CHAPTER XI.

A KNIGHT ERRANT.

"I wish you wouldn't be so ridiculous, Antonia. I hope Mr. Hales will soon make you like other people. The Hales are poor and proud, and they do not know their place. I must ask him what he thinks of you; but he must be much astonished."

Toney shook her head sadly. "He won't think much, or long about me. I like him, Aunt Dove. He's better than our minister at home. He's a gentleman, and his mother is just first-rate."

"You are decidedly vulgar, Antonia."

"Colonial, Aunt Dove; there's a shade of difference."

"I am going to make a round of calls to-day, but you have no frock tidy enough to come with me, so, Miss Crump, please accompany Antonia for a steady walk."

Toney relaxed into meditation, and Lady Dove talked on to Miss Crump for she always looked upon her as a patient listener.

"I want you to send out the invitations for a dinner-party next week. You will find the list on my writing table. Just look up the addresses. I must give the Dames' tea—all the ladies of our county families have become Dames."

"What are Dames, Aunt Dove?"

"Ladies of right understanding."

"Then Miss Crump's a Dame? She has a very right understanding."

"Ladies of position, Antonia."

Miss Crump blushed.

When luncheon was finished Lady

Dove kept Miss Crump running up and down and in and out till the carriage came round, and then the poor companion crawled upstairs to her room to put on her walking attire. Toney was preparing some lessons, and banged the book down when Miss Crump entered the sitting-room.

"Oh, Crumpet, you look unattractive! You know what I mean, soft and no-how. Are you tired?"

"Oh, no, not more than usual. Lady Dove says you must have a walk."

"And you—what must you have?" Toney answered.

"Oh, I must go with you, of course."

"But you don't feel wound up for it, do you? It's all right. I've arranged everything, Crumpet dear, that bonnet, don't suit you. Here is a soft kind of billy-cock for you, and look, here is my riding-skirt, which will do beautifully for you, and you shall ride that old pony. You can quite sleep on its back."

"Oh, I've never ridden, besides—Lady Dove!"

"Well, you will see how lovely it will be. You can't walk my pace. I should be tired to death creeping along with you. I must have exercise."

Poor Miss Crump felt limp in body and limp in mind, she had not even enough energy to resist further, for she had been dreading the walk with Toney and having to keep up with the eager footsteps. But she positively lured not put on a skirt. If they met Lady Dove—if a slave could not be more under the dominion of his master than was this poor companion under Lady Dove's power. But Toney never let the grass grow under her feet. She ran round to the stable, and finding only Jim about, she was soon herself saddling the pony with a promptitude and skill which astonished the young groom.

"Miss Tonia," said Jim afterwards, joining her two native names with native genius, "Miss Tonia be a real born horsewoman. I bet a shilling she could ride anything as is called horseflesh."

Toney was up in a moment, cantering Selim round and round, till the old spirit returned to his ancient bones, and he safely landed her upon the other side. Getting Miss Crump on again was not a very easy matter, but Toney accomplished it, and now they found themselves on a lovely green path in the wood. Here and there the larches were beginning to be tipped with tender green needles, the catkins pensively hung their drooping forms, and the ferns proudly raised their croziers.

Toney pointed out all these things to her companion. Some were new to herself some she could name and talk about, but all was delightful to her young mind. Presently they came to a turn in a lovely park.

"Bonnie Annie Laurie"

Place Of Her Birth.

Some Interesting Facts About the Heroine of Famous Ballads, and Her Family.

Monia, so pleasantly situated at the head of the Cairn Valley, in Dumfriesshire, Scotland, has many interesting associations, but none more generally interesting than those inherited through "Bonnie Annie Laurie." It was in Max-welton House, to the south of the village, that "the most beautiful Dumfriesshire lady of the day," as McDowall wrote in his history of the country, and the heroine of a song which has rendered her charms immortal, was born in the year 1682. It is perhaps more right to say that Annie Laurie is celebrated in two songs. The modern and most familiar version was the work of Lady John Scott of Spottiswoode, Berwickshire, who died not long ago; the original song was produced by William Douglas of Fingland; Kirkcudbrightshire, who held a commission in the Royal Scots. The opening verse of the latter is as follows:—

Maxwellton braes are bonnie
Where early fa's the dew,
Where me and Annie Laurie
Made up the promise true.
Made up the promise true,
And never forget will I,
And for Bonnie Annie Laurie,
I'd lay down my head and die.

But Annie did not keep her promise supposing one were made, and that Douglas was not exercising his license as a poet. She married Alexander Fergusson, of Craigdarroch, the representative of the oldest family in Glencairn, their presence in the parish being traceable as far back as the fourteenth century. A son of this union, also Alexander Fergusson, was a close friend of Robert Burns, who included Glencairn in the district which came under his jurisdiction as an excise-man. The two men probably met for the first time during the visit of the poet to Edinburgh in 1787. At any rate, Fergusson, who was a leading Freemason, presided over Lodge Canongate, Kilwinning, when Burns was installed to the office of poet laureate.

It was this Alexander Fergusson who was the hero of the Bacchanalian contest for the whistle, which took place at Triar's Carse—the deathplace of Annie Laurie—on 16th October, 1789, the laird of Craigdarroch's competitors in that memorable drinking bout being Robert Riddell of Glenriddel and Sir Robert Laurie, had brought the trophy of the Maxwellton family. Burns was a witness of the contest, which he celebrated in his well-known roistering ballad. To-day the whistle, gained in such strange fashion, is one of the heirlooms at Craigdarroch.

Man Killed.

Donald Archie Nicholson, a young man living at Old No. 3, was found dead on the I. C. B. track between North Sydney and Sydney Mines recently. Both legs were cut off and the head badly battered.

The discovery was made by the crew of the morning express going to Sydney Mines. The supposition is that Nicholson was on his way home from North Sydney, taking the track, and was run over by the late express.

Nicholson was about twenty-three years old.—Sydney Post, June 11.

Why Not be Well and Strong

When weak and run down DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD will help you back to health.

This letter tells of two women who have proven this.

Mrs. D. Stott, Cobourg, Ont., writes: "After recovering from typhoid fever I was left in a very low state of health. I was weak, nervous and not fit to do any work. A friend of mine, Mrs. G. M. Brown, had used DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD and told me that it benefited her wonderfully. I took courage and began the use of the medicine. After taking the first box I began to feel an improvement in health and now after using four boxes I am completely cured. I now feel like myself once more and believe that I can attribute the cure to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food."

Life is too short to spend weeks or months dragging out a miserable existence of weakness and suffering. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food cures by forming new rich blood, and building up the system. You can depend on it to benefit you, 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.50, at all dealers or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

When Speech is Golden.

BY RUTH CAMERON.

Now, we certainly suffer from disregarding some of the old-fashioned rulings, but it seems to me that this is one which is more honored in the breach than the observance, and I am happy to say that it is growing more and more common to honor it in that way.

A brand new acquaintance was calling on me the other day. We talked of the weather and kindred topics suitable for brand new acquaintances. Had she obeyed the old-time ruling in regard to personal comment, we should probably have gotten no closer to each other. But fortunately she disobeyed. I had noticed that she was eyeing a quaint old-fashioned secretary, which is the pride of my heart, and finally she burst into vocal admiration. From this pleasant comment we promptly proceeded to a general discussion of antique furniture, of which we are both ardent admirers, and instead of parting mere acquaintances, we laid the foundations of a pleasant friendship upon our mutual order of things.

I believe that this rule of silence was supposed to be especially strict in regard to commenting upon any food set before one, and, of course, to speak of each article of food and concentrate the attention upon the table rather than on the "feast of reason and the flow of soul," supposed to be going on above it, is bad breeding. But to speak out one's enjoyment of some particular dish; to tell the hostess when she has hit the very bull's eye of one's preference in the choice of her salad or dessert; to appreciate a bit of good cooking; even to give the sincerest form of flattery by asking for recipes—surely this is kindness to one's hostess. And what is real courtesy, after all, but kindness crystallized into forms!

On going to pay her first visit to a newly married friend, an older woman was met at the door by the new husband whom she had seen but once or twice before, with a pleasant greeting and then the frankly admiring comment: "And what a pretty hat!" She is a woman of thorough breeding, but instead of being offended, she received the greeting in the spirit in which it was intended and answered promptly: "And what a nice young man to tell you so."

This is the spirit of the day, and, to my mind, it is a very pleasant spirit. To be sure, such comment may be carried to excess, or it may be made without the sincerity behind it that stamps a compliment as valuable, or it may be uttered in a manner that is too abrupt or familiar to be pleasing.

Avoid these excesses and you may speak out your compliments on almost any subject, and not be, in the least, ill bred.

Wonderful Cures Reported in Germany.

The use of simple herbs as remedies instead of the more concentrated and usually more dangerous inorganic substances, has been revived very widely of late. In Germany a new school of physicians has arisen which throws out almost a whole of the pharmacopoeia and relies on an adaptation of the method of wild animals in curing themselves. . . . N. Y. World.

It was Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Lavalade Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., who first advocated the extended use of some of our native roots, such as Golden seal and Oregon grape root, mandrake and queen's root, black cherrybark. These are the chief ingredients in Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which has been so well and favorably known for nearly half a century. A harmless cleanser and stomach tonic that nature has provided.

J. DONALD MATHESON of Ossining, N. Y., says: "I suffered for over five years with what the doctors told me was a distressing condition of the stomach, associated with a general condition of some, and nervous heart. I had tried enough nux, bismuth, gentian, rhubarb, etc., to float a ship and naturally thought there was no cure for me, but after reading what eminent doctors said of the curative qualities of the ingredients of Golden Medical Discovery I gave it a fair trial. Took the 'Discovery' and also the 'Pleasant Pellets' and can truthfully say I am feeling better now than I have in years. I cheerfully give permission to print this testimonial, and if any 'doubting Thomases' write me, I will 'put him wise' to the best all-around medicine in the country to-day."

Household Notes.

To clean knives, pots and kettles, a cork used with scouring soap is very effective.

To stop hicough, dip a small lump of sugar in vinegar and allow it to dissolve slowly in the mouth.

To clean very dirty windows make a mixture of parts of water and kerosene, wash them with this and dry with newspapers.

Ink stains, if treated at once, will yield to hot milk. Another plan is to rub the stain with half a tomato and rinse in cold water.

One economical woman makes corset covers of her white shirtwaists that are still too good to throw away, though out of style.

Spirits of arnica is said to be useful in bad cases of sunburn, but should not be used when there is any abrasion of the skin.

To get the very best effect from embroideries used as edgings, do not trim the edges until after the garment has been washed and ironed.

For baked stuffed tomatoes, cut quite a cavity in the stem end of the tomatoes and fill with butter, salt, pepper and a crust of bread. Bake in a moderate oven until tender.

And find out if you have kidney disorders—Also make this test.

Have you pains in the back over the kidneys?

Have you urinary disorders?

Do you suffer from severe headaches, dizziness or defective eyesight?

Is the skin dry and harsh?

Are you failing in health and strength and suffering from rheumatic pains or swelling of the limbs?

These are a few of the symptoms of kidney disease, and here is the test.

If the urine after standing for twenty-four hours is cloudy, milky or has particles floating about in it, or if there is a sediment in the bottom of the vessel, your kidneys are diseased.

How many housekeepers know that when a door "sticks" at the sill or at the top or sides, and the fan of the house or neighbourhood carpenter is not within call, common yellow soap rubbed on the places will help the trouble, and the door will open and shut easily.

Common oilcloth makes a good, durable stencil. Stamp the pattern on the cloth side, cut out and use, when working, the enameled side uppermost. To prevent smudging from fading, place the work between cloths which have been dipped in salt water and press until dry.

When you write a letter requiring a number of carbon copies, if you will put each sheet of carbon about an inch from the top of your paper, you will be able to pull all the carbons out later on, from the bottom, and save the time usually wasted in separating carbons and copies.

To remove iron mold, the safest plan is to squeeze the juice of half a lemon on the stain and lay the linen in some place where it is subjected to the action of air and sun. If, when the juice has dried, there still remains discoloration, repeat the process, if necessary, several times.

One of the unsuspected dangers of the sea was reported recently from Toulon, France's naval base. According to a special cable dispatch to the New York Sun an octopus attacked a diver engaged in removing the debris from the hull of the warship Liberte, burned some months ago. The pump men noticed the air line had become entangled and they instantly sent down a second diver. He found his comrade encircled by the tentacles of a monster, which immediately attacked the newcomer. The latter, armed only with a chisel, fought off the octopus and released the other diver, who was brought to the surface unconscious. He was revived in an hour. The octopus got away with the loss of two tentacles.—Shipping Gazette.

No Attempt

To Reconcile the Conflicting Statements.

In reply to the Chronicle we state we do not know whether Sir Robert Bond had shares in the Workington Iron Mine during the time he was Premier, nor are we concerned with the question whether he had or not, as it does not affect, intrinsically, and by itself alone, the issue we raised. What we drew attention to on Wednesday was the direct conflict between this record in the Registry of Companies of Morris's 40,000 shares in a timber company and the statement of the Premier, Sir Edward Morris, in the House of Assembly last February: "I have never had an interest, direct or indirect, near or remote, in any timber or mineral wealth."

As the apparent conflict was so direct, we suggested that the Governor should consider the propriety of asking Sir Edward to reconcile the two statements and take his bearings into consideration in deliberating on the Premier's advice in reference to the Morrison Memorials and Sir Edward's advice to invest in the timber office of Ministers for information as to investments in Newfoundland. The shares which any Minister of the present or of a past government may hold in industrial or commercial firms in Newfoundland, so far as they are private and unrelated to the Government, are no affair of ours, and we do not propose to go into them. It would be difficult to pick out a Minister in this or any other country who has not an investment of some kind or other in commercial, industrial or other undertakings. So that fact of itself is of no concern to the public. We observe that the Chronicle does not attempt to reconcile the conflict to which we drew attention.

Our Challenge.

The Plaindealer has appeared again after our repeated challenge to publish full particulars of the compact which it alleges was discussed by Lloyd and Coaker, and a draft of which it also alleges was submitted to Bond, Kent and Clift. In this issue as in the last, the

and for the next ten days, suppose you cut out drinking tea and coffee and in their place have a steaming cup of well-made

POSTUM

Seems a little thing, but it has ment a great deal to thousands who were on the verge of nervous prostration from tea or coffee—yet did not know the cause.

It's the finest trade possible to quit tea and coffee and get well.

"There's a Reason" for POSTUM

Canadian Postum Cereal Co., Ltd. Windsor, Ontario, Canada.

Plaindealer fails to comply with the challenge. The Plaindealer does not publish the particulars we have asked for, and the reason is plain, as plain indeed, as the Plaindealer's crooked dealings in this matter. There was never any draft of terms, either submitted, or arranged to be submitted, to Bond, Kent and Clift, or to any one of them. There was no need of guarding such. The whole of the situation and the allegations contained in the statement which we quote appears in the Plaindealer is pure fabrication of a suspicious mind which relies on imagination to set out fictions as facts.

"Had that 'draft of terms to be submitted to Bond, Kent and Clift' been guarded more carefully it would have saved the clique many heartburning these days, and many uncomfortable half hours in days to come. William is not a safe diplomat."

We repeat we never had any draft of terms to submit to Bond, Kent and Clift, or any one of them, or to guard, and whether "William" whoever he may be—whether he is a safe or unsafe diplomat, neither he nor anyone else was entrusted by us with any diplomacy about any such compact. We repeat our challenge to the Plaindealer to give the particulars of the alleged "draft of terms to be submitted to Bond, Kent and Clift."

Back From Gloucester.

The s.s. Baleine, Capt. Parsons, reached port last evening after a passage of 29 hours from Sydney, bringing a cargo of coal for Mr. Geo. Neal. The Baleine left here a month ago with a cargo of fresh fish, which was collected at Petty Harbor and other places on the southwest coast. After clearing at Gloucester she proceeded to Portland, Maine, where she took on board 300 barrels of gasoline for St. John's. She then left for Sydney to load coal. After discharging, the Baleine will resume the Conception Bay route.

Train Notes.

The Bruce express which left here yesterday took out Rev. H. Upward, A. B. Spence, Rev. Mr. Massiah, Magistrate Fitzgerald, Rev. A. E. Tulk, A. W. Miller, Mrs. Pearce and family and 80 second class. The local arrived at 9.35 last night bringing Head Const. Newhook, W. Woodford, Capt. Bonia, S. K. Bell, Mr. Hopkins, Messrs. Curtis and Russell, J. Baxter and 40 others.

National Strike Unpopular.

Special to Evening Telegram.

LONDON, To-day. Evidence that strike leaders realize that a National Strike is a forlorn hope and that they are eager for a plausible pretext to make peace, was afforded by the appointment yesterday of an emergency committee, including Tillet, Gosling and other leaders to be ready to interview the Government should their services be required. No place has brought accessions to the ranks of the strikers. The Liverpool Council of the Transport Workers' Federation adopted a resolution to await results of ballot, now being taken by the Seamen's and Firemen's Union. Leith and other Scotch ports voted heavily against a strike. Even at Southampton there are signs of the strike breaking down. There is daily increase in the number of men working at the London Docks. Should the efforts of shipowners and port authorities to break down momentum of work on Thames possessed by Lightermen under an ancient charter succeed, the backbone of the strike would be broken. It is generally expected that a general resumption of work on the Thames.

Constable Sheppard's Version of Charges Against Him.

Const. Sheppard, to whom the Telegram made reference yesterday, and who was arrested recently on a serious charge, arrived here by the shore train to-day and gave the Telegram his side of the story. In effect he says he is the victim of a conspiracy. He says that the first intimation he had of the charge which Mrs. Elms made against him was Sunday night, the 9th inst. When he heard it he came here Monday and laid the facts of the matter before the superior Magistrate Oke, and gave bonds for his appearance. He also avers that Wm. Elms, her husband, was arrested in the middle of December last at the instance of the girl and laid the same charge before the superior Magistrate Oke, and gave bonds for his appearance. He later married the girl in Const. Sheppard's house, Rev. H. V. Whithouse performing the ceremony. After they were married the girl lived in his (Const. Sheppard's) house for about 4 months, until she and her husband could move into their own which they did. Both she and her husband had been coming to his house ever since, and their relations were most friendly. They left the house Saturday night, the 9th inst., parting in a most friendly manner, and when Mr. Sheppard heard the rumour of Sunday night he was shocked and determined to lay the facts before I. G. Sullivan, which he did Monday last. As to the allegation that he assaulted the woman after her marriage in his house, he says it is most untrue. Respectable people have always boarded in his house, his wife is always at home, and even if he were inclined to do so he could not do so under such conditions. Mr. Sheppard says that he has been 25 years in the force, that not a blot, not even a report, has been made against him, and he maintains that he will prove his innocence to the hilt. We give the constable's version of the affair in justice to him.

Inland Fishery.

Salmon caught to-day at Robinson's River by G. B. Ford weighed 9 pounds. Six more were taken by local tourists weighing from 6 to 10 lbs. At South Branch, 10 salmon were caught in the Fork's Pool to-day by J. C. Campbell, and 10 more at Rendell's Pool by three tourists, names unknown. Plenty of sea trout at Placentia weighing between 1 and 2 1/2 lbs. Gambo.—Much trout (mud) of large size taken from Gambo River. Little River.—Dr. Dunne, on the 10th, took 4 salmon—7 1/2 lbs. to 10 lbs. Hon. and Mrs. W. C. Job took one salmon each.

Girl Assaulted.

As a girl named Florence Stephens, a domestic with Mr. Noseworthy, of Casey Street, was coming out of a shop there at 8.30 last night a man prowling about there caught her and throwing his arms about her neck repeatedly kissed her. Only after she screamed did he release her. She described him to Officers O'Neill and Bussey and they later arrested him on the same street.

IN MEMORIAM.

MICHAEL McDONNELL.
 On June 5th there passed peacefully away at his home Salmonier, after months of unceasing suffering, Michael McDonnell, aged 65 years. He was a model of industry and of such a disposition as to think lightly of any physical disadvantages that might attend his work, so he worked during the summer season at the fishery, and the winter season as carpenter, not heeding the dread disease that was slowly creeping on—cancer in the lip—until just six months ago when he went to the hospital in St. John's to have it attended to, only to find that he was late and that death was inevitable. No pen can describe the sufferings he endured until death released him, yet he was consoled in his sufferings by frequent visits from our kind pastor, Rev. Fr. O'Flaherty, who is ever ready to respond to calls from his parishioners, and who enters into their troubles and sufferings as only priests can. Mr. McDonnell leaves to mourn him a widow, one son, two brothers and two sisters, who had the privilege of being near him at his last hour and who had the consolation of seeing him depart this life fortified by the rites of Holy Church and perfectly resigned to leave this world. A happy, comfortable home was his on earth by his own endeavours. May his last resting place be one of happiness. R. I. P.

 The S. S. City of Sydney, Fraser, sailed for Sydney and Montreal at 5 p.m. yesterday.

Oil for Sprinkling Streets.

Yesterday afternoon a meeting

Hr. Grace Notes.

The K. E. B. took a tramp to Carbonear on Monday evening last. They were met at the station by the officers and lads of the Carbonear C. C. C. who escorted them to the Court. Here they were dismissed for half an hour. At the sound of the bugle they reformed and a start was made for home. Col. Rogers and Major Downing were in charge.

Housekeepers are complaining aloud that the butter that is now offered for sale, much of it they say is not fit for use. The time is now ripe for all manufacturers, whether of boots, foodstuffs, or in fact, any manufactured goods to have their names on their products. Then the careful manufacturer will build up a successful business, and others will be compelled to go out of business. This law already applies to the fishermen who are putting up lobsters, salmon, etc., and should be enforced all around.

An error crept into my last notes, and whether the fault rests with your compositor or with your correspondent's bad M.S.S., remains to be proven. The word "appraisers" appeared when it should have read "revisors." Otherwise the item stands correct.

Mr. Thomas Hennessy and family arrived by Monday's express from Tacoma, Washington State, on a visit to the old home. It is ten or eleven years ago since Mr. Hennessy left this town. Old friends are pleased to welcome him.

The Harbor Grace Agricultural Society held its monthly meeting on Monday evening last. The President, H. H. Archibald, B. Sc., in the chair. Several new members were present, the older members taking a keen interest in all that tends to increase crop-raising in the town and neighborhood. The disposal of some seed potatoes was part of the business brought before the meeting. It was decided to distribute eight or ten barrels of seed potatoes among the poor people who would otherwise not be able to plant their ground. The Secretary was instructed to use his best judgment and give these to people who would plant them.

The dog question was also brought before the meeting, and it was decided to canvass the town with a view of having the dogs exterminated. It is thought that a large number of people will go into sheep raising if the dogs are voted down.

Special to Evening Telegram.

CHICAGO, To-day.

12 delegates for Roosevelt and 18 for Taft marked the gains of the chief rivals for the Republican Presidential Nomination in the decision of the contest case by the Republican National Committee. It was a day for Roosevelt victories, achieved with full acquiescence of Taft's majority on National Committee. At the end of a week of constant work over contested delegations, the committee has given Taft a total of 153 delegates and Roosevelt a total of 13.

Special to Evening Telegram.

LONDON, To-day.

The Empire naval problem elicited interesting points yesterday at the discussion at the Congress of Chambers of the Empire. Canadian members without dissent voted for whole-hearted co-operation with all parts of the empire in a joint scheme, but the greatest hit was made by one of the Australian delegates, who after several Canadian speeches of warm imperial type rose and said: "You Canadians are great orators on this naval question. For I don't know how many years you have been going to do and die for the Empire on the seas. Why don't you begin and do something that really matters and is a real help to the Empire? Why not make a beginning as we are doing in Australia with British built warships under Admiralty control, naval cadet system and so on? There is too much and too little doing." (Laughter and cheers.) When the Vancouver delegate suggested a Canadian money grant of ten million dollars to the British fleet, a Regina delegate said such a paltry sum was quite unworthy of Canada's wealth and patriotism.

Capt. J. Bartlett

Has Chartered S. S. Algerine to go North.

Messrs. Bowring Bros. sealing steamship Algerine has been chartered by a Canadian Company for an expedition to the northern regions. The contract has been made by Capt. John Bartlett, of Brigus, who is the principal of the concern and is acting here in the interest of the others. The ship will be absent three months, and Capt. Bartlett will take command of her himself. He will bring his own crew from Brigus along with him. The object of the cruise, we are told, is solely for exploration purposes, and the Algerine will spend the greater portion of her time on the Greenland Coast. The steamer is now on the Dry Dock undergoing renovation. She sails from here on Wednesday morning next and will proceed to Cobalt, Ontario, to take on board the Canadian people. It is at Cobalt we learn that Captain Bartlett has an interest in a coal mine. The steamer will begin to refit for her new voyage to-morrow and Capt. Bartlett is at the dock and will personally superintend the outfitting and supplying of the ship. Eight years ago Capt. Bartlett was on a similar cruise to the North in the same steamer.

The Vacation Period

BY H. L. RANN.

The vacation period is a verdant oasis situated midway between nervous prostration and the weekly payroll. It is comparatively new, and on that account is the subject of a good deal of unseemly levity. It has been only a few years since a man who went on a vacation in order to escape hearing what the thermometer had to say was liable to be followed to some shady retreat by suspicious creditors and a court summons. Of late years, however, vacations have become so popular that pale business men prefer them to any other form of getting rid of a surplus. A trip to some retired spot, where the fish bite twice in every twenty-four hours and the caressing voice of a woman does not disturb the scenery, is a better tonic than flitting with the pink pill or the bibulous liver cure. The only kind of vacation which returns any interest on the money invested is the one which is accompanied by a pair of corduroy trousers, hip boots, a minnow pail and a duck gun, which send the patient home looking like an enlarged portrait of a side of sole leather. This form of vacation is prolific in red corpuscles, barbed-wire cuts and appetites which never sound a retreat. The seashore and summer resort vacations are all right for men who prefer to secure their exercise by tying on neckties and conversing about platonic friendship with members of the opposite sex, but they don't cause anybody to back in for a third helping of the corned-beef and cabbage. Some men eke out their vacation by lying around an expensive hotel porch in white flannels and a receptive attitude, and return to work with the same tint in their left home with, while others plunge into the wilderness in a canvas suit, sleep in a dog tent, live on preserved beans, and come back with the ardor of a yearling colt and the fascinating flush of a June bride. Nothing will prevent a man from contracting premature sourness quicker than getting so far away from home that he can't kick on his wife's cooking.

A Plucky Deed.

It was Mr. Peter Joy who stopped Smallwood's horse when it ran away yesterday. He knew that if the horse got into Water Street it might kill some one. He pluckily grabbed the reins, was dragged a considerable distance, but succeeded in stopping the horse.

Bruce Passengers.

The S. S. Bruce arrived at Port aux Basques at 7.15 a.m. to-day with these passengers.—Mrs. W. A. McDougall, Mrs. McLean, J. Cook, J. W. Grant, W. A. Hart, P. H. Munroe, C. King and S. Kennedy. The train left at 8 a.m. and is due at noon to-morrow.

BISHOP POWER ARRIVES.—His Lordship of the diocese of St. George's, arrived by the day's express on a visit to his parents. Bishop Power looks well, and quite as bright as the old friends were at the station to receive him.

M. G. B.—The full Battalion of the Methodist Guards will parade at the C. L. B. Armory on Sunday, June 16th, at 10.15 a.m., for the purpose of attending Divine Service at George Street Church. Kit will be delivered to-night from 7.45 to 8.30 at Capt. J. EHS's shop, Springdale Street. By order O. C. E. S. AYRE, Lieut. & Adj. June 14th.

A Dangerous Runaway.

While the driver was in the Methodist College Home at 5 p.m. yesterday, Mr. F. Smallwood's horse, left standing near, bolted and dashed down Long's Hill, turned into Theatre Hill and went down that thoroughfare with lightning speed, scattering pedestrians in all directions; several narrowly escaped being run down. The wheels came off the express, and the animal was stopped by a couple of teamsters on Duckworth Street.

NEW ENGINE OUT.

The new locally built locomotive, 114, was taken out of the machine shops and run up to the round house under her own steam. She is the best yet turned out here and goes on her trial spin to-day. She will run between Clarendville and Bishop's Falls, and will be in charge of Engineer Batstone.

The Missing Bride

and eyes that shine; in vain I look for one I know, for Lillian Russell's not in line. The bridegroom's shirt is full of starch, the bridegroom's shoes are so much to small; they now take up the wedding march, and music vibrates through the hall; against the balcony I lean and view the throng with kindly stare; there's something lacking in the scene, for Lillian Russell isn't there. The pastor speaks the solemn words; the two are one— who shall divide? Ah, sweeter than the trill of birds the murmured pledges of the bride! And yet there's a discordant note in all the joyous burst of sound when we congratulate quote, for Lillian Russell's not around! Somehow, it always seems to me, a wedding is a false alarm. If Lillian, as the bride-to-be, does not invest it with her charm. It's like that good old Hamlet when Hamlet isn't in the cast; so, Lillian, have a wedding day before this sunny June is past!

Football Match.

C. E. I. 2; FEILDANS, 0.

Last evening on St. George's Field a fair attendance witnessed the match between the C. E. I. and Feildans, in which the former won by two goals.

The weather was all that could be desired, but the game was slow and uninteresting to the spectators.

During the first half the C. E. I. played down the field but did not score, neither did the Feildans who had by far the best of the game; on the whole there was an absence of combination. Invariably some of the players of both teams would miss the ball showing lack of practice.

On resumption of the second half of the game there appeared to be a pound of steam extra put on by the C. E. I. In a scrimmage near the Feildans goal the Institute boys found the net.

When the ball was centered again the C. E. I. resumed their attacks; they were frustrated often by Hewitt and Hunt, but just before the final whistle sounded were again successful in beating Rowell and the score stood—C. E. I., 2; Feildans, 0.

Mr. H. Dickinson acted as referee. The players were—Feildans—Goal, Lush; backs, Hewitt, Rowell; halves, G. Hunt, Bernard, Jeffrey; forwards, Wood, Winter, Pincent, Heath, Raley.

C. E. I.—Goal, Haytor; backs, Hussey, C. Hunt; halves, L. Stick, Hallett, R. Stick; forwards, Janes, Goodland, Smith, Evans, Bartlett.

Why Sixty Restaurant Employees MET DEATH LIKE RATS IN A TRAP.

London, June 7.—More sensational evidence was given at the Titanic inquiry to-day, to explain why the restaurant staff were drowned. A restaurant clerk, named Paul Mouge, alleged the staff were prevented from reaching the second-class deck by some stewards, and thus lost their lives.

Witness, who spoke broken English, said he was aroused after the collision by the ringing of an alarm bell. He asked what was the matter. Somebody said: "There is no danger. It is better for you to go to sleep."

Witness went on the boat deck, where he saw Captain Smith encouraging women to enter the boats. They seemed disinclined to go, saying they were safer on board.

A large number of third-class passengers went on deck at the same time. After going on the boat deck, he went below again to awake the chef. The chef lost his temper, that is, he was agitated, and lost his presence of mind. Other members of the restaurant staff assembled on the third-class passengers deck at the after end of the ship.

"They could not get up. That is where they died. They were not allowed to get up; some stewards who were there would not let them pass."

Q.—"Then how did you get up?"
A.—"I was dressed like a passenger. It was impossible for the members of the crew of the restaurant to be saved because on the third-class passenger deck there was no lifeboat at all. It was not possible for them to go on the second-class passengers' deck."

Lord Mersey—"Why were they kept from going up?"
A.—"I cannot say."

The Attorney General—"How many of them were there?"
A.—"About sixty. They were all men. Some stewards were keeping them back."

Q.—"How many?"
A.—"Two or three."

Describing how he got into a lifeboat, witness said he jumped into the boat while it was being lowered. It had stopped between two decks. He jumped eight or ten feet.

The Attorney General—"The chef did not get in?"
A.—"No. I asked the chef many times to jump, but the chef, he was too fat. I might say. (Laughter.) When I was in the lifeboat I shouted to him in French:—'Salute!' He said something, but I could not hear what, because at the same time a man said to me: 'Shut up.' A foreigner, another man on the Titanic, tried to pull me off and take my seat in the boat."

Mr. Sanderson, a White Star director, explained that the Olympic is now carrying boats enough for all actually on board, though not, as first intended, as many would be required for the full number of possible passengers and crew.

LUNENBURGERS DOING WELL.—The Lunenburg bankers have pretty well all arrived off their spring trips with catches ranging from 700 to 1,400 qts. The vessels fished mostly on St. Peter's and Quo Beros banks and left early in March; cod was plentiful, and four men were lost during the spring. They strayed from their vessels in fog and were not heard of afterwards.

Annual Reception and Ball OF THE NEWFOUNDLAND SOCIETY IN NEW YORK.

On May 18 the Newfoundland Society of New York held its annual reception and ball in the Imperial Ball Room, Brooklyn, N.Y., and as was to be expected it was a decided success. More than two hundred Newfoundlanders and their friends journeyed to Brooklyn, and at nine o'clock, to the familiar strains of the "Banks of Newfoundland," this reception was in full swing.

The hall was tastefully and fittingly decorated with the crossed emblems of the United States and Newfoundland, and indeed presented a very pretty sight. Comments most favourable were heard on all sides, and the hope was earnestly expressed that the Newfoundland Society would have another affair as fine as this in the near future.

It would be exceedingly difficult to recall another such occasion where so many of the representative sons and daughters of Newfoundland united in one grand social rally as this. In many cases the distant past was bridged, and friends long separated again united, that they might once more plight their troth on Friendship's Shrine and store up another treasure in memory's storehouse: the thought of a very pleasant evening spent among friends, old and new.

The many young ladies and their equally handsome escorts were out in force, and certainly did credit to Newfoundland. Under the hypnotic spell of the many popular tunes entrancingly played by an able orchestra from the New York Conservatory of Music, all care was forgotten, and the fair muse terpsichore, wood and won for several happy hours. Many a regret was felt that the friends at home could not be present, for they missed a rare time.

However, there was present as a special guest, William Howley, Esq., M.H.A., who by the way is an honorary member of the Newfoundland Society, and to judge by the grand things said by the affable member for Placentia in expressing his opinion of the ball, the people of Newfoundland are surely going to be just a trifle envious of the fact that they were not one and all, in New York on May 18 to enjoy the gracious hospitality of the Newfoundland Society.

A very pleasant surprise was sprung during the evening when Miss Mollie Flynn, niece of Prof. D. A. Flynn, was prevailed upon to favor the assembled guests with a few of her songs. And her voice seemed to possess an added charm and vibration for this special occasion. After all is said for this ball, the members of the Committee, who so ably conducted it and laboured so indefatigably for its success, are entitled to no end of praise for the success of the initial reception, for seldom, if ever, has a fine body of men and women assembled at a social of this kind to do honor to their country and themselves. They were indeed a body of representative Newfoundlanders, and Newfoundland can well be proud of her sons and daughters. We look for many such affairs in the future.

Light, Warmth and Food.

These three words embrace the most urgent necessities of life, and it is an extraordinary thing that in each case our thoughts turn to Gas; this, after all, is but natural. We want Light, gas gives us the best, cheapest and healthiest artificial light known. Again, we want Warmth, and the gas fire is at hand to give it in its best form; and, lastly, we must have Food, and here the gas cooker never fails us. All this is absolutely true, as we have shown over and over again. If, however, any of our customers are in the least doubtful on any of these points, we cordially invite them to consult us. In the meantime, our advice is to get good burners and buy mantles of well-known makes, to use modern gas fires and cookers, and, above all, to keep your gas appliances (whether old or new) in good order, for in this is the true secret of efficiency and complete satisfaction.

Wedding Bells.
SOPER—FOWLER.
The wedding of the Rev. S. H. Soper B.A. to Miss Maud Florence Fowler, takes place at Elm Street Methodist Church, Toronto, at 12 o'clock (noon) to-day. The reception held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George D. Fowler, 5 Baldwin Street. Immediately after the ceremony, we understand that Mr. and Mrs. Soper will then spend a few days visiting the pleasure resorts near Toronto. It is their intention to leave Montreal for St. John's per Black Diamond boat on or about June 19th.
Mr. Soper will be ordained at the present annual conference of the Newfoundland Church in this city, and it is their intention to remain in the city about a month, after which they will spend a month with Mrs. Soper's parents in Toronto, leaving there some time in October to take up their work in West China as missionaries of the Methodist Church of Canada, supported, we understand, by the Newfoundland connection.

Here and There.
EELS PLENTIFUL.—Eels are plentiful all along the Southern Shore. Capt. Larder, of the Amphitrite, who was there a few days ago saw large schools of them.
FELL OVERBOARD.—Yesterday afternoon a lad named Hynes fell over the side of a boat at Woods' dock into the water; being a good swimmer he swam ashore safely.
BANKER RETURNS.—St. Mary's banking schooner arrived at the home port with a full cargo of fish yesterday afternoon and reports fish plentiful on the Grand Banks.
BERI-BERI PATIENT.—There arrived in the city yesterday a resident of Bonavista. He was brought to hospital as he has contracted beri-beri, but the ailment is only mild.
MORE SCARLET FEVER.—Five new cases of scarlet fever developed at the Methodist Orphanage yesterday afternoon, and two cases were reported from a house on Brazil Square.
FALSE REPORT.—Yesterday report had it that one of our local bankers had not been reported since leaving here in April. The report was incorrect as she was at Bonne Bay last week.
GOOD TROUT FISHING.—Mr. S. K. Bell, of the Crosbie, arrived by last night's train with a basket of "speckled beauties" taken at N. E. Arm, Placentia. Hon. J. C. Crosbie is still there and is having splendid fishing.

ANOTHER FIRE ALARM.—At 7.20 p.m. yesterday the 7th fire alarm for the month was turned in from box 336, bringing the Western and Central Companies to the residence of Judge Knight. Sparks from the chimney ignited the shingles on the roof, but a few buckets of water quenched the blaze and no damage worth while was done.
The S. S. Florizel leaves New York to-morrow for here.

Over the Hills to the Poor House
Over the hills, to the poorhouse. I'm getting a sixling pace; I've mortgaged my home for an auto. And I'm playing her straight and for place. There are others well up in the running. But I'm holding my own, you bet; I can see the roof of the county farm. And I'm going to get there yet.
Of course, I can't afford it (There are very few who can). But the family whined about it. And insisted I wasn't a man if I didn't get six cylinders. A tonneau, some tires and plugs. And got out and speed on the highway With the automobile bugs.
So we plastered the house with a lien. The second I'd have you know; The first was for part of the purchase price.
And a few other things I owe. My wife said it would be a saving. We'd soon pay for the machine. With the difference between the car fare bill And the cost of the gasoline.
The girls had to hire a "shuffer." A lantern-jawed son-of-a-gun. And when Sonny goes out for a joy-ride. I'm sorry he hasn't one.
For whenever he hits a lamp-post Or sends the car into a ditch, I cough up some more spondulix. To fatten the bloated rich.
Once I was known for my wisdom. My business foresight it was keen. But that was before I invested In an aid-to-bankruptcy machine. Now others are getting the rhino. Their assets with solvency shine. While I'm on the road to the poor-house.
The Home for the Indigent, mine.
Whoopee! Clear the way for I'm coming— Just passed by a bunch of my friends. All bent in the same direction. Where the road of the scorcher ends. It's the pace of a drunken sailor. At the helm of a rudderless ship; Over the hills to the poorhouse. I'm hitting a lively clip.

CONCERNING BREAD
And of Special Interest to the Millions Who Eat It.
The housewife together with every lover of good, pure bread, will welcome the announcement that it is possible to obtain Flour from which can be made Bread possessing all the wholesome nutritive and digestive properties contained in the Best and Purest Spring Wheat. Bread made from "ARUNDELL" flour in addition to these merits has that distinctly sweet and wheaty taste obtainable only from the best spring wheat. "ARUNDELL" goes largely into competition in London and throughout the U. K. with these flours milled by special process and which have become so deservedly popular by reason of their retaining all the best properties of the pure spring wheat none of the merits of which are sacrificed to obtain the maximum of whiteness.
Try a barrel of "ARUNDELL" and be convinced of all that is claimed for it; also that by reason of its strength and absorbent qualities it is the most economical flour for family use.—may27,61,eod.

New Captain.
Captain Smith, late of the sealer Pelican which was engaged in the far North, is now due here from England to take command of the S. S. Nascope, succeeding Captain Waite who goes in the S. S. Beothic. As previously noted in the Telegram the S. S. Nascope is now preparing for the Hudson Bay Cruise, leaving here about June 20th.

Rowdyism.
Last evening while the football match was going on three toughs prevented from getting admission to the grand stand attempted to attack the man on the gate. As those on the stand saw their action the trio quickly desisted only to assail an innocent young man named Pike, who without provocation was hit and pummelled about the face unmercifully. There were no policemen about and it was a pity.

The New Pulp Mills.
From men who arrived from Campbellton yesterday we learn that in addition to what the Telegram has already exclusively reported about this new local project, a fine pier of 150 yards in length is being erected with water deep enough about it to take the largest class of shipping. A track has been laid down from Campbellton to the site of the new dam and material for its construction will be taken along on trolleys. One of the finest residences in the whole of Green Bay is being erected for the manager, who will come from Sweden, and the general staff, while a large number of well built shacks are being rushed up for the workmen. There is plenty of water for the dam coming in from O'Brien's Lake and other sheets of water near. A big store is also being put up and 100,000 feet of lumber with a great pile of logs are on the scene for erection purposes. The foundations for the mills have already been laid.

Regarding the Regatta.
Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir.—There is a whisper abroad that owing to the impossibility of the Messrs. Field's new race boat being finished before the 12th or 15th of August, this year's Regatta will not be held as heretofore, the earlier part of that month. If such is the case, and the Regatta is therefore postponed, accident will have led to what should prove a good idea—to hold the annual races day the first week of September. There are, I think, several good reasons why this would be a better period for the event. For instance, the whole of July and August months are given up to merry-making, garden parties, picnics, excursions, etc., which strange to say do not extend into September month. Many people who would like to attend the Regatta are absent from the city during August, as that is really the vacation time for most of our employees. Again, it is an old saying that "when the Races are over the summer is past"—one cannot exactly tell why—but everybody feels it so. To continue, the weather during the first week in September is suspiciously suitable for aquatic sports, the days are cool and pleasant, and the sun but looks down kindly on the gentleman who modestly glances upward from the vicinity of the back tent. The man with the straw hat, the immaculate shirt front and the glowing tie can still shine, as was his wont, and tell how races were rowed and won in his day, whilst the young lady from the west may, in company with Mrs. Tucker, still smile blandly on the weather clerk and flout him to desperation with white merinos and stunning bows.
As I am on the subject now, sir, the idea strikes me to suggest that the Reid Co. call their new boat the Bruce. True, we already have a Bruce in the Gulf, but don't you think it would be fine to see another on good old "Kitty Vitty"?
The now up to the Regatta Committee to consider the suggestion of September Regatta—or at least the holding of the event late in August; and I feel sure that our genial Secretary, Mr. Noonan (who by the way dearly loves to bark in the September sun) will place the proposition before the body.
Yours truly,
P. J. K.

Star vs. St. Bon's
The Star and St. Bon's teams will contest in to-night's football match. The players will be:

Cable News.

Special to Evening Telegram. CHICAGO, June 13.

The advisability of a dark horse candidate for President, in the hope of burying party harmony and success, is being discussed at the Convention. The leaders feel that the lines of battle between Taft and Roosevelt have been so sharply drawn and such high feeling has been aroused, that the fight will have to be fought to a finish. At the same time they are hoping for some solution of the problem to be brought forward at the eleventh hour. Taft supporters are apparently more confident after yesterday's victories, and are freely reiterating their predictions of the President's renomination on the first ballot. Roosevelt's followers profess equal confidence. The Cummins and La Follette delegates believe that no choice will be made on the first ballot, leaving the inference that their man may be decided on as a compromise candidate.

Special Evening Telegram. NEW YORK, June 13.

A cable from London says that a movement is under consideration that may lead to transferring to Plymouth of all trans-Atlantic steamships which now sail from Southampton, as the shipping companies, using that port have been so seriously hampered by a series of vexatious strikes promoted by the Seafarers' Union. When that Union was started as a rival to the Seamen's and Firemen's Union, the original organization was supported by the Shipping Companies because it became all powerful at Southampton, causing immense loss and damage to both port and shipping by its reckless proceedings. A campaign of window-smashing was opened to-day by Irish suffragettes, who tried to emulate the deeds of their English sisters, but came into conflict with the authorities. After the women had made an energetic attack upon most of the public buildings, eight of them, who were armed with big stones, were arrested and brought before the magistrate. The women, before the police came on the scene, had set siege to and succeeded in shattering 42 windows of the Custom House, Post Office, Land Commission Office, Police and Military Barracks.

A London cable says: The King of Montenegro's visit to Vienna, the King of Bulgaria's visit to Berlin, the movements of the British and French warships in the Mediterranean, the renewal of the German Navy League agitation—all these movements are occasioning much speculation. There is some apprehension of serious changes in the European map, and the policy of Russia and Italy is puzzling most people. There are rumours of a German-Austrian-Russian understanding, and also rumours of an Italian-French British alliance.

Two members of Scott's Antarctic expedition, who have arrived at Plymouth, said they were confident that their leader had reached the South Pole, and added that but for the early formation of ice, Scott would have reached home this year. They were greatly disappointed to learn that Amundsen had first reached the Pole, but point out that fine weather and a good route were great speed factors in the Norseman's success.

Charging that President Taft had misused the $25,000 travelling expenses allowed yearly by Congress, Chairman Fitzgerald, of the House Appropriation Committee, bitterly attacked him. He declared that on his recent Western tour he mulcted the accompanying newspaper and secret service men, in spite of their protests, to bolster up his depletion. It is deplorable, he said, to have to state these facts to this House and the country.

The British Court of Enquiry will find that the s.s. Californian defaulted from duty. Lord Mersey stated without qualification: "I have no doubt that the Californian did see distress signals; that they were from the Titanic; and that the Californian ought to have made efforts to reach her."

SURE CURE FOR THRUSH

Worst Cases Yield To Douglas' Egyptian Liniment

Mr. J. L. Boyes, Secretary of the Napanee Driving Park Association has had a good deal of experience with thrush on horses' feet, and has tried various remedies. He writes: "I have cured bad cases of diseased feet or thrush on horses with Egyptian Liniment with two or three applications, after calomel, salt, coal oil, etc., had completely failed to do the work. I consider it a waste of time to use anything but Egyptian Liniment for thrush."

Such an emphatic statement from an experienced horseman speaks volumes for Douglas' Egyptian Liniment. Another man who has found it most effective is Mr. John Garrison, Morven, Ont. He says: "One of my horses had thrush so bad that his feet became offensive, and the neighbours advised me to shoot him. Before doing so I decided to try Egyptian Liniment, and in a short time my horse's feet were as sound as ever." Twenty-five cents at all Druggists. Free sample on request.
