THE REASON IS.

When a man finds his customers dissatisfied with the teas he sells, it is natural for him to resort to any means to keep his trade. The only successful way found, so far, is to keep James Laut's famous teas in stock for your customers.

The following is a list of a few of the branches where you can obtain our pure, unadulterated teas :-

Our system of Practice consists in the most improved Medical Inhalations, combined with proper Constitutional Treatment. Having devoted our time, energy and skill for the past fifteen years to the treatment of the various diseases of the HEAD, THROAT AND LUNGS, (During which time we have seccessfully treated

(During which time we have secessfully treated ever 30,000 cases), we are enabled to offer the afflicted the most perfect remedies and appliances or the immediate cure of all those troublesome or the immediate cure of all those troublesome afflictions.

CATARRH.

As we have seen in tracing the relation to Nasa Catarrh and throat diseases to consumption, there are times, perhaps days, or even whole weeks together, when the affection gives little or no annoy nance, and the patient flatters himself that it has entirely passed away, when a sudden cold or other cause of irritation occurs, and the progress of the gisease is materially hastened. At this season of the year, not unfrequently, the disease becomes apparent, and admonishes the patient of the terrible future which must follow if the inflammation is not speedily allayed. Many there are who enfeator to convince themselves that the evil is not of any magnitude, and will soon pass away with the special cause of the irritation; but experience will prove to them the fearful error as it has to thousands who have preceded them to that "bourne from whence no traveller returns."

No one, therefore, who is afflicted with nasal catarrh or throat affection is safe while it is suffered to exist. Often slight causes give rise to services oversilent weeks.

A T 1043 QUEEN-ST WEST, THE BICGEST price paid for cast off clothing, carpets &c.; parties waited on at their own residences. J. AB-RAHAMS. Troops to Alexandria. ALEXANDRIA, June 14. - The streets are blocked and the carts are piled with the baggage of fleeing Europeans. All the menof-war in the harbor are crowded with fugitives. The American frigate Galena is rowded with families claiming American protection. Revs. Joseph and Richard Smith, of New York and Baltimore, have taken refuge on board. An American officer narrowly escaped, while in company with a British officer, being killed in the fight. Sunday's disturbance was evidently premeditated, breaking out at several places at once. The Europeans were dragged out of their carriages and murdered with sticks and the legs of tables or chairs, obtained by sacking shops. The British consul is still in danger. Three officers of the British fleet were buried at sea yester day. It is stated that the prefect of police at Alexandria with the assistance of a fanatic orator organized the outbreak, the soldiers setting the example of sacking shops. The khedive was coldly received by the population here. He expressed himself greatly astonished at the agitation and excitement visible throughout the city. The natives declare they will resist all intervention. There were patrols throughout the city last night, the soldiers being placed the city last night, the soldiers being placed every fifty yards.

A council-of-war was held to-day and orders were issued that the troops strictly maintain order. Four policemen have been arrested, charged with aiding the rioters. A street quarrel occurred to-day, causing a fresh panie, but the troops suppressed the disturbance. The khedive and Dervisch Pasha telegraphed to-day to the porte entreating troops to be dispatched.

The bodies of the engineer of the English ironclad Superb, and two seamen of the Helicon, killed in the riot, were buried at sea, because it was deemed imprudent to sea, because it was deemed imprudent to risk possible danger from a funeral ashore. As the barge containing the bodies passed the United States steamer Galena, the marines fired a salute. The soldiers are openly asking for the deposition of the khedive and declaring they will, if necessary, oppose Turkey herself. Not only are women and children leaving the country, but men with large material interests in Egypt are begging passages and leaving their property.

The governor has issued a proclamation declaring that the arrival of the khedive and Dervisch Pasha is a guarantee of order and that the citizen results of the control of the con and that the citizens may confidently resume their avocations. A Turkish frigate is sighted off the port. The khedive today received diplomats, officials and several leading Europeans.

One thousand three hundred Europeans left here to-day but the soldiers are now preventing further departures. The quays are filled with terrified people. The telegraph officials are blockaded in the office and cannot safely go out. The water supply in the city is failing.

A number of gentlemen ascended the platform, Patrick Hughes, one of the number, taking the chair at 8.30 o'clock.

Ald. Ryan came forward and said he had much pleasure in moving that Mr. Hughes take the chair. Mr. Troy of the Tribune seconded Ald. Ryan's motion and the audience gave enthusiastic approval of the appointment. Thomas J. Lee was appointed secretary.

be no apathy in voting it. CHURCH CONGRESSES.

People are so busy with election meetings that they almost overlook the presence of two important church bodies now in session in this city; namely, the Anglican synod of the diocese of Toronto; and the Methodist conference of the district of Toronto. Important subjects are up for discussion in both bodies. Our citizens, we know, are doing their best to entertain the visitors

POSTAL CAR PACILITIES.

Now that newspapers are carried free many packages that were sent by express are now put in the mail bags. In consequence thereof, and of the election literature sent through the post, the post office employes have their hands full. One way of relieving the pressure is to improve the postal car service. Larger and better postal cars, with more clerks, should be put on that elapses between the posting and receipt of communications.

A HOUSE DIVIDED.

A number of reformers are constantly saving that the opposition is not hostile to the national policy. They themselves may not be; but besides their opinion and the declaration of Mr. Blake, the reform party is held by the speeches of Alexander M. kenzie, Sir Richard Cartwright, J hn Charlton, David Mills, and by the editorial utterances of journals reputed out-and-out supporters of the opposition, such as the Toronto Globe, the Brantford Expositor, the Hamilton Times, the Loudon Advertiser, the Montreal Witness, and the Ottawa Free Press. We think we do neither the gentlemen nor the journals named any injustice when we say that they are, each and all of them actively hostile to the national policy not only as to its details but as to its underlying principle--the encouragement of home manufactures and the developement of Canadian industries. We have the recent speeches of the gentlemen, we have the latest numbers of the papers, before us, and they are all dead against such a policy. We do not for a moment question their right to such an opinion; we respect both them and their opinions; we fail, however, to see where the sufficient ground is for the assertion that the opposition is not opposed to the N. P.

THE CATHOLIC CHURCH IN THE IRISH CRISIS The action taken by the Irish bishops in their joint address to the people of Ireland is, says the New York Sun, the strongest plea yet put forward for the substitution of remedial for coercive measures in the present crisis. If the texts of this notable manifesto be carefully examined, it will be had recourse. that very lately, in one of the western pertion of the community in no wise benestates, a Catholic bishop denounced the little by the N. P. Take for instance ed against secret-societies, or as chargeable in any degree with the murders and outrages perpetrated during the last six poration laborers and government employees who have been able to secure an adweeks. To the land league itself Cardinal weeks. To the land league itself Cardinal McCabe, before his recent visit to Rome, benefited by the N. P. I have spoken to a ther drop of liquor, no matter what the

the movement started by Mr. Davitt, and we have heretotore assigned some reasons for believing that a majority of the hierarchy and the balk of the priesthood con- archy and the balk of the priesthood concurred in his patriotic views. Doubt on the subject is no longer possible, in view of the fact that the present manifesto is signary by the archbishop of Dublin himself, as well as by the archbishop of Cashel, and that twenty-two other bishops have subscribed the address. Such a general denonstration, in which prelates who have hitherto expressed conflicting sentiments participate, must have been made in compliance with a distinctly uttered wish of the Vatican, and indicates that the influence of Cardinal Manning and certain English Catholics at Rome has been decidedly outweighed by that of their Irish and American co-religionists. The address declares in unmistakable terms that the "national movement" has the approval of the priests and bishops, and even of the pope and all just and generous nen, without distinction of race or creed What movement is here contemplated we perceive from an affirmance of the context hat "the Irish have an undisputable right to ive on their own soil." But this right cannot be exercised if the soil is required to support twe classes of owners, viz., landlords and occupants. So much is now admitted by men of all parties, even English conservatives being ready to introduce a bill for and the substitution of a peasant proprietary. The bishops acknowledge that an ceded to the tenant anners; but they in sist firmly that to tenants, and also to laborers, much more is due. And they declare it is the daty of both the clergy and the people to press such claims for further redress in every peaceable and lawful way.

Among such legitimate methods of agitation

it can no longer be denied that those originally practised by the land league

are comprehended, now that the Gladstone government has virtually sanctioned them by a release of the suspects. Is it net quite plain whether the bishops would include boy cotting among the instruments of agitation which they perempsome of the roads—the Grand Trunk east, torily condemn as subversive of social for instance. Well appointed postal cars order. If the system of ostracism known go a long way toward reducing the time as "boycotting" were carried no further than it now usually is by the English trades unions, we must admit that a good deal may be said on its behalf. Let us then treat judges on their bench judges on the judges of the was on the ground of the difficulty of sure of intimidation that the government the three recent years of scarcity, and for is made sufficiently manifest by the last paragraph of the address. They describe the evictions which are being made for default in the settlement of back harping on the financial policy rents as literally "sentences of death," and as the fatal and permanent provocatives of the late crimes, which, the bishops declare, would never have accounted by the late crimes, which the bishops declare, would never have accounted by the late crimes and the sum of the late crimes, which the bishops declare, would never have accounted by the late crimes and the late crimes are the late crimes are the late crimes and the late crimes are the late crimes and the late crimes are the late would never have occurred had not the and the great Northwest? Is our Ottawa people been driven to despair. It is, they say, the duty of the government to put an end to such provocations as soon as possible. In other words, the Irish hierarchy adjure Mr. Gladstone to follow the counsels of Mr. Chamberlain and Sir Charles Dilke, who would have him so far yield to Mr. Parnell, as to postpone repression for the present, if not forego it altogether, and neanwhile to push through parliament the arrears bill and purchase bill, which would remose the causes of resentment and the

MR. PHIPPS AND THE N. P. To THE WORLD .- A good work Mr. Durand is doing-as I submit Mr. Phipps is doing a bad one-in raising moral issues found to embody a distinct approval of the above mere mercenary ones at the present peaceful and legitimate agitation advocated by the land league leaders, and to turned a deficit into a surplus, only the put the responsibility for the recent out- merest partizan, blind to all reason, will breaks of agrarian violence where it be- deny that the surplus is the fruit of increas. longs, viz., on the harsh and sweeping ed taxation—there is the return of increased evictions to which landlords have recently customs duties to prove it. And if this increased taxation has had the effect of Some such authoritative expression of shutting out imported goods and fostering opinion was urgently required, on account of home productions, and so benefiting some the widely different attitude assumed to-ward the champions of land reform by par. classes of labor and encouraging the invest-ment of capital in manufacturing enterpristicular Catholic prelates in Ireland and in es, it cannot be denied on the other hand the United States. It will be remembered of living to everybody, including a large that the N. P. has vastly increased the cost organization known as the ladies' land league, although this certainly could not gether form a much larger portion of the portion, with few exceptions, such as corimported goods. I remark this to the agent; but he tells me that ten per cent as added to the duty last session, so that I would now have just the same price to pay for English goods as he asks for Cana-dian. Then the matter stands thus—to benefit this manufacturer and his employe es I have to pay ten per cent more for goods; and, as in my case I get no more from the public for them; I am really taxed extra to that amount just the same as i extra to that amount just the same as if this agent had come, as a government tax-gatherer, and demanded so much money to support this manufacturer and his men. And if I did charge the public this extra ten per cent then the public would be taxed the amount. Now I have cited demonstrable facts Mr. Editor and in face thereof all Mr. Phipps clever physic gical analogies are to me only so much silly twaddle—the raving fancies of imagination and opposed to the actual facts of daily life and experience. Then again, to oredit the N. P. entirely with the meas since 1878, has ure of prosperity which, since 1878, has placed the adversity of a former period, is o overlook, or deny the natural results of good harvests, and the welfare of commer-cial confidence, which always returns after the abolition of landlordism by purchase and the substitution of a peasant propriedulum vibrates to the right, after turning to to the left. The fact is, as regards capi tary. The bishops acknowledge that an instalment of justice has been recently conafter a series of losses and determine to reserve their capital, they soon find that although larger crops have ceased, gains have also ceased, and their money is slow-ly frittering away, and gaining nothing; and then they get tired of idleness and venture their capital again. And thus will it ever be while man is as he is. Now to overlook all these natural oscilliations of capital, and bad and good harvests, and attribute all the measure of better to solely to the N. P., as does Mr. Phipps, t seems to me only the rapsodies of a dis eased imagination. On the other hand is quite possible to allow that the N. P. has improved matters for a portion of the public, but that is not the main issue at the FACT. SOME QUESTIONS FOR MR. PHIPPS.

To THE WORLD: Upon several occasions, especially to-day (Tuesday), I have seen in your valuable little paper, which is read and valued alike by reform and tory, I have seen a tissue of remarks-having neither head nor tail to them, nor indeed any apparent object, unless it be to injure Mr. Blake, in letters on the financial policy by Mr. Phipps. What does the writer mean? What is he aiming at? If he could come out and say like Mr. Ick Evans try, from one end to the other, is highly good, you apply a pressure which in that he is in favor of Sir John A.'s govern prosperous, and while I acknowledge that surprised to see him go and preside over an amphitheatre to proclaim the merits of the discriminating between the legitimate pressure of non-intercourse and the illegal pressure of non-intercourse of noncan understand, he has now made up his mind to think differently. He has a right to refused the other day to accept Mr. Parnell's amendment of the clause bearing on this subject. That boycotting, if carried one step beyond the bounds of non intercourse, would be denounced by the hishors was to be expected. nounced by the bishops, was to be expected, inflicted on us—the opposition of Sir John and they are careful to enumerate among the ing bill. So my opposition has been intensified. Why does not Mr. Phipps come refusal to pay just debts, the preventing of payment by others, and the injuring of neighbors in person or property.

That the bishops, however, did not reckon that the bishops, however, did not reckon that Mr. Blake and his friends intend to the stream of the thinks proper to single out the financial policy alleging what is not true that Mr. Blake and his friends intend to the stream of the among "just debts" the arrears into which some 200,000 of the poorer tenants fell during True he intends, and very properly too, Globe does not speak the sentiments the non-payment of which large numbers of the candidates now before the people or have been ejected during the present year, I can appeal to them—to such men as in 1878 I appeared before you as the ad- persons will go up there this year. The vocate of a protective policy, and you were peopling of those vast territories will add good enough to elect me. I had, as enormously to the wealth and strength of life a member of the reform party. But the helplessness of the Mackenzie administration during the trying days between 1874 and 1878, and their refusal, on heoretical grounds, to give to Canadian iterests that measure of protection which. as every practical business man saw, ha become absolutely necessary, led me, preferring country to party, to abandon old political associations and support the statesmen who stood pledged to a protective

The tariff prepared by Sir John Macdonld and his colleagues has been in force only three years, a brief period, indeed, in the history of a country. But I do not hesitate to declare, speaking from a tolerably wide experience, that it is doing its work efficaciously than the most ardent protectionist ould have anticipated. Industries which under the assaults of American capital were ompelled for five years to draw heavily on their resources, are now paying a living profit; and the prosperity of the manuacturer is necessarily shared by the skilled artisan and workman. The latter, instead of having to be content with three or four day's work per week, are now working full have sprung up, and old ones which had become extinct under the one-sided free trade system have revived. Indeed, more factories have been established since 1878 than for twenty years previous. The coun-

that the reversal of that policy, or even doubt as to its permanence, would be disastrous in the extreme to every branch of enterprise, that I again appear in Centre Toronto and seek your suffrages. I need hardly tell you that for a man in my position and at my time of life there is no charm in pursuit of politics. But I feel it to be my duty in the interest of Canadian industry, and I trust I may say without egotism in the interest of our commo country, to put aside all private considera ions and resist the attempt now bein made at this election, if not to overthrow, at all events to discredit the national policy. For that, in my opinion, is the rea issue in this contest. As a large employer of labor, and one having a stake in com mercial enterprises of almost every kind.] But do not hesitate to say that the return of there are greater questions even than this the free trade party to power at this junc ture would be nothing short of a national calamity, Capital, always timid, would take alarm; many new industries which are being nourished by the tariff would undoubtedly be ruined; old industries would suffer as before, and the general business of the country would be thrown into confusion, and, not improbably, into panic. These considerations, so grave for every employer, and for every man dependent JOHN SMALL upon his daily labor, have induced me, instead of seeking the repose to which, after a long life of toil, I might fairly claim to be entitled, to ask you to return me to parliament once more. You know that I have no personal ambition or selfish end to gratify. But I am deeply anxious, in common I am sure with all business men, no matter what their party affiliaions may have been, to preserve and perpetuate the policy to which Canada already owes so much. The loss by the demoralization that would follow on the heels of the return of the free trade party cannot be estimated; nor can any estimate be formed of the loss the country would sustain through the flight of capital, which is awaiting the verdict in this election before investing in new and important enterprises to the launching of which the maintenance of the present tariff is essentially necessary. Upon these broad grounds I ask you for John Macdonald may be strengthened in the work that yet remains for him, and that McCabe, before his recent visit to Rome, made no effort to disguise his resolute opposition, and forbade the clergy of his diocese to lend it countenance in any way. Archbishop Croke on the other hand was quite as outspoken in defending the principles and methods of of life are dearer, and I get no more wages of life are dearer, and I get no more wages of life are dearer, and I get no more wages of life are dearer, and I get no more wages of life are dearer, and I get no more wages of life are dearer, and I get no more wages of life are dearer, and I get no more wages of life are dearer, and I get no more wages of life are dearer, and I get no more wages of life are dearer, and I get no more wages of life are dearer, and I get no more wages of life are dearer, and I get no more wages of life are dearer, and I get no more wages of life are dearer, and I get no more wages of life are dearer, and I get no more wages of life are dearer.

oubts as to the course Mr. Mackenzie nd his leader would pursue should they, inhappily, be returned to power. I may add that I warmly approve of the great vigor and energy displayed by the government in apening up and developing the Northwest. Their policy in that respect, although at one time derided by their | Gentral | Committee | Rooms opponents, has already met with unexamp led success. Immigrants are pouring into Manitoba and the fertile region beyond it at the rate of fifteen hundred per week, and GENTLEMEN, -At the general election it is probable that not less than 60,000 echanic and manufacturer, been all my the Dominion, and it is to the interest of the merchants, manufacturers and mechan ics of Old Canada that the trade policy which gives them control of the expanding markets of the Northwest should be maintained and rendered permanent, as it only can be, by a decisive expression of public opinion at the polls.

ENDOWMENT OF SEE AND RECTORY LANDS. Rev. Canon Logan read the report of the committee on the endowment of see, rec-tory lands, and land and investment committee. The most important portion of the report had reference to St. James' rectory. An application had been received from the Ontario and Quebec railway company for the purchase of a right of way through a lot had asked Clarke Gamble for the chased was held, and also, under the provisions of the statue, asking Mr. Gamble visions of the state of the sta documents pertaining to St James' rectory's to the secretary-treasurer of the synod. Mr, Gamble had replied, enclosing the lease asked for, and stating that the further request would be complied with as soon as possible. At a subsequent meeting on April 13, the committee were informed that Mr. Gamble, acting on the suggestion of counsel, declined to give up possession of the papers absolutely, but would allow the committee to inspect or take copies of them. A case was then submitted to legal counsel for an opinion upon the matter. The opinion of C. Moss, Q. C., was that, assuming the right of the Ontario legislature to to make any own the bear of the province, the lands of St. James' endowment come within the provisions of the rectory lands act. The National workingman's amphitheatre was nearly half full last night at 8.30, when Chairman Evans rang his bell calling the meeting to order. The thick mist hung heavily over the political stamping-ground, but this was considerably relieved by the glare of the well-cleaned, well-trimmed lamps scattered through the amphitheatre and the lively airs rendered by Toulman's band. From the platform it was barely possible to discern the size of the crowd, but as the night wore on and the throng kept growing smaller. It was a poor night for an outside gathering. INSURANCE

Life Insurance. Cheap [From the Ætna Quarterly.]

The co-operative assessment associations have secured a large membership from their representations that they furnish cheap insurance. Men have been induced to join these associations because they recognize the uncertainty of life, and their duty to provide for their families in event of death. They have been led to believe it is the only true form of insurance, and superior to the well-tested plans in use by the legitimate companies. We have frequently shown through the columns of this paper that the representations of these associations and their over-sanguine agents are delusive and untrue, and that they are unworthy of confidence or patronage, having no permanent basis to stand upon.

THE ÆTNA LIFE INSURANCE CO'Y. of Hartford. Conn., was early in recognizing that a considerable number of Hartford. Conn., was early in recognizing that a considerable number of those seeking insurance desired it upon the most inexpensive plans. With a view of meeting the popular demand it organized a copyrighted system, which combines the utmost cheapness, safety and equity. The plan requires only a minimum rate, and avoids the necessity of taking large premiums for the sake of returning large dividends. It gives all the advantages obtainable under more expensive policies. It is peculiarly adapted to those who desire to secure the largest amount of insurance at the least possible cost; to those who want immediate protection, but are not ready or able to pay for endowments or other plans more expensive, and for those who wish insurance for a limited time, or for a specific purpose. The accumulations under this plan are kept distinct and separate, and the insured receive the benefit of them by the application of the surplus at stated periods.
