PRISONER IMMATURE

J. M. McEvoy Pleads Youth in Extenuation of Extremely Foolish Act.

Harold R. Shillington, former accountant of the London and Western Trusts Company, pleaded guilty in police court Thursday morning to the theft of $100,000 worth of bonds, the property of the company, and was sentenced to six years in Kingston penitentiary by Deputy Police Magistrate P. H. Bartlett.

Shillington stood with downcast eyes while the magistrate read the charge, and while his counsel, J. M. McEvoy, K.C., made a plea on his behalf.

Shillington showed no signs of emotion whatever as Mr. Bartlett pronounced sentence, and was quickly led away from the prisoner's box to the cells below and later removed to the county jail by police officers.

After reading the charge to the effect that Shillington had stolen bonds to the value of $100,000, the property of the trust company, Mr. Bartlett asked the young man by whom he wanted to be tried.

"Tried by you, sir," replied Shillington, the words being the first public utterance since he returned to London a month ago in the custody of Inspector Boyd, of the provincial police. Shillington left London early last November after taking the bonds, and was captured in a little village near Edinburgh, Scotland, the latter part of February.

Pleads Guilty.

"Having heard the charge read, are you guilty or not guilty?" questioned Mr. Bartlett.

"Guilty" was the reply.

"There is another charge of stealing $8,000, which I wish to withdraw," stated A. R. Douglas, acting crown attorney.

"I appear on behalf of this young man, and I suppose the matter might be disposed of right now," said Mr. McEvoy.

"I would like to hear what anybody has to say in the matter," declared the magistrate. "I would like to consider it."

"The matter has been in for some time," replied Mr. McEvoy. "I understood that you would be trying the case, as the magistrate is a shareholder in the company, and felt some delicacy in the matter, although as far as myself and client were concerned it did not matter.

"It is a very painful matter, a young man born and reared here, always respected, and occupying a very enviable position in this city for being a good citizen," said Mr. McEvoy, in addressing the court.

"His mother and her young children are still left, to whom he had been a source of support, and this support has now been cut off by his own act. I am not trying to shield him under a cloak, and as I suppose, as always happens, the soreness of any sentence you may mete out will be effective more on others than himself.

"But as one experienced in criminal matters, most men making a mistake find the sorest part of the punishment is reflected on the family. I ask you to take into consideration the whole of the circumstances."

HUNDREDS FLEE BEFORE WATERS

Levees Give Way As Mississippi and Its Tributaries Swell.

Towns and Rich Cotton Areas in Southern States Are Greatly Damaged.

Natchez, Miss., April 27.—Flood waters of the Mississippi River, pouring through a rapidly-widening crevice in the Wecama levee this morning, reached and entered the town of Ferriday, La., four miles from the break.

The residents had received warning of the approach of the water in ample time to escape. The town of Vidalia, with a population of 2,600, is next in the path of the flood, and is expected to be reached today.

Throughout Concordia and Catahoulia parishes today the only means of communication was by boat. Practically all of the two parishes are covered by water, and large tracts in Tensas, Franklin and Avoyelles parishes, which comprise a rich farming area devoted largely to cotton.

Juntas, a small sawmill village, is inundated.

Practically all livestock in the threatened area had been removed and the remainder was taken to the levees to be picked up by river boats.

LEVEE GIVES WAY.

New Orleans, La., April 27.—A break in the Mississippi River Levee at Poydras, about ten miles south of New Orleans, was reported today. A section of the levee about 100 feet long gave way, the report said, and approximately 350 families are fleeing before the waters. The break unless checked may cover a large area.

DROPS SIXTEEN FEET.

Fort Worth, Texas, April 27.—Trinity River was well within its banks this morning, the gauge showing a drop of sixteen feet over night, and now registering twelve feet. Street car service was restored this morning to all flooded suburbs. The dead and missing list is now 49.

SURE HABITANT IS BULWARK OF CANADIAN LIFE

Premier L. A. Taschereau of Quebec Addresses Empire Club At Toronto.

SEE NEED OF EDUCATION

Quebec Tillers of Soil Fear Annexation and Separation, Speaker Asserts.

Toronto, April 27.—Addressing the Empire Club here at noon today on the subject of "One of Canada's Assets— the Habitant," Hon. L. A. Taschereau, premier of the province of Quebec, in referring to the question of Canadianism and how it is understood and practiced in Quebec, said there was one thing that "we do realize in backward Quebec from a national standpoint—it is the necessity of education. We feel that we can hold our own, preserve our nationality, do our share in this Dominion and help to Canada's great future only by equipping our rising generation with a thorough education.

"We know, whether all will agree with us or not, that in Canada the two nationalities, distinct as the language, traditions and ethical customs, but united in their purpose, in their loyalty and in their spirit, are essential to Canadian life. The blending of the two greatest races of the world in a common effort, on broad and generous lines of mutual respect and sympathetic understanding, cannot breed a weak and degenerate nation.

"We know, further, that the habitant is the bulwark of our nationality, because he has retained all the ancestral virtues, because the illwinds of unrest, foreign penetration, modern luxury, Bolshevist preachings pass over his head, because in his happy home rises a generation that will follow in his footsteps.

Wishes to Retain Tie.

"I may perhaps surprise you, but I will state that the French-Canadian wishes to retain the tie to the mother country as much as any of you. You are British by birth, by surroundings and by sentiment. He is British by reason and by interest. In our materialistic age, reason and interest are often stronger than sentiment.

"The habitant knows well that Canada's future status must be our present one, independence of annexation to the United States. He dreads annexation, having learned that French Louisiana lost all that he wants to retain when it fell into the American melting pot. He fears independence, well aware that the helping hand of England would no longer protect his laws and some other things which he dearly loves. The present regime has taught him that under the British tie he has found liberty, freedom and unhampered development. This tie he will retain for many years to come.

"I may be an optimist, my praise of the habitant may go too far, but I cannot but admire this honest, sturdy, vigorous and contented son of the soil. The closer you come to him the more you study him, the better friend you become of this great Canadian asset.

Providence Mightier Than Man.

"The hand of Providence is mightier than the hand of man. The vision of Providence goes further into the future than ours. If Providence, three centuries ago, sent to our shores those brave men who opened Canada to civilization, crossed it from ocean to ocean, explored its mighty rivers and fertile plains; if always undaunted under a mysterious guidance they became the pioneers of the Canada of today of which we are so proud; if they threw the seed

London To Be "City of Boys" During Whole of Next Week

Campaign Plans Complete.

Realizing the vital importance of the welfare of the boys of Canada, the future molders of the destiny of the Dominion, and London in particular, all the various clubs, organizations and associations in the city whose one ideal is civic service, such as the Rotary Club, the Knights of Columbus, the Lions Club, the Kiwanis Club, the Canadian Club and the Mothers' Clubs, as well as the pastors of all city churches, will unite next week to carry out the London program of the National Boys' Week.

The object of the Boys' Week program is to interest boys in themselves and to interest everyone else in boys. It is a gigantic drive for publicity and propaganda, not for funds, but a recognition that Canada's boyhood is the guarantee of its future.

It is the emphasizing of the fundamentals in character building for citizenship, and aims to develop the spirit of co-operation between the boys' worker and the citizen, opening up new opportunities for responsibility and encouraging the boy to "stick to school."

Plans have been mapped out allotting to each organization connected with the campaign one day in the week on which to carry out a specific part in the united effort. Every element connected with an average boy's life will be featured, attention being paid to all physical and moral phases. The sum total of the achievement, to which the whole effort is directed, is to give the boy certain ideals in every branch of his existence, thereby definitely raising the standard of the coming Canadian citizenship.

Final arrangements for Monday next the opening of the "Boys' Week" were concluded by the central committee in session at the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night.

The Schedule.

The schedule for the week follows:

Canadian Club, Monday, May 1.—General Boys' Day—A patriotic parade of all the seventh and eighth grade public school, Technical and first year High School, to be made up of boys' units, bands and demonstrations.

Knights of Columbus, Tuesday, May 2.—Boys' Day in the Schools—Co-operate with the school authorities in putting on special "stick to school" programs in public and parochial schools. Emphasize the great importance of a thorough education and of making the best possible use of the hours spent in the school. Emphasize the acquiring of an education as a means both of increasing one's ability to earn and one's power to serve others.

Rotary Club, Wednesday, May 3.—Boys' Day in Industry—The dignity of labor emphasized. Employers of boys and teachers co-operating. Vocational training and guidance featured. Give the job a future and let the boys see it.

Kiwanis Club, Thursday, May 4.—Boys' Day in Athletics—Indoor meets for boys in every available gymnasium in the city, with uniform programs and standard tests.

Mothers Clubs, Friday, May 5.—Boys' Day at Home—Parents spend this evening with the boy. Programs provided to be carried out in the homes. Every homeless boy invited to spend the evening in a home. You cannot win a boy by proxy; you must get next to his heart yourself.

Lions Club, Saturday, May 6.—Boys' Day Out of Doors—Outdoor meets, Boy Scout demonstrations, woodcraft, planting of trees and shrubs, model gardens, etc. Emphasis on life in the open.

Ministers of City, Sunday, May 7.—

ONLY FOUR DAYS TO FIX ON NEW WAGE AGREEMENT

60,000 Papermakers Vote Strike as Final Resort—Offer No Compromise on Demand.

New York, April 27.—Only four days in which to negotiate a new wage scale before the present one expires remained when officers of the International Brotherhood of Paper Makers met with newsprint manufacturers here today in an effort to avert a threatened strike of 60,000 men.

The manufacturers' committee, headed by Floyd Carlisle, president of the St. Regis Paper Company, had prepared an ultimatum in reply to the craftsmen's refusal to accept their program of wage reduction. Accept or strike was the indicated dictum of the manufacturers, according to Mr. Carlisle. They would not compromise a single point, he said, in their demands for a ten per cent cut for skilled men and elimination of time and a-half for overtime, Sundays and holidays.

The forty delegates who are here in the interests of paper makers and other organized crafts employed in the industry today reiterated their refusal to accept the manufacturers' terms.

KING OF SWEDEN INJURED IN CRASH

Grenoble, France, April 27.—King Gustav of Sweden was painfully injured yesterday when the car in which he was proceeding from Nice was struck by a machine owned by a prominent banker. The king's chamberlain was thrown from the car and gravely injured. The king suffered contusions of the left side.

FIRE ON TRAIN IN FLORENCE, ITALY

Rome, April 27.—Unknown men fired on a train near Florence today, the shots penetrating a window near which the minister of works was sitting. No one was injured.

Other disorders are reported from Florence, several workmen having been killed during the trouble. The extremists are much agitated, and the city is heavily patroled.

Daughter of Innocent Prisoner Begs Forgiveness On His Arrival Home

Toledo, O., April 27.—Carl Papenfuss, cleared of criminal charges preferred by his daughter, arrived in Toledo late yesterday after serving six years of a life sentence in the Ohio penitentiary in Columbus.

The daughter, Mrs. Martha Sours, whose testimony was responsible for the innocent man's conviction, was at the Union station when the father swung from his train.

She begged his forgiveness and expressed sincere penitence. It was her confession that led to his pardon.

Carl Papenfuss, married son of the innocent man, was the first to see him alight from a coach. Bent with his years, the elder Papenfuss walked slowly behind a group of other passengers before the son reached his side.

Then father and son embraced.

The son led his parent to the interior of the station, where other members of the family were waiting.

Those forming the welcoming circle made no effort to hide their affections as they greeted the happy father. Included in the party were his grand-children, whom he had never seen.

At the time of his conviction, Papenfuss lived with his wife and eleven sons and daughters. His wife, now dead, conspired, it is said, with the daughter, now Mrs. Sours, and his conviction and long months of prison life began.

CITIES ALL SHOW HYDRO PROFITS ARE INCREASED

Windsor, Sarnia, Chatham and St. Thomas Quoted in Report.

Toronto, April 27. — (Canadian Press).—Audited financial reports for 1921, issued today by the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission, furnish interesting information on the operations of the public-owned electric power and light systems in the cities of Windsor, Sarnia, Chatham and St. Thomas. The audited figures in connection with other Ontario cities will be published later.

In Windsor the revenue for the year was $513,836, the expenditure was $429,346. After placing to renewals reserve account $23,440, there was a net surplus of $61,076. This surplus is equivalent to $12.32 on every horsepower of energy delivered to the local system. Windsor purchased 4,957.5 horsepower. The actual cost of generating the power at Niagara was $12.27 per horsepower. The average price of energy for domestic use in Windsor is 3 cents per kilowatt hour. The city is over 250 mills from Niagara Falls. When the "Hydro" began operation in Windsor in 1914 the average rate for domestic lighting was 4.9 cents, and for commercial lighting 3.9 cents, which was less than half the former prevailing rates. The balance sheet as on December 31 last, showed assets of $1,400,599, and liabilities of $1,041,966. The reserves and accumulated surplus total $358,633.

In Sarnia the earnings were $197,578. The gross surplus was $49,113. After setting aside $12,937 for renewals reserve, there was a net surplus on the year's operations of $36,176. Sarnia is 253 miles from Niagara, and the average rate to consumers is only 3.6 per kilowatt hour. In five years' operation the consumption had increased from 816.4 horsepower to 2,861.5 horsepower, and the hydro commission has reduced the rate for delivered power from $38 to $35. The balance sheet shows that on Dec. 31 last the assets of the Sarnia system were $509,939, the liabilities, $302,759, leaving $207,179 in surplus and reserve funds.

Official figures of the operations in Chatham for 1921 show earnings of $167,429, and expenditures of $136,191. After placing $10,950 to renewals reserve fund, there was a net surplus of $21,188. The city is 194 miles from Niagara Falls. The average rate for domestic lighting is 2.7c per kilo-

HYDRO DELEGATES WAIT ON DRURY

Toronto, April 27.—The government will consider the appointment of a representative of the municipalities of the Chippawa investigating commission, provided it is given a list of six or eight nominees, from whom to choose.

Municipal representation on the hydro-electric power commission is receiving careful consideration, and may become an accomplished fact in the near future.

Government assistance to secondary hydro lines in rural districts, is desirous, but financially impracticable at the present time.

These assurances were given by Premier Drury early this afternoon to a large deputation from the Hydro-Electric Association of Ontario.

Called By Death

JOHN P. EVANS.

JOHN P. EVANS, proprietor of the Grigg House, and one of London's best known businessmen, passed away Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

PROMINENT CITY HOTELMAN DIES

Was Engineer On G. T. R. For Many Years—Funeral Saturday.

After three months' illness, John P. Evans, 70 years old, and for the past twelve years proprietor of the Grigg House, died Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

Four years ago Mr. Evans suffered a paralytic stroke from which he never fully recovered. Three months ago his condition became decidedly worse, and he slowly declined until the hour of his death.

Known as one of London's most prominent and respected businessmen, he came to this country from England when but a lad and was first employed after leaving school with the Grand Trunk railroad. Prior to his resignation from that coporation he had attained a position as engineer, conducting a regular train between this city and Wingham.

Retiring from railroad endeavor he entered the hotel business, first managing the old Bull's Head Hotel at Bathurst and Richmond streets and later the London House, Dundas and Talbot streets.

Mr. Evans was prominently identified with Masonic orders, being a member of the Mocha Temple, Richard Coeur De Lion Preceptory, No. 4.

Mr. Evans is survived by a niece, Mrs. Frank Trafford of 225 Richmond street.

The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon from the funeral home of A. L. Oatman, King street. The services will be conducted by Dean Tucker of St. Paul's Cathedral. Interment will be made at Woodland Cemetery.

SOLDIERS' AID BLASTS TOTS' VISION OF 'DAD'

Institute Proceedings To Bring About Immediate Return of Little Ones.

Strong and emphatic protests are being made today against the action of the child welfare branch of the Soldiers' Aid Commission in removing two London children from the Protestant Orphans' Home to one of the hostels of the commission in Toronto early yesterday.

Emily, aged 5, and Freddie, aged 3, children of Ernest O'Dell, are the tots involved.

Relatives of the children condemn what they term "the hasty action" which resulted in the change. They are critical of the fact that not the slightest intimation was given the father that the kiddies were to be removed so far from their relatives.

"We are anxious to know why we were not given a chance to take the children instead of having them removed to a city where they will not have a living relative," states one of the children's aunts.

Mrs. Orme, 800 Elias street, Mrs. Ashley, Crales street, aunts, and George O'Dell, Princess avenue, an employee of the car shops, an uncle, all reside here. All would have taken the children.

Earnest O'Dell and his wife, the parents of the children, are now in Windsor. Mrs. O'Dell has been in delicate health for a considerable time. Mr. O'Dell was out of work. They were unable to care for their two children and handed them over to the Soldiers' Aid for temporary care.

Working in Windsor.

Since then Mr. O'Dell has secured work in Windsor. Just on Tuesday last he wrote his sisters, telling them that he thought it would be but a short time when his little family would be reunited.

"Now they are farther apart than ever," said Mrs. Orme.

Some time ago, the soldiers' aid laid down the rule that children could not be kept in temporary homes here for a longer period than three months. After that they would be taken to Toronto.

It was evidently under this ruling that the children were hurried off Wednesday morning.

Neither Mrs. Orme or Mrs. Ashley believe that their brother gave permission for the children to be taken to Toronto.

"I have only one of my own and I would certainly have taken the children and cared for them until their parents were able to take them," said Mrs. Orme.

"Though I have seven children of my own I would certainly have done my share to keep them from being moved to Toronto," said Mrs. Ashley.

The action of the commission seems to have been more or less precipitate, judging from the story of the two aunts.

On the receipt of the letter from the parents, the two aunts Tuesday evening went to the Protestant Orphan's Home to see the children.

Aunt Sorely Grieved.

"My, how delighted the tots were when I told them that they would soon be going on a train ride to see

300 Calcutta Convicts Battle Guards To Gain Freedom

LONDON, April 27.—Three hundred convicts made a sudden and desperate rush for the gates of the jail in Calcutta yesterday, according to the correspondent of the London Times, and completely surprised the staff. The guards opened fire, however, and killed six of the convicts and wounded about a dozen. None of the men escaped by the gates, but a number of them scaled the wall and have not been recaptured.

While the fires set by the convicts were burning there was a struggle between the prisoners and warders, in which several of the warders were injured but none killed.

Cheapness of Mark Gives Germany Advantage in World Trade

LONDON, April 27.—There's no doubt that Germany has been able during the past year to attract a large part of the world's trade in manufactured goods, because of the low rate of the mark, says a report, by the commercial secretary to the British embassy in Berlin, published by the Board of Trade Journal.

The low mark has enabled her to proceed apace with the reconstruction of her mercantile marine, as German ships, which are paid for in paper marks, can earn freights paid for in gold.

"Further, it is the low mark which during the past year saved Germany the crushing burden of unemployment under which the remainder of the world labored so heavily."

FALLON DENIES CATHOLICS ASK SPECIAL FAVOR

Challenges Charge of Bishop Williams To Synod of Huron.

APPEALS TO HIGH COURT

Accepts Utterance of Attorney-General Raney On Legislature's Status.

That statements made by Bishop David Williams in his charge to the Synod of Huron, relating to separate schools are at direct variance with the facts and the law, is the charge made by Bishop M. F. Fallon.

In a second statement, "an open letter to the members of the Ontario Legislature," the Catholic bishop makes a direct appeal to what he terms "the high court of Ontario" in regard to the separate school question.

Bishop Williams in his charge is credited by Bishop Fallon with stating that separate school supporters, stockholders in companies, can allocate their portion of taxes of the corporation to the support of separate schools.

Bishop Fallon attacks this statement, and after absolving the Anglican bishop from malice, says the statement is the result of "lack of knowledge," which, however, he contends is no justification, considering the position of the person making the charge.

After giving his version of the law, the Catholic bishop suggests that the Anglican bishop join "his Catholic fellow-citizens in their demand for the enjoyment of that right which he has approved" and also that the bishop lose no time in informing the public that he was innocently misled.

Accepts Raney's Ruling.

"This letter is the first act of compliance with the directions of the prime minister. It is an appeal to the courts," says the bishop in the course of his lengthy review of the separate school question, in his letter to the members of the Legislature.

He accepts the recent utterance of Attorney-General W. E. Raney as gospel, "that the Legislature is the high court of the province," and then proceeds with an outline of "a few of our grievances." He contends that he is asking no favors. He is simply seeking justice and fair dealing for the children of his people, thousands of whom are suffering from a partial intellectual famine."

The bishop's letter to The Advertiser, replying to the utterances of Bishop Williams in his charge to the synod follows:

The Editor, The Advertiser:

Dear Sir,—In his charge yesterday to the synod of the Diocese of Huron, now in session in the City of London, the Right Rev. Bishop Williams made lengthy reference to Roman Catholic separate schools. With his lordship's pious wishes and political prophecies in this connection I have no concern. His guess is as good as mine. But before his lordship undertook to interpret and expound the law on the division of the school taxes of incorporated companies he should have read it, or at least have consulted somebody who knew something about it. His lordship's dogmatic certainty of his own inerrancy renders his mistakes all the more pitiable. It is not malice; it is just simply lack of knowledge. But lack of knowledge is no justification when a gentleman occupying the distinguished position of the Bishop of Huron makes an egregious blunder in dealing with a question of great public interest. In the course of his remarks, the text of which was given to the press, his lordship said:

"Every Roman Catholic can now allocate all his school rates to the separate schools. If he has stock in a company he can direct that the proportion of school rates represented by his stock shall go to the support of separate schools."

Claims Inconsistency.

The above statement is at direct variance with the facts and the law. The exact contrary is the truth. No Catholic stockholder has any right or power whatever under the law to direct that the proportion of school taxes represented by his stock shall go to the support of separate schools.

In 1917 I wrote to 20 banks and trust companies doing business in London asking that the board of directors pass a resolution that the school taxes on their stock held by Catholics should be directed to separate schools. Two of them, the Home Bank and the London and Western Trust Company, replied favorably. The others either refused bluntly or gave evasive answers. This year the Huron & Erie has agreed, so I am informed, to put the law into operation. Though its largest individual stockholder is a Catholic and a supporter of separate schools, he had and has absolutely no power to allocate any portion of the school taxes on his stock to separate schools. Like all other Catholic stockholders in any and every incorporated company, he is at the mercy of the board of directors. Thus, even if Catholics owned 49 per cent of the stock in any corporation, they are unable to direct 1 cent of the corporation's school taxes to their own schools unless the board of directors pass a resolution to that effect.

Asks Explanation.

This is precisely the grievance against which Roman Catholics are protesting. They object to have the interests of their schools left to the whim of any board of directors. Now that his lordship of Huron realizes that the condition which he approved has no existence in reality, will he not join his Catholic fellow-citizens in their demand for the enjoyment of that right which he erroneously imagines they possess?

And will his lordship kindly lose no time in informing the public, which he has innocently misled, that his statement in this regard is without any foundation whatever in law or in fact?

Yours faithfully,
(Signed). M. F. FALLON,
Bishop of London.

London, April 26, 1922.

The bishop's open letter to the members of the Legislature follows:

"Honorable Gentlemen,—The separate schools act of 1863 established a common school system for the Roman Catholics of Ontario; that school system was made a part of the constitution of Canada by the Confederation Compact of 1867. At the same time the educational rights and privileges of the Protestant minority of Quebec and of the Roman Catholic minority of Ontario were guaranteed forever by constitutional enactment.

"By legislation and by regulation these rights and privileges of the Roman Catholic minority in Ontario have been repeatedly infringed and abridged, and grievances have been thereby created.

Claims Disappointment.

"The representative of Roman Catholic separate schools exposed and explained these grievances to the prime minister of Ontario and his cabinet on the 31st of May, 1921. No reply having been made to their representations, they were repeated by letter on Dec. 20 last. At length, in the month of March of this year, the prime minister, lumping our grievances together and refusing to make any distinction between them, definitely told us to go to the courts. It was a vague and perhaps convenient answer; whether or not it was just courageous is quite another matter. Unquestionably it was a disappointment to the Roman Catholic minority, which constitutes one-fifth of the total population of this province, and whose schools form a very efficient and constantly-increasing portion of the public educational system of Ontario.

"This letter is a first act of compliance with the directions of the prime minister. It is an appeal to the courts.

"You honorable gentlemen comprise the high court of Ontario. To establish this fact we have, if it be necessary, the recent declaration to that effect of the honorable the attorney-general. As a citizen of Ontario and a supporter of Roman Catholic separate schools, I take the liberty of placing before you a few of our grievances, and of humbly and respectfully requesting that immediate and effective redress, which lies within my right to ask and your power to grant.

Voting Is Restricted.

By the provisions of the boards of education act Roman Catholic separate school supporters are prohibited by the law from voting at the election of members to these boards; they are, nevertheless, obliged by law to pay their taxes to high school and collegiate institutes; they have no effective control over the persons who spend these taxes and who direct the policy of these institutions. They are suffering from that form of tyranny which is called taxation without representation. Colored people, Jews and infidels may vote at these elections; Roman Catholic separate school supporters may not. It is idle to refer to the power of separate school boards to appoint one or two representatives; such power is a sham and a false pretence, and but renders our inferiority more offensive to ourselves. The attorney-general, the Hon. W. E. Raney, spontaneously and with righteous indignation, characterized this condition as "a rank injustice." This injustice was created, unwittingly I readily admit, by the Legislature of Ontario; by the Legislature of Ontario let it be removed. Roman Catholics should not be expected or requested to go into the law courts for relief from a grievance which the chief law officer of the province, the official protector and promoter of justice in our midst, has stigmatized as "a rank injustice."

The late Sir James Whitney placed upon the statute books of Ontario the continuation schools act. It marked the most progressive step in education taken in this province in a quarter of a century. It brought the advantages of secondary education to the doors of the children in rural communities. It was enough to immortalize the name of that courageous and fair-minded statesman. Its benefits extended equally to public and separate schools. But its benefits no longer exist for separate schools. A regulation issued in 1915 by the late superintendent of education made the act nugatory as far as separate schools are concerned. Is it your desire, honorable gentlemen, that the Roman Catholics of Ontario should be forced into the law courts for a judicial determination as to whether or not an irresponsible official of the department of education may override and nullify at will an act of the Provincial Legislature?

There are certain properties in this province that are owned by the public. Such are the National Railways, radial railroads, the hydro-electric enterprises, and so on. Have Roman Catholics been exempted from their share of the burdens involved in the purchase, the construction or the upkeep of these properties? Why, then, should their portion of the public educational system be denied participation in the school taxes levied on these publicly-owned properties?

Asking No Favors.

It is obvious that Roman Catholics form a part of the public; it is indefensible to hold the contrary. Are the obvious and the indefensible a proper subject of dispute and decision of the law courts? Is it fair to make more than half a million citizens of this province plaintiffs in such a suit? Should they be subjected to the heavy expense and vexatious delays of legal proceedings in so important a matter? Not so is the relatively much smaller Protestant minority of Quebec treated by the Roman Catholic majority of that province. Speaking in the city of London a few weeks ago, the Hon. Jacob Nicol, provincial treasurer of Quebec, made the following statement:

"As representative of the Protestant minority it is my duty to see that they get their share, and they do get their share. Grants this year to McGill, Laval and Montreal Universities were $1,000,000 each. That is to say, the money was divided between Roman Catholic and Protestant institutions on a basis of two to one. As a matter of fact, the population is on a basis of eight Catholics to one Protestant in Quebec; so we cannot complain of that. There were grants of $10,000 each made to nineteen classical colleges in the province, and $40,000 to the Protestant institutions as a compensation for this $190,000. That is a little more than one-fifth, instead of between one-eighth and one-ninth; in this way we are satisfied with the treatment meted us."

And all the leading officials of the Protestant section of the Council of Public Instruction of Quebec have borne eloquent testimony to the just and generous treatment accorded to the minority in that province.

Amongst your number, honorable gentlemen, I have several acquaintances, some friends and a few old school fellows. Have I figured you out all wrong? I am asking no favors. I am seeking only justice and fari dealing in matters educational for the children of my people. Thousands of them are suffering from partial intellectual famine; their future success as citizens of this province is being compromised. Do you wish to strike a strong blow for unity, for harmony, for concord, and for common action in building up a great nation? Then stand up for justice, simple, even-handed justice; insist upon fair play. Let the grievances from which Roman Catholic Separate Schools suffer be removed from the statutes of Ontario, once and forever.

With sentiments of sincere respect, I remain, honorable gentlemen,

Yours faithfully,
(Signed). M. F. FALLON,
Bishop of London.

Special to London Advertiser.

TILLSONBURG, April 26.—Wilbur Prouse, who leases Annadale Farm, owned by the Tillson estate, had a miraculous escape from instant death this afternoon when a large tractor upset backwards, pinning him between the engine and disc harrows. He owes his life to the fact that the harrows held part of the weight off his body till he was released by fellow-workmen.

He was taken to the house and medical aid summoned, but as yet the extent of his injuries cannot be ascertained. If no serious internal complications follow, it is expected the injured man will recover. His hips and back are badly cut and bruised.

The accident happened in such a short space of time that Mr. Prouse had no chance to jump from his seat to save himself.

SEES FAILURE FOR AGRARIANS

Expects Liberal Party, Representative of All Classes, To Win.

WINNIPEG, April 26.—In addressing the Liberal convention here last night, Premier T. C. Norris predicted that the attempt of the United Farmers to get control of the Legislature would fail, and claimed that no one class should get control.

The Liberal party, he said, was representative of all classes, and as such, was the logical party to be returned to power.

A resolution eulogizing Right Hon. Mackenzie King, premier of Canada, and expressing confidence in his administration, was passed unanimously at an early stage in the proceedings.

In the resolution the government was heartily congratulated in respect of his attitude on the natural resources and the freight rates questions.

The platform of the party was revised, and several new planks were added to it. The conference went on record as favoring introduction of the principle of the preferential ballot in single member constituencies.

It also indorsed the adoption of an aggressive immigration policy, and approved of a referendum being taken on the question of establishing government stores for the sale of liquor for beverage purposes.

Considerable difference of opinion developed at the conference over a resolution urging that the teaching of French be included in the curriculum of the public schools of Manitoba, because of the recognized commercial value of the language and its literary and cultural advantages, and eventually is was referred back to the resolutions committee for further consideration.

The convention did not adjourn until 2 o'clock this morning.

SUBMITS SUGGESTIONS TO SETTLEMENT BOARD

C. G. MacNeil Offers Five Proposals Regarding Granting of Relief to Soldier Settlers.

OTTAWA, April 26.—(By Canadian Press).—Five suggestions were made to the pensions and re establishment committee by C. G. MacNeil of the Dominion Veterans' Alliance this morning in regard to the granting of relief to settlers under the soldiers' settlement board. The suggestions were:

1. Revaluation of the land.
2. Revaluation of stock and equipment.
3. Exemption from interest for a period of years, in addition to the exemption already allowed.
4. The spread of the stock and equipment loan over a longer period.
5. A reduction in the rate of interest.

The alliance did not make any recommendation as between these suggestions.

When Mr. MacNeil was urging that returned men be fully protected in the rights to employment in the civil service, Hon. H. S. Beland, minister of soldiers' civil re-establishment, stated that 40 permanent employees had been dismissed in the D. S. C. R. to make room for temporary returned soldier employees.

32 PERISH WHEN STEAMER SINKS

BREST, France, April 26.—Thirty-two lives were lost when the French steamer Deputy Albert Taillandier, a vessel of 3,000 tons, bound from Rotterdam for Brest with a cargo of coal, foundered last night off the northern coast of Brittany during a violent storm. The captain of the ship, the sole survivor, was picked up today by the Greek steamer Pelagia.

CANADIAN GOODS HELP CUT PRICES

LONDON, Eng., April 26.—(Canadian Press Cable.)—The arrival of house-building necessaries from Canada, particularly pipes, has helped produce a palpable fall in cost of house-building here. The minister of health is now making contracts in the neighborhood of £400 for houses that used to cost £1,400. The trade rings here have visibly collapsed. There are also large savings in the cost of house-building through the importation of tiles from Marseilles, France.

TWENTY KILLED IN FIRE IN SPAIN

Malaga, Spain, April 26.—Twenty persons are known to have lost their lives and 30 were injured in a fire which swept the government buildings last night and was still burning at 4 o'clock this morning. It is believed more bodies will be recovered when the ruins can be searched.

At the time this dispatch was filed it was feared the fire would spread to the custom house, in which great quantities of ammunition, destined for use of the Spanish forces in Morocco, are stored.

CHANG TSO LIN INCREASES FORCE

Peking, April 26.—Taking the stand that he intends to employ force to unify the country, Gen. Chang Tso-Lin, governor of Manchuria, has sent a telegram to President Hsu Shih-Chang refusing to withdraw his troops in Chi-Li Province. Instead of withdrawing, Chang Tso-Lin has sent additional forces southward, making almost 100,000 he now haas south of the great wall.

In his message to the president sent from Mukden, Chang Tso-Lin said: "In view of the Washington conference plans concerning China, it is absolutely necessary to unify North and South China without delay. Otherwise China cannot fulfill her obligations towards the powers."

MONTREAL FIRM LOSES $817,211

Montreal, April 26.—Operations of Ames, Holden, McCready, Limited, for the year 1921 resulted in a loss of $817,211, as compared with a loss of $508,586 the previous year, according to the annual statement, which will be placed before shareholders today.

Net sales, however, are shown at $6,133,092, as compared with $6,062,818 for 1920. In his report to shareholders, which was one of the last things he completed before his death, President T. H. Rieder said: "The business recession did not end with 1920, but continued during the first half of 1921, with slight improvement in the latter part of the year. Inventories were written down by $144,655, which is the basis on which present selling prices are calculated.

K. OF C.'S HUTS SHOW SURPLUS

Distributed $1,041,702.51 in Charity and Soldier Relief, Accounts Show.

An official statement in regard to the present status of the Knights of Columbus, Catholic Army Huts, covering the period from November, 1917, to the end of last month, has just been issued. It gives a balance on hand of $59,050.64 and shows that the "huts" distributed $1,041,702.57 to charity during their existence.

The statement of receipts shows that the hut movement in Canada raised in all $1,292,054.14, of which amount all came from grants and subscriptions except $41,000 from interest and investments.

The statement of disbursements, audited by chartered accountants at Ottawa, and checked by the federal department of state under the war measures act, shows the following main items: Administration expense, $121,158.79, the three items being, salaries $57,713, office expense and equipment $23,072, advertising publicity, taxes, etc., $28,869.

Campaign expense, $70,133.

Charity—Monetary assistance overseas, $229,278.11; less amount returned, $17,120.95; making a total of $212,157.16.

Hut equipment, etc., $68,984.30; less proceeds from sale, $20,464.98; making a total of $48,519.32.

Operating expenses of huts in Canada, viz.: Alterations and repairs, $62,028.49; cafe and canteen supplies, $325,803.78; rents of huts, $56,732.01; salaries, $68,635.85; hut wages and expenses, $112,101.02; traveling expenses, $8,195.45; office supplies, $10,603.36; telegrams, telephone and postage, $4,540.36; entertainment and library, $13,448.17; taxes and insurance, $4,901.42; light, heat and water, $29,184.15; lodging expense, $22,019.26; huts general expenses, $23,898.19; donations, comforts and assistance to returned soldiers and dependents, $290,046.06; making a total of $1,032,137.57; which less receipts from huts and cafes in Canada, $312,515.17; makes $719,621.80;

Material supplied overseas and in Canada such as tents, equipment, cigarettes, gum, soldiers' comforts, books, writing material, etc., $48,051.71; making a total amount devoted to charity, $1,041,702.57.

The total disbursements were $1,232,994.50, leaving a balance on hand of $59,050.64.

J. L. Murray, secretary-treasurer, in a statement contained in the report, says that the movement is about to be wound up.

The record of the activities of the association, whether overseas or in Canada, is an open book, and the best reference to be offered is the praise that has continually been received from the men of the Canadian forces and their dependents.

The work is rapidly drawing to a close. The hospital and loan departments, which have given relief to returned men and their dependents, are now in the winding-up stage. It is expected the balance of cash on hand, as shown on statement as at March 31, 1922, will be sufficient to properly complete the present activities.

The generosity and patriotism of the Canadian public made the work possible. For the patronage extended the association feels most grateful. It has been the endeavor of the governing body (who have worked without any remuneration) to faithfully administer the funds entrusted to them as economically as possible.

Thos. Mulvey, under-secretary of state, Ottawa, reports: "The provisions of the war charities act, in so far as the filing of returns is concerned, have been fully complied with by the Catholic Army Huts. The statements of the Catholic Army Huts regularly audited by chartered accountants have been subjected to further scrutiny by the officers of this department, and no exception is taken to any item therein."

Women's Labor Party Fears Request To Council Is Forgotten

MEMBERS of the Women's Labor Party are commencing to fear that their appeal for the revival of civic legislation pertaining to the cultivation of vacant land, has been forgotten by the city council in the ordinary trend of human events.

Although the aldermen at their last regular meeting, ten days ago, courteously received a deputation from the party, listened attentively to what they had to say, and then promised consideration, nothing seemingly has since transpired. The council expressed its intention of appointing a special committee to investigate the matter, but from there on the trail ceases.

'THE LITTLE TYCOON' MAKES BIG HIT

WILL REPEAT FRIDAY

The fact that it was billed as an amateur production and yet had not one whit of the amateurish about the whole performance, left "The Little Tycoon," presented by the London Bob White Company, in St. Peter's Hall, under the auspices of the London Catholic Women's League, and under the direction of Capt. M. Ryan of the R. C. R. Band, one of the delightful plays staged by London dramatists during the season.

The story itself was the romance of a pretty young American girl, doomed by her extremely blue-blooded parent to marry a gentleman of the British aristocracy, but who eludes the fate in store for her by marrying a young American whom she meets on board ship. And throughout the course of this delightful love story there are introduced opportunities for splendid acting, both amongst leads and chorus.

Honors were about equally divided between the feminine leads, Miss Clois Terry and Miss Edna Bray, who met with abundant and most enthusiastic praise. Miss Terry, who played Violet, the general's daughter, has already established herself as a soprano singer, whose voice is remarkably clear and sweet, as well as having the added advantage of being strong and well-trained. Her solo work, and her singing in company with other members of the cast, but added another wreath to the laurels she has already gained.

Miss Bray had a charming piece of characterization in the role of Miss Hurricane, an adorable piece of feminity, who entangles the haughty general himself in the web of her smile.

The role of General Knickerbocker provided opportunity for a display of dramatic talent, which was not lost upon Victor Linfoot, who portrayed all the haughtiness and old-fashioned mannerisms of the somewhat irascible gentleman, and not only in his clever acting, but also in the solo work which fell to his lot, Mr. Linfoot, who has a rich bass voice, played up to a high standard.

Ted Bottoms made a handsome and convincingly lover-like Alvin Barry, the dashing American, who captures the hand of the winsome Violet.

Not an easy role to play was that of Lord Dolphin, the young English nobleman, who is considered by the general such an admirable match for his daughter, but it was carried off cleverly by Jack Nopper, who depicted to a nicety all the foppish airs and graces which usually accompany a characteriation of the sort.

In addition to the principals, there were a number of characters which, while not major, yet added much to the finished character of the performance, as well as a decidedly comic element. M. McKeough, in the role of Teddy, Lord Dolphin's valet, made the most of his opportunity to provide comedy of a unfailingly funny nature.

Rufus, the ever-ready college friend, was cleverly played by Vincent Colgan, who later appeared as Gull Gull, interpreter to the Great Tycoon. Miss Lena Short was a charming Dolly, a school friend of the leading lady, with a pretty lyric soprano voice. Ray Evans as the customs officer, James Toomery as Augustus Ready, Tom Holland as Montgomery and Jack Pethick in the role of a sailor completed the cast of principals.

So great a success was "The Little Tycoon" that it is to be repeated at te Catholic Club auditorium Friday evening, making its third appearance, and of the proceeds of this performance a generous sum will be given to the Memorial Hospital Fund.

Hobgoblins: R. Christopher, V. Colgan, E. Dignan, R. Kenny, A. Lafontaine, S. Pocock, C. Walter, J. Walker.

Jappy Girls: P. Ashwell, J. Burke, M. Coughlin, M. Cox, L. Field, M. Fitgerald, E. Kiley, M. Meaden, E. Mullins, D. Mullins, D. Styles.

SNYDER SENT TO BURWASH FARM

Given Indeterminate Sentence After Pleading Guilty To Breaking and Entering.

Admits Being Brought To Court On Three Previous Occasions For Theft.

Leonard Snyder, who pleaded guilty in police court last Tuesday to two charges of breaking and entering, was sentenced to not less than three months and not more than two years, less one day, in the Ontario Reformatory, by Magistrate Graydon Thursday morning. His companion in the thefts, Leo. Lambton, was remanded a week for sentence.

Snyder and Lambton admitted breaking into a G. T. R. caboose on April 21 and stealing rubber coats, boots, etc., valued at $30.

On April 22, they broke into a barn owned by W. H. Winnett, Adelaide street, stealing ten bags of oats and two horse blankets.

The youths also pleaded guilty to the theft of 350 pounds of copper from the warehouse of J. Harris & Sons, Chelsea Green.

"There is some distinction between the boys, as Snyder has a record," said A. R. Douglas, acting crown attorney. "Snyder is on parole now. They have been pillaging cars on the G. T. R., and have been in other trouble.

"It is a most serious offence to steal from a railroad company," declared the court. "The carrying on of commerce would be very much hampered if this thing was not put down. It is impossible to watch every freight car.

Snyder admitted that he had been in court on three previous occasions. He admitted stealing from Brock's gun store, and breaking into a bicycle shop owned by a Mr. Benson. He could not remember being implicated in a theft from a mail car.

"Probably it is hard to remember all the crimes," said Mr. Graydon.

Lambton's brother was in court and was anxious that the boy be given another chance.

"He was led into it or he would never have done it," said the brother.

"He shouldn't be led into temptation," replied the court. "I haven't much sympathy with these young men. The usual plea is that they have been led into temptation. If Snyder's mother was here she would probably say that Lambton led her boy into temptation."

Questioned further, Lambton's brother said that the boy, who is but 16 years old, was exempted from attending St. Mary's school by the priest when he was eleven years old, because he was not exceptionally bright.

"I'll remand Lambton for a week," said Mr. Graydon.

"I feel utterly discouraged about you Snyder," declared the magistrate, turning toward the older prisoner. "I have done everything possible to keep you right, but you do not seem to care. I sentence you to the Ontario Reformatory for a period not less than three months, and not more than two years less one day. There is nothing further that I can do or say that will do you any good."

INSPECTS CITY INDUSTRIES ON ACCIDENT PREVENTION

D. J. Hay Will Be Here Another Week On Work Connected With Workmen's Compensation.

On his regular annual tour D. J. Hay, inspector for the Industrial Accident Prevention Associations, is conducting an inspection of London's factories and other business concerns. This undertaking will require another week.

The prevention association, which Mr. Hay represents, is authorized under the Workmen's Compensation Act of Ontario, which provides that employers in any of the classes included in a certain schedule may form themselves into such a body for accident prevention and institute rules for that purpose.

When the compensation boards concludes that the association so formed sufficiently represents the employers in the industries, it may approve such rules as are prepared and the same subsequently ratified by the government shall be then binding upon the employers in question.

Mr. Hay, under the same provisions, is authorized to enter at reasonable hours the employer's establishment for the purpose of ascertaining whether the ways, works, machinery, or appliances therein are safe, adequate and sufficient, and whether all precautions are taken for the prevention of accidents to the workmen employed in or about the premises.

CHIEF WILL STOP CUTTING CORNERS

That Chief of Police Robert Birrell is a man of infinite patience is demonstrated by the fact that he is giving careless citizens, who persist in cutting across other people's lawns one more warning before he issues any more summons.

"I don't want to be nasty or hostile," declared the chief Thursday morning, "but this cutting across boulevards has got to stop. Several have been fined already."

Wednesday afternoon 29 pupils of the London Collegiate crossed a lawn at the corner of Picton street and Dufferin avenue. The public have been warned twice, and this is the last time.

"I'll bring both boys and girls into court if they persist in walking over the grass. I think it is pure thoughtlessness on their part, but they must be made to remember."

Petition For Hydro to Drive Lovers From Tryst on Old Traction Bridge

The old saying, "that someone is always trying to take the joy out of life," though almost worn threadbare, applies to the effort to put a ban on the dozens of loving couples who in the past have made a rendezvous of the traction bridge during the pleasant summer evenings.

The machinations of the residences of the vicinity, through the instrumentality of Ald. O. I. Cunningham, and aided and abetted by the members of No. 1 committee, promise to induce the utilities commission to render this hitherto dark and sacred spot of lovers untenable.

Electric lights are to be installed, the residents, through Dr. Cunningham, expressing the opinion that a little light on the scene may scare Cupid away and the intended victims of his darts will have to take themselves off to fields anew.

Dr. Cunningham said he was not fathering the scheme or bringing it up personally. He was just laying a request of the residents for a light, before the committee.

Dr. Cunningham said there was a space 790 feet long without a light. The residents informed him that there were anywhere from a dozen to 20 couples camped along the bridge nightly during the summer—"star gazing," he presumed.

"Oscar, you're getting old," said the mayor.

"No, I'm not. It's the residents in the vicinity who are objecting," said the alderman.

Ald. Cunningham said that the suggestion was that a light should be placed in the middle of the bridge, and that the light should be carefully covered with a wire net. Otherwise the light would be of no use, as it would be broken every night.

The engineer will be asked to report on the matter.

BELL'S FIGURES ARE $700

Party Willing to Take Issue Before Mass Meeting If Alderman Won't Run.

While not unwilling to accede to Alderman Fred Watkinson's terms that $2,000 "be put up" to cover expenses for a by-election in Ward Three, representative members of the Labor party question that councillor's estimate of the probable cost.

Questioned Thursday, City Treasurer James Bell stated that roughly estimated the total cost for the last civic election in all wards for all offices was a trifle more than $2,000. He is of the opinion that a by-election in Ward Three would mean probably an expenditure, including pay for returning officers, poll clerks, etc., as well as printing and rental of polling booths, $600 or $700.

Should either Alderman Watkinson or Ashton still decline to accept the recent challenge of the Labor party, that they go to the polls and test the feeling of those who elected them, upon the "annexed school" and "salary" issues, an open mass meeting in the east end is satisfactory to them.

The Labor men give te assurance that should the councillors choose to state their case from an East London platform they will be accorded a fair show and care will be exercised that no interruptions are made.

TRAFFIC COP WINS 220-YARD DASH WITH RUNAWAY TEAM

Team and Big Lorry Careen Down Dundas, Endangering Lives of Pedestrians and Autoists.

What might have developed into a serious runaway was averted on Thursday morning, when a policeman at the end of a 220-yard dash brought a runaway team to a standstill on Dundas street.

A large G. T. R. lorry was left standing at the corner of Dundas and the market lane, when something or other frightened the animals. Away they went east on Dundas street, across the corner of Dundas and Richmond, without even waiting for the traffic cop's signal, and also gaining speed every second.

At this stage of the game one of "London's Own" noticed the runaway, and realizing at once that a disaster might happen at any moment, took up the pursuit. After running a few yards, he thought he could make better speed without his hat on, and so removed that piece of headgear.

Just in time to prevent the team from colliding with a standing motor car, he grasped the heads of the animals and after considerable prancing and dancing the horses became quietened.

Within a minute or so, the driver wandered on the scene, and whispering a few soothing words to his charges, drove away.

TO MEET PARTY OF 12 ENGLISH GIRLS

STAY IN ARMY LODGE

New Institution Will Provide Temporary Home for Immigrant Girls Until Settled.

Adjutant Atkinson, one of the officials in charge of the Domestic Lodge, recently instituted in the city by the Salvation Army will go to Toronto on Sunday to meet the first party of girls who are being brought to Canada under the auspices of the army. They are to arrive in Quebec, Saturday, on the Metagama, and it is expected they will be in London on Sunday.

There are twelve girls in the number and of these eight are to remain in London. Three have been found positions in Woodstock, and the other one in Strathroy. During 24 or 48 hours between their arrival and taking up their duties in their new homes, the girls will be the guests of the army in the Domestic Lodge.

Numerous applications have been received by the Salvation Army officials for domestics, and the demand is much larger than can be supplied. It has been arranged that the girls shall stay at least a month in their first positions in order that allowance may be made for them to adapt themselves to the different conditions of the country. They are trained, however, in domestic service, and it is expected that they will easiliy overcome any difficulties which may at first arise, owing to the fact that housekeeping in Canada may prove slightly different from the same task in England.

If at the end of that time, however, there are any reasonable causes for complaint, the girls will be allowed to return to the lodge until other positions are found. It was the intention in founding the lodge to provide a home where the girls might be free to enter in changing from one position to another.

C. HOUGHTBY AND WALLACE FERGUSON CAPTURE PRIZES

Western "U" Students Get Results of Fire Prevention League Contest.

Last autumn, through the efforts of Mr. John M. Watt of this city, the Ontario Fire Prevention League was induced to permit an essay contest to be inaugurated in Western University similar to the contest that has been established for several years in the University of Toronto.

The league offered two prizes of fifteen dollars each for the two best essays, to be written by students of Western University, in the course of the year on the subject of "Fire Prevention." The committee appointed to read the essays submitted by the students this year is now in a position to announce the awards.

The first prize is awarded to Charles Houghtby, Arts '24; the second to Wallace K. Ferguson, Arts '24. Owing to the excellence of the essay written by Miss Helen Allison, Arts '24, the Fire Prevention League has awarded her an honorable mention and a prize of ten dollars.

Copies of the essays written by the three successful candidates will be sent to the Fire Prevention League and used by the deputy fire marshal in spreading information throughout the province concerning the necessity incumbent upon the people of Ontario to take greater pains to reduce the number of destructive fires.

MRS. C. H. HILL NOMINATED GIRL GUIDE COMMISSIONER

Chosen At Meeting of Local Executive Thursday Morning.

Mrs. C. H. Hill, wife of Lieut.-Col. C. H. Hill, was nominated to the office of commissioner for London Girl Guides at a meeting held Thursday morning in the King street residence of the Y. W. C. A.. The nomination was an enthusiastic and unanimous one.

After the recommendation of the nomination has been submitted to the Canadian Council of Girl Guides for ratification at Toronto, Mrs. Hill will receive her warrant.

Mrs. F. P. Betts, provincial commissioner, who was acting commissioner for London, presided during the first part of the meeting. Mrs. Stella Macklim, convener of badges, was empowered at the meeting to appoint a committee to act as instructors of examiners to map out the work and plan for the coming year.

CARMEN PICK FRANK M'KAY

Sits On Board of Conciliation On Street Railway Arbitration.

Company Refuses To Divulge Name of Their Representative.

Frank McKay, 412 Rectory street, prominently identified with the labor movement in the city, has been selected by the street railwaymen's union as their representative on the federal board of conciliation ordered by the Hon. James Murdock to arbitrate differences between themselves and the London Street Railway Company.

Meeting in special session Wednesday night, the union's executive picked Mr. McKay from among two or three other likely delegates. Information to this effect has been sent to the department of labor at Ottawa.

While the company's officials decline to discuss the subject, it is known that their representative has been selected, and his name forwarded to Ottawa Wednesday.

The two delegates are authorized to pick their own chairman, failing which within a set period, the federal officials will make the choice.

While neither of the contracting parties are bound to abide by the findings of the board of arbitration, the men appear to feel that the recent passage of the company's private bill for an increased fare enhances their chances for a favorable decision.

The latter are protesting a three-cent an hour wage reduction placed in effect March 1 last, and have entered counter-claims for overtime and regular holidays.

WILL NOT ATTEMPT TO IMPROVE LIGHT SYSTEM

Utilities Commission Remembers City Council Protest of Eight Years Ago.

Passing of accounts and similar routine business will feature the postponed meeting of the public utilities commission Thursday afternoon.

Officials of the hydro department explain that no attempt will be made to improve the city's street lighting service other than to continue to replace globes that were rendered ineffective during the recent storm.

While certain criticism has emanated recently in certain quarters respecting the same, notably from members of the city council who threatened a "thorough investigation" such action has failed to materialize.

Hydro officials point out that many citizens apparently are obsessed with the belief that their department is commissioned to provide a street lighting service, using their own discretion in the matter. This is entirely wrong, they explain, as the city receives just what the council orders and the people pay for.

The hydro department does not presume to do anything upon its own initiative, they say. Seven or eight years ago the commission proceeded to improve Richmond and Dundas streets and Queen's avenue, placing additional lights for a distance of a mile on each thoroughfare. The result was, it is explained, that the city council "made such a roar," declining to pay for something it did not order, that the commission moved to remove the lights. The council eventually paid the bill, but since then the commission has positively refused to attempt any move of a similar nature.

MUST PLACE CITY MILK SUPPLY UNDER TWO HEADS

Tubercular Free Milk and Non-Tubercular Free or Pasteurized Milk Will Be Classifications.

Dr. Marriot, Ottawa, an inspector of the veterinary branch of the department of agriculture, has informed the board of health that immediately the city passes the by-law providing for the testing of dairy herds for tuberculosis, the milk supply of the city must be placed under two classifications:

1.—Tuberculor free milk.

2.—No tuberculor, free or pasterized.

This materially upset the interpretation of the local board in the matter. They labored under the idea that the classification would not be put into effect for two years, and were somewhat surprised to learn that it will have an immediate effect.

The veterinary also informed the city that the department would not drop the inspection at the end of two years, but would carry it on for all time. Also that if a dealer, in purchasing cattle for his herd, bought T. B. cattle, these would be destroyed and he would be reimbursed.

The city's bylaw will go into effect very soon.

SAYS CITY LOSES $20,000 YEARLY

Ald. H. B. Ashplan contends that as a result of the present method of spreading the school rate on the rolls of the city the city of London has lost $20,000 yearly in taxes.

In city hall circles this is being corrected. The taxes were all paid, but the amount mentioned, it is close to $24,000, has been shouldered by those who should not have been burdened with it, if the court rules that the alderman's contention as to how the taxes should be spread, is correct.

The annex agreement has been in force for seven years.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

While ye have the light, believe in the light, that ye may be the children of the light—John 12:36.

LIGHT that a man receiveth by counsel from another is drier and purer than that which cometh from his own understanding and judgment, which is ever in his affections and customs.

MARK 103RD ANNIVERSARY OF ODDFELLOWS' ORDER

Banquet With Splendid Program Attended by Over 250 Wednesday Night.

To celebrate the 103rd anniversary of the Independent Order of Oddfellows a banquet and dance was held in the Oddfellows Hall on Wednesday evening. At 8 o'clock there were more than 250 guests present, and this number considerably increased as the evening progressed. Pink and green streamers and ribbons were used profusely in decorating the hall, and more than one was heard to remark how tastefully the decorations were arranged.

The program was opened with a toast to "Our King and Country," and the singing of "God Save the King," after which an address of welcome was read by Fred H. Dickinson, N. G.

Pleasing solos, which were appreciated by the large gathering, were rendered by Misses Florence Tingey, Ruthven Jackson and Mrs. Herbert Bell. Readings were also given by Mrs. Pellon and Miss Catharine Stein. A flute solo by John Darling received considerable applause.

The toasts of the evening included "To the Chorazin Lodge," made by William Shaw, first noble grand, of St. Thomas; "To May Queen Rebekah Lodge, No. 5," replied to by Sister W. R. MacKay, N. G.; "To the Encampment," replied to by Bro. George Jewell, D. G. P.; "To the Rebekah Assembly of Ontario," replied to by Sister MacRobert, D. D. P.; "To Our City," by Ald. W. F. Watkinson, and "To Our Talent," by Mr. Farquahar. Arthur Borland acted as chairman.

WOULD PAY TAX WITH FLAX LOAD

The ways and means in which people attempt to pay their income taxes are novel and varied, declared George Tambling, inspector of taxation for the London district today. One man was quite willing to liquidate his income tax bill with a load of flax.

"His tax was $1,700," said Mr. Tambling, "why it would take a whole barn full of flax to pay that amount."

The contents of another envelope was equally novel. It contained a $50 victory bond, a check and a registered $500 victory bond which was not even indorsed.

"You know we don't accept bonds of any kind," explained Mr. Tambling, "the payment s have to be made by check ,money order or draft." I am going over to the bank now to see how much they are worth and then I will notify him and have him indorse the bond.

SUBMIT CASE TO LABOR MINISTER

Toronto, Ont. April 27.—Grievances of the employees of the Canadian National Telegraph division were aired last night before the Hon. James Murdock by representatives of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union. The grievances arise from the installation by the company of telephones in the sub-stations to transmit messages to the central office, and the men's contention is that any men engaged in the work of transmitting the messages by telephone should be paid the wages of the regular Morse operator. Mr. M[illegible] his decision.

CITY RETAILERS MAY ORGANIZE

Retail Merchants' Association Secretary To Visit London Shortly.

Organization Has Corrected Many Trade Matters and Is Expanding.

A branch of the Retail Merchants Association of Ontario will probably be established in London in the near future, declared Wilfrid Hodgins, who attended an executive meeting of the organization on Tuesday in Toronto.

"If such a branch were opened in London it would be the headquarters for Western Ontario," said Mr. Hodgins.

W. C. Fuller, secretary of the association, will visit London in a few weeks to discuss the situation with the local merchants and to determine whether it would be a feasible plan or not to open a branch in this city.

The members of the executive decided to apply to the government for amendments to the "hawkers and peddlers" and the "traders" acts. As the acts read at the present time transient traders are allowed to sell goods in a municipality upon the payment of a prescribed fee. This fee is not to exceed $250. Mr. Hodgins pointed out that these traders should pay taxes in the municipality in which they sell their goods, as they derive their incomes there.

"We have some examples of this right in our own city," stated Mr. Hodgins.

"These transient traders usually try to sell goods of an inferior nature," he said. "Something for nothing, you know."

There has also been a great deal of protest against a government ruling which says that all garages must keep a record of everything they do to every car, and several new forms have been sent out for this purpose. Mr. Hodgins points out that this ruling would almost necessitate the hiring of an extra clerk.

It is the plan of the Retail Merchants' Association to enlarge its organization throughout Ontario so as to be able to render more efficient service to the merchants.

J. M. McCauley of Strathroy is president of the Retail Merchant Association and Wilfrid Hodgins of London is first vice-president.

REPORT ON COLLEGIATE TO CAUSE SHARP DEBATE

Provincial Inspector Rogers Will Be Present at Meeting Friday.

Prospects are evident for an interesting meeting of No. 3 committee of the board of education Friday afternoon, when Trustee A. E. Silverwood, chairman of that body, will submit an itemized report relative to the total expenditures for the construction and equipping of the new collegiate institute.

It is arranged that C. F. Rogers, provincial inspector of collegiate institutes and high schools, attend the gathering.

At the last regular meeting of the board, at the instigation of Trustee Silverwood, a report was presented from the city treasurer revealing the fact that less than $300 remained apparently from the use of $65,000 originally authorized for the school and its furnishings.

Trustee Silverwood and other members of the board demand a thorough investigation of the record, it being now contended that another issuance of debentures is imperative under the circumstances.

A sharp debate is anticipated on Friday.

Bird Bulletin

Contributed by MacIlwraith Ornithological Society.

Two warblers were the only new birds seen Wednesday morning. The Palm Warbler and the Water Thrush.

To me the "Song of the Palm" one of the hardest to remember, however, the bird itself is easier if you, happen to get him in a good light and see the patches of white on the tail, the crown, a deep chestnut, breast, a light yellow, and flanks streaked with reddish brown.

The Water Thrush has a white line over the eye, but unless you are close up, it cannot be seen. The back is an olive color, breast, yellowish white, streaked with white, crown light brown. It is most generally found low down in shrubs by the water, but this morning we found him half-way up in a beech tree, singing his high pitched, sweet, sweet, sweet "chu, chu, wee chu."

For anyone desiring to make a collection of frogs, now is the time to start. A short-handled net and a small cotton bag are all that are necessary. As all our frogs go to water to breed, scoop up the leaves and muck in any nearby pond and you will doubtless be rewarded with several specimens.

FEARS ANOTHER WAR IF GENOA PARLEY FAILS

Tells Russia She Acted in Interests of Reconstruction.

GENOA, April 26.—Prime Minister Lloyd George drew an alarmist picture of Europe tonight. In addressing the British and United States press representatives, he declared the object at Genoa was to clear up political difficulties which were full of menace. He compared Europe to seething racial lava, which like the earth's crust was seeking a proper level. Thus adjustment was full of peril. He emphasized that Europe must take cognizance of hungry Russia, which would be equipped by an angry Germany.

The world must recognize the fact," he said, "that Russia and Germany combined contain over two-thirds of the people of Europe. Their voice will be heard, and the Russo-German treaty is the first warning of it."

Lacks Frontier Line.

As proof of the danger he cited the fact that there was no frontier line from the Baltic to the Black Sea, including the Rumanian, Galician, Polish and Lithuanian frontiers, which has been accepted.

"I wish America were here," he exclaimed. "Some persons think we want the United States for a selfish purpose. This is not true. We want America because she exercises a peculiar authority. Her very aloofness gives her the right to speak; but America is not here, so Europe must do her best to solve her problems in her own way."

Mr. Lloyd George gave it as his opinion that the disorganization of Europe would affect the entire world, including the United States. He was amazed at people who ignored the portentous fact facing Europe today. Unless Europe reorganized, in other words, unless the Genoa conference succeeded in arranging a pact of peace, he was confident that within his lifetime, certainly within the life of younger men, Europe again would welter in blood.

Sees Another War.

"We triumphed in the recent war," he said, "but our triumph will not last forever. If our victory develops into oppression vengeance will follow, just as Germany's action which started the world war was followed by vengeance. We must be just and equitable and show strength."

The British prime minister solemnly urged the press to instil patience, good-will and fellowship throughout the world.

POLAND SUBMITS REPLY.

GENOA, April 26.—Announcement by the British delegation that a meeting of the signatories of the Versailles treaty will be held in Genoa within a fortnight to determine upon action in the event of Germany's failing to meeting her reparations obligations at the end of May was the chief feature of today's conference activities. This call for a meeting of the Allies was inspired by Premier Poincare's Bar-le-Duc address intimating that France was prepared to act alone if the Allies failed to support her in enforcing the treaty.

Poland Replies.

Poland replied to Russia's protest charging the Poles with violating treaties with Russia and seeking to undermine Russian sovereignty. The Polish reply asserted that the Poles were endeavoring to assist in the reconstruction of Russia and had no thought of violating their treaty agreements with Russia.

While the leading statesmen assembled in Genoa were consulting each other on what kind of a reply they should make to the Bolshevik counter-proposals, and what would be the probable scope of the non-aggression pact which it is proposed to submit to the conference, the experts here from many lands were hurrying on with their technical work connected with economics, finance and transport.

Holds Final Session.

The transport commission held a final session and recommended the urgency of the powers adopting all possible measures in concert to improve the transport system of Europe. The League of Nations was asked to invite the nations, whether members or non-members of the league, to work together on technical matters furthering the cause of transport.

The experts insist that important things have already been done at Genoa in the way of improving conditions; these have largely taken the form of arranging for future conventions, but it is pointed out that that present convention, including 34 states, has brought about knowledge of actual conditions in Europe which is certain to prove beneficial for future efforts towards amelioration.

SHILLINGTON IS GIVEN 6 YEARS

which I think are known to almost everyone.

"The act of this young man, was the act of a mere youth. It was foolish in the extreme, more foolish than a 16-year-old boy with the ordinary gumption of the average boy in the city would think of.

"What possible use could this property be to him? It was unthinkable of what use he could put it to. It would be a practical impossibility to dispose of it. It was a foolish boy trick that no one in his senses would do."

"How old are you?" asked Mr. McEvoy, turning to Shillington.

"Twenty-five years," responded the prisoner.

Immature for Age.

"In my conversation with Shillington, I do not think that he is as old as many boys are at twenty," continued Mr. McEvoy.

"I ask you to consider the fact that restitution has been made of 90 odd per cent of the bonds. Of the $10,000 remaining $2,600 was found in his possession, and will find its way back to the company.

"There is not much to guide your worship as to what sentence should be meted out. I took the trouble to get particulars regarding a somewhat similar case, where John Doughty took a quantity of bonds about the same value from his employer. The theft was denied and a serious battle was fought in the assize court, and after a three-day battle the trial judge, whom you know, and who most of the legal fraterniy know is not lenient, imposed a penalty of six years on Mr. Doughty. He was a man of maturity, over 50.

"This boy I look upon as a youth, and I appeal to your worship from your knowledge of boys, your own boys and my boy, to do what is best for this boy. The community must be protected, I realize that, but the young man should be given a chance to rehabilitate himself after paying the penalty.

"No one who has been injured has any vindictiveness toward the young man. He must pay the penalty, and it seems to me that the matter might be disposed of right now," concluded Mr. McEvoy.

"The facts are within your own knowledge, your worship," declared Mr. Douglas. "This man is 25 years of age, and knew the trust imposed in him. The violation of his trust was deliberate, and he would not be here today if he could help it. Restitution on his part was not voluntary."

"Didn't he show the officers where the bonds were?" put in Mr. McEvoy.

"Yes, but they would have got them anyway," retorted Mr. Douglas. "This man was an employee in a company doing business with the public. The theft was not made under an impulse or strain."

Magistrate's Address.

"Shillington, it is, unfortunately, my luck to deal with your case," stated Mr. Bartlett, "and although it is a very unpleasant duty, I have no wish to avoid it.

"There is one feature that is not without its value to the community at large, and that is that it is a warning to all young men or women, or older men, who occupy positions of trust in financial institutions. "The world is different to what it was a few years ago," continued Mr. Bartlett. "Owing to facilities such as the telephone and wireless, it is practically impossible for a man to get away with a matter such as this, and an attempt to escape is just as impossible.

"I hope that your case will throw out a very serious warning to others. There is really no excuse for you other than what your own counsel has said for you.

"You are not a mere child, and old enough to realize your duty to your employees. At the same time you have not the experience of years as others charged with the same offence and I am taking this into account.

"I don't suppose that anybody realizes as much as yourself the utter folly of your act. No doubt you were glad when you were arrested and brought back here. If you had managed to get away your life could never be anything but unhappy with the knowledge that you had committed this crime and that the police officers were on your heels and liable to overtake you.

"Any young man who thinks he can beat the law is foolish from every point of view. The law has a strong and a long arm, and you realize when you are here in this position that you have been a most foolish kind of man.

Public Must Be Guarded.

"The public must be guarded, although I do not believe in a harsh administration of the law, nor on the other hand, any weakness. The law should be tempered with mercy, but beyond that it should not go.

"What Mr. McEvoy said about your family has been in my mind a long time, and I am not dealing with the matter on the spur of the moment.

"I have taken into account the sentence imposed by Mr. Justice Riddell on Doughty, who stole $100,000 from his employer. Doughty was not only guilty of stealing bonds, but may have been implicated in the disappearance of his employer, A. J. Small.

"Doughty was an older man than you, and had more experience. The law is more severe on a man of his age.

"I think that in my best knowledge to meet the demands of public justice and your own case, I will sentence you to six years in the provincial penitentiary," concluded Mr. Bartlett.

An order was made for the return of the stolen bonds to the company, and also the money recovered from Shillington.

WOULD HOLIDAY AS PROTEST SIGN

London, April 27. — (Canadian Press Cable).—The Leeds Trades and Labor Council has recommended to the National Joint Labor Council to call upon every trade unionist in the country to remain idle on a given day at an early date as a protest against the action of employers in locking out members of the Amalgamated Engineering Union and also to demand a government inquiry into the whole circumstances of the engineering dispute. The lockout order was issued following the rejection by the men of a revision of shop rules, giving the employers greater managerial control, especially in the matter of overtime.

London To Be "City of Boys" During Whole of Next Week

Boys' Day in the Churches—Every boy in his own church and Sunday school. Special sermons; where possible use the senior boys in the service. Mothers' Day should be kept in mind.

Cost—Principal cost is in personal service.

Monday's program under the nominal charge of the Canadian Club will be mainly in the nature of a big patriotic demonstration.

Parade a Feature.

The grand street parade will feature the afternoon's events. The boys will gather in the Market Square, all the public school and high school cadets, boy scout troops, as well as seventh and eighth grade boys, participating.

Headed by both bands of the Royal Canadian Regiment, whose services have been kindly lent by the military authorities for the occasion, the parade will move down Talbot street to York street, to Richmond, to Queen's, to Colborne, to Dundas, and then to Wellington street, passing the reviewing stand yet to be erected in front of the city hall.

Proceeding, after the march past, to Clarence street, the boys will march to Victoria Park, where another reviewing stand will be erected. The remainder of the afternoon will be devoted to patriotic exercises, singing, etc., under the direction of W. E. Quantz, instructor of music in the public schools.

The Rotary Club has arranged for its big boy demonstration on Wednesday, when the dignity of labor will be emphasized.

Visit Industries.

The boys will visit the industries in groups. Each group will contain about twelve boys, under the leadership of a male teacher or a good boy leader. Each group will be a unit in going through an industry. Each group should know its group number.

The groups should leave the school in time to reach the industry a minute or two before 9:45 a.m. or 2:15 p.m. They should march in good order from school to industry.

When the visit is completed the pupils will disperse to their homes for the remainder of the half day.

A Rotarian will reach each school at 9:15 a.m. and 1:45 p.m.

It is suggested that at a later date the boys be asked to give an oral or written account of their visit. Teachers might forward best written accounts to the press for publication.

The visit should have a high educational value for the boys, and teachers are urged to prepare the boys so that they may be keenly observant.

The boys of Grades VII. and VIII., and any other boys over 12 years of age whom the principal may wish to send, will constitute the groups.

of the rich harvest of which we are now the reapers; if they were the fountain from which have sprung 3,000,000 of sturdy Canadians who have retained their faith, their language and their traditions, surely Providence has so willed and has its mysterious designs. . . . . .

"The habitant is a Canadian as good as any of us." He is an asset to our country; Canada is his home; he is your friend. Be his friends.

"He admires your province, your wealth, your enterprise, your spirit of true Canadianism. In return, give him good British fair play. Over the imaginary line which divides the two provinces stretch out to him a hand of friendship which he will grasp, for he knows that British institutions mean freedom, liberty, good-will and respect for minorities.

"People of Ontario, this is the great English province of Canada. You claim to be on this continent the depositaries of true British institutions. We must therefore look to you to be their exponents and the apostles by whom they will be taught and practiced in this new world. Your duty is to have them cherished here as they are in every land under the British flag."

ANGLICANS WILL FIGHT SEPARATE SCHOOL DEMAND

Believe All Schools in Province Should Be Put On Same Basis.

PROTEST ANY EXTENSION

Declare Quebec, Being Bilingual Province, Has Different Status.

Both separate and public schools of Ontario should be put on the same basis, members of the synod of the Anglican Diocese of Huron were unanimously of the opinion, and in session at Bishop Cronyn Hall, Wednesday afternoon, decided to approach the Ontario Legislature recommending this action.

Members of the synod do not believe that the separate schools should enjoy any rights other than those given the common schools.

It was pointed out only three provinces in Canada had separate schools, and that throughout the United States the common school system prevailed.

Quebec, it was stated, was in a different position from Ontario, for Quebec was a bi-lingual province.

Text of Resolution.

The text of a resolution, moved by Rev. Canon Andrew, R.D., of Trinity Church, St. Thomas, seconded by Dean L. N. Tucker of St. Paul's Cathedral, London, and amended as above, follows:

"Believing that a system of separate and sectarian schools, supported by general taxation, is detrimental to the national school system, and is not conducive to the highest unity of the body politic; and

"Whereas, a concession was made in 1863 to the religious sentiment of the Roman Catholics by granting them separate primary schools in the province of Ontario, which concession at the time was understood to be final; and

"Whereas, representatives of the Roman Catholic heirarchy of the province of Ontario are now seeking such an amendment to the assessment act as will give a larger measure of support to the separate schools, which amendment would apparently inflict an injustice on non-Roman Catholics by compelling them to support sectarian schools in whose religious teachings they do not believe; and

"Whereas, they are also claiming the right, under the statute, to extend the present separate school system to include secondary schools, which would be a further detriment to the national school system; and

"Whereas, it would appear that in many school sections the separate schools are now receiving larger grants than they are justly entitled to under the present statutes;

"Therefore, be it resolved, that the Synod of the Diocese of Huron emphatically protests against the proposed amendment to the assessment act, the alleged unjust grants and any extension of the system of separate and sectarian schools beyond that provided for by the present law."

A resolution to bring the guilds in connection with the Church of England into line with the other subsidiary associations of the church was defeated.

Reports Are Good.

A number of interesting reports of various committees were read Wednesday afternoon, including one on work among Anglican girls and boys, as follows:

According to the annual returns there were 1,597 boys organized into 59 groups, comprising Boy Scouts, C.S.E.T. groups and Boys' Clubs, in the various parishes in 1921. This represents a gain of 526 boys in organized work, and 7 groups, over 1920. The number of boys between 9 and 14 years of age in our Sunday schools is given as 4,105.

There were 46 organized groups of girls, comprising Girl Guides, C. G. I. T., G. F. S., Junior W. A. and Girls' Clubs, with a total membership of 1,147—a decrease of 137. This out of a total of Sunday school membership of 5,383 girls between 9 and 14.

The comparatively slight changes in these figures from last year would indicate that in these departments, practically no advance has been made.

The arrangements made for three Anglican camps last year were eminently successful, and camps for boys were held by the Rev. T. B. Howard near Tillsonburg, by the Rev. S. A. Macdonald, near Haysville, and the Rev. S. E. McKegney at Bayfield. This last camp accommodated groups from three London parishes, and from Clinton, Lucan and Mitchell. Afterwards the camps were used for an Anglican girls' camp, serving the same perishes with nearly 100 under canvas.

It is expected that at least these three camps will be held again this year. A summer camp, however, in which groups with their leaders from various parishes may meet together, provides an ideal opportunity of helpful intercourse, and the movement deserves every encouragement.

Your committee feels that with so large a number of excellent organizations working among boys and girls, it cannot make invidious distinctions: It must remain for each parish to use or adopt the form of organization best suited to its needs. It should be kept in mind, however, that any organization should attach boys and girls more firmly to the church, and not lead them away from it, and that all organized work should have a definite religious basis.

The large number of parishes without any form of organized weekly activities for boys and girls seems to indicate the need of bringing the subject before the deaneries, and rural deans are urged to allow an opportunity for the presentation of this subject at the forthcoming meetings. Your committee would endeavor to furnish speakers where necessary.

The great need, however, is still for older boys and girls who can act as leaders. In many parishes work would commence immediately, given a capable leader. In this connection your committee would suggest that our summer schools provide a good training for leaders, and that Sunday schools would do well to send likely boys and girls as delegates.

Your committee would also draw attention to the Dominion Brotherhood of St. Andrew convention to be held in Toronto early in June. This is the first Canadian brotherhood convention for some years, and promises to be helpful in every way.

Shows Great Progress.

The report regarding the Anglican Young People's Association stated in part:

4. During the year a questionnaire was prepared and sent out to every parish in the diocese, in order to ascertain the number of active branches, their location, names of officers, membership, etc.; also calling attention to the fact that supplies and further information as to the aim, work and organization of the A. Y. P. A. could be obtained by applying to the secretary of your committee; also, brenches were requested to forward any helpful suggestions, or constructive ideas that might prove useful to other branches or to the association in general. Not all the parishes replied, but from the answers we received we are able to report that there are 70 branches in the diocese, with a total membership of 2,254. One branch reports a membership of 125 paid-up members. Fifty branches have secured the charter issued by the Dominion council. We recommend that all branches should have the charter, framed, and hung up in a conspicuous place in the room where the meetings are held.

2. An advance in the organization and effective co-operation with the Dominion Council of the A. Y. P. A. and the committee of the A. Y. P. A. in this diocese has been taken. All our supplies are now obtained by the secretary, Rev. F. V. Vair, B.A., from the office of the G. B. R. E. in Toronto through an agreement which that body has made with the Dominion Council of the A. Y. P. A. The G. B. R. E. has agreed to send to our secretary all orders for supplies sent to their office from the Diocese of Huron. Your committee on its part has agreed to turn over to the G. B. R. A. all orders for supplies sent to it from branches outside the Diocese of Huron.

6. Your committee realizes that while much has been accomplished in the past, yet still better results can and should be obtained by making wise use of every opportunity that presents of inculcating a better knowledge of Bible teaching, of church history, of the Prayer Book, of the establishment, growth and development of our church in Canada and its overseas missions. But we also realize that the basis of the association does not centralize or confine itself to one or more special subjects, rather it seeks to help in the development of the whole life of the young people. We beg to suggest that by providing means of whole-some enjoyment much may be done in the way of counteracting the baneful influence of unwholesome pleasure-seeking, and at the same time of retaining the young people in close touch with the church for the cultivation of the highest ends of life.

Good Work Reported.

The report of the Laymen's Association, in part, said:

The report of this association at the last meeting of the synod indicated that the diocese would be divided as per the archdeaconry boundaries, with a chairman responsible for the organization of each deanery in his territory.

We are pleased to report that practically every one of the fourteen deaneries now has a laymen's organization. Some of these have done splendid work; some not so well, but viewing the year's work with reference to an awakened and increased interest in the welfare of the church on the part of the laymen, the increased number of parishes meeting and attempting to meet their budget appointments, we feel that the organization has justified its existence.

The organization is yet far from being as complete and useful as we believe it can be made, but we are optimistic to the degree that we believe that each year will find our men taking greater interest and assuming responsibilities in church work that is really theirs.

Lay delegates were of the opinion that the laymen should come to London early Monday morning in order to give them more time to discuss their own affairs before they took part in the synod meetings.

Loans Ontario Farmers More Than Half a Million in Last Four Months

TORONTO, April 26.—During the last four months that the agricultural development board has been functioning, the province has lent to farmers in long term loans more than half a million dollars—to be exact $571,579, in addition it has advanced $25,000 in short term loans.

The extent for the demand for government loans is indicated by the fact that 3,000 applications have been received, almost evenly divided between long and short term loans. But many of these requests are for purposes not provided for in the act, and many others could not be granted until farm loan associations had been formed and some were from undesirable persons and persons without any reasonable security.

Seventy-five per cent of the applications are for loans for building purposes, and most of the others are for buying land. An occasional loan is to pay off existing encumbrances, as loan companies, to renew, are demanding 7½ per cent. The board sells its bonds to the province for 5 per cent and lends money to the farmers at 6 per cent.

URGE ADJUSTMENT OF TAX ON NICKEL

TORONTO, April 26.—A number of citizens from Sudbury waited on Premier Drury this morning with a request that the tax on nickel be reduced.

It was pointed out that the nickel mining industry was stagnant now as a result of the disappearance of the former market, since before the war 50 per cent of the world's output of this metal was used for armaments. This demand has been greatly reduced so that of the fourteen furnaces at Sudbury only one is operating. The depression in this industry is also felt at the refineries at Hull, Que., and Port Colborne, Ont.

Premier Drury agreed that there was merit in the claims of the nickel interests, and promised serious consideration.

TAX ISSUE MAY GO TO COURTS

Aldermen Inclined To Let Ashplant Apply For Writ of Mandamus.

Finance Committee Leaves Annex School Rates To Council.

The finance committee will let the council decide whether or not any steps are to be taken to instruct the officials in regard to the annex school taxes, or whether to let the matter rest and have Ald. Ashplant apply for a writ of mandamus from the courts in the matter.

Wednesday night Ald. Ashplant laid the matter before the finance committee. He wondered if the members of the committee wanted it to go out that they opposed the proper collection of the taxes, when they knew they were wrong, until he forced action by going to the court.

Mayor Wilson said legally the alderman might be right, but the council had a moral responsibility. If the court forced the council to take action, all was well.

Favor Court Action.

The general opinion of the committee was that court action was the proper procedure, and the matter will go on to the council.

Ald. Holmes wanted to know if Ald. Ashplant would be disqualified if he entered the action, which brought the reply from the alderman that he would be able to take care of himself.

Hot shots of all kinds were poured out at the Ontario Legislature for its action on the street railway question.

The Hydro Association wanted a good deputation to wait on the Legislature Thursday in regard to the hydro probe.

Ald. Childs suggested that London better stay away.

Mayor Wilson said that when down there Tuesday as soon as London was mentioned there was a roar. He said that the Drury government was putting through the hydro probe without consulting the municipalities, and yet the latter were putting up all the money.

Ald. Cunningham said that the government was guaranteeing the bonds, and it was finally responsible, although he thought the municipalities should be consulted.

Ald. Holmes said it was an "autocratic government."

Mayor Wilson: "It isn't a government at all."

Ald. Holmes said he was surprised that "labor should side up with such hogs."

Mayor Wilson: "Don't let us start on this. I've got a lot in my crop."

It is too late for London to send a delegation to join with the hydro leaders.

Proposes Bylaw.

Ald. Cummings proposed a bylaw making all vehicles carry lights on the streets at night. It will be recommended to the council, although the feeling was that such a measure should be a provincial enactment.

The committee ordered the account of Miss Raymond of $103 against the board of health, for nursing, paid.

George Westlake, representing the Boys' Week committee, explained the plans of the committee for the boys. They expected to expend $500 and were a little short. He asked a $100. The committee granted the request.

The housing commission asked approval of the committee of the proposal to hire J. W. Cunliffe to handle the affairs of the commission for $25. This sum will be charged against the commissions that will accrue from sales, which Mr. Cunliffe will put through. Mayor Wilson stated that as a result of six house sales and 4 or 5 lots, Mr. Cunliffe has already turned into the commission more in commissions than the total of his salary for three months at $25 a week.

Approves Appointment.

The committee gave its approval.

A. G. Lewis wrote asking for the city's annual grant to the St. Lawrence Great Waterways scheme. It was laid over until the amount of last year's grant is looked up.

The proposal to erect a new market building was again laid over. Engineer Brazier estimated the cost of a suitable structure at $7,000. The committee felt that there would not be sufficient revenue to care for such a cost.

British Government in Favor of Embargo.

LONDON, April 26.—Austen Chamberlain, replying to questions in the House of Commons today, said that the cabinet had collectively considered the question of the embargo against Canadian cattle, but he could not say when the promised debate in the house on the question of lifting the embargo would take place.

Asked as to whether the government would introduce a bill giving effect to the removal of the embargo if the majority in the House of Commons favored it, Mr. Chamberlain said that such was not the present intention, but he must reserve the liberty to consider the decision of the house, whatever it might be.

RAP CANADIAN BANK ACT

Bradford, England, Chamber of Commerce Protests Bill Which Favors Dominion Institutions.

LONDON, Eng., April 26.—(Canadian Press Cable.)—The Bradford chamber of commerce passed a resolution protesting against the clauses in the Canadian bank act which give Canadian banks the preference over other creditors in the event of bankruptcy. The president of the chamber of commerce stated at a meeting yesterday that a man came to Bradford with references from a Canadian bank, and obtained goods to the value of $300,000, which on arrival were seized by the bank in question to liquidate the man's overdraft.

MAY FLOAT NEXT LOAN IN CANADA

OTTAWA, April 26.—(By Canadian Press).—The possibility of the next Canadian government loan being floated in Canada was foreshadowed here today in a reply made by Hon. W. S. Fielding, minister of finance, to a deputation representing the Bond Dealers' Association of Canada, which waited on him for the purpose of considering the question of further issue of loans.

The recent financing in New York has supplied the present needs of the government, and it is understood that there will be no immediate further borrowing.

"Oh! My Back"

HOUSE cleaning is bad enough at any time. There is so much dust and dirt and turmoil.

But it is usually the exposure to cold drafts and the stretching and straining that bring calamitous results.

The kidneys are extremely sensitive to currents of cold air, and you are very likely to find this out suddenly when stretching or straining the muscles of the back.

Suddenly the pain seizes you, and there is of necessity a lull in the house-cleaning activities for a time.

There is nothing like Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for kidney troubles of any kind.

Not only on account of their direct action on the kidneys, but also because they arouse the activity of the liver and bowels as well, and thereby relieve the kidneys of much of their work.

Another thing about Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, you do not have to wait long for results. In a day or two you will obtain great relief, and a few weeks' treatment will usually overcome complicated derangements of the kidneys which have defied ordinary kidney medicines.

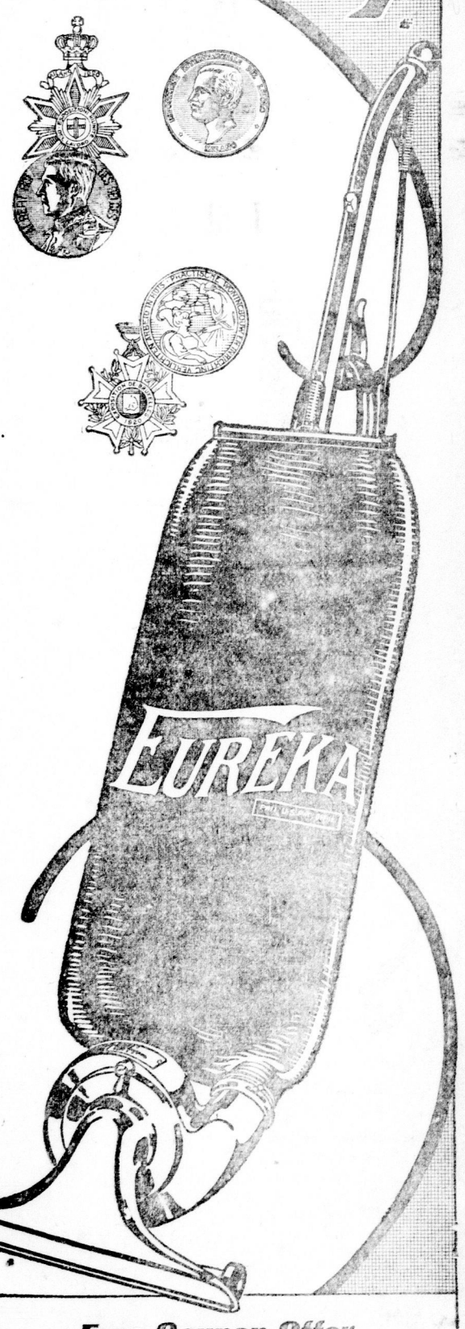

Mrs. Wm. H. Comeau, Plympton, N.S., writes: "I had been suffering from lame back, and had taken medicine for some time, but nothing helped me until I started to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. These pills completely relieved me in a few weeks, and I have never been bothered with lame back since."

Purebred Stock.

DURING a debate at Ottawa when the house was in committee of supply for the department of agriculture, HON. S. F. TOLMIE from Victoria, B. C., went extensively into several matters, the bent of his remarks being to show that the big chance for the Canadian farmer was in getting a better grade of cattle, and doing away with the "average" animal.

"As to cattle, we have about ten million head altogether, three and a half million of which are dairy cows. It is an astonishing fact that at our abattoirs, where inspection is carried on and cattle are slaughtered for export and for home consumption, less than 10 per cent of the animals slaughtered are good enough for export across the Atlantic. A great many of them are too small, too poor in quality, and altogether unsatisfactory in condition. The farmers thus suffer a tremendous loss by reason of the low standard of quality of the animals they ship to the market. Just the other day in the Toronto market, for example, the cheapest steer that was sold fetched 4½ cents per pound, compared with 10 and 11 cents for the best and, in one instance, 13 cents for an animal of first-class condition. Farmers who send animals to market in poor condition lose heavily, first in the lower price they receive, and, secondly, in the lower weight of the animal as compared with stock of better condition. This trouble is due largely to the fact that farmers crowd animals on the market in the fall of the year, thus making conditions much worse than they would be if their shipments were spread over a longer period.

"Our 3,500,000 dairy cows last year produced wealth to the extent of some $260,000,000; and in this connection I might remark that I was very much interested the other day to hear, on the floor of the house, the statement that our dairymen could not hope to succeed unless they worked their wives and families in the dairy. I do not think that this statement is applicable to the dairy districts of Ontario or British Columbia. I know that in British Columbia we are able to import our bran and shorts, the rough feeds, such as barley and oats, from the prairies, in many instances get our alfalfa from Washington, paying duty, in addition to freight, and are able to make a profit and, as well, have a hired man to help us. We cannot, however, hope to accomplish this with poor quality cows.

"These 3,500,000 cows average only about 4,000 pounds of milk per cow per year. Now, we have certain animals in Canada that have made records of over 32,000 pounds per year, or eight times as much as the production of one of these average cows. This means that the man who wants to produce 32,000 pounds with scrub cows will require to maintain no fewer than eight of these animals, providing housing and feed, and giving them all the general attention necessary in a dairy. At the end of the year the man with the 32,000-pound cow will have made a substantial profit, while all that the other man gets with his scrub cattle is simply the fresh air and the exercise. This shows how necessary it is for us to improve the quality of our animals. And if there is any farmer in any part of Canada who requires more information along these particular lines, if he is anxious to improve his herd and feed it at a profit, all he has to do is to make inquiry of these much-criticized establishments, the Dominion experimental farms."

When HON. MR. TOLMIE uses the phrase "much-criticized" establishments in regard to experimental farms, he speaks the truth, as any person who has had occasion to have experience in that line knows.

At the same time in the above extract from MR. TOLMIE'S speech in the house he puts up a case that is hard to get away from, except on the plea that it may take money and a little time for dairymen to get into the purebred stock class. If there is any argument to show that his line of reasoning is not correct we would be pleased to hear it.

A Fine Spirit.

THE London fire department is going to be reduced by six men. The six slated to go are, we believe, men who have been on the department for some time, and who are now nearing the time when they are not as active as they used to be.

The discussion as to who is to be laid off and who is to remain has afforded an opportunity for six of the firemen to show about as fine a spirit as could be desired.

Six of the younger men, with not such great family responsibilities as those who were slated to go, voluntarily went to the chief and stated that they would give up their positions if the older men were permitted to stay.

If some such thing happened in another city or another country we would probably hear more of it, but when these things take place right at home we are apt to pass them by as everyday happenings.

This action on the part of the six younger men gives a concrete example of a spirit that is far too scarce in this selfish day and generation. These younger men need the employment, as some of them are married. At the fire hall they have steady employment, and would likely have such for some years to come, but they were willing to go out into an over-stocked labor market and take their chances at looking for something else by which they could earn a living, in order that some of their older friends might not be thrown out.

It is a mighty fine spirit, and should not be allowed to go unnoticed.

IN THIS same connection it should be noticed that a fireman has not a very long period of service at best. The nature of the work they are called upon to perform requires young men, full of action, strong and capable. A man's strength, physical fitness and youth are about the greatest assets he has. These are things that cannot be retained indefinitely, even with the greatest of care and the most careful living. Years are bound to assert themselves, and every year that a fireman serves is one year nearer to the time when he will be looked over by the head of his department some day and informed that it is time for him to retire from that work.

The attitude of too many people toward a fire department is similar to the idea that money paid out for insurance—life or fire—is simply a necessary and somewhat of a compulsory expenditure. When a men sees fire attacking his premises he realizes the fact that his insurance policy and his fire department are about the two best assets he has in that time of need. In that hour he can see the wisdom of the expenditure he has made to keep them up.

London should think very carefully about the wisdom of practicing economy by cutting down the strength of the fire department.

Reminiscences.

MAGISTRATE HUNT of St. Thomas was one of the pioneer newspapermen of that snug little city to the south of us. At a gathering of Ontario newspaper publishers in that city a few days ago the veteran gave some of the reminiscences of the days long since passed and gone, and took his hearers back with him to the days of simon pure personal journalism.

Reporters and editors of today seem more or less removed from the pure, unadulterated joy that used to travel hand in hand with a day's work of 50 or 60 years ago, for be it remembered that MAGISTRATE HUNT goes back many years, as he said he had sworn off delivering speeches after he reached 80 years of age.

Imagine this for a day's work. The scribe, HUNT, was on the streets of St. Thomas one evening when he witnessed a man hugging and kissing another man's wife with a great deal more vim and vigor than any man would ever burn up in paying the same sort of attention to his own wife. While all this was going on the husband of the hugged wife put in an appearance, and there was a fight right there. The outcome was that the amorous admirer licked the husband, so he was victor all through the performance from first to last.

Well, next day the old St. Thomas Journal carried a very fine story, telling all that had taken place, and the chances are that the event lost nothing at all in the telling.

Shortly after the paper had made its daily appearance a very indignant man came to the office—he was either the hugger or the licked husband—we forget which. He wanted to know who wrote the story, and met with the reply that the Journal wrote the story.

But that would not do, and he informed the place that he wanted to find the man who wrote the story, because he was going to give him the worst licking any man ever got in St. Thomas. This led to the remark or the inference that he wanted to see the fighting editor, and the signal was given: "HUNT, get off your coat and throw this man downstairs." MAGISTRATE HUNT takes only a small portion of the glory in the words: "Which I did."

To the newspapermen who were fortunate enough to hear the veteran journalist in his reminiscent mood, it was indeed a treat to be brought into touch for a short half-hour with the ways, experiences, the joys and the sorrows of the men who built the papers of 50 and 60 years ago. Few of them are left with us now, as most of them have passed over the Great Divide, and as MAGISTRATE HUNT remarks, they ought to be entitled to reserved seats, every one of them, for what they had to put up with when they were here.

THE KIND OF COMPANY HE HAS MAKES A BIG DIFFERENCE.

Funny, but true. Many a man will sit down on a Sunday night with his radio attachment and harken to a sermon being preached by some parson away off in Pittsburg, Detroit or New York, while a team of oxen couldn't budge him across the road to hear a sermon at home.

We made reference in these columns a few days ago to the number of pictures of LLOYD GEORGE that had been published. To this must be added the latest one of LLOYD GEORGE telling a joke to some Frenchmen at Genoa. We beg pardon for this oversight.

Two editors had a fight down in Colorado and one shot and killed the other, all the outcome of a political fight. We've often wanted to take a gun when we couldn't pound the light of reason or logic into the other fellow's head, but the chances of him being handy with the musket has so far preserved the peace.

A lumber-jack weighing 240 pounds, and standing 6 feet 4 inches, has been dug out of the Quebec woods, and is getting in shape to fight JACK DEMPSEY. Of course, we don't know much about prize fights, but that combinatipon of 6 feet 4, lumber woods and 240 pounds appears quite substantial like to our untrained mind.

In another column of this page appears a letter from the minister of a country church in Western Ontario, dealing with the habit of people from the cities landing in on the farmers on Sunday without any warning, and at such a time that makes it impossible for them to attend service on the day in question. The writer of the letter gives the result of some questioning he did in his own district, and found that it was a common thing for car loads of people to "drop in" on Sunday, and make out of the day of rest a day of work for the housewife who had no previous warning of their coming. A little thought and consideration would work wonders in this direction, and apparently that is all our minister friend is asking for.

READ YOUR CHARACTER

(By Digby Phillips.)

NO. 199—PLAIN CAPITALS.

In the practice of reading character opposing indications are not always representative of opposite characteristics, but here is a case in which they are.

In a previous article it was shown that the person who makes his (or her) capital letters of undue size and makes them rather fancy, is pretty sure to be egotistical and self-satisfied in some one particular thing, if not in all things.

The small capital letter, plainly made, indicates exactly the reverse. It is one of those unconscious evidences which are the result of the person's fundamental character working out.

Such capitals, you will find, nearly always indicate a large degree of innate refinement, modesty and simplicity, and while they should by no means be considered a mark of genius, yet it is true that many men of genius do write this way. It is simply because the man who is really big is usually above petty vanities.

By plain capitals we mean principally those capital letters which are made just alike, or almost like the small letters, differing from them principally in size, or those which are simple imitations of printed letters. The larger these are made, however, the less strong is the indication.

DR. BISHOP'S ADVICE.

ERYSIPELAS

BY DR. R. H. BISHOP.

THE germ of erysipelas is the ground hog among germs. It gets beneath the skin through a cut or scratch, and burrows its way around.

The erysipelas germ locates just beneath the skin in the coarser tissue, which, since it is so loose and full of open spaces, permits the germ to pass from place to place unhindered.

The local symptom of the presence of the germ is the reddening, thickening, raising and heating of the skin. Whether the patient suffers generally and has a fever, impaired digestion and delirium, depends on the condition and sensitiveness of the individual.

The usual location of erysipelas is the face. It is the most dangerous part of the body on which to have the disease because the germs may wander into the passages communicating with the brain and set up meningitis (brain fever) or some other fatal brain trouble.

Sometimes facial erysipelas is caused by an infection of the tonsils passing upward along the mucous membrane and out through the nose to the tissues underlying the skin of the cheeks. Another common cause is the scratching of the face with dirty finger nails.

The germs cannot break through healthy skin, so to take the disease from someone suffering from it or from infected objects, one must either cut or prick the skin which permits the germ to go beneath it, or one must breathe the germ in against broken or diseased skin of mouth, nose or throat.

For people under 40 the mortality from this disease is low, but for those over this age it is increasingly fatal with the years.

The disease is exceedingly contagious. Therefore, everything that comes in contact with the sick person should be carefully sterilized before being used by other people.

One of the chief dangers of this disease is the fact that few people realize this contagiousness, and they therefore allow the patient to pass freely about the house, handle all sorts of articles, breathe into the faces of the family and eat at the table with the rest of the family.

Rats and Mice On the Farms

By M. W.

THE rats and mice, the worst pests with which the Canadian farmer is afflicted, came to North America from abroad, and possess habits adaptable to almost any kind of environment, and feed upon all kinds of animal and vegetable matter. They are especially a menace to the grain crops. There is scarcely a farmer who does not suffer considerable loss from mice and rats destroying portions of his grain each year. No kind of grain is spared, whether growing or stacked in the field, stored in the granary or elevator, in railway cars. Everywhere they take large supplies.

In Australia, in 1917, owing to the lack of transportation, vast quantities of grain ready to be exported was stored in New South Wales and Victoria. A plague of mice developed, and the destruction of grain was enormous. In some places the ravages were so great that huge stacks were reduced to mere heaps of debris in a few months. The wheat board of New South Wales organized a campaign of destruction. In one place the catch for two nights totaled seven tons of mice.

Rats and mice invade houses, stores, warehouses, markets, and besides destroying fabrics of all kinds and leather goods, they attack all kinds of food.

A clerk in a country store in a village of Middlesex County relates an incident that proves some of these facts. On reaching to an upper shelf for a pair of shoes she was amazed at the rush of a dozen mice from the box, and learned that the shoes were totaly destroyed and also several other pairs.

On picking up a sack in the store room, which was supposed to contain cereals, she found it full of rats.

IN rural districts rats attack poultry, and often whole flocks of goslings are carried off in a single night by rats. This is very discouraging to the farmer's wife who has labored with them for weeks. Frequently they attack chickens and carry off large numbers.

The greatest enemy of the rat is the barn owl, which is the farmer's greatest friend. It is a lamentable fact that these are destroyed in large numbers and are not protected by the farmer and the poulterer as they should be.

Many of the hawks are also very valuable as destroyers of rats and mice. The rough-legged hawk is especially beneficial in this way. It is the largest of the Canadian hawks and is often called "hen hawk," and yet it never kills a head of poultry at any time, nor does it ever kill birds of any sort. Out of 32 specimens examined, there was found in one stomach a frog, in another the flesh of a muskrat, taken from a pile of bodies in a marsh. Another stomach was filled with large grasshoppers, and the rest contained mice, and nothing but mice, or traces of them, ranging in quantity from a little fur and a few bones to seven whole ones.

The sparrow hawk also feeds chiefly on mice and is innocent of destroying poultry, so these birds are entitled to consideration at our hands instead of the persecution they usually meet.

AFTER a close inquiry was made in Europe, it was estimated that each rat cost Great Britain annually $1.80, France $1, Denmark $1.20. The losses in rural districts in Great Britain and Ireland in the same year were computed to be $70,000,000.

In the United States the loss annually by rats is estimates at $200,000,000.

In Western Ontario we find the mice in another quarter, where they are not much disturbed, can make splendid homes and live happily—in our rural schools. A good many of these schools were erected over 25 years ago, some about 50 years ago, and have many cracks in the walls, holes in the floors, and a splendid harbor for mice under the floor. Although often tales come home of a mouse running across the floor and the sport it furnished, still few of the ratepayers realize how much these rodents destroy in a rural school or the value of the books, etc., destroyed.

In one school located a short distance from a village in East Middlesex a mechanics' institute library had been stored when the institute ceased to exist. These books were bound in excellent binding and were of the highest literary value, and the teacher of that school reported that scarcely one book had escaped the attacks of the mice, many being rendered almost useless. The same thing has occurred to many books in various libraries throughout the rural districts. Especially does this occur during vacation time, when the teacher is not present, and although the rural school teachers usually notify the trustees of what is liable to occur, little is done to destroy these harmful and expensive creatures. As a result, money is required to be expended for what has been destroyed, and this amounts to large sums throughout our province.

Mice and rats are also a menace to health. They are carriers of disease germs. It is believed that the rat is instrumental in the spread of infantile paralysis. Bubonic plague is transmitted from rats to human beings by fleas.

There are some effective methods of destroying the pests, such as trapping with the spring or guillotine type of trap or wire cage trap, and poisoning.

The greatest care must be exercised if poison is used, and it is a poor method to use in a house, as the corpses may prove objectionable.

Barium carbonate is a cheap, tasteless and odorless poison. It may be mixed in a dough composed of four parts of meal or flour and one part of poison, or a stiff dough of eight parts of oatmeal and one of poison. The poisoned dough should be placed in the runways of the animals.

Small terriers are well known as great rat destroyers.

HE KNEW IT.

"This," smiled the fond young wife as she passed a plate of dessert to her husband, "is cottage pudding. I made it myself."

The man tasted it.

"I'd have known it was cottage pudding," he asserted.

"You would?" she asked, delighted.

"Yes. I can taste the plaster and the wallpaper. What did you do with the shingles and the bricks for the chimney?"

TO THE EDITOR

SUNDAY VISITING.

Editor of The Advertiser:

Sir,—These beautiful bright days, with their glorious sunshine and warm rains, remind us that the springtime is here. And now since the roads are becoming well settled, and are being rounded up nicely by the diligent use of scraper and other tools, the temptation to get out in the auto, and have a drive through the country is all but irresistible. Especially is this so for the people of the towns and cities, who have been shut up in offices and shops all through the winter months, to whom a country drive in the warm sunshine and fresh air is certainly a great boon. No one but an inborn cynic would be so foolish as to raise his voice in protest against such a diversion and pleasure, on the part of those who need it most, and are able to avail themselves of it, so long as it is carried on within the bounds of decency and good form.

As a country minister, however, I desire to pass on a kindly word of advice to all who come within the range of the above-mentioned folk. It is in relation to Sunday visiting in the country. And please bear in mind that I am not speaking my own sentiments only, but those of a great many people with whom I have discussed the matter. I am not a crank on Sunday visiting, either, although I do think a little less of it would be a good thing. But I think I am only reasonable in raising a protest against a very common practice among certain people. A few instances will serve to show just what I mean—they are given in the words of the people themselves, and is the result of a little investigation I was led to make one day last autumn, as I was calling on my parishioners.

Mrs. A.: "I had nine people besides ourselves last Sunday for dinner, and fourteen for supper. It is not that I begrudge people all they want to eat, but they sent no word that they were coming."

Mrs. B: "Do I have company on Sunday? Since last April, when the roads got passable, I have only had two Sundays to myself." (This inquiry was made in late August.)

Mrs. C: "I do not mind people coming to see us, if they would let me know a day or two ahead, so I wouldn't have to spend my Sunday baking and cooking the same as other days."

Mrs. D: "I was all ready to go to Sunday school with the children when company came in a car—seven people, and five of them I never saw before."

Mrs. E: "We got up early on Sunday so as to get the chores out of the way to go to church. I had had a very busy week, and I felt I needed the day to be quiet, but a carload of company came from ———, so I was in for a hard day's work," etc., etc.

Now, Mr. Editor, these cases might be duplicated many times by any pastor of a country charge. What are the results?

1. Our little struggling churches in the country can only have about a third of their members out; they perforce are staying home entertaining company, who are welcome, of course, but in a great many cases have come unannounced.

2. Our people are being unduly deprived of their opportunities of rest and worship on the Sabbath Day; moreover, their children are learning how to spend the day in a way that is not very wholesome as a rule.

3. Our country people are just as hard worked as any other class of people in the land, if not just a little harder, and certainly with longer hours. They need their day of rest, and the majority of them want it. They are not averse to having company occasionally to help to brighten the day and to sweeten the labors of life for the rest of the week, but many of our people are being forced into making themselves a drudge for Sunday company.

A few considerations on the part of city and town folks will greatly help to make Sunday a real pleasure to everybody, whether you are company or hostess:

1. Be considerate; come to see your friends in the country, and you'll be welcomed; but try as far as possible to avoid coming at the hour of their church service; country people as a rule only have one church service to attend, and it is not right that they should be deprived of that one hour, that is the one restful hour of the week for them often.

2. Bring your own lunch with you, and "picnic" it on the side of the road, or under some pleasant grove or riverside. Then visit your friends if you wish, after lunch, and thus avoid the necessity of preparing hot meals for a large crowd.

3. If your friends in the country have no car, load up your car with his family and bring them to church and Sunday school; bring your friends with you if you can, and we will be delighted to have you worship with us. It will be a great help to us in every way that makes for righteousness, and who knows but that we may be a great blessing to you? But please do not coerce our people into neglecting their religious life; the temptation is all too great already.

Now, I am well acquainted, Mr. Editor, with all the arguments that might be given from the other side. All company is not from the city or towns by any means; the farmers nearly all have cars, and they "gad" around quite a lot themselves, that's true. But I'm glad to state, however, that our farmers are fast learning the right use of a car on Sunday, and left to themselves, they make a practice of attending church with it, at some time during the day. It is more to them than a mere pleasure vehicle; it is a thing of usefulness as well, and is fast coming more into that category with them. And I know, too, that often people from the country land up at a town home without much consideration for the state of the family larder, but I'm not asking that your pleasant drives to the country shall cease. I am only asking that they be taken (or undertaken) with a little consideration for the Sabbath rights of the people you visit. I know that much may be spoken on both sides of the question.

Again let me issue a welcome to you to visit us, and worship with us in our little churches, whether they be "homey" or "homely," small or pretentious. Bring along your songs and solos, and give us the benefit of some of your splendid singing of the larger centers. Remember that about eighty per cent of your membership, and the greater part of your musical talent, and in all probability your excellent preacher, were all born and reared in our country homes. Come! We'll be glad to see you, and if some of our good people invite you home for dinner or tea (which they usually do), why, then the matter of meals is up to them. But if you will observe these little suggestions, then we'll all be happy together. Yours for fraternity,

MINISTER.

The BOOKSHELF

EDITED BY CABR

JEWISH CHILDREN. By Shalom Alcichem. Translated from the Yiddish by Hannah Berman. New York: Alfred A. Knopf. $2.

THIS is a book to read appreciatively, not critically. While it is called "Jewish Children," and is Jewish in temperament, it is not exotic; it has little, if any, of the emotional intensity and overwhelmingness of expression that distinguish and yet alienate Anzia Yesierska's "Hungry Hearts." One might say that "Jewish Children" is contemporary with humanity.

The book contains nine sketches. Three of these, "A Page from the 'Song of Songs,'" "Another Page from the 'Song of Songs,'" and "This Night," combined give us a love affair that began in childhood. As Professor Morris Jastrow recently contended in his "The Song of Songs: Love Lyrics of Ancient Palestine," this biblical song is not to be regarded as allegorical; it is "realistic in the best sense, that of not being ashamed to reveal the feelings inspired by healthy and normal love." So in these sketches this song is applied to individual experience. The result is a love affair of mystic sweetness. In the suggested tragedy called "Esther" the hero gives his individual interpretation of the Book of Esther as his first love letter:

From Mordecai to Esther:

And there was a man, a young man in Shushan—our village. His name was Mordecai and he loved a maiden called Esther. And the maiden was beautiful, charming. And the maiden found favor in his eyes. The maiden told this to no one, because Mottel (Mordecai) had asked her not to. Every day Mottel passes her house to catch a glimpse of Esther. And when the time comes for Esther to get married, Mottel will go with her under the wedding canopy.

His little brother asks: "I should like to hear what the teacher (incidentally, Esther's father) will say to such a translation." Again, the little brother saw the lovers holding hands. "He (Mordecai) gave me a 'groschen' to tell no one. I asked two, and he gave me two. I asked three, and he gave me three. What do you think—if I had asked four, or five, or six, would he not have given them? But I am not that sort." In all the sketches there are such felicitous expressions as this quotation from "On the Fiddle": "And Sheika and his little fiddle stood before my eyes always. At night I saw him in my dreams; and in the daytime I saw him in reality; and he never left my imagination." And there is the wistful loveliness of the one called "Three Little Heads." "There was only one window, and all three heads were stuck against it. What did they see out of it? A wall. A high, big, gray, wet wall. It was always wet, even in summer. Does the sun ever come here? Surely the sun comes here sometimes, that is to say, not the sun itself, but its reflection. Then there is a holiday. The three beautiful heads press against the little window. They look upward, very high, and see a narrow blue stripe, like a long blue ribbon." And the ending, "Jews want everything, even greens—even greens."

To read this book after being steeped in modernism is as if a window had been opened suddenly in a library overcrowded with books on psychology and psychoanalysis and before one is a naked tree and an open sky and the feel of the stirring spring.

Tenderness and wistfulness, joyousness and loveliness, all the things that have wings and color and fragrance, these can be found in "Jewish Children."

THE REGION OF ROMANCE.

The Lake of Bays is one of the scenic gems of the Dominion of Canada, which is so richly starred with lovely lakes. It has a shoreline indented in such a manner that it affords constant delights and surprises, and is designated as "the land of a thousand bays." On sites overlooking these bays have been built charming cottage homes with here and there, hotels that are in keeping with their setting of wooded waters and brooding woods. To spend a summer vacation here is to be near to Nature in her most fascinating mood. An entire season may be spent in exploring the Lake of Bays and her sister lakes, and you may choose for your excursions, according to personal desire, canoe, sailing craft, motorboat or steamer. There is also the widest choice of vacation pastimes—bathing, golfing, fishing, boating, bowling, tennis, etc. Perfumed by millions of pines, invigorating breezes blow across these lakes, providing a real tonic that is "easy to take." The average altitude is about one thousand feet above sea level. The Lake of Bays is reached through Huntsville on the Grand Trunk, 148 miles north of Toronto. A handsomely illustrated booklet telling you all about this lovely district sent free on application to any Grand Trunk Ticket Agent, or C. E. Horning, D. P. A., Toronto, Ont.

COULDN'T DO HOUSEWORK, HEART WAS SO BAD

Many women get weak and run down and unable to look after their household duties owing to the heart action becoming impaired or the nervous system unstrung.

Nature intended women to be strong, healthy and happy instead of sick and wretched. But how can a woman be strong and healthy when day in and day out she has to go through the same routine of work, sweeping, dusting, cooking, washing, etc. Is it any wonder that the heart becomes affected and she gets irritable and nervous, has hot flushes, faint and dizzy spells, smothering and sinking spells and can't sleep at night.

To all women whose heart is weak and whose nerves are unstrung we would recommend

MILBURN'S

as the best remedy to tone up the system and strengthen the weakened organs.

Mrs. Daniel Bezanson, Loganville, N. S., writes: "As I was troubled with a weak heart for nearly two years I am writing to tell you what your great remedy, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, has done for me.

My heart was so bad at night I could not sleep, I would take smothering spells, and was so weak I could not do my housework. I tried two doctors, but got no results. A friend advised me to try your pills. I used six boxes and am completely relieved. I think they are the best remedy for heart trouble there is."

Cuticura Heals Itching Burning Pimples On Face

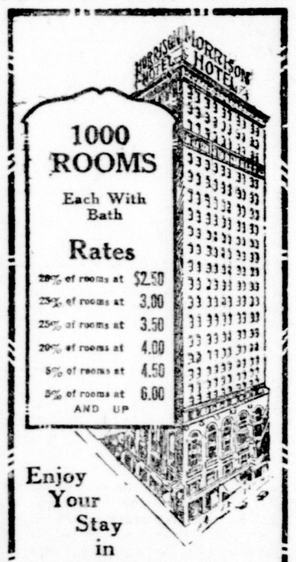

"My face was entirely covered with pimples which not only disfigured me but bothered me with itching and burning. They were large, hard and red, and after a while began to fester. They itched so that I had to scratch them which made the burning more intense.

"I used various salves and creams but they gave no relief. The trouble lasted for nearly three months until I heard of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I sent for a free sample. 2 FACE FORMAL MURDER CHARGE

Special to London Advertiser.

BRANTFORD, April 26.—A formal charge of murder has been laid against Harry Dent and Mrs. Margaret Dent, his wife, both of whom are Armenians, of 148 Darling street, in police court today.

They are charged with causing the death of their landlord, Peter Yeghiazarian, or Peter Egopian, as he is rightfully known, whose dismembered body was found in pieces yesterday, death evidently being caused in the first place, from a deep gash in the top of the head.

Colonel Massie, the presiding magistrate, read the charges to Dent and his wife, after which a remand until Friday afternoon was granted at the request of Crown Attorney W. M. Charlton, K. C.

Wears Army Uniform.

Dent is a short, stocky individual of swarthy complexion. The police believe that he has been away from the city for several months, coming back here a few weeks ago.

He is a butcher by trade, according to information obtained at the police office, and has been observed wearing his Canadian army infantry uniform of khaki while walking about the city streets.

He was wearing it when he was arrested, though it was a private's uniform, and not that of a corporal, as a tunic found in the Dent flat showed, or that of a sergeant-major. A tunic with this insignia on one of the sleeves was also found at the Darling street house.

A. H. Boddy was present to act as private prosecutor for Bogus Egopian, the murdered man's brother. Mr. Boddy drew the attention of the court to the fact that Yeghiarzarian's real name was Egopian, and the informations against the Dents were changed to read that way.

Courtroom Crowded.

Friends of the victim were present in large numbers, and the courtroom was crowded. Egopian, it is said, was possessed of about $10,069 or $12,000. He has been living in Brantford for eighteen years, and was one of the first foreigners to come to the city. He owned the rooming-house where the Dents have been living. He was unmarried.

While the Dents, man and wife, are under close custody, their three children, two young tots and an infant, no more than a few weeks old, are being cared for by Captain Ridge, police matron, who was called from her home early this morning to look after the little one.

INCREASE IN FISH CATCH REPORTED

OTTAWA, April 26.—(By Canadian Press).—A report on the fishing results for the month of March, 1922, issued by the department of marine and fisheries yesterday, says: The total catch of sea fish on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts for the month was 116,866 cwts., valued at $515,869. In the same month last year 100,833 cwt., valued at $723,534, were landed.

Day's Legislative Doings at Ottawa

TODAY IN PARLIAMENT:

In the Commons:

House in supply. Estimates of the departments of Indian affairs, mines and public works will be considered.

In the Senate:

The Senate sits at 3 o'clock.

YESTERDAY IN PARLIAMENT:

In the Commons:

T. L. Church (Conservative, North Toronto), moved that the government should give early and favorable consideration to the report of the international joint commission on the St. Lawrence river waterways, and request the government of the United States to join with Canada in making an international agreement for carrying out the work.

Debate on the resolution was adjourned.

In the Senate:

Speaking to a notice of motion on the order paper, Sir George Foster, former minister of trade and commerce, made a lengthy speech on the League of Nations. He declared that Canada must give her moral support to the league, as other nations were doing, if it was to succeed. War was not finished unless the nations applied themselves to a duty as important as that which faced the allied powers in winning the last great struggle. With the League of Nations a success any nation which offended against its principles would be "sent to Coventry." He suggested that the government should provide a means for giving information to those in Canada who were anxious to know more about the League of Nations.

MARINES GUARD PEKIN RAILWAY

Peking, April 27.—Measures for the protection of the foreign interests are being expedited in view of the threatened hostilities between the forces of Generals Chang Tso-Lin and Wu Pei-Fu.

Train service to the coast has not been suspended, but is irregular and the legations are prepared to order seizure of the railroad to keep it in operation should serious interference develop. Thus far nothing but precautionary action has been taken, but it is stated that an allied fleet will land troops, if necessary, to keep communications open between Peking and the sea, in compliance with the protocol of 1901.

TWO FORCES OF CHINESE CLASH

Amoy, China, April 27.—Forces under General Chang Tso-Lin, military governor of Mukden, are reported to have retreated after preliminary skirmishes with General Wu Poi-Fu's troops south of Tien-Tsin, in the province of Chih-Li. Both sides are strengthening their positions and officials are still hoping for mediation. The skirmishing occurred along the Peking-Hankow Railway, and much of the trackage is said to have been torn up by the Chi-Ki forces in their retreat.

ATTACKS EMBARGO.

London, April 21.—Canadian Press Cable.—Lord Shaughnessy, in an interview in the Times expresses the sincere hope that the British parliament recognizes the soundness of Canada's position with regard to the embargo against Canadian cattle, and the justice of her complaint against the unwise and indefensible restriction.

EXPLAINS HIGH CHIPPAWA COST

New York Engineer Blames Excessive Expenditure On Unforeseen Contingencies.

Finds No Frills Involved in New Hydro Power Scheme.

TORONTO, April 26.—Francis E. Stifut, New York consulting engineer, testified before the public accounts committee of the Legislature this morning regarding the Chippawa project, and expressed the opinion that the cause for the excessive cost of operations over the estimates during the past year was due to unforeseen contingencies.

He said the unit cost of the work as submitted to him by the hydro-electric commission, on which his estimates of $55,000,000 was based, as submitted in 1920, could have been made too low deliberately to the extent of 15 per cent without his detecting it, and his estimates would have been out to that extent, but he did not think such had been done.

He said estimates were greatly exceeded all over the continent during the years of the war and afterwards. He explained his estimates were submitted in 1920 to the government only after hard figuring and close investigation.

He announced he had told Premier Drury and Gen. Mitchell a month ago that there was no frills of any kind in connection with the work, and that there was no waste of public moneys; there was nothing done that he would not have done himself, and there were no blunders made. He expressed the opinion that the province had been wise in going ahead with the work at the time it did.

A POPULAR TONIC

One That Enriches the Blood and Strengthens the Nerves.

Proper food, fresh air and a good tonic will keep most people in good health. Hurried meals, indoor confinement in badly-ventilated rooms and lack of exercise causes anaemia. In this condition Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a popular tonic. They contain no habit-forming drugs, and always have a beneficial effect through enriching the blood and strengthening the nerves. For growing girls who become thin and pale, for pale, tired women and for old people who fail in strength, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an ideal tonic. Their benefit in anaemic conditions is shown by the case of Miss Lucy A. Steeves, Hillsboro, N. B., who says: "Last spring I was in very poor health, and completely run down. I had severe headaches, the least exertion would cause my heart to palpitate violently, my appetite was poor, and at times I had fainting spells. This went on for some months, and although I was taking medicine, I seemed to be growing weaker, and the least exertion would leave me worn out. Then on the advice of a friend, I changed the treatment to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I have great cause to be thankful that I did so, as they have made a wonderful improvement in my condition. I can now work without fatigue, go upstairs without becoming breathless, and have gained in weight. I think these pills are an ideal medicine in cases like mine."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.—Advt.

MEXICO CITY, April 26.—The arrest of more than 300 members of the Nicaraguan Liberal party, because of revolutionary activities, has been ordered by President Chamorro, according to private advices received here.

The Liberals are reported to have been unusually aggressive during the last week, and a coup against the government was feared.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 26.—The report of the capture of Sokia and Scala Nova, about 40 miles south of Smyrna, Asia Minor, by Greek troops was confirmed in a Turkish Nationalist communique received here today. LONDON, April 26.—Negotiations between German and Polish representatives regarding the economic agreement with respect to Upper Silesia have been practically completed, says an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Genoa. The signing of a convention, embodying the recommendations of the Upper Silesian commission created by the council of the League of Nations, will probably occur about May 15, the dispatch says.

LONDON, April 26.—Premier Poincare's speech at Bar-le-Duc is described by the Daily Chronicle as "a bit of sabre-rattling," which hardly seems designed to promote peace and goodwill in Europe. The paper does not challenge M. Poincare's right to express his point of view, but thinks it is at Genoa, and nowhere else, that it should be voiced.

If his alleged willingness to help were genuine, the Chronicle proceeds, "he could easier do so in one or two ways: either by going to Genoa himself, or by giving proper authority to his delegation. A speech like yesterday's, made outside the conference by a non-participant, is like a piece of iron thrown from outside into delicate machinery.

ARREST JOE GRANTHAM ON CHARGE OF FIRING BARN

Special to London Advertiser.

ST. THOMAS, April 26. — Joseph Grantham, a former St. Thomas taxi-driver, was, on Wednesday night, arrested for firing the barn on the old Kelly homestead. On being brought before County Police Magistrate Hunt, he declined to plead and asked that the case be laid over until Thursday morning.

The arrest was the outcome of investigation held Tuesday, by I. Marsh, deputy fire marshal, of Toronto. It is alleged that witnesses at the inquiry testified that the accused made remarks of a threatening nature following a dispute with the owner, Matthew Doyle, of Delaware regarding the renting of the property.

The fire was of a sudden and devastating character and before the firemen could reach the barn a valuable team of horses and a quantity of farm machinery belonging to Percy Walling, a locomotive fireman and the tenant at that time, were destroyed.

WITH THE BRIDES

WHITE—EDMONDS.

A smart spring wedding took place Wednesday morning at 11:30 o'clock at St. James' Church, South London, when Margaret Gwendolyn, daughter of Rev. Jabez Edmonds and Mrs. Edmonds, was married to George Tennant White of Windsor. The bride's father performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. W. Leslie Armitage. The church was artistically decorated, Easter lilies and palms were used in the chancel, and the altar was lovely with cut lilies and palms. As the wedding party entered the church the wedding march from Lohengrin was played by Mr. Willgoose, who also played softly during the ceremony, rendering Mendelssohn's Wedding March as the happy couple left the church. Mrs. Norman Johnson of Guelph sang during the signing of the register. The bride, who was given away by Lieut.-Col. H. L. Edmonds of Toronto, wore a modish suit of navy blue kaskacloth heavily embroidered, with an overblouse of bisque and Oriental sash. Her hat was of bisque crepe de chine trimmed with French flowers, and she wore a corsage bouquet of Sunset roses, lily-of-the-valley and orchids. Mrs. Reginald Edmonds of Waterloo was matron-of-honor, wearing a graceful gown of navy canton crepe with touches of grey, and a grey hat, and her corsage was of red roses. Mr. David Logan was best man. The groom's gift to the bride was a platinum pin set with diamonds; to the best man, an amber and gold cigarette holder, and to the matron-of-honor, a barpin. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Wortley road. Only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom were present. Pink and white tulips added a charming decorative touch throughout the house, and on the bride's table, centered with the wedding cake, violets and roses were used. The bride's mother was gowned in black crepe meteor with a real lace fichu, with which she wore a jet hat.

Mr. and Mrs. White left on a honeymoon which will be spent in New York, Atlantic City and Boston, and upon their return they will reside on Elmwood avenue.

Among the out-of-town guests present were: Miss Mabel Edmonds, Simcoe; Lieut.-Col. H. L. Edmonds and Mrs. Edmonds and Miss Irene Edmonds, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Cholmley Strickland, Saskatoon; Mr. and Mrs. Reginald H. Edmonds, Waterloo; Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Wilson, Waterloo; Rev. Richard S. Hannah, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Chilver, Walkerville; Mr. Harry Holland, Walkerville; Mr. and Mrs. R. Billing, Windsor; Mr. and Mrs. Alex. White, Windsor; Mrs. and Mrs. H. H. Holland, Belleville, and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Johnson of Guelph.

RUSH—YOUNG.

A quiet wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Young, Cairo, Ontario, Wednesday, April 12, when their second daughter, Mary, was united in marriage to Albert Hilton Rush, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Rush of Zone, Rev. J. M. Beill officiating. Promptly at 3 o'clock, to the strains of Lohengrin's "Bridal Chorus," played by Mrs. George R. Linney, sister of the groom, the bride entered the parlor and took her place beneath an arch of evergreen and roses. She was charmingly dressed in embroidered ivory duchess satin trimmed with georgette and beads, and carried a bouquet of pink and white Ophelia roses. She was attended by the groom's sister, Miss Vera Rush, dressed in white silk crepe de chine trimmed with satin, and carrying a bouquet of pink and white Ophelia roses. Mr. Norman Young, brother of the bride, attended the groom. During the signing of the register, Mrs. (Rev.) Beill sang "Because" very sweetly. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl sunburst; to the bridesmaid, a ruby brooch, and to the best man, a pearl tiepin. After the ceremony the guests retired to the dining-room, where a dainty wedding dinner was served.

The happy couple left amid showers of confetti and good wishes on the evening train for Walkerville, Windsor and Detroit, the bride traveling in a suit of navy blue serge with hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Rush will reside in Bothwell.

HUFFMAN—MacLEAN.

A pretty wedding took place at the home of Duncan N. MacLean, Kintyre, Wednesday afternoon, April 19, when Mary Niven, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Duncan N. MacLean, became the bride of William Cornelius Huffman, son of Mrs. Barbara Huffman of West Lorne. The Rev. W. A. Leitch performed the ceremony under an arch centered with fragrant Easter lilies and effectively decorated with white roses and sweet peas. The bride, who was given away by her youngest brother, Duncan N., looked lovely in a gown of sand silk canton crepe with shoulder cape caught up with tangerine blossoms, and wearing a corsage of the same flowers. She carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses with streamers. The wedding music was played by the bride's sister, Miss Nina MacLean.

The groom's gift to the bride was a platinum necklace set with diamonds matching her platinum and diamond wedding ring, and to the pianist, an onyx ring encircled with pearls. Following the signing of the register a dainty wedding dinner was served. The dining-room was tastefully decorated with wildflowers and roses. The happy couple left on the evening train for eastern points.

The bride's traveling costume was of navy blue tricotine with henna trimming and blouse of honeydew. Her hat was of brown and tangerine. After a short honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Huffman will leave for Aberdeen, Sask., where they will reside.

BAKER—MILLS.

A pretty wedding took place Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Mills, Charlotte street, when their daughter, Reta, was married to Lloyd Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Baker, Rev. H. Ashby officiating. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a graceful gown of white satin over georgette with pearl trimmings, a soft veil of tulle caught with orange blossoms and hemmed with pearls, and she carried a shower bouquet of roses. The wedding march was played by the bride's aunt, Mrs. James N. Mills, who wore a gown of black satin. The house was effectively decorated with spring flowers, with pink and white as the color scheme, which was also used on the table, centered with the bride's cake and surrounded with flowers. Following the ceremony a reception was held, the bride's mother wearing a gown of blue taffeta, and Mrs. Baker was gowned in black satin. Many out-of-town guests were present from Watford, Kingscourt and Galt. Mr. and Mrs. Baker left on a honeymoon which will be spent in Hamilton, Niagara Falls and Buffalo, the bride travelling in a smart suit of navy tricotine and a mohair hat with touches of blue and henna. Upon their return they will live at 383 Rattle street.

MARRIED IN ENGLAND SIXTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. John Crocker, Yarmouth, Celebrate Anniversary This Week.

Sixty-five years of married life together has been the happy lot of Mr. and Mrs. John Crocker, 5th concession, Yarmouth, who on Tuesday this week were showered with flowers and other gifts and received many calls and congratulatory messages when they quietly celebrated the anniversary in the home in which they have spent 40 years or more.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Crocker, the latter Rebecca Collins previous to her marriage, were born in Devonshire, England, met and married there. They came immediately after to Canada, settling in Yarmouth Township, where Mr. Crocker was actively engaged in farming as long as strength permitted. They are devoted members of the Union Methodist Church. Of the nine children born to them, four are still living, James and Samuel, near the old homestead, and two daughters, living also in Yarmouth. Though Mr. Crocker is over 90 years of age, and Mrs. Crocker 88, they had a bright greeting for all who called on them on Tuesday, and thoroughly enjoyed the occasion.

Easter Tripping Not All Holiday

Impressed By Extent to Which American Children Educated For Citizenship.

Members of the city teaching staff who spent a busy Easter holiday "tripping" to Washington and other points to increase their store of knowledge for the benefit of their work are back again at the day's routine with much valuable information acquired to pass along to their pupils.

One of the stories in which London boys and girls are deeply interested is that of the "egg-rolling" at Easter time witnessed in the rear of the White House, a national institution.

"It seems, indeed," said Miss Margaret Munro, "that it is a national custom for the children thus to express their Easter joy. All along in the trains from the windows we saw children rolling eggs on the hillsides."

In the visits paid to educational institutions of Washington, New York and other places, London pedagogues interviewed by The Advertiser state they were especially impressed by the extent to which the American people are educating the children to take their place in the world as citizens, and to earn a livelihood, giving them the education that will relate them to their after life and definitely prepare them for it.

Did the teachers enjoy the holiday? They enjoyed the trip immensely, but they do not exactly regard it as a holiday. "Not," says one fair tripper, "when you consider we lost 40 hours' slee pat a time in order not to miss anything else that would be of value in making us better informed for our work."

CHAPTER XIII.

OLD Judge Mason, accustomed to seeing Barry in times of stress, tried his best to be jovial.

"Well, boy, what is it this time?"

"Money." Houston came directly to the point.

"What's the money for; running expenses?"

"No. Machinery. I've got to have a good, smooth-working plant—otherwise I won't be able to live up to specifications."

"You're not," and the old lawyer smiled quizzically, "going to favor your dearly beloved friend with the order, are you?"

"Who?"

"Worthington."

"The district attorney?"

"That was. Plutocrat now. He came into his father's money and bought the East Coast Machinery Company. He's president," again the smile, "and I know he'd be glad to have your order."

Houston continued the sarcasm.

"I'd be overjoyed to give it to him. In fact, I think I'd refuse to buy any machinery if I couldn't get it from such a dear friend as Worthington was. It wasn't his fault that I wasn't sent to the penitentiary."

"No, that's right, boy." Old Lawyer Mason was quietly reminiscent. "He tried his best. It seemed to me in those days he was more of a persecutor than prosecutor."

"Let's forget it." Houston laughed uneasily. "A persecutor . . . You've given me an idea, Judge. I'm going to New York."

And the next morning, Barry Houston was in New York, swirling along Seventh Avenue toward Bellstrand Hospital. There he sought the executive offices and told his story. Five minutes later he was looking at the books of the institution, searching, searching—at last to stifle a cry of excitement and bend closer to a closely written page.

"August second," he read. "Kilbane Worthington, district attorney, Boston, Mass. Acc by Drs. Horton, Mayer and Brensteam. Investigations into effect of blows on skull. Eight cadavers."

With fingers that were almost frenzied, Houston copied the notation, closed the book, and hurried again for a taxicab. It yet was only nine o'clock. If the traffic were not too thick, if the driver were skillful—

He raced through the gate at Grand Central just as it was closing. It was night when he reached Boston, but Houston did not hesitate. A glance at a telephone book, another rocking ride in a taxicab, and Barry stood on the veranda of a large house, awaiting the answer to his ring at the bell. Finally it came.

"Mr. Worthington," he demanded.

Kilbane Worthington was seated at the large table, much in the manner which he had affected in court.

"Well," he asked somewhat brusquely, "may I inquire—"

"My name is Barry Houston, son of the late William K. Houston. You and I met—in the courtroom. You once did me the very high honor to accuse me of murder and then tried your level best to send me to the penitentiary for life when you knew, absolutely and thoroughly, that I was an innocent man!"

CHAPTER XIV.

THE former district attorney started slightly. Then, coming still closer, he peered into the tense, angry features of Barry Houston.

"A bit melodramatic, aren't you?" he asked in a sneering tone.

"Perhaps so. But then murder is always melodramatic.

"The point is this: I am thinking of suing the city of Boston for a million dollars."

"You're talking blackmail!"

"I beg your pardon. Blackmail is something by which one extorts money. I'm here to try to give you money—or at least the promise of it—and at the same time allow you to make up for something that should weigh rather heavily on your conscience."

"If you'll come to the point."

"Mr. Worthington, I have convincing evidence that you knew I was innocent. Further, that you knew it at the beginning of the trial. But that in spite of this knowledge, you continued to persecute me—notice, I don't say prosecute—to persecute me in a hope of gaining a conviction, simply that you might go before the voters and point to me in prison as a recommendation of your efficiency as a district attorney. I don't mind giving you the names: Dr. Horton, Dr. Mayer and Dr. Brensteam, all physicians of the highest reputation. I would like, Mr. Worthington, to know why you did not make use of them in the trial?"

"Why—" The former district attorney suddenly changed the subject. "You spoke of a suit you might bring when you came in here?"

Houston waited for a moment, then went on.

"But personally, I don't want to file the suit. I don't want any money—that way. I don't want any bribes or exculpations, or statements from you that you know me to be innocent. You owe me something. And I'm here tonight to ask you for it."

"I thought you said you didn't want any bribes."

"I don't. May I ask you what your margin of profit is at your machinery company?"

"I suppose it runs around twelve per cent."

"Then will you please allow me to give you twelve thousand dollars in profits? I'm in the lumber business. I have a contract that runs into the millions; surely that is good enough security to a man"—he couldn't resist the temptation—"who knows my absolute innocence. It isn't good enough for the bankers, who still believe me guilty, so I've come directly to you. I need one hundred thousand dollars worth of lumber-mill machinery. I can pay for it—in installments. I guarantee to give you every cent above my current running expenses until the bill is disposed of. All I want is to have you do what you would do to any reputable business man who came to you with a contract running into the millions of dollars—to give me credit for that machinery. Come in with me on it, and we'll forget the rest. Stay out—and I fight!"

"A BIT MELODRAMATIC, AREN'T YOU," HE ASKED IN A SNEERING TONE.

For a long moment, Kilbane Worthington paced the floor. Then, at last, he looked up.

"All right."

CHAPTER XV.

IT was a grinning Barry Houston who leaped from the train at Tabernacle a week later and ran open-armed through the snow toward the waiting Ba'tiste.

"You got my telegram?" He asked it almost breathlessly.

"Ah, oui, oui, oui, oui! Sacre, and you are the wizard!"

A moment he surged with another idea. "But now, Ba'teese have eet! He shall go to Medaine! He shall tell her to write to the district attorney of Boston—that he will tell her—"

"It was part of my agreement, Ba'tiste, that he be forced to make no statements regarding my innocence."

Slowly Ba'tiste nodded and slapped the reins on the back of the horse.

"Ba'teese will not see Medaine," came at last, and they went on.

Again the waiting game.

A month went by, to bring with it the bill of lading which told that the machinery was at last on its way.

March, and a few warm days, which melted the snows only that they might crust again. Back and forth traveled the bobsled to Tabernacle, only to meet with disappointment.

"I've wired the agent at Denver three times about that stuff," said the Tabernacle telegrapher and general supervisor of freight. "He's told me that he'd let me know as soon as it got in."

A week more, and winter had returned for a last fling.

They tried the bobsled. Ba'tiste and Houston, only to give it up. The horses floundered and plowed about in vain efforts at locomotion, at last to plunge in the terror of a bottomless road.

"Eet is no use," came finally. "The horse, he cannot pull. We must make the trip on the snowshoe."

They turned back for the bunk house, to emerge a few moments later—bent, padded forms, fighting clumsily against the sweep of the storm. Ghosts they became almost immediately, snow-covered things that hardly could be discerned a few feet away, one hand of each holding tight to the stout cord which led from waist-belt to waist-belt, their only insurance against being parted from each other in the blinding swirl of winter.

The features of the agent, as he stared up from the rattling key, were not conducive to relief.

"Your stuff's on the way, if that's any news to you," came with a worried laugh. "It left Denver this morning behind Number Eight. Eight isn't past Tollifer yet."

He rattled and banged at the key for a long moment, cursing softly. Only the dead "cluck" of a grounded line answered him.

"Things are going to get bad in this country if this keeps up," came at last. "There ain't any too great a stock of food."

At last the wire opened again, and the operator went once more to his desk.

"Oh!"

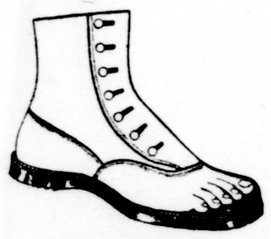

"What's wrong?" The two men were close beside him now.

"Number one-eleven's kicked over the hill. They're wiring Denver, from Crestline. The second plow's up there in the snowshed with the crew. One of 'em's dead. The other's—wait a minute, I have to piece it together."

A silence, except for the rattling of the key, broken, jagged, a clattering voice of the distance, faint in the roar and whine of the storm, yet penetrating as it carried the news of a far-away world—a world where the three waiting men knew that all had turned to a white terror of wintry fury.

Radio Radiations

Amateurs are requested to make their queries as brief as possible to facilitate the publication and answering of the questions. Address your communications to the Radio Editor, The London Advertiser.

BY THE RADIO EDITOR.

By using a simple high frequency buzzer and a small ordinary dry cell it is easy to adjust the fine wire on the selective spot of the galena.

When a contact is made by pressing the spring down to the tack head, the circuit is closed, and the buzzer vibrates.

Adjust the fine catwhisker wire leading to the galena while the buzzer is vibrating until the sound is heard in the head phones.

By picking around in this manner you will be able to locate the best spot on the galena. After this point is found immediately release the buzzer current, although the buzzer circuit does not have to be disconnected from the set.

WHAT is this "static" bugaboo of all radio enthusiastis, about which we hear so much grumbling?

After a respite during the winter, it is again beginning to break in and interfere with wireless transmission and reception. Despite the efforts of all experts, nothing much has been done to curb this interference.

It is hard to buck nature, and statics, or atmospherics, is the name given to electric waves sent out by nature.

Water in Air.

During the warm spring and summer months, water evaporates very quickly. The warm air covering the earth's surface becomes laden with water vapor.

Because this warm air is light, it rises to the cooler regions above. There, owing to the change in temperature, it is condensed and formed into small particles of water.

Since there is always some electrification of the air, these small drops of water are charged with electricity. Drawn together by the billions, they form into clouds. When these become heavier than air, they burst and descend upon the earth as rain.

Lightning.

Each of these particles constituting the cloud retains its electrical charge. There may be several combinations of these in the air. When their electrical pressure becomes too great, current jumps from one cloud to another in the form of lightning.

This lightning flashes back and forth until it dissipates itself.

As these flashes from cloud to cloud, or from cloud to earth, take place, they radiate an electrical wave quite similar to that radiated by a wireless transmitting set. They are not particular about the wave length they use. It is therefore almost impossible to tune them out.

RADIO PRIMER

CAPACITY.—The ability of an electrical circuit or apparatus to store up electricity. The practical unit for measuring capacity is a farad. But radio capacity is so low that it is measured by the micro-farad, a millionth part of a farad.

If ether waves threw a spray, wouldn't the waterproof coatmakers be in for a fine harvest?

No, Janet, the metres used in measuring wave lengths are not the same as the gas company instals in houses.

Hook up a radio receiver, and "the world will make a pathway to your door."

Carlyle's statement that "the best university in these days is a collection of books," will have to be discarded when all the "profs" give regular daily lectures by radio.

New version: To hear or not to hear, that is the question.

True Democracy in Middle Blouse

THE middy is almost more than a garment; it has become an institution.

It appeared more than a dozen years ago, yet the middy still enjoys universal popularity. No other garment has been able to displace it in the school girl's wardrobe, no other is likely to for years to come.

Though it is really a kind of uniform, the versatile middy has achieved an almost incredible variety through being developed in so many colors and fabrics, with different little changes from year to year to keep it quite up to the minute in smartness.

The middy of this spring, for instance, is following the long-waisted mode of the moment, and the fullness is gathered into a wide girdle which buttons on each hip with three buttons.

White, navy, red and khaki are the traditional colors for the middy, but newest and gayest is a bright hunter's green flannel middy, trimmed with white braid or none at all. Worn with grey tweed knickers, such a middy is just the thing for camp days, towards which half the girls in the country are eagerly looking.

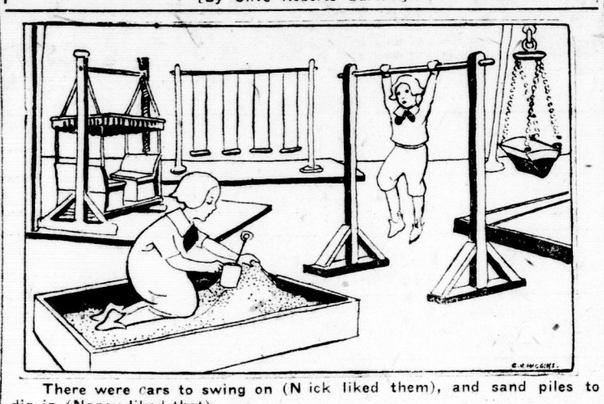

Linen or some stout cotton imitation of it are usually used for the summer middy, but a sturdy white tub silk of close, firm weave is also used, and for strenuous tennis games or other active sports will be found cooler than linen. The short sleeve is usually liked for the summer middy.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

PLAYGROUND VALLEY

[By Olive Roberts Barton.]

There were cars to swing on (Nick liked them), and sand piles to dig in (Nancy liked that).

THE FIFTH one of the Seven Valleys was called Playground Valley. When Nancy and Nick and the dove came to the top of the steep hill that led down into it, the dove said, "I know how it is going to be here. You'll want to try every swing and sliding board in the place, so there's no use of me staying. I'll fly ahead and wait for you patiently on the other side."

"But we don't have to stop, even if we'd like to," said Nancy. "We can shut our eyes and go right ahead."

"No," said the dove, sadly. "You think you will, but you won't. These things are all magic and will attract you against your will. It's like the five-and-ten-cent store Mountain and the Valley of Puppy-Dogs. Goodby now. All the advice I can give you is to watch that you do not lose your Green Shoes and that you will try to come as soon as you can."

Away he flew, but the magic had already begun to work and Nick was so interested in the things he saw around him, he scarcely heard what his little white guide said.

If I were to tell you all the things that the Twins did in Playground Valley it would fill so much space that there wouldn't be room for another thing on this page. But I can tell you part of it.

To begin with, there were swings—rope swings with board seats, boat swings on chains, nice bench swings with roofs over the top, slat swings, big swings, little swings, high swings, low swings, swings that squeaked and swings that were quiet, double swings, single swings, red swings, blue swings, and all sorts of swings.

Then there were sliding boards. Some were steep, some were flat, some were high, some were low, and each one a barrel of fun.

And there were bars to swing on (Nick liked them), and sandpiles to dig in (Nancy liked that), and seesaws, the best ever. There were kites to fly and tops to spin, skates to skate on and wheels to ride.

"Oh, my!" said Nancy, suddenly. "We've been an awful long time. We'd better hurry on, Nick. I hear the dove calling."

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

MACARONI, SPAGHETTI

MACARONI and spaghetti have many possibilities for delicious main dishes. Careful seasoning always makes any dish, but macaroni or spaghetti demand the most particular attention in this respect.

Although both macaroni and spaghetti are usually cooked before combining with seasonings, this first cooking is one of great consideration. The macaroni and spaghetti should not be overcooked. Drop it into boiling salted water and boil not more than 15 minutes. This insures tenderness in the finished dish, but allows the cereals or vegetables, as you choose to designate them, to cook in the seasonings and blend into the other ingredients.

"Mystery."

Four tablespoons butter, 4 tablespoons olive oil, 3 cloves garlic, 1 cup dried mushrooms, 2 cups stewed veal, 2 cups tomatoes, ½ teaspoon thyme, bay leaves, 1½ cups spaghetti, salt and pepper.

Cook garlic in butter and oil till garlic is brown. Soak mushrooms in water to cover till mushrooms are soft, and add water and mushrooms to garlic.

Add meat, tomatoes, thyme and bay leaves. Simmer very slowly, stirring occasionally till the meat is in shreds. It will take about two hours. Season with salt and pepper. Cook spaghetti in boiling salted water for 15 minutes. Drain and hold under cold running water.

Put a layer of spaghetti in a buttered baking dish, add a layer of meat and gravy. Continue layer for layer until all is used. Bake in a moderate oven for half an hour.

Spaghetti With Tomato Sauce.

One-fourth pound unbroken spaghetti, 1 quart canned tomatoes, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 cup grated cheese, salt and pepper.

Cook the spaghetti in boiling salted water for ten minutes. Rub the tomatoes through a strainer and cook till reduced to two cups. Melt the butter in a smooth saucepan, but do not let it brown or bubble.

Add the partially cooked and drained spaghetti and lift with a fork until it has absorbed all the butter. Add the tomatoes and simmer 10 minutes. Season with salt and pepper and add cheese. Lift with forks till cheese is melted and thoroughly mixed with spaghetti.

Steamed Macaroni and Cheese Pudding.

One-half pound cheese (grated), 2 tablespoons butter, 1 cup broken macaroni, 2 eggs, salt and pepper, 2 cups canned tomatoes, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 tablespoon butter, salt and pepper, 3 whole cloves, ½ teaspoon minced onion.

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water for 15 minutes. Drain and blanch. Mix cheese, two tablespoons butter, salt and pepper with macaroni. Add the eggs slightly beaten and beat the whole well. Turn into a buttered mold and steam 1½ hours.

Beat the tomatoes smooth with a fork while they are cooking. It will take about 20 minutes to make the sauce.

BASEBALL and LATE SPORTING NEWS

FLINGING CORPS HAS BUZZ SLIGHTLY WORRIED

Cold Weather Prevents Him Getting Line On Pitchers and He Is Starting North With Seven—Beat College Nine 8--2.

BY G. H. TOWNSLEY.

DELAWARE, Ohio, April 26.—An 8 to 2 victory was scored by the Tecumsehs this evening over the Ohio Wesleyan nine, when Buzz matched his Canadians against the Collegians for the last time this season. Zinn went seven rounds, and left the game after the Tecumsehs piled up six runs in the lucky seventh and pulled out of a 2-all tie. Bochert succeeded him and held the lads scoreless for two frames.

Zinn battled with the great Coffield and they had the game all sewed up until the college coach sent in a string of seconds and the Londoners chased Mason out of the box and then about murdered his successor. They tallied six runs and chalked up eight hits in the eventful seventh.

The game was featured by bang-up baseball on the part of both aggregations, the Londoners showing up brilliantly. Because the college team has a hard game Friday with Ohio State, who held Tecumsehs to a 5 to 4 win a week ago, there will be no match Thursday.

Leaves Camp.

Buzz mapped out a general two-session program of practice and left the squad in charge of the veteran Malmquest, while he went home to spend a couple of days with his youngstrs and make final arrangements for the summer's leave. He will be back Friday afternoon and will attend the Wesleyan-State game with the gang. The Londoners are to be guests of Ohio Wesleyan on this occasion. Early Saturday morning they will tear out for Lima and thence north to the border.

After the game this evening Buzz declared he had the best infield, best outfield and the best catchers in the league, and he would have to depend on the pitchers to carry their end of the load. The bad weather recently, which has greatly hindered outdoor practice and the practice games, has prevented Wetzel from getting the hurlers definitely settled upon. He is leaving here with seven and will pare the staff down to four within a short time.

A New Team.

With the rookies on the infield now decided upon, Manager Wetzel is going to display before the home fans a reorganized ball club that will adequately carry forward the standards his former aggregations have maintained. Brown, a 25-year-old player, will take care of third. He hails from Dennison, Ohio, and has had some professional experience in the Virginia League, having belonged to Richmond. Since leaving that club he has dabbled around in semi-pro ball. He bats both ways, and is full of life. Hen is short and chunky and the picture of health, and has a winning grin and lots of chatter while on the field. He is a fighter when it comes to bolstering up his pitcher. Then there is this Kid Marquard from the Toledo high school. He is but 18, but a snappy, sure shortstop with a world of promise. When the horsehide is sent his way he is there, and has an accurate peg to first, and uses his head when men are on the sacks. He is a sure bet.

The last of the rookies in the infield is Cross, who will hold down first. He is a product of Crestline, Ohio, and is but 20 years old. He will take his station when his leg is well. He throws and bats left-handed, is a rangy pill-snatcher with loads of ability developing each day.

The rookie list is complete when Hixenbaugh, Arndt and Bochert, all about 20, are added. This list of hurlers is exceptional for beginners. Bochert is the only left-handed twirler in the bunch of rookies. The others use their right hands, but can handle the ash from either side.

LEWIS BEATS ZBYSZKO.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 26.—Ed. "Strangler" Lewis, champion heavyweight wrestler of the world, successfully defended his title here tonight by defeating Stanislaus Zbyszko in the first and last of three falls. Lewis won the championship from Zbyszko in Wichita, Kas., a short time ago.

WAS TROUBLED WITH HER STOMACH FOR FIVE YEARS

Mrs. Samuel Ward, Millerdale, Sask., writes: "I feel that I must write to you before another day passes, I am so happy and so grateful to your splendid medicine, Burdock Blood Bitters, for after an illness of five years I am better.

"I had stomach trouble so bad, I could not bear the smell or taste of food of any kind, and got so thin and weak I could not work. I had four doctors attend me, but they did me no good. I was in no pain, but felt so ill, at times, I thought I would die, in fact, all my friends were sure I could not live many weeks.

"This time last year I saw where a man was relieved of stomach trouble by Burdock Blood Bitters, so my husband got me two bottles, but I had no faith in it after all the different medicines I had taken. However, he insisted, and after the first two days I must say I began to feel better, and after the first bottle I felt so much better I went out a little every day, but could not go alone I was so weak, but I soon got so I could walk and eat, and have got quite stout.

"I am nearly seventy years of age, and I feel better than I have for years, and can now do all my housework.

"You may use this letter if you wish, as it may be the means of making others as well and as happy as I am."

Former Noted Jockey of Woodstock To Ride in France.

WOODSTOCK, April 26. — A champion jockey of a few years ago, A. Cormack, of this city, left here yesterday and will sail tomorrow from New York aboard the Rochambault for France. A week or so ago Cormack received a cable costing away up in two figures from Viel Picard, the famous French trainer, asking him to go to France to ride for the Rothschild stables, and when the Woodstock jockey gets to France he will likely soon be found in the saddle. The question of weight will bother Cormack some. At 60 he weighs about 134, but as they make weights at about 125 pounds in France, he will likely be able to get down to that figure. Cormack was wanted to ride on a big fixture which he won twice while in France, but he will not be there in time. It was in 1904 that Al Cormack was prominent on the American turf, carrying the colors of the late H. C. Shultz. He came back from France in 1916, and has only sported silk a few times since then.

CHATHAM KIDS GET MORE STICKS

Big Rush as News Flashes Through School, But Many Again Disappointed.

CHATHAM, April 26.—Another gross of lacrosse sticks was received by the Chatham Lacrosse Club this afternoon, the arrival of the sticks being broadcasted to the different city schools by messengers.

Shortly after 4 o'clock the store of E. C. Brisco on King street was stormed by over 300 boys bearing orders for lacrosse stocks. There were more disappointments, but more stocks were ordered, and the disappointed ones will get their "hickories" by the end of the week.

Up to the present time over four gross of lacrosse sticks have been handed out at greatly reduced prices to the boys by the Chatham Lacrosse Club. The club has in mind the revival of lacrosse among the pupils of the city schools, and that their plans have succeeded far beyond their expectation is keenly realized by every sport enthusiast in the city.

There was a splendid turnout of lacrosse players at the second practice of the Chatham Lacrosse Club last evening. There was also a big turnout of boys, who, leaning on their lacrosse sticks, watched the "big fellows" in action. Manager Jack Mead, who was in charge of the practice, stated this morning that the greatest enthusiasm and good humor prevailed, not only amongst the players, but also among the crowds of boys.

C-H-A-T-T-E-R

SINCE actively retiring from baseball, Hans Wagner has dabbled in several business ventures. He resides in Pittsburg. For several years he has coached the Carnegie Tech baseball team. I understand that he is at present promoting a sporting goods store that will be under his direction.

Larry Lajoie is living in Cleveland. He doesn't look a day older than when he retired from baseball. Larry invested his money well, is prosperous and holds down a responsible position with a prominent tire concern.

Willie Keeler resides in Brooklyn. He is said to be in poor health. Once regarded as one of the wealthiest players in the game, he is said to have lost much of his money through his bad investments.

Cy Young is still the farmer. He lives at Paoli, Ohio, and has a well-stocked farm.

ONCE a player gets the reputation of being a "cheater" it is a difficult matter for him to live it down.

Dave Danforth of the St. Louis Browns is an example of such a reputation. In his early days as a minor league pitcher Danforth doctored the balls.

At least that was the charge that was always held against him as a minor leaguer. In the American Association it was not unusual for Danforth to strike out ten men in a game.

His great work in that league caused the Chicago White Sox to give him a chance. He fared just so-so with Chicago and was again sent back to the minors.

Once more it was the American Association, this time with the Columbus club. Immediately Danforth began to burn up the league. He had so good a year in 1921 that the St. Louis Browns gave 11 players for him.

Danforth has always been accused of roughing the ball with his thumb nail, thereby making it possible for him to sail his fast ball.

American League umpires seem to think that Danforth is not resorting to trickery. Opposing teams, however, insist on having the umpire examine the ball every time Danforth gets a good hop on his fast one.

Danforth does rub the ball slightly with his thumb before delivering it. He says it is merely habit. Opposing players are positive it is then that he roughens the ball.

Danforth says his effectiveness is increased when the opposing players start fussing about his delivery, and that is the real reason why he always rubs his thumb on the ball as if nicking the leather in order to get a rough spot.

Past reputation is going to make the traveling rather rough for Dandy Dave this year.

ST. LOUIS, April 26.—Bert Cole, a recruit southpaw of the Detroit club, broke the St. Louis club's winning streak today, shutting out the Browns by a score of 2 to 0. Kenneth Williams' home-run spurt was also interrupted. The best he could get was two singles in four times up.

BAGBY WAS WILD.

CLEVELAND, April 26. — Bagby's lack of control with timely hitting and Cleveland errors allowed Chicago to defeat the Indians today by a score of 7 to 3. Cleveland outbatted the White Sox, but two double-plays hurt the Indians' chances of scoring. Stephenson's batting was the feature.

VETS BEAT OXFORD RIFLES ELEVEN

WOODSTOCK, April 26.—The G. W. V. A. defeated the Oxford Rifles tonight in a senior city soccer league game by a score of 3 to 1. It was a fast game from start to finish. The half-time score was 2 to 1. Groves, a new man just out from England, played his first game for the Vets, and proved to be a player of more than ordinary ability. He is a real find. He scored two goals and would have had more but for the wonderful goal-keeping of Lewis for the Rifles. The line-up:

Oxford Rifles—Goal, Lewis; backs, Fleming and Poole; halves, Popwood, Tallent and Alvis; forwards, Herd Fawdry, Ayres, Blaney and Wilson.

G. W. V. A.—Goal, Brotherton; backs, Bottoms and Dorken; halves, Wright, Hood and Marshall; forwards, H. McDonald, T. Fleming, Groves, Lewis and Jarvis.

Referee—G. W. King.

MINT Patter

Buzz, according to Ohio reports, is waxing enthusiastic over his infield and every department for that matter except the hurlers.

Buzz, waxing enthusiastic over anything that plays baseball, sounds mighty like as if he lived a dual life.

This youngster Cross, if he has made a first sack berth ahead of Buck Boyle, will be eagerly anticipated by the fans. He must have about four pairs of hands.

"Kentucky" Ashley, who has been leading the Yannigan crew in the Port Huron training camp, has defeated the regulars twice in two practice games. Both Ashley and Butler, as well as Manager Bill Kelley, are showing good class as backstops with the Hurons, and all three may be carried by the team.

Port Huron has plenty of backstop material, while Bay City finds that good catching material can't easily be signed. Thus run the worries of shaping new teams in the Michout.

The Hamilton team has pulled stakes at Lafayette, Ind., the home of Purdue University, and started a three-game series with the Decatur club of the Three-Eye League. Following these games the Hams will take on the Danville club of the same circuit, and may play there all week, as a series scheduled with Fort Wayne has been cancelled because of the damage done to Fort Wayne Park by recent storm. Manager Calbert has released Catcher Geary, First Baseman Holliday and Shortstops Witt and Boyens, thus reducing his squad to 22 players.

It is understood that neither O. Kelly nor Pitcher Hooker have been signed yet by the Port Huron-Sarnia club. They are holdouts, and Port Huron wanted to let them out to Kitchener.

Port Huron-Sarnia has released Ralph Close, Bay City boy, who was trying for an infield birth. Burrell, who was with the team last year, has also been let go. Manager Bill Kelley has about picked his team with Hill or L. Watson at second, Worley at short, J. Watson at third, Maeher at first, Seiffert, Lyons and Ted Kaylor in the outfield. Assumption College downed the Hurons 2 to 1 last Saturday.

FORM MAITLAND BASEBALL CIRCUIT

AUBURN, April 26.—A meeting of baseball enthusiasts was held in the Foresters' Hall here last evening. Dr. B. C. Weir presided. Representatives were present from Blyth, Benmiller, Carlow, Dungannon, Belfast, St. Helens, Whitechurch, Westfield and Auburn. It was decided to organize a league to be known as the Maitland League, comprised of teams from above mentioned centres and divided into two groups. An election of officers followed with the following result: Honorary president, Rev. A. E. Millson; president, Dr. B. C. Weir; vice-presidents, Messrs. R. R. Redmond and Chas. Robertson; secretary-treasurer, M. Henry.

The executive meet on May 1 to draw schedule and attend to other business.

SHAMROCKS TO PLAY BENEFIT

REACH $700 MARK

Winnipeg Trip After Canadian Title Almost Within Sight of Local Champs.

The Shamrocks have reached the $700 lap in their $1,000, and Saturday night stage a benefit exhibition match at the local "Y" gym with the St. Thomas Collegiate girls in an effort to get another couple of laps on the way to Winnipeg and a chance at the Dominion girls' basketball championship.

It may be a benefit tilt Saturday night, but the fans are sure to get plenty of action for their money, as the St. Thomas girls gave the locals the hardest games they met up with the past season. Two preliminary games will be staged.

The response to the call for funds has been met by London citizens from many unexpected quarters, showing the keen interest and desire there is around the city that the girls may make the trip west.

With the objective almost in sight the arrangements for the trip will probably be started, including the provision for a game in Chicago on the way back. The state champions of Illinois have been communicated with, and doubtless this stop-over series will be arranged with the Colleens returning hung with titles.

HERMITS SQUAD JUMP AT TRAINING

Despite chillsome breezes, the Hermits' ball squad got in a splendid workout last night at Queen's Park. There were 20 in the squad that reported to Manager Jack Chantler, and they went to the work, showing real pep, and went through the whole repertoire of training, gingerly at first but warming up as they got some of the stiffness worked off. McWane, last tryout last year for the London Minor outfield; Sessions, a youngster, who played for the Manhattans and starred for the Collegiate rugby team; Harry Watts, the year around, and Jack Grant were among the workees.

Hermits have still some good looking material to uncover, and Manager Chantler will have his hands full, making a choice.

Friday night another workout will be held at the Springbank diamond, and Saturday also sees one billed. All players desiring a tryout will be welcomed by the club. The players will meet at 5:30 Friday afternoon to make the Springbank trip.

THISTLES AND L. C. I. TEAMS TO CONTEST CHAMPIONSHIP

City Basketball League Title To Be Decided on Friday Night.

The Thistles are carded to meet L. C. I. Middle School Friday night at the east-end community rink to decide the league champs and to determine who will be the holders of ex-Mayor Little's trophy.

This tilt promises to be one of the best city basketball league games ever staged, and it is expected that a large number of fans will turn out to give encouragement to the players.

The Scotch lassies have the advantage in weight over the Collegiate cagers, but the latter are out to show them that the way to victory is not paved, and they are working hard to be able to stand in front of the member from the chamber of commerce who will present the cup.

After the game Mayor Wilson's trophy, emblematic of the educational section of the league, will be presented to the Middle School girls, who have already won their claim for it. Alderman Childs will be in charge of the presentation in the absence of the mayor.

S. and I. Imps will play C. A. C. in a preliminary event.

REDUCE MILK PRICES.

HAMILTON, April 26.—Arrangements have been made by the retailers to sell milk to the citizens on May 1 and thereafter at 11 cents a quart, but apparently without the co-operation of the producers, who declare they have not agreed to reduce their price to $1.75 per eight-gallon can.

The producers have called a meeting for tomorrow to consider the question.

Comedian Altrock Outdoes William Tell

NICK ALTROCK ON THE GROUND OFFERING HIS NOSE AS A TEE FOR THE GOLF BALL. WALTER JOHNSON AND STANLEY HARRIS LOOKING ON WITH JIM THOMPSON, SOUTHERN PROFESSIONAL, DOING THE DRIVING.

That sounded interesting to Nick, so he decided to go William Tell one better.

Nick conceived the idea of placing a golf ball on his nose, as a substitute for a tee, and having said ball driven off the nose.

"Anyone who has ever seen me and therefore is familiar with the size of my nose will appreciate the great danger entailed in pulling this stunt," is the way Nick explains it.

Nick insists there are any number of golfers he would not allow to drive the ball, among them being Babe Ruth.

"You know Babe often swings where the ball ain't, and this is no trick when the golfer doesn't hit the ball. It immediately becomes a serious accident."

POSTPONES POWER BOAT RACES.

DETROIT, April 26.—A change in the dates set for the gold cup power boat races here this season was announced today by the committee in charge following definite decision that no contest would be held this year for the British International (Harmsworth) Trophy.

The gold cup regatta, originally scheduled for August 26 to 29, will be held September 1 to 4.

RUNNERS

NEW YORK, April 26. — If horses were fed with silver spoons, Morvich, the wonder horse of last year and perhaps this, would lick his massaged lips around the silver handle and drink his nectar from a golden urn, but, as it is, the reigning king of the turf must worry along with ten attendants, a pony-in-waiting and a private car.

Morvich is the popular favorite for the 48th renewal of the Kentucky Derby at Louisville, May 13, the richest and most sought-for of the blue grass stakes, whose barrier in recent years has sprung fame on such pieces of horseflesh as Omar K., Exterminator, Sir Barton, Paul Jones and Behave Yourself.

One thing Morvich did for Mr. Block was to win $115,234 last year as a two-year-old, carrying his stable colors first to the tape each time in the eleven starts he made, a record seldom equalled. Morvich is topped only by Man-o'-War of this horse-racing period, who won 20 of 21 starts for purses totaling $244,465.

Morvich is trained like other thoroughbreds—as near alike as two trainers train two different horses—but he lives in regal style. He chews no hay except that on which the advertised sun of California has shone, and drinks none but filtered water.

NOTES.

The Kentucky racing season will open at Lexington Saturday.

Harry Giddings' string, of Oakville, is expected at the Woodbine today. He has the four-year-old Royal Visitor and three Canadian-bred two-year-olds.

Ladder of Light, which won the King's Plate some years ago, is again back in training this season.

Jockey Bill Warrington is busy exercising horses at the Woodbine, he being connected with the Gorman stable of Ottawa.

Trainer Graham has arrived from Havana with three head, including Darnley and Matchless Mary. He is stabled at Tom Elward's owing to being unable to secure accommodation at the Woodbine.

Robt. Newell reports that his mare Matrix, by Meelick, dropped a fine filly foal yesterday by Anmer. Matrix will be bred back to Alasuan, the English sire now quartered at the Woodbine and purchased by Mr. W. P. Fraser for the C. R. A.

Jockey Pribble, the little rider who was so popular at Dufferin Park last year, was thrown from his mount in the last race at Havre de Grace Monday, when his horse stumbled at the first turn. He was carried off the track in an unconscious condition, and rushed to hospital, where it is feared his skull is fractured.

Winsome Actress

BABY JOSEPHINE.

SELDOM in the annals of vaudeville has there been presented in London a juvenile actress with the remarkable talent of Baby Josephine who, although just five years of age, opens a three-day engagement at the Grand Theatre today.

This amazing and talented little child, who is appearing with her father and mother, the Leighton trio, assuredly possesses the rare faculty of effectively touching the hearts of audiences with her unusual talent.

She can sing, dance and recite in a manner that will win the hearts of the grown-ups and youngsters alike, and it is likely that she will easily carry away the laurels of the bill for the remainder of the week.

SMALLER SCHOOL BOARD START OVER AGAIN IN MOVE

Resolution, With Wording Changed, Must Go Before Urban Schools Convention First.

While the resolution approved by the London board of education, asking that boards of education in communities of 50,000 population or more should not exceed seven members, was not allowed to go before the recent convention in Toronto of the Ontario Educational Association, Trustee Smith has given assurance that the agitation for a smaller board will not be allowed to languish.

Certain objections were registered, he states, to the exact wording of the resolution, and the same was returned to the London trustees in order that they make the desired changes.

The trustees were advised further to present their petition before the Urban School Trustees' Association before asking the consideration of the other organizations.

Byng Urges Red Chevron Comrades To Revive Spirit of Corps in Canada

Ottawa, April 26.—"One's position is so constitutional that one almost loses one's constitution thinking about it. But I am still your comrade and want you to look upon me as that, and, please God, as long as we are here together let us keep that word comradeship going," was one of the utterances delivered very feelingly last night by His Excellency Lord Byng, in the course of an address as guest of honor at the third annual reunion dinner of the Red Chevron Comrades, the officers and men of the first Canadian contingent. Lord Byng was accorded a most enthusiastic welcome by his former colleagues, cheers breaking out repeatedly, cries of "Good Old Byng," and musical honors being freely given and quite spontaneously by the company which numbered about 150 all ranks.

His Excellency told some humorous stories which greatly delighted the company, and he made a most earnest plea for a revival of the spirit throughout Canada that made the Canadian Corps one.

Lord Byng said that after Vimy the Canadians became a corps, working in absolute harmony and perfect unity, mutual trust of each other was established, and he appealed: "Could we possibly get Canada to be like that corps was after Vimy."

"It would be a wonderful nation if we could make it like that corps," declared the speaker.

Talbot was committed for trial at the assizes of 1921, but the case was abruptly interrupted when the victim, Amanda Talbot, was sent to jail for contempt of court. She refused to answer certain questions, and besides being sent to jail, a charge of perjury was laid against her. Her trial is on the list for the present term.

DEMANDS PROMPT ACTION

Motion Placed On House of Commons Order Paper For Future Debate.

OTTAWA, April 26.—(By Canadian Press.)—Arguments on the St. Lawrence deep waterway scheme, both in favor and in criticism, were heard in the House of Commons today during a debate which occupied the entire sitting. T. L. Church (Conservative, North Toronto) had a motion calling upon the government to give "early and favorable consideration" to the report of the international joint commission and "request the government of the United States to join with Canada in making an international agreement for carrying out the work so recommended."

Mr. Church strongly supported the project. "The greatest hope of civilization today," declared Mr. Church, "lies in the union of English-speaking peoples, especially Canada and the United States, and this scheme will prove one of the greatest factors in bringing such a union about."

John Millar (Progressive, Qu'Appelle) opposed the project on the ground that it would tend to develop cities while the country was still under-developed. Fernand Rinfret (St. James, Montreal) and E. A. Lapierre (Nipissing, Ont.), both Liberals, opposed the scheme also.

Hon. R. J. Manion, who was a member of the Meighen government, held, on the other hand, that all Canada, on investigation, would be in favor of the project being carried out.

Goes On Order Paper.

The debate continued till 6 o'clock, when it was automatically adjourned. Mr. Church's motion now goes on the order paper, to the bottom of public bills and orders, and is not likely to be reached again for some time, if at all this session.

Mr. Church said that the question was one of the most important that had ever been placed before the people of Canada. Its importance was on a parity with that of Confederation and the building of the Canadian Pacific Railway. It was a proposal which concerned every citizen of Canada and the United States and therefore must be approached from the national standpoint. It was a case of the greatest good to the greatest number.

He did not propose to criticize any of the other waterway schemes, said Mr. Church, because he was satisfied that before many years were over the Georgian Bay Canal and other proposed means for getting from the lakes to the seaboard would be necessary in addition to the St. Lawrence waterway. Western Canada was growing and water-borne traffic was on the increase. The St. Lawrence waterway was looked upon by its advocates as the last link of the chain of waterways from the head of the lakes to the sea.

Mr. Church hoped the prime minister would allot a day on which the whole matter could be thoroughly discussed. It was a national undertaking and would be beneficial, not only to Ontario, but to Quebec and the West as well. He gave a review of the work which had been done on the St. Lawrence River in the past.

Built Up Industries.

Dealing with the electrical side of the proposal, Mr. Church declared tha cheap waterpower had built up the great industrial area in the Niagara district, and what had been done in the Niagara district could be done on the St. Lawrence.

"If Montreeal opposes this project she will be making one of the most serious mistakes in the history of the Province of Quebec," Mr. Church continued. "The greatest hope of civilization today lies in the union of English-speaking peoples, especially Canada and the United States, and this will prove one of the greatest factors in bringing such a union about."

There was nothing more important before the house than this project, which would do more to solve unemployment than anything else. He closed by appealing to all three leaders in the house to unite on the question, also to give everybody a chance to express their stand on the project. It had been a political football across the line for fifty years and the people were now anxious that something definite be done.

Fernand Rinfret (Liberal, St. James, Montreal) announced himself at the outset as an opponent of the great waterways project. After complimenting Mr. Church on his presentation of the subject, he remarked that if the flow of water in the St. Lawrence were as abundant as the flow of Mr. Church's language, there need be no anxiety about the effect of the great waters on the navigability of the St. Lawrence. However, anxiety did now exist on that score, and in addition there were doubts whether Canada could bear its share of the cost, whether the results would warrant the expenditure, and whether it was desirable to go into a partnership of this kind with the United States.

Regarding the cost, Mr. Rinfret pointed out that no precise data was available. It had been stated that a 25-foot waterway could be built for $252,000,000. But this figure did not include the cost of deepening harbors on the route or of deepening lake channels and connecting rivers. Even the report of the joint international commission was dubious in this connection. It stated that the problem of finance was complicated by the inequalities between the United States and Canada as to population, wealth and ability to take advantage of the project when completed.

Objects of Projects.

Discussing the question of navigation, Mr. Rinfret remarked that there was a lurking suspicion that the main object of the whole proposition was not navigation, but electrical power. However, considering the question of navigation it was doubtful whether ocean vessels could compete with lake freighters. While a lake vessel of a certain draught had a carrying capacity of 4,000 tons, an ocean-going vessel with the same draught had a carrying capacity of only 4,000 tons. Again, ocean vessels cost three times as much per ton to build as did lake vessels.

The main argument, he said, against proceeding with this work was that it would involve a partnership with a neighbor who would exact the letter of the contract. Canadians had found this out in regard to the Alaskan boundary and on other occasions. Mr. Rinfret expressed doubt that the British embassy had been negotiating an agreement upon this subject with United States, but he had no doubt that if the British embassy were willing, Americans would be very ready to settle the matter over our heads.

John Millar (Progressive, Qu'Appelle) opposed the resolution, on the ground that it was a waste of time to discuss a project which could not possibly be started in the near future.

Nippissing Opposes.

E. A. LaPierre (Liberal, Nippissing) also opposed the resolution. He said that when Mr. Church announced that all Ontario favored the construction of the St. Lawrence Canal he was making a grave error. The district of Nippissing was strongly opposed to it.

Hon. R. J. Manion (Conservatitve, Fort William) expressed surprise that the Progressives were not taking a greater interest in a proposal which affected them so vitally.

It was admitted that the St. Lawrence deep waterways project meant the expenditure of large amounts of money, but any one who read the report of the international joint commission would believe that the construction ultimately would be carried out. All Canada was interested in the proposition, and on investigation all Canada would be in favor of the ultimate construction of the canal.

Even supposing that the canal did injure Montreal, New York or Buffalo, that was not sufficient reason for laying the proposition aside.

It had been estimated that the construction of this canal would result in a saving of five cents a bushel on wheat. This would amount to approximately $15,000,000 each year, and would materially benefit the farmers.

Adjourns Until Thursday.

Thomas Vien (Liberal, Lotbiniere) asked Dr. Manion what advantage the building of the canal would be to Quebec and the Maritime Provinces.

Dr. Manion replied that the building of the Intercolonial Railway was of little advantage to the Prairie Provinces.

It has been stated that coal shipments from the Maritime Provinces would be distributed as far west as Fort William if the waterway was constructed.

Frank S. Cahill (Liberal, Pontiac) said that he would not advocate the building of the Georgian Bay Canal at the present time for financial reasons. But, if the country was going to construct a canal, it would be better to build the Georgian Bay waterway, which would develop Canada, rather than carry on the project under discussion, which would build up the United States.

The debate was then adjourned, and the house rose until Thursday afternoon.

Larkin Silent On Plan To Fight Embargo.

LONDON, April 26. — Hon. Peter C. Larkin, Canadian high commissioner, declines to make any public statement in reply to the House of Commons debate here on the cattle embargo. It is understood that he has sent a private explanatory message to Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King.

As a prelude to the House of Commons debate, a deputation of twenty prominent meat traders waited on Mr. Larkin, urging him to take further public steps to promote the lifting of the embargo. Mr. Larkin replied that Britishers must do their own agitating.

JOYNT WOULD CUT SALARIES

Suggests That Ontario Legislators Receive $1,400 Yearly Instead of $2,000.

Drury Intimates Consideration of Hydro Radials After Budget Debate.

TORONTO, April 26. — Premier Drury intimated to the Legislature tonight that after the budget debate is disposed of, the next big order of the program for consideration will be the Hydro Radial Bill.

Contributions were made to the budget debate tonight by John Joynt, North Huron, and A. C. Lewis, Northwest Toronto. The latter adjourned the debate at 11 o'clock, and will resume tomorrow afternoon.

Mr. Joynt made one startling statement when he suggested to the government that members should receive the regular salary they used to get, $1,400, instead of $2,000, "which I have been told is the sum for this year."

Mr. Joynt made a plea for lower freight rates and criticized the wages asked for by labor. He said he wanted to give the attorney-general a great deal of praise for the way he enforced the Ontario temperance act.

The afternoon sitting today was chiefly occupied in a debate on a motion of W. E. N. Sinclair, Liberal member for South Ontario, asking for particulars of receipts and expenditures for the months of August, September and October, of the years 1919 to 1921. Mr. Sinclair, speaking on his motion, subjected the government to a financial criticism.

Demands Full Return.

Provincial Treasurer Peter Smith said that the government could not get the entire return down this session and suggested that only a portion of it be accepted as sufficient.

H. Hartley Dewart took sides with Mr. Sinclair in demanding the entire return and criticizing the government for not getting started on it sooner.

Hon. G. Howard Ferguson read the correspondence concerning the delay in having tabled the return of the Hurdman scale.

Premier Drury on more than one occasion, sought by suggestions to bring the debate to a close. He said that speakers, chiefly on the opposition side, took a great deal of time in the house on debate, even when speaking in order. There was considerable cross-fire as a result of this statement.

Mr. Sinclair steadfastly refused to drop a portion of his motion, and it finally carried. He claimed the purpose of his motion is to seek to show that the government hurried up payments to the various departments, such as succession duties, but delayed paying bills the government owed around the end of the last fiscal year, in order to show a surplus. The debate on the budget was not resumed until the evening sitting.

Reads Gregory Letter.

Hon. G. Howard Ferguson read the letter which W. D. Gregory, chairman of the royal commission investigating the Chippawa project, sent to Sir Adam Beck, chairman of the hydro-electric power commission, in which Mr. Gregory announced that the royal commission deemed it inadvisable to intervene in the hydro commission's plans in regard to dredging the Welland River and power canal, and also in connection with the entrance to the Welland River at Hog Island.

Mr. Ferguson claimed that in this letter Mr. Gregory assumed that his commission had power to intervene in connection with the Chippawa project, thus superseding the hydro-electric commission. He thought this was not the intention of the house. It never intended to give the royal commission authority to reconstruct this great public enterprise as it may think advisable. It should be made plain to Mr. Gregory that it was to investigate and report to the house, but it was not to take over control from the hydro-electric commission or interfere with the plans of that commission.

Premier Drury agreed with Mr. Ferguson's interpretation of the powers of the royal commission, that it was not to supersede th chydro-electric commission, and he did not think the letter contained anything which would indicate any desire to do so. However, he would take the matter up with Mr. Gregory, and see that there was no misunderstanding in this regard.

Notice of Motion Given.

W. E. N. Sinclair gave his notice of motion on the first day of the session. He explained that he had received a letter last autumn asking him to make payments on succession duties which he said were not required to be paid until February of this year, and he had been informed that 51 similar letters were sent out before the close of the fiscal year.

He interpreted this to indicate that the treasurer had sought to collect all the money possible in order to show his surplus. He also wanted the return of moneys paid out during the same periods to seek information as to whether the provincial treasurer can hold up these payments over the end of the fiscal year and with the same object of making his surplus greater.

Hon. Peter Smith, provincial treasurer, said that the books of his department were open to the members, that he was always ready to give them any information practicable, but to give the returns as asked for by Mr. Sinclair would entail a great deal of work, and it would be impossible to complete it before the session.

Nearly Impossible.

He was willing to give the returns in regard to the bills unpaid at the close of the year, also copies of letters or telegrams sent out to speed up payments, but asked that the demand for the receipts and expenditures by months be not pressed, as the books were not kept in a way to give totals by months, and it would be almost impossible to give the information exactly correct, particularly as the capital and ordinary revenues and expenditures would have to be divided.

H. Hartley Dewart criticized the government for not calling the motion sooner. Mr. Smith pointing out that it was called previously, but Mr. Sinclair was not in his seat. Mr. Dewart continued that the information should be available, and the department should have started preparing it long ago.

Criticizes Government.

J. C. Tolmie, Windsor, criticized the government for not calling this notice of motion sooner. It was information that the members of the house were entitled to know.

Dr. H. A. Stevenson, London, sharply criticized what he termed were tales of woe by opposition members regarding the finances of the province as liable to hurt its credit.

HOLD SUCCESSFUL PARTY.

GODERICH, April 26.—The Rebekah Lodge held a very successful euchre and dance in the assembly hall of the I. O. O. F. The lady's prize for euchre was won by Mrs. George Bradley, and the gent's by H. Boggie. After lunch the Blackstone-Buckley Orchestra furnished the music for the dance.

PROPOSE GAS TRIBUNAL WITH FIVE MEMBERS

Members of Legislature Decide on Change After Survey of Ontario Situation.

TORONTO, April 26.—The only change which will be made during this session of the Legislature in connection with the natural gas question will be that instead of a referee, as at present, there will be a tribunal of five.

One will be selected by the consumers, one by the farmers on whose lands the wells are located, one by the producing companies, one by the distributing companies. These four will select the fifth member. In case they cannot agree, the mines department will select one.

This is the outcome of a conference of members of the Legislature from Western Ontario interested in this problem, which has during the past year been the cause of many disputes.

The decision was based largely on the result of questionnaires sent out to the municipalities. The tribunal will have the same powers of price regulation and physical control as now enjoyed by the gas referee.

LAUDS MISSION WORK IN AFRICA

Foresees Native Women Soon Taking Part in World's Affairs.

Thirty-five years ago, representing the Canadian Congregational Church, Dr. W. T. Currie established a center of Christian light and influence in Portugese West Africa in a humble way, in a "hut in the wilderness." Today there are schools, churches, preaching places, hospitals, a Currie Institute which already has in operation four courses, theology, pedagogy, music and industry.

Pictures of the changes brought about in this section of what she termed "the beautiful continent," through missionary activities since 1886, were vividly represented Wednesday evening by Miss Jamieson of Toronto, secretary of the Canadian Congregational Woman's Board of Missions, in an eloquent and inspiring address, delivered at the closing session of the annual meeting of the London branch in the First Congregational Church.

Sees Bright Future.

Associated with these companion pictures, the speaker visualized a future for Africa, when native women will take their place with those of other parts of the world as homemakers in the best sense, as thinking Christian women, and the continent can no longer be called a place of darkness.

"Formerly," said Miss Jamieson, "women were regarded in Africa as entirely lacking in brains, fitted only to carry burdens and do the hard, physical work. Today, we have girls in training in the schools, girls who are even teaching others. Only a few weeks ago, a doctor who has been there for two terms, told me that he believes the time has come when the native girls can be trained for hospital work.

Have Musical Talent.

"A little girl who came to the mission some years ago, in a pitifully emaciated condition, begging to be taken in, revealed the native talent for music. She has written a beautiful hymn of the resurrection for her own people. That is what Christianity and education are doing for the women and girls of Africa."

Dealing with statistics, Miss Jamieson called attention to three boarding schools, where boys and girls are being educated, a new school of six rooms to be opened shortly at Chisamba, the scene of Dr. Currie's first efforts; the thousands of boys and girls attending the schools in 97 out stations, the 50-bed hospital at Chisamba, the medical work in all the stations, the four churches and hundreds of preaching stations, the Currie Institute, all monuments built to missionary achievement in 35 years.

Caring for the spiritual interests of the people, practical Christianity has led to efforts to better the whole environment, hence the industrial training that has been in progress for a length of time, the teaching of brick-laying, carpentry, furniture-making, for the boys, and home-making and intelligent care of children, for the girls.

Majority Underfed.

"While the land is a beautiful one, and so rich that anything can be grown there from peanuts and pineapples to wheat and rice," said Miss Jamieson, "the majority of the people are poor and underfed, because of their lack of knowledge of how to cultivate the land. That is why, in our mission work, we are stressing the teaching of agriculture." In conclusion, Miss Jamieson made an appeal for extension of what, to her, is "the greatest work in the world."

Mrs. T. H. Hill, president of the C. C. W. B. M., presided on behalf of the branch president, Miss Tapscott. Rev. M. Kelly, pastor of the First Congregational Church, gave the scripture reading and the special musical program included an anthem by the choir, under the leadership of Mr. J. McAlpin, and a chorus by the Sunshine Circle of the church.

Delegates Entertained.

Between afternoon and evening sessions, the delegates were entertained at a tempting dinner, served by the ladies of the church, under the convenership of Mrs. J. Jepson. In this connection, a pleasing innovation was introduced.

Instead of having the greetings of sister societies formally conveyed at the regular sessions, the representatives of other churches were asked to attend the banquet as special guests, meet the delegates and deliver messages to them there. Mrs. D. L. McCrae, presbyterial president, represented the Presbyterian Church; Mrs. J. H. McMechan, the Methodist; Mrs. Baldwin, the Baptist. Mrs. F. A. Steven introduced the speakers. Other honor guests were Rev. Matthew Kelly, Rev. W. H. A. Claris, Rev. F. A. Steven and T. H. Hill.

Canada's Premier Opens Former Home of Sir Wilfrid to Ottawa Officials

Ottawa, April 27.—The reception held last night at the residence of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Lady Laurier at 335 Laurier avenue east, and which has been bequeathed to the leader of the Liberal party, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, premier of Canada, was a unique event.

In the near future, Hon. Mr. King will take up his abode in this old home, known to every Ottawan, and to many Canadians as the Laurier residence. It is a historic house, and citizens of Ottawa pass it with pride, in that one of their most honored statesmen spent so many of his years within its walls.

Hon. Mr. King, by this reception last night, paid tribute to the beautiful life of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his wife. He invited parliamentarians, including senators, members of the House of Commons, officials of both houses and members of the parliamentary press gallery, together with their wives, to view the interior as it was arranged by the late Sir Wilfrid. Books were in their usual niches, pictures hung in their wonted places, and in fact the Laurier home atmosphere was just as it used to be.

Shortly Hon. Mr. King will commence alterations, redecorating and refurnishing this house for his own occupancy, but before that step is taken he paid one of the most delicate tributes to the life of a great man by entertaining all parties in the selfsame surroundings Sir Wilfrid Laurier knew as home.

London, April 27.—Diplomatic relations between Germany and Russia will be resumed immediately in accordance with the treaty signed at Rapallo, says a Central News dispatch from Berlin. The first German ambassador to the Soviet government will be Prof. A. Bernhard Weidenfeld, while Leonid Krassin will represent Russia in Berlin.

Prof. Weidenfeld, former head of the foreign trade section of the German foreign office, has been the German trade representative in Moscow since Sept. 24 last. M. Krassin is Bolshevik commissionaire of foreign trade, and has been active in Berlin for several months.

Defends Rapallo Pact.

Berlin, April 27.—The German foreign office in a statement to the Associated Press emphasizes that the Russo-German treaty signed at Rapallo on Easter Sunday contains no secret clauses, as has been charged in some quarters. The treaty has been published in its entirety, the statement said. It is not of a military or political character, being entirely of an economic nature, and devised with the view of settling economic post war problems.

Vanishing transport facilities, dwindling coal stocks, and the transfer of privately-owned business to communistic control, have almost killed Russian production, Baris Stunkel, a Russian engineer, told a meeting of German metal merchants here yesterday. He emphasized the difference in the mental outlook of the Russians and the peoples of Western Europe, addinig that the latter in their efforts to open up Russia needed to proceed with extreme caution.

SOLDIERS' AID KILLS TOT'S VISION OF DAD

their daddy and mother," said Mrs. Orme, "and how I have grieved since, when I learned that the tots were taken to Toronto. They would naturally think that they were going to see their mother and daddy, and how disappointed they would be."

The two women said they talked about the children to Mrs. Paradise, nurse at the home. She told them that she heard a rumor that the children were going to be taken away, but did not know when.

Mrs. Orme said that the matron, Miss Chambers, must have known that the children were going to be moved in the morning. She knew that they were visiting at the home but said nothing .

"Oh, if she had only said something, we could have kept them here," said Mrs. Orme.

Mrs. Ashley says that on Wednesday afternoon she learned of the children having been taken away in the morning. The news came from Mrs. Paradise, who had been informed by the matron of the home, just before the matron was going out for the afternoon, that she could call up the aunts and tell them that the children were gone.

The two aunts state that they are taking immediate action to rescue the children and have been promised assistance by Mrs. Thompson and others.

CITIES SHOW HYDRO PROFITS INCREASE

watt hour, and other rates are proportionately low. Before the advent of hydro, the average domestic rate was 8c per kilowatt hour, with a charge of 25c a month for meter rent. The balance sheet, taken on Dec. 31 last, shows total assets of $440,782 and total liabilities of $341,461. The reserve funds amount to $58,083, and there is accumulated surplus of $41,238. The surplus earned by the local system in 1921, namely $21,188 was equivalent to $9.54 per horsepower.

St. Thomas has a gross surplus on the operations of 1921 amounting to $28,891. After applying $12,282 to renewals reserve there remained a net surplus of $16,609. This surplus is equivalent to $7.06 per horsepower on the energy delivered to St. Thomas from Niagara Falls during 1921. The average rate for domestic lighting is 2.2c per killowatt hour, and for commercial lighting 2.1c. In 1913 the average rate was 5.9c. The successive reductions in rates by the Provincial Hydro-Electric Commission during the nine years represent $425,202, or 52.6 per cent if the aggregate revenue of the local system since 1912. This saving is considerably more than the entire cost of the plant. The balance sheet on December 31 showed that the assets were $411,805, and the liabilities $111,453, leaving a balance in reserves and surplus account of $300,351.

FREE STATERS CONTROL TOWN

CALL FOR TRUCE

County Clare Proclamation Attempts Stoppage of Cattle Driving Raids.

London, April 27.—Troops of the provisional free state government gained control of the town of Mullingar, following this morning's fighting, says a dispatch from the Belfast correspondent of the Evening News. An armored car manned by regulars was patrolling the streets at the time the dispatch was filed.

Fighting broke out this morning between the regular and irregular Irish Republican army forces stationed in Mullingar in anticipation of Eamon de Valera's anti-treaty meeting on Saturday. The hostilities continued for two hours, both sides using rifles and machine guns.

Various houses have been commandeered by the regulars, or provisional government troops, who are reported to have launched an attack on the irregulars. Great excitement prevails.

The fighting began at 5 a.m. and ended about 7 o'clock. One man on each side was killed, and it is believed six were wounded. The regulars captured and disarmed a lorry load of republicans.

The district buildings bear evidences of the affray and merchants refuse to open their stores. The republicans are still holding the police barracks.

CALL THREE MONTHS TRUCE.

Dublin, April 27.—Commandant General Brennan and three other generals of the regular Irish Republican Army in County Clare have issued a proclamation, calling for an immediate truce, to run for three months, in cattle-driving and interference with land. They pledge at the end of three months' period to use their influence with the minister of agriculture to have lands which ought to be the people's property purchased and divided.

"Persons engaged in cattle-driving between this date and Aug. 1," says the proclamation, "will do so at their own peril, as drastic action will be taken to enforce this proclamation."

KEEN CONTEST FOR LIONS WHO ARE SEEKING OFFICE

Cubs Parsons and Graham Will Battle For Honor of Being Next President.

Nominations for officers were held at the weekly dinner of the Lions' Club at the Tecumseh House on Thursday. The nominations were: President, Cubs Parsons and Graham; first vice-president, Cubs Macfie and Griffen; second vice-president, Cubs Dennis, Barrett and Nash; third vice-president, Cubs Gleason, Moore and Cromwell; secretary-treasurer, Cubs Keene and Dregge.

The election of officers will take place the last week in May.

In nominating each member of the club wrote on his ballot a first and second choice, and a candidate defeated in a contest for one office automatically becomes a candidate for the next lower office.

Cub Graham reported that arrangements for the Saturday program for Boys' Week have been almost completed. Mr. Graham has sent a letter to each school principal enclosing the program for that day. Cub Parson will be the chairman of the committee in charge at Queen's Park, while Cub Graham will be stationed at Thames Park. Bill Moore has been commissioned to lead the parade to Queen's Park.

A resolution of sympathy was passed by the club in behalf of Cub Orme in his recent bereavement.

Other reactionary issues included Pan-American Petroleum, American Tobacco, Wilson & Co. and American Ice. The market's stronger side was represented by New York Air Brake at a 6-point gain, and Lake Erie and Western proferred, which advanced 1⅝. Corn—Spot, American mixed, 6s 8d.

Chicago, April 27.—New setbacks in the price of wheat took place today after a brief showing of strength at the opening of business. Initial gains were aparently due more or less to assertions that on late breaksk in the market yesterday there had been large foreign purchases both on old and new crop wheat. Upturns in price this morning, led to profit-taking sales, which, together with continued favorable crop reports from the Southwest, caused the market to drop. The opening, which varied from unchanged figures to 1¼c up, was followed by declines all around to well below yesterday's finish.

Unfavorable weather gave comparative firmness to corn and oats. After opening unchanged to ¼c lower, the corn market scored slight further gains. Oats started unchanged to ¼c off, and then rallied a little.

Winnipeg, April 27.—Futures opened: Wheat—May, 1c to ½c lower at $1 38@1 38⅛; July, ⅝c to ⅞c lower at $1 36@1 36¼.

RAPS LACK OF CO-OPERATION

BELFAST, April 26. — Sir James Craig's reply to Michael Collins' telegram of April 22, made public today, asserts that there has been no co-operation on the part of the provisional government, which had not even appointed its nominees on the advisory committee called for by the London agreement.

The Ulster premier also complained that the provincial government had not withdrawn the boycott of Ulster, and that hundreds of thousands of pounds worth of Belfast goods had been destroyed in Southern Ireland.

He declared the Irish Republican army was still committing grave outrages in Ulster, and he asserted in general that there had been bad faith on the part of the provisional government.

Sir James, after complaining of lack of courtesy and consideration on the part of the provisional departments toward the northern government, which "we trust is merely due to lack of experience," discusses in detail the eleven paragraphs of the agreement, pointing out what Ulster has done toward their fulfillment, and criticizing non-co-operation on the part of the provisional government.

It is frankly admitted by Sir James that the Belfast disorders have not been quelled, but he says the Ulster government is handicapped by the agreement. Grave outrages, the premier asserts, are still being committed within Ulster by order of the Irish Republican Army.

He also refers to the continued occupation of Orange Hall and Free Masons Hall in Dublin "by marauders who have not been expelled by the southern government."

With regard to the boycott against Ulster, Sir James says that within the month, since the agreement, the interference with Ulster's trade has been greater than during the whole of the previous period.

Concerning the release of 170 prisoners requested by Mr. Collins, Sir James asserts that a great number of them are charged with murder and other serious crimes.

APRIL 26

Taurus people should avoid all stimulating food and drinks. Many murderers are found among the men who inflame their natures through the use of alcoholic stimulants.

All persons born under this sign should strive to possess their own souls and find the path of silence which leads to the temple of Peace. They should remember that "He that ruleth his spirit is greater than he who taketh a city."

Most children born under this sign are willful and determined to have their own way at all hazards. They have great power of endurance, and are natural conquerers.

Metal workers, carvers and silversmiths may look through the Want Ads and be sure of finding better positions during the next two weeks.

Hon. W. S. Fielding Promises Planters' Requests Will Be Fully Considered.

BY JOHN J. McLELLAN.

OTTAWA, April 26.—Representatives of tobacco pranters, associations from the counties of Essex and Kent were among a large deputation of tobacco growers from the provinces of Ontario and Quebec, numbering in all over 50, who waited on the government today to ask that an increased tariff be placed on leaf tobacco.

Representing the tobacco planters of Southwestern Ontario were: R. L. Brackin, A. M. Fraser and the Hon. Manning Doherty, minister of agriculture for Ontario. They were received at the office of the minister of finance, outside the House of Commons. The cabinet ministers present were: Hon. W. S. Fielding, Hon. George P. Graham, Hon. W. C. Kennedy and Hon. Jacques Bureau. The members of the delegation not coming from Southwestern Ontario were from the counties of Montcalm, L'Assomption, Joliette, Berthier and St. Hyacinthe, Quebec. These last-mentioned counties, together with the counties of Essex and Kent, make up the major portion of the tobacco-growing districts of Canada.

Make Nine Requests.

The delegation was introduced by Senator Archie McCoig, and for the Ontario members R. L. Brackin spoke. The claims of the delegation were nine in number, or rather their requests were nine in number. Their petition given to Hon. W. S. Fielding declared that in making their representations they based their arguments on the experience of the past 25 years. Every move of the government during that period at the behest, they said, of the tobacco growers, had been beneficial to all. "There was only one exception," the petition stated, "it being the last amendment of the law governing this industry when, in 1918, as a war measure, and without any regard to any other consideration, the late government raised the duties on foreign raw leaf tobacco and the manufactured products and also imposed a duty on Canadian raw leaf tobacco in the hands of the growers when sold by them for consumption, at the same time subjecting them to useless obligations in the matter of license and monthly returns."

The excise duty imposed on tobacco growers by the Tory regime when in power, it was shown, was a great hardship. The other requests of the tobacco growers urged:

Would Abolish Returns.

1. That the annual fee for license of $2 and monthly returns required of tobacco growers be abolished.
2. That the duty of 5 cents per pound now levied on all Canadian raw leaf tobacco offered for sale or consumption, whether by the growers, the manipulators or manufacturers, be abolished.
3. That the duty on all manufactured tobacco as distinguished from cigars and cigarettes be fixed at 10 cents per pound.
4. That the duty on cigars be scaled according to the proportion of Canadian leaf tobacco used with foreign leaf used in their manufacture at a given scale.
5. That the duty on all foreign leaf tobacco (cigar wrappers excepted) be fixed at 80 cents a pound on unstemmed leaf, and $1 on the stem leaf.
6. To control the sale of product stringently to protect the youth of the country.
7. Transfer or removal of tobacco stems from one factory to another be abolished, unless used in manufacture of snuff.
8. That a tobacco grower be allowed to keep on his premises 30 pounds of tobacco for each adult in his family.
9. That a demonstration or experimental station be established at some central point for the curing and drying, etc., of tobacco.

Consideration Promised.

Hon. W. S. Fielding responded for the government. He declared that the duty on tobacco was higher at the present time than on any other commodity. He said he recognized the importance of the industry, but that he thought the trouble was with a half a dozen buyers, and added that negotiations might be entered into with them. However, the government—he not being able to speak before consultation with his colleagues, the other ministers—would give fair consideration to the requests of the growers.

Seen before leaving Ottawa, the Ontario growers expressed themselves greatly satisfied with the reception that had been accorded to them, and declared that their mission was satisfactory in their opinion to the tobacco growers.
