RUSSIAN ADVANCE IN REGION OF CZARTORYSK PROGRESSES

Two More Villages Captured, the War Office Announces, and Additional Prisoners Taken—German Heavy Guns Cause Russ Losses but They Hold They Own

Petrograd, Friday, July 7, via London, July 8, 1.30 p.m.—The Russian advance in the Czartorysk region in which the attacking German troops were thrown back yesterday, has been pushed further. The War Office to-night announced the capture of the villages of Dolzyca and Gruziatyn. The number of Austrian and German prisoners continues to increase.

The announcement follows: "Our troops continue to develop their successes in the region west of the Czartorysk sector on the River Styr. Following the capture of the village of Grady and after a hot bayonet encounter, the village of Dolzyca, on the main road between Dolzyca and Mansvitch, and the village of Gruziatyn were taken. The number of German and Austrian prisoners continues to increase.

"On the front south of Stokod River the enemy is maintaining a very violent fire in numerous sectors. North of the lower Lipa, under cover of artillery fire, the enemy attempted to take the offensive in the region of Skheina and Dubovya, but was repulsed. The artillery fire continues."

Continuous Fighting.

JAPAN PLEASD WITH TREATY

Allied With Russian Can Check Austrian and German Designs.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Tokio, July 8.—The Japanese press regards the new Russo-Japanese convention as a veritable offensive and defensive alliance consolidating the position of Japan and Russia in the Far East and checking renewed activity of Germany and Austria. The newspapers generally express the belief that the terms "territorial rights" and "special interests" used in the convention are comprehensive and comprise those now existing and previously recognized and also those to be recognized in the future. The opinion is voiced that Russia in the future will be able to concentrate her attention on the political situation in the Balkans and in Persia.

At a meeting of the ratepayers of Parkdale school section held last evening the proposal of the school trustees to borrow $9,000 in order to build a three room addition to the present school, was voted down almost unanimously after considerable discussion by the large number present. The trustees are now faced with the problem of meeting the demands of the school inspectors for proper accommodation for the pupils attending the school.

ANOTHER PROTEST

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, July 8.—The German Government, according to Reuter's Amsterdam correspondent, has handed to representatives of the neutral powers in Berlin, a memorandum dated June 17, which deals with British measures, alleged to be contrary to international law against neutral firms entertaining commercial relations with Germany.

FRANCE WATCHES WITH ADMIRATION THE BRITISH FIGHT

Overcoming Brilliantly the Great Natural and Artificial Obstacles.

By Special Wire to the Courier. Paris, July 8.—The French are watching with admiration the fight of the British troops in the sector north of Somme River. The great natural and artificial difficulties with which they have to contend are realized and all agree that they are doing as well as humanly possible. French military opinion is that the German positions are so well furnished with lines of communication that the British will be able to accomplish little more until the heavy French guns are installed inside the lines of the German positions opposed to the British. As these guns of 305 and 400 millimetres are mounted on railroad tracks, time is required to lay the tracks for their movement which has to be done carefully. The French are so solidly established that the work soon will be completed and it is asserted that these guns will not be long in making their influence felt.

Praying For Peace

Youths' Association Founded in Australia by Prince of Wales. Berlin, July 7, via London, July 8.—A Vienna despatch says that Prince Maximilian of Hohenberg, son of the murdered Archduke Ferdinand, heir to the Austrian throne, has founded the "Youths' Association for Prayer for a Speedy and Favorable Peace." The association has already 14,000 members. Prince Maximilian Hohenberg is fourteen years old. He is the son of the Princess Sophie Hohenberg, morganatic wife of the Archduke Ferdinand, who was assassinated with her husband at Sarajovo.

WAR OPENS UP RUSS PROBLEMS

Attention of Its Statesmen Must Be on West for Many Years.

Petrograd, July 8, via London, 11-05 a.m.—In an interview in The Bourse Gazette on the Russo-Japanese agreement, Sergius Sazonoff, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, says: "The present war opens up a series of problems for Russia, the solution of which necessitates our confining our attention to the west for many years. Relying on our solidarity with Japan as regards Far Eastern questions we can devote all our energies to the solution of these problems with the assurance that no power will take unfair advantage of China to carry out its ambitious plans, as was the case with other countries bordering on Russia in the east."

GONTALMAISON CENTRE OF FIGHT

British Took It Yesterday, But Lost Part in Counter-Attack.

PRUSSIAN GUARDS WERE BEATEN

Heavy Rain Fell and Troops Struggled Through Mire.

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, July 8.—There is yet known here of the casualties suffered in the British offensive in France. The first list was published last night and names over 200 officers, of whom 25 were killed. It says 170 men were killed or wounded. Among those killed was Colonel Robert Jeffrey Douglas.

Hard Fighting Developed in France, July 7, 9 p.m.

Resisting counter-attacks at the Arras and Montauban, the British pressed the offensive at some points with the result that hard fighting developed. The village of Contalmaison became the main object of the efforts of both sides.

Fight at Contalmaison.

Looking across the line of Fricourt and Mametz, Contalmaison was enveloped in smoke from the artillery concentration, which was as heavy as at any time since the advance began. Soon the proof of the success of the British storming the village was evident by the concentration of the German fire upon it, and the streets of the village were being brought out. With these prisoners were some members of the British Tyneside battalion, who had been isolated in the former German dug-out until another British attack rescued them. They were hungry and exhausted, but smart and they walked beside their former captors.

Will Press Germans Out.

Later the Germans took part of the village in a counter-attack, but it is thought at this writing that they may be pressed out again from the whole neighborhood. The British main and second line German trenches, while the Germans have evidently brought up heavy reinforcements, meaning to make a stubborn defence.

ERIE AVENUE

A new phase appears to be creeping into the projected paving of Erie avenue, which it is stated, would otherwise have present month, a week Monday, The Massey-Harris Co., however, it is understood, object to the removal of the old drive unless a new one is built, while the residents on the west side of the street are protesting against the new one, so that matters have reached more or less of a standstill. A meeting of the board of works will probably be called to deal with the situation in the course of a week or so.

WITH GUNS AND INFANTRY BRITISH DRIVE FORWARD IN EFFORT TO EVEN UP LINE

Soldiers Have Been Rushed From Belgium to Stop the British Troops Who Struggle Forward in Spite of Rain—Russian Forces Nearing Delatyn and Kovel.

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, July 8.—2.01 p.m.—The operations of the British army on the Somme front, between the Ancre and Somme Rivers, has again been impeded by unusually heavy rain, the war office announced to-day. During the last few days the British have captured twenty guns and 51 machine guns.

London, July 8.—Noon—With the aid of innumerable guns and waves of infantry, the British army continues to make progress in its effort to bring the front line between the Ancre and Montauban on level with the French line further south. This effort on the part of the British has led to the most furious fighting in which the British troops have been engaged. The flower of the German army has been brought forward to oppose them, and guns and ammunition are being used lavishly.

Soldiers Rushed from Belgium. According to reports from Holland, Belgium has been denuded of German soldiers to meet the Anglo-French offensive and the railway stations, even in the larger towns are guarded by the older reservists. In London the reports of the British command General Sir Douglas Haig, are awaited eagerly, and although the arrival of wounded tells the price which is being paid for the advance of the small gains which is being received with quiet satisfaction.

Delatyn Surrounded

According to unofficial reports, Delatyn is surrounded on three sides, and the Russians having cut the eastern-most lines of retreat across the Carpathians on the flank of the Austrian new defensive lines running through Staniuslaw and Halicz, General Von Bothmer may be compelled to fall back even further before he reaches safety.

Kovel is Menaced

Advancing along the line of the Lutsk salient, the Russians are now threatening Kovel from three points. Capture of prisoners continues, and according to Russian estimates, the total for a month's fighting is not far short of a quarter of a million.

215th Battalion Marched to His Home and Gave Him a Riding Crop.

Seldom is it that a commanding officer enjoys such thorough and deserved respect and esteem from his men as does Lt.-Col. Harry Cockshutt of the 215th battalion, of which ample testimony was furnished this morning, the occasion of the C.O.'s forty-ninth birthday. When shortly after 9 o'clock, the entire battalion, including the Paris company, and with bands playing, proceeded up Dufferin Avenue to Dufferin Place. Lt. Col. Cockshutt was taken entirely and wholly by surprise. Summoned to the lawn beside his house, the C. O. found the battalion drawn up in company formation with the officers assembled before him. Capt. Sweet explained briefly the purpose of the occasion, following which Rev. Capt. McKegney made a brief address, expressing the esteem and good will of all toward the C.O. and the hope that his battalion might soon reach full strength. Capt. Muttter then presented Lt. Col. Cockshutt with a handsome riding crop, the presentation being followed by hearty cheering, expressing his appreciation of the gift and voicing the hope that the battalion might become one of Canada's appearing in the mist, a tip of a wing torn off by the collision.

SOME PLAIN SPEAKING.

One of the most hopeful signs, as far as the obsession of Germany is concerned, is the fact that in one or two directions plain speaking is commencing to be heard, without cruel suppression.

Dr. Karl Liebknecht, member of the Reichstag, who has from the first had the courage to openly characterize the war as started by Prussian manipulators for purposes of aggression, has at last been landed in gaol, but it is significant that the Kaiser's dare not do anything more than this with regard to him.

He is the leader of a daily growing mass of people, becoming more and more impatient under the strain of hostilities.

In the Prussian Upper Chamber recently, one of the members, a learned professor, gave notice that he would move that the study of English and French be dropped in a number of Universities and that Oriental languages in particular take their place.

Some other professors—those birds of ill omen for the Fatherland—are backing up the fool idea, but the Vossische Zeitung, talks out very plainly in meeting.

"Any attempt to eliminate English would be ridiculous," it says. The English language reigns in the greater part of the civilized world, and it will not affect its power and influence should German schools be foolish enough to shut it out from their curriculum.

If Germans, says the Vossische, cease to learn English they must expect to diminish their business, not only in England and its vast dominions and colonies, but also in the United States and in the harbors of Latin South America.

"We may regret the predominance of English as much as we like, but we must accept things as they are. Either we are to raise our position in the world, in which case we require English, or we renounce English in haughty or national isolation, and thus ruin our future."

With regard to French, the Vossische points out difficulties of equal gravity. French, says the journal, may not possess its former importance, but it is the language of the Mediterranean basin.

In the Balkans, moreover, all instructed persons speak French in preference to their own language, and even in Turkey no European language is spoken save French.

To eliminate French from public instruction would be to inflict a serious economic blow on Germany.

And what language would you put in place of English and French? All in this talk of Oriental languages is nonsense. No German merchants are going to lose their valuable time studying Turkish, Arabic and Persian. The game is not worth the candle.

NOTES AND COMMENTS. The boys of Kitchener's army have taught the Prussian Guards a thing or two.

That war map of the German Chancellor is commencing to look more and more like the breaking up of a hard winter.

Meanwhile the King of Greece is moving around about as softly as Henpeck, home at 2 a.m.

It is announced that Sir Wilfrid Laurier is to make a recruiting tour. Some kind friend should get the fact home to him that in supporting the bi-lingual agitators, he was lending his aid to a movement destined as a cloak for non-recruiting in Quebec.

He either did that knowingly, or foolishly. Whatever the reason, public condemnation is the same.

The Huns have been in the front pews quite a while, but the ejection process is going along very nicely, thank you. Haven't had time even to look for their hats.

NEWS NOTES. A bandit, single-handed, held up four trunks at Wawona, just outside of the Yosemite Valley National Park, and from twenty-eight persons collected $100 and jewellery.

For several hours before he was put to death in the State Prison at Trenton, Emil Swentamin, thirty-three, spent his time listening to phonograph records of "Tipperary."

Enoch Grubb, of Bloomington, Ind., 66 years old, announced that the stork had left an eleven-pound baby daughter at his home. Mrs. Grubb is more than 60, the new baby is the nineteenth child.

COLORS PRESENTED TO 133RD BATT.

Sir John Hendrie Presided Over Event Yesterday at Simcoe.

DONATED BY I. O. D. E. Rev. H. C. Newcombe Appointed Pastor of the Norfolk Battalion.

(From Our Own Correspondent.) Simcoe, July 8.—Favored with fine weather, possibly on the warm side, the 133rd Batt. received to-day from the hands of Sir John Hendrie, Lieut.-Governor of Ontario, the regimental colors, donated by the Sir John Graves Simcoe Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire, and the arrangements for the function were so well conceived and beautiful in their setting and execution with such precision and grace in every detail, that His Vice-Royal Highness congratulated the Regent, Mrs. Simpson, and officers of the chapter on their splendid work, and besides, upon having the colors presented and consecrated before the battalion left the county.

Came in Private Car. Sir John arrived in his private car "Sir James," and was received by Senator McCall, representing the I.O.D.E. executive, and his Worship Mayor Williamson. A large turnout of citizens, members of the civilian recruiting league, the Patriotic Association and other citizens in autos formed a monster procession to Canon Hicks Memorial Hall, where the Daughters of the Empire had prepared luncheon for the guests of the day and members or representatives of local patriotic and civic organizations. The reception party at the hall consisted of the executive of the chapter, Mrs. Rupert Simpson, Regent; Miss McCall, Mrs. L. F. Aiken, Mrs. Tomlinson, Sec., Mrs. J. Porter and Mrs. H. F. Cook.

At the Park. Promptly at two o'clock the battalion marched to Exhibition Park and was formed in line. The colour party arrived, and the Lieutenant-Governor received the salute. The flank companies formed inward, the drums were placed. The colours were borne from the rear of the centre of the line and the colour party consisting of Sir John and his aide-de-camps, Master David Tisdale, Col. Williams and Major McCullough, H.I.S. Lt.-Col. Coombs, Lieut.-Col. Atkinson, M.P., Major Curtis, of the 39th, and Hon. Col. Donly of the 133rd, stepped forward. The flags were received by Lt. Doughty and Lt. Durward.

His Honor said it gave him much pleasure to come to Simcoe, a town named after the first Governor of Upper Canada, and declared that the colors were full of meaning to the soldier who took pride in his regiment and who desired to inscribe the hon-

Take one look and be convinced.

And mark these words—the car is destined to be regarded and referred to as one of the really great achievements of the great automobile industry.

Yet it only goes to prove how big production can cut cost and save you money.

MANY CURIOUS FACTS CAME TO LIGHT AFTER THE BIG BATTLE

By Special Wire to the Courier.
Paris, July 8.—The work of sorting the booty taken by the French troops in the fighting at the Somme brings to light many curious facts. In the Mareaucourt woods, a heavy German battery was found completely dismantled. The battery commander's shelter alone remained intact. The luxury of the arrangements in the German positions of the Sant-erre plateau showed that they were considered impregnable. In the positions occupied by the battery mentioned, were a piano, a brass band and a complete hot and cold water supply.

The greatest booty fell to General Balfour's famous "Iron corps," which distinguished itself at Verdun. This corps took enough material to set up a whole army.

A BUDGET OF NEWS FOR THOSE INTERESTED IN LABOR IN THE WORLD OF LABOR GLEANED FROM THE EXCHANGES AND OTHER SOURCES

At the present time women are replacing men in the banks at Edmonton.
The output of the Greenhill Coal Mine at Balmora, Alta., is steadily increasing, and it will soon be the largest producing mine in the province.

The strike of the Grand Trunk freight handlers at Windsor, Ont., has been adjusted, and the strikers, who were formerly receiving $1.80 per day, will hereafter receive $2.20 per day.

It is reported from Manitoba that there has been no material reduction in the breweries as a consequence of the going into effect of the new temperance act in that province.

The Street Railway Employees' Union in Moose Jaw, Sask., after a long period of inactivity, has been revived, and under a live bunch of officers is determined to be a permanent factor in the affairs of that growing city.

The crop outlook for Western Canada is greatly improved, and it is now confidently predicted that while it will not be as large as last year, it will probably total up to 250,000,000 bushels.

The strike of the Brotherhood of Painters and Decorators has been settled at Hudson Bay Co. on a compromise basis, both employers and employees making the mutual concessions. For the present the minimum wage rate will be 40 cents per hour.

Vancouver Trades and Labor Council has notified the license commissioners that it is keeping close tabs on their actions on the question of the employment of Orientals on licensed premises and expected it to come to a decision before any further licenses were issued.

Less than forty years ago the Hudson Bay Co. had only a trading post upon the site where Winnipeg now stands. Yet to-day it is the third largest city in the country and is known as the coming Chicago of Canada.

The phenomenal grain crop of last year is resulting in great activity in the lumbering industry, and a large amount that is still coming down from the interior, the old crop will be carried across the Upper Lakes well after the new crop starts to come in.

There are a thousand million acres of woodlands in Canada, and over two hundred million of these acres are covered with timber suitable for trading and manufacturing purposes. In the immediate future they will be the source of supply for hundreds of saw factories and provide employment for thousands of workmen.

Every employee of the Peterboro Electric Railway system is a member of the Local Division of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees, the last year not being initiated at the regular meeting of the organization in May, and the division is, therefore, a one hundred per cent.

Maintenance of way employes on the Intercolonial Railway have been receiving a minimum of $1.75 per day, but under the new schedule the minimum has been raised to $2.00 per day. All other employes of the department, including extra track foremen, bridge builders, painters, foremen masons, come under a new schedule which grants an increase of 29 cents per day, or approximately 88 per cent.

Among some of the big building propositions listed in Canada at the present time are a million dollar theatre in Montreal, a two and a half million dollar paper mill in connection with pulp mill in Ocean Falls, B.C., with big California capitalists behind it, and a commercial factory in Quebec to cost more than a quarter-million.

An agitation is being started in Calgary in favor of free public hospitals in Alberta. It is claimed that not one workingman in five hundred can pay the high charges for doctor fees and hospital accommodation that now prevails without mortgaging themselves for years to come. There is no provision made in the wages of the average worker to allow himself or any of his family to get sick.

The granite cutters in Halifax, N.S., are in a better shape than at any previous time in the history of the city, and under the new agreement entered into with the Constructive Mechanical Trades Exchange ensures that practically all granite in the city will be cut under union conditions. All the members of the old independent union are now enrolled in the Granite Cutters' International Association.

C. P. R. shop men in Moose Jaw, B.C., see good times ahead, and there are hardly enough hands to do the necessary work on the rolling stock and motive power.

The United States Bureau of Labor statistics reports that the contrast of employment and earnings in 1916 show a large per cent. in the increase in the number of employees on the pay roll in all the trades except one, that of the mens ready-made clothing trade. In the iron and steel trade it was 43 per cent. The percentage of increase in the amount of total pay rolls ran from five per cent in cotton manufactures to 73 per cent in the iron and steel trade.

Serious complaint is made by the labor unions in all parts of British Columbia that just as soon as a mechanic or laborer vacates a job in order to enlist in defence of the empire, a Chin, Jap or East Indian steps into the vacated position, and works for lower wages than its former occupant received. This plan is being systematically carried out by the employing interests, and in nearly every case an enlistment means a new opening for a cheap Asiatic to step into.

In the death of Billy Betts, who was killed in action somewhere in France, Local No. 29 of the Iron Moulders' International Union of Brantford loses one of its most energetic members. The deceased was a local boy who learned his trade at the Waterous Engine Works, and joined the union immediately upon completion of his apprenticeship. He took an active interest in union affairs right up to the time he left for the front, and was a union man all the way through.

In Germany 3,000 publications have been forced to suspend because pulp and chemicals used in manufacturing paper are diverted into producing munitions to be shot away on the war fronts.

The average length of service of trainmen on American railways is only eleven and one-half years, and out of every 100 men who start work as firemen only 17 become engineers and only six operate passenger locomotives.

It is estimated that there are 23,000,000 families in the United States and only 25 per cent. own their own homes. Of persons more than 65 years

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Brought The Joy Of Health After Two Years' Suffering

MADAM LAPLANTE 85 St. Rose St., Montreal. April 4th. For over two years I was sick and miserable. I suffered from constant headaches, and had palpitation of the heart so badly that I feared I would die. There seemed to be a lump in my stomach and the constipation was dreadful. I suffered from Pain in the Back and Kidney Disease. I was treated by a physician for a year and a half and he did me no good at all. I tried "Fruit-a-tives" as a last resort. After using three boxes, I was greatly improved and twelve boxes made me well. Now I can work all day and there are no headaches, no palpitation, no Pain or Kidney Trouble and I feel like a new being—and it was "Fruit-a-tives" that gave me back my health.

UNIONISTS MET TO CONSIDER THE NEW SETTLEMENT

It is Thought That Party as a Whole Will Accept It.

Unionists Met. 0A3c 00000 By Special Wire to the Courier.

London, July 8.—The meeting of Unionists to consider the terms of the proposed Irish settlement was held yesterday at the Carlton Club. A. Bonar Law, secretary for the colonies, presided. The meeting was attended by the Marquis of Lansdowne, Lord Robert Cecil, who presented his resignation as a result of dissatisfaction with the government's attitude, but subsequently reconsidered his action; Sir Edward Carson and other leaders.

The Exchange Telegraph Company says no resolution was submitted to the meeting, but that the situation was discussed, and it was decided to await developments before taking any decisive action.

A second meeting of the Unionists was held yesterday afternoon. Some of those present opposed the Irish agreement, but it is understood that the party as a whole will accept it.

Villa Bandits at it Again

By Special Wire to the Courier. Washington, July 8.—On instructions from General Carranza, the Mexican embassy yesterday advised the state department of the virtual destruction of a de facto government force Wednesday by a large Villa band at Carraltes, Chihuahua, and suggested that the American border patrol exercise all possible vigilance to prevent the outlaws from raiding into the United States.

NOT the least important of the Weymouth bank was Uncle Bushrod. Sixty years had given of faithful service to the house of Weymouth as chattel, servant and friend.

Of the color of the mahogany bank furniture was Uncle Bushrod—thus dark was he externally; white as the uninked pages of the bank ledgers was his soul. Eminent in the presence and bearing of Uncle Bushrod had been, for to him the only institution in existence worth considering was the Weymouth bank, of which he was something between porter and generalissimo in charge.

Weymouth lay, dreamy and unbreathless, among the low foothills along the brow of a southern valley. Three banks there were in Weymouthville. Two were hopeless, misguided enterprises, lacking of the presence and prestige of the Weymouth bank.

In the old Weymouth homestead—the red brick, white porticoed mansion, the first to your right as you crossed Elder creek coming into town—lived Mr. Robert Weymouth, the president of the bank; his widowed daughter, Mrs. Vesey, called "Miss Letty" by every one, and her two children, William and Guy. There also, in a cottage on the grounds, resided Uncle Bushrod and Aunt Mallyndy, his wife. Mr. William Weymouth, the cashier of the bank, lived in a modern, fine house on the principal avenue.

Mr. Robert was a large, stout man, sixty-two years of age, with a smooth, plump face, long iron gray hair and fiery blue eyes. He was high tempered, kind and generous, with a full smile and a formidable, stern voice that did not always mean what it sounded like. Mr. William was a mild-mannered man, correct in deportment and absorbed in business. The Weymouths formed the family of Weymouthville and were looked up to, as was their right of heritage.

Uncle Bushrod was the bank's trusted porter, messenger, vassal and guardian. He carried a key to the vault, as well as Mr. Robert and Mr. William did. Sometimes there was ten, fifteen or twenty thousand dollars in sacked silver stacked on the vault floor. It was safe with Uncle Bushrod. He was a Weymouth in heart, honesty and pride.

Of late Uncle Bushrod had not been without worry. It was on account of Marse Robert. For nearly a year Mr. Robert had been known to indulge in too much drink. Not enough, however, to become tipsy, but the habit was getting a hold upon him, and every one was beginning to notice it. Half a dozen times a day he would leave the bank and step across to the Merchants and Planters' hotel to drink. Mr. Robert's unusual keen judgment and business capacity became a little impaired. Mr. William, a Weymouth, but not so rich in experience, tried to dampen the inevitable back success. The deposits in the Weymouth bank dropped from six figures to five. Past due paper began to accumulate, owing to injudicious loans on the subject of temperance. Many of his friends said that the cause of it had been the death of his wife some two years before. Others hesitated on account of Mr. Robert's quick temper, which was extremely apt to resent personal interference of such a nature. Miss Letty and the children noticed the change and grieved about it. Uncle Bushrod, however, would not have dared to remonstrate, though he and Marse Robert had been raised almost as companions. But there was a heavier shock coming to Uncle Bushrod than that caused by the bank president's toddles and juleps.

Mr. Robert had a passion for fishing, which he usually indulged whenever the season and business permitted. One day, when reports had been coming in relating to the bass and perch, he announced his intention of making a two or three days' visit to the lake. He was going down, set the Reedy. Mr. Robert set the satchel softly upon a desk and turned his coat collar up about his neck and ears. He was dressed in a rough suit of gray as if for travelling. He glanced with frowning intentness at the big office clock

Now, Uncle Bushrod was treasurer of the Sons and Daughters of the turning Bush. Every association he belonged to made him treasurer with out hesitation. He stood A1 in colored circles. He was understood among them to be Mr. Bushrod Weymouth of the Weymouth bank.

The night following the day on which Mr. Robert mentioned his intended fishing trip the old man woke up and rose from his bed at 12 o'clock, declaring he must go down to the bank and fetch the passbook of the Sons and Daughters, which he had forgotten to bring home. The bookkeeper had balanced it for him that day, but the can celed checks in it and snapped two elastic bands around it. He put but one band around other passbooks.

Aunt Mallyndy objected to the mislaid key, but Mr. Robert, in a fit of foolishness and unnecessary, but Uncle Bushrod was not to be deflected from duty.

"I done told Sister Adallie Hoskins," he said, "to come by here for dat book tomorrow mornin' at seven o'clock for an' wee looker up to, as was their right of 'rangements, and dat book gwine to be here when she come."

So Uncle Bushrod put on his old brown suit, got his hickory stick and meandered through the almost deserted streets of Weymouthville. He entered the bank, unlocked the side door, and found the passbook where he had left it. In the little back room he always hung his coat. Looking about casually he saw that everything was as he had left it, and was about to start for home when he was brought to a standstill by the sudden rattle of a key in the front door. Some one came quickly in, closed the door softly and entered the counting room through the door in the iron railing.

"That division of the bank's space was connected with the back room by a narrow passageway, now in deep darkness."

Uncle Bushrod, firmly gripping his hickory stick, tiptoed gently up the passage until he could see the mid night intruder into the sacred precincts of the Weymouth bank. One dim gas jet burned there, but even in its nebulous light he perceived at once that the prowler was the bank's president.

Wondering, fearful, undecided what to do, the old colored man stood motionless in the gloomy strip of hallway, and waited developments.

The vault, with its big iron door, was opposite him. Inside that was the safe, holding the papers of value, the gold and currency of the bank. On the floor of the vault was, perhaps $18,000 in silver.

The president took his key from his pocket, opened the door behind him. Uncle Bushrod saw through the narrow aperture the flicker of a candle in a minute or two—it seemed an hour to the watcher—Mr. Robert came out bringing with him a large hand satchel and handling it in a careful but hurried manner, as if fearful that he might be observed. With one hand he closed and locked the vault door.

With a reluctant theory forming it self beneath his wool Uncle Bushrod waited and watched, shaking in his concealing shadow.

Mr. Robert set the satchel softly upon a desk and turned his coat collar up about his neck and ears. He was dressed in a rough suit of gray as if for travelling. He glanced with frowning intentness at the big office clock

There was a knock on the door and then Uncle Bushrod looked inquiringly about the bank—lingeringly and fondly, Uncle Bushrod thought, as one who bids farewell to dear and familiar scenes.

Now he caught up his burden again and moved promptly and softly out of the bank by the way he had come, locking the front door behind him.

For a minute or longer Uncle Bushrod was as stone in his tracks. Had that midnight riffer of safes and vaults been any other on hand than the man he was the old retainer would have rushed upon him and struck to save the Weymouth property. But now the watcher's soul was tortured by the poignant dread of something worse than mere robbery. He was seized by an accusing terror that said the Weymouth name and the Weymouth honor were about to be lost. Marse Robert robbing the bank! What else could it mean? The hour of the night, the stealthy visit to the vault, the satchel brought forth full and with expedition and silence, the prowler's rough dress, his solitary reading of the clock and noiseless departure—what else could it mean?

And then to the turmoil of Uncle Bushrod's thoughts came the corroborating recollection of preceding events. Mr. Robert's increasing temperance and consequent many moods of royal high spirits and stern tempers; the casual talk he had heard in the bank of the decrease in business and difficulty in collecting loans. What else could all mean but that Robert Weymouth was an absconder—was about to fly with the bank's remaining funds, leaving Mr. William, Miss Letty, little Nan, Guy and Uncle Bushrod to bear the consequences?

During one minute Uncle Bushrod considered these things, and then he awoke to sudden determination and action.

"Lawd, Lawd!" he moaned aloud as he hobbled hastily toward the side door. "Sech a comeoff after all dese here years of big dol'n's and fine dol'n's. Scant'nous sights upon de yearn' when de Weymouth family done turn out to be a bad 'n' beset'n' Time for Uncle Bushrod to clean out somebody's chicken coop and eben matters up. Oh, Lawd! Marse Robert, you ain't gwine to do dat. 'N Miss Letty an' dem chill'n no proud and talkin' 'Weymouth Weymouth' no more do time! 'I gwine to stop you if I can. 'Spec you shoot Mr. Nigger's head off er fool wid you, but 'I gwine stop you if I can."

Uncle Bushrod, aided by his hickory stick, impeded by his rheumatism, hurried down the street toward the railroad station, where the two lines touching Weymouthville met. As he had expected and feared, he saw there Mr. Robert standing in the shadow of the building waiting for the train. He held the satchel in his hand.

When Uncle Bushrod came within twenty yards of the bank president, standing like a huge, gray ghost by the station wall, sudden perturbation seized him and he hesitated. The rashness and audacity of the thing he had come to do struck him fully. He would have been happy could he have turned and fled from the possibilities of the famous Weymouth wrath. But again he saw, in his fancy, the white, reproachful face of Miss Letty and the distressed looks of Nan and Guy should he fail in his duty and they question him as his stewardship.

Braced by the thought, he approached in a straight line, clearing his throat and pounding with his stick so that he might be early recognized. Thus he might avoid the likely danger of too suddenly surprising the sometimes hasty Mr. Robert.

"Is that you, Bushrod?" called the clamant, clear voice of the gray ghost. "Yes, sub, Marse Robert."

"What the devil are you doing out at this time of night?"

For the first time in his life Uncle Bushrod told Marse Robert a falsehood. He could not repress it. He would have to circumlocute a little. His nerve was not equal to a direct attack.

"I done been down, sub, to see ole Aunt M'ria Patterson. She taken sick in de night, and I kyared her a bottle of M'indy's medicine. Yes, sub, she better get home out of de night air. It's damp. You'll hardly be worth killing tomorrow on account of your rheumatism. Think I'll be a clear day, Bushrod."

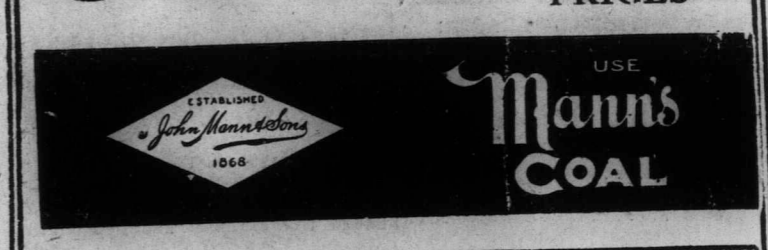

"I now it will, sub. De sun set red las' night."

Eighty-five thousand satisfied owners against unproved claims and rosy promises

You judge a man by what he's done—not by what he says he intends to do. Judge a motor car the same way.

Eighty-five thousand and more Canadian-built Fords have "made good" in actual service. Since 1904 this sturdy, economical car has stood the test—not only in Canada, but throughout the British possessions.

Every passing year has seen Canadian Ford sales mount by thousands of cars—because, under almost every conceivable condition, the car has proved itself a splendid all-around utility.

It has sold on its record for dependable and economical performance—not on the rosy promises of its makers.

The man who selects a Ford is backed in his judgment by more than eighty-five thousand satisfied motorists in the Empire.

Immense Number in Guns Kept Sums of Money Make it a Str...

The war had been in progress year when Germany celebrated twenty-fifth anniversary of the capture of the forlorn little island of Heligoland in exchange for certain lands and rights in East Africa. In those days our relations with many were excellent, for it was in the previous year, 1889 that Kaiser's secret ambition had stirred by a sight of the asser British Fleet at Spithead.

The possibility of Germany becoming a naval power of importance never entered the heads of Government of the day; they were with Heligoland without troubling themselves as to the matter to the Lord the Admiralty.

RESERVES FOR GERMAN ARMY ARE DEPLETED

Losing More in Killed and Wounded Than Can be Made Up.

NET LOSSES 800,000 EVERY YEAR

Verdun Has Been Eating Into German Forces Very Heavily.

Germany at last has reached the turning point where her fighting force is being depleted much more rapidly than it can be supplied with new men, and military observers believe her entire reserves, which cannot possibly exceed 700,000, will be completely exhausted within a very few months. Reduced to figures, Germany is losing 100,000 men a month in killed, incapacitated by wounds from further service and prisoners of 1,200,000 a year. Some authorities place the number at double these amounts. She is gaining from new recruits fewer than 400,000 a year. This leaves a net loss to the arm of 800,000 men a year, a loss which cannot be replaced.

Already German has called to the colors the class of 1917 to furnish stock for slaughter—"kanonenfleisch" (meat for cannon), Bismarck used to call them.

Germany's population in 1910 was 64,925,993; in 1900 it was 56,367,178, showing an increase of 8,558,815 in the ten years. This does not include a population of about 15,000,000 in the German colonies in Africa and Asia, which were immediately cut off on the beginning of the war from being of any use to the mother country from the viewpoint of military strength. The colonies of England, France and Belgium, it may be mentioned, have, on the other hand, been a source of constantly increasing additions to the military power of these countries. Germany's average increase in population for the ten years mentioned was about 850,000. There is a slight excess of male births—1,150 boys to every 1,000 girls. This would give an average increase of 443,000 males to 417,000 females. An estimated yearly addition of 400,000 men to the army out of 443,000 born is certainly a very liberal allowance.

Yearly Net Loss 800,000.
Regarding losses the German official lists of casualties since the war began up to June 1 give 734,412 dead, 1,851,652 wounded and 338,522 prisoners and missing, a total of 2,924,586 for the twenty-two months—about 133,000 a month or 1,600,000 a year.

This yearly gross loss is four times as much as the annual addition to the army by the most liberal estimate. Assuming that forty per cent. of the wounded return to the ranks, this would reduce the net loss to 1,200,000 a year, against an annual recruitment of 400,000. Even if all the wounded should return, the dead, missing and prisoners (600,000) outnumber the new recruits half as much again.

It should also be remembered that these figures of 1,200,000 loss against 400,000 gain are the most extreme figures in favor of Germany. Even the German staff, in a statement issued last month, asserted that it was assured of only "30,000" recruits a month as long as the war lasted, which makes 360,000 a year, of 40,000 fewer than the number above allotted.

Total Strength of 4,247,000
Concerning the strength of the German army, the Paris Liberte estimates the total at 4,247,000 of which there are 180 divisions of 20,000 men each on both fronts and 647,000 left as reserves. Swiss reports say that the German reserves have diminished this year by 500,000 and that 200,000 recruits have been added, making a net decrease of 300,000 men. All the German reserves, according to the Agenzia Libera, cannot exceed 700,000 men, whereas there were more than a million at the end of 1915. Contrary to her hopes aroused by the Balkan drive, Germany can expect no help from Bulgaria or Turkey. On the contrary, she has been obliged to keep men in Turkey, in Bulgaria and in Austria.

Verdun is eating into Germany's strength at a more rapid rate than any other event since the war began. Colonel Feyler, a Swiss military expert, generally recognized in Europe as one of the most impartial and best informed critics of the war, estimates that the Germans up to June 1 used about 800,000 men at Verdun and puts their losses at 350,000. The Paris Petit Journal describes Verdun as not a battle, but a surgical blood-letting on a grand scale, and says that when the flow begins to slacken another vein is opened.

Rapid Exhaustion
British estimates place the German losses at Verdun for four months at 315,000 men; that 65,000 more men than Col. Feyler's estimate of 350,000 up to June 1. These estimates are based upon captured documents, statements of prisoners and other sources. At the same time the French losses from the same source were placed at 165,000 men in killed and wounded.

With the net loss of 800,000 men a

A DISCUSSION ON MASS FEEDING

New War Science Considered Gravelly By German Experts.

By Special Wire to the Courier
The Hague, via London, July 8.—Berlin dispatches give an account of the spirited discussions at a conference, attended by delegates from different parts of the empire to discuss the question of mass feeding.

A Magdeburg delegate issued a warning that the indiscriminate introduction of mass feeding without urgent necessity, would promote laziness among housewives. A Frankfurt delegate retorted that the poor man has a right to a hot dinner and described mass feeding as a safety valve to popular dissatisfaction.

Dr. Lohse of Hamburg recommended the system adopted in his native city shortly after the beginning of the war. Under this system 165,000 portions are distributed daily at twenty pennings, half their cost. The municipality contributes 650,000 marks monthly in aid of the scheme which results in preventing a run on public charity.

Theodore Von Moeller, Prussian minister of state, expressed the hope that the rigid economy enforced during the war would continue thereafter.

The German woodworkers' union has announced that the price of plain wood furniture has increased forty per cent.

Thomas Flynn, 10 son of Mrs. Wm. Krouse, of Philadelphia, was killed at Glassboro, N.J., when a home-made cannon exploded.

Hope of finding alive the missing New York canoeists, James G. Hurty and Charles Marcelle, has been abandoned at Cheboygan, Mich.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

BY JOHN W. S. McCULLOUGH, M.D., D.P.H., CHIEF OFFICER OF THE PROVINCIAL BOARD OF HEALTH.

BEFORE GOING to a place for your summer vacation it is well to be sure that the water-supply is not likely to give you or the members of your family typhoid fever. Get a sterilized bottle from the Provincial Board of Health Laboratory at No. 6 Queen's Park, and have the water examined. If you have a cottage of your own, take particular care that the contents of your water-closet is screened against the entrance of flies which may carry disease to your family or the families of your neighbors. Besides, if you take these precautions, you will have a right to demand that your neighbors take like precautions. If you use a closet, be particularly careful that its contents do not get to any source of water supply.

THE SUMMER RESORT If there is a good supply of sand near your cottage it is a cheap and simple matter to install a system of surface sewage disposal. The Provincial Board of Health will supply you with a pamphlet telling all about how to establish a plant of this kind. If there is no sand or gravel the safest system to use is a closet with buckets, using dry earth or ashes to cover the excreta each time of using. Have close-fitting lids to the closet holes and a screen door to keep out the flies. It is a good plan to get your doctor to inoculate you against typhoid and paratyphoid fevers.

If you are not satisfied that the drinking water is pure, either get a safe supply or boil all water used about your place.

Some of the doctors are complaining because the Registrar General is prosecuting them for not reporting births. Well, they cannot complain that they have not had warning. For years doctors and parents have been repeatedly warned that they must obey the law regarding notification and registration of births. Some few of the doctors say they should be paid for this service. In the opinion of the Registrar General, they should not be paid for doing what is their plain duty, and for obeying the law. Any physician who does not think enough of his patient to register the birth of his baby does not deserve to have the baby's mother for a patient any longer. The Government demands that physicians shall forthwith notify the Division Registrar of the birth of a baby at which they attend. The Division Registrar will provide post-card forms for this purpose. These are carried post free. The neglect of the doctor does not relieve the parent or householder where the birth occurs. They too are supplied with post-free cards for this purpose. It is the duty of the Division Registrar if these returns are not promptly made to him to get after both parents and doctors and obtain the information. If it is not supplied to him promptly he should notify the Registrar General, giving the names and dates. The Department will do the rest.

These are the three most common means by which diseases are spread from one person to another. How can these means of contagion be prevented? Fingers must be kept out of the sources of disease. Children must learn not to put their fingers into their noses or mouths; they must be washed before each meal. Dirty fingers may carry infection to cups, spoons, and other table utensils which may be used by other members of the family. In the large concentration camps one of the important measures taken to prevent the spread of disease among the men is to have all the food utensils, such as cups, plates, knives, forks, etc., boiled after each meal. Boiling is a convenient and certain means of destroying disease germs.

Food and water carry many diseases, the former because it is often exposed to dirty fingers and to flies; the latter because sewage containing the discharges of human bodies is allowed to get to the source of supply, be it spring, river, well, or lake. Such a food as milk may be that are not permanent. Consequently remedies sometimes achieve an undesired reputation because the hair comes back by itself. GERMAN CITIES ARE ANGRY WITH BUYING BUREAU

Municipalities Claim Right to Go Ahead and Buy Their Own Food.

MUCH RUBBER STOCK FOUND.

Central Bureau Has Seized It All, It Evidently Being Smuggled.

By Special Wire to the Courier

The Hague, July 8.—Via London.

The municipal council of the Hague has been continuous friction between the authorities of various large German cities and the central purchasing bureau.

The municipalities claim the right to buy their own food and household articles without asking the permission of the central bureau.

There was an outbreak last week in the Hague, in which several members of which accused the central bureau of boycotting the city which was unable to procure butter, sausage and ham, notwithstanding the fact that some places in the vicinity were sufficiently supplied.

It was argued that it was physically impossible for one bureau to control all municipalities.

Cologne, Dresden, Chemnitz and other cities already are purchasing supplies independently, having re-information. If it is not supplied to him promptly he should notify the Registrar General, giving the names and dates. The Department will do the rest.

NOW IS THE TIME OF GREAT CRISIS IN THE CONTEST

Mightiest Exertions Made By Both Sides to Force a Decision.

BERLIN WRITER GIVES HIS VIEWS.

Impressed With Russ Drive, But Thinks Germans Are Holding Them.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Berlin, July 7, via London, July 8.—The military correspondent, Rust, the Zeitsung, commenting on the war situation, writes: "The fighting on all fronts is increasing in extent and violence. The enemy everywhere is attempting to throw fresh troops into the struggle which seems to be approaching nearer and nearer its maximum intensity. The mightiest exertions are being made on all sides to force a decision, and the tension can scarcely be summarized by the official reports from the various theatres of war, the correspondent continues: "No Entente Success Yet."

"It still is too early for a final verdict upon the situation, as the struggles upon the principal fronts still are in progress. The Germans, however, hitherto have been able to hold up the enemy's advance on the west as well as on the south and east. Neither British, French, Italian, nor Russian troops have attained large or decisive successes while, in places where the Central powers have assumed the offensive, as in Volhynia and south of the Danube, their operations have been conducted with success."

Will Be Heavy Fighting

"This situation enables us to look forward with a certain amount of assurance and with calm confidence to further developments of the situation. We do not dare to overlook the fact that our opponents are throwing mighty efforts, and are making all available forces to attain such success. Our troops on all the fronts are faced by numerically superior forces and therefore are confronted, with the prospect of further heavy fighting."

Russian Attacks Important.

The correspondent devotes comparatively more space to the combats on the east from than to those on the west. He points out that the attacks against Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, Prince Leopold and Count Bothmer, give every evidence from the extent and masses of the troops employed, that an offensive on a large scale is contemplated. He adds that the fighting along Von Hindenburg's still is in progress, but asserts that the attack against Prince Leopold's armies appears to have been finally and decisively repulsed with the heaviest losses.

Muscovite Drive Ended.

The fighting continues on the upper Strva, he says, and the Russians were able to cross the river and gain a foothold in one place, but the counter attacks already begun by the Russians were thrown back in Volhynia, and on the Strva front, he concludes, and the victory at Tlumach, south of the Dniester is increasing in extent.

Do Your Eyes Trouble You?

THE WISE OLD OWL is said to be able to see clearly in the dark, but don't you follow his example or you might strain your eyesight. People with weak vision need to be very careful. It is better, if in doubt, to come to us for an examination. We can tell then just what kind of glasses you need, if any, and can adjust the lenses to suit your sight exactly. The whole cost will not be much.
