets, which are dustproof and present a most pleasing impression to all visitors.

Fashion-Craft is a distinguished brand of clothing made from imported materials and manufactured in Montreal, carrying with it every essential qualification that good clothes need.

YOUNG GIRL, WARD OF CHILDREN'S AID, MISSING AT GALT

Left For Sunday School and Has Not Been Seen Since.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

GALT, Aug. 5.—Doris Halsall, aged seventeen years, a ward of the Children's Aid Society, left the home of H. Horton, a farmer on the Stone road, on Sunday afternoon to attend St. David's Mission Sunday School in the east end of the city, and since they she has not been seen. Nothing is known of her whereabouts, although Inspector Pullam of Hespeler, is making every effort to locate her. She is of fairly stout build and has an awkward walk and was dressed entirely in white and wearing a white sailor hat.

How to Lose Your Tan, Freckles or Redness

A day's motoring, an afternoon on the tennis ground or golf links, a sunbath on the beach or exposure on a lake trip, often brings on a deep tan or vivid crimson or, more perplexing still, a vigorous crop of freckles. A very necessary thing then is mercolized wax, which removes tan, redness or freckles quite easily. It literally peels off the affected skin—just a little at a time, so there's no hurt or injury. As the skin comes off in almost invisible flaky particles, no trace of the treatment is shown. Procure an ounce of mercolized wax at your druggist's and use this nightly as you would cold cream, washing it off mornings. In a week or so you will have an entirely new skin, beautifully clear, transparent and of a most delicate whiteness.—Advt.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

What "Hernia" Really Is and How It's Now Remedied

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG,
A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins University).

DR. HIRSHBERG

When even as small a stretch as an inch of an intestine penetrates the muscles or their natural apertures, it is called a hernia or a rupture. Sudden or severe physical exertion may bulge the intestine into a knot and force it through such an opening as bad boys sometimes push some of the wash through a knot-hole in the backyard fence.

When foolish persons twist a handkerchief or a towel and push an end into the ear, they carry the wax further back and against the ear-drum. The twisted end of cloth is similar to a hernia or "rupture."

Of course, the intestine is not ruptured. It is often the muscle fibres that are ruptured and allow a bit of the intestine to bulge.

Although a hernia is harmless in appearance and is unaccompanied by pain, there is always the threat of a strangulation and death from it, even though mechanical means may be adopted to reduce it. Hernia can be positively cured only by surgery.

There are so many persons with hernias that two New York surgeons alone have operated on 8,589 victims in 27 years. As a result of this long experience these two surgeons believe they can demonstrate the efficiency of certain operative methods of treatment in certain types of hernia.

Their methods or similar ones are now in general use by many surgeons.

There were only 15 relapses or recurrences among all those thousands of operations. The average stay in the hospital was about one week.

Compared with these very real and definite facts it may be said that non-surgical methods for the "cure" of hernia are failures, and will not cure hernia in any one but an infant, and then very seldom.

The operation itself is not regarded as serious or dangerous if done at a hospital by a good surgeon with all facilities at hand. There is little or no bleeding, and no penetration into the abdomen. It is merely a slit through the surface tissues to be stitched up with skill and completeness.

To have a hernia or rupture nowadays points to ignorance, cowardice or misunderstanding. There is no reason or excuse for it.

Hernia diminishes your ability and earning power by interfering with health, happiness and the joy of life. If you have a hernia remember it is a bit of your digestive tube, the intestine, which is out of place and exposed to mischief. Immediately have it replaced permanently by a skilled surgeon.

Answers to Health Questions

MRS. J. L. M. Q.—What can I do for gas on my stomach?

A.—Try any of the following in a little water every four hours:

Salol .. ..............2½ grains
Bicarbonate of soda..10 grains
Bismuth subnitrate ..5 grains

MRS. F. L. M. Q.—How can I reduce weight?

A.—You shouldn't get more than eight hours' sleep out of the 24, and you must keep the intestines open and active and get daily outdoor exercise. You should reduce the amount of sugars, starches and oils taken into the body. Food laxatives such as uncooked bran and green vegetables help in the reducing process. Drink lots of water between times, but do not drink any with your meals. Do not eat any bread, except gluten, and it is better to have this toasted.

C. A. S. Q.—What can I do for nettle rash?

A.—Nettle rash may sometimes be due to a hypersensitive state of the human tissues, usually caused by some particular article of food. It may be caused by berries, fish, tomatoes, beer, fruits, drugs, odors, clams and oysters. The remedy depends upon determining what thing is responsible for the trouble and then eliminating it from the diet. While seeking this the itching can be relieved by a little of the following lotion applied to the rash:

Pink calamine ......2½ drams
Zinc oxide ..........2 drams
Glycerine .. .........2 drams
Phenol .. ............50 drams
Lime water ..........2 ounces
Rosewater .. .........2 ounces

MISS BELLE G.: Q.—How can I make henna tea?

A.—Henna leaves....... 1ounce
Boiling water ......... 1 quart

Place the henna leaves in the boiling water and let it stand all night. In the morning strain and heat to the boiling point. Add two ounces of henna powder and stir and strain. Brush this into clean hair. It is harmless and effective. But nature knows best what color your hair should be. Why change to a color that probably would be unbecoming?

How Rita Brown "Rose" To Alfred Durkee's Smile.

"I don't know what mother and Katie will say about our going out to dinner," I protested faintly. "You know mother doesn't like to have her plans upset, and I think she has planned something special with Katie for dinner. Katie will be disappointed. And—besides—ought not mother to have the first ride in the new machine?"

I had drawn Dicky aside so that the rest should not hear my arguments. Dicky threw up his head impatiently. "I'll fix the matter," he said decidedly. "You know I can always bring her around. Just leave it to me. And you know Katie never had a grievance that a one-dollar bill wouldn't assuage. So you see there's nothing for you to worry about."

"How Fortunate—"

As he turned away he threw a laughing command to Alfred Durkee to "tune the old piano up while I run home a minute"—then strode hurriedly toward our own side door—I thought grimly that I would have something to worry about, and that soon, if Dicky kept on with absolute disregard of the value of money. Buying automobiles, ordering expensive dinners at restaurants while good ones went to waste at home, salving Katie's feelings with dollar bills—I would better set my sails for financial squalls ahead.

For a moment my troubled thoughts made me oblivious of the excited group near me. Rita Brown's voice recalled me to myself.

"It is awfully good of Dicky to offer to take us to dinner," she cooed, "but it is entirely unnecessary. I should think you'd be fearfully annoyed after having planned for dinner at home. It is simply a double expense."

Her words on the surface were friendly, considerate. But her tone subtly accused me of niggardliness, and of petty unwillingness to have my husband entertain his friends fittingly.

"Luckily I haven't the temperament that gets annoyed at trifles," I retorted smilingly, "and even if I had, this proposal of Mr. Graham's to take dinner out would not displease me. In fact, he no doubt considered me in making the proposal, for he knows how deadly tired I get of always dining at home, and how very much I like an occasional restaurant dinner."

She did not believe a word I was saying, I could see that plainly, but little cared I for that, for again I had scored against her. She had given me her mocking condolence purposely in a high-pitched voice that reached the ears of every other member of the little group. But my reply was also audible, and I flattered myself that I had left her no shred of satisfaction in her attempt to embarrass me before the others.

"How fortunately to have so well-trained a husband," she said lightly, and turning from me went to the car, looking it over critically, putting a testing hand upon the upholstery and the little luxurious appointments which set the car apart as something unusual.

Rita Would Promise.

"Some jazz wagon, Alfie," she commented at last. "Come, now, tell us the real inside story about this purchase. You know you never had the cold cash to put up for a new buggy of this make."

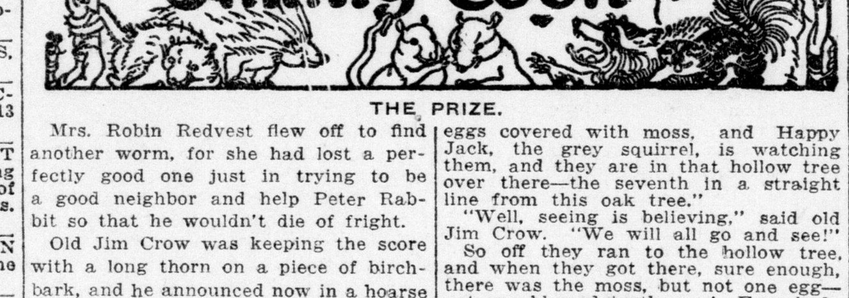

"We got it at an installment house," Alfred Durkee replied flippantly. "Ten pounds of tea down, and a pound a month the rest of our natural lives. We also had to subscribe to three ladies' magazines. I had those all put in your name, Rita. They contain lots of advice for young women that ought to benefit you."

It was the merest idle badinage, but Alfred Durkee cannot talk to any woman pleasantly without smiling down at her in friendly, guileless fashion, which unfortunately has all the earmarks of devoted attention. It is a trick of his that has gotten him into trouble more than once, and will probably continue to get him in hot water all his life.

I saw Rita Brown begin to preen her feathers for conquest. She had, with rare good judgment, avoided obtruding herself upon Alfred since the unfortunate incident of the evening at "The Sand Pile." I don't think she had any idea of the enormity of her offence against good breeding, but she was wise enough to recognize Alfred's changed attitude toward her and to avoid any appearance of "running after him." His raillery, however, had given her the opportunity for which she had been watching.

"I'll promise to read 'em all religiously

THE PRIZE.

Mrs. Robin Redvest flew off to find another worm, for she had lost a perfectly good one just in trying to be a good neighbor and help Peter Rabbit so that he wouldn't die of fright.

Old Jim Crow was keeping the score with a long thorn on a piece of birch-bark, and he announced now in a hoarse voice, "Jimmy Coon has won. Ninety-six wins. Now for the prize! What is it?"

Benny Mink and Sammy Muskrat ran to get the prize, as everyone wondered what it could be. But they looked and they looked, and they couldn't find any prize. Soon they ran back and said that Jimmy Coon must have been fooling, for they couldn't find any prize. But as Jimmy Coon had given it, and had won it himself, it wouldn't matter.

"Yes, it does matter," said old Jim Crow. "I am the referee, and this is a fair race, and if there is a prize, I am going to see what it is."

And everybody looked at Jimmy Coon as if he were a thief. Now, Jimmy didn't like to be treated like this, and he sputtered out, "There is a perfectly good prize—five beautiful turtle eggs covered with moss, and Happy Jack, the grey squirrel, is watching them, and they are in that hollow tree over there—the seventh in a straight line from this oak tree."

"Well, seeing is believing," said old Jim Crow. "We will all go and see!"

So off they ran to the hollow tree, and when they got there, sure enough, there was the moss, but not one egg—not one blessed turtle egg! Everybody scratched and scratched in that hole in the hollow tree, and soon they found a pile of egg-shells hidden under some moss and twigs in a corner.

Jimmy Coon was perfectly delighted, for until the shells were found he knew that no one would believe that there had been any prize at all. And Jimmy Coon was perfectly disgusted with Happy Jack, to think that a friend he had trusted with such a valuable prize had eaten it or run away with it.

"These are awful days," said Jimmy Coon to Teddy Possum; "you can't trust anybody!"

"Oh, I don't know," said Teddy Possum. "Anyone with a spark of sense would have known better than to trust Happy Jack, the grey squirrel, with eggs; you must be losing your mind. Any goose would know better than that."

Tomorrow—Jimmy Coon Gives the Prize.

To-morrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

THURSDAY, AUGUST 7.

The sidereal forces for this day are wielding a most conflicting influence. While the usually malefic Saturn is strongly benefic, the usually benignant Venus is in adverse position—squared by Luna, which is an ominous aspect for social, domestic and affectional matters. The probabilities are that business and professional interests will move in a lively and satisfactory manner, and that old obstacles, delays and disappointments will vanish—making way for important and successful enterprises. Labor will prosper, as will all pursuits into which machinery or metals enter as a prominent medium. Those in employment should be cautious.

Those whose birthday it is may expect a successful year in business, but some anxiety in other matters. A child born on this day will be respected, steady and industrious, but perhaps, restless.

"THE LOVE BURGLAR" STARRING WALLACE REID AT MAJESTIC

Adventures of Young Society Idler Shown in Entertaining Photoplay.

Wallace Reid, in "The Love Burglar," will be shown for the last time at the Majestic Theatre today. This picture is adapted from a stage play.

The play, "One of Us," was written by Jack Lait, the well-known dramatist, and had its premiere at the Morosco Theatre in Los Angeles some months ago. The screen version is "The Love Burglar."

In the stage production, the chief role was played by a feminine star, but for the purposes of the screen, the leading male role was made the most important. It appeared to the producers also that the male lead was by far the most important of the two parts. The picture with this change is said to be one of the best vehicles which has been furnished Mr. Reid in some time.

The story deals with the adventures of a young society idler, who, finding his younger and erring brother in a tough slum saloon, strips him of all his valuables and sends him home. This act is interpreted by the rough element as a bold hold-up, they not knowing that a relationship exists between the two men, and they welcome him into their gang, thinking that he is "The Colt Kid," an ex-convict whom they have been expecting.

How he saves a beautiful girl from the clutches of a gang leader who is forcing her to rob the wealthy frequenters of the place, and finally marries her after learning that she is in reality a novelist who is seeking atmosphere for her story, forms a delightful and highly interesting plot.

BECK IS THE BEST COMIC END-MAN, SAYS MAYOR OF GUELPH

Hydro Knight and Imported Speakers Talk Whole Evening and Give Mayor Carter No Time To Reply—Beck's Statements False, Says the Mayor.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

GUELPH, Aug. 5.—In opening a meeting held tonight in Griffin's Opera House President Tom MacPherson of the trades and labor council stated that the sole reason that the council had invited Sir Adam Beck was that it appeared that neither the city council nor the Guelph Chamber of Commerce had asked or intended to ask the "hydro knight" to explain the hydro commission's case in the controversy that had arisen over the proposed agreement between the city of Guelph and the Grand River Railway.

He claimed that the trades and labor council had been unfairly treated by the city council in regard to obtaining the city hall for this public meeting, having first promised the hall and then, after finding out the reason it was wanted for, refused the city hall for such a meeting.

Bouquets for Beck.

Tom Hall, secretary of the trades and labor council, spoke in favor of public ownership in general, threw a few bouquets at Sir Adam Beck and his commission, made a few slams at the supporters of the bylaw, and concluded by saying that as a member of the board of directors of the Guelph Radial Railway, he maintained that this "white elephant" was not so bad after all. "This," he said, "was the thin edge of the wedge; next to it will be your waterworks, gas works and so on, till you own nothing and the corporations own all.

Controller Hancock of Hamilton next spoke at length, also favoring hydro "I have no hesitation in saying to you tonight that we should stand behind Sir Adam Beck and his hydro scheme in its entirety."

He referred to Sir Adam Beck as "the greatest man in the Dominion of Canada," and proceeded to elaborate on the multitude of the activities that the hydro commission had been forced into to prevent exploitation by private and corporative interests. "We are foolish if we allow any corporation to demand the haul they have got in the past."

Had Read Agreement.

The speaker claimed he had read the agreement carefully, that he had heard the opinions of some of the greatest legal lights, that it was one of the very worst agreements the lawyers had ever seen. He unequivocally condemned the agreement. About this stage there were some interruptions as the audience seemed to be getting a little tired of the Hamilton controller's rather wandering remarks, and there were cries from the audience, "Give us another speaker," "Give us Sir Adam, let's hear Beck."

After the chairman had quieted the audience the speaker from the "Ambitious City" continued to talk and even told stories till the audience again got restless.

He concluded with the threat of what will happen to Guelph, if it turns down the hydro agreement.

Another labor representative from Hamilton spoke briefly along the same lines. In rising Sir Adam thanked the Guelph Trades and Labor Council for giving him the opportunity to explain the commission's policy and schemes. It would be quite impossible to proceed with the obtaining of an order-in-council to proceed with the building of roads east and west.

Hydro Agreement Legal.

The speaker maintained that the hydro agreement is already legal, but it is only the resolution which should be signed. Hydro-electric power commissioners are but the trustees of the municipalities, and he said it was unfair to state that the hydro commission could or did "dictate" to the municipalities.

"An agreement has been presented to the ratepayers of Guelph, which the mayor admits quite frankly is his agreement and not that of the C. P. R. The speaker said he failed to see anything in the agreement which showed that experts had been consulted. Without legal expert advice and without expert professional engineering advice, the commission had never acted so, he considered that Guelph proceedure had been a little peculiar.

"The agreement is a most flagrant breach of faith, and a violation of the franchise act, and it is illegal in every respect. He even indorsed the statement of a member of the audience that the agreement was 'rotten.'

Knocks Railway Board.

Sir Adam pointed out that such an agreement must have the vote of the whole people, not only of ratepayers. He referred to the probable amount of debentures that Guelph Council would require to issue. He thought that the local estimate of from forty to sixty thousand was ridiculously low. Sir Adam proceeded to condemn the railway board as being the friend of the corporations. "The Hydro Railway Commission will never consent to the Guelph agreement as it stands today," said the speaker. He took this stand because, he said, of the illegality of the scheme.

The speaker condemned the corporation-owned railways and other utilities, saying that they were "exorbitant and rotten." He then spoke of the Bell Telephone Company, condemning the recent raises, the "rotten service" and he had never seen "such gall" as that shown by the "melon-sharing" Bell Telephone Company.

He stated that Guelph enjoyed the lowest charge for electrical service of any municipality in the world. "Today Guelph is buying power at $19, when its original agreement was $26."

"The action of this council has stopped the whole action of over thirty municipalities, and no action can be taken until Guelph signs the agreement," was the answer given to the question, "When will hydro do anything for Guelph?"

Need Immediate Action.

To Ald. Hoover's statement that what Guelph required was immediate action. Sir Adam said that municipalities and governments had in the past looked too much and to their loss on the immediate benefit. The secret of the success of hydro was looking ahead had vision and built for posterity as well as the present.

The delay in action by the hydro commission in regard to building railroads he placed to the blame only of the council of Guelph, which by not signing the agreement had prevented action on the large railroad system which had already been surveyed and planned and this work already paid for. In conclusion Sir Adam stated he had simply come here to help. He bore no malice towards the council.

"It is the vital stroke of the C.P.R. which sees a real competitor coming into their field which cannot be kept under by Mr. Carwell, or anybody else." He pointed out that was just the beginning, and he would much like to see municipally owned telephones. If you vote favorably on Monday you demonstrate to the world that you have gone back on municipal ownership and make yourselves the slaves of the C. P. R.

Moving Picture Show.

Mayor Carter rose to speak at about 11:20 p.m., the time from 8 o'clock to that hour having been used by the imported speakers from Hamilton, Sir Adam's speech and the moving picture show of the London and Port Stanley Railway.

"Sir Adam has made statements tonight that are absolutely false," said Mayor Carter. The mayor then showed that in his opinion he, the only speaker in favor of the bylaw, had been purposedly frozen out until near midnight. He provoked a great laugh from the audience when he described Sir Adam as "the best comic end man" he had ever listened to. "He came here," said the mayor, "ostensibly to give you information, and you came eager to secure faith. He showed you a map of his 2,000 miles paper railroad and described the London and Port Stanley, but he spent almost all his time with "funny end-man" work of pointing the finger of scorn at me and your elected representatives."

"He stated the corporation refused to sign the agreement. That is false. At no moment did he tell you anything above the railroad. He stated that every municipality had signed the resolution and agreement," and on this statement Mayor Carter challenged Sir Adam to show proof.

Mayor Carter resented the intrusion of the imported labormen from Hamilton. "They do not understand local conditions, and surely should mind their own business in their own city."

"We did not go and campaign in Hamilton when you had railroad troubles," said the mayor, "and I am sure the people of Guelph resent your intrusion just as much as I do."

Kept Mayor from Speaking.

Mayor Carter said he only asked as fair a hearing as had been accorded Sir Adam. At this hour having been talked out of the other speakers till near midnight, he would rather let the people get home tonight. He asked the same people to come to a meeting in the city hall on Friday, when he would show the falsity of Sir Adam's statements and uphold his own end of the argument in an hour, and not have to speak two and a half hours as Sir Adam had done or import outsiders who knew nothing of local conditions. The mayor's request for a fair show was received with cheers and the meeting then adjourned.

Sir Adam appeared very much affected by the mayor's remarks and tried more than once to interrupt him, but without success, for as Mayor Carter put it, "I have listened to you tonight do nothing but point a finger of scorn at me and everybody connected with the corporation of Guelph, and I will not allow you to interrupt me now."

The meeting adjourned at about 11:30:

HAROLD LOCKWOOD IN "A MAN OF HONOR"

Also Lawrence and Newman in Vaudeville at Grand Today.

Harold Lockwood, the young star of "A Man of Honor," a Screen Classics, Inc., production, which will be seen at the Grand again today at 1:45, 6:30 and 8:30 (standard time), was deservedly one of the most popular actors of the screen. "A Man of Honor" is a picturization of Henry Kitchell Webster's popular novel.

His rapid rise to fame was due to his dramatic genius, and he excelled both as a comedian and as a player of romantic parts; his versatility in this line won him an enviable position.

He began his dramatic career on the stage, but soon forsook it for the screen, and he became one of the few male stars of de luxe productions and the Screen Classics, Inc., productions—"Pals First," "The Great Romance" and "Shadows of Suspicion." Before that he co-starred with May Allison in other Metro releases, which included "The River of Romance," "The Comeback," "The Masked Rider," and many others.

Before signing his long-term contract with Metro, Mr. Lockwood was leading man for Mary Pickford in "Tess of the Storm Country," "Hearts Adrift" and "Such a Little Queen." He also played with Marguerite Clark in "Wild-flowers."

In "A Man of Honor," the last picture Mr. Lockwood made, he is declared by all critics to have accomplished the most splendid work of his meteoric career.

Lawrence and Newman.

Lawrence and Newman, who appear as the vaudeville feature of this bill, are a team of former musical comedy artists who offer a most delightful fifteen minutes of comedy chatter and songs.

A Lyons & Moran comedy entitled "Half and Half," the Ford Educational Monthly and the Pictorial Life complete this splendid bill.

BOY SCOUTS RETURN FROM SUMMER TRIP TO ERIE LAKESIDE

INGERSOLL, Aug. 5.—Bronzed by Lake Erie breezes, the local corps of boy scouts returned tonight from their eight days' sojourn at Port Burwell. The scouts were favored with fine weather during their outing and their highest expectations were realized. They had many visitors from this town and vicinity and they were well looked after in the matter of provisions and dainties.

POTATO CROP FAILURE.

Fresh evidence is being brought to light every day that the early potato crop in this section is a failure.

Many of the patches were blighted by the heat just as the buds appeared and no further development took place. The blossom never appeared and in some instances there is practically no yield whatever. Late potatoes, however, are a promising crop.

A letter from the militia department in reply to a protest of the veterans was read, stating that prices would be sent to those wishing them.

COUNCIL IS OPPOSED TO INCREASE WAGES; WALKOUT THREATENED

CHANGE IN TRAFFIC LAW

"One dollar per hour or nothing" is the answer of the city teamsters to the city council as a result of its favoring that they be paid 90 cents per hour and no more. If their demands are not acceded to, 50 teamsters will go out on strike.

Previous to the meeting, City Engineer H. A. Brazier offered the men 90 cents per hour and refused to raise it to 95 cents, even though the teamsters were willing to accept that wage. In his recommendation he was supported by the majority. Ald. F. R. Watkinson, seconded by Ald. G. B. Drake, moved that the men be given 95 cents. A vote was taken on the 90-cent rate, and the council was split 5 to 5. The mayor cast his vote in favor of the 90 cents, and so broke the tie.

Nothing was done regarding the early closing of shoe stores, the council laying the matter over indefinitely.

Several amendments were made to a bylaw to regulate traffic in the city. As it now stands the measure provides that a vehicle on reaching the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets must either proceed straight ahead or turn to the right. Under no circumstances must it make a left turn at the main intersection. Lights will be placed at the corner to enable the traffic cop to better discharge his duties at night.

A clause to the effect that the federal square be used for parking purposes was defeated.

Authorization was given the city engineer to oil Waterloo street from Harvard to Grosvenor street, and to construct a walk on Victoria street from Renwick to Waterloo street.

Power was given the engineer to call in an outside engineer to aid him to report on the condition of the Ridout street bridge.

Much discussion was heard regarding the appointment of a committee to make arrangements for the visit of H. R. H. the Prince of Wales. Mayor C. R. Somerville, Ald. F. E. Harley and Ald. E. S. Little were the original members of the committee. Ald. G. B. Drake was added as a result of a motion being passed to that effect. Ald. F. R. Watkinson refused to serve on the committee. His name had been mentioned at the meeting of No. 1 committee, but he declared that it had been mentioned as a joke and he did not appreciate it.

Mayor Somerville was appointed as a delegate to the Union of Canadian Municipalities convention, which is to be held in Kingston on Aug. 12, 13 aud 14.

License fees of the carnival held under the auspices of the G. W. V. A. in June to the amount of $250 will be refunded to the association.

Fireworks started when the recommendation of No. 1 committee, that the caretaker of the city fish stall have his wages advanced from $20 to $22 per week, received the attention of the council. Ald. W. A. Wilson opposed it on the grounds that the caretaker was a nonresident. Ald. C. G. Moorhead opposed it because he thought that the council had been raising the wages of too many of the city employees, instead of endeavoring to cut down the expenses that must be borne by the taxpayer.

Ald. Wilson was in favor of having the fish stall operated in such a way that an account of the business could be kept. He wanted a cash register installed at the stall. To Ald. Manness he said: "We don't know how this fish business is run. We have to take your word for it." Ald. Wilson was informed that there was a committee that supervised this matter.

When a vote was taken on the question of the increase in wages there was a split, 5 to 5. The mayor decided it by voting for the increase.

Regarding the memorial to the soldiers, Ald. Watkinson was in favor of a monument in Queen's Park, Ald. Seabrook in favor of an arch in the down town district, and Ald. Wilson for a monument at the V at the corner of Central avenue and Richmond street. It was decided to leave the matter over for further consideration.

Ald. Colbert asked the reason for the annexed districts of the city not being given fire protection. He questioned as to proceedings necessary to obtain hydrants for those parts of the city. The matter was referred to No. 1 committee.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TAKES OVER ASSETS OF BOARD OF TRADE

At a meeting of the committee of the old board of trade held in the Tecumseh House yesterday afternoon, the assets and liabilities of this organization were taken over by the chamber of commerce and the board of trade passed out of existence. The chamber of commerce has replaced this local organization, the name having been changed some time ago.

ST. MARYS BLACKSMITH DROPS DEAD IN SHOP

Civic holiday was ushered in by threatening weather, but the skies cleared. A baseball tournament was held in the forenoon. In the afternoon a parade from the market square to the town park by St. Marys Kiltie Band and McDonald's London Juvenile Pipe Band took place. At the park a big program of Caledonian games took place and kept up the whole afternoon until a slight rain brought the sports to a close. There was a very large attendance at the park.

LOBO PARTY HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

HYDE PARK, Aug. 5.—Pte. Gerald Colving of the sixth concession of Lobo, accompanied by some friends, met with an accident on their way to Springbank. When near Hyde Park the car shot into a deep ditch, pinning the occupants underneath. Neighbors soon removed the car. Dr. Ross was quickly summoned, and removed Mr. Colvin to his office, where it was found his shoulder was badly crushed. One of the ladies also had her shoulder rather badly hurt. The car, which was practically a new one, was badly damaged. A neighbor moved the injured persons to their home in Lobo.

Fire which is supposed to have originated from the kitchen stove completely destroyed the dwelling-house, together with most of the contents, of Mr. Miller, second concession of London Township. There was no one at home but the aged parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Miller being in London for the day.

A large crowd of Woodmen of the World marched to the Methodist Church Sunday afternoon, when an impressive sermon was delivered by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Bartlett, assisted by Rev. Mr. Powell of Lucan. After the sermon the members of the lodge and congregation marched in order to the cemetery, where the monuments of Henry Prince and William Routledge were unveiled. The choir, under the leadership of Cecil Thompson, greatly assisted the lodge in rendering the service an impressive one.

FORMER MAYOR OF LONDON DIES AT NEW LISKEARD

George Taylor, former mayor of London, and for the past twenty years one of the most prominent men of the Northern Ontario mining country, died yesterday at his home in New Liskeard, aged 69 years. He had been in failing health for several months.

Before leaving London Mr. Taylor was engaged in the hardware business on Dundas street, and continued the same business in New Ontario, establishing stores at Cochrane, Cobalt and New Liskeard, which are conducted by his sons. He engaged also in the mining industry and met with unusual success, being president of three mining companies at the time of his death. He developed the Hudson Bay mine, which proved remarkably rich in ore and returned him and his associates large fortunes.

Mr. Taylor was mayor of London from 1889 to 1891, and after going to New Liskeard continued his active municipal interest with the result that he was elected mayor there.

Besides his wife, he leaves five sons and four daughters, James and William of New Liskeard, Judge E. G. Taylor of Moose Jaw, Ralph of Cobalt, Albert of Cochrane, Mrs. Charles Walkinshaw, Mrs. Ramsay, Miss Emma Taylor, B.A., and Miss Mary Taylor, B.A., of New Liskeard. Three sisters are residents of London, Mrs. Shopland, Mrs. Cook and Miss Florence Taylor.

The funeral of Mr. Taylor will take place tomorrow.

$200 FIRE DAMAGE.

About $200 damage was done to the Dyment-Baker Lumber Company building on Bathurst street by fire last night. The cause of the fire is believed to have been caused through sparks coming from the company's chimney, igniting the roof.

A large hole in the roof and minor damage inside the building was the fire's toll. It was extinguished with chemicals.
